

More than 2500 employees and their families visited Northville's Ford Valve plant Sunday during an open house. The familiar water wheel labels the plant as 'the last of Henry Ford's village industries'.

Valve Plant is Last Of 'Water Wheels'

An interesting bit of history was recalled last Sunday as the Ford Motor Company greeted guests at its Northville Valve plant for an open house celebration.

The event was restricted to employees and their families. It was the first time such an observance had been held at the Main and Griswold plant.

Visitors were given a booklet that revealed the early and recent history of the plant. (For more details and pictures of the open house, see page one, section two).

Purchased by the late Henry Ford in 1919 as one of his "village industries", the plant was noted for its high standards of craftsmanship and its friendly, "village industry" atmosphere.

The original building was built in 1896 as a wood-working shop. Operated by the Dearborn Manufacturing Company, the three-story brick plant turned out wheelbarrows, beet cutters, wood pulley blocks and other wood products. Mr. Ford moved much of the wood working machinery of the Dearborn plant to Greenfield Village where it may be seen today.

On March 20, 1920 the plant was converted to production of valves. During the next 16 years 181 million valves were produced in the original building.

In 1936 a more modern plant was required and the present building erected — on the exact site of the plant building erected in Northville, a saw mill established in 1825.

In the early days of the new plant a Fitz overshot water wheel powered by water piped from a small nearby lake was used to drive a 30 horsepower electric generator. The generator's use has been discontinued, but the water wheel is kept in operating condition to preserve the "village industry" atmosphere.

Today the picturesque plant exterior belies the ultra modern manufacturing equipment with in, which makes the local plant outstanding in the automotive industry.

Exhaust valves produced at the plant begin at the Rouge in the Dearborn Specialty Foundry. Single piece nickel-chrome alloy exhaust valve castings are shipped here for a series of grinding operations. Through the years the plant has become unique in the types and degrees of automatic handling established to produce valves of highest quality.

Intake valve manufacturing was begun at the plant during the early 1950's and in 1956 the plant was expanded.

Additional equipment and manpower were added, and Northville went into production of one type of intake valve along with the one exhaust valve already in production.

February 1, 1957 the Northville functions were assigned to operate under the jurisdiction of the Dearborn Engine Plant in the Engine and Foundry Division of the Company.

Currently, five different intake valves and five different exhaust valves are produced at the Northville plant.

Some 300 employees make up to 70,000 intake valves and up to 80,000 exhaust valves daily for shipment to four different Ford engine plants.

Included are all exhaust valves for Falcon, Comet, Fairlane, Galaxie, Mercury and Lincoln. The local plant also produces all intake valves for Falcon, Comet, Fairlane and Galaxie.

The booklet noted that "although Northville is the last of Henry Ford's 'village industries' plants, it has long ceased to be known as such... it continues the tradition of high production quality."

Host to the open house visitors was Joseph A. Bajal, plant superintendent.

Business District Fire Squelched

A fire which threatened a downtown Northville building Monday evening was quickly brought under control by the Northville fire department.

Large crowds gathered about Main street the afternoon before when the 13 firemen battled a blaze which probably had smoldered several hours before breaking out in the former Lila's Flower and Gift Shop at 110 North Center street.

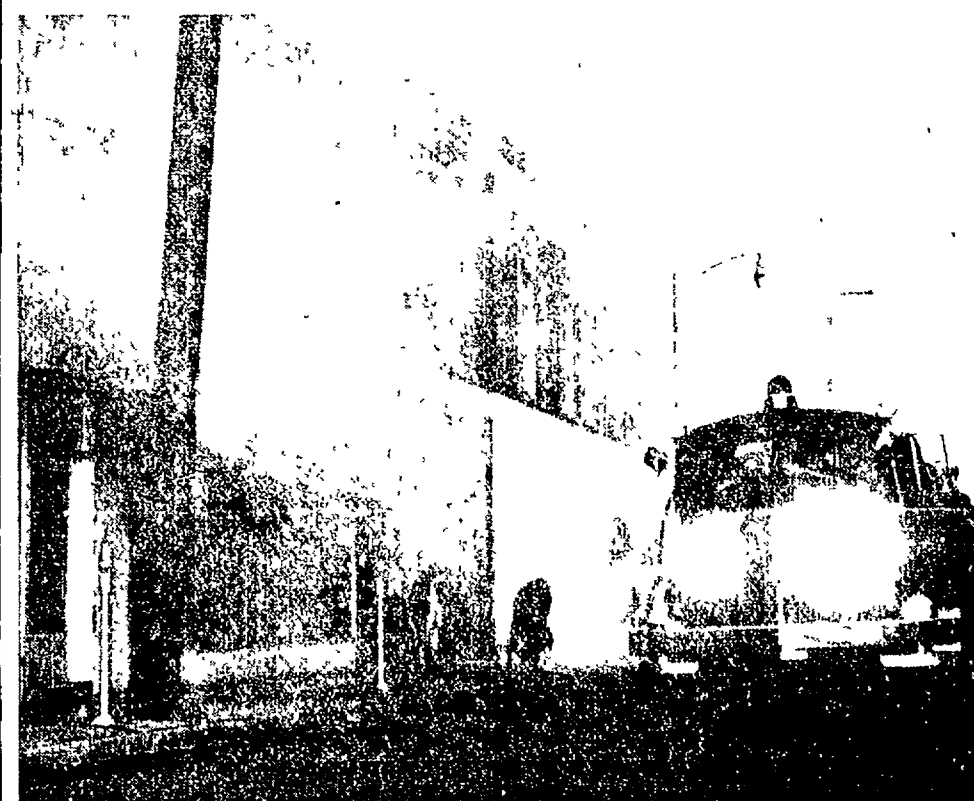

Apparently, the flower shop had all but completed its move to a new location at 115 East Main street the afternoon before the fire started.

Fire Chief William McGee said the department had the fire under control shortly after it was reported, which was 7:30 p.m.

According to Carl Barton, of Birmingham, owner of the building, the fire was started by a 200-watt light bulb which had been left burning as a burglar hid against a fiberboard wall.

Barton said insurance adjusters visited the building Tuesday, but had no record of the extent of damages.

McGee said there was extensive smoke damage to offices above the flower shop, and an employee of the shop reported some water damage to small items stored in the basement.

SMOKE SCREEN — Firemen were quick to bring fire under control that broke out in Lila's Flower shop on North Center Monday shortly after 7:30 p.m. But smoke filled the building and upstairs offices. The florist shop had just moved to its new 115 East Main street location over the weekend.

$4 Million Community College Eyes 100-Acre Northville Township Site

A 100-acre Northville township site held top billing this week as the possible location of a proposed $4 million community college.

But even as it met most requirements—size, central location and cost—it faced elimination from outside pressures and internal problems (see adjoining story).

The site under consideration is located north of Five Mile road on Bradner and Elk roads. It is in the Northville school district.

The decision for selection is up to the board of trustees of the community college district of Plymouth, Livonia, Garden City and Clarenceville school districts.

Main objection to the site is the fact that it lies outside the community college district.

But the area is contiguous to the Plymouth school district and it has been reliably reported that the Northville school board has given "off the record" approval to the proposed annexation of the parcel to the Plymouth school district if the site were to be chosen.

The township board was notified that the site was being considered July 16. Supervisor George Clark called a special meeting of the board and Planning Chairman Gunnar Stromberg to study the inquiry Monday night. Notice of the meeting was not made public and there was no newspaper representation.

According to Clark, the board was not opposed to the project. "We think it's an honor to be considered and hope it will go through," he stated Tuesday.

But Clark noted that sewer capacity would present a major stumbling block.

He reported that zoning was proper and that water could be obtained from Plymouth township if the college would construct a line to Five Mile road.

It was the township board's position, the supervisor stated, that it would be necessary for the college to build a sewer line to Wilcox road in Plymouth and connect to the new interceptor to obtain sanitary sewer service.

He said that the estimate cost of this 6,800-foot span was $70,000. To obtain capacity in the line from Wayne county would cost an estimated $110,000, he added.

Clark reported that the college, at capacity, would need 1.5 cubic feet per second sewer allotment and the township has purchased only 1.6 CFS.

The township board's reply to the inquiry had to be made promptly to meet an August 1 deadline — the date set for final selection of the site.

Although the Northville site lies outside the college district, College President, Eric Bradner expressed enthusiasm for the parcel. He noted that the architect also preferred the Northville site.

"I believe it would be a tremendous boon to Northville," Bradner pointed out as he outlined the plans for the college.

Although the college would be tax free, he noted that it would provide the community other advantages.

The campus, when completed, would serve 5,000 students and represent an investment of $4,000,000. Construction is scheduled to begin in the spring with 1,000 students assured the first year, September 1964.

President Bradner pointed out that a $2,435,000 bond issue had been voted in June and that the college would seek state and federal funds, and depend upon increased assessed valuation in the area to provide more money.

The college has set a limit of $250,000 for purchase of land, Bradner noted. Specifically, the Northville township site has 96 acres (thereby meeting the near 100-acre requirement) and can be purchased for $2,500 per acre.

It is owned by the Gordon-Schuman development firm and had originally been planned for a 341 home subdivision. A sewer permit has been issued the owners for the parcel, which is adjacent to the interceptor line.

Carl Bernard of Plymouth is the real estate agent representing the owners.

Cost of the sewer facility would probably knock out consideration of the Northville site, although Bradner had not been advised of this development Tuesday.

The township reply to the community college trustees was scheduled to be sent this week. Both of the other sites under consideration — in Livonia and Canton township — also present financial problems.

Sewer Capacity Shortage Could Kill Project Here

The proposal to locate a $4 million community college in Northville township exploded a bombshell of repercussions this week — both locally and in the district which the college would serve.

Ironically, the prime site for the proposed college lies in the Northville school district — which declined to join the charter districts in formulating the community college plan.

When the community college idea was conceived for the area, Northville was in the throes of a school building program (high school, Amerman addition and junior high modernization).

Generally, the school board membership did not feel that the district could afford the time and expense of the proposed study. It was also argued at school level whether or not the school district had a responsibility for education of students beyond high school.

Livonia, Clarenceville, Garden City, Plymouth, Redford Union and South Redford school districts explored the idea. Eventually, all districts but the latter two approved the plan and a $2,435,000 bond issue was passed by the voters on June 11.

The proposal is unique in the state in that it is the first community college district composed of multiple school districts. Each district had to have voter approval to levy a tax of one mill to support the college program.

Loud objections to the Northville site have been registered from within the college district from officials (and residents) of participating communities who oppose going outside the district to build the college.

Nevertheless, officials of the college privately admit it is the most desirable. The 96-acre site is preferred by the architect; it meets the budget limitation of $250,000 for land; and it is centrally located to serve the district.

Officials in Livonia are conducting an "all-out" search to find a 100-acre site in their community. But average prices per acre in Livonia range from $4,000 to $5,000. The only site in Livonia now being considered, for example, is 65 acres (at Farmington and Six Mile roads) which the school district owns and would reportedly sell for $100,000.

Joining 20 acres needed to its original purchase price of $3,500 per acre. But the ad complete the parcel would cost $55,000 per acre.

The other site under consideration is in Canton township at Lilley and Warren roads. It has a price tag of $175,000, but the architect (Eberly Smith Associates) has indicated that the site would require fill costing upwards of $65,000. And it is not as desirable from a standpoint of central location as the other two sites.

In Northville the proposal to build a facility as large as the community college aggravates a sensitive problem already plaguing the area — sewer capacity.

It would appear that the township board has taken the position that it cannot relinquish any of its capacity in the interceptor sewer — which now stands at 1.6 cubic feet per second. (The college would eventually require 1.2 to 1.5 CFS, it has been estimated.)

Additional capacity in the interceptor line from Northville to Plymouth (which passes right by the proposed college site) was available until three weeks ago — when 4 CFS was sold by Wayne county to Oakland county (Novi).

The city of Northville is still opposing the sale and has hired a consultant to check the capacity of the line to see if there is 4 CFS to spare.

Northville township engineers determined that the line could handle Novi flowage and the township board therefore did not oppose the sale.

But Wayne county now states that there is no excess capacity in the line beyond the city's 3.6 CFS, the township's 1.6 CFS, capacity allotted to township institutions, and the Novi allotment.

This, then, poses a problem for township officials. They have suggested that the college construct a line from the site to the new interceptor in Plymouth at Wilcox road. Cost of this project is estimated at $70,000. Then the college would have to buy capacity in the interceptor system — estimated at $110,000.

Township residents bitterly opposed any additional purchase of sewer capacity in the new interceptor when it was proposed last year. In the face of the opposition the board decided not to access for the capacity, but instead purchased a minimum allotment that general funds would allow.

Actually, the township has capacity to serve a population of 4,000 — and only nine residents are now tapped to the line. But the board fears that if capacity were sold to the college, the township would then be unable to provide for its residents when the demand arises.

One other possible solution was raised by a township official.

Would the city sell some of its capacity?

The Northville city council last year voted to purchase capacity for a population of 9,000 — more than considered necessary for residential use, but a safety valve for possible industrial demand.

It Didn't Hurt

Six-year-old Richard McCarthy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence McCarthy of Clement road, was just one of 546 persons who received a shot at the Wayne county polo immunization clinic at the First Presbyterian church Monday. The clinic was the first of 22 to be conducted in out-county areas during the next month. County officials were pleased at the big turnout. Richard seems pleased, too, that he can't feel the "needleless" hypodermic gun.

'Northville Night' On Tap at Downs

It will be "Northville Night" at the Downs Monday as the harness racing oval starts its final week of the 42-night season.

Track officials announced this week that local businessmen, service clubs and officials will be invited to be guests of the Downs and Driving Club for Monday night's races.

A special race will be designated to mark the event and a "Northville Trophy" awarded to the winner.

The community guests will be seated together in special boxes and will be given an opportunity to see the new office and grandstand facilities prior to the races.

With just nine nights of racing remaining (August 4 is the last night) betting stands about even with last year's total. Through last Saturday the average nightly handle was $224,529. Total betting through Saturday was $6,735,861, compared to $6,751,576 for the same period last year.

Based on the betting standards to date, the city of Northville stands to gain in tax rebates from the state. The four extra nights of racing (last year's meet was 38-nights) should boost the city's revenue.

Pacers will head Friday's meet with the $2,000 handicap matching top performers, including Royal Worthy, Hodge Podge, Cliff Abbe, Ronny C. Gattan, Carolyn Gattan, Butch Harmon and Sunny Byrd.

Elect Smith to Head Development Group

The Northville Area Development Corporation named C. A. Smith, an industrialist from Novi, as president of its newly organized corporation last week.

Elected with Smith were Donald Lawrence, vice president; Fred Kester, treasurer; and Bruce Potthoff, secretary.

Smith is the former owner of Smith Products company, an aluminum fabricating firm in Novi. He remains as an advisor with the company and is active in community affairs, presently serving as president of the Northville Rotary club.

Incorporation of the development group was finalized last week. Previously, it had functioned as a committee appointed by the city council, township board and school board. Other members of the development corporation are H. B. Putnam,

Charles A. Smith

Power-Howell Rites Spoken in Southfield

European Audiences Like Michigan Chorale Group

Michigan Chorale filled Duffin Hall on two nights in Bangor, North Ireland as capacity audiences hailed concerts given by the 70 member Youth Chorale, now in its fifth week of their European concert tour.

The Chorale's concerts are divided into two sections — the first section comprised of classical music with folk songs and Negro spirituals making up the second section. A new departure for the Chorale is the use of a brass ensemble in the songs "Absalom Fili Mi" and "Now Thank We All Our God." (Ensemble members are: James Woodland, Roger Dixon, Christine McDonald, Garth Taylor, Janice Williams, Rufus Rhea, and Norman Arendell.)

Miss Williams, a 1962 graduate of Northville high school, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William G. Williams of 446 Eaton drive.

Chorale members also sing at Sunday church services during the tour which is designed to promote understanding between countries. Mr. Lester McCoy, conductor of the University Musical Society of Ann Arbor, Michigan, has been the conductor of the Michigan Chorale for the five years it has been in existence.

After the tour in North Ireland and England, the Chorale will sing in Amsterdam, Holland and Berlin and Oldenburg, Germany. Upon returning home a concert will be given at Hill Auditorium, Ann Arbor, on September 9.

NEWCOMER'S CORNER

"I look upon every day to be lost, in which I do not make a new acquaintance."

— Samuel Johnson

The trend these days among city-dwellers seems to be "Suburban Ho!" — and caught up in this surge were Novi dentist Arnold Konezal and his wife Betty and ten-week-old son, John, who moved from Detroit to their 23733 Heartwood home in Echo Valley late in June.

"It was such a long drive from the city," explains Mrs. Konezal. "And since my husband had to travel so far every day, moving seemed to be the best thing to do."

Dr. Konezal, who hails originally from Rochester, Michigan had been taking that "long drive" since April, when he established his Grand River practice. In 1958 he was graduated from the University of Detroit's dental school.

A native Detroit, Mrs. Konezal also graduated from college (Marygrove in Detroit) in 1958, and until last January taught the first grade in an East Detroit school.

Married a year ago in June, the couple met through Dr. Konezal's aunt — who at the time was Mrs. Konezal's next door neighbor.

"Right now my baby is my hobby," replies Mrs. Konezal when asked what she does in her spare moments. She also finds time to sew and makes many of her own clothes.

SUBURBAN LIVING suits Dr. and Mrs. Arnold Konezal and little bright-eyed John just fine. The new Echo valley residents moved into their 23733 Heartwood home late last month.

Roaring Good Time At Twenties' Party

The clock was turned back 40 years at the William C. Wiley residence, 41845 Eight Mile road, last Saturday evening and 15 Northville couples dressed to fit the era.

In true "Roaring Twenties" style heads, blazers, headbands, straw hats and plus fours were commonplace.

Popular music of the day added to the atmosphere and echoed throughout the Wileys' spacious lawn as guests tried their hands at darts, dancing (Charleston, of course), croquet and swimming.

And a few of the swimmers (the braver souls) even appeared in 'Twenties-style bathing suits.

And just like the Twenties, the accompanying pictures reveal that it was a fun affair.

John Begle may have dressed this way in the Twenties, but Mrs. Begle thinks it's all too funny.

The "flapper" with the ukulele is Mrs. Gordon Forrer on the arm of her husband, Dr. Forrer. They're talking to Mrs. William Sliger and "Mobster" Beerhower.

Local Artists In Ann Arbor Show

Five Northville artists will take part in the annual Ann Arbor Outdoor Street Fair July 26, 27 and 28 on South University between Forest and East University in the city of Ann Arbor.

The event is sponsored by the Ann Arbor Art association and features amateur and professional artists.

Northville artists who will display their work include Gloria Parres, William Mandt, Linda and Kate Edgerton and Catherine Hartley.

Hostess Mrs. William Wney (right) greets the William Secords, who came prepared to snap pictures.

Swimmers didn't have to fear for their safety with this husky trio around (l. to r.) Dr. O. J. Robinson, Host Bill Wiley and Al Wister.

DID YOU CRY

when someone pricked your balloon when you were a kid? Now it's time to laugh — the "high priced" balloon on Northville & South Lyon area property has just plain "BUSTED". Honestly — prices are DOWN. Can YOU afford NOT to be a home owner in these areas? ?? Better buy before that balloon starts to blow up again. A stop at my office can pay you huge dividends — and still leave a nice lump in your stocking or that back left pocket.

Registration for the Recreation Association of Michigan swimming meet at Rouge Park August 11 must be made by next Monday, says recreation Director Ken Conley.

He said the meet, open to both adults and youngsters, will be held in the Biennan pools in the park. Competition will be keen, he added, and he invited the area's strong swimmers to enter by calling the recreation office at FI 9-0713.

Events at the swim meet will include 200 meter free style, individual medley, medley relay and free style relay; and 100 and 50 meter free style, breast and butterfly strokes.

Small Turn-Out Hits Recreation Olympics

A small turn-out resulted in failure to fill all events with finalists in the recreation department's junior olympics preliminary try-outs, says olympics Coach Bob Prom.

He said that when Northville travels to Detroit for the metropolitan junior olympics program at Belle Isle this morning (Thursday), there will be no local competitors in several events.

Largest lack will be in girls' events, he said, because only a few girls came to last Saturday morning's try-outs. Northville will have entries in only three of the 18 girls' events.

There will be 13 local entries in the 24 boys' events.

Slate Canoe

Trip Meeting

Local canoeists who plan to participate in the recreation department's annual three-day canoe trip down the Au Sable river next week must attend a special meeting at 9 a.m. tomorrow in the recreation office at 157 East Cady street.

Recreation Director Ken Conley said only those who are at tomorrow's meeting may go on the annual trip next Monday through Wednesday.

Boys and girls aged 12 or over are eligible for the excursion. Total cost per person is $9.

Conley said that because of the canoe trip, the second nature hike in the lower Huron metropolitan park has been rescheduled from next Tuesday to August 8.

Goodwill Pickup

The next visit of Goodwill Industries pick-up trucks to Northville is scheduled for Monday. Goodwill trucks collect household discards of clothing, shoes, hats, toys, most types of furniture and other household discards.

To arrange for a Goodwill Industries truck pick-up ask the operator for toll-free Enterprise 7602.

Fireman's Son Struck by Car

The 10-year-old son of a Novi volunteer fireman received a broken leg last week when he was struck by a car while crossing 10 Mile road.

Alfred H. Harland, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Harland, of 41841 Quince drive, was treated at St. Mary hospital for a fractured left leg after he was struck by a car driven by Fred A. Muelled, 62, of Birmingham.

Novi police report witnesses said the boy, who was on the way to a market for his mother, walked into the path of the east-bound car.

The accident occurred at 9:30 Thursday morning, about 35 feet west of Meadowbrook.

In Uniform

Dennis J. Young, seaman, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Young of 8635 Chubb road departed the area around Corfu, Greece, and Taranto, Italy, on June 26, aboard the attack aircraft carrier USS Independence.

The Independence spent a week anchored in the area while crewmembers visited both ports. Taranto is the home of the Italian Navy and Corfu is one of Greece's main tourist attractions.

The Independence is operating in the Mediterranean as a unit of the Sixth Fleet, the Navy's major operational force in the Middle East.

The carrier is scheduled to return to Norfolk, Va., in the early fall.

Mediterranean — Thomas F. Dolan, seaman, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank T. Dolan of 9535 Chubb road was serving aboard the fleet oiler USS Neosho when it recently delivered 4,000 large tents, a gift of the American Red Cross, to the port of Bizerte, Tunisia.

Tunisian officials and Red Cross representatives greeted the ship and expressed their gratitude for the generous help of the American People.

After delivering the tents, the Neosho resumed her mission of supporting the combatant ships and aircraft of the Sixth Fleet.

Prom said, but pointed out that seven of the other events require teams of both boys and girls.

Winning in the 12-and 13-year-old chinning event was Leo Cherne, while Mike Sissom will represent Northville in the hop, skip and jump for 14 and 15 year olds.

Howie Jones (14-15), Bill Skelly (12-13) and Jim Peterson (10-11) will compete in the softball throw, and Bill Davis (14-15) and Gregg Reifers (12-13) are entered in the standing broad jump.

Jerry Imsland, Doug Drigwall and Craig Turnbull, 15-10 respectively, are local entries in the 50-yard dash, while Mike Turnbull, Charles Keegan and John Paul will compete in the running broad jump.

Representing Northville in the girls' events will be Pat Werdehoff, in the 14-15 softball throw, and Berwyn Brown and Jackie Shover in the 50-yard dash.

265 in Novi Swim Course

A total of 265 Novi youngsters signed up for the swimming classes being sponsored by the Novi youth protective committee, says citizen committee Secretary Miss Eugenie Choquet.

Registration for the classes, which began yesterday (Wednesday), was held last weekend. The classes are being held at the township park from 9 to 11:30 in the morning and 1 to 3:30 in the afternoon each week. Only registered youngsters may take part.

Miss Choquet also reported that the youth protective committee is attempting to raise funds for a class in either oil painting or ceramics.

She said if sufficient funds are raised, both classes may be offered.

LET'S TALK CARS

The High Cost of Poor Service

A good mechanic, like a good doctor, must primarily be an expert at diagnosis. Once he has pinpointed the exact cause of trouble, the remedy is usually routine.

Not only does trial and error guesswork delay the repair of a customer's car, causing him unnecessary inconvenience, but it is also hard on his pocketbook, since he is essentially paying for an incompetent mechanic's education.

How expensive this can be was realized recently by the owner of an expensive, luxury model car we came across. Only 18 months old, the car was burning oil after 38,000 miles, a quart every 150 to 200 miles.

The owner took his problems to two garages that told him his engine would require replacement of rings and valves. Fortunately, he decided to check with an ignition expert, who quickly put his finger on a faulty fuel pump vacuum that had been sucking oil into his carburetor. He thereby avoided a needless repair bill of two or three hundred dollars.

While most cases of inaccurate automobile failure diagnosis are not so obvious, examples of unnecessary work performed and wasted time and money are commonplace.

The best place to look for properly trained mechanics is in the service department of a franchised dealer. Our mechanics take periodic factory refresher courses with the most advanced equipment. Their experience is your assurance of quality service work.

Dodgers Lead Knothole League

The Northville Record Dodgers continue to lead the recreation department's knothole baseball league, with a 7-1 standing.

But still refusing to let up on the pressure are the John Mach Ford Yankees, who are in second spot with a 5-1 record.

Last Wednesday the Dodgers lost their first, going down 6-4 to the strong pitching of the Casterline Indians' Dave Wilder, who gave up only three hits.

On Monday the league leaders bounced back on the no-hit pitching of Bill Skelly to blank the Bloom Insurance Cardinals 17-0. The Indians continued on the war path Monday, winning 4-0 when Wilder refused to allow the V.F.W. Athletics a hit.

The Northville Electric Giants dropped the Cards 6-5 last Wednesday when they came up with four runs in the last inning. Friday they clubbed the Athletics 16-5 on the four hit pitching of Jerry Asher, who supplied five hits of his own.

In knothole softball, the E-Jay Lumber Mart Lions have a clear league lead, with a 6-0 showing for their efforts, while the Northville Optimist Cubs are in second with a 4-2 standing.

Last week the Lions whipped the Lapham's Mens' Store Colts as they lashed out to drive balls all over the park for a 4-5 win. Jeff Jones, Paul Goldsmith, Jim Hostetter and Richard Ording had three hits each.

On Thursday they out-hit the Northville Drug Tigers to score a 14-9 win. The Lions had 16 hits, with four by Bernie Bach and three each by Ording and Kerry Cushing.

They returned to the diamond this week to white-wash the Farm Crest Dairy Bears 16-7.

In other action last week, the Bears downed the Colts 11-9 when they scored three runs in the last inning, and the Cubs took the measure of the Rathburn Chevrolet Panthers 8-5 when they went out front with an early lead, dropped behind, and came back again for the win.

Monday the Tigers nosed out the Colts 13-8 as many walks provided the Tigers' fine defensive players with scoring opportunities.

Northville's 15- and under, Plumbers lost out 6-2 to the Redford D.A.V. Monday, taking second place to the Redford rivals for the second time.

The loss, the Plumbers' second, matches Redford's two losses, but the local squad has won eight while their opponents have taken 10 and the Livonia "D" league lead. The Plumbers have two rain-outs to make up.

Last Wednesday Northville waxed the Livonia Saints 7-2 on a four-run fifth inning. They had taken a two-run lead, but Livonia tied the game in the second. A fourth-inning run put Northville ahead again, and they sewed up the game in the fifth.

In the Western Wayne county class "E" league, the Northville Plumbers edged out the Finlan Insurance 13-11 and bombed Bill's Market 15-0 to hold on to their league lead.

Against Finlan, the Plumbers racked up a 10-run second inning. Don Wayne provided a one-hitter against Bill's Market, allowing no walks. The Plumbers scored in all but the seventh inning.

It was a losing season for the Northville Orioles, local entry in the Livonia "F" American league. They ended up on the bottom of the league and joined the Cardinals as the only two teams not in the post-season play-offs. All other league members stood at least at the .500 mark.

Northville's Braves, however, ended up third in the National league, and opened their play-off competition with a 15-0 win.

The Wayne County Training School's National league entry ended up next to the bottom of the league, but had inspired moments. They won their two games on the no-hit pitching of Michael Scott.

Rev. French Dies at 85

Services were held Sunday in the First Presbyterian church, Ann Arbor, for the Reverend J. Leslie French, a retired minister who died at his Ann Arbor home at the age of 85.

Dr. French is known to area residents for his two year (1944-46) interim pastorate at the First Presbyterian church, Northville while the Reverend Harold S. Fredsell was on a leave of absence.

A pioneer in the ministry to University of Michigan students, Dr. French created the Presbyterian Student Center at the university in 1905 under the sponsorship of the Tappan Presbyterian Association. At the Ann Arbor university he became the first full-time pastor at any state supported university.

His pastorates included the First Presbyterian church in Caro, Michigan; the University of Michigan Student center; Collingwood Avenue Presbyterian church and the Northminster Presbyterian church, both in Toledo, Ohio.

In addition to the Northville church Dr. French served as interim pastor for churches in Ann Arbor and Allen Park.

Born January 3, 1877 in Grand Rapids, Dr. French was the son of James S. and Emma A. French. His wife, Edna F. Cumming French, whom he married in 1902, survives him.

Other survivors are two daughters, Mrs. Elizabeth Young of Ann Arbor and Mrs. Margaret Clink of Muskegon; two sons, Professor David G. French of Waltham, Massachusetts and James C. French of Ann Arbor; 13 grandchildren; a sister, Mrs. Emma Quigley of Grand Rapids; and several nieces and nephews.

Northville residents attending the funeral services at which the Reverend William S. Baker officiated were Mr. and Mrs. Louis Nagy, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Couse, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Bryan and Clarence Davis. Interment was at the Forest Hill cemetery in Ann Arbor.

"Grave" Matters

Two Novi police officers spent a good portion of Monday afternoon digging into "grave" matters with a citizen who had been hunting in the woods northeast of the Oakland Hills Memorial Gardens.

Police Chief Lee BeGole tells it this way:

"A Walled Lake area resident reported that while hunting near the cemetery, he had spotted a mound of earth which looked like a fresh grave.

"So Officer Richard Faulkner and I donned some old clothes and went with him to the site. We drove as far into the woods as we could and then walked the last half mile or so, carrying shovels.

"The shovel I had was too small, so the other two did the digging, while I stood by and swatted flies and mosquitoes with my smaller shovel — those insects were sure 'bugging' us.

"After we (that's just a figure of speech) had dug about two feet, we came across a good-sized bundle wrapped in what looked like a bedspread.

"We eased it out of the grave and started removing the fabric, when suddenly we spotted some grey hair sticking out. We were all quite shocked for a minute.

"But when we had recovered, we continued unwrapping the body, only to discover that it was a very large dog."

Back in the police station, BeGole described the animal as "large, very large," and guessed that it was a cross between a German Shepherd and a Collie.

"It was probably someone's well-loved pet that had died of old age," he said, "so we just buried it again."

Service Clubs To Hear Hayes

Michigan's Racing Commissioner Edgar Hayes will be the principal speaker at the meeting of the Northville Exchange Club to be held at the First Methodist church Wednesday.

Commissioner Hayes will outline his future plans for racing in the state, having chosen for his topic "Racing as an Asset to Michigan".

Members of the Northville Rotary Club have been invited to attend as guests of the Exchange club. Officials of the various racing organizations are also planning to attend the luncheon.

Because of its joint meeting with Exchange, Rotary will not meet Tuesday.

Northville auxiliary policeman John Chedrick made the arrest after the incident was brought to his attention by a Farmington couple attending the races, Mr. and Mrs. William Swan.

In justice court action Monday William B. Wiley of 529 Horton street was found guilty and fined $35 and $15 costs or 10 days for leaving the scene of a property damage accident.

In his arraignment Monday, July 16 Wiley had entered a plea of not guilty to charges brought against him for hitting a car parked on Cady and Center streets early Saturday morning, July 14, and then swerving to hit two nearby vehicles belonging to Kenneth Byer of Clement road, and William Pratt, 443 Grace street.

For driving his car with improper license plates, Kenneth Shaffer of Melvindale had to pay fines and costs totalling $30 or 10 days.

A resident of Walled Lake, John C. Greenhow received fines and costs of $15 for failing to use due care and caution which had caused his car to strike the automobile driven by Mrs. Robert Shafer, 18101 Sheldon road.

Addition Underway At Handling Company

Construction is about half completed on Handling Equipment company's new $30,000 addition, says Ted Carlson, secretary-treasurer of the Wixom corporation.

The firm's expansion will provide an additional 6,300 square feet of building — about a 25 per cent increase of the present floor space, Carlson said.

Wolverine construction company of South Lyon has been working on the concrete and steel addition for about a month, and expects to complete the job within another month.

The added space will be used to expand the press room and provide for new shipping, receiving and warehousing facilities, Carlson said.

The L-shaped addition is being built on the west side of Handling's plant, next to and in front of the press room which was built just a year ago.

Some new machinery for use in stamping out parts for the small Bowen water heaters Handling Equipment makes will be located in the new addition, Carlson said.

Except for a small receiving office, the rest of the new floor space will be used mainly for house warehousing equipment and supplies.

Carlson said increased demand for the small gallonage gas and electric water heaters the firm produces has made the expansion necessary. He estimated that production has increased by more than 25 per cent.

During the past year the firm made about 70,000 of the water heaters, which are used mainly in mobile homes, cottages, offices and other businesses which have small hot water demands.

Carlson said that when the addition is completed, it will have a covered loading dock and will be finished with a brick facing.

It's Family Day at Ford Valve Plant

The family learned first hand "what Dad does all day" at Northville's Ford Valve plant Sunday.

More than 2,800 guests—mostly employees and their families—toured the plant in open house ceremonies held from 11 a.m. until 3 p.m.

City and township officials were also invited guests.

The plant, last of Ford's "village industries" (see story, page one), has approximately 300 employees and produces some 18,000,000 valves annually for Ford's automobiles and trucks. It has an average annual payroll of $2,000,000.

Visitors were permitted to "browse around" and inspect all areas of Northville's largest industrial plant.

Ford cars and tractors produced elsewhere were on display on the plant grounds.

The open house, first ever conducted at the 42-year-old plant was termed a "success" by all.

Members of the open house committee were Kenneth W. Dyringer, Joseph A. Bujak, Gerald J. Fleming, Harry J. Nark, Floyd G. Lawrence, Lillian M. Kerner, Arthur C. Goodger, Gordon A. Jones and Joseph J. Caruso.

Class of '57 Meet Sunday

Northville high school's Class of '57 has planned an all-day picnic reunion to be held Sunday at 10 a.m. in Cass Berton park (near the toboggan slides). Members of the class, Lois (Rhody) Early, Janice (Kimbell) Sauber and Victor Miller, sent invitations to their 110 classmates and class sponsors Mrs. Leslie Lee and Edward Mollema.

The class' senior officers were Harry Watson, president, Betty Wilson, vice president, Wanda White, secretary, and Gary Holman, treasurer.

IT'S A FORD — This tractor from Ford's Birmingham Tractor and Implement division caught the eye of John Britt and Tommy and Billy Watson. Their Dads work in the Northville plant.

ON THE JOB — Two days before the open house this picture of Press Operator Walter Wellard was taken "on the job". He's beginning the valve-making process by cutting 12-foot lengths of steel rod stock into just the right size.

Scriptural passages will include these verses from Proverbs (4): "Let thine eyes look straight before thee. Ponder the path of thy feet, and let all thy ways be established."

A citation to be read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy states (p. 323): "In order to apprehend more, we must put into practice what we already know. We must recollect that Truth is demonstrable when understood, and that good is not understood until demonstrated."

The Golden Text is from 1 Timothy (2): "Study to shew thyself approved unto God, a workman that needeth not to be ashamed, rightly dividing the word of truth."

Rev. Pankow To Teach Migrants

At the request of the District Board of Evangelism of the Lutheran Church-Missouri Synod, the Rev. B. J. Pankow, pastor of St. Paul's Evangelical Lutheran Church of Northville, will spend three weeks among the Spanish-speaking migrants in the Thumb area of Michigan.

These migrants are a part of the biggest harvest force in the history of the state. According to the Michigan Employment Security Commission about 100,000 persons are presently working in the fields and orchards.

Before coming to Northville in 1954 Rev. Pankow had been a pastor and missionary for ten years in Mexico City. Prior to that he had served the Spanish-speaking people in Corpus Christi, Houston, and Three Rivers, Texas, for several years.

During the next three weeks Pastor Pankow will be replaced by Mr. William Yunk, student of theology, of Concordia Seminary, Springfield, Illinois.

Mr. Yunk will conduct the Sunday morning services at 8:00 and 10:30 a.m., as well as the adult Bible class at 9:15 a.m. He will also make pastoral and evangelism calls. He may be contacted by telephoning the parsonage, FI 9-3140.

Church Sets Buffet Dinner

Tired of slaving over a hot stove on these hot summer evenings? asks Reverend Marvin Rickert of the Willowbrook Community church.

Then you can find relief in a buffet supper the officers and teachers of Sunday church school will hold from 5 to 7 p.m. next Wednesday, he said.

The supper menu features hot roast beef, choice from seven salads and bread, relish and dessert trays, everend Rickert said. The dinner will be held in the church, located on 10 Mile road between Novi and Meadowbrook roads.

Donations of $1.25 for adults and 50 cents for children under 12 will reserve a ticket. Diners will be served only to those who have reserved tickets, Reverend Rickert said. Tickets may be secured by phoning GR 4-8111 by this Saturday.

Proceeds from the event will be used for the church's Christian education program

from the PASTOR'S STUDY

By The Reverend Paul M. Cargo,
First Methodist Church of Northville

Come By Here

Among the few groups in American culture learning folk songs and passing them on are campers, Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, boys and girls in Church camps. The folk song might be a Dutch spinning song like "Sarasponda", a French round like "Frere Jacques," or a song from it Appalachian Mountains. A folk song from Africa is "Kum by ya," "Come by here."

Its quiet, prayerful appeal to the Lord ought to haunt us and set thoughts stirring within.

The Lord has come by here. This is the Visited Planet. God has given of himself in an unforgettable way and this he has done in the gift of his Son. Son of Man and Son of God, his visit to this Earth turned out to be of lasting significance, just as God had thought it would be. He told us how to live. He is called the Light of the World. The natural light is the light of the sun. The spiritual light is the light of Christ Jesus came by here. He brought a revelation of God and a revelation of man that is potentially a revolution in our world.

If only people could realize that Christ is the one who can bring health of mind and health of soul. Christ can lift the fallen. He is the forger of sins. He opens out a new path to be walked in His spirit, with the old left behind and the new before. Earth-people need to be saved from their sins.

There are three factors which make the plea of the African folk song, "Come By Here", true to the character of Jesus.

(1) Jesus has a positive outreaching Saviorhood. The lost sheep is not to be left on the moors to find the shepherd if he can. The shepherd searches for the sheep.

"The Son of man came to seek and to save that which was lost."

(2) What Jesus showed forth in his Saviorhood was a revelation of the character of the Father. God cares for people. We need to know that God cares about the 20th century and about the people who live in the 20th century. We need to know that God cares about the world and the decisions, large and small, that people make. Narrow prejudice and national hatreds are enemies of God's way.

(3) Jesus believes in the savableness of sinners. Jesus was not blind. Many, he said, take the broad road leading to destruction, and few the narrow road leading unto life. But he came at persons as individuals, not as numbers, in a mass, and he came with such candor and hope, such extraordinary warmth and appeal, and with such confident faith that he became a new sun in the heavens for some of them. Seven devils had to be cast out of Mary Magdalene. Zacchaeus could become a true son of Abraham. Saul of Tarsus could be turned from an informer on the Christian faith to an exhorter for the Christian faith. The world is desperately in need of the Christ who can lead from Not the Way to the Way.

Our prayerful to the Lord is, "Come By Here."

SPEAKING for The Record

by Bill Silger

On page one this week there's a story concerning consideration of a Northville township site for a $4,000,000 community college.

Chances are slim that the site will be chosen — but there's a chance. Actually, it's the most desirable of three sites now being studied, both from a standpoint of cost and central location.

Sewer availability is one of the problems, but there is more than one way to solve this.

The biggest objection is the fact that Northville is not in the community college district. It's composed of the combined school districts of Plymouth, Livonia, Grosse Pointe and Clawsonville.

Northville's school board declined to join a study of the proposal some two years ago because it did not feel that sufficient funds were available.

It has always been the opinion of this writer that the community college plan is extremely important to the assurance of an opportunity for education for present and future generations.

And I cannot agree that it is not our obligation to help provide this opportunity.

The hour may be late, but Northville can still vote itself into the community college district.

This might not win the Northville township site for the community college, but it would indicate that the people of Northville are interested enough to pledge one mill annually to the project.

To set such machinery in motion a petition bearing 50 signatures of registered school district voters must be presented to the community college board of trustees.

If this initial request is approved, the local school board is then requested to issue petitions for an election. These petitions require signatures of two per cent of the total registration to bring about an election.

I believe as Eric Bradner, president of the proposed community college: "the community college would be a boon to Northville".

But even if it is not within our boundaries, it would be money well invested in the future to become affiliated with the project.

What's happened to Northville's city hall plans?

Shortly after voters in June, 1960 approved sale of the community building to the school district for $145,000 the city council plunged into a project to erect a new city hall with the sale funds.

A citizens' advisory committee suggested building a new factory on the present site. Subsequent council study sessions narrowed a field of prospective architects down to three or four.

Then everything stopped. Presumably temporarily to investigate the prospects of a complete urban renewal program with federal assistance.

But recently City Manager Bruce Potthoff reminded the council that the old city hall could use some repairs, and that conditions are a little crowded. (During justice court sessions, for example, it isn't unusual for the manager to relinquish his office to attorney and client).

Even though the 145 grand is growing with interest, it's hardly economical to spend money on city hall improvements and then tear the building down

Growth Stocks

Babson Park, Mass., "This is along these lines, using part of the huge profits made from their razor business. All three of the above should profit from the constantly growing population of the U.S., which should reach 230 million in 1975.

New Building Companies
Although Corning Glass Works is best known for its "Pyrex" glassware, its great growth should come from new modern buildings. More glass is continually being used in new office buildings; while factories will appear as being built of all glass.

As new buildings of all kinds will need automatic heating, cooling, and ventilation systems, the products of Minneapolis-Honeywell Regulator may be in great demand. I could also include Minnesota Mining and Manufacturing in this general group due to their ingenuity and new products. This company is known as the "Three M's".

Drug Companies
These companies probably spend more money on research than any other group. Furthermore, they are on the verge of making some very wonderful discoveries in connection with DNA and RNA; two chemicals which may provide living cells.

My first choice is American Cyanamid Company (which owns Lederle Laboratories). I also think that Bristol-Myers Company has good growth possibilities; and also Plough, Inc. of Memphis. However, perhaps the best of all is the great duPont Company of Wilmington.

American Home Products Co. has a very large sales force handling some products ordinarily sold by Procter & Gamble which could also be listed here. These are two companies that should profit by inflation — toward which we are surely headed. Let me add the steels, coppers, oils and natural gas companies; yes, most companies with great natural resources.

It is rumored that the Gil-

Michigan Mirror

It Costs $1000 Daily to Keep State Beautiful

Litterbugs are a costly segment of Michigan's society, according to State Highway Department maintenance officials. Department records showed it cost nearly $1,000 a day to keep state highways relatively litter-free last year.

The litter problem and a proposal to ban throwaway beer bottles prompted the Governor's appointment earlier this year of a committee to study the problems and recommend ways to keep Michigan beautiful.

A "public persuasion campaign" is now being waged by the committee, which named itself the Keep Michigan Beautiful Committee, in an attempt to arouse an awareness of the effects of litter-strewn highways, beaches and parks.

John Murray, Highway Department information officer, was named head of the public relations subcommittee of the group.

"The various subcommittees are working with their respective 'audiences' throughout the state," Murray said. Committee chairman Joseph A. Childs, State Police Commissioner, has set a meeting this fall to make recommendations to the Governor.

"We have no spectacular plans," Murray said. "We are just doing what we can with limited and willing hands to make known the value of keeping parks, roads and lakes as clean as possible."

One likely recommendation to be made is that some form of year-round financing, either governmental or private, be sought to keep one person, to communities to keep an anti-litter program going," Murray predicts.

"Unless somebody pays constant attention to this problem, things get away from us all except when a major spurt occurs," he said.

The "audiences" being approached by subcommittees include industry, chambers of commerce, radio and television and newspapers.

A major portion of the campaign, for example, is aimed at Michigan motorists. Attempts are being made to have gas filling stations distribute litter bags and keep receptacles handy for motorists.

"The filling station is the one place every motorist has to stop no matter where or how he drives," Murray said.

"A major solution would be accomplished if the motorist had some place to get rid of accumulating litter when he drives, and the gas station now appears to be the logical place."

For the first time in 50 years Michigan will elect a Congressman-at-Large whose constituency will be the entire state.

Few people of voting age today voted for the last Congressman-at-Large elected in 1912.

There might be some confusion among the voters in thinking that their present Congressman has position. But efforts are being made in the campaign to be sure that the public will be aware of the situation.

It is expected that the newspapers will take a major role, as they have in previous elections, in bringing this new office to full public attention.

There was an attempt in Federal court by two Henry Ford Community college professors to make all Congressmen run at large.

At Bentley, Owosso, one of the Congressmen-at-Large candidates, was put in a paradoxical position of opposing the court maneuver, saying that it would put asunder an orderly procedure to redistrict the state

Bentley, a Republican, was, in effect, opposing Congressmen-at-large because, as he said, "it would deprive the people of representation by district as provided in the Constitution of the United States."

This is his second campaign, for Bentley on a statewide basis. He lost his first try in 1960 by less than a two per cent margin against Senator McNamara.

Dr. Mudd Replies

Your Fears Stem From Childhood

Dear Dr. Mudd:

I have been married for 18 months and have a beautiful baby boy five months old. My husband and I agree on just about everything and we are very much in love. I work part time to help get money so that we can buy our own home. He is a junior engineer and is going to night classes to get his diploma. I think we have a very good relationship and I love my baby, so it can't be that that's troubling me.

I keep having such terrible thoughts. I actually think about committing suicide, somehow or other, but mostly by jumping out of the second story window. I keep it locked all the time just so I won't. When my husband asked me why I didn't open it when the weather got hot, I told him all about my fears. He was very sympathetic and comforting and for a few days after that I thought I was over it, but now it has all come back again.

I am really getting scared. I really don't want to die, but I keep getting that thought over and over again. It seems to always come between 11 in the morning and 3 in the afternoon and then for the rest of the day it doesn't bother me. They say these worries begin in childhood, but I don't see how it could have in my case. I was an only child and I never liked that fact, but then, that I would be natural wouldn't it? I used to wish I had some brothers and sisters like my friends did. There was a brother older than I, but he died when he was about a year old and this was three months before I was born!

I can remember my mother always telling me about him and how she wished he would have lived, and how much she had wanted a boy. My mother runs things at home. My father turns over his check to her and she takes care of all the bills. Myself, I think a man should do that and I'm glad my husband agrees with me. Do you think this nervousness could have started earlier?

I remember when I was going with my husband, there were two periods when some real dirty word would just come into my mind and make me feel terrible and nasty. But I haven't had that since I've been married. I'm really afraid I'm going to go crazy. I've talked to my priest but that doesn't help. He says I should see a doctor, but I keep thinking that maybe he'd find out I'm really crazy and have me put away.

It's running away I know to write to you, but I thought maybe you can offer some help.

less readily identifiable feelings to be found. The latter, whatever it may prove to be on analysis, is rejected as being a thought or feeling unworthy of you. And because of the guilt feeling associated with harboring an unworthy (even if an unperceived) temptation, the idea is distorted beyond recognition and then presented to consciousness as a "fear" of committing suicide.

Now I know that what I have written can be of no definitive help, but perhaps when you realize that your illness is subject to successful therapy and is not a mystery to a medical psychotherapist, it will be encouragement for you to seek professional help.

The fact that you feel yourself happily married is a great advantage. All too frequently, people who present themselves to a psychiatrist for help are hopelessly immersed in marital thoughts and temptations you have, or have had, are to be found in your early reactions to the world as you find it. Not those life experiences you recall, necessarily, but those for which you presently have no memory.

These early situations can, with skillful psychotherapy, be recalled and in remembering them, the associated anxiety can be dispelled from your life. I cannot give you the precise reasons for the particular details of your symptoms. I do not feel that suicide is really your intent. It may appear to be the central theme of your preoccupation, while in actuality, some other more subtle and riages which, under the most favorable conditions, could never succeed. And all too often such people come not in the enthusiastic flower of youth, but when life flows, and frequently has become for them, a hopeless, miserable, endurance contest.

I trust you won't wait that long for with the passage of time, the possibility of a successful therapeutic outcome with analytic treatment becomes more and more remote.

Sincerely,
Sandor Mudd, M.D.

Rely on Averages

This makes fifteen corporations in all which I believe have distinct growth possibilities. I suppose my readers would like me to boil the list down to ten companies. I will not do this as so much depends upon the human factor of management which cannot be forecast. I feel, however, that some of the fifteen will turn out to be great disappointments, but no living soul can now tell which are the five that should be avoided.

This leads me to emphasize once more the great importance of diversification. Those who had their money distributed over a large number of established companies during the recent great stock market decline have nothing to fear. The dividends need not be cut and prices should hop back.
