

Here's the Plan - How Do You Like It?

TRAFFIC PROPOSAL — City planners revealed last week a new traffic plan for Northville's business district. The proposal is still in the "talking stage", but if enough public willingness to try the plan is received at public hearings, it will be initiated. Arrows above indicate the flow of traffic — one way in a circle made up of Dunlap, Wing, Cady, Church and Hutton streets and also on Main street from Wing to Hutton. It would permit no left turns off Center street between Dunlap and Cady. Angle parking would be provided on the north side of Main between Center and Hutton with parallel parking on the south side. Planners believe the arrangement would help local business and provide a better traffic flow on Center street.

Night Hours, Lights, Prizes Say Christmastime is Near

The weather may not reflect it, but Christmas is just 21 shopping days away.

Northville merchants are well aware of the fact, however. And they're doing all they can to remind shoppers!

First, most local stores have started staying open evenings until 9 o'clock.

Secondly, the annual display of Christmas decorations hang gaily and glow brightly throughout the shopping area waiting for a blanket of snow to add glister and sparkle.

Store windows also reflect the Christmas season with displays of gift suggestions.

And finally, the merchants have added a Christmas gift touch of their own.

They're offering free prizes to area shoppers — with no strings attached, nothing to buy.

Complete details of the Northville Retail Merchants Association Christmas promotion may be found on page three, section two.

But in a (Christmas) nutshell, it goes like this.

Each week for the next three weeks 20 participating merchants will post a "lucky number" in their stores. Each number will be different. If your newspaper coupon (again, see page three, section two) contains this number, you may claim a prize.

Whether you have a weekly winning number or not, you should deposit your coupon with name and address in boxes provided at any one of the stores. Do this every week.

Then on Tuesday evening, December 18, a grand winner will be selected from all the coupons.

This lucky person will win the Grand Prize — a total of 20 gift certificates (one from each participating store) worth $25 each.

So, with 20 weekly prizes during each of the three weeks, plus a grand prize worth $500 in trade, local merchants will be offering a total of more than $800 in merchandise to local shoppers.

Remember, a new coupon will appear in each edition of this newspaper for three weeks. Be sure to clip yours out — and whether it wins a weekly prize or not, leave it in the coupon box at any one of the participating stores so that you will have a chance to win the Grand Prize — $500 worth of gift certificates.

Daniel Brown to Run For Township Trustee

Another candidate entered the race for Northville township office this week, while potential city candidates learned that a new law gives them until February before they must file for the April election.

Daniel R. Brown, 56, of 20120 Whipple Drive has taken out

Terrill Dinner Plans Set

A retirement dinner for Roy Terrill, Northville township's former treasurer, will be held Thursday evening, December 6, at Hillside Inn in Plymouth.

Township Clerk Marguerite Northrup requests that all reservations be made at the township hall by Tuesday.

Township offices are open week days from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. The telephone number is FT-9-1600. Tickets are $4.50 each.

petitions for the position of trustee.

Brown is a program supervisor at the Western Electric plant in Plymouth and has been a Northville township resident for six years.

The office of trustee coming up for election in April is currently held by R. D. Merriam, who has declared himself a candidate for supervisor. Another announced supervisor candidate on the Republican ticket is Mrs. Harold B. Price.

Other members of the township board facing election in April are Clerk Marguerite Northrup and Treasurer Alex Lawrence. They have both indicated they will run again.

Previously, the city has been forced to follow the same procedure even though its charter provides for no primary and the election is non-partisan.

But a special law initiated by City Attorney Philip Ogilvie with approval of the state legislature last session which provides that if nomination for office is completed by petitions rather than primary, the filing deadline for petitions is the state's primary election day — or the third Monday in February.

Three positions on the city council will be up for election in April. The terms of Mayor A. M. Allen and Councilmen John Canterbury and Richard Juday expire.

Ed Welch III

Ed Welch, 222 South Wing street, is in critical condition at Beyer Memorial Hospital in Ypsilanti.

Welch suffered a heart attack last week (November 20). His physician, Dr. H. Handorf, stated that Welch is "seriously ill, but holding his own".

A former city councilman, Welch was also a member of the city charter commission and has been active in numerous civic affairs. He currently serves as a member of the Northville Recreation Commission.

Contributions Boost Scout Building Fund

Although it has not yet reached the halfway mark, Northville's drive to collect $12,000 to complete construction of the Scout-Recreation building received a big boost this week.

Two sizeable contributions lifted the total to date to $5,126.48.

The greatest share of these contributions have come from business, professional and industrial sources with the residential campaign remaining to come.

Campaign Chairman John Canterbury announced that Haller, Incorporated had contributed $1,000, the biggest single gift in the current drive.

Canterbury also revealed that Manufacturers National Bank had boosted the fund by $500.

Other sizeable gifts previously pledged or contributed by local organizations include $1,000 from the Mothers Club, nearly $900 from the Jaycees, and $1,045 from the Rotary club.

Encouraged by the new response to the fund drive, the committee is scheduled to meet tonight to outline its plans for a direct mail campaign covering the entire community.

The meeting is set for 8 p.m. in the junior high school library.

The new scout-recreation building is currently under construction on city-owned land on West Cady street adjacent to the cemetery. It is scheduled for completion by February. Total cost of the project is approximately $26,000.

Following is a list of the persons and firms who have contributed or pledged funds to date:

City Awaits Good News — or Bad!

This could be a week of big news for Northville—all good all bad, or good and bad.

Two announcements directly affecting the community are expected around December 1.

Scheduled for release Friday is the determination of State Racing Commissioner Edgar Hayes concerning additional racing dates at Northville Downs.

A request for a second meet at the Downs has been made by Leon Slavin, promoter of the fall meet held annually in Jackson.

The new dates would boost the city's yearly returns from the state for pari-mutuel betting from approximately $100,000 to an estimated $150,000.

Another announcement expected momentarily by city officials in an answer to the request for matching federal funds to build a new city hall.

City Manager Bruce Potthoff said he expected word from the Housing and Home Finance Agency in Chicago by Monday. Northville has applied for funds under the federal government's new Public Works Acceleration Act.

Estimated cost of the new city hall-library-fire hall is $210,000. If approved, the request would bring a federal grant of $105,000. Construction would start in early spring at the site of the present city hall.

A $125,000 city hall project in Farmington recently won approval for matching funds. The city of Plymouth has also bid for a grant for a $450,000 city hall and is awaiting word on the request.

School Report, Student Page Inside

There's a host of school news in this week's edition of The Record.

In a special tabloid section the Northville Public Schools District makes its annual report for the 1961-62 year. The report contains pictures of activities in each of the schools and provides a financial statement as well as messages from the superintendent and school board president.

Then on page four, section two the high school takes over a full page to present news of its activities. The page was compiled by students under the direction of Mrs. Anna Ripberger, faculty advisor.

Tax Bills Coming!

School-County Millage Rates Drop Slightly

It's hardly a pleasant thought before Christmas—but it can't be escaped. School and county tax time is here again.

Officially, winter tax bills are payable beginning December 1. Notices may arrive slightly later than that, particularly in the city, but all taxpayers will be receiving their brown envelopes shortly.

There's some relief to soften the blow. Millage rates are down in both the city and township.

In the township the equalized millage is 38.03 compared to 39.50 last year, or $89.93 per $1,000 of assessed valuation.

Township taxpayers who live in the Plymouth school district face an increase — from 35.78 mills last year to 38.63. A hike in school millage plus the new one mill assessment for the community college are responsible for the increase.

The township tax bill includes the school, county and township tax. The Northville school tax rate is 24.95 mills, the county 6.85 mills and the township one mill. The millage is multiplied by the equalization factor of 1.187 to arrive at the total "state equalized millage" (38.93) which is then multiplied by the assessed valuation of the property to determine the total tax bill.

Although the tax rate is down slightly, the township's total tax roll is up. This year's levy will produce $441,678.53 in property tax returns compared to $403,124.29 in 1961.

This is due to the fact that the township state equalized valuation is up to $13,320,438 compared to $12,112,925 last year.

Treasurer Alex Lawrence announced that township tax notices would be mailed this week. Treasurer Lawrence will be available to receive payments each Tuesday and Friday at Manufacturers National Bank beginning Friday, December 7.

City residents will also enjoy a dip in millage rate. In the Wayne county portion of the city the school-county equalized tax rate is 38.10 mills compared to 39.21 last year.

Oakland county residents of the city received a greater decrease — from 37.26 mills in 1961 to 35.68 this year.

The total tax levy in the city is down slightly, $403,038.59 this year compared to $404,059.74 in 1961. Of this levy, $308,252.37 will come from the Wayne county portion of the city and $96,786.22 from Oakland county property owners.

The winter tax bill paid by city property owners is divided between the county and school. Or the total equalized millage of 38.10 (in Wayne county) the schools receive 29.89 mills and the county 8.21 mills. In the Oakland county area the $35.68 per $1,000 of assessed valuation is divided 29.48 for schools and 6.20 for county.

The city's total assessed valuation for 1962 is $10,750,310. An equalization factor of 1.1699 boosts this total to a state equalized valuation for the city of $12,576,786.

City residents may pay their tax bills at the city hall. City Manager Bruce Potthoff noted this week that notices have not yet been received from the county and anticipates a delay in mailing of the bills.

3-Grade High School Proposed for Northville

What to do with an overcrowded ninth grade next year became a major concern for the Northville school board as it reviewed figures supplied Monday night by Dr. Kenneth MacLeod, assistant superintendent.

The student-bulge will be of one-year duration only, MacLeod pointed out, because the Novi school district is scheduled to provide its own junior high school facilities beginning with the 1964-65 school year.

Nevertheless, the 1963-64 ninth grade enrollment will be so heavy that MacLeod recommended adopting a "6-3-3" plan next year — six grades in elementary, three grades in junior high school, and three grades in high school. Northville currently has a four-year high school and seventh and eighth grades in the junior high school.

Although no definite decision was reached, the board indicated agreement with MacLeod's conclusions.

Enrollment figures show that under the proposed "6-3-3" plan enrollment in the junior high school in 1963-64 would be 510 and the high school 638.

If the "6-2-4" plan were to be continued, the enrollment would be 280 in the junior high school and 888 in the high school, MacLeod estimated.

Board Member Robert Shaffer suggested that one solution might be the "splitting" of the ninth grade. He noted that some students were taking advanced math courses in the eighth and proposed that this group might be sent to the high school for ninth grade and the others remain at the junior high school building.

Dr. MacLeod opposed this idea on the basis it would tend to classify student levels. He also noted other problems, particularly in the field of athletics where ninth graders at the junior high school could not participate with ninth graders at the high school.

The board also discussed the possibility of taking Novi students on a part time basis with the Novi school teaching some of the ninth grade courses.

It was noted that the 510 students in the junior high school would exceed capacity. The same holds true of an 888 attendance at the high school.

But after next year MacLeod noted that enrollment would level out and the student population per school under the "6-3-3" plan would be highly satisfactory.

In 1964-65, for example, he projected an enrollment of 450 in the (seventh-eighth-ninth-grade) junior high school and 696 in the (tenth-eleventh-twelfth grade) high school.

"Without Novi ninth graders coming in we'll hit a plateau and will be able to accommodate Novi high school students for the next few years", MacLeod predicted.

The Novi school board recently retained an architect to start planning a junior high school, which would later be enlarged to a high school when the need arises. Under the present Northville Novi agreement the Novi school system will provide its own junior high school beginning with the school year of 1964-65.

NORTHVILLE GAINED another stretch of paved road last week with the completion of Novi street from Hill to Maplewood. The paving continued around the corner of Maplewood westward about 100 feet in the completed portion of Village Green subdivision. Maplewood, cut through recently to North Center, will be paved next year as the subdivision continues development.

NEWCOMER'S CORNER

I look upon every day to be lost, in which I do not make a new acquaintance.

OLD TIME NEWCOMERS — That's the Orville Barnes family. Barnes first lived in Northville in 1934. Pictured (l-r, kneeling) are sons Jeff, 8; Greg, 6; and Rick, 9, while seated are Mr. and Mrs. Barnes and son Tom, 13.

It'll be a somewhat complicated but nevertheless happy Christmas for the Orville Barnes family, of 1977 Meadowbrook road.

For the Barnes', Orville and Martha and their four boys, Tom, Rick, Jeff and Greg, are still in the throes of moving to their new home.

"We may have some difficulty sorting out the presents from our boxes of possessions, but it'll be fun anyway," Mrs. Barnes chuckled.

They moved to Northville from Pinckney four weeks ago to reduce Barnes' travel time to work in the Detroit office of the Philco corporation. He serves as a sales representative.

This marks the second time Barnes has moved to Northville, but the first time with a family. He first came here in 1934—at the age of 18.

With him he brought "Frisco-J", a stallion race horse which has produced a number of well-known offsprings. Some of the stallion's descendants are still being raced locally. Barnes worked for The Record for a year, carrying out some editorial duties and serving as subscription collector. His experience here gave him subscription knowledge he put to work on 60 Michigan papers during the five years he was in college.

Barnes left Northville a year later, entering college at Eastern Michigan University with Paul Baldwin, son of The Record editor at that time.

After returning to his native Ojowso with his wife for a number of years, Barnes and his family moved to Des Moines, Iowa. A little over a year ago they moved back to Michigan, settling in Pinckney.

Further complicating the daily routine and the usual Christmas rush is Mrs. Barnes' favorite hobby — sewing. She's busy planning house decorations and making the little additions which change brick, mortar and boards into "home."

And the boys, who range in age from 13 to six, are looking forward to not only Christmas but the seasonal sports holidays signify.

M Professor To Speak On Africa

Henry L. Bretton, associate professor of political science at the University of Michigan, will speak before the Northville Women's club Friday, December 7.

Bretton, who has authored and co-authored a number of books on government and international relations, will discuss "Africa and the World."

The 46-year-old professor joined the university faculty as a teaching fellow in 1948, just after he received his master of arts degree from Yale University. He was appointed instructor in 1950, shortly before receiving his PhD from the university.

He was promoted to assistant professor in 1954 and associate professor in 1958.

Bretton has written "Stressmann and the Revision of Versailles", published in 1953, and several chapters of "German Democracy at Work", edited by James Pollock, and a number of other books.

He was a recipient of Horace H. Rackham fellowships in the summers of 1954, 1956 and 1959, visiting West Africa under the latter two grants.

Bretton is a member of the University of Michigan Research club, serving as secretary in 1959-61, the American political science association; Pi Sigma Alpha, political science honor society; the midwest political science association; and the American association of university professors.

son for developing this facility, the way it is being developed, and specific plans for realizing this service. A brief history of the efforts made by these citizens will be developed by Mrs. Robert H. Hermanson of Dearborn, who is secretary of the board. The facts which this group has developed on the need for services will be outlined by Marvin Hauk of Wayne. Several typical cases will be discussed by Mrs. Oscar Agre of Garden City. The money which this board proposes to raise from local sources will be discussed by Robert Wesley of Inkster.

The board will propose a goal to be raised from local funds. The board will also discuss the mechanics to raise this money. Local people will be needed to work with members of the board to reach this goal. Local funds must be secured to start this service until state and county funds could be gained by the board. This service would be supported by the State Department of Mental Health in conjunction with local funds. In order to reach this goal, the help of citizens from each community will be required in one way or another. The board would like to tell local groups about this project. For this reason a committee under chairmanship of Dr. James E. Oliver of Dearborn township has developed a slide.

Questions can be discussed with the Executive Committee: Mrs. Crispin Hammond, FI 9-0116; Jack Salvatore, KE 5-4000; Marvin Hauk, PA 2-5080; or, Mrs. Robert Hermanson, LO 2-8594.

SIBLEY'S—IN THE THEATRE BUILDING—NORTHVILLE

TAKING TIME OUT for refreshments at the Northville high school junior class' annual J-Hop last Friday night in the community building are (l-r) Sue Entz, Ron Rebitzke, class Treasurer Holly Fox and Peter Carter. That punch bowl they're about to empty is made of slid ice with roses embeddd in it. A light shining beneath the bowl lights the ice, roses and punch. The punch and cookies were served to dancers as a French sidewalk cafe, complete with checkered table cloths and candles. Carrying out the J-Hop theme of "Under the Stars of Paris" were such decorations on the dance floor as a fish net ceiling with stars hanging from it and the Eiffel Tower centerpiece (below) which served as a dance floor centerpiece.

LET'S TALK CARS . . .

FACTS ON TIRE WEAR

Tires will last some motorists up to twice as long as others. The reason is, in the type of driving they do, roads and weather conditions.

If the well known rules for longer tire wear are observed: correct inflation, balance and alignment; avoidance of fast starts and stops and sharp cornering; then lesser known conditions will still affect wear drastically.

Road surface has a great deal to do with tire wear. Country gravel roads, for instance, cut normal tire life just about in half—a fact that may not surprise some farmers.

The best road surface is smooth asphalt. Using that surface as 100 percent, coarse asphalt increases tire wear ten percent; concrete roads 30 percent; stone block roads 35 percent and broken asphalt 45 percent.

Heat is tire life's worst enemy and therefore wear from this source is greatest in Summer and least in Winter. Counting heat generated by speed as normal at 60 MPH, wear increases 34 percent at 75 MPH and decreases 25 per cent at 40 MPH.

A modern automobile is a major investment for most of us. It is only common sense to treat that investment with the same consideration we would treat a like amount of cash if we were handling it constantly. It is far cheaper to keep it in top condition than to repair it when it breaks down; to care for it as you would most other possessions of similar worth.

If this is what you wish to do with your car, we operate the type of garage you are looking for.

Family Help Wins Final Grid Quiz

Family conferences were the methods used by this week's winners in The Record-News football contest—the final contest of the season.

First place honors went to Don Miller—or he Don Miller family—of 53481 10 Mile road. He admitted that his wife Ruth and 19-year-old son Claude assisted in picking the winners.

Miller, who is a dairy farmer, says he's often entered the contest, with the family's help, of course, but never won before. The Miller family predicted 15 of the 20 winning games, to top other entrants.

Tying for the first time this year in the second-place bracket were six-year-old Stacey Balko and Mrs. Seymour Orr. Each picked all but six of the correct winners and had exactly the same scores listed for the pro game.

Stacey's father, Postman Elmer Balko, of 744 Horton, admitted his daughter received a little coaching on her entry. He said the entire family gets together to make out their contest blanks.

"She watches football and baseball, but she's not exactly sure what it's all about," he said. Stacey is a first grader at Amerman school.

Mrs. Orr, who works at Stone's Gamble store, said she often enters the contest, "but I really don't know much about football—I just close my eyes and guess."

Her son Bob tied for first place on one of last season's contests.

Gridder Fete Will Feature Lions Stars

Northville's Mustang gridgers will be feted at the annual football banquet next Wednesday night, the planners have announced.

The dinner-banquet will begin at 6:30 in the Presbyterian church. The Northville Exchange club hosts the annual event, with the team and coaching staff as guests.

Attorney C. D. Hill will serve as master of ceremonies, with Detroit Lions grid stars Terry Barr and Gary Lowe as speakers.

Members of the Exchange club and player's fathers will be paying guests at the banquet.

Named to the second squad were End Don Biery and Halfback Joe Hay. Receiving honorable mentions were Tackle Dave Cummings and Quarterback Craig Bell.

Topping the scoring column was Joe Hay, whose booming 93 points for the season led all other scorers in the county. He was also given honorable mention in the All-State nominations, and was named to the All-Suburban squad.

Cadillac

TAKE A LOOK AT THE BEST-LIKED CADILLAC OF ALL TIME!

There's no question about it—America has fallen in love with this one.

It's the Cadillac car of 1963—and it is already attracting more attention—and more owners—than any other motor car in Cadillac history. And to be perfectly honest with you, we aren't a bit surprised.

You see, good news about cars travels fast. And the news about Cadillac has never been better . . . nor its owners more vocal.

Give a new Cadillac owner half a minute and he'll tell you how much he likes the new Cadillac look. Clean. Majestic. Substantial. Elegant.

Give him a full minute and he'll talk about the car's new luxury and comfort—and about the incredible range of models, colors and interior appointments.

Show just a little more interest and he'll have you in the driver's seat and out on the highway—re-creating the roll call of Cadillac's engineering feats. A smoother, quieter engine. A new true center drive line. A triple braking system.

We're glad our owners are demonstrative. And even if you subtract the usual new car fervor—you'll find that what's left over is reason enough to visit your dealer without delay.

If you see him fast—maybe you can be the first in your neighborhood with a 1963 Cadillac.

An early move, you know, gives you a full year at the wheel.

— In Justice Court —

Northville Justice of the Peace Charles McDonald heard the following cases in court here Monday:

— a plea of not guilty by Mildred Montano, 46203 Vesta Lane, to a charge of driving at the rate of 60 mph in a 40 mph zone on Edward Hines drive. The ticket was issued by Wayne county sheriff patrol. She was fined $10 and costs were suspended;

— attorneys were asked to file briefs in a case involving James Dawkins of Detroit, charged with possession of alcoholic beverages on Maybury Sanatorium property;

— Elsworth Read, Detroit, pleaded guilty to speeding and received a suspended fine, but his plea of "not guilty" to disobeying a stop sign was overruled and he was fined $10;

— a $10 fine and $10 costs were assessed against Robert H. Carr, Jr., when he pleaded guilty to a second charge of replacing some light bulbs in the apartment building.

Ash, husband of clerk Mrs. Mable Ash, received broken ribs and numerous bruises from the attack.

In other court action last week, Garfield A. Swanson, 43, of Clarkston, pleaded guilty to consuming alcoholic beverages while on the highway and paid a fine of $45.

Carl Sinelli, 20, of Detroit, paid $25 after pleading guilty to being a disorderly person. He was placed on three month's probation.

John D. Zacharski, 20, of Detroit, pleaded guilty to being a minor in possession of alcoholic beverages and was fined $25.

Holy Cow!

Monday marked the end of freedom to a Novi resident who had been sought by the police for nearly six weeks.

Police Chief Lee McGee said the runaway had been spotted several times wandering along village roads, but each time the officers approached, she had either disappeared or would outrun them.

But back behind bars now is "Bessie," a cow owned by Frank Maykovitch, of 41000 11 Mile road.

SURROUNDED — Carolyn Cockin and Patty Hicks find themselves completely surrounded by a variety of stuffed toys — all of which will be on sale at the Northville First Methodist church annual "Holy Mart" Thursday, December 6. Warning Shot Halts Running Youth

A 20-year-old Northville youth who said he "wanted to avoid a traffic ticket" ended up Saturday night with three tickets and a resisting arrest charge.

Denny Madigan, of 42777 Eight Mile road, was spotted driving through a red light without his lights on late Saturday night.

When Northville Patrolman Chris Flynn started following him, Madigan pulled to the curb and leaped from his car, running between buildings in the business district.

Flynn, unable to identify Madigan before he fled, chased him shouting orders to halt. When the youth continued to run, Flynn shot his revolver in the air, and Madigan stopped.

The youth told the officer he was afraid of receiving another traffic violation, so he ran. He was ticketed for running the red light, driving without lights, having defective equipment on his car and resisting arrest. His court date was set as December 10.

New Constitution Provides for Interstate Pact

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is No. 18 in a series about the proposed new Michigan Constitution. Additional articles will appear in subsequent weeks.

A new section in the General Government Article of the proposed new Michigan Constitution recognizes the emerging problems involved in cooperation between this state or its political subdivisions with one or more of the other states in the Federal government, the Dominion of Canada or any of their political subdivisions. This new section would permit the state or any of its political subdivisions to enter into working agreements with other units of government for the performance, financing or execution of their governmental functions. It was pointed out in the recent Constitutional Convention that compacts and working agreements between various governmental units have become an increasingly important part of the American political system within the past 25 years. Compacts between the states, which require the consent of Congress under the Federal Constitution, have existed since 1789, but in recent years they have become far more important than formerly. They deal with such matters as flood control, navigation, water conservation, protection of wildlife and game, harbor development and regulation and a variety of other subjects.

Interstate compacts may be viewed as at least a partial answer to the inability of states to deal with certain questions which extend beyond their own borders and which would otherwise have to be delegated to the Federal government.

Compacts between one or more states and the Federal government are also growing in significance. Again, they are a successful device for preserving, in part at least, the authority and sovereignty of the states in matters which have national sweep and significance.

The whole area of grants-in-aid falls generally in this category. So does State-Federal cooperation in the field of atomic energy and in waterway development in the Great Lakes and the St. Lawrence seaway. In this last instance, cooperation with the government of Canada has been necessary to the successful execution of the state and Federal functions.

The framers of the proposed new Michigan Constitution foresee the probably necessity for even closer cooperation among this state, the Federal government and Canada in matters relating to defense, commerce and navigation. Hence, this section of the new document specifically recognizes such agreements when the state authorities so decide.

The convention was aware that such agreements, under the Federal Constitution, are subject to the consent of Congress, a point covered by the new section in the phrase "subject to, provisions of general law."

The proposed section permits any officer or employee of the state or any of its political subdivisions to serve as a member of joint governmental bodies, but the legislature is empowered to impose such restrictions and limitations as it deems appropriate on the service of the officer or employee.

'Question 7' Pits Freedom Against Life Ambition

"Every freedom-loving person should see it."

This is what local committee of the Lutheran Church is saying regarding the motion picture "Question 7" which is being shown at the P and A Theatre, Northville, Sunday through Tuesday, December 2-4.

Question 7 is a Louis de Rochemont production made for Lutheran Film Associates. It has been shown in over 1,000 places thus far.

The motion picture was voted "The Best Film of the Year" by the National Board of Review. It was honored by the Thomas A. Edison Foundation as the "Film Best Serving the National Interest." It was given the "Grand Prix" of the International Catholic Office of the Film and twice received an award at the Cork Film Festival at Cork, Ireland.

The Vancouver Sun reviews it as follows: "Though fictional, Question 7 is based on actual incidents behind the Berlin wall and the Iron Curtain. The situation is very real, dealing with the conflicts of conscience, patriotism, and two ways of life. "Central figure is a minister, sent to an East German town to replace a pastor imprisoned for 'inciting to murder' merely because he quoted Scriptures the Communist regime found dangerous.

"The new clergyman is determined to do what he thinks is his duty without taking sides politically. But soon he's involved when his young son—a highly talented pianist—has to answer a questionnaire in school that will decide his future.

"If he answers according to the Communist party line, there's a great career on the concert stage ahead of him. If he's true to his Christian upbringing and his moral sense, there is no musical future.

"Before the decision is reached, Question 7 builds up a chillingly cold war of nerves and indicates the frightening possibilities everyone faces in a community where freedom is denied and Christians are barely tolerated.

"The boy's answer to Question 7 and the action he takes are inspiring reminders of the essence of freedom, an exhilarating aroma to those who have to fight to preserve it.

"Question 7 is also a sobering jolt to Sunday Christians prone to forget that in other parts of the world it's death to practice religion any day of the week.

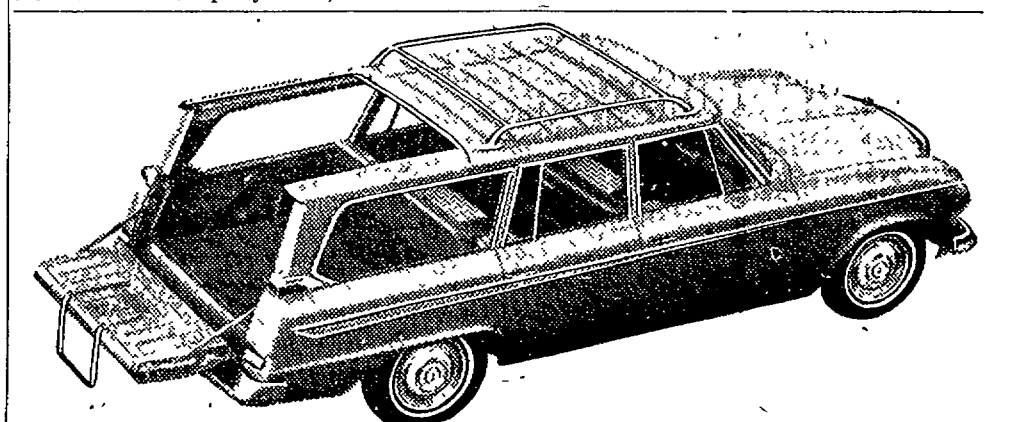

"This is a Louis de Rochemont production made for the Lutheran Church, but it has a message for everyone. Its importance is increased by the fact it is presented in straight dramatic form without waving flags.

"Convincing performances are achieved, making the principal protagonists more real people than actors. Most convincing is British actor Michael Gwynn in the tortured role of a father and minister. Christian de Bresson, as his sensitive son, also succeeds in making his mental and spiritual torment believable.

"Erik Schumann, as a school teacher indoctrinating his pupils with the Karl Marx philosophy, is a persuasive villain without moustaches to twirl. Margaret Jahnen, Almut Egger and other unknowns make themselves known by their capable contributions."

The new pastor (Michael Gwynn) of the Osterstadt church in East Germany watches with concern as the Communist-led youths of the city stage a street parade. A scene from the dramatic film "Question 7," produced by Louis de Rochemont Associates.

from the PASTOR'S STUDY

By the Rev. B. J. Pankow, Pastor
St. Paul's Lutheran Church of Northville

"The day of the Lord will come." These words are quoted directly from the Bible. (2 Peter 3:10).

The Lord, of course, is the Lord Jesus Christ. His day is the LAST DAY, which will coincide with His second coming.

All of the readings selected by the ancient Church for the last three years of the church year refer to the last day and our preparation for it.

This is a subject to which we should give frequent attention, not only because the Scriptures, both the Old and New Testament, speak so much of the last day, but also because the signs that announce the last day are being fulfilled. It is becoming more and more evident that the end of all things is swiftly drawing near.

If we observe the signs of the weather, listen to weather reports, and guide ourselves by these for our temporal advantage, how much more should we observe the signs of the times for our spiritual benefit, so that the end of the world will not take us unawares.

"The day of the Lord will come." We must recognize the certainty of this statement. The day will come when many are not prepared for it, therefore the apostle adds that the day of the Lord will come "as a thief in the night."

Many scoff at the idea of a last day. Peter writes:
"Knowing, this first, that there shall come in the last days scoffers, walking after their own lusts, and saying, Where is the promise of His coming? for since the fathers fell asleep all things continue as they were from the beginning of the creation."

The Lord is not slack concerning His promise, as some men count slackness;
but is longsuffering to us-ward, not willing that any should perish, but that all should come to repentance.
But the day of the Lord will come as a thief in the night;
in the which the heavens shall pass away with a great noise, and the elements shall melt with fervent heat, the earth also and the works that are therein shall be burned up." (2 Peter 3:4-9-10).

The Holy Spirit through Peter also has something to say about our preparation for the last day. "Seeing then that all these things shall be dissolved, what manner of persons ought ye to be in all holy conversation and godliness, looking for and hastening unto the coming of the day of God, wherein the heavens being on fire shall be dissolved, and the elements shall melt with fervent heat? Nevertheless we,
according to His promise, look for new heavens and a new earth, wherein dwell righteousness. Wherefore, beloved, seeing that ye look for such things, be diligent that ye may be found of him in peace, without spot, and blameless." (2 Peter 3:11-14).

This means that we must repent of the ungodly life, accept the forgiveness of our sins through the cleansing blood of Christ, and thus be "without spot." It means that as Christians we should no longer delight in hatred and sin, but seek to lead holy lives, and look forward to the day when Christ will take us to our eternal home.

Debaters Look Ahead To New Challenges

From The Top

The Northville High Student Council already has several accomplishments to its name this year, with many additional projects under construction.

It carried on the annual tradition of selling refreshments at football games, with a slightly different touch — a new location. This season the concessions were located in two tents, one on either side of the new field. In each tent you could find a Student Council member willing to take your money!

Again, this year, the Council sold Student Directories, helping the treasury along to its present state of $572.58. Some of this money will be spent on the Student lounge project which is now under consideration. Included in the ensemble will be several sectional couches, end tables, and two or three chairs, all of which are to be placed in the area between the auditorium and the hall leading to the gym. The furniture is to be purchased at Schrader's Home Furnishings and there will be a discount in cost, with the final price being approximately $400.

At the Student Council workshop in Clarkston, our able Mayor, Frank Steinberger, was elected vice-president of the League Student Council.

For the benefit of the students, assemblies are planned by the council. The first one was in the last week of October. At that time Notre Dame debated both Illinois Normal and Southern Illinois, and was defeated both times. At the Thanksgiving Chapel, Reverend Spradling, minister of the First Baptist church of Northville, gave the message. An assembly is planned for January and will concern Project Gemini, the man in space program. So, with this bit of news we will "blast off" until we receive further news "from the top."

The Northville High School Debate Team, under the direction of Miss Florence Panattoni began its season in a tournament with Southfield and Bentley. On October 19, they had the first practice debate. Previous to this, the group journeyed to Wayne State University for a Debate Clinic.

The statement in question this year is "Resolved, that the United States should join in forming a Common Market among the nations of the Western Hemisphere." All of the group agrees that this is both a challenging and important subject since it is vitally important to the future of United States trade relations.

In debating this topic, the team hopes that it will achieve, and perhaps, surpass the state quarter final mark which Mike Adas and Dennis Gilbert reached in the 1960-61 season. To do this, the team must compete in four tournament debates on the district level, taking the best out of four. Upon achieving this win, they move on to the regionals, to which part of the district wins are accredited. When the Varsity Team finally reaches state competition, it must not lose a debate. To do so would be to disqualify itself. The Varsity Team, which is divided into the affirmative and negative groups, does all of the debating in tournaments. Members of the affirmative team are Barbara Pilz, and Robert Sproule. Duna Penn and Anne Hembrey comprise the negative team. There are also Junior Varsity teams which participate in practice debates and aid the varsity in whatever way they can. Members of these teams are Rowan Murphy, Larry Hurlburt, Mary Severance, Nancy Bosak, Carol Klopfenstein, Gary Webb and Robert Jean Davis.

Not much is said about the Debate Team unless it reaches those quarter finals. But we, on the Hoof Prints Staff, feel that they deserve your, the reader's, support and praise for the many long hours of work which go into putting on an above average debate and producing an above average team. Here's wishing the Debate Team and Miss Pan another successful season!

Cheerleaders Go To State Meets

Throughout the fall, Northville's six varsity cheerleaders, Lynn Johnson, Diane McCollum, Dawn McCollum, Karen Peterson, Etta Rutlan and Vicki Stroh, cheered the Mustangs on to victory at home and away football games. Now, with the approach of basketball season, the girls under the leadership of Miss Patricia Dorrian, are working hard during their Monday night practice sessions to make this year's cheering louder and more effective than ever before.

Being a cheerleader is not just a Monday and Friday night job. During the past three years, Northville cheerleaders have received six trophies at United States Cheerleading Association summer camps, an enviable record for other squads throughout the state.

A few weeks ago, Miss Marge Engel, state cheerleading chairman for the Division of Girls' and Women's Sports in Michigan, chose Northville's varsity squad to be her show group for cheerleading clinics held throughout the state. Saturday, November 17, the girls led a cheerleading clinic at Owosso High School, where 31 schools were represented by 300 cheerleaders. Participation for our squad members involved leading six discussion groups and teaching in mass formation five of Northville's popular cheers.

Classes Choose New Officers For 1962-63

At the beginning of this school year, the freshmen, sophomore, junior and senior classes of Northville High School each selected leaders and sponsors.

Senior class officers chosen were Duna Penn, President; Mike Lang, vice-president; Karen Peterson, secretary and Jeff Crawford, treasurer. Sponsors are Mr. Paul Mack and Mr. Keith Kraus.

Dave Cummings was elected to lead the Junior Class. Working with him are Ronald Rice, vice-president; Kathy Bentley, secretary; and Holly Fox, treasurer. Mr. Don Brown and Mr. Robert Sharr are the class sponsors.

Sophomores elected Garry Davis as their president. Those elected to help him are John Wayne, vice-president; Jean Downer, secretary, and Sally Winner, treasurer. Sponsors are Mr. Arnold Anderson and Mr. David Morhardt.

Bill Davis, Phil Andrews, Penny Peterson and Chuck Collins were elected president, vice-president, secretary and treasurer, respectively. Their class sponsors are Mr. William Hensch and Mr. Martin O'shea.

School Play "Hit" Again

The All-School Play, My Sister Eileen, was presented by the Forensic Club, November 15 and 16, in the high school auditorium. Once again, we can boast a fine performance to add to our long list of greats due to our able directors, Miss Florence Panattoni and Miss Patricia Dorrian, and the tremendous cast. Many hours of intensive effort were spent. For five weeks, the cast worked on lines, reactions, cues and all that goes into a truly great performance.

Working right along with the cast were committees, each of which had an equally important part as the actors. Without these committees, the efforts of the cast would have been futile.

Every student of Northville high school should feel proud of the students who did such a tremendous job both off and on stage to produce My Sister Eileen.

School personalities chosen for this issue are Senior, Mike Lang and Junior Holly Hines.

One of the new students at Northville High School this fall is Mike Lang, originally from

Mequon, Wisconsin. In Mequon, Mike attended Homestead High which was smaller than Northville. However, Mike had this to say about his former school, "The academic standard of Homestead was a bit higher than that of Northville, especially in the fields of languages and science. Also, the laboratories are better supplied with equipment for both science and language courses."

Comparing the student attitudes of the two schools, Mike had this to say, "The school spirit is so much better at Northville that it is hard to believe. Everyone gets along real well, and the interest in school programs is just wonderful. It seems to me that the student relationships are a lot better than at most schools."

The only criticism of N.H.S. Mike had to offer was, "Northville does not have many organizations outside the school athletic groups that they seem to support. I am in favor of these, of course, but I think that a little more support behind the band, boys clubs, or any other organizations within the town would prove beneficial to the community."

Mike has broken in to our social program with ease. He was elected vice-president of the Senior class, which is quite an accomplishment for a first-year student. He also played on the varsity football squad this fall. He was elected president of the Novi Explorer Scouts, and certainly rates as one of Northville's finest personalities.

When asked about his personal likes and interests, Mike mentioned that he likes to read books dealing with psychology. He plans to study both psychology and law. He also likes Chinese food and debating — quite a combination!

Holly Hines, a seventeen-year-old junior, is taking the usual eleventh grade subjects, with one exception. She is one of the very few girls who has had the courage to take mechanical drawing. As if this isn't enough, she is out-ranking all of the boys, as far as grades are concerned. When asked about what she thinks of her new "all male class," Holly replied, "It isn't as challenging as I thought it would be, but it is different!"

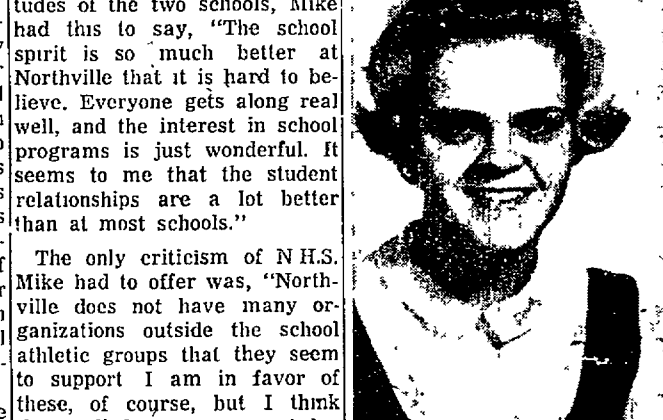

Holly eventually plans to attend an art school, hence mechanical drawing, in New York City.

She does like to date, but, like most modern busy teens, does not believe in "going steady." Holly is a member of Forensics, G.A.L. and Pep Club. She is also a Student Council Representative.

The National Honor Society is running the cloak room at the high school evening functions. The contributions from this go toward a scholarship which will be awarded to a worthy senior. The club is also conducting tutoring services.

The members of the Pep Club are busy getting ready for the first basketball game tomorrow night. The girls are looking forward to a larger cheering section this year. They are also planning a N-Club - Pep Club polluck in the near future.

The N.H.S. Band is in the middle of tryouts, after which it will begin to concentrate on music for the December 5th concert. The Band strongly urges all of the members of the community to attend.

Here's What's Happening In Clubs

The Senior Class will sponsor the first dance after the Basketball Game this Friday night. The music will be recorded old hits which were popular during the high school years of the Seniors. Let's have everyone at the game to support the great Mustangs. And don't forget the dance afterwards!

The N-Club will hold its first ping-pong tournament. This will be open to all high school students and faculty who wish to play. Mr. W. K. Kraus, the high school's tennis coach, last year's favorite, is hoping for a smashing victory!

The Forensic Club is "recovering" from the mad rush of pre-play activities and play production. It is hoping to attend plays produced in the Detroit area. There is also the possibility of a children's play being produced in the spring.

College Tips

The counselors have revealed that out of 162 seniors, approximately 65 have sent in their college applications. So far, 20 have received notice of acceptance. Others are waiting anxiously for the "good word."

Mrs. Violet Bradford said that the response so far has been very good compared to that of previous years. However, she feels that students should begin applying for the many scholarships which are available. Most scholarship applications should be in February 1, 1963.

Mr. Don Brown stated that the response this year has not been as enthusiastic as anticipated. He also said that one should decide whether or not he wishes to attend college during his freshman year in high school, so that he can plan his program accordingly.

Mr. William Hensch commented that students should not send applications to too many schools. He also said that students should have some idea of which college they want to attend while still a junior.

All of these comments indicate that freshmen, as well as sophomores, juniors and seniors, should think seriously about college and should inquire about requirements.

Skill to Desire...

Last year was a year of many victories and moments of achievement for Northville athletes and scholars. This year, however, the talent which carried Northville to such heights last year, is harder to come by. Consequently, a greater desire to succeed in the different fields of achievement is needed to maintain past students of Northville High School.

One of the biggest stimulants of desire is competition. Northville, a school which has been largely affected by this stimulant, is now accustomed to winning because of the many triumphs on its past record. Northville has diligently set to work on this standard to prove itself champion in the many phases of competition among Michigan high schools.

Even though the football team had its worst finish in several years (third place in an eight team league) the students and players realize that achievement will come again this year, although we might have to work harder than in some previous years to attain it. Active plans are now being laid for championship performances from more competitors in the fields of debate, public speaking, academic achievement, basketball, and the remainder of the sports schedule.

One interesting point which should be mentioned, is that the real test of a champion is to perform as a champion when an attempt is being made to dethrone him. In this respect Northville has proved itself.

Senior Pressures...

At Northville High School this year, 162 seniors have finally realized what pressure really is. Regardless of which current events are prominent or what the high school activities are that particular year, every senior experiences the same modern day "squeeze" applied by our country's expanding colleges.

One of the most ironic points is, however, that the average person shows no concern over this dangerous situation. He merely averts your question by saying "I think I'll go to Central," or, "I'm not quite sure yet, but I'm going to college." Actually these people realize that the time has now arrived for them to disband their attitudes of indifference and treat the problem with the seriousness which it deserves.

Prestige has a lot to do with decision. Some students choose to talk of their future attendance at a popular university, even though they haven't the slightest idea why they are attending that college. Still others choose colleges which have the social atmosphere they desire, while others want to attend college in order to satisfy their parents' concern over their future welfare. Then, there are a few seniors who realize the actual importance of attending a college to alleviate the coming pressure of job seeking. Whatever the reason, our seniors are diligently making plans for next year's activities.

Nothing can compare with the pride which accompanies a senior's announcement of his acceptance by the college of his choice. So starts the beginning of a new, long, and important era in the lives of the seniors of N.H.S.

Student Council...

At the recent League Student Council Workshop, a program organized by the Wayne-Oakland League to discuss student council problems, it was discovered that Northville's student organization operates on a much larger and more active basis than the rest of the league schools. For one thing, Northville's council carries a treasury approximately $300 greater than that of the other schools, enabling it to sponsor more fund drives, campaigns, projects and school improvements.

Mentioning some of these, the organization annually sponsors activities and fund drives to earn money for the March of Dimes, Care, needy children and others. Some of the council's projects are the operating of concession stands after school and at athletic events, publishing of student handbooks, scheduling of assemblies for students, offering a scholarship to college for a graduating senior, and it is now considering the purchase of a student lounge for the school. Add to these things the responsibility of promoting good sportsmanship on the part of the students and you have a very active organization.

The administration has received invaluable help from the student council in keeping in close contact with the students. This works for the benefit of both the students and the administration, as the council can point out the positions and feelings of each, and make the job of administration, to care for the students much easier.

It means a lot to a school and all persons connected with it to be able to show visitors clean and orderly halls, a student attitude of personal pride for the school itself, and a high spirit among the students for working together, and then to be able to say that this was accomplished through the aid of the students themselves.

Northville Council Minutes

The regular meeting of the Northville Council was called to order by Mayor Allen on Monday night, November 5, 1962, 8:00 p.m. at the city hall.

Present: Allen, Ambler, Canterbury, Carlson and Juday. Absent: None.

The minutes of the regular meeting of October 15 and the special meeting of October 29 were approved with no corrections.

Moved by Canterbury, supported by Juday that bills in the following amounts be paid:

General $13,620.35; Other Government, $33,827.76; Water, $1,710.68.

Ayes: Allen, Ambler, Canterbury, Carlson and Juday. Nays: None. Carried.

Communications:

An "order to place signs regulating traffic" from the State of Michigan and the Board of Wayne County Road Commissioners was read. This was regarding forty (40) miles per hour on the Edward Hines drive between Newburg road and Seven Mile road.

There is to be a report from the city manager and the mayor about traffic problems and signs at the next meeting.

A communication was read from the Northville Township Clerk, Mrs. Young, announcing the retirement dinner for Mr. Roy Terrell at Hillside Inn on Thursday, December 6. A letter from Mrs. Walter Kaiser, Wayne County Librarian, requesting that the city of Northville assume responsibility for maintaining the Northville Public Library, effective January 1, 1963 or soon thereafter. There is to be no additional cost since credit will be given to the city.

It was suggested that the city may desire to employ the present custodian, Mr. William Geary. The city manager is to investigate this and work out an agreement. The township is to be advised of this change.

Report Meeting with HHFA Regarding application for Federal Funds:

The city manager reported his meeting with Mr. Ganser of the HHFA. The city's application was examined and filed as No. 120. The city should know within three (3) weeks as to the status of this application. On-site building is an allowable cost.

Mr. Potthoff also reported that he met with the post office people and talked with Mr. Nelson and he indicated that the Regional Office is ready to submit the application for Northville.

A joint meeting with the township is called for Monday, November 12th, 8:00 p.m. at the city hall to discuss mutual considerations regarding the new city hall and service building.

Report on Merchant's Request for additional street poles for business district:

These poles would cost about $100 each. Council favors providing these poles if they are put in as permanent fixtures but it is not feasible to do so at this time. This should be tied in with the new street lighting program.

Second Reading of Amendment to Ordinance to Rezone Lot 184 of Plat No. 2 from R-2 to T-1. Moved by Juday, supported by Carlson to pass the rezoning of the Alexander property, Lot 184, Assessor's Plat No. 2, an area of 1.49 acres, from an R-2, Two-Family Residential to a T-1, Race-Track District.

Ayes: Ambler, Canterbury, Carlson, Juday and Allen. Nays: None. Carried.

Report about Traffic Commission:

Mr. Potthoff submitted a report regarding the structure and responsibilities of the Dearborn Traffic Commission and read the ordinance concerning the commission. Council requested a copy of the ordinance before their next meeting.

Miscellaneous:

Mr. Allen discussed the request from the Michigan Cancer Society to make an informational survey from March 24 to April 6, 1963 in the city of Northville. They would like to be assured that there are no other drives of any kind at this time. The city attorney was asked to examine the resolution submitted with this request and this matter to be discussed at the November 19th meeting.

The city manager brought up the matter of the price differential for the installation of the heatulator to be installed in the scout and recreation building. This matter is to be discussed with the architect and left out unless the architect has a very good argument for it.

The city manager brought up the various types of bricks for the scout-recreation building and had samples to show. After some discussion, council decided on the "Antique" brick.

Matter of Yerkes settlement to be placed on agenda for November 12th meeting.

Mr. Potthoff presented the request of Mr. McCready to change the garbage and rubbish pickup schedule. The proposed pickup would be collection of the business district and the north side residences for Mondays and the south side of Main street on Tuesdays. Council agreed to this request, if Mr. McCready runs an ad regarding this in the Northville Record and notifies each resident in advance.

City Manager reminded council that a Michigan Week chairman should be considered for 1963.

Mr. Canterbury asked regarding the joint meeting of the council and the planning commission which he had not been able to attend.

There should be a letter from Benicke and Krue regarding the dedication of property for a street in their subdivision (Yerkes No. 5).

Council would like to go on record as recommending that the August Primary Election date be changed to September. This to be done at a future meeting.

Mr. Ogilvie reported on the status of the Stone parking lot. Moved by Ambler, supported by Canterbury that this contract be executed.

Ayes: Canterbury, Allen and Ambler. Nays: Carlson. Carried. (Mr. Juday was excused from the meeting before this motion).

Moved by Carlson, supported by Ambler that the entering into a contract with Mr. Denyes as architect for the new city hall be authorized. This contract to be signed as per the contract presented to each councilman in advance of the November 5th meeting.

Ayes: Carlson, Allen, Ambler and Canterbury. Nays: None. Carried.

There being no further business the meeting adjourned at 10:30 p.m.

Martha M. Milne, City Clerk

SPEAKING for The Record

By BILL SLIGER

Last week city and township planners sat down together to reveal and review the past, present and possible future of their respective areas so far as our community as a whole is concerned.

Members of the township board and city council were guests at the meeting.

Planning Chairmen Gunnar Stromberg from the township and George Zerbel from the city acted as co-chairmen of the session, which could be the first of a series.

I hope so

The line that divides the city and township so far as governmental boundaries are concerned plays no role whatsoever in the determination of problems that arise and must be solved for orderly and proper development.

These are community problems. And they can be recognized and solved mutually far better than individually.

Not all matters, of course, concern both city and township — but many were discussed last week that do.

These include planning for recreation areas, school sites, shopping facilities, industrial zones and thoroughfare plans to accommodate future population.

The "community" area as described by planners roughly parallels the school district. It extends northward to 9 1/2 Mile, south to Five Mile and east and west from Haggerty to Chubb.

It was noted that a portion of this area lies in Novi. Therefore, it would mean that occasional meetings with Novi planners would be beneficial. For although residents of this northern section would actually reside in Novi, it is believed that they would become a part of the Northville "community" insofar as schools, churches, recreation and shopping are concerned. The need for communication between these separate units of government is therefore also evident.

Naturally, population is the factor that makes all this planning necessary. And according to the figures used at the joint city-township meeting we can expect 10-fold growth ultimately.

Right now the population of our community area is approximately 7,500. Its capacity is estimated at 70,000. By 1980 it is predicted that the population will more than triple — to 25,000.

Preparing for this growth is a job for the planners. And it should be of interest (and solace) to all residents to know that this job is being done and that our planners are agreed that our present facilities can be expanded and improved to serve this growth.

To neglect our future needs — regardless how distant they may seem — would certainly lead to a graveyard in our central business district and a hodgepodge of commercial centers on our borders.

No one paid much attention to Chuck Altman when he boasted that he would get his buck this season and that it would be "either an 11 or 3 pointer".

It seems that Altman had bagged everything else from 2 through 12 in previous seasons.

Well, it happened. He shot a 3-pointer. What's more it was part Albino.

But what about next year, Chuck?

Incidentally, the hunting accommodations of the Altman camp sound pretty elaborate. They have eight blinds connected by telephone (honest) using some 18,000 feet of wire. Anyone sporting a buck just passes the word along by phone.

In addition, Altman's blind comes complete with carpeting and rocking chair — really roughing it!

Moon Project Aids Prosperity

Babson Park, Mass., Although I have already discussed this subject in my column of November 8, I believe readers will want to know more about the probability of going to the moon.

This likelihood is confirmed by my most faithful friend, James P. W. Davidson of Wellesley, Mass., who has just returned from a 10,000 mile trip visiting the "space" plants of the United States. He aroused my enthusiasm with his account of the way their activity is helping to prolong prosperity, and I was especially impressed by the large percentage of men entering that field.

This "great moon project" may not only be very important to itself; but it may bring about a new era in economic history, as did the steam engine, the electric motor, and the automobile. This project may prolong the present period of prosperity which otherwise might now come to a close. Therefore every wage worker should help the cause along. I also advise my readers to scan the article in This Week Magazine for Sunday, November 11, on "The Incredible Laser".

Watch 1967

An idle daydream only a decade ago — going to the moon — is today a practical, feasible engineering and medical subject. Many of the hazards involved in this 238,000-mile trip through outer space have been anticipated and solutions have been found to minimize the dangers. Others require further research. Spacecraft with human cargo have already completed space orbits around the earth, simulating many of the conditions to be encountered in the longer trip.

The Apollo project is the one that is currently concerned with placing man on the moon by 1967. It will be preceded by an initial testing of a three-man space flight around the earth in 1965, a similar flight around the moon in 1966, and finally a two-man LEM (lunar exploratory capsule) landing on the moon in 1967. The ultimate project involves landing the spacecraft on the moon by 1970.

25,000 Miles an Hour

In 1967, when all arrangements and testing will be completed, the Apollo spacecraft containing three men and a LEM will "blast off", presumably from Cape Canaveral, Florida, on its voyage to the moon and back. After traveling only a few hundred miles, its speed will stabilize at 18,000 miles per hour and the spacecraft will go into orbit around the Earth. At the proper "instant" while in orbit, a second "blast-off" will boost the speed to 25,000 miles per hour in the proper direction to reach the moon and escape the Earth's pull.

Finally, after 220,000 miles (and 66 hours), the speed will slow to 2,000 miles per hour and the astronaut will guide the spacecraft into orbit around the moon. Two astronauts will then enter the LEM, drop away from the spacecraft, and land on the moon. They will return to the "mother" craft by blasting off from the moon, going into orbit around the moon, joining with and entering the "mother" craft while in orbit, then blasting off for their return trip to Earth.

My Reasons for Writing This

Where does the investor fit into this picture? To complete the Apollo project will require the participation of hundreds of companies, both large and small. The cost of the project will run into billions of dollars (from $20 billion to $40 billion is the estimate). Fields of activity include the manufacture of propellants, spacecraft, guidance systems, instruments and heat- and radiation-resistant materials. Involved are chemistry, biology, medicine, psychology, mathematics, communications, and astrophysics.

My reasons for writing this are to suggest: (1) Readers should ask their investment advisers to name the companies that will be benefited by the project. Since the "space industry" is one which will see many unpredictable changes over the years, and since the mortality rate among new companies is likely to be high, it would seem sound policy to make moderate commitments in each of several leaders which may be bought as a "package". (2) Readers also should realize that the huge cost comes to only about $110 for each man, woman, and child in the United States over five or more years, or $20 per year.

Community College Demand Increasing

COMMUNITY COLLEGES, of which there are now 17 in the state, will see increasing growth and popularity in future years, according to a number of Michigan educators.

Philip Gannon, President of Lansing Community College and head of the Michigan Council of Community College Administrators, predicts the percentage of college freshmen attending school in their community will continue to rise as it has in past years.

Just a very few years ago 26 per cent of all freshmen at Michigan institutions of higher learning were attending community colleges. This year the figure was 30 per cent, while the number at 4-year institutions, both public and private, decreased.

COMMUNITY COLLEGES have a very distinct character and must be considered as an entity which will increase in importance and use," Gannon said.

The spokesman for the community colleges gains support for his observation from Ferris Crawford, of the State Department of Public Instruction.

"These institutions must be viewed as an important part of the total framework of higher education in Michigan," Crawford said. "The demand for education beyond high school in or near a student's home community is increasing almost daily even now. This demand will continue to increase."

JOHN A. HANNAH, president of Michigan State University, voiced some agreement on the need for community colleges as a service to Michigan's growing student population.

"The problem of educating our youth is not a problem of the colleges and universities," Hannah said. "It is a public problem, because it is the public's children who must be educated."

Hannah, a graduate of Grand Rapids Junior College, said there likely will be a day in the not too distant future when Michigan's colleges and universities will need more help in handling the needs of the annual high school graduating classes.

"When this day comes, the burden will be on the services available at the community level," he said.

THE EFFORT to get a year-round anti-litter campaign off the ground is continuing in the Lansing area by state officials and in other parts of the state by individuals and groups interested in the campaign.

One facet of the litter problem which partially prompted the Governor's appointment of an anti-litter committee may be taken out of the realm of the campaign, however.

The hue and cry to legislate against throw-away beer bottles is growing louder and louder. The cry was first set by basic ally one man, State Rep. Oscar Bouwsma, Muskegon Republican. He complained to the Liquor Control Commission seeking a ban on the deposit bottles and then proposed legislation when the commission's rule was halted by the Governor.

A REPORT by the Governor's anti-litter committee proposed a year-round campaign to make Michigan citizens the most litter-conscious in the nation.

Bouwsma and a number of others, however, feel litter-consciousness is not the answer to eliminating the throw-away bottles from the curbs, streets, beaches and streams.

The Muskegon Republican indicated he will propose the prohibitive legislation again this year. At least one large lobbying force, the Michigan Farm Bureau, has gone on record supporting legislation to ban the sale of beer in throw-away bottles.

NOW MAY be a good time to look at your family's preparedness for a real emergency which could last.

In time of emergency, difficulties which arise for the individual family often leave little time to really plan. It is best beforehand.

Experts in the federal and state agencies strongly advise that each family keep an emergency food stockpile on hand at all times. This means a full two-week supply of regular food and a special two-week supply of survival foods."

Water is one of the basics for survival. For adults, allowance should be made for at least 7 gallons per adult for drinking purposes over a two-week period and another 7 gallons for bathing, brushing teeth and dishwashing.

"Survival foods" are described by the Office of Civil and Defense Mobilization as those which will last for months without refrigeration and can be eaten with little or no cooking.

The more popular stockpile foods include canned or non-fat dry milk; canned meat, poultry, fish, beans and peas; canned or dried fruits and vegetables.

Tightly wrapped cereals and baked goods are on the list. Also are staples such as cheese, spreads, peanut butter, fats and vegetable oils which do not need refrigeration; sugars, sweets and nuts.

Miscellaneous items such as coffee, instant cocoa, bouillon products, salt, pepper, vinegar and soda should also be included on the checklist of "survival foods."

Don't Show Love So Much

Dear Dr. Mudd:

I am at the end of my rope. My husband and I have a little girl who is six years old. She is a beautiful child and very well mannered and polite to everyone. In fact, and it may sound like I'm bragging, but it is the truth that whenever I take her shopping or anywhere, people are always looking at her. Lots of times they actually come up and talk to her and tell her what a beautiful girl she is.

Of course this makes me feel very proud. My husband and I did not marry until late in life and we didn't expect our daughter, but nothing has made us happier than her coming.

But now something has happened. I don't know what I have done wrong but I must have done something to bring all this about. My daughter doesn't love her father any more! Just suddenly and without any reason she doesn't love him. Always before they were so close to each other. She would wait for him to get home from work every night and then run up and kiss him. After supper the two would sit in the living room and they'd watch T.V. or he'd read a story to her. She'd sit on his lap and kiss him and make over him and you never saw a happier father and daughter. It was so warm and loving between them.

Suddenly she wants nothing more to do with him. She won't even let him kiss her goodnight and if he tries to hold her she just struggles like she's in some kind of a panic. My husband and I can't figure it out. We don't like to go to anybody about it because it sounds so silly when you try to put it into words.

Have you any suggestions as to what the trouble might be and what can be done about it?

R.

Dear R.:

The problem that you present is not at all unusual though its manifestations are a bit more severe in your situation than in many I have seen.

Typically, a child is brought for treatment with the complaint that all affection has been lost for the mother (if the child is a boy), or that love is no longer present towards the father (if the child is a girl). The parents feel something is wrong and seek help for their offspring. Almost invariably the parent with whom the child's relationship has altered is a kind, friendly, sympathetic and loving person who is greatly disturbed by the fact that the child no longer either initiates or responds to caresses and fondling.

Such parents are unfortunately naive and are not aware of the fact that too much affection can be a more permanently devastating element in the child's life than no love or affection at all. In every case where the parent has grasped the fact that too many sweets of any kind can make a child sick and has restrained his or her natural but ebullient impulses, the child has almost immediately reverted to more normal childhood behavior and attitudes.

It is very understandable that in your particular circumstances, there might be too much affection which, because of its very excess, is threatening to your daughter. The intensity of your concern seems exaggerated.

Give this little girl breathing space. Let her decide more when she wants to be close to her father. Right now she is being scared to death and feels overwhelmed by him despite the fact that he intends only to show her how much he cares for her.

The situation is not unlike that occurring later in life when girls get scared just because a boy rushes them. You have to realize that your child is not on this earth just to gratify her parents' affection and needs, but to grow and mature so that some day she will be prepared to be a giving and affectionate mother and wife.

Yours truly,
Sander Mudd, M.D.

“Meeting the Challenge of Change”

The 32-square-mile Northville school district encircles a rapidly growing area and results in an annual average increase of 100 pupils. It is the responsibility of a good school system to meet not only the “challenge of change” in education, but also to provide proper facilities for this ever-increasing school population.

A MESSAGE TO TAXPAYERS . . .

FROM YOUR SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS:

The recent dedication of the high school athletic field concluded a building program which began in 1956. Projects completed were: addition to the Amerman Elementary School, construction of the new high school, renovation of the junior high school, purchase of the Community Center and development of the athletic and physical education facilities.

We now have a completely modern education plant, well equipped and splendidly staffed.

However, we are faced with the ever growing school population, at the rate of 100 students per year, which means that we must prepare for another elementary school within the next few years. We are now concerned with the location of a site, the size of the structure and the date for construction.

A matter of immediate concern facing us is the already crowded condition in the new high school, due mainly to the number of tuition students from another district. This situation is receiving full attention from all parties concerned and must be resolved soon.

We are also constantly engaged in up-dating the curriculum, revising services to students, maintaining proper balance within the total scheduled offerings. The accompanying action pictures will illustrate some of these points.

Another area of increasing interest is the community college movement in this area. It has received considerable attention from local citizens and another group is giving it further study at this time.

Then there is the ever present difficulty of finding adequate revenues to meet budget needs. We are faced with a steady decline in the ratio of state aid to local taxes, due to the nature of the state aid formula. For example, a few years ago state aid amounted to 50 per cent of our revenue, and last year it had dropped to 36.6 per cent. Coupled with this is the fact that in three years the 10 mill voted increase in local taxes for general budget purposes will expire and consideration must be given to renewal of this millage at that time.

In closing, we wish to take this opportunity to thank the many citizens who have worked on the various school committees, the members of the Parent-Teacher Association, the Mothers Club and others. Your assistance and interest has been most helpful.

Respectfully Submitted,
RUSSELL H. AMERMAN
Superintendent

FROM YOUR SCHOOL BOARD PRESIDENT:

During the past decade while this district grew from a small village district to a large consolidated district, the population growth and financial changes presented many problems for the Board. In addition to the large building program just completed and the constant review of curriculum and operating procedures, your Board has been looking ahead and planning for the next population growth expected to occur within a few years. Studies are under way to determine the most effective use of our existing buildings, funds and personnel when this growth occurs. Some changes in administrative personnel have already been made to carry out this planning. An orderly transition through this next growth period will be probable because of the high degree of cooperation between the individual Board members with their varied backgrounds and skills and between the Board, the Administrators and the Teachers.
