

DEFENSE, as exemplified here by Northville Mustang Dick Bathey, was a big factor in the local cage squad's decisive 72-33 victory over South Lyon Tuesday night in district basketball play. The win advances Northville to the district finals, to be played in Milford Friday night. The Mustangs will meet the winners of the Milford-Brighton contest which was scheduled for Wednesday night. Game time is 7:30.

Mustangs Crush South Lyon, 72-33

With a workhorse defense plowing the way, Northville's offense galloped to the wire, unopposed Tuesday night in harvesting a stunning 72-33 victory over a befuddled South Lyon quintet.

And on the way to the top-sided victory, the Mustangs picked up a one-way ticket to the district finals at Milford Friday evening. The defending district champions will face either Milford or Brighton in bidding for their second straight district crown.

The Redskins of Milford and the Bulldogs were scheduled to battle Wednesday night in the second-round of the tourney.

Tuesday's contest was barely reminiscent of Northville's '93-92 upset triumph over the Lions in the opener of last year's tournament. Cast as the underdog last year, Northville entered Tuesday's game as the pre-game favorite and came away the post-game victor.

Last year both teams riddled the nets with points; this year the Mustangs refused to share the scoring limelight.

Not satisfied with their buzzer to buzzer lead, which stretched to more than 30 points early in the final quarter, the Northville defense rationed the Lions' points to starvation helpings. In fact, South Lyon came up with only 4 points in the second period and 5 points in the fourth.

Ironically, South Lyon's best quarter was the third — which also was Northville's best. The Lions garnered 15 points while the Mustangs collected 23.

A back-handed layup by Steve Juday gave the Mustangs the lead in the first period after South Lyon took the tip and missed both a layup and a charity shot. Dan Brown, who last year fired a staggering 42 points against the Lions but who was forced to settle with 14 Tuesday, came back with another field goal.

From that point until midway in the quarter, the two Class B teams battled fairly evenly. At the four-minute mark, the Lions were down only one point, 7-6. Just one minute later, however, the gap had widened to 6 points.

With a 14-3 lead under their belts going into the second period, the Mustangs stiffened defensively using a back-breaking press while doubling up on the opposing ball handler.

The Lions, caught in the net, were forced into tight-quarter handoffs that gave way to desperate but wild passing.

The tenor of the game changed quickly. While Northville clicked under its own basket, South Lyon's offensive attack stalled. The Lions were midway through the quarter before Steve Smith converted two free shots — the first South Lyon points in nearly six minutes. Nine minutes separated South Lyon's last first-quarter field goal and Lowell Burgess' two-point just before intermission.

South Lyon was handed still another setback in the second period when its ace-scorer, Jim Sprinkles, was forced from the game on fouls. Sprinkles had led the team in scoring during the season with 310 points.

Opening the third quarter, Northville turned three consecutive stolen balls into field goals and added another two-pointer before the Lions began trading sevens with 5:50 remaining in the period. By the buzzer, South Lyon had climbed to 28 points — still 27 points behind the galloping Mustangs.

Both coaches emptied their benches in the final quarter, but the one-sided display continued with Northville claiming the top half of a 17-5 output.

All but two of Northville's players managed to chalk up points in the game — three of them in double figures. Craig Bell led the way with 19 points, while Brown and Juday shared the runner-up spot with 14 points each.

Burgess was the top scorer for South Lyon. The husky forward picked up 11 points. Showerman scored 7.

There was at least one bright spot in South Lyon's defeat — and that came at the charity line. The Lions converted 11 of its 20 attempts for a 52-percent record, while the Mustangs picked up 12 points in 26 tries for 46-percent.

The city plan to impose a 25 per cent assessment for street improvements hit a snag from an expected source this week.

And to further complicate matters for advocates of the plan, the issue arose with the "showdown" public hearing just days away and little time remaining for study and negotiation.

Specifically, councilmen were notified late Monday evening that the school board (meeting in special session) objected to the six per cent interest rate proposed for delayed payment of the assessment.

Word came to the council of the difficulty shortly after adjournment of the regular city council meeting at city hall. Councilwoman Beatrice Carlson had already left. Other council members joined City Attorney Philip Ogilvie and City Manager Bruce Potthoff, who had gone to the board of education offices earlier when word was received at city hall that the school board had questions concerning the assessment.

Monday night a public hearing is scheduled to confirm the assessment roll on the proposed paving of North Center street from the Eight Mile road cutoff to South Ely drive and portions of East, High, Elm and Walnut.

The assessment issue has been highly controversial since Mayor A. M. Allen and Councilmen Richard Ambler and John Canterbury out-voted Councilmembers Beatrice Carlson and Richard Juday in support of the plan.

Ironically, the school district and the proposed Center street paving served as the "lever" needed by advocates of special assessment to provide new reason for employing special assessment.

Through its attorney, James Littell, the school board ruled two years ago that it could not participate in the cost of paving Center street in front of Amerman school unless property owners on the opposite side of the street also came under the special assessment.

Following this, the council proposed a 25 per cent assessment against residents and a 50 per cent assessment against the school. (Actually, the school district is being assessed 100 per cent of one-half the street based on installation of concrete — needed on North Center because of school bus traffic. Residents are being assessed on the basis of the cost of asphalt. The city at large pays intersection costs, the 25 per cent not assessed to property owners, and the difference in cost between asphalt and concrete not being borne by residents. The total North Center street project is estimated at $20,305 with the city's share set at $11,552.68, the school district's $7,270.04, and the eight property owners would be assessed a combined total of $1,482.28).

The school board was unanimous in its claim that no previous mention had been made of interest.

City officials hold that the school had been so notified in November and point to public meetings and newspaper stories as evidence that the matter of interest had been indicated.

School officials proposed three means of solving the issue, but city officials left the meeting without reaching a decision.

The school board's suggestions included waiver of interest, reduction of the 50 per cent assessment to 45 per cent, or participation by the city in the cost of a paved apron off the street in front of the school.

The council decided to huddle with Manager Potthoff and Attorney Ogilvie this week in hopes that an answer may be found that will not delay the special assessment procedure.

If the council decided to let the proposal stand "as is" and not reduce the cost to the school district, the latter could, by registering an objection at Monday night's hearing, defeat the entire Center street project.

The city charter provides that an objection by property owners representing more than 50 per cent of the total assessment to be levied requires a four-fifths vote of the council for passage. The council cannot muster four votes.

Further, by the fact that it is not required to participate in special assessments, the school board could simply withdraw its offer.

The East, High, Elm and Walnut street area is the first district scheduled to be heard Monday night. Notices of assessment have been sent to all property owners involved, a total of 49 separate lots.

Monday's hearing is scheduled to begin at 8 p. m. at the city hall.

Area Churches Mark Lenten Season

Lent, the 40-day season of fasting and penitence in preparation for the Resurrection of Christ on Easter Sunday, began yesterday with Ash Wednesday worship services here.

The symbolic placing of ashes on the foreheads of the faithful in Masses at Our Lady of Victory church opened religious observances in the city.

Several Protestant congregations gathered for evening Communion services.

The significance of the Lenten period, which lasts through Holy Saturday, the eve of Easter, April 22, will be recalled by many seats at mid-week worship.

A special four-week Lenten series with guest speakers is planned by the First Methodist church, reports the Reverend Paul Cargo, pastor. All four services will be held on Thursday evenings. Two of them, on March 22 and April 5, will be preceded by potluck suppers with worship to follow. March 29 and April 12 devotion will start at 7:30.

The Reverend Lloyd Brasure, pastor at the First Presbyterian church, told of similar arrangements at his church. Tuesday evening worship hours, beginning March 13, will be held for five weeks. Potluck dinners are scheduled at 6:30 p. m. to be followed by services.

The Rev. Brasure said he plans to pattern his Lenten sermons around articles of the Apostles' Creed.

At Our Lady of Victory, the Reverend John Wittstock noted that a parish mission will be conducted by the Dominican fathers March 18-April 1. One week will be set aside for men, the other for women, he stated.

Wednesday evening services at 7:30 have been calendared by St. Paul's Lutheran church, says the Reverend B. J. Pankov. Biblical readings of the history of the suffering and death of Christ as told by the Evangelists will be given at each gathering.

"Jesus Speaks to Us from the Cross", based on words spoken by Christ prior to his Crucifixion, will form the theme for Pastor Pankov's sermons, he said.

The Reverend Arnold Cook, pastor of First Baptist Church of Novi, explained that he is also patterning his pre-Easter sermons after Christ's sayings from the cross.

Messages pointing out that Christ fulfilled his words in deeds are being prepared by the Reverend Marvin E. Rickett of Willowbrook Community church. He has titled his talks "In Word and Deed."

While many churches have no plans for mid-week Lenten worship, almost all will offer services during Holy Week. Schedules for these will be published shortly before Easter.

Since he's been state-side before clubs and school groups, he is still familiarizing himself with "American English", which he finds considerably different than the "English English" he learned in school.

Even though Tony is looking forward to seeing his parents again, he does hope to return here someday. But that will have to wait until he makes some headway on his career plans. He says he is going to enroll in a training college to prepare to become a math teacher.

"Not because I'm so good at it, but because it appeals to me, I like it."

Then with more study he may become a mathematician.

Local Buildings Get Fallout Check

Agents representing the federal government's National Fallout Shelter Study Survey are working in Northville this week to determine what degree of protection each building offers against radioactive fallout.

The survey is part of a nationwide Civil Defense program. It is not concerned with resistance to blast or shock.

The six-member crew working in Northville expects to complete its inspection this week.

It is headed by Robert J. Clare, an employee of Giffels & Rossetti architectural-engineering firm. It is one of several firms that hold contracts with the federal government to carry out the inspection, Clare explained.

Before an actual building inspection is made a preliminary "windshield" check of the community is made. Buildings are also studied from maps that provide construction details.

All buildings, except single dwellings, are evaluated in most instances it is necessary for the engineer to enter the building and obtain specific dimensions, such as wall, floor and ceiling thickness and type of construction.

"Density of construction determines the amount of protection that is offered from fallout", Clare stated.

Once a complete technical evaluation of all buildings has been made the information is forwarded to the corps of engineers, the federal agency handling the 50-state survey.

The data is then fed into a computer which automatically determines the protection factor of that particular building. Once an evaluation has been made it remains for the civil defense authorities to contact the building owner if it is determined that the building would be valuable to a community shelter plan.

The information will also permit authorities to determine whether or not sufficient shelters exist — and where community shelters should be provided if there is a shortage.

It is anticipated that the field work involved in the nationwide program will be completed by mid-summer.

Working in Northville along with Clare are William Winburn, Thomas Carter, James Watterson, John Mulcahy and Richard Phillips.

Add 5th Site For Proposed Post Office

Authorities of the post office department notified Postmaster Leland Smith and Mayor A. M. Allen last week that a fifth site has been added to the locations being considered for a new post office building in Northville.

The latest site is located on Main street adjacent to the A & P supermarket parking lot.

It provides 120-foot frontage on Main street and includes two parcels — one an empty lot and the other containing an existing house.

Postal authorities have indicated that one of the five sites will be selected in the near future with completion of the new facility scheduled for next fall, probably October.

The other sites under consideration are the southwest corner of Wing and Cady, the southwest corner of Main and Center, the Main street lot between Northville Drugs and Northville Realty, and a Cady street lot directly behind the Main street site.

Novi to Vote On City Issue

Novi voters next Monday will elect three new councilmen, indicate what they think of becoming a city and select nine members for a city charter commission.

In a regular village election, the electors will fill council seats left open by the expiring terms of Miss Eugenie Choquet, Walter Tuck and Philip Anderson. The latter is the only one of the three seeking re-election.

Voters will also consider whether Novi should incorporate into a home-rule city and, if the city balloting is favorable, choose a nine-member commission to draft a proposed city charter.

Twelve candidates will vie for the three council positions, while 13 are seeking election to the charter commission. Photographs, brief biographies and statements of the candidates are presented on page one, section two of this issue.

The dinners will be served at the Legion hall, Dunlap at Center streets, with the public invited.

Dinners will be served each Friday through April 20.

Exchange Student from Holland

No Wooden Shoes on Tony

"We don't ice skate to school and we don't wear wooden shoes"

Shedding some light on what seem to be the most commonplace misconceptions Americans have of their Dutch neighbors across the sea was Antonius Martinus van der Meer — better known as Tony.

Americans are not the only ones who harbor distorted pictures of people in other lands, says Tony. At home many of Tony's countrymen visualize Americans as Hollywood movie producers depict them, something which Tony can help correct when he returns this summer.

The exchange student, here on the Michigan Council of Churches Youth for Understanding program, is the foster son of the Crispin Hammonds, 47100 Timber Lane. Though he has been in Northville only a few weeks, Tony arrived in the United States last August and spent the intervening months in Milan.

He's now attending second semester classes at Northville high school, studying English, senior advanced math, physical education, speech, American history and world problems.

Tony actually first heard of Northville before leaving his home in the Hague, Holland. He was visited there last summer by the Reverend and Mrs. Paul Cargo, who were in Europe counseling exchange students. Like many other exchange students who come here from all over the world, Tony applied for his year-long visit to swap ideas with Americans about their country and his, he explained. "Maybe we can all get to know each other a little better."

Tony's been getting to know some of this country's favorite foods, and liking them — except for squash and corn, which he vows he won't sample again.

"I just love pizza as hot as possible and hot dogs and hamburgers with lots of mustard and ketchup." And he'll seldom pass up a tin roof sandae.

Watching our version of television has also been a novel experience for the exchange visitor. After having what he thought was a good TV program interrupted for the third time by commercials, Tony asked his foster family "is this a special commercial hour starting now?"

He watches television at home — there are programs three hours a night — free from sponsors' messages about their products.

Since he's been state-side before clubs and school groups, he is still familiarizing himself with "American English", which he finds considerably different than the "English English" he learned in school.

Even though Tony is looking forward to seeing his parents again, he does hope to return here someday. But that will have to wait until he makes some headway on his career plans. He says he is going to enroll in a training college to prepare to become a math teacher.

"Not because I'm so good at it, but because it appeals to me, I like it."

About 75 attended a gathering at the Minneola Community building Saturday, February 17. It's the third year the reunion has been held, with more attending each time.

Simmons said the event owes much of its success to the efforts of Norman Schweizer, who now lives in Minneola. It's planned again for next year sometime in mid-February.

Darlene Susan Evans celebrated her fifth birthday February 28 at a luncheon birthday party for several Echo Valley friends in her home at 23750 Heartwood.

Northville City Councilwoman Mrs. A. C. Carlson hosted another gathering of Republican women in her Fairbrook home for an "ABC Coffee" Tuesday morning, February 27. Designed to encourage neighborhood discussion groups to become better informed about government and politics, the coffee hours have been dubbed "ABC" to signify "A Better Citizen".

Mrs. Margaret Richardson, field representative for the Southeastern office of the Republican State Central committee, met with the women Tuesday and will return March 27 to talk about local city and township government.

Mrs. Donald Young, Jr., entertained a gathering of women in her home at 43775 West Nine Mile road Wednesday, February 28 at a baby shower honoring Mrs. Kalin Johnson.

Take Florida Exchange Marriage Vows Honeymoon In Rite at Livonia Church

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Wendt, of River street, announce the marriage of their daughter, Lucetta, to Jerry Marden, of Midland, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Marden.

The couple exchanged vows Saturday, March 3 at St. John's Lutheran Church of Midland.

After a wedding trip to Florida the newlyweds will reside in Midland where both are employed by the Dow Chemical company.

The new Mrs. Marden is a graduate of Northville high school. Her husband was graduated from Midland high school.

Dorothy Jean Sutherland, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hurd H. Sutherland of 418 West Dunlap, and Dennis Albert Costantini, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert G. Costantini of Livonia, exchanged marriage vows Saturday, February 10 at Faith Lutheran church in Livonia.

Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Costantini

Officiating at the 7 p.m. ceremony was the Reverend Donald Stancenko. Mrs. Maria Schmitz was the organist.

Vows were spoken before an altar framed by two silver vases of white carnations, snapdragons and ivy.

Given in marriage by her father, the former Miss Sutherland wore a white peau de soie gown fashioned with a bell skirt caught at the waist by a white fabric rose. Her bouffant veil was held by a single white rose.

Mrs. John Illicki, the groom's sister, attended the bride as matron of honor. She was attired in green sheer silk over taffeta with a headpiece of real ivy and carried a cascading bouquet of red carnations and ivy.

John Illicki, of Livonia, was the groom's best man. Paul Tausley, of Big Rapids, ushered guests.

Mrs. Sutherland chose a dress of gray lace over pink for her daughter's wedding. Pink roses formed her corsage. Mrs. Costantini wore a pink velvet dress and white rose corsage.

Some 100 guests from Northville, Livonia, Dearborn, East Detroit, Port Hope, Big Rapids and Jackson attended a reception at the bride's home. The bride's sister, Mrs. Dewey Eugene, of Jackson, and Mrs. Eugene Sinke, of Ann Arbor, poured. Serving punch were Lauri Bogart and Leslie Sheehan.

Leaving on a wedding trip to Windsor, Ontario, Canada, the new Mrs. Costantini was attired in a red knit suit accented by a white rose corsage. The couple will reside in Detroit.

The former Miss Sutherland is a 1961 graduate of Northville high school. Her husband was graduated from Cooley high school, Detroit, in 1959.

Cookie Sale, Fiftieth Birthday Keep Girl Scouts Here Busy

Northville Girl Scouts and Brownies are a mighty busy group these days, wrapping up one major fund-raising project and getting ready for two big celebrations.

Saturday marks the close of the Scout cookie sale. The girls are selling four varieties again this year — chocolate and vanilla, Scotch-teas, mints and Savannahs. They cost 40 cents per package and will be delivered April 11-17.

The cookie sale is held to help support the camping program of the Huron Valley council, of which the Northville neighborhood is a member. Troops get five cents from each package sold, and one and one half cents from each sale goes to pay for national and international events. The remainder, excluding cost of the cookies to the council, is used to offset sales tax and finance camping activities.

Sunday troops here join approximately three and one-half million girl and adult members of the Girl Scouts of the U.S.A. in celebration of Girl Scout week, March 11-17.

This year's observance has special significance in that it falls on the organization's fiftieth anniversary. A Golden Anniversary program Saturday, March 17 at the community building will cap the week's festivities. March 12 is the actual birthday date.

On that day 50 years ago, Juliette Low gathered 12 girls in her Savannah, Georgia, home to form the first Girl Scout troop in the United States. With Sunday set aside as the Golden Day of Rededication, Scouts will attend worship services at local churches in uniform.

Next Saturday's Golden Anniversary program will include special ceremonies and presentations by local troops. It is slated from 2 to 4 p.m. Mrs. Archie Moore is program chairman and Mrs. Donald Funk is in charge of refreshments.

A rehearsal will be held this Saturday.

Mrs. Edwin Langtry directs the Northville Girl Scout neighborhood. This neighborhood works in cooperation with the Huron Valley council, representing 7,000 girls and 2,000 adults.

Alma college and the Michigan Federation of Business and Professional Women's clubs are sponsoring a leadership seminar Saturday, March 10 on the Alma college campus. The seminar is themed "Who? Me?".

Mrs. Phyllis Clark of Alma, chairman of the seminar, invites all women to attend this meeting. It will begin with registration and coffee from 9:00-10:15 a.m. in the lobby of the Dow science building.

Registrations should be mailed to Mrs. Martha Miller, 3532 N. Lawn Park, R. 3, Alma, Michigan. Mrs. Alice Ritchie, Northville Business and Professional Women's club president, may be contacted for further details. She can be reached after 5 p.m. at FI 9-0759.

One highlight of the seminar will be a panel discussion titled "A Challenging Woman in Today's World": 1. as a person; 2. as a community participant; 3. with a world view. Three members of the Alma college staff, Dr. Irene Lindor, of the sociology department; Dr. Florence Kirk, professor of English, and Mrs. F. M. Vreeland, Dean of Women, will take part.

Luncheon will be at 1:30 p.m. followed by an address by Dr. Robert D. Swanson, president of Alma college. Dr. Swanson received his B.A. degree from Park college, Parkville, Missouri. He was graduated from McCormick Theological seminary and received the Doctor of Divinity degree from James Milliken university. During World War II he served as chaplain in the Pacific theatre in the U.S. Navy.

Music will be furnished by the Alma College A Cappella choir under the direction of Dr. Ernest Sullivan. In addition to its tours, the 50-voice mixed choir is in demand for radio and television performances. They have been selected by the Presbyterian church to be the official broadcast choir for the denomination during 1968.

76 Local Students Take Merit Scholarship Tests

Seventy-six students at Northville high school took the 1962 National Merit Scholarship Qualifying test given Tuesday morning at the high school, announced Principal Fred Stefanski.

All students who wish to be considered for Merit Scholarships to be awarded in 1963 were to take the test.

The qualifying test is a three-hour examination of educational development. It is the first step in the eighth annual competition for four-year Merit Scholarships, provided by the National Merit Scholarship Corporation, and by sponsoring corporations, foundations, associations, unions, and individuals.

The number of scholarships awarded in any year depends upon the extent of sponsor participation. In 1961, 945 Merit Scholarships were awarded; 556 were provided by 133 sponsors and 389 by the Merit Corporation. There are 3275 Merit scholars attending 403 colleges in the entire academic year.

The scores of students taking tests this month will be reported to their schools by May 15. The scores are used by class advisors in many high schools to help students make decisions about college attendance and field of study. Many students who do not expect to win a scholarship take the test in order to learn more about their individual strengths and weaknesses.

Millions To Pray Together

Northville Christians join Christians throughout the 150 areas of six continents and the islands of the sea tomorrow (Friday) in the 76th annual observance of World Day of Prayer.

Worship here will be held at 1:30 p.m. in the First Methodist church with the Reverend Jean Dimond of Hamtramck United Presbyterian church in the pulpit. Women of the Methodist and Presbyterian churches are sponsoring the service.

World Day of Prayer is held under the auspices of United Church Women, a general department of the National Council of the Churches of Christ in the U.S.A.

Offerings received at special services in this country are divided between the Divisions of Home and Foreign Missions of the National Council of Churches, which carry on interdenominational work. In the United States, the prayers and gifts help to recruit, train and supervise staff and volunteers for many and varied types of Christian service.

Overseas the offering helps prepare men and women of many nations for Christian service in home and community through World Day of Prayer support of twelve interdenominational Christian colleges.

Gifts to the Africa Literacy and Writing Center at Kitwe in Northern Rhodesia and for a new program of Chinese literature are the committee's latest ventures.

An invitation to attend the worship here is extended to all.

WNFGA to Meet At Mrs. Northrup's

Assisting the hostess will be Mrs. L. M. Snow, Jr., Mrs. Paul Schulz, Mrs. Clyde Schoutz, Mrs. Ellen Scott and Dr. Irene Sparling.

Auxiliary Celebrates

Northville State Hospital auxiliary invites the public to attend a party celebrating its anniversary on Tuesday, March 13 at 1 p.m. in the hospital.

For three years auxiliary women have been doing various types of volunteer work in an attempt to assist the hospital in whatever ways possible.

Salem Suit

On Zoning

Still Pending

Two township meetings are on tap next week.
Salem's township board will meet at 8 p.m. Monday as will the Green Oak township board.
According to Salem Clerk Edward Fitzgerald, only routine business had been scheduled for the agenda by this past Monday.

The Salem board had not yet made a formal decision — by Monday — as to whether or not it will enter a Washtenaw circuit court case in defense of the township zoning ordinance.

However, the board reportedly has been advised by its attorney, Douglas K. Reading, not to join in the suit at this time.

Salem's zoning ordinance is under attack in a circuit court dispute between Angelo DiPonio and Denver Cockrum, both of North Territorial road.

The court proceedings date back to last summer when Di Ponio sought a court order to restrain his neighbor, Cockrum, from selling produce not grown on his Salem property. Cockrum operates a vegetable stand on his premises.

DiPonio contends that the operation is illegal under the zoning ordinance, while Cockrum contends the ordinance is invalid because when published it did not contain a zoning map.

The court matter was adjournd until February 27, but the adjournment has been extended another two weeks and may be extended still further at the suggestion of the attorneys.

City Officials At Municipal Meetings

Delegate John E. McCauley, a member of the Committee on Local Government of Michigan's Constitutional Convention, will be the featured speaker at the evening session of the Annual Meeting of Region III of the Michigan Municipal League at Inkster today. McCauley, a councilman and former mayor of Wyandotte, will give a progress report on the Convention to the mayors, village presidents and other elected and appointed officials attending the meeting from League member cities and villages in Wayne County.

Northville officials, including Mayor A. M. Allen, the council and City Manager Potthoff and Attorney Ogilvie plan to attend the session.

Region III program will open with a session on municipal liability and insurance, in which Mayor Ronald R. Stempion of Lincoln Park will act as moderator. Speakers will be Louis C. Andrews, Jr., League Staff Attorney, who will examine the question of municipal liability in tort, with particular emphasis upon the effect of the recent Michigan Supreme Court decision in the Williams case; and Richard N. Mann, Insurance Audit and Inspection Company, Indianapolis, who will discuss insurance coverages and development of municipal insurance programs for maximum protection.

The second part of the afternoon program will be devoted to a panel session on "Municipal Organization for Civil Defense," which will be moderated by Mayor Charles Stumate of Gibraltar, Secretary of Region III. Panelists will include William Brinkman, Acting Director of Civil Defense for Detroit and Wayne County; Charles Ives, City Councilman, Grosse Pointe Park; and Floyd Neel, Deputy Civil Defense Director Wayne.

Cottages Face Damage From Floods

Michigan residents with homes or cottages along lakes and streams are warned to brace themselves for dangerous flood conditions which threaten to break loose when spring breakup begins.

The warning comes from Conservation Department engineers who report that conditions are reminiscent of those in 1947 and 1948 when the flood damage toll ran high in many parts of the state.

"The next few weeks will tell the story, especially in southern Michigan where the break up usually occurs first," says Hathaway J. Hanes, Department engineer. "If intermittent freezing and thawing takes place for several weeks to gradually wear away the heavy ice and snow cover, much of the runoff will seep into ground water reservoirs," Hanes reports.

Owners of cottages in lowland areas would do well to move furniture, mattresses, and other articles above the ground floor level of their buildings. Electrical equipment, particularly motors in well pits, should be temporarily removed if they face the threat of being flooded.

Wells should be protected against contamination by temporarily capping the casing.

Mustangs Roll Past Milford To End First Perfect Season

Northville wrapped up its 1961-62 basketball season in a neat package marked "15 and 0" Friday night by defeating Milford in decisive fashion, 80-43.

The victory gave Northville high school its first undefeated cage season and added more frosting to the cake already baked by the football team, which also enjoyed an undefeated record.

It sets Northville apart as the only state high school to boast a perfect season on both the gridiron and hardwoods this year. To further enhance the Northville cage story it was all accomplished by a coach serving his first year at the reins.

"It's been about as great a first season as a coach could ask for," Coach Dave Longridge stated, and who can argue with that? The Mustangs were rarely extended in their 15 outings during the season as they frequently seemed to play just well enough to win.

The Mustangs won't have time to rest on their laurels. Tuesday night they started district tournament against South Lyon (see story page one).

Coach Longridge credited the versatility of his athletes for making the combined football-basketball season records possible.

Several of these performers will be playing their last basketball for Northville in the tournaments. Senior team members are Steve Juday, Dan Brown, Dick Batthey, Don Busch, and Jay Sugrue. All were members of the Mustang grid squad.

The Mustangs closed their regular cage season by running away from Milford after a several-minute lag in the opening quarter.

Northville, a little slow at rebounding during the first few minutes of the game, allowed Milford to stay with them until the middle of the period.

But Milford's tying-up the game at 6-6 brought quick response from Northville — in the form of tightened defense and livelier offense — that carried the Mustangs to a 19-9 advantage by the end of the first quarter.

From that point forward, the Mustangs continued to roll as Milford vainly tried several defensive patterns that did them nothing but harm.

A brief attempt at the zone press was quickly fatesaken by Milford when its tendency to fouling gave Northville repeated scoring opportunities at the free throw line.

The Mustangs, enjoying one of their best nights, connected on 77 per cent of their free throw attempts, to add 34 points to their total.

Brown hit on 16 of 20 foul shots, ending the game with a total of 26 points for his season high.

During the second quarter, Northville unleashed a series of fast-breaking plays, capitalizing on Milford's use of the long pass to hasten the pace of the game. Several interceptions during the quarter, coupled with normal basketball, brought the Mustangs to a 43-20 half-time lead.

During the third quarter, Longridge substituted senior second stringers who played nearly the entire period. This cut down Northville's backboard control, but the seniors held their own, allowing Milford only 15 points while picking up 17 for the Mustangs.

Longridge went with his starters during the opening minutes of the final period, but midway, with Northville leading 73-37, he started substituting freely.

The younger Mustangs traded points with Milford until game's end.

Calling the game "one of the season's best for all-around play," Longridge pointed out that only one Mustang failed to score. It isn't often, he said, that a team can play its entire bench during one game.

Looking forward to tournament contests this week, the Mustang mentor predicted continued success, with a few characteristics "It's."

Another "If" voiced by Longridge concerned fouls. Loss of one or two key players could upset his winning combination.

The junior varsity Colts didn't fare so well against Milford during the final moments of their game. Matching point-for-point, they tied Milford at the end of both first-half periods, and led by one point when the final stanza began.

But a fourth period slump, coupled with zealous efforts by Milford found the Colts with only half as many last quarter points as their opponents.

Both teams scored 13 points in the first and second quarters, ending with a 26-26 half-time tie. Northville picked up 11 more in the third stanza, while holding Milford to 10. Their final-period efforts broke Milford loose, and the Colts found themselves with only nine more points, while Milford had added 18.

Don Bery led the Colts with 12 points, while Ron Rice was close behind at 11 and Dave Jerome dumped in eight. The Colts ended their season with two wins and 12 losses.

Wrestlers Take 7 Tourney Places

Northville Mustang wrestlers captured fourth place in class "B" regional tournament matches last week-end, taking seven individual places in the battles to decide who will wrestle in state class "B" finals this coming Friday and Saturday.

High honors went to Mike Brandenburg, who battled his way to the regional championship for 95-pound weight. Placing second were 180-pound Dave Clark and 165-pound Joe Hay.

Heavy weight Jerry Biddle, capped third place in his weight while 137-pound Jim Jiggins earned the same for 137 pound weight class.

127-pound Ron Rebitzke and 112-pound Doug Nichols each took fourth place in their weight classes.

First among the 13 schools that participated in the regional tournament was Ann Arbor St. Thomas, with 94 points. Second and third went to River Rouge, with 71 and Flat Rock, with 68. Northville stood fourth with 62 points.

All wrestlers who placed fourth or better will have a chance at state championships when the Class "B" face-offs take place in Ann Arbor tomorrow and Saturday.

All matches will be held in the University of Michigan's intramural building, located on Hoover street, near South State treet. Preliminary matches will begin at 2 p.m. Friday, and will continue through the afternoon and evening.

Elimination matches for second, third and fourth place will be held on Saturday, with the championship finals being conducted Saturday evening.

All's Not Routine In Food Inspection

Exploding anchovies may sound impossible, but the discovery of them has led Harold Monet into an international search.

Monet is an inspector for the foods and standards division of the Michigan department of agriculture, and a complaint from a store owner several months ago that cans of anchovies were exploding on the shelves brought quick action of Monet and his department.

Tracing the cans through a national distributor, Monet discovered that the anchovies, which chemical laboratory work determined to be loaded with bacteria, had been packaged in Spain.

Since that time, he and his colleagues have been retracing the channels by which the anchovies were delivered to Michigan stores in an effort to protect consumers by recovering all the spoiled products.

Monet, in Northville last week on one of his periodic checks of all businesses that handle foods or sell products by measure, was explaining his job in observance of "Weights and Measures Week," which is this week.

Much of the work he and Michigan's other 42 food inspectors do is quite routine — checking out scales and inspecting food processing plants — but there is often something a little out of the ordinary to spice up his job.

Monet points to the time he and another inspector were making routine rounds together, and he made a discovery that received national attention. "I had a very bad cold that day," he explained, "so I bought

A Message From Walter Tuck...

"Even though I did not elect to run for village council again, my interest is still there and I believe I should invite someone that I have confidence in to take my place and hope they would do a better job. I realized when I picked Charles Goers, that he might not be well known to many and to elect him would be difficult. However, there are quite a few working for him and I hope their efforts are rewarded.

"I know, of course, if the City vote carries, there will be little for the Village Council to do, but I don't like to put all of my eggs in one basket". "If the City vote fails, then we will need strong men on the Village Council; men who are interested in seeing the Village progress; men who know what needs to be done and then will take the time to do it."

"I believe Charles Goers will be that kind of a councilman."

a bottle of aspirin tablets. As we were driving away, I dumped out all the tablets and started counting just for something to do — there were only 92 tablets, and the bottle was labeled 100."

A little checking, and Monet discovered that hundreds of thousands of the bottles of aspirin had not been properly filled — thus making their labels illegal.

"The company in Pittsburg that had bottled the aspirins had to call back all of a shipment that had been distributed throughout the country," he said.

Most of the detection work carried out by food inspectors isn't as easy as the aspirin tablets were, Monet said. This is because most of it involves chemical tests, which are conducted in the department of agriculture's huge laboratory in Lansing.

The food inspectors sample any product they have any reason to suspect, Monet explained. For example, he said, the largest number of food law violations presently being prosecuted involve some type of meat "doctoring."

Monet pointed out that a hot dog can easily be produced that will taste "like the best darn hog dog you ever ate," but it can be made entirely of non-meat products, such as cereals, animal fats, the right combination of spices and a careful smoking process.

"We inspectors in the field," he said, "would have no way of detecting such a violation, so a sample must be sent to the Lansing lab, where the contents of any product can be chemically determined."

Violations of this type are prosecuted under Michigan's "Communitated Meat law," which covers all sausage products and other related items. Chemical analysis measures the amount of lean meat — protein — in these products. There must be at least 12 per cent protein in the final product, he said, and

Fund Drive For Scouts

A special drive for funds to provide for expenses of conducting district Boy Scout activities is currently being chairmaned in Northville by Charles McDonald.

The drive, an annual event which McDonald directed last year, is largely carried on by mail solicitation. The goal is $800.

Anyone interested in helping defray the cost of expenses connected with operation of the scout district is urged to contact McDonald.

Dumping Charge Brings Court Fine

John Williams, of Southfield, was fined a total of $50 and placed on probation in Novi Justice court Monday when he was found guilty of a dumping charge.

Justice of the Peace John T. Meier also recommended that Clarence Spencer, of Livonia, owner of the business for which Williams was dumping, be subpoenaed to appear in the case.

In other action, Justice Meier fined Earl Morse, of Decker road, $25 in costs, placed him on one year's probation and ordered him to support his wife and two minor children.

Police Find Stolen Car

The automobile of a Southfield man which had been stolen in Northville was recovered early Monday morning near Wall Lake by Novi Police.

Officer Roy Hallock said the car, which was taken by three juveniles, was found on South Lake drive, within a half mile of the youths' homes.

He said the youths were quickly rounded up because police had had a report that one of them was missing. Hallock explained that the car was found abandoned just minutes before police received a report from the parents that the missing youth had returned home.

In talking with the youth about why he had been missing, Hallock continued, it was determined that the boy had been involved in the car theft.

Police Chief Lee BeGole said the youths have been placed on police probation to their parents, and will be placed under social worker guidance. The owner of the automobile dropped charges.

READERS SPEAK:

Scout Building Needs Architect

To the Editor:

I have watched with interest the development of the new Scout building. It was with disappointment that I read of the proposed course of action in last week's Record. Few will contest the fact that such a building is necessary in the community, but the proposed structure will add little to the character or dignity of Northville.

The opportunity for a city such as ours to make a contribution to the future enjoyment of its citizens occurs only rarely. When such an occasion does arise it would seem that every effort would be made to make the results significant, rather than just adequate. In comparison to the new commercial structures and renovations which are helping to create a new face for the business district, the proposed Recreation building can at best be called lackluster.

It is a well accepted fact that the careful selection of a trained architect is the best way to ensure a dignified, integrated structure which reflects the character of its purpose. To say that an architect is unnecessary in designing a building is stupid. One does not engage a plumber to remove an appendix, nor a dentist to roof a house. It is true that anyone with a minimum of training can draw floor plans and elevations. The inadequacies of a building planned by one untrained and unskilled in the aesthetics of architecture are readily apparent when construction is completed. Unfortunately, it is then too late.

I have no doubt that the proposed building will keep its users both dry and warm, but its outside (and inside?) appearance is certainly neither inspiring nor inspiring. Architecture has, through the ages, reflected the culture which spawned it. It may well be that the proposed structure mirrors the indecisive qualities of our present culture. However, other recent buildings in Northville have shown that more interesting and definitive architectural statements can be made in a community of our size.

It is my understanding that the sketch of the proposed building was done to have something to start with — a point of departure. It seems that some individuals are now willing to build it as is, for the sake of expediency. It is unfortunate that we are willing to settle for something that "will do" rather than standing for excellence in whatever we consider.

Recreation Building Group Meets

The first meeting of the newly appointed committee for planning details and facilities preparatory to building a new recreation-scout building was held last week with Councilman Richard Ambler as chairman.

The group is charged with the responsibility of preparing plans for the proposed building that will be constructed on city property adjacent to the cemetery on Cady street. Plans must be approved by the council before construction.

Three sub-committees were appointed to divide responsibility as follows: Building and Facilities: Kenneth Conley, Al Jones and Max Austin; Architectural Design: Fran Gazlay, Robert Merriam and Mrs. George Zerbe; Finance: Ed Welch, Richard Kay and Richard Ambler.

The entire committee is scheduled to meet again Wednesday at the Amerman school to report progress on sub-committee assignments.

Novi Council, Charter Hopefuls Speak Up

The Northville Record

Thursday, Mar. 8, 1962

Section Two — Page One

Philip Anderson

Philip Anderson lives with his wife at 50250 Eight Mile road. Born in Canada, he moved to Novi in 1910. He was a member of the village charter commission and has served on the village council since incorporation.

"I was a member of the Village Charter Commission. I would like to have the same Charter used if Novi becomes a city."

"I have served on the Village Council since Novi became a village. I believe the different department heads should run their departments responsible only to the council. I do not believe in having a Village Manager."

"I would like to see more industry in Novi and keep our taxes down."

"We have improved our roads considerably and hope we can do more in the way of ditching and black toping."

"I have every Novi citizen's interest at heart, and I give my best to them. We have a good start in sewers and hope to have Novi completely serviced by sewers and water in the near future."

"I believe in City Incorporation because it will:

- "(1) Eliminate one government"
- "(2) Control of Justice Court"
- "(3) Eliminate annexations"
- "(4) Increase our representation on the Board of Supervisors with no increase in taxes."

Ed Ash

Ed Ash lives on a 60-acre farm at 21666 Garfield road with his wife, Mable. Educated at the University of Kansas school of business, he is a sales engineer for an automotive parts supplier. He is a member of the farm bureau and the board of commerce.

"I believe City Incorporation is a MUST for Novi because:

- "1. It will eliminate the Township-Village clash."
- "2. It will eliminate the Township tax."
- "3. It will eliminate disconnections under the Agricultural Act."
- "4. It will assure full ownership of the Village Hall, Fire Equipment, etc., after paying off the Township on a pro-rata basis. The present tax base ratio is village 98% — township 2%."

"5. It will provide ONE government, with two representatives on the Oakland County Board of Supervisors."

"6. All the voters of Novi will control annexation decisions."

"7. A City has greater bargaining power with such Federal Agencies as FHA, VA, HIFA, etc."

"8. City Incorporation will not change the agricultural uses of present village farm lands."

"If the voters of Novi vote YES on City Incorporation, and should be elected to the Charter Commission, I pledge that I will strive to maintain the present village charter 5 mills tax limitation in the new city charter, and to adopt the same zoning code for the city as the present village code."

Kenneth C. Bassett

Kenneth C. Bassett lives at 42366 12 Mile road, on the same farm he was born on 49 years ago. He has two daughters and five grandchildren. Beginning his second three-year term on the board of appeals, he has also served during the past four years on the recreation board for the community building.

"Having lived in Novi all my life, I have continuously seen lower taxes than most of the townships of Oakland County."

"We should all agree that the least number of governing bodies in a given area is the most economical government. We have seen individuals and groups, spend large sums of money to keep from being annexed to bordering cities."

"There was a time when the word City scared me, but there is no reason why changing the name of this area from Village of Novi, to City of Novi should scare anyone. The only way it should cost us more money is if we the people create a need for more expenditures."

"Let's keep Novi together instead of cut up into several 'Villages like Farmington, Troy, Southfield and others."

John H. Begle

John H. Begle lives at 41700 Nine Mile road with his wife and two children. A member of the board of appeals, he is a graduate of the University of Michigan and Wayne State University. He is an executive in a manufacturing firm.

"How can a candidate for office argue his own case without presumption? Certainly what I say in these few lines could not and should not sway the minds of the voters."

"The test of an elected official comes after election, not before; and even the candidate can only trust that his abilities are adequate. The voters, in a diverse community, have little to base their trust on other than untried promises and chance."

"Speaking in my own behalf, I will say only that my desires for Novi appear to coincide with the desires of most of the residents."

"I believe Novi should, first and foremost, be a good place to live. Novi is a community of people. That fact seems sometimes to be forgotten; and recent planning seems to have emphasized factories above people. Industry in moderation can provide jobs and an easing of our tax burden; but an emphasis on industry and highways above people can discourage the residential growth which we desire."

A. Russell Button

A. Russell Button, 50, lives with his wife and two children at 44109 Grand River avenue. A graduate engineer of Michigan State university, he operates his own contracting firm locally. Besides serving on the citizens committee that initiated the village incorporation, he has been a member of the charter commission and council. He is president of the board of commerce.

"Incorporation of Novi as a Fifth class city is the thing we started out to do in the first place. While some of us have been lead astray as to the ability of a village to protect our boundaries, as far as I am concerned, the village is simply the means to an end."

"The boundaries are protected now, as we promised, by the city petitions until March 12. On that date we will decide whether we really want to keep Novi together or not."

"Should we remain a village, the annexations and disconnections will continue. Some of us have spent a great deal of time and money doing what we believe to be the best thing for the community. If we are to remain a village, then incorporation should never have been started in the first place."

"There is only one purpose in this incorporation move, and that is to maintain as low a tax rate as possible. To sit here with a job half done and allow our assets to be appropriated by our neighbors, maintain two duplicating forms of government, furnish free services to those who wish to withdraw from the village and take to court all these problems that can be solved by simply adopting a more stable form of government is about the poorest way to get low taxes I can think of."

Joseph Crupi

Joseph Crupi, 45, lives at 23821 Ripple Creek with his wife and four daughters. He holds a patent law degree from Wayne State University and is employed by an automotive manufacturer. A 12-year resident of Novi, he now serves as council president.

"Why do I favor city status when I opposed it previously? Two reasons — conditions have changed, and, as council president, I have been closer to the problems."

"Were it not for changing boundaries and their inherent problems, I would still favor the village. The recent court actions have disproven, however, that boundary protection is afforded villages."

"If continued, the village will face more disconnections and irregular boundaries, loss of tax base, etc. Stability can only be attained by city status."

"Can we revert to township? Theoretically, yes; but practically, no. Two-thirds of all registered voters would have to favor it. Seldom do two-thirds of the voters cast ballots at one election, let alone for one proposition. Even if possible, boundaries would still be unprotected."

"The charter is the controlling factor of taxes. The present five mills or its equivalent can be written into a city charter. I know of no charter commission candidate who favors higher taxes."

"In essence, this election only grants permission to consider calling Novi a city, with the side benefit being boundary protection."

Leon D. Dochot

Leon D. Dochot, 50, lives at 727 South Lake drive. A worker in an automotive plant, he is vice-president of the Republican club, director of the civil defense, chairman of the youth protection committee and a member of the Oakland county law enforcement association. He is also an elected constable.

"I will not presume to tell you the people that a Vote for the city is a solution to everything, because I do not believe it is so."

"I do not believe that we are ready for a city for we have not progressed far enough as a Village. However, if it is the will of the people, I will serve to the best of my ability as your charter commissioner."

"These are but a few things I would like to include in the charter:

- "1. To hold the millage down and make sure there are no loop holes by which a millage increase can be forced on the people."
- "2. To make sure that the offices of Clerk and Treasurer are elective offices."
- "3. That employees of the city reside within the city."

Burt Fisher

Burt Fisher, 67, lives at 120 North Haven with his wife, Florence. He has been a member of the planning board for the past three years, and owns two local restaurants. Before moving to Novi eight years ago, he worked as a supervisor for two industries.

"We need new blood on our council — we need men who have the entire village in mind and not just certain sections. We need to have men that will work with the planning, board and citizens development committee — men who want industry as well as homes. We don't need a full-time planning consultant."

"If elected, I will work for more policemen on our police force and more pay. Two men per car during the night and at least one full-time fireman on duty at all times."

"Put the building inspector to work on the job he was hired for — not building cupboards and shelves that could be done by any carpenter."

"I'll work with and for all of our people, not just a select few. I'll work with and for all sections of our village, not any certain sections as at present and forget certain sections that don't seem to measure up — as they say — but most of these cent paid for."

Charles G. Goers

Charles G. Goers, 69, lives at 42445 12 Mile road. He has two grown sons living elsewhere. A graduate of Drexel Institute in Philadelphia, he retired recently from a position as an automotive quality control plant manager. He was active as a member of a citizens improvement association in Philadelphia.

"If elected, I will do my utmost to help make Novi a gracious place to live."

Mrs. Florence E. Harris

Mrs. Florence E. Harris lives at 46045 Grand River. She owns and operates a local restaurant. A member of the board of commerce and a director of the citizens development committee, she has helped in the organization of such local projects as the library, and teen town and the blood bank.

"I wish to represent and serve the people for a better Government in our Community."

"I would like to see a Charter drawn up for the peoples' interest and needs, also to encourage the voice of the citizens."

"What Novi needs is more representation and economy in Government. There is too much power in the hands of too few."

"I feel that a Councilman must approach problems with an open mind, a willingness to listen to others' view points."

"I will put forth every effort to make the right decisions for the benefit of ALL the citizens."

"Constructive programs in certain areas such as Recreation need to be established."

Ray D. Harrison

Ray D. Harrison, 39, lives with his wife and two children at 2292 Austin drive. Self-employed as a water well contractor, he has attended the University of Pittsburgh. He has served three years on the school board, was township treasurer for four years, is president of the Goodfellows and is a member of the planning board.

"I wish to become a councilman because:

- "1. We need economy in our village government — desperately;
- "2. We need better relations between the village and township governments;
- "3. We need less formality between the government and the people;
- "4. I believe with savings that can be realized in the efficiency of running our village, the people should be given a little service such as trash pickup."

"Has anyone stopped to wonder why the people on the perimeter of Novi village wish to get out of the village? I honestly think they would want to stay in the village if they were to receive something for their tax dollar. I am in favor of spending money on services for the people rather than paying out money to fight disconnection cases."

Emery E. Jacques, Jr.

Emery E. Jacques, Jr. lives at 30929 Malott. A practicing attorney, he now serves as a township trustee. He is legal advisor to the Oakland county probate court, a member of the youth protection committee and past secretary-treasurer of the citizens development committee.

"As a candidate for the charter commission, I would like to take this opportunity to tell you what I would like to see in any charter that might be adopted if we are to become a Home Rule City."

"First, I would strive to retain our present charter's 5 mill limitation."

"Secondly, I would urge that we have a justice court on a salary basis with civil jurisdiction up to $500. Such a system would be more than adequate to meet our present needs."

"Thirdly, I would favor a strong City Manager form of government, with much the same duties, functions, and responsibilities that we presently have outlined in our charter for the Village Manager."

Kalin S. Johnson

Kalin S. Johnson lives at 22097 Novi road with his wife and three children. He is a graduate of the University of Michigan, in engineering. He is currently a member of the citizens development committee.

"I am a candidate for Village Council because I believe that these things need to be done:

- "1. Strengthen Village operation. I believe that city status for Novi is premature and what is really needed to cure the 'secession symptoms' is a longer period of sound, responsible Village operation."
- "2. Eventual creation of an industrial park. Because of increasing competition from neighboring and Southern communities for plants, it is no longer enough to just invite industry. The problem of providing the required facilities should be considered by the council."
- "3. Establish sound planning. Good planning is necessarily a balance between wants and needs. Ignoring either of these factors, as has been done in the past, will retard good development."

Herbert Koester

Herbert Koester, 56, lives at 42780 Eight Mile road with his wife. He has two children, and is a retired member of the Detroit police department. He has been active in various police and fire associations, and is now treasurer of the youth protection committee.

"I wish to represent and serve the people for a better Government in our Community."

"I would like to see a Charter drawn up for the peoples' interest and needs, also to encourage the voice of the citizens."

"What Novi needs is more representation and economy in Government. There is too much power in the hands of too few."

"I feel that a Councilman must approach problems with an open mind, a willingness to listen to others' view points."

"I will put forth every effort to make the right decisions for the benefit of ALL the citizens."

to have lost sight of how much it can bleed the public. It must be realized that taxation can be tolerated only so far. This is why I believe one councilman should be appointed to be a watch-dog of the funds spent."

Dean H. Lenheiser

Dean H. Lenheiser lives with his wife and two sons at 54095 Mayo court. He was elected two years ago to a four-year term on the village council. A graduate of the Detroit Business University with a degree in business administration, he is an accountant with offices in Ann Arbor.

"When I ran for Charter Commission two years ago I was opposed to a city. After serving two years on the Village Council, I am for City Incorporation."

"Many people have told me that they are satisfied with the operation of the village but fear that taxes will rise if it becomes a city."

"If elected I would be for the same 5 mills we are now paying as a village so our taxes would remain the same. Our township taxes would go to the school districts. At present almost 50% of our township taxes go to three Township Offices."

"Our boundaries will be as protected against annexation as possible and we will be better able to plan a city, finance bonds for sewers, water and other needed improvements."

"I believe selfish interests are against incorporation, either because they want to become annexed to Northville someday or because they will lose their township jobs."

Vincent A. Miklas

Vincent A. Miklas lives with his wife and four children at 23971 West LeBost drive. He was one of the original members of the planning board, serving as chairman for a year. He is a graduate of Michigan College of Mining and Technology, and holds degrees in both electrical and mechanical engineering. He is a manager of the sales division for a manufacturer.

"Whatever the decision on the question of incorporation of Novi as a home rule city, our present village government must continue to function. Your Village Council faces many important decisions in the months ahead. Thus, it is imperative that persons elected to that council have the background and capabilities to search out the facts of all issues and arrive at fair and sound judgments, unencumbered by political debts to organized pressure groups."

"Having served on the Village Planning Board since 1958, and on the Township Zoning Board for two years, I am thoroughly familiar with the long-term needs of this community and the programs necessary to satisfy these needs."

"If elected I promise:

- "1. A strengthened Village Manager form of government, which is prescribed in the Village charter, and is the most efficient and economical for a community at Novi's present stage of development."
- "2. Early adoption of the Master Plan to guide the general development of Novi."
- "3. Initiation of a Capital Improvements program providing for orderly development of increased police protection, decentralized fire department, parks, and recreational facilities to meet the needs of our growing community within the bounds of conservative fiscal policy."

James E. Simpson

James E. Simpson lives with his wife and two daughters at 23821 Ripple Creek road. He is a purchasing agent for a large industry, and holds a bachelor's degree in business administration from Michigan State University.

"I am a candidate for both Novi Village Council and Charter Commission."

"Within the next ten years Novi and the surrounding area will become more urban than suburban. With the increase in population I favor city incorporation."

"The following issues are those I feel should be closely attended, to protect our citizens:

- "Taxes — additional services to a village or city mean higher taxes. These should be studied carefully."
- "Boundaries — Boundaries must be protected to avoid annexing by other communities."

Readers Speak:

Are We Planning Community for Future?

To the Editor:

The article in the February 22nd issue of the Northville Record, concerning Urban Renewal, has set me to wondering what has happened to the gravel pit fill proposal. I quote as follows from the Urban Renewal article: "A secondary but very important aspect of re-development is that it may provide cleared land for all types of community development—residential, commercial, or whatever the Master Plan indicates. It thus becomes a very important planning tool by which a community can work towards a proper balance of land uses, which in turn makes for a stabilized and prosperous community."

This letter is not intended to argue the pros and cons of the urban renewal program. Reference is made simply to bring out the point that the use and revitalization of waste and un-sightly land is a question of vital importance to a community. Certainly the gravel pit, as it now stands on the edge of the city of Northville, is not considered a thing of beauty by any stretch of the imagination nor does it presently represent property from which a reasonable tax return can be expected. I would think that every taxpayer in the township would be vitally interested in seeing the value of this property elevated.

In the next paragraph of the Urban Renewal article, it goes on to say, "Before the federal government will participate with a community, it asks assurance that the locality is actively attempting to solve its problems." I am wondering just how we would qualify under these terms when we turned down the recent proposal, which I understand met all of the requirements of proper rejuvenation of the gravel pit area at no cost to the city or township. As I recall from your newspaper account, the principle objections were the matter of fill itself, the method of fill and the total time element. I believe these specifications were set up by the township and agreed to by the operator. I seem to have read some remarks by the people that objected to the program relative to the possibility that the program would not be properly supervised. Certainly, these arguments came up in the heat of argument and are not to be taken seriously. As American citizens, we certainly know that we have the right through our vote, through the courts and through our right of assembly to see that these things are properly handled. Certainly this advantage is much greater than it would be under a federal program administered from Washington. The second objection seemed to be the time element. I called Mr. Hayes in this regard as it did not seem feasible to me that he would wait until the last load of fill was in place before attempting to utilize the land. It is my understanding that the schedule calls for filling from the perimeter in, and a green band around the area is expected within one year. As the fill progresses, he hopes to be building substantial homes within five years. I know that, if I were submitting this plan and assuming the risk that this plan contains, as far as projecting a profit five or ten years from now, I would certainly allow a safety factor on the time element. I do not know but presume these people are good enough business men to take this into consideration and, no doubt, the ten or twelve year figure is set as a maximum against any contingencies.

I believe the reason there was apparently very little disagreement on the type and method of fill was due to the fact that there had to be a common interest. If the ultimate purpose is to be for the building of homes, the type of fill used becomes a very substantial part of any financing program for the sale of these homes. Certainly, a person would be nuts to start a program of this kind, spend all the money to fill the area, develop streets, etc., only to find that, due to improper filling and the possible resulting sagging and shifting of homes, the area did not qualify for home financing. Too often, in the heat of emotion on a thing of this nature, we forget to look for a common purpose. I think when a common sense mutual purpose is apparent, it is time to throw out the emotional element and get down to business.

My interest in writing this letter was prompted by two facts. Having been born and lived the majority of my 56 years in Michigan, I am naturally concerned with that part of Michigan I now call home, namely Northville. I chose this area to live in about a year and a half ago because I liked it. I still like it and, as a believer in the American way of life, like to see an area develop on the basis of individual initiative and free enterprise. This is fact number one. Just prior to coming to Northville, I lived in a small town in Oklahoma. While living there for eight years, I saw the population decrease from approximately 17,000 to 15,000; this, in spite of a rapid population increase in the Southwest. I saw property values decrease and taxes on the remaining residents increase. I saw business move out and new business refuse to enter. Why? Because people insisted on building fences around each little section of the whole community area. A city problem was not to be a township problem, a township problem not a county problem, etc. The result was a stagnation of any progressive action by anyone whether he was a citizen of the immediate area or not. I don't want to see this happen here; this is fact number two.

In conclusion, I also liked the recent article in your paper by Mrs. John W. Rauber, Jr. relative to keeping our city small. We chose Northville partly because it seemed to be a small town divorced from the metropolitan atmosphere of many surrounding areas. However, recent figures indicate an increase of 50 million people in the United States in the next 15 years. This represents about a 30% increase. Michigan's increase is estimated at 36%. No doubt, some of this increase will be reflected in the Northville area. Why isn't this a good time to be making plans to convert some of the blight areas around the city to usable and gradually developed areas? While we are developing Northville gradually, we might just as well be developing it beautifully. It is my understanding that the plans for the gravel pit area includes lakes, a park area and in all, a beautiful development. I would like to see a complete plan published in your paper concerning the whole proposed plan, including a projection of increased taxes derived from whatever remembered that we are dealing with an important emotional area and cannot predict the effect of movies on this subject on each individual child. Personally I feel certain that most of the children through day by day living know far more than the movies can convey. I think it is inappropriate that children at the elementary and junior high level be made aware of the pituitary-ovarian interaction such as shown in one movie.

I feel each family should resolve to do its duty in the matter of sex education in the healthiest possible manner so that their children will arrive at adult life better prepared than their parents. To do this they must do it personally and privately without this meaningless "mass media" approach. Unlike my colleague good old Sandy Iudd I do not have to hide behind an alias.

Very truly yours,
Robert R. Yoder, M.D.

Sex Education Is Family Duty

Dear Sir:

I wish that my work had permitted me to attend the P.T.A. meeting of March 1, 1962. I feel that a subject raised and acted upon which frankly has no business in the area of public education.

Sex education is a PERSONAL and PRIVATE matter. It cannot be carried out by the use of "mass media." It is a function of the family and of no other group or person, however honorable the intentions of that group or person may be. I am somewhat amazed to learn many of us as parents are willing to surrender this parental right and duty to someone else. I am aware, more than most of you, that many parents feel inadequate in this area. Those who feel this way should seek help in a PERSONAL and PRIVATE manner from a competent medical authority.

I feel that public education has far too great a task to assume something that does not belong in its realm. It must be

Cornelius Returns To Meadowbrook

A familiar figure returned to Meadowbrook Country Club last week to take over the duties of club manager.

He is Jim Cornelius, known to many members and area residents from his days as manager during the late forties.

Before coming to Meadowbrook originally, Cornelius had been catering manager at the Dearborn Inn and Detroit Athletic Club.

He left Meadowbrook to be come general manager of Yeamans Supper Club and later the Knife and Fork Club.

Cornelius is already on the job at Meadowbrook. One of the first activities of the new season will be the annual St. Patrick's Day dinner dance.

OUT OF THE PAST

ONE YEAR AGO

— It's official. Northville school teachers will tote heavier pay envelopes home next year. Last week the teachers voted 56-18 in favor of a new salary package proposed to them by the school board, and Monday night the board adopted the program.

— A six months search for a new pastor ended this week for the First United Presbyterian church of Northville with the unanimous congregation approval of Reverend Lloyd G. Brasure.

— City planners came up with a compromise zoning plan Tuesday night for zoning of land owned by the D & R building company located at the northeast corner of the city limits. Part of the land will be zoned commercial, and the rest residential.

— Novi Monday night fete departing police officer Richard Noble with a potluck dinner in the community building. Noble is retiring from the police force after nearly six years to move to Aberdeenshire, Scotland, his homeland.

FIVE YEARS AGO

— Michigan Bell telephone has requested city planners to make a zoning exception to permit them to build a new telephone exchange facility. The new facility would bring dial systems to Northville.

— Northville school officials this week were looking toward a possible April 1 groundbreak for the new American school addition after the successful sale last week of a half million dollars' worth of bonds. The bonds were sold at 3.63 percent interest, reportedly one of the lowest rates in the area in recent months.

— Every person in Northville could be vaccinated against polio between March 1 and March 10, according to local Wayne County Health Officer Dr. Howard Cadwell.

— The Novi township board has directed its attorney to begin legal proceedings to contest the February 5 election in which Yixom gained village status. In a special meeting last Saturday, the board gave township Attorney Archie Leonard the go ahead to fight the incorporation by "Whatever method he deems best."

FIFTEEN YEARS AGO

— Northville township residents are circulating petitions to ask the township board to submit to the voters the question, "shall the sale of alcoholic liquors by the glass, as well as beer and wine be permitted in the township?"

— The S. A. Ellis has purchased the Campbell Electronics of East Main street. Ellis has been an employee of the firm for the past 18 months. Before coming to the area he owned a radio store in Imlay city for ten years.

— Representatives of Michigan Bell Telephone company Tuesday morning presented a demonstration at the high school of experimentation in the use of radio and radar for expanding telephone service.

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

— Employees of the Daisy Manufacturing company in Plymouth returned to their jobs Monday, ending the 13-day strike which had brought all production to a halt.

— Northville village councilmen learned Tuesday evening that the village's fire hose is some 300 feet shorter than the minimum required by the state. The council ordered the purchase of enough additional hose to meet the requirement.

— Loyde M. German has been appointed by the village council to take over duties of the late William H. Safford as Northville's police chief.

— In the only contest in Northville township's first primary election Monday, John Listenberg, former village treasurer, took the nomination for clerk away from Sherrill W. Ambler, Republican incumbent. Democrat E. H. Williams took the nomination for county auditor.

Mrs. Maxwell Austin is in the dog house, but she doesn't mind a bit. She's the manager of the Dog House art shop which opened this week on West Main street. The shop features nicknacks for spare shelves and empty corner cabinets.

Novi School Board Official Minutes

The regular meeting of the Board of Education was called to order by the president, Dr. Ambinder at 8:00 p.m. on Monday, January 15, 1962.

Present were Dr. Ambinder, Mr. Taylor, Mr. MacBride, Mr. Heslip, Mr. Fried, Mr. Culbert and a group of interested citizens.

It was moved by Mr. Heslip and seconded by Mr. Taylor that the December 13th minutes should be amended to include Mr. Heslip's reason for voting against the purchase of the mimeograph machine and also his requesting a roll call vote. Mr. Heslip does not believe that legally money can be taken from the Building and Site Fund to make this purchase. The motion carried. The secretary's minutes were accepted as amended.

The Treasurer's report of the Fund Balances are as follows:

General Fund	$19,639.86
Lunch Fund	4,018.71
Payroll Fund	400.00
1957 Bldg. & Site Fund	142,535.08
1955 Debt Ret. Fund	20,312.00
1957 Debt Ret. Fund	6,973.18
1958 Debt Ret. Fund	1,915.07

Mr. Culbert stated that the revenue is coming in within 1% of what was projected, and the expenditures are also within 1% of the projection.

The board approved the letter that is to be sent to our suppliers notifying them of our intent to avail ourselves of their regular discount, providing we take action for payment at our first regular meeting of month upon receiving their invoice.

The Superintendent reported on his trip January 3rd, to Purdue University and information obtained on Airborne Television Teaching Program. There is going to be a non-profit organization formed with a $200 annual fee plus $1 per child per school for each school participating. This fee will entitle the school to receive both the program and the needed materials. Added to the annual fee would be the cost of a master antenna plus receivers. The board requested the Superintendent to get additional information on the program and to put this on the agenda for the February meeting.

It was moved by Mr. MacBride, and seconded by Mr. Fried that the board authorize the payment of $56,800 to complete the transaction and purchase of the property, known as the Root-Salov Property (E 1/2 of the NE 1/4 of section 21). The drafts to be issued in 2 equal payments of $28,400, payable to Rowena Salov in consideration of her 1/2 portion of the property, the other to Rowena Salov, executrix of the estate of Eugene M. Root, deceased. The motion carried.

Mr. Dean, chairman of the Citizen Committee of Finance, gave a progress report to the board stating that this committee has had 5 meetings and also has sub-committees working in special areas. The committee findings to date are:

1. Total deficit as of June 30, 1962 — $51,200.
2. Need 1 additional classroom teacher — $5,000.
3. Present salary scale increase — $6,300.
4. Supt. indicated need for 2 additional programs from the following: physical education, music, or art — $10,000.
5. Summer program in remedial and enrichment courses — $2,000.
6. Additional high school tuition — $7,000.

A comparison of the 1960-61 tax rates for operation of the thirty Oakland County School Districts indicate that all but one of these districts have a tax levy higher than Novi's.

The Board of Education will meet with the Finance Committee Wednesday, February 7th, in the library of the Novi school. At this time the committee will be prepared to give their final report and recommendations.

Mr. Perkins reported on the school athletic program.

It was moved by Mr. Fried, and seconded by Mr. MacBride that the board adopt the Athletic Eligibility Policy with the addition that "the Junior High coach and school administration will have discretionary authority to declare any student eligible when they feel a boy should participate even though he has not the minimum scholastic requirements. The motion carried.

The board approved a program of music instructions for grades three through six, using the Radio F.M. Music Instruction program broadcast from the U. of Michigan School of Music, twice weekly. Purchase of radio receivers will be made from funds provided by the Novi Mothers club.

The board approved a resolution supporting an increase of 8% in state school aid for next year.

The board approved a suggested Resolution on Federal Aid to Education received from the Hazel Park board of Education. Resolution carried 3 votes to 2.

Choose The Fuel That Keeps The Future In Mind Today

The future never looked brighter for the familiar blue flame—the symbol of natural gas service. It will continue in 1962, as in the past, to be the mark of excellence for home heating, cooking, water heating and clothes drying. Dependable natural gas does these important household tasks fast, economically, and efficiently.

But what are some of the new applications of this quiet, versatile fuel for the years ahead?

Progressive blue flame service now offers a new burner which can broil steak on both sides simultaneously... gas heating and air conditioning combination wall panels for perfect year-around climate control... radiant gas burners that warm patios and play areas... portable gas appliances such as sleek grills, coffee makers and toasters... ornamental gas lights for driveways, patios and recreational areas whose soft yellow light also repels insects... gas-heated driveways that eliminate snow shoveling and hazards of ice... These and many more applications, both in the home and in industry, prove natural gas is the blue flame of multiple service for today's modern living.

VOTE FOR Florence E. Harris

X COUNCIL X CHARTER COMMISSION

Here's Why...

I would like to express my views on the tax situation in the village. Taxes in the village must be kept to the lowest possible level, and not allowed to spiral from foolish spending, yet we must bear in mind we must maintain a high level of living standards among our personal, and wages must be raised as living costs go up.

Taxes have risen in the past two years, and this is not due to village operations and maintenance costs. There is only one way to cut taxes. The budget must be gone over, and unnecessary spending must be eliminated. The tax roll must be looked over very carefully and where there has been any chiseling, it must be put back on a competitive level. Then total up the whole, and take out the necessary budget requirements. The balance should then be cut off the tax roll proportionately and fairly, to large and small alike.

But I dare say that since taxes have been on the up trend, no council has taken on this ordeal which requires a considerable amount of study.

In fact, if taxes continue to rise, some, in fact, quite a few taxpayers will be in default, because employment is on the down grade; and you can't meet taxes if your income is below the material level of today.

This condition creates a hardship in many homes. They know how hard this money comes. In some of these homes this means less money for food, clothing and hospitalization, not to mention many other things.

The tax structure must be revised and put on a basis where it attracts industry, housing development and home owners. At present it is at a discouraging level for everyone.

Many people who read this will think of the hard time they had to get their money. Business today, with all the kinds of taxes spread upon it, has a hard time surviving, and it's survival is necessary to keep up employment. With its excessive taxes and low employment we can only arrive at one answer. Let's not contribute to it.

Business would locate in this area if the Village Government and planning commission would go all out to make it attractive (regardless of where the location might be) to those interested in going into business.

I feel that government can be both progressive and economical. Every dollar set up as an expenditure by the village council should be studied in the light of what it will cost the citizens of the village of Novi. Constant analysis of expenditures is an essential part of good government. I believe improvement can be made in this area at the present time.

I believe that under city incorporation and a new charter we can have more of a representative government at the same cost as we are operating today. At the present time there is too much power in the hands of too few. Too much power in the hands of a few men in village or city government is not good government. People who know me, know that I am not afraid to voice my opinions.

Constructive programs in certain areas, such as recreation, need to be established. In this and other Village or City departments, do we find "dead weight" that can be eliminated and new aims established for these departments? In short, can we obtain government objectives for the same amount of money?

So I am more than interested in giving business and industry an opportunity to move in Novi so our residents can enjoy a lower tax rate. We make our own security by taking advantage of opportunities offered.

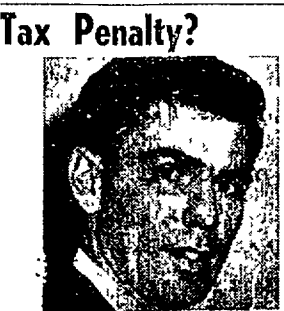

It has been my firm conviction that Village Government should be operated as economical as possible, and use as much caution as if they were spending their own money.

The Novi Area is so big and its problems so complex that it cannot satisfactorily function as a Village and a Township Government. I feel that a councilman must approach each problem with an open mind and a willingness to listen to the other fellow's point of view. However, there is certainly a long way to go if Novi is not to be engulfed by the other communities.

I am in accord with improvements; but I certainly am in disagreement with some of the ways business and industry have been handled when they came before the Village Government on different occasions.

We need industry and business in Novi and all improvements are not easily come by. It therefore necessitates a thorough understanding of the many problems inherent with such progress.

Therefore the Village Government should put forth every effort to make the right decision as the problems arise for the benefit of all the people so that each individual can be proud to say... "I LIVE IN NOVI".

Meet Leon D. Dochot

Candidate for Novi Charter Commission

I am Leon D. Dochot

I would like to represent you as a member of the Charter Commission.

Let me tell you a little about myself.

I have lived in Novi for 14 years.

I've always been active in community affairs.

I will not presume to tell you that a vote for a City is the answer to all our problems, because it isn't. Personally I do not believe that we have shown enough progress as a Village to be able to tackle the problems of a City.

If it is the will of the people to vote for a City then I would like to represent you when the charter is drawn up.

These are but a few changes I would like to see included in the Charter:

1. To hold the millage down, and make sure that there are no loop holes by which a millage increase can be spread without a vote of the people.
2. To make sure that the offices of Clerk and Treasurer are elective offices.
3. That employees of the City reside within the City.
4. That if we are to have a manager type City, that a competent man be hired and that a Council President may not serve in this capacity indefinitely, or throw us on the mercy of an Office Co-ordinator who is a Jack of all trades and a master of none. We as a City would need a competent man at the helm.

I will appreciate your vote and can sincerely say that I will work for you and our wonderful community — Novi.

Whether you honor me with your vote, that is of course up to you, but please do yourself the honor of voting on March 12.

SPEAKING for the Record

by Bill Sliger

It frequently seems that the destiny of a community is guided by a very few — those who are willing and interested in devoting time and talent to provide municipal leadership.

In general it would have to be conceded that this theory is indeed a reality, although wise community leaders keep a hand on the public pulse for guidance.

But there are exceptions. And the biggest might well be the economic well-being of a community.

No single individual or group of leaders can create a "community image". This requires a team effort that is only as strong as the number of citizens thinking and acting in the same positive direction.

This matter of providing a more balanced economic structure for the future orderly growth of Northville was a subject of considerable discussion among members of the newly formed economic development committee last week.

There has been a suggestion that the efforts of this committee might damage, or even destroy, the traditional small-town atmosphere that is so deeply cherished by those who have chosen this community in which to live.

In reality it is to maintain the traditions and high standards as personified by our schools, recreation program and residential areas that the committee was born.

The dozen or so members of the economic development committee know, and accept, what the future holds for Northville — an increasing population.

And by conservative standards it has been determined that school and county taxes (not to mention local) will nearly DOUBLE present levels by 1969.

While there may be a few homeowners who would be willing to bear extremely high residential taxes to maintain the level of services and school facilities desired, it is recognized that the majority would not and could not.

Therefore, it is the purpose of the economic development committee to bring order and balance to our growth and hope that desirable industry can be attracted to provide new tax base and lighten the load on the homeowner.

It is an opportunity to be selective — to help plan for a better community. It demonstrates a willingness to recognize that if we are to maintain that which we have, we must work for it.

Those most familiar with the problem express deep concern that we have waited so long to act. They know that in Michigan's highly competitive climate — where nearly every community of any size has active economic development groups — that it is often difficult to maintain existing industry.

And they recognize if their work is to be successful, they must have the understanding and cooperation of every citizen in the community.

This is not a job for a few. Each of us can be a goodwill ambassador for Northville. Our attitude can become infectious. It can attract good people, as well as business.

It can help the economic development committee by doing far more than words or brochures.

It can eliminate the need for creating an "image of Northville". It would already exist in the words of its residents who believe that "Northville is a good community in which to live and work" and who welcome newcomers to share the benefits.

Selecting Stocks

Babson Park, Mass., This (ferent); but the world surplus of metals is constantly becoming less. This, in a way, applies to the making of aluminum. To make aluminum there must be cheap and abundant electric power such as exists in Africa.

I like to buy copper stocks when they are cheap. The "beams" to and from satellites may someday reduce the demand for copper; but these beams and the universal use of microwaves are long years ahead.

Politics vs. New Ideas
The newspapers devote many columns to politics, and we are inclined to overestimate the importance of politics, as our investment statistics show that there is little correlation between politics and the stock market. My readers had far better study the new ideas being developed, such as "fuel cells", "new adhesives", and "foods from cellulose". New development is now in test tubes and on drawing boards have great profit possibilities.

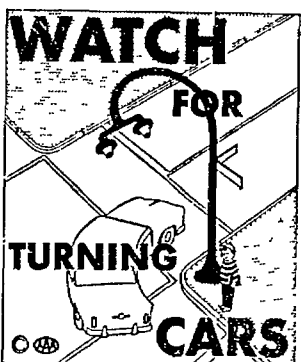

Moreover, history shows that it does not require much capital to start a company with only an "idea". But it requires great patience and persistence. Mr. Clinton Woods of 2803 Goodwood Road, Baltimore 14, Maryland, has recently published a book showing that 200 of today's biggest companies started without capital.

It is important to young people who are willing to work and have the patience to wait. I have given away over 100 of these books to help the right people, although they can be bought from Mr. Woods. These books are the best investment that I know of for anyone who doesn't want to pay out more than $5.75 (postpaid).

(Next week I will discuss in my column corporation bonds, municipal bonds, U.S. Savings Bonds, savings bank deposits, and preferred stocks)

These are primarily the "electronic and space" issues of companies getting U.S. defense contracts. I do not like these, even though they are much lower in price than they were a while ago. Sometime this nuclear weapons race will end. I do not even expect that any readers of my column will see "world disarmament". This is silly to even talk about now. But the use of atomic and hydrogen bombs to destroy cities will be controlled, especially before China gets them. As this is generally recognized, these stocks will lose their present unjustified glamour.

Unpopular common stocks are the railroads, the cement companies, the coppers and other metals. I would keep out of railroad stocks (bonds are different).

Dr. Mudd Replies

When Mom Has to Work

Dear Dr. Mudd:

Should mothers work outside the home? Is it fair to the children?

I have a neighbor who leaves for work every morning and doesn't get back until after her husband has gotten home from his job. Her kids are left to shift for themselves in the meantime.

I think a mother should be responsible for her children and not let them run wild.

Mrs. F.C.

Dear Mrs. F.C.:
It is not a question of whether mothers should or should not work outside the home. Who is to say? Who can take the responsibility of saying! And most importantly, who really has sufficient knowledge to make arbitrary judgments of all working mothers without first knowing all of the facts.

Some mothers have to work, especially if they are the only wage earners in the family. Others feel it important to contribute whatever their earnings might be to elevate the living standards of their families. Still others would be so dreadfully unhappy and dissatisfied at what they take to be the uninspiring task of "keeping house" that it is better both for them, their husbands, and their children if they are productively occupied outside of the home.

As to children — where does neglect begin and encouragement to independence end? I don't think anyone can define either one or the other and without such definition generally

Taxes in Wisconsin, Too

Those worried about the possibility of a state income tax might find consolation in the recent experience of their neighbors to the west.

The Wisconsin legislature enacted an entirely new 3 percent sales tax on "selected items," including cars, trucks, radio and television sets, sporting equipment, musical instruments, boats, lawn and garden supplies, furniture and appliances and hotel and motel accommodations.

Wisconsin's tax, estimated to bring in $60 million a year, also would hit sale of restaurant meals, athletic event tickets, theater and other entertainment costs, telephone and telegraph service, beer, liquor and tobacco products.

As if this wasn't sufficient blow to the taxpayer's pocketbook, the legislature in our sister state increased the income tax by 1 percent on incomes over $15,000 and 1 1/2 percent on those higher.

Reductions in personal property taxes were included in the comprehensive tax package in Wisconsin.

Boating and other uses of Michigan's thousands of lakes have increased sharply in recent years, and brought with it a hike in the number of accidents and deaths in water.

Although the reporting system from which the State Police compute the annual water accident statistics is not complete, it indicates strongly that increased use also brings increased misuse of facilities.

During 1961 various police agencies throughout the state reported 262 drownings and 231 other personal injuries in water accidents. The death toll was an increase of 12 per cent from the previous year. The injury count was up 5.5 percent.

A large percentage of the drownings, 64.5 percent, were charged to non-boating accidents.

State Police attribute the greatest portion of the non-boating deaths to carelessness. Fifty-four of the 156 non-boating fatalities involved persons who fell from bridges, banks, docks, piers or other waterside facilities.

Another 47 of the drowning victims were described as "non-proficient swimmers" and 35 more deaths were reported as caused by physical failure or exhaustion.

Among the boating accidents, carelessness also took its toll. Some kind of "operator negligence" was blamed for 24 of the deaths and another 12 persons died because boat operators disregarded weather conditions.

Overloaded boats, reckless operation, passenger negligence, unsafe boats and overpowered craft resulted in several other deaths. The department report showed no victims of boating accidents in which fire, explosion, wave swamps or other natural causes were the prime cause.

State officials are taking a close look at the 1961 water accident report to determine
