

What is This Thing Called 'Economic Development'?

By BILL SLIGER

"What is this economic development committee all about?" "Why should I be interested in it?"

Questions like these are not unfamiliar to members of the has been working with little fanfare during recent months preparing the groundwork for a community-wide effort to improve the economic status of the area.

It is a project that requires teamwork and in this instance every citizen residing within the boundaries of our school district is a member of the team.

Its simplest definition would be a united effort to "sell" Northville — both to preserve the commercial and industrial business we already have, and to attract new development that will complement our community and help reduce the tax load for the average home-owner.

Economic development groups at the local level are not uncommon. In fact, they have become the rule in Michigan. Competition has become so keen that it has been said that each community must do something in self-defense — to protect the industry it now enjoys.

And the results of such efforts has been phenomenal. State and federal agencies and public utilities have played an important role in assisting these local committees.

The idea for such an organization in Northville was born in March, 1960. The city council, township board and school board appointed two members each to a study committee to determine the need, if any, of an economic development corporation in Northville.

Members of the study group were John Canterbury, A. R. Clarke, William Crump, Donald Lawrence, H. B. Putnam and Robert Shafer.

In November, 1960 the committee submitted its findings. The study urged action to be taken to "before our local situation gets out of hand". It undertook to project future tax requirements of the school district and conservatively predicted (without concern for city or township taxes) that school and county taxes within the Northville district would increase a whopping 70 per cent during the next 10 years.

It is significant to note that this was two years ago. The report conceded that land suitable for industrial development within the area is limited. But it warned that this industry potential would seem to be the only hope of relief from the progressively increasing tax burden.

Pointing to the low ratio of industrial and commercial property to residential (and further noting that 20 percent of the land within the school district is state or county owned) the report cautioned that taxes to the homeowner could easily exceed the predicted 70 percent increase in the coming decade.

A lapse of nearly one year took place before direct action was taken on the study committee's recommendations.

But in January this year a full-fledged economic development committee for Northville was appointed. And since its formation, it has been a "busy body".

It quickly adopted the name "Northville Area Economic Development Committee." Then legal steps were taken to form a development corporation with a nine-member board of directors.

The corporation is a legal necessity of the economic development program. It is a body employed with the power to make whatever financial negotiations might be necessary to assist new development or expansion of existing industry. It was formed by the still-existing economic development committee to provide the authority that may one day be needed to borrow and invest in future area development.

What else has the economic development committee done? It has conducted a thorough industrial survey of the area and submitted its data to the Michigan Department of Economic Development.

This material supplies immediate answers for anyone interested in this area. The report includes all matter of information from available sites for industry to population, work force, average pay scale, utility sources, transportation facilities, tax base and rate, lending institutions, power and water sources and general living conditions of the community including housing, schools, churches, etc.

The committee has completed one brochure specifically designed to introduce the advantages of Northville to a wide variety of possible sources of industrial development.

Inquiries as a result of this brochure would be followed up by a more detailed report providing specific data as required.

Personal contact is also an important part of the economic development committee's work. And the members hope that every tax-paying resident of the area will want to become a "salesman for Northville".

That's why their next project is a personal letter to nearly every local household. This letter, due to be mailed within the next two weeks, will explain what the Northville Area Development Corporation is. And it will encourage residents to join in the program — financially, if possible — and thereby lend their support to the effort to help plan orderly economic development of Northville.

The corporation will seek members at an initial fee of $10 and an annual dues of $2. Finally, as its first project, the committee is undertaking to pay tribute to the industry we now have (see story below). In this instance, too, the committee is hopeful that businessmen and others interested in the welfare of Northville will join in this recognition of the industrial firms that now provide employment and contribute to our economic well-being.

Members of the committee who have participated in the work thus far accomplished include A. M. Allen, John Canterbury, A. R. Clarke, Eugene Cook, Fred Kester, Alex Lawrence, Donald Lawrence, John Miller, Bruce Potthoff, H. B. Putnam, N. C. Schrader, Robert Shafer, C. A. Smith and Gunnar Stromberg.

Banquet to Honor Area Industries

A testimonial dinner to pay tribute to the community's industrial plants will be the first official function of the Northville Area Development corporation.

The dinner will be held at Meadowbrook Country club Thursday evening, October 4.

Local Hospital For Retarded Plans Additions

Construction of two new buildings for the Plymouth State home and training school is scheduled to begin this fall and be completed by next August, says George Ebling, the institution's administrative assistant.

The new construction will provide a 220-bed patient building and a service building which will be used as the main kitchen-facility for the state home, he said.

The 220-bed patient building will be located just west of a similar structure completed last summer on the institution's grounds at the northwest corner of Sheldon and Five Mile roads.

The second building, which will serve all buildings on the west side of Sheldon road, as well as the hospital-administration building across Sheldon, will be located north of the present infirmary and "toddler" buildings.

Ebling said the patient building will be designed to house ambulatory patients between the ages of 10 and 20. The 220 patients admitted for the building will come from other buildings within the school, the waiting list of retarded patients throughout the state and other state institutions for the mentally retarded.

"The effect will be to provide 220 new openings wherever the pressure is greatest," Ebling said. He explained that patients coming from within the Plymouth state home would leave openings for new admissions in local buildings.

The new admissions, he said, would come both from other institutions, so that openings will be available at them, and from the waiting list of 1,700 patients.

To make opening of the new patient building more efficient, Ebling said, patients will be admitted at the rate of about 25 a month.

"We hope to have the building completed by next July so that we can start admitting by August," he added.

Site preparations have already begun on the patient building, and construction will start when footings have been completed.

The service building site is also being readied now, Ebling said, and construction of both buildings should get underway this fall.

Besides serving as the kitchen for all buildings, the second building will provide storage space for supplies and linen, and will probably include a sewing center, he said.

The kitchen in the hospital-administration building, which now provides food for all buildings, will be closed when the service building is ready for operations, Ebling added.

Seek Rezoning For Post Office

The Northville planning commission set October 16 as the public hearing date to consider the rezoning of the southwest corner of Wing and Cady streets.

The location is one of several that has been considered by post office officials for the new structure.

Under government regulations any site to be considered must be zoned commercial. The corner is now zoned R-3. Planners indicated that it would propose the rezoning on the basis that if the post office should be located elsewhere the zoning would be changed back to its present status.

Proposed new zoning classification is C-2, restricted commercial. The hearing will be held at 8 p.m. at the city hall.

School OK's Sponsorship To Gain Aid for WCTS

In a motion made by Robert Shafer at Monday night's school board meeting, the Northville school district agreed to act as sponsoring body for Wayne County Training school's request to receive state aid for the school year 1962-63.

Their agreement is contingent upon receipt of a letter from the Department of Public Instruction confirming that enrollment figures of the training school will not be charged against the Northville school district.

Under present rulings, the Wayne County Training School and similar institutions, must be sponsored by a neighboring school district in order to receive state aid for students. A new statute is currently pending that would enable direct aid in the future.

Deadline Near For Registering

Northville area residents not yet registered to vote in the November election have until Monday, October 8 to do so.

Registrations will be taken by the city and township clerks daily during regular office hours at the city and township hall.

Their offices will be open until 8 p.m. on the final day for registrations. Application forms for absentee ballots are also available at the clerks' offices.

resident and head of the Walter L. Couse Construction Company, will introduce Martin Couse serves with the Dundee Cement Corporation president as a member of the state industrial ambassadors' committee.

Martin is well-known for his inspiring addresses given throughout the state before community groups interested in economic development.

He is a native of Missouri and received his bachelor's degree in chemical engineering at Columbia University in 1943. He received his master's degree at the same university in 1947.

From 1949 to January 1, 1959, Martin held various positions with the Mississippi Lime Company, becoming general manager and vice president of Dundee Cement company at that time. On January 1, 1961 he became president and director of the company.

He has chaired the state's industrial ambassadors since February, 1961.

Honored guests will be owners of executives representing seven community industries. They are Consumers Power Company, Ford Motor Company, Foundry and Equipment Company, Haller, Inc., Mergraf Oil Products, Northville Laboratories and Warren Products.

The tribute represents the first effort of the infant development committee to demonstrate one of its two key functions — to offer whatever assistance it can to existing community industry.

And it will also announce its second aim: to attract new industry to the area.

Other board business included a report by E. V. Ellison, chairman of the newly-formed athletic policy commission. Immediate concern of the seven-man group, the board learned, was the effective control of foot and car traffic at the high school football field.

To control this traffic at the field and ease congestion, it was decided to erect a fence extending south along the practice field and north of the new subdivision. A third of this area will be used for parking in addition to the regular high school parking lot.

Ellison also informed members of a donation from Michigan Bell Telephone Company, through the efforts of local resident Herman Toussaint, of 800 feet of underground telephone cable, boxes and controls for the telephonic connection between the players' bench and the press box.

Final action on tuition policy was tabled for further study, as was the study of lunchroom procedure.

Board action approved Superintendent Russell Amerman's request to authorize expense money for Ellison's October trip to a business meeting in Dallas. A similar request was authorized for Dr. Kenneth MacLeod to attend an administrative conference in Atlantic City in the Spring.

Permission was denied a Livonia church group seeking Sunday use of Amerman school for church services.

Unoccupied Wixom Lincoln plant office building will soon house Ford's Autolite division.

Autolite's National Offices Moving to Wixom Plant

Ford Motor company officials confirmed this week that planning is underway to move the company's Electric Autolite division offices into the now unused Wixom plant headquarters building.

While the date is not definite, a Ford spokesman reported, the move has tentatively been scheduled for November 1.

Tom Scripps, public relations manager of Ford's Autolite division, said the move of some 200 office and sales personnel will be made, and a decision on the exact date is expected within the next week or two.

The three-story Wixom office building, which covers a 200,000 square foot area, was first occupied in April of 1957. It was closed later that year when the Lincoln-Mercury division of Ford was recreated and its headquarters moved to Dearborn.

Wixom plant industrial relations Director Joseph Tighe said the headquarters building has been vacant since the Lincoln and Mercury divisions were remerged in the fall of 1957.

Scripps said the Autolite division's occupancy would not use all of the Wixom building. It would, however, locate the Autolite division headquarters in Wixom, he said.

The move will include sales, industrial relations, advertising, accounting, purchasing, product planning and similar personnel, as well as office workers, Scripps said.

The Autolite offices which will move to Wixom are now located in the Ford engineering building at Dearborn, where they have been housed since Ford purchased Autolite.

Ford now owns the rights to the Autolite name and two Autolite plants which produce batteries and spark plugs. It also controls world-wide sales under the Autolite name. Scripps said the exact number of offices which would be occupied in the Wixom building has not yet been determined. This figure and the amount of floor space they would require are included in the problems which will determine when the move will be made, he said.

Since the Autolite division will not occupy the entire Wixom headquarters building, Scripps added, there is a possibility other small divisions of Ford may have sales offices located in Wixom.

He said these would be offices for other Ford interests which deal with automotive and related accessories. Scripps added that he knew of no definite plans for utilizing the engineering building space to be vacated by the Autolite division. He said, however, that the engineering sections would probably take over the vacated offices.

NEW AND THE OLD—First auto-customers at Manufacturers National Bank's new drive-in facility in Northville were Mayor A. M. Allen and Township Supervisor George Clark. The mayor made his deposit from the stylish Lincoln Futura experimental model, while Supervisor Clark was escorted to the windows in a Ford Model T. A special dedication ceremony was held Monday morning to officially open the Dunlap at Hutton office. (More pictures on page 8).

City Receives Seven Scout Building Bids

The city council received seven bids Monday night for construction of the recreation building that ranged all the way from a low of $25,878.56 to $41,526.

All bids were turned over to the architect for review and recommendation at the council's October 1st meeting.

It is planned that construction will get underway in October with completion expected within three to four months.

Two Northville builders were low bidders.

Harley J. Cole and Son was nearly $4,000 below John N. Northrup Company, the second low bidder.

The Cole bid was $25,878.56 and the Northrup bid, $29,345.

Trend Homes, Inc., a Detroit firm and developers of Village Green subdivision in Northville, was third with a bid of $33,500.

Other bids were: Robert M. Leidlein, Farmington, $33,700; Askenazy Construction Company, Detroit, $36,660; R. Stewart Company, Detroit, $41,100 and Hyatt Construction Company, Wayne, $41,526.

In general the bids ran higher than earlier estimates.

The colonial building, designed by Architect Clifford N. Wright, will be located on city-owned property on West Cady street adjoining the cemetery.

It will replace the recreation scout building once located on the corner of Dunlap and Hutton and sold by the city to make way for the Kroger supermarket and Manufacturers National Bank drive-in facility.

The two-level building will be 47 feet wide and 32 feet deep. It will serve as the community recreation headquarters and provide meeting rooms for scout and recreation activities.

The city received $13,000 from sale of the old scout building and has been given some $3,000 in donations.

Lahr-Crawford Wedding Performed in Plymouth

Marilyn Lahr and Nolan Crawford were joined in holy matrimony at a double-ring, candlelight ceremony in the Plymouth Church of Christ on Friday evening, September 7.

The marriage vows were repeated before an altar adorned with snow-white gladioli, fuchsia, mums, and glowing candles, with Perry Miller of Detroit, former minister of the church and close friend of the couple, officiating.

Parents of the bride are Mr.

and Mrs. Fred Lahr, Jr., of 816 Carpenter street. The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Earl Crawford of 2285 Sandia street, South Lyon and the late Mr. Crawford.

Dr. James Tucker of Detroit sang "Because" and a vocal group from Michigan Christian College at Rochester provided the harmony for "The Wedding March", "I Pledge My Love", "A Wedding Prayer" and the "Recessional".

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was attired in a floor-length gown with white Alencon lace bodice, featuring a scalloped sweetheart neckline, outlined with seed pearls and sequins, and long sleeves tapering to a point at the wrist. Motifs of Alencon lace centered with seed pearls and sequins carried into the front of the full silk organza skirt which featured a butterfly bustle. Her bouffant veil fell from a crown of pearls. She carried a cascade bouquet of white fuchsia, mums and snowdrift poms.

Miss Suzanne Cowie of Northville, who served as maid of honor, wore an antique gold gown with scoop neckline, cap sleeves and a bell skirt. Her basket weave, open crown with short veil and her shoes matched the dress in color. She wore a diamond studded white gold cross and chain about the neck and carried a bouquet of shrimp and gold fuchsia and marguerite mums.

Bridesmaids were Miss Donna Ozark of Detroit, Miss Carolyn Gardner of Northville and Mrs. Henrietta Perry of Ypsilanti. They wore gowns, hats and shoes identical to those worn by the maid of honor and cultured pearl drop necklaces. Their bouquets were bronze and yellow standard and fuchsia mums.

The seven year old niece of the groom, Phyllis Crawford, who was flower girl, wore a yellow, full skirted nylon dress and a yellow ribbon about her hair caught up in front with a cluster of white and yellow daisies. She wore a pearl drop necklace and carried a nosegay of bronze and yellow mums. Ring bearer was nephew of the groom, six year old Jeffrey Crawford.

Dan Dixon of South Lyon was best man, while the bride's brother, Ron Lahr, presently with the U.S. Navy and Richard Briggs and Jack Briggs of South Lyon seated the guests.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Lahr wore a coffee lace and satin sheath with brown accessories and a corsage of shrimp and gold fuchsia and marguerite mums. The groom's mother wore a brown, pin-tucked nylon over taffeta sheath with beige accessories and a corsage of avocado and gold fuchsia and marguerite mums.

A reception in the church parlors for the 300 guests followed the ceremony.

For her going-away ensemble the bride wore a sheath dress of champagne imported silk with matching accessories and a corsage of shrimp and gold fuchsia mums.

Mrs. Crawford is a 1961 graduate of Northville High School and is employed with Bendix Systems Division of Ann Arbor. Mr. Crawford is a 1960 graduate of South Lyon high school and is studying for the ministry at Michigan Christian College at Rochester.

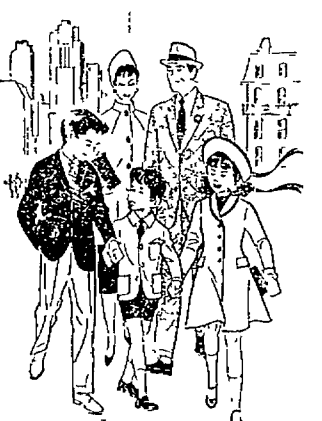

Following a wedding trip to Oscoda, the couple are now at home at 32 Easy street, Square Lake Trailer Court, Pontiac.

The St. Mary Hospital Guild is sponsoring a Charity Ball Saturday, October 20, at the Detroit Race Course, Middlebelt and Schoolcraft in Livonia. Music, in the manner of Glenn Miller, will be played by the Tommy Baldwin orchestra for dancing from 9 p.m. until 1 a.m. Featured vocalist will be Janice Deanne.

The orchestra will also present a 20 minute show on the history of American name bands entitled Big Band Bouquet.

Decorated in a festive motif, the building will be K.L.A. wired to carry the music to every corner of the club rooms.

Proceeds from the dance are to be used in purchasing an X-Omat machine for the hospital. X-Omat, a new device, film in seven minutes, eliminating the five hour wait necessary for a dry film reading

Kitchen Diary

An Apple a Day Keeps, etc.

Probably no other fruit has as many diverse uses as the common apple. Whether baked, dried, stewed, squeezed or raw, the apple has been a number one American favorite since colonial days.

This week Kitchen Diary passes along two apple favorites of the Jack Dellefs family. "Both are simple to prepare and can be served minutes after being taken from the oven", says Mrs. Dellefs. The Dellefs, parents of Patti, 2, and Steven 9 months, live at 41151 McMahon Circle, Novi.

APPLE CRISP

1. Pare and slice eight or nine medium sized apples.
2. Fill 8 x 12 loaf pan, heaping full.

Brown Sugar Topping

Mix together:
1 cup brown sugar
1 cup flour
2 tsp cinnamon
½ cup shortening
dash of salt

Mix thoroughly until dry and very crumbly. (If mixture is too moist, add more flour).

Sprinkle over top of apples and bake at 350 degree oven for 40-45 minutes.

Can be served either warm or cold.

Mrs. Dellefs suggests making the topping first before the apples turn brown.

1—Card of Thanks

We wish to use this opportunity to thank everyone who sent cards and flowers to Mr. Skow while he was in the hospital. Also those who visited him. These things all helped to speed his recovery.

READERS SPEAK:Supervisor Lauds New Development

To the Editor:

It was a pleasure this morning to participate in the dedication of the new auto bank of the Manufacturers' National Bank. I was particularly impressed with the design of the building and the modern features of its operation. To me this facility expresses the confidence of the Manufacturers' National Bank in the future of the Northville community.

As I look at the changing business area I am gratified with what I see. The confidence of the Kroger Company and the A & P Company in building the latest type supermarkets in our community is an indication of what these giants think of our future. Also, the new Detroit Savings & Loan Association office, and other new businesses are helping set the base for a modern shopping center of both a retail and service nature.

Many stores have modernized both exteriors and interiors, and the forward view of the merchants and city in providing more parking spaces in the business area, such as the recent acquisition of the lot on Main Street for parking, are indeed good.

For these reasons I am pleased, and as we move forward into the future I hope everyone will cooperate in positive thinking to make our community second to none in the metropolitan area.

The principle that men can do what they think they can do is fundamentally sound.

Very truly yours,
George L. Clark,
Supervisor,
Northville township

Crawling Time's Past

To the Editor:

Twelve years ago the President of the Novi School Board said, "I know that we need Art, Music and Physical Ed. but we are small and we must creep before we walk. At the time he was right. Yet today we still do not have art or music."

Two years ago when the people of Novi asked for reading help for the students, the President of the Board said, "Be patient, we must creep before we walk."

Today we are faced with the decision of consolidating or building a small and inadequate high school, from which students would be unable to attend college or be prepared to earn a living. But we have the Board member who says, "of course our high school would not compare with Northville's — BUT WE MUST CRAWL BEFORE WE WALK."

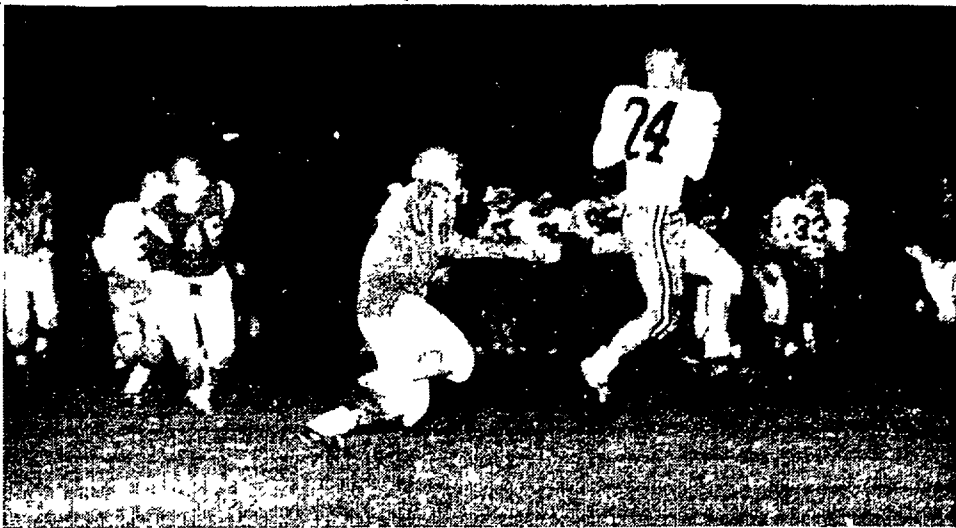

A child creeps and this is good, an adult walks with his head up high. Our school district is no longer a child so to speak. We are now responsible for the education of nearly 1,000 students. We must give them the best education for the least cost to the taxpayer.

It is time to stop CREEPING and CRAWLING and use our knees for the purpose that God intended them — PRAYING.

Sincerely,
Alice Ritter

GROUND GAINER—Mustang halfback Tom Swiss (24) takes a pass from quarterback Craig Bell during last week's Wayne-Oakland league opener win over Clarenceville. Fellow Mustangs race down field to assist Swiss, but an unidentified Clarenceville defender lurks in readiness to stop the play. Swiss gained 165 yards for Northville during the game.

Grid Contest Starts Today

Dig out your dope sheets, fans and sharpen your pencils — The Record-News and co-operating merchants are launching the annual football contest this week.

The contest has become popular "sport" for local arm chair quarterbacks, both young and old, men and women, who enjoy matching their wits with the way that "ole pigskin bounces."

To the contestant who tops all others each week will go a $15 first prize, while second-best prognosticators will receive $10.

Because the number of weekly contestants reached a peak at the close of last season, competition should be even more keen this year.

Full details and the contest blank appear on page three of section two. So read the rules, sharpen your pencils and get that prize-winning entry in on time.

Novi Grid Season Opens

Novi's first regular game will be next Wednesday when they play host to Walled Lake St. Williams. On October 10 Novi plays at Northville, and on October 17 they're scheduled to meet Nankin Mills, but the location of that game has not been settled.

The final game of the season, as the schedule now stands, will be October 31, when they host Northville. Osborne said he's still looking for another game or two, but doubts he'll be able to schedule another.

Novi's junior high football squad was slated to open its season last night (Wednesday) with a scrimmage at Farmington.

Coach John Osborne, in his first year at Novi, reported he has 25 youngsters out for football. "We're coming slow but sure," he said earlier this week. He explained that he has initiated a new offensive pattern for this year's grid season, and the team had some difficulty adjusting to new plays.

"But they're picking it up pretty well now," he added, "so we should be fairly well set by game time."

Osborne said his first string had little difficulty in overwhelming the second during an inter-squad scrimmage last week. While they didn't have too much competition, he said, their plays were working smoothly.

The league meet has been set for October 24 at Kensington Park, he said, and all league positions will be determined then.

Tonight (Thursday) the local runners meet Riverside. Yahne said he's received no information about their squad.

Mustangs Win W-0 Opener

The familiar surroundings of home and a Wayne-Oakland league opponent met with the liking of Northville's Mustangs Friday night as they bounced back from their season-opener loss at Plymouth to down Clarenceville, 20-6.

The victory wasn't as easy as the score might indicate. And results of other games throughout the league forecast rough competition ahead for the defending champion Mustangs.

Cross Country Squad Loses, Wins Opener

Northville's cross country squad dropped its first meet last week to Redford Union 22-40 but the local harriers bounced back Tuesday afternoon to down both Plymouth and West Bloomfield in a triangle meet.

The Mustangs had only two entries in the running when they met Class "A" Redford last Wednesday. Gary Davis set the Northville mark and copied second place in the meet, while Chuck Annett raced to fifth place.

Running behind in order of completion were Bill Adams, Frank Steinberger, Russ Strath, Eric Peterson and John Spietz.

Tuesday the Mustangs kept scoring to a meet low of 29, while West Bloomfield ran to a 40-point score and Plymouth placed third at 53.

First across the line for Northville was Davis, who repeated his second place spot of last week. Adams took third in the meet, while Annett was fourth, Steinberger ninth and Strath 11th. Peterson and Spietz ended as Northville's uncounted entries.

Coach Chuck Yahne termed both showings as "satisfying" and said he thinks they may indicate Northville has a chance at a better Wayne-Oakland league showing this year.

The league meet has been set for October 24 at Kensington Park, he said, and all league positions will be determined then.

Tonight (Thursday) the local runners meet Riverside. Yahne said he's received no information about their squad.

Coach Ron Horwath's grid-ers took an early 6-0 lead on Joe Hay's six-yard end run.

The score stayed that way until early in the second half when Clarenceville Fullback Monroe Ashley ripped through the center of the Mustang line for 45 yards and a tally.

Northville reacted quickly with Tom Swiss, Ron Rice and Hay picking up consistent yardage.

Swiss scored both of Northville's second half touchdowns on runs of 55 and 10 yards. The hard-running halfback collected 165 of Northville's total of 280 yards gained rushing.

Penalties prevented the game from turning into a rout as Hay had two touchdown runs of 65 and 40 yards called back, while Swiss dashed 45 yards on another play only to have it cancelled.

Coach Horwath was generally unhappy with the Mustangs' defensive play. He termed the tackling poor and cited a number of missed assignments. He didn't think much of the 95 yards in penalties, either.

But the Mustang offense, both on the line and in the backfield, showed a marked improvement. Although he completed but one pass in five attempts, Quarterback Craig Bell displayed an ability to mix his plays well tossing in just enough pass patterns to keep the defense loose.

The Mustangs may have lost the services of linebacker Rick Rebitzke for the season. The veteran defender suffered torn ligaments and tendons around the knee and had to be carried from the field on a stretcher.

Tomorrow night the Mustangs play host to Holly at Ford Field.

Coach Horwath was quick to discard Holly's 32-6 loss to West

Bloomfield with a warning that the speedy Holly team gained 356 yards and lost the ball five times through fumbles inside West Bloomfield's five-yard line.

He said that scouting reports reveal that Holly has one of the best backfields in the league.

Horwath also revealed that Northville may turn to more "razzle dazzle" in its second league encounter. He said there would be more passing and hinted that the Mustangs may "pull a few tricks out of the helmet."

In addition to West Bloomfield Hills showed itself to be a contender by romping over Clarkson, 35-0. In the other league game, Brighton downed Milford, 12-6.

Football Fever Returns to Northville

The band "tuned-up" the town for the football season's first home game.

And Fans Flock To Home Opener

That familiar fall fever — football — returned to Northville Friday night after a year's absence.

And from the reaction of the fans, it has lost none of its zest.

The Northville high school Mustangs gave the fans plenty to cheer about by opening the home season with a 20-6 victory over Wayne-Oakland league opponent, Clarenceville.

Local fans haven't seen a Northville team lose a game on the home field since 1960 — and Friday's win helped restore the spirit that had been dampened by the Mustangs' first game loss at Plymouth.

To set the stage for the event Band Director Bob Williams marched his 88-piece band through the business district. And the "oom-pah-pah" resounded like the tune of the Pied Piper attracting a capacity crowd to Ford Field.

Even the weather man cooperated.

He waited until the sound of the final gun before releasing a drizzly shower, too late to bother Northville fans and the spirits of visitors from Clarenceville had already been dampened by the results of the game.

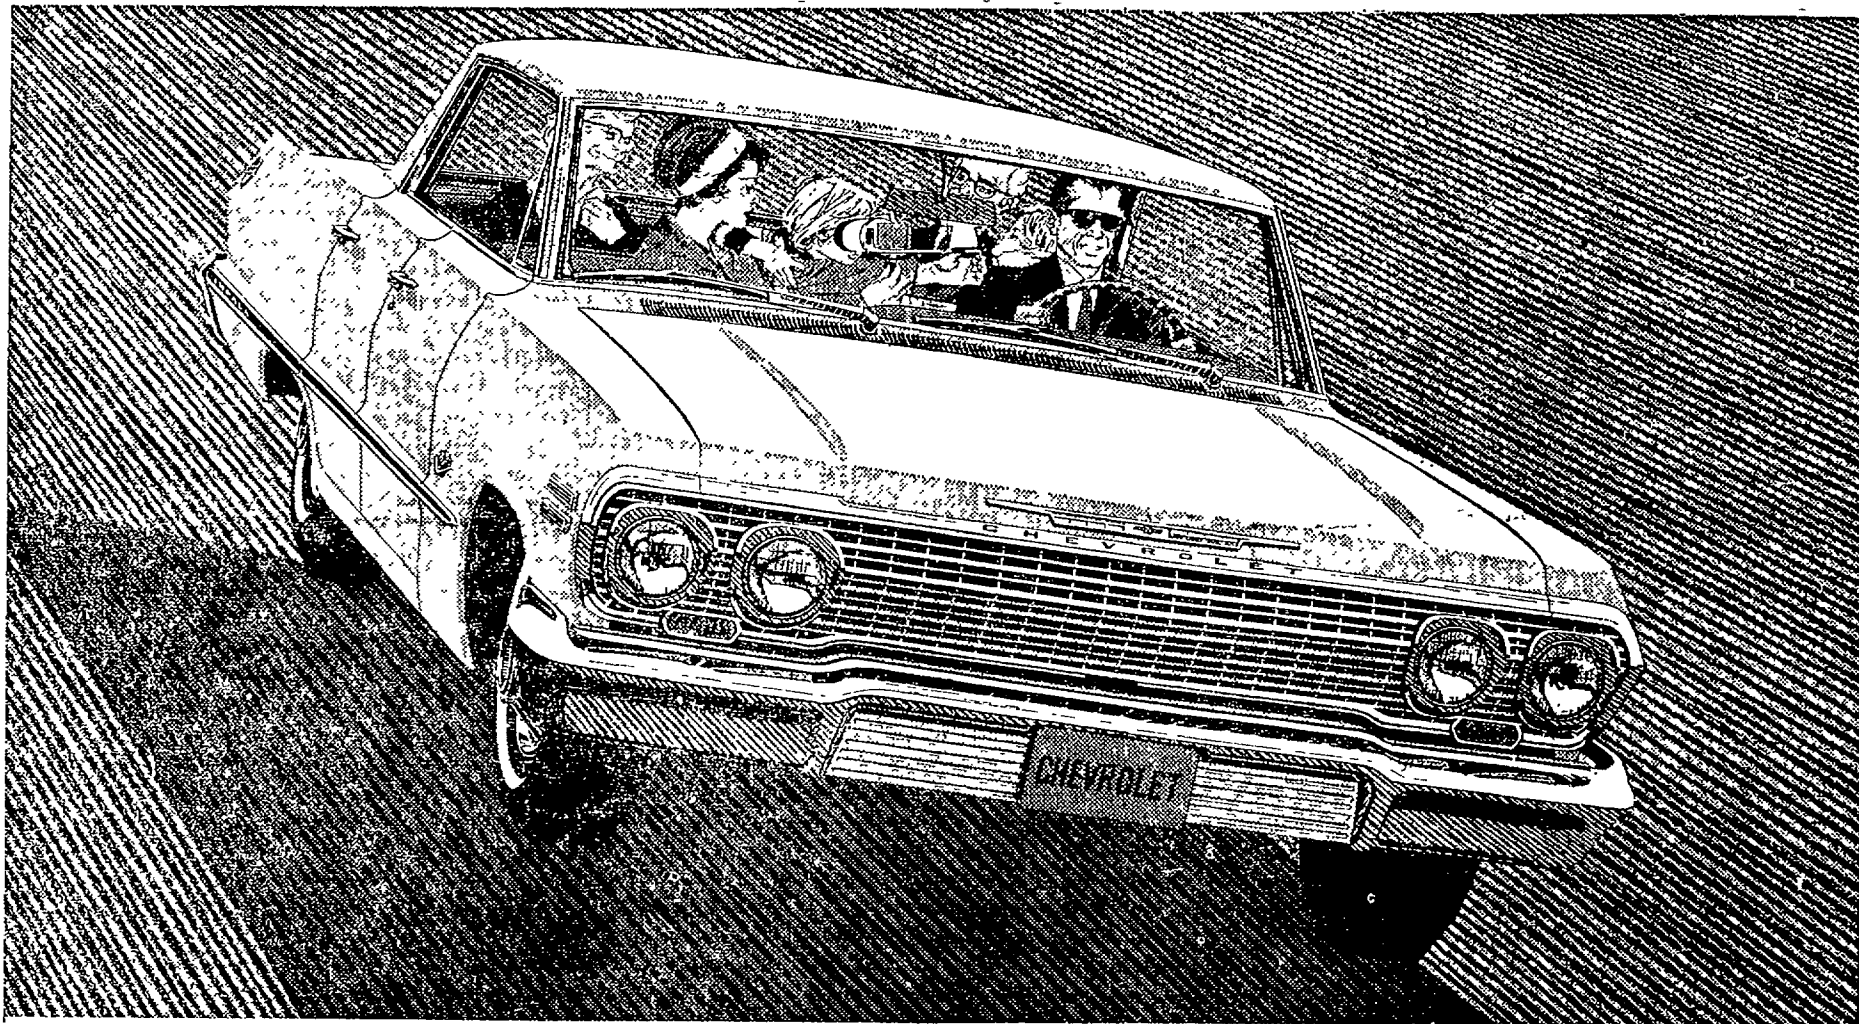

Plenty to cheer about — the Mustangs have scored again!

An eager bench and a smiling Coach Bob Horwath spell signs of victory.

No smiles here. Torn ligaments may mean the end of play for star linebacker, Rick Rebitzke.

Tomorrow-GO JET-SMOOTH CHEVROLET for '63

GO CHEVY II for '63-IT'S EXCITING!

'63 CHEVY II NOVA SPORT COUPE

Hard as it may be to believe, this year's Chevy II is better, better than last year's and better than anything in its class. It combines the new easy-care features of the big Chevrolet with its own wonderful attributes of parkable size, four- or six-cylinder fuel economy and interiors that would do justice to cars that cost twice as much.

GO CORVAIR for '63-IT'S EXCITING!

'63 CORVAIR MONZA CONVERTIBLE

Change it? Calm yourself, nobody's going to mess with a winner like this one! We did add self-adjusting brakes and a fully aluminized muffler; interiors are refined a bit, and you'll notice some trim changes, but the rest is pure untampered-with Corvair. Oh yes, we changed the taillights, so all those people you pass will know you're driving a '63.

Paul's advice to the Philippians is included in the Scriptural readings: "Finally, brethren, whatsoever things are true, whatsoever things are honest, whatsoever things are pure, whatsoever things are lovely, whatsoever things are of good report; if there be any virtue, and if there be any praise, think on these things" (Philippians 4).
Among the selections to be read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy is this brief definition of reality: "Reality is spiritual, harmonious, immutable, immortal, divine, eternal" (p. 335).

The Golden Text is from Deuteronomy (32): "Ascribe ye greatness unto our God. He is the Rock, his work is perfect."

One Fold, One Shepherd

Is there any hope for union between Roman Catholics and Protestant Christians? Yes! For Jesus prayed in the 17th chapter of John's Gospel, "That they all may be one. As thou Father art in me and I in thee, that they may be made one in us, that the world may believe."

Jesus prayed not for His immediate disciples alone but for all of those through the ages who would believe on Him through their word. That prayer included all; all of us today, Catholics and Protestants, who believe on Christ through their word.

That prayer was addressed to God, our omnipotent Father in Heaven by His only begotten Son who gave His life to make it possible for it to be answered. Surely, in the face of such considerations no one who believes in prayer and in Jesus Christ can doubt that God will bring it to pass regardless of how impossible it may appear to be.

Is there any hope for Christians and Jews and Mohammedans and Buddhists and all others to be made "One" in God's great human family? Yes! For Jesus said, "Other sheep I have which are not of this (Christian) fold. Them also I must bring." John 10:16. Christ will not fail in this mission. Of this we can be sure.

Already much progress has been made in this direction, despite the opposition and unbelief of bigoted men whose ways have always seemed so right to them in their own eyes that they have been unwilling to consider or look on anything except their "own things." Phil. 24. This has been the way of death, but, thank God, for everyone has gone in that direction. There have always been a few who have "hoped against hope" to see the way of "life from the dead."

And now, our salvation from the night of division is nearer than when we first believed. Already there is the sound of a going in the tops of the mulberry trees.

A cloud like unto a man's hand can be seen forming in the sky. It won't be long now until the dry earth of our own righteousness will be drenched with the rain of God's righteousness from Heaven.

Are you willing and able to say, "even so let it be?" Amen.

This is not as easy as it sounds for in order to save our lives we must lose them.

Our life consists in the ability which we possess to control our body, within certain limits, by the decisions of our mind.

To lose our life means to lose this control in the consciousness of being controlled by God's mind. As this is accomplished in us it is easy to see that all of man's divisive ways end in God's way — "one fold and one shepherd."

The progress in this direction which has been made has only been made through suffering by those, who, like Jesus, have been willing to lay down their lives, even as He laid down His life.

This is a spiritual reality only understood by those who experience it.

"Strait is the gate and narrow is the way which leadeth unto life and few there be which find it. But wide is the gate and broad is the way which leadeth unto destruction and many there be which go in thereat." Matt. 7:13-14.

The strait gate is that place in consciousness produced by the Holy Ghost, where an individual is in a strait betwixt two alternatives; right and wrong, as he understands such concepts resulting from having eaten of the tree of the knowledge of good and evil. In such a gate the way to enter into life is by refusing to accept a convicted state of mind on the basis of logic or reason alone. Or, to take a determined position in the workings of one's own mind as to what is right or wrong, but to give way to the pull of God's Holy Spirit calling you out of yourself and the "pride of life." (The price of the workings of your own mind, your ability as an intelligent person to decide matters and take a position as to what appears right to you.) Into that more perfect way, the action of God's mind in control of every avenue of your being. "As thou, Father, art in me and I in Thee, that they may be made one in us."

Who is willing to "Let go and let God have His wonderful way." That we may be made one in Him whether we be Jew or Gentile, Catholic or Protestant, Christian or Mohammedan.

It is a question of what manner of spirit you are of. If you are proud, or bigoted, or conceited, or pig-headed, or determined in the vain imaginings of your own mind you will have to suffer correction. But if you are "willing and obedient you can eat the good of the land." Isa 1:19.

"Be not wise, but understanding what the will of the Lord is." Eph. 5:17.

Not that you do understand necessarily, but that you have a willingness to understand and to come to the knowledge of the truth. A spirit to let God have His way. A spirit to consider what is said unto thee that the Spirit of the Lord will give understanding.

OUT OF THE PAST

ONE YEAR AGO

September 28, 1961

The future of Northville's community general hospital, recently closed for lack of sufficient operating funds, apparently now rests with the group of men who have been most determined it should reopen. It was revealed this week that the facility may in fact be reopened, but it was also revealed that a decision must be reached soon or the hospital will be converted into a convalescent home.

—Leon Bonner, 42616 Seven Mile road, has filed suit against Northville township and received a restraining order from circuit court to prevent the township from interrupting his sand removal operations at least until a court hearing on Friday.

Northville Mayor A. M. Allen will appear on television and radio next Sunday, on the WWJ public affairs series titled "Municipal Reports."

—A Wolverine Lake couple died Saturday evening in a two-car crash at Novi road and 10 1/2 mile. Dead on arrival at Pontiac General hospital were Robert and Mary Madsen, of 1347 Lakeview drive. Injured in the crash was George McMullen, of Brighton, driver and sole occupant of the other vehicle.

FIVE YEARS AGO

September 26, 1957

—Hopes for fall harness racing dates at Northville Downs this year rose to an all-time high Wednesday with a decision rendered by Wayne County Circuit Judge Frank Fitzgerald. The Judge reversed the decision of racing Commissioner James Inglis, who had denied a request for the fall dates.

—One Detroit youth died and another was seriously injured in an early morning crash Friday which ended a police chase. The youths, driving a stolen car, ran a stop sign in Northville and city policemen Eugene King and Gil Glasson began pursuit. The cars reached speeds of 75 miles an hour before the crash on Edward Hines drive near Six Mile road.

—Mrs. Paul Polino, 350 East Cady street, finished with the highest vote total in the Northville Record-Nov News subscription contest to win the first prize 1957 Ford sedan. Joe Kritch, 370 Rayson, finished a close second to take the $500 cash prize.

—Bill Yahne, a Northville high senior honor student and outstanding athlete, was honored Tuesday night as the young man who contributed most to Wolverine Boys' State in Lansing this year.

FIFTEEN YEARS AGO

September 26, 1947

—The 47-night harness racing season closed spectacularly at Northville Downs Saturday night with several new records. The evening saw new marks set in attendance, purse and the revenues of the state from the operation.

—A pre-school immunization clinic for children up to five years of age will be held Wednesday under the auspices of village Health Officer Dr. V. G. Chabut and the Wayne county department of health. Vaccinations will be given for smallpox, diphtheria, whooping cough and tetanus.

—After unsuccessful attempts to have village and county officials begin a regular cleanup of the old Northville spring, the Rotary club decided last week to take over the cleaning itself. Each week the club will draft two of its members to carry out the job.

—The women of the Presbyterian church have set October 16 as the date for their annual harvest festival. Under preparation for the fund-raising sale are such items as baked goods, canned fruits, vegetables, jellies and pickles.

—A 40 degree drop in local temperatures over a 10 hour period Sunday threatened Northville and Novi area fall crops. Heavy winds and rains lashed the area, driving the temperature from the 70's down into the 30's.

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

September 24, 1937

—More than 3,000 persons crowded Northville's business district Wednesday night for the annual harvest festival, sponsored by Northville merchants. Approximately $160 earned by the competitive games will help bolster the high school band fund.

—Charles L. Blackburn became the fourth village official or employee to die within the past nine months. A heart attack claimed Mr. Blackburn, who served as village assessor-treasurer, Tuesday. Others who have died since last December include police Chief W. H. Saford, village hall attendant R. F. Kiiken and Relief Officer Olaf Bauman.

This would enable cars to gain entrance from the back and leave from the allocated 24-ft. space.

Request from City Manager to remove parking meters from two city parking lots:

The clerk read a letter from the city manager in which he set forth the recommendations concerning the reasons for removing parking meters on the two city lots; one on E. Dunlap across from the Kroger lot and one on the E. Main street lot adjoining the Presbyterian church. It was unanimously agreed that this be considered by the parking committee before a final decision. It was also recommended that two-hour parking be checked more carefully.

Mandamus Suit:

Attorney Ogilvie reviewed the Mandamus action brought against Charles McDonald and the City of Northville by the Ford Credit Union and then explained the ruling of Judge Jos.

Sullivan on the validity of these cases, even though he recommended that the law be changed so similar cases would not re-occur. Judge McDonald then spoke about the same subject. Council wanted a rough estimate on the approximate cost of appealing such a case to the Supreme Court and was told in the neighborhood of $350 since there would be little printing expenses.

Moved by Allen, supported by Juday, that the Northville City attorney be instructed to file a claim and make an appeal to the Supreme Court in regard to the Mandamus action between the City of Northville, Charles McDonald and the Credit Union.

Ayes: Allen, Ambler, Carlson and Juday. Nays: None. Carried.

Further Consideration of Yerkes Special Assessment Concerning Pavement of Novi street

The City Attorney reported that the city versus Yerkes was coming for a hearing soon. Mr. Little proposed that a settlement of 25% of the engineer's estimate or $3,087.95 be made. The attorney was instructed to make a counter proposal.

Parking on the East Side of South Main Street.

Moved by Ambler, supported by Juday that the following resolution be adopted:

WHEREAS, it has been recommended by the Chief of Police that parking be prohibited on the south side of E. Main St. from Seven Mile Rd. to the Seven Mile Cut-off.

IT IS HEREBY RESOLVED that "No Parking" signs be posted at the above-mentioned location.

Ayes: Ambler, Carlson, Juday and Allen. Nays: None. Carried.

Purchase of City Parking Lot:

Mayor Allen reported that the Parking Committee met with Mr. Stone regarding the purchase of the Roy Stone property, located on E. Main street (legal description included in Minutes' Book). Moved by Ambler, supported by Allen that the City Attorney prepare an offer to purchase the property for the sum of $32,500 with an initial payment of not to exceed 30% of purchase price and balance to be paid over a 5-year period with interest of not to exceed 5%.

Ayes: Juday, Allen, Ambler, Nays: Carlson, Carried.

This offer back to the council at its next regular meeting.

Miscellaneous:

The city manager reported the Michigan Department of Health, specifies that the new city hall must be located in excess of 100 feet from the well.

Mr. Ambler spoke about Oscar Hammond's campaign for state commandership. Mr. Hammond would like a member or members of the council to assist him in his campaign work on the evening of September 14 and on September 15 at the State meeting at Kalamazoo. Mr. Juday will try and go on Saturday and Mr. Ambler will also try to attend.

The city manager was asked to check the signs at Northville Estates entrance at W. 8 Mile road.

The city manager was asked to check the city limits sign on Seven Mile road as well as the radar sign as it is located too far to the west.

There being no further business, the meeting was adjourned at 12:30 a.m.

SPEAKING for The Record

by Bill Silger

Although most Northville officials would probably prefer that it would wait awhile, the subject of Detroit water seems bent upon becoming an issue for decision sooner than expected.

And it is certain to stir public interest and some definite conflicting viewpoints.

It has been generally expected that eventually this area — Novi, Northville and Plymouth — would buy its water from the city of Detroit. The plan is to extend the present Detroit main westward on Eight Mile to Sheldon road and then south to Plymouth. The line is already west of Farmington.

The Detroit water board operates its system as a utility and is constantly seeking new customers to supply. Its product has definite advantages including adequate supply and softness.

It also has disadvantages to communities already operating their own systems — cost and loss of cost control. To areas like Novi and Northville and Plymouth townships, where water systems do not presently exist, Detroit appears to be the most logical and economical source.

But in order to make it profitable to construct lines to these areas the big water users — the cities of Northville and Plymouth — must first indicate willingness to buy.

Last week Detroit water board officials called for meetings with local area officials. It appears that Detroit would like some definite answers concerning our intentions. Do we want Detroit water and when?

In a letter to Northville's city manager it was pointed out that water would be available for next summer. The proposed rate would be about 54 percent higher than present.

It's generally believed that Detroit turned its attention to the area when the city of Plymouth asked permission to purchase at least two acres of county-owned land in Northville township to construct a one-to-three million gallon water reservoir.

Detroit officials interpreted this to mean that Plymouth was ready to enter the water supply business.

But Plymouth officials have said they want the highland reservoir only to supply badly needed pressure for their present users.

Detroit says it has a commitment to construct water mains through this area to Plymouth by 1965.

If the cities of Northville and Plymouth are not willing to indicate their intentions concerning Detroit water, then Detroit water board officials would like a release from its commitment. It is ready to build its lines now; it would divert its attention to other areas.

Northville city officials are happy with their present water set-up, but recognize that a ground supply is an indefinite thing. They don't want to turn their backs on Detroit because it may become a badly needed source of supply in just a few short years.

Further, it has been argued that soft Detroit water could be more economical when one considers cost of water softening and soaps.

Novi has expressed a definite interest in obtaining Detroit water. The issue here rests over the cost of purchasing the existing system supplying Willowbrook subdivision, which is owned by the developer.

He's asking $150,000. Village officials believe this is high.

Northville township has little demand and no system. Officials recognize a water supply will be needed some day and are now establishing commissions that will control and provide maintenance for a township system.

Plymouth township is ready and apparently eager for Detroit water. The cities of Northville and Plymouth appear much the same — interested but not in a hurry.

One Northville official expressed a city point of view when it was mentioned that Plymouth township wanted the water. "I understand their need, but why should the taxpayers of the city who have mer and paid for this responsibility with their own systems be hurried into buying Detroit water to accommodate an area that has waited and made no capital investment."

If Detroit would press Northville for an immediate answer, the council would probably ask for public hearings and a complete airing of all the facts — costs, present supply, etc.

As it stands now, Northville wants time. For this the council would probably enter into some contractual agreement for the future.

But, if Detroit says "now, or maybe never" — we have a serious consideration.

When Charles Ely, local fuel oil dealer, saw the sleek experimental model Lincoln Futura at the Monday opening of Manufacturers' drive-in bank, it reminded him of the speed of our modern times.

"Last week end my wife and I visited friends in New York City. When we arrived home, we called them from our house. They arrived at their home in the Bronx from Idlewild about 20 minutes before we got to Northville," Ely noted.

The jet flight from New York to Detroit took one hour and four minutes. "Didn't even have time for a second cup of coffee about the plane," he added.

Battle for House Leadership Underway

A HEAVY TURNOVER in the State Legislature next year nearly precludes prediction of the men who will hold the leadership posts in at least one chamber.

In the House of Representatives, a battle is quickly shaping up over the member who will fill the Speaker's chair vacated when Don R. Pears, Buchanan Republican, stepped out. Pears made an unsuccessful bid for the GOP nomination in the 4th Congressional District.

AT LEAST TWO other Republicans have loudly voiced interest in replacing Pears on the rostrum. These are Rep. Robert E. Waldron of Grosse Pointe and current Majority Leader Allison Green of Kings-ton.

All House members vote in the Speaker election although the majority party caucus usually determines who its "favorite son" will be.

If the present 56-54 division of the House is maintained after the November election, Democratic votes on the Speaker will be very important.

WALDRON, WHO CHAIRED the Labor Committee, was less than popular among Democratic members. His committee recommended the many unemployment compensation law changes strongly opposed by Democrats and buried bills introduced by the minority party.

Green, as floor leader, was less than liked by the Democrats but could well emerge as the most favorable of the three likely candidates for Speaker. A dark horse candidate among the Republicans might well also be brought out of any lengthy caucus as the party favorite.

BARRING A GOP SWEEP of the election, Democrats maintain hope of gaining control of the House, which has been nearly evenly divided during the last four years.

In 1959 when a 55-55 split occurred Minority Leader Joseph J. Kowalski of Detroit and his assistant, Albert R. Horri-gan of Flint, were the nominees for the Speaker and Speaker Pro-Tem.

All indications are that the same two would be the Democratic choices for the top leadership again.

IN THE SENATE, of course, the presiding officer will be the Lieutenant Governor elected in November.

The President Pro-Tem, however, is elected from the majority party ranks. Sen. Perry W. Greene, Grand Rapids Republican, holds this spot until his retirement at the end of the current session.

A likely shakeup in the GOP ranks of the upper chamber presents a strong possibility that the so-called "moderates" will be in the majority.

Because of the traditional strong majority held by Republicans the party caucus nominee will be elected. Sen. John W. Fitzgerald of Grand Ledge or former Majority Leader Frank D. Beadle of St. Clair appear likely nominees for the post. AN OLD TRAIL believed to have been carved out by herds of buffalo, in migration across Michigan's Lower Peninsula formed the basis for one of the state's main east-west traffic arteries.

The present U.S. 12 highway from Detroit through Coldwater and Niles and to the south-west corner of the state is probably the oldest travel route in Michigan. Until recently it was known as U.S. 112.

Lewis Cass, Michigan's governor during territorial days, became the first American to cover the distance from Chicago to Detroit on the trail which later became the highway.

CASS LED A PARTY of explorers into northern Minnesota in 1820. On their eastward return many returned to Detroit via the Great Lakes.

Cass went south to visit Chicago. An overland horseback trip brought Cass back to Detroit on the southern Michigan route once traveled by buffaloes and Indians.

Just four years after his trip, Cass had the route surveyed and put on the map. It has been there ever since.

DRY CLEANING machines if improperly operating or used can be deadly weapons, according to State Health Commissioner Albert E. Heustis.

"We have had several incidents reported, and similar reports have been made across the nation, of children being overcome by fumes from the dry cleaning solvent," Heustis said. Heavy articles particularly have a tendency to retain the odor of the dry cleaning fluid used in the machines, especially if the machine is not working properly.

HEUSTIS SAID machines with defects, which tend to complete the cycle before clothes are completely dry, should be reported to the operators of the establishment.

"If no one is available to give assistance, caution should be used in handling the articles," he said.

"Articles that are still damp or retain the odor of the solvent should be hung outside to dry, and under no circumstances should they be placed in a closed auto or small room."

Roger Babson

Every Adult Should Have A Will

Babson Park, Mass., It is the personal duty of every adult man and woman to make a will. Most people realize this basically, and yet I am constantly surprised by the number of intelligent folk who "just don't get around to it."

Nobody likes to think about death, and still one cannot look at the daily newspapers without realizing how many reach an untimely end through automobile smashups and other hazards of civilization. You may live to a very ripe old age, but you might die tomorrow. Let me tell you why I think it is all-important to protect your estate by a will, whatever your age.

Select Your Own Executor A will gives you the opportunity of choosing in advance a friendly executor rather than having some judge appoint an acquaintance of his with whom you might not be satisfied. If you die intestate and the court has to disburse your estate, it can run up a lot of costs, including the necessity for a bond.

Most of these costs can be avoided by making your will and appointing your own executor. Under some circumstances, your executor can give you beneficiaries securities or property at a fair value instead of cash.

Your own executor, also, can use discretionary powers that a court appointee would not possess. He can, for example, decide what property to sell, and follow out the directions in will advises you on.

Your will as to the disposition of certain articles of clothing, furniture, etc. to definite friends or relatives. He can do the things that you want done in the way that you would do them yourself, without litigation fears.

Your estate may be saved thousands of dollars because your executor can be given time through your will to use his best judgment and consult with other people, and thus avoid liquidating your assets hurriedly or during a time of depression.

Wills Permit Special Provisions Only through a will can you arrange to leave money in trust so that the bereaved can have the full income for life and then have the principal go to the children or other chosen people. You can, if you wish, distribute your property in unequal amounts among your heirs where the need of some may be greater than that of others. It should be clearly recognized, too, that it could take two years or more for a court appointed executor to settle your affairs, and your heirs might have little or nothing to live on during this period.

An executor can be authorized in your will to disburse a certain amount each month to your wife, for instance, pending final settlement. This can be increased if there is illness or unexpected trouble. Change in your will can be made by possess. He can, for example, decide what property to sell, and follow out the directions in will advises you on.

Any good lawyer (he should be a resident of your state) will be able to put your wishes into clear legal shape. He will tell you to have the will signed by three witnesses who watch you affix your signature; preferably, witnesses should not include those mentioned in the document. He will explain any technicalities to you, particularly as to the laws in your state.

Most people have favorite churches and charities that they intend to remember, but these organizations will receive nothing unless there is a will. Every man and woman should leave something to his or her church, especially since religion is still the only hope for our unsettled and disturbed world. Practically everything of value that we have — democracy, schools, hospitals, personal freedom — we owe to the work of the church. So don't forget your church in your will.

Reputable Lawyer Important I urge you not to try to make your own will to save a few dollars. Find a reputable lawyer, give him a complete list of the gifts you want to make, and designate whom you want for an executor.

Any good lawyer (he should be a resident of your state) will be able to put your wishes into clear legal shape. He will tell you to have the will signed by three witnesses who watch you affix your signature; preferably, witnesses should not include those mentioned in the document. He will explain any technicalities to you, particularly as to the laws in your state.

It is a good idea to have at least three carbon copies of your will so that your suggested executor can familiarize himself with your intentions. One can be put in your safe deposit box for your own personal reference, and one can remain with your lawyer. The original should be left with your bank and a receipt there for obtained. Even if you have not very much money at this time, you should make a will. It will turn out to be a fine investment for you.

Dr. Mudd Replies

'We're Unhappily Married'

Dear Dr. Mudd: My husband and I got married when we both were in college. At that time we were both interested in microbiology and I think that this mutual interest was what probably first brought us together.

We had a hard time of it financially. We lived in a two room apartment and both of us worked so that we really didn't see much of each other. We got used to going out seeking our own interests in the evening and as we got older we changed. I got interested in dramatics and my husband developed his own business (which he still runs) and also ended up teaching in a local junior college.

We are having a terrible time. I've even told him that he either sees a psychiatrist (and I'm willing to go to one, too) or I will get a divorce by the end of the month. I can't stand it. I go out about twice a week with this dramatic group and he stays home with the children. By the way, he's been working for his Ph.D. for the past ten years and I've been working out of the home all this time. Finally, I told him I was through — that if he really wanted to get that degree he'd have to do it himself and that I was through supporting him.

Perhaps I acted rashly, but my husband is very slow moving and it takes things like this to make him face up to his responsibilities. There are other things — more intimate things there's a great deal of trouble with too. I know I can't go into all the details in a letter that may be published but I've done everything I know how, but it hasn't helped. He's been sleeping in the extra bedroom for over a year. I guess I take out my frustrations by getting interested in acting and he's always accusing me of being away from the house. He accuses me of only wanting him as a baby-sitter. Actually, I feel it is the other way around — it was he who moved out on me!

And now there is this other man. I know something could come of it so very easily. He is so fine and wonderful and he's interested in the same things I am. I keep thinking to myself that I'm getting older and that life isn't much fun and right here is a chance — something glorious to take advantage of. I know it's wrong to feel that way, but you can't imagine how embittered I'm becoming at my husband's lack of real interest and concern of me. I don't think we love each other any more. I even wonder if he ever did and that maybe we didn't start a mess years ago for which there is no help.

I know something is wrong with him but how can I convince him? I know he can't be helped unless he feels the need for it himself, but how do I get him to realize that his trouble just isn't because he works too hard or some other excuse he comes up with? It's a wild hope, but I'm going to show him your answer to my letter. I really pray that some one will get through to him and since he reads you every week, maybe you'll have an influence on him.

Ann E.

Dear Ann E.: Yours is a tragic story and I'm certain there's a good deal more unhappiness in both your lives than you can do justice to in writing. Yours is also a story with which I am very familiar in general outline; though the details which make it uniquely yours are different than any I have heard before. You and your husband were immature when you married and your compatibility was sustained in large measure because of interests you both had outside yourselves. No doubt your mutual interest in microbiology not only attracted you to one another, but also formed a kind of "cement" which has kept you together for so long a time. Unhappily, neither of you matured psychologically to the degree that you have physically. Both of you are still active and living like school kids, and neither one of you have really come to grips with reality of married life!

It is not so easy to write to you with such bluntness because my very manner may antagonize and serve to keep you from seeking the very kind of help which would be of greatest benefit to you. But since this is more for your husband's eyes than for yours, I want him to see that the difficulties he has labored under are as much appreciated as are your own burdens in living with him!

I think dramatics are a wonderful hobby for you, but your husband and children come first and foremost. If, after they have been taken care of, there is still time left — and if your husband agrees with your taking part in it, I think acting could be a great enjoyment for both of you. It is essential that there be mutuality in a marriage; that each appreciates the interest and activities of the other, not necessarily joining in them but respecting each others wishes. I don't think either of you have even considered, much less learned the meaning of mutual, appreciative respect. You are too much interested in the stage and he has his own ends to pursue. His foot dragging in obtaining his degree is lamentable. Maybe he isn't good Ph.D. material, or deep down feels unconvinced of the value such a degree would have for him. Or maybe, considering how things are between the two of you, he sees no sense in knocking himself out for an unappreciative wife. It sounds as though he is in pretty deep trouble, although of course this can only be properly determined by a psychiatrist who must first have the opportunity of examining him. The fact that he so clearly denies anything being wrong with him does not make the outlook favorable for him, just as the fact that you ascribe the balance of your marital difficulties to him does not make me feel that you will be willing to do much about yourself either. Of course, the main concern is, the difficulty of getting him to correctly appraise the situation, to see that he is not functioning normally, and to be brought to the conclusion that he needs to take corrective action.

There is, no way I know of to get an emotionally disturbed person to seek help for himself. It is a need that has to be felt first and all the persuasiveness in the world seems to be powerless to motivate the sick person to seek assistance from a physician. I do hope that his will be of help to your husband. You should contact your family physician to get the name of a psychiatrist with whom to make an appointment.

Sincerely yours,
Sandor Mudd, M.D.
