One hundred local residents will visit every area home and business place during a nine-day period beginning next Tuesday as Northville's sixth annual United Foundation Torch Drive gets underway.

Directing the residential campaign and a determined band of 82 women volunteers will be Mrs. Otha Baggett.

The community business solicitation will be headed by William Keith.

Total goal for this year's "Give Once for All" campaign is $3,531. The drive extends

At Testimonial Industry Hailed By Full House

An audience of 105 Northville area business people paid tribute to Northville's industry and heard the chairman of Michigan's Industrial Ambassadors outline what industry expects from a community last Thursday evening at Meadowbrook Country club.

The occasion was the Northville Area Economic Development Corporation's testimonial dinner honoring industry.

It also served to "kick-off" the newly-formed committee's effort to encourage proper economic growth for the school district area.

Honor guests were: Consumers Power Company, represented by James Ralson and B. Floyd Neff; Ford Motor Company, Joseph Butick and K. W. Dyingier; Fordney Flak and Equipment Company, John A. Weber, John W. Weber and Peter Kitten; Haller, Inc., John Haller and M. C. Sarnes; Mergal Oil Products, John Swain, Northville Downs, John Carlo; Northville Driving Club, Dr. L. W. Snow; Northville Laboratories, C. E. Langfield and Norman Sarvis; and Warren Products, Frank Martin.

C. A. Smith, president of the newly-formed area economic development corporation, introduced the honored guests and gave a brief description of the history and operation of each firm.

"We are fortunate to have such outstanding leaders. You are of great importance to our economic stability and development," Smith told the industrialists.

Roblee B. Martin, president of Dundee Cement Company and chairman of Michigan's Industrial Ambassadors, was the main speaker of the evening.

Martin described what industry expects from a community and noted that "industry does not want preferential treatment, but it does insist upon fair treatment."

The speaker praised the community for its consideration of its existing industry — and then warned the committee that it should be "ready for disappointments."

Neighboring Area Plans Hospital

The group seeking to locate a 100-bed community hospital for service in the western Oakland county area last week selected an architect for its building, even though it has not yet obtained a site.

The Huron Valley community hospital board of directors chose Detroit architect Victor J. Basco to design its hospital.

The board hopes to locate an expendable 100-bed medical facility in the area of Milford to serve western Oakland county and adjacent areas.

The hospital, which would be open to both doctors of medicine and doctors of osteopathy, is specifically intended to serve the 10-township area that includes Novi, Lyon, Green Oaks, Hartland, Brighton, Rose, Highland, Milford, White Lake and Commerce townships.

Besides regular bed space, the board of directors envisions a hospital featuring three major operating rooms, special fracture and cystoscopy rooms and a maternity ward including two delivery rooms, private labor rooms and nursery facilities.

Also planned for the building are two diagnostic X-ray suits, modern laboratory and pharmacy facilities and a physical therapy department.

In selecting its architect last week, the directors listened to presentations by four architectural firms from Detroit and Pontiac. The four had been screened from among about a dozen that had been offered specifications for the job.

Basso, who spent seven years designing hospital buildings for the Sisters of Mercy, and has worked on a number of other public buildings set his fee at five and a half per cent of the cost of the hospital.

The board has estimated the hospital will cost about $1,400,000 to build. It plans to begin a fund-raising campaign next month, and hopes to break ground for the hospital building next spring.

The fund drive will be directed by professional fund raisers from the Burgill, incorporated fund raising firm of Kansas City, Missouri.

The fund raising director is scheduled to arrive in Milford next Monday. His office will be located in Milford, but activities will be carried on throughout the 10-township area.

After a brief familiarization period, the fund raiser will begin the 12-week campaign to obtain sufficient funds for construction of the hospital.

Once the hospital has been constructed, the board of directors hopes to operate it as a non-profit institution without any type of tax support.

The Huron Valley community hospital association is a non-profit corporation that was founded in June of 1960 to locate a hospital in the Huron Valley area.

But the association and its board of directors had barely become organized when consideration began of possibly creating a hospital authority for the northwestern Wayne and southwestern Oakland county areas.

After the hospital authority failed to materialize, the board of directors decided to go ahead with plans of its own for a community hospital. Last spring it began meeting regularly to work out finances, seek a site and obtain professional services necessary to carry out the project.

It is now considering several sites, and preliminary architectural work will begin as soon as final site selection has been completed. The board hopes to open the doors for patients by May of 1964.

The hospital would be staffed with doctors primarily from the 10-township area or adjacent communities which would be served by the hospital on a regular basis.

Northville's public school students will enjoy two days off—today and Friday—while their teachers convene for lectures and workshop sessions.

Teachers will attend the Michigan Education Association institute for region two at Cobo Hall in Detroit today. On Friday teachers from the elementary and secondary grades will split up into workshops throughout the region for specialized study sessions in all phases of education.

Council Rushes City Hall Plans To Win Matching Federal Funds

GETTING PRACTICE — Mrs. Dewey Butt, one of the many women volunteers who will begin soliciting funds for Northville's sixth annual United Foundation Drive, tried her skill out on a neighbor this week. She's shown above at the residence of Mrs. K. H. Babelf, 306 South Rogers. That's Nancy and Terry Butt giving mother a hand. The nine-day drive is scheduled for October 16-24.

School Board Establishes Policy on Tuition Students

A policy governing the entrance of non-resident students in the Northville public school system was adopted Monday night by the board of education.

Northville has agreed to enter into a contract to act as sponsoring district for the Training School so that it might be eligible to receive state aid for its students.

But the board was not satisfied with the terminology in the agreement as specified in a letter written by Harold R. Brown of the Michigan Department of Public Instruction.

The board indicated that it believed the letter failed to state that the Northville district would in no way be involved in the preparation of Training School reports or that their children would not be counted on

See Library, Fire Hall With $150,000 Grant

The Northville city council launched a "crash program" Monday night to prepare preliminary plans for a new city hall when it was learned that the project could qualify for up to $150,000 in federal funds under the new Federal Public Works Acceleration Act.

City Manager Bruce Potthoff told council members that he had been assured by a representative of the Housing and Home Finance Agency in Chicago that Northville's city hall project would be eligible for the federal grant.

"But we must submit preliminary plans within four weeks," Potthoff explained.

The HHFA office in Chicago will administer the program that was designed to stimulate employment and boost the economy in distressed areas immediately.

Michigan will receive approximately $90 million of the $900 million appropriation. None of the money will be used by the state, but will go directly to local communities.

The bill stipulates that the community must provide half the money for the project. Preliminary plans must accompany the application for federal aid and it is stipulated that the actual construction contract for the project must be awarded within 120 days after application is made to HHFA in Chicago.

Further, the bill stipulates that the project must be completed within one year after the contract is signed with the federal government.

Designed to pump the economy by encouraging spending for needed projects immediately that may otherwise have been delayed because of shortage of funds, the legislation seems hand-made for Northville.

The city has $150,000 in the bank earmarked for a new city hall. It has been considered by some officials that this sum

Scout Building Fund Drive Opens

Organization of the Northville scout-recreation building fund committee got underway last week as the 40-member group held its first meeting.

Sub-committees were formed and major emphasis was placed on an advanced campaign for special gifts.

It was determined that donors of $50 or more would receive patron's certificates of recognition, while all contributors will be recognized with an acknowledgment card. Drive goal is $12,000.

Monday night the city council turned its attention to the naming of the new building.

In a letter addressed to the council by Councilman John Canterbury, director of the fund drive, it was proposed that the council adopt a resolution naming the building in honor of the late Mrs. Alex (Jeanette) Lawrence Mrs. Lawrence was well known for her work with girl scouts and in conducting activities in the former scout building.

"We couldn't make a better choice," said Councilwoman Beatrice Carlson. Her endorsement was backed up by Councilman Richard Ambler. "I think it's important that we do name buildings to give people credit for the work they've done in the community," Ambler added.

A new contribution of $100 to the fund was also announced by the Northville Estates Civic Association. Other contributions have come from the Mothers Club ($1,000), the Jaycees ($760) and the Rotary Club ($1,015). The latter contribution was earmarked for equipment.

Sub-committee appointments for the advance gift solicitation include: organizations and clubs — Mrs. Louise Canfield and C. A. Smith; merchants — Charles Altman, Jr., and Wilson Funk; professional — Philip Ogilvie, Dr. James Blum, Dr. J. K. Eastland, industry — William Secord and Walter Couse; labor unions — William Wilson.

The next meeting of the committee is scheduled for October 18 at 8 p.m. in the junior high school library.

City Awards Bid to Cole

The city council awarded the contract to construct the new scout-recreation building to Hatley J. Cole and Son Monday night.

The local construction firm had been low bidder at $25,878.56.

Cole told the council he would like to have time to examine the contract. He was given until the council's next meeting, Monday night, to act.

The council made no special provisions in the contract as had previously been discussed when the possibility of labor problems was posed.

If Cole signs the contract, he has 120 days from October 22 to complete the project. He estimated time of construction at 90 days.

The building will be constructed on city-owned property adjacent to the cemetery on Cady Street.

Kitchen Diary

Roast Duckling, Apple Pan Dowdy!

For an 'out of the ordinary' dinner to serve on special occasions to family or friends, you might like to try the menu suggested by Mrs. Arthur Basel, 39710 Haggerty Court. While duck is noted for its greasiness, the dry stuffing in this recipe reduces most of it and adds a special succulence.

ROAST DUCKLING WITH ORANGE SAUCE

Sprinkle the cavity of a 4-5 pound duckling with 1 tsp. caraway seed and stuff with:
1 quart dry bread stuffing
1/4 cup minced onion
1/4 cup minced green pepper
1/4 cup minced celery
1 tsp. salt
one-eighth tsp. pepper
1 T. crushed sage.

Place stuffed bird, breast side up in an uncovered pan. Bake an hour and three quarters, or until done, in a 325 degree oven.

Do not baste or add water. When done without removing dressing, cut into four sections, lengthwise and crosswise, and saturate with orange sauce.

ORANGE SAUCE

Combine:
1/2 cup sugar
1 T. cornstarch (do not substitute flour)
3/4 cup boiling water.
Cook until thick and clear like gravy.

Add:
2 T. butter
1/4 cup fresh orange juice
1 T. lemon juice
1 T. grated orange rind
Reserve some of the sauce to serve hot at the table. Serves four.

SWEET POTATO ORANGE CUPS

Mix.
1 large can sweet potatoes

1/2 tsp. nutmeg
1 tsp. salt
1/4 c. canned milk
1 T. melted butter
1/4 c. raisins (optional)

Whip at medium speed on electric mixer and fill six medium sized oranges that have been previously juiced and scraped of pulp. Set in shallow baking dish and bake in 350 degree oven for 35-40 minutes.

This mixture may be prepared ahead of time.

To complete the menu, Mrs. Basel serves a tossed salad with tangy dressing, vegetable, hot rolls and ice cream.

Another favorite with her husband and two sons, Dean, 7, and Mark, 3, is an old New England recipe for Apple Pan Dowdy.

APPLE PAN DOWDY

Combine:
1/4 cup Bisquick
1 cup brown sugar, packed
1/2 tsp. salt
1 tsp. vinegar

1 c. water
Cook over low heat until thick and clear. Remove and add 1 tsp. vanilla
1 T. butter

While this mixture is cooling prepare 5 c. pared, sliced apples (6-7 medium) and arrange in a greased 8 inch square baking pan and sprinkle with cinnamon, nutmeg and granulated sugar to taste.

Mix 1 1/2 c. Bisquick and 1/4 c. cream or canned milk and drop over apples and sprinkle again with sugar, cinnamon and nutmeg.

Pour cooled sauce over all and bake 35 minutes in 400 degree oven. Serve plain or with top milk or cream.

how's this for exploding the myth that cars have to be expensive to look it! Tempest '63

Maybe you can tell the difference between Pontiac's Tempest (especially that Le Mans) and the high-priced jobs. Besides having a 4 that acts like a V-8, Tempest sports a new 260-hp V-8* that acts like nothing you ever got your hands on before. And besides its beautiful balance, Tempest has Wide-Track this year. And self-adjusting brakes and a tachometer* and fetching style and all kinds of niceties that'll make your Tempest smoother and tougher. About all it doesn't have is a big fat price tag. Vive la difference! Pontiac Tempest and pretend you own this lovely brick and stone tri-level in exclusive Bloomcrest Sub. on its pretty acre plot. Better yet — if you are looking at $30,000 - $40,000 homes, you owe it to yourself to look through this great big bargain. — BUT — don't pretend you have $5,000 to pay down, as that is what it takes and it's a loss of your time to just "wish" you had one like this. Honestly, a "champagne" home at a "short beer" price. Glad to prove it to you, let me show you.

Northville Record—Novi News—Thursday, October 11, 1962 Section One — Page Six

ONE YEAR AGO October 12, 1961

—Northville's Fifth annual United Foundation Torch Drive gets underway next week with a business and house-to-house solicitation goal of almost $4,000.

—A proposed plan to guarantee regular annual pay raises for Northville coaches and other teaching personnel in charge of extra-curricular activities was turned down by the school board Monday night.

—Two new lecture series will make their Northville debuts next week. The Rotary club-sponsored travelogue gets underway Tuesday night, and the OLV Altar society's Northville Town Hall series opens Thursday morning.

—A "community development" survey will be undertaken this month by the Northville junior chamber of commerce to determine what projects the organization should sponsor.

Members will be calling on area residents to seek new ideas for projects.

—First speaker in the Novi board of commerce-sponsored series of public meetings on the pros and cons of city incorporation for Novi will be L. L. Friedland, a professor of political science at Wayne State University.

—Herbert Koester, 42780 West Eight Mile road, this week with a $200,000 court suit. Koester stated that he is retaining an attorney to bring action against council President Joseph Crupi, police Chief Lee BeGole and the village at large for "unlawfully ejecting" him from Monday night's council meeting. Crupi had ordered Koester's removal from council chambers after repeated warnings to Koester that he must be recognized before speaking.

FIVE YEARS AGO October 10, 1957

—Workouts at Northville Downs stopped abruptly Tuesday afternoon as hopes that another harness racing season would begin this week were killed by a Supreme court decision in Lansing. Nearly 400 horses had already arrived at the Downs in anticipation of the 24-night meet requested by the Michigan Horsemen's Racing Club but opposed by state racing Commissioner James Inglis.

—Action taken by the Northville city council Monday night cleared the way for the 122-home "Northville Heights" subdivision to be started this year. A detailed agreement providing for city installation of sewer and water lines for the subdivision was approved by the council.

—Two elderly women escaped injury Saturday afternoon, but Novi police Chief Lee BeGole was badly burned while fighting a wind-fanned fire which threatened a Grand River home. BeGole, first to arrive at the flaming home of Richard Noble, 42520 Grand River, was trapped on the roof by flames when another fireman began spraying him to extinguish his burning clothes.

—The flu bug traveled fast in Northville over the weekend, and absences at the high school soared from six per cent on Friday to a booming 20 per cent Monday. By Wednesday the rate had dropped to 18 per cent.

—Wixom will vote November 26 on whether to incorporate as a city. Voters will also name a nine-member charter commission charged with the duty of preparing a city charter if incorporation is approved.

FIFTEEN YEARS AGO October 10, 1947

—The Northville village commission Monday night appointed Herman Hartner as director of public works to succeed Dan Lafferty, recently deceased.

—Mrs. David Hay has been elected president of the Lloyd H. Green Post auxiliary. First vice-president is Mrs. Onita Carrington, and Mrs. Demar Risher is second vice-president. Secretary is Mrs. Lena Hammond and treasurer is Mrs. Lila Chapman.

—Wine-colored velvet curtains decorated with large gold "N's" have been donated to the high school for the assembly hall stage. Money for the curtains was provided by the class of '45, but they were not purchased until recently because material was not available.

—Paul Stueckle, of Walnut street, discovered Friday night that a friendly gesture isn't always appreciated. Driving through Lansing on his way back to Northville, Stueckle picked up two young couples who were hitch hiking. On the way to Brighton, the couples produced a revolver and robbed him of both $70 and his car.

—"Grandma's Chocolate Cak" was its title, and the final product tasted so good that Better Homes and Gardens picked it as one of the nation's seven best recipes. Published in a list of seven 'old favorites', the recipe was provided by Mrs. Roy Matheson, of 322 North Rogers street.

—There'll be "hot times in the old schoolhouse" starting next Wednesday night. For that's when the Northville recreation committee will begin offering the latest in its list of adult evening courses. The new class will feature C. C. Winters, who will provide instruction in welding.

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO October 8, 1937

The Northville - Plymouth area has been included in areas selected to receive a portion of the $2,000,000 in PWA sewage disposal projects approved recently. Some $900,000 of the project, aimed at eliminating sewage in the Rouge River branches, will go toward completion of a sewage system for this area.

—Dr. W. H. Johnson began duties Friday as deputy county relief administrator of the Wayne county welfare relief commission. He succeeds Stuart W. Grant, who resigned last July after being accused of inefficiency and negligence in investigating Hamtramck welfare cases.

—Approximately 400 persons attended the all-day mission festival sessions held Sunday at St. Paul's Lutheran church. Principal speaker was the Reverend A. F. Beyer, of Fowler.

—Northville's greatest fall bargain festival, a three-day event slated to start next Friday and continue through the following Monday, will feature a complete line of bargains from local merchants.

—Look before you leap is an old saying for which Miss Irene Fennell has provided a new twist — watch where you drive. Miss Fennell, superintendent of Sessions hospital, reported this week that October is the worst month of the year for automobile accidents. The reason? She says it's because so many drivers are looking at Johnny Frost's beautiful fall paintings instead of at the road.

IT WORKS THIS WAY — Mrs. W. E. McCarthy's third grade class from Main street school visited The Record last week. Advertising Manager Rod Dahlager is shown pointing out The Record's Goss automatic web-fed newspaper press to the youngsters. They toured all departments of the newspaper and commercial printing plant.

Reader Speaks

To the Editor:

When good relationship between the Village Council and the citizens ceases to exist, then this decision; ephemeral council should be recalled. It would be unfair of course, to apply this drastic action against the two new recent elected councilmen, until we have had a longer period of time to observe them.

On September 17, regular meeting of the council about 40 citizens were present waiting to be heard, but were ignored until 10:00 p.m. Then on October 1, council meeting, I had a letter that was placed on the agenda protesting the purchase of a station wagon for D.P.W. Commissioner Mr. Miller. I insisted that it could not be used for any other purpose than transporting people, and that a pickup truck would have served the community more from a practical standpoint, in that it could have been loaded with materials with a chain fall. I was denied to comment on this by Councilman Lénheiser until later in the meeting, which would have been about 11 p.m.

Some meetings back I was shocked to hear Councilman Lénheiser remark, "What does the citizens expect for 5-mills", but he failed to state that because of village status another $130,000 is poured into the village by the state and county up and above the 5-mills, which amounts to about $52,000,000 per year.

With all these additional moneys, all I can say that I still maintain my own D.P.W. water and sewers on my land. I will say that I did get good service from the police department, in that they checked my home while we were on our vacation.

In closing, the only progress, if it is progress is more ordinances which half are not needed, and a gravel pit for Mr. Councilman Anderson.

Signed Herbert Koester

Mustangs Drop First W-O Game in 14 Starts

"I'd rather not say," replied Northville football Coach Ron Horwath this week when asked what he thought about last Friday's 7-0 loss to Bloomfield Hills — the Mustangs' first Wayne-Oakland league failure in 14 starts since mid-way in the 1960 season.

But the way he feels about the game was demonstrated by the tone of his voice and the plans he has for future games. Besides planning a number of personnel switches to get rid of tiredness caused by two-way offense-defense players, Horwath's hoping to "work on getting a little hustle into our game" during practice sessions this week.

First off, the coach plans to move Ralph Conrad from his guard spot to defensive line-backer. The switch was made necessary by a leg injury suffered last week by Ron Reitzke.

Both Ron and his twin brother Rick, who was injured two weeks earlier, are now out for the season from almost identical injuries, Horwath reports.

In the backfield, Jim Jiggins will be filling in for Joe May as an offensive half-back. Horwath's planning to save May for defensive work. And Tom Swiss will be relieved of his defensive half-back duties so he'll be fresher for offense.

On the line, Mike Lang will be resting while the offense works so he'll be ready for his tough defensive assignments as a tackle. And Bob Tuck will be moved into center spot in place of Bruce Dingwall.

Finding replacements needed to carry out these switches will be one of the main jobs Horwath hopes to accomplish this week.

He doesn't anticipate too many re-training problems from removing parts of his offense, though, because most players are now familiar with the jobs they'll be assigned to do.

But the coach admits that he'll probably have to go with primarily the same offensive play he's been using this season, because most of the practice session work with new plays has involved players who won't be seeing so much offensive action.

"Better a defense that's fresh and strong than a crack team that peters out from tiredness," Horwath philosophizes about the changes.

Second-half, drag nothered Northville when it lost the non-league season opener to Plymouth. And it showed up again in last week's defeat.

The Mustangs picked up 146 of their 210 yards rushing against Bloomfield in the first half. And the Northville defense stopped a sudden Baron scoring threat early in the first quarter, but was unable to hold back a long march that finally resulted in Bloomfield's TD.

Horwath's hoping to see less sluggishness this Friday night when he takes his charges to Milford to meet the Redskins.

"Like nearly everyone else they're bigger than us," he explained, "and they've got the best team Milford's seen in several years."

Scouting reports show that while the Redskins haven't done too well so far this year, they're strong and they have fast backfielders.

"That's why we'll need all the help we can get on defense," the coach concluded.

Northville took Bloomfield's kickoff and moved eight yards in two plays. But Quarterback Craig Bell's third down pass from the 36 was snagged on the 40 by Baron defender John Marshall who made it back to the Northville 33.

Bloomfield moved in six plays to the Northville two yard line, but a penalty and a fumble moved them back to the 10 and the Barons ran out of downs before they could reach the goal.

Two carries each by Half-backs Joe Hay and Tom Swiss took the local gridders to mid field, where the Mustangs' march stalled. Bell's punt rolled out of bounds on the Bloomfield 19.

The Mustang defense held on, giving up only one first down before forcing the Barons to kick from their own 34. Northville took over on their own 25 and got one play off before the first quarter ended.

Hay opened the second stanza with a three-yard dive. Swiss then swept around left end and broke loose for 35 yards, bringing the Mustangs to Bloomfield's 35-yard line. Hay swung around right end for 12 more yards and Swiss added three.

A five-yard Baron penalty gave Northville second down possession on the Bloomfield 15-yard line, but two plays later Hay fumbled a pitch-out and recovered the ball on the 24. Bell's seven-yard pass to End Jim Judy wasn't enough to make the first down, and Bloomfield took possession on its own 17.

The Barons took seven plays to move to their 44, where they were forced to punt. A five-yard Northville penalty on the punt play gave Bloomfield possession on the 49.

Baron Quarterback Roger Stewart elected to attempt a two-yard quarterback sneak for the first down, but he was thrown for a loss and Northville took over on the Bloomfield 46.

Swiss again carried around the right end, dashing to the Bloomfield 32 before he was brought down. But a Northville penalty nullified the play. Bell then connected with Hay for a 21-yard pass and run play, which was also nullified by a Mustang penalty.

Bell went back for a third-down pass and was thrown for a loss to the Northville 38. His 40-yard punt was picked up by speedy Baron halfback Dick Allen, who raced past would-be tacklers to return the ball to Northville's 39.

But on the second play, Mustang guard Dave Cummings recovered a Bloomfield fumble on the Northville 43. After a five-yard Northville penalty for delay of the game, Swiss raced around left end for 14 yards.

Bell fumbled and recovered the ball on the next play. A Baron penalty gave the Mustangs possession on their opponents' 44. The attack stalled, however, and Bell punted three plays later to the Bloomfield 13.

Stewart picked up eight yards on a roll-out, but his second down pass attempt was intercepted by Northville's Fullback Ron Rice on the Mustang 49. The first half ended three plays later.

Bloomfield opened the second half by taking Quarterback John Mach's kickoff on its own 29 and marching in 11 plays to the only touchdown of the game.

Stewart figured in most of the Barons' score march. He dove through the line for 11 yards and lobbed a sideline pass that added 22. Later he tossed another pass for 16 yards and a third aerial attempt that picked up 11 and brought the Barons to the Northville two.

Stewart then snuck across for the TD from the quarterback spot. Switching to halfback, he slammed through the line for the extra point.

After Mustang End Don Bieri's 21-yard kick-off run back to the Northville 36, the local eleven moved to the 45. Half-back Jim Jiggins toted the ball to Bloomfield's 40-yard line, but the play was called back by a penalty.

Bell's pass attempt was then intercepted by a Baron defender. But when Bloomfield tried a second-down pass of its own, Rice again intercepted. He ran the ball back from the Northville 25 to the 47 before being brought down.

Northville, however, was unable to move beyond the Baron 48-yard line, and was forced to punt four plays later. Bloomfield took over on its 18 and moved to the 29, where Mustang defense forced another Baron punt.

The third quarter ended after Bell picked up 10 yards on a roll-out to the left. But the Mustangs were again forced to punt soon after the final period began.

The Barons held the ball for just four plays, and then Northville took over on its own 40, marching in 15 plays to the Bloomfield 22. The Mustangs had reached the Baron 10, but a 15-yard penalty foiled the scoring chance.

Unable to move on the ground, Bell shot a fourth down pass to Judy in the end zone, but the toss was too high. Bloomfield took over with three minutes left in the game, and held possession until the closing seconds.

In other league action last Friday, West Bloomfield hung onto its first spot position tie with Bloomfield by slapping down Milford 27-7. Brighton stopped Holly 35-19 to stay in second place with Northville, and Clarkson outpaced Clarenceville 20-14.

Northville's junior varsity gridders succeeded where the varsity failed last week — they knocked off Bloomfield Hills 13-12 in a hard-fought battle Tuesday night at Ford Field.

Bob Steeper shined as the Colts' big gun, scoring all 13 of their points.

After dashing 72 yards for one TD and 35 for the tying score, Steeper added frosting to the cake by running in the extra point to gain the margin of victory.

Colt Coach Paul Mack labeled his JV squad "improved." He noted that the defensive line stood out, but added that the offense still needs work.

The Colts lost their first two encounters, with Plymouth and Holly.

Defensive linebacker Mike Horner sparked in Tuesday's win by picking off two of Bloomfield's pass attempts.

The Colts meet Milford next Tuesday under the lights at Ford Field. Game time is seven o'clock.

"What Industry Expects of A Community"

Editor's Note: Following is the complete text of the address given by Roblee B. Martin, president of Dundee Cement company, at last week's tribute to industry dinner in Northville.

There are certain basic elements of utmost importance to any community seeking new industry or economic growth. These basic elements must be forthcoming before effective action can be taken.

First of all, a city or area must decide whether or not it wants economic growth and, if the decision is in the affirmative, the people and organization involved must be prepared to pay the price for it. Economic growth has a lot to offer most areas, but it is not easily achieved.

Perhaps I should define economic growth as not necessarily being industrial expansion. That would mean you were only looking for new industry for your community — factories and productive enterprises in a manufacturing sense. Economic growth can be a brand term that covers industry, agriculture, research and development, commercial activities, tourism or a government function or facility.

Now, if you want this growth the next thing you must do is to organize your hard-working, enthusiastic people into a solid front so that one individual or a single committee can speak with authority and keep what dealings as the need dictates on a confidential basis. You will only defeat your own purpose unless your community is united in this respect.

If you are talking to people who may be contemplating the establishment of an industry or a commercial enterprise or other economic activity in your community, you must have an authoritative source they can deal with. You dare not get in a situation where the Chamber of Commerce is representing and touting one field of activity, the area's industrial development corporation going off on a different tangent and a group of service clubs pushing ahead full steam in still another direction. Representatives of a new enterprise, investigating the possibilities of your area, will not want to deal with a number of so-called spokesmen. They should not be expected to.

"Build yourselves an aggressive, working organization. Select a board of directors. See that the Chamber of Commerce, P.T.A. service clubs, etc., all have representatives on this board. You will need the individual efforts of their members and you will likewise need their financial support. If you have hardheads in the community who are not inclined to look with approval on your plans for economic growth, get them in your group. It will be far better to have their criticisms coming from within, than to have them sniping around the outside of your organization."

There will be a terrific selling job needed in your own community as a first step. Sell all your clubs and organizations on this project 100 percent. They should not, by any manner or means, be allowed to take a position that they "will wait and see" what action is subsequently taken and they'll either jump on the bandwagon or watch it roll by at some later date.

Having achieved an organization, you are faced with the danger of hastily making decisions based upon what appears to be rational reasoning at the time, but which develops in the long term to be full of flaws. Don't go off half-cocked — even though it may be an earnest effort to "get the show on the road."

Seek help. There's plenty available for the asking — and it's free. For example, the Michigan Department of Economic Development is composed of a group of professional people. Here there are engineers, economists, accountants and others who are experts in the fields that concern economic development. They devote their full time to the proposition of promoting economic growth in Michigan, are helping area or community groups such as we're talking about here is exactly what these people are there for.

There are other sources. Detroit Edison, Consumers Power Co. and Michigan Consolidated Gas Co. have area development specialists anxious to consult and work with local organizations to further economic growth. Likewise, your railroad will provide a similar service and the State Chamber of Commerce has professional people that are available through your local Chamber.

Another source for assistance that will come into play only after you've accomplished something, is the Michigan Industrial Ambassadors. This is a group which I am proud to serve as chairman of its executive committee. It's our job to sell the things that are accomplished in Michigan. We devote our energy and activity to telling people on the outside about this great state's many attributes.

Once you're organized, once you have a definite industrial or economic development program to offer, the Industrial Ambassadors will help you sell it. The Ambassadors are an organization of more than 200 top industrial, business, civic, labor and government leaders of our state. We'll help you sell your program throughout the United States, and, indeed, throughout the world and we'll tell people there are communities and areas of Michigan that are making positive progress toward economic growth and by that same token have created an ideal situation for a new industry or commercial enterprise.

Whatever organization is set up in your community to further economic growth must have the support of all concerned. This may not be easy. It will mean you will have to contribute, because this organization cannot work on thin air. It will need funds and you will be called upon to contribute financially. If you possibly can, you should. If you can't, there's no reason to oppose the effort. You can still offer moral and spiritual support.

Whatever your contribution, the pride in this group should extend to every facet of your community. Conversation in the barbershop, in the drug store, on the street and in every public place should portray pride in what is being done and what it is hoped will be accomplished.

Now, let's be specific on what you should have to offer a new industry or enterprise. First of all, as was mentioned earlier, there should be a single authoritative source, whether it be an individual or a committee. The decisions of the authoritative source must be firm, final and completely dependable. A new firm or industry will not tolerate becoming embroiled in factional disputes or a vacillating position.

The first tangible thing which a prospective economic enterprise will be seeking is property. You must be prepared to assist them in overcoming this first hurdle. You should have property available for the types of industry which you are courting, either via ownership, option, lease or knowledge of its existence and availability. You must have complete file data on this property in order to answer all questions pertaining thereto.

The property which you intend to offer a prospect must be completely and adequately prepared for them. The zoning must be properly and firmly fixed. Utilities should be in place or available under fixed and fair terms and roads and sewers should be available; or, if not, the plans and cost of same, which will satisfy all regulations, should be made known.

It may be that financing will be necessary. You should have information on just what is available and how to go about obtaining it from credit corporations, S.B.A., S.B.I.C., A.R.A. or what have you.

A responsible industry will not expect a concession on taxes, but it will require fair and equitable treatment. Therefore, the requirement is this category is simply that taxes be applied on an equal basis, with no punitive assessments or rates being levied against industry. Moreover, this philosophy should be a policy matter so that industry has the assurance that subsequent legislation will not result in discriminatory taxation or industrial entities. Let me repeat, industry does not want preferential treatment, but it does insist upon fair treatment.

Labor is a highly specialized subject and industry does not expect the community to solve its problems with labor. However any assistance which might be rendered will be appreciated and will serve as a "plus" for the community which is attempting to entice industry within its borders. The ambitious community can follow the example of the City of Jackson by establishing a labor-management council which meets periodically, with public endorsement, to consider problems in this area and to recommend correction action. Such a council has no legal power, but it has public backing to such an extent that its edicts exert sufficient pressure to promote labor peace quite effectively. Such a program is most generally appreciated by industry.

You should be completely familiar with and promote other assets of your particular area. Distribution is most important and if your area can offer advantageous transportation via rail, truck or water, let the world know about it. Transportation costs are a major item for most products and advantages in this area are not insignificant; and such advantages are manifested in respect to cost, delivery time, service, etc.

Survey your natural resources; let known what they are and where they are; be prepared to offer them to industry as a definite asset. Know where supplies and materials can most economically be purchased so that you can offer advice in this connection.

The final item, and in a very real sense the most important, is the matter of assisting a new industry in the area of sales. This is a new and relatively under-developed area of aid to industry. You could be pioneers in this field.

Our own experience at Dundee Cement Company reminds us that the final and most formidable problem facing a new industry is that of developing a market for the product. We don't hesitate to ask others to help us in this respect. We have received some wonderful help from people in no way connected with our company — either as worker, customer or supplier — in selling our product. We are always grateful for more. Community pride in its industry and their product can function most effectively to promote a favorable market situation. A definite program for this promotion would be most attractive to a new economic enterprise.

The Key to any activity you may undertake is encouraging economic growth is the people who will be concerned with carrying out that activity. Pick them well. Michigan's greatest resource is her inventive, highly-educated, well-trained and industrious people. Near miracles can be accomplished with the proper people at the helm.

Gas Stations

Report Thefts

Two local service stations were broken into over the past weekend representing a total loss of approximately $340 worth of goods to the owners.

Sgt. Frank Heintz of the Northville police department investigated a complaint by William Asher, last Friday and determined that the thief or thieves had gained entry to Asher's Pure Service station during the night through a rear door. Approximately $300 worth of tools had been stolen including an electric drill, tool box, battery charger and small parts.

Northville police have several suspects under surveillance.

Michigan State police, Redford post, answered a complaint of breaking and entering made by Russell Shay on Sunday at the Northville Mobile station, Northville and Seven Mile roads. Entering the building through a window sometime during the night, the thieves made off with $40 worth of savings stamp pads, a 22 caliber pistol and a six-shot clip. Police have no suspect.

Plymouth Theatre Guild Presents 'Curtain Raiser'

An innovation in the local live theater program will be presented Saturday evening when the Plymouth Theatre Guild presents their "Curtain Raiser" at 8 p.m. in the auditorium of Plymouth High school.

The "Curtain Raiser" will be in the manner of an "open house" with the entire Northville-Plymouth-Livonia community invited to be guests of the Guild for an evening of entertainment and refreshment. There is no admission charge.

Mrs. Peter R. Miller, a lifetime member of the Guild, will be official hostess for the evening with C. V. Sparks, a familiar figure in Plymouth and another lifetime member as official host. Effie (Mrs. Harold) Kuisel, well known to many area theater-goers, will be featured in two humorous character sketches which promise to be a rare treat for the audience.

Two one-act plays will highlight "Curtain Raiser" entertainment. The classic Thornton Wilder play, "The Happy Journey to Trenton and Camden", long a Helen Hayes vehicle, will feature Helen Fortney in the lead role, with Jim Blackman, Mary Ann McKenzie, Mary Kuisel, Danny Blackman and Matt Fortney in supporting roles. Mr. Blackman is also the director for the play. The chilling suspense story "Sorry, Wrong Number," stars Effie Kuisel as the woman in distress with Joe Dalesandry as her murderer. Al Murdock will be the advisory director for this play with special assistance from Miss Florence Panattoni, forensic director for Northville high school, and Jack Wilcox.

A sandwich buffet will be served during the evening for the guests who will be seated at small tables set cabaret style complete with candlelight and soft music. A display of paintings and ceramics from the Hartley-Powers gallery of Northville will add to the feeling of intimate, continental charm. Theatre Guild members will serve as hosts and hostesses for the evening and will be available to answer questions about the Guild and its activities.

The "Curtain Raiser" is the kick-off presentation for the Plymouth Theatre Guild this year and one they hope to make an annual event. In December the sophisticated adult comedy "A Mighty Man Is He" will be offered, and to close out the season the Guild will do Agatha Christie's suspenseful mystery, "The Mousetrap" in April.

Change Amendment Rules Under New Constitution

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is No. 11 in a series about the proposed new Michigan Constitution. Additional articles will appear in subsequent weeks.

Concluding sections of the proposed new Michigan Constitution have to do with amendment and revision and the schedule for putting the new document into effect if it is adopted by the people at the April 1 election.

Amendments to the constitution may be initiated by the legislature or by petition of 10 per cent of the electors. The procedure is similar to that outlined in the present constitution, except that the legislature is prohibited from proposing amendments "less than 60 days" before an election.

This time limit was inserted by the convention to discourage a tendency in recent years to submit legislative proposals for amendment so late that election officials find it impossible to observe statutory deadlines for ballot printing and delivery.

Several changes are made in the section dealing with future constitutional conventions. It provides:

1. The question of a general revision of the constitution may be submitted to the electors at the general election in 1978 and each 16th year thereafter.

2. If a constitutional convention is decided upon, it will meet the first Tuesday in October following the election, or at an earlier date if provided by law. Delegates are to be chosen at a partisan election.

3. Vacancies among the delegation to the convention will be filled by appointment of the governor from among qualified residents of the district in which the vacancy occurs, but the appointee must be a member of the same political party as the delegate vacating the office.

4. The convention will have constitutional authority "to explain and disseminate information about the proposed constitution and to complete the business of the convention in an orderly manner." This should help to avoid possible conflict between the convention and the legislature.

5. The date of submission of the new constitution or amendments proposed to the electors of the state is to be provided by the convention. It must be not less than 90 days after final adjournment.

The Schedule and Temporary Provisions adopted as a part of the new constitution establish an orderly transition from the present 1908 document in the event the new constitution is approved. The attorney general is directed to recommend to the legislature "as soon as practicable" the changes necessary to adapt existing laws to the new constitution. Then it would be the legislature's job to make the present laws conform with the document.

No state official would lose his job immediately, even though the position is abolished by the new constitution. Such officials would serve out their terms before moving to the new provisions.

Four-year terms for elected state officials and senators would not start until January 1, 1967. These officers would be elected in the non-presidential November election in 1966.

Also included in the Temporary Provisions is a section permitting the legislature to borrow money for refunding of bonds issued by the Mackinac Bridge Authority. Approval of such a proposal must be by two-thirds vote of the members in each house and the legislature. It has been estimated that the placing of the full faith and credit of the state behind these bridge bonds would result in interest savings of about $1 million annually.

AWARD WINNER — Michael P. Adas, 19-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Adas, 21371 Stanstead road, has received a $250 cash award from the Faculty Senate at Western Michigan university, Kalamazoo, for the excellence of his academic record and the promise of his future. The award was made for the first time this year in honor of Oliver Woods, business manager for research of the Upjohn company, Kalamazoo, who was selected last spring as an outstanding graduate of the WMU school of liberal arts and sciences and was honored during the June commencement rites. A 1961 graduate of Northville high school, Adas is majoring in political science at Western Michigan, and as a freshman student compiled a 3.74 grade point average out of a possible 4.0. The award was made to him by Dr. Philip Denenfeld, left, president of the Faculty Senate.

Progress For Twenty-Five Years...

In October of 1937, Ray J. Casterline originated Casterline Funeral Home. Since that time, our service has warranted expansion as shown in these pictures. The top picture shows the original home before it was converted for our use in 1937. With appropriate changes, the home appeared as it does in the next two pictures. The home remained this way until we felt it necessary to expand our facilities. In more recent years, we have remodeled more extensively to include a more adequate parking area. This is part of the progress of Northville. We are humble about our progress, but yet, we would like to express our gratitude and sincere thanks to the many people of this area.

...And Still Growing

The picture below shows the home as it appears today. Even though we have expanded our facilities and services, our ultimate goal has remained the same for the past twenty-five years. We strive to offer the reverent and serene service which is a tradition at Casterline's.

Man's dominion over everything that would alienate him from God, good, will be emphasized Sunday at Christian Science services.

Paul's healing ministry will be featured in the Bible readings. The Lesson-Sermon entitled "Are Sin, Disease, and Death Real?" will include Paul's words to the Romans: "For I am persuaded, that neither death, nor life, nor angels, nor principalities, nor powers, nor things present, nor things to come, nor height, nor depth, nor any other creature, shall be able to separate us from the love of God, which is in Christ Jesus our Lord."
This correlative citation will be among those read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy (p. 303): "When the evidence before the material senses yielded to spiritual sense, the apostle declared that nothing could alienate him from God, from the sweet sense and presence of Life and Truth."

from the PASTOR'S STUDY

By the Rev. B. J. Pankow, Pastor
St. Paul's Lutheran Church of Northville

Walking With God
"And Enoch walked with God; and he was not found, for God took him." (Genesis 5:24).

Compared with the lives of the early patriarchs of the human race, Enoch's life was relatively short. Little is recorded about him, but this little is enough to make his name worthy of remembrance until the end of time. His life has been summarized as a bright start blazing across the horizon of early Bible times.

What is there about Enoch that we should remember and imitate in our day? Enoch walked with God. To Enoch God was real, though unseen. To many in our age God is unreal. Some try to shut God entirely out of their consciousness. Others have a very hazy and indefinite notion concerning the Supreme Being. Even many who want to be called Christians—largely ignore God, with the result that their Christianity is shallow and meaningless. Their selfish interests always come first. They have the time and don't take the time to worship God regularly and to read His Word.

To Enoch, on the other hand, God was real, just as real, and even more so than the presence of men and women who lived and moved at that time. Above all Enoch trusted in God for salvation.

How real is God to you? Do you feel that you are sufficient unto yourself? Or are you fully aware of the fact that you need God every minute and second of your life? If your answer is "yes" to the latter question, then you will feel the need of worshiping God and hearing His Word. Jesus said: "He that is of God heareth God's words." (John 8:47). Furthermore, if God is real to you, then you will without question accept what God tells you about yourself and your sinfulness; and through the power of Jesus' sacrifice on the cross God's Spirit you will trust in Jesus' sacrifice on the cross for the forgiveness of all your sins.

But walking with God means also trusting in God all the way. Enoch did not walk away from God, nor did he walk ahead of God. He walked WITH God. He walked WITH Him as his bosom friend. To him he unburdened his heart. In His presence he felt perfectly safe. There was no reason to fear, because the Almighty God was walking at his side. Do we commune with God in prayer as much as we should? "The Lord is nigh unto all them that call upon Him to all that call upon Him in truth." (Psalm 145:18).

Enoch also walked in God's service. The Apostle Jude informs us how fearlessly Enoch spoke out against the evils of his day, prophesying: "Behold, the Lord cometh... to execute judgment upon all, and to convince all that are ungodly among them of their ungodly deeds." (Jude 14-15).

Enoch abstained from sin in a day of wickedness, immorality, and vice. He sought first of all the Kingdom of God and His righteousness. His was not a dead but a living, active faith.

In amazement someone once said: "How can anyone claim to walk with God and do nothing for Him? Bear no witness to Him? Lift no hand to promote His cause?"

Let us be encouraged by Enoch's example to walk with God in the fullest sense of phrase. This is tremendously important; for at the end of the path of life there is eternity.

All (and only those) who walk with God in a living faith will be with Him forever. So in the case of Enoch. There came the day when God in His grace suddenly translated him into the glory of heaven, the mansions above that are not made with hands. "He was not; for God took him." How will it be with you?

Reader Speaks:

Business And Radar

As a very interested merchant in the area, I have reached a conclusion on the subject of our radar control. The police department can consider this a great asset to help control excessive speed and it would be accepted as a modern method of this electronic age. However, a very few people who are not ready to accept this type of control can exaggerate its nuisance value with rumors that are harmful for the innocent business of our town.

We who are established here as residents and business people of the area can be made to accept this condition but I hope for the sake of business where the merchants are constantly striving to bring more people into our town, that we do not create such dissention that the outsiders who have formerly shopped here will choose to go elsewhere.

This can be serious and I hope the utmost good judgment of all concerned will be experienced in the ever-increasing problems of our progress.

Candidates and Causes In the Spotlight

WITH ELECTION day less than a month away candidates and their supporters are "politicizing" in earnest. Candidates from both major parties are talking to voters wherever they can be found — in homes, on the streets and at public meetings. On October 3 State Attorney General Frank J. Kelley (left above) addressed a meeting of the Northville Democratic club at the community building. Seated at the speakers' table with Kelley are Jack Ruland, chairman of the Northville Democratic club, and Miss Helen Etnier, secretary.

CONGRESSWOMAN Martha Griffiths was the honored guest at a gathering at the home of Mrs. James Hughes, Bradner road, last Thursday morning. Pictured (l. to r.) are: Miss Neva Lovewell of Plymouth; Hostess Mrs. Hughes; Mrs. Sanford Brown, wife of the state treasurer; Mrs. Neil Staebler, wife of Democratic candidate for U.S. congressman at large; Mrs. Griffiths; and Mrs. C. E. Woodruff, vice chairman of the Northville Democratic club.

MISS FARM GIRL — Joyce Balko holds the letter which announced her selection as "Miss Farm Girl" of Oakland county. She was given the title last week by the Oakland county farm bureau.

Joyce Balko Named Oakland's Farm Girl

Based on appearance, church, school and community work, Joyce Balko, 20, was recently honored when the Oakland Farm Bureau conferred the title of Miss Farm Girl of Oakland County upon her.

Until the Michigan Farm Bureau finals are held in Lansing November 7, her spare time is filled making guest appearances in nearby localities. Last week she attended a banquet and delivered a speech at Davisburg.

Should she win the state final, she will receive a trip to Atlanta, Georgia, among other prizes.

A 1960 graduate of Northville high school, she attended Cleary college a year before taking her current position in the payroll department of University of Michigan hospital in Ann Arbor.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Balko, 52730 West Eight Mile road.

NEW MAN IN THE BAND: Charles T. Weiss, son of Mr. and Mrs. George W. Weiss, 925 Grace, is a new member of Michigan State university's famous 162-man marching band. In addition to playing at four home games this year, the band will accompany the MSU football squad to out-of-town games with Notre Dame and Northwestern. With Weiss is Professor Leonard Falcone (left), the MSU marching band's conductor and dean of band directors in the Big Ten. Weiss, a graduate of Northville high school, is a freshman majoring in conservation.

SPEAKING for The Record

By BILL SLIGER

It's heartening to observe the vigorous campaign being conducted by Governor John B. Swainson this year.

There's no resemblance to two years ago at all. He strolled through that campaign with the confidence of a poker player holding four aces. And sitting in that enviable position, the governor didn't find it necessary to discuss issues, such as the income tax. He merely smiled and told the voters he'd reveal tax plans after they had returned him to the state capital.

This year it's different. He's biting the campaign trail like a beetle on the first day of hunting season. What's more he's called for all the help he can get.

President Kennedy has already visited the state, and he'll return. Vice President Johnson will also make an appearance.

And the man who thrives on this sort of combat, "Give 'em Hell" Harry Truman, will soon arrive to join the fray.

They're all coming to Swainson's aid to stop one man—George Romney. Even the governor's running mates are paying little attention to their respective GOP foes. They know the enemy to fear is Romney—not the Republicans.

It's an admittance on their part that a Republican gubernatorial candidate can win in Michigan.

I hope they are right. For if George Romney—undoubtedly the finest candidate ever to appear on either the Democratic or Republican ticket in this state in many a moon—cannot win the support of the majority of our voters, then Michigan must certainly join the Deep South as a one-party monopoly insofar as state-wide elections are concerned.

Speaking of elections, the city and township of Northville will have local candidates to choose next April.

While this is six months away, prospective candidates have only until the end of December to submit petitions.

Four of the five members of the township board will be up for re-election—providing they all choose to run again.

It's generally expected that they will, although Supervisor George Clark has indicated that he will not announce his decision until the November meeting. Other members whose term expires include Clerk Marguerite Northrup, Trustee Robert Martin and Alex Lawrence, now a trustee but successor to retiring Treasurer Roy Terrell beginning November 1.

Clark is being encouraged to seek a third term by his fellow board members. And we agree that his loss would be keenly felt now. He has given heavily of his time to the job of being supervisor and tackles all phases of the responsibility—at both local and county levels—with complete thoroughness.

In the city the terms of Mayor A. M. Allen and Councilmen John Canterbury and Richard Juday expire in the spring.

There have been a few hints, but no official announcements. The mayor's expected to run—Canterbury and Juday are question-marks.

Less than 90 days remain for candidates to speak up. And responsibility for good government rests with the people. It is not enough that one votes, responsible citizenship also includes selecting and working for good candidates.

Maybe you should be a candidate.

When Roblee B. Martin, chairman of Michigan's Industrial Ambassadors, addressed a group of 100 Northville businessmen on the subject of "What Industry Expects of a Community" last Thursday at Meadowbrook Country club, he also had a few examples of what communities should not do.

Regrettably, Martin had to use his own community as a sad example. He's president of Dundee Cement company, biggest taxpaying industry in the Dundee area.

And when the Dundee school district constructed its new high school—with a big bite of the tax dollars being supplied by Dundee Cement—where do you think the cement for the building was purchased?

Not Dundee Cement company, Martin moaned.

Speaking at the salute to local industry sponsored by the newly-formed Northville Area Economic Development corporation and local retail merchants, Martin also told the group it should change its name.

"It should be shorter, like Northville Economic Development—NED", he added.

We agree. Northville Area Economic Development corporation just won't fit into a headline.

Auto Show: Cars, Too!

DETROIT WILL be host to the National Automobile Show this year for only the second time in the 44-year history of the multi-million dollar display.

Two years ago the annual extravaganza was shifted from New York to the Motor City to mark the opening of Cobo Hall. This year, October 20-28 it will return to the same 300,000 square feet of display area in downtown Detroit.

Fashion shows, stage performances, a national television program originating daily from Cobo Hall, travel monies, and an old car parade highlight the 44th annual display of the modes of travel in the U.S.A.

SPONSORS of the Show, the Automobile Manufacturers Association, boast the 1962 display will be the most spectacular in the long history of the event. Each auto company has been allocated more space, to allow a more complete display of the new car lines than ever before.

In addition to the daily morning telecast from the arena, an hour-long color cast will bring millions of families to the scene on the evening of October 21.

A special concert by the Detroit Symphony Orchestra on October 18 and the appearance of Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson on October 22 also are expected to attract record-breaking crowds to this year's display.

THE BEGINNING of a state-authorized student loan program is under way, according to Superintendent of Public Instruction Lynn M. Bartlett.

Some $572,000 will soon be available to Michigan students who need money to obtain college educations.

The program is under the jurisdiction of the Michigan Higher Education Assistance Authority created by the 1960 Legislature. No state funds were appropriated for the operation of the Authority, however.

THE AUTHORITY solicited private funds to start the program this fall and received agreement with a group of Michigan banks for a guaranty program. Under the agreement ever $1 contributed is guaranteed a $10 loan for a student.

Bartlett said the program set up provided that each college and university could retain its deposits into the guaranty fund for use by its students.

The largest contribution came recently when the University of Michigan deposited $50,000 with the Authority, to secure $500,000 in loans for students at the Ann Arbor institution.

THERE IS RISK in buying land you have never seen, according to reports reaching the Consumer Protection Division of the Attorney General's office in Lansing.

A prime example was a mail offer sent to many Michigan residents offering land for sale in Hawaii.

The advertisements indicated the land was on a beautiful estate on "palm-fringed beaches of white sand or glistening black, together with brilliant orchids and crystal clear water." The property was minutes away from the golf course, had an excellent water supply and free transportation to schools, according to the offer.

A CLOSER look at the offer, according to Atty. Gen. Frank J. Kelley, disclosed a somewhat different picture.

The investigation showed the nearest golf course was 40 miles away. The one-room grammar school 12 miles away and high school 23 miles away were not served by any transportation. The "excellent water supply" was available only by trapping it on the roofs of the houses.

In addition to the variation from the claims, Kelley said the company which mailed the offers was not qualified to do business in Michigan.

THE WORST of the traffic accidents in Michigan is yet to come with the approach of winter, but one area of vital statistics begins to drop off in

Supermarket Stamp Fad at Peak

Babson Park, Mass. Many newspaper publishers have noticed recently, that supermarkets are cutting down their advertising. Naturally this is of interest to readers of this column who depend on supermarket advertising to check the prices of their products one with another. Let me discuss this week the possible reasons for this reduction in advertising by some of the supermarket chains.

Cost of Trading Stamps

When only a few stores used trading stamps (mostly S & H), the distribution of stamps was reasonable. These stamps, used in limited amounts, were doubtless appreciated by many who were buying goods. Not only were the amounts then used very limited, but the stamps were often thrown away by buyers.

Today the situation has changed greatly. Not only are most of the supermarkets and similar establishments using trading stamps, but they are competing with one another in the number of stamps they give for the purchase of certain items.

Furthermore, many of the large chains are printing their own stamps and operating their own centers for redeeming the stamps. Altogether this is becoming quite expensive and I fear the cost is being charged to general advertising. The final result will depend on whether the owners of the supermarkets get more customers through trading stamps or through advertising.

From studies I have made, it is evident to me that business derived from trading stamps has about reached its maximum. I believe that the better supermarkets are returning to increased newspaper advertising, and are curtailing so far as possible the competitive use of stamps.

Supermarket "Overproduction"

Many who invested earlier in the stocks of new supermarkets have made a great deal of money. A number of these stocks sell at several times their original cost. The rapid rise of supermarkets was due primarily to bulk purchasing and modern merchandising. It did not take long for them to wipe out the old grocery stores, meat markets, and similar competitors. Many of the small stores combined at first into co-operative organizations to meet the new competition. Some of these co-operatives have survived and others have been disbanded or bought by supermarkets.

The automobile has been a big help; the supermarkets saw at once the importance of providing sufficient parking space for their customers. This caused many of them to leave the center of the city, but the customers did not object because practically all of them came in automobiles.

The supermarkets also provided "cars" for the customers to push around and fill up; and then provided boys to take the packages out of the carts to the customers' automobiles!

The policy of the supermarkets in purchasing big parking lots has made them large real estate owners. Furthermore, the locations secured by the early supermarket chains have become valuable and, in a way, make them a monopoly in the industry. It is difficult for a new supermarket coming to a city to secure a decent location.

Importance of Discount Houses
The fact that many supermarkets are awakening to the importance of "discount houses" makes me believe that the stock quotations for the supermarkets will go higher. Many of these supermarkets are

GO JET-SMOOTH '63 CHEVROLET—IT'S EXCITING!

If all roads were superhighways, Chevrolet's remarkably smooth and silent ride might be just another luxury. But as most town and country roads will demonstrate, this is one Chevrolet advantage that's mighty easy to get excited about. (The way those four deep-coil springs put the kibosh on bumps, you'd almost think Chevrolet was working for the highway commission.) The new '63 Bel Airs, Biscaynes and Impalas are built to be equally easy going on upkeep. Brakes are self-adjusting. New Delco-Ronco generator s-t-r-e-t-c-h-e-s battery life. Even the rocker panels on the Body by Fisher are self-washing and ventilating to cut down on rust. Your dealer's waiting to tell you more—and the more you hear about these new Chevrolets, the better you'll like them.
