

Hearing to Decide Walnut Paving Issue

The Northville city council returns to the matter of special paving by special assessment Monday night and will try to accomplish what it failed to do one month ago.

JA FINALIST — Daryl Hopper, who has been selected as a finalist in tonight's competition for the Junior Achievement "President of the Year" award, shows off the home workshop small parts dispenser his firm makes at the JA headquarters in Plymouth.

Local Boy Eyes Top JA Honors

A Northville youth who is the president of a Plymouth Junior Achievement company has been selected as a finalist in JA's annual President of the Year contest for southeastern Michigan.

Daryl Hopper, 18-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hopper of 4773 West Seven Mile road, is the candidate. As the prelude to one of the world's smallest corporations, he has made an outstanding record in managing the affairs of his diminutive business firm.

Hopper is president of the Saprobus company, manufacturers of a home workshop nut and bolt dispenser. His firm is counseled by advisers from Western Electric, and has grossed $450 in sales to date.

The Northville high school student is one of six presidents of JA firms in this area to have qualified for the finals. The annual contest is sponsored and judged by the Michigan chapter of the Young Presidents Organization.

Judging will be held tonight (Thursday) during a banquet at the Botsford Inn in Farmington. The winner will receive an all-expense paid trip to the National Junior Achievement conference to be held at Indiana University next August.

JC's Plan Events

Candy and special surprises await Northville area small fry come Saturday morning, April 21.

The Junior Chamber of Commerce will sponsor the third annual Easter Egg Hunt, this year at the high school athletic field.

William Sullivan is chairman of the event.

The Jaycees have another event coming up this Saturday at 8 p.m. at the American Legion hall. It's the "Bunny Feather Party". There'll be prizes and refreshments at the fund-raising event.

VFW Installation Coming Up Friday

Northville VFW post and ladies auxiliary officers will be installed Friday evening.

The installation ceremonies, to be held at the post home at 438 South Main street, will begin at 7:30. Food and refreshments will be served following the ceremonies.

In a "second time around" effort the council will hold a public hearing to confirm the assessment roll for the paving of East, High, Elm and Walnut streets.

Specifically, the proposal calls for paving of those portions of the streets where curb and gutter have already been installed.

It is proposed that the property owners would be assessed 25 per cent on a per front foot basis. Estimated cost of the entire project is $13,374.

Under the proposed assessment formula the 49 property owners involved in the special assessment district would pay a combined total of $2,875.30, while the remaining $10,498.70 would be paid from the city's general fund.

Last month the East-High-Elm-Walnut street project was considered along with the North Center street paving assessment district. The latter passed. But a petition from residents of the East-High-Elm-Walnut area protesting the project blocked its passage.

The petition, which contained signatures of owners who would bear more than 50 per cent of the assessment, made it necessary for the proposal to pass the council by a four-fifths vote.

Councilmembers Beatrice Carlson and Richard Juday, who oppose special assessments, voted "no" thus killing the project.

The next week, however, another petition representing property owners who would bear 60 percent of the proposed assessment asked for reconsideration.

Presented by C. Oscar Hammond, the petition asked that the council pave the street by the 25 per cent assessment method.

On the basis of the petition the council majority — Mayor A. M. Allen and Councilmen Richard Ambler and John Canterbury — speedily approved new hearings on the project.

Paving on North Center street from the Eight Mile road cut-off to South Ely drive is scheduled to begin as soon as school closes, June 15.

Presumably, if the East-High-Elm-Walnut proposal passes Monday night, advertisements for bids would be issued immediately and paving would begin as soon as possible.

$74,000 Tuition

The Northville school board find means to increase revenues by $73,000 — approximately six mills on the school district's tax base — to offset several years of deficit financing and provide for unavoidable cost increases.

The biggest slice of the $73,000 pie would go to cover this year's $28-30,000 budget deficit. The finance committee has pointed out that this is a continuing debt which must be met each year in order to operate on a balanced budget.

Another $10-15,000 would go each year toward retirement of $40,000 in "unmanageable" deficits which have mounted up over the past several years.

Finance committee Chairman William Dean has explained that deficit financing and contracted obligations of the school district have resulted in a debt totaling nearly $51,000.

While $11,000 of this amount can be taken care of through regular financing, there is a $40,000 debt which he said his committee feels must be retired in the next three or four years.

The approximately $30,000 remaining would be used to cover increased operational costs and provide minimal curriculum improvements.

School's Out

Northville public school children will have a week's spring vacation next week, April 16-20.

But students at Our Lady of Victory and St. Paul's Lutheran school will have to wait until Good Friday, April 20. Both of the parochial schools will hold vacations starting Good Friday through the week following Easter.

Con-Con Delegates To Speak Here

Two constitutional convention delegates from this area will be guest speakers at an Optimist club dinner next Wednesday.

Anna M. Conklin

Mrs. Anne M. Conklin, delegate from the 21st representative district, and Weldon O. Yeager, delegate from the 18th senatorial district, will speak at the Wednesday evening dinner in the Lutheran church hall. Yeager has served on the Reapportionment committee.

The public is invited to the $1.75-a-plate dinner, which gets underway at 6:30. Reservations may be made by calling L. W. Snow, Jr., FI 9-1953, or Roger McClain, FI 9-0485.

Those who do not wish to attend the dinner may still hear the speakers. They should go to the church hall at about 7:30.

Novi Decides School Millage Bid Monday

Novi school district voters will go to the polls Monday to decide whether the school board shall be given the power to levy a six-mill increase in school taxes over the next five years.

The special school election was set up last February with unanimous approval of the school board — one of the few occasions in the past two years when the board was in complete agreement on a "hot" issue.

The decision to call for the election followed receipt of a citizens study committee's report on the immediate financial needs of the school system.

In its final report, the finance committee recommended the board find means to increase revenues by $73,000 — approximately six mills on the school district's tax base — to offset several years of deficit financing and provide for unavoidable cost increases.

The curriculum subcommittee of the finance study group has recommended that half of the final $10,000 be used to add a physical education program for upper elementary and junior high school students.

They proposed the rest go for summer enrichment and remedial reading courses and addition of some music or art to the regular curriculum.

Board member John MacBride, who voiced the motion calling for the election, said he was "disappointed" that the financial committee couldn't find means for greater program expansion.

School Budget Nears $1 Million

The cost of operating Northville's public schools has become a near-million dollar a year business. Estimated expenditures just a whisker away from the million dollar figure were contained in a 1962-63 school year budget of $966,628 approved by the board of education Monday night.

The record budget — eclipsing last year's figure by about $63,000 — is being submitted to the Wayne County Tax Allocation board for review this week.

Despite the sizeable increase, the package carries no added burden for district taxpayers. An estimated rise of close to a million dollars in the district's state equalized valuation should bring sufficient revenues to balance the budget.

The maximum 17.9 mills for operating expenses along with 7.85 for debt retirement are currently being levied in the district.

Though tax rates will not be set until late summer, Director of Administrative Services E. V. Ellison, budget author, said all indications are that they will remain the same. He further anticipates a 90 per cent tax collection.

Any change in the amounts of state aid, tuition monies or federal aid could alter actual revenues.

Even at a record high, the budget leaves no room for impulse spending. Expenditures in major categories have been pared to the minimum. Allowances for several items — book-keeping machine, additional library help, fence for the football field, salary for a school psychologist, additional lockers at the high school and others — had to be excluded.

Instruction, the most costly item in the tentative budget — tentative until it is okayed by the allocation board — shows the largest increase over last year, $69,107. Implementation of the new salary schedule for teachers accounts for the bulk of the increase. Salaries of regular teachers alone amounts to $577,977. Pay for principals and clerical help as well as the cost of instructional supplies is also included in this item.

The next largest increase — $4,100 — comes under pupil transportation, which Ellison said was needed with the addition of extra bus runs.

An additional $5,000 also had to be added to pay for the first half of a new salary schedule for custodial and maintenance employees that was passed by the board Monday night.

In breaking down each item, Ellison pointed out that contrasts in some areas may be accounted for by the new budget form which the county has required this year.

Saturday, May 12 'has been set as the deadline for candidates to file petitions of nomination with Board Secretary Donald Lawrence. Petitions, which can be obtained from Lawrence or at board offices in the Main Street school, must bear the signatures of 50 registered electors.

District residents have until May 14 to register.

School Elects Two in June

Voters in the Northville school district will go to the polls June 11 to fill two openings on the board of education.

Closing out their terms this year are Board President Robert Shafer and Vice-President William Crump. To date neither has indicated whether he will or will not seek re-election.

A proposed new pay plan presented to the board last month would not have given supervising teachers and coaches any across the board raises, but did provide for up to three annual $50 increases for coaches who continued in a sport. No such provision was included for teachers in charge of academic extra-curricular activities.

It received a lukewarm reception from several teachers whose pay it would affect. Agreeing there were inequities in the current and suggested schedules, the board allotted $10,757 for the salaries and authorized Superintendent Russell Amerman to okay any wage adjustments until the entire program can be again reviewed.

Not yet satisfied that there has been a "meeting of the minds", board members turned down a modified plan for paying teachers in charge of extra-curricular activities with Trustee Ed Angove casting the only dissenting vote.

The plan was devised by Director of Administrative Services E. V. Ellison and a committee representing the schools' 19 maintenance and custodial employees.

Cross Your Fingers and Count to 10 — Friday's the 13th

If you've any respect at all for superstition, plan on spending tomorrow in the quiet seclusion of a locked room, rabbit's foot in one hand and horseshoe in the other.

The calendar is turning up another one of those days of the demons—Friday, the 13th.

Notorious for the bad luck it brings, the thirteenth can be your luckiest if your birthday happens to fall on the thirteenth day of a month.

Born on other day, caution should be your watchword. Remember, a stitch in time saves nine.

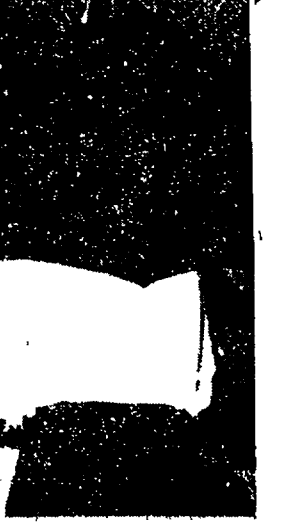

And speaking of nine, you'd better start warding off those evil spirits before their heyday. By all means let out that purring black cat before the stroke of midnight. Should he cross your path tomorrow only a pinch of salt thrown over your left shoulder will keep the devil at a distance.

Maybe you should forego salt on your breakfast eggs, too. Spilled salt can bring nothing but ill fortune.

As long as you're taking precautions, keep that umbrella closed unless, of course, you're outside in a downpour.

If perchance you do leave that secluded room, take the long way around open lad-dets oops, you shouldn't have stepped on that crack in the sidewalk — lucky you took along some salt to toss over your shoulder ... now don't spill it.

Cancer Drive Team Needs White Goods

Northville women teaming up with the Michigan Cancer Foundation in its April cancer control crusade have issued another request for donations of salvage materials.

General Chairman Mrs. Raymond Nast said parents may send salvage white goods to school with their children. Accepting salvage materials for the committee in town are the Detroit Edison office, Ritchie Bros. Laundry and Dry Cleaning and Freydl Cleaners and Men's Wear.

Mrs. Nast again reminded area residents that the crusade she and her committee are spearheading is an educational campaign. The Michigan Cancer Foundation, she points out, is a Torch Drive agency and as such receives monies from the yearly United Fund effort.

By SHARON MAZANEC

Margaret Mairs and Grace Driscoll were old friends before they ever met.

Quite an accomplishment, you'll have to admit, for two women who live an ocean apart.

With Mrs. Mairs' home in Novi and Mrs. Driscoll's in Blaydon on Tyne, England, there were no quick conversations over the back fence or a fresh pot of coffee. Even phone chats were out of the question. After all, how much can you say in three sweeps of a second hand. And trans-Atlantic calls cost money.

Despite the geographical barriers, their friendship flourished. How it did is a story that almost eclipses their first person-to-person meeting last month.

The two started out with one thing in common — both are homemakers. Both, moreover, are students of homemaking. Consequently, they joined extension groups in their hometowns.

It was at one of these extension sessions that Mrs. Mairs learned of a pen pal program whereby homemakers in one country shared ideas with homemakers in another country. The Novi housewife, who likes to write anyway, signed up. She got off her first letter March 2, 1952. Its destination: Mrs. Buri Driscoll, Blaydon on Tyne, England.

In the intervening 10 years the homemakers have learned

Girl Scouts Revamp Age Groups for '63

Officers of the Huron Valley Girl Scout council met last week to initiate formal preparations for a change in the Girl Scout organization that will introduce a fourth category for Girl Scouts throughout the country.

Mrs. Casper Enkemann, Ann Arbor president of the council, said that beginning next year scouting's present three age-level groups — Brownies, Intermediates and Seniors — will be dropped in favor of four age-level groups.

The new groupings will be: Brownies, ages 7 and 8; Juniors, Ages 9-11; Cadettes; ages 12-14; and Seniors, ages 15-17.

Mrs. Francis Jennings, Northville troop consultant, met in Chicago last month with other regional coordinators to get advance information of the proposed change-over.

"She has been appointed program launching coordinator for the entire Huron Valley council, which encompasses Washtenaw, Livingston and the western half of Wayne counties. Mrs. Jennings will coordinate a large-scale effort to explain plans for changes to the Girl Scout family and to other community groups that work closely with the Girl Scouts.

NHS Seven Cops Honors In Forensics

Northville high schoolers flexed their forensic muscles last weekend, cornering seven places in the district contest held at Milford.

Coach Florence Panattoni took seven students to the competition and all placed. Those vying in the six-school meet from Northville and their categories were:

Terry LaRue, first, Sheila Sandrock, second, declamation; Ed Austin, first, Grace Brinson, second, humorous; Manfred Bartlett, first, Phil Simonton, third, oration; Dave Lane, second, Freda Angel, third, interpretive; Dennis Gilbert, first, extemporaneous.

Miss Panattoni said the students will now go on to regional competition to be scheduled sometime between April 16 and May 5 at Southfield high school in Southfield.

News Around Northville

Mrs. E. A. Kohler, a former Northville resident who now makes her home in Reseda, California, has been visiting friends and relatives in Northville area while on vacation with her sister in Plymouth.

Joining the James Cowies and daughter, Suzanne, for dinner Sunday were Mr. Cowie's father, James Cowie, Sr., and sister, Barbara Cowie, of Detroit; Mr. and Mrs. Ted Marand, of Ferndale; and Boris Dumitroff, of Livonia.

After dinner they all went to the high school for the concert by the G-M chorus and the Presbyterian church bell ringers, which was sponsored by the Men's club of the church.

Mrs. Harold Bloom, Mrs. Robert Coolman and Mrs. Vance Masters were hostesses to a luncheon shower Saturday for 70 friends honoring Dorothy Hall.

Miss Hall and Richard Allen Buckley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Allen J. Buckley, 425 Yerkes, have set August 25 as their wedding date.

The luncheon shower was scale effort to explain plans for changes to the Girl Scout family and to other community groups that work closely with the Girl Scouts.

The present three age-level structure was established in 1938. The recent national studies conducted for the Girl Scouts of the U.S.A. by the University of Michigan's Survey Research center prompted the pending revision. The studies dealt with the needs and interests of adolescent girls and with the attitudes of Girl Scouts and their leaders towards the existing program.

Mrs. Enkemann said the local change-over will be gradual. By September of 1963 all troops should be participating in the new program, she stated.

Neighborhood "service teams" composed of three volunteer workers: the neighborhood chairman, troop consultant and troop organizer, will direct the transition. Consulting with the service team will be a professional staff member from council headquarters.

The new age levels will become effective simultaneously with the issue of four new handbooks for Girl Scouts in September, 1963.

While groupings and their names are being modified, there will be no change in the fundamental elements of the Girl Scout program, which were shown by the U-M study to be "as valid today as they were 50 years ago."

One of the primary goals of the new program is to make the scouting program of informal education a more effective complement to the modern school curriculum.

To facilitate the change-over, members of the training team will go to Purdue University this fall for several days of classes.

GETTING ACQUAINTED — Food and friendship shared top billing on the menu at Sunday night's potluck supper hosted by the Newcomer's club in the social hall of Our Lady of Victory church. Heading the club next year will be (l-r) Mrs. Arthur Hempe, president; Mrs. Harold Bittner, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Daniel Peacock, vice president; and Mrs. Fred Ishac, treasurer. Recording Secretary Mrs. James Norris couldn't attend.

Junior High Great Books Co-Founder Bookworms Coming to Detroit Monday Celebrate

Northville and Novi Great Books Discussion groups invite area residents to hear Dr. Mortimer J. Adler, eminent educator and director of the Institute for Philosophical Research in San Francisco, discuss "Life-time of Reading."

The lecture will be held in the Marygrove College auditorium, 8425 West McNichols, Detroit, on Monday morning at 10 o'clock.

Stressing the values of libraries, books and reading have been club officers, Margaret Godley, president; Lynn Tilkka, vice-president; Rachel Cargo, corresponding secretary; and Mary Horsfall, recording secretary.

Capping the junior high library week observance is a special meeting today (Thursday) at which the 26 members of the library staff will receive the orange and black Bookworm pin. Mrs. Donald Van Inen will address the group.

The club is also planning a tea to recognize the Northville Mother's club for the hundred-plus hours of volunteer work its members have given to library work.

Sponsor of the club is Miss B. Ione Palmer, librarian, who last week attended the Michigan Association of School Librarians Spring meeting at Ann Arbor.

Interested Northville persons should contact Mrs. George Weiss, 925 Grace, FI 9-3190, or Mrs. Rhea Wilcox, Northville public library, 107 South Wing, FI 9-3020. In Novi inquiries can be directed to the public library, Novi road, FI 9-0720.

Author of "How to Read a Book" and the "Syntopicon", Dr. Adler is co-founder of the international Great Books Discussion program and a member of the Great Books Foundation's board of directors.

He recently collaborated with the foundation in selecting and editing the readings for Junior Great Books for students in grades five through twelve. This program, pioneered in South-eastern Michigan two years ago, is presently serving 3,000 young people and plans are now being formulated to make it nationwide.

Conference seminars, workshops, clinics and assemblies were devoted to issues dealing with the nation's physical and mental well being. Reflected in all the meetings was the work of administrators and educators as they continue to implement the President's mandate to develop a stronger, healthier nation.

Demonstrate Goodwill Pick-Up Mosaic Art Scheduled Monday At Gallery

Demonstrations of how to make mosaics will be the highlight of a special exhibit at Hartley-Powers gallery, 116 Main, during April.

Mrs. Jessie Hudson, featured artist and president of the Three Cities Art club, will be at the gallery on Thursday and Saturday afternoons, April 13-14, to show the various steps in the ancient craft. Accompanying her demonstrations will be a display of mosaics created from Italian and Byzantine glass, broken pottery and pieces of glass on glass.

A sampling of Mrs. Hudson's paintings in oil, watercolor and acrylic, silk-screen and woodcut prints and some sculpture is also planned.

A reception marking the opening of this varied exhibit is slated Sunday from 2 to 6 p.m.

Mrs. Hudson, who is to graduate with a degree in fine arts from Eastern Michigan University in June, will be on hand for demonstrations from 1 to 5 on April 19, 21, 26 and 28. Her other works can be seen at the gallery weekdays 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. and on Fridays 10 a.m. to 9 p.m.

Alert Merchants
To Counterfeiters
Northville Police Chief Eugene King cautioned local merchants again this week not to accept money orders from persons using a Canadian chauffeur's license for identification.
King, attending a Southeastern Michigan Chiefs of Police association meeting in Warren last week, said he had learned from a U.S. Customs officer that a ring of counterfeiters is still buying U.S. postal money orders with counterfeit money and cashing them in the Greater Detroit area presenting Canadian chauffeur's licenses for identification.
The customs official told the chiefs association that 17 suspects had been arrested, but that some 3,000 chauffeur's license blanks had been stolen from the Canadian transportation office (licensing bureau) not long after the arrests.

Conservation Officials Issue Fire Warnings

Michigan landowners are urged to take every safety precaution possible before they start burning leaves and other debris this spring, following a rash of forest and grassland fires which damaged 488 acres in the lower peninsula during the week ended April 1.
Last week's toll reflects conditions in the southern part of the state which have all the makings of a dangerous spring season. A combination of Department of Conservation officials said that the recent lack of rain, a hot and gusty weather call for extra caution on the part of debris burners.
Landowners are reminded they must get burning permits from the Department before starting open fires, regardless of where they plan to burn. Permits are free and available at all Department district and field offices and from any conservation officer, fire officer, or townsmen.
Nearly 460 acres burned in the southern lower peninsula during the March 26-April 1 period. Another 28 acres were damaged in Baldwin and Gladwin districts of the northern lower peninsula. No fires were reported elsewhere in northern Michigan where snow is temporarily holding off the spring forest fire threat.

Know Your Grass Seed
With Michigan citizens spending $6 million to $8 million a year for 10 to 12 million pounds of lawn seeding mixtures and turf grass seed, Director G. S. McIntyre of the Michigan Department of Agriculture advises purchasers to read the labels on seed containers before buying.
The labels show germination, purity of seed, and the varieties of grasses making up the mixtures.
The best fine leaved perennial turf lawns are established by planting Kentucky bluegrass varieties or red fescue varieties. The higher the content of these ingredients as shown by the label, the better the turf is expected to be.
Some cheaper mixtures contain high percentages of temporary turf grasses. The big ingredient is rye grass. The cheaper the law mixture in price, the greater the percentage of rye grass or other temporary turf grasses.
The agricultural department operates a seed testing laboratory for the determination of purity and germination of seeds used by farmers, gardeners and others. A significant part of this work is on lawn mixtures and turf grasses.
Chief Seed Analyst John Garver says about 1,100 tests a year are made on turf grasses and lawn mixtures. Among them are about 500 of the complicated lawn mixtures that may contain as many as six or seven different ingredients.
Garver is skeptical of the value of "bargain" seeding mixtures if the homeowner expects a fine leaved permanent turf.

Thinclads 'Weather' First Action

Northville Record—Novi News—Thursday, April 12, 1962
Section One — Page Seven

Although Friday the 13th was several days away, Northville Mustang thinclads still suffered some of the consequences Monday afternoon.

Bad weather, which has taken its toll of spring sports practice time, caused a postponement of Monday's scheduled opening track meet with Holly.

With on-again, off-again threats of rain and a cold wind blowing through the oval of Northville's new track facility slated to be used for the first time Monday — the meet was called off. It has been rescheduled for May 29.

Track Coach Paul Mack said the team was a little disappointed at not having a meet before it travels to Romulus tomorrow (Friday), but added that spirits were not dampened.

Mack pointed out that weather is always a gamble at the start of the season, and post-ponements are always considered a possibility until warmer weather settles in.

Northville's new track, a fenced-in oval nestled in a small ravine on the north side of the Eight Mile road cut-off, has lain dormant for a year while the track settled. It will not see action now until a week from Saturday, when the Mustangs play host to St. Stephens.

In other spring sports action, the Mustang baseball squad is slated to go against Milford today for its season opener.

Milford was last year's league leaders, losing only two games, while Northville ended the season as runner-up with three league losses.

Coach Stan Galonka says his team can do as well as last year, but may have some difficulty at first. One reason, he said, is that Northville was two weeks late in starting practice for spring sports because of the extra-long basketball season.

Galonka also has a depth problem.

"If any of our starters get hurt, we'll be in serious trouble," he said.

One sore spot is the pitching mound. Lanky Dan Brown "looks even stronger than last year," but it takes more than one pitcher to carry a club through the season.

Tom Swiss, another returning pitcher, has back problems that so far haven't kept him from light practice workouts, Galonka said. But his back may keep him off the mound for competition.

After tonight's opener, Northville's ball schedule comes on strong with two and three games a week. The Mustangs play again next Monday, at Brighton, and travel Thursday to Clarencetown.

Northville's linksmen also open their season this week, meeting Milford Friday afternoon in away matches.

While the golf squad has suffered the same short practice period, Coach Al Jones hasn't quite so much to worry about. He's got a full slate of returning lettermen, and is confident of a successful season.

"If each of the boys has picked up a couple of strokes over last year," he predicted, "we'll be as strong as most of our competition."

Getting the latest, but the heaviest season start is tennis. Coach Keith Krause's netters. They open with a home match against Holly next Monday, and will return to the courts Wednesday to play host to Southfield. Next Thursday they travel to Milford.

Krause said he has returning power in his singles netters, but may be weak on doubles. Most experience of his five returning lettermen has been in singles competition, he said, but he added that he's looking for a couple of varsity newcomers to help out in doubles.

All in all, Northville's bid for the Wayne Oakland League's All Sports trophy looks quite bright. With perfect grid and cage seasons under their belts, and promises of good seasons in the various spring sports, this year's trophy is a near cinch for local athletes.

BATTER UP — Mustang ball player Tom Swiss faces the world's strangest looking pitcher during a recent practice session. The latest addition to the Northville team tirelessly gives each batter a good work out. And according to Athletic Director Al Jones, it can even throw a curve ball — if the ball is taped on one side.

Leapin' Lizards!

Leaping Larry Chene and La Bestia will be featured combatants April 21 when the Novi Oddfellows sponsor a wrestling match in the Northville community building.

Tickets for the event, which will also feature Martino Angelo vs. Tony Pafisi, Louie Klein vs. Karl Von Stroheim and midgets Irish Jackie vs. Tiny Tim, will be available at the door. Tickets are now on sale at the Northville Gambles store and Novi Rexall Drug. The matches are slated to get underway at 8 p.m.

Recreation Ball to Start

This Saturday morning will mark the start of Northville's summer recreation baseball program, director Ken Conley has announced.

He said all boys who will be 10 by July and who will not be 14 before September may join the program. They should report to diamond number one in Cass Benton park by 9 Saturday morning.

AWARD BANQUET for Northville Mustang cagers was graced by River Rouge Coach Lofton Greene (standing) last week as a number of Northville business and professional men sponsored the event. Greene brought two all-too-familiar (but friendly) faces along — those of Panther aces Ken Wilbur and Lou Hyatt, who looked on later as the cagers were presented with gold basketball awards.

Danger Signs Of Cancer Noted

Cancer took 3,375 lives in Detroit in 1961 according to a year, notes Dr. Joseph G. Molner, City-County Health Commissioner, states. This is 115 more persons than during 1960.

Cancer was second among the leading causes of death last year, notes Dr. Joseph G. Molner of the county health department as it has been for the last 15 years. Heart disease was first. In recent years through new and better methods of detection, much greater progress has been made in discovering cancer in its early stages.

Report 3 B&E's Here Within Week

Two Northville businesses and one home were broken into during the past week, report police.

Power tools valued at $572 were taken from James Bump Shop, 128 West Main, sometime Monday night. Intruders who forced their way into G. E. Miller Sales and Service, 127 Hutton, Saturday night left empty-handed.

Chief Eugene King said entry in both cases was made by using bolt cutters to sever door locks.

The W. W. Nichols, whose home at 219 Ely drive was broken into Monday night, could find nothing missing. They said a connecting door between the house and adjoining garage had been opened.

Prompt treatment by a competent physician will cure most cancers. Only a physician has the knowledge, skill and experience to be able to diagnose or to treat cancer. The best defenses for yourself or members of your family are as follows: Have a yearly examination by a competent physician, know how cancer develops, learn the danger signs and get medical help at once if any of them occur.

People of any age can be the victim of cancer. Among the causes of death from diseases, it ranks highest among children. Some persons think of this as a woman's disease. This is far from being the truth because since 1949 more men than women have died of cancer. The proportion is about 53 men to every 47 women. The chief cause of cancer deaths among men is from lung cancer.

The danger signs of cancer are:

1. Unusual bleeding or discharge.
2. A lump or thickening in the breast or elsewhere.
3. A sore that does not heal.
4. Persistent change in bowel or bladder habits.
5. Persistent hoarseness or cough.
6. Persistent indigestion or difficulty in swallowing.
7. Change in wart or mole.

Radium, surgery and x-ray used independently or in combination are recognized treatments for cancer. There are no home remedies which can cure or alleviate it.

Teen Driver Eludes Police—For a While

A teenage driver who eluded pursuing Northville police and ran a roadblock set up by Farmington police at Eight Mile and Farmington roads has been ordered to appear in Detroit Juvenile court, reports Police Chief Eugene King.

The youth, 15-year-old son of a Plymouth couple, speeded away from police about a mile south of the roadblock. The chase took place shortly after midnight Friday when Northville officers were called to investigate what appeared to be an attempted tire theft near Ely and North Center.

As they approached the scene they observed the youth and three companions driving away and took out after them. A check of the license plate number revealed the owner of the car, who said his son had taken it without his knowledge.

Disbanded Auxiliary Shares It's Wealth

Three hospitals serving the Northville area have received gift donations totaling $768.64 from the now disbanded Community General hospital auxiliary.

The money represents the auxiliary's treasury balance when bankruptcy forced Community General to close last summer. It was split among St. Mary hospital, Livonia, Plymouth State Home and Training school and Northville State hospital.

Each institution has a functioning auxiliary, which in almost every case includes women who worked with the Community General group.

LET'S TALK CARS . . .

It's INCOME TAX Time Again

If you use your car only for pleasure and personal driving you can't deduct a portion of the operating expenses and depreciation as business users can, but there are still many deductions you should be aware of.

This is the time when you receive an additional benefit for purchasing on a time payment plan. The interest applied to the payments made within the year is deductible.

So are state and local taxes applied when you bought your car, your annual registration fee, driver's licence and property tax. If your car was stolen or damaged in an accident and the loss wasn't covered by insurance, then that loss is deductible.

Federal taxes at the time you purchased your car or that you paid on gas and oil are of course not deductible, but state and local taxes are providing they are accompanied by proof in the form of sales slips, etc.

The Internal Revenue Service is scrupulously fair and they want only the money they are entitled to. They can often be exceptionally thorough in their checking, so if there is serious doubt about some items it would be a wise investment to spend a few dollars for the help of a competent tax counsel to set you straight. Especially if business and personal use are combined.

The Northville fire department answered four calls during the past week.

A faulty thermostat in a wall oven at the home of Edwin Langtry, 712 Thayer boulevard, caused a grease fire Friday afternoon. The oven and cabinet were damaged.

The other calls were for grass fires. The first was Saturday afternoon on Eight Mile road. There were also grass fires Sunday evening, at Five Mile and Maxwell roads, and Tuesday afternoon between Allen Drive and Novi road.

Dream Homes Come True in Spring

Spring is the time when a young man's fancy traditionally turns to other things. But spring is also the time when married couples, young and old, start dreaming of that new house.

Spring construction in the Northville-Nowi area is a combination of boom and bust.

Novi construction is at a literal standstill because Oakland county's spring load limits on the roads make it impossible to bring in heavy equipment, explains Willowbrook developer Paul LeBost, who plans to start soon on a 104-home addition to the subdivision.

In Northville, Trend Homes, Incorporated, developers, of the Village Green subdivision, is busy getting started on this season's construction, and builder John Northup has plans for opening another section of Taft Colony.

There are two patterns generally followed by prospective homeowners in picking a lot and deciding on a house plan.

One is to choose a house style and find a lot which will compliment it, and the other is to purchase a lot and choose a house that fits in with the surroundings.

There are many considerations which make the difference in deciding which process prospective homeowners follow.

Some want a place which has one specific asset, one builder said. For instance, they may want a setting which has trees, and this may be all they have in mind when they start hunting.

Another important consideration is location. If the family is young, it may base its decision on nearness of schools.

If it is an older couple, the decision may be based upon the closeness of a shopping area.

Services, such as roads and the availability of sewers and water are other aspects of a location which effect the decisions of families interested in building a new home.

All of these considerations are tied to the 'lot first' type of planning for a new home. Once a family has weighed its wants against what is available in lots and made its final decision, it must then select a house style that will blend in with the lot setting.

The main advantage of the 'house-first' type of planning is that the family may fulfill some specific need.

Older couples whose children have moved away, for example, may want a two-story house designed so they can live on the ground floor. The rest of the house may then be shut off until they have guests.

One thing nearly every family wants now is a basement, reports Mrs. Betty Tam, secretary in charge of sales for John Northup company.

She said basements are in demand for such uses as recreation, work shops, storage and more-even heating of the rest of the house.

She said they are experiencing less interest in one-level homes, partly because they are the most expensive. She explained that it costs more per room for plumbing, electricity, heating and some other items to build a ranch type house than to build two-story houses.

The most popular style house in Taft Colony is the colonial. It is the choice of active, growing families, Mrs. Tam said.

Nearly as popular as the colonial is the cape cod style. Both can be varied a great deal, she explained, and are therefore common choices.

Road load limits have also slowed work on new homes in Northville. But Northup will have about eight homes going up by the end of this week.

The colonial is also the top seller in Village Green, said Sales Manager Dale Kinn. He explained that it offers about the most square footage of floor space for the dollar and is traditionally the best seller as a used home.

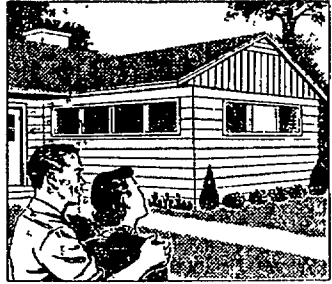

The bi-level is next in popularity of Trend's four models, he said. It also offers a good price for footage bargain.

Trend has about a dozen homes going up now and has room for about 50 more on its presently opened sites. They plan to open Yerkes Estates subdivision number five, to the north of present building, later this year.

TWENTY NEW HOMES will be built in Trend Homes, Incorporated's fourth Village Green subdivision. Richard Benecke (left), co-owner of the developing firm, and Sales Manager Dale Kinn review plans for the latest addition, which will extend to Novi road. The homes will face an extension of Reed street, east of Canterbury.

LOT LOOKERS — Mr. and Mrs. Steve Moisli of Redford township have chosen a West Main street lot for their future home. Now they must decide upon a house to meet their needs and complement the surroundings.

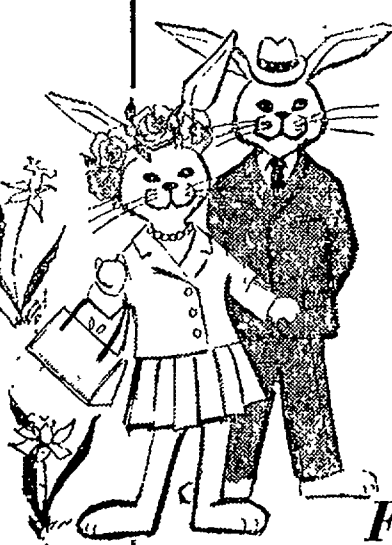

HOME TO BE — In a very few weeks Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Montagnano of Ann Arbor will be living in this Taft Colony home in Northville township. With Builder John Northup they're discussing final details that must be "just right" to truly complete the dream of the new home buyer.

Christian warfare, in which spiritual good overcomes the evil in human thinking, is a theme of the Lesson-Sermon to be heard Sunday at Christian Science church services.
Scriptural selections will include Paul's exhortation: "The night is far spent, the day is at hand; let us therefore cast off the works of darkness, and let us put on the armour of light" (Romans 13). "Are Sin, Disease and Death Real?" is the title of the Lesson-Sermon.
This citation from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy will also be read: "Christians must take up arms against error at home and abroad. They must grapple with sin in themselves and in others, and continue this warfare until they have finished their course. If they keep the faith, they will have the crown of rejoicing"
(p. 29).

Novi Rotary Introduces Community Businessmen

Eighty-four representatives of Novi business firms were entertained last Thursday evening at Saratoga Farms by the Novi Rotary club.

The "get acquainted" dinner was the idea of Rotarian Leo Harrawood, who served as co-chairman of the program with George Kenyon.

And everyone agrees it was a huge success.

Novi Rotary — barely two years old — has found that getting started can be difficult. But its 16 members meet each Thursday noon at Saratoga Farms and are determined to dig-in and contribute to the welfare of the community — just as their Rotary motto implies: "Service above self — he profits most who serves best".

And Thursday night Novi businessmen who had never met before — some after several years in the community — had dinner together and exchanged problems and prospects for the future.

It was a light affair. Harrawood served as master of ceremonies.

Joseph Brady, executive vice president of Citizens Mutual Insurance company of Howell, kept the crowd laughing with his rapid fire delivery of humorous anecdotes. And Rotary District Governor Bud Tripp of Ypsilanti reminded the businessmen of the potential of Novi and the need for cooperative effort.

Top executives of Novi's biggest industries were present at the dinner as well as the owners of one-man business operations.

The whole affair brought warm praise, and some amazement, from Rotary President Dr. Lyle Fettig who gave full credit to Harrawood and Kenyon for the undertaking. "I'm surprised at the excellent turnout. It's most gratifying and a fine thing for the community", Dr. Fettig remarked in greeting the guests.

Readers Speak:

Friendliness a Wonderful Thing

To the Editor:

I wish to express my appreciation for being extended the privilege of attending the dinner presented by the Rotary Club, at the Saratoga Farms, the evening of April 5.

welcome feeling he extended to everyone.

The friendliness that appeared among the guests regardless of their business stature in the community was gratifying.

A group of businessmen with that apparent attitude are bound to be a benefit to the whole community.

On Novi School Millage

Readers Speak

To the Editor:

On April 16, 1962, the voters of Novi will decide the future of our schools. If the millage increase passes, it will mean a continuation of the present minimal program and a balanced budget. If the millage increase fails, serious damage will result to our schools and our community.

The problems of financing our schools were the subject of a careful, intensive study by a citizens' committee appointed for this purpose. The committee, without a dissenting vote, agreed that additional revenue amounting to $72,000 is absolutely essential for the sound operation of the school district. This $72,000 figure, which a six mill increase would raise, would provide for only the following:

1. To get the school district out of the hole that it has been digging for the past few years — $45,000.
2. To provide for certain mandatory increases such as high school tuition — $20,000.
3. Increases in program in providing for physical education and summer remedial reading and enrichment courses — $9,000.

The inadequate financing of our schools during the past two or three years is a situation to be deplored, and then forgotten. Now is the time for correction so that our schools may move confidently forward. Our schools must have these additional funds, and if we do not pay for them, our children will pay in the form of an inferior education.

Each voter should ask himself who will really gain if the millage passes, or who will really lose if it fails. The answer can only be — the children. I strongly urge a "yes" vote for these children.

William G. Dean

To the Editor:

This letter is in reply to the erroneous conclusions drawn by Mr. Reuther in his letter last week concerning school finances. It is certainly true that the school board is anticipating the need of an additional $28,000 each and every year, because without these funds our present program would have to be cut back by this amount, or else the already staggering deficit would be further increased.

The 1961-62 school operating budget shows expenditures at $336,000 and income at only $308,000. It is from these figures that the $28,000 deficit is derived. The Citizens Committee on Finance studied these figures and concluded that there was no way to put the $336,000 "muscle and bone" expenditure budget and no way to increase income except property taxes. Mr. Reuther's plan would allow only $22,666.67 for the reduction of the deficit which would mean that no part of the total $40,000 deficit could be amortized; and in fact, this deficit would grow by $5,333.33 each year.

Mr. Reuther also states his opinion that $10,000 is requested to add physical education, music, and art to the grammar school curriculum, as well as a request to provide a remedial reading teacher. This would obviously be impossible. In fact, $9,000 was recommended to provide only a physical education teacher (at $5,000) and a special summer program (at $4,000) of which only a part is to help our slow readers.

To the Editor:

It would be absurd for one to believe that the deficit that is claimed by the board of education is, or, was not caused by lavish spending, or poor management. Just a year ago this same board said that extra millage was not needed. Now to confuse the public more, they are asking for six mills — when they well know that if you approve the six mills, you will be taxed at the rate of 9.6 mills per thousand dollars of your assessed valuation. This would mean about $50.00 per year to the ordinary home owner. Question is not how much we need

OUT OF THE PAST

ONE YEAR AGO

April 13, 1961

Northville's downtown business district received a long-awaited boost this week with the news that the Kroger company will build a modern supermarket facility on property located north of Dunlap street between Center and Hutton streets. Construction will begin within five weeks, with the opening date scheduled for late August.

Although final approval still rests with the county tax allocation board's ruling, Northville public schools can theoretically count on a $903,620 budget for the 1961-62 school year. This record figure, $70,000 above last year's record, received the school board's okay Monday night.

A proposed $189,000 Novi village budget for 1961-62 was unveiled Monday night. The figure represents a nearly $12,000 increase over last year. State revenues are expected to be up $8,000, and village property taxes would be pushed to the full five mills, adding $4,000 to cover the increase over last year's budget.

FIVE YEARS AGO

April 11, 1957

A Northville city council resolution passed Monday night will block a proposed sale of about two acres of county land on River street near Seven Mile to Northville Downs. The council passed the resolution to safeguard near-by residents, and will now seek to have the city purchase the land so that the Downs' need for road access may be provided while continuing to protect residential interests.

A campaign that began four years ago to provide an area hospital for Northville, Livonia, Farmington, Plymouth and Redford township took a giant stride toward reality this week. Announcement of a $700,000 federal grant to the St. Mary hospital fund was made by the board of trustees of the proposed hospital, which will be located on Levan and Five Mile roads in Livonia.

An elderly woman who came to Northville a year ago and left in November with thousands of dollars bilked from area merchants is back in the Detroit House of Corrections. Sentenced to five to 10 years on a swindle charge was 65-year-old Mrs. Evonne Chauvin, who reportedly swindled upwards of $80,000 from Northville merchants.

Novi township's 1957-58 budget set a new record this year. If expenditures follow as planned, they will amount to $93,875 — $3,000 above last year's record high figure.

Wixom's five-man charter commission has completed the village charter, which will now go to the state Governor's office for approval before being put to the voters.

FIFTEEN YEARS AGO

The Northville village commission Tuesday night gave its stamp of approval to a tentative 1947-48 budget that would mean a $10,000 reduction in the local tax bill. According to the budget proposal, the total tax spread would be $50,750, down from last year's $61,275.

Northville Downs, favored with attractive summer dates, appears certain to move ahead in national harness racing prominence with the presentation of its most fully developed program in stake races of its four-year history.

Novi voters Monday approved allocation of township funds over a period of years to provide for a township hall. The move, recommended by the township board, was okayed 198 to 67.

SPEAKING for the Record

by Bill Slinger

The subject of income taxes — specifically the kind proposed by Detroit Mayor Cavanagh on commuters — came up for rather lengthy discussion by Northville city councilmen last week.

Before the session ended the council adopted a watered-down resolution opposing a Detroit income tax "that would be levied against Northville citizens depending upon the county in which they reside."

In short, the council did not challenge Detroit's right to tax non-residents. But because Northville is divided into two counties and Cavanagh's earlier proposal had been to tax persons working in Detroit but living outside Wayne county, the council objected.

As it now stands, the Detroit mayor wants to tax anyone working in Detroit, regardless of where they reside.

Councilman Ambler expressed definite opposition to this. He asked the council to adopt a resolution that would support the Bowman bill in the state legislature — and thus oppose the right of any city to levy a tax against non-residents.

Councilman Canterbury expressed a different philosophy. He noted that the right of big cities to tax non-residents employed in the city had already been upheld by the courts and was being used with success.

He was sympathetic to the problems of the large city serving a wide area and noted that the facilities are beneficial to the entire area, not just residents of the city.

As the discussion drifted into the general philosophy of taxation, both agreed that an income tax is the fairest form of taxation.

The fact that Northville's city council took time from its regular agenda of pressing local matters to discuss taxes at a higher level is evidence that Detroit's new mayor has accomplished what he set out to do.

He has brought attention to dramatic fashion to Detroit's critical fiscal needs. Some state legislators have been shocked to the brink of action — even to the point of forgetting politics, momentarily.

To this degree we applaud Cavanagh. If his pronouncements speed the state toward complete revision of our tax system — placing more emphasis on ability to pay, rather than real and personal property holdings — then he has performed a miracle.

But, we would oppose another tax on top of the heap. The income tax should be the foundation, not the scap that removes whatever cream is left.

Therefore, we believe that a Detroit income tax would be highly unfair to both its citizens and commuters. If it must be, let it come after reconstruction of the entire system at the state level.

Grass fires, the perennial spring bug-a-boo, has Township Clerk Marguerite Northup worried.

Cries of concern have also been heard from Novi and Wixom.

We've had a dry spring with relatively high winds. The perfect formula for wild-running grass fires.

During March such fires cost the township $217 for firemen salaries alone. And the season is just nicely underway. Northville township and Wixom had 10 grass fires each during March. Novi had 14.

Most fires are started by burning rubbish and not using a container. Strictly carelessness.

To burn brush or grass a permit must be obtained. Such permits can be with held if conditions are too hazardous. Burning without a permit is subject to a fine.

Grass fires can be extremely dangerous. They may take hours to bring under control.

Be cautious, abide by the law, and save your community possible property loss as well as tax dollars.

Michigan Mirror

19th District Difficult to Form

Voters probably will elect a Congressman at large in November along with the other state-wide offices.

The Legislature's first attempt to reapportion the state's Congressional districts to create a 19th seat met a veto on the Governor's desk.

Republicans in the Legislature admitted the plan was a "status quo" measure, which would have left most of the districts as they are now. The new district would have been created with the southwestern section of Macomb County and the southeast portion of Oakland County.

Gov. John B. Swainson and other Democrats want a general redistricting of the state. Michigan's 12th district, the western section of the Upper Peninsula, is the nation's smallest with 177,431 people, and the 16th district, in Detroit, is the largest in the nation with over 530,000 people.

The Legislature is expected to try again in the remaining three weeks of the session, but it appears doubtful the "old guard" of the GOP ranks will go along with an apportionment plan proposed by Sen. Carlton H. Morris, R-Kalamazoo.

The Morris plan was tentatively approved by Swainson and other Democrats before it was introduced but met strong Republican opposition because it included a general shift of all districts.

It would appear logical that both parties would be inclined toward settling the redistricting before November's election.

The problems of running a state-wide campaign are known only to politicians, perhaps, but the difficulties of being a good representative for some 8 million people should be obvious to all.

If no redistricting plan is approved in time for the fall election, the candidates for the Congressman-at-large seat most likely will fit one of two categories — either someone who has been in the Michigan political spotlight and succeeded, or a relatively new and ambitious individual.

Three persons already are being mentioned as likely candidates for the office. Secretary of State James M. Hare declines to say whether he is seriously thinking about the position, but Democrats are anxious for him to seek the spot. This perennially good vote-getter could very likely beat any opposition.

On the Republican side, both a relative newcomer and a veteran candidate have indicated some interest in the seat. They are State Rep. Gilbert E. Bursley, Ann Arbor, and Constitutional Convention delegate Alvin Bentley, Owosso.

Bursley, who is concluding his first term in the State House, has had wide and varied experience in government positions although his present post is his first elected office. His activities as chairman of a legislative committee on economic growth have enhanced his position somewhat. The committee has held hearings in every corner of the state.

Bursley openly admits he is interested in running for Congress but apparently he does not want to face a primary fight with 2nd District Rep. George Meader, who also lives in Ann Arbor.

Bentley was unsuccessful in his bid for the U.S. Senate seat held by Democrat Patrick V. McNamara so might not be willing to attempt another state-wide campaign, but he makes no bones about the fact that he wants to stay in public life. He gave up a seat in Congress to make the Senate race in 1960.

The early months of 1962 gave the Michigan Economic Development Department every reason for optimism. So far this year, the ratio of industries moving in as compared to shifts out of the state is running 6 to 5. Dr. Paul Herbert, chief of the department's research division termed this "a distinct improvement" over the same period last year.

Indications are that the trend noticed in the latter part of 1961 in southeastern Michigan is continuing, Herbert said. The trend showed the Detroit Metropolitan area and the southeastern counties were staging a comeback in industrial location.

The department is planning to emphasize individual community efforts in industrial growth during the entire year, Herbert said.

"Cities and villages that have been doing outstanding work in local industrial development are being singled out for meetings of the Michigan Industrial Ambassadors," he said.

The Ambassadors is a group of nearly 300 businessmen who travel throughout the country promoting the industrial advantage of Michigan communities.

Among the notable local efforts in the limelight recently have been the attempts by Port Huron, Jackson, Detroit and several other cities to get a new district processing center planned for the Midwest by the Federal Internal Revenue Service.

Port Huron is offering a 30-year site where a new building will be constructed and leased to the government for $1 a year. The Jackson Industrial Park officials have offered 15 acres and a building for lease.

Herbert said several other cities have also offered free sites in an attempt to secure the 1,400 year-round jobs to be available at the new government office.

How to Make A Million Dollars

Babson Park, Mass., When a young person has a really useful idea and takes it to a large concern to make and promote, he is often discouraged when it is turned down. This is because the head of the company asks only two questions: (1) Is it a new idea? (2) Will it sell? Unless it passes both tests, the big company will not bother with it. However, there is always an opportunity for a young person with selling ability and persistence to start his own business.

Here is another opportunity for a young person to make a million.

Selling Wood for Food
At present, only termites and a few other animals can digest the cellulose of the millions of square miles of trees now in our forests. The Hercules Powder Company is dissolving this cellulose into a liquid that humans can digest.

This will be the basis of a great new industry. Wise is the young person who becomes an expert on cellulose.

I once asked Thomas A. Edison what he would like to do if he had all the time he needed. He replied, "Make a cold light. My incandescent light consumes too much electricity as heat. I hate to think of the firefly being able to do something that man cannot do."

He was also much interested in birds. He said: "Birds are the only natural resource (other than gravity) that has not been harnessed. The land, water, sun, forests ... all are the foundation of great industries." He believed that someday birds will be trained to forecast the weather and do other wonderful things. No large companies will bother with this, but it offers great opportunities for young people.

Automation and Electronics?
I have not discussed these two subjects because they are so publicized in magazines and on the stock exchange. I am interested only in new ideas which will develop into "big money" for those with courage and ability. I like to call them our "sleeping giants."

It would be unfair for me to close without referring (again) to a book entitled "IDEAS" by Clinton Woods of 2803 Goodwood Rd., Baltimore, Md. Cost: $5.75 postpaid. He describes over 200 ideas which some young person has had the initiative to develop into big business.

Lincoln Plant Production Up
Ford Motor company's Wixom assembly plant turned out 6,531 Thunderbirds and 1,819 Lincoln Continentals last month both figures representing increases over March of 1961.

Last year the plant produced 5,574 Thunderbirds in March and 1,702 Continentals.

While Thunderbird production for the first three months of the year was up slightly, 21,131 as compared with 20,869 for the same period of last year, Continental production dipped slightly, 7,504 as compared with 7,976 for the first quarter of 1961.

Should We Tell Adopted?

Dear Dr. Mudd:

Six years ago we adopted a baby boy. We didn't know anything about him at all and we just took the word of the social worker on the case that the child would fit in.

I didn't have any children at that time and we adopted him because after five years of marriage and several medical examinations for both my husband and me, we were assured that I wouldn't become pregnant.

Of course, like I understand it happens so many times, I did become pregnant not once but twice so that now we have three children; the oldest the adopted boy, and then a girl 1, then another boy.

My husband says we should tell the child about how we got him and he can't understand that I am afraid it will hurt him. I keep saying that since no one knows about his being adopted he'll never find out and that he'll be happier that way not knowing.

Will you please help us with an answer for this?

Puzzled:

It is clear that you and your husband have your son's best interest at heart and the only disagreement seems to revolve around the question of how best to serve those interests.

Should a child be told of his adoption or not?

I have heard arguments on both sides of the question and I do not feel an arbitrary "yes" or "no" is a satisfactory answer. Each situation must be considered on its own merits.

But I would say this — that generally more human happiness and satisfaction is to be found in openness and honesty than in prudery and deception.

The great St. John wrote "Ye shall know the truth and the truth shall make you free." Despite this, however, there are other considerations to be taken into account.

Why is your husband pushing to gratuitously inform the child? If he has been asking questions it is one thing — and I think a parent should always answer truthfully. If he has not, then I feel it is unnecessary and not particularly desirable to inform him. The time to tell him is when and if the subject comes up naturally in the course of events. There is no shame to be felt in being adopted — on the contrary, the parents can always point out that the adopted child was specifically chosen where as with the others they had to take what was given them.

I have seen this very argument turned to good use and effect by an adoptee when teased about his adoption by other children. I don't feel that truth and knowledge is ever shocking or even damaging or hurtful when that knowledge has been sought after by one prepared to understand it.

I think it would be a good idea for you to prepare yourself against the day when your son may ask "Mom, am I adopted?"

Word of a child being adopted has a way of getting around and you may be reasonably sure he will hear of it some time. But if his relationship with the only parents he has known is a secure and loving one, the fact of adoption will mean very little to him indeed. It certainly will not alter in any way the feelings of love he has for his parents.

Occasionally one finds a person who blames all of his dissatisfactions and disaffections with life on the fact that he was an adopted child and never knew his real parents. Such over-simplification is, of course, only a partial explanation. And it is just because of its simple, uncomplicated nature that such explanations are so attractive and so easily agreed to.

To blame one's troubles solely on the fact that one was adopted as a child also serves the purpose of disowning any personal responsibility for one's unhappiness and placing the full burden upon others.

Sincerely,
Sandor Mudd, M.D.
