The Scout-Recreation Building fund drive came almost within sight of its goal Tuesday when Joseph Bujak (left), superintendent of the Ford Valve Plant, presented a check for $1,000 to A. R. Clarke, treasurer of the committee. The goal is $12,000. Total receipts now stand at $11,400. Chairman John Canterbury was hopeful the campaign could "go over the top" by next week, when a complete list of the latest contributions will be published. Bujak made the $1,000 presentation on behalf of the Ford Fund. It matched the previous high single contribution made by Haller, Inc.

Novi Sets April 1 For Millage Vote

Novi's board of education voted last week to ask school district voters to renew 2 1/2 mills of operating property tax millage in a special election April 1.

The board, meeting in special session January 23, also selected O'Dell, Hewlett and Luckenbach Associates of Birmingham as architects for the village's secondary school building program.

On April 1, the school board will be asking Novi school district voters to return the two-and-a-half mills of operating and-a-half mills of operating monies which expired December 31, 1962. Dollarwise, this reduces property tax adds $30,000 to the operating costs of Novi schools each year.

The board considered at the special session the possibility of asking voters for three and a half mills at the April 1 election, a property tax increase of the mill Board members had tentatively thought that such an increase could be used to retire some part of the school system's accumulated deficit, now amounting to $40,000.

However, the board — after looking back to strong voter disapproval of millage increases in both 1961 and 1962 — decided against asking for extra taxes this year to reduce the deficit.

Novi school electors last July did approve by more than two to one a proposal to increase property tax millage by four and a half mills. The proposition, which was carried 472-200, cost taxpayers only an additional two mills because of the school board's plan to reduce the special debt retire ment tax levy by two and one half mills.

But the two previous special millage propositions saw no asking voters for three and a half mills at the April 1 election, a property tax increase of the mill Board members had tentatively thought that such

School board members noted at the special session that there is a possibility the secondary school bond issue request might also appear on the April 1 ballots.

This will depend, however, on how rapidly the new architects are able to complete plans for the first stage of the new secondary school and offer estimates.

O'Dell, Hewlett and Luckenbach Associates of Birmingham were chosen as architects for the secondary school building program to replace Anicka Associates who withdrew from the job last week.

The Birmingham architects have built schools in East Detroit, Highland Park, Oak Park, Rochester, Royal Oak, Southfield and Southgate. They are presently working on buildings in Detroit, Mount Clemens and Pontiac.

O'Dell, Hewlett and Luckenbach will be designing both stages of the Novi secondary school building program, planned in its entirety to serve 700 students.

The first stage of the program will be to construct a building for 350 seventh, eighth and ninth grade students on the southwest corner of Taft and Eleven Mile roads. In addition to classroom facilities, this building will contain a gymnasium, library and cafeteria — which will eventually be used for all Novi's secondary students. This first building will also have partial facilities for homemaking, shop, music and science classes.

The second stage of the program is the construction of classroom facilities for the upper grades plus completion of the partial facilities begun in the first stage.

The Novi board of education is striving to meet a September, 1964, deadline for completion of the first stage. At that time, Novi ninth graders will no longer be able to use the Northville high school as they are now.

If possible, the board would like to put the secondary school building bond issue on the special ballot April 1 so as to get construction underway immediately and meet the 1964 deadline.

But even if the bond issue does not appear on the April 1 ballot, it will still be a double election for most Novi residents. Some villagers, after stopping at Novi school for the special school district election, will also be going on to Township hall for the township's general election.

Since it is against state law to schedule a special election either 30 days before or after a general election, the Novi board of education chose to hold its special election the same day as the township's election.

Board Supports Guidance Clinic For Schools

Northville's board of education voted Monday night to give probationary support to a proposed northwest Wayne county child guidance clinic.

The board decided to help underwrite the proposed clinic by giving them 25 cents this July for each pupil living in the Northville school district — $450 plus — if by then, the clinic appears to be "a growing concern."

And, if clinic directors agree with the philosophy of a guidance clinic set down by the board of education.

The Northville Board said last night it would expect from a clinic such things as:

—Diagnostic appraisal of children who are considered by the school (or parents through the school) to have emotional disturbances seriously affecting the child's expected role and capacities in the classroom;

—Regular treatment of the child's emotional problems and their causes as needed and determined by the clinical evaluation;

—Reasonable length of time accessibility of the clinic for diagnostic appraisals of children referred.

—Provision by the clinic for "emergency" acceptance of children ("Emergency" to be judged by the school in this instance.)

Almost simultaneously, the proposed child guidance clinic last night received the support of Dearborn and Romulus township. Dearborn would contribute approximately $6,000 on the basis of 25 cents per enrolled pupil in 1962 — and Romulus township would give $1,500.

The clinic's board of directors — who hope to draw the $34,000 needed for starting a clinic from the 19 school districts in the northwest county area — was turned down by two school boards last week. Refusing were the boards of Garden City and Livonia. Livonia officials, however, noted that they might reverse their decision at a later date.

Mrs. Crispin Hammond of Northville, president of the clinic's board of directors, estimated that 900 pupils would be referred to the clinic if it were in existence now. She noted that at the present time emotionally-disturbed children must travel from the farthest corners of the county to the Children's Center of Wayne county in downtown Detroit for aid.

Mrs. Hammond explained that the proposed clinic would serve as many as 200 to 250 of the emotionally-disturbed children in the 16-community area which comprises the northwest part of the county.

Other communities which would be served by the clinic and are being asked to support the clinic include Belleville, Canton township, Dearborn township, Inkster, Nankin township, Northville township, Plymouth, Plymouth township, Redford township, Van Buren township and Wayne.

The proposed clinic would start out as a branch of the Children's Center in Detroit, but would eventually be self-supporting. Currently, the Children's Center draws its support from the state and county with some help from the United Foundation.

Sponsors for the proposed child guidance clinic have asked the state for $29,000. These funds, if obtained, would be used for hiring professional staff as would most of the money obtained from school boards, according to Mrs. Hammond.

It is expected, she said, that the clinic will be located in the Garden City-Inkster area. Superintendent Russell Amerman said that since the school system's part-time psychologist left last year, there has been no formal program in the schools for helping the emotionally disturbed.

Ol' Man Winter Pays Coldest Visit

So stuttered the plumber-serviceman brigade as they set out last week to "rescue" equally-chilled Northville - Novi area citizens.

Bound by subzero weather, area citizens found themselves faced with anything from door locks coated by ice to stalled autos, dead batteries, frozen water pipes and frozen water meters.

As the mercury zoomed below zero—reaching 20-below in one spot last Thursday—Northville and Novi auto servicemen took to the roads to rescue stranded motorists.

In one day alone, 12 of the area's service stations reported a grand total of 720 SOS signals. That same day, Thursday, saw area plumbers receiving anywhere from 30 to 50 distress signals apiece.

The cold — and stalled buses — closed down Northville's elementary school Friday. Secondary school students were already on holiday because of mid-semester break.

Area street cleaning corps found themselves going to the salt and sand barrels far more frequently last week than a year ago.

In Northville alone, 160 tons of salt and 100 tons of sand have been used so far this year to keep the city's 17 1/2 miles of streets clear. It's estimated by city officials that anywhere from 25 to 30 percent more salt and sand is being spread this January over last January.

Bits of humor, however, lightened the hardships brought on by last week's cold snap. For instance, Mrs. Grace Miller, of 321 Yerkes, is perhaps the only Northville resident who's ever had her own private interior icicle.

Mrs. Miller, who says she's a firm believer in turning down the heat at night, evidently also left her bathtub faucet dripping one night last week. When she walked into her bathroom the next morn, she found that the combination of freezing temperatures outside and dripping water inside had allowed a huge icicle to form on the bottom of her bathtub faucet.

Perhaps the most "unusual" area incident which can be attributed to the cold is the freezing and breaking open of water meters, reported by Northville City Manager Bruce Potthoff.

Because water meters are ordinarily located indoors, they are far less likely to freeze and burst than are water pipes, the city manager explained. He said that last week's frozen meters were probably caused Service stations answered hundreds of calls, battery-chargers had a work-out. That's Bob Gillick on the job at West Seven station.

Even the Ford Valve Plant water wheel was too cold to turn. It's wearing a coat of icicles.

Only the kids really enjoyed the cold and snow — like these three "Mikes" (Behr, Brown and Breen) and Ann Kipter (top to bottom).

Cold Can't Stop Mothers

CASH COLLECTORS — Ready to turn in their collections from the Mothers March Tuesday night are (l. to r. standing) Mrs. Harold Schmidt and Mrs. Gerald Dresselhouse. The collectors and counters (seated l. to r.) are Mrs. C. A. Hoffman and Mrs. John Angell. Cold weather didn't disturb the well-bundled volunteers, some 100 strong. Mothers March Chairman Mrs. Irvin Marburger reported total Tuesday contributions of $1,354.75. That should stand as a record when mailed contributions are added to top the previous high of $1,400, she noted. William Bingley is general chairman for the month-long March of Dimes drive. He hopes that total contributions will approach $2,000.

It's Swim Call Wednesday

Next Wednesday evening pool.

planners of the proposed Northville Swim Club hope to convince some 300 area families that it would be mighty nice to take a relaxing dip in a heated pool. Latest plans call for a pool 82 1/2 feet long, 42 feet wide, plus an additional 42 x 42 foot diving bay giving the pool an "L" shape.

In addition a 62 x 32 bi-level bath house-club house and wading pool for the small fry are planned.

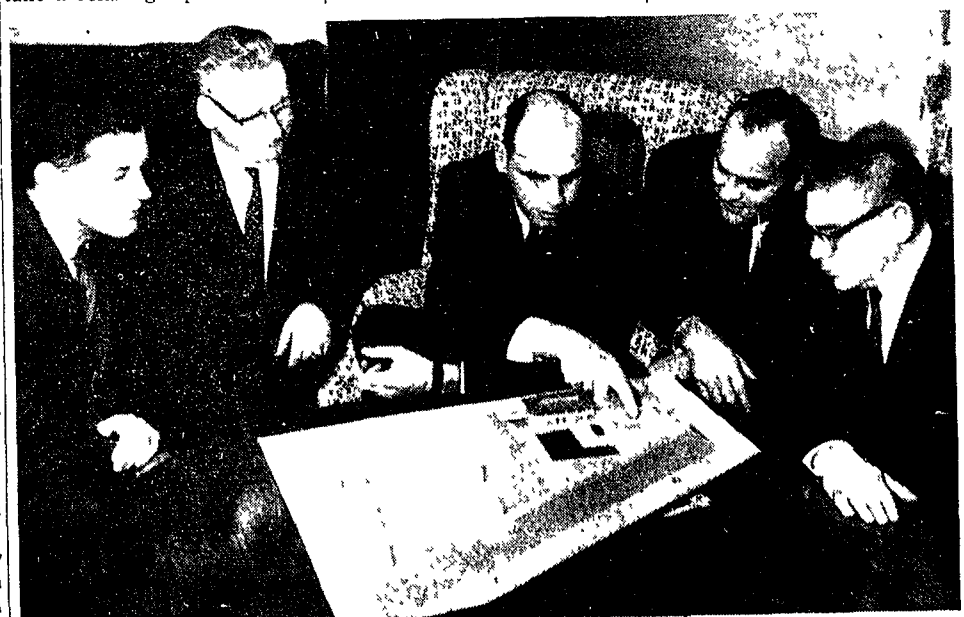

Altogether it's estimated that the facility will cost $100,000 — with plans calling for tennis and shuffle board courts in the future.

The idea was started by a handful of local residents who believe it is more economical to join forces and build a pool. The pool will be constructed behind the Northville high school on property next to the city's water tower.

At Wednesday's 8 p.m. meeting at the community building a committee will explain all details of the plan to the public. The architect will be on hand along with a model of the proposed facility.

Membership forms will be handy, of course. A March 1 deadline has been set for charter memberships after which fees will be increased.

Committee members point out the project will not be started until adequate funds have been collected through memberships. July 1 is the target date for opening.

Invite Moms To Lectures

Members of the Northville Cooperative pre-school play group, as well as the public, are invited to attend an orientation workshop for new and experienced mothers February 9 at Wayne State university state hall.

Mrs. Robert Green, president of the Northville play group, said the morning session will run from 10 a.m. to noon and will feature a workshop for new mothers. Other lecture topics, she said, will be developing a self-image, discipline and music for pre-schoolers.

The afternoon session from 1:30 to 3 p.m. will include lectures and discussions on developing healthy personalities, reading readiness and field trips for pre-schoolers, according to Mrs. Green. Also featured will be a "problem" clinic or workshop where nursery officials and parents may bring their problems.

Main Street P-TA

The Main street P-TA will discuss the elementary testing program at a meeting February 7 at 8 p.m. in the community building.

Harry Smith, principal of Main street elementary, will lead the discussion about the testing program, including the Iowa standard achievement test.

Service pins will also be awarded to the school's teachers at the meeting.

A new job for the man in the house brought the James H. Whites from their Canton, Ohio home to 41071 McMahn, Novi. However, White's new job — that of method analyst at the Ford Motor company in Livonia — won't be changing one of the family's favorite spare time activities — doing "a good bit of church work."

Mr. and Mrs. White, along with their six-year-old son David, soon hope to be involved with extra work at the North Farmington Baptist church.

The other member of the White family probably won't be joining in this activity. For James, the eldest son, will be going back Monday to McKendree college in Lebanon, Illinois, where he is a freshman.

The newest "family" member, fondly referred to as Blackie, isn't interested in much other than running, eating and sleeping because, as Mrs. White explained, he's "mostly cocker spaniel."

The Whites, both natives of Cumberland, Maryland, and graduates of Allegheny high school in Cumberland, are also fond of boating, swimming and photography.

The couple lived in Washington, D.C. for 10 years where White attended Columbia Institute of Technology. White's work then took the family to Fairmont, West Virginia, for a year and then on to Canton for eight years.

Try This Cookie in 'Kitchen Diary'

A tasty cookie easy enough for "a just-turning-11-lass" to make — that's the favorite recipe of Mrs. John Gibbons of 41980 E. Seven Mile.

Mrs. Gibbons, mother of three, says her "no-bake" candy cookies "delight" her children, perhaps all the more so because they can make them.

It's not unusual for Anna May Gibbons who's just turning 11 to mix up a batch after school. Meanwhile, Mrs. Gibbons says, the two boys — John, 9, and Michael, 7, "help by licking spoons."

Here, then, is a recipe for a Gibbons' cookie special plus an equally delicious way to make cream cheese cake — Gibbons style.

CANDY COOKIES

2 cups sugar
1/4 pound margarine
1/2 cup milk
3 Tbsp. cocoa
Boil mixture for one minute,

remove from heat and add:
1/2 cup peanut butter
1 tsp. vanilla
3 cups quick mothers oats
Mix, drop on waxed paper with teaspoon and let set for 10 minutes. Store in a covered dish for freshness.

CREAM CHEESE CAKE

Crust:
8 double graham crackers
1/4 pound butter or margarine
2 Tbsp. sugar
Mix, put in 8 inch round pan. 2 hours before serving

Filling:
2 eggs, well beaten
2 Tbsp. sugar
1 large Philadelphia cream cheese, softened
Dash of lemon, if desired.

Mix well, beat until fluffy. Pour into pan, bake 20 to 30 minutes in 350 degree oven. Cool. Top the cake with 1/2 pint sour cream and 2 tsp. sugar; then bake for 5 more minutes. Cool cake in refrigerator

DEADLINE TUESDAY NOON

1—Card of Thanks

Mrs. Marion Sumner wishes to extend a thank you to her relatives, friends and neighbors for cards, flowers and gifts during my stay at Annapolis hospital.

There aren't words in the dictionary to fully express our thanks to our neighbors and friends for working so hard to save what we could during our recent fire. A special thanks to Donald Coe for making arrangements for my live stock. I also wish to thank all of the firemen of the Brighton, Milford and Lyon Township Fire Departments and also the men from Huron-Clinton Metropolitan Authority Park at Kensington and General Motors for their help and equipment.

Mr. & Mrs. Howard Musolf and Son
H5cx

We wish to express our deep appreciation for the many deeds of kindness shown to us during the illness and death of William Daniel Martin. A special note of gratitude to Rev. Norman Riedesel and to members of Lodge No. 319 F. & A.M.

— Out of the Past —

ONE YEAR AGO

February 1, 1962

—Thirty-eight Northville property owners will be receiving notices of sidewalk installation assessments soon — and the bills should make them smile. At least they'll be happier over the totals than they were last December. Monday night the city council approved a revised method for billing the installation. It reduces the total assessment against property owners from $7,943 to $5,838.

—Despite temperatures that hovered around zero, Northville's "marching mothers" set a new record for collections topping last year's total by $200. Mothers' March chairman Mrs. H. Lorne Dyer reported that the 120 city and township solicitors collected $1,376.

—The city council made a determined move to get at the "root" of its sewer cleaning troubles Monday night by approving purchase of a mechanical sewer rodder. The apparatus, providing some 1200 feet of continuous cleaning rod driven by a 12 horse-power motor, cost $4,900.

—Don't be surprised if you hear an unusually loud shriek piercing the normal tranquility that prevails in Northville. You'll know then that the city's new combination fire and civil defense siren has arrived. Purchase of the $4,000 warning siren was approved last year by the council and should be installed within a month.

—Proposed rezoning of Cornemara Hills, Salow's Walnut Hills and Munro subdivisions brought mild objections at Monday night's Novi village planning board meeting. Objections came from residents of Munro subdivision, located on the southeast corner of Taft and Eleven Mile roads. They questioned the board's plan to hold a public hearing next month on the rezoning of Munro from its present agricultural district to a suburban residential district.

—Herbert Koester of 42780 West Eight Mile road Monday became the first candidate to file nominating petitions for one of the three village council seats that will be open in the March 12 election.

FIVE YEARS AGO

January 30, 1957

—So you think horse racing pays. What about a track that earns $983 during an entire season? That is what the annual state rating commission report shows as the earnings of Northville Downs during 1956. It was a comedown of about 90 percent from 1955 when the Downs led all other harness tracks with earnings of $103,044. But before harness enthusiasts start putting up stakes and looking for a more profitable business, they should check a footnote on the report. It explains that the Downs charged off $196,078 for depreciation. That paints quite a different picture. In fact, it means 1956 was a pretty good year for the Downs after all.

—Damages totaling "several thousand dollars" resulted from an early morning fire at the Casterline Funeral Home

Wednesday. Firemen fought the flames at 122 West Dunlap for nearly four hours. According to fire Chief William McGee, a faulty transformer on the building's neon sign caused the 4 p.m. blaze.

—Children of Northville are getting new homework. School superintendent Russell Amerman said today, "Our students will be collecting used clothing for ragged little boys and girls after school every day next week — Monday through Friday. This is our contribution to Save the Child on Federation's bundle drive."

—The city of Northville entered into a contract last Thursday evening with the D. & R. Building company to assure water and sewer services for a proposed 200-home subdivision. According to R. P. Benecke, partner in the building company, the guarantee of services by the city will pave the way to construction of homes this spring. He estimated that 40 homes will be built this year. However, until the Oakland county circuit court hands down its decision, the site of the subdivision lies in a virtual "no man's land." The area is located north of Baseline and west of Novi road. It was annexed by the city of Northville from Novi township last June, but has been tied up in a legal argument since.

—Novi road is no longer a speedway. Police Chief Lee Beagle warned motorists this week that the treacherous road is now posted at 40 mph from Northville to Walled Lake except for a 30 mph stretch near Grand River. "Drivers who go faster than that are not only breaking the law," he said, "but they're taking a chance of being bounced into a ditch."

—The Wixom charter commission has decided in favor of a justice of the peace rather than a municipal court if Wixom becomes a city. The commission also has agreed to pay the justice a regular salary without regard to the amount of fees collected. This was done to avoid controversies similar to those in other communities in which a justice's pay depends on how much he collects in fees.

FIFTEEN YEARS AGO

January 30, 1948

—A defective chimney caused the fire at the Detroit House of Correction last Friday morning, completely destroying the institution's creamery, a farm building containing refrigeration and pasteurizing equipment. Only the wall remained. Damages are estimated at between $5,000 and $10,000.

—An overflow crowd heard Ernest P. Davis, safety and traffic director for the state of Michigan, compliment the work of the Northville safety patrol at the safety patrol banquet Thursday.

—At a regular meeting of Post 4012 VFW, the members voted to buy some property on W. Seven Mile road, Northville, to be developed and used for a recreational and social center for the post and auxiliary.

—Nearly 1200 people visited the second annual Northville community hobby show at the high school this week. Among displays were pictures of Northville's yesterdays, flower arrangements, cups and saucers, hand carved horses, metal and pottery and soap animals.

—Dolly Porritt of Northville was installed worthy advisor of the Rainbow for Girls' assembly No. 29 at a public installation of officers at the Masonic Temple Tuesday.

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

February 4, 1938

—As against the 1936 births in Northville, which totaled 60, the village, during 1937, was the birthplace of 88 babies, 53 of them with villagers for parents. A decrease was noted during 1937 in the number of deaths recorded here. Sixty persons died in Northville, 15 of whom were tuberculosis victims at the Eastlawn sanatorium.

—Through the cooperation of Abram V. Barber, station agent, technical information about the 15 new freight engines which are speeding over the Pere Marquette lines these days can be given.

—A E. Fuller's much traveled chickens have come home to Northville to roost again with something to crow over. His fine string of Dark Cornish fowls made January a banner month by taking honors at the National Poultry show in Madison Square Garden and then making a clean sweep of prizes at the big Round Up show in Bay City January 25-27.

—The former Lapham State Savings Bank and the Northville State Savings Bank applied this week to the Reconstruction Finance Corporation for a loan for the purpose of closing out unliquidated assets. To date, 60 percent has been paid to the former depositors of these two old banks and John A. Boyce, president of the Depositors State Bank, says that all depositors will receive due note when everything is in shape for distribution.

—Harry S. German of Carleton rounded up oldtimers of the diamond from Redford Farmington, Northville, Wayne Dearborn and Carleton last Saturday night for the Detroit oldtimers banquet in the American Legion hall, Detroit. German had a sign made to center the table he reserved for his group. It read: "Country Rubes, Hayseeds and Alfalfa Chewers, Please Park Here."

To See Fitness Film

"Today's Need for Physical Fitness" will be the topic of a Wixom P-TA meeting Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. in the Wixom elementary school.

A film about physical fitness will be shown at the meeting which is open to all Wixom parents and their children.

Following the film, several fourth and fifth grade students will give a physical demonstration under the direction of Miss Harriet Piltz, physical education teacher.

State Senator Dzendzel Proposes Weight Bill

Raymond D. Dzendzel, Northville state senator from the 18th district, is introducing a proposal to the state senate designed "to protect purchasers against inaccurate weights in pre-packaged meats."

Senator Dzendzel (D) explained that the retailers' attempts today to serve as many customers as quickly as possible — plus increasingly keen competition for the housewives' food dollar — has led some retailers and packers to "unscrupulous and illegal" practices.

He noted that the state department of agriculture checked 12,571 meat counter scales in one single year and found that approximately 10 percent were inaccurate.

Senator Dzendzel said that his bill, if passed, would make it mandatory that a scale be placed in a convenient place for customers at the meat, fish and poultry counter of retail stores.

"In this way, the customer may have the opportunity, if he so desires, to read the weight of his purchases," Senator Dzendzel said.

Senator Dzendzel also introduced a bill to provide for the dating of packages of meat or meat products.

The bill reads: "When any meat or meat product is packaged before it is offered for sale and is offered for sale to the public at a retail in such package, the package shall show the date when it was prepared. Packages made of glass or metal shall be excepted from the provision of this section. Any violation of this section is a misdemeanor."

Cagers Get Revenge At Clarkston, 58-43

An improved Northville five overcame a game Clarkston team in a return match at Clarkston 58 to 43 to even its W-O conference record at 4-4.

The Mustangs were never headed as control of the backboards, a tight zone defense and superior shooting carried them into an early lead which they maintained and eventually lengthened. Clarkston pulled even with Northville at 10-11 for the last time late in the first period.

Craig Bell, the Mustangs' hard driving guard, topped the Northville scoring with 22 points, 12 of those coming on free throws. He was backed up by Tom Swiss and Jim Juday who garnered 14 and 11 points, respectively.

Accuracy at the free throw line contributed to the Mustangs' wide margin. They sank 24 of 38 shots for a 63 percent average to 11 of 18 shots by Clarkston.

But, in the final analysis, the

Oil Kings Climb Fast

OIL KING LEADER — Guy Brandt, 26, the player-coach of the Ely Oil Kings, is a former Northville resident and student, now living in Plymouth. He packs 205 pounds into a 6' 1" frame, an imposing defenseman to all opposing forwards skating in on goal. He is the father of two children and a five-year U.S. Army veteran.

The Ely Oil Kings, Northville's representative in the Garden City Senior Hockey league, seem bent on reversing last season's dismal finish in the cellar.

With a 7-1 record, they now stand atop of the league, which is comprised of Northville, Belleville, Garden City, Ypsilanti, Beltemp and Plymouth.

In their latest outing last Sunday evening, the Oil Kings skated by the Ypsilanti pucksters in a hard fought contest, 3-2. The game was marked by rugged play and numerous penalties.

Dick Willis, high-scoring forward, cashed in on two goals, the last and decisive goal coming with two minutes remaining in the game. Defenseman Bill Bethke, scored the other goal on a hard shot from the blue line.

Dick Nowland was outstanding in the net for the Oil Kings, making 18 saves in a sparkling display of goal tending.

The team, which is sponsored by C. R. Ely and Sons of Northville, will encounter Garden City tonight and Plymouth on Sunday. Both games will begin at 9 p.m.

Coach Alex Klukach expressed his disappointment. "We made too many mistakes. And we practiced against the zone all last week."

The play of Jim Lufis was the only warm spot of the evening. He moved well out of the high post, passing, driving for the bucket or grabbing a rebound off the boards, Klukach noted.

Tim Krug with 13 points and Lufis with 10 led the Colt scorers.

The Colts were close on the heels of Clarkston, trailing by 15 to 10 at the quarter. They denied the Clarkston zone defense on occasion, moving inside to score a few "garbage" baskets. Bob Callaghan and Krug kept the Colts in contention by scoring eight of the 10 points.

The second quarter turned into a debacle, and ultimately, led to the Colts defeat. The Clarkston JV's pressed Colt passes went awry and they lost their scoring range outside of the free throw circle Clarkston, capitalizing on the Colt miscues, burst into a 34-17 half-time lead.

Both teams had difficulty with the zone defense in the third quarter. The Colts kept pace with Clarkston to end the quarter at 42-26.

Cager of the Week

MIKE LANG, as a senior transfer student from Mequon, Wisconsin, is a welcome and vital member of the Mustang team. Using his 6' 3", 205 pounds to his advantage under the backboards, Mike gives the Mustangs much needed height at center. Mike is a solid tack'le on the football team, lettering in that sport. He is the vice president of the senior class. In the future, he wishes to attend Albion or the University of Michigan, and eventually he hopes to enter the law school.

Board Studies Teacher Salary Credit Program

New teachers coming into the Northville public school system will not receive salary credit for a half year's teaching experience elsewhere, it was decided at a Northville Board of Education meeting Monday night.

Board members postponed until next meeting discussion of whether teachers already within the school system will receive credit for a half year's experience in the school system's new salary step schedule.

Board members voted to allow Northville teachers credit towards salary increases for undergraduate courses approved by the superintendent up to 16 semester hours beyond the A.B. or the M.A.

The board also heard recommendations from the Northville chapter of the M.E.A. for changes in the proposed self-improvement salary schedule. These recommendations were referred to the salary committee. The recommendations of the local teachers' club were presented to the board by Miss Ada Fritz.

In other business, the board turned down an application by a group of Dearborn men to rent the high school athletic field and hold semi-professional football games there.

The board also accepted the formal resignation of James Barnett, a sixth grade teacher in the Main street elementary school.

USS Fort Snelling — Lynwood L. Mitchell, seaman, USN son of Mr. and Mrs. Malvin Mitchell of 50286 West Seven Mile road is serving aboard the dock landing ship USS Fort Snelling, which is engaged in a two-month amphibious exercise in the Caribbean.

The exercise, dubbed Phublex 1-63, involves five ships with more than 3,600 Navy men and Marines embarked. The purpose of the exercise is to train the men in amphibious strike force tactics.

The ships departed Norfolk, Virginia, on January 7 and are scheduled to return in March.

In Justice Court

John L. Newport of 1977 Elmhurst, Plymouth, pleaded guilty to a count of reckless driving in Northville justice court Monday. He was fined $50 and paid $10 court costs for speeding at the corner of West Main and West Cady streets on January 18.

Dwight H. Grayson of 18909 Ridge Road, Northville, pleaded guilty to disobeying a red light on January 19. He was found guilty, but the fine was suspended and he was assessed $5 costs.

Peter Glover of 42784 Cherry Hill road, Plymouth, was found guilty of having no vehicle registration on his person on January 16. Judge Charles McDonald found him guilty, but fine and costs were suspended.

John F. Haag of 8117 Kentfield of Detroit, was found guilty of leaving a vehicle unattended on January 14. He was fined $5 and costs were suspended.

Hear FBI Chief

The Northville Optimists will hold their regular monthly business meeting Wednesday at 6:45 p.m. at Saratoga Farms.

At yesterday's meeting, they heard a taped speech of J. Edgar Hoover about the problems of youth and law enforcement.

NEWSPAPER WINNERS — Three representatives of the top four weekly newspapers in Michigan were presented with proof copies of silver plaques to be awarded them for winning the state-wide newspaper contest at East Lansing Saturday. They are (l. to r.): Clinton Grainger, publisher of the Frankenthuth News, Division C (2,000 to 4,000); Jack W. Hoffman, managing editor of the South Lyon Herald, Division B (1,276 to 2,000); and Jim Fox, publisher of the Millington Herald, Division A (up to 1,275). Missing from the picture is Paul Neal Averill, publisher of the Birmingham Eccentric, Division D (4,001 and over).

South Lyon Herald Wins Highest State Award

The South Lyon Herald was judged the best weekly newspaper of its circulation class in Michigan at the 95th annual meeting of the Michigan Press Association in East Lansing last week end.

In winning the coveted award, The Herald was presented with an engraved silver General Excellence plaque at the annual All-Michigan dinner Saturday night. On hand to accept the award was William C. Sliger, publisher, and Jack W. Hoffman, managing editor.

The Northville Record, also published by Sliger, was honored in two different categories in its circulation class — for the column "Speaking for the Record" and use of pictures. In addition to the General Excellence award, The Herald also was awarded recognition in five individual fields of newspapering.

Feature stories — third place in competition with newspapers of all circulation classes.

Advertising — second place in competition with newspapers of its own circulation class.

Typography — second place in competition with newspapers of its own circulation class.

Photography — third place in competition with newspapers of its circulation class.

News coverage — honorable mention in competition with newspapers of its circulation class.

In its division "B" class — circulation 1,276 to 2,000 — The Herald walked away with the greatest number of awards.

The individual awards were made Friday at a luncheon meeting which featured the world renowned cartoonist, Al Capp, creator of the Li'l Abner comic strip, as the keynote speaker.

Other speakers at the convention, the largest of its kind in the history of the Michigan Press Association, included Governor George Romney, Pierre Salinger, press secretary to President John F. Kennedy, and Kenneth McFarland, the nation's foremost public speaker.

Close to 700 daily and weekly newspaper editors and their wives attended the three-day convention held in Kellogg Center. Besides outstanding speakers, the convention featured a number of newspaper workshops and the annual MPA membership meeting.

John Batdorff of the Traverse City Record Eagle was elected president, and Arthur Gallagher of the Ann Arbor News, vice-president. John W. Fitzgerald of the Pontiac Press, and Frank Angelo of the Detroit Free Press were elected directors.

Judges for the newspaper contest were W. Sprague Holden, head of journalism at Wayne State university; Edmund G. Arnold, associate professor of journalism at Syracuse university and consultant for Mergenthaler Linotype company; Gilbert O. Maikenrecht, head of journalism at Central Michigan university; William P. Day, news editor of the Toledo Blade; Wesley H. Mauer, head of journalism at the University of Michigan; Charles Haun, picture editor of the Detroit Free Press; and Frank Senger, head of journalism at Michigan State university.

Among the judges comments relative to The Herald were these:

Features — "good to high quality. Engagingly written, they drew the reader immediately to the subjects and, in four of the pieces, sustained interest by the quality of writing up to the very end. One supplemented text especially well with an attractive layout of interesting pictures. While all reflected considerable enterprise, one, a biographical piece, showed evidence also of extensive background research."

Advertising — "ads are well done, though production is not quite as high as quality; typography is more than adequate; some ads show freshness and interest."

Photography — "The Herald covers the news, uses feature pictures well."

News — "The Almont Times-Herald, The South Lyon Herald and the Blissfield Advance also contained news coverage that is above the average."

Strange as it seems, "holidays" are not vacation days, but mean hard work for the pipeliners. The Natural Gas pipelines, a huge network of strong, seamless, steel tubes covering thousands of miles underground, assures dependable Natural Gas service. Still a thorough check and inspection must continually be made to guard against corrosion. When breaks or flaws are found to exist through inspection by trained men and electronic equipment, they are called "holidays". In Outstate Michigan, Consumers Power Company has over 7,000 miles of Natural Gas pipeline to keep under constant surveillance. Continual inspection and immediate communication to emergency crews by these trouble shooters keep this call, "Holiday", to a minimum.

Survey Shows Where Pupils Live

Approximately 50 per cent of the 1,842 students enrolled in Northville public schools live within the city limits, while about 28 per cent live west of the city, reports Assistant Superintendent Kenneth MacLeod.

These figures resulted from a survey of the geographical distribution of Northville school pupils requested at last October's joint meeting of the school board, city council and township board.

MacLeod reported his findings at the last school board session and said additional copies have been forwarded to the city and township planning commissions as well as the Novi village planning board.

Of the remaining 32 per cent residing outside the city, seven per cent are from the south, seven per cent come from the north and eight per cent live east of the city.

THE LARGEST number of students from subdivisions within the city come from the Village Green, MacLeod said. Located on the northeast corner of the city, Village Green sends 99 students to public schools.

Running second in subdivision enrollment is Northville

Heights, located west of North Center street, which sends 87 students to public schools, the report shows.

Northville Estates subdivision, located north of Eight Mile road on the city's western boundary, has 59 public school children, while Brookland Farms subdivision in Novi has 36 and Connemara hills has 33.

Largest single area is the portion of the city south of Randolph street, which houses 373 students. The area of the city north of Randolph, excluding subdivisions, sends 293 students to public schools.

MacLeod explained that he used Randolph street as a north-south dividing line between the Amerman and Main street elementary schools.

The Northville township area west of Beck road has 296 students, MacLeod said, while the area between the city limits and Beck road has 224.

The areas south, east and north of the city send 57, 166 and 54 students, respectively, to Northville public schools.

Of the 186 students attending non-public schools in Northville, 108 came from the city and 78 live in areas surrounding the city, MacLeod reported.

He said 44 of the city's parochial school students come from the non-subdivision areas south of Randolph street and 26 live in the areas north of Randolph.

NORTHVILLE Estates takes the lead in non-public school enrollment with 18 students, he added, while the Village Green has 13 and Northville Heights has 7.

The area between the city's western boundary and Beck road sends 31 students to parochial schools in Northville, while the area west of Beck has 21. Some 16 students live east of the city, and four live north.

Of the 684 youngsters in the Northville school district's pre-school population, 84 live in Village Green and 84 live west of Beck road, MacLeod said. Some 141 pre-schoolers live in the city south of Randolph, while 93 live in non-subdivision areas north of Randolph.

The area east of the city boasts 48 pre-school children; while Northville Estates, Northville Heights, Connemara Hills and Brookland Farms have 30, 33, 16, and 12, respectively.

MacLeod said his public school enrollment figures are probably more up-to-date than those for the parochial schools. He explained that the public school figures were taken from current enrollment cards during Christmas vacation, while the parochial school information came from September enrollment reports.

The pre-school figures would probably be the least accurate, he concluded, because they are from the school census that was conducted last May.

THE BIBLE SPEAKS TO YOU

CKLW 800 KC Sunday 9:45 a.m. "NOW IS THE DAY OF SALVATION"

from the PASTOR'S STUDY

Rev. Lloyd Brasure
First Presbyterian Church

In many Churches throughout the land, the last Sunday in January is observed as Youth Sunday, the ensuing week as Youth Week, and the first Sunday in February as Interdenominational Youth Sunday. Many constructive programs are planned with youth participating, leading in panels, presentations, and in many instances, leading in the services of worship before the adult congregations. This has proven to be of great importance and significant value.

I would like to believe that there is tremendous transfer value in the Christian faith from one generation and century to the next. It is always the hope of those who work with youth in educational and religious groups that in the learning process there can and should be two important ingredients, namely, respect for the truth and for each other, and cooperation between teachers and learners. This will come slowly at times for humans aren't always as humble as they ought to be in relation to one another.
However, these factors are very vital to a community and a nation.

Youth and adults have a great heritage of truth and experience to add meaning and purpose to the life of this community in which we live. Northville has much to gain when all of us practice the two above mentioned qualities of leadership and scholarship. We must examine ourselves often on the basis of our total respect for the truth and wisdom that God has revealed to us. As Christians we do accept a revealed religion. Also, we come together with a purpose to work together with mutual trust and confidence in each other.
This past week, I was part of a tour through the Phoenix Project of atomic research in Ann Arbor. My impressions were deep and convincing. Here are people who have come into the arena of knowledge with minds equipped to study in great detail the functions of a universe of power and of order. They have great respect for truth. Without cooperation in these advanced fields of knowledge, there could be no constructive results. But they have made many discoveries and they work together to produce healing and health in the applications of this tremendous break-thru of man's mind in the things that pertain to the Creator and His creation.

We must do as well as we apply our strength of body, mind and spirit to the seemingly routine but highly important phases of community life, in home, school, church and every place we walk.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES
LANSING, MICHIGAN

REPORT
from LANSING

By PAUL CHANDLER

STATE REPRESENTATIVE, 21st District

Lansing — Today's Report is in the form of a letter which has been dispatched to the City of Detroit, the local city commissions and councils hereabouts, and to Governor Romney's office.

The letter tells its own story. As your State Representative, I would welcome any letters or petitions from voters or from local governing bodies who believe the complaint on telephone rates is valid. Citizen signatures would greatly strengthen the argument in days to come.

Mr. Robert Reese, Corporation Counsel, City of Detroit, Detroit 26, Michigan

Dear Sir:

On January 22, 1963 I attended a conference in the Public Service Commission offices in Lansing at which the subject was telephone rates now being charged in the Detroit metropolitan area.

This conference was held at the request of myself and a group of Livonia home-owners led by Mr. and Mrs. George Shirley of 37552 Howell, Livonia.

We were appearing originally to plead for rate relief for a group of Livonia residents who have been assigned the "Greenview" exchange. They reside in the western portion of Livonia and are lumped in the same GL exchange which services Plymouth.

This results in some Livonia phone users paying toll rates for calls to Detroit which are four times greater than the rates paid for the same calls from the Garfield exchange, which serves another part of Livonia and which lies eastward of an arbitrary line drawn, north-south, in western Livonia.

The rate structure provides a fierce inequity among neighbors and is discriminatory. It not only affects those living in western Livonia, but also those living in Plymouth, Northville, Belleville, and other points.

And, in reverse, it affects all calls made from the City of Detroit to these points.

A phone user in the Glenview or Fieldbrook exchange who makes two calls daily to Detroit, over a year would pay $800 in toll charges, in addition to the fixed monthly charge for phone service. But a user in the Garfield exchange, right next door, would pay only $90 for these same two phone calls per day. The differential is too great to be regarded as anything except discriminatory, in my opinion.

A secondary point is that some Livonia residents must pay a toll charge for calls within their own community, whereas other Livonia residents do not have to pay this toll. From GL phones, there is an extra charge to all calls placed to Greenleaf phones, of which there are many in northern Livonia. This results in such things as Livonia residents having to pay tolls to call their public library, their church, the residence of their Mayor, etc.

As a result of the research, it also develops that the metropolitan area as a whole is charged at a higher rate than smaller communities in Michigan. Statewide, for example, an individual residential phone in the Detroit area has a base rate of $6.60. In another Michigan community of 10,000 population the rate for the same service is only $3.95.

There is a serious doubt whether a case can be justified for a telephone costing more in a metropolitan home than it does in a home in outstate Michigan. (In California, the rates before the Public Service Commission.

It would seem that this might be a good time for someone to come forth for a rate examination on behalf of the people of Detroit, the people of Livonia, Belleville, Plymouth and Northville, and the whole metropolitan area.

I for one would urge you to join the case with Mr. and Mrs. Shirley. They are average householders with neither personal funds nor time to handle the legal aspects of the appeal to the Public Service Commission.

Yours very truly,
Paul M. Chandler,
State Representative
21st District, Wayne County

Announcement was made this week by James F. O'Neil of Livonia that he will seek Republican nomination to the State Board of Education. O'Neil is well known to area residents as the GOP's candidate for U.S. Congress from the 17th district. He was defeated by Congresswoman Martha Griffiths. O'Neil is a trustee of the Northwest Wayne County Community college.

SPEAKING for The Record

by Bill Sliger

Gather a roster of speakers like Al Capp, Pierre Salinger, Governor Romney and Kenneth McFarland and you've created a formula for attracting newspaper people.

That's exactly what happened at the 95th annual convention of the Michigan Press Association last week end at Kellogg Center in East Lansing.

Representatives of MPA's 268 weekly members and the 54 daily members took over the MSU campus hotel — lock, stock and sofa bed. It was the biggest turn-out ever.

Capp, of course, is the creator of the hero of Dogpatch, "Li'l Abner"; Salinger is JFK's highly regarded press secretary; and McFarland carries the title as "America's number one public speaker."

Pretty fast company — even for a bright young man who saved an automobile company by introducing the compact and later defied modern history by winning election to the governorship of Michigan on the Republican ticket.

Governor Romney's ability as a public speaker was unknown to me until last Saturday noon. His address caused my admiration for this man to climb to new heights. To me, Romney's address was the high point of the convention.

George Romney was burning with a message for the people. His convictions, sincerity and knowledge of the subject matter were so real they penetrated the air. His appeal fairly burst out for help.

He wants the people of Michigan to vote "YES" for adoption of the new constitution.

Romney is completely devoted to this task. He's like Billy Graham on a crusade. At the conclusion of his speech Saturday I was ready to run out and grab the first voter I could find and tell him how important his vote on the proposed constitution is to the state of Michigan.

The governor emphasized the importance of fully informing the public on the new constitution so that they may decide on the basis of all the facts.

He called the April 1 vote "the most important citizenship decision that most of us will make in our lifetime."

Romney bitterly attacked opponents who would have us "vote no if you don't know" — a decision that would be far worse than not voting at all, if you don't know.

The governor pointed to four lines of attack being followed by opponents of the proposed constitution: 1. Ignorance and misunderstanding; 2. Half-truths and distortion; 3. Prejudice and special interest; and 4. Excessive partisanship.

To me, the most fearful of these is the last. It is serious enough for a person to vote "no" because he is uninformed, prejudice or fighting for his own private interest rather than what is best for the majority; but when he votes against his own conviction to conform with directives of party hierarchy, he sacrifices precious freedoms.

Sadly, excessive partisanship in modern American politics is evident in both major parties.

I agree with Governor Romney that the delegates to the constitutional convention wrote the best document possible under the existing conditions. It is not the best document possible for the Republican party or for the Democratic party — but it is the best constitution possible for Michigan.

The governor talked about obstructionism — of a type that's difficult to detect.

We all recognize obstructionism as demonstrated by Southern Democrats and conservative Republicans.

But what about those who would oppose the possible on the basis that they want something they believe to be better, when they know full well it is impossible to attain?

This, too, is obstructionism of a far more refined degree.

It was the governor's conclusion that the real issue of the proposed constitution was apportionment. Other arguments may be advanced, but they are merely camouflage.

He pointed out that the new apportionment section is completely legal today — and would give the state one of the most representative legislatures in the country, plus vastly improving the static Senate system.

But as a clincher, it must surely be realized that when the United States Supreme Court sets forth its decision on apportionment, Michigan must comply regardless of the dictates of its own constitution.

In a state where harmony at high-government levels is so desperately needed it is a tragedy that a new governor must take on as his first assignment a fight with his administrative board and many (but not all) of the leaders of the opposing party.

It could kill hopes for harmony before the first note is sung.

But to lose the battle for the constitution would be far too high a price to pay for harmony.

Therefore, George Romney announced Saturday noon to the press that "my coat is off . . . my sleeves are rolled up . . . the campaign is on."

Roger Babson Federal Payroll Supports Stocks

Babson Park, January 31 — First, we must remember that the margin requirement has been reduced from 70% to 50%. This enables those with only a few dollars to speculate. These office workers, etc., buy a few shares today and sell tomorrow.

Holders of older dividend-paying stocks do not want to sell. The Dow-Jones Average is largely made up of the older dividend-paying shares. They are mostly in the safe deposit boxes of their owners who do not want to be bothered with going to get them. Hence, during 1962, the demand for these Dow-Jones stocks exceeded the supply, insofar as the market was concerned.

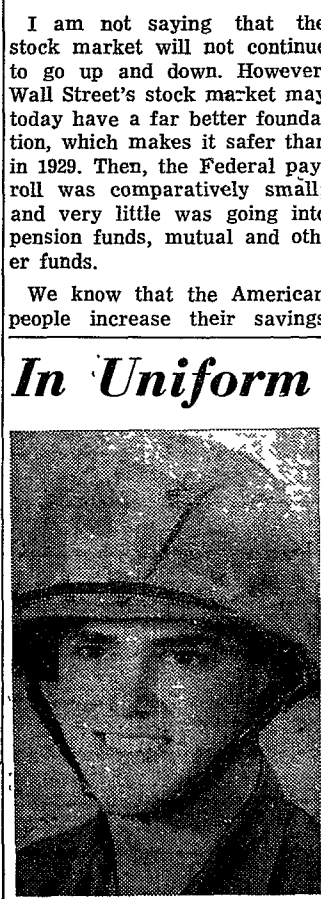

There are currently 2,500,000 civilian employees on the federal payroll, whom, I estimate, received $15 billion during 1962. This is included in the total $300-billion salary and wage portion of the personal income figure. Also, during the year, their savings accounts were being increased and their debts were being decreased.

The above figures are for civilians in the government employ. Along with these should be considered the 2½ million men in uniform throughout the world, — over 1 million in the army, 666,000 in the navy, 884,000 in the air force, and 191,000 marines. It is estimated that the pay received by them is spent and saved largely by nearly a million U.S. families.

I estimate that these families receive $11 billion annually. All the above means that the Kennedy Administration pays about $40 billion per year direct to U.S. voters. If to this amount we add the wages paid by the contractors engaged in defense contracts, we reach a conservative figure of $50 billion in cash which is paid out in Washington annually to U.S. people.

I am not saying that the stock market will not continue to go up and down. However, Wall Street's stock market may today have a far better foundation, which makes it safer than in 1929. Then, the Federal payroll was comparatively small; and very little was going into pension funds, mutual and other funds.

We know that the American people increase their savings

Editors Try State's Farm Products

The constant search to improve farm products goes on throughout Michigan day in and day out and new and better food continues to reach the consumer's table.

Each year one dinner at Michigan State University brings to a group of citizens the latest improvements in agricultural fare. This is the annual "All Michigan" dinner served at the conclusion of the Michigan Press Association convention in late January.

In past years editors and publishers from throughout the state have been treated to a new apple juice concentrate, potato flakes before they were placed on the public market, a jellied cherry sauce, pre-cooked Michigan navy beans, and a turkey roll.

This year's innovation competes with the Idaho baking potato, called the Arenac, topped the menu at the dinner, at which all food served is made in Michigan.

Another first being marked this year is the introduction of cherry nuggets, dried red tart cherries. It is a well-known fact that Michigan has produced more than half of the total national cherry crop for several years.

The menu for the annual event, now in its 22nd year, also brought forth a first for the cherries. It is a well-known fact MPA dinner. In addition to the lengthy description of the benefits of Michigan agriculture being served, this year's menu was printed on paper made in the state.

Also unusual, although not quite a first at this year's annual gathering of newsmen, was a tossed salad containing Michigan greenhouse tomatoes and two kinds of greenhouse lettuce. A January harvest of greenhouse tomatoes is a success only recently recorded in the annals of Michigan agriculture, but state officials said the first serving of the choice crop took place at an earlier event this year.

Rounding out the menu at the unusual event previewing farm products was prime ribs of beef, apple juice, crackers, asparagus, cherry pie, radishes, pickles, celery, cottage cheese, and other dairy products, all of which bear "Michigan made" label.

The wide diversity of the state's farm crops, which last year brought Michigan farmers a whopping $750,000,000, gets a wide array of attention and a hearty welcome at the annual session of editors and publishers.

Litter, eyesore at Michigan beaches, parks, and roadsides, may be the object of a continued attack under Michigan's new governor.

Former Gov. John B. Swainson last year appointed a committee, which appropriately called itself the Keep Michigan Beautiful Committee, to suggest ways to cut down on the litter problems in the state.

One of Swainson's recommendations was that the efforts of the committee be continued. He called the initial work of the group, which was headed by State Police Commissioner Joseph A. Childs, "one of the most satisfying and necessary efforts of citizen action for the public welfare during my administration."

Gov. George Romney indicated the Keep Michigan Beautiful Committee will be one of those formed under his predecessor which will be kept in use during the new administration.

"I am studying the work of all the former governor's committees and commissions and will soon make a decision on whether to retain them or whether their purpose has been accomplished," Romney said.

He indicated the anti-litter group still had work to be done and that he thought it important enough work to continue it as a group.

Something new under the sun seems to be the theme of the people who plan the annual Michigan Week, the period set aside each year for state residents to brag about themselves to each other and outsiders.

This year, the annual event will add a new award for statewide competition. In addition to the "Product of the Year" award initiated with the Michigan Week observance, and the "Achievement of the Year" citation which was added last year, a presentation will be made for the "Agricultural Contribution of the Year."

As is the case with the product and achievement awards, the agricultural contribution citation will be designed for presentation to an industrial concern, community, civic or service group. It will be based on the firm's or group's contribution to agricultural improvement in the state.

The three awards, in addition to the "Frontier Awards" given to outstanding individuals, present top competition throughout the state.

Milton Kendrick, Detroit who is heading the awards committee of the Michigan Week business and products promotion board, said the eliminations at the county level would be completed by late March.

Early in April regional eliminations will be held in the 16 various geographic sections of the state. By May 1, the final winners will be selected and their products or records of the victorious efforts will be placed on display in Detroit during the May 19-25 observance.

New Constitution Makes Four Offices Appointive

Editor's Note: This is another in a series about the proposed new Michigan constitution. Additional articles will appear in subsequent weeks.

Four presently elective state administrative offices would become appointive positions if the proposed new Michigan constitution is approved by the voters at the April 1, 1963, election.

Four other principal state officers would remain elective. They are: governor, lieutenant governor, attorney general and secretary of state.

Those offices which would become appointive are: state treasurer, auditor general, superintendent of public instruction and state highway commissioner.

The treasurer would be named by the governor and the auditor general by the state legislature. The state school chief would be chosen by an enlarged eight-member state board of education. The highway commissioner's appointment would be the responsibility of a new four-man bipartisan state highway commission.

This equal division between appointive and elective state officials was adopted by the Constitutional Convention after sessions and floor debate. It represents a compromise between those who favored popular election of only one or two officials — the governor and lieutenant governor — and those who were of the opinion that all state administrative officials should continue to be elective officers.

In their testimony before committees, former governors of Michigan of both political faiths appeared to favor a system which would provide fewer elected state administrative officials. It was their contention that this would result in a stronger, more effective and better coordinated executive department of state government.

The auditor general would be named by majority vote of the legislature. The constitution requires that he be a certified public accountant licensed to practice in the state and that he be appointed for a term of eight years. He would be ineligible for appointment or election to any other paid public office in the state while serving as auditor general and for two years thereafter.

In changing the method of selection of the auditor general, the proposed constitution able to the legislative rather than to the executive branch of state government. The convention viewed his principal function as one of seeing to it that legislative appropriations are spent in the manner intended by the legislature.

The superintendent of public instruction would continue to be the principal executive officer of the state department of education, but would be appointed by and have his term of office fixed by the new state board of education. The board's eight members would be elected by popular vote for overlapping eight-year terms.

The new constitution proposes that the state board of education be the unifying and coordinating force for education within the state and receive information from all of the various levels of public education. Such information would be considered by the board in determining advice to local school boards, governing boards of colleges and universities and the legislature as to the total needs of education in the state.

In recommending the change in the elective status of the state highway commissioner, the Constitutional Convention recognized that Michigan is the only one of the 50 U.S. states
