

MOTORISTS MOANED but the youngsters cheered as freezing rain followed by snow covered streets and sidewalks with a sheet of ice last week end. Road crews worked day and night spreading salt and sand, but scenes like the one above were not uncommon. Those who could left their cars home and walked, and a moving vehicle became a rarity as conditions hit their worst Sunday. At right Elizabeth and Rachel Cargio find "walking" in ice skates just fine.

Weather Accommodates

Take Your Choice: Rain, Cold, Snow

Old Man Winter paid his severest call this past week end, bringing the first week of the new year to a close with a torrent of freezing rain followed by snow.

Slippery sidewalks and roads plagued everyone but the kids, who took the occasion as an opportunity for a little ice skating.

Local doctors reported several injuries to pedestrians as a result of falls on the ice — including a broken leg, wrist and collar bone.

Motorists suffered most as area highways were first skimmed over by a treacherous layer of ice, and later covered by a blanket of snow which hid the ice and surprised many unsuspecting drivers.

Northville police report several minor accidents resulting from the slippery streets. Police Chief Eugene King said there was a total of four minor collisions Friday night, Saturday and Sunday, all caused mainly by slippery conditions.

"These were simply cases of one driver stepping on his brakes and beginning to slide after seeing an approaching vehicle sliding toward him," King said. He said none of the cars involved was damaged so badly that it couldn't be driven away.

Novi police reported the only serious accident in the area during the three-day storm period. Friday night a 12 mile road collision resulted in the death of Oscar Robinson of Keego Harbor, and the injury of three Wixom Lincoln plant employees, all residents of Madison Heights.

The police said Novi side roads were slippery Friday and Saturday, and snow-choked Sunday, so most drivers were either staying off these roads or were being extremely careful.

Northville's DPW used 24 tons of salt mixed with 30 tons of sand, reported City Manager Bruce Potthoff. This was spread Saturday and Sunday.

The biggest load came Sunday afternoon and evening when the three-hour crew worked seven hours covering the entire city, he said. They also worked Saturday morning and evening, as well as early Sunday morning.

He said the DPW workers were able to handle Friday's icy conditions during their regular working hours.

Novi DPW crews worked around the clock from early Saturday morning to the wee hours Sunday, said DPW Director Howard Miller. He added that they spread about 105 tons of sand and chloride mixture, and about 70 tons of pure salt during their 22 hours of work.

Northville township Supervisor George Clark said he received a number of calls from township residents who wanted to report bad roads over the week end. He said he referred them to the county which takes care of township roads.

Carl Tiscopink of the Wayne county DPW said the county doubled the number of trucks that usually service this area. He said the six trucks normally stationed at the Wilcox yard in Plymouth were supplemented by another six during the height of the bad weather.

The county serviced both main and side roads Friday morning and came back about 4 a.m. Saturday to combat the ice that formed after the rains. Sunday, he said, all 12 trucks hit the road to spread 300 tons of sand and 150 tons of salt.

Tiscopink said some residents on side roads didn't receive service right away because the crews can only spread salt on these icy side roads during the daylight hours. He explained that trucks must be backed into side roads and this operation becomes too dangerous in the dark.

But Old Man Winter apparently isn't going to give us much relief.

The weather bureau at Willow Run airport predicted colder weather than normal for today and this week end, with about one-half inch of snow today and snow flurries Saturday and Sunday.

With temperatures already hovering below zero — "colder than normal" forecasts hold faint hope for relief.

Mayor Sets Goals For Council in '62

Although its agenda was light, the city council had one of its largest audiences — without benefit of a "hot issue" — in several years Monday night.

And Mayor Allen concluded the session with a unique "state of the city" address.

In an unusual expression of enthusiasm for the easy-going mayor he sighted the difficulties that had been overcome in recent months and outlined a program of accomplishment for the next year.

"We had to find replacements for the positions of city manager and clerk in the past few months and we accomplished both very well," Mayor Allen noted.

"We have two new council members with nearly a year's experience now (Ambler and Mrs. Carlson) and should be ready to move ahead," he continued.

Mayor Allen pointed to completion of the codification of ordinances, construction of a new city hall, resolution of the special assessment proposal for street improvements, scheduling of street improvements ("even if it's 50 years, we ought to be able to tell a resident that his street will be paved in 1990") and a program of sewer maintenance and mapping as his principle targets for 1962.

Sixteen residents listened to proceedings at the first meeting of 1962 and only two were on hand to offer comments.

Elmer Balko asked about the status of the proposed post office (see story on page one) and Mrs. Howard Boller of 771 Horton complained about the traffic tie-up at North Center and the Eight Mile road cut-off.

Call Meeting On Economic Development

If January pronouncements are an accurate barometer of things to come, 1962 may well be a "year of action" in Northville.

One of the most-delayed yet widely-desired community programs appears ready for launching.

Letters were mailed this week to 14 members of the proposed economic development committee — a project that was recommended in mid-1960 following a three-months' study.

First meeting of the group has been scheduled for next Wednesday evening in the offices of Manufacturers National Bank.

Appointees to the committee include representatives of the city, township and school district. They include: Mayor A. M. Allen, John Canterbury, A. R. Clarke, Fred Kester, Donald Lawrence, Alex Lawrence, John Miller, Donald Robinson, N. C. Schrader, Robert Shafer, William Sliger, Charles Smith, Gunnar Stromberg and George Zerbel.

In March, 1960 a six-member committee representing the city, township and school district was appointed to study the need and propose a means for economic development of the Northville area. The group was composed of Canterbury, Clarke, Donald Lawrence, Shafer, William Crump and H. B. Putnam.

Concern over the inevitable growing tax burden that will continue to fall principally upon homeowners in the area prompted formation of the committee by the city council, Crump served as chairman of the group.

The committee presented its conclusions to the city council in November of 1960.

The study urgently appealed to officials to take action "before our local situation gets out of hand." It undertook to project future tax requirements of the school district and conservatively predicted (without concern for city or township taxes) that school and county taxes within the Northville district would increase 70 percent during the next 10 years.

While the report conceded that land suitable for industrial development within the area is limited, it warned that this industry potential would seem to be the only hope of relief from the progressively increasing tax burden.

Pointing to the low ratio of industrial and commercial property to residential (and further noting that 20 percent of the land within the school district is state or county owned) the report cautioned that taxes to the homeowner could easily exceed the predicted 70 percent increase in the coming decade.

The city council accepted the report and adopted a resolution in December, 1960 to set forth the following rules of operation for the economic development committee:

1. To conduct an industrial survey of the area; to collect all information which would be of assistance to an industrial or other business concern in making a decision on location.

2. To conduct a program of public information on the need for and the advantages of having industry and business locate and remain in the area.

3. To make recommendations to the respective governing bodies of the areas with respect to zoning and other legislative or policy matters related to industrial and other economic development.

4. To promote through advertising, publicity, personal contact and other appropriate means the advantages of the area to businesses seeking new locations.

5. To arrange for the providing of proper inducements and assistance to businesses considering locating in the area and to local businesses which may otherwise determine to move from this area — including the creation of an Industrial Development Corporation

New Auto License Bureau Plates Amid Paintings

Northville now has its own secretary of state's branch office for the sale of auto license plates.

And chances are it ranks as the "most cultured" bureau in the state.

When buyers line up for plates at the Northville office they'll be able to gaze at a variety of paintings, pottery and other works of art.

The office is in the rear of the Hartley-Powers Art Gallery, 116 East Main street.

Secretary of State James Hare announced that Harold Hartley would be manager of the permanent fee branch office scheduled to open today.

Hartley said that the "decor" of the office would be Early American — but that the plates would be identical to any others.

The office will be open daily except Sunday from 9 a.m. until 6 p.m. Friday evenings the office will be open until 9 o'clock.

Petitions Protest Gravel Pit Rubbish

Some confusion, a great deal of controversy and the promise of determined opposition surround the proposed issuance of a permit to operate a landfill in Northville township's Manning & Locklin gravel pits.

Monday night, in a meeting advertised as a "public hearing," the permit is scheduled to be granted.

But even if this happens, opponents of the landfill plan have threatened to take legal steps to gain a restraining order — and shift the argument to the courts.

The proposal to operate a landfill in the gravel mining area between Seven and Eight Mile roads in Northville township was brought before the Northville township zoning board nearly a year ago.

Specifically, the request was made by the Manning and Locklin Land Company represented by Sheldon G. Hayes, president of Cadillac Asphalt company and a member of the land firm along with Perry Manning and Charles Locklin.

Township zoners discouraged the application because it did not include a comprehensive plan for rehabilitation of the blighted area.

In subsequent meetings the developers presented plans and drawings of a multi-million dollar community of homes on some 370 acres of land complete with lakes, recreation areas and a proposed school site.

Estimates on time required to fill the area and develop such lots ranged from 10 to 20 years.

The township zoning board was then told by Attorney James Littell that issuance of such a permit was a matter for the board of appeals to consider.

The appeals board — composed of Chairman Gunnar Stromberg, Roy Terrill and John Miller — granted conditional approval December 8 by a 2-1 vote with Miller dissenting.

The board then instructed Township Attorney Littell to draft a permit that would employ agreed upon safeguards. These include:

- a cash security to guarantee performance ($25,000);
- protection against obnoxious odors, smoke and burning;
- tests to insure that purity of water will not be endangered;
- greenbelt provisions surrounding landfill area;
- requirement that one cubic yard of fill be paid township as a contribution for administrative and inspection costs.

It also stipulated that the permit terminates on December 31 each year but may be renewed for 12 years providing none of the agreements have been violated.

From the outset the project has been opposed by Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Howell, 43243 Eight Mile road, whose property is adjacent to the gravel pit operation.

Howell stated this week that he is circulating petitions opposing the project. He said he has more than 100 names already.

Howell charges that the developers "don't care a thing" (Continued on Page 5)

New Post Office On Tap for 1962

Prospects for a new post office in Northville this year appear bright.

This was the word from Mayor A. M. Allen Monday night after Elmer Balko, a post office employee, told council members that he had seen a letter from post office authorities indicating that plans for a new building had been halted "because of local differences". Balko expressed concern, pointing out serious space shortages and need for new equipment in the present post office.

Both Mayor Allen and Councilman John Canterbury explained the post office difficulties — that date back to last summer when council members expressed preference for a Cady street site and members of the Retail Merchants association circulated a petition opposing this site and recommending the corner of Main and Center streets.

"That's all been ironed out," Canterbury explained. He pointed out that a letter approved by both the council and merchants had been sent to postal authorities stating whichever site was chosen would be acceptable.

Mayor Allen stated that he had recently met with John Jehowski, real estate officer for the post office department in Detroit, and had been assured that plans were now underway.

Four sites are being considered by Jehowski: the southwest corner of Wing and Cady; the Main street lot across from the theater and the Cady street lot directly behind this Main street lot; and the southwest corner of Main and Center.

Kimberly Ann Berger

First Baby? It's A Girl

Kimberly Ann Berger, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Berger of 40030 Grand River in Novi, is "First Baby, 1962" for the Northville-Novi area.

As "first babies" go, Kimberly Ann was a late arrival. She was born at 12:38 a.m., January 3 at St. Mary hospital in Livonia.

But her parents — experiencing a "first" themselves — hadn't expected her until mid-January.

Kimberly Ann, who weighed in at seven pounds, 14 ounces, becomes the fourth "First Baby" girl, and she succeeds Tamara Ann Macdonald of 43404 Cottisford, who was born at 3:38 a.m. January 2, 1961.

The race for honors this year was close.

Two other January 3 births were reported — both just a few hours later than the Bergers.

Born at William Beaumont hospital at 5:50 a.m. January 3 was Diane Patricia Foley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Foley of 23700 East LeBost in Novi. Diane weighed seven pounds, 13½ ounces.

At 7:18 a.m. on January 3 at Oakwood hospital in Dearborn, Lori Ann Strauch was born. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Strauch of 410 East Main street, Northville. Lori Ann weighed eight pounds, five ounces.

Although the Bergers live in Novi, mother and daughter are staying in Wixom for a few days with her mother, Mrs. Robert Beene, 3320 Theodore.

Here's the list of prizes that go to "First Baby": a blanket from Brader's, choice of apparel from The Little People

Shopper; 24 cans of baby food from E.M.B. Market; a bottle and diaper bag from Novi Rex; all Drug; a two-piece stainless steel baby set from Tewksbury Jewelers; baby toiletries from

Northville Drug company; 15 half gallons of milk from Cloverdale Farms Dairy; shoes from D & C Store; and a bouquet of flowers for mother from Jones Floral

Northville township Supervisor George Clark said he received a number of calls from township residents who wanted to report bad roads over the week end. He said he referred them to the county which takes care of township roads.

Carl Tiscopink of the Wayne county DPW said the county doubled the number of trucks that usually service this area. He said the six trucks normally stationed at the Wilcox yard in Plymouth were supplemented by another six during the height of the bad weather.

Planners to Hear Rezoning Request

Northville planners will hold a public hearing next Tuesday night to consider a petition from R. T. Martin to rezone two lots on the northwest corner of the Eight Mile cut-off and Novi avenue.

Martin has requested that the lots be changed from R-1 to C-1 to permit sale of the property for use as gasoline station site.

Martin has stated that the lots are no longer suitable for residential use since construction of the cut-off. The corner serves as the entrance from the cut-off to Novi road.

The hearing is scheduled for 8 p.m. at the city hall.

Fight Polio, Eat Peanuts

The annual "Peanuts for Polio" sale will be held Saturday in the Northville business district from 10 a.m. until 2 p.m.

Members of the high school senior student council will be salesmen with LaGene Quay, assistant principal, in charge.

All proceeds from the sale will be turned over to the month-long March of Dimes campaign in Northville.

Consider Bond Plan For Lights

Snow and cold may have been the forecast Monday night, but the flurries failed to blur the vision of Northville school board members who foresee an equipped athletic field at the high school in time for football next fall.

Lighting, seating and other needed facilities cost money, however, with the price tag for the entire project roughly estimated at about $60-70,000 by a board committee studying the job.

The big problem is how to raise money to pay for the proposed facilities. Director of Administrative Services E. V. Ellison recently reviewed one suggested method, a revenue bond issue, with the schools' bond attorney. Under this plan gate receipts from the athletic program would be used to retire the bonds. Before it could be adopted the Municipal Finance commission in Lansing would have to approve the plan. Approval would be contingent on the school district's ability to guarantee sufficient revenue from the receipts to pay for the bonds.

The revenue bond issue and other possible methods of financing, such as public subscription, will be considered by the board next Monday night at a special meeting. Members at that time expect to take final steps to get the project underway.

In other business, board members heard a report on the schools' midyear financial position. Ellison said receipts and expenditures to date have, for the most part, matched those predicted in the budget. He pointed out that while the state is $40,000 delinquent in aid payments a full payment is promised in February.

Prospects for next year are uncertain as yet. Increased enrollment should up revenues somewhat, but no significant increase in state equalized evaluation is expected. A request asking the board to support a statewide move to increase state aid by 8 per cent was not acted on. The proposal, if passed by the State Legislature would mean an increase of about $25,000 for the district.

The school board also: — Referred to School Attorney James Littell a law suit Hornman Reinackel and his 14-year-old daughter Susan have filed against the district for injuries both sustained when Reinackel's car struck a guardrail enclosing a fire hydrant in the high school parking lot.

— Heard a report on educational television by Trustee Wilfred Becker.

Eastern Women's Colleges Will Host Information Day

The Detroit Committee for Seven Eastern Women's Colleges will sponsor its annual "College Information Day" next Saturday, January 20 at 2 p.m. in the 12th floor auditorium of the J. L. Hudson company, Detroit. Alumnae of Barnard, Bryn Mawr, Mt. Holyoke, Radcliffe, Smith, Vassar and Wellesley comprise the committee.

Mrs. Paul M. Cargo, graduate of Wellesley college, will represent Northville.

Featured speaker at the College Day program will be Mrs. Thomas R. Broughton, director of admissions at Bryn Mawr. Recently returned from a meeting with admission directors of the Eastern colleges, Mrs. Broughton will discuss "Admissions and Scholarship Policy with Emphasis on New and Future Developments".

A brief slide tour of the colleges, conducted by Smith alumna Mrs. George Hiltner, will close the formal part of the meeting.

Questions regarding entrance requirements, expenses, scholarship opportunities, curricula and transportation will be answered by alumnae at individual tables during tea.

Invitations to high school and preparatory school principals and counselors have been extended by Mrs. W. P. Harris, chairman of the day.

All interested girls in the greater Detroit area and their parents are also invited.

Mrs. Ralph Hay, Sr. and Mrs. Ida Cooke will assist the hostesses at the dessert luncheon.

Past Matrons Club Meets Wednesday

In Reed City

Cansfield-Remenap Vows Read

St. Paul's Lutheran church, Reed City, was the setting for the December 29 marriage of Kay Frances Remenap, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard E. Remenap, of Reed City, and William B. Cansfield, son of Mrs. William H. Cansfield, of West Dunlap street, and the late Mr. Cansfield.

The newlywed Cansfields are making their home in St. Clair Shores where both are teachers. Mr. Cansfield is a graduate of Albion college and the University of Michigan. He was affiliated with Delta Tau Delta fraternity. His wife was graduated from Central Michigan university and was a member of Alpha Chi Omega sorority.

Officiating at the candlelight ceremony was the Reverend Donald Kearns. Vows were spoken before an altar decorated with baskets of white and wine mums.

The bride wore a satin taffeta gown with bouffant skirt and chapel train. A panel of lace accented the front of the skirt. She carried a cascading bouquet of roses, stephanotis and an orchid. Her father escorted her to the altar.

Attending the former Miss Remenap were her three sisters, Mrs. William Borstler, matron of honor, and the Misses Mary Lou and Beth Remenap, bridesmaids. They were identical.

Town Hall Preview

Just Call Him 'Mister'

Anthony Wedgewood Benn, a British politician who prefers membership in Parliament's House of Commons to a title with its hereditary seat in the House of Lords, will be the featured speaker next Thursday morning, January 18, when Northville Town Hall series resumes its lectures at the P&A theatre.

Third in the series sponsored by the Altar Society of Our Lady of Victory church, the lecture will begin at 11 a.m. Introducing Benn will be Dr. W. L. Howard, medical superintendent of Maybury sanatorium.

A speaker's luncheon at Lofy's Arbor-Lill in Plymouth will follow the lecture. Mrs. J. W. Cheetham, FI 9-1016, and Miss Ruth Knapp, FI 9-1829, are accepting reservations, which should be made 24 hours before the lecture. If any openings remain, some reservations may be made at the theatre. Parties of 8 can reserve tables. Smaller groups will be seated with other ticket holders.

Benn's name erupted in world headlines last year when he launched a battle to renounce the title Viscount Stansgate and complete his fourth term in the House of Commons. According to custom, Benn would automatically become a member of the House of Lords by virtue of his title.

Benn has been in Parliament since 1950. At 25 he was the youngest member. He is in the Labour "Shadow Cabinet" in the House of Commons and serves on the Labour party's National committee. Foreign policy — especially the United Nations and the Afro-Asian world — have been his Parliamentary interests.

A frequent radio and television broadcaster on public affairs programs, Benn is a former member of the Guild of TV Producers and Directors and Chairman of the Labour party Broadcasting committee.

He also writes a weekly political column, "As I See It", in the Bristol Evening World. He is the author of "Privy Council as a Second Chamber", the future of the House of Lords.

Married to a Cincinnati girl — they have four children — Benn has visited the United States often since 1947-48 when he participated in a student debating tour of 60 American universities.

He has lectured in Britain, France and Germany.

Pedersen, Van Haren Art Is Shown at Gallery Here

Hartley-Powers gallery, 116 East Main, opens the 1962 art year with a joint showing of recent work by John Van Haren, painter and professor of art at Eastern Michigan university, and Roy Pedersen, potter and art teacher at Northville high school.

Both artists will be at the gallery Sunday afternoon for a 2-6 reception that will kick off the two-week exhibit, scheduled through January 27.

Van Haren will show several paintings inspired by natural scenes in the Northville area. A consistent award winner, he has a long history of exhibits in Michigan Arts and Michigan Watercolor society shows. His visit here comes on the heels of a favorably received one-man show at AAA gallery in Detroit last November.

A former high school teacher here, Van Haren may be remembered by local residents for the mosaic mural he and his Northville art students created in the high school.

Pedersen enters the Northville show after a successful December exhibit at Hanamura gallery, Detroit. His pottery and jewelry have won nationwide acclaim as part of a traveling exhibit prepared by the Smith-

Offer Study In First Aid, Infant Care

Starting dates for two free courses — one in beginning first aid, the other for prospective parents — were announced this week by the Northwest Regional office of the American Red Cross.

The five-week first aid course begins next Wednesday, January 17 at Emerson junior high school, 29100 West Chicago. It is being co-sponsored by the Livonia Adult Education department and Livonia Red Cross. Classes will be conducted each Wednesday evening from 7:30 to 9:30.

Registrations are being accepted weekdays at the Adult Education office, GA 2-1200, Red Cross Northwest Regional office, GA 4-0220, and at the first class session.

"Mother and Baby Care", a Red Cross course designed for prospective mothers and fathers, started last night, Wednesday, at the regional office, 33339 Plymouth road, Livonia. Taught by a registered nurse, it will continue for six consecutive Wednesdays from 8 to 10 p.m.

The physical, and emotional changes experienced by parents-to-be before the birth of the baby and suggestions to help them prepare a better environment for the infant will be presented by means of films and lectures. Demonstrations of baby care using a life-size angel skin doll are given and class members have opportunity to practice diapering, holding, bathing and dressing the "baby".

Registrations are being accepted at the Red Cross regional office.

Plymouth Adult Classes Start Again January 29

The second semester of the Plymouth Recreation and Adult Education program will get underway January 29. According to Director Herb Woolweaver a schedule of nearly 75 activities will be offered.

Registrations may be made at the high school recreation offices, January 15 and 16 during the day and evening and during the day throughout the rest of next week. Deadline for registration is January 19.

Free folders listing all activities, fees, teachers, etc., are available in Northville at The Record office and the public library.

Monday activities include Community Chorus, Basic Electronics, Electronics II, German, Golf, Men's Gym, Nature Study, Security Investments, Beginning Sewing, Swedish Gym, Symphony, Theatre Guild, Advanced Typing, Beginning Typing, Upholstering and Water Color Painting.

For Wednesday, lessons include Accordion, Aviation Ground School, Badminton for Adults, Adult Bank, Men's Basketball, Bridge I, Bridge II, Child Psychology, Millinery, Photography, Reading Efficiency, Intermediate Short Hand, Beginning Square Dancing, Senior Citizens Shuffleboard and "TOPS" Club, Inc.

Thursday classes include Accordion, Beginners Drama, Boys Basketball, Male Chorus, Driver Training, Knitting, Senior Citizens, Shorthand Beginning, Square Dance Club, Toastmaster, Trimming, Waitress Training, and Yoga.

On Thursday, college credit courses include Civil War and Reconstruction, Science in the Elementary School and Modern Germany, all taught by Eastern Michigan University instructors and arranged through the University.

Club Has Tickets For Flower Show

Tickets for the flower show that will be staged in Detroit's Cobo hall February 27-March 3 are being sold at a reduced rate by Northville branch of the Women's National Farm and Garden association.

Tickets at one-third less than the regular price can be purchased at Ebert Funeral home, 404 West Main.

Ungraded Schools Help Reading Says Educator

First grade teachers should not be expected to have all the children in their class reading at the end of the year, says Charles F. Lehmann, assistant dean of the University of Michigan School of Education.

Wed in Novi

Two marriage ceremonies were performed by Novi Justice Robert Anderson last week.

Married January 5 were Sandra Lee Miner, of Northville, and Patrick Arthur Johnson, of Detroit. Witnesses were Miss Miner's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Miner, also of Northville.

Karl Anderson, Jr., of Detroit, and Gloria Czarnecki, of Garden City, exchanged vows in a ceremony Saturday. Mr. and Mrs. Hal Saylor, of Garden City, were witnesses.

"They should have three years to adjust their program to the inevitable differences in their pupils," Lehmann says.

"Ungraded schools have been increasingly advocated for several years and a number have been reorganized to remove the separation of grades — mostly elementary schools — with some experimental developments made at the secondary level," he notes.

What advantage does this system have? "Both students and teacher are relieved from the pressure of having to demonstrate uniform mastery of curriculum material each year," Lehmann says.

The U-M educator points out that ungraded schools present a far better opportunity to individualize instruction in all areas since the teacher has a chance to work with her pupils over a considerably longer span of time.

The ungraded school also works to the advantage of the gifted child, Lehmann says. "These children have the advantage of associating in a learning situation with children older than themselves. They would probably have chosen to be with these children informally in any case."

He also notes that it is easier to reinforce the teacher's efforts by arranging for consultant services and for groups of teachers or qualified laymen to instruct in special areas. As a result, home-school-community relations are likely to improve.

Dems Slate College Talk And Potluck

A discussion of Northville and the community college concept and a special potluck supper will highlight a meeting of the Northville Democratic club next Wednesday, January 17 in the community building.

The supper will begin at 6:30. Ferris Crawford, a specialist in community college programs from the Michigan State Department of Public Instruction, will speak on "What Does a Community College Offer Northville".

Area residents are invited to attend and are requested to bring a passing dish and table service.

Stop at the Hop

Catholic Youth Organization of Our Lady of Victory church reminds local teenagers to put on their dancing shoes and attend the "Kick-off Hop" the group is sponsoring Saturday in the church social hall at the corner of Thayer and Orchard.

Dancing is planned from 8 to 11:30 p.m. Tickets are 50 cents.

DAR Marks 35th Birthday

Sarah Ann Cochrane chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution (DAR), will meet at 12:30 p.m. Monday, January 15 at Hillside Inn, Plymouth, for a luncheon marking the chapter's 35th birthday.

William B. Gregory II will address members, guests and regents of the metropolitan area. His topic is "The Constitution".

Mayor Sets

She pointed out that long lines of traffic at the intersection forced children to stand in the cold to wait safe crossing. She also asked the council who was responsible for keeping the sidewalks clear along the Eight and road cut-off.

For A. M. Allen pointed to the present traffic survey in the area as a possible solution to the car jam — and said that sidewalks are the responsibility of abutting property owners.

Councilman John Canterbury was quick to note that the city might experience some difficulty in convincing the residents they should clean the long stretch of walks along their side-lot lines "inasmuch as they didn't want the walks and the city had them installed and assessed to the property owners".

In other business Monday night the council received a city manager's report on the possibilities of urban renewal for Northville (which will be reviewed in next week's Record); removed parking on the north side of Main street from the A & P lot to Griswold; set February 5 as the date for a public hearing to establish a "research engineering" zoning district and use of performance standards; and set January 29 as the next regularly scheduled meeting of the council.

Junior Hi Cagers Have Good Start

Northville's seventh and eighth grade basketball teams have won five of their first six games, says Coach Bob Prom. The seventh graders have fared best, he said, having won all three of their games, while the eighth graders lost one.

The seventh graders first downed Brighton 18-15. Then they edged out Nankin Mills 25-21, and last week they squeaked by West Bloomfield with a 17-15 win.

The eighth graders lost their opener to Brighton, 26-17. But they bounced back to give Nankin Mills an astounding 23-8 drubbing. Last week they called it even closer than the seventh graders when they downed West Bloomfield 13-12.

Their schedule for the rest of the year is:

Jan. 12 at Milford
Jan. 26 Milford here
Feb. 2 at Dublin
Feb. 8 Nankin Mills here

Feb. 16 Dublin here
Feb. 22 West Bloom. here
March 2 Brighton here

Rec Teams Going Strong

The adult men's recreation basketball league begins tonight on its fifth week of play. All four teams play each Thursday evening in the community building, starting at 7:30.

Current leaders of the league are the Marauders, who have won three and lost one. But running close seconds are the Northville Faculty and the Blue Devils, both tied at two and two.

Sitting on the bottom are the Sun Devils, with a one-three record. But they're still in reach of the top before the season ends next spring.

Northville Record — Novi News — Thursday, January 11, 1962
Section 1 Page 6

Cager of the Week

DAN BROWN, last week's high scorer for the Northville Mustangs, takes one of his favorite hook shots. The tall (6', 3") senior plays center for the Mustangs and has been the team's leading scorer this season averaging better than 15 points a game. Danny, who has also been a stand-out end on the football squad, is the son of Dr. and Mrs. Philip Brown, 39450 Haggerty court. He is a member of the National Honor Society and has a little better than a "B" average.

Pucksters Win First

The Ely Oil Kings, Northville's entry in the Garden City adult men's hockey league, won their first game Tuesday night when they defeated the Bel-Temps of Garden City 4-3.

Art Carlson led scoring with two goals and just missed a shot at a three-goal "hat trick" when he drew the goalie off with a fake and had an open net.

The win was most gratifying to the Oilers' new coach, Joe Girardin, a former Northville resident who recently moved to Plymouth.

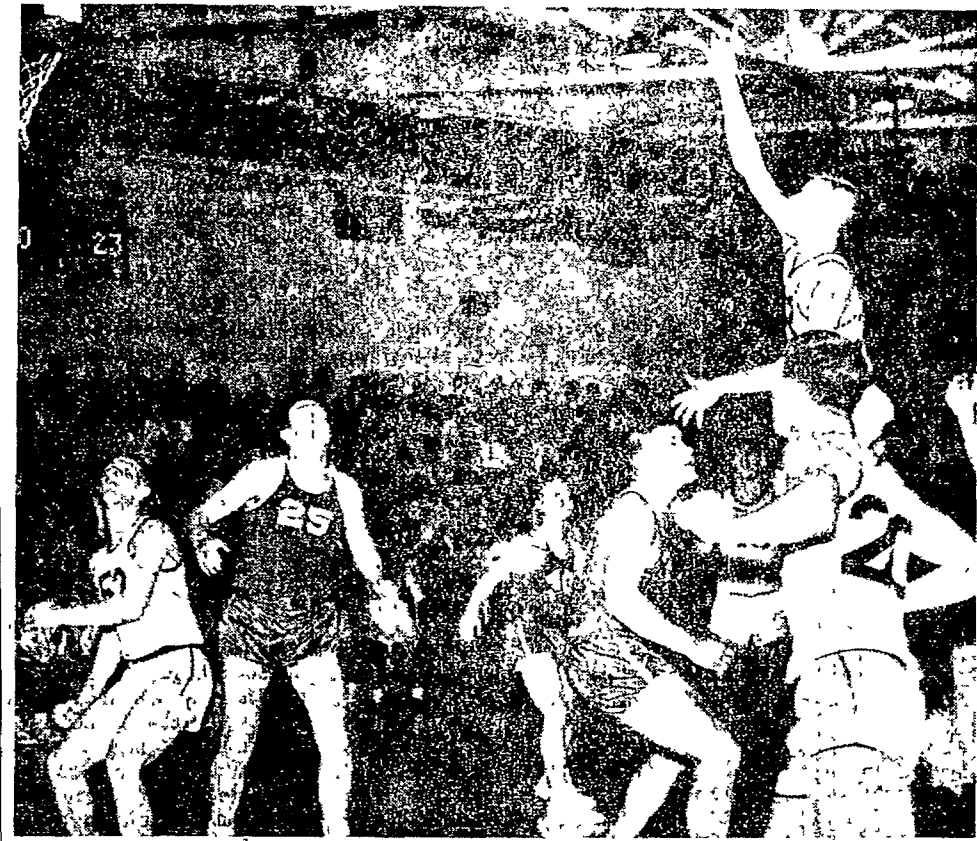

Girardin, who last week took over the reins from the two player-coaches Pete Gross and William St. Lawrence, said the team had improved a great deal over former games. Their main improvement, he said, was more teamwork.

The Oilers lost their first three games, but Girardin pointed out that they had not played together before as had the other teams in the league. Now that they're gaining experience, he said, they've a much better chance of climbing nearer the top of the league.

They lost their third game when they met Plymouth last Thursday, ending with a 6-3 score. Their next game will be January 18 at the league's arena at Middlebelt and Cherry Hill roads.

The win Tuesday tied the local club for last place with the Bel-Temps. Garden City leads the league with a 3-0 record, while Plymouth now controls second place with 2-1.

Mustangs Roll Past Lakers to W-O Lead

LOOKING LIKE A GIANT, Northville Mustang center Dan Brown literally towers over teammates and opponents alike as he takes one of the shots that helped him lead his team to a 61-47 win over previously undefeated West Bloomfield.

If there was ever any doubt that Northville is the team to beat in the Wayne-Oakland league, the Mustang cagers removed it Friday night by downing previously unbeaten West Bloomfield, 61-49.

The game was marked by ragged play and frequent whistles blowing.

With three officials working the game, a total of 40 fouls were called. Play was interrupted at least a dozen other times by calls of "steps" and "double-dribble".

But ragged or not, there was never any question that Coach Dave Longridge's quintet had the game under control. He substituted freely in the fourth quarter after the Mustangs opened the stanza with a 12-point lead.

A solid white-shirted student cheering section led by Jack Dowd, the Mustangs 250-pound grid center, made the rafters tremble as the largest local crowd ever turned out to see the undefeated league leaders clash.

The noise and tension showed on the players as both sides looked sloppy and had trouble getting underway.

Mustang Forward Dick Bathey broke the scoring ice after two and a half minutes on a lay-up shot, but it was the only field goal Northville scored in the first quarter. The Mustangs trailed the Lakers, 8-5, at the end of the stanza.

At the half the score was 25-20 in favor of Northville, thanks to a string of 10 free throws dumped out of 11 chances.

It was at the free throw line that Northville made its best showing. They dropped 33 of their 44 charity attempts, while West Bloomfield could hit on only 11 of 23.

Center Dan Brown led all scorers with 15 points — seven of them free throws. Tom Swiss also collected seven free throws for a total of 11 points, while Guards Craig Bell and Steve Juday hit for 10 points each.

Dave Helmreich led the Lakers with 11 points.

It was evident that neither coach was satisfied with the performance of their teams — and both had occasion to rise in protest to the officiating.

Coach Longridge blamed the vacation lay-off and the tension created by the cheering crowd for the Mustang errors. "Our boys were too tight at the start of the game. They smoothed out some but never reached the peak of previous performances," Longridge stated.

One bright spot that brought special praise from Longridge was the play of Bill Challas. The junior forward entered the game in the final quarter and picked up six points in addition to rebounding well around the boards.

Friday night the Mustangs take their 5-0 league record to Holly, which stands at 2 won and 3 lost in league play. Holly dropped one-point decisions to Clarkston and West Bloomfield, and lost to Clarkston. They defeated Milford and Brighton.

West Bloomfield's reserves took the measure of the Northville Colts in the opener Friday night, 49-41. Driscoll and Biery led the Northville scorers with 14 and 12 points, respectively. Aumaugher poured in 20 points for the winners.

LET'S TALK CARS...

Case Of The Experienced Shopper

Car buyers who insist on buying on price alone are running the risk of coming out second best in a battle of wits with a sharp dealer.

How this can happen, even to a buyer who has some experience with the "tricks of the trade" in price shopping, was illustrated once again recently in a case involving a traveling salesman.

When this particular buyer received an allowance quote on his used car some $200 higher than competing dealers he was naturally pleased, though he suspected the figure might be a "highball." That's a fake high price allowance for his used car, offered in the hope of luring the shopper back to the dealer's premises after he has finished his shopping tour.

Cautiously, he had the salesman put the offer in writing.

He returned to the dealer some days later to pick up his new car after his price comparison tour convinced him that he was indeed getting a $200 "bargain." It turned out the salesman had made a "mistake." The dealer couldn't possibly offer him that much, and, in any case, the offer hadn't been signed by the proper authority, they were sorry to say.

Meanwhile, our buyer had told his wife, friends and business associates how he had "saved" $200 by some smart bargaining. Caught in the embarrassment of his own story, he bought the car at a price somewhat higher than a reputable dealer had offered him, rather than confess he had been outsmarted.

SNOW FLIES as a skier begins a turn at the start of Summit ski club's northern slope. The woods run is on the opposite side of Summit's 1,400-foot-long basin, the longest ski slope in southeastern Michigan.

A DOUBLE CHAIR LIFT at Mount Holly provides easy transport to the top of this ski area's largest slope. Holly has the only such lift in southeastern Michigan and boasts the most snow-making machinery in the middle west.

Area Ski Facilities Offer Near-by Fun

In the past few years, skiing has become one of America's most popular family sports. No longer is it necessary to spend a great deal of money traveling to far-away places in order to enjoy this winter sport.

Michigan boasts no fewer than 84 winter sports areas, and many local residents are familiar with such popular resorts as Caberfae, near Cadillac, Boyne Mountain, near Boyne Falls, Nub's Nob, near Harbor Springs, and the several resorts in the Gaylord-Grayling area.

Southeastern Michigan boasts a number of ski facilities, and several are within an hour's drive of this area. The closest of these, and the newest, is Alpine Valley, located off M-59, just four miles east of Milford road.

Alpine Valley, now in its second year of operation, has nearly doubled its slope area since last year, says co-owner Joe Kosik. The addition of two new slopes has brought Alpine's total to seven, the longest of which is 1,300 feet.

Alpine also boasts four T-bar lifts and eight rope tows. Snow machinery insures good snow as long as the weather remains cool, and night skiing, topnotch instruction, rental equipment and a Swiss style chalet combine to bring good skiing to area fans.

Another favorite gathering place for local ski enthusiasts is the Summit Ski club, which is located three and one half miles south of Fenton, about two miles east of US-23 on Foley road.

The Summit is situated on the highest elevation south of Bay City, says manager Bill Gallagher, and has the longest main slope in this part of the state. Summit has 12 runs and nine tows, and offers good exercise for hiking fans with its one- to five-mile-long cross-country trails.

Summit has night skiing, and is open from 10 a.m. to 11 p.m. except Monday during the day. It offers an Austrian ski school, and has rental equipment and a snack bar.

Mount Holly, located on the north end of Holly state recreation area, boasts the only chair lift in this part of the state. It also has the largest snow making equipment in the middle west.

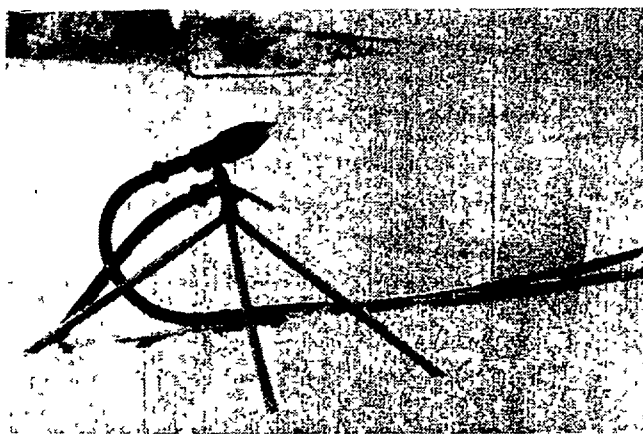

Six slopes, a brand new T-bar lift and eight rope tows can provide skiing for as many as 1,500 skiers at Mount Holly, which is on US-10, just 12 miles north of the intersection of US-24.

Mount Holly also offers a complete ski school, rental equipment, and a new Swiss chalet and snack bar.

Grampian Mountain, two miles east of Oxford, off M-24 on Lakeville road, offers a 30-meter jump for skiers who seek high adventure. It also has five slopes with a pomalift and eight rope tows.

Instruction, rental equipment, night skiing and snacks are all available at Grampian seven days a week.

Teeple Hill, located in Highland state recreation area on M-59, is open week-ends and Wednesday evenings for skiing on its seven slopes. It has six tows and seven ski trails. Instruction, snacks and a lodge are provided during good snow conditions.

MAKIN' SNOW is more than a pastime at area ski resorts — they all depend on man-made snow. This spray gun and the one behind it shoot out an air-water mixture to coat Alpine Valley's slopes. Co-owner Willis Stolek says he can cover a 250 by 600 foot slope with six inches of snow overnight. Water under high pressure and compressed air are forced from the gun at the rate of between five and 10 gallons, and 50 to 100 cubic feet a minute. As the mixture expands, it freezes, and the mist at the nozzle becomes falling snow just a few yards away.

THE NORTHVILLE RECORD

Northville Record — Nov. News — Thursday, January 11, 1962 Section 2 Page 1

TYPICAL FAMILY skiers are the Frank Angles, 201 North Rogers. They became interested in the sport four years ago and now are avid enthusiasts. In this area the Angles usually ski at Summit, but they prefer Caberfae at Cadillac where they have season tickets. They ski at least every other week end. Mr. and Mrs. Angle are looking forward to a special treat on February 18. They'll board a plane with a group of fellow skiers and spend 23 days at St. Anton, Austria in the Tyrolean Alps. Pictured (l-r) dressed for action are: Frank and Joan Angle and their children, Chris, Beth, Jill and Wick.

Consider Wife's Wish On Florida Move

Dear Dr. Mudd:

I have worked at the same job and even went down and plant for 37 years and last September I was retired. I had planned all along to go to Florida and even went down and bought a lot there. But now my wife doesn't want to go.

All these years she said she'd go but now she doesn't want to go. I don't have too much money, but I have enough to get along there okay. My wife is the stubborn type, but before I could always talk her out of it. Now it seems it's no use — she just wants to stay up here in our own house and not go out or anything.

I say if we're ever going to live, we have to do it now.

Dear L.C.S.: On first reading, all of my sympathies were with you. This is only natural since you write to me not as a disinterested observer of some unfortunate occasion, but rather as one with a vested interest who wishes me to take sides with him.

On second reading, I am struck with the uniformity of your concern only with yourself and your feelings. Presumably you have taken no interest in the reason lying behind your wife's desire to remain where she is.

Regretfully, it is probably true you never placed much value on her wishes; an assumption I make because of the manner in which you write of her as being a "type". Of course this may be no more than literary style, which, because of its inherent limitations, narrows one's range of communication considerably. Your wife may have more wisdom in her wish to live up here than you realize. To move at such a late time of life to a location of unknown difficulties and uncertainties is an undertaking not to be taken lightly.

In my experience, older people usually need families, places, and faces which are friendly and well known. This is particularly true if any degree of senility has set in so that the mind is not as sharp or as alert as it once was. Old folks removed from an environment to which they have become accustomed over a period of years often die like fish out of water and sometimes almost as quickly.

You would be wise to heed your wife's views. Perhaps you could talk her into a vacation in Florida rather than making a permanent move. This should please you and hopefully she would enjoy it too.

As for your comment that "now is the time to live", I'm afraid you're a little late; but perhaps others can learn from your experience to do differently for themselves than they presently plan.

NEWNESS IN CHRIST

The much-to-do which is made over the coming of a new year may be expressive of the periodic subconscious desire which some people get to chuck-it-all and start over again. Certainly much that sometimes goes on with the welcoming of a new year is superficial. The things that are done on such an occasion are, many times, far removed from coming to grips with man's basic problems of frustration. Even man's attempt to deal honorably with his anxieties by drafting resolutions to do better does not always work out advantageously because these same resolutions are made and subject to the frailties of man's humanness.

For those who are really serious about entering into a new and better life—
whether it be New Year's Day or any other day—
Christianity has much to offer.
The Apostle Paul who knew through his own personal experience the reality of a new life had this to say,
"When anyone is united to

Christ, he becomes a new person." Paul came into this experience on the road to Damascus when he discovered that Christ was something other than just another human being. When the voice of Christ, no longer emanating from Christ's physical presence, was heard by Paul, he learned the great truth that God was in Christ and, in responding to His call, he experienced the miracle of a new life. Such a transformation meant for Paul, as it has similarly meant for countless others who have permitted Christ to work His miracle in their hearts, a change for the best in spiritual disposition, in purpose and in manner of living.

The superlative value of the newness of life in Christ over the newness which man may seek to realize in many other ways lies in the fact that the transformation is the work of God and not of man trying to lift himself by his own boot straps. Then again, the bad in the old which is the cause of man's frustration is removed through the forgiveness of God who is not intent upon forever holding man's misdeeds against him.

To the man who had been ill for thirty-eight years and whom Jesus found lying among the invalids around the pool of Bethesda in Jerusalem Christ asked a very pointed question, "Do you want to be healed?"
When this man, after all these years, got this question answered for himself without any excuse or reservation then, and only then, was Christ able to heal him.

To the learned Nicodemus, Jesus said, "Except a man be born again, he can not see the Kingdom of God." And Nicodemus returned to his teaching in the Synagogue a good man but not a new man simply because he did not want to be a new man.

Do you really want a "new" year? It will be if, wanting your life to be new,
you will—through repentance, confession, petition and acceptance—seek union with Christ. Remember,
"When anyone is united to Christ, he becomes a new person."

School Bells Call Adults

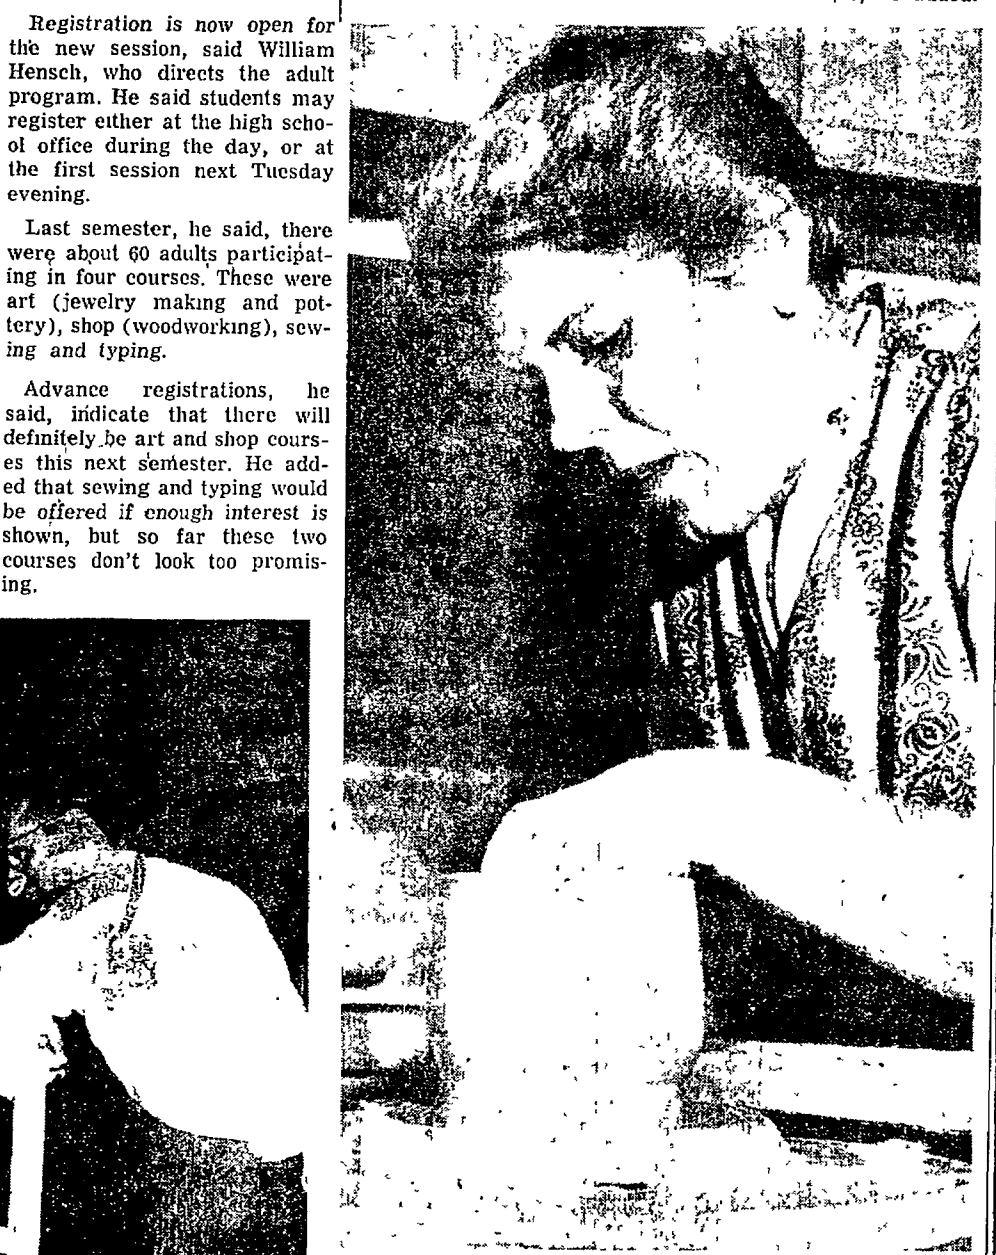

BIG CUT — Dr. Georgine Moerke of Maybury sanatorium uses a hand saw in the high school wood shop to cut out window braces for a friend whose old home has raisable windows that do not stay up.

Adult education programs are booming all over the country, and Northville has been following suit. The school's adult program, now in its second year, will be starting on another semester next Tuesday evening.

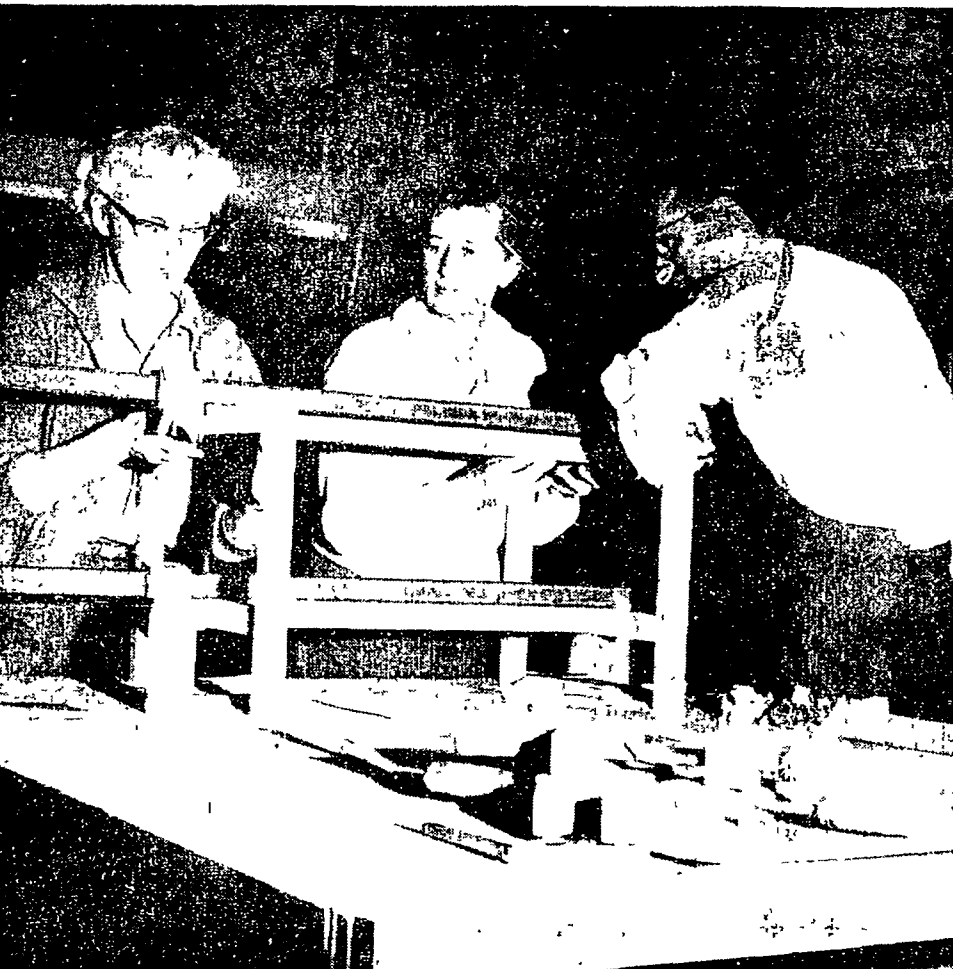

Registration is now open for the new session, said William Hensch, who directs the adult program. He said students may register either at the high school office during the day, or at the first session next Tuesday evening.

Last semester, he said, there were about 60 adults participating in four courses. These were art (jewelry making and pottery), shop (woodworking), sewing and typing.

Advance registrations, he said, indicate that there will definitely be art and shop courses this next semester. He added that sewing and typing would be offered if enough interest is shown, but so far these two courses don't look too promising.

MESSIN' AROUND — Mrs. James Kipfer concentrates as she "works-up" a pot during an adult education art class session at the high school. Adult students learn the "tricks of the trade" in pottery work and jewelry making in the art course. Another 12-week semester of Tuesday evening classes begins next week for interested adults.

STICKY BUSINESS — That's one of the things you get into as a student in an adult education woodworking shop class. Here, Miss Harriet Gibson (L) and Miss Ida Rickert are aided by wood shop instructor Arnold Anderson as they block up the legs and supports of a coffee table for gluing. Anderson, who also teaches mechanical drawing at the high school, instructs the adults in the proper use of materials and machinery in the wood shop. Registration is now open at the high school office for next semester's 12-week course, which begins Tuesday night. Interested adults may also register at the first class.

TAKE A BREAK... I HAVE TO GO "FISHING"!

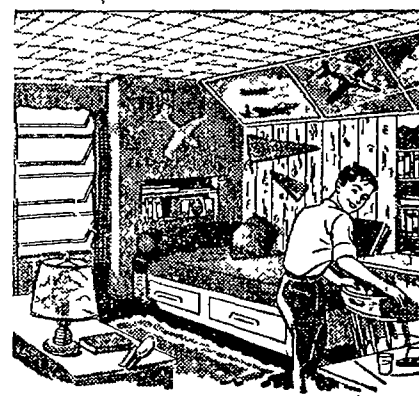

This well driller is going fishing, but not for fun!

To the men who drill gas wells, fishing is not a pleasant pastime — it's a painstaking, tedious job. It means that the well driller has to take his large, heavy, cumbersome tackle (hooks and line) and fish out drilling tools that have become stuck or broken off deep in the earth. Consumers Power Company, too, has an important and expensive task — that of providing its customers with a dependable supply of natural gas during the cold winter months. To assure a sufficient reserve supply, it has underground storage fields near Marion, Michigan and elsewhere. Natural gas is put back in the earth under a pressure of hundreds of pounds per square inch and withdrawn as needed when gas consumption is highest.

ONE YEAR AGO

January 12, 1961

Northville city and township officials are awaiting revision to Wayne county contracts that call for an agreement between the county and 14 communities for financing construction of an $10 million sanitary sewer. The contract, if approved by the 14 western Wayne communities, would end the ban on construction of new subdivisions that was invoked nearly two years ago by the state health department.

Construction started this week on a $1,000,000 220-bed infirmary building for the Plymouth State Home and Training school. The new facility, which will be located across Sheldon road from the main hospital building, will be completed soon after the 220-bed custodial building started last October.

Tamara Ann Macdonald is the area's first baby for 1961. The tiny three-pound, 15-ounce lass was born early January 2 to Mr. and Mrs. Ian Macdonald, of 43440 Cottisford road in Brooklyn Farms.

Attorneys for Northville and Novi presented their oral arguments before the State Supreme court Tuesday in a case brought by the village in protest of the annexation of 135 acres by the city of Northville. A decision is not expected until next April.

The Novi village council and the planning commission voted at a joint public hearing Monday night to approve rezoning of the proposed Meadowbrook Lake subdivision property from agricultural to R-1-S.

Wixom city officials revealed this week that they had turned down a proposal from the state highway department that a 76-acre parcel of property in the city be "given" to Novi for a township park. The state-owned land is located on the north side of the I-96 expressway, between Beck and Wixom roads. The land, if turned over to the township, would have been administered by the conservation department.

FIVE YEARS AGO

January 10, 1957

Oakland county Circuit Judge Frank Doty, who is presiding over the annexation dispute suit between Warren Products and Northville, last week asked attorneys for both parties to submit written briefs in support of their respective positions. The suit centers around 100 acres of formerly Novi township land that was annexed last spring to Northville. Warren Products is located on the 100 acres.

The Northville school board Monday night took another step toward clearing the dense path to a new high school when it approved the purchase of $72,916 Manning-Locklin property near the Amerman school.

City council members are considering a proposal that the Northville Driving club purchase the city's older fire engine, which has been rendered garageless by the purchase of a new engine. The Driving club proposes to purchase and house the engine, making it available to the city for emergency use.

Northville had its best building year in its history in 1956, as more than $732,000 worth of construction was begun in the city, Building Inspector Stanley Waterloo says. In a special report to the city manager, Waterloo said the value of construction last year was nearly double the previous high of 1953, but the total number of permits issued was just under the 1954 record.

State and Novi township law enforcement officers were investigating this week the break-in last Sunday night of Alf's Market, 43025 Grand River. They say there may be some connection between the theft of about $110 from the store and other burglaries that have occurred along Grand River recently.

FIFTEEN YEARS AGO

January 10, 1947

The Northville school board spent several hours Monday evening discussing solutions to a prospective increased enrollment extending for four or five years in the elementary grades. With heavy enrollments in the kindergarten and first grades, and with a school census projection of increased enrollments for the next several years, the board is faced with the problem of providing additional rooms and teachers.

A microwave relay system for beaming long distance telephone calls across the country by high frequency radio was explained to local Rotarians by Dana Rose, of Michigan Bell Telephone company. Rose said experiments are now being conducted to use the system to supplement present cable and wire systems.

Great interest by Northvillites, especially in girls' basketball and bowling, and in leathercraft, is reflected in a recent Recreation committee report. The report said a total of 790 persons are participating in the 37 activities sessions the group has sponsored this winter.

A repeat diphtheria inoculation clinic for pre-school children is being planned for Tuesday night. The second in the diphtheria series of injections will be given at the village hall.

Homemaking will take the spotlight when the 1947 Rural Progress Caravan is shown in this area, says Mary Woodward, home extension agent. She said the date of the local showing, which will feature displays in every phase of homemaking, will be announced later.

In one of the season's best thrillers, Northville's Mustang cagers squeaked out a 27-26 victory over the Plymouth rocks Tuesday evening. A full-house crowd watched the local club put on a last-quarter spurt that enabled them to come from behind for the win.

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

January 8, 1937

The village council has rejected a proposal of reservoir contractor H. B. Culbertson to coat the inside of the village's reservoir with an ironized plaster. Village commissioners said the original contract with Culbertson called for a poured wall for reinforcing the structure, and decided they wouldn't accept the alternate plan.

Northville schools have been placed on the University of Michigan's list of accredited schools, Superintendent Russell Amerman was informed this week. The acceptance of the local high school for a two-year period followed an inspection conducted by the university.

Forty-seven radios, solicited by "Radio Jake" in the recent Detroit News Give-a-Radio campaign, have found their way to the bedsides of Maybury sanatorium patients.

A player piano is supplying music for roller skaters in the Methodist church house. The activity is sponsored by a group of churchmen who feel it provides a safe and wholesome pastime for local children.

Fourteen tires on cars parked in the business district were slashed by vandals Wednesday evening as their owners attended the movie. Police Chief W. H. Safford said the slashings, carried out by a group of boys, were probably the work of local youths, although some persons said it must have been done by outsiders. There were no witnesses.

SPEAKING for the Record

by Bill Sliger

Last week 10 of Northville's more active citizens were asked what single project they considered of great import for undertaking in the coming year.

At first thought it seemed entirely possible that at least half of the answers would deal with the same subject.

Naturally, this would have made poor reading. And while we were tempted to "assign" ideas, we played it straight and let the replies fall where they may.

There were 10 different "most important" projects.

They include:

- a schedule for street improvements in the city;
- formation of a community economic development committee;
- consideration of a hospital authority;
- a new library;
- tighter zoning and building regulations in the township;
- an expanded recreation program;
- reorganization of the city DPW;
- determination of community goals;
- more diversified shopping facilities;
- and lighting for the new high school athletic field.

Three of these proposals are strictly departmental and depend upon the governing body in charge to initiate and complete (street schedule, tighter zoning, etc., and DPW change).

While the others may have a close relationship to either the city, school district or township, they involve the entire community and have a direct bearing on the welfare of all residents of the area.

They are projects that could find help, if not complete direction, from a chamber of commerce composed of interests with a real stake in the future of Northville.

A chamber of commerce would be a Siamese twin to the economic development committee.

Therefore, we propose the addition of number 11 to the "most important" projects: organization in 1962 of a Northville chamber of commerce.

To those residents of Northville Heights who have been concerned about the "sinking house" — City Attorney Philip Ogilvie reported to the council Monday night that government wheels are turning, though slowly, to have the house removed.

Now the property of the Federal Housing Authority, Ogilvie said that part of the delay is "probably due to the efforts of officials to explain why they financed such a house".

Slowly sinking, the vacant house has brought complaints from neighbors who fear injury to adventurous children. Ogilvie said that the house and lot would be advertised for sale by the government with the stipulation that the house must be removed and the land leveled.

Our Busy Future

Babson Park, Mass., Only a few years ago automation was little more than a trickle within the economy, but today it is a river and tomorrow it will be a flood. The great question is whether its obvious benefits will be outweighed by the problems that it raises — such as mass unemployment.

I have said before and I will say again that there has never been any indication that more machinery means fewer workers.

Look back over the industrial history of this country, and you will find that there has been an unending outflow of more efficient machines and yet employment has soared from one new height to another simultaneously.

The sheer volume of machines to run machines is today almost incredible, and still employment keeps reaching ever higher. For the most part, our joblessness is due to an exploding population, a rather impressive group of people who would rather live on charity or unemployment insurance than work, and a reluctance to develop swiftly-paced programs to retrain and relocate workers displaced by the advance of technological improvements.

The influx of automation has been so unexpectedly rapid that many have been badly frightened; they think we are moving too fast for our own good.

Some wish they were living back a hundred years ago so they would have fewer complications; others say they wouldn't want to be around a hundred years from now with things changing at such a pace. Even the labor movement — which has some pretty fast-moving men — is frightened by automation, and some laborites are crying aloud that there may not be any jobs in a few years.

Let them be assured that there will be plenty of jobs, — but many will be very different jobs.

NORTHVILLE LODGE
No. 186 F. & A.M.
Regular Meeting
Second Monday of each Month
T. Paul Mullen, W.M.
R. F. Coolman, Secy.

The change-over to automated production is going to spread on and on, and certainly nobody will deny that a great many workers will have to move to other jobs. This is a fact and must be faced. Farsighted experts have often warned that, without automation, we would soon find we would not have a sufficiently large labor force to accomplish our work, introduce new products, and maintain our prosperous standard of living.

I notice that a good deal of human effort is still needed even in industries and offices where the most completely automatic processes have been installed. It is said that a factory could be built so that every step from raw material to final product could be turned out by a handful of people at push-buttons.

Keep in mind, however: Human brains must still work out the entire scheme, and human hands must build, set up, start, tend, repair, and maintain — and sometimes even stop! — these "automatic" machines.

It doesn't seem to me that we are going too fast, everything considered. It cannot be denied that we in America are materially and spiritually better off than the people of the backward nations who have not yet had any such machines. It might also be said that no workers in the world's history ever had more healthful and attractive working conditions or received better pay than our workers today.

It is the machine that has helped to bring about this prosperity, and newer and more amazing machines will bring still more in the years to come.

I am particularly impressed by the fact that high-velocity machinery and all forms of automation mean — and will continue to mean — steadily more spare time for workers. There will be a greater opportunity for enjoyment of the home and the family, for pleasant and healthy do-it-yourself pursuits.

Even more important: Perhaps we can all employ some of this increasing spare time to cultivate the spiritual values which we may have been neglecting while building up purely material prosperity!

Michigan Mirror

Parties Agree on This: State Needs More Funds

Money to operate state government, where and whom it will come from, still looms as the largest problem facing Michigan lawmakers.

The problem reached its peak during the year-long 1959 session of the legislature when state employees faced one payless payday and were threatened with others.

A $71.5 million deficit was on the books at the end of the fiscal year in July and there is no sure sign that the financial picture has improved since then.

Legislators this year will be hard pressed to find new sources of revenue to meet the demands for government services.

In the 1961 budget-writing process, the Democratic administration and the Republican legislature were far apart on estimates of how much was needed and the amount which would be available for operations.

It is still a matter of conjecture as to which was right, but the two sides now appear to be closer together on at least one point: that more money is needed than is available.

Recent meetings of both parties brought forth general agreement that Michigan's citizens want services not now available under the present revenue pattern.

If new money is to be forthcoming, the only unanswered question remaining is to find the most equitable means to tax Michigan citizens to provide it.

Some Republicans feel minimal opposition to the nuisance taxes which were allowed to expire last July indicated these might be desirable areas to impose new, permanent levies. The beer and liquor, cigarette and tobacco interests, of course, contend their products and services are already taxed beyond reasonable limits. And there is some justification for their stand.

Pessimists predicted last year that if the four per cent sales tax were approved, it would soon be boosted again and again and again. There were no indications from any quarters that this was being considered.

The business community now complains loudly and with agreement in both parties that its taxes are already too high.

Many Republican lawmakers have been heard in recent weeks to say an income tax might be the lesser of the several undesirable.

Gov. John B. Swainson, who proposed this method to the 1961 legislature as part of his fiscal reform program, said he welcomed this stand by some members of the opposition party.

"We haven't seen their votes on the board yet, however," he said. "Speeches sometimes are not backed up when the voting buttons are pushed."

Swainson is sticking to his position that he will not approve an income tax alone, however.

"This would not be the answer," he said. "The total picture of our tax structure must be taken into account."

Recognition by both parties could mean they are ready to sit down and seriously discuss how to put Michigan back on the black side of the ledger.

Any solution, however, must be designed to cover more than a single fiscal year. It must be a program which will keep Michigan's income growing along with its population and demand for services.

State Personnel Director Franklin K. DeWald would like to dispel the common belief that civil service provisions prevent the discharge of incapable employees.

In a recent 12-month period, 220 state civil service workers were fired, DeWald said.

"This record showed state agencies can and do fire undesirable employees," he said.

"And this number of dismissals is only a small percentage of the number allowed to resign when faced with removal proceedings."

There are many who believe, however, that the civil service set up leaves administrators without proper authority to operate as efficiently as otherwise and that when a supervisor lodges a complaint about a subordinate, it is he rather than the employee who goes "on trial."

The state's civil service work force of about 32,000 undergoes a turnover of about 10 per cent annually, a civil service commission research report shows. The study showed that a total of 6,735 state employees have been fired since Michigan's civil service system was established by constitutional amendment in 1941.

"State employees are subject to annual service ratings by their supervisors or an interim service rating may be given at any time," said DeWald. "Commission rules provide an employee who receives a conditional rating for one period and fails to achieve a satisfactory rating for a subsequent period, or an employee who receives an unsatisfactory rating may be dismissed."
