

Street Wash to Open Clean Up Campaign

CLEAN-UP CHAIRMAN — George Miller will chairman the annual "Beautify Northville" campaign this year as a special project for the Junior Chamber of Commerce. The clean-up will start in earnest Saturday morning when Jaycees, businessmen and firemen will scrub down Main and Center streets in the business district. Miller proved he was ready by grabbing a broom and posing in his best "street cleaning" style.

The annual "Beautify Northville" campaign will get underway with a "swoosh" Saturday morning when Junior Chamber of Commerce members take brooms in hand and scrub streets in the city's business district.

They'll start out at 7 a.m. and will have the help of the fire department.

According to Chairman George Miller, the washdown will begin at the city hall and continue along Main street to Church.

Then the water hoses and scrub crews will tackle Center street from Dunlap to Cady. The street-cleaning tradition began five years ago with the adoption of the Beautify Northville campaign by the Coordinating Council.

It has served as "kick-off" event of the clean-up drive each year.

Miller said the next official project of the campaign would be the city-wide trash collection, Saturday, May 26.

Jaycee Paul Palmer will line-up a truck brigade and Miller said he would call upon a crew of "able-bodied citizens" to help with the collection of discards.

"We know that the city has a regular weekly pick-up service, but we're hoping that this special reminder will prompt homeowners to take another look around their yards, garages and basements and clean out discards that may have become eyesores to their neighbors or fire hazards to their homes," Miller stated.

He urged residents to use discretion, however. "Don't leave items that a man can't lift into a truck," he urged.

Miller said the trash pick-up would begin at 9 a.m. and asked that all discards be left at the curb.

Just prior to the trash collection — at 8:30 a.m. on the 26th — the Jaycees plan to dedicate the "Northville Park", located on city property between the Old Spring and the Ford valve plant.

The park project was undertaken by the Jaycees last year and has required hundreds of man hours to develop. It includes a scenic route through a landscaped area along the river bank and also a foot-bridge over the river from the park to the Old Spring. Jaycee Karl Knott directed the park project.

Previously, the area was unkempt and contained a collection of broken limbs and fallen leaves.

Miller also urged all citizens to continue the Beautify Northville custom of planting flowering crab trees. He noted that they can be purchased locally at a nominal price and that many had already been planted and were blooming along city streets and in yards.

A possible hitch in revenues could come in Director of Administrative Services Ellison's hope for a 90 per cent tax collection. Any change in state aid and tuition monies could also affect income.

Right now a lag in tax collections and the state's delinquency in aid payments are raising havoc with the schools' finances, stated Ellison.

The district may have to borrow sooner than expected — possibly in June — unless the state picks up its tab of over $100,000 and tax collections improve. Payments on loans against state aid and anticipated taxes are coming due, said Ellison, and there are still payrolls to meet.

In other business Monday the board heard a mixture of good and bad news.

—Ellison told schoolmen that the Municipal Finance commission had not yet acted on the district's request for a proposed $43,000 revenue bond program to finance a new athletic field at the high school.

—The schools will save money and get added protection under a new insurance policy that the Carrington agency is working on to replace the 27 separate policies now covering school buildings and property. With the new policy, other local agencies will still continue to share in the schools' insurance program.

—Minor injuries suffered by two Northville high school students and a truck driver in an accident on the way home from a band festival prompted the board to direct school attorney James Littell to file suit against a Detroit man whose car struck the rear of the stake truck the three from Northville were riding in. Students Chris Gazlay and Jerry Jerome and driver Chuck Kehr were hurt in the mishap, which a witness said was the Detroit driver's fault.

Loss of Novi's high school tuition students would cost the Northville system $130,000 in revenues next year.

Michigan Week

New Mayor Coming Monday

John Halmond, school teacher and mayor of the city of North Muskegon, will be an honored guest of Northville Monday.

In fact, he will become mayor of Northville. Meanwhile Northville's Mayor A. M. Allen will be presiding as chief executive of North Muskegon.

It's all a part of the annual Michigan Week observance which will be highlighted locally by the activities of Mayor's Exchange Day.

C. Oscar Hammond is chairman of the event and has planned a full program designed to entertain the visiting mayor and his wife.

Mayor and Mrs. Halmond will be met at 10 a.m. at the city limits on Novi road by Hammond and city officials. The greeting party will be joined by the high school band at North Center street and escorted into the city in parade style to the city hall. American Legion and VFW color guards will lead the parade.

Following a brief flag-raising ceremony the official party will adjourn to the city hall for a "get-acquainted" council meeting.

Councilman Richard Juday will head the list of city officials greeting Mayor Halmond and present him with a key to the city. Other officials who will be on hand to represent the city include Councilman Richard Ambler, Councilwoman Beatrice Carlson, City Manager, Bruce Potthoff, City Attorney Philip Ogilvie, Clerk Martha Milne and Police Chief Eugene King.

Mayor and Mrs. Allen will journey to North Muskegon with Councilman and Mrs. John Canterbury in the exchange of officials.

From city hall the Northville program of events will move to the First Methodist church where a luncheon will be hosted by the Exchange club.

E. B. "Ted" Shultz, industrial relations manager of Ford Motor company's Wixom assembly plant, will be the luncheon speaker.

Another highlight of the luncheon will be the presentation of the annual "Citizen of the Year" award by the American Legion. Identity of the recipient is not disclosed until the presentation is made.

Following the luncheon tours of the high school and Northville Laboratories have been arranged.

Northville's "Monday Mayor" teaches economics and government in the North Muskegon school and is active in a variety of community, church and school groups.

Michigan Week will get underway officially Sunday when church services mark Spiritual Foundations Day.

The objectives of the state observance are: to give the citizens greater knowledge and appreciation of their state; to present the state's assets and resources for industry, business, education and recreation; and to foster a spirit of cooperation among communities and people.

The slogan for this year's observance is "Michigan Marches Forward".

In another "exchange" in keeping with the spirit of Michigan Week Principal Richard Kay of Amerman elementary school will take over duties at Midvale elementary school in Birmingham on Wednesday.

Richard Coolman, a former student of the Northville system and now principal at Midvale, will assume Kay's post at Amerman. Both plan to make classroom visitations and hope to gather ideas that may be beneficial to both schools.

Court Fight Seen In Landfill Denial

The Northville township board of appeals voted Monday night to deny a request for permission to fill gravel pit areas with rubbish from the city of Detroit.

Controversy has raged over the proposal for several months and the vote came as a surprise to those who have followed the attitude of the board.

Court action is almost certain to follow — an event that had been expected regardless of which way the board had voted. Monday night's meeting had been called by Appeals Board Chairman Gunnar Stromberg for discussion of the issue with board members and the township attorney and engineer.

A public hearing was held April 30.

But word of the meeting brought prompt response from protesting residents and the township hall was filled to capacity.

Audience discussion was limited and did not reach the heated proportions of previous meetings.

When Chairman Stromberg called for a vote on the request both Members Roy Terrill and John Miller responded negatively. Stromberg only votes in case of a tie. Previously, Terrill had supported the landfill proposal and Stromberg had joined him for a 2-1 majority.

Specifically, the request for landfill operation was submitted by the Manning and Locklin Land Development company through its principle spokesman, Sheldon G. Hayes.

Originally last winter Hayes had asked for a permit to fill areas within the 270-acre Manning and Locklin gravel pit area between Seven and Eight Mile roads over a 12-year period.

Objections voiced by township residents prompted Hayes' legal counsel to withdraw the request.

Last month Hayes suggested a new approach.

He asked that a permit be granted to fill three specific holes totaling some 21 acres. Under the terms of the new request he would have been granted permission to operate a sanitary landfill under a six-year contract subject to annual renewal. Terms of the contract would outline health and nuisance safeguards and provide a performance bond.

Through the land development company Hayes had announced plans to convert the gravel pits into a multi-million dollar community of homesites, lakes and recreation areas.

The plan did not pacify objectors, however, who organized and hired legal counsel to represent them. They have remained firm that they do not object to rehabilitation of the areas with "hard fill", but oppose the use of rubbish.

Terrill's vote switch was termed by Stromberg as a personal conclusion to "let the court decide."

Stromberg, who has been a strong advocate of the rehabilitation sanitary landfill plan, indicated he would have voted "yes" again if he had been given the opportunity.

Informed of the action Tuesday, Hayes called it "unjust." He specifically pointed to the proximity of the city dump area.

"I'm talking with my attorney now and will meet with the directors of the land company Monday to determine a course of action", Hayes stated. He said it would be his personal preference to appeal the decision to the courts.

In answer to questions from Stromberg concerning previous court decisions involving landfill permits township Attorney James Littell indicated there were only two of record.

In both cases — Plum Hollow and Farmington — where applicants were denied permits the circuit court held for the applicants. Subsequently, the supreme court upheld the circuit court decision.

But Littell noted that the circumstances of these cases were unlike the Northville proposal. From his discussion of the issue and the heavy public pressures that have built up around it, Littell made the board aware that it might choose to leave the matter to the courts. On the other hand, he noted, the contractual regulations proposed by the township to govern operation of the landfill might not be so strict under court permission, should the township fail to win its case.

Poppies Go on Sale

Members of the Northville Legion and Veterans of Foreign Wars posts and their auxiliaries will fan out through the streets and shops of the business district next Thursday for their annual Poppy Sale.

Made by veterans confined to hospitals, the poppies are sold each year to raise money for national, state and local welfare projects of the veterans' organizations.

Directing poppy sellers for the Legion and its auxiliary are Paul Palmer and Mrs. Howard Wright. Frank Bongiovanni and Mrs. Floyd Kupsy are in charge of the VFW-auxiliary volunteers.

New City Budget Holds Tax Line

A public hearing on the city's proposed budget for 1962-63 is scheduled for next Tuesday at the city hall at 8 p.m.

Prepared by City Manager Bruce Potthoff, the budget has been reviewed by council members in study sessions.

The proposed budget holds the line on tax rate — 12.51 mills — but provides $376,870 in revenues, an increase of some $27,000 over the current year budget.

Specifically, the additional revenue comes from an increase in assessed valuation — $10,732,760 or $298,420 more than last year — an anticipated increase in state returns from harness racing, and a carry-over of capital improvement funds from projects not completed last year.

The council is counting on the 42 night season at Northville Downs (compared to 38 last year) to boost the revenues. The plan would provide for spread-out facilities and grandstand accommodations are also being expected to help the local harness season.

In his budget Manager Potthoff has estimated track revenues at $97,000, an increase of $7,000 over the 1961 season. Salary increases are proposed for all departments. The budget calls for expenditures of $85,535 for capital improvements. Principal projects include $29,570 for street paving, $15,760 for sewer construction, $6,565 for lots, $5,900 for an accounting machine, and $18,000 for the paving of North Center street — a project already scheduled for this summer.

Manager Potthoff made a special request for the accounting machine for bookkeeping processes that are undergoing change. He noted that the machine would provide for spread-out facilities and grandstand accommodations are also being expected to help the local harness season.

The proposed city budget applies to the fiscal year beginning July 1.

Seek Public Help In Civil Defense

A meeting to bolster interest and further organize a community program for civil defense will be held next Wednesday at 8 p.m. in the Community Building.

Highlight of the public meeting will be a film demonstration and explanation of the "medical self-help program".

City Manager Bruce Potthoff, director of the local civil defense program, said the program will also mark the initiation of a "block captain" system under which the entire city can be trained for action in case of natural or man-made disaster.

William Siebert of the Wayne county civil defense staff and Dr. Gordon Eddy, director of the medical section of the Wayne county civil defense organization, will explain the medical self-help program. Supported by the state and federal government, the medical self-help system supplies the community with extensive training kits which will be demonstrated at Wednesday's meeting.

An advisory committee on civil defense was appointed by Mayor A. M. Allen nearly two years ago. It has developed a plan for emergency action and assigned responsibility within the framework of the government.

"But now we need a full-grown educational program for the public", Manager Potthoff noted.

Water!

Dry weather and high winds have brought renewed words of caution from Nurseryman John Miller.

"Water, cultivate and mulch your trees and shrubbery," Miller warns area residents.

He notes that spring rains are 20 per cent below normal and loss of trees and bushes due to lack of moisture is extremely high.

School Budget Passes Tax Test

Northville public schools' proposed budget for 1962-63 was "taken under advisement" by the Wayne County Tax Allocation Board in preliminary review Friday.

Put in simpler terms, the district's $966,628 budget got a tentative — but almost certain — stamp of approval from the county board, and with very few questions asked, school administrators Russell Amerman and E. V. Ellison told the board of education Monday night.

They delay approval, explained Amerman, until a transcript of all testimony voiced at the hearing can be prepared and studied by each member. They want to make certain, he added, that we need all the money we're asking.

Only one sizeable increase in spending over last year was questioned, said Ellison. That was in expenditures for instruction, an item that jumped $69,107. This was easily accounted for, he noted, by the added cost of implementing the schools' new salary schedule for teachers.

Now the only real problem that remains for the schoolmen is to make anticipated revenues and expenses meet.

None Oppose School Board Incumbents

Barring a flood of write-in votes, Northville's June 11 school election should be a landslide victory for board of education incumbents Robert Shafer and William Crump, the only candidates to file for the two board openings by the May 12 deadline.

Both Shafer, currently president of the seven-member board, and Crump, its vice-president, are seeking four-year terms.

Shafer has served the schools continuously since 1956. Crump has been on the board four years.

District electors can cast their votes at the community center between 7 a.m. and 8 p.m. on election day.

In Novi, four candidates, including incumbents Arthur Heslop and Russell Taylor, will vie for two school board openings in that district's June 11 vote.

Also in the race for the two seats are Mrs. Robert Skellenger and Dieron Tafallian.

Dog Vaccination Clinic Saturday

A dog vaccination clinic for Northville city and township is being planned for this Saturday, officials announced this week.

Both city and township require all dogs within their limits to be vaccinated against rabies, and neither distributes dog licenses without proof of immunization.

The clinic will be held at the

NEXT WEEK IS MICHIGAN WEEK
—May 20-26. What better time for each of us to learn more about our great state? Here are a few facts we thought you might find interesting:

"INDUSTRIALLY YOURS" would make an appropriate sign-off for a letter to an out-of-state friend. Nearly all the different types of industrial operations in the country can be found right here in Michigan. Close cooperation among industry, our more than 200 industrial research laboratories, and our outstanding educational institutions has been a key factor in developing this industrial diversification. Working together, they continually explore new products, new ideas and new techniques—providing new opportunities for us all.

"SELF-SUFFICIENT" is the word for Michigan in food production. When it comes to variety of farm products, we're second in the nation. We're first in the production of navy beans, pie cherries and cucumbers for pickling. Michigan's modern farmers are busy farmers; more than 45% of our land area is agricultural. And agriculture is a big factor in Michigan's expanding economy. Our state's annual farm income is currently more than $750 million!

MICHIGAN IS VACATIONLAND—year round. Our many resort and sport attractions make Michigan one of the leading vacation areas in the nation. There's something for everybody's vacation fun here: water sports at our 11,037 inland and four bordering Great Lakes, snowtime fun at our more than 80 winter sports centers...not to mention hunting and fishing, for which we issue more licenses than any other state. More than $650 million was spent last year in our tourist, resort and travel business, and the figures should grow in the future.

KEEPING UP WITH OUR GROWING STATE'S communications needs—in industry, for the farm and home, and for our busy tourist trade—keeps us busy at the telephone company, too. But we're proud to have a part in helping our state grow even stronger, as Michigan Marches Forward.

Cucumber Time Can Be A 'Pickle' of a Season

"Cuke" season isn't exactly just around the corner; however, just as winter seems to suddenly melt into spring, spring will be turning into summer and summer into fall.

And with garden harvests will come bushel upon bushel of crisp, juicy cucumbers — the perfect beginnings for home made pickles. They'll be available at a bargain price, too.

A recipe to clip and save for pickle making time is provided this week by Mrs. Thomas Curly, wife and mother of three children who lives at 19750 Clement road. Visitors who sample Mrs. Curly's Curry Pickles seldom depart without asking for the recipe, says the homemaker.

Between now and cucumber time housewives might also give Mrs. Curly's Colonial Pumpkin Pie and Date Nut cookies a try.

CURRY PICKLES
Mrs. Thomas Curly
24 medium size cucumbers (sliced thin)

2 cups vinegar
2 1/2 cups sugar
1/4 cup mustard seed
1 Tbsp. celery seed
Wash, and drain cucumbers.

Combine salt and water; pour over cucumbers. Let stand five hours. Drain and rinse.

Mix remaining ingredients. Heat to boiling, then pour over cucumbers.

Heat entire mixture to boiling; pack into jars; seal at once.

NEWCOMER'S CORNER

"I look upon every day to be lost, in which I do not make a new acquaintance."

— Samuel Johnson

LIVONIANS Lewis and Connie Litzenberg and sons, Joe, 8, and Dennis, 5, arrived in the Village Green last summer to make their home at 984 Allen drive.

If there are no signs of life, their hooks into some nearby lake or river. Lewis and Connie Litzenberg were the only anglers in the family until last winter when they took their two boys to Florida waters, Joe, 8, and Dennis, 5, got the bug, says their mom, and have been avid fishermen ever since.

"We're going out tomorrow as a matter of fact," she added.

From their new home at 984 Allen drive, the newcomers don't have to take their rods and reels quite as far as they used to when the fish are biting. Until August they had lived in Livonia.

Neither Mrs. Litzenberg nor her husband are natives of the water wonderland. She's originally from Scotland and came to this country 8 years ago. He's from Cleveland, Ohio.

Litzenberg, a lumber salesman, did live near Northville at one time, however — in Plymouth. And his wife got acquainted with the town while a nurse's aid at Community General hospital.

Awarded Certificate By Wayne State

George H. Kozyński, 218 South Ely drive, received a minor certificate from the Applied Management and Technology center of the Wayne State university School of Business Administration at special exercises last Thursday.

The 10th annual exercises and dinner program were held in Wayne State's McGregor Memorial Conference center.

Kozyński was one of 70 Detroit area businessmen who qualified for certificates by taking courses offered at the Applied Management and Technology center. The more than 100 after-work courses scheduled each semester are intended for on-the-job management, supervisory and scientific personnel.

'60 NHS Grads Tapped at EMU

Three 1960 Northville high school graduates studying at Eastern Michigan university in Ypsilanti have been installed by the Stoic society, an honors group recognizing high scholastic achievement.

Selected were sophomores Ann Downer, corresponding secretary, Chris Krauter, vice-president, and Frank Bosak, treasurer.

Each student was also awarded a $100 scholarship.

BIGGEST BLOOD BANK EVER — A record turnout of nearly 250 persons visited the Red Cross bloodmobile that was set up in the fellowship hall of Northville's First Methodist church last Friday afternoon, reports Mrs. C. C. Winter, chairman of the blood drive. "There wasn't a let-up in the 8 bed unit all afternoon," said Mrs. Winter, as donors gave 196 pints. Forty-one potential donors were rejected. "Red Cross workers here are especially grateful," added Mrs. Winter, "for all who gave and for the team of local volunteers who worked hand in hand with the professional staff that came out with the bloodmobile. In the picture above, Northville volunteers Mrs. Clifford Turnbull (far left) and Mrs. Clarence Jerome (far right) wait to help businessman Harvey Ritchie from the table while a Red Cross nurse applies a bandage to Ritchie's arm.

Just One Week 'Til P-TA Carney

Circle Friday, May 25 on your calendar. That's the date of the annual spring carnival sponsored by the Northville Parent-Teacher association.

Letters to remind school families of the "carny" and some of its featured attractions were sent home with students this week.

Topping the gala affair, with a bustling midway, will be the additional dinner, white elephant sale, cake decorating contest and cake walk.

To speed up the dinner line this year, there will be set prices for meals: children through 12th grade, 50 cents, above 12th grade and adults, one dollar. No money or food donations are being asked.

The cake walk takes over a new spot in the community building this year. Our Lady of Victory Mother's club will again supply cakes and supervise the walk. Cake donations will be welcomed and can be taken to the community building stage the night of the carnival.

A chance for homemakers to be creative and at the same time vie for a cash prize is offered in the cake decorating contest. Entries are to be delivered to the community building stage by 6:30 p.m. on carnival night and should be marked "cake decorating contest".

A new booth called "Surprise package" will make its debut in the midway. Donations for the new booth items valued at 20 cents and over, wrapped and marked "toy", "girl" or "adult" and the white elephant sale can be turned in at the schools.

As in the past, an advance sale of tickets — 11 for one dollar — will be held at the schools. On the night of the carnival tickets will sell for one dollar.

A prize-drawing slip will be

A "MUGWUMP" is a bird that sits on the back fence with his mug over one side and his wump over the other. If you approach him, he will fly over to 413 Randolph St. or out at 19577 Smock Rd. to enjoy the uncrowded and charming trees, flowers and shrubs. He wants to stay in this area and keeps a sharp eye on those red and white "D. J. Stark" signs which he terms as "big value" opportunities. He even flew over to South Lyon to sit on the housepost at 134 Woodland Dr. and sing about brk. reh. at only $15,500.00. He then took a short hop toward Brighton to chortle from the high aerial of the happy living in this cute country home at 4985 Pleasant Valley Rd. (1/2 Mi. N. of expressway) at its down to earth price of but $11,500.00. I wish "D.J." could use bird money he warbled as he happily flew back toward Northville and noticed the many pretty building sites that I have.

And to you — you don't have to be an owl to be wise — just let me show you through these or several other nice homes I'll leave the rest to you

More Grass Fires

Grass fires continued to constitute most activity for the Northville fire department during the past week.

Except for fire which broke out Thursday in the uncompleted shell of a house under construction in the Village Green subdivision, the fire department has had nothing but grass fires.

The house fire was started in the fibrous insulating board nailed to the frame and spread to a tar paper outside covering. Firemen report the studding was scorched slightly.

Grass fires struck last Wednesday, burning a small area on the Maybury Sanatorium grounds, near Seven Mile and Beck roads, and again Monday. Monday fire burned a small stretch along the railroad tracks near Northville and Seven Mile roads. Fire also damaged the seats in an automobile parked on Northville road, near the Haller factory.

Baseball Club Really Clobbers Clarenceville — With 29-0 Win

Northville baseballers are playing like they were starting a comeback, and they haven't even faded beyond a tie for first place.

"Wow!" was all anyone could say Monday afternoon when the Mustangs' game with Clarenceville had ended. Northville won 29-0.

"It was beautiful. We couldn't say anything wrong," beamed Coach Stan Galonka.

Northville batters sprayed Clarenceville, while the local pitchers gave up only three hits. The hitting pushed Northville's team batting average up 33 points to nearly .360.

The Mustangs scored seven runs each in the third, fourth and fifth innings, adding four in the first, three in the second and one in the sixth.

Slugging hardest was Steve Judy, who hit for two singles, a pair of doubles and a home run. He batted in seven runs and scored four of his own.

Jim Judy contributed a single, a double and a four-bagger to drive in five runs. Also connecting for a home run was Craig Bell, who added three singles and scored six runs.

Other batting power came from Jim Anderson and Tom Swiss, each with a single and a triple, Joe Hay with three singles and a double, Jeff Crawford and Eric Peterson, each with a single and a double, Roy Rice with two singles and Dave Jerome with one single.

Clarenceville's three hits were off Tom Swiss, who went to the mound for the first three innings and his fourth victory. He struck out three batters and gave up no walks.

Peterson pitched the second three innings, fanning four batters and allowing two bases on balls. Dan Brown ended the game with nine pitches.

Last Thursday the Mustangs traveled to Brighton for a 9-1 victory over the Bulldogs.

Peterson started, going for three and two-thirds innings. Brown hurled the rest of the game, taking home his fifth win.

Three of Brighton's runs came in the fourth inning, tying the game. Brown was credited with the win because Peterson left while the score was tied.

Peterson, starting his first game, pitched three strike outs and allowed one walk. Brown gave up three bases on balls and fanned six batters.

Batting contributions against

Brighton came from Jim Judy, with two singles, Swiss with a triple, Steve Judy with a double and a triple, Hay with two singles and a double, Crawford with two singles and Peterson with a single.

The Mustangs scored three in the second inning, two in the fourth, three in the fifth and one in the sixth.

But Lose Second Match

Netters Sink League Rivals

The Mustang tennis squad picked up three more wins during the past week, but were once more unable to overcome a strong St. Stephens' team.

St. Stephens is the only competitor the Northville netters have lost to so far this year. The second loss brings them to a 11-2 standing.

Doubles strength — or the lack of it — continues to hamper

Coach Keith Krause. Two doubles teams lost to St. Stephens last Saturday, and three lost Monday night when the Mustangs traveled against Ypsilanti Roosevelt, last year's state class "C" champs.

Only singles power enabled the Mustangs to edge out Ypsilanti 4-3. Winning at singles was team captain Tom Long, 6-1 and 6-2. Dieron Ornekian furnished the second singles win with sets of 9-7 and 6-1.

Jim Jiggins and Gary Grysiwicz added singles wins of 6-3, 6-4 and 6-1 and 6-3, respectively.

Ornekian and Jiggins picked up the only Northville points against St. Stephens last Saturday. Both had some difficulty, with Ornekian going the distance 3-6, 6-0 and 6-3, and Jiggins scoring 6-2, 2-6 and 6-4.

Grysiwicz lost 6-1, 6-3, while doubles teams of Paul Rumble and Dan Pattison, and Scott Palmer and Mark Byard lost also.

Last Wednesday Northville completed testing its strength against Wayne-Oakland league teams by downing Bloomfield Hills 5-0. The Mustangs have now taken all league schools at least once.

Long, Ornekian and Palmer slammed to easy singles wins against Bloomfield Hills, and the doubles teams of Grysiwicz-Jiggins and Pattison-Rumble continued the Northville pattern.

On Thursday the Northville crew edged out Clarkston 3-2. Only losses were again in the doubles competition, with Ornekian, Jiggins and Grysiwicz taking home singles wins. Pattison and Rumble teamed up for a tough loss with set scores of 9-7, 2-6 and 7-5. Palmer and Clark lost the other doubles match.

Krause said his players looked good in the match with Ypsilanti Monday night, but with the poor season showing on a realignment for the W-O league matches this weekend.

Krause said he plans to send Ornekian, Grysiwicz and Palmer as his first three singles players in the league matches, with Long and Jiggins making up the first doubles team. Pattison and Rumble will play second doubles, he said, and Clark and Byard will make up the third team.

Krause explained that Ornekian should be able to take any of the league singles players Northville has seen this year, while Grysiwicz and Palmer should add some singles points.

With Long and Jiggins playing doubles, Krause added, Northville is likely to have at least one doubles championship. He said he expects to pick up a few more points from the other doubles teams.

The league matches will be held all day tomorrow (Friday) and Saturday morning at Clarkston.

Golf Squad's Playing Wins

Northville linksmen under-scored all competition to take home a dual meet win and a triangular victory.

Monday they shot 174 to beat out Clarkston, at 183 and Holly, at 193. Last Friday they kept three points away from Oak Park to win 174-177.

Tom Slattery showed the way Monday with a 42, while Dave Zielinski shot 43, Ed Beard 44 and Bill Weidner 45. Last Friday Zielinski led with 40, while Slattery shot 41, Beard 45 and Weidner 48.

The duffers were to play their league meet yesterday (Wednesday) at Brighton. Coach Al Jones said he expected Bloomfield Hills to cop league leadership, but added Northville stood a good chance of placing second if the players had a good day.

Local Team Could Make Ball Tourney

If the Northville baseball squad continues to lead the Wayne-Oakland league, it may be invited to participate in a baseball tournament, says high school athletic director Al Jones.

He said six area teams will be invited to participate in the Pontiac Invitational High School Baseball Tournament, to be held at the end of this month.

The tournament, sponsored by the Pontiac parks and recreation department and the Pontiac Press, would begin on Memorial Day, Jones said, and continue to June 1. He added that a 12-game play-off would decide the winner of the tourney.

Jones predicted that if Northville continues its present playing, the Mustangs would be one of the six teams. Northville now leads the league with a 9-1 record.

Local thincaids ended up on the lower end of scoring in a triangular meet last Saturday.

The Mustang tracksters scored 30 points, while St. Stephens edged ahead to a 34 and Marysville raced to a 73 to lead scoring in the event.

Jerry Biddle strong-armed his way to Northville's only first Saturday by putting the shot for 46'10.5". Bill Krist placed fourth behind Biddle.

No Northville trackmen managed to place in the broad jump event, but Dick Bathey tied for fourth in the high jump and Kent Kipler tied for second in the pole vault. Terry Krug took a fourth in the pole vault.

Bathey also added points by taking second in both the high and low hurdles events.

Northville also took seconds in the 880 and Mile relays, while Russ Straith captured a second in the mile run, and Bill Adams

New Idea! Lot for Commuters

COMMUTER LOT — Northville may have inaugurated a "first" for suburban communities this week. Perturbed by the numerous "commuter cars" parked in city lots, along the streets and on the grass along the South Main street entrance to the city, Mayor A. M. Allen set out to solve the problem. He found a friend in Charles Altman, Jr., owner of the Good Time Party Store on the Seven Mile road cut-off. Altman donated use of his property, directly across from his store. City work crews leveled the lot and hauled in gravel. Now the lot's ready and will accommodate at least 50 cars. "I think its good public relations," said the mayor. "And it also gets the cars out of the way," he added. City police plan to leave courtesy cards on each "commuter car" found in the city directing the owner to the free parking lot. The cars are left standing all day long when workers enroute to the Detroit area meet in the area and continue to work in one car. It has also been proposed by the mayor that the retail merchants could win further good will by erecting a sign on the lot "inviting commuters to park in Northville". Mayor Allen and Altman are shown examining the lot as a city truck spreads gravel.

Reader Speaks:

Remember, They Fought And Died for Our Freedom

As commander of the Northville Veterans of Foreign Wars Post No. 4012, I'm prompted to write an inquiry:

What has happened to Memorial Day? This day seems to have been forgotten.

Here in Northville we are experiencing increased difficulty in arousing enough interest in parades or other observances of Memorial Day.

In making inquiries, we find that people (and this includes veterans and their families) are not interested enough in Memorial Day to take part in parades or to be spectators. Also, we see only one or two flags flying in the block on this or any other holiday for that matter.

On this Memorial Day and those to come, let's remember that buddy who went with us on that night patrol or morning attack. We were with him but returned.

Comrades, it is no problem for me to write these lines. Like yourselves, I was lucky enough to be among those who came home, and I will remember always to pay respects on Memorial Day to the comrades who made the supreme sacrifice and didn't come back — how about you?

Our parade this year will start at the American Legion Hall, Northville, 9:30 a.m. on Wednesday, May 30, 1952.

LET'S TALK CARS...

A SURE WAY TO MAKE THE BEST POSSIBLE DEAL

How much will it cost you to trade your old car on a new one this year?

There is a simple way to make that figure the lowest possible net price by helping the dealer you trade with.

Think about it for a minute and you'll realize that the difference figure is set essentially by two factors: what your dealer can get for your used car and how much it costs him to sell it.

There is a right buyer at the right price for every used car, but it often takes time to find him — sometimes three to four weeks. By letting your dealer know as long as possible in advance that you are going to trade with him you'll give him time to find the right buyer, even before you turn your car in.

It costs a dealer $3 to $5 per day expenses to keep your used car on his lot — $90 to $150 per month — which you can help him greatly reduce by this advance notice he had your car to sell. If you get all your service work done with your trading dealer you'll enable him to "know" your car. He'll then be able to sell it with the confidence it will serve its next owner well.

It logically follows you should pick a dealer you would like to service your car throughout the year. If possible, a local one, who has a reputation for keeping his promises. Do this and you'll reap dividends in cash savings and increased satisfaction.

Jury Finds Cyclist Guilty

A jury returned a guilty verdict Monday in the justice court trial of a Wayne driver charged with reckless operation of a motorcycle.

George Leo Lee, Jr. was fined $50 and $30 cost by Northville Justice Charles McDonald. State police issued Lee a reckless operation ticket for drag racing on Northville road south of Five Mile. At his arraignment Lee pleaded not guilty and requested the jury trial.

In court action Thursday, Judge McDonald penalized Earle Martin, formerly of Northville, $35 and $10 cost on conviction of reckless operation of a motor vehicle.

Martin was brought into court on complaint of citizens who observed him speeding through a residential district near South Main and Seven Mile.

His Numbers Are Missing

Office copies of four passenger car registration stubs are missing from the Northville branch of the Secretary of State office, says Branch Manager Harold S. Hartley. He explained that the copies were either mistakenly given to the license purchasers at the time of sale, or have been misplaced since the sale.

The missing registrations were for car plates DX 2091, DX 2205, DX 2602 and DX 3810, he said.

Hartley urged owners of these plates to either call at the office or phone in the information. The office is located at 116 East Main street. Telephone number is FI 9-1425.

Hartley said new summer hours of the branch office are from 1 to 6 p.m. on Monday through Thursday, 1 to 9 p.m. on Friday and 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Saturday.

Home's Still Best After Global Trek

The Sidney Frids returned to their Northville home late last month from a round the world trip that was more than a junket to glamorous tourist meccas.

Their three-month journey gave them a panoramic look at people as well as places, say the Frids, and turned out to be a study in extremes.

GETTING HOME is the nicest part of any trip, say the Sidney Frids, world travelers who got back to Northville last month from a three-month circuit of the globe. Frid, representative to the Oakland county board of supervisors, and his wife will give their travel gear a rest long enough to work up the energy for a return trip to the British Isles. Frid was born in England and visited relatives there in February.

By-passing the currently popular European itinerary — they saw much of the British Isles, Germany and France on a visit abroad eight years ago — the couple plotted their globe-skirting route to include lands bordering on the Mediterranean Sea, India, China ports, Japan and Hawaii.

Basically, it was a planned trip with scheduled activities and free days.

We booked the bulk of our transportation and accommodations before leaving, explained Sid Frid, and nothing short of the President's wife upset their plans.

Though they didn't catch a glimpse of the first lady, the Northville couple did run head on into part of Jackie Kennedy's entourage at the government-operated Ashoka hotel in New Delhi, India and came out on the less comfortable end of accommodations.

"We slept in what apparently were servants quarters that night," recalls Sid Frid. By no means plush, they did come complete with friendly birds that darted in and out of the room at will.

Even their room that night, however, was comfort compared to the "homes" of many Indians.

"We saw thousands sleeping on the streets," said Sid Frid. "These people not only sleep on the streets; they live there."

Noticing that many of the street dwellers covered their faces and left their feet bare when they bedded down, the Frids asked their guide why this was done.

So the rats won't bite their faces, the guide answered.

India, perhaps more than any of the other lands they visited, posed a startling picture of extremes, say the Frids. Poverty and beggars thrive alongside wealth and beauty.

Their seems to be no middle class at all as far as they could see.

Even the splendor of the Taj Majal couldn't dull the Frids' memory of so many sad faces.

"It made us wonder whether or not these people had ever learned to smile."

On one of their side trips, the Frids stopped to watch women laborers carrying baskets on their heads. These women were moving the dirt for construction of a new super highway.

Before their stay in India, the Frids stopped at several ports dotting the Mediterranean. There they got the first glimpse of armed soldiers and battle-ready navies a sight that was repeated throughout the course of their trip.

From Bombay the couple sailed to Hong Kong by way of Ceylon and Singapore.

Ceylon, they said, was like the storied paradise of picture books. On a drive around the island they skirted acres of prospering banana, tea, rice and pineapple plantations and sampled homegrown tea at a Ceylon tea house.

They finally docked in Hong Kong after a one-day stay in Singapore.

"Sid's always wanted to see Hong Kong," said Mrs. Frid. "He got itchy feet and thought he better see it before he got too old to make the trip."

"There are more persons living in one block in Hong Kong than in the whole city of Northville," commented Frid.

The city's population has swelled faster than the government can handle it, he said, with the influx of three million refugees from Communist China in the past 10 years.

"I kept asking how these refugees live and never got an answer."

The Frids saw thousands of families eeking out a day to day living on junks in the harbor. One afternoon they watched a Chinese woman prepare a complete meal of rice, fish, vegetable and some type of root in a small brazier in the hull of her floating home.

Anchored in the harbor with the village of junks were all kinds of Red Chinese boats.

To keep pace with the population influx, Hong Kong is experiencing a gigantic building boom, said Frid.

"Women as well as men climb bamboo scaffolding to work on the construction."

Most of the new buildings, he said, are simple flats to house the refugees.

Meanwhile, with no ready-made housing available, these people are doing whatever they can to make their own shelter.

Thousands of shacks dot the hillsides, said Mrs. Frid. The people, she noted, were using anything they could lay their hands on to build these shacks.

"You'd see them threading their way up narrow paths along the hillsides, laden with armloads of wood and buckets of water."

The Frids did take in parts of the mainland, but like all tourists were forbidden to approach the Communist border.

On shopping trips in Hong Kong they were amazed by the trusting merchants.

New CAP Unit Signs 11 Members

Eleven area youngsters — 10 boys and one girl — made application Thursday night to join the newly organized Northville Civil Air Patrol unit.

Major S. N. Domingue, Wall Lake group commander and organizational director for the proposed Northville unit, reports that meetings are now being scheduled each Thursday from 7 to 9:30 p.m. at the American Legion building.

"Our charter applicants are really enthusiastic," Major Domingue noted. He said that six of the youngsters have indicated an interest in attending the CAP summer camp. They will receive special advance training from Domingue to prepare for camp.

The youngsters have also sold some $300 worth of candy to help pay for their uniforms, Domingue reported.

"We want more youngsters — and adults," he stated. A unit commander and education officer are needed for the local unit. Any pilot or navigator is qualified to teach the CAP courses using manuals provided, Domingue said. Interested youngsters and adults are urged to attend the Thursday evening meetings.

Presbyterian Men Entertain Women

MORE THAN 200 members of the Presbyterian Men's club, their wives and guests attended the annual "Ladies' Night" program last Thursday for an evening of entertainment that included music, singing and comments by Judd Arnett, Detroit Free Press columnist. Arnett returned from Washington, D.C. just in time to appear on the program. He gave his listeners reasons for concern for the future of the United States in the world competition among nations. Arnett credited West Germany's rapid recovery to the working man and his willingness to work hard. He challenged Americans to "go back to work" or face serious losses to Germany, France, Italy and Great Britain. He warned his audience that it was time for "Americans to start worrying about Americans" and criticized our policy of "sending money" in an attempt to solve the problems of the world. Club President Philip Nauman was in charge of the program, while Ed Welch introduced Arnett. The men serenaded the ladies with a selection of numbers under the direction of Bill Williams (see picture below). Arnett is shown at the speaker's table (above). Seated (l-r) are Mrs. Nauman, Mrs. Arnett, Mrs. Welch and Donald Schwendemann.

O Sing Unto The Lord

Our life is a constant going in and going out. We enter our homes; we leave our homes. We enter and leave our place of business. We go through portals, doorways, gates. We cross thresholds and pass under lintels.

Some of these are very dear to our hearts and fill us with joy and longing as we approach them. But for the children of God no entrance should be so meaningful or so longed for as the entrance of the house of God, the entrance of that holy place where God designs to dwelt with people and speak to them out of His saving Word.

Next Sunday is Cantate Sunday, the Sunday on which we are especially encouraged to sing unto the Lord.

Let us take time to worship God, to praise His Name, and to accept the salvation promised in His Son, Christ Jesus, who died for us and rose again.

Nowhere are we urged to do this more beautifully than in Psalm 98, where we read:

O sing unto the Lord a new song;
For He hath done marvelous things;

His right hand, and His holy arm, hath gotten Him the victory.

The Lord hath made known His salvation;
His righteousness hath He openly shewed

In the sight of the heathen.
He hath remembered His mercy and His truth toward the house of Israel:
All the ends of the earth have seen the salvation of our God.

Make a joyful noise unto the Lord, all the earth:
Make a loud noise, and rejoice, and sing praise.

N.H.S. Raided by Pirates

Choir Presents Annual Operetta

Tonight and Friday night, the Northville High School choir will present Gilbert and Sullivan's "The Pirates of Penzance" at the Northville High School auditorium. Performances will begin at eight o'clock, under the direction of Mr. Leslie G. Lee, choir director and head of the music department.

The evenings promise to be entertaining — pirates, policemen and pie-makers, all dressed in Victorian costumes, will bring to life the story of Frederick, who because of a hard-of-hearing nurse, Ruth, was apprenticed to a pirate instead of a pilot. Honest Frederick's morals conflict with those of the pirates, whom he vows to exterminate after his apprenticeship. Mix ups arise when Frederick learns from Ruth and Pirate King that he was born during leap year. The scenes include a pirate cave and an ancient abbey.

Principal characters of the casts are David Lane, Major-General Stanley; James Drew, Pirate King; Robert Turnbull and Russ Stevenson, Samuel Laid, to Pirate King; James Frisbie, Frederick; Don Busch, Sergeant of the Police; Gail Hartner and Linda Polak, Diana McIsaac and Linda Lane, Gretchen Schneider and Ginger Bierman, and Cynthia Hildebrand, Major-General Stanley's wards, and Sue Swank and Marcia Clum, Ruth, the Pirates' maid-of-all-work.

Miss Patricia Dorian, Mr. Roy Pederson, and Miss Florence Panattoni, faculty advisors, are in charge of costumes, scenery and make-up, respectively.

Odds and Ends

Prom - Shy Fellas Take Their Stand

The big questions asked by Northville High School girls, before the prom, were not the usual, "What time will it be?" or "Dad, may I please, please buy a new formal?" But all the young ladies were asking themselves: "Will he ask me?" and, "It's getting late, so why don't he hurry."

Unfortunately, in many cases, these inquiries were followed by tears and embarrassment. The regrettable fact was, few Northville boys were caught up in the glittering excitement of the 1962 Senior Prom.

After a very sympathetic interview, this reporter decided to ask the boys to publicly take their stand. Contrary to what the girls expected, they were eager to answer my questions. (The following is a list of names.)

Other than such comments as, "Northville doesn't have any proms," or "I hate to walk in that Grand March," most of the boys agreed that money, or lack of it, was the chief reason for not asking a girl. They felt that the "Senior Prom" was just not worth twenty-five or thirty dollars. This would include renting a dinner jacket and buying tickets, flowers and dinner.

The senior boys have come up with a solution they feel will solve all the problems inspired by the recent "Senior Prom." They are asking the boys — and picking up the bills.

Obviously the fellows feel that we girls would be reluctant to have the bills. I say they're wrong. Why did I start with the girls?

PALLADIUMS TO COME SOON
After the 1962 yearbook, the 1963 yearbook, copies of the 1963 Palladium will be ready for distribution the first week in June. Members of the staff are Laura Gysiewicz, Cheryl Thibao, Lynn Spetz and Carol Yabine.

CHIEFLEADERS CHOSEN
Few realize the tension, tears and aching muscles involved in the high school's annual spring cheerleading try-outs. The surviving girls who will be ready to lead next year's varsity yell are Diane and Dawn McCollum, Karen Peterson, Lynn Johnson, Vicki Stroh, Ella Rutland and Alternate Susan Eastland. The Junior Varsity basketball season will be sparked by Gayle Leedham, Holly Fox, Sandy Parmenter, Sally Winner, Judy Insland, Joan Breckin and Lois Brinson, alternate.

Here's Three Shows For Price of One!

For an evening of well-rounded entertainment, which will be enjoyed by the entire family, the Forensic and Thespian Clubs invite you to come to the Northville High School auditorium and see the one-act plays, June 1, at 8 o'clock.

The Forensic sponsored plays include Wilbur Braun's Cursed You, Jack Dalton and Frank G. Tompkins, Sham, The Hitch-Hiker by Lucille Fletcher will be presented by the Thespians. Student directors are Ed Beard and Bob Hallam, Pam Kay and Alison Atherton, and Jim Drew and Edd Austin.

The first in the series of the one-act plays to be presented at Northville High, will be Cursed You, Jack Dalton, written by Wilbur Braun, and directed by Ed Beard and Bob Hallam. This old fashioned melo-drama has the conventional hero, heroine and villain. The hero falls in love with the innocent, sweet, shy heroine. The villain appears on the scene to do away with the heroine. All this develops into a hilariously funny comedy.

Jack Dalton, the hero, is played by David Lane who is a tall, strong and handsome idealistic haer of all villains. Bertha Blair, heroine, is played by Susan Pharo. Ed Beard portrays Egbert Vanillon, the terrible villain with the handle-bar mustache. Other members of the cast are Chris Mueller, Heidi Handorf, Kathy Utley and Scott Palmer.

Sham, the second play, is a subtle, sophisticated comedy which pokes fun at people who try to "keep up with the Joneses." The main characters, Clara and Charles, are suburbanites who are not as well-to-do as their neighbors of a more fashionable suburb. There is a thief prowling the neighborhood, one who enjoys the "finer things in life." When he pays a visit to Clara and Charles, he is begged to steal something from them, so that they can be like their rich neighbors, who have also had things stolen from them.

Charles, the easy-going husband is played by Bob Galli. Clara, his wife, a high-society social climber, is played by Diane Westphall. Dave Lane plays the fussy, sophisticated thief, and Susan Cowie plays an inquisitive reporter. Directors are Pam Kay and Alison Atherton.

The Hitch-Hiker by Lucille Fletcher, under the direction of Edd Austin and Jim Drew will be presented by the Thespian Club. This challenging play involves use of lighting and sound effects, as well as dramatic ability.

It is centered around a man on a coast to coast trip. Along the way, he sees a hitch-hiker but by-passes him. As he continues, he sees the same hitch-hiker again and again. These strange events lead to an unusual and intriguing ending.

Included in the cast are Phil Simenton, Joan Smith, Edd Austin, Jim Drew, Tom Barbara, Alison Atherton, Carol Jones, Bobbie Davis, Kathy Gallagher, Debbie Stafford and Holly Hines. make-up, Rosemarie Tetzlaff and Lynn Spetz, advertising; Judy Ritter, program and tickets; and Jim Riley, lighting. Miss Florence Panattoni and Miss Patricia Dorian are the Forensic Club faculty advisors.

Participating in "The Junior Town Meeting of the Air" to be presented June 2 over WJR, (l-r) Dennis Gilbert, Jim Morris, Jim Garret, WJR moderator; Ed Beard and Frank Steinberger.

NHS "On the Air"

Northville High School students participated in the radio program last week in the high school auditorium. This will be Northville's first appearance on the radio since 1958. Last week's presentation was in the form of a four man panel discussion on the question: "Whether we should or should not have a United Nations."

The panel was moderated by Jim Garret of WJR radio station. The taped program will be heard over WJR, June 2, at 7 o'clock on Junior Town Meeting of the Air, which features each week a high school debate.

It was quite a heated debate, as Dennis Gilbert and Jim Morris, of the affirmative side pointed out that the U.N. was a beneficial organization in our world today. The panel members of the negative side, Ed Beard and Frank Steinberger, stated that the U.N. should be abolished and that a new concert of free nations should be instituted. There were also many spontaneous questions from the audience on Northville's day on the air.

CLASS NEWS

The classes at NHS have been able to keep busy, even during this hectic spring season.

SENIORS, until last week, were concentrating their thoughts primarily on prom preparations. Decorations, as usual, received the most attention. The theme, "Majestic Deep", caused the decorating to become quite involved. Some would say that the huge octopus which adorned the occasion, resembled a King-sized square head with attached tentacles. Construction of such other items as the mermaid and sea horse resulted in a number of paper mache fights. The prom past, the seniors row eagerly await spring parties and the accompanying graduation.

THOUGH IT has not been officially publicized, the Juniors are definitely going to sponsor a Junior-Senior Banquet for their beloved upper classmen. It is scheduled to take place in the high school cafeteria on May 23. Because all Junior efforts are now being directed toward this project, it is certainly hoped that the extremely busy Seniors will be able to attend.

THERE HAS been little mentioned pertaining to the Sophomore class. Class rings have already been ordered. They are expected to arrive next fall. Other than this, all seems quiet on the Sophomore front. It comes to mind that they must be content with the thoughts of summer vacation.

USUALLY AT this time of year the Freshmen contract one of the most common diseases known to man — spring fever. They were at least able to out-perform the Sophomores in this respect by sponsoring a Sadie Hawkins Dance. This gave the girls their one chance a year to nab a fella. The scheme, apparently worked, because the Freshmen were well pleased with the success of their dance and the bolstering of their treasury.

Senior Julie Gazlay is a wonder to all who know and work with her. Just how can one girl do so much — so efficiently? Julie answers, "By accumulating responsibilities gradually, not accepting a lot at one time without allowing time for each of them." Her offices in the National Honor Society, P.T.A. and G.A.L., plus membership in the Student Council, and local and All-League bands have well proven her system. Olivet College also recognizes Julie's abilities and has awarded her two scholarships. After college her dreams include teaching kindergarten, working with emotionally disturbed children, and perhaps joining the Peace Corps.

EDITORIALLY SPEAKING

Thanks . . .

The Northville High School Student Council would like to express its sincere gratitude to The Northville Record, Mr. William Sliger, editor of the Record, has been most helpful in the publication of this news page. The opportunity and challenge which has been offered us is very much appreciated.

The students of Northville High School will make every effort to keep its articles interesting and informative, in the tradition of Record reporting.

Free Speech . . .

One of America's fundamental liberties is freedom of speech. Utilizing this principle, Americans have spoken out against American evils, not in disloyalty, but in patriotism to their country. Certainly, rabble-rousers have come to the forefront, but this does not obliterate the value of this principle, which Americans so rightly cherish. I feel our high schools should exemplify American liberties, one of which is the freedom of speech.

Questioning minds, capable of critical analysis, are vital to a society such as ours. It is healthy to have logical student objections to seemingly unfair administrative and faculty policies. If student opinion is ignored, basic citizen training is neglected, resentment toward authority grows, future questioning is suppressed, mutual understanding between teacher and student is impeded, and the teacher-student or administrator-student relationship becomes antagonistic.

Student organizations should be encouraged to express reasonable opposition; the experience will be invaluable.

Congratulations . . .

This writer would like to publicly congratulate the outstanding performance of Northville High School students again this year. Last summer cheerleaders won a trophy at a summer cheerleading camp proving they were the best in this area of the country, then returned home to cheer on an undefeated football team. The basketball and wrestling teams carried on by each establishing their most successful season in Northville's history. While the debate team was again winning the league championship. The choir and band were placing more members on their respective all-league roster than any of the other seven schools. Northville's spring speaking contestants followed by taking seven out of ten places in competition with the rest of the league. Spring sports, thus far have been almost equally as successful.

It is indeed a challenge to maintain the traditionally high standards of the Northville High School. To all that aided in these successes, a sincere, "well done".

Student Council: A Busy Body

The Northville High Student Council has many accomplishments to its name this year.

This organization has put on several successful charity drives during the year. There was a clothing drive for the benefit of Korean children followed by a "March of Dimes" campaign in February and the Easter Seal drive in April. Soon the council will wage its final drive of the year, the CARE campaign.

The student council renders many services to the school. Among these are the Student Directory, filled with the addresses and phone numbers of the students, a school calendar and other information. Another service is putting on assemblies for the student body. One of the outstanding ones this year was a demonstration by the U-M gymnastic team.

One of the more important services is the $100 scholarship given to a deserving senior from a letter of application. This year the council purchased a popcorn machine and cones during the year. There was a refreshments at football games of the school and after school at the school concession stand.

To improve our council and school, we have student exchange days where we exchange a group of students with another school for a day. Also there is a league student council made up of eight schools. This organization meets once a month with our own student council mayor and secretary presiding there too.

There are petitions now circulating for next year's officers. Soon we will know the people elected to carry on the student council's fine tradition next year.

CLASS PERSONALITIES

Tall, blonde Karen Peterson has graced Northville's top rate cheerleading squad for three years, and next year will be no exception. Besides cheerleading,

Karen Peterson

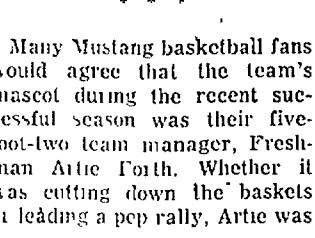

Karen has participated in Pep Club, G.A.L. Forensics, National Honor Society, Student Council and the MYF. During the summer, this seventeen-year-old girl who wants to become an airline hostess, is looking forward to her stay at Wolverine Club's State.

Being elected to a Student Council office is not a simple procedure, and being an underclassman elected to an office is even more difficult. Last year, Dave Jerome, as a freshman, won the confidence of the Northville Student Body, and was elected to the office of 1961-62 Student Council Treasurer. In addition to Student Council, Dave's already long list of activities includes basketball, football, baseball, debate, and Forensics.

David Jerome

Many Mustang basketball fans would agree that the team's mascot during the recent successful season was their five-foot-two team manager, Freshman Artie Forth. Whether it was cutting down the baskets or leading a pep rally, Artie was always in the act. Artie says he enjoyed working with the coaches and team this past year. "I learned a lot being with them. It was kind of funny and interesting."

Julie Gazlay

Senior Julie Gazlay is a wonder to all who know and work with her. Just how can one girl do so much — so efficiently? Julie answers, "By accumulating responsibilities gradually, not accepting a lot at one time without allowing time for each of them."

Her offices in the National Honor Society, P.T.A. and G.A.L., plus membership in the Student Council, and local and All-League bands have well proven her system. Olivet College also recognizes Julie's abilities and has awarded her two scholarships. After college her dreams include teaching kindergarten, working with emotionally disturbed children, and perhaps joining the Peace Corps.

In their final year of coaching spring forensics, Miss Dorian and Miss Panattoni, took these seven students to Regionals: (l-r) Manfred Bartell, Dennis Gilbert, Sheila Sandrock, Ed Austin, Grace Brinson, Terry LaRue and David Lane.

READERS SPEAK:

Explains Function Of Mothers Club

To the Editor:
The Novi Mother's Club has been the butt of so many rumors and counter-rumors which I have tried to refute, that I have finally come to the conclusion that my efforts are futile and maybe a public letter will reach more people and have more effect.

Although the School Fair is sponsored by the Mother's Club, it is a school and parent wide project. As the only service group connected with the school eight years ago, we had tried to raise money to help establish the school library and to provide equipment to make teaching and learning a little easier for both pupil and teacher. Since our own efforts were not enough, the school fair was launched with the help and support of the faculty. Contrary to all belief and rumors, none of this money is used by Mother's Club. With the exception of 15 percent of the net amount that is placed in a separate bank account (that draws interest) to be used for expenses for the next year's fair, the money is turned over to the school to be used for teaching, library books, and play equipment.

The chairman of the fair is contacting parents for help on projects and are answered: "Mother's club would not support the millage for school, they are backing so and so for school board election, so I won't help!" etc. etc. (Not all parents but etc. etc.)
The Mother's Club, as a group has never supported or worked for or against anyone in a political campaign. Individual members do, that's their privilege; and there were just as many working for as there were against. As a member of the Citizen's Finance Committee I knew and believed in the need for a better financial status for our school system. In my enthusiasm, I hoped the Mother's club would depart from their rule, but I forgot the strong feelings of individual members against our club being connected with anything political.

We are getting the same answers on the sale of fashion show tickets to bolster our own treasury. Except for $50 (from dresses) our money is spent on service projects connected with children; service squad, eighth grade trip to Lansing, Girl Scout Polio Campaign, Novi Library, etc. It takes $100 a year to set up the Savings Stamp program in the schools. We have not worked on a money making project, except for the Fair, for three years; so as a result our treasury is sadly depleted and needs bolstering.

When comments as above are made and friends are not speaking because one or the other voted either for or against an issue or person, it saddens and also frightens me as a citizen. If one small town of people with the same language and cultural background cannot work together with tolerance and understanding, what hope do we have that the different nations of this world can ever live together in peace when they do not even have the advantage of speaking the same language.

Sincerely,
Mrs. Frederick Loyne
President, Mother's Club

Lose Something? Police May Have It

Northville Police department's lost and found is getting cramped for space, reports Chief Eugene King.
A variety of items turned into the department in recent months have gone unclaimed, said the chief. Unless they recovered by their owners, they may either be sold at auction or otherwise discarded, he added.
Persons who want to check whether or not police have their lost goods should be prepared to give a complete description of the missing article, King advised.

Here's Guide for Clean-Up

May in Northville means a "spring inspection" that will determine how you can step up the appearance and livability of your home.

1. The Outside. This is your home's face to the public. Check roofing and siding. Small cracks, peeling, etc. often require little more than minor repairs or repainting. The new latex paints that cover exteriors with a single coat make it far easier than heretofore to put a fresh, bright sparkle into a weather-worn home.

Moreover, new materials on the market can sometimes make it cheaper to have new roofing or siding installed than to do a patch job.

Like any other large and expensive piece of equipment, a home should be inspected periodically if it is to be kept in smooth operating condition. Since the winter months usually do the most damage, spring is the best time for making a seasonal check-up and attending to the necessary repairs and other little jobs about the house that will make it a better place in which to live.

Make Repairs Promptly

Minor repairs should be made promptly. Failure to do so will often result in more serious breakdowns later on - may even necessitate an expensive major overhaul that might have been avoided.

Here is a convenient guide to

Painting Can 'Re-Shape' A Room to Your Liking

You can reshape a room as you repaint it. Ceiling too low? Raise it. Room too narrow? Widen it. Or too square? Lengthen it. You can do it with paint - the right color paint.

A small room will look larger when painted. A light color, particularly a light, cool color, such as pale blue, lilac, aqua, or blue gray. These colors retreat, making the walls seem farther apart, thus making the room itself appear more spacious.

To increase the size illusion, always paint the woodwork and trim the same color as the walls.

On the opposite side of the coin, deep hues are most flattering to large rooms. Even a sparsely furnished, barn-like room will look friendly and inviting when its walls are painted a deep, warm hue, such as burnished gold, copper or burgundy red. Woodwork can be painted white, or a contrasting color in a spacious room, and should be, as it's exceptionally decorative.

What about a long, narrow room - or hall - that resembles a bowling alley? You can make it seem much wider and square in shape if you paint the two side walls a light color and the narrow ends a deeper hue. This effect can be achieved by using a tint and shade of the same color, or by combining light and dark contrasting hues. For instance, you could use shell pink and rose or shell pink and turquoise.

Duo-tone Effects

Even a room can be a real "square." You can create more interest in a box-like room by making one wall the focal point. Select the wall behind the room's most important furnishing. Paint this one wall a contrasting color, or a brighter or deeper shade of the other walls. You might paint one wall bright gold and the remaining walls gray or pale yellow or a deep golden tone.

To make a ceiling look higher, paint it white or a very pale

Mon-Ey-Saving Features

Among the materials that now include new time- and money-saving features are: (a) fireproof shingles that protect your roof, and (b) sidings that provide insulation, retaining building heat and cutting fuel bills. Fuel savings, over the years, can amortize the cost of the installation.

Then there are rot-resistant sidings and shingles that provide longer life and beauty for the home. Some sidings have baked-on decorator colors that never need repainting.

2. Inside the House. A change in the family's size and needs may call for a room addition or interior remodeling. Consider converting the basement to a finished recreation room, or add a finished bedroom or den to the attic to meet expanded family needs.

Effect a "change of scene" in any or all rooms via a new paint job or wallpaper - or a combination of both. Consider new floor coverings, too!

3. The Grounds. Even a small backyard can become a happy, modern outdoor living area. New patio awnings and shelters can convert a small corner near the house into a suitable area for summer relaxation and barbecue fun.

Paint Selection

If you are going to do your own painting, here's a quick guide to the selection of the proper paints to use on the various surfaces.

New Plaster Walls - two coats of latex paint (also called water-thinned, plastic, rubber based) or one coat of primer sealer followed by alkylid flat enamel.

Previously Painted Plaster Walls - one coat of either latex or alkylid flat. If new paint is yellow or pink, it's advisable to use a coat of pigmented primer sealer first.

Wallboard - seal with one coat of primer sealer, then follow with latex or alkylid.

Hardboard - first seal with latex, enamel undercoater, oil or alkylid based primer. Follow with topcoat of choice.

Plywood - seal with penetrating resin sealer, clear if top coat is to be varnished. If top coat is wall paint or enamel use pigmented resin sealer.

New Woodwork - prime with enamel undercoater. Follow with semi-gloss or gloss enamel.

Previously Painted Woodwork - gloss or semi-gloss enamel. If color is being changed from dark to light, use enamel undercoat first.

Why not include a refreshment center in your family room wall of built-ins? This one is concealed behind a door that swings out and is designed to act as the serving bar. Inside is shelving for supplies and an electric outlet for coffee pot. Sliding panel pulls down, joins with door to close off center when not in use.

SPEAKING for the Record

by Bill Sliger

The years keep rolling by and soon it's time again for high school graduation.

Hundreds of thousands of youngsters the nation over will leave one plateau of life for another the moment they receive their diplomas.

No matter what follows — college, work, military service or marriage — never again will life hold the same mixture of experiences that made for the happy routine of public school days.

This is not to suggest that richer, even happier days, do not lie ahead.

But at this new plateau, life becomes what one makes of it. And for most youngsters it means the first test of the training they have received at home and in school.

For many the transition will be smooth and uneventful; others will struggle but succeed, some will never leave the first plateau.

The youngsters will bid-farewell to high school days after a final word of advice from their commencement speaker. Annually, the responsibility and opportunity for such an address is accorded business leaders, educators, politicians and clergymen. And from their own experiences in the advanced plateaus of life they set forth examples for the young graduates to consider.

Time-worn as the phrase may be, the future belongs to these youngsters and the reality of just how soon the future fades into the present, and finally the past, can never be told convincingly.

It seems immensely important to me that at graduation time the commencement speaker review the basics of our American way of life — just to be sure they have not been forgotten in the complexity of learning and advancements of modern technology.

The formula is so simple that it is too often overlooked: integrity, honesty and religious conviction coupled with a willingness to work hard.

I would add loyalty — to one's job, employee or employer, and one's country.

The forces that would have us believe otherwise — that scoff at such ideals as old fashioned — did not exist when the foundation of our great nation was created.

With them the miracle of America would never have happened; and its future may well rest upon their influence on our June graduates.

The request to operate a rubbish landfill in Northville township created more furor than any issue in recent years in the usual tranquility of township hall.

Monday night board of appeals members abruptly denied the permit. It is predicted that the decision may bring legal action.

The issue created heavy public pressure, which most certainly influenced the decision of the board to back-off just as it appeared ready to relent to the plan.

Included in the protests was the resignation of a long-time planning board member, criticism of the supervisor and township board for not dictating policy to the appeals' board, and accusations that engineering firms were switched to win favorable reports for the proposed landfill.

Under law the township board has no legal authority to influence or change decisions of the appeals board. In fairness it should also be noted that the study to select an engineer for purposes of drafting sewer and water ordinances began many months ago and could not have been related to the landfill problem.

Meanwhile, it behooves township officials to seek out new answers for restoration of its numerous gravel pits areas. The problem will remain as grounds for more stormy meetings.

Dr. Mudd Replies

Which Man Shall I Marry?

Dear Dr. Mudd:

This is one of those "what would-you-do-if" questions. I am a woman, alone. I have had four children; none of them are babies; I have been going practically steady with a nice (very nice) man for about two years. Although I am not formally engaged to him, he is just about everything to me.

Now there is another man. Should I go out with him as I know I want to get to know him better? I know what I really want is to get married again. The first man really does not have any religion at all. The second goes to the same church I belong to.

Should I look on the practical side or should I stay with the man I'm going with? I know that the first man is where my heart really is, but the second one fits better and he can do (us) a lot of good and I will be good for him too. Please answer soon.

G.S.

Dear G. S.:

Your brief letter leaves so much of importance unsaid that I shouldn't presume to suggest an answer to your question, much less tell you what to do. Only you can decide the question as to which side of the fence has the greenest grass!

Many people, out of naivete, ignorance, or mistrust of their own feelings, look upon the selection of a marriage partner as a variant of Russian Roulette. And all too often with as disastrous results! These very people, when facing an impending breakup with their marriage partners, readily acknowledge that their marital choice was not determined by love, but rather by some flimsy and uncertain factor.

A man, for example, will marry a woman because she is beautiful in the eyes of others rather than because he finds her as a total person the most lovely of women he has known or could know. He is far more impressed with the admiration her looks evoke from others than the feeling she creates in him.

A girl will find that man most attractive who has the newest car, or the curliest hair, or the bluest eyes, or the most money. Marriages based on such trivial criteria of attractiveness may be "successful" but never, in my experience, have they had the ecstatic quality of the deep and indescribable feelings of devotion and love which typify these masterpieces of marriage we all admire so much.

But age has never been able to enforce its knowledge on youth. And youth has too seldom requested instruction on these matters.

Young people insist upon freedom to make mistakes and one of the certain ways of becoming "square" is to try to persuade them away from the exercise of this right.

When people contemplate marriage, they should have a feeling of certainty within themselves that the prospective mate is one with whom they wish to share all things. Any lack of respect or feeling of antagonism is an ominous sign. When two people love each other deeply and exclusively, the matter of different views on any subject, including religion and politics, can enrich rather than impair the relationship.

I have heard both sides of the question about mixed religious marriages. As far as I know, religious differences have been given an undeserved role of responsibility for marital discord. Because this may be one obvious area of difference, marriage counseling enthusiasts select this as the cause of dis-harmony. Obviously no marriage ends in divorce from any single cause. There are always multiple difficulties; like mismatched bridge hands, just don't find a fit.

There is no evidence to suggest that two members of the same religious persuasion have any better marital survival rate than those of disparate faith. And this is not so difficult to understand when you consider that no two people ever believe exactly alike in any matter save in the broadest most general sense. And religious feeling, despite the fact we go to church or synagogue together, is essentially a very private and personal affair with all of us.

Con-Con Package Faces Opposition

The Constitutional Convention is running into the first signs of opposition to its proposed product.

Plans are progressing to present the document to the people as a single unit in November, if possible. The single unit feature of the Con-Con report likely may severely lessen its chances for approval.

Several organized groups attacked portions of the proposed Constitution before the convention took its third and final vote on the provisions.

Supporters of the one package idea contend with some logic that the Constitution is a single entity and must be considered this way if government is not to become confused.

They stress that most (an estimated 85 percent) of the sections have near unanimous approval of Con-Con delegates; the state will gain a great deal by the new document.

First big gain is financial: Experts believe citizens will save $15 million a year from changes in election laws and other efficiencies.

First to vocalize its opposition to the Convention proposals was the State AFL-CIO, which aimed its chief dislike at the recommendations for legislative apportionment.

Sarah Robinson, chairman of the State Civil Service Commission, came forth quickly with a blast at the Convention move to give the Legislature power to change or reject Commission-approved pay scales for state employees.

Legislators, many of whom were opposed to the calling of the Convention, joined in the chorus when they saw the document propose to eliminate their retirement system. This, plus a salary spelled out in dollars in the Constitution, brought the lawmakers to nearly unanimous bipartisan agreement that they would oppose the document if it was left this way.

The Legislature is composed of 144 persons whose vote-raising power has been demonstrated. The Civil Service Commission represents some 31,000 state employees. The State AFL-CIO involves many thousands of people.

These three groups alone, each opposing a different provision of the several to be lumped onto one ballot, could play a major role in the determination of whether the seven months of work in Lansing produced a good basic law or wasted $2 million.

Several Convention delegates opposed the single-unit presentation of the document to the people. They were unsuccessful, however, in their attempt to have the proposals broken down into several questions with separate votes on some of the most controversial sections.

It was generally conceded when the Convention started last October that it would never be able to please everyone. There was certain to be at least one section which would draw opposition from one group or another.

Battle Lines for 1962 fall election are drawn; or at least the commanding generals have been designated.

George Romney, likely GOP candidate for Governor, has named many of his troops for his campaign against incumbent Democrat John B. Swainson. It is unlikely either will face competition in the primary. Swainson is expected to call out many of the same troops who helped him win in 1960.

In the No. 2 spot will be Lt. Gov. T. John Lesinski seeking a second term as presiding officer of the Senate. He faced tough primary competition in 1960 and likely will have it again. State Sen. John H. Stahlin, Belding businessman, wants to have the second spot on the Republican ticket. Others are very likely to seek this nomination.

The Democratic field generals will be the same as they are now: the office-holders on the Administrative Board. Republican nominees for these posts apparently are all still in combat training.

While Lawmakers have been trying in vain for several years to come up with a tax program that will meet the state's needs, one small voice in the House of Representatives has repeatedly offered a $100 million solution in a single tax.

The objects of the tax proposed by Rep. Edwin A. Fitzpatrick, D-Detroit, are illegal under provisions of the Constitution, however. They are bingo, lotteries, sweepstakes and off-track race betting.

Fitzpatrick has offered the same solution to Michigan's tax and fiscal problems for several years. No one seems to take him seriously although he insists he means to continue fighting for his proposal. Everyone else has paid little heed to his lone voice while they have been busy talking about income taxes or nuisance taxes.

Constitution prohibitions could be removed by a vote of the people, thus legalizing the gambling means, Fitzpatrick says.

"Gambling is big business in Michigan now, but it is done illegally and the state does not reap any tax benefits from it," he said. "Bookmakers are reaping more than $100 million a year illegally."

"If you don't play, you don't pay," Fitzpatrick says is the best measure of equitable taxation. "I think we should pass this type of legislation which would permit control of the gambling industry, raise money for the government, and lessen the number of violators among our people."

Some RR Stocks Attractive

Babson Park, Mass., Investors are like flocks of sheep. They run all together and blindly follow a leader. It was not many years ago that investors were enthusiastic about railroad stocks; now they are dumping such stocks indiscriminately. They are putting their money into armament stocks that are largely dependent upon government contracts which must come toward an end.

Importance of Diversification

The wise investor will not only diversify among many industries — railroad, chemical, oil, gas, and public utilities, etc., but should keep his investments fluid and remember that each classification is growing either better or worse. Hence a few airplane stocks are advisable; and a few shipping stocks. Certainly Greyhound should not be forgotten. But don't have too much invested in any form of transportation.

Without doubt the passenger business of railroads is coming to a virtual end, except where subsidized by the Government. Short lines should be avoided; also lines subject to severe water competition. Certain of the rich railroads, such as the Union Pacific, are still advertising passenger business; but they are paying for the loss from their passenger business by their oil, gas, and other mineral investments along the right of way which they own.

More Mergers Ahead

This is because if the automobiles and good roads had come before the railroads, only about a third of the present railroad mileage would have been built. It is one thing to argue in favor of mergers, and it is another thing to reason with labor. Labor appears to have no regard for the nation's welfare.

The basic reason why investors should be shy of railroad investments is because of the attitude and power of labor. It is not only necessary to eliminate "featherbedding," which everyone, except the politicians, believe to be wrong; but labor insists on dictating as to mergers, passenger rates, pullman equipment, and even train schedules.

Bangor & Aroostook Experiment

I believe the most forward-looking railroad president in the country is W. Gordon Robertson, head of the Bangor & Aroostook Railroad, which runs from northern Maine southerly to tidewater. It once prospered greatly by hauling wood and pulp, and later newsprint. It also prospered from the great potato industry of Northern Maine.

President Robertson realized that he must have the most efficient rolling stock to make a profit during the seasons when this freight was hauled, but he also devised a plan of renting the road's most modern diesel engines in the off seasons.

Even under the most efficient operation, his railroad could not compete with trucks. He therefore turned to a very original plan; He organized the Bangor & Aroostook Corporation, which owns 90% of the stock of the railroad company. This new corporation, however, is able to carry on any kind of business which shows a profit.

An investor can keep his old Bangor & Aroostook Railroad stock if he desires, or he can new business corporation. I believe it for the stock of the lieve President Robertson will make a success of his new corporation and many other railroads will follow his example.

Kansas City Southern Program

The Kansas City Southern Railway also has a progressive forward-looking president, W. N. Derramus, who operates this road most efficiently notwithstanding water competition. However, he has now come to the same conclusion, and has formed a separate corporation — Kansas City Southern Industries, Inc. — which will be able to do anything from running supermarkets to operating oil wells along the line of the Kansas City Railroad. Too many railroad stockholders have forgotten the great value of the lights-of-way and adjoining property.

The stockholders of the K. C. Railroad are to be given the opportunity of exchanging their stock for stock of the new corporation. The management will substitute good bus service for all passenger travel; it will develop a fast door-to-door freight business. But, most important, it will enter into other growing industries and should be very successful. This experiment is being watched by many of the railroads, and may result in their stocks again becoming valuable. In the past month, though the market for all stocks has gone off sharply, Kansas City Southern has gone up 10 points.

Its reliability is probably its greatest single asset

When you build a quality truck, the inclination is to run around asking users what they think of it. We do quite a bit of this.

It's a funny thing. You'd think people would talk mostly about the mechanical features of the vehicle—the good ride, its power, the double-wall construction, cab comfort, or tough tailgate.

These things get comment, of course, but they're consistently outnumbered by expressions of satisfaction with the dependability of a Chevrolet truck. Its greatest single asset seems to be the fact that it does its job well day after day without a lot of fuss or attention—and that's what impresses people the most.

Quality is the key to reliability. The next time you have to buy a truck, call your Chevrolet dealer and make your money go farther.
