

Mustangs to Meet West Bloomfield Under New Lights

The Northville Mustangs clinging to a last-ditch hope that they can maintain their Wayne-Oakland League crown come face-to-face tomorrow night with the team most likely to dethrone the local grid-der.

Northville meets West Bloomfield, the undefeated and 4th-ranked class B team in the state. And Coach Ron Horwath's Mustangs are certain to get a "good look" at the invaders.

The game will be the first ever played on the new high school athletic field under bright, new lights — reportedly several times brighter than the old Ford Field system.

But the Mustangs might not like what they see.

West Bloomfield's Lakers have breezed through their schedule to date averaging 30 points per game and being extremely stingy about giving up points to opposition.

"Their backs are big and they use plenty of power plays," Coach Horwath pointed out. Meanwhile, Northville is plagued by injuries.

Two players were lost in the Milford game last week. Halfback and Linebacker Joe Hay resting in St. Mary hospital after collapsing in the Milford game. A Milford physician said Hay suffered from "heat exhaustion". The doctor said this was also the reason for the illness of Dave Jerome, guard and linebacker, following the game. Jerome hasn't been able to scrimmage all week.

Other Mustangs on the injured list include Center Bob Tuck, End Doug Clark and Dick Staman, tackle.

Coach Horwath will juggle his line-up to fill in the holes.

Don Biery will move from end to halfback. Tom Swiss will see double duty on offense and defense in the backfield. End Jim Juday will play guard on defense and move back to end on offense. Dave Cummings will move to tackle on defense and remains as guard on offense. Ron Rice will move up to linebacker from halfback on defense.

John Jamieson, a new freshman, will take over the outside linebacker spot, while Chris Gazlay will fill Juday's spot at defensive end. Mike Lang and Tim Krug will become offensive tackles. Krug is a sophomore, while Lang has been playing on defense only, but will go both ways.

By upsetting the Lakers, Northville could still win or share in the W-O league championship this year. The Mustangs have lost but one game in league play, while winning five.

The lone loss was to Bloomfield Hills, 7-0. Also undefeated, Bloomfield Hills meets West Bloomfield in the final game of the season.

School officials were busy this week readying the field for its initiation. A new public address system has already been installed and the score board moved from Ford Field.

The quartz-type lights — set from four poles stationed on the 25-yard lines — were scheduled to be connected Wednesday and tested today.

New stands provide seating for 3,000 fans — 2,000 on the east (home) side and 1,000 on the west side.

Three parking areas will accommodate the crowds, but school officials have set forth recommendations for local fans. They urge them to use:

1. The parking lot behind the high school and walk across the pedestrian bridge over the Eight Mile road cut-off to the field;
2. The Taft road entrance and parking lot on the west side of the field;
3. The parking lot to the east of the field with an entrance from the Eight Mile road cut-off is recommended for visiting fans.

School officials reason that most visitors will use the Eight Mile road cut-off and would therefore be able to find the field more easily.

The Eight Mile road cut-off has been posted to prevent any parking along the highway.

Fans will find the new field, although superior so far as playing conditions are concerned, lacks a few other items. The field is without a ticket booth, press box, food stand storage shed or restroom facilities.

The lights and stands were financed through a $43,000 revenue bond sale. Proceeds from the games will be used to retire the bonds. Funds are not now available to add the missing facilities.

City, Township, School Officials Air Problems

City, township and school officials held a joint meeting to discuss mutual interests last week that resulted in the formation of a joint committee on traffic problems.

The meeting was held at the Northville high school library with School Board President William Clump acting as chairman.

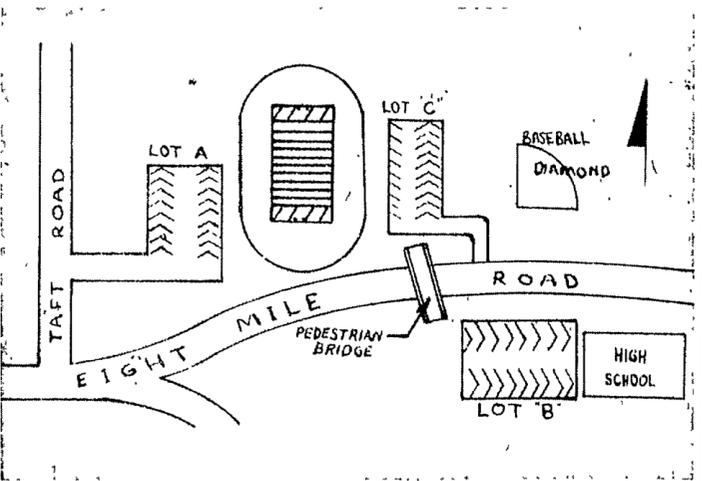

In general the discussion was limited to an exchange of ideas and an explanation of the area economic development program. Subdivision growth, water and sewer, and recreation programs were discussed.

The need for an accurate forecast of population growth in both numbers and location was emphasized to permit coordination of efforts of the various governmental units of the area.

One member from each of the units was to be assigned to a committee to review and seek county attention to the matter of truck traffic through the community.

It was agreed that a joint effort by all three bodies would offer better opportunity for success in urging the county to establish a new north-south route for truck traffic in the community.

The above drawing indicates the location of three parking lots ("A", "B" and "C") at the new athletic field. Local fans attending Friday night's game are urged to use either lot "A" or "B". Lot "C" is designated as a visitors' lot.

Candidates To Debate Here

An opportunity to meet their candidates "face-to-face" and hear them debate issues of the campaign will be given voters of the Northville area next Thursday (October 25) evening at the community building.

Scheduled to appear here at 8 p.m. are:

- State Senator Raymond Dzendzel (Democrat, 18th senatorial district);
- Patrick J. McNally (Republican candidate for state senator, 18th district);
- State Representative Harvey J. Beadie (Democrat, 21st legislative district);
- Paul Chandler (Republican candidate for state representative, 21st legislative district);
- James F. O'Neil, Republican candidate for U.S. Congress in the 17th district will also be on hand.

But his opponent, Democratic Congresswoman Martha Griffiths, has indicated that other commitments will not permit her appearance. It is reported that she will send a representative to speak in her behalf.

Arranged through joint agreement of the Northville Republican and Democratic clubs, the meeting pits candidates against candidate in debate manner.

Brief five-minute talks will be followed by two minute rebuttals. When each of the candidates has had an opportunity to speak, the session will be thrown open to written questions from the floor.

Mayor A. M. Allen will serve as moderator for the meeting.

For Northville (Wayne county) residents the appearance of the candidates provides voters with an opportunity to meet, hear and question the candidates who directly represent the people of the area in Lansing and Washington.

The meeting comes less than two weeks before the November 6 election and promises to provide plenty of political punching.

Republicans, the "outsiders" for many years in the Wayne county area, sent a real chance for victory should a Romney landslide develop in the gubernatorial race.

Aware of this possibility, Democrats have doubled their efforts and are launching strong campaigns.

Hire Architect To Go Ahead On City Hall

The city council moved ahead this week with its plans to apply for matching federal funds to construct a new city hall.

Monday night the selection of an architect was approved.

Tuesday night the council met with the architect to begin formation of plans for the proposed new building.

It is estimated that the city has three weeks to submit its application and preliminary building plans to the Housing and Home Finance Agency to qualify for funds under the new Federal Public Works Acceleration Act.

With $150,000 now earmarked for the city hall project, the city would obtain another $150,000 if its application is approved.

The council's choice of architect was Harry M. Denyes, Jr., Associate, Inc.

The firm has offices in Pontiac.

Among his architectural projects Denyes lists the Pontiac City library ($500,000), the Oakland county court house ($3,100,000), Village of Rochester municipal building ($100,000) and numerous recreation, school and office buildings.

He is a member of the Birmingham city commission and served as mayor of that city from 1959-60.

It will be Denyes' duty to prepare drawings suitable for submitting to the HHFA within the deadline of three weeks. He has indicated to the council that this schedule can be met.

In sessions with City Manager Bruce Potthoff Monday some progress has already been made on determination of space needs. Also available for consideration is the report by a citizens' study committee in May, 1960. It recommended a two level building erected on the present site containing some 10,000 square feet.

The council is now hopeful that fire hall and library facilities may also be included in the new building providing federal funds are obtained.

It was proposed that the architect prepare two plans — one to include a library and fire hall and the second that could be constructed without federal funds.

The city has $150,000 obtained from the sale of the community building for construction of the city hall.

Monday night the council brought Councilman John Canterbury up to date on the progress of the city hall project. Canterbury was in California when the "full speed ahead" emphasis was placed on the construction.

He suggested that the city might give attention to other needed projects as well, if federal funds could be obtained. It was later concluded, however, that emphasis on one project might strengthen the possibility of success.

Under the federal government's program to stimulate spending, the contract for construction of an approved project must be awarded within 120 days after application is made. Further, the project must be completed within one year after the contract is signed.

Number One Accident Corner

MOST DANGEROUS intersection in the city of Northville in terms of number of accidents has been the Dunlap - Wing street corner. This week the police department changed the stop signs so that traffic on Dunlap has the right-of-way. Previously, Wing street had been the only stop on Dunlap. The high-accident rate is attributed to the fact that Dunlap traffic fails to stop. Wing was previously given the right-of-way because of heavy truck and passenger traffic heading west via Randolph. Police issued a warning to motorists to observe the new regulation. New larger stop signs as well as yellow lines on Wing street were installed this week.

Mis-used Says Mayor

Police to Loosen Radar Speed Net

The radar scope which has found so many victims in Northville in recent weeks became the target for criticism itself Monday night at the city council table.

Just when the session seemed near adjournment, Councilman Richard Juday introduced the subject of radar.

He scarcely had the words out of his mouth when Mayor A. M. Allen jumped into the issue.

"Something's wrong here someplace. I'm satisfied that we're running business out of town," the mayor charged.

Councilman John Canterbury headed the mayor off.

"I'm not convinced that the problem hasn't corrected itself since our discussion with the city manager," he interjected.

Canterbury was apparently referring to a private session called by the council to hash out the problem of speeding tickets.

The use of radar for enforcement of local speed laws has stirred heavy controversy.

Since its introduction speeding tickets have jumped from a normal average of 20 to 30 per week to over 100 per week.

The result has been a flurry of complaints — aimed at the council, police department and local business places.

It has been reported that employees of area institutions and industries have "blackballed" Northville. At least one group of employees was reported to have circulated notices to "stay out of Northville".

Councilmembers have been harassed by telephone calls.

Mayor Allen has taken the position that radar has been mis-used.

"I can't believe that every one of the citizens who have called to complain about these tickets can be wrong," the mayor stated.

Councilman Canterbury agreed but defended the police department. He pointed out the difficulty police have in maintaining good public relations in a small town.

"In the nearly 10 years I've been on the council I've been awfully pleased with the record of our police department," Canterbury stated.

Each of the council members acknowledged that many of the complaints of speeders were not justified, but admitted that some were.

Councilwoman Beatrice Carlson cited many calls she has had concerning the speed enforcement. She was critical of "postage size" signs and lack of adequate traffic signs. She reported that she had heard direct reports that institution employees were avoiding Northville.

"All it amounts to is the need for good common horse sense in enforcement," Councilman Juday declared.

He also noted that many of the city streets "need" new speed regulations. "Our duty is to expedite traffic the best we can and provide for the safety of the people," he concluded.

As it exhausted the subject, the council generally agreed that the situation was improving — and hoped that it would get better.

City Manager Bruce Potthoff remained quiet during the debate, but revealed Tuesday that definite changes had been made in the use of radar and speed control in the city.

"Greater emphasis will be placed on determining whether or not the vehicle is being operated safely under existing circumstances", the manager noted.

He admitted that radar would be restricted in use — presumably some days it will not be employed at all. And last week the number of speeding tickets issued was down to 35.

"Our main interest is in getting traffic through town safely," he added.

Manager Potthoff also reported three complaints Tuesday from residents of Randolph and Novi streets.

They wondered why the police weren't there to nab speeding motorists.

Rotary Presents New Travelogues

A trip through the Caribbean ABC Islands awaits ticket holders as the Northville Rotary club opens its second annual World Travel Series next Tuesday evening at the Northville high school auditorium.

The color film presentation will be narrated by Marion Dix, a leading personality in the field of film-lecturing.

Tuesday's travelogue is the first of a series of six which will feature Roman Wilhelmsen and "The Soul of Mexico", David Paul's "Hawaii — Our 50th State", Douglas Wilson and "The Ganges River of India", Donald Shaw and "Romance of Kentucky", and "The Mighty Amazon" by Julian Gromer.

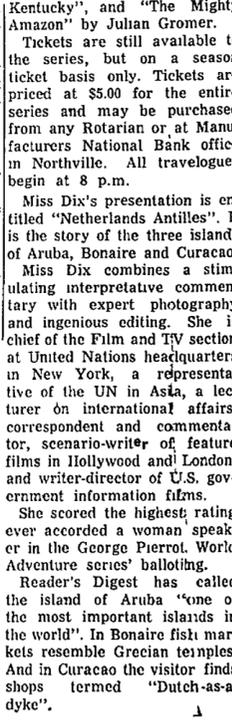

Tickets are still available to the series, but on a season ticket basis only. Tickets are priced at $5.00 for the entire series and may be purchased from any Rotary or at Manufacturers National Bank office in Northville. All travelogues begin at 8 p.m.

Miss Dix's presentation is entitled "Netherlands Antilles". It is the story of the three islands of Aruba, Bonaire and Curacao.

Miss Dix combines a stimulating interpretative commentary with expert photography and ingenious editing. She is chief of the Film and TV section at United Nations headquarters in New York, a representative of the UN in Asia, a lecturer on international affairs, correspondent and commentator, scenario-writer of feature films in Hollywood and London, and writer-director of U.S. government information films.

She scored the highest rating ever accorded a woman speaker in the George Pierrot World Adventure series' balloting.

Reader's Digest has called the island of Aruba "one of the most important islands in the world". In Bonaire fish markets resemble Grecian temples. And in Curacao the visitor finds shops termed "Dutch-as-a-dyke".

First Plymouth Concert Saturday

The 100-piece Plymouth Symphony Orchestra will open its 17th season of free concerts at 8:15 p.m. Saturday in the Plymouth High school auditorium. The orchestra is under the direction of Wayne Dunlap.

Soloist will be pianist James Mathis, a young Texan who made his debut at Carnegie Hall last year as the 1961 Winner of the National Federation of Music Clubs competition.

He will play Piano Concerto No. 1 in D flat, Op. 10 by Prokofiev and Piano Concerto No. 23 in A major, K. 488 by Mozart. Also on the program: Canon per sonar a 10 — Gabriel-David; Nocturnes — Debussy and Three Dances from "The Three-Cornered Hat" — DeFalla.

Although the Carnegie hall concert last year was Mr. Mathis' first introduction to New York City, he is by no means a newcomer to the concert field. Prior to the New York recital, he had given two recitals in Wigmore Hall, London; and performed in Germany, Austria, Italy, Holland and Brazil.

Following his Carnegie Hall debut, he won glowing acclamations for his recitals in Kansas City, Washington, D.C., Albany, and for his appearance with the Dallas Symphony. His schedule for 1962-63 season is crowded with dates throughout the states including a New York appearance with the National Orchestral Association in Carnegie Hall, and performances with the St. Louis; Evansville, Indiana; Fargo-Moorhead, Chattanooga; Harrisburg, Pa.; Cedar Rapids; and La Crosse, Wisconsin Symphonies.

At the age of 10, Mathis debuted with the Southern Methodist University Symphony. Three years later he went to New York City as the youngest scholarship pupil of the late Olga Samaroff at the Julliard School of Music. Majoring in piano, the Mathis received both B.S. and M.S. degrees. He later received in Rochester, N.Y., and enjoyed the colors of fall in Stowe, Vermont.

Susan J. Swank, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Swank of Thornapple Lane, has pledged Delta Zeta sorority at Albion college. Susan is a freshman.

Mathis received the Ernest Hutcheson Award for the most outstanding Julliard graduate; the 1954 Kosciuszko Foundation Chopin Award of $1,000; a Fulbright Fellowship in 1955 to study in Vienna; and first prize in 1956 in the Munch International Competition — the only American to win this; he also won second prize in the 1950 Busoni Competition in Bolzano, Italy; and the 1961 National Federation of Music Clubs Award.

The remaining five concerts in the Plymouth Symphony's season will be given at 4 p.m. Sundays in the Plymouth high school. The dates are: November 18, December 9, January 27, March 10 and April 21.

The free programs are sponsored by the Plymouth Symphony Society which is supported by yearly memberships.

The annual card party sponsored by the Northville TOPS will be held this Saturday at 8 p.m. at the Community building.

Seeking more space for their family and less distance to their work prompted the Jack Van Wagners to leave their Allen Park home and settle in Novi.

Both teachers, Mr. Van Wagner teaches engineering drawing at Oak Park high school. His wife, Marilyn, teaches a sixth grade class in the Farmington school system.

They are parents of three sons, Jon, 11, Tom, 9 and Jim, 7. The boys attend Orchard Hill Circle in Novi.

Two senior at Northville high school have been honored for their high performance on the National Merit Scholarship Qualifying test (NMQST) given last spring.

Each student who is endorsed by his school receives a formal Letter of Commendation signed by his principal and the president of the National Merit Scholarship Corporation.

Fred Stefanski high school principal has announced that the commended students are: John Chris Gazlay and David J. Lane.

John M. Stalnaker president of the National Merit Scholarship Corporation stated: "About 28,000 students throughout the country are being awarded Letters of Commendation in recognition of their excellent performance on the qualifying test. Although they did not reach the status of Semifinalists in the current Merit Program, they are so capable that we wish to call attention in this way to their achievement and academic promise."

"The Semifinalists and Commended students together constitute about 2 per cent of all high school seniors. This certainly signifies noteworthy accomplishment by all these bright youngsters."

"We earnestly hope that the Commended students will continue their education," Mr. Stalnaker continued. "By doing so they will benefit both themselves and the nation."

"The Letters of Commendation provide tangible recognition of their high ability. We urge the students honored today to make every effort to attend college and to develop to the fullest their promise of achievement."

Volunteers of Plymouth State Home and Training School have re-scheduled their membership coffee for next Tuesday at 10 a.m.

The program to recruit more members for the hospital's auxiliary group was delayed when the hospital was under quarantine. Efforts must now be doubled to meet the hoped for quota for volunteer helpers.

Tuesday's program will be held in the auditorium at 10 a.m. Tours of the hospital are planned along with an explanation of the various areas of need for volunteer help.

The hospital is located on Sheldon road near Five Mile in Northville township.

Plans for a spaghetti dinner previously announced for Friday evening at the First Methodist Church in Northville have been cancelled.

The announcement of the change in plans was made by the sponsoring Women's Society of Christian Service.

The Northville Mothers' Club will hold a business meeting Monday evening at the junior high school library.

Hostesses are Betty Hoffman, Pearl Stephens and Wilma Campbell.

Two Seniors Win National Merit Honors

Two senior at Northville high school have been honored for their high performance on the National Merit Scholarship Qualifying test (NMQST) given last spring.

Each student who is endorsed by his school receives a formal Letter of Commendation signed by his principal and the president of the National Merit Scholarship Corporation.

Fred Stefanski high school principal has announced that the commended students are: John Chris Gazlay and David J. Lane.

John M. Stalnaker president of the National Merit Scholarship Corporation stated:

"About 28,000 students throughout the country are being awarded Letters of Commendation in recognition of their excellent performance on the qualifying test. Although they did not reach the status of Semifinalists in the current Merit Program, they are so capable that we wish to call attention in this way to their achievement and academic promise."

"The Semifinalists and Commended students together constitute about 2 per cent of all high school seniors. This certainly signifies noteworthy accomplishment by all these bright youngsters."

"We earnestly hope that the Commended students will continue their education," Mr. Stalnaker continued. "By doing so they will benefit both themselves and the nation."

"The Letters of Commendation provide tangible recognition of their high ability. We urge the students honored today to make every effort to attend college and to develop to the fullest their promise of achievement."

Volunteers of Plymouth State Home and Training School have re-scheduled their membership coffee for next Tuesday at 10 a.m.

The program to recruit more members for the hospital's auxiliary group was delayed when the hospital was under quarantine. Efforts must now be doubled to meet the hoped for quota for volunteer helpers.

Tuesday's program will be held in the auditorium at 10 a.m. Tours of the hospital are planned along with an explanation of the various areas of need for volunteer help.

The hospital is located on Sheldon road near Five Mile in Northville township.

Plans for a spaghetti dinner previously announced for Friday evening at the First Methodist Church in Northville have been cancelled.

The announcement of the change in plans was made by the sponsoring Women's Society of Christian Service.

The Northville Mothers' Club will hold a business meeting Monday evening at the junior high school library.

Hostesses are Betty Hoffman, Pearl Stephens and Wilma Campbell.

X-RAY MAGIC — Dr. Gerard Hasselt, St. Mary hospital radiologist, points out features of an X-ray which had just been processed in seven minutes by the hospital's new X-Omat machine, which will be paid for with funds from the hospital guild's Charity Ball Saturday night in the clubhouse of the Detroit Race course, Schoolcraft and Middlebelt roads. Dr. Hasselt is shown demonstrating the new machinery and its rapid process abilities to hospital guild President Mrs. H. Lorne Dyer of 718 Grandview, and Mrs. America, Mrs. Cleve Masson of Redford township. The $12,000 machine reduces to seven minutes the X-ray developing and drying process which formerly took five hours. Tickets, at $5 a couple, are available from Mrs. Dyer, the hospital, or at the door Saturday evening.

116 E. LAKE SOUTH LYON

In Second-Half 20-6 Rally

Mustangs Scalp Redskins

Northville's Mustangs cleared away the bitter taste of their first Wayne-Oakland league defeat in 14 starts by scalping the Milford Redskins 20-6 last week.

Though the Mustangs bounced back from their 7-0 loss to Bloomfield Hills the week before, the rebound was slow in gaining momentum until the third quarter, when they finally started rolling up their score. The continued success of that bounce will face its toughest obstacle tomorrow (Friday) night when the local gridders play host to West Bloomfield, rated "the team to beat" in the Wayne-Oakland league.

For details of the upcoming game and how best to reach the new high school playing field, see story and map on front page.

N Harriers Place Third

The Northville high school cross country squad this week tied for third place at the Clarenceville invitational meet.

Leading area class "B" schools in competition at the event was Cranbrook, with an impressive score of 29. Howell's second-lowest score was 42.

Northville runners matched performance with hosting Clarenceville to score 92 points each.

Running fifth place at 117 was Lutherans West, while West Bloomfield came in sixth with 148.

Chuck Annett paced Northville Coach Chuck Yahne's club with an over-all 10th place in a field of 42 runners. Gary Davis ran 16th as the Mustang second man.

Frank Steinberger came in 18th, Bill Adams followed close behind at 19th and Russ Straith rounded out the Northville scorers with a 29th place.

The local harriers go against West Bloomfield today (Thursday) in a dual meet.

Colts Tie Milford 6-6; Face South Lyon Next

The Northville junior varsity Colts, slowing from the front-running pace they set in defeating Bloomfield Hills last week, allowed the Milford JV's to tie their game at 6-6 with a last-minute touchdown Tuesday night.

The local gridders broke loose End Gordy Hammond on a 40-yard pass from Quarterback Tom Baughman to score in the first half. They then held on, preventing a Milford tally until late in the final period.

"They just weren't mentally alert," stated Coach Paul Maqk, "so they made mistakes."

He pointed out that the Colts' only offensive sparkle was Hammond's touchdown run, and added that Northville penalties helped the Milford club in its last-quarter scoring drive.

"Not bad" was the label the coach used in describing the Colt defense, which prevented Milford from making any long runs. But he was quick to add that unnecessary penalties took most of the shine off their performance.

He said the Colts "just couldn't get started" because of penalties committed by the offensive squad. Each time they'd get going, he said, a penalty would ruin their enthusiasm.

The Colts travel to South Lyon next Tuesday for a game which begins at 7 p.m.

Head Coach Ron Horwath praised his defensive squad, pointing out that they held the Redskins to minus four yards in the third quarter.

He singled out sophomore Tackle Tim Krug and freshman end John Jameson for their fine performances.

Horwath also noted the offensive jobs turned in by Rice, who gained 95 yards rushing and Swiss, who picked up 85, as well as Hay and Jiggins, who alternated at halfback spots.

The coach pointed out that Northville's main problem is still inexperience. He noted the second half, when the Mustangs gained 250 yards rushing, compared to 69 the first half, and explained that slight changes in blocking assignments made a good share of the difference.

"We have the ability to do very well," he concluded, "and if our desire is strong enough, we can overcome our inexperience."

In other Wayne-Oakland league contests last week, West Bloomfield powered over Brighton 34-19 after racking up 20 points in the first quarter. Bloomfield Hills bombed Clarenceville 41-6 and Holly edged

Novi Junior High Squad Outpaces Northville 13-7

"I don't know how long it's been, but it's been quite a while," chuckled Novi football Coach John Osborne.

He's been chuckling for over a week now — ever since last Wednesday night when his junior high gridders walked off Ford Field with a 13-7 victory over Northville's junior high club.

Power behind the win was provided by Jim Gow, who scored both of Novi's TD's. His first was on a 20-yard pass play from Quarterback Tom Zielinski's two-yard dive over tackle for the second tally was set up by a fourth-and-12-to-go pass from Zielinski to Terry Harnden. Zielinski added the frosting by running the extra point.

Scoring Northville's sole TD was Doug Swiss, who also picked up the extra point.

Novi will take a crack at St. Williams of Walled Lake next Wednesday.

Adults Edge Youngsters In Football Contest Wins

It was no contest for the small fry this week! Top money in the weekly football contest was carried away by Frank Stanford and Earl Ryder, adults with grown children.

Stanford, who lives at 410 DuBar and is employed at Northville Lumber company, won over a field of nine contestants who missed just three games each. Stanford came closest to picking the final score of the 13-10 win by Detroit over Los Angeles. He won $15, while Ryder received $10.

Stanford had entered the contest but once before, but Ryder had won a first and second prize during the last two years. Ryder lives at 412 Randolph and is a retired Daisy Air Rifle employee.

Seven other contestants turned in entries with only three wrong selections, also, but they were far off on the low-scoring Lions-Rams game.

The runner-ups were Fred White, Harley Balko, Robert Sproule, Lynn Partridge, Jim Donohue, Richard Miller and Russ Straith.

Everyone gets another chance this week. So sharpen your pencils, sit straight in your quarterback's chair and turn to page four, section two.

LET'S TALK CARS

THE DEALER'S PURPOSE

An automobile dealer who wants to stay in business knows that one of his least important jobs is selling cars

That is because he's only made a sale when he delivers a car; he doesn't acquire a customer until he has won the buyer's goodwill by helping him get the satisfaction he expects throughout the years.

Even the finest and most expensive automobiles are, after all, still mass produced products. And though manufacturers become more efficient each year, production flaws creep in. That is why an owner's satisfaction is largely dependent upon the dealer from whom he buys.

Acquiring lasting customers is a major purpose. We try to make our Service Dept. a SERVICE DEPT. and by performing its principle function in our dealership — to pre-service and then stand behind our new cars and recondition our used — the Service department makes sales possible and then goes on to create lasting customers.

Many of our customers automatically buy their car from us every year — every two years — or at some set interval. Our efforts to acquire ever greater numbers of repeat customers with service and fair dealing is not prompted by ethical principles alone. The history of our industry over the years proves clearly that for lasting success, a dealership must gain the loyalty and respect of the people in the town where it exists.

You have only 2 weeks to register for the Fun, Pass and Kick Contest. Better come in today!

Oldster Helps Youngsters

John F. Ivory is a name well known to most Detroit area residents.

You've seen his moving vans and you've probably noticed his giant storage warehouse near Plymouth road and Grand River.

Many may have also seen his firm name on the sports' pages as sponsor of polo, baseball and bowling teams.

You may even have visited his 150 acre farm near Union Lake Village. It was the scene of the Oakland county Scout-Arama event this year and attracted a throng of 136,000 persons in one day and more than half million altogether.

More than likely you don't know John F. Ivory, the man.

He's 75 years young — and enjoys doing things for children.

Saturday he proved this again by bringing his troupe of entertainers and horses out to the Wayne County Training School to entertain the school's 650 youngsters.

There were horses for the children to ride; a fire engine complete with siren to ride; a horse-drawn wagon in which each child was given a ride; and a horse-show deluxe with fancy riding and jumping.

The whole program was arranged by the "Parents and Friends Association" of the Wayne County Training School. It is exactly what the name implies, and each month some special entertainment is planned by the association for the children.

John Ivory was happy to come. He was there, himself, as a matter of fact, and enjoying the show as much as the children.

He doesn't charge for the show. You could tell that John Ivory gets his pay from the laughter of the children.

Ivory's horse-drawn wagon took the kids for a ride.

John F. Ivory

A 16-year-old girl, a member of the Ivory troupe, brought cheers from the WCTS children (shown in stands in background) with this jump while riding a team of six horses. The Ivory group entertained the youngsters all afternoon.

 Scriptural selections in the Lesson-Sermon entitled "Doctrine of Atonement" include these words of the Master, Christ Jesus: "I and my Father are one" (John 10).
 From "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy will be read this citation (p. 18):
 "Atonement is the exemplification of man's unity with God, whereby man reflects divine Truth, Life and Love. Jesus of Nazareth taught and demonstrated man's oneness with the Father, and for this we owe him endless homage. His mission was both individual and collective. He did life's work at night not only in justice to himself, but in mercy to mortals, — to show them how to do theirs, but not to do it for them nor to relieve them of a single responsibility."

from the PASTOR'S STUDY

By Rev. John I. Wittstock
 Our Lady of Victory Church, Northville

You have heard it said that man is composed of body and soul. The soul is a spirit. But what is spirit? It is the element in us by which we know and love, by which we decide. Our body knows nothing; it loves nothing. Bodily pleasures are not enjoyed by the body although it reacts to them physically, with vigorous pulse; for example, or acid stomach; but it is the knowing mind that enjoys the reactions or dislikes them; the body decides nothing, although our will may decide in favor of things that give bodily pleasure.
 Spirit knows and loves. A closer examination at ourselves reveals that spirit has power also. It is the mind of man that splits the atom; the atom cannot split the mind; it cannot even split itself; it does not know about its own electrons. Spirit produces what matter cannot. We move a member of our body, a foot for example. This is brought about by a decision of our will. We know of the direct power the human mind has over its own body but mightier spirits have direct power over all matter. Ours is the only spirit which is also a soul, that is to say, the life principle in a body. God is an Infinite Spirit, but has no body; the angels are spirits but have no body. Only in man spirit is united with a body, animates the body, is no division of parts as there is in matter.

 Our body has parts, each with its own function, such as eyes to see, ears to hear, lungs to breathe with. Our soul has no parts, for it is a spirit. There is no element in our soul which is not the whole soul. It does many things, knowing, loving, animating a body, but each one is done by the whole soul.
 Again, a being which has no parts does not occupy space. Think of anything that occupies space and you will observe that it has parts. No matter how small the thing is, it has some spread. Space is simply what matter spreads its parts in. A being with no parts is spaceless, it is superior to the need for space.
 A spiritual being cannot lose its identity. It can, of course, experience changes in its relation to other beings. It can gain new knowledge or lose knowledge that it has; it can transfer its love from one person or object to another; it can develop its power over matter. Seeing spiritual reality must become one of the mind's habits. When it does, we have reached the first stage of maturity. Materialism, however persuasively argued, can no longer take hold on us. The man who knows of the universe of spirit walks upright; the materialist constantly hugs the earth.

There was a dialogue once between a theologian and a materialist. The latter asserted that his idea of justice was the result of a mere bodily activity, produced by man's material brain. The conversation went like this:
 Theologian: How many inches long is that idea you speak of?
 Materialist: Don't be silly, ideas have no length.
 Theologian: Alright, how much does an idea weigh?
 Materialist: What are you doing, trying to make a fool of me?
 Theologian: I'm merely taking you at your word. What color and shape are ideas?
 There the conversation broke. Of course it is nonsense to say that an idea has length or weight or color or shape. But the materialist had said that thought is material and the theologian was simply asking what material attributes it had. In fact it has none. If we are continuously producing things which have no attributes of matter, there must be in some element which is not matter, to produce them. This element we call spirit.
 A spirit differs from a material thing in that it has no parts. A part is any element in a being which is not the whole of it, as my stomach is a part of my body, or an electron a part of an atom. A spirit has no parts. There You'll never know how really new a 1963 Cadillac can look until you've seen it from the driver's seat. For only in action does this great car reveal all its secrets.

Here's a hint of what you have in store: A newly refined engine so silent you won't be quite sure it's running—until you touch the accelerator pedal.

And then! The instantaneous response will bring you quickly up to date on Cadillac's new true-center drive line. For as the big car glides away from the curb and down the road, you'll experience a wholly new sensation in smoothness. The exclusive design and precision assembly of the new Cadillac drive line makes the flow of power from engine to rear wheels incredibly smooth under all load and road conditions.

And while you're at the wheel, be sure to adjust it to your favorite angle. This year, the new Cadillac, adjustable steering wheel moves easily to six different positions. It's an extra-cost option, convenient for the family and especially refreshing on long journeys.

But these are only a few of the seventy ways in which Cadillac performance, ride and handling have been advanced in 1963. Make an early date with your authorized dealer to sit at the wheel of a new Cadillac. It's the world's nicest place to sit.

OUT OF THE PAST

ONE YEAR AGO
October 19, 1961
—The doors of Community General hospital, closed six months ago in the face of bankruptcy, now appear closed forever—either as a hospital or a convalescent home. Owner Abraham Farris admitted there is no possibility of reopening the facility as a hospital and chances of overcoming obstacles, to use as a convalescent home are slim.

—The Kroger company this week announced plans to open its new East Dunlap street store next Tuesday with special ribbon-cutting ceremonies. Meanwhile local merchants prepared to welcome Kroger into its new building by featuring a host of week-end bargains in a city-wide promotion hailed as "Northville's Greater Progress Days."

—Northville's junior chamber of commerce Monday night proved to the city that projects pay off. It donated $760 in receipts from last summer's horse show toward construction of a new Scout-recreation building.

—Novi school board members learned last week that the previously predicted budget deficit of $27,080 will be nearly $1,000 greater. Superintendent Tom Culbert explained that most of the increase will go to pay for more tuition students to Northville than had been anticipated.

—The Wixom city council passed a motion last week that will put Mayor Donald Brooks in what he termed a "very bad light." The council approved Councilman Gumar Mettala's motion to not pay a $500 bill for a speed timer Brooks had purchased to help police in their fight against speeders.

FIVE YEARS AGO
October 17, 1957

—The recent unsuccessful court fight to obtain fall racing dates at Northville Downs has prompted efforts to have the state legislature restrict the power of racing Commissioner James H. Inglis. Officials of the Michigan Harness Horseman's association said this week that they will attempt to have the legislature set up a three or five-man board to replace the one-man commissioner arrangement.

—Heavy fog which blanketed the Novi area sent at least a dozen persons to the hospital and caused serious damage to more than 20 vehicles Monday morning. Most serious of the series of crack-ups was one involving a Northville school bus stopped to pick up children. A milk van and another truck struck cars stopped behind the bus, injuring five persons and damaging five vehicles.

—The proposed new Novi elementary school has won acclaim from state architects even while still on the drawing board. The school was one of seven Michigan schools cited for excellence of design last week at a school board-architectural meeting in Ann Arbor. —Wixom's two voluntary policemen, Frank Jadzinski and Ronald Slomkowski, were sworn in at last week's council session. The policemen, who serve without pay, were charged with "upholding the law and performing duties with respect and dignity," by Mayor Joseph Stadnik.

FIFTEEN YEARS AGO
October 17, 1947

—The mystery of the body of a Detroit youth found in a roadside field in Northville still has police puzzled. Found near Beck road and Six Mile was the body of Paul Kennedy, who was reported missing six weeks ago from his caddy job at a Detroit golf club.

—A 15 feet by 45 feet addition is being placed on the rear of Sessions hospital. The addition, of concrete block construction, will house the doctors' room, a nursery and a viewing room.

—Some 20 Northville youngsters received immunization Wednesday night when the local health authorities held a pre-school clinic at the village hall.

—Novi's community fund drive will be kicked off with a meeting of the community council tonight at the school. Frank Clark, in charge of the fund drive, will name delegates to cover districts in the township. —The Novi Blue Star mothers ended their first five years of existence last week with a celebration at a member's home. Principal program for the event was a review of the organization's activities over the years since its founding in October of 1942.

—Do you enjoy the movies? The Penitman—Allen the theatre will soon present several popular shows. Starting this week-end is "Variety Girl", starring Bing Crosby, Bob Hope and a list of All-Stars. Next week "Singapore" will be the feature film with Fred MacMurray and Ava Gardner in the leading roles.

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO
October 15, 1937

—Five residents of Northville were injured in a crash at the intersection of John R. and 15 Mile roads Friday evening. Erlene Toussaint, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Toussaint, received severe skull injuries and cuts in the crash, while her father received head injuries while Mrs. Toussaint was treated for cuts and two Toussaint boys received bumps and bruises.

—Farmers from this area stocked up with more than 1,000 "no hunting" signs this past week for posting about their lands. They seek protection from the hosts of hunters who will be flooding into the area Friday in search of pheasants.

—The American Legion auxiliary of Lloyd H. Green post number 147 installed Mrs. Charles M. Freydl as president Monday night. Mrs. Floyd Lanning became first vice-president, while Mrs. Arthur Carlson became second vice-president. Installed as secretary and treasurer respectively were Mrs. Lisle H. Alexander and Mrs. Archibald Kerr.

—Mrs. H. B. Clark, general chairman of the annual harvest festival scheduled for next week at the Presbyterian church this week announced committee members and listed time schedules. Both luncheon and dinner meals will be available this year, she said.

Canada and U.S. - A Good Wedding

Babson Park, Mass. This is a touchy subject. Canadians are often inclined to look upon the people of the United States more or less as upstarts, and in some ways I don't blame them. For many years I have had an office in Toronto, Ontario and all of my employees there are loyal native Canadians.

The full terms of entry are known. One fact is certain, namely, that even if England is accepted, there is no hope for Canada to also be accepted. In the meantime, Russia fears the European Common Market, and will be much concerned if England is accepted.

Canadian Resources
We must first realize that Canada has an area of about 3,850,000 square miles compared with an area of 3,020,000 square miles for the United States, — not including Alaska or Hawaii. The mineral assets of Canada are very great, including oil, natural gas, even gold and uranium, and also every other mineral. Moreover, these natural resources are all underground, and hence might not be disturbed by a nuclear world war.

My Own Forecast
Canada and Great Britain are gradually working apart politically as well as economically. Although the English Prime Minister now nominates a governor general for Canada for appointment by the Queen and continues to supervise or approve certain military and fiscal legislation, yet Canada is rapidly drifting away from the mother country. This, moreover, is true of Australia, New Zealand, and others of the fifteen Commonwealth nations.

The character of the Canadian people has always interested me. They are politically alert. Studying the politics of Canada, you would assume they are quite socialistic. This is especially true of the political parties in the western part of Canada. On the other hand, they are fair; when taking over private property they usually pay a fair price. This is evident now as the government is moving to take possession of some of the largest developed waterpower companies.

A joining of the United States and Canada should be of advantage to both countries. It would give the United States a great new body of natural resources, and would help Canada industrially and give much additional employment to Canadian people. The two countries would supplement each other well as a political point of view.

Will Canada Jinx "Common Market"?
I have already discussed the Common Market of Europe in a column which was published a few weeks ago. England, of course, must join the Common Market before Canada could hope to do so. Furthermore, the original charter of the Common Market demanded that all countries belonging thereto should be adjoining. England expects to get this stipulation revoked.

NOTE: As a trained engineer I have always felt it a great waste to allow fresh water to flow northerly from the great lakes of central western Canada into the Arctic Ocean. A friend of mine has figured what it would cost to route this water south, by Winnipeg, across the U.S. line and use it to irrigate the plains of the Dakotas, Utah, and other areas now greatly in need of water. Such a canal could be built to the advantage of both countries if Canada and the U.S. were combined into one nation.

Recently Prime Minister Macmillan brought the heads of the British Commonwealth countries to London to see if they could agree to England's joining the European Common Market. After ten days of haggling in London, the fifteen Prime Ministers of the Commonwealth Countries issued, on September 19th, a communique which was rather bland as well as bland. The communique said: The final decision must be left to Britain alone; we, however, withhold final judgment until

Petticoat Politics Grows

IT WASN'T too many years ago that the first women became active in political circles. The number of women in public offices still is relatively low today, but the part women play in campaigns and party organizations is considerable.

also brings a rash of accidents. State Police and other officials had strong hopes until a few weeks ago for a decrease in the traffic fatality toll from last year.

chairman and has selected two deputy general chairmen. Woodward C. Smith, vice president of Central Michigan University in Mount Pleasant, was appointed to work with regional chairmen in the northern two-thirds of the state, and Paul Penfield, Detroit, was asked to assist in programs in the southern third.

Mrs. Nancy Williams, wife of Michigan's only six-term governor, was one of the first women to hit the campaign trail on behalf of her husband. This year, both governor candidate's wives, and the wives of many other candidates are making rounds of public gatherings for their spouses.

A sudden series of multiple-death crashes, however, boosted the toll above the 1961 count with little hope for returning below that figure again.

Then came the job of selecting the 16 regional chairmen. This, too, has been done. PLANNING for the May 19-25 "brag week" now is being fed down to chairmen at the county level. Michigan Week officials said all county chairmen are expected to be named and local organizations set by December 1. This would be the earliest start in the history of the event.

DOUBLING the strength of a campaign by having both husband and wife soliciting voter approval seems to have some effect. The full impact of such a campaign cannot be measured, however.

Wet leaves on roadways, rain and the sure-to-come snow make everyday driving require extra alertness and caution.

Michigan Week has grown by leaps and bounds during its 10 years. Further growth is expected to continue as more individuals become concerned with the business and economic future of the state, Daverman said.

Now that her youngest child is getting older, Mrs. John B. Swainson is doing a considerable amount of campaigning for her Democratic husband.

MICHIGAN WEEK, still seven months away, is already being given primary consideration by a number of residents who have been named to plan the 10th annual observance.

Herbert G. Daverman, Grand Rapids, was named general

Mrs. George Romney, wife of the Republican candidate, hopes to set a new record in the field of petticoat politics this month by finishing her tour of Michigan's 83 counties, the first woman to cover the entire state.

WINTER is costly in many ways in Michigan. It usually results in an increase in traffic accidents and deaths, the dollar cost of which is difficult to measure.

To the State of Michigan, the cost can be pinned down relatively well from one standpoint, however. This is in what it takes to keep snow and ice removed from highways.

I am painfully aware of how impossible it is to show self-righteous people how their sick behavior if reflected in the tolerant attitudes and actions of their children. They don't like to hear such things and I don't imagine that you like to hear them either. I think you are an inwardly unhappy and disturbed person. You married twice for reasons other than love. You have one divorce and one highly disturbed child to your "credit" and a clearly unsatisfactory marriage which may be on the way to dissolution without your even being aware of the fact. Do I think you need a psychiatrist? Yes, I do!

THE APPROACH of winter removal is the largest single expense in our highway maintenance program," said Harold J. Rathfoot, Chief Highway Department maintenance engineer.

Member-Detroit Stock Exchange Philadelphia - Baltimore Stock Exchange.

DURING AN "average winter", snow and ice removal will run about $5.5 million, Rathfoot said.

Then, every few years, Michigan will be assaulted by a winter similar to last year. A record $7 million was spent last year during the severe winter.

SPEAKING for The Record

By BILL SLIGER

Once a year newspapers are given a week to pay tribute to themselves. This is it. October 15-20 is National Newspaper Week.

I've just read reams of material supplied by an agency employed to promote this event. And I must say, it's well done.

It takes one right into the newsroom of a typical newspaper. It pictures a pretty girl seated along side the society editor. It's likely that the girl's mother is with her.

The girl has brought her wedding picture for the newspaper. It concludes that no mere man will ever understand what that picture means to the girl, her mother and their relatives. If you doubt this, the writer challenges you to ask any editor who has failed to give a bride her due and he will tell you that Hell hath no fury like the mother of the bride.

Then it notes that a desk or two away from the society editor, someone else is preparing birth notices—and obituaries. Births, deaths and marriages. These are the events that always interest people and these are the basic news items of the community newspaper.

There are, of course, many other important features — city, township, school, police and court, business trends and advertising.

But everyone talks about births, deaths and marriages. It's a mirror of life — from birth to marriage to death and all the events in between. They're recorded in your community newspaper.

Once in a while an advertiser will tell me that he doesn't think anyone reads the paper. It's impossible for me to believe this and I always tell them that our subscribers read the news and the advertisements as well. Sometimes they just fail to mention to the merchant that they "saw your ad in the paper".

Usually I win my point, but in an embarrassing manner. The next week we'll make an error in a price and everyone pours into the store to grab the bargain.

For example, last week I heard a young woman give a news item to one of the girls at our front counter. "I've written it out so you won't make a mistake. All these small papers seem to be filled with errors," she politely noted.

The viewpoint that we devote ourselves to finding new ways to commit errors is not isolated. It often serves as subject matter for jokes — one of which City Attorney Philip Ogilvie just casually dropped on my desk this week. It goes like this:

An advertising man from the big city had hopes of some day acquiring a weekly newspaper. While vacationing in a small town he visited the publisher of the paper there. He was curious, he admitted to the publisher, whether the paper made its money on its subscriptions.

"Nope," replied the publisher. "How about the job printing—you make money on that?" The publisher shook his head.

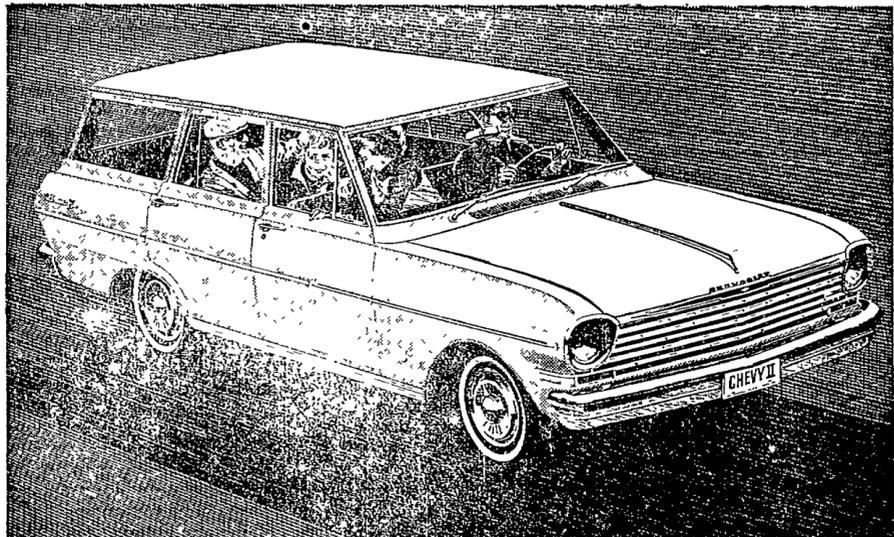

"Well, how about advertising—you must make out there?" "Break even."

The visitor was overwhelmed. "Then how in the world do you manage to show any profit at all?"

"Well," replied the publisher, "it isn't easy in this town. Fact, we couldn't continue publishing if it weren't for the humor departments of the big city dailies. They buy all our typographical errors."

But after the joking's all done, I can always turn to a quotation from Thomas Jefferson for solace. Its thought provoking and should make those persons connected with supplying a community with its news take time out to consider their responsibility:

"Were it left to me to decide whether we should have a government without newspapers, or newspapers without a government, I should not hesitate a moment to prefer the latter."

EXCITING! GO '63 CHEVY II

SPUNKY NEW WAGONS THAT LEAD LONGER, HAPPIER LIVES

What a new kick you'll get out of going places in this one! And what a solvent feeling you'll get as the savings on upkeep mount! There's a full line of models, including three wagons. Basically, we've kept Chevy II's liveliness and roominess and easy loading ways. Kept its crisp looks, too (with a bit of freshening here and there). The changes we've made weren't for change's sake, you see—but for yours. Just for a sample: the brakes are self-adjusting. The new Delco generator gives you more electrical reserve power and helps your battery reach a vigorous old age. The Body by Fisher beauty lasts longer, too; air pushes rain and wash water down through the rocker panels (where most rust begins!) in a clever new flush-and-dry system. The ride is smoother and quieter because of a large number of small improvements we've made. And things are a lot plusher inside. Now you've read this far, haven't you? Isn't that good evidence that Chevy II is made for you? The clincher will come when you take the wheel at your Chevrolet dealer's.

Dr. Mudd Replies

Yes, Virginia, You Need Help

Dear Dr. Mudd:
I am writing to you because I am confused. I'll go back a few years.

clay, to be molded by their parents. But they are certainly impressionable. Your concept of "love" is a very popular and sentimental one, but I suspect that you ladie it out in amounts so large to Bruce as to be indigestible. No doubt your son requires help and the physicians at Hawthorn Center are unexcelled in this area of child psychotherapy. Yet, perhaps even more might be accomplished for you, rather than your child, to be treated.

I married to get away from my family, but my husband was very irresponsible and drank and ran around with women. I had a baby, Bruce, and I divorced him. I worked four years raising Bruce all by myself, and then I met and married my present husband. I guess I didn't love him either but married him because he represented security and a future for my son.

I have been a good and faithful wife and still there has always been something lacking between us. We don't seem to have anything to say to each other. He's not very sympathetic and never listens to me.

A year ago, Bruce, who is now ten, started having nightmares. He was so scared I would take him to bed with us and comfort him. My husband didn't like that — an example of his lack of understanding. He doesn't understand Bruce and doesn't give him the love a father should. Things got worse.

At school Bruce is fine, but at home I just can't manage him. He is frightful. He hits the other children even when I am there and then lies about it. If I punish him, he swears he'll get even with me. He just gets hysterical and hollers.

All his father does is just get mad at him and tease him. He won't give Bruce the love he needs. I spend extra time with him. I give him all the love I can to make up for what he doesn't get from my husband. I saw a marriage counselor but she wouldn't talk about any problem except my marital problem. The visiting teacher comes to talk with me once a week and he says Bruce just needs more love and attention.

I have gotten Bruce accepted for psychotherapy at Hawthorn Center and I'm sure that with treatment he'll get better. What confuses me is that my own doctor tells me that I'm the one who needs psychotherapy. Maybe you can straighten me out on this, but how can I need psychotherapy when it is plain to see that the whole trouble is the way my husband treats Bruce?

I think that if he could see that he has to love Bruce and not be angry with him, Bruce would be o.k. You don't know a lot about me, but do you think I need to see a psychiatrist?

Virginia

Dear Virginia:

You seem to have engaged a lot of cooks to stir the soup you are in. There is a visiting teacher, the physicians at Hawthorn Center, a marriage counselor, your own doctor, and now me!

I certainly am not going to compound confusion by offering any further advice. You are getting an excess of it now — some expert, but most of it sadly and tragically amateur. This is the age of the "do-it-yourselfers." Some people actually purchase and consume the past they dosed themselves with home remedies of all kinds. They erroneously believe that self-medication can have no ill effects.

There is no one cause for your troubles, as you suggest — and it is certain that your husband no more than contributes his small share to the total of causative factors. I think that you have some severe problems within yourself which, in contrast to the histrionic behavior of your son, are mercifully kept from your recognition.
