

LIGHTS ON — Northville look on the glow of the Christmas season with the traditional lighting of street decorations in the business district Thanksgiving evening.

Stores Open, Santa's Coming

Though the weather man may have forgotten, the sound of sleigh bells is becoming louder and louder.

And about the busiest people — aside from Santa's crew at the North Pole — are retail merchants whose shelves are piled high with Christmas gifts.

Northville's retailers announced this week that local stores will remain open evenings until Christmas beginning tonight.

What's more they've made special arrangements (in conjunction with their "Santa Buck" promotion) for a personal visit from Santa Claus.

He'll be in Northville Thursday, December 14 from 4:00 until 9:00 p.m. with gifts for all his little friends.

More details about Santa's appearance will be published next week.

Expect Full Day Session At OLV School Monday

Students at Our Lady of Victory school will begin full-day sessions for the first time this fall on Monday if installation of locker facilities in the new addition can be completed before the end of the week.

The Reverend John Wittstock, OLV pastor, said the lockers, supposed to have arrived Tuesday, had not yet been delivered. Parents of school children would be informed of the addition opening later this week, he said.

Since September, OLV's 270 students have been attending half-day sessions while four new school rooms were under construction. Completion of the new unit, which also includes a lay teachers' office, two laboratories, a canopy walk to the church and a janitor's closet, was originally set for November 1.

When the addition is ready,

Band Concert to Feature Guest Conductor Tuesday

Ralph Long, director of music at Albion College, will be the guest conductor Tuesday evening when the Northville high school concert band presents its first concert of the 1961-62 season.

The performance is scheduled for 8 p.m. in the high school auditorium.

A varied program, including classical compositions and familiar marches as well as selections from the Broadway musical, "Sound of Music", is planned.

Two seniors, Julie Gazlay and Fern Kinnamon, will make their conducting debuts, and Pat Myer will present a bass solo.

Guest conductor Long will direct the orchestra in two works of major importance, "Cappriccio Italiano" and "Symphonic Suite for Band".

Long, who has bachelor's and master's degrees in music from the Eastman School of Music in Rochester, New York, is presently studying for a doctorate degree at the University of Michigan School of Music. He plays the clarinet and has performed on radio and television as a member of the U.S. Army band. A clarinetist with symphony orchestras, Long has also played with jazz bands.

CONCERT WARM-UP — Ralph Long, director of music at Albion college, drills Northville high school's concert band in preparation for Tuesday's concert. Long, who will be the guest conductor when the band makes its fall debut in the high school auditorium, directed the musicians at a rehearsal Monday night. The program begins at 8 p.m.

It's 3-2 Vote Again As City Council Approves Assessment Plan for Paving

One More Hearing Required Before Projects Can Proceed

Another step toward initiating a 25 per cent assessment against property owners for street improvements in the city of Northville was taken Monday night.

As expected, the proposal passed by a 3-2 margin.

In a hearing adjourned on October 30, councilmen reached a decision in just one hour and 20 minutes.

About 40 citizens attended. A standing-room-only crowd of 200 and lasted over three hours.

Monday night citizens were again given an opportunity to express their opinions, and seven did so.

Councilmembers and the mayor then voiced their opinions before Mayor A. M. Allen called for a motion on the proposals at hand.

Councilman Richard Ambler proposed adoption of both specific projects — paving and installation of curbs and gutters on North Center street from the Eight Mile road cut-off to South Ely drive; and to pave portions of East, High, Elm and Walnut streets where curbs and gutters have already been installed.

In both instances it was Councilman John Canterbury who seconded the motion. Mayor Allen joined Ambler and Canterbury in voting for the proposed improvement by special assessment. Councilmembers Beatrice Carlson and Richard Judy voted "no".

While Monday night's vote brought the prospect of special assessments closer, it did not mean that all has been lost by opponents of the proposal.

Another public hearing is necessary to confirm the assessment roll. Prior to this meeting property owners will be notified of the amount of the specific assessment to be levied.

Should property owners representing more than 50 per cent of the total assessment in either of the two individual projects being considered (Center street or East-High-Elm-Walnut file a petition protesting the levy, the city charter requires a four-fifths vote of the council for passage.

Presumably, the next hearing will not be called before mid-January.

Sidney Frid led off the comments from the audience. He charged that city incorporation won approval because it had been promised that street improvements would come from general funds, specifically the additional taxes from harness racing.

He further noted that the city's payroll had increased considerably during the past 10 years claiming that "more money can be saved in this area than can be made by special assessments". Frid said the public works department had increased from five to nine and the city hall employees from two to seven.

W. W. Nichols favored the assessment. He compared the policy of public improvements from the general fund to "welfare state living" and pointed out that a "Mason-Dixon" line was being created between old and new residents of the city. He said the assessment plan would "maintain Northville as a progressive and united community".

George Lockhart was next to be heard from the audience. He predicted that the council would pass the assessment and conclude by saying "somebody's going to be hurt no matter what we do". He called this a "poultice for our bruises" and asked why any change was necessary at all. "Someone must be hurt now", he concluded.

Robert Hart also opposed the assessment plan and asked why streets couldn't be paid "just like the new water system".

Councilman Canterbury answered this by pointing out that water improvements are paid by revenue bond from fees paid by users of the water.

Several other citizens questioned the assessment plan including Stuart Thomson, Harley Balko and Mrs. Maxwell Austin. The latter asked if the cost of maintaining some of the unpaved streets didn't exceed the proposed assessment.

Councilman Ambler read a rather lengthy statement to support his position in favor of a 25 percent assessment. He repeated the history of street improvements in Northville pointing out that two-thirds of the improved streets have been paved under special assessment. He pointed to the school's willingness to pay 100 per cent of its share of the improvement on North Center street if other properties are assessed.

"If we fail to adopt a special assessment policy the paving program will be delayed significantly... however through special assessment with some properties such as the school and undeveloped lands paying a larger assessment almost twice as much paving can be accomplished in the next year", Ambler added.

Ambler estimated that the cost of street improvements in Northville (other than in subdivisions) will exceed $700,000. Of this amount he said some $200,000 will be for improvements in areas where the major portion, if not entire cost, should be borne by the property owners (1/2 of Maplewood, Taft, Center next to the school and next to the telephone company, etc.).

"I am opposed to asking the citizens of Northville to pick up the cost of these improvements... (and) unless we adopt a special assessment policy which will apply to present and future improvements, the general fund will pay all of these costs", he concluded.

Councilman Canterbury followed Ambler. He said that he has always favored special assessments and had made his opinions known before running for council.

"It was evident years ago that without the adoption of a long-range street improvement program by special assessment it would be impossible to pave new and maintain old streets from general funds", Canterbury charged.

He said the assessment plan would provide "the greatest good for the greatest number". Canterbury said that to pave North Center street without special assessment would cost each home in Northville $4 — the loss by not being able to special assess the school district.

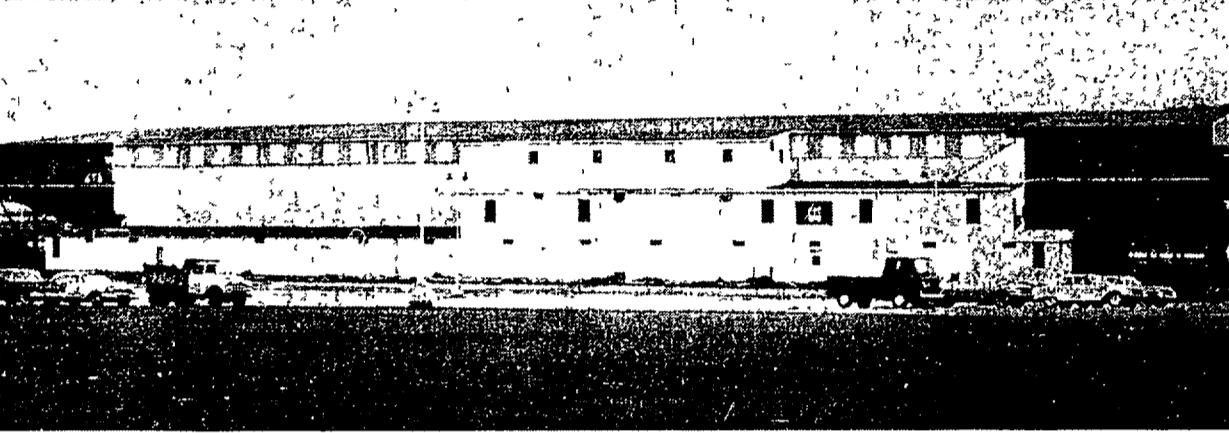

Councilman Judy spoke only briefly but said that 25 per cent would not make much difference in the overall improvement program. He said that he lived on a paved street and "couldn't feel it was fair to charge those residents on unpaved streets who have waited".

Councilwoman Carlson agreed with Judy. She said she had lived on an unpaved street for 25 years before it was improved and didn't feel it would be right to start charging others who had waited. "Sentiment, not cold money, directs my thinking in behalf of the old part of the city", she added.

Mrs. Carlson concluded that she represented both the "old and new" sections of the city.

Mayor Allen pointed to contractual commitments for paving the city faces next year on streets abutting the new Yerkes subdivision. He estimated this cost at $78,000. He said without special assessments it would require about three years to acquire this sum. Specifically, the mayor pointed to a law suit now pending with Donald Yerkes for paving on Novi street across from the subdivision. He contended that defeat of the assessment plan would hurt the city's position in this case.

Downs Ready... Just in Case

Improvements continue at Northville Downs with a hopeful eye on next fall's harness racing meet normally held at Jackson. A request to move the Jackson meet to Northville awaits Racing Commissioner Edgar Hayes' decision. He delayed his announcement until next week. The additional race meet would boost the city's tax-take by an estimated $50,000 annually. The Downs' grandstand is being lengthened at both ends, as shown in the picture above, to increase seating capacity.

Township to OK Landfill If Conditions Approved

The three-member Northville township board of appeals was expected to reach a decision last night (Wednesday) on a request for a permit to operate a landfill at Manning and Locklin gravel pits between Seven and Eight Mile roads.

A public hearing was held November 21. The board adjourned the meeting without issuing a decision but was scheduled to meet privately last night to consider results of the public hearing.

It is almost a certainty that the board will approve the request with specific reservations.

The matter came before the board when the Manning and Locklin Land company submitted a plan for a multi-million dollar community of homes on the 370-acre site.

Rehabilitation of the property would require a 10 to 12 year filling period. It is proposed that this would be accomplished through a contract with the city of Detroit to dump rubble in the pits.

Tuesday night's hearing was attended by a standing-room crowd at the township hall. It remained orderly under the guidance of Chairman Gunter Stromberg, however.

Main objections came from residents fearing pollution of water, unpleasant odors, heavy truck traffic and depreciation of surrounding property values.

The application for operation of a landfill contained numerous guarantees including no incineration, chemical sprays at ground level, greenbelt to screen the view, three-foot sand cover, minimum 15,000 square foot residential lots when completed, bond performance security for township, dedication of 14 acres for school site.

It was generally considered by the board and citizens present that an offer to permit the township to use the area for dumping purposes would be unwise because of possible abuses.

One close neighbor, D. H. Clark of Seven Mile road, favored the project "if properly controlled".

"Policing of the area is needed. It is nothing now, but if developed in a proper method it could be very beneficial", Clark stated.

Another neighbor, the Herbert Koesters of Novi township (across Eight Mile road), opposed the project and claimed it would lower property values and "take 34 years to fill".

These facts came out at the hearing: — there would be 28 trucks daily bringing in rubbish from one or two entrances — probably between Gerold street and the Bonner property; — trucks would come on Schoolcraft and down Northville road to Seven Mile road; — area would be inspected by township and inspectors would be paid from fee paid township by operators of landfill; — fill period would take 12 years, four months.

Chairman Stromberg said this week that the board had several stipulations in mind before granting any permit. He indicated that an analysis would first be required to see what effect such a fill would have on water in area wells as well as Silver Springs lake.

He also said a complete haul to gravel operations in the area would be sought within the 11-12 year filling period. Further, government home-insurance agencies would be asked if site on landfills of this nature approved for building homes. In addition, Stromberg said that the board would require that rubbish landfill would not exceed six feet.

"It is our responsibility to safeguard present residents of the township and those who may someday build homes of these lots", Stromberg concluded.

RETURN FOR ANNIVERSARY — Two former pastors and a one-time member of the congregation who entered the Lutheran ministry came back to St. Paul's Evangelical Lutheran church Sunday to take part in special services marking the church's 65th anniversary. St. Paul's pastor, the Rev. B. J. Pankov (center), is flanked by the Rev. Alvin F. Schulte, former member of the congregation, and the Rev. Oswald G. L. Riess, former pastor. On his right are the Rev. T. H. Voss and another former pastor, the Rev. Ernest F. Manske.

Stromberg Elected

Northville's newly created planning commission held a organizational meeting Tuesday evening and elected officers of the six-member body.

The body replaces the township zoning board and provides the township with broader powers in the area planning and regulation. It required a vote of township residents at the time of the September con-con election.

Named as chairman of the planners was Gunnar Stromberg, who held the same position on the zoning board. Lewis W. Alexander was elected vice chairman and Harold B. Putnam secretary. Other board members are Township Clerk Marguerite Northup, Ralph Gibson and Luke Bathey.

At Tuesday's meeting the township planning consultant, W. C. Johnson, explained the function of the planning commission, while Attorney James Littel outlined the legal aspects involved and Robert Shafer provided background information on township planning practices.

Tax Time

It's that time of year again. Any day now area residents can expect notices of the school, county and township taxes.

City residents will probably get their bills first — some time next week. They have until February 15 to pay the school and county tax at the city hall before a four per cent penalty is imposed.

In the township residents will receive their notices about December 10. According to Treasurer Roy Terrill, final date for payment in the township is February 28.

all sorts of things

By SHARON MAZANEC

High school girls, young mothers, widows, middle-age moms, single women, grandmothers, ladies, members of the fair sex who like to sing, take heed! Your talents are in demand.

Sweet Adelines, Incorporated, a national society founded to preserve and foster barber shop (beauty shop?) singing for women in America, is scouting talent in the Northville area to bolster the organization's ranks.

News of the membership drive was relayed to All Sorts by Susie (Mrs. Thomas) Zopff, a Novi housewife and barber shop baritone who attends weekly Adeline songfests with three other women, Donna Patterson and Nancy Rung, of Northville and Donna Rimes, who lives in Orchard Hills.

The four used to be a quartet (still are, if you want to be technical about definitions), laughs Mrs. Zopff, until their bass, Nancy Runge, decided to sing tenor. That left them heavy on tenors — Donna Patterson is a tenor, too — and one short of the four parts that characterize traditional barber shop harmony. Donna Rimes carries the lead, or melody, line.

All four are married and have young children. "We get together occasionally in the afternoons," said Mrs. Zopff, "but these sessions are kind of hectic with all the kids buzzing around."

Much more constructive warbling is accomplished at the regular weekly meetings. About 40 Adelines congregate each week. They meet at Thurston high school on second and fourth Thursdays and at the UAW hall at Plymouth road and Outer drive on first and third Thursdays.

For the most part, these meetings are spent in song, explains Susie Zopff. Sweet Adelines sing popular standards.

King's Daughters, Slate Yule Tea

Northville King's Daughters, Mispah circle, will hold their annual Christmas meeting and tea Tuesday, December 5 at 2 p.m. in the home of Mrs. Hugh Babbitt, 306 South Rogers.

Members are asked to bring their gifts for children at University of Michigan hospital, Ann Arbor.

old favorites, just about anything suited to four-part harmony. Sometimes they perform publicly. In the spring, quartets and choruses from several chapters vie for honors in regional competition.

Mrs. Zopff said the May regional is the main reason for the current membership drive. Competing groups start rehearsing the first of the year.

Kitchen coloraturas, shower sopranos, balhtub basses and baritones, any girls or women who can carry a tune are invited to sing along with the Adelines. If you would like to visit a meeting or get more information about the organization, Mrs. Zopff suggests calling her at FI 9-1899, or Mrs. Runge at FI 9-1412.

By the way, men, the Sweet Adelines do have a brother organization known as the Society for the Preservation and Encouragement of Barbershop Quartet Singing in America, incorporated.

NOTES FOR CHRISTMAS SHOPPERS — Wealth of gifts and gift ideas are coming your way this week:

On Saturday, Northville branch of the Woman's National Farm and Garden association, in cooperation with 14 other garden clubs, will sponsor a Christmas market from 11 a.m. to 3 p.m. in the community center.

Elsewhere, the Child Research Center league is presenting a Yule Shoppe at Showcase, Inc., 136 Brownell street, Birmingham, today (Thursday) and tomorrow. The shop will be open from 10 a.m. to 9 p.m. both days.

NEWCOMER'S CORNER

"I look upon every day to be lost, in which I do not make a new acquaintance."

— Samuel Johnson

HIS PRACTICE in Northville brought Dr. James F. Blem and his wife, Nancy, here the first of September. The couple lives at 203 West Cady.

Newcomers James and Nancy Blem will soon have a new-come of their own. The newest addition, the couple's first, is expected any day now, reports the mother-to-be.

Until seven weeks ago, Mrs. Blem had been putting her college education to work at the J. L. Hudson company. She majored in retailing at Webber college in Babson Park, Florida.

Like her husband, Mrs. Blem is a native Detroit, although she finished high school in Florida when her parents moved South.

James Blem, a doctor who studied at the University of Detroit and the College of Osteopathic Medicine and Surgery in Des Moines, Iowa, is currently practicing in Northville. His office is in the Northville clinic, 206 West Dunlap.

Before coming to Northville in September, the Blems lived in Detroit. They're residing at 203 West Cady.

Birth

Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Conser, 21710 Rathlone drive, announce the birth of a son, Barry John, November 15 at St. Mary's hospital, Livonia. He weighed 9 pounds, 8 ounces.

Stage Prelude To Christmas

Rosedale Gardens branch of the Woman's National Farm and Garden association is planning a "Prelude to Christmas" mart Tuesday, December 12 from 2 to 8 p.m. at 9611 Hubbard in Livonia.

Holiday arrangements and table settings, Christmas greens, aprons, a white elephant table, jellies and candies, and baked goods are being prepared. Tea will also be served.

Scores of Patients Face Bleak Christmas - Unless

Hundreds of forgotten patients at Northville State hospital face the prospect of a giftless Christmas this year unless the hospital and its auxiliary can get some help from generous citizens in Northville and other neighboring communities.

Last year alone, some 300 patients received no gifts. Three hundred more would have been added to that number, except for the hospital Christmas fund. "Many times patients fully expect to be home on Christmas Day, or expect that their relatives surely will bring them a gift," said Louis J. Schuldt, director of community relations at the hospital.

"When neither happens the patient may receive no remembrance at all," said Schuldt.

This is where the Christmas fund and the auxiliary do their part. The fund, Schuldt explained, is used to purchase general gifts — cigarettes, stretch socks, handkerchiefs and candy — which are distributed to patients by staff members and volunteers.

To supplement the fund and the gifts it provides, women of the auxiliary accept public donations which go toward the purchase of gifts. Auxiliary members, like Mrs. Crispin Hammond, of 47100 Timberlane, shop for gifts valued at about two dollars each. They then wrap them and take them to the hospital.

However, neither the auxiliary nor the Christmas fund can begin to provide gifts for the hundreds of forgotten patients without the help of public donations.

"We will gladly accept contributions right up to Christmas Eve," said Mrs. Hammond. The same holds true for the hospital fund.

If, rather than money, persons would prefer to donate gifts, these can be left at the hospital's Community Relations department or dropped off at the home of an auxiliary member.

SOCIAL MINDED SHEATH

A lithe and lovely luxury in pure silk
$17.98

An out and out beauty, is this latest from Mindy Ross with its slow climb of buttons, its perky little bows. A superb shaping of lustrous pure silk linen with the slightest bit of easing through the skirt for the very latest in silhouettes. Quite daring, too, the way the bateau neck dips to a low, low V in back. Just the thing for those special evenings in town, on trips anywhere, everywhere. Sizes 9 to 15.

Consumers Plans New Division Set-up

READERS SPEAK: Button Loose

To the Editor:
I do not wish to elaborate on City Incorporation at this time, but in order to keep the record up and above board, it becomes necessary for me to caution Mr. Button in regard to local facts.

"Mr. Button stated in his letter of Nov. 21, edition of the Novi News, that a Charter Township has the right to levy a 10 mill tax which is twice what the village can do now." The law, a village can levy up to 20 mill tax, where as a Charter Township cannot exceed 10 mill tax.

Signed, Herbert Koester

Let's Assess Councilman

To the Editor:

Our councilman, Mr. John Canterbury has openly been in favor of special assessments for street improvements. He is more than willing, he claims, to pay his share. So I suggest, the manager, Mr. Potthoff, send him a bill for 400 ft. of curb and sewer on North High street. Why have the city stand the entire expense, when other streets are billed (or will be) to the property owners.

(Name Withheld)
Signed - Mary Alexander, Clerk

Mustang Cagers Start Tough Opening Week-end Friday

Northville's varsity cagers week-end starting tomorrow will once more open their 15th night. They host Brighton Friday game season with a two-game daily night in a combination of

Juday's on Two All-Star Teams

Northville Mustang quarter-back Steve Juday was the only Wayne-Oakland league player to make the 1961 Detroit News All-Suburban football team, it was announced last week-end. He was also selected as All-State Class B quarterback. The announcements were made Saturday and Sunday.

Juday, leading the Mustangs to a perfect season this year, passed for 1,112 yards and nine touchdowns, carried for 407 yards and 14 TD's and maintained a 41-yard punting average. He also intercepted seven passes and recovered six fumbles during the season.

Other All-Suburban team members include ends Dan A'eiros, of Fordson and Jim Zoltowski, of Milan; tackles Jim Gavigan, of Plymouth and Jack McColl, of Marysville; guards Jerry Roth, of Taylor Center and Dick Ries, of Kimball; center Boris Dimitroff, of Bentley; halfbacks Dorie Reid, of Fennedale and Ron LaBeau, of Monroe CC; and fullback Frank Stagg, of Hazel Park.

season and Wayne-Oakland league openings. Saturday night they take on the Class A Plymouth Rocks in their only non-league game of the season at Plymouth.

Coach Dave Longridge, who was new last year to the Northville school system and is new this year to the basketball team, says his team is beginning to whip into shape.

"They're in fine shape physically," he said, "but they haven't yet completed the change from football to basketball."

Longridge doesn't mean the boys want to tackle opposing players every time they see one with a ball — he means they haven't yet developed their basketballing skills to the fullest. The main reason for this, he said, is the longer football schedule that Northville had. The Mustangs played one more game than most other W-O teams, and therefore have had a week less of basketball practice than most of their opponents.

This was the same situation Northville experienced last year, Longridge pointed out, and it may have been one of the reasons for the Mustangs' slow start. He's hoping it won't create a start-of-the-season slump this year. The Mustangs scrimmaged last Friday with Redford St. Mary's, and Northville's shorter practice was evident, Longridge said. The boys worked well together, he added, but they were off on their shooting.

Longridge still maintains that Northville's first three games will indicate how the season will go. Besides the double-header week-end, the Mustangs will meet Clarkston a week from this Friday.

These teams will be about as tough as any the Mustangs will meet this season, Longridge explained, and should set the pattern for this year.

But Longridge has some basis for high hopes. His tentative first string includes Craig Bell, Steve Juday, Dan Brown, Tom Swiss and Dick Batley. All except Swiss are returning varsity lettermen, and Swiss was a stand-out on last year's junior varsity.

Brighton, says Longridge, has three first-stringers back this year, and should be a well-rounded team. Plymouth, with its Class A student population to draw from, always constitutes a threat, he added. Longridge is hoping that this week's practice sessions will be enough to bring the basketball experience many of his players have had into the scene when they go against these two tough teams this weekend.

New Wrestling Coach's Looking for 'Good Start'

Despite the fact that his grapplers, like the Mustang basketball team, haven't been practicing regularly for too long, Northville wrestling coach Jack Kreiner feels they will be able to do fairly well in their first match tonight, when they host Willow Run.

His reason? Willow Run has been out of wrestling competition for the past couple of years, and will probably have a relatively green team at the start of the season.

Another reason Kreiner voiced was that several Mustangs, though they have had only one or two years of experience, have made some good showings in previous seasons. He says he's looking for a good season with Jerry Biddle wrestling at 180 pounds, Joe Hay at 165, Gary Nichols at 154 and Rick Rebitzke at 120.

Northville will wrestle in all weight classes, he said, but these four look like they'll do quite well from the start of the season.

Kreiner has only eight returning grapplers this year, but he has 31 boys out for the team, and says he will be able to have two boys for each weight class. This way, he explained, there will be competition between the boys to see which will wrestle in meets, and it is this sort of competition that keeps a team on its toes.

Kreiner is a graduate of Michigan State University, where he earned two varsity and two junior varsity letters as a wrestler. This is the first year he's taught in Northville, and the first time he's had a coaching position. He has taught in other schools for the past six years.

The meet with Willow Run tonight (7-30) is being held in place of a scheduled meet with Milford. Kreiner explained that Milford has canceled wrestling, so Willow Run will replace their dates for tonight and January 4. The Mustangs will travel to Willow Run in January.

Another schedule change Kreiner noted was the addition of a meet with Oak Park on January 9. He said the meet would begin at 7:30 in Oak Park.

Last year the wrestlers ended the season with a pretty dismal win-loss record, but they were battling with a schedule of predominantly Class A schools that had been wrestling for years and could throw well-seasoned matmen at the younger Mustangs.

This year their schedule is slightly less formidable, and with a couple of years of experience under their belts, the Mustangs may be able to turn in an impressive tally sheet at the end of the season.

Pro Gridders Will Speak At Banquet

Detroit Lions football players Jim Ninowski and Alex Karras will be guest speakers at the annual Exchange club-sponsored football award dinner next week.

Cliff Hill program chairman for the event, said last week that the professional gridgers will give talks and answer questions as local dignitaries turn out to fete the Wayne-Oakland league champion Mustangs. The banquet will be held December 6 in the Methodist church.

Grid Contest Closes

Tough competition in our annual football contest continued right down to the wire last week as three entrants in the final week tied for a combined first and second prize.

Each of the three missed four games and were nine points off on picking the final score of the Giants-Browns game in Cleveland last Sunday. All three said New York would win 31-24. Since we have no play-off to determine between first and second place when there are ties, all three entrants will share the combined first and second prizes.

The winners were 14-year-old Robert Orr, of 748 Grace street; Mrs. Mariel Hinchman, of 522 Baseline road; and Mrs. F. Robinson, of 21060 Tart road.

Mrs. Robinson, who told us she is in her seventies, said she was a great sports fan. She said she likes football, baseball and hockey "as long as they don't get too rough." She is a regular contest entrant.

Mrs. Hinchman, who won first prize in our first contest this year, said she usually guesses when predicting games, but is still an avid football fan.

Robert is a ninth grader in Northville junior high. He likes all sports and follows the outcome of both college and professional games quite closely. He is out for the wrestling team this year.

All three winners also had receipts from sponsoring merchants, so they will split the bonus prize.

This was the final contest for this season, but those entrants who were not winners this year will again have a shot at the prizes next fall, as will those who have already won.

Hi Team Series:

LET'S TALK CARS . . .

Winter Starting Problems

Some morning soon we're going to get a rash of calls in our service department from motorists who can't get their car started because of an overnight cold snap.

We know from experience that nine out of ten of these calls would be unnecessary if these motorists had taken a few simple steps to prepare their cars for Winter.

Drivers have trouble starting their cars at low temperatures because of two basic reasons: their battery power is down and the engine that battery has to turn is much harder to move.

Zero temperature, for instance, reduces battery efficiency 60 per cent from peak efficiency. There is little that can be done about this aside from keeping the battery fully charged and, if possible, warm.

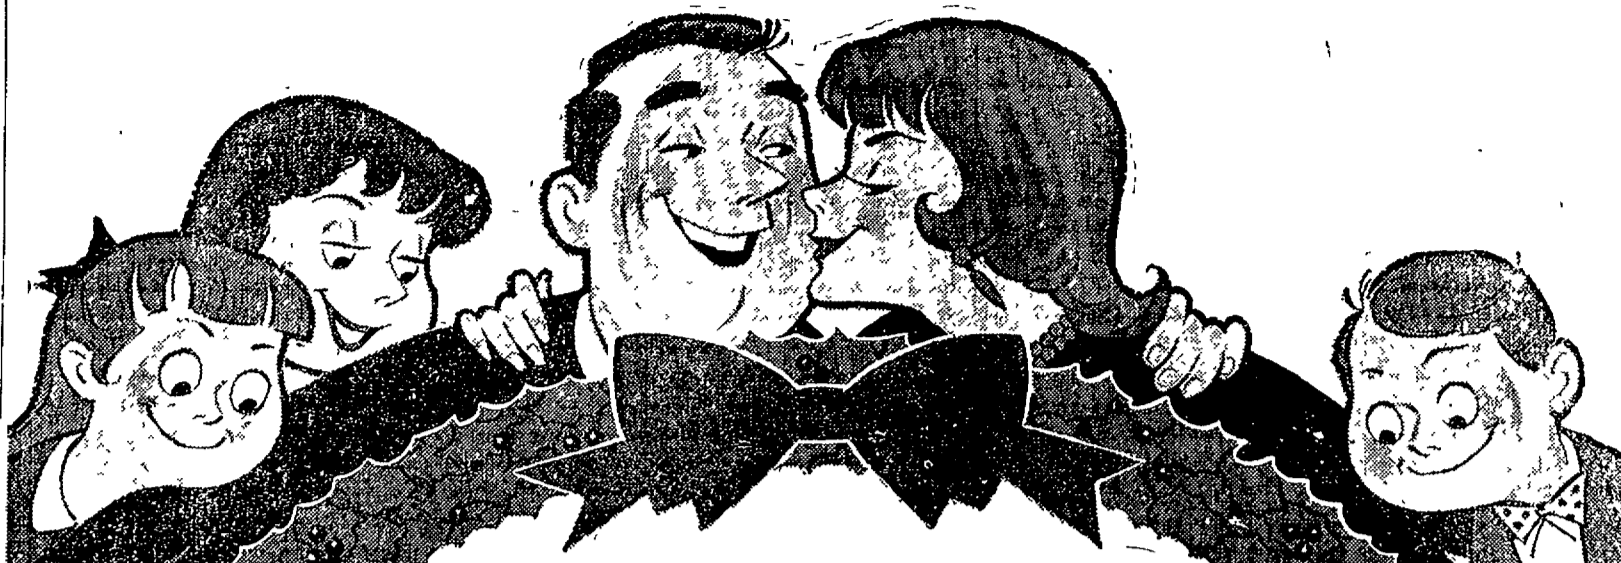

Engine motor oil is a cold stiffened oil requires 2 1/2 times the amount of electrical energy for starting that it would at 80 degrees. The remedy here is lightweight Winter oil to cut down the drag as much as possible.

A properly tuned-up engine clean, efficiently gapped plugs, new points, lightened battery terminals and a clean carburetor — will make maximum use of reduced Winter battery starting power. Coupled with a fully-charged battery and lightweight oil, the combined cost of winterizing your car will seem small compared with a few towing charges.

Bring your car in for a check-up. Our mechanics will perform only the work that is necessary at minimum cost to you.

Fire Damages Policeman's Home

Considerable smoke damage and a burned fireplace wall resulted from a fire Monday evening at the Wing court home of Northville policeman Huston Butler.

Northville firemen extinguished the blaze shortly after the Butlers, home when the fire broke out, turned in an alarm at 8:30 p.m.

Cause of the fire was believed to be a defective fireplace. Smoke upstairs led to its discovery. Flames later erupted from the fireplace wall. No exact estimate of damages has been made.

More Local Hunters Report Deer Successes

More area hunters have reported in, as they return from trips up north over the Thanksgiving holiday. Herbert Gunzville and his son Gary, Sr. each bagged nice bucks while hunting on Drummond Island.

The older Gunzville shot a large ninepointer on Friday, while his son picked off an eight-pointer on Wednesday.

Two others who each killed 150-pound six pointers were Leonard Mazuchowski, who hunted near Onaway, and Edward Musloff, who shot his between Gaylord and Grayling.

Roy Moody was less successful in terms of weight and size of rack, but he was just as happy with his 110-pound four-pointer shot on Bois Blanc Island.

Harley Cole and his son, Bob, both shot 8-point bucks near Covington. Harley's weighed 189 pounds, while Bob's was smaller at 149 pounds.

Hunting near Iron Mountain Oscar Hammond bagged an 8-point, 200 pounder. Hunting in the same party with Hammond, George Shoebridge, a former Northville resident, also shot a buck.

Willis Bartski of Beck road shot a 6-pointer while hunting near Newburg.

From Gravel Pits to Homesites in Decade?

Northville township appeal board members were scheduled to issue a decision last night on whether to grant or deny a permit for propose to subdivide the 370-acre site when filling is completed in 10 to 12 years. Pictures show gravel-gutted areas and swampland.

The closest that a body manufacturer has come to the infinite care and skill of the jewelry maker. 2. The art and science of designing and forming metal into the strong, solid body structure of the 1962 Chevrolet. Typical hallmarks are long, smooth sheet metal shapes without ripples or blemishes, neatly joined seams, and doors and trunk lids that are carefully shaped and fitted into place for easy opening and closing. 3. Something you won't find in any other car in Chevrolet's field.

deep-well trunk, n. 1. The giant warehouse built into the rear of a 1962 Chevrolet. 2. A trunk that loads at the bumper level and has a capacity of 29.7 cubic feet. It is built with an extra-deep recession in its floor so that it can easily accept odd-shaped outside objects.

comfort-high seats, n. 1. Thought by many to be the most comfortable things to happen to the bottom side of the human lap since dad's overstuffed armchair. 2. Seats that are high enough to support and relax the thighs and weight-bearing muscles of the body (better for sitting, better for seeing). By providing resilient, deep-padded support throughout the backrest and seat itself, they bring on a remarkable feeling of comfort and well-being.

front fender underskirts, n. 1. An advance that's causing people to say things like "What won't those Chevrolet engineers come up with next!" 2. Sturdy steel linings that are under the front fenders of 1962 Chevrolets to add extra protection against flying stones, mud, slush, road salt and that old bugaboo, corrosion. 3. One of many ways the 1962 Chevrolet is built to stay beautiful.

rich new interiors, n. 1. One of the principal reasons why people step into the 1962 Chevrolets and promptly feel luxurious all over. 2. An arresting combination of lovely, long-lived materials used in an elegant way to decorate the new Chevrolet's passenger compartment and tickle the fancy of its occupants. 3. A harmonizing blend of the functional—such as the clean-cut, neatly ordered instrument panel—with the tasteful and the fresh.

slim-roof styling, n. 1. The clean-etched lines that typify the 1962 Chevrolet and contribute so much to its look of elegance. 2. Sometimes followed by words such as "Wow!" and "Look at that, will you!" 3. The happy result of inspired designers who are steeped in the art of using imagination and restraint.

One-Stop Shopping Center 543

One-Stop Shopping Center, n. 1. Where people go to get the most car for their money and get exactly the kind of car they want. 2. A concentration point for the 33 cars Chevrolet offers for 1962. These come in three lines: The elegant new Jet-smooth Chevrolet which gives you just about everything you could hope to find in an expensive car—without the expense. The new-size Chevy II that brings you sensibility at its Sunday best via nine models, including a hardtop, sedans, a convertible and station wagons. The sporty new Corvair which retains the rear-engine traction and nimble steering that made it a rally star and adds many new touches to please people with sports-car fever and a budget to answer to. And the Corvette, which offers new refinements, new V8 power. 3. Where '62 values are way up but prices are the same—or less—on comparably equipped models. 4. A Chevrolet dealer's place of business, which includes a showroom manned by friendly and knowledgeable salesmen; a large, carefully stocked parts department; a modern service center where factory-trained mechanics ply their skill; and best-buy OK used cars. 5. The place where you enter a new world of worth in automobiles. 6. Where most Americans go for a pleasant, instant cure the moment the new-car bug bites them.

from the PASTOR'S STUDY

By Rev. John I. Wittstock
Our Lady of Victory Church, Northville

The Apostles understood and obeyed that last solemn command, for we read in the Acts of the Apostles that the feast of the breaking of the bread took place very often, perhaps daily.

The first Christian altar was the dining table in the upper room at Jerusalem at which our Divine Lord ate the Passover supper with His apostles on the night before He died.

TUESDAY

8:00 p.m. Circle meeting.

The favorite meeting place for the first Christians was the upper room where the Last Supper had taken place.

The apostles were gathered around the table in this very room when the mighty wind rushed through and the tongues of living fire rested upon the apostles and they were all filled with the wonderful gifts of the Holy Spirit.

THURSDAY

10:00 a.m. to 8:00 p.m. Holly Mart - church bazaar.

MONDAY

3:45 p.m. Girl Scout Troop No. 574 in Fellowship Hall.

FRIDAY

9:00 a.m. Co-operative Nursery.

That Pentecost day marked the beginning of the church; the upper room became the first place of Christian worship and the table where Christ gave Himself to be the Food of our souls became the altar of sacrifice where in His own words "As often as you shall eat this bread and drink this chalice, you shall show forth the Lord's death until He come."

BUDDING ENGINEER

Can't tell yet whether my son will follow in his Dad's footsteps. Blocks don't make an engineer. But he's learning some of the basic principles of physics with which many professions deal.

Table with 7 columns: Sunday, Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday, Friday, Saturday. Contains church service times.

On the way home from Church, when he talks about his lesson, I recognize familiar signs... character is still in the mold. Deep conviction, bold dedication come later.

For a busy engineer who used to be hit-or-miss in his church attendance, fostering the growth of a soul is a fascinating experience... especially as I find my own faith deepening with every reverent day!

Absent: Edward F. Angove. Others Present: Superintendent R. H. Amerman; Director of Administrative Services E. V. Ellison; Principals F. Stefanski, Donald Van Ingen, H. B. Smith and R. W. Kay; Attorney James E. Littell; Mrs. George Weiss of the P.T.A.

II. The minutes of the last regular meeting and one special meeting were read and there being no corrections or additions, were announced approved as read.

III. Communications: —

1. Wayne County Association of School Boards, announcing meeting on November 30, at Bryant Junior High School, a meeting on Education of the Gifted on December 5, and requesting that local boards of education review the Con-Con proposals regarding education and report their reactions to the State Association of School Boards.

2. Gibraltar School District, enclosing a copy of a resolution passed by that school district requesting the support of other districts in recommending to the Constitutional Convention that its findings include a solution to the problem of school financing.

3. Michigan Association of School Boards, enclosing a copy of the Code of Ethics for members of boards of education and school superintendents proposed by the Michigan Association. Comment is requested.

4. Detroit Edison Company, expressing thanks for students' reception of World of Energy show performed by the Edison Company at a high school assembly.

5. Midwest Council, MPATI, inviting Superintendent Amerman to a one-day workshop on airborne television instruction to be held at Purdue University November 28.

6. Station WTVS-Channel 58, announcing a dinner and seminar to be held at Wayne State University on November 28, to mark the channel's anniversary.

IV. Report of Superintendent: 1. Meeting at Purdue: Superintendent Amerman asked the Board whether he should accept the invitation to attend the workshop on airborne TV, since this Board has already interested itself in this area of instruction. Board indicated it would be in order for him to attend, and Mr. Amerman will be away for the three days required.

2. University of Michigan Research Project: Mr. Stefanski explained this project having to do with group dynamics as they affect teachers' relations to each other. This project is to be carried on in the elementary school and the high school, and both principals and teachers are eager and enthusiastic. It was pointed out that we were rather fortunate to have been chosen by the University, and excellent results may be anticipated from it. There will be no cost to the local school district.

3. Self-Improvement Committee: Superintendent Amerman reported that this committee continues to meet once a week and is progressing well in its task of preparing for implementation of the new salary schedule next year.

4. Physical Education Report: Superintendent reported that he has collected some information on this from the teachers concerned, but has not yet had time to analyze it.

5. Annual Published Report: Superintendent announced that he has received a number of favorable comments regarding this, but invited comment from the Board. It was noted that perhaps next year the report might be printed on a different color paper, as the green proved somewhat difficult to read and did not reproduce the photographs as clearly as had been hoped.

V. Report of Secretary: Mr. Lawrence reported the following monies received during October: Delinquent taxes, from Lyon, Salem, and Novi, Township, totalling $1,708.49; N. D. E. A. reimbursement, $1,073.03; State Aid, $45,660; Adult education fees, $105; Insurance Refunds, $98.33; Tuition payment, $25.

VI. Report of Treasurer: Dr. Johnson reported the following balances in the various school accounts at October 31, 1961: General Fund $213,278.34; 1954 Debt Retirement Fund $525.72; 1957 Debt Retirement Fund, Series A, $3,106.75; 1957 Debt Retirement Fund, Series B $2,373.51; 1957 Debt Retirement Fund, Series C $696.79; 1957 Building and Site Fund $416.44; Cafeteria Account $3,968.19.

It was moved by Mr. Lawrence, supported by Mr. Crump that the report of the treasurer be accepted. Motion carried.

VII. Reports of Special Committees: 1. Athletic Field: Mr. Lawrence plans to call another meeting of this committee in the near future.

2. Educational TV: Nothing new to report.

3. Extra-Duty Salaries: Questionnaires have been sent to other schools to ascertain what is general policy, but have not all been returned. There will be a meeting of this committee on December 7, by which time it is hoped that most of the questionnaires will have been returned.

VIII. Report of Auditing Committee: The Auditing Committee approved bills and payrolls as follows: General Fund, bills, $18,180.92; Payrolls, $63,504.38; Cafeteria bills, $3,896.62. It was moved by Mr. Lawrence, supported by Mr. Becker, that the report of the committee be accepted and bills and payrolls be paid. Motion carried.

IX. Unfinished Business: 1. Culvert at Football Field: Mr. Ellison reported that this has now been cleared but there is still some concern about the water run-off on Taft road.

2. Goal Posts and Flag Pole: Mr. Ellison reported that these pieces of equipment have still not been repaired. Board instructed him to advise the contractor that if the correction has not been made before the next board meeting legal steps will be instituted.

X. New Business: 1. Policy on Interrogation of Students by Police Officers: The Attorney-General of the State of Michigan has issued a new policy statement on this, which appears to somewhat liberalize the prerogatives of the local school boards. At the request of the Board, attorney Littell agreed to review the statement of the attorney general and to furnish an interpretation of it at a later date.

2. Con-Con: Mr. Lawrence reviewed the bulletin of the Con-Con, with particular reference to proposals having to do with education. Bulletins will be issued every two weeks and the board discussed possible means of thoroughly reviewing the proposals.

3. Check-Signer: Mr. Ellison produced some figures regarding the cost of check-signing equipment. The Todd-Hadley Co. has a model which sells for $300 plus $30 for each signature plate. Board directed Mr. Ellison to investigate further and produce some other prices and perhaps a demonstration machine.

4. Bus Problems: Mr. Ellison recommends that our original Bus No. 4, which is no longer usable, be sold for junk, for a possible $200. Board indicated approval.

5. Conferences: Mr. Ellison gave an oral report on his attendance at two conferences in October, one on guidance at Massachusetts Institute of Technology, the other, a meeting of School Business Administrators of North America at Toronto, Canada.

6. Clarenceville - Northville Football Game: This unfortunate incident was discussed at some length by the Board, and it was moved by Mr. Kipfer that no further athletic competition shall be held between Northville and Clarenceville until this matter has been resolved, in accordance with action already taken by the Superintendent.

Mr. Crump supported this motion, which was passed unanimously.

It was then moved by Mr. Kipfer that the Wayne-Oakland League, Board of Control be informed that we feel they are remiss in their obligations to the League in failing to provide some investigation and report of this matter. Mr. Becker supported this motion, which was passed unanimously.

XI. Adjournment: It was moved by Mr. Lawrence that the meeting be adjourned, at 11:30. Mr. Becker supported and the meeting was adjourned.

Cadillac

A matter of minutes confirmed its fame!

He had heard and read a great deal about this 1962 Cadillac over the past several months.

And frankly, he wondered if any motor car could live up to the compliments that have come the way of this new "car of cars".

Well, he has just spent thirty minutes at the wheel—and the evidence is unmistakable.

Exhibit A: the way it looks. Inside and out, Cadillac styling has an undeniable sense of "rightness" about it. And its colors and fabrics are all master touches of elegance and luxury.

Exhibit B: the way it rides and handles. Boulevard or back trail, this one takes the road with incredible ease. Steering is little more than a gesture . . . and the car's ride is so level and smooth and quiet that it seems almost to float over the highway.

Exhibit C: the way it's built. The car is crafted to the most meticulous standards that can be placed over the manufacture of an automobile—and more than 1400 inspections now guard the production of every model. Here is quality that can be seen, and felt and sensed.

The verdict, of course, is indisputable. This is the zenith of sixty years of "fine-car" design and engineering. This is a Cadillac among Cadillacs.

We suggest, however, that you visit your dealer's showroom soon and act as your own jury. He'll be happy to present the case for Cadillac at any time.

A proposed special assessment totalling some $9,800 for improvements bordering eight privately owned lots in Northville was challenged Monday night when the city council held a public hearing. James Littell, attorney for the Donald P. Yerkes, won an adjournment of the hearing when he voiced several objections to the assessment for installation of paving, curbs and gutters, storm and sanitary sewers and water.

The school board Monday night ended efforts of a special citizens study committee that was investigating proposals for a local junior college. The board decided that the seven-member voluntary committee was just too small to cover the vast number of issues involved.

Two cars over-turned at different times Saturday on the recently-built curve that connects Novi road with the Eight Mile cutoff. Both accidents, one in the morning and one in the afternoon, occurred when the drivers mis-judged the speed at which they could negotiate the corner. Northville Police Chief Eugene King said the poorly marked corner will cause more accidents if Oakland county does not put up better indications of the danger of the corner.

A fire in an upstairs closet in the home of Parker Holden, 628 West Main, destroyed between $1,500 and $2,000 worth of clothing last Friday noon. The fire was confined to the closet.

Hocking-Gillies shoe store, which opened its 115 East Main street branch just six months ago, ceased operations here Saturday night. The closing was explained as the result of the death a month ago of John Gillies, head of the chain.

November 29, 1955

A request for 41 days of spring and fall thoroughbred racing at Northville Downs next year was turned down this week by state racing commissioner James H. Inghs. But Mark Leach, Detroit businessman who made the request, said he will decide this weekend whether to pursue the matter further.

What many have suspected has now been put into official figures. Northville, Northville township and Novi township have been growing strongly and steadily since the 1950 census. Figures released last week show population increases of 11, 41 and 49 per cent for Northville and Northville and Novi townships, respectively.

A total of 10 candidates will vie for positions on the school board that will govern the newly-formed Novi consolidated school district. The five-member board will be elected December 17.

Northville City Manager John Robertson reported this week that letters of protest had been sent to Michigan Bell Telephone and Consumers Power companies. The protest to Michigan Bell was over a rate rise, and to Consumers because of the firm's failure to release gas permits.

Plans are now underway for a spring showing of the work of local artists who belong to the Three Cities art club. The show will feature places and people of interest in Northville, Livonia and Plymouth.

An estimated 125 persons attended an open house at the Northville library last Friday afternoon. The event, presided over by Mrs. Harry Wagen-schutz, marked the recent remodeling of several library rooms.

Evening hobby classes have become so popular here that the recreation committee has decided to expand them by offering two nights of classes instead of the previously scheduled one. Classes will be held on Monday and Friday evenings.

Some 24 members of the Methodist congregation signed a petition Sunday morning to regulate the sale of liquor in Michigan. The petition will be circulated in many towns and villages in the state during the next few weeks.

Dr. Mudd Replies

Behavior Signals Mental Illness

Dear Dr. Mudd:

I have a son who graduated from high school with the highest grades that had ever been recorded, last June. He started in college this September and since then some terrible things have happened.

He came home over last week end and had lost about 25 pounds of weight. He was restless, smoked cigarettes all the time and said that he was quitting school because he had invented a new language and was going to write a book about it. Half of the time I couldn't understand him and neither could any of the rest of the family. I wanted to take him to a doctor because he looked so pale and nervous. He wouldn't go and now refuses to go back to school.

He sits in his room with the curtains pulled down and the lights on even in the day time, doing some kind of writing which I can't understand. I know he should see a doctor, but how can I get him there?

G.B.

Dear G.B.:

I have chosen to write separately to you, giving specific suggestions as to how you can get your son to the proper help he seems to require from your description. Your letter revealed a tragic situation and hopefully, prompt and intensive treatment will help him.

The degree of knowledge the public has about the symptoms of mental illness is so small and inadequate, that it must be explored. Almost any one can recognize illness of a physical nature and although they may not know the diagnosis, they at least recognize that a person is ill.

But when it comes to emotional and mental disturbances, people are often blithely unaware of what is happening right before them. They ascribe serious symptoms to idiosyncrasy or ignore it all together.

Irrational behavior, unpredictable and senseless acts, deterioration of personal appearance, and previous way of living are all obvious signs of serious emotional disorders. When the major psychoses are so frequently missed by people who are closest to the sick one, you can imagine how infrequently people recognize the relatively minor, yet nonetheless quite painful emotional disorders which abound in our society.

Unfortunately, this subject still seems rather taboo and to my knowledge, there are no organized courses at the high school level to inform people about this very important topic.

There are many people who deny the presence of mental illness in close relatives, not only because they fear that they, too, may become similarly ill, but also because they often and unreasonably harbor a sense of guilt.

It is most difficult to get across the idea that mental illness cannot be caused by any person, but is the consequence of an inter-reaction between two or more persons.

It is very handy to simplify matters by blaming a parent for maladjustment in his child, but it must always be kept in mind that there is no single simple explanation, no matter how attractive it may be, to explain emotional disturbances.

Very truly yours,
Sandor Mudd, M.D.

READERS SPEAK

To the Editor:

At the close of the (Northville) township meeting on this date (November 21) I found all of the windows of my car not just soaped up but thoroughly and expertly covered with candle wax. So vigorous were those responsible that in their enthusiasm they broke a window.

It is now three weeks that Halloween is past and this destructive lawless behavior is no longer accountable and perhaps pardonable as a childish prank condoned by the spirit of the season. Except for the evident childish nature of those who take pleasure or find amusement in the discomfiture of others. I warrant these were no children for one would not expect the latter to be out on the streets at such a late hour.

Were I alone in being the recipient of such purposeless aggression I should keep my anger to myself. But I observed a number of others who had attended the meeting in a similar plight.

Perhaps it will more emphatically express the dismay of all of us if the authorship of this letter is not revealed for I do not think it presumptuous to write in the name of all of us whose property was so purposelessly defaced.

Course in Buying For Women?

Housewives in America spend at least one-third of the nation's annual income. For this reason, a group of Michigan people believe public school education should train women to be discriminating buyers from the time they are playing with dolls until they are ready to buy toys for their own children.

A recent consumer protection conference conducted by a division of the state attorney general's office spent a long day considering the problems facing the public in everyday buying.

"It is rather difficult to explain to a person with a minimum education the difference between the various size packages in relation to price and content," said Mrs. Maxine Virtue, assistant attorney general in charge of the consumer protection division.

"The conference participants suggested education in this area should start in the grade school and be carried continuously in the curriculum through the university," she said.

It was also urged that people in responsible, leadership positions should educate the housewife-consumer regarding habits of discrimination as contrasted with economics.

"Industry interests play largely on motivational aspects of marketplace choice," Mrs. Virtue said. "If the consumer seriously wishes to be protected, she should develop a resistance to these practices."

Conference participants generally were agreed packaging habits of industry should be standardized by legislation.

"It seemed to be the consensus, however, that proper education and communication would bring about a great deal of voluntary self-regulation by both producers and retailers," said Mrs. Virtue.

Year-end holiday preparations in Michigan bring a sharp increase in both commercial and private mail traffic.

"Christmas seals" account for a large percentage of the commercial mailings in November and December.

The term "Christmas seals" started many years ago when tuberculosis was striking at its peak. Since then many organizations joined the bandwagon and distributed stamp-like seals during the holiday season.

Tuberculosis associations throughout the nation have continued pre-holiday mailings of seals as their single fund-raising campaign of the year.

In Michigan this year seals were mailed to nearly two million homes and business places. The Michigan TB and Respiratory Disease Association hopes to set a new record, by collecting a million dollars.

Impact of the disease has lessened considerably, officials report. Leaders in the battle against TB have set 1970 as a target date for eradication of the disease.

The happy holidays this year will be somewhat less than joyous for many Michigan residents, state statistics show.

November, December, and January are traditionally the worst months on the highways. Holidays throughout the year generally bring an increase in the number of traffic accidents.

The three year-end holidays contribute to heavy traffic substantially and wintry weather gives cause to extra care behind the wheel.

Highway department officials marked the recent opening of additional high mileage with predictions the new multi-lane divided highway through the north central section of the state would result in a sharp drop in traffic accidents.

Department studies on other freeways in the state would tend to support this prediction. There are fewer accidents on divided highways than on the roads they replaced. One reason for this, however, would seem to be that the old roads were not built to accommodate the current traffic loads and speeds.

State Police records tend to discount the highway department's rosy picture of the effect of multi-lane routes.

Overall traffic accident records in Michigan have not substantially decreased. In the last two years fatalities have been as high or higher than previous years.

State Police Commissioner Joseph Childs placed emphasis in recent months on extra care on roads near home.

"People get off the high speed routes and near their homes, where they have driven the side roads year in and year out," he said. "They often get careless because they aren't ready for the unpredictable."

Insurance Stock Rating

Babson Park, Mass., 1961. The possibility of devastation from nuclear explosion is now a matter of concern to the whole world. It could be argued that this dismal prospect will have a depressing effect on the value of fire and life insurance stocks.

However, the insurance industry assumed no war risk liability during World War II, but acted merely in the capacity of a government agent when war risk insurance was instituted.

Today, most of the insurance policies which are in force exclude payment for damage from enemy action. These facts should at least be reassuring to those investors who own insurance stocks.

A study of fire insurance common stock prices, from the post-depression stock market peak of 1937 to the wartime low in 1942, indicates that they held up better than twice as well in value as did the mighty Dow-Jones Industrial Average during that same interval.

Hence, despite the pressures of wartime uncertainties during World War II and the rigid price controls in effect then, investors owning stocks of companies insuring property and life had much less worry than those who pinned their faith on the issues which made up the Dow-Jones Average during that time.

I therefore recommend that all investors have at least one well chosen fire and life insurance stock in their list of securities to help them maintain peace of mind in this dangerous atomic age.

Both fire insurance stock and life insurance stocks have the public working with them. The cost to the city in which you live — for its fire department, Gamewell fire boxes, etc. — directly benefits all fire insurance stocks. This is especially important with fire insurance losses constantly increasing year by year.

Furthermore, fire insurance policies are issued, as a rule, for only three years, and seldom for longer than five years. This gives the companies opportunity to readjust their rates according to changing conditions. These rates are set by the state authorities, and they are known to be fair in making adjustments.

The public goes even further in "helping" the life insurance companies. Every doctor, hospital, and individual is working to protect life and lengthen the lifespan. Polio epidemics have been virtually eliminated while, because of proper municipal sanitation, very few cases of diphtheria or typhoid now occur. Tuberculosis is still being fought by private associations and other means.

This leads us to the conclusion that many insurance stocks now represent good value for holding during this time of trouble and danger and 100-megaton bombs.
