

City hall flag raising ceremony opens day of activity for visiting mayor.

Time out for lunch. That's Michigan Week Chairman C. Oscar Hammond delivering remarks of greeting. Seated (l-r) are Councilman Richard Juday, Mayor and Mrs. John Halmund of North Muskegon, Program Chairman James Murray of the host Exchange club and Mrs. Hammond.

Councilman Juday, acting as mayor pro tem, presents visiting Mayor Halmund with a key to the city.

In the afternoon Mayor and Mrs. Halmund are shown Northville high school by Principal Fred Stefanski.

And at the noon luncheon John Steimel presents Mrs. Emma Reid with the American Legion's "Citizen of the Year" award.

Visiting Mayor Gets Grand Tour

Thanks to Michigan Week Chairman C. Oscar Hammond, North Muskegon's Mayor John Halmund knows Northville pretty well. Time didn't allow a full tour of many of the community facilities, so Hammond and his official greeters made a whirlwind visit by car throughout the area.

And the visiting mayor and his wife seemed to enjoy their day, too.

It started at 10 a.m. The high school band and veterans' color guards escorted the dignitaries from the high school, down Center street to Main and to the city hall.

Councilmembers Richard Juday, Richard Ambler and Beatrice Carlson joined Chairman Hammond as official hosts.

Everyone got acquainted at an informal council meeting where it was discovered that the problems of North Muskegon are not unlike those of Northville.

Mayor Halmund quipped that he liked the size of Northville's council chambers — "you don't have room for many objectors in the audience."

The party then moved to the First Methodist church and the luncheon sponsored by the Exchange club.

E. B. Shultz, industrial relations manager of Ford Motor Company's Wixom assembly plant, talked about new horizons in science and presented a color film produced by Ford Motor Company on progress in science.

James Murray presided at the luncheon for Exchange, while both Councilman Juday and Hammond had words of greeting for Mayor and Mrs. Halmund.

The meeting was turned over to the American Legion's John Steimel who announced that its annual "Citizen of the Year" plaque had been awarded this year to Mrs. Emma Reid.

A resident of Northville and a widow since 1935, Mrs. Reid has been active in numerous community organizations. She modestly said that she "just does these things, any normal person would do with time on her

Midways Set for Biggest Carnival

Northville Parent-Teacher association unveils the biggest bazaar in family fun tomorrow night with the opening of its annual spring carnival.

Shooting for a turnout to eclipse last year's record crowd, P-TA planners have put together a generous sampling of games and booths to tease the fancies of young and old alike.

They're turning the junior high school, community building and an adjoining outdoor area into colorful midways accented with a Gay Nineties flavor.

Festivities will start early — at 5 p.m. — with a full course dinner in the community building. To speed up the meal line, there will be set prices for meals: children through sixth grade age, 50 cents, above sixth grade and adults, one dollar.

Along the bustling midways "earny" barkers will be vying for customers at these attractions contrived by school groups and other organizations.

In the junior high library women teachers will offer a blend of peace and quiet and good refreshments to parents in a new carnival feature, "The Bliss Room".

Elsewhere in the junior high Northville branch of the Woman's National Farm and Garden association will be holding its usual White Elephant sale, LOLLIPOP TREE — never heard of a tree that grows lollipops? There is one, one that Buddy Houser and Barbara Wilson (l-r) have already sampled. It's the same tree that will offer its biggest bounty in lollipops tomorrow night along the junior high midway. Some of the tree's treats will have special surprises — other the lollipops — hidden inside their wrappers. The new attraction is sponsored by the M Street kindergarten.

Trash, Queens, Balloons

Northville Jaycees Are Busy Fellows!

WHAT'S HE DOING? — Setting a balloon in orbit, naturally. That's Jaycee Stan Gurney demonstrating the Junior Chamber's latest fund-raising project. It's a fun-day with prizes to winners (see story).

"One thing at a time" certainly couldn't be applied to Northville's Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Right now the Jaycees have a host of projects going. Namely:

— the "Beautify Northville" campaign which will be concluded with a city-wide trash pick-up this Saturday morning beginning at 8 o'clock.

—dedication of their "Northville Park" at 11 a.m. Saturday on city property located between the Ford valve plant and the Old Spring;

—plans for the "biggest Fourth of July celebration ever" which will include a three-mile-long parade, games and fireworks;

—fund-raising events to finance their ambitious Fourth of July community project.

Specifically, the fund raising projects include the selection of a "Jaycee Queen" and a "Balloon in Orbit" contest.

Never caught without an idea, here's how the Jaycees plan to raise funds on their "Queen" and "Balloon" promotions.

First the Queen. Jaycees Bob Prom and Paul Palmer are in charge of this event. They're seeking entrants now.

Any Northville girl who is single and between the ages of 16 and 18 can enter. The winner will reign over the Fourth of July celebration and be Miss Jaycee Queen for the year.

"We're hoping to select a queen and nine members of her court," explained Prom. Pictures of the girls will be placed on canisters in stores throughout the business district, he said.

"For every penny in the canister the girl is credited with one vote. The girl with the most votes wins," Prom explained.

Deadline for entering the "Queen" contest is June 2. Voting begins shortly thereafter and continues until July 1. Entries may be made by contacting Prom at FI-9-2287.

The "Balloon in Orbit" promotion is under the direction of Stan Gurney. It starts Friday and may be found in the area of the P-TA fair at the community building.

It works this way. For twenty-five cents a contestant can purchase a helium-inflated balloon with a return-address postcard attached. Sign your name and set it aloft. The postcard returned from the greatest distance by July 3 is the first place winner. First prize is a bicycle, second a wagon, third a baseball glove plus other smaller prizes.

The "Balloon in Orbit" game will be stationed on a truck and will circulate around the community during the next week, Gurney said.

Oh yes, we almost forgot. Don't be surprised if a young man knocks on your door selling "safety flares".

He's a Jaycee trying to raise funds for the July Fourth event (honest — they sell for two for one dollar).

Repeat Dog Clinic Scheduled

Somewhere in Northville there are 500 dogs wandering around without licenses — and possibly unvaccinated.

This is the estimate of City Clerk Martha Milne and Township Clerk Rita Northup after a disappointing turnout at last Saturday's clinic.

As a result, another vaccination clinic is planned for this Saturday morning, 9:00 until noon, at the fire hall.

Less than 70 dogs were licensed and vaccinated Saturday. Past records indicated a combined city-township dog population of 750. Previous to Saturday, some 200 dogs had been licensed.

Deadline for obtaining licenses is June 1. A $2 fine is imposed on owners of unlicensed dogs after that date. Licenses will not be issued unless the dog has received the anti-rabies vaccination, or proof can be supplied of vaccination last year with a two-year vaccine.

Parade to Honor Area War Dead

In a world where peace must still fight to hold its own in the face of repeated outbreaks of armed conflict, Northville — along with other communities across the nation — will take time out to honor its war dead Wednesday in traditional Memorial Day services to be conducted by the Veterans of Foreign Wars in cooperation with the American Legion.

As in other years, the veteran's organizations, their auxiliaries and units from other groups will line up in parade formation to make the march to memorial sites at both Oakwood and Rural Hill cemeteries.

C. W. Myers, VFW chairman, said units will assemble outside the Legion home in time to start the parade at 9 a.m. He said VFW and Legion men and women, the high school band, veterans of World Wars I and II and the Korean War, Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, Brownsies, Cub Scouts and school children will march through the city along this route:

Dumlap to Hutton, Hutton to Main, Main to Wing, Wing to Cady, Cady to Oakwood cemetery, back out to Cady to Rogers, down Rogers to Rural Hill cemetery.

Parade marshals Stanley Myers and Charles Willgus are to lead the march, stated Myers.

Color guards, firing squads and possibly a U.S. Navy contingent are expected to add to the pomp.

As a tribute to those who died at sea, a wreath will be dropped in the Rouge River at Oakwood cemetery. Another will be placed on the veterans' plot at Rural Hill.

Myers said the Reverend Robert Spradling of Northville First Baptist church had been asked to give the memorial address.

Money, Architect Aid Scout Building

Northville's proposed new recreation-scout building was given two boosts this week.

Number one came with the announcement at the city council meeting Tuesday that the Northville Mothers Club had pledged $1,000 towards the community project.

The club, which annually donates the proceeds of its projects to the public schools, announced it would give $500 this year and $500 next year towards the new Cady street facility.

The recreation building moved another step towards reality Tuesday when the council accepted the recommendation of Councilmembers Richard Ambler and Beatrice Carlson of retaining Howard Wright as architect.

Ambler, who has served as chairman of the building committee, said that Wright had designed many homes locally, had an interest in the community, and had offered his services at a very nominal fee.

The city council directed the attorney to prepare a contract for approval at the first June meeting.

Estimated cost of the new recreation building is $23,000. The city received approximately $13,000 from the sale of the old building and has since received donations from the Rotary club, Junior Chamber of Commerce and Mothers Club to bring the building fund total to $16,000.

A fund drive is planned this summer to raise the balance.

Year's Study In France Awarded Hix

A Northville youth, now in his junior year at the University of Michigan, is one of 40 students selected for a year's study in France under a new program jointly sponsored by the U of M and the University of Wisconsin.

Charles A. Hix, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Hix of 114 Raymond, will be among the first student group to study at the University of Aix-Marseille, France, when the program is initiated next fall.

Hix stood third scholastically in his 1960 Northville high school graduation class and was a stand-out member of the varsity debating team. He is majoring in English at Michigan.

Nineteen students were selected from the U of M, one from Michigan State University and 20 from Wisconsin.

The program was conceived as one of the intellectual rigor and integrity which will make effective use of the total educational resources of the French university.

Assistant Prof. James J. Gindin, who headed the U-M selection committee, explained that the overseas program is available to students at the U-M and other American colleges and universities. Selection criteria include academic excellence, demonstrated competence in French, and ability to benefit from a program in a foreign university.

Of 3 Women's Clubs

New Officers Take Helm

Three women's organizations in Northville turned their leadership tasks over to new officers last week. The customary spring rite of electing and installing a new executive line-up found one club offering a second gavel and president's cap to Mrs. George W. Kohs.

Geraldine—everyone calls her "Gerie"—Kohs will have her work cut out for her when the club circuit gets into full swing in the fall. The dynamic clubwoman-homemaker was named to the presidency of the Woman's Club in March, and a week ago Monday took over the top office of Northville branch of the Woman's National Farm and Garden association.

How will she manage her dual role?

"Probably as efficiently as she's faced in other club of-fices," confides a co-worker.

"She can do it if anyone can," assured another.

"It's going to be quite a job," admits Mrs. Kohs, modestly noting that the president in each club gets plenty of help from others who serve with her.

When she sheds her apron to preside at the Garden Club, the wife and mother of three sons will be aided by:

Mrs. John Begle, first vice-president; Mrs. William Slatery, second vice-president; Mrs. Donald Ware, recording secretary; Mrs. Alfred Millington, treasurer; Mrs. E. O. Whittington, corresponding secretary.

All took office at the WNF&GA's annual meeting May 14.

Mother's Club Votes

Northville Mother's Club also took time out from their school projects to choose a new slate of officers last week.

Directing the Moms next year will be: Mrs. William Weidner, president; Mrs. Frank Pauli, vice-president; Mrs. J. D. Mahoney, secretary; Mrs. Essie Nauder, treasurer.

Tapped to head committees for 1962-63 were: Mrs. Irvn Matburger, finance; Mrs. Carl Stephens, program; Mrs. George Zorbel, social; Mrs. Stuart Campbell, publicity; Mrs. Robert Yoder, out-going president; work; Mrs. Cecil Rollgers, telephone; Mrs. Edwin Langtry, Girl Scouts; Mrs. Matt Houser, cards and flowers; Mrs. Chet Lipa, Red Cross.

For their last get-together of the year, members of the Mother's Club will be the guests of Mrs. Fred Schwarz, 21066 Cambridge drive, at a potluck picnic Monday.

Co-hostesses for the 6:30 p.m. picnic are Mrs. Robert W. Matthews, Mrs. John Northrup, Mrs. Grant Allen and Mrs. Irvn Matburger.

Elect Mrs. Thomas

On May 15 women of the Wesleyan Service Guild of Northville's First Methodist church met for the installation of a new official slate headed by Mrs. Arlie Thomas, president elect.

Mrs. Paul Cargo, wife of the Methodist minister, conducted the ceremonies.

Also taking office were: Mrs.

Raychel Hinman, vice-president; Mrs. Clyde Wheaton, treasurer; Mrs. Morley Godley, recording secretary; Mrs. Wilson Funk, promotional secretary; Mrs. Ancil Felker, Christian social relations; Miss Grace Pollock, mission education; Mrs. Leslie, spiritual life; Mrs. Russell Clarke, coordinator.

Mrs. Edna Downer, Mrs. Louise Older and Mrs. Lela Pelley will serve on the nominating committee.

The guild's annual picnic is scheduled Tuesday, June 5 at Waterford Bend.

AAUW Puts Series' Profits Into Grant for Local Coed

Some girl in the Northville-Plymouth area planning to enroll at the Northwest Wayne County Community college will share in scholarships to be awarded by the American Association of University Women (AAUW).

Plymouth branch of the AAUW, which includes members from Northville, decided at a meeting last week to establish the scholarship fund for a local girl using part of the proceeds from the 1962-63 Listening Post lecture series sponsored by the university women.

One quarter of the Listening Post profits will be channeled into the new scholarship with the remaining three-quarters again going toward support of the AAUW fellowship program for women doing advanced study in the United States and overseas.

Last year Plymouth branch put lecture series' monies into a named gift to the fellowship fund in honor of its first president, Mrs. Austin L. Pino.

Listening Post's bill of fare for the coming season has talks by Dr. F. T. Haddock, of the University of Michigan Department of Astronomy, Pulitzer prize-winning poet W. D. Snodgrass and two top level political scientists who will discuss a critical issue of the times.

To furnish lecture-goers with an opportunity to meet the guest speakers, an informal coffee hour will be held after each program.

Hostesses for these gatherings are Mrs. W. V. Clarke, chairman, Mrs. I. W. Becker, Mrs. K. L. Huland, Mrs. Paul Malboeuf, Miss Irene Truesdell and Mrs. C. C. Wiltse.

Make Headway in Move To Start Children's Clinic

Members of a steering committee working to establish a child guidance clinic in Western Wayne county inched closer to their goal last week in a second meeting at the Easter Seal building in Inkster.

The proposed clinic, when opened, would provide treatment for emotionally disturbed children from communities in the western part of the county. No site has been chosen for the facility.

Mrs. Crispin Hammond, Northville chairman pro tem of the steering committee that was originated under the auspices of a Torch Drive planning division, said headway was made on two fronts at the meeting last Thursday:

—recommended by-laws were presented for study before adoption at a meeting June 12, and —a committee charged with nominating a board of directors for the clinic elected a chairman.

Suggested by-laws presented by Inkster's Robert Wesley were prepared by Wesley and Mrs.

Appointed

The new Northville chairman has worked as a volunteer solicitor in the past four Torch Drives. She is the mother of four children, and has lived here 12 years.

The 1962 Torch Drive is scheduled to start October 16.

Pedersen Art Wins

Northville high school art teacher Roy Pedersen has won an award in the Tenth Annual Michiana Regional exhibition now in progress at the Art Center, South Bend, Indiana.

The prize awarded Pedersen for his stoneware bottle was one of 19 given out in the highly selective and competitive show. Fifty-six craftsmen from Michigan and Indiana submitted 148 pieces of art of which 83 were accepted for display.

Pedersen, who is currently displaying his stoneware pottery at Hartley-Powers gallery on East Main, has also been invited to show his work at the North Central Regional 1962 Craft conference slated June 15-17 at Cranbrook.

NEW TEACHER — Ruth Marie Ellison, of Berwyn, Illinois, will be coming to Northville in late summer to take over the first through fourth grade teaching position being vacated at St. Paul's Lutheran school by Judith Klenz. Miss Ellison, presently completing work toward a bachelor of science degree in education at Concordia college in River Forest, Illinois, was assigned to St. Paul's by the Board of Assignments of The Lutheran Church — Missouri Synod in a recent meeting at the church's headquarters in St. Louis, Missouri.

Miss Klenz is leaving St. Paul's to resume studies at Concordia.

Goodwill Pickup

The next visit of Goodwill Industries pick-up trucks to Northville is scheduled for Monday. Goodwill trucks collect household discards of clothing, shoes, hats, toys, most types of furniture and other household discards.

To arrange for a Goodwill Industries truck pick-up, call the local Goodwill representative, ask the operator for toll-free Enterprise 7002.

Girl Scouts Rehearse Round-Up

Getting ready for the International Roundup in July, 55 Senior scouts and their adult leaders from the Huron Valley Girl Scout council staged a dress rehearsal of camping skills at Howell May 11-13.

Andrea Bissa, who has been named to represent Northville Girl Scouts at the roundup at Bilton Bay State park in Vermont, brushed up on her camping techniques with the other girls.

The rehearsal was held at Linden campsite, the new Huron Valley Girl Scout council camp area north of Howell, near the intersection of Argentine and Hogan roads.

The girls ran through camping techniques and fireside entertainments and prepared and cooked their own foods. By roundup time they must be entirely self-sufficient — able to set up their own tents, make their own eating tables and even converse in several different languages. They must also be able to work efficiently in the patrol system of a big encampment.

At the rehearsal, scouts showed samples of "swaps," pins or other small items typical of the communities in which the girls live. Each girl will have about 100 swaps made for her by her troop to exchange with other roundup campers.

Jan Powers, of Ann Arbor, led the girls in group singing.

17th District GOP Women To Entertain Mrs. Romney

Lenore Romney, wife of Republican gubernatorial candidate George Romney, is coming to the Detroit area June 14 to be the luncheon guest of women from the 17th Congressional district.

The luncheon, scheduled at 11:30 a.m. in the Botsford inn, 28000 Grand River, is being sponsored by the district's recently formed Republican Women's council.

Mrs. A. C. Carlson and Mrs. C. A. Hoffman, Northville representatives to the council, are in charge of ticket sales here. Mrs. Carlson can be contacted at FI 9-1330 and Mrs. Hoffman at FI 9-1092.

Tickets are $2.50. Accommodations at the inn will limit reservations to 400.

General chairman for the luncheon is Mrs. Shirley Reisdorf, of Detroit.

Following her luncheon with 17th district women Mrs. Romney will attend a 2-4 p.m. tea in the 13th district.

Mrs. George Romney

LET'S TALK CARS . . .

Saving Begins
At Home

If you are thinking of buying a new or used car, the best common sense counsel you can follow is to buy it locally from a reputable dealer.

Despite the simple economic logic of this advice though, many well-intentioned and otherwise sensible folks will drive fifty miles and more to "save" fifty dollars.

Exceptions to this rule make sense when a motorist knows an out-of-town dealer in whom he has complete confidence. Or when he has real reason to complain of service in his own locality. A small price difference by itself, however, is seldom a wise justification for purchasing a car outside of your own town or city.

An out-of-town buyer should expect to trade for less because the dollar difference must frequently be expended in other ways: Paying for service that would normally be free at your selling dealer's, travelling costs and loss of time in warranty adjustments.

It is virtually standard practice among many dealers to trade off questionable used cars to out-of-town buyers so as to protect their local reputation. These cars are sometimes priced below market averages but they are not bargains. If they were the kind of automobile that the dealer knows would create satisfaction for their owners and goodwill for himself, the dealer would sell them locally where he knows he has to make good on service requirements.

Your local dealer is sharing your community tax burden and frequently the worthwhile work of service clubs and local charity efforts. If he wishes to stay in business, he knows he has to earn and keep your trust and patronage. It's just sound good sense to consider him first for your car needs.

READERS SPEAK:
No Reason
For Millage

To the Editor:

Another school millage election is again just around the corner, but a good reason for this request has not changed from the past two millage elections that were turned down by the citizens by an overwhelming majority.

The Board of Education must have plenty of money to conduct so many elections. Two in the month of June. Election of school board members and another for extra millage to be held on June 18.

Dr. Walter Ambinder, President of the school board must be some what off balance to snub the 430 citizens of our school district who signed petitions requesting him to resign.

If I was in Mr. Ambinder's position, I would balance the quality of being capable and expected by the citizens, or I would consider myself a has-been in the community.

All's Quiet at City's Budget Public Hearing

There was nary a word of objection when the Northville city council passed its $376,870 budget for 1962-63 Tuesday night.

As a matter of fact, the public hearing was without a "public."

At least there were no local voters on hand. A Northville high school government class was observing their city officials at work — none of the students questioned the budget.

The budget calls for the same tax levy as last year, 12.5 mills, although it is some $27,000 higher than last year. Additional revenues are anticipated from harness racing returns, an increase in assessed valuation and carry-over capital improvement funds not used last year.

In other business in Tuesday evening's brief meeting the council:

—approved transfer of a class C liquor license from Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Austin to Mr. and Mrs. Joseph A. Nagy in the sale of their 157 East Main street tavern;

—heard City Attorney Ogilvie report that FIA was now advertising for bidders to remove the "sinking" house on South Ely drive; vacated after it began sinking, the new subdivision home has been a source of criticism and the council has urged its removal for the past year; according to Ogilvie, it will be torn down or moved by the successful bidder and the lot levelled.

Sentence 2 To DeHoCo

Two Northville men are serving sentences in the Detroit House of Correction following convictions in court cases heard last week by Justice Charles McDonald.

Roger Lee Redmond, 19, found guilty of reckless operation of a motor vehicle and improper license plates, was sentenced to 32 days when he was unable to pay court fines and costs totalling $115. Northville police who apprehended Redmond on North Center street said he had been drinking.

Failure to pay court fine and cost of $100 resulted in a 30-day sentence for Terry M. Welch, 428 River street. Welch, stopped at Dunlap and Hutton streets on May 14, was charged and convicted of driving under the influence of liquor.

Council Questions Arrest Procedure

The procedure surrounding the arrest of a Northville youth as "routine police procedure" charged with reckless driving brought a demand for a full explanation from the city council Tuesday night.

The matter was brought to the council's attention by Councilman Richard Ambler who reported that city police had gone to the home of Russell Atchison, 20, of 332 South Rogers shortly before midnight May 19 with a warrant for his arrest.

Ambler told fellow councilmen that he did not know "all the facts", but was disturbed by the information he had heard. He explained that the warrant had been issued Saturday morning but not served until midnight. Also police requested that a $100 cash bond be provided, otherwise the defendant would be held under arrest.

Later police accepted an insurance card guaranteeing bond payment and the defendant was released after being taken to the police station.

"I'd like a full explanation of this", Mayor A. M. Allen told the city manager.

Councilman John Canterbury agreed. "I think each councilman should be informed of the facts as soon as possible", he added.

Chief King explained the case as "routine police procedure". He pointed out that the alleged reckless driving had not taken place in Northville.

Chief King said that Atchison had been charged with reckless driving by a Walled Lake woman. She reported to state police on May 17 that she had been passed on Northville road south of Seven Mile road in a reckless manner by Atchison the day before (May 16), Chief King explained.

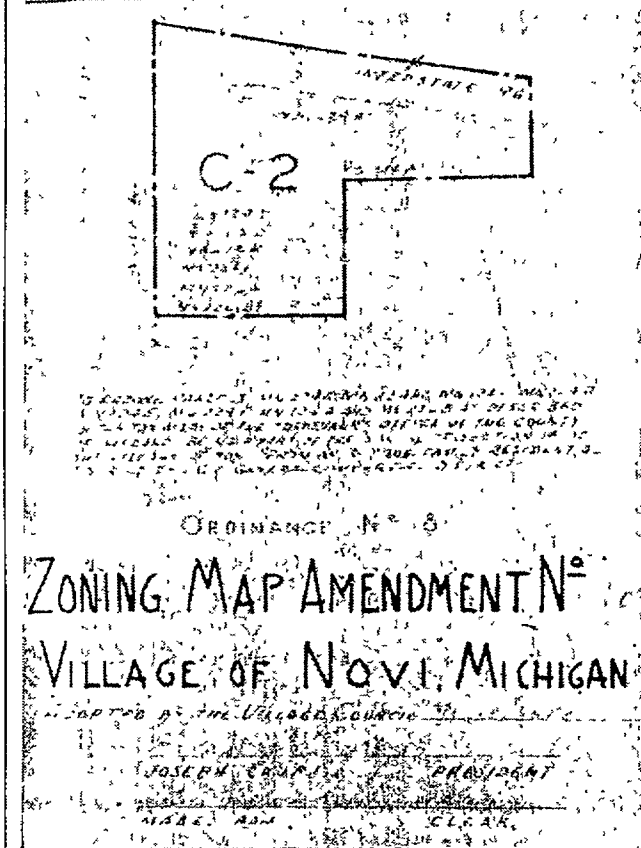

"State police advised her to sign a complaint at Northville justice court and Judge Charles McDonald issued the warrant for arrest Saturday morning", King stated.

He said that police were busy with other duties during the day and, although they looked for Atchison during the day, they did not find him to issue the warrant.

That evening a police officer saw his car at his home and seeing a light on decided to issue the warrant, Chief King concluded.

He said it is routine that the defendant must appear at the station to sign the arrest form and provide bond guaranteeing his appearance in court.

Atchison's case is scheduled for arraignment today before Justice McDonald.

FACTS YOU SHOULD KNOW ABOUT THE ... Health Care for the Aged Issue

THE ISSUE IS NOT "HEALTH CARE VERSUS NO HEALTH CARE" ...
AS SOME WOULD HAVE YOU BELIEVE. THE ISSUE IS HOW HEALTH CARE FOR OUR ELDERLY CAN BEST BE PROVIDED ...
WHETHER THE PROGRAM SHOULD BE VOLUNTARY OR COMPUL-SORY.

We believe that ALL our elderly should receive ALL the health care they need when they need it. We favor programs sensibly designed to HELP THOSE WHO NEED HELP. Such programs are available now and taxpayers already are paying for them. These programs include private health insurance, and Blue Cross-Blue Shield, for those able to purchase these policies, and the Kerr-Mills Law (Michigan Aid for the Aged) and other local and state programs for helping those who need help in paying for medical care. More than 9,000,000, or 53%, of the aged already have health insurance.

The King-Anderson Bill, now before Congress, would provide certain health care benefits for those over 65 who are eligible for social security. However, you are entitled to know what appears in the "fine print" of the bill.

It would force EVERY worker to pay 17% MORE PAYROLL TAXES to provide benefits for millions of the wealthy and self-reliant who can well afford to take care of themselves.

It would not provide any benefits to the 3,500,000 not covered by social security — the group most in need.

It would cover LESS THAN 25% of the health care costs of those eligible for the benefits.

It would NOT provide for physicians services outside of hospitals. It would lower the quality of medical care with Federal Government controlling standards of practice and limiting free choice of Hospital and physician.

It would NOT provide nursing home care unless the patient first was admitted to a hospital.

It is not an "Insurance" program. It is a tax and welfare plan.

Even those eligible for benefits would have to pay $10 a day for the first nine days of each hospitalization, and $20 for each complete diagnostic study.

It would permit doctors to prescribe ONLY 20% of the drugs ordinarily used by physicians in their practice.

WHAT YOU CAN DO

IF YOU AGREE WITH US that a system of compulsory government medicine for a segment of our population would be bad medicine for the nation, write Representative Martha Griffiths today. Urge her to oppose the King-Anderson Bill. Mrs. Griffiths' address is House Office Bldg., Washington, D.C.

Love That Lasts!
"What makes some of these teenage girls do the things they do?" a critical woman asked impetuously.
"You mean going to extreme lengths to attract attention and get involved too deeply with boys? I think it is easily explained," her friend said. "They, like the rest of us, have a strong desire to be loved. The ones who get into trouble are almost always girls who haven't received a balanced diet of parental love at home. Either a mother or father — sometimes both — failing to supply the necessary love. A girl who feels loved and secure at home is a lot more patient about waiting until the proper time for the other kind of love."
The more charitable or understanding woman had at least part of the answer. But there is more to it than just coming up with the "why" of it. We need something to aid us, especially when the home situation is poor.

Sometimes a home produces a child of more ardent nature than the parents. Often there is lack of communication. Each of us needs a Love that is greater than mother or father can give.
We have seen young girls who had very little religion at the time that they became involved with boys. Once they made a turnabout to study about God and their relationship with Him, they became more mature spiritually and were better prepared for a happy marriage. But that turnabout was important. "I am the good shepherd, and I know mine and mine know me, even as the Father knows me and I know the Father, and I lay down my life for my sheep." (John 10:14-15)
It is impossible to read the whole passage about the Good Shepherd without some spiritual uplift. Here we find Jesus, because we sought Him out, the always trustworthy Friend and Comforter; the Friend that never wants to say good-bye, a Friend to whom we entrust all our teen-age problems.

The beautiful part of this relationship is that once we become close friends with Jesus, we become better friends with others. We become resistant to any friend's harmful influence. We are selfishly become forgiving of any friend's failure to love us as we love Him. We have Jesus, the all-perfect Friend. All else in life is just so much extra, rather than something to which we cling desperately and fearfully, even to giving up our moral standards because we fear losing our place in some far earthly creature's heart.
Girls and boys then should be introduced to the Good Shepherd early in life, that they may walk in Love through life, especially in those love-needing adolescent years.

READERS SPEAK:
Thank You
To the Editor:
The sincere thanks of the Michigan Cancer Foundation to the Northville Record and to the management of the P & A Theater for their cooperation in making possible a very successful film showing of two of our latest educational films on May 3. We were delighted at the attendance which was approximately 100 women, and wish to thank the people of the community for their interest and the way in which they spread the word among their friends.
April is over, but our program goes on all year round, and if any club or organization would like any of our many films to show at a meeting, a call to our office at 1112 N. Telegraph, Dearborn, is all that is necessary. We also provide materials and help for cancer patients. There is no charge for any of this as we get money from the United Foundation for our public services.

Sincerely,

Solving Storage Problem

The most acute storage problems are usually in the bedroom. Sometimes they can be solved by better organization of the existing space; other times new storage units are needed.

Bedroom storage units provide space for: clothing, bedding, toys, luggage, infant's equipment, sports and hobby equipment, business papers and desk supplies.

In storing articles so they are easy to see, reach and grasp, closets should have a full front opening. The conventional door-in-a-wall closet limits the access to the items stored. Sliding, folding (accordion-type) or hinged doors can be used. Ample clearance for accordion-type doors should be allowed in the room. Units are most economical when they reach from the floor to the ceiling across the entire wall, for they eliminate the need for the two ends when properly designed. A simple strip of moulding along the ceiling blends them into the room.

You can look for space for units on walls where you are losing depth because of a fireplace, radiator or a job in the wall. Window walls offer a variety of possibilities for storage units. Quite often the unit can be a desk-planning center with cabinet and drawer space under the window. Or, you can surround a window with storage units of 12 to 18 inches in depth, leaving deep frames on each side of the window, with a counter or shelf space underneath the window for a dressing table, display shelf, or desk.

A built-in headboard behind the beds eliminates the need for separate book cases, bed tables and lamps and gives a unified appearance to the room which is impossible to achieve with individual pieces.

The bedroom storage unit should have an inside dimension of 24 inches, with ample rod space for all the clothing in use. Average rod space per garment: women's clothing, 2"; men's clothing, 2½"; heavy coats, 4". Men's suit coats and women's blouses are short enough to be hung on rods serving space in the unit.

Where there is sufficient depth in the closet, doors can often be utilized for tie, belt or even shoe racks. The closet should go to the ceiling, providing space for hats, out of season shoes, and bedding.

In your planning for more bedroom storage area, don't overlook the possibility that the closets can be shared by more than one room. For example, if a partition has deep closets, opening into bedrooms on either side, these can be combined on both sides of the wall into a large storage unit for each bedroom, and can run the full length of the wall.

A THING OF BEAUTY and a joy for every member of the family is this backyard swimming pool, surfaced with attractive, safe, easy-to-clean ceramic mosaics. Umbrella-table, drip-dry chairs and mats for sun bathing complete the picture of warm-weather fun.

Evergreens Provide Color

Evergreen shrubs and trees are basic in landscaping and planting any property according to the American Association of Nurserymen. They provide welcome color on the property all year long — from January to December. They form backgrounds for other flowering plants, while many bloom with some of the loveliest flowers in the plant world. Actually the home owner can't get along without evergreens unless he wishes his property to look bare during the cold weather months. Even in semi-tropical areas evergreens fill a big need.

Some of the shrubs which have better winter color in the more northern states include Littleleaf Box, Hinoki Cypress or Sawara False-Cypress; Rose Daphne, several varieties of Euonymus and Ilex, many of the Junipers, any of the spruces and most of the pines, Kalmia, many Rhododendrons, Taxus, Ligustrum, Mahonia, Hemlock, Arbor Vitae and a number of others. To this may be added several of the Bar-berries. Consult with your nurseryman.

In the South and West, depending on the climate, may be included in addition to, the above the Abellias, Arbutus Unedo, Ardisia, Aucuba, Buddleia, Callistemon, Camellia, Fatsia, Gardenia, Hibiscus, Jasmine, Magnolia, Nandina and a host of others, both trees and shrubs.

In the north, evergreen shrubs and trees do not produce the variety of beautiful flowers that are found in the more moderate climates, although the Rhododendrons, Mountain Laurel and others are strikingly beautiful when in flower. In the warmer climates, of course, Camellias and Gardenias are just about as beautiful as any flowers grown.

The variety in foliage colors and leaf structures of evergreens add much to their ornamental value, whether in the north or south. In planting them, it is wise to consult with your nurseryman in order to make number of others. To this may be added several of the Bar-

Build a Storage Fence

Here's a handsome storage fence for your lawnmower, rakes, s'ade, and wheelbarrow. Tool house has weathered red cedar board-and-batten siding which matches cedar board fence and blends unobtrusively in the garden. Sloped shingle roof drains to the back. Interior is lined with building paper to shut out frost.

It's Time to Ready Pool For Summer-Long Utility

A little care and forethought may add substantially to the fun and satisfaction you'll derive from your pool during the summer swimming season. It is a good idea to check your pool now to make sure it will be in perfect shape for that first warm day when the family will want to use it.

Pools made of concrete or steel may require a new paint job — a chore that should be undertaken as soon as possible after the frost is out of the ground.

In both steel and concrete pools, all surfaces should be thoroughly scrubbed and cleaned before painting. Loose dirt can usually be washed away with a strong stream of water from a garden hose; old paint that has powdered or flaked should be removed with a wire brush.

If an algae scum has formed on pool surfaces, it may be advisable to call in a pool maintenance specialist, since removal of the algae may require the use of strong chemicals.

However, this problem is not likely to arise if the proper chemical balance has been maintained in the water left standing in the pool during the winter.

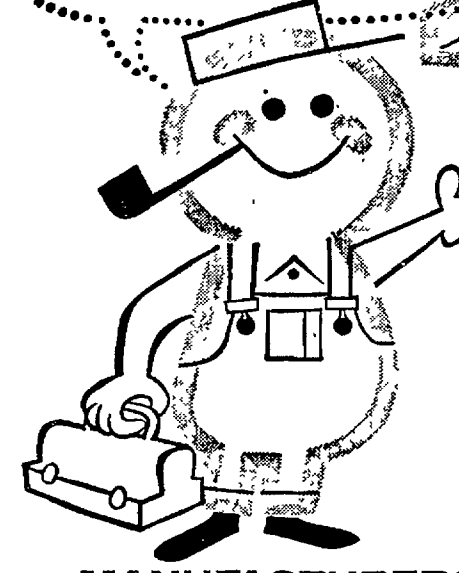

The new paint should be "compatible" with the old paint that it is to cover — it should be of the same type or general chemical composition although not necessarily the same brand. It should be the best paint you can buy. Cheap paint that soon fades and peels can be a very poor investment.

It is best to let the new paint "set" for a week or so before refilling the pool with water.

There are several excellent paints that are made especially for pools. They are "engineered" to withstand constant exposure to water, chemicals, weather conditions and general wear and tear. They protect the pool and enhance its beauty and attractiveness while reducing upkeep costs.

Concrete pools sometimes develop cracks during the winter.

Mr. Ellison to the Tax Allocation Board hearing on May 11, 1962, reported that the Board had accepted the tentative budget presented, without question.

3. Athletic Field Bond Issue: Mr. Ellison reported that Mr. Robert Thrun, our bonding attorney, has filed our request with the Municipal Finance Commission on May 7, 1962. However, the Commission is running from 5 to 7 weeks behind in its approval, so it will be some time before we receive approval for the issue.

4. Athletic Field Bleachers: Mr. Ellison asked whether the Board wishes him to begin collecting specifications on bleachers. Mr. Zarza of Standard Steel has already submitted a suggested set of specifications. Mr. Lawrence suggested that the Board's Athletic Field Committee re-activate itself to consider this matter. It was decided that the committee will meet Monday, May 21 in the board room, at 7:30 p.m.

5. Administrative Salaries: It was moved by Mr. Kipper, supported by Mr. Kipper, that the recommendation of the Board made in an Executive meeting held on April 23, 1962, granting raises to Dr. MacLeod, Mr. Van Ingen and Mr. Quay, and no increase to Mr. Ellison, Mr. Stefanski, Mr. Smith and Mr. Kay be adopted. son Agency, be instituted, with each of the other participating companies dealing directly with the Carrington Agency, by means of an individual policy. This will eliminate approximately 26 policies as far as the school is concerned, and will be a less expensive operation as well. Approximately $385,000 additional coverage will be provided (due to re-assessment of buildings), policies will cover a 5-year period and premium will be 12 less in each succeeding year. Moved by Mr. Crump, supported by Dr. Johnson, that Carrington's recommendation be adopted. Motion carried.

Accident to Pick-up Truck: Mr. Littell advised the board that the gentleman who ran into the back of the school truck on US 16 near Kent Lake on April 28, 1962 has no liability insurance and the only way to recover the costs on this accident is to institute suit against him. It was the consensus of the board that this should be done, and was so moved by Mr. Lawrence, seconded by Mr. Crump Motion carried unanimously.

2. Resignations: Moved by Mr. Angove, supported by Mr. Lawrence, that the resignations of Mrs. Gyde, Mrs. Renwick and Mrs. Johnson be accepted. Motion carried.

3. Textbook Rental Fee: Mr. Smith and Mr. Kay, elementary principals, recommended to the board that the textbook rental fee be raised from the present rate of $8.00 per child per year to $7.50 per child per year, an increase of 25%, to cover increased costs. Moved by Dr. Johnson, seconded by Mr. Crump, that this recommendation be accepted and the increase in rate be effected. Motion carried.

4. New Textbooks: Dr. MacLeod advised the board that he has been working with a committee of Junior High teachers in reviewing junior high textbooks, and the committee is recommending that two new texts be adopted, i.e., "Living Things", published by Holt, Rinehart, Winston & Co., for the science classes, and "You and Me", published by Allyn and Bacon, Inc., for the home economics classes. It was moved by Mr. Lawrence, supported by Mr. Crump, that this recommendation be accepted and these books be adopted. Motion carried.

SPEAKING for the Record

by Bill Sliger

Officially, the Novi board of education has voted to place a five mill increase for operating expenses on the ballot June 28 — just two months after a proposed six-mill increase was soundly defeated.

But unofficially, there's a strong effort underway to change the proposal before it is legally advertised.

Close followers of Novi's school affairs are convinced the five-mill request cannot pass.

They do not argue that the millage is not needed — only that it cannot pass.

Then conclusions are logical.

The board membership is split, 3-2, on the millage proposal with the majority approving a five-mill request, and the minority a 4½-mill request.

And now observers of tax-hike proposals know that the odds (these days) are against passage even with full school board support.

At a meeting last week a handful of citizens listened to the board discuss its differences.

Hope that the "two sides" might come to an agreement faded and the session was finally adjourned.

When one considers the consequences of another defeat at the polls, it should leave little room for argument among those genuinely interested in the welfare of Novi's school system.

If the board is to keep its pledge and adopt a balanced budget for 1962-63, more millage must be granted — or drastic cut-backs detrimental to Novi's educational program must be adopted.

If the board is to win new millage, it must present a unified front in its appeal to the voters.

It would appear (strictly from a stand-point of basic budget needs) that Novi board members are little more than an eyelash apart.

In a budget of more than $300,000 they are within $6,000 of agreement.

And in this proposed balanced budget is $10,000 earmarked toward paying off the system's $50,000 bond deficit.

Thus on operational expenditures alone board members are even closer to unanimity.

The lowest possible millage request that has been proposed that would reportedly support a school program in keeping with the present level and still provide for payment on the existing debt is 4½ mills.

This would actually represent a two mill increase to voters when some $83,000 in excess building funds are used toward debt retirement, thus reducing debt millage by 2½ mills.

It is a certainty that the majority cannot gain full support of its five mill proposal.

Thus a compromise of 4¼ mills, or agreement at 4½ mills remain for consideration.

At this point concession would appear far from defeat to this writer. Quite the contrary. Failure to reach agreement would signal defeat and throw a system already plagued by problems into pure chaos.

Stock 'Gambles' Pay Big Money

Babson Park, Mass., A recent weekly column of mine has created considerable criticism. My point was that both "speculating" and placing funds for safety and income can make "big money." What I stressed was the danger of attempting to mix the two forms of "investment."

What is Gambling?

I am not referring to horse or dog racing — not to "betting" of any kind, but rather to buying into new ideas, new discoveries, and new scientific developments. In short, I would think that 80% of your stockholdings might be in dividend-paying issues quoted in your daily paper; and 20% in companies working on new scientific developments.

To make "big money" you should subscribe to such magazines as "Scientific American" or my own favorite the "Technology Review" put out by Massachusetts Institute of Technology of Cambridge, Mass.

There are columns entitled "Trend of Affairs" which are especially helpful to a layman. I repeat, "big money" comes from "gambling"; and successful gambling comes from successful forecasting.

What About Drug Stocks?

The best way is to make friends of scientists and chemists and share your profit with them. They know about the wonderful new discoveries on the horizon — such as light rays — fuel cells — harnessing gravity — and bacteria. Invite such professors for lunch; beware of timid brokers and bankers who are always advising caution.

Successful drug companies are the big gamblers. There-

The great discovery may not come from the human brain alone, but from the very earth upon which you are now walking, or from the colic weeds in the attic, or the bacteria in your cesspool, or from anywhere in the world — a wilderness in Borneo, a plantation in Brazil, a ranch in Kansas, a backyard in the U.S.A.

From such places come thousands of soil samples that are sent to the drug research laboratories. By using new bacteria from these samples, they try to create antibiotics to combat the infectious diseases still rampant.

For example, in one year, drug scientists isolated and worked with 34,000 cultures of micro-organisms. With these, they produced a few antibiotics which came excitingly close to making "big money", but none made the grade. Perhaps 34,000 to 0 seems like poor odds, but twice in recent years drug research work has beaten these odds.

Wake up! The whole thought arouses me emotionally. We know what has happened during the past 50 years; well, I believe an equal number of wonderful things will happen during the next fifty. A handful of earth may save your life and it may come from Russia, China, or India.

New State Constitution Offers Improvements

The proposed constitution presented for approval to the people in November or next April will be a "basic" document, according to Edward Hutchinson, Fennville Republican who helped write it.

Hutchinson, a former State Senator and delegate to the recently completed Constitutional Convention, is a recognized authority on Michigan's basic law, both the 1907 document and the proposed one.

"A Constitution should be a conservative document, which provides only the basic framework for laws to originate from," Hutchinson said.

Democratic attempts on the final day of the Convention to change the most controversial sections of the proposed Constitution failed. They said the document which was prepared did not accomplish Constitutional revision as the people wanted it.

Republicans, however, view the Constitution which will be presented to the people as a "true compromise." One GOP delegate said Democratic members of the Convention had achieved adoption of more changes than he had.

Leaders of the Convention on both sides admit the proposed Constitution will not please everyone. "Everyone can find something to object to in the new Constitution," said President Stephen S. Nisbet, R-Fremont. "That isn't the point, however. The point is to explain the improvements, and there have been many."

Republican Vice President George Romney, R-Bloomfield Hills, was joined by Democratic delegate Mrs. Edward Cushman, Dearborn, in supporting the "compromise."

"The question is not whether this is the best document Michigan could ever achieve some time in the future, but whether it is an improvement over the present Constitution. And it is," she said.

A strong civil rights section, changes in the judicial system to include an intermediate Court of Appeals, and continuation of several earmarked funds for government operations, were lauded by members of both parties in varying degrees.

Although most Democratic delegates said they would not help "sell" the document to the people, GOP members said this position was contradictory to the Democrats' position in attempting the last-minute substitutes.

"Even with this final attempt to change our document, the Democrats proposed to change only a small percentage of the decisions and modify a few more," said Delegate D. Hale Brake, R-Stanton. "This indicates to me that the document is a good one, even though I don't agree with each and every section we have written."

A tax stalemate in the Legislature again this year brings to the minds of many one question: "Why didn't the Constitutional Convention solve the tax problems?"

This points up a little-known fact of state government. A constitution does not spell out tax solutions. Michigan's Constitution, in fact, has little to do with the tax problems faced by the state in recent years.

The proposed Constitution prepared by the Convention would prohibit a graduated income tax, but leaves the tax field generally open for exploitation by the Legislature. This is a function of the Legislature to provide taxes to meet expenditures.

The taxation stalemate, then hinges on the opposing philosophies of how to collect public monies.

One side says Michigan should change its present forms and follow the trend of an increasing number of states; should impose an income tax on individuals and corporations.

The other side contends that inequities in present tax programs are keeping the state from getting the revenue which could be derived under the present forms: sales and use taxes on presently exempt items that income tax is burdensome to compute and an invitation to heavier taxation.

Proponents of the income tax program respond that expansion of some present taxes, the so-called "nuisance" levies would be needed for at least a year until the income tax became fully effective.

Solution of budget and tax problems could be put off until late this year, even after the November election, because of an extension of the Legislative session to an unnamed date.

The likelihood of a long delay on agreement between the two forces is slight, however. As one lawmaker, who hopes to be re-elected, puts it: "If we stall on this long enough, we won't have the chance to worry about Michigan's problems next year. The voters will decide the future for us."

Michigan's freeway system will soon get a new service feature to help and protect motorists, State Police Commissioner Joseph A. Childs reports.

A 24-hour patrol force will be assigned to some 650 miles of limited-access routes throughout the state to provide a crime preventive, traffic super-come tax, but leaves the tax

Dr. Mudd Replies

Don't Oppose Family Vote

Dear Dr. Mudd:

About two years ago my father had an operation for cancer of the prostate. Since then he has been in and out of hospitals and the doctor tells us he may have from three to six more months to live.

A year ago my mother died and Dad has been living with me or one of the other children ever since. He is, and always has been, a very difficult man to live with. He used to give my mother a hard time and after she passed on he has given it to all the kids.

When he was last at my house he used to insist I fix breakfast for him in exactly the same way my mother had. More than once he would take the two eggs and bacon I had fixed for him and throw them in the garbage can. Then I had to start all over again to try to please him. It used to make me mad. And food isn't exactly cheap either.

And then I'd think about how much pain he was having and how he wouldn't be with us very much longer before he went to join our mother and I'd get all soft inside and start feeling sorry for him. My brothers and my sister all have the same trouble with him but I guess boys are different with their father than girls. The boys don't want to put up with him any more.

Right now he is in the hospital again and he says he wants to come and live with one of us right now. He doesn't want to wait until the doctor says it's O.K. He asked me for his clothes and said if I don't get him out of there he'll never speak to me again. I know he is unreasonable and even selfish, but he is my father and I can't help it if I love him. I don't want to hurt him by saying "no" to him.

Last night we all had a meeting — all six kids — and I was out-voted. They all say they can't keep him in their homes and he should go to a convalescent home. He's scared of being where there is no one he knows to talk to. My brothers and sister say if I can't go along with what they want to do that they'll just wash their hands of him and I can have him all to myself.

I can't do this. I have a family and a small house and I have to think about them. Don't you think they are wrong? Would you want to be treated the way they plan to treat our father? I guess I'm writing because I'm mad, but I thought maybe you could get them to see the situation more clearly than they do.

Very truly yours,

Clara

Dear Clara:

It is evident that you feel a great deal of love for your father, compassion for his suffering, and tolerance for his irascibility. And praiseworthy as these feelings and sentiments may be, you must also recognize that your deep and intense feelings interfere with your judgment. It would be strange and unusual if your feelings did not modify and influence you, however.

I think you should fully recognize that your father's other children are also concerned with his best interests, even though their proposed solution differs somewhat from your own. And it very well may be that a nursing home where there are adequate facilities and suitably trained personnel, can better care for your father's needs in his last days than you can in a small home.

You already are burdened by the difficult responsibility of taking care of your own family, and your first obligation is to them.

It is difficult to judge, on the basis of so little information, but it is possible that the affectionate concern you hold for your father is unduly great. I say this principally because your sister and brothers do not share the intensity of your concern. But at the same time I am aware that they too care for him but that their approach to solving the problem of meeting his needs effectively and materially seem much more in keeping with common sense than yours.

You would be wise, I think, not to oppose the rest of the family but yield to what is their better judgment. And although you may be too close to your father to see him as he actually is, perhaps it would be helpful if you consider what your feelings might be if he were someone else's father rather than your own.

The poor man is frightened, and rightfully so, of what the future holds for him. Because of his concern for himself he has become demanding and thoughtless and irritable. The pain he undoubtedly suffers of course contributes its share to these effects of a fatal illness.

It would be far easier for all concerned if, when the end comes, he is being cared for by those trained and experienced in doing all that can be done to make his going more peaceful.

How to pay for a Cadillac—and not get one!

There are several ways that a man can pay the price of a new Cadillac car—and find himself in possession of an automobile of far less stature.

Because there are many motorists currently considering the purchase of their next car, we would like to enumerate these ways of going astray.

1. Assume that the purchase price of a new Cadillac car is higher than it actually is. (There are eleven models of other makes that this year cost more than the lowest-priced Cadillac model.)

2. Fail to appreciate that the basic price of a new Cadillac includes many important things that are extra on other cars. (Including automatic transmission, power steering and power braking.)

3. Neglect to find out from a Cadillac dealer what your present car is worth in trade. (He is especially anxious this spring to welcome new owners.)

And if you take one of these detours, think of all the unique pleasures you could be missing.

There is Cadillac's styling—so majestic that it attracts attention wherever it goes.

There is Cadillac's comfort—so wonderful that every journey becomes a brief vacation.

And there is Cadillac's performance—so great that it is without rival on the world's highways.

So we suggest that you play it safe—and get all the facts from your dealer soon.

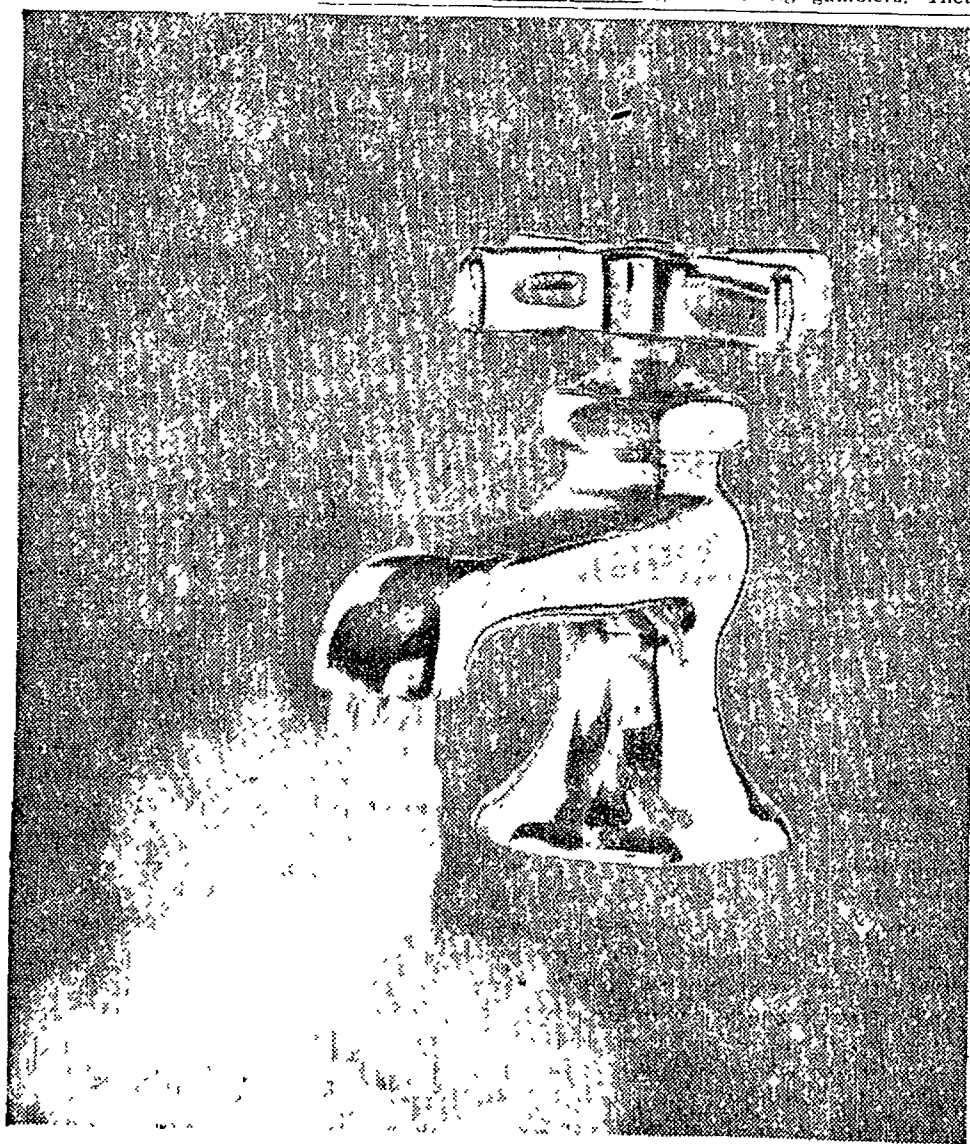

You might be closer to a Cadillac than you think.
