

THE WINNER — Christmas came early for Mrs. Joseph Shipley, 425 East street. She's the lucky winner of the Northville Retail Merchants' Christmas shopping contest. Her prize: 20 gift certificates worth $25 each at sponsoring stores. Mrs. Shipley "couldn't believe it" when she was informed of her good fortune Tuesday night. She's a housewife, nurse and mother of two children, Dorothy, 10, and Fred, 5. Mrs. Shipley is a lifelong resident of Northville. She's shown above with Mayor A. M. ## How Many Did Photo Salesman Bilk Locally?

If you're waiting for delivery of photographs you had taken by door-to-door photographers in Northville this fall, hoping to use the pictures as Christmas gifts, you better buy new

One of the complainants wrote the Detroit office of the firm on December 3, but received no answer. A telephone call last Monday revealed that the phone was disconnected.

Investigation by Chief King through Detroit police revealed that there had been such a photographer's office, but only briefly. Detroit police said they had received a number of complaints from the suburbs, but none in the city of Detroit. It was also discovered that the addresses of all three sales-

School's Out

Two dates loom big in the eyes of area school children. Christmas, of course, which is just five days away. But closer still is the day when vacation starts — tomorrow.

Northville public schools close Friday at the regular hour and classes do not resume until Wednesday, January 2.

Our Lady of Victory classes close at noon Friday and open again January 2.

St. Paul's Lutheran school closes Friday at 2:30 p.m. (an hour earlier than normal) and classes do not resume again until Thursday, January 3.

In Novi and Wyandotte, the Christmas vacation schedule is the same as the Northville public schools.

Arthur C. Carlson Succumbs at 68

Military funeral services were conducted Saturday afternoon for Arthur C. Carlson, 201 Fairbrook, a well known Northville resident.

Mr. Carlson died December 12 at 3 p.m. at Veterans Administration hospital in Ann Arbor where he had been a patient since December 7.

He had been a resident of Northville for 29 years and had operated the Carlson Health Studio for more than 15 years.

He retired three years ago. Some 25 years ago Mr. Carlson organized the first cub scout group in Northville. He was awarded the Silver Beaver, the state's highest scouting honor, for his work in this activity.

He was also well known for his activities in veterans' organizations being a member of the Lloyd H. Green Post 147 of the American Legion, VFW 4012 and Benton Parkway World War I Barracks. The three veterans' organizations joined together in conducting the services.

Mr. Carlson was hospitalized Friday morning, December 7 after he suffered a mild heart attack, then a stroke while driving his car on Northville road near Five Mile road. His car struck a bridge abutment at Phoenix Lake. He was rushed to St. Mary hospital in Livonia and then transferred to Veterans Hospital in Ann Arbor.

Mr. Carlson was born September 19, 1894 in Chicago, the son of Andrew and Carrie Nelson Carlson. He is survived by his wife, Beatrice, who is a Northville city councilwoman; four daughters, Mrs. Betty Gibson and Mrs. Shirley Nuottila of Northville; Mrs. Carrel Hansen of Haslett; and Mrs. Harriet Landau of Plymouth; one son, Arthur H., Jr., of Northville; one brother, Harry E. of Cavelier, North Dakota; and 11 grandchildren.

Mr. Carlson was a member of the First Presbyterian church. The Reverend Lloyd Brasure officiated at services conducted at the Casterline Funeral Home. Burial was at Oakland Hills Memorial Gardens.

men were fictitious (probably the names, too, said King). According to Detroit authorities, the photography firm reportedly "moved to California."

Chief King made a report of the case to the attorney general office this week. He urges any resident who may have ordered pictures, and is still waiting, to report the facts to the Better Business Bureau of Detroit so that it may be passed along to other BBB's throughout the country.

The Northville police chief also had a word of advice for housewives: don't pay for anything from unknown salesmen until after the product is delivered.

Four Filed In Township

Northville Township Clerk Marguerite Northup reported this week that four candidates have now officially filed petitions for the township's spring election.

They are: Alex M. Lawrence, incumbent GOP treasurer; Mrs. Northup, incumbent GOP Clerk; Daniel R. Brown, GOP candidate for trustee; and Lawrence A. Masselink, GOP incumbent justice of peace.

Deadline for filing petitions is 4 p.m. Monday, December 31.

Plan New Skate Pond

A new ice skating site for Northville youngsters was being prepared this week by the city.

Recreation Director Ken Conley announced that Northville Downs has given permission for use of property at the northwest corner of Center and Hines drive, directly across the street from the Downs track.

"We're planning to lay-out the pond this week," Conley said. He reported that lights and a warming shanty are available.

The federal government declined use of the fish hatchery this year and the proposed new site on city property behind the new scout-recreation building cannot be used until next year.

Still Climbing

First returns from the community-wide residential appeal for funds for Northville's new Scout-Recreation building have boosted the total by approximately $500.

A. R. Clarke, treasurer for the fund-raising committee, reported Tuesday that contributions now amount to $7,040.48. He said this total represents 136 donations.

Letters seeking donations were mailed to 2200 area residences last week.

Study Court Action on Race Dates

Northville Downs, Driving Club and Jackson Raceway officials took a very dim view this week of the 1963 harness racing dates announced by Racing Commissioner Edgar Hayes.

Downs Executive Manager John Carlo met with Jackson officials Tuesday night to discuss possible legal action. While no decision has been reached, Northville and Jackson racing interests are convinced they received a bad deal — and further question the legality of the action.

It's a better than even bet they'll take Hayes to court on the issue.

In awarding next year's race dates Hayes ignored Jackson Raceway's bid for dates at Northville Downs and instead assigned Jackson Raceway dates at Jackson Fairgrounds. Those close to the racing scene insist Hayes was under heavy pressure to deny the Jackson to Northville switch.

Northville received three more dates than last year — 45 nights compared to 42. But Carlo points out the additional three nights are Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday — poor money-makers for track operators.

Jackson received 42 nights and Hazel Park and Wolverine Raceway 50 nights each.

Northville's season opens June 10 and closes July 31. Downs and Driving Club officials are particularly bitter over the set-back, because of the heavy expenditures made in expectation of the additional dates. A two-level enclosed paddock is currently under construction at the east end of the track. Last year the stands were completely remodelled and enclosed on the ends with the anticipation that infra-red heating could be installed to make the stands comfortable for Jackson's fall racing dates.

Local track officials point out they would not have undertaken these improvements if they had not been under the impression the Jackson move would be approved.

Last year Jackson Raceway's bid for Northville dates was denied, but the organization also submitted a request for Jackson dates as second choice. This year only Northville dates were sought.

Those favoring the move point out that Northville would attract more fans and offer bigger purses than Jackson. They also point to Northville's superior facilities.

City officials have also shown keen interest. The extra meet would mean about $50,000 in additional tax revenues.

Council Wraps Up Year's Business

City councilmen covered a variety of agenda items Monday night before closing its last meeting of 1962 at 11:15 p.m.

They scheduled a January 14 meeting with the planning commission, and local businessmen to discuss the proposed one-way traffic plan in the shopping district.

The council hopes to gain opinions from as many merchants as possible before advancing with the plan. If retailers would encourage trial of the proposed traffic pattern, it was suggested that an open hearing with the general public should be scheduled before proceeding.

The council set January 7 as the night for a public hearing on the rezoning of 2.6 acres of land near the city water tower from R-1 to R-3 for use as a swimming pool club.

Promoters of the club discussed road access problems with the council and it was generally agreed that this could be provided from the old "Base Line" road south of the high school.

The council gave City Attorney Philip Ogilvie permission to file a motion for reconsideration by the state supreme court on its denial for a leave to appeal the outcome of a suit involving the Northville justice court and a credit union.

The case involved judgments rendered before the term of the present justice, who holds they are invalid by reason of lack of jurisdiction. The city has sought to bring about a clear decision in the matter so that other such judgments cannot involve the city in legal difficulties in the future.

Christmas Services Hail Birth of Christ

A variety of traditional activities, beginning as early as today (Thursday) and continuing through Christmas Day, will mark area observances of the birth of the Christ Child.

Christmas programs by several area Sunday school classes will be held this week, with nearly all churches planning to begin religious holiday celebrations by Sunday.

The First Baptist church of Northville will open its Christmas season tonight with a Sunday school program scheduled for 7:30. Pastor Robert Spradling said. A program directed by Mrs. William Sauber will be presented, with the junior choir, under the direction of Mrs. George McDaniel, joining.

Sunday evening a musical program, directed by George McDaniel, will accompany the regular evening service. The special music by the church choir will be climaxed by a brief Christmas message.

A Christmas Eve service designed for the family will be held by the First Methodist church of Northville, beginning at 7 p.m. Monday, said Reverend Paul Cargo. The service will include singing of carols and reading from scriptures.

An evening Christmas concert by the church choir is scheduled to begin festivities for St. Paul's Evangelical Lutheran church on Sunday, Reverend B. J. Pankow announced. He said the concert will begin at 7:30.

Two services are planned for Christmas Eve, he said, one at 6:30 for the Sunday school children, and an 8:30 candlelight service for the youth groups. Christmas Day services will be held at 10:30.

The First Presbyterian church of Northville will hold a Christmas Eve musical candlelight service beginning at 11 o'clock. Reverend Lloyd G. Brasure said the service of traditional Christmas music will feature the youth bell ringers.

A solemn midnight mass with three priests will be held at Our Lady of Victory church Christmas Eve. A Christmas vigil of hymn singing beginning at 11:30 will precede the mass, said Reverend Father John Wittstock.

Regular mass will be held on Christmas Day, with morning services starting at 8:30, 10:30 and 12:15.

Reverend Arnold Cook, of the First Baptist church of Novi, said the annual Sunday school Christmas program will be held tomorrow (Friday) night at 7:30.

The regular worship services on Sunday will feature a Christmas theme, Cook added. His message this weekend is titled "The Descent of Dilety."

A Christmas Cantata entitled "The Greatest Story Yet Untold" will be presented Sunday afternoon by the choir of the First Baptist church of Wixom. The cantata, composed and arranged by Eugene L. Clark, may be heard at a 4 p.m. vesper service.

The church will hold its annual Sunday school Christmas program on Christmas Eve, said the Rev. Edmund F. Caes, Jr., pastor.

The Salem Baptist church will hold a special Christmas worship service at 7:30 p.m. Sunday, announced Reverend Rex L. Dye. The service will include a reading of the Christmas story.

St. John's American Lutheran church, on Grand River avenue, is planning its Sunday school program, titled "Christ Comes to Christian Homes," for 5:30 Sunday evening. A youth group will present Christmas readings titled "God So Loves" at regular worship services.

On Christmas Eve the church plans a candlelight service beginning at 11 o'clock, and a 10 a.m. Holy Communion celebration on Christmas Day.

The Novi Methodist church will hold its church school program Sunday evening at 7:30, said Reverend LaVere Webster. The church's Christmas Eve ceremonies will be held jointly with the New Hudson Methodist church.

The two church choirs will serve the 11 p.m. to midnight service, which will include a presentation of the Christmas story and a special message.

It's All Go in P.O.

Busiest spot in town? It's Northville's post office.

To the uninitiated, one look behind the scenes in the post office would be enough to drive a person to sending smoke signals.

But what looks like confusion is really an organized system — with a slot for every letter and a cubby hole for every package. And when the flurry of thousands of letters weighed down by hundreds of parcels clears away, a record amount of mail has been handled and it's all done on schedule.

This year Postmaster Leland Smith estimates business is up about two per cent. During the last seven days ending Monday the local post office ran 130,804 letters (mostly Christmas cards) through the canceling machine — not to mention several thousand metered letters and parcels.

Last Monday was the peak day for out-going letters with 24,468.

The post office has been doing a good business in stamps, too. According to Arthur Schutte, assistant postmaster, about 50,000 of the new four-cent Christmas stamps have been sold.

Up until now only five additional employees have been added to the regular crew. Two more will be hired to help with the last minute delivery rush.

The post office will be open Saturday until 5 p.m. and again on Monday. There will be no Sunday deliveries, but all mail will be cleaned out Monday, Smith promised.

POSTAL PILE-UP — It might not look like it here, but despite the pile-up of Christmas mail Northville's post office is keeping up with the rush. Besides the record amount of mail sent out of Northville there's a few deliveries to be made, too, as can be seen by the stack handled by Jerry Schutte and Elmer Balko.

Judi Lin Buck Weds Lawrence A. Wright, Jr.

Judi Lin Buck and Lawrence A. Wright, Jr. were united in marriage at the Presbyterian church Saturday, December 15. The Reverend Lloyd Brasue officiated at the four o'clock ceremony.

Parents of the groom are Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence A. Wright, Sr. of 40241 Fairway Drive, Northville. The bride is the daughter of H. William Buck of Kalamazoo.

The bride wore a white velvet bouffant gown with long sleeves and shoulder length pearl trimmed veil. She carried a white orchid on a white ribbon.

Art of History and Today

WHILE THE Egyptians were looking forward to life after death to which they believed they could transport all the worldly goods recorded by their slave-artists on their tombs, a contemporary civilization to their north-east in the Tigris-Euphrates valley was very much concerned with life on earth and had little time to think about what was to come after. The so-called "fertile crescent" was subject to constant invasion by predatory neighbors. Instead of the calm, ordered dynasties of the Egyptians, the Babylonian rulers changed with each successful conquest.

Their precarious way of life is reflected in the art of the period and region. Egyptian art is based on dignified, perpendicular composition and a frozen tradition of style, an orderly arrangement of design and space and their rulers depicted as majestic pillars at least ten heads tall. Babylonian art, on the other hand, is crowded, strongly diagonal in composition, its heroes squat, muscular, granite blocks of strength. So important was the muscular strength of heroes to this warlike people that they devised intricate stylized patterns emphasizing the stalwart muscles of legs and arms. Egyptian subject matter indicates a time of peace, plenty, prosperity; Babylonian art shows war, victory or defeat, or savage animals in pursuit of prey.

THE STYLE of art of a civilization is a strong indication of the conditions under which it lived. A happy-go-lucky kind of people leaves behind paintings, frescoes, decorated urns showing the influence of their material and cultural climate. Mycenaean art, for instance, is full of sweeping curves, gay

CHRISTMAS DECORATIONS go along with the paintings the Eugene Schoeneichs of 41097 McMahon Circle, use to decorate their new home. Mrs. Schoeneich produced the water color painting while an art student at Western Michigan university.

A teaching family are the Schoeneichs, new residents at 41097 McMahon Circle, although Mrs. Schoeneich is now tending to her new home and daughter.

The Schoeneichs, Eugene, Dee and 14-month-old Suzanne moved to their Willowbrook subdivision home last summer. They report the house and location prompted their move from Farmington — they like the house and they're still close enough to Eugene's job as an English teacher in Farmington high school.

Mrs. Schoeneich taught elementary grades in Farmington and Garden City. She was an art major at Western Michigan University and has turned her interests to decorating the home.

Prominently displayed in their living room are a wood cut print and water color paintings she produced while still in school.

Both report enjoying bridge, and she belongs to the Farmington Woman's Club.

Woman's Club Tea to Honor New Members

1/4 lb. almonds, chopped fine
1 lemon, rind and juice
Warm syrup, add shortening and lemon juice and remaining ingredients. In order given, soda mixed with flour. Almonds and citron may be omitted. Roll into little balls, size of a marble. Brush with white of egg and bake until brown, 350 degrees F. Dust with powdered sugar. Will keep indefinitely.

2 eggs
2 1/4 cups sifted flour
1/2 tsp. baking powder
1/4 tsp. salt

grated rind of one lemon
anise oil if desired
Beat eggs until light. Add sugar gradually. Sift and measure flour, add baking powder and salt. Sift again. Add to egg, sugar and lemon rind mixture. This is a very dry dough. ## Meeting Outlines Child Clinic Plan

Twenty-five cents for every child enrolled in schools in Northwestern Wayne County would open a substantial addition to child guidance facilities.

This is the goal of the board of the Northwestern Child Guidance Clinic according to Mrs. Crispen Hammond of Northville.

This goal was reported at a meeting of 150 persons at Nankin Mills Jr. High. This goal would furnish an additional clinical team for the treatment of children in this area. The team would consist of three psychiatric social workers, a clinical psychologist and the supervision of a child psychiatrist from Children's Center. This clinic will be a branch of Children's Center of Wayne Co.

Educators from the 19 school districts within the area of this guidance clinic have reported that 900 children could be referred this year — if additional facilities were available. The figure was developed in a survey reported by Marvin Hauk, a member of this guidance clinic board. Present child guidance facilities require that most children wait about one year until they can receive treatment for emotional problems.

Persons who attended the meeting heard the nine months' history of this clinic outlined by Mrs. Robert Hermanson of Dearborn. Mrs. Chrystal Agre of Garden City described several real life situations of the type that could be referred to a guidance clinic. The audience then saw a slide presentation developed by Dr. James Oliver of Dearborn Township which can be used by local groups. This program can be arranged by calling a local member of the Board or Dr. James Oliver at LU 4-6176. Persons interested in working to develop this clinic may call LO 1-3800.

American Principal Raymond Spear attended the session representing Northville. He reported details of the meeting to school board members last week. It was decided that administrators would study the proposal and consult with Mrs. Hammond before making a local recommendation.

Nylons Make Fine Last Minute Gifts

Even the most efficient Christmas shoppers sometimes have to buy a last minute gift or two. Nylon stockings make nice gifts, and choosing hosiery is easy when you know what's available. Rosella Bannister, Wayne county Home Economics Agent, provides these tips.

If you don't know her exact stocking size, it's safer to choose the stretch mesh stockings. They're available in small, medium, and large sizes. The small hose fit sizes 8 to 9, medium hose fit sizes 9 1/2 to 10, and the large hose fit sizes 10 1/2 to 11 1/2.

Stretch stockings are nice for the too slim or too generous leg because they adjust to fit individual contours.

If you do know her stocking size, and wish to buy regular hose, you still have to decide which sheerness to buy. Most retailers carry three or four choices of sheerness.

Evening Sheers - For special occasions when glamour counts most.

Daytime Sheers - "In-between" stockings, right for the office, church or luncheon date.

Walking Sheers - Give good service for everyday shopping and driving.

Service Weight Sheers - Give warmth and strength.

Seams or seamstress? Seamless hose are especially popular with the teen-age and college crowd, perhaps because they eliminate the problem of crooked seams.

Stockings with seams make legs look more slender because of the vertical line.

What about stocking length? Hosiery is proportioned for the short, medium and long leg. For proper fit and service, it's important to choose the right length hose.

What about the new runless hose? The so-called runless hose are a kind of mesh hose that are simply more run-resistant than regular hose. If the stocking is snagged, it's likely that a hole will form first, rather than a run. True runless hose are not yet available.

For added wear, buy her two pairs of hose of the same color, style and brand. That way, when one stocking gets a run in it, the remaining good stocking can be matched with the other pair.

I will not be responsible for any debts contracted by wife, Mildred V. Nagel after December 20. John Nagel.

Wixom Council Decision On Private Road Delayed

Settlement of whether the city of Wixom will service Mariposa avenue — or any other "private" roads — will have to wait for some time, it was indicated last week.

City Attorney Gene Schuelz explained to the council last Thursday night that a new State attorney general's ruling on the matter of "private" roads is now in the works.

He said the ruling would reportedly state that unless specific dedication of a "private" road is indicated on a plat for the area in which it is located, and unless the road has been held and used for only those persons living on it, the road will be considered a public thoroughfare.

The attorney's report accompanied a report from DPW Director Robert Trombley and city Engineer Herbert Munzel in answer to a complaint made last month that the city had not serviced Mariposa avenue, one of Wixom's several non-dedicated streets.

Trombley and Munzel explained that the state pays Wixom for maintenance of 500 feet of Mariposa, measuring from the center of Wren road. The 500 feet extends about half way down the road.

William Keljo, who lives about 200 feet beyond the end of the 500 feet, asked last month that the city service the entire road. And Alois Angerman, whose home is on the 500 feet serviced by the city, complained that the road was in poor condition.

Trombley and Munzel agreed that the road is in poor condition. Their report pointed out that the gravel and dirt road, which varies in width from 12 to 24 feet, would require an expenditure of between $2,000 and $2,500 to bring it up to city and state specifications.

They added that the generally-traveled portion of the roadway would be generally useless in the improvement because it is off-center from the platted 60-foot right of way.

The council had pointed out at the time of the complaints that the city would be liable to court suit if any damage occurred while city equipment was being used to maintain private property.

Schuelz pointed out last week that the new attorney general's ruling could overcome this obstacle, and suggested that no further action on the matter be taken until he has been able to form a legal opinion based upon the as yet unannounced new ruling.

In other action the council voted to change its first meeting date in January from January 10 to January 9 so that council members could attend a Michigan Municipal League regional meeting in Warren on the regular meeting night.

The council also received a report from Mayor Wesley McAtee about the city's request for matching federal funds to build up a number of roads.

The mayor explained that of the $900,000,000 authorized in the federal public works acceleration act, under which the city applied for the funds, only $400,000,000 was appropriated by congress for use. And of that $400,000,000 McAtee explained, only $8,000,000 has been released by the president.

In a similar matter, the council authorized the planning commission to request a field representative to survey the central area of the city for urban renewal studies. The survey is a cost-free service provided to communities interested in an urban renewal project.

Also concerning roads was council approval of a state-provided resolution waiving the city's jurisdiction of the portion of highway M-218 which lies within the city.

The state is giving up control of the road, and almost every community through which it passes has waived jurisdiction to the county also.

The council also learned from Councilman Ray Lahti that the county board of supervisors last week approved seeking of federal funds for construction of four housing units to start the proposed children's village sought by the probate court for emotionally disturbed and mentally retarded children.

—recommended to the Michigan Liquor control commission that approval be granted to H. J. Alamer for dropping of a partner included in his liquor license;

Transferred $10 from a special parks and recreation fund to a checking account to provide sufficient balance to purchase a $260 movie projector for the parks and recreation department;

—referred a request for hearing of the small warming house located next to ice skating rinks being constructed beside the city hall to the fire chief and building inspector for a report;

—received word from the Michigan Heart association that the banners previously approved by the council cannot be erected in the city to advertise heart education week because the project would be too costly.

Christmas Memories

It does no good to comment, as so many do at this time of year, on how much our Christmas has changed.

The candles on our trees are now electrical (and thereby much safer) and the carols are more likely to come from a three-speed phonograph (and will, therefore, be more musical, if not more dedicated, than our own efforts).

We do not regret, really that our Christmas has changed. For whatever havoc progress has wrecked on this day of Christ, it remains still a day that stands out in each year as bright as the star that shone over Bethlehem.

We mark our mile posts by our Christmas. We remember the new flivver the family got because it was used for the happy occasion of Christmas, or we remember how good a cook our mother was because she excelled at Christmas.

And all the uncles and aunts and cousins and nephews (some of them fun and some of them pretty unbearable) fit into our memories because we remember them from Christmas.

Memory is among our great treasures and no mechanical contrivance can ever take its place as a source of pleasure. Christmas, as the focal point of memory, can never be changed fundamentally despite the gnawing away at its spirit by the growing commercialism.

Memory, made of Christmases, is brighter than any string of lights, sweeter than any wine and more beautiful than any photograph. In wishing all our friends a Merry Christmas, therefore, we are wishing you all another day that will soon become a pleasant and mellow memory!

Locals "Lack Desire"

Lakers Top Mustangs 60-45

"I'm very unhappy with the way we played during the second half," commented Northville Mustang coach Dave Longridge this week about last Friday's 60-45 loss to West Bloomfield.

"We definitely could have won the game," he stated, explaining that the team lacked hustle, desire and mental preparation for the contest.

As a result of the loss, during which Northville made a strong seven-point comeback in the last three minutes of the first quarter, matched the Lakers during the second period, and failed miserably in the second half, Longridge is planning a change in his line-up.

He's bringing up a pair of sophomore junior varsity players to add some height and speed to the squad. Starting in place of Guard Danny Bishop will be Coit hot shot Kent Kipper, one of the top scorers on the JV squad.

Replacing Bill Challis, and moving into center position will be six-two Tom Wicke, a solid rebounder who could help the Mustangs in one of their weakest abilities — collecting "garbage" shots under the basket.

"This way I can alternate players more, keeping everyone fresh, and possibly helping with spirits," Longridge said.

He noted that the varsity held the best scrimmages of the year earlier this week, and said that performances and desire were at their high point.

Using a long pass fast break offense, West Bloomfield opened scoring Friday, and led 7-0 by the time two minutes had elapsed. They stayed out in front by six and seven points until two minutes remained in the period.

With two minutes left and West Bloomfield leading 13-6, the Mustangs tightened their defense and opened a scoring attack, giving the Lakers only one more basket, while sinking five of their own to end the quarter with a 16-15 lead.

In the second period, the local quintet pulled ahead to a 20-15 lead during the first three minutes. But West Bloomfield battled back into the lead as the Mustang attack dwindled, and the first half ended with the Lakers leading 25-24.

Northville's defense failed in the third period, allowing the fast-breaking West Bloomfield squad to pull steadily ahead, while the locals' offensive attack sputtered and all but died.

The Lakers piled up 21 points — their best quarter of the game, while Northville scored only seven, the worst performance of the season. As the period ended, West Bloomfield led 46-31.

During the final stanza, Northville matched the Lakers point-for-point, as Guard Craig Bell dropped in four straight field goals and a pair of free throws, while Center Jim Judy added four points.

Bell paced both teams with 21 points, while Forward Tom Swiss was third-highest scorer of the game with 13. West Bloomfield's Forward Dan Armstrong scored 17.

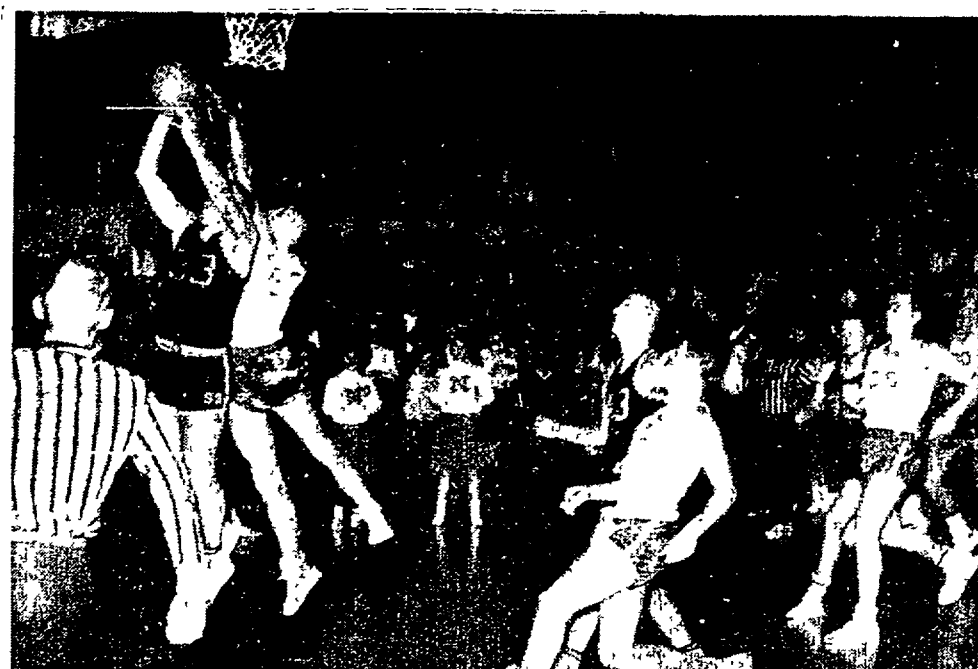

Tomorrow (Friday) night the Mustangs host Clarenceville in the high school gymnasium. The JV contest begins at 7 p.m., with the varsity tilt following.

In other league action over the weekend, Bloomfield Hills edged Brighton 44-38, Milford stopped Clarkson 42-37 and Holly bombed Clarenceville 63-32.

EFFORTS FAIL — Northville Mustang Forward Bill Challis attempts a shot against West Bloomfield in last week's 60-45 loss. But the Laker defense stopped Northville efforts while the offense stayed ahead during the second half.

Wrestlers Make It Three Straight—Lost

Northville's Mustang wrestlers dropped a pair of meets during the past week, to make an unbroken string of three losses for the season.

Last Wednesday the local grapplers were thrown by Warren Lincoln 36-16, and Tuesday night they dropped a closer match to North Farmington 27-22.

Coach Jack Kreiner said that while both teams outwrestled Northville, some of the Mustangs looked good and the team showed signs of promise.

Against Warren Lincoln, 95-pounder Mike Brandenburg and 180-pounder Jerry Burns were the only Mustangs to pin their opponents. 127-pound Rick Rebitzke and 154-pound Bill Adams both won decisions, to round out Northville's scoring.

This Tuesday, Four Mustangs pinned their North Farmington counterparts, including Brandenburg, Adams, Rebitzke and 133-pound Jim Jiggins. Bert Bowen wrestled to a heavy-weight draw to add two points.

Today (Thursday), the Mustangs play host to Willow Run in a 7:30 p.m. contest in the high school gym.

Decided Loss Is Colts' First

The Northville junior varsity Colts fell to a 500 standing Friday night in their first decided loss of the season, when West Bloomfield's junior Lakers drubbed them 44-32.

The Colts have a 2-1 record going into the game, but both wins and the single loss were in close-fought cliff hangers which ended with one point differences.

But the little Lakers ended all that by jumping to the lead during the first period and staying out front throughout the game.

The Colts had plenty of scoring opportunities, but failed to connect on many shots. With their poorest rebounding performance of the year, they also missed many chances to take a second or third shot.

West Bloomfield led 10-7 as the buzzer ended the first stanza, and each succeeding quarter saw both teams add approximately the same number of points as scored during the first period.

In the second period, both teams gave up the ball a number of times during the first four minutes, and the score stood 13-9 at the mid point of the quarter. But scoring picked up in the last four minutes, and the half ended with the little Lakers leading 22-14.

Facing their first half-time serious threat of a loss, the Colts threw on a tight full-court man-to-man defense during the second half, but all it did was give West Bloomfield more shots from the foul line.

The third stanza ended with the little Lakers leading 32-20. Neither team hit well during the first half of the final period, both adding only two points. The Lakers led 40-27 with just over a minute left to play, and the game ended 44-32.

Hurting most were poor shooting and inability to keep pace with the Lakers' fast break.

Area Horses Earn Honors

Taking top prize in the open jumper championship was High Society, owned by Bob Sample, of 20803 Chigwidden. The horse earned the highest number of points ever taken in the open jumper division in Michigan.

Sally Sample's Intuition was awarded the high point championship for the green working hunter division.

Winning the reserve open jumper championship was Delayed, owned by Mr. and Mrs. John Wallace, of 47430 10 Mile Road.

Jaycees to Take Needy On Gift Buying Tour

Twenty needy children will be taken on a shopping tour by Northville Jaycees as part of the local organization's Christmas project.

Karl Knott, chairman, said this week that 10 Jaycees will be assigned two children each and the children will be permitted to make purchases for their parents. "It's a new twist. We decided to let the youngsters buy gifts for their parents for a change," Knott explained.

After the shopping tour the youngsters will be treated to refreshments.

Besides the local project the Jaycees are contributing money to a Nigerian orphanage.

Truck Theft Brings Fine

Donald R. Halliday and Allen J. Switla, both of Northville Downs, were fined and placed on probation by Northville Justice Charles McDonald Tuesday after they pleaded guilty to simple larceny.

The two men admitted taking a truck belonging to Jack H. Foster, 760 Thayer. The theft was reported to police Monday. Police traced the truck to Halliday and Switla after a service station attendant reported answering a service call on the truck. The pair admitted they had abandoned the truck in Livonia.

Halliday was fined $45 and $5 costs or 60 days. Switla was fined $5 and $5 costs. Both were placed on 90-day probation and required to pay the $12 in-pounding fee to Livonia police.

Old Plymouth Building Destroyed by Fire

Half of an old Plymouth landmark was destroyed by a fire Monday which kept Plymouth area firemen busy for nearly 12 hours.

The Jolliffe building, 204 South Main street, a two-story brick structure located across from the Plymouth city hall, next to the Detroit Edison building, caught fire before 6 a.m., and firemen didn't leave the scene until after 5 p.m.

Although the building houses several apartments, two of which were destroyed along with the front half of the building, no one was injured in the fire.

Also destroyed along with the two upstairs apartments were a ground floor barber shop and the offices of the Michigan Cancer Foundation, which serves the Northville-Plymouth area.

A total of seven fire trucks, four from Plymouth, two from Plymouth township and one from Canton township, and a company of firemen from Ypsilanti township were called out to fight the blaze.

The fire was reported just after 6 a.m. when a resident of one of the two upstairs apartments, which were destroyed, was awakened by the coughing of her son. She discovered the youngster was coughing because his room was filled by smoke.

After arousing other residents in the building — a total of five families lived upstairs — the alarm was turned in.

A spokesman for the Plymouth fire department, who called the blaze the worst the city has had this year, said the front half of the building was filled with flames when the first men arrived just after the alarm was sounded.

He said the cause of the fire, which started in the basement, near an oil-fired furnace, has not yet been determined. Also still undetermined is the amount of damage to the 75-year-old structure.

Officials of the cancer foundation listed 15,000 dressings, three hospital beds, three wheel chairs and a number of other sick room items among the damages.

They urged all patients being served by the office to go to the temporary Michigan Cancer Foundation offices in the basement of the Newburg school, located at Newburg and Ann Arbor roads. Hours are 1-4 daily.

Hit Records Sell, but Old Standards Play On

What're the most popular tunes now being purchased in record stores? It might surprise you to learn that even though nearly everyone is playing Christmas music these days, songs like "White Christmas" and "Rudolph, the Red-Nosed Reindeer" are not among the top sellers. Instead, titles such as "Big Girls Don't Cry" and "The Night Has a Thousand Eyes" now reach the top of the big seller lists. "Cry," by the 4 Seasons, has been bobbing around among the top tunes for the past few weeks, while "Eyes" sung by Bobby Vee, has been seeking to replace it. Other comers, such as "Bob-ba's Girl," by Marcie Blane, are also fighting toward the top, while such 'oldies' as Elvis Presley's "Return to Sender," are still hanging on after a fair period of popularity. But why, especially at this time of year, don't the Christmas records outsell most of the others?

"One reason," points out Mrs. Monte Ellis, "is that Christmas tunes mentioned above will probably still be selling. For each one of those titles, heard, here's the lyrics to the 'old standards', appear on al- teens' big current seller:

BIG GIRLS DON'T CRY

Big girls don't cry.
Big girls don't cry.
Big girls don't cry, they don't cry.
Big girls don't cry.
Who said they don't cry?
My girl said good-by, my oh my.
My girl didn't cry, I wonder why.
Silly boy.
Oh, my girl she had to break up...
Silly boy.
So that she would call my bluff.
Silly boy.
She said, to my surprise,
Big girls don't cry.
Big girls don't cry.
Big girls don't cry.
Who said they don't cry?
Baby, I was true.
I was true.
I'm a fool.
Silly girl.
Shame on you, your nana said;
Shame on you, you're crying in bed.
Shame on you, you told a lie:
Big girls do cry.
Big girls don't cry, they don't cry.
Big girls don't cry.
That's just an alibi.
Big girls don't cry.
Big girls don't cry.
Big girls don't cry.
Big girls don't cry.
Big girls don't cry.
Big girls don't cry.
Big girls don't cry.
Big girls don't cry.

The great significance of the birth and life of the Master, Christ Jesus, will be emphasized at Christian Science services Sunday.

Scriptural readings will include the account in Matthew of wise men who followed a star to Bethlehem: "And when they were come into the house they saw the young child with Mary his mother, and fell down, and worshipped him: and when they had opened their treasures, they presented unto him gifts; gold, and frankincense, and myrrh."

From "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy the following will be read (p. 315): "Jesus' spiritual origin and understanding enabled him to demonstrate the facts of being, to prove irrefutably how spiritual truth destroys material error, heals sickness, and overcomes death. The divine conception of Jesus pointed to this truth and presented an illustration of 'creation.'"

The Lesson-Sermon is entitled "Is the Universe, including Man, Evolved by Atomic Force?"

P. O. Box No. 4816-REDFORD STATION

DETROIT 19, MICHIGAN

from the PASTOR'S STUDY

By The Reverend Paul M. Cargo,

First Methodist Church of Northville

One of my favorite stories about Christmas came to my attention a little while after the close of the Second World War.

There was a small island in the South Pacific where an American air-strip was built in 1943. When Christmas of that year came, the Americans had to move on. The men stationed there thought it would be a fine thing to have a Christmas party for the natives and their families.

The GI's were busy finding things in their duffel bags for gifts. Others made little things that were suitable. There was a sudden run on whistles at the PX.

When a native asked what Christmas was and why they were doing this, these questions raised a spirit the men had almost forgotten. One said, "Hey, Mac, get out your New Testament. We gotta read the story to these guys." Groups of natives, men, women, and children, gathered beneath the palm trees to hear the story of the birth of Jesus and how he came here to be the Savior of men.

The servicemen patiently explained about the manger and the inn, what shepherds were, and the wise men from afar. There was child-like joy about the star, and wonder and amazement at the voice of the angels.

Voices were raised in the carols the men used to sing back home, and if they sounded strange on a Pacific isle, they nonetheless found a home in the native heart. Soon Americans and natives were singing "Silent Night," "Holy Night," "Joy to the World" and "O Come, All Ye Faithful." The party was over. The American personnel moved on.

But they left behind a pretty big something, a Christmas spirit. In 1948, a missionary on his way to India stopped off at that island. He had been with the troops there in 1943. He was greeted with excitement, and he gave? What better way taken to see something beautiful, a church. Over the doorway was written this love which we know is? May crude inscription: "This is the joy and truth of Christmas abide in our hearts and brotherly love which we know is."

There was a service of worship. There were no seats. Everyone stood in the presence of God. The songs were all Christmas carols. More words had been added. The tunes were still recognizable. They didn't know any others.

One explained, "After you leave we build church to worship Jesus. We worship him, with the only service we know, Christmas, the day he was born. Everyday is Christmas here. Every day Christ child born anew. Our gift to give is love. Our church we call her Christmas church."

Con Con Eases Information Flow

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is No. 21 in a series about the proposed new Michigan Constitution. Additional articles will appear in subsequent weeks.

Easier access to information about governmental affairs is a noteworthy improvement incorporated in several new or revised sections of the proposed Michigan constitution which voters will be asked to pass judgment upon next April 1.

Unlike most other such gatherings in the history of this country, the recent Michigan Constitutional Convention operated, so to speak, in a "goldfish bowl". The public and news media were welcomed at all sessions of the convention and its numerous committee meetings.

This was an abrupt departure from the constitution-making process that has usually followed in this country since the Federal constitution was adopted behind closed doors in 1787.

The delegates to the Michigan convention determined early in their deliberations that they wanted to operate in full public view. Representatives of the various news media did a thorough job of objective reporting of daily convention and committee sessions.

The importance that delegates attached to public information about their own activities is reflected in their concern for easier access to information about governmental affairs in general.

A significant break-through in eliminating secrecy in legislative committee matters is a new section in the Article dealing with the legislative branch which specifies: "On all action on bills and resolutions in each committee, names and votes of members shall be recorded. Such vote shall be available for public inspection."

The same new section further provides that notice of all committee hearings and "a clear statement of all subjects to be considered at each hearing" must be published in the journal in advance of the hearing.

The proposed new document also opens to the public by constitutional mandate formal sessions of governing boards of state-supported colleges and universities. Until recent years, the public was not admitted to sessions of these governing boards.

Now the public and representatives of news media attend only by invitation. The new constitution, if approved by the voters, would recognize the right of the public to be present at such meetings.

In the area of local government, a new section in the proposed constitution requires that local units empowered to prepare budgets of estimated expenditures and revenues can not adopt them until after a public hearing. This restriction would apply to counties, townships, cities, villages and school districts.

The new constitution would preserve traditional guarantees of liberty of speech and press in these words from Section 5 of the Declaration of Rights: "Every person may freely speak, write, express and publish his views on all subjects, being responsible for the abuse of such right."

Take It Easy

Cold Weather Makes Heart Work Harder

When icy blasts and sub-freezing temperatures may put an extra strain on your heart, use discretion about overexertion, Dr. Charles P. Anderson, Detroit Health Commissioner, advises.

In cold weather your heart pumps harder to circulate the blood, and keep you warm. Snow drifts, icy winds and slippery streets call for self-restraint in outdoor exercise which includes walking. This is particularly true of persons middle aged and older and those who do not ordinarily exercise much. Pushing your car or your neighbor's out of snowdrifts is not a task for a middle-aged man of sedentary habits.

Activity you carry on outdoors in cold weather requires faster heart action and takes more effort. Clothing is bulkier and harder to carry around and galoshes and rubbers add to the weight you carry with each step. Cold weather makes it harder to catch your breath when you walk. Holding yourself tense against slipping on the ice adds extra strain and all of these make your heart beat faster.

If you are breathless, it indicates that you have done more than you should, so don't wait until you are out of breath. If you are shoveling snow or doing other work out of doors, stop and rest before you are over-tired or breathless. After sufficient rest, go back and finish the job.

Dr. Anderson says if you have the slightest suspicion that you have heart trouble, see your doctor and be sure that you reap the benefit of the great advances in recent medical knowledge. Many a person who would have been ordered to bed under treatment prescribed some years ago is now a steady worker regularly employed. He plans wisely with his physician so that the energy he has stored can be used to serve him best.

He says many of the persons who have heart disease can expect to live a long useful life and find genuine satisfaction in it. The key to this is for him to keep his activity in line with what he is able to do. Many of the sudden deaths from coronary heart disease which were thought to have occurred without warning actually have not. Often early warning signals were disregarded. A life might have been saved if he had consulted a physician and followed the physician's advice.

A warning signal which should lead a person to see his doctor at once is a shortness of breath followed by a pain in the chest under the breast bone. If this pain comes after overexertion, he should see a physician by all means and at once. Sometimes this symptom is mistaken for an indication of indigestion.

If everyone understood the importance of consulting a doctor when a pain occurs under the breast bone, many lives might be saved. One way to give your heart a chance to examine it, if for any reason you are even slightly concerned about having heart disease.

2. 1962 Graduating Class — Dr. MacLeod presented a supplement to his report given at the last meeting, an elucidation of pupils who seemed to be in achievement quartiles contrary to their rating on mental ability tests.

3. Class Organization — Dr. MacLeod advised the board that the administration is unable to make a recommendation regarding preferred class groupings as yet, because it is still uncertain how many tuition students we will be having from Novi next year.

4. Community College — Dr. MacLeod reported on the most recent meeting of the group which is interested in having this District made a part of the Northwest Wayne County Community college district. Dr. Eric Bradner, President of the College, had been invited to attend this meeting and informed the group that the petition of Northville citizens which has been presented to the college has not yet been acted upon by the college board.

5. Transfer of Funds — Mr. Ellison requested that the board pass a motion authorizing transfer of sufficient funds from the General fund to the Building and Site fund ($688.10) to complete the final payment to the architects for the high school plans. (This authorization was tacitly granted at the meeting of November 26, but without formal motion.) So moved by Dr. Johnson and supported by Mr. Angove. Motion carried.

V. Report of Secretary:

The secretary reported the following moneys received in November: State Aid, $49,966; Primary Fund, $19,891.56; September Lunch reimbursement, $810.77; Delinquent Taxes, $4,867.91.

It was moved by Mr. Lawrence, supported by Mr. Shafer, that the report of the treasurer be accepted. Motion carried.

VII. Report of Special Committees:

1. Athletic — Mr. Kipfer reported that this committee has formulated the following list of areas to be examined:

A. Budget; B. Physical Exams; C. Ticket Policy; D. General Expenses; E. Game Scheduling; F. Equipment Manager; G. Charges for Use of Field; H. Safety Policy; I. Salaries of Coaches; J. Statement of Policy.

At this time the committee is making only two recommendations, with regard to Item A and Item C. Recommended that a budget appropriation of $5,000 be established in the General Fund, for the purchase of athletic equipment. Mr. Kipfer so moved and the motion was supported by Mr. Lawrence and carried. The second recommendation is that the ticket policy be amended to permit teachers and their husbands or wives to attend high school basketball games without charge, at the discretion of the administration. So moved by Mr. Lawrence and supported by Mr. Angove. Motion carried.

A discussion then took place regarding rates for use of the field, which led into a discussion of rental rates for school facilities in general, and Mr. Ellison was instructed to prepare a recommended rate chart for board consideration.

VIII. Report of Auditing Committee:

The Auditing Committee approved bills and payrolls as follows: General Fund bills, $15,575.42; payroll, $9,587.15; Debt Retirement Fund, $151,118.94; Building and Site Fund, $1,084.54; Stadium Revenue Bond Fund, $533.18; Stadium Receiving Fund, $3,022.33. It was moved by Mr. Kipfer, supported by Mr. Becker, that bills and payrolls be paid.

IX. Unfinished Business:

1. Bleachers — Mr. Mitchell and Mr. Zarza of Standard Steel Bleachers reviewed the problems in the construction of our bleachers with the board and will make further investigation with the officials of their company to see what may be done to solve the problems.

X. New Business:

1. Bookstore — Mr. Hensch presented a financial report on the operation of the bookstore for the year, ending June 30, 1962. He suggested also that a bookstore be established in the Junior high school, since it presents somewhat of a problem for the high school bookstore to care for the needs of the Junior high school. Mr. Hensch also indicated that he has put in many hours in the bookstore during the past year. He does not feel that the present pay of $500 per year is sufficient for this amount of effort and respectfully requests an increase. The board agreed and complimented Mr. Hensch on the excellent care he has given the bookstore. With regard to the Junior high bookstore, it was moved by Mr. Angove, supported by Mr. Lawrence, that a bookstore be established in the Junior high school. Motion carried.

2. Child Guidance Clinic — Mr. Spear had attended a meeting of the Northwestern Child Guidance Clinic, which is a formation of 16 school districts for the purpose of providing psychological, psychiatric and social service to children needing this in each of the districts. This is a new thing and in order to get started, the organization would like each participating district to contribute 25 cents for each membership pupil (total school enrollment). From Northville this would mean approximately $500, and it is needed this year, if they are to open in July of 1963. Housing is also needed.

The board discussed this and feels the clinic would be of great value, but would like some further information regarding its operation before appropriating any money.

3. Office Space — The problem of more adequate housing for the administrative offices was discussed briefly, and will be taken up more thoroughly at future meetings.

XI. Adjournment: It was moved by Mr. Lawrence that the meeting be adjourned. Mr. Becker supported the motion and the meeting was adjourned at 11:15 p.m.

CHRISTMAS GREETINGS

FROM THE OFFICIALS AND EMPLOYEES OF
NORTHVILLE DOWNS
JOHN CARLO,
EXECUTIVE MANAGER

OUT OF THE PAST

ONE YEAR AGO
December 21, 1961

Some 42 bills for installation of sidewalks in Northville were cancelled by the city council Monday night after the council learned of seeming confusion about the bills. It ordered the bills tossed out and a complete study and review of costs made before new bills are sent out.

Christmas mail in the area has hit its highest peak ever. Postmasters in both Northville and Novi report increases of seven to 10 per cent above last year's Christmas mailing.

The Wayne county health department is making an epidemiological study of hepatitis outbreaks in the county areas outside Detroit, reports Commissioner Dr. Joseph G. Molner. Thirteen new cases popped up last week, and the record for the year, 332, is more than double the number of cases reported last year.

A bonding resolution for the proposed Willowbrook subdivision number one street paving project received approval of the village council Monday night. The action approves sale of bonds totaling $17,000 to pay for the project, but permission of the finance commission is still needed.

Special fire telephone lines will soon service Wixom. The city council last week authorized installation of the lines for a fire call system to be located in firemen's homes.

FIVE YEARS AGO
December 19, 1957

Northville's city employees were given a Christmas present from the city Monday night: an across-the-board wage raise of 10 cents per hour.

A motion to dismiss court action brought against Northville by Warren Products was filed in circuit court Monday. The move brought a postponement in the case, in which the company is seeking to reverse last November's favorable election to annex 220 acres of Novi township to the city.

As the Ford Motor company marked its final days in the Northville road Waterford plant this week, negotiations were all but completed for sale of the building to an as yet unidentified new owner.

The $13,000,000 Farmington-Brighton expressway was opened to traffic last week, bringing feelings of mixed blessings and potential curses to Novi. While state officials proclaimed that the new superhighway would cut traffic deaths on US-16 in half, many Novi merchants were expressing concern that it might cause the death of their business.

Herbert Koester, expressing conviction that the Novi police department is inefficient poorly-run and probably totally worthless, asked the township board Monday night for an investigation. The board, receiving no definite facts from Koester supporting his claim, refused to order the investigation.

Dicron Traftalian, an accountant for Wayne State university and a member of the Novi incorporation committee, was elected last week to presidency of the Board of Commerce. Other officers include Vice-President Harold Miller, Treasurer Russell Butten, and directors Walter Tuck, Ken Bassett and retiring President Dirk Groenenberg.

FIFTEEN YEARS AGO
December 19, 1947

Northville village commissioners Monday night authorized deputizing of 15 to 20 villagers as plainclothes policemen to patrol village streets at night. The action followed reports of a number of house enterings and prowlers in recent weeks.

When the weights of the many deer registered in the Clark Hardware's largest buck contest, W. E. Forney ended up as winner by nearly 25 pounds. His 214 1/2-pound buck led over second-place J. E. Steele's 188-pounder.

Some 46 youngsters were listed on the honor roll announced by the high school last week. The senior class led in the quantity of quality by providing 16 honor students. The juniors had six class members on the list, and the sophomores and freshmen tied with 12 each.

Planning Christmas? Try these bargains in local stores: beef pot roast for 45 cents a pound and leg of lamb for 53 cents a pound at Wolf's Market; Jane Parker fruit cake, dark, $1.75 for a three-pound size at A & P. Sweaters specially priced at $2 and $3 at Freydl's.

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO
December 24, 1937

Jane Van Alta, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred E. Van Alta, was chosen as Snow Queen for Northville's first ice carnival, to be held January 1 at Ford pond. The carnival is a project of the Northville civic association.

Nelson Schrader was first ambulance driver to arrive at the train wreck Friday afternoon which injured 23 passengers. He responded to the call for ambulances and arrived at the scene, near Peorse road between Beech and Inkster, before anyone else.

The D. and C. store was awarded the Exchange club's silver cup for the best Christmas display window in the downtown area this week. The cup stays in the possession of the store until time of judging at the next Christmas.

School pupils have been turning extra pennies over to their teachers for the past few days to buy small presents for the safety patrol squad.

—Leslie G. Lee directed 70 voices, members of the Northville community chorus, in the annual presentation of Handel's "Messiah" Sunday in the Presbyterian church. The church building was filled to capacity for the fifth-annual presentation.

After a potluck dinner the members played games and exchanged Christmas gifts.

Most Drive Western Routes

Motorists Head for Florida

Well over 400,000 Michigan motorists, including many from this area, will drive to Florida during the coming year, despite the Cuban situation. Automobile Club of Michigan forecast.

Some motorists have already left for the land of sunshine. "We believe that from eight to 10 per cent more Michigan motorists will drive to Florida in 1963 than did this year, when 375,000 of them made the motor trip," said Jerry E. Fisher, Auto Club touring manager.

The bulk of them will utilize the two western-most routes between Michigan and the Sunshine State, said Fisher, because it offers almost complete freedom from mountains.

Route number one on the accompanying map, taking motorists through Nashville, Birmingham and Tallahassee, offers a route that, while a hundred miles longer than two others, is faster, thus bringing driving time to the same 40 hours behind the wheel.

It utilizes 815 miles of four-lane highways and turnpikes, accounting for the ease of driving and high acceptance by drivers.

Florida are up slightly, with good motel rooms in Knoxville, Tennessee, for example, now renting for from $9 to $12, as compared to from $8.04 to $10.26 a year ago.

While speed traps and areas of overzealous enforcement are being eliminated in Kentucky, Georgia and Florida, motorists will do well to observe local speed limits without deviation.

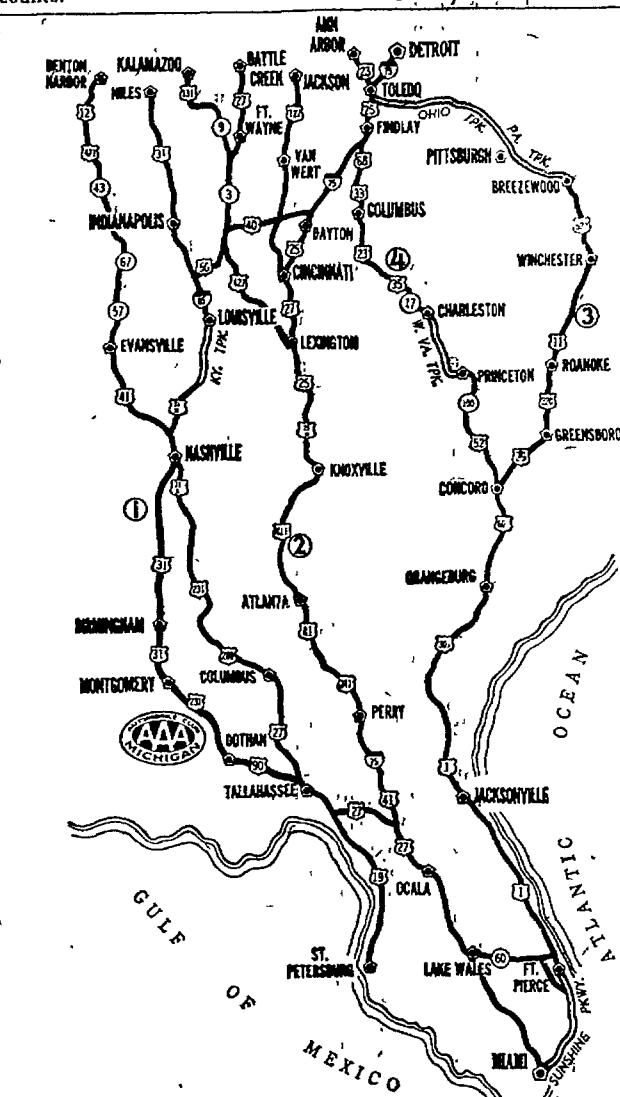

Virginia, North Carolina, Florida and Georgia enforce speed limits strictly, and Florida is particularly vigilant about school zones, where motorists are likely to be ticketed for driving only a mile or two over the 15-mile-per-hour limit.

BIENNIAL SPRING ELECTION

April 2 — 11 a.m. meeting of county board of canvassers.

April 21 — Last date for candidates to file expense accounts.

MORE THAN 400,000 Michigan motorists, a new record number, are expected to motor to Florida in the coming year, Automobile Club of Michigan estimates. The bulk of them will utilize the routes marked "one" and "two" in the above map, because they are fast and comparatively free of mountainous terrain. Late spring and summer travelers will use the other two routes, through the mountains, for variety.

Health Authorities Warn Against 'Silent Killer'

LANSING—The recent "close call" of a Lansing family with the silent killer, carbon monoxide, has prompted State Health Commissioner Dr. Albert E. Heustis to once again issue a warning to Michigan residents to be alert to this danger.

"We are right in the middle of the carbon monoxide season," Dr. Heustis said. "When cold weather is with us, the house is buttoned up tight and the furnace is turned up." Unless the furnace and chimney are in good repair, the chance of a down draft forcing carbon monoxide fumes into the living quarters is a constant threat, he said.

In the Lansing area alone, within the past year, two people have died from carbon monoxide and two other families have been overcome by fumes and narrowly escaped death.

"I can't emphasize too strongly the importance of having the heating system of a home inspected periodically by qualified heating contractors," he said.

Michigan Department of Health engineers warn that excessive moisture in the house and the pungent odor of aldehydes and other combustion products which may produce a burning sensation in the eyes should be reason enough to suspect a malfunctioning heating system and call in someone to investigate. However, carbon monoxide itself is completely odorless.

Whenever there is the slightest doubt, it is best to ask for help from a heating contractor, public utility company, or local heating inspector.

A common misconception concerning carbon monoxide exposures, according to the health department engineers, is that the furnace or smoldering fire in the fireplace "burns" up the oxygen in the house — in effect, suffocating the victims. This is not the case, say the engineers. Whenever people are "overcome" it is invariably the work of carbon monoxide fumes leaking into the house from a defective heating system or chimney down draft.

"Whenever an entire family simultaneously comes down with 'similar symptoms of illness,' this should be sufficient cause to suspect carbon monoxide poisoning and take action to get the family into fresh air," Dr. Heustis said.

He also warned against the practice of using charcoal briquets indoors in the fireplace, as they are "very high" producers of carbon monoxide, and even with a window open can quickly build up a lethal concentration of fumes.

"With the advent of cold weather, we can fully expect a continuing report of carbon monoxide deaths until the day that everyone is made to understand the potential danger of carbon monoxide and be constantly on the alert for it — in the home, riding in the car, vacationing in a cabin or house trailer, or staying overnight in a motel or resort."

Big News Ahead
In Electronics

Babson Park, Mass. — If I were now in high school and had a mechanical "finger" I would learn all I could about electronics.

Electricity in 1894

Mr. Edison had then only just invented his incandescent bulb lamps so common today. There was a "Gloucester Electric Co." which had a dynamo in the rear of a machine shop. It had strung wires to prominent street corners where a carbon lamp hung to light the square. This lamp consisted of two round carbon "rods" which were renewed each morning by the one employee of the little "company."

I then developed a tiny business of installing electric door bells, working only on Saturdays. I used two "wet" batteries, which I located in the cellar of the home. There were no "dry" batteries, or any kind of electrical appliances such as washing machines or electric irons. Radio and TV had not been even dreamed of.

"Wireless" was Unknown

The greatest invention in my youth was Mr. Marconi's sending of a message, or signal, without wires. This we read of in our daily newspaper, "The Gloucester Breeze". In 1892 the electric company, created by Mr. Edison joined with that of Mr. Houston, starting the General Electric company in an old building at Lynn, Massachusetts. This company was then making dynamos and other equipment for the new electric light plants starting all over the United States.

These plants used only direct electric current; alternating current had not been invented for use in transmission. My humpback friend, Charles Steinmetz, was the first to make this useful for transformers. Only then did the Electrical Age, which has since developed so tremendously, grow.

The Electronic Age

If any reader will take a 12" ruler and mark off twelve electromagnetic bands, he will get the secret of Electronics. The first known band at the top will be 2" wide and contain the Cosmic Rays, which are the very shortest; these fill the room in which you are now sitting. The second band will be about an inch wide and comes from the Sunspots. They are tricky and dangerous. The third band consists of X-Rays such as are used in hospitals for taking pictures of your insides. The fourth band is made up of Ultra-Violet Rays. The above bands (except the first) would take about one inch each of the "ruler". Then we would have a band of Visible Light (the main band used in our present great Electrical Age), only one-eighth inch wide. Other bands are useful in the Electronic Age which we are just entering.

Below is a band that represents the Infra-Red Rays, which are used to help those suffering from arthritis and similar pains. Then we come to two more important bands, each about 1/2 inch wide. Following these is the Radar band, which is about 1 1/2 inches wide, although we never heard of radar before World War II. This gives us nine bands using a total of 8 one-eighth inches, of which only one-eighth inch was used before World War II.

Then follow the Television and Radio bands, and a band reaching out into the unknown. Someday more will be discovered and harnessed, with marvelous possibilities in the Electronic Age.

Looking into the Future

Just as radio has brought talking and television brings pictures into your home, the Electronic Age will bring heat, light, taste, smell, and perhaps memory and many other things. Coal, oil, gas, and other natural resources will be used for more valuable purposes instead of being burned up. Tremendous changes are coming. We are as backward as when I was a boy with only electric door bells!

Furthermore, I realize that I have not mentioned the possibilities of atomic power and the wonderful latent wealth in uranium oxide. Nor gravity, being studied at New Boston, N.H. This would give free power to every farmer while the hydrogen of the ocean could give freepower to every city. I hope we will recognize that these gifts come from God Almighty, to whom we should be very thankful.

P.S. A brochure outlining career opportunities in electronics has just been published. Entitled "Electronics — Your Chance to Shape the Future", it is available from Electronic Industries Association, 1721 D Sales Street, N.W., Washington 6, D.C. at 20 cents a copy.

Michigan Mirror

New Bowman Bill Brewing

THE YEAR-LONG battle from Central Michigan puts it: "It's something the people are going to have to face. Either every major city is going to be passing an income tax, and then the smaller cities will follow suit until we are all paying such a levy, or the state is going to do it before the pattern becomes too complicated."

Rep. John T. Bowman, Roseville Democrat, will be a member of the State Senate next year. He promises to re-introduce his bill to prohibit cities from levying an income tax on non-residents who work in the cities.

A citizen movement, sparked by the mayors of suburban Detroit communities, is still gaining strength also in the form of petitions to the Legislature. BOWMAN'S BILL, which was vetoed by Swainson this year, would most likely pass with a good sized margin as it did in the current session. This would put it squarely on Governor-elect George Romney's desk for the same major decision which Swainson faced.

The petitions to be presented to the 1963 Legislature by the Vigilance Tax Committee could seem to be a mandate to pass Bowman's bill. On the other hand, lack of legislative action could make the petitions take on the form of a mandate to put the question of taxing non-residents on the ballot as a referendum. In this way, the people could pass the law without having it go through the Governor's hands.

WHETHER ROMNEY plans to introduce a total fiscal reform program, which presumably would include a statewide income tax, is still unanswered.

Republican strength for such a proposal, as part of a tax revision program, reportedly has gained since the 1962 session unofficially closed its doors.

As one Republican Senator commented somewhere between Brighton and Lansing, marks the completion of the I-96 freeway between Detroit and Muskegon.

This milestone in highway construction also gave the state its third border-to border high speed route.

The first was the I-94, route near the southern state border. Then, just over a month ago the final link of the Ohio-to-Mackinac Bridge freeway was added to the road system.

Now motorists can cut in half the time consumed in driving from Detroit to Muskegon as compared to the travel time of about five years ago.

THE IMPROVED employment picture in Michigan in the last several months brought with it the almost inevitable increase in industrial accidents, according to the Michigan Insurance Information Service. During the past year, through Sept. 30, the total compensable work injuries reported to the State Workmen's Compensation Department was 31,232. This represented an increase of 626 over last year.

Last year, however, when employment was down compared to 1962, the injury rate showed a decrease of 2,513 from the previous 12-month period.

ONE BRIGHT note showed in the Department's annual report, however, in the breakdown of the injuries. The 31,232 total included 183 deaths, 2 permanent total disabilities, and 882 permanent partial disabilities.

This showed fatalities were down from 1961 by 59; total disabilities by 1, and partial disabilities by 57.

Workmen's Compensation officials credit the change in severity of industrial accidents to "intensive concentration upon job safety."

Dr. Mudd Replies

What Causes My Panic?

Dear Dr. Mudd:

My trouble all began about four or five years ago. I was walking along Woodward Avenue when all of a sudden I got a terrible feeling of panic.

Fortunately, at that time I ran into an old friend of mine. He saw how weak I was and helped me get to my car. I started driving home by the expressway and I got so dizzy I just pulled over to the side and stopped. A police car stopped and when they saw how bad off I was they took me to Receiving Hospital.

Of course by that time the panic had gone away and I felt O.K. so they sent me home. Since that time I have had many more of these attacks. I have been put into the hospital several times but none of the tests ever show anything physically wrong with me. Finally my doctor told me that this panic I get was all psychological. Of course I didn't believe him because this feeling I get is so real it just can't be imaginary. In fact, I didn't have much faith in him after that.

That was about a year ago I have been thinking about it. I can't see where my trouble is in my head and I can't see that it has anything to do with my childhood. I can't remember, but I'm sure it was a very good childhood and I was very happy. Everywhere I look I read reading that emotional problems go back to childhood, but I can't see it.

I finally decided that I should look into this thing and give it a chance. Maybe a psychiatrist can tell me what the trouble is, but how can I be sure he can? I'd hate to waste time and money if seeing them isn't going to help me.

A.H.

Dear A.H.:

A psychiatrist can no more guarantee being of help to you than can any other physician. The mere fact that you have now overcome your reluctance just to talk to one hardly represents the kind of attitude which would favor your getting benefit from "seeing a psychiatrist. Just because you are unable to "see" a relationship between your current difficulty and your past life does not mean that such a relationship does not exist or can be ruled out.

Indeed, the very fact that you can recall nothing of your "happy childhood" suggests that insofar as you experienced it, things were far from pleasant for you. To draw the inference that it must have been happy is indeed naive and points up immediately another of the ways which you have developed for avoiding tension and inner uneasiness.

Besides managing to "forget" unhappy circumstances, you generalize and thereby skillfully avoid painful particulars of your experience. Certainly I must agree with you that the connection between childhood experiences and pre-empt day anxiety is far from self-evident. Some people intuitively grasp the fact of such a relationship and in this regard they are fortunate. For if they seek therapy, the path to the establishment of full maturity is made more readily because of their insights.

You, on the other hand, must come to learn how the relationships established during childhood are related to anxiety and symptoms. Of course you must have more willingness to be instructed in these matters than that required just to see the doctor!

Actually, your resistance to the idea of doing anything which might "succeed in being of real help to you is rather great. You have come to a compromise with your symptoms. Discomfort and anxiety have become a kind of way of life for you and I doubt that, as uncomfortable as you may feel, that the suffering you experience is of sufficient intensity to provide the push you seem to require to take definitive steps leading to therapy.

Sincerely
Sander Mudd, M.D.

SPEAKING
for The Record

By BILL SLIGER

Ask almost anyone and he'll say, "I'm going home for the holidays."

Anyone, that is, but a patient at Maybury Sanatorium, Plymouth State Home, or even Northville State Hospital, Our Lady of Providence or the Wayne County Training School.

Many of these youngsters (and adults) are able to return to their homes for the Christmas season. Many more do not.

Some of these have no families — or go unremembered. Except, of course, for the efforts of hospital officials and the help they receive from community groups and individuals. And this is considerable.

At Maybury, for example, the 300 patients (more than 100 are children) cannot go home.

For 16 years Mrs. Elaine Chabut has spearheaded a program that provides gifts and a visit from Santa for all the children. She has a long list of "Santas" who remind her each year that they want one or more names of the young TB patients so that they may send a personal gift.

And on Christmas morning, Santa Claus distributes the gifts to the children personally. Mrs. Chabut and her husband, the late Dr. George Chabut, originated the idea 16 years ago.

Others help make Maybury "like home" at Christmas-time, too. The Northville "high school" choir entertained there Tuesday night. Many groups and individuals contribute gifts. And this year one individual donated Christmas cards with stamped envelopes so that the patients could send cards to their friends.

At Plymouth State Home on Sheldon road few of the 660 mentally retarded patients are able to go home. All but a dozen of these patients are children.

Various organizations from throughout the area work through the hospital auxiliary. Names of "forgotten children" are matched up with donors so that every child receives a personal package. Last Sunday the Farmington Jaycees held a Christmas party for the youngsters. This Sunday the youngsters themselves will present a program for parents and friends.

And on Christmas day, Santa will visit the Plymouth State Home children, too.

About one-third of the 2,100 patients at Northville State Hospital go home for Christmas.

It's a big project planning Christmas for this many — and it starts in October. Each patient is asked to list his choice of gift in the $1.50 to $2.00 range. If relatives do not respond, then the names are given to area organizations and by the second week in December the gift list is filled.

Numerous organizations help patients at Northville State Hospital in many ways. Some adopt "wards" and provide a radio, television, or card tables for that ward. One church group bought thermo socks for elderly patients. This year Others provide money for shoes and a personal shopper then buys for the individual needy patients.

Over 80 individuals and groups help make Christmas merrier for this large number of mental patients, where funds can always be used. The Northville Optimists, for example, are providing funds for skates and ski binders for youngsters at Northville State.

About 75 per cent of the 635 boys and girls at the Wayne County Training School will spend the holidays at home.

The parents' group is most active in providing entertainment and gifts for these youngsters. And school officials plan special projects for the Christmas season.

Last week 150 of the youngsters entertained members of the Northville and Plymouth Rotary clubs at luncheon with a musical program.

The Northfield Kiwanis club invited 35 youngsters to a Christmas party last week. A special donatix fund was used to provide a Christmas party at the school. Then there are dances and movies. This week carolers will visit the school, the youngsters will be taken to nearby towns to see the Christmas lights, and finally, there'll be a tour of the Chevrolet plant in Livonia right after Christmas.

At Our Lady of Providence on Beck road 120 mentally retarded girls between the ages of six and 18 were entertained at a Christmas party sponsored by a group from Our Lady of Victory church in Northville. Most of these youngsters go home for Christmas. Northville Optimists provided gifts for the few who must remain at the school.

The helping hand of the community can be seen at each of Northville's hospitals and schools for the ill or less fortunate.

And it wins high praise from institution administrators who know that a little thing like a gift from Santa can sometimes work greater miracles than medicine in the heart of a youngster.
