'Snow Use' Complaining

Exit Indian Summer, Enter Mighty Winter

If you think you were "snowed" by last week's stormy weather, think of the plight of ol' Man Winter — his day isn't supposed to begin until a week from Saturday, December 22.

But somehow he managed to jump the gun, topping a pair of freakishly beautiful fall days Monday and Tuesday with a blanket of snow on Thursday and Friday that took everyone by surprise.

Snow choked up driveways, streets and roads Thursday night, forcing many area schools to close Friday or limit classes to students who don't ride buses.

A heavy, wet snow pelted down most of the night Thursday, and throughout the day Friday, with the greatest hazard being to the highways. A rash of minor property damage accidents resulted from the slippery country roads, and at least 15 cars were reported stuck in the ditches in Novi.

Working hardest because of the sudden wintry blasts of wind and driving snow were area DPW crews.

In Northville, as in Novi and Wixom, crews worked from midnight Thursday straight through to Friday evening Saturday the weary workers returned to their rigs to complete the clean-up of snow drifts and areas where cars had been parked.

Northville DPW Director Bud Hartner reported pouring a total of nearly 40 tons of salt and sand on city streets. In Novi, said DPW Director Howard Miller, between 25 and 30 tons of sand went on the roads, while Wixom sanded only on bad curves and hills.

Temperatures continued to dip over the weekend and into this week, reaching a low of below zero on Tuesday. Temperatures were predicted to remain at near zero for a few days.

And work to homeowners like C. R. Bolton and his neighbor, Mrs. E. W. Latham.

Four Days Left To Win Prizes

There may be nine shopping days left until Christmas, but only four days remain to win prizes in the Northville Retail Merchants' "lucky number" contest.

Next Tuesday evening someone will win the grand prize — $500 in merchandise.

Actually, the lucky winner will receive 20 gift certificates worth $25 each at the sponsoring stores.

Meanwhile, weekly prizes are being awarded to shoppers who can produce a newspaper coupon with a number corresponding to the number displayed at any one of the 20 sponsoring stores (see page five, section two).

But even if you don't win a weekly prize, be sure to drop your signed coupon in the box provided at any of the stores.

School Board Agenda Full

Northville's board of education waded through a heavy agenda of business matters Monday night that included a report on a proposed child guidance clinic in the area, community college study group progress, the three-grade high school, free tickets for teachers to basketball games, banning of fire hazards in the community building and more space for board of education offices. The meeting lasted nearly four hours.

Amerman Principal Raymond Spear reported results of a recent meeting concerning the proposed establishment of a Northwestern Child Guidance Clinic.

The clinic would serve 16 communities including Northville. It is estimated that 900 children within the area to be served need the service and the clinic could handle about one third, Spear reported.

Estimated cost of operating the clinic would be 25 cents per student enrolled in the 19 school districts within the 16 communities. To Northville this would amount to approximately $500 per year.

Superintendent Russell Amerman stated that a similar service once offered in Ypsilanti had been valuable to the local system.

Questions concerning the liaison between the clinic and teacher were raised by Board Member James Kipfer. The board also questioned whether it would service the Oakland county portion of the school district.

Administrators were asked to study the proposal closer and report back to the board.

Assistant Superintendent Kenneth MacLeod denied an earlier newspaper report that he had "recommended" a three-grade high school with three grades in junior high and six in elementary.

The discussion originated at the last board meeting as administrators and board members sought ways to accommodate a heavy ninth grade enrollment in 1963-64 — the last year that Northville is obligated to accept Novi ninth graders.

The administrator's figures indicated that it would be difficult "to use the high school efficiently" under the present "6-2-4" plan in 1963-64. It would place 888 students in the high school. Conversely, however, a "6-3-3" plan would find 510 students in the junior high school in 1963-64, also considered overcrowded.

The board is hopeful that Novi will be able to handle its own ninth graders, or a number of them, next year, thus eliminating the problem. Board Member Robert Shafer pointed out that it has always been the board's long range plan to convert to a "6-3-3" system eventually, however.

In other business the board voted to amend its new policy of "no free passes" for basketball games only. Teachers and their spouses will be admitted without charge. Board President William Crump and Member Shafer voted against the change. They noted that the board's field to meet bonding requirements and indicated this policy should also extend to other events to further assure collection of sufficient funds for bond obligations.

Christmas Concert Set

The Northville high school chorus will present its annual Christmas concert next Wednesday evening, December 18.

The concert, to begin at 8 p.m. in the high school auditorium, will include "living pictures" presented by the Forensic club.

Featured along with the 80-voice chorus will be soloists Linda Polak, David Lane, Bill Cargo and pianist Linda Line.

tend to other events to further assure collection of sufficient funds for bond obligations.

Board members called for a revision of rates for use of the community building when it was learned that expenses often surpass the fee charged. It was also noted that the greens display at the Garden Club's recent Christmas Mart constituted a fire hazard in violation of state fire codes.

E. V. Ellison, director of administration services, reported that the event had been approved but agreed that it probably violated codes. The board instructed administrators to set strict regulations complying with fire codes for any future events.

Superintendent Amerman reminded board members that the board of education offices were becoming cramped and that consideration should be given to purchase or rental of nearby office space. He noted that the present Main street elementary school offices could be used for an additional classroom.

The board discussed nearby residences that could be converted into offices and also discussed possible construction of offices on school property between the community building and junior high school.

It was left to administrators for further study.

A. C. Carlson Suffers Stroke

The condition of A. C. Carlson, 201 Fairbrook, was reported as "very serious" this week at Veterans hospital in Ann Arbor.

Carlson suffered a stroke while driving alone on Northville road near Five Mile road at 9:30 a.m. Friday. Following the attack his car hit a bridge abutment at Phoenix Lake.

He was rushed to St. Mary hospital in Livonia and later transferred to Ann Arbor.

Carlson, 68, is the husband of City Councilwoman Beatrice Carlson. He formerly operated the Carlson Health Studio but retired about three years ago.

For many years Carlson was active in scout activities, as well as local veterans' organizations. He is a veteran of World War I.

He is not permitted to have visitors.

Decision Due Saturday

Race Meet Transfer Stirs Controversy

The question of whether or not to award Jackson racing dates to Northville Downs must — by law — be answered by Saturday.

Already it is surrounded by controversy, which could be compounded and extended into the courts after Racing Commissioner Edgar Hayes renders his decision this week.

Jackson Raceway Owner Leon Slavov and Downs Executive Manager John Carlo are counting heavily on the switch of the 40-night fall meet to Northville Downs.

But Commissioner Hayes admits that the proposal is bitterly opposed by representatives of the Detroit area's other two tracks — both thoroughbred and harness.

Hayes had been conducting private hearings with racing representatives in an effort to reach a decision.

Proponents of the move from Jackson to Northville say that they were given strong indications last year that the move would be approved. Slavov had asked for Northville dates in 1962 but was refused. The action was not challenged in the courts when it was indicated that approval would be gained for the 1963 season, spokesmen for Downs and Jackson claim.

But if this year's bid is lost, there's certain to be a court fight.

According to Commissioner Hayes, representatives of Detroit's other two harness tracks contend that the dates should be divided if moved to the metropolitan area. "They say their facilities are better than Northville and they should share in the additional dates," Hayes stated this week.

He said that thoroughbred racing (runners) representatives contend that their meets attract the biggest crowds and largest mutual handle, therefore if racing is to be increased in the metropolitan area it must be denied again.

City of Northville officials are watching the outcome with more than casual interest, too.

The new meet could mean an additional $50,000 in tax revenue to the city.

Dress Up Your House

Planning to decorate your home for Christmas?

Better have it in tiptop shape by December 23 — that's the night that the Jaycees will judge outside Christmas decorations of Northville homes.

Jaycee Bob Prom is in charge of this year's contest. His committee of judges will check each residence on Sunday, December 23.

To the homeowner of the best display will go a plaque, an annual award of the Jaycees.

Their Goal: 'Rapid Rising Temperature'

Northville's Scout-Recreation Building Fund committee hoped for "higher temperatures" this week as a thermometer to measure the progress of its campaign was erected.

The sign stands on the Main street parking lot directly across from the theater.

And there's good reason to believe that despite cold weather, the "mercury" on the campaign progress sign will rise rapidly.

Basis for this hope is the mailing of some 2,200 letters to city and township residents appealing for contributions for the new building. The letters were scheduled to arrive in area homes today.

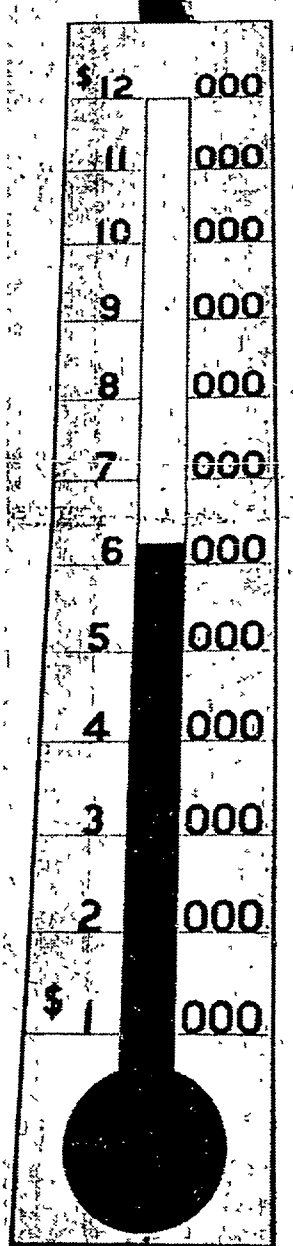

Solicitation of area business and industry has resulted in total contributions of $6,561.38 — just past the halfway mark in the drive for $12,000.

Drive Chairman John Canterbury called the campaign "on schedule", anticipating that the residential appeal would just about equal the business-industry.

It is expected, however, that several more contributions will be received from the business - professional - industry appeal, boosting the total higher.

The new "thermometer" was constructed and erected under the direction of Walter Couse and A. M. Allen, both members of the fund drive committee. As more returns are reported, the "mercury" level will be painted higher — until it goes over the top.

Contractor Harley Cole and Son reported good progress this week in construction of the new recreation facility. The roof on the building was expected to be completed this week after which Cole believes that the project can be finished within 30-40 days. The colonial design building is located on Cady street adjacent to the cemetery.

Going Up!

Six in 28th Messiah

WHEN THE 60-voice Northville community choir presents its 28th annual performance of Handel's "Messiah" Sunday, six of the members will be taking part for the 28th time. The traditional Christmas season oratorio will be presented at 7:30 p.m. at the First Presbyterian church. Those who have not missed a performance include Director and Mrs. Leslie Lee, R. H. Amerman, Carl Bryan and George Lockhart, all of Northville, and Mary Kissel of Belleville. Pictured above are those members of the choir who participated in last Sunday's rehearsal. Organist Sam Chizmar is standing front, left; Director Lee, front, right; and Mrs. Kathleen Bosch, pianist, on Lee's right. Soloists will be Grace Hanninen, soprano; Marry Ellen Henkle, alto; Robert Pratt, tenor; and John L. Henkle, bass, all of Ann Arbor.

First Petition Filed For Township Post

Although a number of petitions are known to be in circulation (and others expected), only one set has been turned in to the Northville township clerk by a candidate for office in the spring election.

Petitions for Laurence A. Masselink, West Seven Mile road, for justice of peace on the Republican ticket have been received by Clerk Marguerite Northrup.

Masselink will be running for his second term. He was first appointed to office replacing the late Paul Schulz.

Several other Republicans have indicated their intentions to file for office.

They include: R. D. Merriam and Mrs. Harold B. Price for supervisor; Daniel R. Brown, trustee; and Incumbents Clerk Northrup and Treasurer Alex Lawrence.

The term of Trustee Donald Robinson does not expire until 1965. Supervisor George Clark has indicated he will not seek re-election.

Other offices up for grabs in the April election include constable and board of review.

Township Democrats have not yet indicated who their candidates will be, although it is anticipated that they will be represented on the ballot.

Petitions must be signed by distributors, notarized and turned into the clerk not later than 4 p.m., Monday, December 31.

Under law petitions must contain signatures of qualified electors representing not more than four per cent or less than one per cent of the total vote cast for secretary of state in the last election.

This would represent between 14 and 52 signatures in Northville township.

While the election is not scheduled until April, it will be necessary to hold a primary election in February if two or more candidates from the same party file for the same office.

This possibility exists in the race for supervisor where two GOP candidates have indicated they will file for office.

Art of History and Today

By JESSIE HUDSON

Ever since man began walking the dry land on two feet he apparently has had the urge to beautify his surroundings. Ancient examples of drawing, ceramics, jewelry, sculpture and mosaics have been uncovered and tell us a great deal of the life and times of these ancient civilizations.

Long before a formal language or numerical system had been devised, man was impelled to record on the walls of his dwelling-caves the matters of importance in his daily life. Hunting was the only means of existence so wild animals and the hunt were the subjects of most importance to him. Far from being crude, these prehistoric drawings show a great deal of instinctive art. Using whatever materials they could find, burnt sticks, colored earths, dried blood, animal fats, they created out of bumps on the walls abstract impressions of bison, bear and deer. And always relating their subject to the background on which they drew, the prehistoric artist could teach us much; ingenuity in devising materials, composition, variety of line and how to abstract what is most essential about the subject and when to leave off meaningless details.

There is a giant step in the history of art from the times of the cave-drawings of 20,000 years ago to that of recorded history, but the art of Egypt has some lesson to teach us also. Their whole approach was quite different from ours. Their artists were anonymous slaves, trained in the rigid traditions of painting, and kept for this purpose only, in contrast to today's artist whose fastest way to fame is through notoriety and individuality of expression, none of whom are "kept for this purpose only" but must make a living at a variety of other occupations. The purpose of today's art is to express how the individual artist feels about his world. The purpose of the slave-artist of Egypt was to record for his master each blade of wheat, each slave, each wife, all the worldly possessions which he had amassed on this earth to be transported with him after death to the better world to come. He believed that he "could take it with him". Their idea of perspective was quite different from the scientific perspective which was devised during the fifteenth century and which is used by artists today. Instead of vanishing points and diminishing size to indicate objects behind others the Egyptian artist put what was behind up on another ground line and his painting is a series of border designs with a great deal of decorative charm. They had their own ideas of "status symbols" size was an indication of importance, the ruler being shown about ten heads tall and lesser people shorter in stature. Interestingly, this is how a young child draws. Everything that is important to him is drawn larger than anything else and important parts are emphasized. Everything that is supposed to be behind is put up on another groundline and he draws in a kind of border, decorative, symbolic style.

Caveman, Egyptian, or elementary school artist have this much in common: they share the urge to decorate their surroundings and to express what is important to them.

NEWCOMER'S CORNER

I look upon every day to be lost, acquaintance.

— Samuel Johnson

MUSIC FANS are Mr. and Mrs. Timothy Thomas, new residents at 24021 Glen Ridge court in Willowbrook subdivision, shown above with their two-year-old son Timothy, and Suzanne, now just three months old.

Music lovers — that's the family of Timothy Thomas, new residents of Willowbrook subdivision.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Thomas devote their spare time to musical activities — he as a church song leader, she as his organist and as a piano teacher at home.

Their children, Timothy and Suzanne, haven't yet begun to follow the musical path of their parents.

"Tim's only two years old," Mrs. Thomas explains, "and Suzanne was born just three months ago."

The Thomas family moved two months ago into their home at 24021 Glen Ridge court. They moved from Farmington, where they had lived for two years, after spending their first year of marriage in Florida.

A liking for the area and especially for their home attracted them to Novi, Mrs. Thomas added. She said they had wanted to move, but still remain close to their church.

Both the elder Thomases are active in their church, the Forest Hills United Missionary church of Farmington. Besides their musical work, they serve as sponsors and leaders of the church youth group.

Thomas, who attended the University of Detroit, works for Western Printing and Lithograph company of Detroit. Mrs. Thomas attended Detroit Bible college and Bob Jones Academy in South Carolina.

Undefeated Debaters Face Test Saturday

The Northville high school debate team, leaders of the Wayne-Oakland league since it was established 10 years ago, is well on its way to another league crown.

The local talkers, debating both sides of the question: "Should the United States join in forming a common market of the nations in the Western hemisphere?", have won three straight league tournaments in three weeks by downing six other league squads.

Two weeks ago the four-member team out talked Bloomfield Hills and Milford in their first contests of the season. Last week they won over Holly and West Bloomfield, and Tuesday night they swept past Clarkston and Brighton.

Saturday the debaters face their toughest challenge when they participate in a special top-ten invitational meet at Central Michigan University in Mt. Pleasant.

All debate teams in the state have been arguing the common market question this year and Saturday Northville will face off with such schools as Lansing Sexton and Battle Creek.

The varsity debate squad, coached by Miss Florence Panatoni, includes Robert Sproule, Barbara Pilatz, Ann Hembrey and Duna Penn, who has been speaking for Northville for three years.

VFW Auxiliary Opens Annual Member Drive

The ladies auxiliary to the Northville VFW post 4012 is opening its 1963 membership drive, membership chairman Miss Margaret Rager has announced.

While no special events are planned, the VFW auxiliary intensifies its efforts to obtain members at the beginning of each new year.

Miss Rager said interested persons could call her at FI 9-3208 or auxiliary President Mrs. Al Smith at FI 9-1346 about joining the organization.

Mothers, sisters, wives, daughters and widows of deceased or honorably discharged men who have served abroad during time of war are eligible for membership in the ladies auxiliary.

Also eligible are women of the armed services who have had foreign service in time of war, and possess an honorable discharge. Their mothers, sisters or daughters are also eligible.

According to auxiliary Secretary Mrs. Irene Moxie, the organization has been offering valuable assistance to its parent organization for the past 50 years.

She pointed out that auxiliary members each year contribute more than $100,000 and over 600,000 hours of activity to promotion of national VFW program of service.

The ladies auxiliary plays a major part in the annual sale of buddy poppies, she said, and furnishes a large share of the yearly income of the VFW national home, as well as helping rehabilitation of veterans and their families.

Besides assisting the VFW, she added, the auxiliary conducts its own programs in over 6,500 communities throughout the nation. These include sponsorship of Americanism; cancer aid and research; youth activities; hospital work; rehabilitation and civil defense.

Mrs. Moxie listed these benefits for auxiliary members:

- low-cost hospitalization insurance for cancer and dread diseases;
- assurance their children will never become unwanted orphans;
- self-expression in striving for human betterment;
- opportunities for making friends;
- training in leadership for civic affairs;

—news of activities through the auxiliary's monthly magazine, the National Bulletin.

Hammond's appointment to this high office in The American Legion's national organization was made by National Commander James E. Powers, of Macon, Georgia, and was confirmed by the National Executive Committee of the veteran's organization at its recent meeting in Indianapolis, Indiana.

"The appointment comes as recognition of Legionnaire Hammond's many years of service in our organization, if he had the whole-hearted endorsement of the Michigan American Legion," Department Commander Paul said.

The National Commissions and committees of the American Legion are responsible for studying Legion programs and activities in their special fields and for recommending new or changed policies. Under the commission plan of volunteer activity, The American Legion has grown to the largest organization of veterans the country has ever known, Commander Paul said.

Art Classes Register 25

Some 25 youngsters registered Saturday morning for a series of weekend art classes being offered by the Novi Youth Protective committee.

Because of bad weather, reports Miss Eugenie Choquet, secretary of the committee, few were able to reach the classes on time to participate in activities.

She added that registration will be held open until this coming Saturday morning. The classes begin at 9.30 Saturday morning in the community building.

Youth Group Elects Heads

The Novi Youth Protective committee last month elected Leon Dochot as its chairman. The group selected Roger Curtis as vice-chairman, Miss Eugenie Choquet as secretary and Herbert Koester as treasurer.

The committee is a branch of the service organization established by Oakland county probate Judge Arthur E. Moore to assist in helping local youngsters.

GOP Ladies

The Novi Woman's Republican club elected new officers Tuesday afternoon.

Chosen as president was Miss Eugene Choquet. Vice-President for the coming year will be Mrs. Harold Bitner, while Mrs. Orpha Spangler will serve as treasurer and Mrs. Marie Philipski will be secretary.

The club will hold its next regular meeting on January 8, in the home of Mrs. Jan Murany, of 48942 Grassmere.

Bachert Gets Grounds Post

Novi township Supervisor Hadley J. Bachert, appointed last month after the resignation of former Supervisor Frazer Staman, received his first official task from the county last week.

Bachert was named to the buildings and grounds committee of the board of supervisors. The seven-member committee oversees activities in the county's service center of county offices.

CHAMPIONSHIP WINNER: Billy B. Geddes, Morgan stallion owned by Eddie Earehart of 9666 Chubb road, was awarded the high point championships for Morgan Fine Harness and Morgan Three-Gaited for 1962 by the Michigan Horse Show association at its annual meeting Sunday in Lansing. The Eareharts will also receive the same awards from the Justin Morgan Horse association at its annual meeting next month. The horse, in showings on the Michigan horse show circuit and in Ohio and New York, earned 30 blue ribbons and every saddle stake he participated in during the season.

Auto Safety Check Police Chief Urges

Much time and many miles be given to car lights and batteries. "We're doing more of our driving after dark now," he pointed out.

Bald tires should be replaced before their owners find themselves skidding into an accident on a slippery street, he warned. Tires with good tread are needed, and many drivers are switching to snow tires, he said. He advised, however, that drivers who plan or need to use their cars regularly during severe conditions — not to overlook the added advantage of a good set of tire chains, even if they have snow tires. "At times chains are a necessity, or we have dangerous and costly traffic delays during severe snow or ice conditions," he emphasized. "All drivers who have to go, or who elect to go in severe conditions, should carry a pair of reinforced tire chains in the trunk and use them when needed."

Here's Help in Buying Your Christmas Tree

As you buy your Christmas tree this year, you're likely to have a hard time choosing the right tree from all of the kind available. These answers to commonly asked questions about Christmas trees should help you decide. They come from Rosella Bannister, Wayne County Home Economics Agent.

HOW MUCH should I pay for a Christmas tree? For cut green trees on lots, the price range is from $3 to $7. The average tree will cost around $3.50. Artificial trees range from $8 for small aluminum trees to as much as $80 for evergreen plastic and nylon bristle trees.

WHAT SHOULD I look for when I buy a cut tree? Look for a well-balanced and bushy tree with no broken branches. Avoid trees with poor "handles". Trunks are sometimes crooked, and first branches start so low there is no trunk to insert into the tree stand.

IF I BUY a cut tree, how can I be sure the needles won't fall off before Christmas? A Scotch pine tree will not lose its needles. Spruce do shed needles.

Scotch pines have needles which are 1 to 3 inches long and grow two in a cluster. Spruce, the old traditional Christmas trees, have short needles, one in a cluster. The crushed needles of spruce give off an unpleasant odor.

Balsam Fir trees hold needles well, and they have excellent fragrance. Trees are inclined to be sparse. Branches of Balsam Fir are very desirable for decorations.

IF I BUY a cut tree early, how should I store it until Christmas? Store it out of doors in a cool garage or basement, in a pair of water. Trees flattened from storage will recover their shape. It's a good idea to rotate a tree occasionally if it's leaning against a wall.

ARE THERE any "cut your own Christmas tree" farms nearby? There is at least one farm in Wayne County, several in Oakland and Macomb counties. Contact your county agricultural agent for further information. Prices are about the same as for trees on lots.

WHAT KINDS of artificial trees are available? Three main types of artificial trees are aluminum, vinyl plastic and nylon bristle. Some of these trees are flocked.

Artificial trees vary in price

But Lose to Bloomfield

Cagers Down Plymouth

A considerably improved Northville Mustang cage squad last weekend gave the Bloomfield Hills Barons a good run for their money and then bounced back from the 53-48 loss to down a rival Plymouth club 65-55.

Against Bloomfield Hills Friday night, the Mustangs put up a strong scoring second half effort, but were unable to overcome a phenomenal 80 per cent shooting average the Barons enjoyed during the second quarter.

Bloomfield jumped to a lead, scoring six points in the three minutes before Northville sunk its first basket. The Barons stayed out front, leading 14-10 as the first period ended.

In the second stanza, Bloomfield plunked in 18 points, while the Mustangs added only 11. Northville out rebounded the Barons, and the Mustangs' man-to-man defense held them to the outside. But Bloomfield's long shots, hit consistently, nullifying the local cagers' efforts.

The Mustangs battled back in the third quarter, whittling Bloomfield's 11-point lead down to one point mid way through the period. But the front-running Barons widened the gap to five points and dropped in a field goal as the buzzer sounded to lead, 42-35.

Northville again out scored Bloomfield in the final period, but not enough to break into the lead.

The Mustangs hit a new high in free throwing, sinking 12 of 13 attempts for an impressive 92 per cent. High point man was Guard Craig Bell, who plunked in 20 to lead both teams. Forward Bill Challas added 13.

Saturday night Northville, spirits raised by Friday's performance, doggedly battled to stay out in front of the Plymouth attack. The lead changed hands twice and the game was tied four times during the first half.

Northville opened scoring on a driving lay-up by Guard Dan Bishop after more than a minute of scoreless play. Plymouth threw up a full-court press a minute later, stealing the ball and going ahead 6-4.

The score was tied twice more before the two minute mark in the first period, when the Mustangs started pulling ahead to lead 14-11 as the buzzer sounded.

Northville led until midway through the second quarter, when several screen plays gave Plymouth the lead 23-22. Forward Tom Swiss tied the score at 27 points with more than a minute left in the half, and the score remained unchanged to the end of the period.

A tightened Northville defense, using a full-court press, kept Plymouth to the outside and held down their scoring as the second half opened, while the Mustang offensive attack began to work better.

The Mustangs pulled steadily ahead, scoring 22 points for their best quarter thus far in the season. The locals led 49-40 as the period ended.

Northville began to stall in the final stanza, but a pair of Rock steals posed as a threat to the Mustang lead, and they renewed their attack.

Building and protecting an 11-point lead, the Mustangs matched Plymouth basket-for-basket. Swiss dropped in four straight shots in the final four minutes, and Bishop and Bell added one each to end Northville scoring at 65 points.

Plymouth added 15 points for the period, while the Mustangs picked up 16. Bell again paced both teams, matching Friday night's 20 points. Swiss scored 18 to match Plymouth's top shooter, Dick Schuyler. Bishop scored third for Northville, at nine points.

"I think we showed in both games that we're a coming team," Mustang Coach Dave Longridge noted this week. "Everyone played well and showed promises of improvement."

He pointed out that the addition of center-forward Jim Juday to the line-up aided Northville's performance under the basket and quickened the general pace of the Mustang game.

"We're a young team, and we're going to get better as the season continues," he stated, adding that whoever wins the league crown this year will probably lose three or four games.

And speaking of that season, Longridge pointed out that Northville will have several advantages during the rest of the year. After Friday's tilt at West Bloomfield, Northville will face all the league "toughies" except Clarkston on the home court.

And those home games with the strongest Wayne-Oakland teams won't take place until late in the season. Between Friday and February, Northville faces, Clarenceville, Holly, Milford and Brighton.

Along with the extra practice time of Christmas vacation, Longridge noted, these interim games should have Northville well prepared for second-round contests with the other league leaders.

In preparation for Friday's contest, Longridge said his cagers will be working mainly on defense. He pointed out that had it not been for Bloomfield's 80 per cent shooting in the second quarter, a couple of defensive improvements could have given the Mustangs a win.

W-O Standings

In other league contests Friday night, West Bloomfield powered over Clarenceville 72-27 and Brighton eked out a 38-34 win over Milford. The Clarkston-Holly tilt was postponed because of the weather.

Colts Add Win, Loss To Record

Northville's junior varsity Colts last Friday tasted their first basketball defeat, and then made up for it Saturday by scoring their second victory of the season.

Both games, were marked with the characteristic tight squeaks the JV squad established in its first victory over Clarkston.

Friday night the Colts battled ahead of Bloomfield Hills, dropped behind and then caught up again, only to lose 37-36 in the final half minute of the game.

In an almost scoreless first period, the JV's tied the junior Barons 4-4 with two minutes to go, and then swung ahead to lead 7-5 at the buzzer.

Their Bloomfield counterparts pulled ahead in the second period to lead 20-14 at the half. Northville still faced a 31-23 Bloomfield lead going into the final quarter.

But an improved scoring attack, coupled with a full-court defensive press, quickly whittled down the lead to tie the game at 34 points with two minutes left. The Colts went ahead 38-35 with one minute to go, but Bloomfield had the final say with a two-pointer and a 30-second stall.

Saturday the Colts led Plymouth until late in the first half, when the little Rocks drew a one-point lead and Northville was barely able to end the half ahead 23-21.

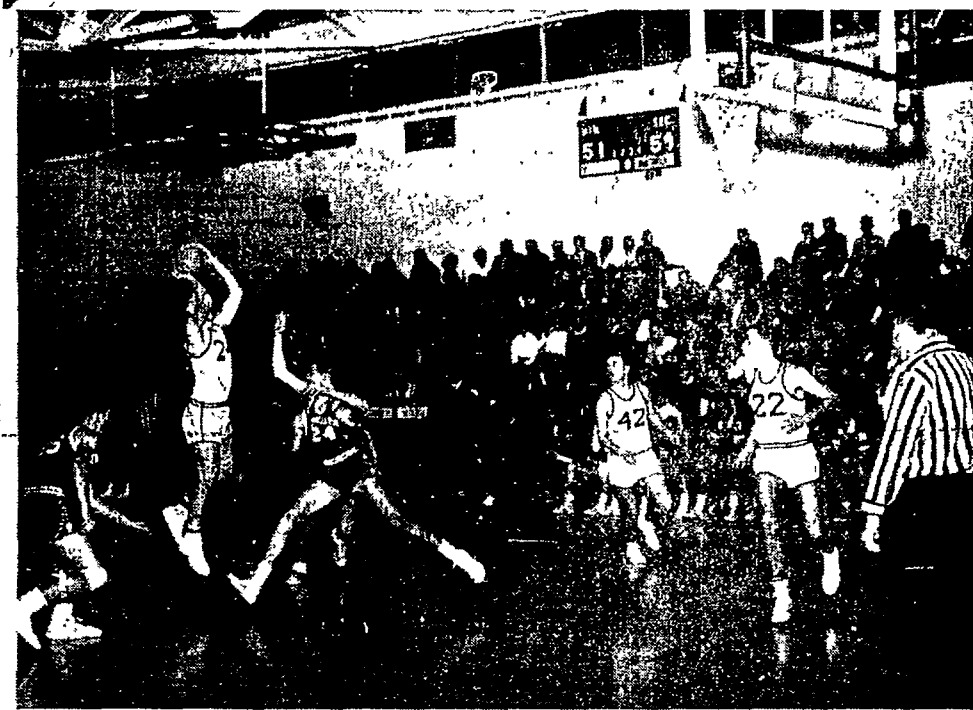

Strong scoring and defending marked the first period, which saw the Colts double Friday's shots to lead 14-7.

Plymouth pulled out front as the second half opened, building a five-point lead. But quickened defense helped Northville tie the score at 28 points with two minutes to go in the third stanza, and then break into the lead 34-31.

The Colts maintained their three-point gap during the final period to win 38-35.

Kent Kipfer paced the locals against Bloomfield Hills, marking up 12 points. Tom Wicke shot second with eight and Jim Luff scored seven.

Against Plymouth, Luff plunked in 12, while Kipfer added seven and John Mach picked up six.

VICTORY BOUND — Northville Mustang Forward Tom Swiss (24) prepares to widen Northville's lead over Plymouth last Saturday by two points late in the final period. Swiss dropped in 18 points, right behind team leader Guard Craig Bell's 20, as the Mustangs marked up their first victory of the season by defeating Plymouth 65-55.

Grid Squad Feted at Banquet

A pair of Detroit Lions stars and a full house of fathers, brothers and staunch fans feted Northville's Mustang grid squad at a banquet sponsored last week by the Exchange club.

Some 22 varsity gridders received their letters, along with two managers. Everyone received a good helping of applause and warm smiles.

Receiving special honors were Halfback Joe Hay, Quarterback Craig Bell, Fullback Ron Rice and Guard Dave Cummings.

Hay was named most valuable player on the 1962 squad for his county-leading scoring and his consistently reliable defending.

Bell was singled out for the 1962 sportsmanship award, and Cummings and Rice were voted as Northville's co-captains for next season.

Attorney C. D. Hill served as master of ceremonies, introducing in turn Coach Ron Horwath, who presented the letters, and Detroit Lions Darris McCord and Gary Lowe.

The professional gridders commented briefly on the state of the NFL and the Lions, and then answered a few questions from the approximately 100 persons who attended the event.

Defensive End McCord noted that despite phenomenal efforts, the Lions are still in second place. He said there's no doubt they will make the runner-up playoff bowl, but they're still hoping for a tie with Green Bay and a chance for the title.

"Down in Miami, though," he said, "they're not pulling for us too hard — in fact, they're already putting up the 'Welcome Back, Perennial Sons' Signs for the runner-up bowl."

Tim Krug was the only sophomore to win a varsity letter. Earning junior varsity letters were Seniors Bob Boyle, Bill Weidner and Dick Brown. Sophomores Jerry French and Jerry Burns also received JV letters, while Freshmen Jerry Imsland and John Jamieson won numerals.

Other JV letter winners include Bob Beller, Mike Horner, Artie Forth, Vic Eskie, John Callaghan, Kent Hunter, Tom Bingham, Bill Hansen, John Gibson, Jack Hooper, Gordon and Ed Karschnick earned let-

No Word Yet on City's Bid for Federal Funds

If "no news is good news", Northville request for matching federal funds to construct a new city hall is a cinch to be approved.

Local officials have heard nary a word since a report that an answer would arrive "by December 1" faded into a rumor.

The city of Plymouth is waiting, too. It also wants a new city hall.

Getting somewhat impatient, Plymouth Mayor Robert Sin-cock wrote a letter to the president Tuesday — President Kennedy — urging that action be taken to release more of the funds earmarked for the Public Works Acceleration Act.

The total plan calls for an expenditure of $900 million, 10 percent of which is earmarked for Michigan. But Congress appropriated $400 million, taking a "wait and see" attitude.

It is now feared that funds may already be running low and that many applicants — Northville included — must now wait for the balance of the appropriation to be freed. Northville proposes to build a $210,000 city hall-fire hall-library at the site of the present building.

Club Zoning

Northville's Planning Commission approved a proposed zoning change Tuesday night to permit construction of facilities for a swim club in Northville.

The 2.6 acre site is located behind the high school, adjacent to the city's water tower. Organizers of the Northville Swim Club seek to build a $100,000 olympic size pool to be financed by private memberships.

The bid for rezoning must now go to the city council where another public hearing is required before final change. The property is under option to the Northville Swim Club and is presently owned by the Harold Hartley family.

Amerman Students To Sing Friday

A one-hour-long Christmas program of music will be presented tomorrow night (Friday) at the Northville high school auditorium by the Amerman elementary school children.

The program will be under the direction of Mrs. Frances Kontos, music teacher. Miss Carol Shauman will serve as accompanist.

Musical selections will be presented by each of the grades, one through six, and also by the Amerman school chorus and special music groups.

Decorations have been created by students of Ralph Redmond, art teacher. The program will begin at 7:30 p.m.

Want to Provide Patient Gifts? Here's the Way

Each year at this season requests from individuals and groups interested in remembering patients are received at Northville State Hospital — patients who otherwise are "forgotten" by relatives and friends. Louis Schuldt, community relations director for the hospital noted this week.

Through a call to the hospital's Community Relations Department a donor can obtain general directions and a specific patient's requests for Christmas — usually three choices by the patient in the $1.50 — $2.00 range, of which one can be chosen.

"Some individuals ask to contribute to the hospital's Christmas Fund with which general gifts can be purchased in advance by volunteers. Such general gifts as cigarettes, stretch socks, handkerchiefs, and candies, are utilized on Christmas Day, when, in spite of every best effort, we learn of patients who have received no gifts, Schuldt pointed out. For some of these patients, the anticipation by patient and staff members for a Christmas Leave with his family may have ended in disappointment. The availability then of general gifts can be most important.

"We know from previous years that our patients certainly appreciate this remembrance during the Christmas Season," Schuldt added.

LET'S TALK CARS...

THE RIGHT TIME TO BUY

As any automobile dealer will regretfully confirm, people don't visit used car lots when the weather is cold and snowing. They wait until it is warm and sunny and all the other buyers are out car buying too.

This is much like an investor waiting until there is a great demand for a stock — pushing its price up — before he decided to buy. As the King of Siam used to say: "Is a puzzle."

1963 car sales have been booming. Starting in November which recorded one of the highest one-month new car sales in history, new car buyers have been filling dealer's used car lots with many choice used models. If you wait until Spring sunshine sets the buying stage, you may have to shop from fewer offerings at higher prices.

A used car should be thoroughly reconditioned if it is going to give its new owner satisfaction. A buyer should check if a car has been in a major wreck or was a taxi. If the recorded mileage represents something close to the true amount of wear. He should check for ring and valve wear and for worn shocks.

These and other required precautions are necessary if you are to avoid purchasing a vehicle that will later turn out to be a source of grief instead of satisfaction. If you buy your used car from us, you can be assured that we checked all these points and others before we put it on our lot.

Report Progress in Placing Hospitalized Aged in Homes

Ora L. Hinckley Supervisor of the Oakland County Bureau of Social Aid reports that homefinders working in this area have been successful to some extent in their efforts to find private homes for persons who are now patients in state hospitals.

The Bureau has been working with the hospitals in an effort to find room and board in private homes for persons 65 years of age and older who no longer need hospital care. In addition to room and board, a limited amount of supervision is required. They will receive OAA grants from the state of Michigan which will assist in meeting their financial needs.

Many successful placements have already been made, however, there is a continuing need for homes as more patients qualify for release.

It is hoped that homeowners with one or more rooms available will contact Miss Hinckley at the Bureau of Social Aid in Pontiac, telephone number 338-4701. Homefinders assigned to this area will then discuss all inquiries and questions in a personal visit to the home.

NHS Graduates Do More Than 'Minimum' Work

High percentages of Northville high school's class of 1962 completed more than 'minimum' graduation requirements in a number of courses, according to Kenneth MacLeod, assistant superintendent.

In a complete statistical survey of high school courses taken by the 148 students who graduated last June, MacLeod reported to the school board last month that all but 17 students earned at least one more unit of credit than is required to graduate.

He said the median number of units earned was 19, despite the fact that only 16 units are required for graduation. MacLeod noted that 17 units will be required beginning next fall, with 18 units being required after then.

One of the students finished 23 1/2 of a possible maximum of 24 class units last year. Two members of the class of 1961 matched this total.

According to the survey report, one quarter of the 1962 class members earned 20 or more credits. About a third of the class earned from 17 to 19 credits.

Some 85 per cent of the 1962 graduates completed four years of English, although the requirement will be three units until 1964, and nearly a fourth of the class earned credit for five and a half years of English.

MacLeod noted that included in extra English credit are such courses as speech, drama and reading. He said one student had even totaled up credit for six and a half years of English.

Elective courses in art, choir and band were attended by 73 per cent of the class members, with many students earning three or more years of credit.

While none of the class members earned more than three years of science credit because until this year Northville had no fourth year, nearly 30 per cent did earn more than the two years required for graduation.

Other figures include: 67 per cent took three or more years of social studies, 86 per cent enrolled in at least one course in business, usually typing, 42 per cent elected shop or mechanical drawing — a definite increase — and 60 per cent studied a foreign language.

Adding to the latter figure, MacLeod noted that there has been insufficient demand to offer a third year of language. He said at least 15 students are needed to make a class financially feasible.

In a special section of the report not included in five similar surveys made since 1955, MacLeod compared the students' actual achievement with potential demonstrated on a battery of four intelligence tests given in the third, sixth, eighth and 11th grades.

A summation of the comparison shows that of the top quarter of the class, 17 demonstrated "A" potential on the tests, 13 showed "B" capabilities and 5 "C-plus" abilities. Two were transfer students and had not taken the tests.

In the second quarter, five were rated as "A" students, 8 were listed as "B" capabilities, 10 had shown "C-plus" capacity and 12 had demonstrated ability as "C" students.

Three students in the third quarter of the class, whose actual performances were slightly above a straight "C", had demonstrated a potential as "A" students on the tests. Eight were rated as "B" students, 7 as "C-plus", 11 as "C", seven as "C-" and one as "D". In the bottom quarter of the class, with actual performance no better than "C-", five students were rated as "B", seven as "C-plus", 7 as "C", 11 as "C-" four as "D", one as "E" and two had not taken the intelligence tests.

Drawing from the findings of his survey, the assistant superintendent made the following conclusions:

—As enrollment increases, more vocational and avocational (Background courses of vocational nature given to non-vocational students) courses will be needed to provide a truly comprehensive high school program.

—A greater enrollment also brings a greater number of students who, because of poor preparation or low mental ability, require special class sections in various courses.

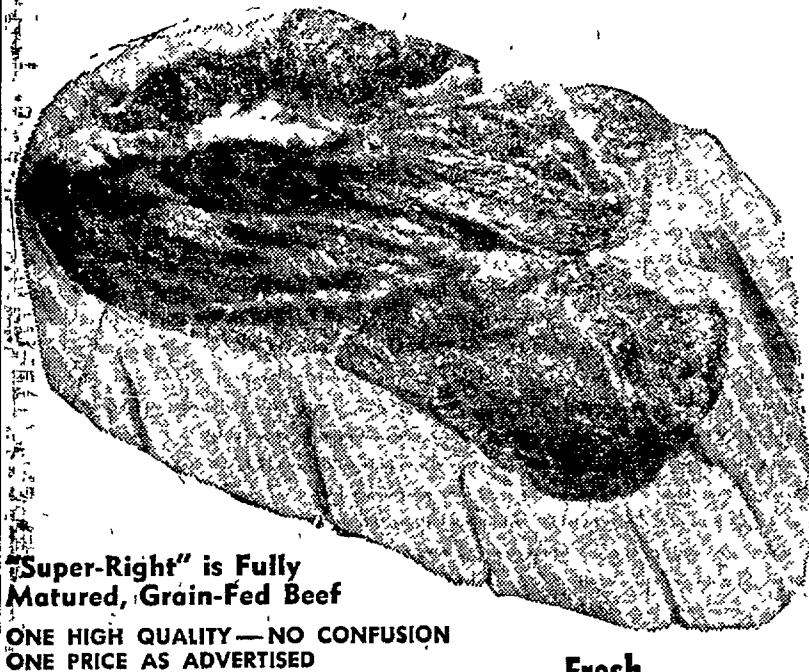

—Since Northville now has special algebra courses in the eighth grade and geometry in the ninth, a special math section for these students when they reach the 12th grade will have to be considered in case they wish further math studies.

1,000th Freeway Mile Opened in Michigan

Opening of the 1,000th mile of Michigan freeway on Wednesday (Dec. 12) makes it possible for motorists to drive those thousand miles three times as safely, and in two-thirds the time required on the roads they replaced. Automobile Club of Michigan said today.

This is a milestone in Michigan highway building comparable to the first mile of concrete road in the United States or our first 5-year, $50,000,000 road building program, adopted in 1919, aimed at getting the state out of the mud," said Fred N. Rehm, Auto Club general manager.

(The first mile of concrete highway poured in this country was on Woodward Avenue, in Detroit, between Six and Seven Mile roads, and was completed in 1909).

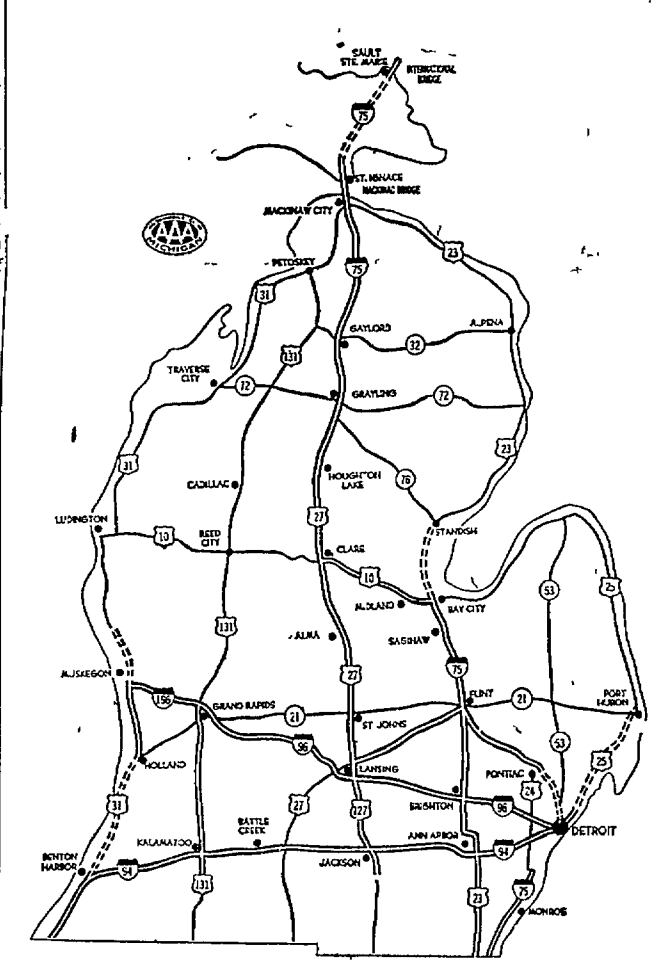

"These freeways now make it possible to drive from Detroit to Muskegon in less than three hours, a trip formerly consuming at least four hours. The trip from Detroit to New Buffalo has been cut from five to 3 1/2 hours, and the drive from the Michigan-Ohio boundary to Mackinaw City has been reduced from eight to 5 1/2 hours.

"The other links in the free way network have cut driving times between other points in the state by similar margins."

What this means, said Rehm, is that motorists now have easy access to the entire state, something that will spur the economic and tourist development of Michigan as have few other single things in the past.

"Unquestionably there will be some local dislocations of business because of the new routes and limited access to and from them, but this should be temporary in nature."

"The tourist industry and the development of the state as a whole was made possible because the public was enabled to move about freely and rapidly, and this will continue as the public finds greater mobility on these freeways," he concluded.

MICHIGAN'S rapidly expanding freeway system (double lines) is shown lacing the state together in this special map. The new 160-mile-long Detroit-Muskegon Freeway, I-96, contains the 1,000th mile of freeway in the state. Together with I-94, the Chicago Road, it connects eastern and western shores of Michigan. The still-abuilding I-75 runs up the center of the state, temporarily utilizing portions of US-23, US-10 and US-27. Also shown are the completed portions of other state freeways, together with some of the older trunk highways (single lines).

READERS SPEAK:

Country Needs Cleaning

To the Editor:

I was just recently writing a report for Mr. Meaker's U.S. history class when I decided to write about the littering of our highways. Our highways are littered with signs from 2 years back. They are tacked onto posts, trees and are just left there to rot and be torn by the wind, rain, and gunfire. Our country was once a beautiful piece of land marred only by fallen trees and the results of nature. Now it is marred with signs saying "State Fair 'Sept. 1-8, 1960" or "vote for Nixon".

This is ruining our country, side. Now I'm not saying not to put them up but only to have them taken down after they have served their purpose. The person who put them up should be responsible for taking them down, not leave them to rot or be knocked down.

The European countries don't have their countryside dotted with billboards and sign posts along the windows with old signs.

People should write their Congressmen. Do something about it, just don't say that this article is true! We know it is true but we must do something about it. Don't just complain to your congressman and tell him how you feel.

Leave It To Architect

To the Editor:

While reading the Minutes of last week's council meeting, it was rather amusing to me, the way certain items of the Scout building are being handled by the council. I am referring specifically to the discussion of installing a heater, in lieu of firebrick for the fireplace and the selection of brick for the building.

As I see it, the council spent considerable time selecting an architect for this building and I am sure they have made the right choice. However, the architect is educated and trained in all phases of construction and its related products, and it is my opinion that he should be allowed to follow his original concept and he should be the one to choose all materials for the building.

I do not intend in any way to belittle the council for I realize they have the best intentions in mind. They have made a choice of a professional man to design this building, so why not get a professional job in its entirety.

Thank you,
H.P. Conser

Thank You

To the Editor:

Permit me to use this means to publicly thank you and the Northville Record newspaper for your valuable help to the 1962 Torch Drive.

We are grateful not only for the coverage you gave us, but gave to our volunteer local chairmen who were responsible for making information about their community available to you.

We also need employ this means to express our appreciation to the over 6,000 volunteer solicitors, who called on each home and local business, and the contributors, who made a gift that keeps on giving throughout the year by their support of our 1962 health and social welfare services.

The holiday joy of all those who participated should be enriched by the knowledge that they have made an important contribution to the welfare of their fellow man.

Sincerely yours,
United Foundation

DIMES BOOSTER: Angelo D. Gadioli (left), owner of Northville Lanes, receives a plaque from Mrs. Lester Anders, community director of the Wayne county chapter of the March of Dimes, as William Kuckenhof, field coordinator for Wayne county, looks on. The plaque, a certificate of appreciation, praises Gadioli and Northville Lanes for making the largest per-lane donation of any bowling alley in the state during last year's "Boxl Dwan Cancer" event. Registration fees of $1 to compete in the Dimes activity provided a total donation of $480 last year. The plaque also gives recognition to Gadioli for his participation in March of Dimes campaign during the past several years.

OUT OF THE PAST

ONE YEAR AGO

December 14, 1961

—Northville Downs swallowed a bitter pill with sugar coating this week. Racing Commissioner Edgar Hayes announced harness racing dates for the 1962 season, awarding the local track four more nights than last year. But Downs officials had hoped for 40 additional nights.

—Although conditional approval for a permit to operate a landfill at the Manning & Locklin gravel pits was granted last week by the Northville township board of appeals, the project is already threatened by legal action. Near-by residents announced they will take the issue to court if final approval is granted.

—The answer to whether Northville high school will meet Clarenceville in a Wayne-Oakland league basketball game next Friday night hinges upon the outcome of two meetings between school officials next week. Athletic competition was suspended by Northville last month when Clarenceville football players attacked Quarterback Steve Juday at the end of grid contest.

—The Novi, village, council last week approved a proposed schedule of payments for the sanitary sewer system which will provide 2,900 taps in the Wayne county Rouge system. Tap-in charges will range from "cash" at about $435 in 1963 to interest-bearing $785 15 years later.

—The Novi council met informally Monday to discuss policies which govern operational procedures of the village staff. The meeting was called when the council discovered last week it had never developed a compilation of procedural rules.

FIVE YEARS AGO

December 2, 1957

—A Dearborn township man who often came to Northville for milk and water was found dead Monday morning along a stream less than 200 feet from the city's famous well. Police theorize he had died from a heart attack.

—The Charles Altman, Jr., family of 886 Grace street Monday afternoon received an unwelcome caller — a huge runaway truck which smashed against their driveway wall after its parking brake slipped. Tomorrow marks another milestone for Northville and Novi — the opening of the multi-million dollar Farmington-Brighton expressway, the newest thoroughfare in the area.

Edmund P. Yerkes, 192 E. Main Northville, Michigan
STATE OF MICHIGAN
ss. 512,911

At a session of the Probate Court for said County of Wayne, held at the Probate Court room in the City of Detroit on the fourth day of December in the year one thousand nine hundred sixty-two.

Present, Thomas C. Murphy, Judge of Probate.

In the Matter of the Estate of EMELINE M. SLOVER, Deceased.

On reading and filing the petition, duly verified, of Edmund P. Yerkes, Administrator of said estate, praying that he may be licensed to sell certain real estate of said deceased for the purpose of paying the charges of administering said estate and preserving said estate;

It is ordered, that the tenth day of January, next at ten o'clock in the forenoon, at said Court Room be appointed for hearing said petition, and that all persons interested in said estate appear before said Court at said time and place to show cause why a license should not be granted to said administrator to sell real estate as prayed for in said petition. And it is further Ordered, that a copy of this order be published once in each week for three weeks consecutively previous to said time of hearing, in the Northville Record a newspaper printed and circulating in said County of Wayne.

Thomas C. Murphy, Judge of Probate
I do hereby certify that I have compared the foregoing copy with the original record thereof and have found the same to be a correct transcript of such original record.

state. Ribbon cutting ceremonies will take place at both ends and a caravan will travel the length of the highway, stopping in Wixom and Novi.

—Petitions calling for incorporation of Novi township as a village were filed last Friday. Unless irregularities are found, an election on the question of incorporation will be held early next year, possibly in February.

—Some 50 Novi residents met Monday night with the chairman of the Southfield planning commission, to discuss pros and cons of incorporating the township into a village.

—Wixom's village council began marking time this week, indicating that any new ordinances or specific community planning would be left for the new city council to be elected next spring.

FIFTEEN YEARS AGO

December 12, 1947

—Jerry McSafely, a toothy quick-witted ventriloquist's dummy will join his master, Sergeant Ferrellus, of the Detroit police safety department, in a special safety talk Monday with Northville school children.

—Northville's winter taxing rate will be $23.86, an increase of 86 cents over last year. The county tax rate is $5.91, while the township will levy $1.06 and the school will charge $16.89.

—Letters containing Christmas seals have been sent to local homes, and the seals will be on sale at the post office and bank, reports drive Chairman Mrs. Ernest Wood.

—Members of the Methodist church W.S.C.S. elected new officers last week. Chosen for installation in January were Mrs. E. V. Ellison, president, Mrs. Leslie G. Lee, vice-president, Mrs. Oscar Hammond, recording secretary, and Mrs. W. Walker, treasurer.

—Two performances of "Aladdin and his Wonderful Lamp" will delight local school children December 29 when the Parent-Teacher association holds its annual children's play.

—The faculty of Northville schools served as hosts Tuesday evening to some 125 members of the Southeastern Michigan Associated Teachers' clubs. The regular bi-monthly meeting of the association was held at the Methodist church.

—Students at the Novi school are busy packing a box of goods for the United Nations Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization — UNESCO — for sending to children in Europe.

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

December 17, 1937

—United Auto Workers Vice-President Richard T. Frankenstein announced this week that rumors circulating locally that the Northville Ford plant was to be picketed were untrue.

—A community survey to determine Northville's health agency needs was advocated Thursday by Drs. A. B. Wickham and J. E. Seliady superintendent and head physician, respectively, of Eastlawn. They spoke before a meeting of school patrons and teachers.

—Preliminary surveys are well underway and some $1,600,000 has been banked toward the estimated $2,000,000 cost of a PWA sewage disposal system which would serve the Northville area and communities lying southwest of Detroit.

—Northville's safety patrol boys were on the other end of service Tuesday when they were guests of the Rotary club. H. O. Rounds, head of the AAA traffic division in Detroit, was guest speaker.

—For the 15th time, the Lloyd H. Green post of the American Legion will play "big brother" to children of the community who might miss a happy Christmas. They will give a party and dinner for these children next Wednesday.

Court of Appeals Set by Con-Con

EDITOR'S NOTE — This is another in a series of articles about the proposed new Michigan Constitution. Additional articles will appear in subsequent weeks.

A court of appeals, with jurisdiction intermediate between the circuit and state supreme courts, is a judicial innovation in Michigan's proposed constitution which will be presented to the voters at the April 1 election in 1963.

The new appeal court is designed to relieve to some extent the work of the supreme court whose justices will prescribe the new court's jurisdiction as well as its rules of practice and procedure.

The new constitution would impose on the appellate courts of the state an additional load because a new provision in its Declaration of Rights grants an appeal as a matter of right to those accused in criminal actions. Under the present constitution, no such right is guaranteed.

The proposed court of appeals would consist initially of nine judges who would be nominated and elected from districts in non-partisan balloting. The legislature would be authorized to set up the districts which must be as nearly as possible of equal population. Flexibility is provided by permitting the legislature to increase the number of judges of the court and to alter the districts from which they are elected.

The new constitution proposes that the supreme court be authorized to prescribe that the court of appeals may sit in divisions of not fewer than three judges, and at such places as the high court may designate. It is probable that the appeal court would conduct sessions in three-judge panels at several locations in Michigan.

Judges of the court of appeals would be chosen for six-year terms which must be arranged by the legislature so that all terms in each district will not expire at the same time.

The proposed constitution makes few significant changes in its sections dealing with the circuit courts, although a new provision requires that in circuits which have more than one judge the legislature shall devise a plan which permits their terms of office to expire at different times. The convention delegates believed that this change would be better for the judiciary and less confusing to the voters.

New language in the Judicial Article of the proposed constitution also assures uniform salaries for all judges within their particular jurisdiction or circuit. Judicial salary restrictions in the present constitution have sometimes resulted in serious inequities in pay scales among judges whose terms expire at different times.

In Uniform

Ray F. Hood

Ray F. Hood, aviation electronics technician third class, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Hood of 520 Grace street, is serving with an aircraft squadron at the Naval station at Sangley Point, in the Philippines.

Sangley Point is located seven miles from the capital city of Manila.

Clarence A. Wood

Marine Private Clarence A. Wood, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence E. Wood of 48948 West Eight Mile road completed four weeks of individual combat training recently with the second infantry training regiment at Camp Pendleton, California. The training provides newly-enlisted marines with a background of experience in the field under combat conditions. Live-firing exercises are conducted, in addition to field trips and classroom lectures.

Under carefully selected instructors, the young marines learn to take their places in small fighting units, such as the four-man fire team and the 14-man squad.

FOR SCHOOL LIBRARY — Main street school children examine a display announcing tonight's (Thursday) book fair to benefit the school library. The fair, featuring between 900 and 1,000 children's books, will follow the grade school musical program which begins in the community building at 7 o'clock. Profits from the sale of books, which may be delivered before Christmas, will be used by the P-TA for purchase of books for the library. Looking at the display are (l-r) Cathy Hempe, Jeff Forth, Amy Robinson and Diana Folino.

SINGING for members of Our Lady of Victory Lady's league last week was the Northville high school chorus. Directed by Leslie G. Lee and accompanied by Linda Line, the chorus sang eight Christmas season numbers during the half-hour program. Reverend John Wittstock performed the blessing of the Advent Wreath and then read the Christmas story.

Hey Kids! It's Okay To Eat After School

After-school snacks for children have won a qualified nod of approval from professional dietitians at The University of Michigan Medical Center.

They say the snacks — whether food or drink — should always provide some of the calories, vitamins and minerals necessary to good all-around nutrition, yet should not spoil the child's appetite for his evening meal.

How mom can manage these two requirements is a trick in itself.

The U-M food specialists turn thumbs down on such snacks as candy, soda-pop and potato chips. They recommend instead:

—Fruit juice, vegetable juice or milk.

—Crackers with peanut butter or cheese.

—A small sandwich, with meat, cheese or peanut butter.

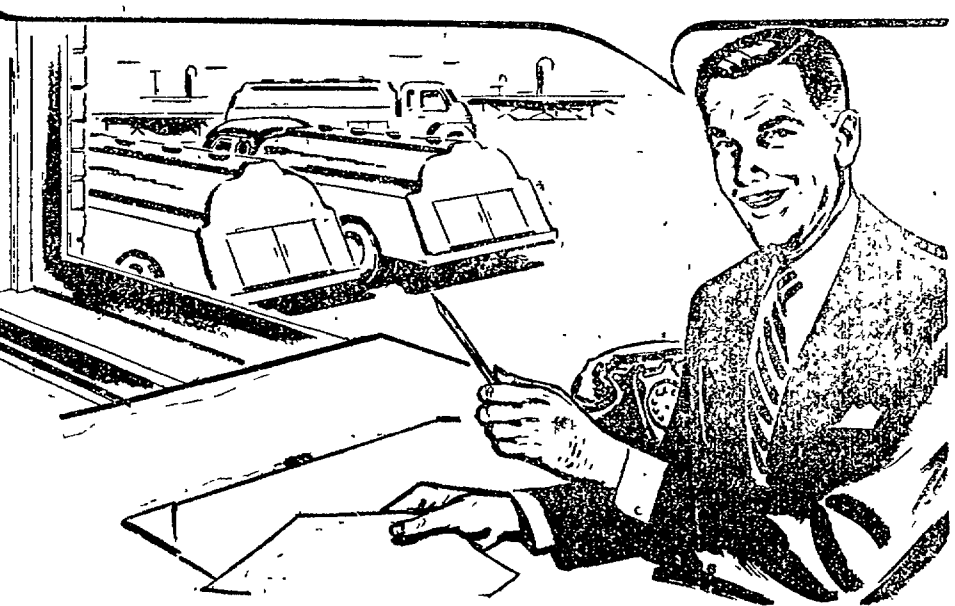

—Raisin cookies.

—Fresh fruit, carrots, celery or even cucumber wedges for casual-but nutritious, "munching."

—Cereal and milk.

They even offer mom a way to circumvent demands by small fry for the outlawed soda-pop and candy. "Keep only the more nourishing kinds of snacks readily available in the kitchen," says dietitian Betsy Holli, "and let nature take its course. The whole family will benefit nutritionally."

CHEVROLET...on the road every day!

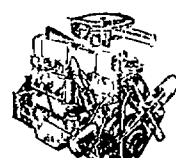

ITS RELIABILITY COMES FROM ITS QUALITY

A nutshell description of Chevrolet trucks could be "Trucks That Work". It's not exactly earthshaking but it says a mouthful. It's what Chevrolet trucks are best known for—their reliability. Ready to work, day after day, whenever you are.

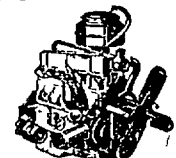

You can't build trucks that perform like this if you don't put quality into engine, chassis and body. Chevrolet does: double-wall construction, insulated cab, select-wood body floor, chain-supported tailgate, ladder-type frame, the careful attention to upholstery and finish. It's this kind of quality that makes any Chevrolet truck—from pickup to heavyweight tandem—worth more on the average at trade-in!
