

Health Unit Here Today

CHECK-UP CHANCE — The Wayne county health department's program for detection of tuberculosis, diabetes and syphilis got underway yesterday in Northville and will continue through today and Friday. The county wide program ends April 20 and by that time mobile units will have visited nearly every community in out-county Wayne. In the picture above Dr. Joseph G. Molner (left), county health commissioner, is shown watching Mrs. Ramona Tompkins of the Michigan State Medical Assistants Society draw blood for tests from Roy Armstrong, an employee of the health unit. Dr. John Bryan, representing the Wayne County Medical Society's diabetes committee, looks on at right. The detection unit is stationed at the First Presbyterian church and will be there today from 11 a.m. until 5 p.m. and from 6 p.m. until 8 p.m. Friday hours will be from 9 a.m. until 6 p.m. The Coordinating Council is sponsoring the program locally and Mrs. Mabel Cooley is general chairman of volunteer services for the project.

Ex - Postmaster Van Atta Succumbs Here at 86

Fred E. Van Atta, an early Northville industrialist, former village councilman, assessor and postmaster, died Saturday at the age of 86.

Funeral services were held Monday afternoon at the Ebert Funeral Home.

Mr. Van Atta had been in ill health for several months. He passed away at his home, 136 East Cady street.

Mr. Van Atta came to Northville in 1911 as a partner of James A. Dubuar to form the Superior Churn and Manufacturing company. The firm was located in the same building as Dubuar's Milling and Lumber company, now the site of the Ford Valve plant in Northville. In addition to churning Mr. Van Atta's firm produced a variety of products including root cutters, corn planters, headlights that turned with wheels and glare-proof rear-view mirrors.

Parker Holden Services Held

Funeral services were held yesterday (Wednesday) afternoon from St. John's Episcopal church, Plymouth, for Parker Holden, 65, Detroit advertising executive and resident of Northville who died suddenly Sunday.

The Reverend David T. Davies, pastor at St. John's, conducted services. Burial was at Rural Hill cemetery.

A resident here since 1946, Mr. Holden lived at 628 West Main with his wife, Camilla, who survives. He also leaves a daughter, Mrs. Richard L. Hackett, Jackson; a sister, Miss Margaret Holden, Detroit; and three grandchildren.

Mr. Holden died at St. Mary hospital, Livonia, Sunday evening approximately three hours after Northville police found him slumped over the wheel of his car, which was parked on Rural Hill road south of Hines drive. Death was caused by a self-inflicted gun wound from a .38 Colt revolver.

Since 1958 Mr. Holden had been president of Parker Holden Advertising Consultants in Detroit. Up to that time he had been president of Holden, Chapin, LaRue, Inc., advertising agency, which he founded in 1927.

A veteran of World War I, he had served as a commander in the U.S. Navy during World War II.

He was a member of St. John's Episcopal church; Lloyd H. Green American Legion Post 147, Northville; Military Order of the World Wars, Detroit; Detroit University club; Detroit Boat club; Meadowbrook Country club and St. Anthony club of New York.

Born in Detroit February 1, 1897, Mr. Holden was the son of Milton and Mary Nicklsson Holden. He was graduated from Trinity college in Hartford, Connecticut where he was affiliated with Delta Psi fraternity.

Remains were at the Casterline Funeral home until 11 a.m. yesterday.

When the Dubuar building was sold to Ford Motor company, Mr. Van Atta moved his business to the old American Bell and Foundry plant on Park Place. Years later he sold his business to a Massachusetts company.

Mr. Van Atta served as a village councilman from 1920 to 1928. He was particularly interested in matters of finance for the community and also took an active part in the development and expansion of the village sewer and water system.

From 1934 until 1949 Mr. Van Atta served as postmaster for Northville. He was a past president of the Northville Exchange club and was the club's delegate to the Metropolitan Council of Exchange clubs for many years. He attended the First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Plymouth.

Mr. Van Atta also acted as the "clerk of course" at the Northville fair grounds track and was timer of races at the track since it became Northville Downs in 1942.

Mr. Van Atta was born in Salem township on May 21, 1875 the son of James A. and Jane Murray Van Atta. He is survived by his wife, Gertrude M., and two sons, Fred Foster of Orland, Pennsylvania, and Colonel Ward H. of Fort Belvoir, Tennessee.

Virginia, and one daughter, Mrs. Margaret Jane Howick of East Lansing.

He is also survived by two brothers, Roy of Center, Hill, Florida, and Homer of Detroit, and six grandchildren and one great grandchild.

Mr. Ted Hermans, Reader of the First Church of Christ, Scientist, of Plymouth officiated at funeral services. Interment was at Rural Hill cemetery. Pallbearers were C. Harold Bloom, Dr. H. G. Godfrey, Harry L. Wagenschutz, Orson Atchinson, A. Russell Clarke and Dr. Thomas N. Heship.

We Win Clean Town Honors Fourth Time

Northville was awarded an "honorable mention" certificate in the annual National Cleanest Town contest for its program conducted in 1961.

It marks the fourth straight year that Northville has won recognition since the local "Beautiful Northville" campaign was initiated four years ago.

In 1958-59 and 60 Northville topped all other cities of its population class by winning first place three consecutive years.

The 1961 campaign had to be content to win runner-up honors to Devine and Brazoria, Texas and Mitchell, Indiana.

The community-wide effort in Northville is sponsored by the Coordinating Council. Last year's general chairman was W. C. Becker.

During its four-year history the Beautiful Northville campaign has introduced a variety of ideas and long range programs for helping to improve the appearance and general attitude of the community towards tidiness of all properties — both private and public.

Highlights of the campaigns have been street cleaning, tree planting, purchase of public waste paper containers, weed removal, city-wide trash collection and improvement of signs leading to the entrances to the community.

Top award for the 1961 National Cleanest Town contest for open competition between cities of all sizes went to Memphis, Tennessee.

Detroit was the only other Michigan city to be honored, also winning an honorable mention certificate.

Judges of the 1961 Contest were W. Darlington Deitz, Assistant Commissioner, Bureau of Reclamation, U.S. Department of Interior; Rex Whitton, Federal Highway Administrator, U.S. Department of Commerce and George E. Morrison, Manager, Insurance and Economic Security Department, Chamber of Commerce of the United States.

OK NEW GRAVEL PIT PLAN

Hayes to Develop 90 - Acre Parcel

The Northville township board of appeals last week granted a six-year permit to Sheldon G. Hayes to remove sand and gravel from a 90-acre parcel for the purpose of developing the land for home sites.

Hayes' requests for rehabilitation of township gravel pit areas have been the source of bitter controversy in recent months.

In January he withdrew a request for a permit to operate a landfill at the 370 acre Manning and Locklin gravel pit area between Seven and Eight Mile roads when loud protests were registered by the public. The plan called for dumping of Detroit rubbish over a 12-year period with a stipulation that the area would be divided into building lots, lakes and recreation sites at the end of the period.

Hayes' latest request involves 90 acres on Seven Mile road, presently owned by Leon Bonner but reportedly under option to Hayes.

In this instance the request does not include filling, but rather sand and gravel removal to create lakes and develop the land — now marked by mounds from previous mining — for subdividing.

The appeals' board voted unanimously to grant the permit. Members of the board are Chairman Gunnar Stromberg, John Miller and Roy Terrill.

Specifically, Hayes will be given a permit for six years which must be renewed yearly. It allows his firm to level the terrain and remove sand and gravel. A $5,000 performance bond must be posted by Hayes. The permit will include safeguards for abutting property owners, and will stipulate that the proposed project would be a home development, not a golf course as earlier suggested.

The permit is currently being drawn by Township Attorney James Littell. In addition to the bond, Hayes must furnish proof that he (or his corporation) is owner of the property.

A public hearing on Hayes' plan for the 90-acre parcel was held at the township hall on January 23. About 25 persons attended the hearing and voiced criticism, particularly of the small performance bond and lack of details on the amount of gravel to be removed. Chairman Stromberg said this week that land levels and depth of the lakes will be stipulated in the permit.

Scout Building Plan Set

A committee to complete all details preparatory to final city council approval for a new recreation-scout building was named Monday night with Councilman Richard Ambler serving as general chairman.

The decision to move as swiftly as possible on the project was reached at a meeting of the city council, recreation committee and scout representatives.

A bi-level 45 by 32' feet building has been proposed to provide for activities of the recreation department as well as scout meetings. It will be constructed on city owned property on Cady street adjacent to the cemetery.

Monday night's organizational meeting had some difficulty in organization itself.

Confusion and difference of opinion arose over what steps should be taken next, how fast to proceed and who would be responsible for what.

Recreation and scout representatives expressed an eagerness to move ahead with the project as soon as possible.

Councilwoman Beatrice Carlson questioned the need or possibility of completing the building this summer.

Recreation Chairman R. D. Merriam emphasized the need for the facility when the summer recreation program gets underway to store equipment and serve as a headquarters for registration and issuance of equipment.

Ed Welch, recreation committee member, pointed out that the recreation committee had already compiled most of the details so far as planning of the facility was concerned and suggested that if further work remained, it should be handled by the same group rather than a new building committee.

The council had some words of caution for the committee.

Mayor A. M. Allen noted that the facility "should be kept within the needs" of the community. He pointed to the community building as an example of a facility that the city could not afford to maintain after it was constructed.

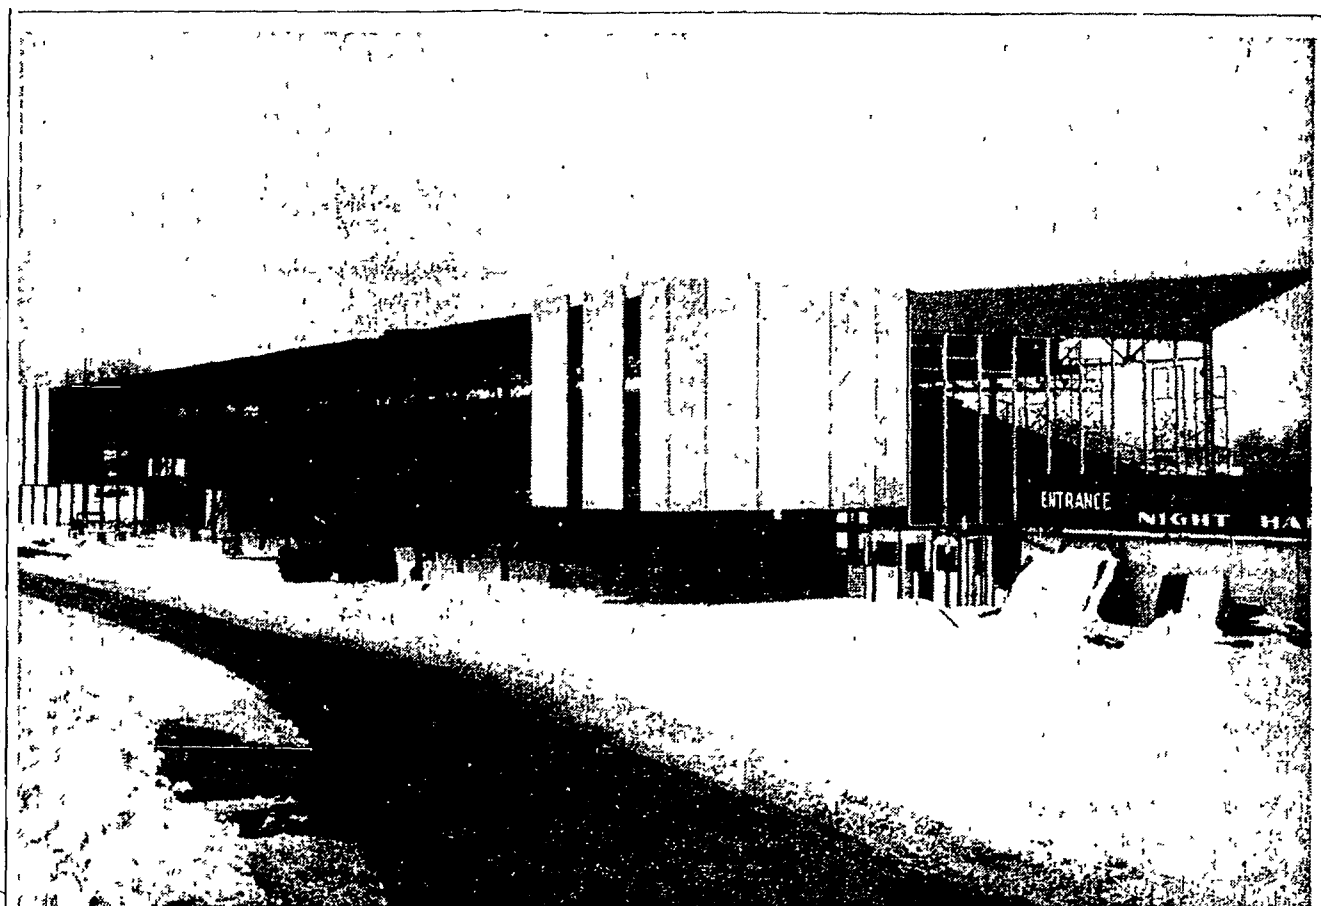

Recreation Director Ken Conley estimated cost of maintaining the proposed facility at $1,000 annually, a figure within the limits of the present budget.

Councilman John Canterbury expressed concern over the appearance of the building and also suggested that some investigation should be made of using the lower level of the building as a shelter, thereby gaining federal assistance in funds.

"I think the recreation building should tie in with the trend in motif of the community. I also feel it would be unwise to build less than adequate facilities just to save a few dollars," Canterbury added.

Before a decision to form the committee was made, Councilwoman Carlson suggested that one "citizen at large" representing neither the recreation, scouts or city should serve on the committee. She proposed Maxwell Austin.

Merriam then proposed that the council instruct City Engineer Harold Penn to draw floor plans and let the committee carry on from there. "The general committee can complete the details of arrangement and sub committees can study fi-

$800,000 PROJECT — What started out to be an addition to both ends of Northville Downs' grandstands has developed into an $800,000 project including a full-length addition. Originally Downs' Executive Manager John Carlo had planned 40-foot additions at both ends of the stands that would have extended 30 feet to the rear. But as workmen progressed it was decided to enclose the full length — some 320 feet. The all-new stands

(new reserved seats, steel and concrete foundation, plus judges and press box facilities were added last year) will provide 900 more seats for a seating capacity of 4200. The new main floor area will provide rest rooms and commissary, the second floor offices and money rooms and the third floor mezzanine new mutual windows. "The new stands will be the finest at any track in the metropolitan area," boasts Carlo.

'64 Grads Face New Standards

Graduation requirements are going up at Northville high school. Increases in both the number of credit units and the grade point average necessary for a diploma will take full effect with the class of 1964.

Beginning with the class of 1963 students will need 17 credits — an increase of one unit over previous years — for a diploma. Members of the class of 1964 will be required to have 18 units.

Seniors in 1964 will also have to show at least a 1.0 grade point average (D letter grade) in order to win their diplomas. Those with less than a 1.0 will be eligible only for a certificate of attendance. Up to now some graduated with less than a D average for their high school work.

The new requirements are part of a 7-point package recommended by High School Principal Fred Stefanski and approved by the board of education Monday night.

Also included in Stefanski's proposal were:

— Increase English requirements from three to four units, one of which may be speech;

— Social studies requirements to be raised from two-and-a-half to three units with U.S. history and American government required of all;

— Progress report by Director of Administrative Services E. V. Ellison on a revised salary schedule he is preparing for maintenance personnel;

— Approval of a year's leave of absence for study for Richard Rusche, high school biology teacher.

Plymouth State Hospital Opens 220 - Bed Unit

The Plymouth State Home and Training school this week is starting the process of admitting 220 patients to its new infirmary building.

The additions will bring the institution's population to 690 and will necessitate 105 staff additions, according to George Ebling, assistant superintendent of the state-run home for the mentally retarded.

Some 20 of the patients will come from within the institution and partly from the waiting list of about 1,500.

He explained that because the waiting list is divided among the six facilities in the state for mentally retarded patients, some of the new patients at Plymouth will be transfers to provide openings at the other institutions.

But since nearly two thirds of the waiting list comes from southeastern Michigan, Ebling said, most of the new admissions will be directly from the list.

The admission process can handle only about 50 new patients a month, Ebling added, so the new 220-bed facility will not be filled until the early part of June.

The $1,050,000 building is designed for non-ambulatory patients, Ebling said. It is similar in size to the 220-bed building opened last fall to take care of the population at the closed-down Farmington unit, he added, but it is divided into several smaller wards and rooms.

Although the first patients will be mostly children, he said, the new building's use will not be restricted to children. All the patients will be more or less bedridden, he added, because of some disability other than mental retardation.

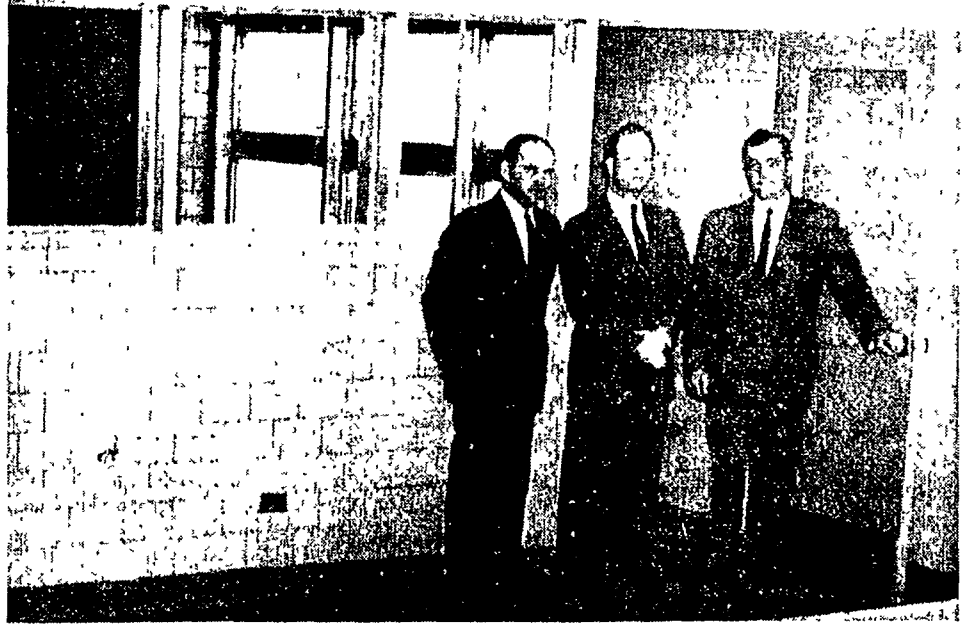

These will include a number of blind patients, Ebling said, but most will be suffering from some physical disability that makes it impossible for them to move around. The most common disability, he added, will probably be some orthopedic problem.

Besides its 12 bed wards and four day rooms, the new building features staff rooms, bathing facilities, storage space and a serving kitchen.

All food for both the building opened last fall and the infirmary is now prepared at the institution's hospital building across Sheldon road, north of Five Mile road. The serving kitchens are equipped only for storage of liquids and dry foods used for snacks.

The service building will have to be completed before any new housing can be considered, he said. Present plans call for the addition of buildings to house another 440 patients, Ebling said. But no plans can be started upon until the legislature appropriates more building funds.

The ultimate goal, he said, is to have bed space for some 2,500 patients. By that time, the hospital building east of Sheldon road will be emptied of the nursery patients now housed there, and will be used for its original purpose of a hospital for patients either temporarily ill with a communicable disease or in need of surgical treatment.

NEW BUILDING — Looking over one of the divided bed wards at the Plymouth State Home and Training school's new infirmary building are, left to right, Assistant Superintendent George Ebling, Superintendent Dr. Robert Jaslow and Business Executive Walter Kenzie. The new 220-bed facility will house non-ambulatory patients of the institution for the mentally retarded. Admissions were slated to start this week.

ENLISTS — Carol V. Hellwege, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Hellwege, 2377 Novi road, has enlisted in the Women's Army Corps for a three-year period, choosing the medical service as her career field.

Private Hellwege, a 1961 graduate of Northville high school, will receive specialized training in military medicine. She begins her initial training at Fort McClellan, Alabama, the Army's new multi-million dollar WAC training center. Upon completion of the 9-weeks' basic course, she will return for a brief leave before continuing her instruction.

News Around Northville

Tanned travelers returning to the chilly North after two weeks in the sunny South are Mr. and Mrs. Donald Ware, of 229 Hutton.

The Wares left here February 9 and came home Sunday. They vacationed with friends in Fort Lauderdale, Florida.

One day they took a side trip to Bal Harbour where they stopped at the home of another Northville couple, the Con Langhills.

Glenn Martin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank J. Martin of 45332 Boyne Drive, is one of nearly 400 cadets who recently enrolled for the second phase of the 1961-62 academic year at Kemper Military School. Kemper, now in its 118th year, is the oldest military school west of the Mississippi River and includes in its student body young men from 32 states and five foreign countries.

Mr. and Mrs. Ward Schultz, of 349 South Rogers, traveled to Petersburg, Michigan Saturday to attend the wedding of a former Northville resident, Judy Bretnier.

Also at the wedding from Northville were Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Mahk, of Seven Mile road.

A family dinner was hosted by the Orson Atchinsons, of Orchard drive, Sunday afternoon in honor of the Atchinsons' son, Rick, who left yesterday (Wednesday) for a tour of duty with the U.S. Army. He reports first to Fort Leonard Wood, Missouri.

Attending the dinner were grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Atchinson and son, Norman Atchinson and son, Kurt, and daughter, Jill, Plymouth; the Atchinsons' son, Roger, and a houseguest, Dave Jayes, from Western Michigan university, aunt, Mrs. Elmer Huston, Birmingham; Mrs. Ed Butler; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Cornaire and daughter, Kim, Detroit.

Mr. and Mrs. D. J. Stark, of Northville, hosted an "Astoria Breakfast" Tuesday, February 20 at their home in Rockledge, Florida.

Together with Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Rathburn and Mr. and Mrs. Harold McElroy they watched from their backyard the launching of Colonel John Glenn. They are staying a few miles from Cape Canaveral. With perfect weather conditions, the Starks said they had a fine view of the capsule as it headed down range.

February 13 was an occasion for celebration around the Jack

Ellis-Murray Vows Read In Florida College Chapel

Ruth Jeanne Ellis, daughter of Mrs. Sedic E. Ellis of New Brunswick, New Jersey, and the late Mr. Ellis, was married Saturday, February 24 to Robert M. Murray, son of Mrs. Harold M. Murray of Garden City, and the late Mr. Murray.

The ceremony was performed in the Chapel of the Venerable Bede, University of Miami, Coral Gables, Florida, with the Reverend H. Benton Ellis, Episcopal chaplain at the university, officiating.

Given in marriage by her brother, Clifford A. Ellis II, of New Brunswick, New Jersey, the bride wore a gown of white peau de soie and chantilly lace and a lace mantilla. She carried a white princess rose on a Bible.

Her cousin, Louisa Mitchell, of Metuchen, New Jersey, was maid of honor, gowning in pink organza and carrying a red princess rose. James H. Murray, of Northville, brother of the bridegroom, was his best man. Richard H. Prentiss, of South Miami, Florida, brother-in-law of the bride, was the usher.

The bride, a graduate of Piscataway township (New Jersey) high school, is attending the University of Miami and is employed by Southern Bell Telephone.

Professor to Appraise UN At Woman's Club Friday

An associate professor of political science at the University of Michigan who has authored two books on international problems will be the guest speaker tomorrow (Friday) when the Woman's Club convenes at 2 p.m. in the library.

In his talk, Inis L. Claude, Jr., plans to appraise "The United Nations — Past, Present, Future."

Professor Claude came to the U-M in 1957 on the heels of publication of his two books, "National Minorities: An International Problem," Harvard University Press, 1955; and "Swords into Plowshares: The Problems and Progress of International Organization," Random House, 1956.

A native of Yellville, Arkansas, he received an A.B. from Hendrix College in 1942, M.A. in 1947 and Ph.D. in 1949, both from Harvard University.

With the U.S. Army from 1942-46, he worked with the Veterans' administration during the summer of 1946 and from 1948-49 was a teaching fellow at Harvard, advancing to instructor in 1949. The following summer he was a visiting lecturer at the University of Arkansas and from 1951-56 was an assistant professor at Harvard. Prior to coming to Michigan he was an associate professor at the University of Delaware.

Professor Claude won a Chase prize at Harvard, Faculty Fellowship from the Fund for the Advancement of Education and in 1955 received honorable mention for the F.L. Beer prize of the American Historical Association. In 1957 he was awarded a grant by the Rockefeller foundation for research in the field of international relations during 1958 and 1959.

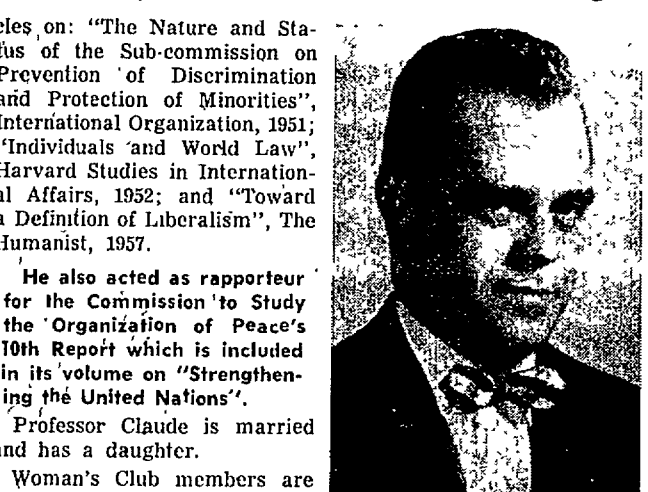

The professor is a member of the American Civil Liberties Union, American Political Science Association, American Society of International Law and the Commission to Study the Organization of Peace. For the latter organization he served on the Committee on Human Rights, Executive Committee and secretary of the Drafting Committee. He chaired the Drafting Committee for the 11th Report of the Commission to Study the Organization of Peace during 1958-59.

In addition to his books, Professor Claude has written articles on: "The Nature and Status of the Sub-commission on Prevention of Discrimination and Protection of Minorities," International Organization, 1951; "Individuals and World Law," Harvard Studies in International Affairs, 1952; and "Toward a Definition of Liberalism," The Humanist, 1957.

He also acted as rapporteur for the Commission to Study the Organization of Peace's 10th Report which is included in its volume on "Strengthening the United Nations."

Professor Claude is married and has a daughter.

Woman's Club members are invited to bring guests to tomorrow's meeting.

Another bud on the Greater Detroit area's prospering cultural tree bursts into full bloom the week of May 21-26 with the arrival of the Metropolitan Opera company under the direction of Rudolph Bing.

While the Met's week-long visit is still almost a full three months away, enthusiasm has been waxing among opera buffs since announcement of this year's program selections.

FIVE OPERAS not previously presented here by the company are being offered. They are: Donizetti's "Lucia di Lammermoor" on opening night May 21, Strauss' "Salome" May 22, Verdi's "La Forza del Destino" May 25, Mozart's "Così fan tutte" May 26 matinee and Puccini's "Tosca" May 26 night.

Two productions are being repeated by popular demand. Verdi's "Aida," sold out last spring within the first three weeks of mail order sale, will be staged May 24. Puccini's "Madame Butterfly" is slated for repeat May 23.

Frank W. Donovan, president of the Detroit Grand Opera Association, Inc., sent us a bulletin this week announcing public sale of tickets, but he was half a jump behind one of Northville's own opera fans.

Mrs. Ernest J. Shave, 40300 Fairway III drive, is one of a long list of women throughout the environs of Metropolitan Detroit promoting ticket sales.

She is one link in a massive structure of committees headed by Mrs. George Romney.

All the women work in cooperation with the Detroit Grand Opera association which is responsible for bringing the Met to Detroit.

MRS. SHAVE has mail order forms for tickets as well as other information about this year's exciting repertory. She can be reached after 5 p.m. weekdays at FI 9-0606.

Mail order applications will be accepted beginning Monday, March 5 at the office of the Detroit Grand Opera association, located in Ford auditorium, Detroit 26. Prices for all performances except opening night will range from $12.50 to $45.00. There will be a surcharge on opening night tickets since that performance is a benefit in conjunction with the Detroit Symphony orchestra.

The opening night curtain will go up at 8:30 p.m. All other evening performances are scheduled to start at 8. The matinee will get under way at 1:30 p.m.

Public window sale at Ford auditorium box office will open Monday, April 2.

Another star-studded cast heads this year's opera bill. Singing the title role of "Lucia" opening night will be Anna Moffo, with Eugenio Fernandi, Mario Sereni and Bonaldo Giaiotti in supporting roles.

Two Metropolitan singers, Brenda Lewis and Blanche Thebom, come to Detroit for the first time in "Salome." Also in the cast are Karl Liebh, John Alexander, Walter Cassel and William Wilderman.

LEONTYNE PRICE takes the lead in the two Puccini operas, "Madame Butterfly" and "Tosca." Rosalind Elias, William Olvis, Clifford Harvot and Paul Franke make up the supporting cast.

Berry Morrell and Anselmo Colzani join Miss Price in "Tosca."

Principals in other operas include: Margherita Roberti, Irene Dalis, Carlo Bergonzi, Lorenzo Testi and Ezio Flagello, "Aida"; Eileen Farrell, Richard Tucker, Robert Merrill, Jerome Hines and Gerhard Pechner, "Forza"; George Shirley, Phyllis Curtin, Roberta Peters, Rosalind Elias, Theodor Uppman and Frank Guarrera.

NANCEE SLATTERY, 14-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William R. Slattery, of 46812 Dunsany road, won a first place non-fiction award from American Girl magazine for her story, "The Decision at the Crossroads."

The story appeared in the "By You" department of the magazine's February issue.

ECHO VALLEY is the new home of Courtney and Helen Pillard and their two-year-old son, Daniel. The family returned to Michigan when Pillard accepted a job as production control project engineer with Bryant Computer in Walled Lake.

Move Up Luncheon

Northville's Mizpah Circle of King's Daughters has revised the date of its annual "Spring Spread" to avoid conflict with the Town Hall series' Bennett Cerf program.

The "Spring Spread" has been moved ahead to Tuesday, March 6 when it will be held at 12:30 at the home of Mrs. Harold Bloom, 710 West Main. Members are asked to bring a passing dish together with their own dishes.

Mrs. Mark Gardner, camp chairman, reminds the membership to bring gifts of towels, pot holders and other items to be used at Missaukee camp. White materials for cancer pads are needed as are more used Christmas cards.

A regular business meeting is slated April 3.

The circle learned recently that one of its members, Mrs. Ruth D. Starkweather, has been appointed to a four-year term on the Executive board of the King's Daughters and Sons home in Detroit. A similar post was held by Mrs. Izetta Cavell.

Schmidts to Make Home in Plymouth

The marriage of Sandra Gene Harris, daughter of Mrs. Warren R. Harris, of Plymouth, and the late Mr. Harris, to William Graydon Schmidt is announced by the bride's mother.

Nuptial vows were exchanged Sunday, February 18 at the First Presbyterian Church of Plymouth. Officiating at the ceremony was the Reverend Henry Walch.

The new Mrs. Schmidt, a 1960 graduate of Northville high school, is employed at Plymouth office of the National Bank of Detroit. Her husband, the son of the William A. Schmidts, of Blunk street, Plymouth, is a senior at General Motors institute in Flint.

Attending the couple were Stephanie Brown, of Northville, and Jan Johnson, of Ithaca. The newlyweds plan to make their home in Plymouth.

A change of jobs returned their home at 23963 Lynwood January 27. Before their sojourn in Galion the newcomers lived in Clawson.

When Pillard took his present assignment with Bryant Computer, a division of Ex-Cell-O corporation based in Walled Lake, the couple bundled up their two-year-old son, Daniel, and headed north.

Looking for a countrified neighborhood handy to Pillard's work, they settled on Echo Valley and set up housekeeping in Both Pillard and his wife grew up in Detroit. He is a mechanical engineering graduate of Lawrence Institute of Technology.

In the line of recreation, Pillard likes to wile away non-work hours hunting or fishing. He and his wife bowl and although they haven't been on the slopes the past few winters, both enjoy skiing.

Women Here to Promote YWCA Membership Drive

With the slogan, "The YW displays of travel posters and model planes. Airline stewardesses will attend campaign report meetings to call in "flights" (workers' reports). Seven YWCA branches serve the tri-county area.

The 30,000-member organization has recruited 1,500 workers to seek memberships in Wayne, Oakland and Macomb county communities served by the YWCA's seven branches, stated Mrs. Fernand Miller, metropolitan campaign coordinator.

Northville women working on the campaign are: Mrs. Paul Terry, 825 Carpenter; Mrs. William Weidner, 627 Fairbrook; and Mrs. George Hanley, 20800 Chigwidden. Life memberships in the organization are $100, contributing memberships range from $5 to $99 and participating memberships for adults are $250 and for girls under 17, $1.

Through the cooperation of American Airlines, each YWCA building is carrying out the theme of the jet-age drive with

Former Resident Honored For Long State Service

Gordon W. Moffitt, a former Northville resident and now assistant district supervisor, of the field administration division of the Conservation Department, is one of 89 employees being honored this week for 25 years of service. Awards cover the years 1939, 1960, and 1961, and employees receiving them work in all parts of the state.

Moffitt was born in Lenawee County and attended school in Northville. Previous to joining the department he was a violinist with Jean Goldkette Orchestra in Detroit, and worked for the Ford Motor Company in the Northville plant. He joined the department as a conservation officer in August, 1937, and worked in Wayne, Macomb and Huron counties for eight years. In 1945 he was promoted to his present position as assistant district supervisor of District 12 which is made up of ten counties extending from the tip of the thumb to the state line.

His experience in this, the most active district of the state, has been a big asset in the indoctrination of younger officers and the general conservation program of the Department.

He is a thirty-second degree Mason and a member of the Bay City Scottish Rite Bodies. For relaxation he can be found in the bowling alley during the winter and on the golf course during the summer.

His family includes two daughters, Mrs. Joanne Williams, 20 East Boulevard, North, Pontiac; Shelley Ann and a son, Steven Frederick at home. Moffitt has five grandchildren. The Moffitts now reside in Imlay City.

Colts Lose Eleventh Tilt

Northville junior varsity Colts slid back into a familiar loss pattern against Holly last week after having swept past Clarenceneville the week before to their second win of the season. Both victories have been over Clarenceneville.

The Colts lagged behind in the opening stanza, allowing the Jay-Vee Redskins to outscore them three to one, and then rallied in the second quarter to match point for point their Holy counterparts.

A third quarter slump put the Colts farther behind as they piled in only five points while Holly netted 16. A fourth quarter surge of 16 points could not overcome Holly's strong lead, and the Redskins went home with a 49-36 victory.

The effects of hospitalization on the pre-school child were discussed by Dr. Robert L. Jaslow, Superintendent of the Plymouth State Home, and Training School, before a conference sponsored by the Maternal and Child Health Council of the Michigan League for Nursing. Speaking on the subject "The Emotional Needs of the Hospitalized Child," Dr. Jaslow pointed out the greater understanding of the effects of separation of the child from the home has led to improvement in hospital care which tend to minimize problems resulting from hospitalization.

Permitting the child to bring his favorite toy to the hospital, his own pajamas, liberalization of visiting hours, and allowing parents to feed and take part in caring for their child while in the hospital all make the child's adjustment easier.

The conference was held at the St. Lawrence School of Nursing, Lansing.

Defends Ambinder

To the Editor:
I feel compelled to write this letter in defense of Walter Ambinder, president of the Novi teachers, the parents and the school board, who was presented with a petition requesting his resignation at the last school board meeting. Dr. Ambinder was the only member of the board to cast a dissenting vote on the religious policy.

One of the charges in the petition was to the effect that Ambinder's views on the policy of religion in the schools, I think it is only fair to point out that conditions have greatly improved in this system in the past year, and I feel certain that much of this improvement has been due to his conscientious efforts.

It is the opinion of many of us in Novi that some of the people whose names appeared on this petition have conducted themselves in such an immature manner at these school board meetings as to be considered "primarily responsible for the current unrest that prevails among the teachers, the parents and the children".

The religious policy has been accepted. It's time to grow up and act like adults and not allow personalities to become the major issue. The best school standards for our children should be the major issue.

Mustangs Stumble, Go on to Win

Northville's Wayne - Oakland league champion Mustangs last week moved to within one game of a perfect cage season with a tough 53-39 defeat of the Holly Redskins.

A win at Milford this Friday would give the local squad a perfect record, and leave them the only school in Michigan to go undefeated in both football and basketball.

The Mustangs clinched the W-O championship two weeks ago with an 84-48 defeat of Clarenceville that earned them a 13-0 record, putting them out of reach of their nearest league competition.

Friday night the Mustangs opened their final home game of the season by grabbing off and holding a quick lead over Holly during the first quarter.

Forward Tom Swiss, who was later forced from the game with an injury, opened scoring for the Northville quintet with a free throw. Moments later, Holly moved out ahead with a field goal, but the Mustangs quickly pulled away and were leading 10-5 by mid-way through the period.

Northville's man-to-man defense, employed throughout the game, generally kept the Redskins to the outside of the court during the first period, as the Mustangs piled up a strong lead.

The Mustangs lead 18-9 with just under two minutes left in the quarter, but long shots enabled the Holly five to move to within three points of Northville by the end of the period.

With a minute and a half gone in the second quarter, the Redskins passed by Northville and began working up to a 29-22 half-time lead.

Loss of backboard control and a high number of fouls contributed most to the Mustangs' four-point quarter. Swiss and guard Steve Juday and Craig Bell all had two or three fouls by the end of the half.

With the forwards slacking off on rebounding in order to guard their opponents more closely, the Mustangs lost the backboard control that normally enables them to dominate a game.

And Holly's use of the stall technique to draw the Mustangs into fouls kept scoring at a minimum during the second quarter, and prevented Northville from controlling the ball.

Northville's Jim Juday and Holly's Jim Ray were removed from the game when they started fighting after both fell to the floor while Juday was attempting to break Holly's stall by stealing the ball.

Coming onto the floor with-out a half-time advantage was a new experience for the Mustangs. But they quickly employed a tightened defense and improved rebounding to break Holly's stall and regain control of the ball.

Mid-way through the period the Northville club reversed the trend as they moved ahead 33-32. With aggressive defensive work keeping the Redskins off balance, the Mustangs opened a lead that kept growing till game's end.

Starting the final period with a five-point advantage, the local cagers quickly added another five points to their lead. Then, with four minutes left in the game, Swiss and Bell collided as they dove for a loose ball.

Swiss was out for the rest of the game with a severe scalp cut, while Bell was sidelined for several minutes until a cut over his right eye could be bandaged. Both were later reported all right, and ready to play in next Friday's game.

A brief attempt to use a zone press was quickly abandoned by Holly for the more conventional full court man-to-man press after Northville moved easily past the zone to score twice.

Mustang Coach Dave Longridge said after the game that it had been a clear example of the importance of rebounding. "We had practically no backboard control during that second quarter," he pointed out, "and Holly was able to control the ball most of the time."

"But when we improved rebounding in the third quarter, Holly saw they couldn't be so sure of getting the ball after a missed shot so they quit stalling away the game."

"The stall was effective, in that it bothered us into making fouls," Longridge admitted. He pointed out that most of Northville's first-half fouls were committed in the second quarter.

Longridge said he's looking forward to a tough game from Milford on Friday. He explained that Milford will "be gunning for our record" because Northville broke a long Milford winning streak several years ago. "Sometimes something like the 'revenge' aspect of a game can make an otherwise weaker team perform exceptionally well," he said.

UP IN THE AIR about Northville's win over Holly last week is Mustang center Dan Brown (32) as he 'shows how it's done'. Brown is leading Northville scorers with 248 points so far this season.

WEARING THE BADGE of effort is Northville Mustang Craig Bell (at the free throw line) as he watches his successful foul shot drop through the netting in the closing minutes of last Friday's win over Holly. Redford Union Falls To Local Wrestlers Northville Mustang wrestlers last week insured they would have at least a 500 standing by the end of their 16-meet season by downing Redford Union 24-23 for their eighth win of the year.

With only Tuesday night's match to go, the grapplers could have hit above the 50 percent mark with nine wins and seven losses in dual meet competition. (see story below)

The one-point margin over Redford Union seems to be an uncomfortable habit of the Mustangs, points out Coach Jack Kreiner. They beat Redford by one point last January, Mustangs 95-pound Mike Brangings' before both matches were completed.

The matmaster is still happy with the outcomes of both matches.

The improvement is exemplified, Kreiner added, by the fact that Mustangs who won their matches completely dominated their opponents, while those who lost put up strong battles first.

Winning by pinning their opponents were 112-pound Doug Nichols and 180-pound Dave Clark. Taking decisions were Mustangs 95-pound Mike Brangings, 127-pound Ron Rebitzke, 138-pound Dick Price and 165-pound Joe Hay. Heavyweight Larry Spangler battled his opponent to a draw.

Mustang Wrestlers Drop Final Matches of Season

The wrestling Mustangs lost their final meet Tuesday night in a miserable 34-6 defeat by Romulus to end their season with eight wins and eight losses.

Only two of the local mat squad were able to defeat their opponents, and then only by decision wins. They were 127-pound Ron Rebitzke and 165-pound Joe Hay.

Wrestling Coach Jack Kreiner said the Northville club went into their final matches "with a defeatist attitude, which just couldn't do them any good."

He pointed out, though, that only one Mustang was pinned, and he was wrestling several weight classes above his normal weight.

LET'S TALK CARS...

THE EDUCATED PUBLIC

The first thing that impresses European car marketing authorities about North American car buyers is how expert they are at price buying.

Well, the public can't take all the credit. They must thank the car dealers themselves, who really taught them. They taught them so well that for the last four years bankruptcies among auto dealers have exceeded all other businesses and the average profit on sales is less than one percent.

One thing has never changed, however, in all the years of car selling, the dealer must make a profit to stay in business. How he makes it is the only thing that has changed.

Until a few years ago it was common practice among dealers fighting to survive cutthroat price competition to balance over-allowance offers on used cars by "padding" the price of the new one.

When padding ceased to be fashionable due to legal and other reasons, new gimmicks flourished among so-called volume dealers. They all added up to this: keep prices down to attract price buyers but deliver less to keep profits up.

Ethical dealers met the competition by reducing overhead and concentrating on service. They still are. Volume operators substituted heavy advertising, ruthless selling and cheaper substitutions in radios, heaters and tires. Pre-and-after delivery service was virtually eliminated. In this way, up to $200 can be shaved off the dealer's cost of a car.

The educated public are NOT experts on value. If you wish to make the best deal you can, THEN COMPARE THE FEATURES OF THE CAR ITSELF. THE ACTUAL SERVICE RENDERED AND THE DEALER'S REPUTATION FOR KEEPING HIS PROMISES. That's the only way to buy at the lowest possible net price!

YEAR'S LEAVE — Richard Rusche, Northville high school biology teacher, has been selected by the National Science Foundation for an academic year at the University of Michigan. Under the plan Rusche will become a full-time student at U-M next fall with the foundation picking up the tab for tuition, books, salary and expenses. It is designed to improve the quality of high school science teaching and will additionally help Rusche by permitting him to complete requirements for a master's degree and get his beyond that degree. A graduate of Eastern Michigan university, he is one of 45 high school science teachers chosen in the nation. The board of education granted him a year's leave of absence Monday night.

Ask Parents to Preview Films for Sex Education

All parents are invited to attend a special showing tonight (Thursday) at 8 p.m. in the community building of sex education films which the Parent-Teacher association board has screened and selected for showing to Northville school children.

Three of the four films are to be shown to students in grades four through eight sometime this spring. "The Meaning of Adolescence" is being screened tonight especially for the parents.

In announcing its plans to show the films to school children, the P-TA said it had undertaken the project in light of requests from a number of parents who have suggested that such basic information be presented to the students. It is believed that the movies will allow for subsequent discussions between the parents and their children.

Because of the nature of the films, P-TA officials said they thought it advisable for parents to have an opportunity to preview them.

The pictures which will be shown are: "As Boys Grow" (for 7-8 grade boys), "Human Growth" (for 7-8 grade girls), and a Walt Disney film explaining changes from girlhood to womanhood for girls in grades four to six.

Before any child may see the film planned for his or her grade, it will be necessary for the child to return to the school a permission slip signed by the parent.

A medical person will be at each school showing to answer any questions that might arise, the P-TA pointed out.

DAR Names Good Citizen

Grace Brinson, Northville high school senior and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Brinson, of 50991 Seven Mile road, has been named local winner of the Good Citizenship award given by Sarah Ann Cochrane chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution.

Miss Brinson together with other Good Citizenship award winners and their mothers were entertained Monday, February 19 at a tea in the home of Mrs. Henry Baker. Awards were made at the tea.

Good Citizenship citations go each year to outstanding senior girls attending accredited public high schools in the area. The senior class at each of the schools selects three candidates. The faculty then judges which of the three best exemplifies the qualities of dependability, service, leadership and patriotism. This girl becomes the school's Good Citizen.

Sentence Speeder, Reckless Driver

Convicted on counts of reckless driving and failure to have an operator's license, Jerry Weaver, of Walled Lake, was sentenced to 32 days in the Detroit House of Correction last Thursday by Northville Justice Charles McDonald.

Weaver, whose charges grew out of an accident in which he was involved February 18, was unable to pay total fines of $55 and $30 cost.

The mishap occurred on the Novi road curve near Eight Mile road. Coming into the curve at a high rate of speed, Weaver forced a car driven by Warren Henderson, of Wixom, off the road. Henderson's car rolled over. Police said Weaver lost control of his vehicle on a patch of ice.

In other court action, Justice McDonald fined Roger Lee Redmond, of 45601 West Nine Mile, Novi, $30 for traveling 45 miles per hour in a 25 mile zone on West Dunlap. He was fined an additional $5 for an improper license plate and ordered to appear in court again today for failure to have a valid Michigan operator's license.

Colorful Colorado On Travel Series

Travel talk ticket holders will visit "Colorful Colorado" next Tuesday evening when Stan Midgley presents the fifth in the Northville Rotary club sponsored series of travelogues. The color films are shown in the Northville high school auditorium and begin at 8 p.m.

Midgley graduated as a chemist from Princeton during the depression. Two of his best years came next. Then he found a job. Thereafter his new colleagues began to call him "that crazy chemist." Not for his prowess with test tube, but because he rode his bicycle to work — 48 miles every day.

Always striving to make his work more interesting, Midgley kept a list of everything good or bad about his job. After eight years he had eight "goods." Eight vacations. Obviously he was a square head in a round hole. Quitting chemistry, he went into vacations full time. His Opus One, a movie about a bicycle trip in Utah won the $1,000 first prize in a nation-wide contest. He was on his way. In the following years eight chucklelogues have established him as "The Mark Twain of the Camera."

"Colorado — Today and Yesterday" takes the audience to Colorado as it is today and was yesterday, to visit its great scenic attractions and activities. Denver, Pikes Peak, the Royal Gorge, Estes Park, and Rocky Mountain National Park, are all high points. The ascent of Longs Peak is a noteworthy achievement.

Also on the tour will be the Mt. of the Holy Cross, the Black Canyon of the Gunnison, Mesa Verde, and a bicycle trip through the San Juan Mountains.

A nostalgic look into Colorado's colorful past will transport the audience to ghost towns with their fascinating history. Rotary's concluding travelogue is scheduled for April 3 and features Robert Davis and a visit to "Sicily — Island of the Sun".

nance, architectural design and building policy, he suggested. Merriam proposed that a smaller committee, perhaps three members, could then be designated as the "building committee".

Before the meeting closed Harley Cole, a Northville contractor, stated that he felt that the building should be constructed by a local contractor. "It's a city project and materials should be bought here", he stated. Cole said there were only two licensed contractors in the city of Northville.

He added that he believed that architects would slow down progress of the building and only add to the cost. "It's only a 60 or 90-day job," Cole stated.

Cole was particularly critical of an offer of a contribution from another contractor because it appeared that this indicated he would be given the building job. The council assured Cole that the job would be advertised for bids and that a fair opportunity would be given all contractors.

It was concluded that as soon as the recreation-scout committee completes its plans for the building their recommendations will be brought to the council for approval and construction.

Men's Club to Hear Civil War Expert

"Michigan in the Civil War" will be the topic which Philip P. Mason will discuss before members of the Presbyterian Men's club at their next meeting, Thursday, March 8.

Dr. Mason's original research on Michigan's part in the civil war was released by the Associated Press for publication in many newspapers, including the Detroit News last year.

Dr. Mason received his B.A. degree from Boston University, and his M.A. and Ph.D. degrees in history from the University of Michigan. Upon graduation from the University of Michigan, Dr. Mason served for several years as Archivist of the Michigan State Historical Commission. This period of service provided him the opportunity to gain special knowledge resulting from research work in the field of Michigan history.

Dr. Mason is currently the Director of Archives at Wayne State university where he serves as a professor of history. He is a member of the Algonquin Club, the Detroit Historical Society and at present is serving as vice president of the Michigan State Historical Society.

Dinner will be served at 6:30 p.m. Members are asked to make phone reservations.

THE BIGGEST THIEF IN TOWN — Plymouth Theatre Guild's second production of the season, "The Biggest Thief in Town", is getting some able assistance from three Northville persons who have been cast in supporting roles. Bill Mandt and Racena Bailey, left, are a romantic duo in the play and Pat Dorrian, right, will don white to portray a nurse. The satire opens tonight at 8:15 in the Plymouth high school auditorium.

Unveil 'Biggest Thief' Tonight

Plymouth Theatre Guild players this week have been experiencing that final flurry of activity signaling the wrap of rehearsals before an opening night performance.

They've been giving it their all — polishing lines, brushing up on cues — getting ready for the first curtain of "The Biggest Thief in Town" tonight (Thursday) at 8:15 on the stage of the Plymouth high school auditorium.

An engaging, mirth-provoking satire, the play is scheduled to run through Saturday. Performances on Friday and Saturday will also begin at 8:15 p.m. Directed by Bob Lucchetti and produced by Barbara Elliott, "The Biggest Thief in Town" has Joe Dalesandry, Iván Griswold and Dave Dahline cast in lead roles.

Three Northville figures have supporting parts. Patricia Dorrian, Northville high school freshman English teacher and co-sponsor of the Forensic club, appears as the timid nurse. Racena Bailey, of Bailey's Dance studio, and Bill Mandt, Northville junior high school art teacher provide the romantic interest.

Also in minor roles are Sam Wilkins, Matt Fortney, and Merlin Heft.

"Biggest Thief" is a gentle spoof of several small-town businessmen in quest of fame and fortune. Its principals — the undertaker, doctor, newspaperman and druggist — plot against the richest man in town who languishes in isolated luxury on his "Mount Miracle."

Tickets are priced $1.50 for adults and 75 cents for students. They may be purchased from guild players or at Melody House, 770 Penniman avenue, Plymouth.

It Could Happen: Mustangs Vs. Lions In District Tilts

Plenty of thrills, cheers and basketball are in the offing as four high school quintets prepare to blast off Tuesday in the District tournament at Milford.

The annual district competition will feature three members of the Wayne-Oakland league and one independent: Brighton, Milford, Northville and South Lyon.

Always a favorite of local area fans, the district tournament is the launching pad to regional competition at Pontiac and possibly an orbital flight to the state basketball tournament at East Lansing later this month.

As zero hour approaches, the coaches of these four district teams are working feverishly to stoke their squads with plenty of victory fuel. All are cautiously optimistic, however, advancing predictions riddled with the proverbial "ifs". Nevertheless, one thing is sure: All four coaches and their hardwork astronauts are aiming high.

Locally, the pre-flight spotlight shines on two of these teams: The Northville Mustangs, who kicked up an undefeated championship (to date) this season, and the South Lyon Lions, who are still roaring despite wounds of defeat.

Dave Longridge, who took over the reigns of the Mustangs this season, believes his team has "as good a chance as any in the district".

The Northville coach admits that his biggest problem will be "guarding against over-confidence. We beat one of those teams twice (Brighton) ... beating a team three times in one season is plenty tough."

Although Longridge believes all three opponents pose some problems for the Mustangs, he points to South Lyon as the major obstacle. "That's because we haven't played them ... I scouted them twice, but if you haven't played a team there's always a question."

"It's hard to say about them (South Lyon) ... they run and shoot. We'll have to slow 'em up. We like to make a team play our game."

Bob Meeth, who piloted the Lions to a district crown two years ago, predicts Northville will be the favorite to win this year. But, adds Meeth quickly, "they can be stopped. A good strong defense and some tough rebounding could do it."

"If we can get hot in the tournament we'll certainly have a chance to beat any of the teams. Of course, we're looking for a chance to play the Northville club."

Meeth watched the Mustangs bounce back from the short end of a first-half score Friday to crush Holly.

Despite his team's losing record this past season, Meeth expresses confidence in his players. "I thought we had a fairly good season from the standpoint of the clubs we played. We lost several of our games by only a few points. If we can get up for the tournament, we'll have a good chance to win."

In last year's district tourney South Lyon, one of the favorites, came up cold against a red-hot Northville club which upset the Lions, 93-82. A good share of that Northville team will be in action again this year, while South Lyon will have but a few repeaters.

Following the win over South Lyon last year, the Mustangs swept past Milford to claim their first district crown since 1953. In the regional tournament, however, a perpetual-motion River Rouge five crushed Northville in the opening round, 81-59.

Unless the coaches spring some surprises — and usually there are many district surprises — fans will see the four teams play this way:

Northville — Control ball, with emphasis on defense.

South Lyon — Man to man defense, occasional switch to zone, and fast break.

Brighton — Fast break, with zone defense and perhaps a zone press.

Milford — Fast break, with a zone defense.

Price, spice and everything nice!

Who ever thought a car that saves like this could have so much sizzle? Chevrolet engineers, that's who! Liveliness and luxury for a low, low price were exactly what they had in mind to begin with. And they began from scratch with a whole carload of ingenious new ideas designed to give you more for your money. That spunky 6 with gas-sipping stinginess is just one example. Another: a new unitized Body by Fisher that's fit for a full-size family inside, easy to park outside. Still another: tough but gentle one-piece Mono-Plate rear springs that outdo many a bigger car for quiet comfort. Any wonder Chevy II won Car Life magazine's 1962 Engineering Excellence award hands down? (The wonder would be if you settled for anything less—once you get your hands on one at your Chevrolet dealer's!)

List "Possibles" In Regional Play

If either Northville or South Lyon cagers win the district tournament at Milford next week, they will then advance to regional play, which is to be held at Pontiac Northern high school the following week.

All told, five district tournaments will be feeding teams to the Pontiac regional. The five will be held at Fenton, Clarkston, Pontiac Central, Port Huron and Milford.

Favored at the Fenton tourney is Fenton, with a 12-2 record. Given a fair chance, though, Wayne-Oakland league Holly could take home the honors. Also playing at Fenton are Grand Blanc and Howell.

From the Clarkston tournament, the "experts" select either Clarkston or Romeo. These two will be playing against Oxford, Lake Orion and Avondale.

The Pontiac Central contests are seen as a toss-up between West Bloomfield and Clawson. Both were among leaders in their respective leagues. Others who will see district action there include Clarenceville, Royal Oak Shrine, Lutheran West and Orchard Lake St. Mary's.

Top choice at the Port Huron districts is Crosswell-Lexington, which has lost only one game this season. Another strong contender, though, is Marysville, which was runner-up in the same league. Other Port Huron teams are Yale, St. Stevens and St. Clair.

Both Northville Coach Dave Longridge and South Lyon Coach Bob Meeth voice happiness at the switch from Willow Run to Pontiac for their regionals.

South Lyon took the district two years ago, while Northville won last year. But both teams faded to the stronger competition at Willow Run. The switch to Pontiac means to both coaches that they may have a better opportunity to take their teams to state quarter final contests.

The local districts have gone to Pontiac in past years. Northville's last regional play at Pontiac was in 1953, when the Mustangs lost out to Utica. They had taken the Class "B" district at Walled Lake that year.

Before that, the Mustangs won a number of district tourneys, but went on to defeat at regional play-offs. As a class "C" school, Northville took district tournaments at Ypsilanti in 1936, 1937 and 1948. Their only Class "B" district victor-

Value to all mankind of the healing ministry of the Master will be stressed at Christian Science church services Sunday, in a Lesson-Sermon on the subject "Christ Jesus."
Luke's account of the healing by Christ Jesus of the man with the dropsy will be included in the Bible selections.
From "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy this citation will be read (p. 180): "When man is governed by God, the ever-present Mind who understands all things, man knows that with God all things are possible. The only way to this living Truth, which heals the sick, is found in the Science of divine Mind as taught and demonstrated by Christ Jesus."
The Golden Text is from Colossians (2) "As ye have therefore received Christ Jesus the Lord, so walk ye in him rooted and built up in him, and stabilized in the faith, as ye have been taught, abounding therein with thanksgiving."

OUT OF THE DEPTHS

A few years ago a man with a love for diving attempted to make a new record off the coast of Florida.
At 306 feet he topped the record. He went farther, 350 feet, then 400 feet. Here he hesitated and the crew on the surface craft thought that he was coming up, but he began to descend again.
Below 550 feet he set a record, but he lost his life.

Some thought he lost his sense of direction in the blackness of the water. Others thought he was fatally lured by the "rapture of the depths," that he was drawn,
as though by a magnet, beyond the point of safe return.

Dr. Roberts says of this illustration, "It is a kind of symbol of that larger tragedy in which, lured on by the captivation of sin, and insensible to the faint pun-pricks of conscience, men lose themselves forever in the darkness of sin's night."

There have been times in recent years when humanity has cried out with the psalmist (130:1), "Out of the depths have I cried unto Thee, O Lord... hear my voice." The life of the world is either descending or ascending. For the soul, there is either descend or ascent.

Every American has been stirred by the flight of John Glenn aboard the Friendship
VII on February 20. I am proud that he is a Christian and a man of faith. It is good that we should have heroes who have commendable character. This is not always so in America. Our spirits soared with him. We felt lifted up. The divine within us draws us to the heights. In this there is hope.

Science will open new vistas, but only religion will give direction to basic moral decisions which have to do with life or death.

Large religious forces
eventually depend on units, people. As souls go, so goes the world. Are you lured in a descent, or are you inspired to an ascent that reaches to the stars?

SPEAKING for the Record

by Bill Sliger

Chances that the 144 delegates to Michigan's Constitutional Convention will complete their job by March 31 seem very slim.

This date has become important since the state attorney general rendered an informal opinion as to the deadline for placing the document on the November ballot.

Members of the Northville Rotary club heard Bud Kirvan, director of public information for the convention, discuss this and other Con-Con matters at their regular meeting last week. (The Michigan Mirror column on this page also points out issues in the race to the deadline).

Kirvan's remarks were particularly interesting to me. In earlier newspapering days we worked together, but Bud got smart and joined the public relations corps. He's on leave from regular duties to cover the activities of Con-Con for all media, and doing an excellent job.

It's difficult to believe, but Bud says the Con-Con delegates work just as hard as weekly newspaper editors.

He expressed the highest regard for their sincerity and effort and held the opinion that it would be a mistake to rush through the important concluding days of the session simply to meet a tentative.

Kirvan pointed out that some delegates are not ready to accept the attorney general's opinion and hold that another four to six weeks would still be time enough to take the constitution to the voters in November.

There is a feeling among delegates, Kirvan added, that it would be unwise to delay a vote until April, 1963. Much of the enthusiasm and freshness of facts could be lost by that time, they reason. Presumably, an effort will be made to continue the convention and still hold a November election.

Kirvan covered the general format of the convention noting that the entire membership is divided into nine committees each charged with a particular section of the constitution. "They read the old constitution word by word and decide what can be deleted and where additions are necessary," he stated. The average working day for a delegate may be between 12 to 14 hours with their time divided between committee meetings and floor discussion. Their ages range from 25 to 77.

Here's a pleasant thought for those of us who are tired of ice and snow.

From Bimini in the Bahamas comes word that C. E. Langfield, owner of Northville Laboratories, landed a 14-pound, 3-ounce bonefish with spinning tackle and 10-pound-test line.

The fish fell just 13 ounces shy of equalling the 12-pound-test-of-line record set by Golfer Sam Snead, who landed a 15-pounder in February, 1953.

The Langfields are vacationing aboard their yacht, NO-LO-VAN III.

Dean Busch, 315 Debra Lane, is convinced that you "never get anything for nothing."

Last fall his wife Joan won $3200 worth of prizes on "The Price is Right" television program when the couple was in New York. The prizes included $2100 worth of furniture, an electronic oven and 50 blouses.

Now Dean and Joan must share their good luck with the government — by paying an additional income tax!

I'm tacking on this last item as a special service to the concrete industry.

"Sidewalks are not cement, they are concrete — a mixture of cement, aggregate and water."

This ought to satisfy Bob Beerbower, who works for the Flexicore company and knows all about cement — I mean concrete. He noted that we had referred to "cement sidewalks" in one of our news stories and gently chided me by producing an article from a Detroit newspaper that included the above statement.

(He also told me what cement was. It's a basic ingredient of concrete produced by mixing, grinding, burning and then more grinding of limestone, clay or shale and gypsum)

Con-Con Deadline in Doubt

Likelihood of a March 31 adjournment of the Constitutional Convention grows dimmer daily as the sessions in Lansing's Civic Center lengthen.

This was the date tentatively set following an attorney general's opinion which said the convention should complete its project by March 31 if it were to go to the people in the November election.

There were several delegates who questioned the validity of the informal opinion, because the present Constitution specifies the convention can direct a vote on proposals any time 90 days or more after adjournment.

Now, with debate running several days on the meaty sections of the proposed document, many delegates feel May 15 would be a more probable target date. The 1961 legislative appropriation for Con-Con included delegate salaries through the mid-May date.

Politics enters into the consideration of adjournment, also. The official entry of Con-Con delegate George Romney into the gubernatorial race as a Republican candidate brought Democrats to their feet with cries that the 99 GOP delegates were using the convention to boost Romney.

If Romney's bid for Governor and the product of the convention were placed on the same ballot, the Constitution proposed would become a political football regardless of its content, they seem to think.

Delaying consideration of the Constitution until April, 1963, would give it more of a fair chance, say long-time boosters of the movement to revise the present 1907 document.

Some criticism will undoubtedly fall on convention delegates if they fail to meet the March 31 adjournment.

It would seem a wise move, however, to admit that a mere five months work might not produce a document which should serve Michigan's needs for a basic law during the next several decades.

A 1958 report on education in Michigan recommended all counties with 20,000 or more population establish a community college.

Superintendent of Public Instruction Lynn M. Bartlett has now created a unit he hopes will enable many communities to follow this recommendation.

Bartlett recently named Dr. Gordon Reithmiller, president of Olivet College, as head of a Commission on Community College Development. The commission will contact civic leaders with the idea of expanding the present 16-unit community college system to accommodate the increasing numbers of students who want and need an education beyond the 12th grade.

Hundreds of American age experts this summer and fall will tour Europe under the Good Will People-to-People program. They will visit farms and related industrial plants. Selection of places to be visited was made by the director of Michigan's Department of Agriculture, G. S. McIntyre, who also is president of the National Association of State Departments of Agriculture. Mr. McIntyre recently made a whirlwind eight-day visit to Europe with Les Davis, co-ordinator of the goodwill program.

Meeting with American ambassadors and attaches as well as officials of other countries in setting up the plans, Mr. McIntyre visited Brussels, Moscow, East and West Berlin, and Warsaw before returning. The tours later in the year of American farm people, for which Mr. McIntyre made arrangements, will be 21-day affairs. Groups from at least 14 states are expected to go.

Legislators deserve understanding in dealing with their problems. Every session they are deluged with requests, urgings or demands to supply service to people of the state. Some of these needs are important.

But it is seldom that those who advocate the expenditure of funds, and sometimes substantial expenditures, concern themselves with how the cost will be met.

Unfair abuse results for legislators who will not approve some of these proposals. Sen. Elmer Porter (R-Blissfield), chairman of the Appropriations Committee, has often been victim for ridicule or contempt because he blocked expenditures for what many people think are worthy causes. He and committee members must remember as they approve each section of the budget that they are limited to the money which is available. If they approved every expenditure, the state would soon be further in debt.

Members of the Appropriations Committee are older, more experienced men. Only one new man is on the 1962 Committee, Philip Rahoi (D-Iron Mountain). Other members are all Republican and include Frank D. Beadle, St. Clair; Clarence F. Graebner, Saginaw; Arthur A. Dehmel, Unionville; Lynn O. Francis, Midland; Lloyd A. Stephens, Scottville; and Stanley G. Thayer, Ann Arbor.

Dr. Mudd Replies

Stick to Your Discipline

Dear Dr. Mudd:

One of our children is in the 5th grade. He is not a genius, but he is a highly gifted child.

They don't use the marking system at school such as I had when I was a boy, and so it is a little difficult to tell just how he is doing. He was getting very fine grades in school until his last report came. And he only got one good mark on it.

I went to see his teacher because I was worried, but she was not much help and just said he seemed to not care anymore, and would rather loaf than work. She had tried extra attention, but that didn't help. I think she should have gotten in touch with us before the reports came out, but that's another story.

Anyhow, when he got home I really talked to him and told him I was going to punish him by not letting him have the birthday party he had been counting on. He kept begging and keeping at me but I wouldn't change. I told him if his grades came up and stayed up he could have a birthday party next year.

His mother thinks I've been too tough on him. She thinks I should have tried to find out what the trouble was by talking to him. My way worked because his next report was real good, but still it bothers me that I might have done the wrong thing.

I didn't like to do what I did, but I couldn't see any other way of getting him straightened out. Through my own fault I didn't get much education and I don't want the same thing to happen to him.

Jim

I think you did a fine and a helpful thing for your son. You have the courage of your convictions and the willingness to carry them out against considerable opposition. I think it a good thing that your son has the mother he has too.

Mothers should be maternal and warm and more concerned with feelings than with discipline. She has a point about "talking it over," but this is not as important as it may first appear.

"Talking out a problem" is not the panacea for difficulties it is so often claimed to be. All too frequently the concerns people have cannot be appropriately verbalized. Nonetheless, it might have helped to have known why your son had ceased to do so well at school, but it is highly likely that he himself did not know but that it was in regard to some matter of inner concern which he can neither describe, name, nor discuss.

We know that such periods of turmoil come to everyone, just as we know that to give ourselves up to suffering under them only makes matters worse. Discipline, especially self-discipline, is a powerful help to the troubled. Children require the discipline which their parents bring to bear upon them. Becoming accustomed to its burden, in time they value its benefits.

Those who have been disciplined appropriately by their parents in youth will become mature, self-regulated, resilient people capable of productive living in peace with others when they become adults. It is essential, of course, that a child experience parental love free from exploitation. That is, a parent must behave toward a child with a full measure of recognition that the greatest parental pleasure comes from the witnessing of, the child's growth and development.

It is surely the greatest mistake to try to mold a child for one's own gratification. And it is difficult to be sure that one is not doing just that sometimes. Do you want your son to make good grades because you like to brag about his accomplishment? If you do, it's exploiting a child unable to protect himself.

But if you want him to get good grades because these reflect what he has learned, and this in turn will serve him well in the future, then you are helping him to become a mature person. I think you err in considering the cancellation of a party as punishment. To me, the fact of the party appears to have been a "bonus," something hardly essential for living even in a child's life. And of course, you don't get a bonus unless you earn one.

And especially should you be commended for not backing down and letting him have the party anyhow. The saying so often invoked when one is about to chastise a child, "This hurts me more than it does you" is true enough, but parents must make sacrifices for their children, even the painful one of denying them things which they yearn to give them.

No Stock Crash

Babson Park, Mass. The United States will probably suffer from another business depression. But it will not be like that of the "Thirties". The President and Congress are willing to risk "breaking the nation's credit" rather than risk a year of serious unemployment.

We will see a rash of failures; but the "smart boys" in Washington may not let them be called "failures". They will be listed as "consolidations" or "mergers" or "going out of business".

We will not see the unemployed selling apples on the street; but we may see apples given away to all who call for them. It will be known as the great "giveaway era". The 5-hour day may temporarily be cut to a 2-hour day.

The legislation that President Kennedy now wants to help the aged and the ill will then quickly be enacted. The government will subsidize small business as it now does the farmers. We will be approaching socialism; but under some new name.

The unemployed will be sent to schools and colleges which will be given federal aid generously and in abundance. According to Senator Goldwater and the John Birch "rightists" this will finally lead to further reaction and trouble. The Armed Forces recognize this and would like to join this "rightist" movement; but they are being muzzled.

The labor unions, however, are behind the movement. Their leaders realize that if the liberals and radicals go too far, President Kennedy or "some man on horseback" will become a dictator. These labor leaders at heart are conservatives.

What About the Stock Market? Ah! this is something different. For over 50 years I have studied the stock market. Hence, now I will discuss what I know something about! I am a statistician, not a politician.

Let me start by saying that over seven billion shares of common stock are listed on the New York Stock Exchange and less than one billion more on the American Exchange. Ninety per cent of the latter are of small speculative companies which we will not now count. None of the latter affect the Dow-Jones Industrial Average. Of the above-mentioned shares I will estimate approximately how many shares are tied up and how many are free to break quickly in a crash.

Total Shares — 7,000,000,000.
The New York Stock Exchange has over 1300 members. Of these 680 are Banking Firms in active business. These should have an average 500,000 shares owned by customers. All these figures are estimates — 340,000,000.

Mutual Funds — 10,000,000.
Banks, Insurance Companies, Labor Unions, and Closed-end Investment Trusts — 1,000,000.
Shares held abroad or in transit — 1,000,000.

Private Investors with Certificates in their Safe-Deposit Boxes (5,000,000 persons averaging 200 shares) — 1,000,000,000.
Speculators holding their shares outright — 1,000,000,000.
Certificates of deceased or sick persons which are not "good delivery" — 1,000,000,000.
Estimated Total — 3,361,000,000.

Now let us form an estimate another way. Of these 7 billion shares about 3,500,000 are traded 5 days a week, or say 260 days each year (3,500,000 x 260) or about one billion shares in a year.

When we consider that for every seller there must be a buyer, and that the specialists cannot allow the sales to be quoted at too much of a spread, this is another brake on the sales. This is of itself a curb on a panic crash and is now being carefully watched by the
