

Still Hunt Novi 'Sniper'; Bloomfield Case Solved

With one Oakland county "sniper" in custody, police are continuing to comb the area in search of the "other sniper" who shot at a Novi housewife last Wednesday night.

The Novi sniping incident, involving Mrs. Gerald Race of 28000 Dixon, occurred just five days after Mrs. Mary Godfrey was killed in her Bloomfield township home.

Now, Mrs. Godfrey's slayer has been apprehended. Late Tuesday, 15-year-old Douglas Godfrey confessed that he had deliberately shot and killed his 38-year-old mother.

The boy also confessed that he had planned his mother's death for about two weeks, shooting at lighted windows in neighborhood homes to "establish the reputation for a sniper being around."

The boy explained that he killed his mother January 25 to "get even" because she was always "bawling me out."

Novi Police Chief Lee BeGole said he never thought that the same person was involved in both the Bloomfield township and Novi sniping cases, but that this was a theory which "could not be discounted."

Thus, the search for the Novi sniper continues.

Chief BeGole said his officers have confiscated several .22 caliber rifles from the neighborhood around Mrs. Race's home. The weapons have been sent to the state police crime laboratory in East Lansing, but, so far, none have checked out as being the weapon used in the Novi sniping incident.

Chief BeGole has issued a warning to area parents to watch youngsters carefully since "a lot of otherwise nor-

Ex-Wixom Mayor Don Brooks, Dies

Donald E. Brooks of 29230 Beck road, Wixom, 51, former Wixom mayor, died suddenly Monday morning.

Mr. Brooks, a resident of Wixom for 18 years, served as the city's mayor from 1960 to 1962. He was employed as a pattern maker at Ford Motor company's quality control center.

As president of the Wixom chamber of commerce, Mr. Brooks has been an active booster of the city's current sewer system project. He is a past board of appeals member and served for six months as an appointive member of the city council.

He was a member of the Walled Lake Methodist church, the Civic association and the Walled Lake Kiwanis club.

Born in Battle Creek on March 10, 1911, he was the son of Ella (Sage) Brooks Dean and the late Howard Brooks.

From Red China

'Goal for Life' Leads to Northville

"In engineering, there are no politics."

With these words, the city's only Chinese resident began to trace the series of events which led him out of communist-dominated Shanghai to British Hong Kong to Steventown, Texas, to Northville and "adoption" by the Carl H. Bryans.

"A Chinese boy grows up feeling if he can make engineering, he won't have to use any sneaky ways," explained the speaker — now known as Albert Bryan.

"In China today, a boy thinks then he can use his own knowledge, his own techniques."

This feeling, a love of working with hands and not "wanting bloody things to happen in my family again" — all led Bryan, a junior at the University of Michigan, to choose a career in engineering.

The road to the university was not an easy one for young Bryan, however.

He first set out in 1957 when he obtained a permit from Red Chinese officials to travel from the interior of China to visit his aunt in Hong Kong.

Bryan said that because his father was a general in Chiang Kai-shek's nationalist army, he would have had no chance to go to college as long as he stayed in the interior.

"Thus, he explained, 'my mother and I waited until I could get a pass to visit outside of Red China. When I got to Hong Kong, I forgot everything. I sent back my pass with a note, saying — I'm not coming back.'"

How a meeting was then arranged with the Carl H. Bryans of 728 W. Main, Northville, is a strange story.

The Bryans, world travelers, had gone to Hong Kong in 1957 where Mrs. Bryan had some clothing made by a city tailor. Depressed by the crowded conditions in the city and the

Township Considers 7-Mile Road Sewer

A study — financed by private funds — to consider costs of installing a sanitary sewer line along Seven Mile road from Marilyn road to Northville road has been approved by the Northville township water and sewer commission.

The engineering study and cost estimate is to be undertaken immediately by Mosher Associates, the township's consulting engineers.

It is scheduled to be completed before February 28 at a cost not to exceed $1,400.

Money for the study has been supplied by Dr. Waldeman E. Gizynski and the Cadillac Asphalt Paving Company.

An attorney representing Dr. Gizynski has presented plans to the township planning commission for construction of a convalescent facility directly across from Northville State Hospital on Seven Mile near Marilyn. The estimated $300,000 to $400,000 project would also include a development of homes.

The project would require sanitary sewer service, however.

Sheldon Hayes, owner of Cadillac Asphalt, also expressed interest in sewer facilities for eventual development of a 90-acre parcel further west on Seven Mile road. He agreed to share the cost of the proposed study. Both parties have deposited checks for $700 with the township.

Although it is too early to determine definite costs, it has been estimated that the proposed sewer project would cost approximately $75,000.

It has been pointed out that such projects have been privately financed in many communities with a "pay-back" arrangement in which any property owners wishing to make use of the facility in the future may re-pay the financing parties on a proportionate basis.

This would not exclude payment of tap-in fees to the township for use of the sewer and entrance into the system.

Specifically, the proposed line would extend from Marilyn westward to the Middle Rouge Interceptor at Northville road.

GOP Candidates Meet Public Monday

Republican township candidates will be questioned during a "meet the candidate" program Monday at 8 p.m. in the American Legion Hall.

The program, sponsored by the Greater Northville Republican club, will probably center around the four candidates who are competing for two offices.

Facing competition in the February 18 primary will be R. D. Merriam and Mrs. Harold B. Price, who are both running for the post to be vacated by Supervisor George Clark in April; Daniel R. Brown and Wilson D. Tyler, candidates for trustee. Merriam is presently a trustee on the township board.

Other Republican candidates, unopposed in the primary, who will appear at the public meeting include Alex M. Lawrence, incumbent treasurer; Mrs. Marguerite Northup Young, incumbent clerk; Laurence Masselink, incumbent justice of the peace; Chester Lipa, board of review, and Dick Mitchell, constable.

James Tellam, president of the Republican club, will serve as moderator at the meeting.

Three Democratic candidates face no competition in the primary. They'll oppose the GOP nominees on the April 1 ballot. They are: Arthur O'Leary, supervisor; Mrs. Edna L. White, board of review; and R. J. Gravelle, constable.

City Urges Novi Road Improvement

A strongly-worded resolution to the road commissioners of Wayne and Oakland counties concerning the "dangerous curve and traffic bottleneck" where Novi road joins the Eight Mile road cut-off was adopted by the Northville city council Monday night.

The four-year-old highway system has been the target of complaints by motorists as well as city officials since its completion. The council suggested that road experts from both counties "review its engineering."

The resolution noted that the curve has a high accident rate, the intersection delays traffic, creates difficulty in turns by trucks and directs a high flow of traffic through a single route past schools and through the city.

It was a night for "county complaints". The council also expressed disfavor with the privately-owned land on the roadway curve leading into the city on Randolph. Formerly a county road, it was turned over to the city several years ago. The council didn't like the idea then, pointing out the road is heavily travelled and badly in need of repair.

It is now pointed out that a portion of the road at the curve actually belongs to Richard Smith, owner of a residence at the curve. This land, plus an additional strip to widen and make the curve less dangerous, has been appraised as $800. The city council proposed Monday night that the county should be willing to participate in this purchase.

In other business the council discussed at length a proposal to hire a secretary to take minutes for the planning commission. Planners have indicated the need for someone to take shorthand and prepare minutes.

The job would entail four to five hours per week. Councilmen finally decided it would be proper, so long as the planning commission stays within its budget.

None of the councilmen questioned the need for the secretary, but matters of economy crept into the discussion. Both Mayor A. M. Allen and Councilman John Canterbury opposed hiring another city employee and favored seeking a present employee to do the work.

Canterbury then pointed to "some public criticism" of the number of city employees.

City Manager Bruce Potthoff noted that the city's employment has increased from 19 to 20 since 1958. The police force and DPW department have been reduced by one, while additions in administration, justice court and police clerk have been made, the manager noted.

Councilman Richard Ambler said he thought the city's employment "could be well defended", but added that a per-

Downs Pushes Supreme Court Race Date Fight

Officials of Northville Downs and the Northville Driving Club huddled with Jackson Trotting Association owners Wednesday to determine the advisability of joining in a state supreme court suit seeking an order to switch the Jackson harness race meet to Northville.

The Jackson racing interests filed their petition last week asking the court to order Racing Commissioner Edgar Hayes to set Jackson's 42-night meet in Northville.

Driving Club Attorney Clifford D. Hill noted this week that both the Driving Club (owners of the track facilities in Northville) and Northville Downs (operators of the racing meet) had strong financial interests in the outcome of the race.

He pointed out that extensive improvements have been made at the Downs based on the belief that the fall Jackson meet would be transferred to Northville. He said the Driving Club had joined with the Downs in financing the improvements.

In a stronger statement Hill claims that Commissioner Hayes "assured officers of the Downs and Driving Club that the local track would be issued Jackson dates this year." Hill said Hayes made these assurances last June 1 when he visited Northville.

The supreme court is scheduled to hear arguments in the case next Tuesday before making a decision.

The Jackson petition contends that it has suffered heavy financial losses at the Jackson track — and also points out that Hayes agreed to a transfer to Northville.

Commissioner Hayes denies

Ed Welch Joins City Council Race

Petitions have been taken out for an eighth candidate in the April 1 race for two city council seats.

Newest on the list of candidates is Ed Welch, a former city councilman with a long record of participation in community affairs.

Deadline for filing petitions with the city clerk for the spring election is February 18. Other candidates for the two four-year council terms are William Bingley, Incumbent Councilman John Canterbury, Joseph Denton, Sidney Frid, Peter Gross, Fred Kester and Hiram Pacific.

Ex-Councilman Earl Reed has challenged Incumbent A. M. Allen for the two-year mayor term.

Welch is employed in the building business. In addition to his council service he was a member of the city charter commission, board of review and currently serves on the recreation commission. He also chaired the Beautify Northville campaign during one of the three years the community won top national honors for its accomplishments.

An 18-year resident of Northville, Welch is married and has three daughters.

Funds Top $12,000 Mark In Scout Building Drive

Elated — but hoping that late contributions will bring in additional dollars for campaign expenses and Scout-Recreation building furnishings — the committee to collect $12,000 for completion of the building realized its goal this week.

Chairman John Canterbury reported contributions totaling $12,862.15.

A $500 pledge from the John N. Northup company was the largest received this week and helped push the drive over the top.

Altogether contributions have been received from 254 individuals and business firms.

Latest contributors as reported by A. R. Clarke, treasurer of the committee are:

A Treat with Touch Of Something Extra

A lady who likes to "doctor up" recipes is this week's guest contributor to Kitchen Diary. She's Mrs. E. V. Ellison of 552 West Dunlap.

Mrs. Ellison notes that among her favorite recipes are two handed down from her mother's mother, who — like herself — was baptized Aramin.

These recipes, Mrs. Ellison explains, are best made by "touch and feel," occasionally adding "something extra."

"When I do measure, she said, 'I use one of those big coffee mugs — you know, the kind that makes a little more than a cup.'"

However, she added with a twinkle, I'll try and "do out more exact measurements in my head" for your readers. And here they are:

Schools Aid Needy With 'Bundle Days'

"Bundle Days" are being observed this week in the Amerman and Main Street elementary schools and in the junior high school.

Sponsored by the high school Junior Red Cross, students are collecting old clothing, shoes and bedding which will be sent to Save the Children Federation.

The federation will then pass the articles on to American Indian children and children in isolated rural areas of Kentucky, Tennessee and Virginia as well as overseas.

Northville citizens interested in contributing to "Bundle Days" may take used articles to any of the schools or give them to any student in the schools either today or tomorrow.

Faculty leaders of the Junior Red Cross are Mrs. Jennie Donnelly and John Hyde, both teachers in the junior high school.

... IN OUR SCHOOLS

PRESENTING GIFT — Fourth graders at Amerman elementary school presented the school last week with an oil painting they had earned money to buy while in the third grade. Jody Beerbower, class president last year, gives the painting to Ray Spear, elementary school principal. The youngsters chose the painting while in Mrs. Ernest J. Shave's third grade class. Named "Yellow Pond," the painting was done by artist Margaret Cramer.

To The Voters Of Northville Township

As a longtime resident and public official of Northville township, I wish to express my confidence in two candidates on the Republican ticket who face opposition in the February 18 primary.

They are R. D. Merriam and Daniel R. Brown.

As a candidate for supervisor, Merriam is well qualified to do a good job. His service for 12 years as trustee has proven his ability. And his knowledge of county affairs as a Wayne County Road Commission engineer is invaluable to our township.

Brown brings good business sense to the board and will make an outstanding trustee. He's employed as program supervisor for Western Electric and has come to know our township well in his seven years residency here.

I urge you to vote for these candidates. The primary is important — be sure to vote.

Mustang Comeback Falls Short; Bloomfield Cagers Win, 57-53

Time ran out on the Mustangs Friday night as they dropped a thrilling W-O conference battle 57-53 to Bloomfield Hills on the local court.

Northville high school mentor Dave Longridge summed up when he said, "They came off the floor to almost pull this game out. I'm proud of them. They didn't quit."

For all intents and purposes, Northville was a defeated team at the end of the third quarter. The Mustangs trailed by 18 points, 47-29, with every indication that the Barons would win by an even greater margin.

But in the fourth quarter, the local cagers came alive. They closed the gap to 55-43 in the first six minutes of the quarter. Still there was a 12-point margin to overcome. Some fans even started for the exits.

The Mustangs stole the ball and Tom Swiss scored the first two of six quick points. Mike Lang added another two points. Northville now trailed by 55-51, and the fans were on their feet, shouting.

The last 13 seconds were hectic. "Diminutive Dan" Bishop, the Mustangs' 5'6" guard, was fouled as he drove for the bucket. He missed the free throw. The ball exchanged hands, and again Bishop was fouled. He sank both shots. The score: 55-53.

In a last ditch effort to get the ball, Jim Juday committed

Fumbling Colts Fall, too, 53-44

The junior varsity Colts played hot potato with the basketball in the fourth quarter of the game Friday with the Bloomfield Hills JV's here and lost, 53-44.

Colt Mentor Alex Klukach said, "We just made too many errors and in the fourth quarter our attack fizzled."

Even an avid cheering section could not inspire the Colts to victory.

The Bloomfield Hills JV's, scoring on long arching shots, moved into an 11-7 first quarter lead. Their close man-to-man defense kept the Colts away from the basket. "We didn't shoot enough," commented Coach Klukach.

In the second quarter, the Colts looked like a different team. They completely dominated play as they outscored their opponents 15-7 to assume a 22-17 lead at half time. Lead the attack for the local cagers were John Mach, Kent Kipper and Jim Lufis, who scored four points each.

The pace increased in the third period. Both teams played with gusto, but the Colts lost the advantage after Lufis fouled out with 4:30 to play in the period. At the close of the quarter, the Colts were fading as they trailed 38-37.

Bloomfield Hills, controlling the backboards and picking up many wild passes, outplayed the Colts in the fourth quarter. The frantic Colts fouled to get the ball — to no avail.

High point men for the Colts were Kipper, Tom Wicke and Lufis with nine points apiece.

High Flying Oil Kings Set for Puck Play-offs

The Ely Oil Kings split their last two games to assure at least a second place finish in the Garden City Senior Hockey League.

In a bruising battle last Thursday night, the Oil Kings hung-on to defeat Garden City 4-3.

The rough and tumble game cost the Oil Kings the services of Goalie Joe Snider, who suffered a broken arm. In the first Oil King-Garden City clash three players ended up in the hospital.

At the time of Snider's third period injury the Oil Kings led, 4-1, on two goals by Bob Papp and single counters by Dick Willis and Joe Humphries.

Within the final minute of play, Garden City scored two goals, the last goal coming on a

The man dropping back quickly to cover a fast break is usually Gary Stobbe, the Mustangs' 5' 1", 140-pound trailing guard. In view of his steady court performance, Mustang fans can expect much from this play-making junior guard. He is equally at ease in a track, football or baseball uniform. The son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Stobbe, 46111 Fanner road, Northville, Gary hopes to attend Michigan State university upon graduation.

Wrestlers Can't Pin Down Win

Two Northville high school wrestlers are having their ups and downs in their fourth mat year.

In a January 31 match away, Northville was thrown for a 24-22 loss by Redford Union. Mike Brandenburg, Jim Jiggins and Ron Rebitzke pinned their opponents; Dennis Cook won a decision; and Bill Adams and Jerry Burns fought their opponents to draws.

Earlier the matmen fell to a more experienced Oak Park team 31-17 on January 24 at the local gymnasium.

Mike Brandenburg and Dennis Cook won by forfeit. Bill Adams won a decision. Jim Jiggins and Ron Rebitzke completed the scoring for the Mustangs by holding their opponents to draws.

In two junior varsity matches here, the Colts slammed the Petersburg varsity to the mat 37-11 on January 29, while losing a January 24 match to the Whitmore Lake varsity.

The Colt win over Petersburg was highlighted by the performances of Wayne Ritter and Martin Boatman. Both men pinned their opponents. Other scorers were Brian Smelt, Dick Radcliffe and Bob Fisher, who won by forfeit; and Bob Richardson, Bob Orr and Jerry Burns decided their opponents.

Wayne Ritter, in another sparkling performance, accounted for all his team's points in the loss to Whitmore Lake by pinning his opponent.

Although the Northville matmen have a poor record, there are some interesting facts which tell another story. Mike Brandenburg (95 lbs.), Bill Adams (154 lbs.), Jim Jiggins (133 lbs.) and Ron Rebitzke (133 lbs.) have not lost a match — in their weight class — this year. The defeats these men have suffered have come at the hands of heavier opponents.

Having to match his men against heavier and stronger opponents is the problem that coach Jack Kreiner has faced all season. In short, there is lack of depth.

Several freshmen and sophomores brighten the future however. Among those lauded by Coach Kreiner are Dennis Cook (103 lbs.), Mike Horner (138 lbs.) and Bob Steeper (120 lbs.).

The most important fact is that the team members feel hard work and more experience are the keys to a successful season — win, lose or draw.

Northville high's wrestlers meet Flat Rock on February 14 in a return mat engagement there. Starting time is 7:30 p.m.

Police obtained a confession from Dennis Johnston, 18, 213 W. Main street, an employee of the bowling alley, who in turn, implicated a roommate, John Molands, 21. Police believe Molands is somewhere in Kentucky. Police received a phone call at 10:20 a.m. Thursday from Angelo Gadioli, proprietor of the Northville Lanes. He reported that someone had come through the sky light and then had crashed through the cellox ceiling into the bowling alley. The thief had stolen approximately $650 from the safe and the concession machines, Gadioli said.

Proceeding on the assumption that the thief knew the layout of the alley, police went to Johnston's apartment. There, they noticed cellox fibers on Johnston's jacket. Police took Johnston and another roommate, Robert Larson, 19, to the station for questioning.

Within a few hours, Johnston confessed that he stole the money alone, giving Molands $280. Johnston had $85 in his pocket, police said. Some $338 was found by police at the apartment in the insulation of the refrigerator door.

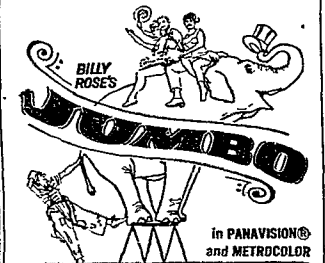

Police said that Larson, although he knew about the robbery, had not participated. They released him.

Johnston later implicated Molands. According to police, Johnston admitted that he pried open the safe with tools taken from the rear of the bowling alley while Molands emptied the concession machines.

Johnston, who was released on $500 bond, will appear for examination February 11 in justice court. He is charged with breaking and entering and investigation officers were Sergeant Andrew Cain and Patrolman Peter Pletsch.

In Justice Court

After a long chase at speeds up to 80 miles an hour Saturday night, Northville police finally apprehended a Wayne man.

Thomas J. Rawlings, 19, was first observed speeding south on Main street. Police chased him down Northville road onto Six Mile road. After running the stop sign at Sheldon road, he was stopped one-half mile west on Six Mile. Rawlings was found guilty of reckless driving and fined $75 and $15 costs.

Police found liquor in the car and questioned Rawlings and a passenger, Charles E. Klocke of 45601 W. Nine Mile road, Novi. Klocke admitted buying liquor for Rawlings. He was fined $15 and paid $5 costs for contributing to the delinquency of a minor.

In another Saturday chase, Thomas E. Robinson, Walled Lake, was apprehended at Seven Mile road and Center street.

Robinson first was fined $5 for making an improper exit on a one way only alley at Hutton and Main streets. He was also fined $25, $5 costs and 2 days for driving while licensed revoked. Robinson posted a $50 bond on a third charge of driving under the influence of liquor. Trial is pending.

The Town and Country Hair Fashions shop, 135 West Main street, has recently been purchased by Reinhold Hammer.

Known professionally as Rene, he is currently operating the beauty salon. Rene is well known locally for his lecture work before area clubs and good-grooming talks at the junior and senior high schools.

A native of Germany, he has worked in Canada and Detroit as a hair stylist. He opened the Town and Country shop with Hugh Day and has now assumed full ownership of the corporation known as Salons Rene.

P-TA Plans Panel Talk

Richard Tunson, officer in charge of the U.S. Navy recruiting office in Northville, will be among panelists answering questions about the Northville high school program at P-TA meeting Wednesday at 8 p.m. in the high school auditorium.

Other panelists will include Al Jones, director of athletics, and Frank Treimund, a junior at Northville high school and a member of the junior achievement program. Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Ely, program chairmen, urge citizens to attend the panel discussion and to mail all questions they may have about the system to Fred Stefanski, high school principal.

Motorist Ticketed In Accident Here

Two cars were involved in a collision on January 28 at the intersection of Rogers and Main streets.

Mrs. Addie B. Anderson of 19510 Clement road, Northville, stated that after stopping at the stop sign on Rogers she turned west onto Main street. She was then struck by a car driven by Sterry F. Mehning of East Lansing, she continued.

Mehning's statement contradicted Mrs. Anderson's. He said he stopped for the stop sign on Main street, then proceeded west on Main when he was struck by Mrs. Anderson's car.

Investigating officer, Sgt. Frank Heintz, ticketed Mehning with driving under the influence of liquor. Mehning, who posted bond, will appear in court on February 11.

School Must Help Guidance Facility

To the Editor:
After reading the article concerning the children's guidance clinic in the January 31, Record, I felt this proposal for meeting the needs of the emotionally disturbed child was being grossly oversimplified.

Certainly the need for a guidance clinic in the Northwest Wayne County area is evident. Existing guidance clinics and other diagnostic and treatment centers are extremely pressed to meet the demands made on them by parents, physicians, and schools. One more guidance clinic will not greatly alleviate the problem; particularly one that according to the proposal will be inadequately staffed and operated on a very limited budget. Communities without the benefit of yearly State support will have difficulty providing the operating funds to maintain an efficient service.

Furthermore, the primary responsibility in identifying and planning for emotionally disturbed children lies with the individual school system. Each school system involved in the proposed clinic plan should have its special service staff including a consulting psychologist or psychiatrist, diagnostician, school social worker and special education teacher. (A large portion of the cost to the school system for these services is reimbursed by the State.) One reason that Livonia and Garden City possibly feel no need to join the guidance clinic plan is that both systems offer rather complete special services. The Livonia system in particular has gone as far as providing special classrooms and highly trained teachers for their emotionally disturbed children. Those children who cannot benefit entirely from the school program and who need additional professional help are referred to a guidance clinic or diagnostic treatment center. (Two nationally known diagnostic treatment centers are available to this area; Children's Psychiatric Hospital in Ann Arbor and Hawthorn Center on Haggerty road. These two centers have facilities and staff not ordinarily found in a guidance clinic and their services cost the school system nothing.)

The proposed guidance clinic will be successful only if the school systems involved provide special services themselves. If every child who presented a problem were referred to the clinic, the caseload would be overwhelming. The guidance clinic would be most successful if the preliminary diagnostic work-up were to be done in the school. Also, the school must have the personnel and facilities to carry through the guidance clinic's recommendations. Guidance clinics do not offer a total treatment program, but diagnostic evaluations and psychotherapy when indicated once or twice a week.

The "reasonable length of time accessibility of the clinic" expected by the Northville board is at present unreasonable since clinics of this type frequently are solidly scheduled for a year or more. The acceptance of "emergency" cases by the clinic is unreasonable also, for the guidance clinic is not equipped to handle the "emergency" cases to whom this term is generally applied.

The purpose of this letter is not to discourage the organizing of a guidance clinic, but to point out some limitations of such a clinic and the need for school personnel and other agencies to work together cooperatively to make it work at maximum efficiency by limiting through careful selection the number of children referred to it. Most important to point out, however, is that merely by having such a clinic does not end the community's responsibility.

John R. Heckerl

Business Taught First Hand Fashion

You won't find La-Bo-Co and Ply-Nor listed on the "big board" of the New York Stock Exchange, but these companies are not without stockholders who watch company fortunes with more than casual interest.

They're just two of the 10 Junior Achievement companies that meet weekly at the JA center in Plymouth.

— And fully half of the 200 participants in the program are from the Northville-Novato area. The youngsters, both boys and girls, are between the ages of 15 and 19.

Specifically, they are learning the business facts of life. Each company is a miniature profit-making unit performing all the corporate functions from organization and capitalization to selling and liquidation.

And each company has its individual sponsor — an area business or industry which provides three representatives of their firm to serve as advisors to the young business people.

Just last week JA celebrated Junior Achievement Week with special observances held both locally — at the Plymouth Center, 680 Dodge street — and in Detroit. Three Northville members, for example, were semi-finalists in the "Mr. Junior Achievement" contest for all of southeastern Michigan.

They are Bill Challis, Frank Freimund and Gordon Hammond.

Freimund, a 17-year-old junior at Northville high school, is typical of the JA members. He's president of the La-Bo-Co company.

Frank learned about JA at an assembly in the high school last fall. Now he spends some six hours a week working at his JA job. The companies meet in two-hour work sessions weekly at the JA center.

La-Bo-Co's product is a lap board (from which the company name is derived).

"The board fits nicely on your lap so you can do paper work in an easy chair," Frank explains in expert sales-man-like manner.

Sponsored by the National Bank of Detroit, the company is chartered, has area investors (no stockholder may purchase more than five shares), and is completely organized with members assigned to purchasing, production and sales positions.

La-Bo-Co is a money-making organization. Its stockholders will realize a profit on their investment.

Ply-Nor is another success story — perhaps the biggest. Sponsored by the Ford Motor company, it has already grossed some $1,700 on the sale of outdoor thermometers selling at a price of $1.98 each.

Junior Achievers learn the art of doing business from beginning to end — from creation of an idea for a product and accumulating capital to production and final sale of the product. They're a combination of labor and management all wrapped up into one.

Consequently, JA promoters point out that the "profits" of Junior Achievement go far beyond financial returns — although each company must succeed financially.

The youngsters also learn to appreciate the complex problems of business and while achieving the personal satisfaction that comes from individual creativity and initiative.

"Notice the smooth finish and the attractive decal," says Randy Jacques (left) of 21551 Napier road, as he demonstrates his sales "pitch" for other members of the La-Bo-Co JA company. From left to right are John Gibson, 44420 West Six Mile road; Ted Jacques, Randy's brother; and Frank Freimund, 164 East Cady street.

Going over the books each week is an essential part of Junior Achievement. Here Treasurer John Andrews (standing) of 51530 West Eight Mile road, explains debits and credits to other members of the Planco JA company, manufacturers of candle holders. Seated (l. to r.) Sally Mallette of 301 South Ely drive, Anita Gale of Eight Mile road, and Norman Balke of 52730 West Eight Mile road.

For people who want to make a budget work

Some tell us they have budget trouble because it's so hard to remember every budget item. Others say it's because they never know how they're doing from month to month.

You'll find that you can overcome these obstacles with our "Money Management Guide & Workbook" — now available at any of our 72 offices for $1.25.

This book tells you how to plan for a budget and how to prepare one—although it allows for the fact that no two people could—or should—manage their money exactly alike. It shows you if you're keeping within your budget—and what to do about it if you're not.

Of course, there are the day-by-day record sheets you find in any budget book. But there are many extras, too: charts that keep track of tax data, insurance and your net worth. Unlike most budget books, it's looseleaf so you can insert new pages.

With the "Money Management Guide & Workbook," instead of asking where your money went, you could be telling it where to go. It's another part of our continuing program to help you with family money management.

Methodists to Hear Guest Minister
Dr. Joseph T. Edwards will be the preacher at morning and evening services Sunday in the Northville Methodist church during its "great day of evangelism" observation.
Dr. Edwards will preach at 8:45 and 11:00 a.m. on "Faith at Work" and at 7:30 p.m. on "The Divine Presence."
Joseph T. Edwards began his ministry in the former southern Methodist church in Kentucky. In 1951, he joined the staff of the national general board of evangelism in Nashville, Tennessee. For a little over five years, he served in the department of evangelistic missions of the general board. Currently, as Michigan director of evangelism for the Methodist church, his work is to give guidance and assistance to the work of evangelism in local churches.
The "great day of evangelism" is a part of the local church's observance of the 225th anniversary of the Aldersgate experience of John Wesley, founder of the denomination.
Wesley described his experience in his Journal by writing "In the evening I went very unwillingly to a society in Aldersgate Street (London), where one was reading Luther's Preface to the Epistle to the Romans. About a quarter before nine, while he was describing the change which God works in the heart through faith in Christ, I felt my heart strangely warmed. I felt I had strange in Christ, Christ alone, for salvation; and an assurance was given me, that He had taken away my sins, even mine, and saved me from the law of sin and death."

LET'S TALK CARS . . .

The Public and The Used Car Market

The pressure of public opinion is like the pressure of the atmosphere — you can't see it but just the same it is sixteen pounds to the square inch.

And what public opinion has been doing to the used car market over the last half dozen years is all to the good. Though there is still the odd "wheel-dealer" trying to work a "patsy" on a second hand car, the great majority of dealers these days are anxious to please the used car buyer with a better product and guarantees.

There are fewer independent used car dealers without service facilities than ever and an increase in new car dealers conscientiously retailing their used cars.

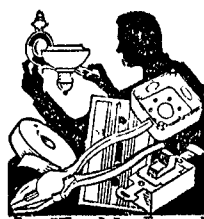

Sales resistance on used cars comes from simple mistrust of promises and guarantees, most dealers find. Over the last few years dealers have been doing their best to dispel the bad effects of the small fringe of unethical used car operators.

One very important reason a dealer must enjoy public confidence is that he has to "turn over" his used car stock in the same market in which he bought it — that is within 30 days. That is because the cars are depreciating along with the dealer's chance of making a profit.

Used car prices are at the lowest of the year right now and we have some fine reconditioned and fully guaranteed used cars on hand for discriminating buyers.

SPEAKING for The Record

by Bill Sliger

There's little doubt that most area residents have heard of the American Legion's familiar "40 and 8" organization.

But what about the "39 and 8"?

Doesn't strike a chord, I'm sure.

We made it up — but it really exists.

It's the number of memberships (individual and business) that have been taken out in the Northville Area Development Corporation.

This small, hardcore group of business places and just-plain-citizens think enough of the future development of Northville to have answered a direct-mail appeal with dollars.

The list of citizens would amaze, and please, the average skeptic (who only hopes for improvement). These volunteer supporters of a program to improve the community come from all walks of life — business, labor, professional and the home.

More surprising to this writer are the missing names — and businesses.

Northville's economic development committee is on the brink of great news. It is not a static group; but its work is slow and one accomplishment comes from a dozen failures.

But those closest to the program know that an improved economic climate in Northville is possible to attain. And I am certain that all working members now believe that at least one major program will soon be ready to announce — and the public will have an opportunity to help.

Meanwhile, this community-wide effort needs the support of every citizen — morally and financially, if possible.

Some of the success of the project to help strengthen our business and industrial base has come already from alert citizens who have "heard" of new business possibilities.

And the committee also has served as an invaluable agency to help existing business and industry solve knotty problems.

It is disturbing, however, that more citizens — and particularly local business firms which stand to gain the most from this effort — have not become full-fledged financial members of the Northville Area Economic Development Corporation.

On the chance that it has slipped your mind — or you were missed the first time around — I'm including an application form at the bottom of this column.

Clip it out now. Enclose your check and join the cooperative effort to improve our community.

Banks Aid Student Loans

MICHIGAN'S HIGHER education Assistance Authority, created by the Legislature but not given any funds to accomplish its purpose, is making great strides.

The Authority now has more than 50 banks participating in a loan guarantee program, whereby the banks back up loans in the amount of 10 times that which the Authority actually has available.

Superintendent of Public Instruction Lynn M. Bartlett said the guaranty plan was growing far more rapidly than was anticipated when it was first attempted.

THE AUTHORITY was created by the Legislature in 1960 for the purpose of helping make it possible for every qualified girl and boy in Michigan to obtain assistance in financing his college education.

Because the Legislature failed to appropriate funds for its operation in both 1960 and the succeeding years, the Authority last fall planned the arrangement with Michigan banks.

Contributions for loans held at the various Michigan colleges and universities are matched by the banks on a 10-to-1 basis by the participating financial institutions.

To date, Bartlett said nearly 60 loans have been granted to students at eight of the Michigan colleges and universities, both public and private, and Michigan students going to four out-of-state institutions have been granted them.

STILL GLOWING over the high praise received for his department's part in the very successful "All Michigan Dinner" during the annual Michigan Press Association convention, State Agriculture Director George S. McIntyre is making plans for another unusual venture.

McIntyre gives much of the credit for the success of the All Michigan Dinner to his administrative assistant, Joe E. Wells, who worked for weeks ahead planning the meal of Michigan products and getting contributions from farm groups and food producers for the "Gift bag" given to each guest.

THIS IS THE second consecutive year for another promotion. McIntyre, who serves as executive committee chairman of the National Association of State Departments of Agriculture, will soon visit Europe and Asia laying plans for farmers' tours.

The Association sponsors tours of countries abroad for farm groups to see how their counterpart in Europe and Asia operate. A Michigan group went last year and initial indications are that farmers from 27 states will go on tours this year, McIntyre said.

His job on the two-week tour abroad is to line up tour arrangements. McIntyre will be working with Les Davis, coordinator of the Goodwill People-to-People program.

The two will consult with ambassadors, agricultural attaches and agricultural officials in Brussels, Moscow, Warsaw, Budapest, Berlin, Paris and London in making the selection of agricultural points of interest to be visited this year.

WHO IS responsible for the widespread recognition of the progress of Michigan's highway system? Some would give the credit to one man alone.

But the man who might draw this credit, Highway Commissioner John C. Mackie, says "teamwork at all levels" has been the key to success of the program.

"Without the understanding and support of local units of government, the Legislature, chambers of commerce, highway associations, news media and the people of Michigan, the success of our road building program would not be possible," he said.

MACKIE NOTES that highway building is a "partnership" between the State Highway Department, city and village commissions, County Boards of Supervisors and County Road Commissions.

"It is because all of these groups, by and large, have been willing to work for better highways for Michigan that we have been able to accomplish what we have in recent years," he said.

Emphasizing the need for continued cooperation, Mackie said, "instead of 'getting Michigan out of the mud' as was the battle-cry in the 1920's the problem now is how to keep the state out of a monstrous traffic jam brought on by its wonderful growth."

Market Trend Reports

Babson Park, Mass. — There are four different "averages" reported in most newspapers and via radio and TV. They are the Dow-Jones, the Associated Press, the Standard & Poor's, and the New York Times. They all tell about the same story; namely, whether the market went up or down during the day, and approximately how much. They are reported shortly after 3:30 p.m. each day except Saturdays, Sundays, and holidays.

THE D-J has three groups: (1) The Industrials totaling 30 stocks; (2) The Railroads, with 20 stocks; (3) The Utilities, with 25 stocks. The public follows the Industrial Group chiefly, as the movement of the other two groups is small and usually follows the direction of the Industrials.

Unfortunately, it seems necessary to add or cut out certain stocks at certain times. Furthermore, stock dividends, stock splits and other changes make adjustments necessary. Also, as these coverages go back, the adjustments show up more. For instance, General Electric is quoted today at about 80; going back 10 years it was also quoted at about 80 (not allowing for stock split). This gives the reader no realization that if he had invested $100 in one share of General Electric stock 30 years ago, this one share would since have become worth about $1800.

NO ONE knows what the stock market will do next week or even tomorrow, but my associates may make an intelligent guess as to the market's movement during the next 30 days. The real fortunes which have been made in the stock market have been made by following the long swings, buying when prices were low and selling when high. These long swings vary in length from 5 to 10 years. One complete cycle sometimes takes 20 years.

When the Dow-Jones Industrial Index was started, it consisted of only 12 stocks. The prices of these 12 were added and the total divided by 12. This was simple, and not distorted. It was a real average; but as I mentioned above, the stock dividends, stock splits, etc. made it advisable to change the system. When I began to write this weekly column, the number of stocks, as I remember, was 20; then in 1928, it was increased to 30 stocks. There also were some changes or substitutes. The market was very active, culminating in the panic and collapse of the market in 1929. This was followed by an almost continuous decline through 1930-1931 and the first half of 1932. Then the market turned upward for 4 years.

Here I might remark that after every violent decline and an upward recovery there usually is a second reaction. The big break which came on May 28, 1962 may prove an exception to this rule; but a second, a theoretical change of about ten cents in the dollar value of the 30 stocks now covered by this D-J Industrial Average.

The Dow-Jones Bond Average is a true mathematical average of 10 industrial bonds, 10 high-grade railroad bonds, 10 second-grade railroad bonds, and 10 public utility bonds.

In concluding this column, I will refer to two other figures given out each day by the New York Stock Exchange. One is the Odd-Lot transactions, and the other is the reported Short Interest. If the Odd-Lot purchases are continuously increasing, it is a bearish sign to me because it means that "little people" are getting into the market and they are generally too late or wrong.

Of course, an increase in the Short Sales should be indicative of important news to those brokers who are closely watching the market. If these short sales are legitimate, it should mean that the "big people" are getting bearish.

New Constitution Extends 4 Terms

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is another in a series about the proposed new Michigan constitution. Additional articles will appear in subsequent weeks.

Four year terms for four principal state elective officers are provided by the proposed new Michigan constitution which voters will be asked to pass judgment upon at the April 1, 1963, election.

The longer terms would become effective for those elected in 1966 as governor, lieutenant governor, secretary of state and attorney general. These officers presently serve two-year terms.

In acting to increase the terms of these officials, the Constitutional Convention followed the advice of former state executives and conforming to policies which have been adopted by many U.S. state governments.

Advocates of the longer term pointed out that the present two-year incumbency provides too short a time for an administrator to become properly acquainted with his job. They felt, too, that an official's efficiency is impaired when he is obliged to campaign for re-election as often as every two years.

Terms for members of the state senate are also increased to four years by the new constitution, but members of the house of representatives continue to serve only two years.

Those elected for four-year terms in state office would be chosen in balloting in alternate even-numbered years beginning in 1968, so as not to conflict with national presidential elections.
