

Icy Glow — Traffic Slow

FREEZING RAIN turned local streets and sidewalks into a glittering glaze of ice early Tuesday evening making travel by foot or car difficult and dangerous. The bad weather prompted Mayor A. M. Allen to call off a Tuesday night meeting scheduled to form a committee for construction of the new recreation-scout building. Although school classes were cancelled in some communities, Northville and Novi schools were open as usual but buses stayed off side roads. The above time-exposure was taken at 8 p.m. Tuesday on Wing street near city hall. The rain crusted snow, windshields, roads and walks with a thin sheet of ice giving the entire community a "slipping look".

New Ordinance Bans Overhanging Signs

An ordinance that has become somewhat of a source of dispute with many local business men has been revised by the Northville Planning commission and is scheduled for public hearing February 27. The ordinance deals with signs. Most of the controversy has centered around use of overhanging signs and size limitations.

Oldest Valentine?

HAPPY VALENTINE'S DAY, says Charles W. Shipley, who celebrated his 90th birthday yesterday, February 14. Shipley who has resided in the Northville area since the turn of the century, was born in Ann Arbor. He moved to Salem when a young man, and has since lived in several communities in this area. In 1902 he became sexton of the Northville cemetery, which remained his occupation for 15 years. Later he worked in both the old scale factory and the Globe furniture factory as a furnace fireman. He now lives at 677 West Dunlap.

No Epidemic, But 'Flu' Hits School Attendance

Although absenteeism in Northville's public schools was definitely on the rise this week, Dr. Atchison noted. He emphasized that the occurrence had not reached epidemic proportions. Recovery time is about four to five days and treatment with a broad spectrum anti-biotic has produced good response, Dr. Atchison concluded. Schools have been generally hard-hit in their attendance ratings this winter. Prior to the round of virus infection, icy roads were keeping many of the youngsters in the house.

Ashes Cause House Fire

Northville firemen were called to the home of Harry Sedan, 504 Horton street, at 3 a.m. Monday when fireplace ashes placed in a cardboard container on the porch burned through the front door. Aside from the doorway, little damage was incurred. Sedan said his family was awakened by smoke in the house. He said that he had placed the ashes on the porch intending to take them to the curb for the regular Monday morning rubbish collection, but had forgotten to do so.

Man Dies At Basketball Game Here

A junior high school basketball game ended abruptly and tragically last Thursday afternoon in Northville when a fan from the visiting school collapsed and died in the stands.

Johnnie Paxton, 48, of 35127 Warren road in Wayne suffered a heart attack while watching the Nankin Mills seventh graders play the Northville eagles. Although an ambulance was called immediately, Paxton was pronounced dead by Dr. O. J. Robinson before the ambulance left the premises. Dr. Robinson examined Paxton in the ambulance at the door of the community building.

A coach sitting on the Nankin Mills bench across the floor from the stands in which Paxton was seated saw Paxton collapse. He rushed across the floor and with the help of others dislodged Paxton from between the seats.

Efforts to revive the victim with a resuscitator obtained at the city hall were unsuccessful. More than 100 youngsters and parents witnessed the tragedy. Coaches cancelled both the seventh and eighth grade games. Paxton was custodian of the Nankin Mills' McKee school and served as a part-time bus driver. He had driven the team to the game.

He is survived by his wife, Dorothy, and a 24-year-old son who is in the armed services.

Funeral services were held Saturday at the Uhl Funeral Home in Wayne. The body was shipped to North Carolina for burial.

Brummel Retained By Salem

In two carefully worded statements, the Salem township board voted unanimously to both retain James Brummel, Sr., on the township board of appeals and to raise the appeal board fees from $5 to $10 per meeting.

The township board reached its unanimous decision Tuesday evening following a lengthy discussion as to how to word them without creating any additional hard feelings within the township.

Basically, the final motion to retain Brummel contended that because Brummel was not aware of the laws that governed his action or inaction, that because he had publicly declared his willingness to cooperate with the township board in upholding the laws, and that in the interest of harmony, board members agreed to retain him.

Although the charges have been dropped, technically they were not withdrawn. Also, the motion avoided mention of retaining Brummel as chairman of the board — although zoning board members elect their own officers.

In its formal charges against Brummel, which were aired in a public hearing two weeks ago, the township board contended he was guilty of several matters of inaction and hence should be removed as both chairman and board member.

At that hearing, the overwhelming, if not unanimous verbal sentiment, favored retention of Brummel.

Their Mellow Tones Aid League Harmony

They may battle it out on the gridiron, basketball court and baseball diamond, but the eight schools of the Wayne-Oakland league are shooting strictly for harmony these days, harmony among the 96 voices of the all-league choir.

And this musical harmony, asserts Northville high school choir director Leslie Lee, is an excellent means for fostering goodwill among the schools, for putting the emphasis on cooperation rather than competition.

In the case of the all-league choir, competition begins and ends in each school. In Northville, for instance, all members of the choir learned music selected for the concerts and vied among themselves for berths on the Wayne-Oakland group. Candidates auditioned before and were chosen by fellow singers.

Twelve — the maximum permitted from any one school — were selected. They are: Cynthia Hildebrandt, Dana Rowland, Linda Line, Sue Swank, Gail Hartner, Diana McIsaac, Jim Frisbie, Jim Drew, Dave Lane, Don Busch, Marcia Clum and Carol Barnett. Their accompanist is Diane Brasure.

Four concerts have been scheduled for the all-league choir. Last night (Wednesday) the singers opened their tour at Clarkston. They will appear at West Bloomfield for an 8 p.m. concert February 26 and at Clarenceville at 1 p.m. next Thursday.

They'll be here next Thursday morning for a 10 o'clock concert.

Programs consist of 8 selections, choral directors from each league school directing one number. Lee will conduct "Go Way from My Window," an Appalachian folk song.

The league choir originated in 1954 as an added attraction of the all-league band, program, and by the next year had come into its own.

One of its major advantages, Lee pointed out, is that it can handle musical selections that choirs at the individual schools do not have the personnel to select.

There are social merits, too, he added. Following the rehearsal before the Clarkston concert, the entire group met for dinner.

It was suggested that a statement outlining qualifications for bus drivers and another dealing with bus travel in inclement weather be added to an administrative directive accompanying the policy.

Also accepted as policy was a statement reading: "Passes to athletic contests shall be limited to personnel and students who have accepted a particular assignment directly connected with a specific contest. Coaches, game officials, team members and cheerleaders are exempt from this regulation."

Also studied by the board was an extensive report on courses taken by high school students in the class of 1961. Prepared by Assistant Superintendent Kenneth MacLeod, it compares, among other things, the number of subject area hours (English, mathematics, fine arts, social studies, etc.) taken by the students, how many students elected various courses and what percentage of the entire class the numbers represented.

A principal consideration in the study was how present graduation requirements measure against recommendations made in the late 1950's by the curriculum study committee.

In his closing comments Dr. MacLeod suggested that in many areas serious consideration be given to increasing requirements to match those originally recommended by the curriculum group.

He further advised that an

Rest Home To Replace Hospital

Any lingering hopes that Northville's Community General hospital might re-open disappeared this week with the announcement that the facility will soon be converted into a convalescent home.

A permit to make necessary alterations for the change-over was granted last week by the board of appeals.

Because the 520 West Main street building was operated as a hospital in a residential district (and thus described as a non-conforming use), special permission was necessary to allow the change to a rest home.

Abraham Farris, co-owner of the hospital with Dr. Howard Bergo, said that alterations would begin immediately. The building, when remodeled, will be leased by Farris and Bergo to the nursing home operators, as yet unnamed.

Formerly Sessions hospital, the new owners purchased the run-down facility in the summer of 1959 and immediately embarked upon a program of remodeling and re-equipping the hospital. Farris conservatively estimated the total obligation at $150,000.

The hospital had not opened when it learned that full Blue Cross membership was not available. Reorganization of the set-up plus promises to meet certain qualifications set forth by Blue Cross reversed this, however, and for slightly more than a year the hospital operated with Blue Cross participation.

Full membership was withdrawn when steps toward bringing about community ownership of the facility were not taken. Other specifications, such as a costly fire sprinkler system, had also been required by Blue Cross.

With a community board of directors struggling to keep the hospital doors open the hopelessness of the situation became steadily more apparent.

Although full Blue Cross membership was not available to the hospital, it continued to credit patients under this plan with full coverage. The hospital received only $14 a day for such patients — often only one-half the full charge.

In an effort to attract greater doctor use of the facility it was opened to both osteopaths as well as M.D.'s. This increased the patient population, but the hospital was too far in debt to come back.

Finally on July 27 last year the doors were closed. Some efforts followed to obtain funds either by public subscription or formation of a hospital authority in the area, but none met with success.

Farris said this week that the new convalescent home would accommodate 34 persons and provide registered nursing care. The interior will be changed considerably, he said, and a sprinkler system installed.

A garage in the rear of the building will be removed and a surfaced parking area installed. The facility is not expected to open for two months.

The screening project is being sponsored in Northville by the Coordinating Council Mrs. Mabel Cooley is general chairman and volunteer services for the project.

The mobile detection unit will be stationed at the First Presbyterian church in Northville on Wednesday, February 28 from 1 p.m. until 7 p.m., Thursday, March 1 from 11 a.m. until 5 p.m. and from 6 p.m. until 8 p.m., and on Friday, March 2 from 9 a.m. until 1 p.m. and 1 p.m. until 6 p.m.

A three day program is also scheduled for Livonia in February 22, 23 and 26 and in Plymouth for four days on March 7, 8, 9 and 12.

Before the program ends on April 20, mobile units will have visited locations in or near most of the communities in out-Wayne County, according to Dr. Joseph G. Molner, County Health Commissioner.

Dr. Molner suggests that everyone 21 years of age and over take advantage of the units' services as a convenient way of having a check-up which can be of value in the prevention or early detection of possible disease.

Chest x-rays, for instance, in addition to discovering tuberculosis frequently detect signs of other chest abnormalities. Early detection of these abnormalities, which may include lung cancer or heart disease, give the patient the best possible chance for recovery, Dr. Molner said.

Certain persons have a tendency to diabetes, according to medical authorities. This tendency can be found on a screening test long before symptoms appear.

OBJECT OF THEIR AFFECTION — Little hands have been busy at Amerman school in recent weeks snipping, coloring and pasting special Valentine remembrances for a very special someone in the school. Object of all the hearts and flowers is Custodian Alfred MacDonald, better known to his young admirers as "Mr. Mac". Valentine mail for the well-liked custodian was so overwhelming that Mrs. James Kifer, art teacher, fashioned this personalized mail box for him in a hall case. With cards in hand Janette Toussaint, Brian Butler and Melody Walker ask that important February 14 question: "Will you be our Valentine, Mr. Mac?"

News Around Northville

OPEN HOUSE honoring the Reverend and Mrs. Harold Fredsell will be held in the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Blackburn, 456 Orchard drive, Sunday, February 18 from 3 to 9 p.m.

Dr. Fredsell was pastor of the First Presbyterian church here from 1941 to 1954 and left to go into the office of National Missions for the Detroit Presbytery (and later for the Synod of Michigan) where he had charge of the development of new churches.

He leaves soon to assume a similar responsibility on the national level with offices in United Presbyterian headquarters in New York City.

All friends of the Fredsells are invited to drop in at the open house.

Engaged

Mr. and Mrs. John W. Blackburn, of 456 Orchard drive, announce the engagement of their daughter, Priscilla Ann, to Noble L. Smith, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Noble L. Smith, Sr., of Alexandria, Virginia.

An April 14 wedding is planned.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Wittenberg

Eileen Gallagher is Bride Of Edward R. Wittenberg

A double ring candlelight ceremony at the First Methodist church Saturday, February 10, formed the setting for vows uniting Eileen Anne Gallagher and Edward R. Wittenberg.

Vases of white gladioli, snapdragons and ferns framed by the soft glow of candles comprised the church decorations. The Reverend Paul Cargo, pastor, officiated at the 8 p.m. ceremony. Mrs. Cargo was the soloist.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph W. Gallagher, of 549 West Dunlap, are parents of the bride. Mr. Wittenberg is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George Matloff, of Cocoa Beach, Florida.

Escorted to the altar by her father, the former Miss Gallagher wore a silk peau de soie gown, with bell skirt and short train. A court cap accented by seed pearls held her shoulder length veil. She wore a single strand of her mother's pearls. The bride's bouquet was of white stephanotis encircling an orchid.

Attending her sister as maid of honor was Kathleen Gallagher. She and bridesmaids Virginia Charlesworth, of Boston, Massachusetts, Roselyn Budek, of Northville, Miss Richard Biel, of Northville, and junior bridesmaid Janet Lenk, of Detroit, were attired in floor length red velvet dresses. They carried bouquets of white gladioli with sheared red carnations.

Serving as best man was Leo Billel Bill Gallagher, of Northville, Kenneth Knipchuld, of Plymouth, and Richard Biery were ushers. Robbie Lenk, of Detroit, was a junior usher.

Mrs. Gallagher chose turquoise wool and matching accessories for her daughter's wedding. Mrs. Matloff was attired in brown chiffon. Both mothers had corsages of white roses.

A reception in the church parlors followed the ceremony. The couple will reside in Mt. Pleasant where Mr. Wittenberg is a senior at Central Michigan university. The new Mrs. Wittenberg, a former Central student, has been an airline hostess.

U-M Pianist Plays Friday For Women

Pianist Christine Paraschos, small in size but tall in talent, will play for the Northville Woman's Club Friday at 2 p.m. in the public library.

Winner of a Paderewski Medal and an International Recording Festival Gold Medal, the 22-year-old pianist will present a program entitled "An Afternoon with Music." She has selected Partita No. 5 in G major, by Bach, Brahms' Intermezzo, Op. 116, No. 2 and Chopin's Sonata in B-flat minor, Op. 35.

Miss Paraschos, student for a master's degree in piano at the University of Michigan School of Music, recently performed as featured soloist for the Alma college chapter of the Music Educators National conference.

She won music school kudos last fall for her senior recital since then she has been busy on the concert circuit. Saturday she will take part in a cello-violin-piano recital in Ann Arbor.

A student of piano nearly 16 years, Miss Paraschos also teaches piano on campus. She has studied with Benning Dexter and is now a student of Gyorgy Sandor. Next year she hopes to continue her education in Europe.

Woman's Club members are invited to bring guests to Friday's meeting.

Decorator to Be Newcomers' Guest

Bruce Bradshaw, member of the J. L. Hudson company interior decorating staff, will be the guest speaker next Wednesday when women of the Northville Newcomers club meet for their monthly luncheon.

The luncheon, to be held at Hillside Inn, 41651 Plymouth road, will begin at 12:30 p.m. Club members are invited to bring their friends. Reservations should be made by 5 p.m. Monday with either Mrs. G. R. Wilkie, FI 9-3356, or Mrs. Don Funk, FI 9-1018.

University Women Ready 'Rumpelstiltskin' for Kids

"Rumpelstiltskin" will come to life for the little people of the Northville and Plymouth communities March 10 when a cast from the Drama group of the American Association of University Women (AAUW) presents the fairy tale in the Plymouth high school auditorium.

Mrs. B. William Secord, branch president who announced the coming production, gave three performances — at 10 a.m., 1 and 3 p.m. — will be given. Tickets are 35 cents.

Last year AAUW players, in their first attempt at live children's drama, delighted two enthusiastic young audiences with their presentation of "Snow White and Rose Red".

"Rumpelstiltskin" is the story of the miller who boasted that his daughter could spin straw to gold. When the king takes his daughter and demands that she spin the gold, she is rescued by Rumpelstiltskin who makes her promise that her first-born child be given to him after she marries the king.

When Rumpelstiltskin comes for the child, he consents to let her keep it if she can guess his strange name.

Members of the cast in order of their appearance are: narrator, Mrs. Charles H. Heiney; hunters, Mrs. R. V. Messerly and Mrs. W. E. Smith; miller, Mrs. T. J. Holland; king, Mrs. L. T. Schörmann; Marilyn, Mrs. G. H. Veta; Rumpelstiltskin, Mrs. Richard Fritz.

Mrs. Thomas F. Devereaux is directing the production. Behind the scenes are: Mrs. P. K. Settles, stage manager; Mrs. Henry J. Walch, financial manager; programs, Mrs. William E. Stout and Mrs. Julius Eder. Mrs. Jack J. Maas is supervising the music, and Mrs. James Sponseller and Mrs. Bernhard Bach are in charge of publicity.

Lillian Mary Zinnecker, valedictorian of Northville high school's class of 1958, was graduated with distinction from the University of Michigan in mid-year commencement. Miss Zinnecker received a bachelor of arts degree in English with a Secondary Teaching certificate.

The daughter of former Northville residents, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Zinnecker, she is presently teaching eleventh grade English at Birmingham Seaholm high school in Birmingham and plans to begin work for her master's degree this summer.

While at Michigan, Miss Zinnecker participated in an exchange program with the University of Sheffield, England.

She is now residing with her parents in Detroit.

Teacher to Give AAUW First-Hand Africa Report

Members of the American Association of University Women will gather at Plymouth's Dunning-Hough library tonight (Thursday) at 7:45 to hear a talk on present day Africa to be given by Sarah Likely, Plymouth high school teacher.

Miss Likely's recent four-month stay in Africa will be the focal point of the AAUW program. The teacher will illustrate her discussion with slides she took during her African sojourn which was part of a 14-month global tour.

A social hour preceding the meeting is being organized by Mrs. J. M. Robinson with the assistance of Mrs. J. Eder, Mrs. H. G. Olson, Mrs. Bruce Mackie and Mrs. William E. Stout.

Mrs. William Secord, branch president, and Mrs. John Maas, legislative chairman, recently attended a Regional meeting in Detroit.

Guest speaker at the meeting will be Bruce McAllister of McAllister's House of Decorating on Main street.

"The auxiliary recently accepted two new members, Mrs. Robert Pratt and Mrs. William Gaab.

Convening earlier this month, members decided to increase aid to their foster child and his family. Shirts for his older brother and dresses for his sister will be made and sent to the family along with any used clothes that may be donated. They will also buy a complete outfit for the foster child.

JC-Wives Out To Up Membership

Northville Jaycee Auxiliary will hold a membership meeting Tuesday, February 20 at 8:30 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Duane Marshall, 19601 Maxwell.

Guest speaker at the meeting will be Bruce McAllister of McAllister's House of Decorating on Main street.

"The auxiliary recently accepted two new members, Mrs. Robert Pratt and Mrs. William Gaab.

WILPF Speaker

Saw Segregated South

The Reverend Joseph Dickson, one of a group of Episcopal ministers who made a trip through the South last fall as witnesses against segregated facilities in bus and rail depots, will speak to Northville-Plymouth branch of the Women's International League for Peace and Freedom (WILPF) Tuesday, February 20 at 8 p.m.

The meeting will be held in the Plymouth home of Mrs. Paul Kauffman, 720 Parkview.

The Rev. Dickson, minister at St. Joseph's Episcopal church, Detroit, will discuss "The Prayer Pilgrimage and Its Related Significance."

Branch members will also hear a report from Mrs. Alice Woodruff, Northville member of the National WILPF board who has just returned from National board meetings in Philadelphia February 9-11.

The league's 14th Triennial International congress will be held in California in July, and Michigan members are currently engaged in raising $1000 for travel assistance to delegates from branches in Africa.

OLV Moms Plan Luncheon Feb. 22

The lesson consisted of consumer reports on appliances, siding, carpeting, furnaces and food given by Mrs. Jack Ling, Mrs. Edward Mollema, Mrs. John Hart and Mrs. Howard Atwood.

H-P Gallery Spotlights Hensch Art

Stanley Hensch is exhibiting at the Hartley-Powers gallery February 15 to March 1. The exhibit will feature paintings of local scenes in Northville, Novi, Plymouth, Livonia, Walled Lake and Farmington.

A self portrait by Hensch will also be shown. This oil won first prize for portrait work at the Indiana Artists exhibition in Indianapolis.

Hensch works primarily in water color, but the exhibit will include oil paintings, pastels, etchings and a copper tooling. He says he likes to work with a variety of media and tries to approach each painting with a different technique.

Hensch graduated from the School of the Art Institute of Chicago in 1952. He has taught in Northville, Manistee, Birmingham, Plymouth, and is now an art resource teacher in Livonia. He is a member of the Three Cities Art club. His work has been shown in exhibits in Michigan and Indiana.

Recently he moved to Livonia where he lives with his wife, Aileen, and their six children. He is a member of the Universalist-Unitarian church of Farmington and is chairman of their annual art exhibit held each summer.

"SPECIALISTS IN FABRIC CARE"

NEWCOMER'S CORNER

HOME AGAIN after an absence of more than six years are William and Carol Lemon, Jr., pictured here with their children, Cathy Ann, 5, and David Alan, 2.

William and Carol Lemon, Jr. room. Carol Lemon, busy during the day keeping tabs on David — William and Carol Lemon, Jr. room. Kathy is a kindergartener at the Amerman — finds relaxation in day keeping tabs on David — William and Carol Lemon, Jr. room.

Lemon first got acquainted with the town while living with his parents, who still make their home on Seven Mile road. He and his wife spent a year here shortly after they were married.

And now they're back, residing at 557 Langfield in the Village Green. They moved from Detroit, their home the past six years.

A toolmaker with R & B Tool and Gauge company on the east side of Detroit, Lemon has spent time with the Air Force in Arizona. He's a bug on photography and electronics, says his wife. He built the family's hi-fi and is now making room in his basement for a dark-

1—Card of Thanks

I wish to thank my friends and neighbors, the American Legion and auxiliary, W.S.C.S., Tremper circle and Veterans of WWI for the cards, flowers, and well wishes during my stay in the Veterans hospital.
Charles Denune

I wish to thank everyone for their cards and gifts, also inquiries and other kindnesses extended to me during my stay in the hospital and since my return home.
Luella Wilson

I wish to thank my neighbors and friends for their cards, calls and visits during my stay at St. Joseph Hospital. I especially wish to thank the South Lyon Blood Bank for the blood I received.
Doris Draper H7ex

To those who expressed their sympathy in so many ways during our recent bereavement, we extend our heartfelt thanks.
The family of John Kenneth Rich H7ex

I wish to express my gratitude for so much done for us during my husband's long illness and death, especially to Rev. Stringer, the church members and the bearers.
Mrs. Lee Pierce H7ex

ADVERTISING FOR BIDS

The Village of Novi will accept sealed bids for one 1962 police car until 5 p.m. on February 19, 1962 at the office of the Village Clerk, Village Hall, 25850 Novi Road, Novi, Michigan.

Specifications may be obtained from the Village Clerk. The Village of Novi reserves the right to accept or reject any or all bids.

MABEL ASH VILLAGE CLERK

IT'S OPEN — Although a few customers got there first, Mayor A. M. Allen made the opening of Detroit Federal Savings and Loan Association in Northville official last Friday. He's shown snipping the ribbon flanked by (at left) Samuel B. Sherer, local office manager; and Gerald Hahn, Detroit Federal president; and (far right) James C. Briegel, treasurer and assistant secretary. The company purchased the Detroit Edison building, Center at Dunlap, and is located in the southern half, while Detroit Edison maintains its offices in the northern half. The second floor is also leased by Detroit Edison.

Gifts - NEW Savings Accounts

TWO OF THE FIRST customers to open accounts at Detroit Federal Savings and Loan Association's new Northville office Friday were Mr. and Mrs. Mallie Baker of 51825 West Eight Mile road. During its grand opening observance the firm is offering special gifts to new customers.

Alert Merchants To Check Passers

Northville Police Chief Eugene King this week issued an alert to merchants to be on the lookout for persons attempting to cash checks and postal money orders using Canadian chauffeur's licenses as identification. Police believe the check passers may be tied in with a ring passing counterfeit money in Canada.

The police chief heard of the ring at a recent meeting of the Southeastern Michigan Chiefs of Police association.

Willowbrook Church To Host Evangelist

As part of the state-wide program of the Evangelical United Brethren church, the Rev. Arthur L. Spafford, of Vicksburg, will serve as guest preacher-evangelist at Willowbrook Community church beginning Sunday, February 18.

The Rev. Spafford will preach at Sunday morning worship and later that afternoon will conduct the first lay visitation training session.

On Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday evenings he will continue the training sessions and share in the visitation program. The public is invited to attend the Sunday morning service.

Bill Gallagher, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph W. Gallagher, 549 West Dunlap, left February 5 to begin service in the U. S. Navy training center in San Diego, California.

In Uniform Roundhouse New Outlet For Plywood

The weekend carpenter can now take his youngsters with him to a real railroad roundhouse, let them look out the observation post in the roof of a real caboose, and — at the same time — fill his plywood needs.

This is possible with the opening of Roundhouse Plywood Sales in Plymouth, Michigan, Sunday, February 18.

The owner, Bill Underdown, said the new plywood outlet, a division of Underdown Plywood Company, will use a caboose bought from the C&O railroad as an office. As a warehouse, the firm has taken over part of the old C&O roundhouse in Plymouth. Boxcars can be driven into the roundhouse, unloaded and piled direct, resulting in lower handling costs, Underdown said. The business will serve a market in a 15-mile radius.

The firm will serve commercial users as well as do-it-yourselfers.

The caboose has been completely renovated, and the walls have been paneled in various woods.

Navy Cuts Duty Time

The local Navy Recruiter announced this week that the Navy temporarily will accept volunteers for three years' duty, rather than the usual four-year hitch. The shorter enlistments will be allowed until June 30.

The Navy also said it would permit two and three-year enlistments for men who have been released from active duty for more than 90 days, instead of the regular four or six-year "broken service" re-enlistments.

For further information contact the Navy Recruiter located at the American Legion Hall in Northville.

1961 NORTHVILLE TOWNSHIP TAXES DUE AND PAYABLE

I will be at Manufacturers National Bank every Tuesday and Friday thru the 27th of February.

Please bring your tax bill or you may pay by mail if you wish. Receipted bill will be returned.

1962 Township Dog Licenses are due January 1. They are available at the Township Hall on Franklin Rd. They will become delinquent March 1, 1962.

— Out of the Past —

ONE YEAR AGO

February 16, 1961

— Northville school teachers got their first look Tuesday at the proposed self improvement salary schedule plan drawn up by the board of education. Administrators and board members aired the plan with teachers at meetings in the individual schools.

— The Northville planning commission scheduled a March 7 public hearing this week to consider zoning changes that would pave the way for construction of a $300,000 apartment building project in the city.

— Exchange of communications between city and school officials concerning paving and vacating projects may soon require a special budget for postage. The issues have bounced back and forth so often that officials on both sides are showing signs of irritation.

— Earl Clifford White, 22, of 1910 Austin drive, was bound over to Circuit Court last Thursday on a charge of first degree murder in the shotgun slaying of his stepfather outside a New Hudson bar last January 22.

FIVE YEARS AGO

February 14, 1957

— Plans for the Eight Mile road cutoff were unveiled by the Wayne county road commission this week. Road officials said they would soon begin acquisition of lands to provide the cutoff route.

— A decision on whether Northville Downs will have 30 belated days of harness racing this coming fall is expected soon from State Racing Commissioner James H. Inglis. A public hearing on the proposal was held yesterday in the commissioner's office.

— Schrader's Home Furnishings, 111 North Center, is celebrating its 50th year in retail business in Northville. The firm was opened January 1, 1907 by the late Nelson Schrader, Sr.

— The Novi school board has started action aimed at increasing the school district's size by more than half and gaining the right to levy school taxes on the new Lincoln plant. The board last week petitioned the county board of education to approve the change.

— A state recreation official will discuss the problems of building, financing and operating a public swimming pool at a public meeting FIFTEEN YEARS AGO
February 14, 1947

— A $432 check from the state highway department brought to $6,645 the total Northville has received as its share of the 1946 weight and gasoline tax receipts.

— Northville township Treasurer Roy M. Terrill says 85 percent of the township taxes have been paid, leaving about $13,000 left due before the February 28 tax deadline.

— Two local business places were broken into and robbed during the past week, report Northville police. Altman's Liquor Store was victim of a $150 burglary, and Atchinson Gulf Station suffered a $50 theft.

— Northville March of Dimes campaign Chairman Nelson Schrader reports that total receipts to date amount to $493. He estimated the total would top $500 by the time last-minute donations are in.

— Seventeen-year-old Catherine L. Devine, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Devine, of Walled Lake, died Sunday in Pontiac General hospital following a Saturday evening automobile accident.

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

February 12, 1937

— Completion of the new Northville grade school building has been predicted by next week, says PWA engineering inspector C. J. Sullivan. The remaining work consists of minor items and adjustments, he said, and should be done by next week.

— A total of $103 has been turned over to the King's Daughters for their battle against infantile paralysis. This amount constitutes receipts at the annual President's ball given last month.

— A second truckload of supplies for the Ohio and Mississippi flood region left Northville Thursday morning, reports Mrs. Eber Ward Lester, chairman of the local Red Cross. Another truck left earlier this month, loaded with foods and supplies for flood-stricken persons. The materials were donated by Northville area residents.

— A blanket of ice presented hazardous travel conditions to this area Monday morning as freezing rain formed the slippery roads and streets thus far this winter.

Ready for Double Header

Mustangs Top Barons, 58-51

Northville's Mustangs, the only high school team in the state to remain undefeated this year in both football and basketball, last Friday night added their tenth straight Wayne-Oakland league cage victory by pulling away from Bloomfield Hills in the final minutes of play, 58-51.

The small, but decisive point advantage at game's end, falls short of accurately reflecting the general character of the game, however.

Northville opened scoring with a two-pointer by Forward Dick Bathey. But the Barons of Bloomfield Hills weren't daunted a bit by finding themselves behind during the first minute of play.

They quickly tied the score and, then pushed ahead to a game-high lead of 10-2. Northville, suffering from a slump in its normally well-oiled rebounding, was unable to control the backboards.

Also hurting the Mustangs during the first half of the opening period was Bloomfield's defense, which completely stymied Northville offensive play by changing every time the local squad had control of the ball.

But mid-way through the first quarter the Mustangs snapped the slump. Big Dan Brown started pulling down the rebounds and the Mustang offense began finding ways of breaking through the Barons' defense.

Before the period ended, Northville had battled its way to a 15-14 lead, but a Mustang foul in the last 10 seconds allowed Bloomfield Hills to end the quarter with a 15-15 tie.

A two-point lead switched hands several times during the second stanza, until a defensive change allowed the Mustangs to go ahead while holding the Barons back.

With the quarter half gone, Coach Dave Longridge ordered his Mustangs to abandon their man-to-man defense and switch to a normal zone.

The score had been tied 23-23 at the time, and the effect of the switch was immediately obvious as the Mustangs built their lead to 28-23 in just over two minutes.

Only Northville mistakes, made in the closing minute of the first half, allowed the Bloomfield Hills squad to recapture some of their points and end the half with Northville leading 32-28.

The Mustangs jumped into play in the second half by pushing their lead to 38-31 before three minutes had passed.

Bathey flashed fine form not only in scoring, but also in repeated rebounding. Time after time the tall Mustang tipped rebounds out to his team-mates.

But Northville's efforts appeared to be of little avail as the Barons bounced back into the game by tying the score at 40-40 before the third quarter had ended. A flurry of Northville scoring in the closing seconds gave the Mustangs a 45-42 advantage to start the final stanza.

Northville continued its scoring drive during the fourth period, leading at one point by as much as eight points. But midway through the quarter, Bloomfield again threatened as the Barons moved to within three points of the precious Mustang lead.

Three baskets during the final minute and a half put the Mustangs in the win column again, as the game ended 58-51.

Longridge, calling the game "the best of the season" for all-around team effort and spirit, said he was very happy that the Mustangs had to meet such a tough challenge near the end of their cage schedule.

"They kept us on our toes throughout the game," he noted, "and that'll be a great help for this coming week-end."

Longridge was speaking of the double-header week-end that starts Friday in West Bloomfield and ends Saturday as the Mustangs play hosts to Clarenceville.

"We have four games left," Longridge pointed out, "and Bloomfield Hills has now lost only three. They could conceivably tie or even go ahead of us before the season ends."

These facts, he says, make this weekend doubly important. If the Mustangs win both games, they'll have clinched the W-O championship.

Longridge praised the efforts of the entire team, especially guards Steve Juday and Craig Bell, who both turned in good scoring records and showed excellent defensive moves.

To Walled Lake

Wrestlers Drop Sixth Meet

Mustang wrestlers, swinging into a tough end-of-the-season line up of matches, last week dropped their sixth of 13 meets so far this season to a "very fine" Walled Lake mat squad.

Mustang Coach Jack Kreiner said Northville's neighbors to the north deserved the win, "but it shouldn't have been 32-11."

He explained that the Walled Lake club had good strength in every weight class, but the score difference should have been smaller.

"We lost a match or two that we shouldn't have dropped," Kreiner declared. He said it was mainly a problem of the local grapplers making a simple mistake that their opponents capitalized upon.

Tonight (Thursday), the Mustangs travel to Flat Rock Kreiner said this meet should be quite close.

When Flat Rock visited Northville recently, he pointed out, the local wrestlers lost, but by a close score. The Malmaster said the loss was the result of having three starting wrestlers out with illness.

Tonight, Kreiner said, Flat Rock will be at its very toughest because they know we'll be stronger than before.

Mustangs who battled at Walled Lake included 95-pound Mike Brandenburg, who lost a decision to Don Wilkinson; 103-pound John Humman, who was pinned by Tom Brown; 112-pound Doug Nichols, who won a decision over Leo Zehnder; 120-pound Bob Fisher, who lost a decision to Gene Lagasse and 127-pound Ron Rebitzke, who fought to a draw with Pat Harrington.

Regional Mat Tournament Planned for River Rouge

Regional tournament matches for the Northville Mustang wrestlers will be held this year at River Rouge, says Malmaster Jack Kreiner. The tourney will be held March first and second.

One full team of Northville grapplers will be sent to the regional face-offs, Kreiner said, and any of those who place in the top positions will go on to state meets.

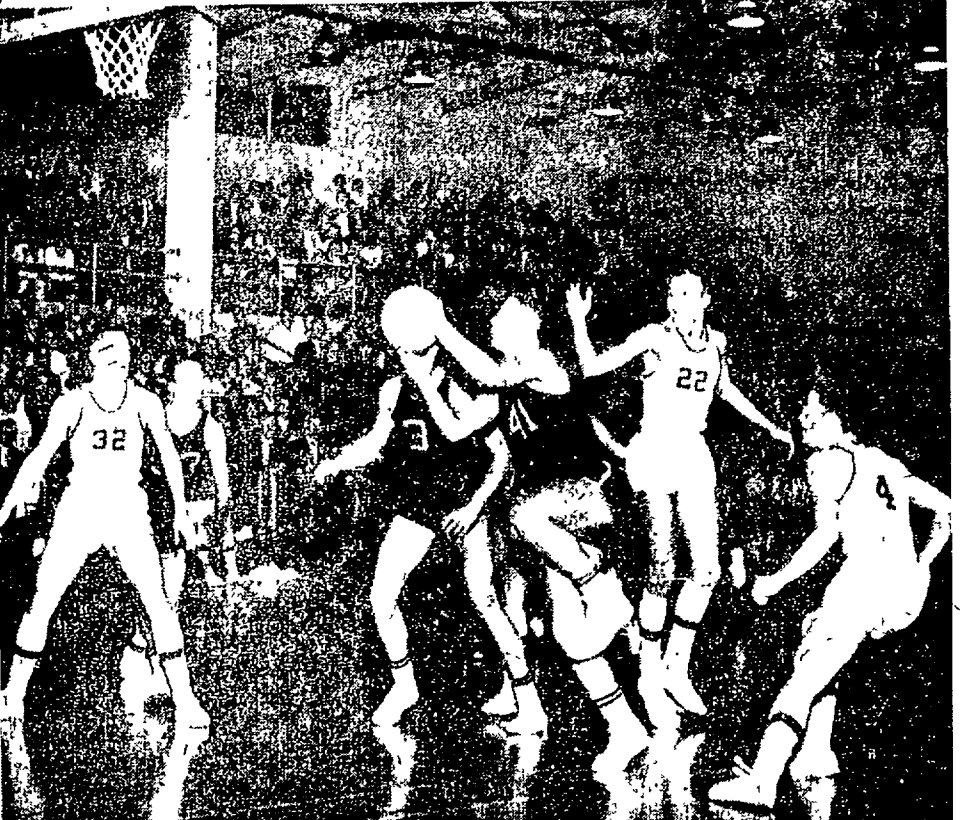

All Class B wrestling squads from this area will be represented at the regionals, Kreiner predicted, and there should be plenty of top competition.

Nearby paralleling Rebitzke are Mike Brandenburg, Gary Nichols and Dave Clark. All three have won eight of their dual matches, with Clark holding one draw and two losses. Nichols with two draws and two losses and Brandenburg with one draw and three losses.

IT'S A LONG WAY to go to the basket, or so it seems, but Northville Mustang Steve Juday made it as he piled up 11 of his team's 58 points against Bloomfield Hills' Barons last Friday in an away game. Everyone in the picture looks surprised but Juday, and that's because he had just made one of his some 15 steals from the Barons for the evening. Also pictured are Dick Bathey (33), on the left, and Dan Brown (32), partially hidden behind Juday.

Drive for Recreation Center

It Happened Before — 30 Years Ago

To many longtime Northville residents the current campaign to construct a new building to serve as a center for scout and recreation activities must recall fond memories.

It was just about 30 years ago that local citizens active in scouting and other youth activities became interested in a scout building and creation of a recreation program.

The two efforts started out separately, but eventually became one as the recreation committee took over responsibility of the scout building.

The recreation committee and its program were largely the result of the determined efforts

Northville children during the first few weeks of that summer.

Then "twilight" baseball teams, made up of younger businessmen of the community, were formed to expand the program.

As the need for equipment and increased financial support grew with the enlarged program, the practice of "passing the hat" at the ball games was initiated.

The increased funds made possible such additions to the program as handicraft classes, tennis courts, improved playgrounds and the initiation of activities for the younger women of the community.

At first the American Legion building was used for storing equipment and providing "less strenuous" activities for the older residents. But as the program grew over its first few years, it became apparent that the community needed its own facility for housing the expanding amount of equipment and number of activities.

At the same time, the growth of scouting made it impossible for Northville's original troop — the Methodist church troop — to continue using the church as its headquarters.

So the idea of a scout building was hit upon as the solution.

The building was started as a WPA project.

Orlow Owen was leader of the scouts and one of the biggest boosters and organizers of the building project. He recalls that Charles Schoultz of the American Legion; George Simmons and Dick Loomis, the village police chief and a scout leader, were active participants in the scout building drive.

All sorts of benefit events were held to raise funds for the community's part in the project.

The American Legion, which owned the land at the corner of Dunlap and Hutton streets, agreed to swap for other village owned land, and the township was given a lease on the property in consideration for its contributions toward the project.

When the building was finished, the village obligated itself to perpetual maintenance of the facilities.

Later, a board of directors was set up to run the building and the various programs. The executives included the superintendent of schools, the village president, a councilman, the commander of the American Legion post and the chief of police.

For many years the township used the building for its offices. After incorporation in 1955, however, the offices were moved to the present Franklin road site.

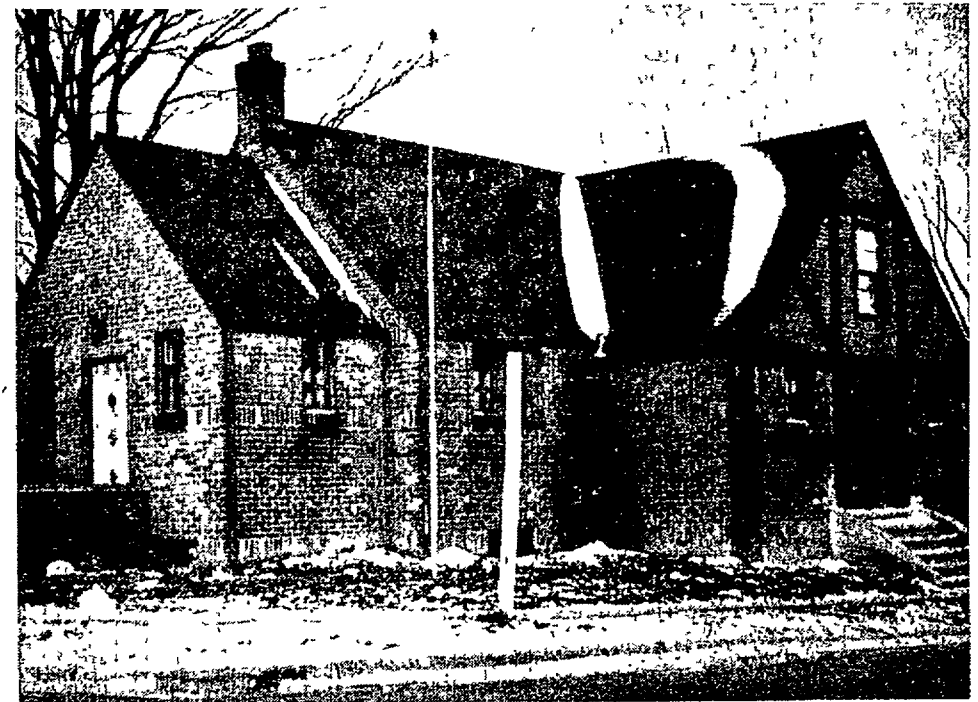

As the recreation program outgrew the scouting activities, the recreation committee took over management of the building and scheduled all activities.

It became the center for many teenage activities as well as scout meetings. School youngsters used it during noon hours for lunches and recreation. Week ends dances were scheduled for both junior and senior high school.

Three recreation directors have seen the local program grow up in the scout building. Wilson Funk was the first full time director. He served from 1947 until 1953. Stan Johnston took over until 1960 and Ken Conley has been in charge since then.

But the expanding programs made the old building too small and cramped. So last year it was sold to the Kroger company, and plans are now well underway for construction of a new, enlarged recreation-scout building.

Last week the city council received further plans and pledges of assistance toward construction of the new facility.

Preliminary plans call for a bi-level building 45 by 32 feet in size. It's to be located on city property next to the cemetery on Cady street.

Included in the plans for the area, which was formerly used by the department of public works, are the building, two large black-topped areas for summer games and winter ice skating, a playground for younger children and parking space.

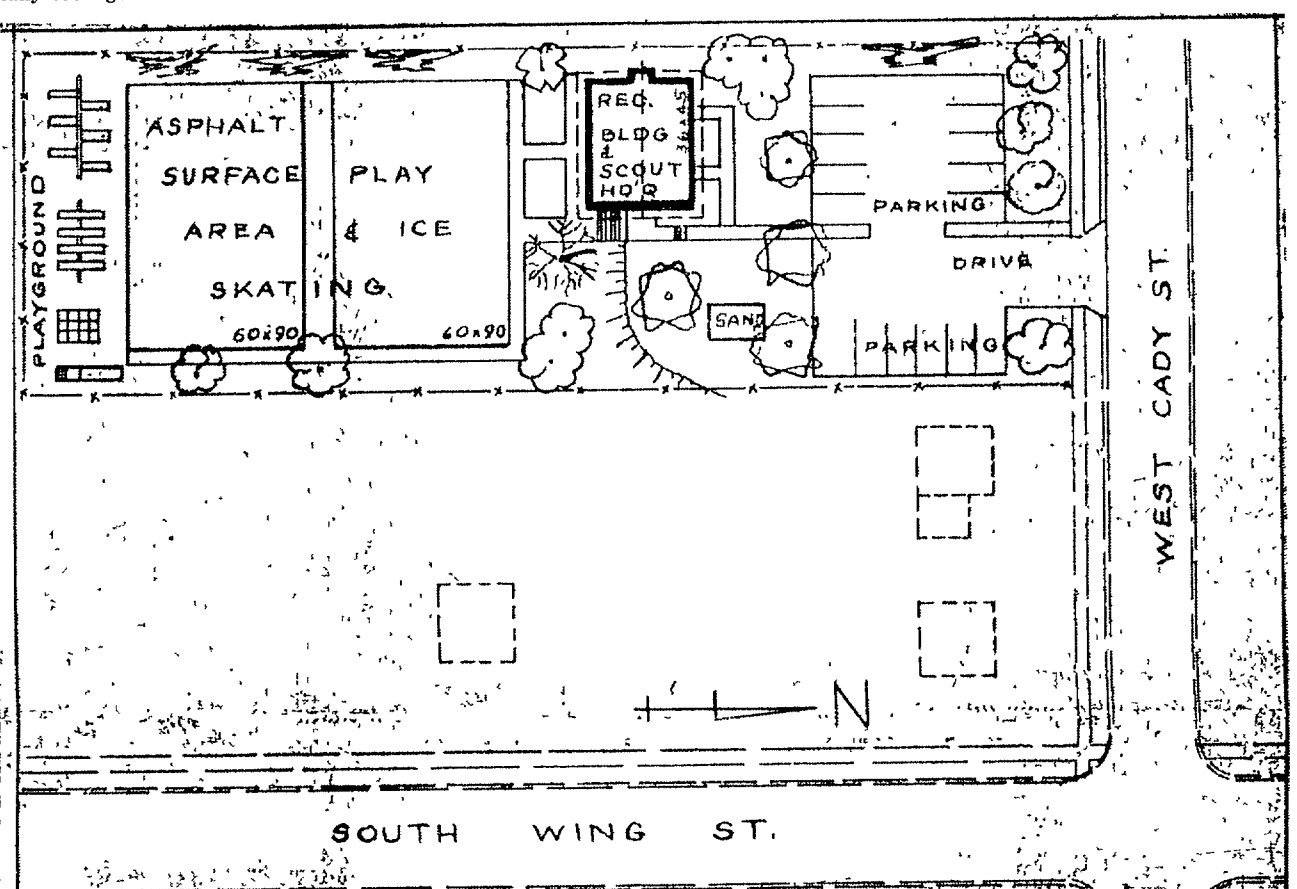

The building itself would be used for storage of equipment and as a meeting place with facilities for both young and old.

Recommended uses include Boy and Girl Scout meetings with facilities for all their usual activities, storage of recreation equipment, indoor activities of the recreation program, headquarters of a senior citizens program and possibly a home for the Northville Cooperative Pre-School play group.

Funds now raised for the project include $14,000 from sale of the old building, $760 donated by the Junior Chamber of Commerce, $1,000 pledged by the Northville Rotary club and $500 promised by the John N. Northup company, which has also offered free of profit its services in supervising development and construction.

It is expected that preliminary planning will be completed in time to permit spring construction of the facility.

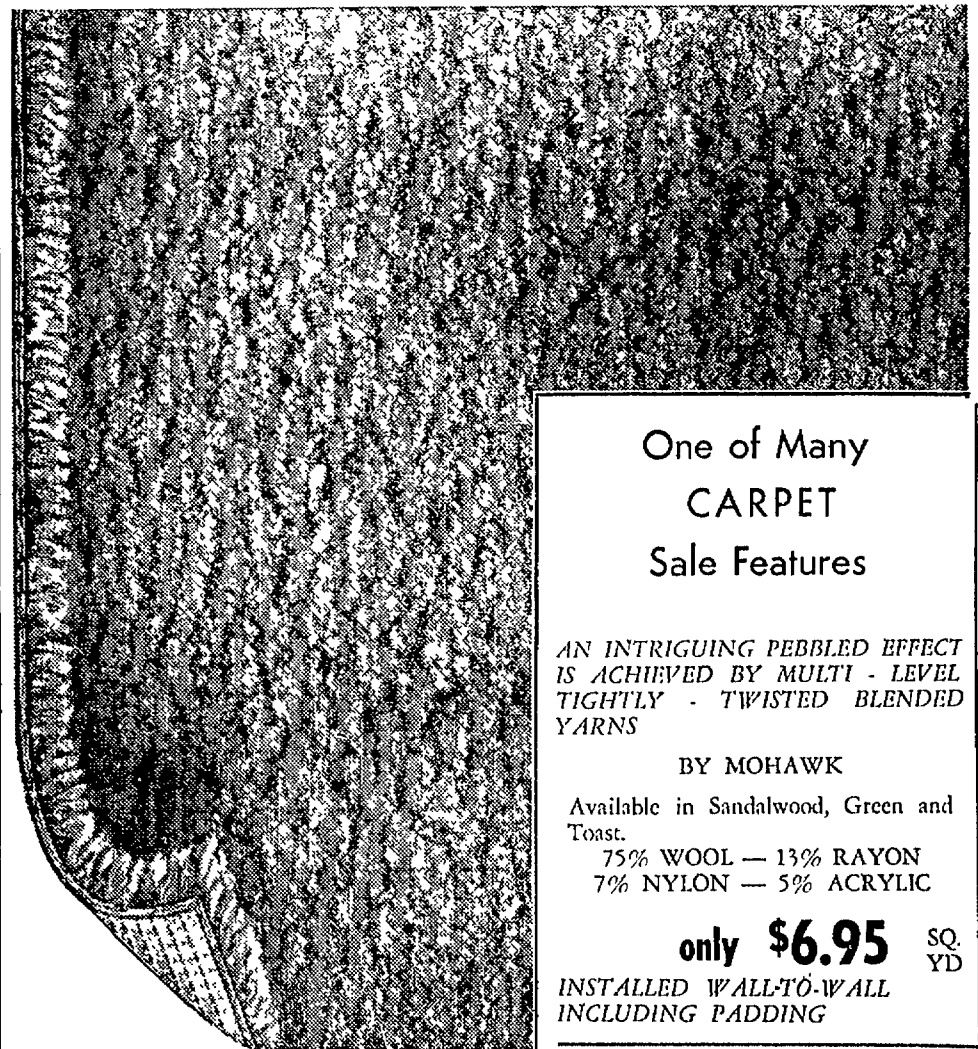

This line drawing, prepared by City Engineer Harold Penn, shows preliminary plans for the proposed recreation facilities on Cady street.

from the PASTOR'S STUDY

By Rev. John I. Wittstock
Our Lady of Victory Church, Northville

Doubt and pride are two great obstacles in the paths of many people in the world today. How Christianity would spread if people could only hurdle these two obstacles courageously. I say courageously, because it takes courage to have strong faith and to be humble.

In St. Matthew's Gospel, eighth chapter, we see a leper approaching Christ, prostrating himself on the ground and pleading "Lord, if Thou wilt, Thou canst make me clean." No man ever formulated a better petition than this leper. Those few words are the expression of full faith in Christ's power, but they also declare a humble submission and resignation. The leper simply lays his need before Christ. He acknowledges Christ's power to heal, but he leaves it to His good pleasure to give health or not. The very terms of the leper's petition imply that his faith would not have wavered, even if he had been denied. Jesus then extended His hand and said "I will, be thou made clean."

The great object of Christ's miracles was to prove His divinity, and, to produce this effect, it was necessary that

His miracles should be known. Yet, after the miracle Christ gave a severe command "See thou tell no one!" Christ did not wish His ministry to be accompanied by excitement and tumult. He did not want to be accepted in a sudden burst of enthusiasm, but with an interior spirit of faith.

About that same time that Christ cured the leper, there was a centurion, a Gentile, on duty in Capernaum with a detachment of soldiers under his command. This centurion had heard of Christ's miracles and believed that Christ was sent by God. His servant was sick, and the Greek expression in the Bible seems to imply that death was naturally inevitable. Christ was the only help. How could this centurion approach the great Prophet?

He did not dare to go personally to Christ, so he sent some of his Jewish friends. The centurion apparently had not expressed the wish or entertained the hope that Christ should come in person. The Jewish friends, however, in their eagerness to obtain Christ's help, asked that Christ should come down to this sick man. When the centurion heard that Christ was on His way to his house, he went to meet Christ. When he approached the Divine Master he exclaimed "Lord, I am not worthy that thou shouldst come under my roof, but only say the word, and my servant will be healed."

Great humility is expressed in the centurion's words. No soul, as a matter of fact, can be acceptable to God without humility. This virtue is not opposed to strength of soul; on the contrary, humility is greatness of soul. Thousands of souls are either going away from Christ or are staying away from Him for want of humility.

The centurion's words also convey a great expression of faith. Jesus, a reader of hearts, turned to the multitude that followed Him and proclaimed openly that the faith of this Gentile was greater than the faith He had found in Israel.

Faith and humility must be ours. They must be exercised by millions more in the world if we are to gain true and lasting peace. Humility and faith are gifts of God to men, but we humans have the control of the conditions which foster or exclude these virtues.

CIRCUS BOUND is this busload of patrol girls from the Main street school. They were treated to an afternoon at the Shrine Circus in Detroit last week, through the kind efforts of Shriner Albert Hackett (standing to the right in front of the bus). Some 75 patrol girls enjoyed the treat. The other members of the party include (left to right) Mrs. Emily Johnson, fifth grade teacher, Mrs. Betty Willing, elementary school secretary, and Fred Clark, bus driver. Mrs. Ruth Carter, sponsor of the patrol girls, was unable to attend.

1962 CHEVROLET JOBMMASTER TRUCKS

built better...work longer!

When Chevrolet builds a truck, it builds a quality truck. This policy makes sense. Chevrolet trucks work a long time...cost less than many other makes to operate and maintain over the years...consistently bring a higher trade-in price...and, as a result, are bought by more people.

We invite you to come in and examine this quality closely and to take a 1962 demonstrator out for a good long test drive. Note the cab comfort, the good visibility, the smooth ride, the solid feel of its quality. Compare Chevrolet truck features with those of other makes. Then decide which are your wisest investment. We're sure it will be Chevrolet's.

Note how this Chevrolet cab roof is made of two sheets of metal, instead of one, with a layer of felt in between as insulation against cold, heat and noise.

A Chevrolet truck tailgate is sturdier because it has double-wall construction and strong steel chains in tough rubber casing to support it.

Quality independent front suspension fights road shock more effectively than other types—provides more protection for the truck, load and driver.

The standard 235-cu.-in. 6-cylinder Chevrolet truck engine has worked more miles than any other. There are nine more engines to choose from.

Readers Speak: "Let's Keep City Small"

All a person has to do today is to read your Detroit News-papers and count your blessings, that you are fortunate enough to live in Northville.

In case there are a few people who question this comment, I will explain further.

Whether they realize it or not, Northville is a small community who can boast with pride, for being one of the few remaining small cities, where they still have the peace and friendly (old-fashioned, perhaps) spirit. A place to raise a family, free from the crimes and confusion of a large city. Even in these troubled times today, we still have kept the old traditions alive.

The large percentage of people who are employed in Detroit, or similar large cities, enjoy the expectation each evening, of coming home to a quiet, peaceful and charming small town atmosphere, away from all the noise, and hussle-bussle of a large city. Their children are free to attend school functions, parties and community affairs. We do not have the fear of crimes and vice, that exists in a large city.

I'm sure 99% of the families who moved to Northville in the past 10 years, did so to get away from a big city. Then, those who were born and raised here, made it their life time home, for the same reason.

Let's keep our lovely town, always a place to be proud of. There is no law or prize given to the town Fathers if they are over progressive. Why must it grow large so quickly?

No reason at all. If some people are anxious to prove they are truly interested in their city, they would be doing a far greater service, if they will strive to protect the great little city, we now have, not spoil it by growing too large too fast.

True the more people who move here may bring future business. But, it also will bring National Syndicated stores here and be more harmful to our independent business. It will mean more expense, more taxes. If we grow too large, we will suffer the same problems every other city has, who was over progressive, and are now, sorry.

Northville was and still is a wonderful little city. Let's be careful and keep the same old grand traditions alive forever. Where else can people live in these troubled times, and still enjoy the quiet, peaceful life they have in Northville today? It's better to be cautious than sorry.

Mrs. John W. Raubar Jr.

Novi Girl Scouts

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Kriedeman have received word recently that they have been chosen to participate in the 1962 Girl Scout Senior Roundup. This will be a major event of the organization's 50th anniversary celebration. The 1962 Roundup will be held July 18 through 31 at Button Bay State park on the Vermont side of Lake Champlain. There will be about 8,500 senior scouts from 14 through 17 participating with a staff of 1,500 adults. The roundup will offer girls a chance to make friends with scouts from all over the world. They will prove their ability to live under primitive conditions and practice good citizenship through self government.

They will live in 6,000 tents and at chow time there will be more than 1,000 camp fires burning as girls will be in groups of 8 to cook for themselves as well as adults who are experienced campers taking time off from jobs to serve at the roundup as volunteers. The theme for the 1962 Girl Scout Senior Roundup is "Honor the Past, Serve the Future". The roundup is held every three years in a different part of the United States. The 1st one was in 1959 at Colorado Springs, Colorado. In other words a 10 year old fly up Brownie or 1st year intermediate of this year will be a candidate 3 years from now 1965.

Brownie Troop No. 1027 held their birthday party February 7. Mrs. Helen Hallman made a special decorated cake with the Brownie pin emblem and one birthday candle. Mothers who were present were Mesdames Ciot, Kroger, Ward, Presnell. Pictures were taken by Mrs. Presnell for the troop scrap book. The girls reviewed their girl scout laws. They have been working on and now are starting on three more. They also discussed plans for their poster for girl scout week. Several of the girls, Janice Harbin, Susan Presnell and Irene Long made surprise birthday cards for leader, Mrs. Spisak. They also received their registration cards and brought in pictures of girl scouts in other countries.

Brownie Troop No. 550 went to the circus on Thursday. Special guest was Joan Smith. They took a lunch bag. They were accompanied by Mrs. Kriedeman. They especially enjoyed the aerial act.

Brownie Troop No. 402 recited laws as a part of requirements. They also voted to use the yellow tie as part of their intermediate uniform. Treats were furnished by Shirley Husted. They discussed dimes for Daisy program.

Brownie Troop No. 913 made valentines for relatives out of construction paper and lace doilies. Valerie Pinner brought treats.

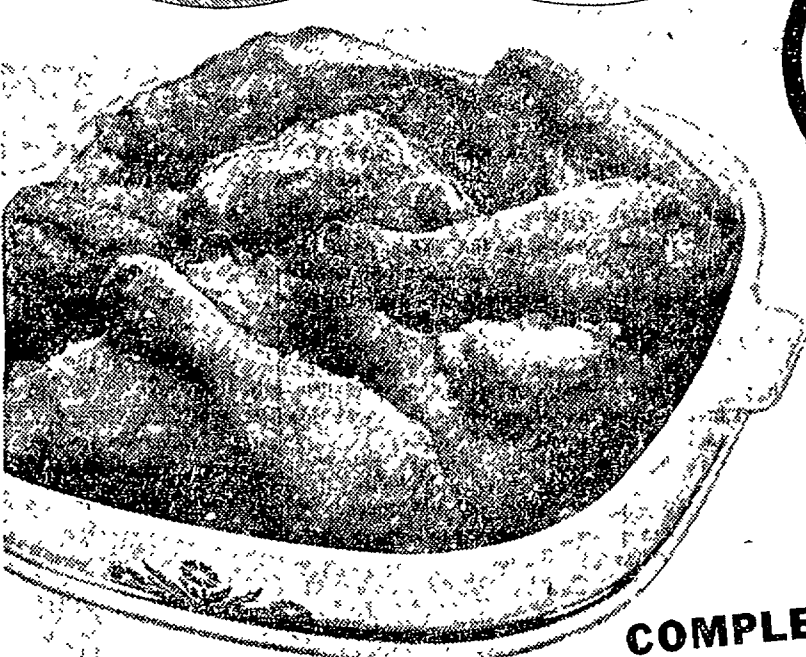

Intermediate Troop No. 149 made plans for their exhibit for Girl Scout Week. They also discussed Dimes for Daisy program and learned a new game from Denmark. Also worked on knolls. Debby Auten brought her birthday cake to share with the girls.

SPEAKING for the Record

by Bill Sliger

The American Association of University Women — locally and state-wide — is making a determined effort to win approval of two bills filed in the state house of representatives and senate.

One would provide funds for separate children's units at state mental hospitals; the other would increase operating funds for greatly improved care and treatment programs and school programs for children already in these hospitals.

The capital outlay bill calls for $1,550,000 for children treatment centers at four state hospitals (including Northville). Additional operating funds requested total $458,600. The latter would not completely staff units at each hospital but would provide care and treatment improvement.

AAUW concern stems from the fact that there are over 500 children in state hospitals — and another 200 on the waiting list — and most of these children must be housed in adult wards.

The urgency of the mental health program for children was expressed at a December public hearing conducted by AAUW by Dr. Douglas A. Sargent, president of the Michigan Council of Child Psychiatrists, who said:

"All of the children who are presently occupying beds in our State Mental Hospitals are receiving sub-standard care and treatment.

"To be successful, psychiatric treatment for children requires that all of the child's normal needs for comfort, recreation, education, affection, etc. be met, just as they would be met in a normal home. These are basic human needs. Yet we force our State hospitals to act as though mentally sick kids need less of these life-enriching experiences than do their normal counterparts.

"The fact is, the child who is mentally ill needs more love, more fun, more comfort, more of everything than he would if he were well.

"Every thinking citizen should insist that we provide these hospitals with the tools they need to treat our sick children."

As every Michigan citizen knows, appropriations are one thing, finding the money another.

It is freely predicted by many legislators that the state will face a deficit of 90 million dollars by June.

And at this same public hearing where Dr. Sargent set forth his appeal Senator Farrell Roberts was sympathetic, but coldly realistic.

"The problem is not appropriations, the problem is taxation. Citizens and organizations who support appropriations for such urgently needed services as we are discussing here today, should state clearly their willingness to be taxed in order to provide money to pay for these services."

Clearly, we cannot hide from the problem of mentally ill children. It is said that one out of 12 children born each year faces hospitalization for emotional or mental trouble. If nothing — or not enough — is done, they become mentally ill adults.

Likewise, our responsibility to pay must be faced. Heaping new or higher taxes on the present jumble is not the answer. The public will pay if it knows the waste has been pared from expenditures and some order of equity brought into the system of taxation.

Despite the problem of money, however, the AAUW remains firm in its convictions. Their group takes this position: "The AAUW is asking for increased appropriations at a time when the State is operating at a deficit. But we also support measures to provide a more equitable and adequate tax structure. The services for which we are asking are minimum, essential services. There must be funds provided to care for these mentally sick children."

Mrs. B. W. Second is president of the Northville-Plymouth AAUW organization. She's spear-heading the appeal for public support.

The group has arranged for another public hearing on their proposals — this time before the State House Ways and Means Committee in Lansing.

The hearing will be held at 7:30 p.m. in the house of representatives at the State Capitol on Wednesday, February 22. You can help this effort by attending the hearing, or writing your state representative or senator.

Road to 'Success' Can Ruin Home

Babson Park, Mass., Competition is the big word in our business world today. This is natural, since healthy and unfettered rivalry is the cornerstone on which our system of free enterprise has been built. With the emergence of super-automated production and super-retailing, there is little hope for a company unless it is willing and ready to compete with rivals.

Today, however, I want to talk to you about the personal dangers for workers and their families that can arise from cut-throat competition.

First of all, you should never forget that it is all too easy for business to damage the home life of those who think of absolutely nothing but how to "make a bundle". One of the chief causes of juvenile delinquency is the father who devotes his evenings and weekends to his work instead of to his family. This can easily lead, also, to a kind of "women's auxiliary" of wives who give far more thought to entertaining their husbands' business associates than to tending to their children's physical and emotional needs.

There is no sadder home in America than the one in which the father realizes too late that his son is practically a grown man, — and that he (the father) has missed the fun and fury of the whole process.

The frenzied pursuit of company business, at the expense of family life, results in a loss to both. Of what value is a man's economic advancement if personal and family values have to go by the board "until later"? That "later" will almost certainly become "too late".

Many a father appears to be actually proud of placing his children in one "fine" school after another, so that he can give all his time to his executive work. One man told me not long ago that he has "never had to bother bringing up his children, that a series of good prep schools taught them all they would ever need to know." I asked if the schools taught his youngsters family love, understanding, and the marvel of mutual need during the growing-up time.

There is no question but that we are moving through a difficult dog-eat-dog business period. But let us not forget that our responsibility to our family is at least as important as our loyalty to our occupation.

Guidance centers and mental hospitals are filled with girls and boys who are emotionally unstable because their parents never played with them enough, never shared their recreations enough, never taught them the religious and moral truths that alone can build a strong family unit. When the home ceases to be the focal center of a family, we may well be heading into social anarchy or to a heart attack!

It is a bad sign when a business executive says he does not want his kids to work as hard as he worked. It means, first, that he must have worn himself to a frazzle to get where he is, or he would not be so vehement about it.

Second, it undoubtedly means that he is giving his youngsters fat allowances, a fancy education and each an automobile. He feels better that way; it saves his conscience. He can then say that he has given his children "everything". But ask the children.

They will tell you that he has not given them what they want most — understanding and companionship.

He has, in fact, paid somebody else to do what he should have done himself, with the loving help of his wife. And this wet-nursing can develop a whole generation of young people who are emotionally undeveloped and self-centered, and who think the world owes them a living. Who is to blame?

It is my honest feeling that the pace of today's business has something to do with the situation. I would like to start a move that may prevent high-tension business from wrecking home life. Unless evenings, week ends, holidays, and vacations are devoted, in large measure, to family responsibilities and pleasures, we may yet see a real business depression as people give up the struggle.

Correcting Wife Really Loves You

Dear Dr. Mudd:

This is the first time I've ever written to a "sob-sister" column, but what I have to say seems important enough for me to take the time to do it.

It is not just me. I see it everywhere I go and I don't understand it. How come when there's a real nice guy that everybody likes, his wife is always finding something wrong with him?

Sometimes it's nice, like she'll fix his tie if it's crooked, but lots of times it sounds and looks mean and nasty. Some wives now they always find fault. You can tell the way they look real significant "wait 'til I get you home" looks when they're out with their husbands.

Everyone else thinks the guy is A-O-K. but their wives are about as difficult as you can get. I don't understand it at all. Especially when it happens to me, which it did last night when all I did was show a friend how to pick up a coin with your toes.

We kind of had a bet on about it. My wife wasn't even in the room, but I could see her in the dining room, and man, that was a cold mean look I got! I know I wasn't doing what high society does, but this guy is a good friend and he didn't think anything was wrong.

How come she did? I'd appreciate an answer.

Dear D.D.T.: I suspect your letter is a bit of a spoof but it has some truths within it that deserve consideration and comment.

Have you considered how unrewarding it would be if wives in general, but your wife in particular, just didn't care enough to react to what you did? I can't, of course, comment on the particular instance you cite in your description of the circumstances to which your wife took exception; it may have been a formal dinner party for all I know and this, you must agree, would hardly have been the place for you to display your pedal dexterity!

Many women marry men with the idea in mind that their husbands are diamonds in the rough who only require a few deft touches to become jewels of the first water. When they find their husbands peculiarly resistant to their polishing influence, they either resign themselves to the situation life has dealt them, or they persist in their efforts to bring their men to that state of perfection for which they long.

And you really can't blame them. A great many men are subtly uncouth in ways that are unobserved or ignored by everyone but their mates. A wife has the right to expect the very best from the man she marries, and if at times she gets a little intolerant of his behavior or attitudes, just remember it is out of love and not out of hate or indifference that she expresses her opinion.

I think you are a fortunate one to have a wife who is so devoted to being guardian to your good reputation, as well as being one who will let you know when you've strayed a bit beyond the usual close tolerances of acceptable behavior. Maybe she's too critical, but in my view, better this than that she not care enough to be critical at all!

And in all fairness, does she hold to criteria for behavior that she does not also follow herself? Most women, in my experience, are far more accurate in their assessment of social situations and what is and what is not appropriate within them, than men.

It's hard, but maybe you would find more satisfaction in your relationship, if you would take her criticisms, stated and implied, in the spirit in which they are intended, rather than

More College Crowding

If parents know the facts about problems of higher education, the state will take the right steps to solve them. The decisions will then be based on sound information. That was the message of Dr. John A. Hannah, MSU president, to newspapers of the state at the annual convention of the Michigan Press Association.

Dr. Hannah, also a Con-Con delegate, complimented newspapers on the outstanding job they are doing in relaying news of the convention to the public.

He invited editors to apply the same detailed coverage to the needs of college education so that the people of Michigan will be aware of the knotty situation.

Most people do not realize, the educator pointed out, that right now, when colleges are jammed with students and refusing many applicants, the number of high school students had been on the downgrade. The baby boom that started at World War II's end won't hit the college level until 1964. Then the wave of students will really swamp colleges.

Dr. Hannah urged newspapers to concern themselves with this problem; to stimulate interest about it in their communities. Facilities simply do not exist to care for the youngsters who will be coming along, he warned. If they are to come into being, the wheels will have to start to turn very soon, he stated.

Problems of financing college education are among the most difficult facing legislators and there is a good deal of soul searching about how they should be solved.

Rep. Lester J. Allen, rural Ithaca Republican, has proposed a "compulsory contribution" upon alumni of state supported institutions. He would require each student to sign a note before he graduated for $1,200, payable over a 12 year period.

"Tuition must be kept low if the principle of state-supported institutions is to be maintained," Allen said. "Now, too few alumni contribute to the continuing support of their alma mater."

Disregarding the philosophical soundness of this idea, a tremendous factor against it involves the fact that students under 21 cannot legally make such commitments. This would automatically eliminate young people who wanted an education but whose parents would not or could not take on such obligation.

Mobile units of the State Police and State Highway Department will soon bear a new emblem depicting the ability of the personnel driving the vehicles.

State Police Commissioner Joseph A. Childs reports the American Red Cross has started issuing decals to be placed on the 428 State Police squad cars and 200 Highway Department trucks.

The "Emergency First Aid" decals to be attached to the left rear of the vehicles indicate the personnel in the mobile units are fully qualified to offer expert help in emergencies.

Evan Thompson, Lansing representative for the Red Cross, said Michigan was the first state to get the special designation emblems for two agencies.

"The Michigan State Police is the only state police or highway patrol unit in the United States whose members are 100 percent trained in first aid," he said. "The Highway Department is the first state unit of its kind, also, to qualify mobile units for this rating."

Secretary of State branch offices in several sections of the state are again offering special "community service" on license plate sales.

Before the March 1 deadline for the purchase of 1962 plates, some 171 communities will have given the "doorstep" service which was initiated in 1958. The itinerant sales project carries a staff of a branch office to towns and villages which do not have a full-time auto licensing branch.

"This program is made possible each year by the willingness of our fee managers to put in extra evening and weekend hours to bring license services to the outlying community instead of asking the people to drive extra miles to the branch office," said Secretary of State James M. Hare.

The "one-night stands" are usually held in community halls, schools, churches, stores or garages. The fee manager, providing the service does not receive anything extra for it Hare said. Cost to the purchaser of the license is the same as if he bought the plates from a full-time office.

Ready access to a person's blood type can often mean the difference between the life or death of an accident victim, Secretary of State James M. Hare points out.

"Although there is not state law requiring it, Michigan driver's licenses have a line on the back where a motorist's blood type can be recorded.

"During recent weeks, several doctors have suggested that licensed drivers should attempt to determine their blood type and record it on their driver's license," Hare said.

Red Cross officials told Hare they tell every blood donor what type of blood he has but they do not have facilities to provide this service for non-donors. Most private physicians, however, can provide a patient with this information.
