State Puts Final 'No' On Echo Valley Bid

The state board of education this week ruled against the request of the Echo Valley subdivision area to transfer from the Novi to the Northville school district.

In a letter sent to representatives of the subdivision area and the Northville and Novi school boards, the state board announced its decision to uphold the denial of the transfer request made by a joint meeting of the Oakland, Wayne and Washtenaw county school boards July 12.

At a hearing held in Lansing last Friday morning, the state board listened to arguments of the Echo Valley area residents, and received notifications of the positions of the Novi and Northville school boards on the transfer request.

When the hour-long session had ended, the four-man board said it would consider the matter at a subsequent meeting and announce its decision later.

"We've simply been beaten, and that's all," was the comment of Evan D. Henschell, chairman of the committee which has carried on the subdivision area's campaign to join Northville school district.

He pointed out that the group could take its petition to the state supreme court as a last resort, but said they had decided not to do so.

Before learning of the state board's decision, Henschell had termed the state hearing "more satisfying" than the July meeting of the county boards.

"The state board seemed more receptive to our statements and more interested in the situation than did the county boards," he explained.

Bradley J. MacKimm, of 48107 Cedarwood, served as spokesman for the five-man group of "Echo Valley" area residents who attended the state hearing.

"He made our oral presentation, which centered around the effect approval or denial of the transfer request would have upon our children," Henschell said.

He pointed out that at the county level meeting, most of the discussion had dealt with the effect the transfer would have upon school finances, building plans and bus schedules.

The state board also received a copy of the Northville school board's statement to the county boards outlining Northville's reasons for opposing the transfer.

The Northville board had expressed concern that approval of the transfer would weaken Novi school district's financial structure, could encourage a series of annexation moves to the Northville district, would overload already crowded transportation facilities and might lead to eventual dissolution of the Novi district.

Also received at the state hearing was a letter pointing out that the Novi school board had not taken a position on the transfer because two of its members had approved, two had disapproved and one could not take either stand.

Liquor by Glass Proposal Goes on Township Ballot

An additional proposal will appear on the November 6 ballot in Northville township. It will read:

"Shall the sale of spirits in addition to beer and wine be permitted for consumption on the premises within the Township of Northville under the provisions of the law governing same?"

Petitions bearing signatures of 503 qualified electors of Northville township were presented to Clerk Marguerite Northup Thursday, September 6, deadline for filing the request. Clerk Northup is required by law to submit the request to the county for inclusion on the November general election ballot.

A door-to-door solicitation for signatures was conducted during the past two weeks. Circulators said that they found little opposition to the request, although some persons refused to sign.

The action came about as a result of plans by owners of Dun Rovin Country Club to build a new $300,000 clubhouse on their public golf course.

It is their contention that the project would not be financially possible unless a license could be obtained to serve liquor by the glass.

Major owners of the Haggerty at Six Mile road golf course are Richard Kenzie, Harold Edwards and William Buber.

The banquet, a tribute to new voting citizens, will be held at St. Paul's Lutheran church at 6:30 p.m.

The event is sponsored by the Northville Coordinating Council and the Optimist club. Tickets are now available from members of the Optimist club and at The Northville Record office.

Chairman of the program is Herman Moehlman, president of the Coordinating Council.

Haller Plans New Addition

Haller, Incorporated, revealed plans this week for its third expansion within two years — by far its largest.

Owner John Haller and General Manager M. C. Sarnes announced that work would begin immediately on a 21,000 square foot addition that will both expand and modernize the operations of the Northville township plant located at 16580 Northville road.

Contract for the $100,000 addition has been awarded to the Walter Course company. Mr. Course is a resident of Northville. His Detroit firm constructed the $2 million Northville high school.

The Haller company is a leader in the production of powdered metal parts. General Manager Sarnes stated that the addition was but a single phase of the new expansion.

"We have purchased several new presses in the 1,000-ton category capable of producing larger parts from powdered metal," Sarnes pointed out.

He said that the new addition and equipment would modernize and expand the entire handling and processing of powdered metal products at Haller.

Sarnes said it would also lead to a greater work force at the Haller plant.

The addition will be constructed on the south side of the plant and will be 120-feet wide and 180-feet long. A portion of the addition will have a mezzanine ceiling 34-feet high.

It is hoped that the new addition will be completed by December 15.

Haller, who lives at 18500 Sheldon road, purchased the former Ford Motor company plant in 1958 and moved his operations from Plymouth where he had been engaged in the design and building of powdered metal presses and laboratory equipment.

In 1960 Haller constructed a 12,500 square foot addition, nearly doubling the plant's working space.

Last November a new 48-feet by 66-feet area was added to provide executive offices, an engineering section and general offices.

The firm has become a pioneer and leader in the field of fabrication of gears and pumps from powdered metal. Uniquely, it has designed many of the presses it uses for compressing the powdered metal parts.

The process of producing gears and pumps from powdered metal is primarily one of pressing the powder into shape of the parts and heating it to fuse the particles of metal together.

With the new, larger press equipment, Sarnes said the company will be able to supply larger parts for the automotive and appliance industry.

Bonds for Grid Lighting Sell 'Like Hot Cakes'

"Sorry all sold out!"

That's the story of the $43,000 worth of revenue bonds the Northville school board offered for sale to finance new lights and seating at the high school athletic field.

"We could have sold more," E. V. Ellison, director of administrative services told the board Monday night.

N. C. Schrader and John Maeh handled the sale of the bonds for the school board.

As a result of the prompt sale, the board directed Ellison to proceed with purchase of 3,000 seats and the quartz-line lights. Installation was expected to start this week with the first game at the new field scheduled for October 19 against West Bloomfield.

In other board business Monday night:

—the board heard a report from Mrs. James Ross, who headed a survey conducted more than a year ago to determine community college interest and need; it revealed little interest among 11th and 12th graders, she said. Assistant Superintendent Kenneth MacLeod reported that he would conduct a similar survey this semester;

—received a letter from William Bingley, 101 East Base-line, seeking board help in opposition use of Center street by trucks; the letter was tabled for discussion at a joint meeting of the school board, city council and township board; —formed an athletic committee to review the school system's policy on athletics, revenue matters and functions of coaches and principals as related to the athletic program; members of the committee are Ellison, Athletic Director A. E. Jones, High School Principal Fred Stefanski, Dr. MacLeod, Board Member James Kipfer and Donald Van Ingen, junior high school principal.

Enderle - Kates Wedding Held in Pigeon Church

Before an altar decorated with gladioli and candles, Eleanor E. Enderle and Donald E. Kates, both of Flint, repeated their nuptial vows at an afternoon ceremony August 18 before Rev. F. H. O. Jungkuntz of Immanuel Evangelical Lutheran Church of South Lyon and Rev. Fred A. Schroeder of St. John's Evangelical Lutheran Church in Pigeon, Michigan. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Anton Enderle of Owendale. The groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Elmes E. Kates of South Lyon. Mrs. Fred A. Schroeder was soloist. The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a bouffant skirted gown with nylon organza inset. A wide band of scalloped imported Chantilly lace with a petite bow trimmed the center front. The short sleeves and sabbina neckline of matching lace was re-embroidered with dainty iridescent sequins. Her tiny pillbox of matching lace and sequins was bowed at the back, holding a double waist-length silk illusion veil. She carried a cascade bouquet of Fuji mums.

Mrs. Robert Grasel of Flint, a sister of the bride, was matron of honor while Mrs. Richard Demare of Flint, Mrs. Donald Streat of Ventura, California, and Miss Carol Biggam of Flint served as bridesmaids. They wore street-length dresses of silk organza over taffeta with matching crown headpieces, and carried bouquets of carnations in contrasting colors of yellow and lavender.

Donald Streat of Ventura, California, assisted his brother as best man. Owen Lee and Robert Grasel of Flint and Robert Reinhardt of Ann Arbor seated the guests.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Enderle chose a dress of ice blue eyelet with white accessories. Mrs. Kates, the groom's mother wore a champagne-beige brocade flock with terra cotta accessories.

A buffet supper and reception was held at the bride's parents following the ceremony. Among the 300 guests attending were those who came from California, Washington, Florida, Wisconsin, Ohio, Ann Arbor, Plymouth, Detroit, Royal Oak, Brighton, South Lyon, Bay City, Saginaw, Flint, Owosso and Northville.

Following their wedding trip through the Upper Peninsula and Canada the couple will make their home in Flint where the groom is associated as the director of W.J.R.-TV station there.

Dorothy Lee Hall Richard Buckley Wed in Detroit

Dorothy Lee Hall, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Emory T. Hall of Detroit, became the bride of Richard Allen Buckley in a Saturday, August 25 ceremony at the Nardin Park Reformed church. The Reverend Maurice Tysen officiated at the 7:30 p.m. candlelight service.

The groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Allen Buckley of 425 Yerkes avenue. White ribbon bows, candles and flowers adorned the church for the ceremony.

Traditional wedding music was played, including a violin solo.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor-length silk taffeta gown fashioned with a Chantilly lace bodice and long tapered sleeves. A back butterfly bow was fastened at the waist of her dress. The bridal bouquet was an arrangement of white roses centered with an orchid corsage.

Joy E. Smart was her sister's matron of honor and wore a pearlized green gown of peal de soie. A leaf-green cymbelbund held the bouffant skirt. She carried a bouquet of yellow buttercup mums. Dressed identically to the matron of honor were the bridesmaids, Barbara Brincefield, Mary Pross, an Arlene Billin. Jan Lynn Smart was the flower girl.

The bridegroom chose Steve Slagh for his best man. Dick Biery, Jerry Allison and Dave Hartner seated guests.

Mrs. Hall was attired in a tangerine and beige print chiffon sheath with gold and tangerine accessories. The groom's mother chose a beige sheath dress with beige, brown and gold accessories.

There were 250 guests fete at the after-ceremony reception in the Disabled American Veteran's hall. Guests attended from Pennsylvania, Illinois and Michigan.

For their wedding trip to Niagara Falls the new Mr. Buckley wore a powder blue suit with navy and white accessories.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Buckley are June graduates of Hope college. The bride is a member of the Sigma Iota Beta sorority.

Local Family Sees A Dream Wedding

'A once in a life-time experience' was the way Mrs. James A. Sample described the fairy tale wedding of Judy Firestone to Dale Thiel in Ohio this past Saturday. The Sample's were accompanied by their son, Bob, and daughter, Sally.

The reception at Laura Farms in Bath, Ohio was held under satin tents where every imaginable sort of hors d'oeuvres, beverages, and food awaited the guests.

Because of their mutual interest in horse showing, the Firestone's and Samples became friends. Bob and Sally were among a small group of enthusiasts that enjoyed an early morning hunt preceding the nuptials.

The Sample's returned to their Chigwidden drive residence Sunday feeling sure they would never see a similar wedding again.

'Four Seasons' Coming

Garden Club Show Here Saturday

"Old Man Weather" will be in a muddle when the Northville Branch of the Women's National Farm and Garden Association hosts local flower exhibitors in its annual fall flower show Saturday in the community building. But Garden Club members will pay no heed to mixing up the weather — they're planning to make "The Four Seasons" flower show a huge success.

There are classifications galore — one for everyone who has ever had the green-thumb inclination. One grouping — "For Men Only — The Masculine View" — is just what the name implies. For the first year male gardeners have been invited to show their wares.

Public browsing will begin at 2:30 p.m. and continue until 8 in the evening, and tea will be served during the show from the flower-laden stage.

Head chairmen of the event are Mrs. C. E. Ratliff and Mrs. Wayne McBride.

Exhibits will be accepted at the rear entrance of the community building only from 8:30 a.m. until 11:30 a.m.

Proceeds from the 50 cent admission will go toward the scholarship fund.

O.E.S. Matrons Meet

The Past Matron's Club of Orient Chapter 77, O.E.S., will meet at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday, September 19 at the home of Mrs. N. K. Pattison on Valencia road. Mrs. J. L. McKinney and Miss Elsie Woodruff will act as assistant hostesses.

NEWCOMER'S CORNER

"I look upon every day to be lost, in which I do not make a new acquaintance."

— Samuel Johnson

NEW HAGGERTY COURT residents are Dr. and Mrs. Charles Fountain and their children (l-r) Esther Ann, Donald and Brian. The family moved from Canada last month.

The sport of curling — "throwing stones down the ice" — is what the Dr. Charles Fountains miss most about their Canadian home.

"No one around here plays it", exclaims Mrs. Fountain.

But the sports-minded family has heard about Northville's winter sports facilities and will be "rarin' to go" with skis and skates when freezing weather arrives.

The Fountains moved into their Haggerty court home from Quebec on July 9 when Dr. Fountain became a resident doctor at the Northville State hospital.

Dr. Fountain was graduated from two Canadian universities — Bishop's and McGill. Mrs. Fountain was a registered nurse until they were married twelve years ago.

There are three Fountain children — Brian, 8, who began third grade studies at American school today, Donald, a 4½-year-old kindergartener; & Esther Ann, a bright eyed two-year-old.

As Mustangs Meet Rocks Tomorrow

Grid Injuries Still Loom Large Locally

With Northville's varsity Mustangs playing their first football game of the season tomorrow (Friday) night at Plymouth, injuries loom as the team's biggest question.

Head Coach Ron Horwath has only a handful of returning veterans around which to construct his team, and several of those are suffering from questionable injuries.

Offensive experience is most seriously hit by the injury list, with fleet-footed Don Biery, slated to start as an end, limping from pulled ankle tendons and Jim Juday, who's been moved to the opposite end, still bothered by a healing shoulder separation.

Still weakened by a sprained ankle is place-kicker Joe Hay, who Horwath says will definitely play Friday, but may be unable to use his toe.

Fullback Ron Rice, who was also bothered by ankle problems earlier in the season, has apparently healed completely, the coaches report.

Problems of inexperience on the interior line are also heightened by injury, as left tackle Dave Cummings is still nursing a sore back. He's slated to start this week, but whether he'll be able to stay in is still another question to plague the coaching staff.

On the defensive squad, line-backer Ron Rebitzke is a questionable starter because of a slowly healing shoulder separation. The coaches say it may be two weeks before he can play.

Also causing nightmares for the Mustang mentors is the fact that with so many injuries, final selection of a starting line has remained impossible, so many of the bugs normally worked out by this time are still unsettled.

Horwath pointed out that as of Tuesday, the line and backfield had done little running of plays together on a regular basis, and still look quite ragged in scrimmage.

Meanwhile, Plymouth head Coach Mike Hoben has spent the past few weeks whipping into shape the team that's already been dubbed "the one to beat" in the Class A Suburban Six league.

The Rocks piled up a spottless record in league play last season, and one of their two losses for the year was blasted into the tally sheet by Northville.

So traditional rivalry between Plymouth and Northville should be considerably whetted as the Rocks seek to make up "and then some" for last season's embarrassment, and the Mustangs dig in to hold off the attack and attempt a moral-building repeat of last year.

Perhaps a bolstering agent for the local gridders is the powerful record they will be placing on the line Friday when they line up for the opening kick-off.

The Mustangs won the final four games of their 1960 campaign, and went undefeated last year, giving them a string of 13 straight victories.

On the other hand, Hoben's got some things working for him, too. First and foremost is the 190-pound average per man he'll have in his line.

Then there's returning quarterback Dick Schryer, who'll again be directing the Rock offense, which will include letter-winning halfbacks Jim Walasky, Harley Smith and Hugh Sarah, as well as ends Wayne Cummins and Mark Schultheiss.

Still, there's the chance that loss of all but two full-time starters will bother Plymouth as much as or more than Northville's similar losses.

Plymouth graduated several of its most valuable players, and over 400 pounds worth of Rick Sweet and Gary Whitlow moved out of the Rock line when their families moved away from Plymouth.

And on the other hand, etc., etc.

At any rate, Northville's coaches are not blindly optimistic about either the Plymouth game or the rest of the season which follows. And neither are they thoroughly pessimistic about what lies in the future.

"Let's just say we're still guessing," says Horwath.

Cross Country Club Works Toward Opener Next Week

With his first meet next Wednesday, cross country Coach Chuck Yahne is expecting Northville harrriers to begin a "better than ever" season.

The coach now has 10 runners practicing, almost double last year's undermanned team, with at least four of them showing what he termed this week as "real promise."

Bill Adams and Eric Peterson, a pair of cross country vets who provided a fair share of last year's team efforts, are Yahne's only two returning lettermen.

But swelling the ranks of the distancemen are thinned mile Russ Straith, who was a steady point winner for the Mustangs last spring, and Frank Steinberger, another experienced trackster.

Other members of the 10-man harrrier force include Chuck Annett, Gary Davis, and constitute your score for the meet," the coach said, "but, when you only have five runners, it's pretty difficult to have them all end up in good positions."

About half of Yahne's squad is now running four miles a day at practice sessions, while the rest are covering two and three miles daily.

He said that, as the season wears on, the entire team will be running four to five miles daily.

With his runners working into the type of long wind necessary to be successful in competition, Yahne says he's becoming more confident about the upcoming season.

Besides having a nucleus of experienced competitors around which to build the team, he explained, Northville has a practice advantage.

"We have about the toughest course in the area," he pointed out. This means that not only is the team familiar with the trail through Cass Benton park, but also that the runners are ready for the toughest terrain provided by other teams.

The coach said he is looking forward to a more successful season that last year's fifth place in the Wayne Oakland league.

"We'll undoubtedly end up with a better record than we had last year," he concluded. Here's now the cross country schedule is now shaping up:

SAFETY FIRST - Gum chewin' will be harder this year, but high school youths will be in less danger of losing all or part of their teeth during subsequent football seasons. For state law now requires that all players wear denture guards made of a stiff plastic form filled with a rubbery layer of material which is moulded to fit each youth's teeth. Above, Ron and Rick Rebitzke (we think that's Ron on the left, but can't be sure), Northville's twin defensive threats, demonstrate the new guards.

That's Too Fast

"He was going 50 miles an hour over the speed limit — almost twice the limit," said Novi Police Officer Allen Olsen this week.

The officer was talking about a South Lyon youth who raced through Novi and out Grand River avenue toward South Lyon at speeds of up to 105 miles an hour.

Olsen said he and Sergeant Vern Loeffler were parked along Grand River just east of Taft road at 11:30 last Friday night when William A. Smith, 17, of 5645 Locust road, passed another car on Grand River at a high speed and continued accelerating down the highway.

The officers gave chase and clocked Smith at up to 105 miles an hour until Napier road, where he slowed to make a turn. The youth pulled off the road when the police started the car's flasher.

Smith was ticketed for reckless driving.

"All he wanted to know when we stopped him was what we had under our hood," Olsen said.

NEW WOMEN'S EDITOR — Jean (Mrs. Calvin) Campau took over this week as women's editor for the Northville Record - Novi News. Mrs. Campau formerly worked for the Plymouth Mail and Redford Observer newspapers. She resides at 13100 Tecumseh in Redford township. Her husband is employed in the metallurgical research department of Wai-Met Alloys in Dearborn. The Campaus have two children, Nancy, 13, and John, nine.

City Water Takes Dip

Water pressure took a momentary dip in some parts of the city Monday night when the control system for pumping water from the reservoir to the tower burned-out.

City Manager Bruce Potthoff said that when the trouble was discovered the system was changed to manual operation to re-start the pumps.

"The water didn't get to the danger level, but we received complaints from Northville Heights' residents, where the drop in pressure would naturally be felt first," the manager explained.

The trouble occurred between 7 p.m. and 9 p.m.

SPEAKER — Northville Exchange club members will hear C. J. Cowles, manager of the Detroit Bowles of Parke, Davis and Company, speak at their regular noon luncheon meeting next Wednesday at the First Methodist church.

Gas Rebates In the Mail

Gas customers of Consumers Power Company Thursday began receiving their share of $4,000,000 in rate rebates, representing their part of money refunded to Consumers recently by its natural gas suppliers.

Bills mailed from the company offices Wednesday were the first to reflect a credit which will be paid to gas customers over a period extending into October.

The company estimates that about 150,000 bills sent to customers this week showed a credit varying from a few cents on up. The exact amount of the credit is noted on each bill. The average residential space heating customer will receive about $6 in credit.

The company, with approximately 528,000 residential and 40,000 industrial and commercial customers, says credits representing the rebate will show up on some bills as late as November 1, but that the majority of customers will receive the full credit on just one bill between now and then.

The refund period extends from May, 1961 to August, 1962. The refund was ordered by the Michigan Public Service Commission after two pipeline companies serving Consumers were ordered to reduce their rates to the company, and to return a portion of the higher rate they had been charging.

The amount of refund will depend on the volume of gas used since May, 1961, the company said today. A small percentage of customers, whose usage was so small that their bills did not exceed the minimum rate for service, will not get a refund.

Proclamation

WHEREAS, September 17, 1962 is notable as marking the one hundred seventy-fifth anniversary of the adoption of the Constitution of the United States of America by the Constitutional Convention; and

WHEREAS, To accord official recognition to this memorable anniversary, and to the patriotic exercise which will form a noteworthy feature of the occasion, seems fitting and proper; and

WHEREAS, In accordance with Public Law 915, the President of the United States has issued a Proclamation designating September 17 through 23 as CONSTITUTION WEEK; NOW, THEREFORE, I A. M. Allen by virtue of the authority vested in me as Mayor of the City of Northville, in the State of Michigan do hereby proclaim the week of September 17, 1962 as in the City of Northville, Michigan and urge all our citizens to pay special attention during that week to our Federal Constitution and the advantages of American Citizenship.

McCurry - Bills Vows Repeated

The wedding of Mrs. Mabel C. McCurry and Leonard L. Bills was performed Friday evening September 7 in the chapel of the Presbyterian church in Ferndale.

The new Mrs. Bills wore a dress of blue chiffon over tulle accented with beige accessories.

Mr. and Mrs. Bills are at home temporarily at 36615 Amherst road in Livonia. Mrs. Bills is a former Northville resident.

In Justice Court

A pair of Livonia youths paid a total of $30 in Northville Justice of the Peace court this week on drivers license charges.

Robert Karr, 18, and John W. Sting, 17, were both ticketed when Northville police officers approached Karr for backing from a gas station and interfering with traffic.

Karr handed the officers a license which did not fit his description, and later questioning brought confessions that Sting had loaned Karr his license. Karr pleaded guilty to driving without a license, and paid $10, while Sting pleaded guilty to allowing an unlicensed person to drive, and paid $20.

In other action, Justice Charles McDonald fined Nicholas Pfister, 46, of Berkley, $60 and ordered him to pay restitution of $87.03 to Lacy J. Walker, of Detroit, who complained that Pfister struck his automobile and drove off.

Adolph Lehr, 27, of 15101 Northville road, pleaded guilty to three separate violations and paid a total of $25. He was charged with speeding 15 miles over the limit and making an improper left turn on August 21, and with speeding five miles over the limit on September 5.

16 Kids Enter Wixom Contest

Wixom's contest to pick a city slogan only drew 16 entries, but many of them were very good, reports city Clerk Mrs. Pearl Willis.

"It'll be difficult for the judges to select final winners," she predicted, "even though there are only 16 to choose from."

Judging the slogans will be city attorney Gene Schnelz, Walled Lake schools Superintendent Clifford Smart and F. H. Schmale, controller for Ford Motor company's Wixom plant.

Mrs. Willis said the entries have been turned over to Schnelz, who will arrange a meeting with the other two judges soon. The winning motto, to be used in promoting the city, will be selected upon the basis of originality, aptness, thought content and neatness.

Prizes for the best entry in each of the high school, junior high school and grade school divisions will be $10. The final winner, to be chosen from among the three division winners, will receive a $25 savings bond as grand prize.

The slogan (or motto) finally selected as top winner will be used by the city's industrial development committee in its efforts to attract business and industry to Wixom, and will appear on all official documents of the city.

Lilacs Bloom Out of Season

What happened? was the first thing Mrs. Andrew Jamieson, of 5716 West Eight Mile road, asked Monday morning when she stepped outside her door and discovered a half dozen blossoms on one of her lilac bushes.

The bushes, which normally bloom in early spring, had produced blossoms about half the usual size. Mrs. Jamieson attributed the untimely, but pleasant, blooms to the almost spring-like cold snap which hit this area last week-end.

STATUS SYMBOL

There are two kinds of status symbols. One type has to do solely with financial status: certain makes of cars, mink coats, diamond tiaras and ocean-going yachts.

The other kind --- the kind we respect --- deals with achievement; things like a degree from a good school, the work of men like the Wright Brothers, Edison and Salk, the heroic acts of our men in uniform.

To become and to remain a member of the Order of the Golden Rule is a status symbol of the second kind. That's why we are truly and pardonably proud to announce that we remain the member of the Order in this community.

A Reminder For Drivers

Michigan motorists are again being reminded to watch for an army of 50,000 safety patrol boys who have begun manning their posts on street corners near schools all over Michigan to help protect tots and teenagers alike from back-to-school traffic hazards.

"School's Open — Drive Carefully!" is the battle cry as Automobile Club of Michigan, in cooperation with every school in the state, begins its 46th annual campaign to safeguard the lives of children, many of whom are making the journey from home to school for the first time.

To remind motorists to drive carefully, 30,000 bumper strips and posters have been distributed so schoolchildren are not bothered by school buses throughout Michigan, drawing attention to the fact that school is open and many children are crossing streets during the times that motorists are going to and from work.

Demos Plan Picnic In Park Sunday

The 17th District Democratic Party is holding its Annual Family Picnic and Corn Roast Sunday at the Springbrook Area of Middle Rouge Parkway on the Edward N. Hines drive between the two crossings of Northville road.

The general public is invited, and admission is One ($1.00) Dollar, per adult, and children are free. There will be plenty of refreshments and entertainment and contests for the children.

The state legislators and Congresswoman Martha W. Griffiths will be present.

Set Rummage Sale Dates

The two-day fund-raising event will be held at Northville Downs on September 28 and 29.

Featured in the Bible selections are a number of passages from the Book of James, including the: "Who is a wise man and endowed with knowledge among you? let him show out of a good conversation his works with meekness of wisdom. And the fruit of righteousness is sown in peace of them that make peace."

The following will be read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy (p. 467): "It should be thoroughly understood that all men 'have' one Mind, one God and Father, one Life, Truth and Love. Give God Glory

There is a vision that Earth-people need so that every other vision will have its proper place. This is a vision of the glory of God. We are aware of the heights and depths as never before in the history of mankind. We are probing the depths of the earth and the heights of the sky. But when people are no longer aware of God and probing the dimensions of the spiritual, watch out! We are conscious of ourselves in this world, our fortunes and misfortunes, successes and failures, but when we are no longer conscious of God, beware!

The world has a future when its people have a vision of God. But without this vision the light grows dim, and pales, and darkness hovers over all. Without vision the people perish.

Stumbling and bungling we reach the steep slope and in blindness we falter and go down.

To give God glory is to recognize that it is He that hath made us and not we ourselves. To give God glory is to feel that God is behind and in the process of creation and that the hush and thrill by which we may respond to a thing of beauty is fanned to a holy awe by the spark of the divine within.

What was the mark by which people came to know that Jesus was God's son? "We beheld his glory, the glory as of the only begotten of the Father." John 1:14. My! Jesus had a glory and the radiance of that glory is a love-shine from God to man and man to God. Have you seen that glorious way?

For the love of God is broader Than the measure of man's mind.

And the heart of the Eternal is most wonderfully kind. The glory of God is that he loves to the uttermost.

The glory of God is that he welcomes sinners. It would seem as though our wrongdoing and wrong-thinking should doom us to hopelessness. Not so. God welcomes sinners, and when we come into the kingdom of God's grace we can find a change taking place. We can be new persons and draw strength from the power of his glory. To how many discouraged, to how many fallen, to how many selfish and self-satisfied, to how many lazy-bones spiritually does the folk-hymn speak its stirring words, "Rise, Shine. Give God glory."

ROTARY SPEAKER — William B. Hankla, special assistant to the managing director of Automobile Manufacturers Association, will speak before the Northville Rotary club Tuesday noon at the First Presbyterian church. He'll discuss planning for the 44th National Automobile Show scheduled for October 20-25 at Cobo hall. It marks the second time in history that a national automobile show has been staged in Detroit.

ONE YEAR AGO

September 14, 1961

—Northville's merchants will move out of their stores en masse Friday. But don't worry, they're not leaving town, they're just moving to the sidewalks for the annual city-wide sidewalk sale.

—The Northville board of education met for a special session last Wednesday to initiate action it hopes will enable the school district to borrow $200,000 in anticipation of local tax revenues. If approved by the Municipal Finance Commission, the loan would provide funds to meet school bills until December, when local taxes start coming in.

—No final action was taken Monday night at the Novi village council's public hearing on special assessments for the paving of streets in Willowbrook subdivision number one. Final action was put off until the council's regular meeting next Monday.

—The Novi township board went on record Monday night as objecting to the proposed establishment of a pool hall on South Lake drive. The proposed pool hall, to be known as the "Ship Ahoy," requires rezoning of the property.

—The Wixom chamber of commerce is planning a benefit sale of a deer tulle to raise funds for the projected recreation area in back of the city hall.

FIVE YEARS AGO

September 12, 1957

—As petitions bearing 139 names were being inspected for validity by the Secretary of State's office this week, hope increased that the proposed annexation of 220 acres of Novi township to Northville would pass without opposition. Residents of the area sparked the petitions and apparently favor annexation.

—While Northville was being approached about the annexation of 220 acres of Novi township, other developments in Novi and Wixom were occurring. Petitions were filed with the Wixom village council calling for an election on incorporation into a city, and petitions are now being circulated in Novi township calling for an election to incorporate Novi into a village.

SOME 21 NEW TEACHERS REPORTED THIS WEEK TO NORTHVILLE AND NOVI SCHOOLS.

Fourteen were hired to fill vacancies on Northville's staff, while the other seven were needed to serve in the Novi system.

FIFTEEN YEARS AGO

September 12, 1947

—the biggest racing event of Northville Downs' 1947 summer race meeting will be Friday night's match between some of the nation's greatest pacers in the Governor's Cup $5,000 stake. The field will go for two heats.

—Northville high school's 55-piece band, under the direction of Leshe G. Lee, led the Governor's Day parade at the state fair last Wednesday. The band also gave two concerts in the fairgrounds band shell.

—The Detroit House of Correction softball team captured the Recreation league championship last Friday by defeating the Cavalade team 4-1 in the final game of post-season play offs.

—Some 973 students lined up to enroll in Northville schools this fall, representing a drop of three in the enrollment last fall. Grade school enrollees numbered 524, while some 449 started classes in high school.

—Members and friends of the Salem Congregational church were urged this week to attend the special noon meeting in honor of Reverend Lucia Stroh, who has served as pastor of the church for 25 years.

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

September 10, 1937

—The Northville village council voted this week to hold H. B. Culbertson, contractor for the P.W.A. reservoir project, responsible for the 186 days of work delay in completion of the job. Culbertson was asked to pay $4,650 to the village in damages for the delay, as agreed upon in the contract for the project.

—The organizations sponsoring the two-day Detroit air show at the Wayne county airport have included a memorial service for former Northville resident Eddie Stinson in plans for the event.

—A sightseeing trip to the top of the smokestack of the Burroughs Adding Machine company plant under construction in Plymouth ended in death for two of the visitors, who plunged from scaffolding used by workmen for construction of the smokestack.

—Only minor damages resulted Monday morning when the Northville fire department responded quickly to extinguish a fire started in the Harry Meyers residence on the corner of Wing street and Fairbrook avenue by a faulty chimney. After the fire, first of this nature for the season, Fire Chief Fred Hlicks issued a warning to area residents to have their furnaces and heating equipment checked.

—The Reverend Father Joseph Schuler of Our Lady of Victory church was one of the 200 priests who attended the dedication Monday of the Villa St. Felix, newly constructed motherhouse and novitiate of the Detroit Province Pelican Sisters, on Schoolcraft road near Plymouth.

Pictures of the Republican gubernatorial candidate are hung all over the building which had served as an office for Harrowood's used car lot. And a bathing-suit-clad mannequin is attired in a Romney campaign straw hat to further attract attention. Romney Volunteers pictured (l-r) are: Novi Township Supervisor Frazer Staman, C. A. Smith, one of the organizers of the Romney Volunteers; Mrs. J. F. Buck and Leo Harrowood. Harrowood is chairman of the Novi Volunteers for Romney and Staman is honorary chairman. The group is seeking more women volunteers to work in the office daily.

Official Minutes of the Northville City Council

The regular meeting of the Northville City Council was called to order by Mayor Allen at 8:00 p.m. on August 20, 1962 at the city hall. Present: Allen, Ambler, Carlson and Juday. Absent: Canterbury.

The minutes of the previous meeting were approved with no corrections. Moved by Ambler, supported by Juday that bills in the following amounts be paid:

General — $17,356 87; Water — $1,823.08.

Ayes: Allen, Ambler, Carlson and Juday. Nays: None. Carried.

Communications:

A letter was read (a copy of one originally submitted to council on October 12, 1960) from a group of residents of Allen Drive. The city manager reported he had Mr. Hartner check this condition (pool of sewage water). Mr. Hartner had found the Hill street connection was blocked off by permanent seal. The city manager assured Mr. Arthur Adams, present from this neighborhood, that the pool would be drained and the situation remedied.

Communications from citizens:

Mr. Harley Cole of S. Center street asked if the city would be interested in the lot he has recently acquired in Northville Heights. Mr. Ambler said the Recreation Committee might be interested in this for a Tot-lot. The committee would like to talk to Mr. Cole about the offer; Mr. Ambler will make a report to the Recreation Committee and then make a report to council.

Bids for sidewalk construction:

The advertisement for the concrete sidewalk bids was read. With only one bid to open it was decided to have a special meeting in order to give more opportunity for additional bids. Moved by Allen, supported by Ambler that the bid of Paul Palmer be returned and the bidding period extended for one week with bids to be opened at the special meeting on Monday, August 27, 1962.

Ayes: Ambler, Carlson, Juday and Allen. Nays: None. Carried.

Parking in front of Gib Bergstrom's on South Main street:

The city manager read a letter from the Chief of Police regarding parking in front of Gib Bergstrom's lot on S. Main street. This matter was deferred for further consideration until next regular council meeting.

Request to reverse stop signs at corner of North Wing and West Dunlap streets:

As per Councilman Canterbury's request, the city manager reported five accidents at this location during 1962 and 3 accidents during the year of 1961. It was also recommended that a different type of lighting be used at this corner. The possibility of a painted line to assist in noticing "Stop" signs was suggested. Moved by Juday, supported by Carlson that the following resolution be adopted:

WHEREAS, it has been recommended by the Chief of Police that North Wing St. and West Dunlap St. be made a stop street.

IT IS HEREBY RESOLVED that the stop signs at these streets be reversed, making North Wing a stop street, using over-sized signs, and West Dunlap street a through street.

Ayes: Carlson, Juday, Allen and Ambler. Nays: None. Carried.

Audit report for fiscal year, ending June 30, 1962:

The report from the Auditors, Ieraman, Hoffman and Johnson was given to each councilman. The City Manager reported that the city is in good financial state.

Center street to be designated truck route:

The city manager said that numerous requests have been received from merchants to have Center street designated as truck route. This matter was deferred to the next meeting and the city manager is to talk to Mr. Ware about this.

Miscellaneous:

The matter of through truck traffic on Dunlap and Hutton streets was discussed and this was also deferred to a future meeting.

South Center street is to be posted at 35 miles per hour pending a report from Wayne county. South Wing and West Cady streets to be posted "No Trucks" as is Fairbrook and North Center street. A sign should be placed at Fair and South Wing street (street sign).

Mr. Ambler asked that consideration of advertising for bids for Recreation building be placed on the agenda for the special meeting on Monday, August 27, 1962.

The city manager requested that the regular council meeting of September 3 be changed to Tuesday, September 4 because of Labor Day falling on the 3rd. Moved by Carlson, supported by Juday that the next regular meeting be scheduled for Tuesday, September 4.

Ayes: Allen, Ambler, Carlson and Juday. Nays: None. Carried.

The city manager corroborated the fact that Mayor Allen is the official delegate and that Richard Ambler is the alternate delegate for the Michigan Municipal League Convention on September 18-21. Mr. Ogilvie said he would also be attending.

The "no parking" sign on the north side of E. Main street is to be checked.

Councilman Ambler asked for a meeting with Mr. Main regarding his sewer report. This to be on the agenda for special meeting of August 27.

Mayor Allen reported that the committee on parking has discussed the matter of the parking lot belonging to Roy Stone located across from the bank. The city attorney was asked regarding the length of contract which could be entered into and quoted section 10.6 and mentioned that the city should have approval from the Michigan Finance Committee. The traffic committee would like approval from the council to be allowed to approach the owner with a formal proposal. Moved by Ambler, supported by Juday that the traffic committee be authorized to make such a proposal.

Ayes: Ambler, Allen, Carlson and Juday. Nays: None. Carried.

Mr. Ambler will call Mr. Jehowski's office and see if a report has been submitted regarding the post-office. If Mr. Jehowski has not acted regarding this, a meeting of the representatives of the township, city and merchants will be called.

Mr. Allen reported on the meeting held on August 13th when the matter of the new city hall was discussed. The possibility of using Urban Renewal was discussed and this was ruled out. There were two steps to be taken immediately toward a new city hall.

(1) City manager is to check the location of the well on this property.

(2) A search for the title to city hall and obtain an insured title to same for the next council meeting of September 4th.

Mr. Ogilvie reported that Earl Reed is already doing the search on the city hall property.

Mr. Ambler reported that Mr. Ogilvie had had the cemetery property checked. If there are no lots to the west of the present fence, up to the road, the request for extra footage from the Recreation committee could be considered. This is to be gone over at a later time.

There being no further business, the meeting adjourned at 10:00 p.m.

Sex Awareness Hampers Creative Thinking Even at 5

Lansing — If your creative five-year-old seems to lose his creativity the moment he enters kindergarten, don't blame the teacher or the school. The cause is probably sex — his sudden awareness of sex differences and the crisis he is facing because of it.

This advice from the Michigan Education Association is based on a recent research study conducted at the University of Minnesota and reported by Dr. E. Paul Torrance, director of the university's bureau of educational research.

When children begin to notice sex differences — when they learn that some activities are taboo for girls and others are not appropriate for boys — that's when their ability to think creatively takes a sharp drop.

Usually that's around age five, the researchers found. The kind of behavior adults expect of a child that affects his creative abilities, the report found. Children in other countries experience similar crises when their behavior patterns are changed, the study indicated, but the patterns are different in different cultures.

For American youngsters similar crises are reported to occur at ages 9, 13 and 17.

"It is interesting to note that each of the generalized drops occur at ages at which the transitions from one developmental stage to another begins," says Dr. Torrance. "The drop at about five occurs with the end of the childhood stage and the beginning of the juvenile stage with its demands for social accommodation and compromise and acceptance of authorities outside him. The second drop occurs with the onset of the pre-adolescent stage with its increased need for consensual validation, peer approval, identification with peers of the same sex, and conformity to peer norms," according to Dr. Torrance. The third occurs at the onset of adolescence with its increased anxieties and striving for approval of the opposite sex.

"We have observed," Dr. Torrance points out, "that concerns about sex appropriateness and emphasis on sex differences become tremendously inhibiting at about age five and continue into the beginning of the first grade."

When youngsters were asked to think of improvements that could be made in certain toys, "we found that boys at this age would frequently refuse to offer any suggestions for improving a nurse kit and some girls similarly refused to think of ideas for improving a toy fire truck. Some of the more creative boys, however, first changed the nurse kit to a doctor's kit, after which it was quite legitimate and respectable to think of ideas. Thus we see that whole areas of experience became taboo, and thinking thereby inhibited."

Another inhibiting factor in young children, Dr. Torrance said, was found to be the forced stifling of fantasy. "Many children at this age (five) are inhibited in their thinking because they have been warned harshly by parents and teachers that they must eliminate fantasy. Although we are interested in developing a sound type of creativity, we need to keep fantasy alive until the child's mental development is such that he can engage in this sound type of realistic creative thinking."

Health Authorities Urge Asian Flu Vaccination

Lansing — The Michigan Department of Health has received a warning from the U.S. Public Health Service that a new outbreak of Asian flu is expected this winter.

The public health service has recommended that persons in the following categories be vaccinated:

1. All persons 45 years of age and older, particularly those over 65.
2. Persons of all ages who have chronic cardiovascular, pulmonary, renal, or metabolic diseases.

3. Pregnant women. Although the influenza virus may not be more likely to infect persons in these specified groups, the occurrence of influenza in these persons is more likely to be a life-threatening event, the public health service warned.

The Michigan Department of Health recommends that persons in the chronically ill group and pregnant women seek the advice of their personal physician in regard to influenza vaccination.

Since there is a reasonable probability that epidemics of influenza A2 (Asian) will occur during the coming respiratory disease season, serious consideration should also be given to immunizing those in medical and health services, public safety, public utilities, transportation, education, and communications fields. In industries and large institutions where absenteeism is of particular concern, large-scale immunization programs are encouraged.

For initial immunization, two doses, should be given about two months apart, starting as soon as possible after September 1. Persons who received influenza vaccine last year need only a single booster shot this fall.

Since the influenza vaccine is produced from chick embryos, the health department has advised persons allergic to eggs or chickens not to take the vaccine.

Ensign Chase

Newport, R.I. — Navy Ensign John Chase, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles G. Chase of 39876 Herbert Drive, was graduated, August 17 from the Naval Officer Candidate School, U.S. Naval Base, Newport, R.I. The officer candidates, college graduates and outstanding personnel from the fleet, become proficient in the naval sciences in the 16 weeks of intensive training.

Upon graduation the new officer will be qualified to meet not only the technical problems facing a junior officer in today's modern fleet, but also the special leadership problems posed by our fleet's worldwide commitments.

Following graduation the new officers report to a wide variety of assignments. In addition to shipboard duty, some will go to special programs such as underwater demolition, salvage, naval intelligence and explosive ordnance disposal, while others will report for engineering and staff corps duties.

Camp Pendleton, Calif. — Marine Corporal Richard F. O'Hare, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dan O'Hare of 226 Church Street, was promoted to the present rank, August 1, while serving with the First Battalion of the First Marine Regiment, an infantry unit of the First Marine Division at Camp Pendleton, California.

The battalion is a transplacement unit which will eventually transfer to the Far East for a 13-month tour of duty with the Third Marine Division.

At present the unit is engaged in a continuous training program which includes tactics of warfare under cold weather, desert and mountain conditions, guerrilla and amphibious warfare tactics.

Army Captain Richard M. Gussell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Myron C. Gussell, 900 West Main Street, graduated last week from the Signal Officer Career course at the U.S. Army Signal Center and school at Fort Monmouth, New Jersey.

A 1955 graduate of Michigan State University, Captain Gussell has been reassigned to the Presidio of San Francisco, California.

The 27-week course is designed to provide advanced training in the duties and responsibilities of field grade Signal Corps officers.

The course provides practical training in the technical and tactical problems related to Signal Corps work. Communication systems, involving wire and radio, make up the bulk of the technical training.

Tactical training is accomplished by the application of field exercises during which the student assumes the duties of Division, Corps, and Army Signal officers.

The U.S. Army Signal Center and school at Fort Monmouth, "Home of the Signal Corps," annually trains some 7,500 enlisted and officer students in over 50 courses covering the fields of radio, wire, radar, and photography.

Red Cross Seeking Volunteers

Volunteers in the Detroit Red Cross Chapter have issued an invitation for women interested in joining their ranks to enroll during the week of September 24 for the fall orientation and training classes which start on October 9. The classes will be held in Chapter Headquarters, Elizabeth at John R., and interested women may enroll by calling WO 1-3900 or one of the Regional offices listed in the telephone book.

Mrs. E. K. Wilson, vice chairman, Office of Volunteers, is in charge of recruitment and training of the new volunteers. Mrs. Wilson says the special needs at this time are for women who are interested in becoming active in the Blood Program, Canteen, Gray Lady Social Welfare and Staff Aide Services. When they have completed their training, the volunteers choose the day of the week and hours of the day it is convenient for them to serve.

Canteen workers are trained to serve snacks for blood donors, lunch in the Chapter's Canteen where other volunteers and staff lunch, and to prepare and serve meals for victims of disaster and rescue workers.

Blood Program Aides work in the blood center or at bloodmobiles in Wayne County communities, registering prospective donors and performing other services.

Gray Ladies are specially needed in Lynn, Northville State, Receiving and Veterans Hospitals. They perform non-medical services for patients.

Social Welfare Aides work with professional social workers in the Chapter's Home Service to assist servicemen and veterans and their families solve problems which arise because of the man's military service.

The NEW ENGLANDER — another fine home by the builder noted for his flair for authentic Early American detail —

John N. Northup

From its barn-red garage and "dove cot" to the wide-shouldered chimney of mellow-old brick, the NEW ENGLANDER is as Yankee as pumpkin pie! Its New England heritage includes not only authentic design but also a rare combination of oldtime craftsmanship and modern building techniques. Yankee thrift shows up in its efficient use of space, too. Imagine — 2,690 square feet of living area are contained in this amazingly compact home.

'Get Acquainted' Meetings Start Wednesday at Plymouth State Home

The staff of the Plymouth State Home and Training School will hold the first of a series of afternoon programs for various community groups on September 19, at 1:30 p.m. The first program will be for registered nurses living in the Detroit metropolitan area. All nurses are invited regardless of whether or not they are presently active in their profession.

Featured as a part of the program will be a talk by Dr. Robert J. Jaslow, Superintendent of the hospital. Tours of the hospital's various patient buildings will also be provided.

"The main purpose of the series of programs we plan to hold," Dr. Jaslow stated, "is to acquaint the public with our facilities and programs. I deeply believe that members of the community should be more aware than they are of the mentally retarded, their problems, and what can be done to help them. It is a community problem, not just our problem." The hospital, opened in 1960, currently consists of a Hospital

Administration Building, a Toddler's Building, and an Infirmary Building with a combined capacity of almost 700 mentally retarded patients. Construction of two new buildings, one a service building and the other a 220-bed patient building, is expected to begin shortly. The new patient building will be ready for occupancy in August, 1963.

The hospital is located at the intersection of Five Mile and Shelden roads in Northville township.

New Constitution Gives Local Government Units More Strength, Flexibility

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is No. 7 in a series about the proposed new Michigan Constitution. Additional articles will appear in subsequent weeks.

Although existing forms of local government are retained, the proposed Michigan Constitution modernizes and broadens their powers to enable them to serve more effectively. Article VII of the new document contains the sections relating to counties; townships, cities and villages.

Greater strength and flexibility are given to local governments by these provisions:

1. Charter counties, cities and villages are granted authority to levy taxes other than property taxes for their support.
2. Power to cooperate with other local units of government on common problems.
3. Retention of home rule for cities and villages.
4. Liberal construction by the courts of laws concerning cities, villages, counties and townships.
5. County officers' terms are to be four years. Township officers may by law have terms of office up to four years.

To permit more effective county government, particularly in metropolitan areas, county home rule is provided for, subject to enabling statutes. Its adoption, modification or repeal will depend on the vote of the electors of the county.

The county home rule proposal evolved from long deliberation in both the Local Government committee and in the convention. It makes it possible for those counties with specific problems to deal with them effectively, but does so without disturbing unnecessarily the government of other counties in the state.

The county home rule provisions of the new document follow generally the pattern established by the home rule provisions for cities in the present constitution. Left to the legislature is the responsibility for working out details of charter county organization.

The board of supervisors may initiate a ballot proposal to elect a commission to frame a county charter, or five per cent of the county's electors may petition the board to submit such a proposal to the electors.

The proposed constitution increases the limitation on the power of the county to incur debt from three to ten per cent of its assessed valuation. This permits counties to extend their credit for both primary and secondary obligations.

Secondary obligations are incurred by placing the full faith and credit of the county behind bonds of cities and townships to enable them to borrow at the lowest possible interest rate for the construction of water and sewage systems and other public works.

Dear Neighbor:

September 1962

Many people do not know the answer to the question: — WHAT IS A TRAVEL AGENT?

He is an independent, tax paying business man in or near your community who has had a great deal of travel experience — not only making reservations and selling travel tickets, but in visiting many of the world's tourist attractions to prepare himself to give first hand information.

FOUR of us in this office have had a total of 63 years experience in travel business.

WHO PAYS TRAVEL AGENTS?

Airlines, steamship lines, bus lines, hotels, rental car companies, sightseeing companies and others, pay travel agents a commission for directing clients to their facilities. You pay just as much when you book direct with these companies as when you book through a travel agency.

WHY SHOULD YOU DEAL WITH A TRAVEL AGENT?

Mainly — for your own convenience! He is your neighbor — and out here in the country, he is much closer to you than the transportation companies. Doing business with a Travel Agent you can do everything with ONE visit or ONE phone call for most trips.

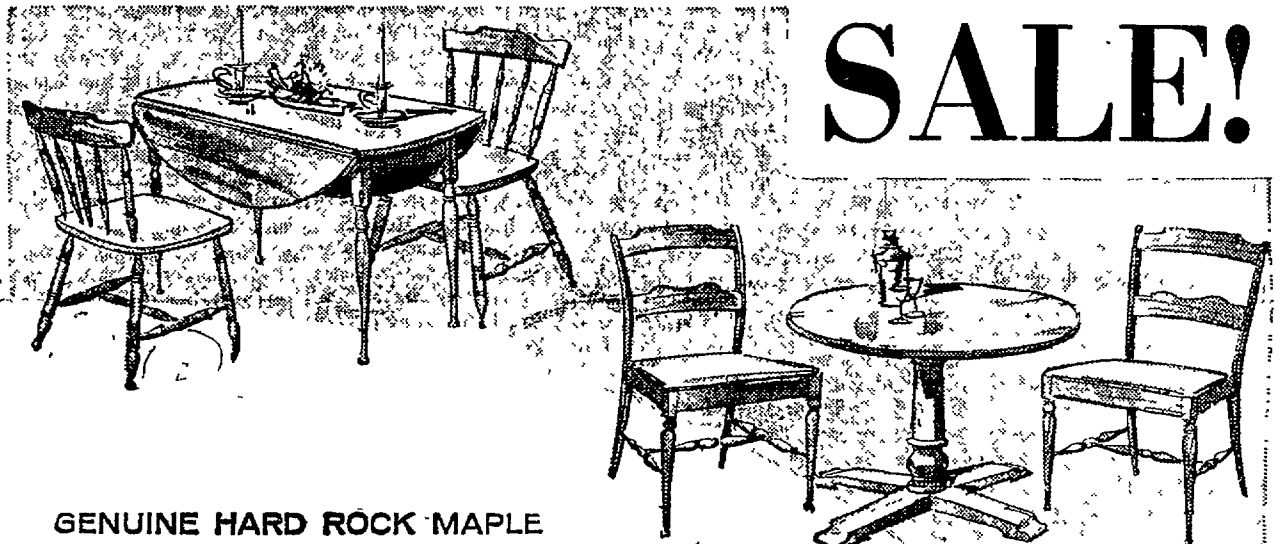

And — because he must rely upon your continued good will and patronage — he provides service with a smile.

SO — no matter where, or how, you are traveling, please call us or drop in. It is a real pleasure to serve you

CORDIALLY,

Edwin D. Phillips, Sr.

SPEAKING for The Record

by Bill Sliger

Main street in Northville may soon get a new look — one designed to entice more shoppers by means of easier parking and improved traffic flow.

The idea was conceived by Earl Wineman, new president of the Retail Merchants association and owner of E-Jay Lumber Mart. And it follows in principle very closely the long-range master plan currently being prepared by Northville's planning commission.

So when he unveiled a drawing of the idea to planners recently, it met with general acceptance and a proposal to the commission planning consultant to study the plan and suggest any needed refinements. Then planners will ask the city council to approve it on a trial basis.

Wineman proposes to make Main street traffic between Hutton and Center one-way — west only.

Angle parking on both sides of Main street would then be permitted. He also proposes to remove street parking meters.

Traffic would be directed eastward through the "parking alley" between South Center street and the Presbyterian church. This access to Main street in the single block "one-way" area would be gained either off Hutton, the parking alley or via West Main street.

The planners thought the idea was "not inconsistent" with their own master plan (soon to be announced after many months of study) and could serve as a "first step".

Some concern was expressed at the reversal of the "parking alley" traffic because of the difficult entrance from South Center street — and it's possible this might be revised.

There are, too, sharp differences of opinion concerning removal of parking meters from the streets.

The city manager has recently proposed removal of all meters from parking lots, including the "parking alley".

He would prefer to replace the present automatic meters on the streets with easier-to-maintain manual meters and then embark upon a program of strict enforcement.

His theory is that multi-hour or all day parkers could be permitted to use lots, while the shopper in a hurry could use the street parking. And meters properly enforced and in working order discourage long use of parking spaces thereby providing available parking at all times for the quick-stop shopper.

Right on the heels of these efforts to improve shopping conditions locally has come the proposal by the city council to buy the Main street lot across from the theatre for municipal parking.

This lot already receives heavy parking, although it is privately owned. And we agree with the council that it is imperative that it should be maintained, at least until an opportunity for desirable commercial use is found.

The encouraging point for all businessmen to note is that something is being done; Wineman's enthusiastic approach to introduce a new idea and the efforts by city officials should be hailed by all local businessmen.

Their cooperation, ideas and, possibly financial assistance, will be needed. With increasing competition from shopping centers it's imperative that we all pull an ear — in the same direction.

Johnuv Johnson, a driver for Van Every trucking firm, had a few words of defense for the trucking industry after the recent citizen proposal to take trucks off Center street.

He noted that trucks pay for over 30 percent of all highway costs and constitute only 17 percent of the use; that 74 percent of America's freight tonnage moves at one time or another by truck, that only agriculture employs more people than the trucking industry, and that 50,000 communities in America depend solely on trucks to bring them all necessities.

I doubt that anyone would argue that the trucking industry plays a most important role in our economy.

Likewise, it's fair to admit that they can be a nuisance on business and residential streets. Even drivers dislike the congestion of city driving.

What Northville needs is a new north-south route for trucks. And only cooperation from the county can bring this about. Maybe constant pressure from residents as well as the government will arouse the county to action.

Vote Tally Faster

Michigan voters enjoy a position unequaled in most states. They are able to hear the results of their polling in a matter of hours after the ballots are cast because of the extensive use of voting machines.

Secretary of State James M. Hare reports the use of automatic voting machines has increased steadily through the years.

This November, only about 635,000 registered voters will use paper ballots, while the other 3,075,000 voters will have machines at their precincts.

Of the 5,199 precincts in the state, 28.4 per cent or 1,477 units, are "paper precincts" while 3,722 are "machine precincts," Hare said.

"Despite the widespread use of machines, only four of Michigan's 83 counties are completely mechanized," Hare said. These are Bay, Kalamazoo, Muskegon and Ottawa counties.

"There are a number of counties, however, where less than 10 per cent of the electorate use paper ballots," said the Secretary of State.

The state corrections department operates basically six institutions which annually house upwards of 9,000 persons convicted of a crime.

Included under the department's jurisdiction are the Southern Michigan Prison at Jackson, the House of Correction and Branch Prison at Marquette, the Michigan Reformatory at Ionia, Cassidy Lake Technical School near Chelsea, a medium security institution at Ionia, and the Detroit House of Correction.

In addition several prison camps and a 100-man probationary recovery camp for youthful probationers near Traverse City are operated.

A 1953 Legislative Act charges the department with the responsibility for carrying out the state's adult prison, probation and parole systems at the order of a commission appointed by the Governor and under the administration of a director named by the commission.

Female inmates are confined at the Detroit House of Correction. A few male inmates also are placed in this institution to assist in general maintenance and operational requirements.

In addition to those incarcerated under state law, the department is responsible for supervising probation services. This involves better than 5,000 persons in an average year, department officials said.

In 1960 even before former Gov. G. Mennen Williams announced he would not seek a seventh unprecedented term, members of his top staff started leaving the executive office for private industry and self-employment.

After the announcement was made formally, the staff vacancies increased sharply.

The tenor of concern over the forthcoming November gubernatorial election may be seen in a similar occurrence in the present administration. State Controller Ira Polley was the first to resign.

Polley, a native of Alaska, became head of the Department of Administration in 1956 when he was appointed by Williams.

He was reappointed when Gov. John B. Swainson took over in the executive office and was confirmed by the State Senate as required by law.

Polley, with a long background in educational circles, now is leaving State Government to take over the full-time job as executive director of the Michigan Council of State College Presidents.

The controller denied that his acceptance of the Council post had any connection with the political future of the incumbent Democratic governor. "This did not have the slightest effect on my decision," Polley said.

Polley described the new post as "a challenging assignment which promises to be less of a multi-purpose job than my present one."

The executive director's post for the Council was created a little more than a year ago when the members, presidents of the nine state-supported institutions of higher education, decided they needed to present more of a united front.

Polley's present post involves many varied responsibilities and is viewed as a position of power. It is his office which draws up the Governor's budget recommendations for the Legislature.

Common Market

Babson Park, Mass., A very serious threat to U.S. labor and its union leaders is the European Economic Community or "Common Market". This Federation of six European countries has a population nearly equal to that of the United States. The people within the area are intelligent and industrious. In existence only four years, the Common Market has shown tremendous industrial gains; its industrial growth rate, in fact, is triple that of our own country. The primary aim of the Common Market is to eliminate long-standing obstacles to free trade, to give free enterprise every encouragement to operate. The Common Market now has a tremendous production potential where, in a combination of lower taxes and labor costs, liberal anti-trust laws, and friendly government permit the output of high-grade manufactured goods which can be sold in the United States at prices lower than for similar-quality U.S. - made goods.

Hence, labor leaders here at home who advocate that members strike for higher wages merely increase the sale of Common Market merchandise in the United States. They thus compound their members' unemployment problem. Those who ask the government to "make work" simply assure for themselves higher taxes and higher costs for the domestic product — and again boost the sales of imports. And yet, no labor leader hoping to keep his job is going to ask his members to accept lower wages!

Crackdown by our Government?
The President, through his Council of Economic Advisors, indicated early in the year his wishes with regard to wage rates. It was implied that a 3% rise in wage benefits each year would be considered non-inflationary wage behavior. The theory is that productivity has increased an average of 3% annually over the past 50 years and therefore this should provide a reliable guidepost for the rewards that labor is entitled to in the future. Inasmuch as no labor leader of today could hope to hold his job on that basis, it came as no surprise that the President's advice was repeatedly ignored.

Less than six months ago the steel industry deliberately converted the Administration's wishes and raised steel prices 3%. The President's immediate reaction left no doubt as to his displeasure, nor as to the manner in which he planned to punish.

Dr. Mudd Replies

Useful Tasks Necessary For Our Lonesome Aged

Dear Dr. Mudd:

My father came over from the Old Country and has always felt very proud of the fact that from humble beginnings, he made such a success in this country. My mother was born there too and came over to marry him after he had been here a few years.

I have four brothers and they, like myself, have all had college educations. Three of us have advanced degrees. We are all married and my father now has 15 grandchildren.

When I was a little boy I can remember his patting a new refrigerator he had just bought and saying to my mother, but actually addressing all of us, "Mama, even the Kaiser couldn't get one like this." He was always proud of coming from the Old Country, but he was very insistent that only English be spoken at home. "I don't want Kraut hanging out of my ears," he'd say in an English which, by hard work, has but the merest hint of an accent today.

He has always worked hard and saved wisely. In fact, he used to say "It isn't enough to work hard — you've got to save hard too." My father had only a few years of formal education and maybe for that very reason, he knew the value of it and insisted we boys go on to college. You see, Dr. Mudd, what a good father we had. And this is but to give you the background.

A year ago my father was retired. He was 75. Although the retirement age of 65, they asked him to say on which he wanted to do. Everything was going so well with him and my mother. They had everything they could wish for and my father was even beginning to loosen up a bit and spend some of the money he has earned over the years on himself.

Then six months ago my mother died. We'd been expecting it because she had heart trouble and the doctor said that even with the best of care, her chances of living many more years was limited. My father went completely to pieces. He lost weight which he has never gotten back. He suddenly became an old man — forgetful where before he had had a brilliant memory. We boys took turns helping him live with us, but only because he wouldn't choose any of our homes as a permanent residence. He looked so sad. He can't find anything to do. I've experienced it and all my brothers have too — he wakes up & walks through the house in the middle of the night. Sometimes he lapses into German, but since we can't speak it, we can't understand him. We do all we can to cheer him up, but he won't be cheered. We tried to take him to the doctor but he resists this with a great deal of vigor, and neither I nor my brothers have the stomach to force the old man to do something he doesn't want to. Yet we have to do something to help him.

Our doctor says he should be seen by a psychiatrist but my father would never hear of this. He never believed much in doctors, even when he was younger, and frankly I'm too chicken-hearted to mention such a course of action to him. Any suggestion will be greatly appreciated.

D.

What you are experiencing is becoming more frequent these days than ever before in the history of people. People are living so much longer due to the enormous strides made in all fields of progress over the last 50 years, that I know many people in the middle years, both of whose parents are still living. This was a rarity years ago.

Your father's first problem is the fact that he is old. The tissues of the body have just so many years of wear built into them and in time, despite everything, they wear out. Too often, old age is a burden for all concerned. The aging person is faced by a bleak prospect which one elderly man once told me was "like watching fate play Russian roulette." The circle of one's friends and acquaintances diminishes and the younger people are too busy living their own years to the fullest to be much concerned with an older generation which they consider has already had its day.

The incidence of serious disease and infirmity increases and there are alarming disturbances of mental or physical functioning for which there seem to be no remedies. Your father's retirement, plus the shock of the enormous loss he suffered when your mother died added to the years he already carried on his shoulders. He is probably suffering from a degree of senility, but I'm not sure I agree with your family physician that he should be seen by a psychiatrist. For psychiatry can offer nothing but custodial care for the senile. Perhaps a nursing home could be considered, but probably, as long as all of your brothers agree, it would be more pleasurable for him to live with one of you even if he rotates at intervals you consider too brief in duration.

I doubt he is on any sedative medication since he resists even seeing a physician, and it might be advisable were he to be given some. I shouldn't hesitate to "force" him to take one of the tranquilizers — by injection if necessary. Your family doctor would be in the best position to choose which of the many preparations available would be best for him. Perhaps a few days of "forcing" him to take his medicine would so improve matters that thereafter he would willingly cooperate and take his medication without complaint.

He should be encouraged to perform useful tasks. It is not good for a man, even an old man, to spend his days in idleness, but chances are that he will not be very cooperative in old age, just as during his youth he displayed an admirable spirit of independence and self-sufficiency. Your father does not seem to be suffering from a psychiatric illness, but is following a course not unusual as the mind slowly deteriorates under the impact of advancing senility.

Very truly yours,

Sander Mudd, M.D.
