

A Park for Northville

JC's Beautify Northville

The Junior Chamber of Commerce completed its "Beautify Northville" campaign in fine fashion Saturday.

It gave the city a new beauty spot — two acres of city-owned land near the Old Spring that had been a jungle of fallen limbs and weeds.

The area is now a landscaped park site along the Rouge river with gravel paths, benches and a footbridge leading from the Old Spring across the river to the park.

All the work was done by a small group of Jaycees chairmaned by Karl Knuth.

An idea of the size of the undertaking can be appreciated by these statistics:

Man hours worked, 1360;
250 tons of rock hauled in to line the river bank;
40 tons of crushed concrete to build retaining wall;
30 tons of pea gravel used to construct park walks;

School Board Absentee Voter Ballots Ready

Absentee ballots for the June 11 school board elections are now available in both Northville and Novi school districts.

Deadline for filing applications for the ballots is 2 p.m. Saturday, June 9, but officials of both school districts this week urged persons planning to use the ballots to apply during school office hours.

The application forms will be available in both Novi and Northville superintendent's offices until 4 p.m. Friday, June 8. Application may be made after those hours only by contacting school board secretaries.

The Northville superintendent's office is in the Main street elementary school, while the Novi superintendent's office is in the Orchard Hills school. Registered voters eligible to use the absentee ballots are those who will either be absent from the community on election day or who are physically unable to appear at the polls.

Northville Fears Novi Sewer Plan

No Aid; Schools Borrow

Michigan's financial plight, which finds the Northville school district still waiting for $102,000 in state aid payments promised for the school year that ends in just two weeks, prompted the board of education to take initial steps Monday night toward borrowing $200,000 against next year's taxes.

In recommending the resolution to borrow, Director of Administrative Services E. V. Ellison told the board the loan would be needed to meet current bills unless the state came through with the delinquent aid money within the next few weeks.

The resolution okayed by the board must now be submitted to the Municipal Finance commission in Lansing for approval.

That the local district should have to borrow is nothing new. The schools in other years have been forced to draw on anticipated taxes and state aid revenues to offset summer bills and buy supplies needed for the start of classes in the fall.

In past years, however, there have been sufficient funds in school coffers to meet June bills and thereby delay any borrowing until sometime in July.

In light of the bleak financial outlook, Ellison said he will hold the line on spending, possibly putting off payment of some current bills and delaying further purchases. Meanwhile, he and board members are hoping Lansing lawmakers can decide on next year's state aid formula, a move which could enable the board to obtain money sooner by borrowing against the anticipated aid rather than taxes.

At Monday night's session the board also — was advised by Superintendent Russell Amerman that a hearing on the possible annexation of Echo Valley subdivision, now a part of the Novi district, to the Northville district would be held in Pontiac June 28;

— agreed to let the recreation department use school buses for its summer program;

— ratified a calendar for the 1962-63 school year;

— accepted for review a report by the Professional Problems committee of the Teachers' club;

— received copies of a report prepared by Assistant Superintendent K. M. MacLeod showing that Northville high school has a drop-out rate of under seven per cent compared to a national average of about 40 per cent;

— studied a facilities plan showing the locations of seats and lights at the proposed new athletic field at the high school;

In turn Knuth noted that the city had been most cooperative in permitting the Jaycees to use city equipment for the project.

The Jaycees also had Mayor Allen, who owns Allen Monument Works, to thank for the park's dedication monument.

Their Deeds Recalled

"DOWN THROUGHOUT our history, great men have died for great causes," the Reverend Robert Spradling told his audience at the annual Memorial Day services yesterday in Northville. "Their deeds have not been forgotten," he noted. Ceremonies were concluded at the site of the Veterans Plot (above) in Rural Hill cemetery.

For Bogart Files

Credit Union Sues Local Justice Court

Judgments rendered by Northville's justice court prior to the defendants' residence within the jurisdictional limits of the court, the plaintiffs claim.

The Northville city council has taken a position upholding Judge McDonald's stand and instructed City Attorney Philip Ogilvie to defend the case.

Although the specific suit scheduled for Circuit Judge Joseph Sullivan's court, involves but a single judgement, it has been revealed by Ogilvie that hundreds of such cases are involved.

Specifically, from January 1, 1959 until July 5, 1961 when McDonald took office, records show that Justice Bogart rendered judgements in 1917 cases that were outside the jurisdiction of the local court, Attorney Ogilvie told the city council last week.

In the particular action being brought against Justice McDonald a summons had been issued, signed by Justice Bogart and served on the defendant, who were in default in their payments to the credit union.

Later a default judgement was rendered by Judge Bogart. After Judge McDonald took office the credit union asked for garnishment proceedings and Justice McDonald refused. He also refused to certify transcripts of the case so that the credit union could transfer the judgement of the Northville court to another court.

Justice McDonald bases his objection on the fact that either the plaintiff or defendant in a case must reside in the same city or adjoining township as the justice court handling the case.

The plaintiff's address (credit union) is Dearborn, while the defendant lives in Detroit. Justice McDonald points out that the residence was shown on the original summons and the judgement.

Under the fee system it is not unusual for a justice to handle hundreds of civil cases, particularly in matters of debt collection.

Circumstances of the case have come to the attention of the state attorney general's office in Detroit. Assistant Attorney General Gerald David White has indicated his office will file a brief in the case as a "friend of the court."

This action by the attorney general's office is often taken in matters where public interest is involved.

It is the city's contention that despite the failure of the defendant to appear the court lacked jurisdiction initially and therefore the action was not legal.

Justice McDonald's action prompted the credit union to bring mandamus action (a legal action against a public official demanding that he perform the duty of his office).

Circuit Judge Sullivan has asked that attorneys for the credit union and Justice McDonald file briefs.

At a hearing before Judge Sullivan both parties agreed that there was no question of facts involved.

Justice McDonald and the Northville city council are concerned for two reasons:

1. 1,917 similar cases were handled by the Northville court since 1949 and undoubtedly hundreds of these are still active and further judgement may be sought.

2. If Justice McDonald complied with the request of the credit union and the defendant in one of these cases should lose his job or suffer other damage and it was later discovered that the judgement of the Northville court was invalid because it lacked jurisdiction, the city and the court would be in danger of legal action from the aggrieved defendant.

Prior to July, 1961 Northville's justice of the peace was paid on a "fee" basis. In civil suits such as those filed by the credit union the justice was paid a minimum of $350 for each case.

The city council voted to place the justice on an annual salary of $3,000 and the change was initiated at the time of the 1961 election.

Under the fee system it is not unusual for a justice to handle hundreds of civil cases, particularly in matters of debt collection.

Demands County Test To Prove Capacity

Sewer service for Novi through Wayne county's Middle Rouge interceptor system faced possible delay this week from court action threatened by Northville.

The proposed sewer line — considered a bonanza to future development of Novi — would extend from 10 Mile road to the existing interceptor in Northville near Seven Mile road.

Agreement that calls for construction to begin this summer has been reached between Oakland county and officials of Novi village and township.

All that remains for the $1,200,000 project to get underway is final signing of contracts between Wayne and Oakland county.

But loud opposition to the proposal has been voiced by both city and township officials in Northville who fear that Novi's entrance into the system will over-load the interceptor line between Northville and Plymouth.

They have called for Wayne county officials to provide for immediate construction of the Novi line all the way to Wilcox road in Plymouth to join the new Middle Rouge interceptor sewer currently under construction.

This would, of course, boost considerably the cost of the Novi project.

Short of this possibility, Northville officials have indicated they would accept guarantees that the Northville - Plymouth line is adequate to handle the total capacity allocated to both the city and township plus the allocation being sold Novi.

But upon investigation of the sewer construction contract prepared this week by Wayne county for signature of Oakland county, Northville officials did not indicate that they were satisfied sufficient guarantee has been provided.

"We don't want to stand in the way of Novi's progress," Mayor A. M. Allen stated, "but we just finished signing contracts to help finance another interceptor line (from Detroit to Plymouth) even before we received the capacity in the first line we paid for."

The capacity in the first Middle Rouge interceptor line was used, by fast-growth cities nearer Detroit.

Mayor Allen has been backed solidly by the city council on this issue. The council wants proof that the Northville-Plymouth line is adequate to accommodate Novi.

Township Supervisor George Clark has voiced similar objections.

Both Clark and Allen have made their position known to George Bingham, director of the Wayne county department of public works and the man who has headed up the new interceptor sewer program.

Specifically, Wayne county proposes to sell Oakland county

(Novi) a capacity of 4 cubic feet per second in the new interceptor. County officials maintain that the capacity of the line from Northville leading to the end of the new interceptor line at Wilcox road in Plymouth is 14 cubic feet per second.

The city of Northville has a total allocation of 3.6 CFS which will accommodate a population of 9,000. Northville township has purchased a 1.6 CFS capacity, enough to serve a population of 4,000. The township capacity does not include the allocation of the hospitals and institutions in the township.

While Wayne county maintains that the 4 CFS offered Novi will not tax the capacity of the Northville-Plymouth line, local officials have asked for proof.

"If we could see the results of an independent engineering survey that assured us that this sewer line has ample capacity to serve both Northville (city and township) and Novi, we wouldn't object to the project," Mayor Allen stated. "Otherwise, we want them to build the line all the way to the new interceptor right now," he added.

Under the terms of the contract proposed by Wayne county, Novi could have up to 4 CFS, but would have to build a new line between Northville and Plymouth if it ever wished to exceed this capacity.

City Attorney Philip Ogilvie told the council last week that it could take action to bring an injunction against the county blocking the proposed contract if its terms were not satisfactory.

Novi, which has already agreed to terms with Oakland county for payment of the sewer project over a 15 year period, has more than 2,000 of its estimated 2,900 tap allocation sold. Special assessment agreements with land developers pledging purchase of the taps have already been signed.

In support of Wayne county's position Bingham said this week that tests had been made last fall recording water levels in the sewer. He stated that the Northville - Plymouth line can accommodate the city and township, plus the Novi allocation and still have capacity for another 3.5 CFS.

"We won't permit Oakland county to purchase more than 4 CFS in this existing line, but if either Northville city or township wished to purchase additional capacity in the future, there is 3.5 CFS available," Bingham noted.

He said that it was important that Oakland county be given capacity in the Middle Rouge interceptor to avoid construction of a sewage disposal plant in the Novi area that would pollute the Rouge river throughout the park system.

Bingham indicated a meeting with Northville officials would be called soon to discuss all details.

Rain Won't Fall, Dust Covers All!

Gardeners, greenskeepers and farmers are not alone in their concern over the extremely dry spring experienced throughout the area this year.

Pity the poor homeowner living on a dirt road!

The dust problem has brought a rash of complaints to both city and township hall in Northville.

"Right now we've spent more money for road oil treatments than in the entire year in 1961," City Manager Bruce Potthoff said this week.

Still the complaints pour in. Without rain, the treatments are less effective.

In the township Supervisor George Clark admits that the phone has rung more than once over the dusty roads' problem.

"We have a contract with the county to chloride the subdivision streets twice a year — in May and August. The county chlorides the Mile roads at its own expense three-to-five times a year," Supervisor Clark stated.

The first treatments have just been completed in the township. The county, too, has been swamped by complaints, Clark noted.

Rainfall thus far is reported more than 20 per cent below normal. A drizzle brought some relief Saturday, but hardly enough to "hold the dust".

Wed in Ceremony Friday

Elizabeth Lucille Merriam, chose a floor length sheath of skinner satin, accented in imported Valenciennes lace and flowing into a chapel train, for her wedding Friday to Greig Lapham Chapman.

Her pearl crown held a fingertip silk illusion veil and she carried a crescent shaped bouquet of gardenias and stephanotis.

The former Miss Merriam, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robyn D. Merriam, 18910 Beck road, and Mr. Chapman, son of the E. A. Chapmans, of 239 High street, pledged their nuptial vows at a 7:30 p.m. candlelight ceremony in First Plymouth Presbyterian church, Plymouth.

The Reverend Henry J. Welch officiated.

Bouquets of Fuji mums and stephanotis decorated the altar.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was attended by Barbara Rae Miller, of Bloomfield Hills, as maid of honor. Miss Miller wore a street length, full skirted gown fashioned in complementing shades of pale and deep gold.

The dress was styled with a scoop neck, short sleeves and draped panels falling from the back of a fabric cummerbund at the waist. The maid of honor's accessories were in white, and Fumi mums and stephanotis formed her bouquet.

Bridesmaids Lavonne Longwood, Newage, Gloria Gammon, Jackson, and Sally Newton, Plymouth, were attired in gowns fashioned along the lines as the maid of honor's but carried out in two complementing shades of lime green.

Mrs. Merriam repeated the color of the maid of honor's gown by selecting a soft gold silk dress with matching jacket for her daughter's wedding. Her accessories were in white and gold, and white orchids made up her bouquet.

A beige silk suit and white and gold accessories were worn by Mrs. Chapman. Her corsage was of white orchids.

After the ceremony, some 200 guests greeted the couple at a reception in the church parlors.

When they return from their wedding trip to the Blue Ridge and Great Smoky mountains, the newlywed Chapmans will reside at 24336 Haskell, Fairlane apartment, Taylor.

The former Miss Merriam is a 1961 graduate of Michigan State university where she was affiliated with Kappa Delta sorority. Her husband, a 1962 Michigan State graduate, was a member of Beta Theta Pi fraternity.

St. Mary hospital guild marked the beginning of a new year with its May meeting.

Retiring president Marge Kalm opened the meeting with a brief commentary, which was followed by Sister Mary Calasanta's introduction of the new board of officers. It was announced that two women would serve in each office.

Heading the new slate are Gerry Dyer and May Blankenhagen, presidents; Rosemary Hagge and Virginia Allen, vice-presidents; Lucille Lea and Betsy Van Ee, treasurers.

Serving as committee chairmen in the coming year will be Isabel Quigley, in-hospital volunteers; Joan Lambert, gift shop and gift cart; Jean Heneagar, decorations; Marty Lynch, sewing; Elaine Sanders, ways and means; Virginia Pauli, program; May Blankenhagen, public relations; Marion Bourgan, Patient Library; Gerry Dyer, membership; Ayn Ratigan, hospitality.

For program fare at the May meeting, Lucille Lea directed guild members in a skit entitled "The Do's and Don'ts of a Hospital Volunteer". Cast in the skit were Helen Ilcramski, Dorothy Dominic, Jeanne Oblinger, Eleanor McCutcheon, Marion VanRiper, Mary Bonadeo, Grace Pravato, Joan Fredman, Barbara Little, Rosemary Hagge, Lyn Cesari, Joan Lambert and Grace D'Anna.

Capture Two State Prizes

Northville branch of the Woman's National Farm and Garden association held its own at the state awards presentations once more this year, claiming a first place ribbon in horticultural therapy and a third place ribbon in flower show judging.

The citations were presented at the annual meeting of the Michigan division which was held May 16 in Birmingham.

President-elect Mrs. George Kohs and officers Mrs. Donald Ware, Mrs. William Slattery, Mrs. John Begle, Mrs. E. O. Whittington and Mrs. Alfred Millington attended from the Northville branch.

Mrs. Kohs attributed the top ranking in horticultural therapy to the added emphasis the club has been giving to its therapy programs at Wayne County Training school, Northville State hospital and Eastlawn Resthaven. She said more money and time are being budgeted for this work in the coming year.

During the year clubwomen select a deserving collegebound student for their award. Their aid to this student isn't a one-time gift. Some recipients receive grants throughout their undergraduate studies, while others are even helped during their graduate programs.

How can an admission-free garden tour reap any monies? That's where the Silver Tea comes in, explained Mrs. Ware. Any donations made there, she said, are turned over to the scholarship committee.

The walk is a living catalog of gardening ideas, added its chairman As small as it is, Northville has a monopoly on imaginative gardeners.

These women, she pointed out, are real green thumbs endowed with a knack for transforming non-descript yards into horticultural showplaces. They should have a bounty of helpful hints for the garden tourists to borrow, she promised.

A variety of plants and landscape layouts have been included again on the tour route.

Beginning at 12:30 p.m. a week from Monday the following women will open their gardens to guests:

— Mrs. Glenn Cummings, 43525 West Six Mile road;

— Mrs. E. O. Whittington, 46915 Stratford court;

— Mrs. E. Mueller, 46210 Foner court;

— Mrs. William Wernette, 46301 West Main street;

— Mrs. M. Eliber, 321 Rayson;

— Mrs. C. Whittlesey, 40146 Woodhill.

Mrs. Whittlesey's handiwork is billed as something special: It's a "Greenhouse Fete" that abounds in colorful blossoms the year round.

In the event the weatherman fails to cooperate, the Garden Walk will be re-scheduled for Tuesday, June 12.

Always a Time for Cake

There's always an occasion for a good cake. Any hostess, from the beginning homemaker to the accomplished gourmet cook, can add the crowning touch to get together ranging from a formal dinner to an impromptu backyard barbecue with just the right baked confection.

Of course, the homemaker's real test lies in her selection of a cake to complement the occasion.

A rich fruitcake, for example, may excel as a solo offering at a coffee klatch, but teaming it with a many-course menu can spell little short of acute indigestion for dinner guests.

The housewife's best guide to avoiding this pitfall is a well-stocked file of cake recipes — tested recipes. Choose your boss or your husband's beau for a possible first-time flop.

To help your collection of cake recipes, Kitchen Diary this week borrows from the culinary experience of Mrs. John Krezel, 22000 Meadowbrook.

Mrs. Krezel assures readers her date-nut, quick coffee and butter cakes have passed the tests of taste and time with flying colors.

About 17 guests attended the shower which was held at 129 West street.

Nearly 40 girls and their adult advisers from Cottage Five at the Wayne County Training school were the guests of Mrs. D. H. Clark May 23 at a picnic lunch held on the grounds of the Clark home, 42150 East Seven Mile road.

Mrs. Clark and other members of Northville branch of the Woman's National Farm and Garden association have been sharing gardening tips with the training school girls as part of the club's horticultural therapy program.

Assisting the hostess with the lunch and games Wednesday were Mrs. F. S. Jennings, Mrs. R. J. Wright, Mrs. Douglas Strath, Mrs. George Kohs and Mrs. Dempsey Ebel.

Northville's Steve Juday, the most-lauded Mustang athlete during the past several years, decided recently to accept an athletic scholarship to Michigan State University.

at the state meet Saturday, and turned around Monday to lead five "B" schools and 12 "A" schools in the Pontiac tourney with a five-man score of 408. Tom Slattery led the Mustangs in both play-offs with a 78 in the state finals and a "B" medalist round of 76 at Pontiac.

Northville topped all the teams it had lost to in the regular season play during the state meet. At Pontiac Monday, the Mustangs trailed only Bloomfield Hills with 398 and Birmingham with 404. The next closest "B" school was West Bloomfield, well down the roster with a 434.

Alma led state finalists with a 313, while Grand Blanc followed with 318, Greenville and Kalamazoo tied at 320, Dowagiac shot 326, East Grand Rapids 327, St. Johns 328 and Northville and Swartz Creek 335.

Zayti Holds Two Honors

Michael Zayti, son of Julius J. and Margaret Zayti of Northville, received two honors at ceremonies concluding the school year at Roosevelt Military Academy in Alton, Illinois.

A junior in his first year at the Academy, Zayti received the annual award as the outstanding new cadet in Military Achievement.

He was also named the "Athlete of the Year" — the first time a junior classman ever won this honor.

NET CHAMPS — Leaders of the Wayne-Oakland league and tops in their regional matches were these Mustang tennis players. They are (l-r) front row: Jim Jiggins, Dan Pattison, Tom Long, Coach Keith Kruse and Dieron Ornekian. Back row: Gary Grysiwicz, Mark Byard, Paul Rumble and Scott Palmer. That's the regional "B" trophy the netters captured in competition last weekend that secured several shots at state titles next week.

Netters Grab Regional Honors With Strong Win

The Northville tennis squad won its regional play-offs last week-end, qualifying four players for the state championship competition next week.

The local netters, repeating their drubbing of Wayne-Oakland league rivals the week before, took first and second place in the singles and second in doubles.

Team Captain Tom Long beat out Dieron Ornekian in the finals for the regional singles championship, while the Mustang doubles team of Paul Rumble and Dan Pattison were runners up to the champions from Holt.

Also picking up points for Northville were Jim Jiggins and Gary Grysiwicz, who teamed up to make it as far as the semi-finals in doubles play.

They also lost out to Holt.

Long, Ornekian, Rumble and Pattison will all see action in the state matches next week as a result of their regional showings.

Northville led scoring in the regional with 12 points. Holt, which was the only other team to qualify players for the state competition, had 4½ points, while Milford took third place with 4½. Riverside ended up fourth with 1½ and Riverview stood last with 1 point.

In going the distance, Long picked up 3½ points for the local squad. (First-round singles play is worth one-half point to the winner, while the rest of the rounds are worth one point.)

Ornekian added 2½ points and Pattison and Rumble led the Mustangs with 3½ for their efforts. (First-round doubles play is worth three-fourths of a point to the winners, and the other rounds are worth a point and one-half.)

In making it to the semi-final play-offs, Jiggins and Grysiwicz earned 2½ points for Northville.

The Mustangs were slated to go against Cranbrook Tuesday night, and will play Oak Park Friday.

Balk Talk Brings Tough State Ruling

The Northville Mustangs baseball squad has had some scheduling problems with the weather man this year, but last week it ran into a game-delaying situation it just couldn't overcome.

The game with South Lyon Wednesday was still in the first inning, with Northville at bat in the second half. The Mustangs had scored one run and had a man at second base with no outs.

The South Lyon pitcher started his motion and then faked a throw to second base. When the umpire called a balk on the pitcher, South Lyon Coach Fred Gerhardt started an argument.

Northville Athletic Director Al Jones said this week that according to an umpire's report submitted to the Michigan High School Athletic Association, Gerhardt pushed the umpire when he wouldn't change his call and then ordered his team to the buses.

Jones said the MHSAA has suspended the rest of South Lyon's baseball season and has scheduled a hearing on the incident. He said both schools and the umpires were to file reports before the hearing.

According to South Lyon school officials, the loss (a forfeit gives Northville the win) and suspension will mean Gerhardt's first losing season. Before the incident, his team had a chance to top the .500 point.

Recreation Ball Start Scheduled

Northville's summer recreation program will soon be bustling with activity, says Director Kenneth Conley.

He said that so far, only two of the 18 summer baseball teams the recreation department is planning for this year are actively underway in their seasons. The Livonia League's two Northville entries have each played several games.

Players in the seven-team knothole baseball league sponsored as part of the program are now practicing on Saturday mornings, Conley said, but their season won't get underway until after school is out.

The six-team knothole softball league will soon begin practice, he added, but their schedule will also be delayed until school is through.

Conley said the two 15-year-old and under teams and the 18 and under team will begin practice when school is out. He added that an organization at meeting of the men's softball league will be held 7 p.m. Monday at 157 East Cady.

Dan MacDermid, manager of Northville's American League Orioles played and lost five games in the Livonia league this season. So far, they have lost to the Cardinals 11-2, the Colts 6-5, the Tigers 8-3, the Jets 6-2 and the Warriors 12-2.

Their next game will be today (Thursday) at the Livonia diamonds, MacDermid said. Their next home games will be on Monday and Wednesday, when they take on the White Sox and the Seals, respectively.

In Livonia's National League section, Northville's Braves have fared better, with a .500 season so far. They are managed by Richard Tunison.

The Braves started their season by downing the training school 9-4, but then lost their next two games, 2-1 to the Jefferson Athletics and 8-0 to the Pierson Cubs.

Last week the Braves trimmed the Red Sox 6-5 and the Lamp Lighter Lions 11-2. They were edged out by the Garfield Senators 7-6.

The Braves will travel to Livonia next Tuesday to take on the Yankees, and then on Thursday will start a five-game home stand by playing hosts to the Livonia Lakers.

THE PRESIDENT'S ROCKER!

THE CHAIR PRESIDENT KENNEDY'S DOCTOR CHOSE FOR HIS RELAXATION:
The "CAROLINA ROCKER" as Dr. Travell calls it, was acquired for President Kennedy's back ailment. It has a large cane back of select Carolina oak. The detachable cane seat is a herringbone weave. The back posts are bent to fit the contour of a person's back. The arm rests are not too high (which keep the strain off back, neck, and shoulders.) Hurry in for yours because the supply is limited.

Resident's Report Tops Space Meet

A Northville's man's talk on progress being made in the development of new devices for measuring star light was one of the high points of a space research symposium held last week at Bendix Research Laboratories division, Southfield.

W. C. Wiley, who lives at 41815 Eight Mile road and is head of the Applied Physics department at the Bendix division, described some of the work going on at the laboratories toward development of microminiature detectors for measuring the ultraviolet light from stars, including our own star, the sun.

The ultraviolet rays for which these detectors are being developed cannot penetrate the earth's atmosphere. Measurements must be made from above the earth's atmosphere. The small size of these detectors — some of them no larger than a human hair — saves weight and volume so critical in space research. Measurements of their intensity can reveal many secrets of the composition of stars and the reactions which are characteristic of different types of stars.

Wiley's report was part of a three-session symposium attended by some of the country's top scientists involved in the U.S. space program.

He was one of 10 outstanding pharmacy scholars who were admitted to the coveted ranks of the honorary society and its local Alpha Chi chapter on campus.

Guest speaker for the event was Dr. J. Russell Bright, WSU director of research administration.

New Hours At Library

New summer hours that go into effect this week at Northville branch of the Wayne County library were announced Monday by Librarian Rhea Wilson.

The library will follow this time schedule until fall:

Monday through Thursday — 12 noon to 8 p.m.

Friday — 10 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Saturday and Sunday—closed.

Dedicate New Church Sunday

Evangelical Lutheran Church of the Epiphany will dedicate its new home in Northville township at cornerstone laying ceremonies Sunday morning at 11 o'clock.

First worship in the recently completed structure, located at Five Mile between Robinwood and Haggerty, will be a Holy Communion service after the cornerstone is laid.

The new building is one unit of a proposed larger facility. Taking part in the cornerstone ceremonies will be Robert Robinson, assistant to the president of the Michigan synod of the United Lutheran church in America, and the pastor of Epiphany, the Reverend John W. Miller.

The Reverend Charles Holland, of Dayton, Ohio, who was the mission developer and first pastor of the young congregation, has been invited to participate in the communion worship.

James Morrison, architect for the new building, and Garfield Laity, representing the construction firm that erected the unit, will be honored guests at the services.

AWAY WE GO — Northville was like a busy launching pad Saturday thanks to the Jaycees' "balloon in orbit" promotion. To be exact 25 balloons, like the one about to be released by Jeweler Otis Tewksbury (left), were "launched" Saturday. The project is being promoted by the Jaycees to raise funds for the Fourth of July fireworks display. Balloons sell for 25 cents each and the sender signs a card attached to the balloon. The finder is supposed to return the card. Prizes will be awarded on the basis of the distance the balloon travels. Jaycees Stan Gurney (center) and Eugene Maloney are shown with Tewksbury. Gurney is chairman of the project and reports that several cards have been returned already — the most distant are two returns from Ontario, some 30 miles as the balloon flies. The orbiting balloons will be sold throughout June with July 3 as deadline for card returns. Prizes will be announced at the July Fourth celebration.

THEY CLEANED UP the city of Northville Saturday hauling 29 truckloads of trash left at the curbs by residents. The trash collection is a regular feature of the Beautiful Northville campaign, directed this year by the Junior Chamber of Commerce and chairman by George Miller. Jaycees who assisted in Saturday's trash collection were Chairman Miller, Paul Palmer, Bob Pankov, Bob Pratt, Eugene Maloney, Karl Knoth, Stan Gurney and Bill Sullivan. Members of the Ugashton boys club also pitched in. They included Leonard Bogattis, adviser, and Jim Boyer, Chuck Hummel, Pat Meyer, Earl Leavenworth, Larry Deering and Dan Daniels. Trucks for the collection were donated by: Paul Palmer Construction with Robert Wrenn driving; Nowels Lumber and Coal company; Henry Budd Excavating with Cecil Crowe driving; Malcomson Sand and Gravel with Gar Williams driving; and the city of Northville. Following the project the workers were treated to dinner at the Old Mill restaurant.

Crack Safe, Net Over $70 In Laundry Break-in Here

Between $70 and $75 was looted from a safe at Northville Laundry, 331 North Center street, in a weekend break-in. The laundry reported the theft shortly after it was discovered Saturday morning. They said the intruder must have entered the building sometime after closing on Friday afternoon.

Entry was made through a window at the rear of the laundry, said police.

They said the safe had been moved from a front office to a washroom nearby. Its contents were scattered about the room.

In recent Justice Court action, Northville Judge Charles McDonald ruled on two reckless driving cases and a drunk and disorderly offense.

The Northville Record

Thursday, May 31, 1962 Section Two — Page One

THE NEW Medical Self-Help training kit was demonstrated for local residents interested in Civil Defense last week at the Northville community building by William Siebert (rt.); Wayne county civil defense staff member, and Dr. Gordon Eddy, director of the medical section of the county civil defense group. City Manager Bruce Potthoff said that attempts will be made to organize a class for the 12-lesson Medical Self-Help training course in Northville.

For Civil Defense

Medical Self-Help Training Course Offered Locally

About 30 Northville area residents — mostly Red Cross volunteers — attended a public meeting at the Community building last Wednesday evening designed to bolster interest and further organize a community civil defense program.

The session sparked a move for local sponsorship of the new Medical Self-Help training course recently developed by the American Medical Association and US Public Health Service.

The program was introduced to the audience by William Siebert of the Wayne county civil defense staff and Dr. Gordon Eddy, director of the medical section of the county civil defense organization.

Specifically, City Manager Bruce Potthoff, who heads the community civil defense program, has suggested that a city-wide block captain system be organized under which the community can be trained for action in case of disaster.

He noted that the Medical Self-Help training courses would be a logical start.

Siebert and Dr. Eddy briefly demonstrated the Medical Self-Help kit, which provides basic medical skills needed in case of an emergency when no doctor is available. There are 12 lessons to be taught by non-medical, volunteer instructors. Exact detailed plans for each class period is supplied in the kit.

Included in the course are instructions on how to treat shock, how to stop bleeding, how to administer artificial respiration — and even how to assist in child delivery.

The kits include complete lessons, tests, projector and slides. Classes of 25 members are recommended.

Manager Potthoff said that attempts to organize local classes will be made immediately.

Anyone interested in taking the 12-lesson course is urged to contact Manager Potthoff at the city hall or William Milne, chairman of the Northville civil defense advisory committee.

Spiritual alertness is needed to meet the challenge of today. This is a theme of the Lesson-Sermon entitled "Ancient and Modern Necromancy, Alias Mesmerism and Hypnotism, De-nounced" which will be heard at Christian Science services Sunday.

The Responsive Reading will include Paul's advice to the Ephesians (6): "Be strong in the Lord, and in the power of his might. Put on the whole armor of God, that ye may be able to stand against the wiles of the devil."

One of the citations to be read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy states: "Be watchful, sober, and vigilant. The way is straight and narrow, which leads to the understanding that God is the only Life. It is a warfare with the flesh, in which we must conquer sin, sickness, and death, either here or hereafter, — certainly before we can reach the goal of Spirit, or life in God" (p. 324).

Rev. Lloyd Brasure

General John A. Logan, commander of the Grand Army of the Republic, proclaimed May 30, 1868, the first Memorial Day, "for the purpose of strewing with flowers... the graves of comrades who died in defense of their country... and whose bodies lie in almost every city, village or hamlet churchyard in the land." Eventually the day became a legal holiday in most states and is celebrated in the North on May 30 and in the South variously on April 26, May 10 and June 3.

Many do not realize that this noble effort had much of its origin in actions following the Civil War by families of Confederate dead graves of their loved ones and also on the unmarked graves of the soldiers killed from both armies, Union and Confederate, impartially. This act of mercy and true human devotion generated a healing influence in days of unbridled hatreds.

Memorial Day in 1962 still finds much need in our communities, states and nation for a healing of old wounds. Our memories carry us to a true devotion to the freedoms purchased at so great a price. May our prayers and our faith be such that under God's compassionate guidance we will call to mind the sacrifices of yesterday — as well as the obligations of today. A nation under God will prosper when the values of true Christians morality and ethic are observed by its citizenry. We must honor the faith of yesterday's citizens who gave birth to the opportunities of today by their enthusiasm, their loyalty, their ambition, their hard labors and even the supreme sacrifices.

Jesus Christ, the Lord, pointed the way and gave the perfect gift on the Cross. As our Saviour, He empowers us so to live that through Him we may have a spiritual domination over the forces and powers of darkness. In a nation that allows us the freedom to worship, let us worship God in the sanctuary and in our daily lives.

Memorial and dedication go hand in hand.

Some Tips For Planning Home Expansion

What is the most economical way of enlarging the living area in your home? What restrictions must be checked before you can plan additions?

Most families need more living area in their homes, and there are several alternative ways to find it. The least expensive way is by finishing off an attic or basement, or by converting a garage. The next best source of quick space lies in converting a carport, breezeway, or part or all of a porch. The majority of porches on older homes are outdated and are no longer used.

If these solutions are not possible, then an addition may be the only answer.

Before you proceed with planning an addition, you should check local building line restrictions and local code requirements to find out which, direction, if any, you can extend your home. This information is available from local building contractors and qualified home improvement advisers.

Some subdivisions have restrictions on minimum setbacks which are more restrictive than local codes. These should be carefully checked, too.

Of course the determining factor in deciding whether you finish off an attic or bedroom, convert a garage, or build an addition will be the use. How do you want to use the area? If you need more space for a living-dining area, the space should be near the kitchen. An addition may be the only answer.

Thus in solving the problem of additional space, the most important consideration is how the living area will be used. Space that is multi-purpose; that is, that can be used for several activities, is usually the best investment. Here, again, careful planning is extremely important.

SPACE SAVER

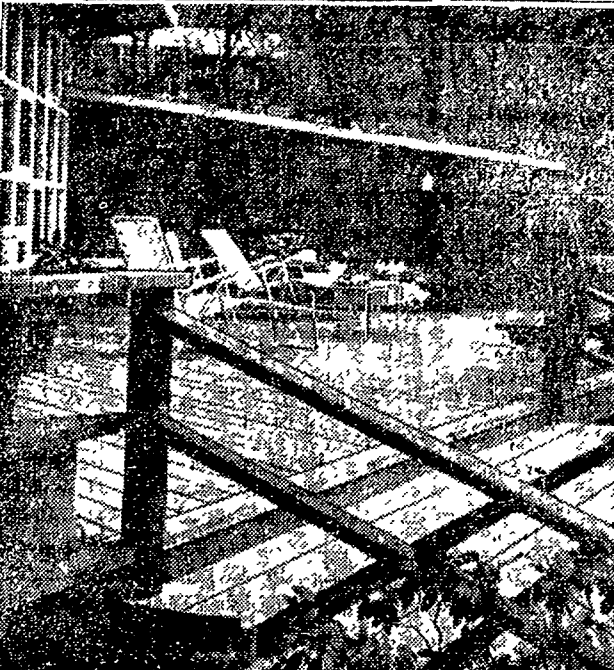

The new small square bathtubs can be installed in a shower-space, providing full bathroom facilities.

USEFUL SCRAP

Tapered wooden shingles make handy shims, table leg extenders, can be wedged into large cracks to be filled with calking, etc.

BUILDING

The Northville Record—Novi News—Thursday, May 31, 1962
Section Two — Page Three

FUNCTIONAL and attractive is this sun deck, expressly designed to create the feeling of expense via the low, open side railings and the broad flight of stairs. Under the deck, useful storage space is provided.

Sunshades and Fences Increase Patio Pleasure

Terraces, patios, and breezeways are three of the more common areas for outdoor living. Dressing them up for greater utility during the summer months is a very popular pastime.

Some of the more practical accessories for pleasant outdoor living areas are permanent overhead sunshades, solid or partially open trellises, arbors, and fences. Some or all of them in varying combinations and with attractive landscaping will provide a literal bower for family relaxation and informal entertaining.

Sunshades that are, or appear to be, extensions of the roof are often completely covered to provide an area that is secure from showers. An adjacent area can then be covered with an open sunshade that consists of a decorative wood pattern.

Vertical sunshades also serve a variety of purposes in outdoor planning. They are often used to set off one area from another, or to provide privacy for part of the area.

Fencing for Privacy
If privacy is an objective, handsome fences in new designs will fulfill this requirement without giving a "fenced-in" feeling. In fact, there are fences that give a measure of protection yet do not completely exclude light and breeze. These are ideal for setting off an area containing a swimming pool.

A high fence can be made of vertical planks mounted alternately on the front and back of a framework to keep kids and animals out but let breezes through, or with blocks cut from two-by-fours and put up in an open-work design. Vines and shrubs can be trained against this type of fence to fill in during the summer and give an added measure of privacy.

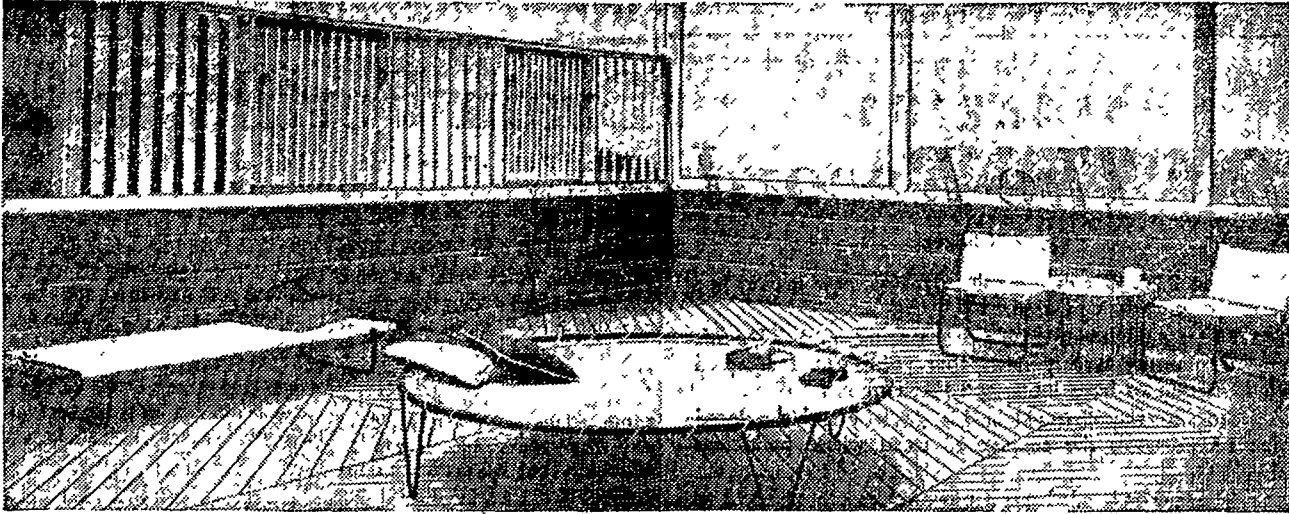

Do-It-Yourself Project
Of course, it is possible to engage a contractor to execute any or all of the plans you make, but most of these improvements can be made by the homeowner who is an amateur craftsman and enjoys wood working.

Selection of lumber is important, and should be done with the advice of your local lumber dealer. Since they are extremely workable and widely available, any one of the 11 woods from the Western Pine region will be a wise choice. Remember that care in construction and finishing will pay.

PERFECT FOR BASKING is this sun deck, which is as good-looking as it is practical as an outdoor living room. Contrasting arrangements of lumber create a pleasing pattern in the parquet floor, lower wall and wind screen.

Home Hints

IVY BEAUTY
The informality of flowering or evergreen vines provide charming softness and beauty to stiff angular lines of homes, garages.

SHOWER HEIGHT
A shower bath installation at 72 inches above the floor has been proven to be the most convenient height for most people.

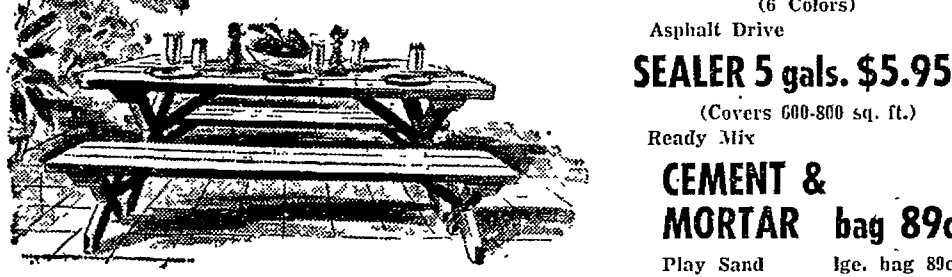

MORE CARE- LESS REPAIR
The plumbing system in a modern home represents about 10 per cent of the value of the house. It pays to make repairs while they're small.

PLANNED PLANTING
Flowering shrubs show off to best advantage when massed in tiers according to height... low-growing ones in front.

LOOSEN TIGHT DOORS
Doors that bind on the hinge side or stick at one corner can usually be remedied by loosening the hinge and sliding a piece of cardboard behind the plate before tightening it again.

GARDEN LOVERS JUNE DATE BOOK

- Once you have gardened through the summer with the soil of the garden blanketed with a 2- or 3-inch mulch, you will never go back to cultivating. Many good things happen. You use less water. Most of the weeds are smothered out. Everything grows better.
- If leaves of any shrub or tree begin to turn yellow in spite of regular feeding and watering, you can suspect that the plant has a disorder called chlorosis. When a chelating agent is added to such soils, the iron or other minor elements that are fixed (locked up) are made available to plants.
- The second wave of insects of the season will build up now unless stopped. Spray again this month with a combination of Isotox Garden Spray and Ortho Phaltan Rose and Garden Fungicide. SPEAKING for The Record

by Bill Slinger

Jerome P. Cavanagh, Detroit's dynamic new mayor, is a young man with a mission.

Friday noon, along with a dozen or more other Detroit area community weekly newspaper publishers, I accepted an invitation to have lunch and listen to His Honor.

I came away charmed by his sincerity and convinced that he possessed the courage to tread where politicians shouldn't.

The mayor handed out a prepared speech and told us that he would try to stick to it — and not become involved in his controversial income tax plan.

He then proceeded to plunge into the income tax story — his written text temporarily forgotten.

His eyes lit up and his face reddened as he became a man engrossed in a struggle to convince a doubting audience.

Mayor Cavanagh believes wholeheartedly in his tax plan. And he means to push it through.

He told us that he would have preferred to have the state take the initiative — and so informed state officials. But when they balked, he marched ahead.

Mayor Cavanagh will tell you that the welfare of the entire southeastern portion of the state is dependent upon a healthy Detroit. And he points to the many industrial, cultural and recreational facilities provided by Detroit that are there for everyone to enjoy.

He told a very convincing story. And further noted that 1500 U.S. cities have income tax plans that include non-residents employed in the cities.

And then he became more realistic. "I know that this plan throws up a natural barrier between Detroit and the suburbs and this is a bad thing. But it has to be faced. It is my duty as mayor to present a balanced budget and I intend to do so," he added.

I like Cavanagh's courage, his sincerity and his willingness to tackle something that he believes is just.

On the other side of the coin, however, I was disappointed, but not surprised, that neither Cavanagh's written nor spoken remarks suggested any plans for reductions in government spending.

He's swimming with the current — more agencies, more aid, more government.

A GOOD IDEA that needs some word-of-mouth help is the project undertaken jointly by the city and Charles Altman, Jr.

It's the "commuters parking lot" located on the Seven Mile road cut-off.

Some weeks ago it was brought to the council's attention that numerous commuters — enroute to Detroit jobs — meet in Northville and continue their trip in one car leaving the others parked on city streets and lots all day long.

Some commuters have been using the grass area alongside the South Main street entrance to the city.

So Mayor Allen and Altman joined forces to help solve the problem. Now Altman's lot is level and gravelled — free to park on all day long.

Police will be instructed to leave "courtesy cards" in commuter cars found around the community directing them in the future to the special lot.

It has been proposed that local merchants erect a "commuter welcome" sign on the lot.

If you know any "share the riders", pass the word along.

Roger Babson

Brain Fertilizer

Babson Park — There is much criticism by taxpayers of the amounts that are spent on education. In almost every school committee some one or more members insist that education has not increased in efficiency and in reducing cost per capita.

I, myself, feel that my grandchildren go through almost the same educational routine as I did fifty years ago. I am no educator, but according to my reckoning my grandchildren are obliged to spend twelve years learning what I got in ten years.

The Brain A Physical Organ

The brain may be basically no different from the heart, or the stomach, or the liver. Certainly the brain is made up of physical cells. When something is the matter with our stomach, the doctor gives us capsules to help remedy the difficulty.

This sort of treatment, however, has seldom been used for retarded children. Only in a few cases has a physician been called in to help retard children.

It is now recognized that the difficulty with a retarded child may be his eyesight, or his hearing, or some other physical impairment.

Hence, the child is given glasses, or possibly a hearing aid. We are also attempting to help these children psychologically. These are steps that have only recently been taken; but good results are being secured by these aids. Such work needs the encouragement of every school committee and every parent.

DNA and RNA

The real purpose of this week's column is to call attention to the wonderful possibilities of these new chemicals in connection with education: DNA, which stands for deoxyribonucleic acid; and RNA, which stands for ribonucleic acid. These are two new and very important chemicals which the drug companies are carefully studying. Also such companies as duPont of Wilmington, Del. and the American Cyanamid Company of New York, which owns the Lederle Laboratories. These companies are endeavoring to solve the genetic connection between two chemicals (perhaps male and female) which may lead to the origin and continuity of life, through the synthetic development of cells.

Work on this is being done in conjunction with the National Institute of Arthritis and Metabolic Diseases at Bethesda, Maryland. They hope the work can result in the manufacture of specific proteins, one of life's most complex and important molecules which appear in all living cells of the brain. It is believed that DNA is material of which the cells of genes and chromosomes are composed.

DNA's function is to transmit genetic intelligence from one generation to the next. They make up a "template" or "mold". This mold is supposed to carry these specifications on to RNA, the messenger that in turn directs the manufacture of protein necessary for education and life. This is done in a way similar to the dots and dashes in the Morse code spelling out over 10,000 meaningful words from only 26 letters of the alphabet. In short, every child has the equivalent of 26 letters, but the child's future depends on the arrangement of these letters (or molecules).

Proper Feeding of Retarded

It is believed that the child's system might be directed to produce normal brain cells or perhaps even brilliant brain cells. These experiments may lead to the possibility that educators will combine psychology with chemistry and the use of TV. My grandchildren may be given capsules as part of their education, or they may be exposed to seeing proper TV programs from the time they are three days old. This may seem revolutionary, but I believe it will happen to give us better memory and judgment!

When this time comes, teachers will have no trouble obtaining increased salaries because taxpayers will recognize that the efficiency of education is increasing while the cost per capita is being reduced. DNA and RNA and TV may do for education what fertilizers are doing for agriculture. These chemicals may enable all students (not only the retarded) to become much more brilliant, and better citizens — in a short time and at less cost. In fact, by exposing all babies to TV there may be no "retarded" children.

Majority Leader Allison Green, Kingston Republican, then decided "to let the Democrats take over" to bring out an income tax program they said they wanted.

The income tax package never saw the light of debate in the House before Swainson announced the end of hope for fiscal reform.

As in 1959, when an income tax proposal passed in the House and was killed in the Senate, several Democratic members of the lower chamber were opposed to a payroll levy but said they would probably vote for it.

Swainson reportedly had asked his party House caucus members to hold out for "one last try" to pass an income tax.

An intra-party squabble, centering in Macomb County Democratic units, also may have entered into the Governor's decision to let the stalemate.

The Governor will not admit he asked for any "unit rule" among House Democrats, as he reportedly did in a caucus. Republicans likely will have good grounds for campaign material in the apparent Democratic split over the income tax.

Present-day historians have been very successful in digging back to find that people 50 years ago, at least a few of them, had the wisdom to predict so much of the advances made in the last half-century.

Dr. Fred S. Siebert, dean of Michigan State University's College of Communication Arts, may be one of the persons whom future historians cite for foresight in the newspaper world.

Siebert predicts that the newspaper of the future will be more of a news distributor than presently and less of a disseminator of fiction, features and comics.

The primary function of newspapers 50 years from now, according to the MSU spokesman, will be to give readers an accurate and balanced picture of events of the community which it serves.

"This does not mean eliminating the interesting and unusual," he said. "It means increased emphasis on the significant, the meaningful, the important and the balanced picture."

The future trend will be to leave entertainment to the producers of television, radio, movies, and magazines, according to Siebert.

Automation, business pessimism and several other factors take the chief blame for unemployment changes.

One of the main classifications in the "other factors" is the youth in the labor force: school dropouts.

Dr. Daniel H. Kruger, associate director of Michigan State University's Labor and Industrial Relations Center, cites school dropouts as "one of the nation's most tragic manpower problems."

Tax Deadlock

The Legislative Deadlock broken by Gov. John B. Swainson when the Democratic chief executive said his hopes for fiscal reform in 1962 were "dead". Reforms behind his abandonment of attempts to bring up an income tax for another vote, however, will be the basis for many of the fall campaign arguments.

Swainson said he gave up hope because the Republican-dominated Legislature "failed again to face up to its responsibility."

Republicans, however, have contended throughout the session that Swainson's push for an income tax was based partially on a hope that the GOP would hold a firm against it. He was afraid of a state chances for re-election if a standard income tax, was passed, they said.

House Republicans also will have a good deal of political fodder from Swainson's "death" announcement because of the status of tax talks when it came. The majority party in the House had seen the first of its proposed "nuisance tax" bills die in an initial vote.

My Doctor Won't Listen

Dear Dr. Mudd:

I am writing to you because I don't know what else to do. My own doctor says I don't have any trouble with my mind and that there is something physical that is causing all this. He wants to put me in the hospital to do a lot of tests.

On my own I went to a psychiatrist. He, too, wants to put me in the hospital and give me shock treatment. I'm scared of them but he says he'd put me to sleep and I wouldn't feel anything.

I don't think I'm that bad. I've read a lot of articles and I don't think it is physical or that I need shock treatment.

Why would a psychiatrist I needed shock treatment? I'm nervous and I have had morbid thoughts which are real bad right now. It all started in my childhood. I can feel it did. If some doctor would just talk to me I might get better. But I can't find one who will help me that way.

getting to the heart of the patient's difficulty.

Some psychiatrists never employ these methods and treat patients by psychotherapy alone. Not everyone can be benefited by it but by far the more important reason is the fact that many people look for a fast and simple cure and are unwilling to devote time and energy which psychotherapy demands. And some of this may be due to a lack of understanding of psychotherapy by physicians and lay people alike.

I, too, have known of doctors assuring patients with anxieties and preoccupations such as your own that they were emotionally and mentally sound and therefore needed no psychotherapy. One patient of mine even related how angry his family doctor had gotten when he went on his own to seek the only kind of help that made sense to him!

This, however, is the exception and all really competent physicians readily recognize functional illness and unhesitatingly recommend a psychiatrist who practices the kind of psychiatry which will be of most help to the patient.

I am sending you by mail the names of three physicians, all of whom practice psychotherapy and who work in the general area of your home.
