News Around Northville

Mrs. Walter Grant, of Bay City, spent the week with her sister, Mrs. Tilke Horsfall, of Horton street. She returned to her home Tuesday.

The Robert Boyds, of 605 Horton, were the guests of honor Saturday night at a party celebrating their silver wedding anniversary.

Plotting the surprise for their parents were the Boyds' three daughters, Judy, Vicki, and Mrs. David Yurack, of Gaylord. Mrs. Yurack and her two children, Bob and Judi, arrived here from Gaylord earlier in the week along with Mrs. Boyd's sister-in-law, Mrs. William Horsell and her son, Bill, from Vandenberg.

Coming in on Friday were Mr. Yurack and Mr. Horsell and Mrs. Boyd's mother, Mrs. Bertha Horsell, who also lives in Gaylord.

Diane Brasure, daughter of the Reverend and Mrs. Lloyd Brasure, 452 West Main, has been awarded a scholarship to Alma College next fall.

She and 74 other scholarship winners who begin their freshman year in September were recognized at a special program last Saturday.

WILPF to Hold Annual Meeting

Women's International League for Peace and Freedom (WILPF) has scheduled its annual meeting Monday, April 23 at 1 p.m. in the home of Alta Powers, 227 Hutton.

Pulitzer Poet Heads 'Listening Post' List

A Pulitzer Prize winning poet, eminent University of Michigan astronomer and two political scientists will share the lecture spotlight during the second season of the Plymouth Listening Post series sponsored by the American Association of University Women (AAUW).

Opening Listening Post's 1962-63 season on Thursday October 25 will be Dr. F. T. Haddock of the University of Michigan Astronomy department at Ann Arbor. He will explore the basic theme of "Astronomy in the Rocket Age".

Following Dr. Haddock to the lecture platform on Wednesday, January 9 will be W. D. Snodgrass, whose poetry captured a Pulitzer Prize in 1960.

Acclaimed by Judson Jerome of "The Antioch Review" as a candidate of immortality, Snodgrass has been called "the poet with content" by Robert Lowell who considers his work "beautifully perfect and a breakthrough for modern poetry". Snodgrass's work won international fame last year when the poet received the Guinness Poetry Prize in England.

On Tuesday, March 5, two top political scientists not yet selected will debate a critical issue of the time.

Announcing the lecture lineup for AAUW this week was Listening Post's central committee composed of Mrs. J. W. Mochie, general chairman, Mrs. Sidney Cady, program chairman, Mrs. R. E. Houston, Mrs. J. R. Witwer and Mrs. John Haas.

Each program has been selected for its entertainment value and as a source of stimulation for further study. states the committee.

BPW Goes To Bat(ter) For Award

Northville Business and Professional Women are rallying to the cry "Batter, up!" this week with no reference whatsoever to baseball.

Instead, BPW members are responding to a call for cake and cookie batter, for homemade baked goods of all kinds, to offer at a bake sale slated Saturday in what used to be the Villa Dress shop at the northeast corner of Main and Center streets.

Scheduled to start at 10 a.m., the bake sale is a fund-raising project to enable the club to make another cash award to Northville high school's "most promising young business woman".

The BPW bases its selection not on academic excellence alone, but also on the all-around potential for success in the business world. In addition to the cash award, the winning girl receives an engraved plaque and has her name added to a trophy listing winners in previous years.

Host Speaker On Con-Con

The progress and problems of Michigan's Constitutional Convention will be the topic of tonight's (Thursday) meeting of Plymouth-Northville branch of the American Association of University Women at 7:45 p.m. in Plymouth junior high school.

Mrs. Robert Foerch, the League of Women Voters state chairman for Con-Con, will be the guest speaker. Mrs. Foerch, who has been spending one and more days per week in Lansing on her present assignment, will discuss the roles played by Con-Con's 300 delegates in session and in committees.

A coffee chat prior to the meeting will be hosted by Mrs. Hugh Harsha, chairman, Mrs. Frank Heager, Mrs. Mark Wehmeier and Miss I. Kelly.

It's Sure Exciting When..

SHOWERING THEIR TEACHER — First graders at Main Street elementary school were so enthused over the coming marriage of their teacher, Priscilla Blackburn, that they talked their mothers into planning a shower for the prospective bride. The gifts may not have been extravagant, but as far as the students and their teacher were concerned it was the thought that counted. Miss Blackburn admires one of the presents before her students, many of whom turned out Saturday to see her become Mrs. Noble L. Smith, Jr. (See story below).

...Your Teacher's a Bride

Mr. and Mrs. Noble L. Smith, Jr.

In a gown of white chantilly lace over satin and carrying a bouquet of white sweetheart roses, Priscilla Blackburn became the bride of Noble L. Smith, Jr., Saturday afternoon at Northville's First Presbyterian church.

The Reverend Lloyd Brasure officiated at the rite, assisted by Dr. Harold F. Redsell, longtime friend of the bride's family.

Gail Scheffer, of Utica, sister of the bride, was her matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Peggy Meyer, of Northville, and Florence Kobleck, the groom's sister from Wayne.

They were guests of champagne lace and taffeta with green accessories and carried bouquets of shaded pink sweetheart roses.

Joseph Kobleck, brother-in-law of the groom from Wayne, was the best man. Ushering guests were John Blackburn, Jr., bride's brother, Robert Scheffer, her brother-in-law from Utica, and William Keskey, a cousin from Detroit.

The former Miss Blackburn is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Blackburn, of 456 Orchard drive. Her husband's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Noble L. Smith, Sr., of Alexandria, Virginia.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Blackburn wore a light blue silk organza over taffeta dress. Mrs. Smith chose a champagne color dress. Both wore cymbidium orchid corsages.

A reception was held in the church parlors after the ceremony.

Mr. and Mrs. Smith are making their home at 316 Griswold. She is a first grade teacher at Main Street elementary school and he is employed at Hydromotion Engineering in Plymouth.

Births

Mr. and Mrs. George Butlerman, of Bronxville, New York, are parents of a son, Andrew, born Tuesday morning. Mrs. Butlerman is the former Garry Duerson. Her mother, Mrs. Harry Duerson, lives in West Main.

A son, Larry Allen, weighing eight pounds, six ounces, was born April 11 to Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Stone, of East Lansing. Mr. and Mrs. Roy Stone, of Livonia, and the Robert Sherwoods, of Northville, are grand parents.

Mr. and Mrs. James Donald Howe, of Bronxville, New York, announce the birth of a daughter, Susan Elizabeth, on April 12.

Mrs. Howe is the former Katharine Kampf, daughter of the Theodore N. Kampf, Jr., of Haggerty road. Mr. and Mrs. Edwin S. Howe are grandparents living in Baltimore, Maryland.

Novi Girl Scouts Move To Initiate Change-Over

A move to reorganize Girl Scouts into four rather than the present three age-level groupings will affect Novi as well as Northville troops.

Changes announced in last week's Record-News by the Huron Valley council, which includes Northville scouts, will be carried out in Novi under the guidance of Mrs. Robert Skellenger, chairman of the Novi Girl Scout Neighborhood association, an affiliate of the Southern Oakland Girl Scouts, Inc.

Mrs. Skellenger said she will brief leaders in her community on the proposed change-over at a neighborhood meeting this morning (Thursday) from 9:30 to 11:30 in the library of Orchard Hills school.

Scheduled to take effect in 1963, the revised structure groups Girl Scouts as follows: Brownies, ages 7 and 8; Juniors, ages 9-11; Cadettes, ages 12-14; and Seniors, ages 15-17. Scouts are presently classified as Brownies, Intermediates and Seniors.

Some 2,685,000 girls throughout the country will be included in the revamping.

The new set-up should strengthen and streamline the organization, commented Mrs. Skellenger. She said it was based on a stated need that grew out of extensive study.

(The University of Michigan Survey Research center conducted two studies in 1955-58 to appraise the needs and interests of adolescent girls both in and outside the Girl Scout organization and the attitudes of Girl Scouts and their leaders toward the existing program.)

"It's not something we're jumping into; it's a means of bringing the organization more up to date," she concluded.

Helping Mrs. Skellenger and other adult workers in Novi will be Jean Wayman, program launching coordinator for the Southern Oakland Council. Miss Wayman will coordinate an all-out effort to explain plans for change to the Girl Scout family and to other community groups that work closely with the scouts; to organize troops within the present three age levels in such a way that the change to four levels may be accomplished without confusion; and to train the council's 4,400 adult volunteers in details of the revised program as soon as information becomes available.

NEWCOMER'S CORNER

"I look upon every day to be lost, in which I do not make a new acquaintance."

— Samuel Johnson

SOON THEY'LL BE THREE — Novi newcomers Daniel and Barbara Holloway needed more space for a little newcomer of their own due to arrive any day now. That's why they left their apartment in Wayne two months ago to settle in a roomier home at 4044 Ten Mile.

You might say the miracle of modern air transportation and the travel bug joined forces to bring Daniel and Barbara Holloway together.

What other factors, after all, could so readily bridge the gap between Visalia (near Fresno), California and Farmington,

Michigan? The Holloways — she's from Visalia; he's from Farmington — first met in the air when Mrs. Holloway was a stewardess and her husband-to-be a passenger on an American Airlines flight. That fleeting meeting was followed later by a chance reunion when both had come back down to earth in Hawaii.

The couple eventually tied the knot and moved into an apartment in Wayne, their home until early February when they came to Novi. They live at 4044 Ten Mile road.

Their move was prompted by the expected arrival — "any day now," says Barbara Holloway — of a new addition to the family.

Dan Holloway, employed with Holloway Construction company in Livonia, and his wife took up golf last year and plan to get back on the links soon after warm weather and the baby arrive.

While she has her doctor's assurance on the coming of the baby, Barbara Holloway has her doubts about the advent of nice weather. Michigan, "the only state in the Union" as far as her husband is concerned, can't compete with the California climate in her opinion.

Teaching Aids, Teenagers To Get P-TA Attention

Two meetings are on tap next week for members of Northville Parent-Teacher association.

Junior and senior high school parents and teachers are invited to hear a University of Michigan professor in educational psychology talk on "Understanding Teenagers" Wednesday at 8 p.m. in the community building. On Thursday evening at 8 o'clock Mrs. Margaret Gyde of the public schools staff will demonstrate teaching aids at a meeting for parents and teachers from both elementary schools to be held in the American multi-purpose room.

Wednesday night's visit by William C. Morse of the U-M faculty has generated special enthusiasm in P-TA circles. Professor Morse, who for several years directed the university's Fresh Air camp, a group therapy project, is currently a consultant to Hawthorn center here in Northville as well as a teacher in the U-M's School of Education.

William C. Morse

A joint author of two books and several articles on educational psychology, the professor is now involved in long-term research in one facet of school mental health.

CAP Meetings Start in Northville

Northville area youths and their parents interested in starting a local squadron of the Civil Air Patrol met last week with CAP Major S. N. Domingue, commander of the Walled Lake group.

The meeting was held at the American Legion home and was attended by 10 youngsters.

A second meeting is planned for tonight (Thursday) at 7 p.m. at the Legion home, Major Domingue stated. He reported that considerable local interest has been shown in the CAP since he addressed high school youngsters at a school assembly last month.

"But we need 15 members to start a unit", Major Domingue emphasized. He also noted that adult help is needed and urged parents to attend organizational sessions with their sons and daughters.

Domingue's Walled Lake Cadets are currently conducting a candy sale to help raise funds for uniforms and expenses for a two week's trip to camp this summer.

The youngsters will be in the Northville shopping area tomorrow (Friday), Major Domingue pointed out. He said that each year his CAP unit conducts a fund-raising project to finance its summer camp excursions.

Easter Seal Money Dips

Northville area residents have contributed $834.50 to the current Easter Seal Society campaign, nearly $300 below last year's total.

The local campaign is conducted by mail and canister collections under the supervision of the Northville Rotary club. Fred Casterline is chairman.

A final report will be made at the conclusion of the drive, Casterline noted.

Scouts See Lawmakers In Lansing

Part of scouting is learning to be a good citizen and part of being a good citizen is knowing how your government works.

Add the two together and you come up with the reason for an exciting trip Northville Girl Scout Troop 226 took Tuesday.

The fourteen junior high girls and their leaders, Mrs. Archie Moore and Mrs. Don Funk, boarded the morning train in Plymouth which took them to Lansing where they got a bird's eye view of government in action.

They spent the morning visiting the Constitutional Convention and moved to the chambers of the State Legislature in the afternoon. State Representative Harvey Beadle was to greet them and introduce them to the assembly of lawmakers.

Town Hall Reveals Plans To Share Season's Profits

Northville Town Hall's board of awards this week announced plans whereby charities in Northville, Novi, Plymouth, Farmington and Livonia may share in the proceeds from the lecture series' premiere season.

To be considered, a charity — this can be an individual or a group — must submit to a board representative in its own community a letter containing its reasons for wanting a contribution.

Accepting requests in their communities are: Northville — Mrs. William Milne, 557 West Dunlap, Northville; Plymouth, Mrs. Margaret Hough, 1477 West Ann Arbor trail; Farmington, Mrs. Leonard Stidwell, 23663 Long Acre Farm; Livonia, Mrs. William E. Parks, 32140 Myrna.

All requests are to be in by May 10.

Engaged

Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Alm, of South Haven, announce the coming marriage of their daughter, Linda, to Paul Sobol, son of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Sobol, of Belleville.

The bride-elect, a 1961 graduate of National College of Education in Evanston, Illinois, is presently teaching kindergarten at the American elementary school. Mr. Sobol graduated last year from Eastern Michigan University where he was affiliated with Phi Sigma Epsilon fraternity. He is now completing graduate work at Eastern and plans to teach in the fall.

They will be married June 23 at First Congregational Church of South Haven.

BOWL DOWN CANCER, the sign says as Fred Robinson, of Northville-Lanes, prepares for the week-long competition aimed at raising funds for fighting cancer. Northville Lanes bowlers will compete for numerous honors as their entrance fees go to the cancer fund.

Local Keglers to Take Swing at Cancer, Prizes

"Bowlers never forget" has long been the slogan of pinsters in the Detroit and tri-county area when asked to participate in a benefit program.

Bowlers in Northville and vicinity, along with more than 250,000 from the confines of Detroit and the suburban areas, will have a chance to prove that slogan when they strike a blow against cancer by competing in the Bowl Down Cancer Week activities, starting Easter Sunday and continuing through Saturday, April 28.

Focal point of the program will be bowling centers which belong to the Bowling Proprietors Association of America, cooperating in the project.

W. W. "Eddie" Edgar, Detroit and Michigan executive BPAA secretary, said that member bowling centers in the Detroit area are aware of "Bowl Down Cancer Week" and many already are going ahead with plans.

Special contests and celebrity-studded attractions will be held during the big week. Designed largely for new bowlers, the campaign will include events for all members of the family.

The Northville Lanes, 132 South Center, one of the top boosters of benefits by bowlers, will have the attention of keggers from this area throughout the week.

Owner Agnie Gadoli reported that all leagues and individuals that bowl at Northville Lanes have been invited to participate in the week-long event to raise funds for the fight of cancer.

It is just one of the sites in the metropolitan Detroit area co-operating with the Bowling Proprietors Association of America and the American Cancer Society in the largest nationwide benefit ever backed by bowlers.

The entire proceeds other than the cost of bowling will go to the American Cancer Society to further its work in the battle against the dread disease.

Competition is in five divisions — men's and women's team and individual, and teenagers between the ages of 13 and 19. All men and women must carry sanction cards from the ABC or WIBC.

The senior bowlers will vie in a unique "Beat the Champ" contest. They will try to beat the scores of Dick Weber, of St. Louis, and Shirley Garms, of Chicago, currently the national individual match game champions. The champs will roll on a nationwide televised program two weeks after the close of Bowl Down Cancer Week.

The senior teams compete in a "Win-A-Star-Bowler" tournament in which the Michigan champion wins the right to the services of one of the nation's top stars for an entire week.

The teenagers will compete as a group for a number of rich prizes. Just to sweeten the pot and make the contests more alluring to bowlers of all classes, the BPAA and ACS are offering $5,000 for a perfect 300.

All 50-cent entry fees from "Beat The Champs," $1 per team entry for "Win-A-Star-Bowler," and 25 cents for "Teens Strike Cancer" will be donated to the American Cancer Society.

He reminded the boys and any others who will be 10 by July and who will not be 14 before September that they should report to diamond number one in Cass Benton park again this Saturday. Practice is from 9 to 12 a.m.

One hundred thirty boys, 40 more than usual, turned out last Saturday for the start of Northville's summer baseball recreation program, says Director, Ken Conley.

Old Man Weather

He Continues to Plague Sports

Old Man Winter, with a mighty dying effort, reared his ugly head last weekend, and puffed out an icy breath that roared across this area like the proverbial March Lion.

Among those affected were Northville high sports squads, which have already suffered loss of practice time because of foul weather, and which last weekend either suffered through tortuous competition or missed their schedules.

Only squad to miss the weather — at least the brunt of it — was Coach Keith Krause's tennis club, which wasn't slated to get its season underway until this week.

The baseball team felt the sting of harsh winds and falling temperatures last Thursday, but Mustang players didn't feel half as bad as those on the Milford roster.

Coach Stan Galonka's baseballers "cooled" the Milford nine 5-0 to open their season. Milford is traditionally the Wayne Oakland league's baseball power. Monday they traveled to Brighton for a doubly pleasurable 10-0 win.

Lanky Dan Brown pitched the first four innings Thursday, striking out 10 batters and walking five. Reliever Eric Peterson finished the distance with three strike outs and no walks.

Tom Swiss — a questionable pitcher because of a previous back injury — struck out four Brighton batters during his four-inning tour on the mound Monday. Peterson again finished the game, also collecting four strike-outs.

Track Coach Paul Mack, unable to get his season started the previous week because of bad weather, took his team to Romulus Friday, despite the even more miserable conditions.

Adding to his misery was the Romulus squad's overpowering strength, which piled up 113 points while leaving only four for the Mustangs.

Coach Stan Galonka's baseballers "cooled" the Milford nine 5-0 to open their season.

The netters were to continue their heavy season start yesterday (Wednesday) afternoon, when they were scheduled to host Southfield The Mustangs travel to Milford this afternoon, and will return to the home courts Saturday morning (10 o'clock) to take on St. Stephens.

Northville linksmen were forced to postpone their season opener, originally scheduled for Friday at Milford, until next Tuesday because of the weather.

Friday at Milford, until next Tuesday because of the weather.

The Northville linksmen will open up their home season Saturday — if the weather holds — when they play host to St. Stephens.

Cold temperatures were all that faced Northville netters when they took to the courts Tuesday afternoon in their season opener with Holly. The tennis squad topped the scoring column with a 5-0 record, but Krause had only "unimpressed" to say about the meet.

He said Dikran Ornekian made the only good showing of the day when he posted 6-1 and 6-2 scores to take the starting singles match Jim Jiggins, as second singles player, took his match with 6-4 and 7-5 sets, while Paul Rumble had to go the distance to win third singles with set scores of 10-8, 3-6 and 6-4.

Mustangs Grysiwicz and Patilison teamed up to cop the first doubles match with scores of 5-7, 6-3 and 6-3, while Byard and Schmidt completed the meet by polishing off their second doubles opponents 6-4 and 6-6.

Northville linksmen were forced to postpone their season opener, originally scheduled for Friday at Milford, until next Tuesday because of the weather.

Wrestling's Slated Friday

Professional wrestling returns to Northville Friday night when the Novi Oddfellows sponsor matches in the Northville community building.

Feature bout will find Leaping Larry Chene facing La Bestia. Matches, which get underway at 8 p.m., will also feature Martino Angelo vs. Tony Parisi, Louie Klein vs. Karl Von Stroheim and midgets Irish Jackie vs. Tiny Tim.

Tickets are on sale at the Northville Gambles store and the Novi Rexall Drug. They may also be purchased at the door.

Easter Candy
The Novi Little League has worked up a busy start-of-the-season schedule. All this week the league has been holding try-outs in the evenings at the Novi school, and next Saturday they will launch a 30-day candy sale.

The house-to-house sale will be conducted by the teams to raise funds for purchase of equipment. Waid added Team are to be selected Friday night or Saturday.

State Hospital Volunteers Attend 2nd Workshop

Over 80 volunteers representing twelve different groups and others who provide individual volunteer services to Northville State Hospital attended its Second Volunteer Workshop on Tuesday, April 10, at the hospital.

A panel composed of Miss Harriet Miller, O.T.R., who spoke of the work of her Occupational Therapy Department, Mrs. Ann Tappenny, R.N., who spoke of the work of the Nursing Department, and Mrs. Lous Pearlman, President of the Northville State Hospital Auxiliary, whose comments were related to the over-all contribution of the volunteer, provided the basis of the Buzz sessions which followed.

Afterward, Philip N. Brown, M.D., Medical Superintendent, joined the panel members to answer the questions from the participants. Because of a lack of time and the number of questions, some of them had to be answered after the noon luncheon.

Very practical inquiries relating to the many different services provided by the volunteers were raised by them. Many related to the monthly ward parties provided by the groups on various wards and how these parties could be improved. Others concerned new dimensions of service which the volunteers are considering.

Paragon to Meet With Mediators

Representatives of management and the union at Novi's Paragon Bridge & Steel company are scheduled to meet this morning in the Federal building in Detroit with state and federal mediators.

The meeting was called by the mediation board. Some 300 employees, members of the International Association of Bridge, Structural and Ornamental Iron, Shopmen's Local 508 have been out on strike since March 31 when their two-year contract terminated.

Leonard Bennett, state mediator, and Archie Sims, federal mediator, are scheduled to conduct the session.

Over half of the participants then remained for escorted tours in the afternoon.

Groups representing Northville Garden Club and also the Northville State Hospital Auxiliary which is composed of many Northville residents, as well as residents from other neighboring communities.

Lahti Wins Scholarship

Wixom Councilman Raymond Lahti is one of 14 Michigan school teachers and administrators who will be attending summer institutes in the humanities on the John Hay Fellows program.

Lahti said 170 secondary school teachers and 80 administrators from 29 states and the District of Columbia were awarded scholarships for the four institutes.

Enrichment of teaching and stimulation of creative, imaginative contributions to American education are the aims of the summer institutes, according to Dr. Charles R. Keller, director of the John Hay Fellows program.

He explained that participants will read and discuss books on philosophy, English literature and history, as well as attend special lectures in music and art.

Lahti said he plans to take his wife and two children to Eugene, Oregon when he attends the month-long institute at the University of Oregon in July.

Bell Telephone Tells of Expansion

An outlay of nearly $80.6 million will be made this year for the expansion and improvement of its facilities, the Michigan Bell Telephone Company announced today.

In the construction program, one of the largest in the company's history, more than $130,000 has been earmarked for new and expanded facilities in Northville.

Hughes C. Bronaugh, Michigan Bell manager, said the 1962 outlay will push the company's total postwar expenditures past the billion dollar mark.

"As one of the largest corporate investments made in the state in the years following the war, this huge sum reflects the continuing growth of Michigan and the corresponding need for more and better communications," Bronaugh said.

Bronaugh added: "Our 1962 program is based on sound expectations that the future will see a continuation of this growth in our state and the opportunity for us to grow with it. In short, we could not consider an investment of this magnitude without being firmly convinced of the state's future."

Total gain in telephones for the year is expected to reach 85,000 coupled with an increase of 7.3 per cent in long distance calls, Bronaugh said.

In Northville, the company plans to spend $68,000 for equipment in customers' homes and offices. About OPTIMISTS HONOR — Northville Optimist club president Dempsey Ebert had the pleasant task of passing out trophies and medals last Thursday night to the top eight winners in the annual oratorical contest sponsored by the club. Ebert (center) hands the first place trophy to Terry LaRue, who will compete with the finalists from nine other clubs in a zone oratorical contest at the high school Wednesday night. Standing next to LaRue are Larry Angove, second place, and Mark Horning, third place. Eric Peterson, who captured the fifth slot, is at Ebert's right. Judges Florence Panattoni and Mrs. Leslie Lee are shown at the left. They were aided by Alvin Skow (peering over Peterson's shoulder). Rounding out the field of eight contestants were Tom Barbara, fourth place winner, David Jerome, Robert Sproule and Gordon Hammond.

Board Seeks Fire Department Parade Units

The Novi board of commerce will sponsor a Memorial Day parade, board Treasurer Herb Dryer announced this week.

He said the board, which last year took over the annual event from the AMVETS, is seeking entries in the parade. Any business, club or other organization may enter a float or parade unit, Dryer added.

The parade will group at the village hall and proceed to the cemetery at Novi and 12 Mile roads, he said. Cemetery services are planned, but final arrangements have not yet been completed, Dryer concluded.

Answers Five Calls

The Northville fire department answered five calls during the past week.

Most serious was Monday afternoon when a combination barn and garage burned down on the Edward Robinson property at 21060 Taft road.

The department also extinguished a truck fire on South Main street. A Ford Motor company truck hauling waste products from the Northville valve plant had caught fire Thursday. The truck body was scorched slightly.

The other three fires were grass fires. Two last Wednesday burned small areas on Sheldon and Napier roads near Five Mile road, and the other, on Tuesday, burned an area near Seven Mile and Beck roads.

Goodwill Pick-Up

The next visit of Goodwill Industries pick-up trucks to Northville is scheduled for Monday. Goodwill trucks collect household discards of clothing, shoes, hats, toys, most types of furniture and other household discards.

To arrange for a Goodwill Industries truck pick-up, call the local Goodwill representative or ask the operator for toll-free Enterprise 7002.

Service departments can do a fine job, economically, of tuning your engine to maximum efficiency. But as you can see, you are still the biggest gas saver.

They Ride First Class — 1930 Style!

ONE OF A KIND is this old beauty, being proudly polished by owner Bruce Thomas. The 1931 Chrysler chassis carries a 1931 body built by LeBaron for Mrs. Marjorie Merriweather Post (Post Toasties). Thomas says Mrs. Post had the '31 body, no longer available in '33, placed on the 1933 Imperial Custom Eight chassis when she bought the new car. Mrs. Post gave the car to her daughter, Eleanor Tydings, wife of the Maryland senator, in 1939. Mrs. Tydings sold the car to a Dearborn army officer who used the car for transportation until 1951, when he put it in partial storage.

LET'S HIT THE ROAD, invites Bruce Thomas, owner of the 1931 Chrysler Imperial Custom Eight sedan pictured above. He bought the classic car so that he and his family could still go to classic car meets when bad weather prevented use of their open dual cowl phaeton. The 5,000-pound car, previously owned by a 100-pound "little old lady" from New York, was in near-perfect shape when Thomas purchased it. Only the paint, renewed sometime before World War II, is not original factory equipment for the car.

The family automobile is traditionally the interest of the male head of the family, but Bruce Thomas, of 44931 Byrne drive, has found a way to include his wife and four children in his automobile hobby.

Thomas is one of those rare persons called a classic car enthusiast — rare because there aren't too many classic cars around to become enthusiastic about.

"It's a nice family hobby," he explains, "because the kids get a big kick out of riding around in old cars, and the entire family enjoys the club's picnic meets."

The club Thomas was talking about is the Classic Car Club of America. He is secretary-treasurer for the Michigan region, and was recently appointed as the club's national technician on classic Chryslers.

As club technicians, Thomas answers any and all questions concerning old Chryslers that club members or other persons might have.

He was named Chrysler technician because that's where his classic car interests lie. One reason is that he works for Chrysler engineering as head of the truck testing section at Chrysler's proving grounds in Chelsea.

Another reason is he now owns two Chrysler classics — a 1933 Imperial Custom Eight dual cowl phaeton and a 1931

Imperial Custom Eight Sedan.

Tied in with this latter reason is a file Thomas has built up of most of the pre-World War II cars Chrysler produced. His file includes photographs of nearly all the Chryslers that are considered classics.

"In general terms," he says, "a classic is a luxury automobile that was produced in small numbers."

More specifically, he explains that to be considered a classic car, an automobile must boast outstanding style and engineering.

The Classic Car club has developed a rather stringent list of such outstanding automobiles. Other cars are admitted to the club's rank of classics, but not very often, Thomas says, and presently unlisted cars must have some extremely unique characteristics to gain admission.

The 1933 Chrysler is the Thomas family's pride and joy.

"A dual cowl phaeton serves as the club's symbol," he explains, "and is thus the epitome of the classic car."

Although Thomas purchased the car in 1956, his interest in that particular model had been aroused at a much earlier date.

It was in 1949 that Thomas, working in Chrysler's engineering division, first met up with the dual cowl phaeton Operate star James Melton brought his 1933 phaeton into Chrysler engineering "because he couldn't make it do 100 miles an hour" and Thomas was one of the men who worked on the car.

"The day I took that car out for its tests was the day I decided I had to have one," he says.

But it was not until 1954 that he even got a line on one of the rare cars. At that time, he owned a 1933 Imperial sedan, which is no longer considered a classic, and after seeing the car, an acquaintance commented that he had seen a similar open car on Detroit's west side.

For two years Thomas haunted the west side, asking gas station attendants, car dealers and "even kids on the street corners and home owners" if they had seen or knew of the car.

"After two years of fruitless questioning," he says, "I was about to give up the search. But one day heavy traffic took me to an area I hadn't visited, and I decided to ask about the car once more."

A gas station attendant not only knew the car, but supplied Thomas with the owner's name and address. He called the owner that night and the next day purchased the car.

The car was "pretty tired," but two years of rebuilding put the classic into fine shape. With the exception of top fabrication and the finish coat of paint, Thomas had done the rebuilding himself.

The car won points in classic car competition and "will some day win a trophy," Thomas says. It has appeared on a magazine cover and was featured in the club's publication.

Thomas purchased the 1931 sedan in 1960 to make it easier for the family to join him at meets.

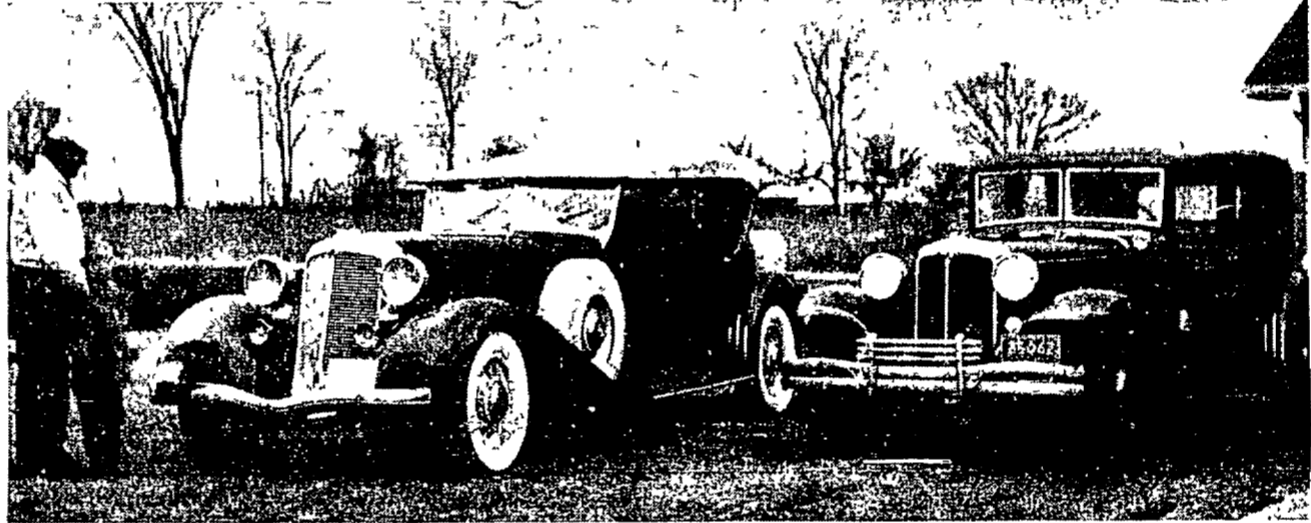

"An open car gets pretty miserable for children if the weather turns cold or rainy," he points out. The sedan allows the family to accompany him on the monthly club meets that are held throughout the summer.

The sedan has required almost no work because its owner kept it in perfect condition. The car was repainted once — before the war — but is otherwise original.

What lies in the future for a classic car buff who already owns two real classics?

"Whatever comes along," Thomas says. He would like to find a convertible — a compromise between a sedan and an open car to replace his present sedan.

"This car would allow us to have an open car until weather did not permit," he says, "and could then serve as our closed car."

Telephone lines

By HUGH C. BRONAUGH, Manager

DO YOU NEED A DETROIT ALPHABETICAL TELEPHONE DIRECTORY? Many of our customers do. The new Detroit telephone directory is just off the press. If you'd like one, just call 453-9900 or stop in at your local business office to obtain your copy. You automatically receive the West and Downriver area directory, which lists — alphabetically — the numbers of all customers in this area.

Spring's a-Ringin'

And what happier time to get a lovely new extension phone? It puts your calls close at hand in the bedroom, kitchen, den, or basement playroom. Think of the steps you'll save — for only pennies a day. And you can choose a style to fit your needs. A lovely PRINCESS phone — little, lovely, with a night light, too. Or a convenient wall phone for busy housewives. Or a desk phone for Dad in the den. All are available in colors to add springtime sparkle to your home. To order, just call our business office.

THE GOOD OLD DAYS may have been a housewife's dream where the prices of butter and eggs and a lot of household things were concerned, but here's an exception: Long Distance rates actually cost less today than they did then! In 1923, for example, a 3-minute evening station call from Lansing to San Francisco cost $6.40. The charge tonight? Just $1.65, plus tax. It's another way efficiencies in the telephone business make your service a bigger value than ever before.
