

Novi Court to Hold 'Sniper' Examination

A tall, soft-spoken Southfield gardener confessed last week that he had shot at a

Gary S. Goodrum
"Did it to scare her"

Novi housewife, explaining "I did it mostly to scare her."

Gary S. Goodrum, 22, walked into Novi police headquarters last Thursday after going "over and over it" and said: "I want to surrender as the person who did the shooting in Novi."

After shooting at Mrs. Gerald Race of 28000-Dixon January 30, Goodrum — who studied a year for the Baptist ministry — said, "I realized what I had done. It was wrong."

Goodrum appeared before Novi Justice of the Peace Robert Anderson Friday morning and stood mute to the charge of assault with intent to commit murder. He will be examined in Novi justice court February 21.

A $1,000 bond was set by the court with the provision that the young man could not be released until he had been examined by a psychiatrist and was judged "safe to be released into society."

Goodrum is now in Oakland county jail awaiting psychiatric examination.

Goodrum said he confessed since he heard police solved the Bloomfield township sniping and "knew it would be only a matter of time before they got me."

The Bloomfield "sniper," Douglas C. Godfrey, 15, told police Tuesday that it was he who had killed his mother, Mrs. Mary Godfrey, January 25. Young Godfrey also confessed that he had shot twice at lighted windows in his neighborhood to create the belief that a "sniper" was at work in the area.

While Godfrey shot at his mother because, he said, she was always "bawling me out," Goodrum offered no reason for shooting at Mrs. Race.

He said he picked the Race home simply because it was near a main road — the bedroom window Goodrum shot through faces on Twelve Mile. He also admitted that he had worked in the area as a carpenter's helper and that he had at one time used a nearby rifle range for practice shots.

Goodrum explained that he went home "tired and depressed" January 30 after spending the day at the Baptist church near his home, helping fix up the pastor's study. He said he "took a cocaine tablet to relieve my physical tiredness and it helped, but I was still depressed."

"The first thing I knew, I was in my car with the rifle," Goodrum said. He said the gun had been given to him three years ago.

When he arrived at the Race house, Goodrum said he shot "as close as I could to her (Mrs. Race's) head without hitting her."

"My first impulse to kill came when I saw Mr. Race's head in the window. He moved from side to side, but I had him in my sights," Goodrum said.

He added that he decided not to kill Race when he realized that Race could not possibly see either him or his car clearly enough to later make an identification.

Goodrum usually worked for his father, Alva, a landscape gardener. The senior Goodrum at first would not believe his son was the Novi "sniper." Even after police reports confirmed that his son's gun fired the .22 caliber slug recovered from the Race house, the senior Goodrum continued to say, "Gary is a wonderful boy."

"He doesn't smoke or drink and he attends church every Sunday. We've had no trouble with him at all," Goodrum said.

"Meanwhile, two married women confessed they had fired in the direction of a Novi man and his nine-year-old daughter who were out pedaling bicycles Sunday on Howard road."

The pair said they were "road hunting" from a car at the time and "shot at a pheasant," not knowing people were in the area.

The bullet fired by the pair whizzed over the father's head, injuring no one.

The two women were Mrs. Ruby J. Gwinn of 9368 Shoemaker, Detroit, and Mrs. Flossie L. Combs of 4174 Thirteen Mile, Walled Lake. They have been released on $100 bond and will appear in Novi Justice court this week on a charge of "careless use of firearms."

In Walled Lake, still another "sniper's" bullet killed a dog last week.

ANYONE FOR SWIMMING? — Though temperatures were freezing and snow was falling outside, these Northville area residents filled the community building last week to talk about swimming. Details and plans for the proposed Northville Swim Club were outlined to an audience of about 150 men and women. The project planners — Charles Altman, Jr., Robert Bogart, Robert Bretz, Ray Jackson and Ed Langtry — are hopeful that a minimum of 200 memberships will be obtained by March 1. They're hoping for July 1 opening of the olympic size pool to be located adjacent to the city water tower. Membership fees are $350 with annual dues of $50. To date they report 57 paid memberships plus another 100 commitments. Model of the pool is now on display in the window of Lapham's.

City Petitions Due Monday

While township politics near its peak with the approach of Monday's primary, city activity was at a standstill this week.

For the first time in several weeks many a petition was withdrawn for the spring city council election.

Monday is the deadline for candidates to file petitions for he office of mayor or city council.

To date there are 10 announced candidates — two for mayor, a two-year term, and eight for council, a four-year term.

The terms of Mayor A. M. Allen and Councilmen John Canterbury and Richard Juday expire in April. Allen and Canterbury have announced they will seek re-election. Juday will not run again.

A former councilman, Earl Reed, has filed for mayor. Council candidates in addition to Canterbury are William Bingley, Joseph Denton, Sidney Frid, Peter Gross, Fred Kester, Hiram Pacific and Ed Welch. Denton is a former Northville police chief; Frid a former member of the village council; and Welch a former councilman.

Prospective candidates for city office may obtain petitions from the city clerk at the city hall. All petitions must be completed and returned to the clerk by 5 p. m. Monday.

Spring election date is April 1.

Pay Up!

Tomorrow (Friday) is the last day residents of the city may pay their school and county taxes without penalty.

After Friday, the bill goes up four per cent.

Township residents have until February 28 before the penalty is imposed. City residents pay their taxes at the city hall. Township residents may pay Treasurer Alex Lawrence in the Manufacturers National Bank offices Tuesdays and Fridays. He'll be there on Thursday, February 28, the final day, too.

School Approves 1963-64 Schedule

Northville's board of education Monday night set up next year's school calendar, approved the administration's proposed inclement weather bulletin and adopted the administration's recommended investment of debt service funds.

The board voted to open school September 3 — as was done this year — and to close school June 16, two days later than this year.

Pupils next year will again begin school September 5 and be excused for summer holidays June 12. Pupil and teacher vacations will be from December 20 to January 6 and from March 23 through March 27. The new calendar will give the school 183 days of attendance.

The inclement weather bulletin suggested by the administration and approved by the board includes several alternatives which may be adopted when bad weather conditions exist.

The alternatives: operate school as usual with buses running only on main roads; delay opening of school and bus pickup for an hour to permit clearing of roads and daylight driving; no buses at all, but school as usual — perhaps on a delayed opening schedule; no morning kindergarten when school opening is delayed; school closed for the day under drastic and prolonged storm conditions.

R. H. Amerman, superintendent of schools, noted that parents can find out which of the alternatives is to be used in bad weather by tuning to radio stations WWJ, WJR, WCAR or CKLW any time after 6:30 a. m. He stressed that school authorities recognize that parents have the right and the responsibility to make a final decision whether to send their children to school or keep them at home — regardless of the radio announcement. He said a note from the parent when the child returns to school after being kept out by bad weather will be honored by the principal.

Monday Primary To Decide Race In Township

Township Republicans will decide at the polls Monday which two of four candidates will represent their ticket in the April 1 election for the offices of supervisor and trustee.

No other candidates on either the Republican or Democratic slate face competition.

Running for township supervisor are Trustee R. D. Merriam and Mrs. Harold B. Price. Candidates for trustee are Daniel R. Brown and Wilson D. Tyler.

The names of all candidates, both Republican and Democrat will appear on Monday's ballot even though they are without competition.

They are: (Democratic) Arthur E. O'Leary, supervisor; Mrs. Edna L. White, board of review; and R. J. Gravelle, constable; (Republican) Alex M. Lawrence, incumbent treasurer; Mrs. Marguerite Northup Young, incumbent clerk; Laurence Masselink, incumbent justice of the peace; Chester Lipa, board of review; and Dick Mitchell, constable.

Republicans held a public meeting Monday night at the American Legion hall at which time candidates presented their views and answered questions from an audience of about 60 voters (see "Speaking for The Record," page eight, section two).

The race for township supervisor developed when George Clark, currently serving his second term, announced last fall he would not be a candidate for re-election.

Merriam's announced candidacy left the position of trustee up for grabs. Trustee Donald Robinson is the only member of the township board not facing election in the spring. His term has two more years to run.

It marks the first time in recent years that a contest exists within the Republican party for township office. Without competition a primary election is not held.

Polls open at 7 a. m. and close at 8 p. m. Qualified electors living in precinct one vote at the Main street elementary school, while precinct two polls are located in the Northville township hall.

Novi Votes Monday, Too

Novi township voters must decide between 10 Republican candidates seeking nomination to four offices in Monday's primary.

Only one Democrat has filed in Novi, Herbert Koester for clerk.

The Republican candidates are: Incumbent Hadley J. Bacher and John Harnden for supervisor; Incumbent Charles G. Goers and Lloyd George for clerk; Incumbent Duane Bell and Carl C. Rowley for treasurer; Incumbent John T. Meier, Emory E. Jacques, Jr., Roger Curtis, and George Ames for justice of the peace.

Unopposed Republicans are Trustee Frank Walza, Incumbent Leon D. Dochot and Charles Stewart for constable and J. Donald Walters for board of review.

All the GOP nominees except the office of clerk will be unopposed in the April 1 election.

GOP Competitors For Supervisor

Robyn D. Merriam, 63, seeking election as supervisor, has served as township trustee since 1951. After graduating from the University of Michigan in 1924, he began work for the Wayne county road commission as a project engineer on bridges and grade separation construction. In 1947, he was placed in charge of all field work in the bridge division and in 1959, assumed full charge of the division of structures and expressways. Merriam served in the U.S. marine corps during World War I, afterwards working as a harvest hand, an office machine repairman and a newspaper reporter. Born in Daugherty in the Chickasaw nation of Indian territory (Oklahoma after statehood), he was brought up by his grandparents in Charlevoix after his parents died. He and his wife have three daughters and have been living on Beck road since 1946.

Mrs. Harold B. Price, candidate for supervisor, has engaged in local Republican activities and citizens committees serving the Northville public schools since 1957. For 13 years prior to 1957, she was employed in various accounting offices working for Darling and company of Melvindale from 1950 to 1957. She is a member of the Unitarian church of Farmington and a charter member and former treasurer of the Greater Northville Republican club. Since graduating from Pershing high school in Detroit in 1944, Mrs. Price has taken courses in accounting, business finance, economics and political science. She and her husband, an engineer with Ford Motor company, moved to Northville township six years ago. The Prices and their son live at 46221 Bloomerest.

For Trustee

Daniel R. Brown, candidate for trustee, has been employed by the Western Electric company for 34 years. He has held various assignments in shop operations, including the reconditioning of telephone equipment, serving and maintaining supplies of material for distribution throughout Michigan in a management capacity. Presently, he is in charge of programming, scheduling and servicing the production of the Western Electric company's Plymouth shop which serves the Michigan Bell Telephone company. He has participated in the Plymouth Junior Achievement program sponsored by his company. Born in Green County, Tennessee, he has lived in Wayne county for 34 years and in Northville township for seven years. He graduated from Moshelm high school and attended Tusculum college in Greenville, Tennessee. He is married and lives with his wife at 20120 Whipple.

Wilson D. Tyler, 47, candidate for township trustee, is a banker who specializes in fiscal matters of public corporations. He is assistant vice president of the Detroit Bank and Trust company. A veteran of World War II, he served with the Eighth Air Force in Europe and now is a lieutenant colonel in the Air Force reserve. Tyler is president of the Exchange club of Detroit and is a member of the Municipal Finance officers association, the Michigan school business officials association, the administrators committee of the United Community services and the Meadowbrook Country club. A native of Detroit, Tyler was graduated from the University of Michigan in 1939 and attended the Harvard business school while in the service. Tyler is married, has two daughters and a son with the U.S. Air Force in California. He and his family live at 19772 Meadowbrook.

Plan New Business Building in Northville

Announcement of the re-location of two Northville retail business firms was made public this week revealing a major improvement project for the business district.

The two moves are tied together. D & C Stores, Inc., 103 East Main street, will move into the 139 East Main street building now occupied by E-Jay Lumber Mart.

Earl Wineman, owner of E-Jay, has announced plans to construct a new two-level building on East Cady street in which to locate his business, and possibly three others.

Plans call for E-Jay to move into the new building by mid-April. D & C will enlarge and remodel the present E-Jay building, delaying its move approximately 30 days after the April date.

No indication of a possible tenant for the vacated D & C store building has been made.

Both the D & C store building and the E-Jay building are owned by Gerald Woodworth, 663 Thayer.

Wineman's move was necessitated by the desire of the D & C firm to acquire greater floor space.

Local D & C Manager Fred Kester said this week that plans call for a 25-foot addition to be constructed on the rear of the E-Jay building. It will increase D & C's floor space by 40 percent, Kester indicated, and permit more displays and larger selections in the variety store's lines.

D & C has been located at its present site in Northville for more than 30 years.

The year-old E-Jay Lumber Mart will move into new quarters to be constructed on the north side of Cady on a vacant lot between residences at 127 and 143 East Cady.

The Lumber Mart will be housed in the upper level and will face north, towards the "parking alley" between Main and Cady.

Wineman said plans call for three smaller offices or retail shops to occupy the lower level facing Cady street with off-street parking provided at the Cady level.

Overall dimensions of the building will be 40 x 80 feet, Wineman said.

Although the area is already zoned commercial, regulations call for the planning commission to approve building plans. The commission inspected and approved the plans last week.

Long Road to Top for Oscar

You won't find C. Oscar Hammond's name on any ballot in Monday's primary election, but it's doubtful that there's another area resident doing more "politicizing" these days than the well-known local Legionaire.

Oscar is a candidate for the highest office in Michigan's American Legion ranks. And he'll tell you that he "wouldn't be in the race if I didn't think I could win."

American Legion members from throughout the state will elect their state commander July 21 at the annual state convention in Detroit.

But chances are the winner will be determined well in advance of the official ballot. That's where the politicizing comes in.

For the past several months Oscar has been visiting district meetings throughout the state attempting to line-up endorsements.

He's journeyed some 4,000 miles already and estimates that his traveling is "about half completed."

The office of state commander of the American Legion is highly demanding and carries heavy responsibilities. It means visiting each district within the state, plus several business trips to national headquarters in Indianapolis and Washington, D.C. And you are responsible to 70,000 members.

"It's a full time job," comments Oscar.

Oscar honestly believes he has the inside track on winning the high post. There's only one other candidate in the running.

Hammond is well equipped for the Legion post. He's a veteran of World War I and has been a member of the American Legion since 1920. He's been post commander and held all jobs leading up to commander. He has also served as 17th district commander and department state vice commander.

His family is also well entrenched in Legion affairs. Mrs. Hammond is Northville auxiliary unit president and has been district president and state chaplain. His daughter, Mrs. Howard Wright, is district auxiliary vice president. And his other daughter, Mrs. Russell Corbin and son, Walter Hammond, are both Legion members.

Engaged

Mrs. Naomi Steineback of 131 North Wing announces the engagement of her daughter Leona to Thomas W. Weidner, son of Mr. and Mrs. William F. Weidner of 627 Fairbrook. No date has been set for the wedding.

A couple who believe in "philosophizing with kids" via the backs of their hands are this week's newcomers. They're Mr. and Mrs. Louis Gensley of 45840 Northview.

The Gensleys, who've come to Northville after nearly 12 years of living in Redford township, have five daughters: Jeanette, who's going to be 12; Susan, 7; Carol, 6; Christine, 4; and Joyce, 3.

For the oldest gal in the family, "everything's horses" these days. Meanwhile, the younger Gensley girls love to draw pictures and "decorate the walls," their mom reports. "Decorate," Mrs. Gensley hastened to explain, "by hanging up the pictures they've drawn."

The man of the house, Mrs. Gensley says, "likes to putz around" when he's not at his electrical engineer's desk in the Detroit Edison company.

"Me? I like to sew — but just never seem to get around to it," Mrs. Gensley added. "The whole family likes to dangle worms in the lake — but that only happens in the summer when it's warm enough for the young ones to be out-of-doors."

Donald Young, 43775 W. 9 Mile Rd., says — re-elect John T. Meier, Justice of the Peace.

Kitchen Diary

He Likes Leftovers!

"I'm a leftover man myself. A bit puzzled by this odd statement, we asked the speaker, Dr. Richard Blasir of Twelve Mile, Novi, to explain further. Well, this week's contributor to Kitchen Diary said, "I guess that means that I figure some things are just plain better the second or third time around."

"Now, I realize," the young physical scientist continued, "that a statement like this is bound to get on the nerves of some husbands — perhaps all of them."

"But I'm a bachelor." In a more serious vein, Dr. Blasir explained that leftovers can "be drastically changed in appearance, taste and texture and therefore be hardly recognizable."

When queried about the ingredients he uses in his favorite recipes, Dr. Blasir hesitated, noting "as my grandmother from the old country used to say — my portions are all in my head."

Therefore, he continued, "in following these recipes of mine, one ought perhaps check the proportions by taste." Dr. Blasir's recipes: Marinated Pork Loin Scraps ("for which you can do the greater part of the work the night before," he noted, and which "make a fine, quick meal when coming home from the lab late at night.") and Kuiken Bij Tomaat-Kaas ("a recipe handed down from the Dutch side of the family.")

MARINATED PORK LOIN SCRAPS

8 pork loin chops or equivalent amount of scraps.

1 C. cooking oil
1/4 C. vinegar
1/4 C. lemon juice
1 tsp. rosemary
1/2 tsp. garlic powder
1/2 tsp. salt
1/2 tsp. peppercorns
Trim fat off, cut out bones and marinate over night in a covered dish. Simmer over low fire in frying pan 15 minutes if using cooked scraps, 45 minutes if using uncooked scraps. Serves 4.

KUIKEN BIJ TOMAAT-KAAS

Leftover parts of a fryer — e.g., wings, back, neck, giblets

2 Tbs. flour
1/2 C. milk
1/4 C. processed cheese.
1/2 C. onion rings
1/2 Tbs. basil
Salt and pepper to taste
Cook chicken in pressure cooker for 20 minutes or simmer on stove for one hour if you don't have a pressure cooker, "but I think everyone ought have a pressure cooker," Dr. Blasir said. "It's a wonderful gadget." Cut meat from bones, saving broth. Mix flour and water into smooth paste and simmer with broth in large sauce pan or pressure cooker. Add salt, pepper, cheese and other ingredients, stirring until smooth. Serve over rice.

Local Couple Wed in Novi

Mrs. June (Markley) Noland of Northville was married to Warren Atchison of Northville last Saturday by Novi Justice of the Peace John T. Meier.

The bride's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Chester Markley of Altoona, Pennsylvania. The groom is the son of Mrs. Frances Frampton of Northville and the late Earl Atchison.

Attending the pair at their wedding were Miss Donna Noland, the bride's daughter, and Royal Keller of Northville. For her wedding, Mrs. Atchison chose a white suit and hair trimmed in fur. She wore a corsage of yellow rosebuds.

Following the ceremony, the couple were given a reception by Miss Geraldine Graham and Miss Linda Kotch at 122 Main.

Mr. Atchison has been employed as a mechanic at Northville Coach Line for the past five years while Mrs. Atchison is employed at the Bel-Nor Drive-In. The couple are living at 342 East Main.

THE WINNERS — Collecting their awards for being the "best guessers" in the March of Dimes bean-guessing contest are these 10 of 13 winners. March of Dimes Chairman William Bingley (center) is shown presenting the top prize to Sue Croll, whose guess of 14,965 was closest to the actual count of 15,517. Other winners (l. to r.) are: Judy Arthurs, Mrs. James Spagnuolo, Vicki Lon, Bob Hempe, Randy Soubliere, Sue and Bingley, and Lynda Ricketts and Debbie Burr (rear row) and Scot Stuart and Richard Solomon (front row). Bingley reported that the total collections including all events in the month-long March of Dimes campaign were $2,367.74. He expects the amount to top $2,400 after a benefit student council dance later this month. This tops last year's record collection of $2,388.

Hair-Do's and Don'ts..by Rene'

Brushing the hair is one of the most important facets in keeping your hair beautiful. Do brush your hair and here's how to do it properly:

To keep your set looking neat, brush your hair back from the forehead keeping the brush on the scalp all the time. This smooths the hair, eliminates tangling thus, giving you a good base for recombining your style.

Work for One May Well Be Relaxation for Another

Ann Arbor — One man's work is another man's leisure. A farmer works in a field, and he relaxes on the porch reading a magazine. A magazine editor does just the opposite. He works while reading the magazine and relaxes by tending his garden.

However work is defined — and it means different things to different people — the job is important to most of us, explains Dr. Robert L. Kahn, program director of the University of Michigan Survey Research Center (SRC).

Moreover, SRC research indicates that the importance of the job is not merely a matter of money, Dr. Kahn explains in the report "The Worker in the New Industrial Environment", published by the Foundation for Ann Arbor.

"Persons in a nationwide sample were asked whether or not they would continue to work even if, by some chance, they had enough money to satisfy all their needs," Kahn writes. "Eighty per cent of men answered this question by saying they would continue to work. When we asked them about the reasons for their choice, their responses were primarily in terms of avoiding the emptiness of non-work. Individuals want to keep occupied, to keep interested, to avoid being bored. This finding is pretty general for most occupations and ages, and argues a nearly universal need for work."

Wanting to work is not the same as liking one's present job, however, reports the U-M social researcher, who found that two-thirds of the workers did not want to continue on the same job. Typically, these workers would prefer to have a small business of their own.

"While work certainly seems necessary for a balanced emotional life," Kahn observes, "many people are doing kinds of work which they don't want to do."

People across the nation were asked to define work: "About 50 per cent said that work is something that you have to do or something that you don't like. Twenty per cent defined work in terms of something that is productive, or important, or has social value to others."

"Eight percent defined work in terms of exertion or effort. Still others defined work in terms of things that are scheduled or routinized or paid for."

Kahn adds that factory workers frequently mention the fact that work is something scheduled, timed and paid for. People of high education levels tend to consider work a duty something that is necessary and not much fun.

He explains that "It is very likely that attitudes of this kind are bred into the family background before schools get these people, so we are not seeing education, so much as the effects of background characteristics."

Judging from union practice, the labor movement appears to define work negatively and to neglect its positive functions, Kahn says.

"Union policies say, in effect: 'Work is too hard; work is too long; working conditions are bad, and so forth. Unions have given relatively little attention to issues of variety versus monotony, detailed scheduling versus autonomy on the job, and the like."

"In short, unions have accepted too readily management's implicit assumptions about work: work is undesirable; people won't do it unless they have to; it is something they try to avoid; pay is the only compensation for work."

Unions could well address themselves to the task of making work more meaningful as well as more remunerative, Dr. Kahn concludes.

JoAnn and Tom Ritter, 45670 11 Mile, say — re-elect John T. Meier, Justice of the Peace.

Housewives Note: Budget For Food

Ever wonder if you're spending too much for groceries? If you tried, could you really cut your food bill?

Here's what food economists in the U.S. Department of Agriculture say various typical families would have spent by following a low-cost food plan during a week in October, 1962:

—Family of two, 20 to 34 years — $14.00.

—Family of two, 35 to 44 years — $12.40.

—Family of four with pre-school children — $20.80.

—Family of four with school children — $24.00.

This low-cost plan gives each family enough food to meet recommended dietary allowances. It does not allow for fancy extras. The prices are based on the average retail prices in the U.S. for October.

With economy in mind, my suggestion for a real stick-to-the-ribs dinner is a "pork chops and corn skillet".

When you buy pork chops, remember that the center loin chops are more in demand, thus more expensive, than the rib end chops. The rib chops are just as juicy, as tender and as easy to prepare.

Look for fine-grained, fat-marbled pork chops. A little fat is needed for flavor and moistness.

All pork has the best flavor when it is cooked well done and all the pink color has disappeared. Braising is the method we use to cook pork chops.

Pork Chop and Corn Skillet: 6 pork chops, cut 1-inch thick; ¼ cup hot water; 1½ teaspoons salt; one-eighth teaspoon pepper; ½ teaspoon thyme; 2 (No. 303) cans whole-kernel corn (4 cups); salt and pepper; 6 tablespoons chili sauce; 6 dill pickle slices.

Brown pork chops slowly in hot skillet. Add ¼ cup hot water, salt, pepper, and thyme. Cover and simmer for about 40 minutes. Remove chops from skillet, add corn and sprinkle lightly with salt and pepper. Arrange chops on top of corn and crown each with a tablespoon of chili sauce and a dill pickle slice. Cover skillet and continue cooking for about 10 minutes, until corn is heated through. Makes 6 servings.

WHY ADVERTISE?

There's only one businesslike reason to advertise. You can make more money WITH advertising than you can WITHOUT advertising. This means your advertising is an investment . . . not an expense.

HERE ARE FIVE WAYS ADVERTISING PAYS DIVIDENDS:

1. Advertising builds a desirable reputation for your business. You must sell your store as the place to buy before you can sell your merchandise.
2. Advertising attracts new customers to your store. Before you can really sell, you have to bring customers to your store. Advertising attracts new customers, brings back former customers . . . many more and much faster.
3. Advertising helps you meet and overcome the fierce competition in today's retailing world. Advertising helps you maintain and protect your business.
4. Advertising is informative . . . it tells your customers what's new.
5. Advertising increases profits by building volume. Competition tends to trim profits on each sale, so volume becomes the key to success. Advertising gets your selling message to enough people to build volume sales.

'New Look' Mustangs Trip W-O League Leaders, 46-37

The Mustang cagers electrified a partisan hometown crowd Friday night by "charging" by West. Bloomfield, the state's 4th-ranked class B team and the W-O conference leaders, 46-37.

Before the game was underway, Northville Coach Dave Longridge made important changes in the line-up.

Joe Hay, a rugged rebounder, was moved to forward with starter Jim Juday. Big Mike Lang, who has a tendency to tire quickly, was spelled now and then by Dick Brown and Tom Swiss, the Mustangs' high-scoring forward, teamed up with scrapping Dan Bishop at guard.

Coach Longridge thus bolstered his team with more rebounding strength at forward, reinforcement at center, and scoring punch at guard. The maneuver payed off.

It was evident immediately after the tip-off that not only the Mustangs' line-up had been changed. Their spirited play seemed to charge the air.

Employing a zone defense, the local cagers kept the Lakers off balance much of the night. The Lakers, with their driving - weaving patterns, couldn't adjust to the "sagging in" tactics of the Mustangs.

This is not to say that West Bloomfield is not a good or even an excellent team, deserving of its rank. At times, the Lakers passed the ball with whip-like speed and broke in for two points. And they were in contention throughout, losing the game at the free throw line.

But the Mustangs were not to be denied. They took an early lead and were never headed.

Sparked by Juday, the Mustangs assumed a 9-4 first quarter lead. Juday grabbed an amazing total of 10 rebounds during the period and scored four points. "Refreshed" Mike Lang tossed in the other five points.

In the second quarter, the visitors tried to break the zone defense by weaving three forwards through the free throw lane. The local team moved in quickly to offset this strategy.

With 43 seconds remaining in the half, the Mustangs stalled.

Grange, Munn, Harbert On Tap at Meadowbrook

A host of sports celebrities will gather tomorrow night at the Meadowbrook country club for the 8th annual Sportsman's night.

George. Saimes, All-American fullback and captain of the Michigan State university football team, will be presented with the Meadowbrook Country Club's "Michigan Amateur Athlete of 1962" award.

Other noted sports figures will also be present. They include Melvin "Chick" Harbert, formerly Meadowbrook pro and now pro at Port St. Lucie, Florida; "Red" Grange, "the Galloping Ghost" of Illinois; and Clarence "Biggie" Munn, former All-American football player and coach, and now Michigan State university athletic director.

Bob Reynolds' sport cast, heard on WJR at 6:15, will start the festivities. The dinner will be from 7:30 to 8:45.

Then Juday drove by his man in the last seconds to score and end the first-half, 20-13.

Although the Lakers made determined effort to close the gap in the third quarter, they shaved only one point off the Mustangs' margin, 30-24.

Little Bishop (5'6"), who played inspired ball all night, made a sparkling move to touch off the 3rd-period scoring. He drove by his man, across the lane, stopped, pivoted, and hooked the ball over his head.

Lang almost topped Bishop's maneuver when he drove to his right to lay the ball in.

Aroused West Bloomfield came out in an all-court press in an attempt to "upset" the local cagers in the 4th quarter. The Mustangs remained calm under fire however.

Bishop stole the ball on numerous occasions; Lang scored on two drive-ins; Juday continued his strong play; and Swiss came through with two timely baskets.

The Northville high team put the game out of the Lakers' reach on Lang's last bucket with 1:37 remaining in the game.

The statistics reflected the Mustangs' inspired play:

—Juday grabbed 15 of his team's 31 rebounds;

—Lang hit 5 for 5 from the field;

—The Mustangs won the game at the free throw line converting 12 of 24 to West Bloomfield's 3 of 11;

—The Lakers out shot the Mustangs 52-47, but both made 17 field goals;

—The Mustangs made 5 of 6 field goal attempts in the 4th quarter.

In the scoring for the Mustangs, Juday was tops with 14; Lang garnered 12 in his finest performance thus far; Swiss bagged 10; and Bishop had 9.

For the losers Charlie Robinson was high with 11, and Bob Aunnagher had 9.

Around the league the other games ran true to form. Bloomfield Hills, which meets West Bloomfield tomorrow night to determine the league leadership, edged Brighton 51-40. Holly trounced Clarenceville, 60-31, and Clarkston ran by Milford, 52-42.

In a return encounter, the Mustangs will take on Holly here tomorrow night. They will be out to avenge an earlier 20-point trouncing. The JV game will begin at 7.

West Bloomfield rebounded Tuesday night defeating Clarkston, and Holly improved its record by dumping Brighton.

AHEAD TO STAY — An upset is in the making as Jim Juday (44) is shown netting two as the gun ended the first half. The Mustangs kept ahead to topple West Bloomfield from first place in the W-O league.

Colts Can't Keep Pace; Lose, 43-35

Try as they would here, the Northville high school JVs were unable to find the hoop last Friday as they lost 43-35 to West Bloomfield.

The Colts hit on just 30 percent of their shots although they out shot their opponents from the field, 39-32. West Bloomfield was more accurate, hitting on 44 percent.

Despite the poor shooting performance, the local cagers trailed by only two points with 1:06 to go in the game. At that time, it appeared that a "wrong-way basket" would be the margin of defeat for Northville. But the visitors scored three last-minute baskets to win going away.

In a slow moving, low-scoring first half, the visiting JVs dragged themselves into a 19-15 lead. Keeping the Colts in contention were Tim Krug and John Callaghan.

The Colts improved slightly in the third quarter. They outscored the opposing JVs 9-8.

Led by Krug, the local cagers swarmed over West Bloomfield in a fourth-quarter comeback attempt. Picking up men all over the floor, the Colts almost caught the visitors. But 37-35 was the closest they could come.

High point man for the Colts was Tim Krug, who scored 14. Jim Lufis was runner up with 7.

The Colts will meet the Holly JVs at 7 p.m. tomorrow on the home court.

Cager of the Week

Known for his football prowess, Joe Hay has given notice that he is also tough on the court. Using his 180-pounds to an advantage, he battles rebounds away from taller opponents. As a footballer, he garnered all-league and all-county first team honors, and all-state honorable mention. He hopes to attend the University of Kentucky to major in veterinary medicine. A senior, he is the son of Mr. and Mrs. David Hay, 46141 Sunset, Northville.

Oil Kings Drop One In Hockey Play-Off

The Ely Oil Kings, after coping first place honors in regular season play, were tripped Sunday night by Plymouth, month-Garden City match next 7-4, in their first game of the double elimination play-offs.

Plymouth skated to a 4-0 first period lead before the Oil Kings could set their defenses. Suffering from an apparent let down, the defensemen failed to clear the puck from the front that order.

Without stellar goal tending by Dick Nolan, the score would have mounted.

Bob Papp, high scoring forward, provided the late offensive spark by turning the "hat trick." His three goals, however, were not enough as Plymouth countered with one goal in the second and two in the third period to protect its early lead.

Bill St. Lawrence scored the other goal for the Oil Kings. Despite the loss, the local pucksters still have a chance to win the play-offs. They will meet Belleville (4-1 loser to Garden City) tonight at 9 at the Garden City rink. Should they lose, they will be eliminated. If the Oil Kings win, they will play the winner of the Plymouth-Garden City match next Sunday night.

In the final standings of the Garden City Senior Hockey League, the Oil Kings finished first with an 8-2 record. Garden City (7-3), Plymouth (7-3) and Belleville (6-4) finished in that order.

To Hear Masters

Norm Masters, former Michigan State university football great and now a guard for the Green Bay Packers, will be the guest-speaker at 7:30 next Tuesday at the O.L.V. Men's Club. The father-son affair will be held in the parish of Our Lady of Victory church. Refreshments will be served.

Wrestlers Routed By Walled Lake

The Northville varsity matmen were toppled by a superior Walled Lake team last week, while the JVs out-matched Livonia Franklin.

Walled Lake, one of the strongest class A wrestling teams in Southeastern Michigan, invaded Northville February 5 and overpowered the local matmen 29-14.

The score is not indicative of Walled Lake's class as second and third stringers beat Northville's front liners.

Coach Jack Kreiner noted that, "Mike Brandenburg, Bill Adams and Ron Rebitzke could win against their best — at least some of the time — but otherwise we were clearly outclassed."

Northville had its winners however. Dennis Cook, Russ Nichols, Bert Bowen and Larry Spangler won decisions; and Jerry Burns held his opponent to a draw.

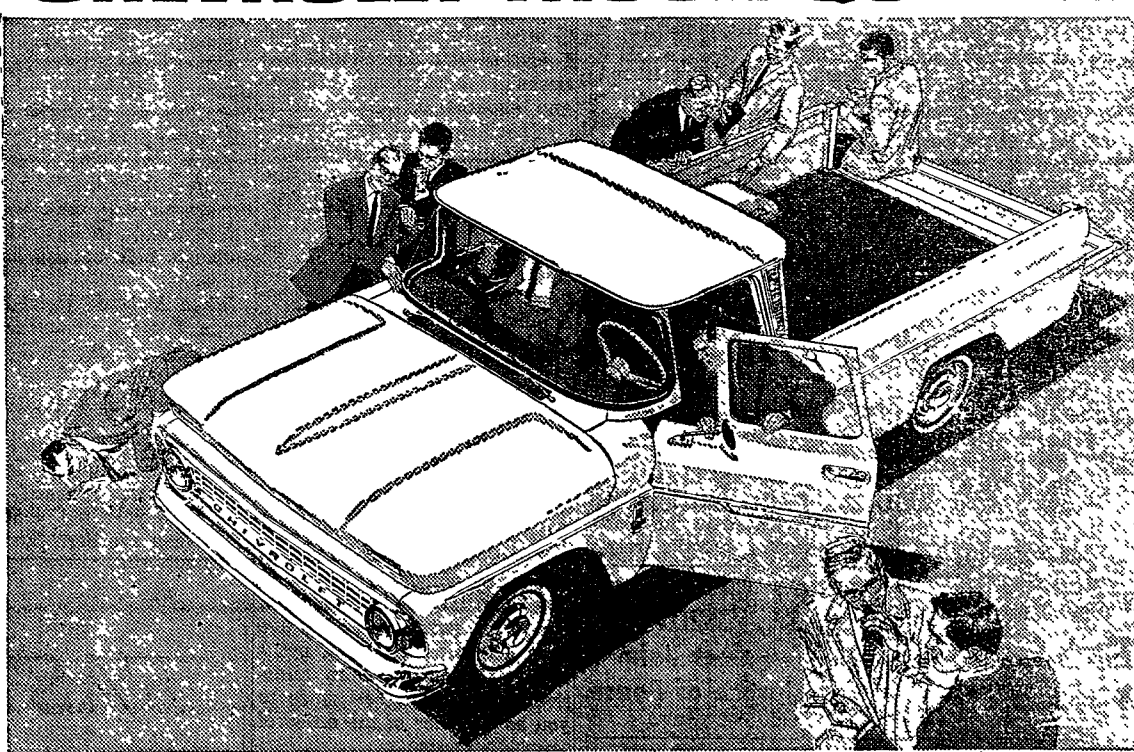

In the JV match of February 7, Northville won handily 39-13. "I was especially pleased with the performances of Wayne Ritter, Bob Richardson and Bert Bowen," Coach Kreiner commented. "Although we won the meet, actually I do not wrestle JVs to win, but merely to give boys who need experience a chance to compete."

Wayne Ritter, Bert Bowen and Fred Miller pinned their opponents and Frank Plantz, Dick Ratcliffe and Bob Steeper won decisions.

The next varsity match will be at Flat Rock on February 14. Starting time will be 7:30.

CHEVROLET TRUCK QUALITY

You can see the difference wherever you look

If you believe various makes of trucks are pretty much alike, you aren't doing justice to your pocket-book. There are differences.

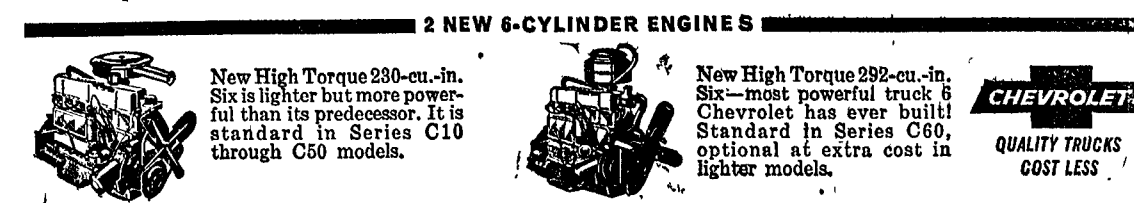

A Chevrolet truck welcomes comparison. Look at the little things on it—latches, hinges, stitching in the upholstery. Notice how strong the tailgate is, the rubber encased chains that keep it from sagging.

The body floor is made of select wood to eliminate rust problem and give you better footing. The lower side panels are double-walled; you might dent the inside but it won't show through.

Chevrolet designs suspension systems to fit your need. The light-duty type is strong on 'comfort. Another kind for heavier trucks stiffens up as you increase your load and vice versa. Make sense?

If you are going to need a new truck this year, you should look at the quality Chevrolet has to offer. May we bring over a new '63 so you can examine it?

Candidate for Supervisor

"Civil Service rules require that I be retired in a year or two which is an unpleasant prospect to one who has always been active in construction and planning. When the present supervisor decided not to be a candidate for the office in the spring election, it seemed to be an opportunity for me to continue to be of service to my community and to myself.

"Northville Township is suffering growing pains and the movement of the people to the suburbs is placing a great deal of pressure upon us to keep pace with the needs of a modern community. I have been associated with the township government as a trustee for the past twelve years and the needs and requirements of the community are familiar to me.

LET'S TALK CARS . . .

Why Cold Weather Makes Cars Hard to Start

Testing your anti-freeze for strength and your cooling system for leaks is a must in preparing your car for winter. But right next in importance is an ignition tune-up if you want to avoid waiting for the tow truck some morning not long from now.

Low temperature has two effects on automobile ignition: it reduces the energy output of the battery — the spark that kicks the motor into action — down to 40% of its peak output, and it stiffens engine oil so that as much as 2½ times normal electrical power is required to move the engine.

These percentages are reached at zero temperature, which is more often than you think in a car left standing overnight in a winter wind. Peak efficiency for starting occurs at 80 degrees. For the battery, this drops to 65% of efficiency at 32 degrees. Engine inertia increases 165% at 32 degrees.

It is easy to see why, with the engine being 2½ times as hard to move, and the battery losing 80% of its power to move it, that cars are hard to start on cold winter mornings.

Our service mechanics will check your battery for its charge rating and clean and tighten terminals. A minor tune-up will look after your plugs and points so that more of the battery's power will go to move the engine. Now is the time to use the new light multiple grade oils. The few cents additional in cost will pay for a lot of tow charges.

Funeral services will be held today in the Casterline Funeral Home with Reverend Paul Cargo, pastor of the Methodist church, officiating. Interment will be at Evergreen Cemetery, Detroit.

Two Plead Guilty To $650 Theft

Two Northville men pleaded guilty to a charge of breaking and entering before Judge Charles McDonald in justice court last Monday.

Dennis Johnston, 18, and John Molands, 21, both of 213 West Main street, admitted entry into Northville Lanes on February 1 early in the morning.

Johnston, an employee of the alley, had confessed only a few hours after the $650 theft was reported. Police reported that Johnston said he alone had climbed the conduit in back of the alley, entered through the skylight, and crashed through the cellolex ceiling.

"Later, Johnston implicated Molands," Chief Eugene King said.

Johnston then said that Molands had emptied the concession machines, while he had broken into the cabinet safe, police reported.

Police, through a telephone call from a young Northville girl, believed Molands had fled in Kentucky.

"Sergeant Cain and I, after questioning the boys' acquaintances, found out that Molands bought a car from a lot on Grand River," Chief King explained.

"He bought a used car and a Kentucky sticker," he continued, "so we assumed that he had driven to Kentucky."

After receiving extradition approval from the Wayne county prosecutor, the Northville police wired the Kentucky state police to pick up and hold Molands.

When Molands waived extradition, Chief King and Sergeant Cain left by car on February 9 for Kentucky. They picked up Molands and returned the next day.

Police revealed that in interrogating Molands, he implicated Johnston, Richard Hooper and a 15 year old youth in a Halloween eve barn burning incident. The barn, on Haggerty road between Six and Seven Mile roads, burned to the ground.

According to police, Molands said that the three boys had soaked rags with oil and gasoline. Johnston and Hooper had burned the barn down "just for kicks." The other youth waited in the car, Chief King commented.

Police are now seeking Hooper.

Johnston will again be arraigned in Justice court next Monday. This time on an arson charge.

Both Molands and Johnston waived examination on February 1, and will be bound over to circuit court. Bond for each man is set at $1,000.

PUBLISHES BOOK — Marian Szczepanski of 42600 Frederick displays the pile of research materials he used in writing his first book, "Brittleness of Steel." Szczepanski, president and technical director of the International Diamond Tool company in Detroit, which he organized in 1960, spent 10½ years writing this book. He spent another 12 years doing specialized study in preparation for the book. The book, which will sell for $17.50, was recently published by John Wiley & Sons. Szczepanski is hopeful of locating his industry in Northville at sometime in the near future.

Receives Special Citation

Cadet Zayti, who is a student in the Roosevelt Military Academy, located at Aledo, Illinois, was cited for excellence at special ceremonies honoring award winners for the second quarter of the school year.

Cadet Zayti is the son of Mrs. Margaret Zayti, 43555 6 Mile road.

He was presented an award for excellence in athletics and military. Cadet Zayti was also promoted to the rank of Sergeant.

The awards were presented by Colonel Glen G. Millikan, Superintendent of Roosevelt Military Academy.

Cadet Zayti has attended

Roosevelt for 2 years and is a senior.

In Justice Court

NORTHVILLE

Harry Visnyak of 50191 W. Nine Mile road, Northville, who was arraigned in Northville justice court on February 9, was found guilty of failing to stop in the assured clear distance. Visnyak was driving south on Taft road on January 26 when his car collided with another car. He was fined $15 and $10 costs.

In Monday's justice court, Lansing man was found guilty of reckless driving.

Sterry F. Mehring, driving his car west on Main street, collided with another car on January 28 at the intersection of W. Main and Rogers streets. He was fined $75 and paid $15 costs.

In another collision, James H. Mitchell of 1112 Hartsough, Plymouth, was driving a truck onto South Main street on January 5 when it was hit by a car. Mitchell was found guilty of failing to yield the right of way, and Judge Charles McDonald fined him $10 and $10 costs.

NOVI

Ronald George Odren, 18, of 11055 Boulder, East Detroit, was found guilty on two counts in Novi justice court last Thursday.

Odren was fined $25 on a charge of carrying a fictitious driver's license and $25 for disorderly conduct.

The court found Charles Herman Walker of 22418 Roysmith, St. Clair Shores, guilty of driving when his operator's license had been revoked. Walker was given 30 days in jail and is now serving his sentence in the Oakland county jail.

Merten Dale Harter of 24303 LeBost appeared before the court on a drunk and disorderly charge. He was fined $15 and $10 in costs.

Richard Bert Metcalf, 20, of 9601 Plainview, Detroit, appeared before the court on a charge of being in possession of liquor while a minor. He was fined $25.

John Wilson Jr. of 388 Donovan, South Lyon, appeared on a charge of reckless driving and was fined $50 by the court.

Harness Racing No Easy Life says Driver - Trainer

A Northville man who believes he's "the world's worst gambler" wouldn't be likely to advise a young man to look for his future in the "glamour" of racing. Yet, Donald Hall, now in his 18th year as a driver-trainer, can't manage to shake the whole game. Each morning — even after countless broken hands and wrists, and a dislocated shoulder — he's up at 6 a.m. and down at the track a few minutes later to look after his horses. "I can't give up horses," says Don. "Ever since I was 11 I've loved them. But it's more than that ... I like to see them develop. It's like coaching individuals into a fine team." Watching them develop, however, does not give Don the inside dope, he says. Contrary to what most people think, neither the trainer nor the driver can predict a race's outcome. "I've seen horses look great in a warm-up before the race, but when the race is on, there's too many 'ifs'. Anything can happen." And according to Hall, it usually does. He's even reluctant to bet on himself. To determine the starting position, a "pill" or number is drawn out of the "pill box," Hall explains. It's like drawing numbers out of a hat. "Admittedly, the 'poll horse' (the horse on the rail) has a decided advantage," he said. "But a slow starter may lose the advantage in a hurry to a horse on the outside ('on the limb')." Hall noted.

"The driver, too, makes a big difference," he pointed out.

In his career as a trainer and driver, Hall knows from experience there is little glamour in the racing game.

During the season, his day begins at 6 a.m. and he's seldom in bed before midnight. Although his time is primarily devoted to driving — he drives in 30 to 400 races a year — Hall still must supervise the care of his horses.

Supervision is made easier by three willing "hands" in his own home at 545 Seven Mile road. Nita, Don's wife, helps him take care of the horses year round. His sons, Mike 16 and Pat 14, pitch in when not in school.

The boys, who own a horse of their own, have apparently inherited their father's love of horses. Mike already has competed at Northville Downs.

Although Don claims Northville Downs as the home track, he also "catches drives" (drives for various owners) at Wolverine and Hazel Park as often as possible. "The season is all too short," he says, "so I've got to drive a lot to make a buck." This year I may go to California to drive after Northville's season is over.

Like other drivers and trainers, Don hopes that the Jackson interests will move its meet to Northville. "It would give us a longer season, bigger purses and more races," he said.

When the season is over in October, Don applies his extensive knowledge during a normal 8 to 12 hour day to develop harness "hopefuls." He has trained as many as 15 horses to earn more money (only five panned out), and now he recognizes that leg injuries and accidents will take their toll. And the work load is tremendous. Thus, he is training only eight horses this year.

"To be a winner, a 'trotter' or 'pacer' must beat a 2:10 mile," says Don. He brings them along slowly, running them every day — even in sub-zero weather — to get them into shape.

By driving during the off-season, Hall keeps in shape also. "The more times I drive, the sharper I get. There's always room for improvement," explained Don.

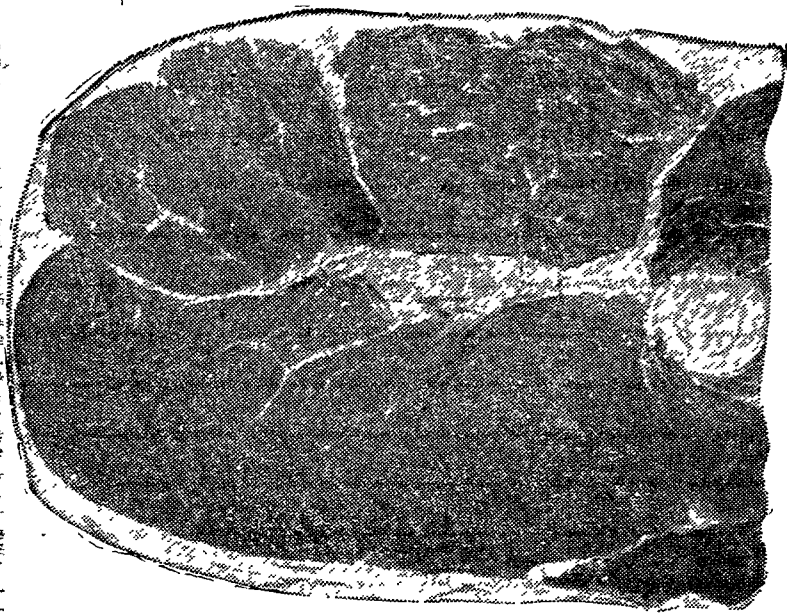

Although the Ohio-born driver-trainer has worked hard to improve, it does not mean that "chance" will not play havoc.

In the early fifties Don was moving up the racing ladder rapidly in his home state. Several winning seasons landed him a lucrative job with an owner of a stable of top horses.

Then suddenly — in 1954 to be exact — Hall hit a slump, a condition that plagues all athletes and defies explanation.

Out of a job, Hall turned to Northville for work, where his fortunes have again turned upward.

Like all drivers, he always looks forward to next season. It could be "the big year."

Readers Speak:

Let's Change School Hours

To The Editor:
The purpose of this letter is not to criticize the Novi school board, but more so to suggest a change in school hours. Novi school district voters will be asked to approve extra millage tax increases at a special election April 1. Then later they will be asked for more millage for a junior high school. Should this extra millage tax be rejected here, cry will come from the School Board for further curtailment of school programs, such as shortening the school year, place more students on half day schedules, reduce transportation, athletics and drop class or so. Schools have not had any significant change since territorial days. The above threats could turn to be reality. I suggest that the Novi School Board try something new in schedules that would save the taxpayers thousands of tax dollars, and have a more up to date school program, and immediate room for junior and senior high schools. New schedules would be as follows, 8 a.m. to 12 noon and from 1 p.m. to 5 p.m. Lunch hour for the teachers would be from 12 noon to 1 p.m. in this way each child would have a solid four hour school day, and study period would be at home say about two hours, a day. This would allow a child to be more relaxed and be of some help to its parents. In my opinion this would be more of a constructive program than the present 6 hour day.

Herbert Koester

"Thanks"

To the Citizens, and Merchants of the Northville Area:

In behalf of the March of Dimes, and the Northville Junior Chamber of Commerce, I would like to thank each of you for your generous support, and co-operation in making the 1963 March of Dimes Drive a success. The assistance of people like yourself has made possible the accomplishments of the National Foundation which include the two polio vaccines, and new techniques in research and patient care, as well as a substantial beginning in the fields of arthritis, and birth-defects.

This year, a grant was made to the University hospital at Ann Arbor for the opening of a birth-defects clinical study center for our area. The National Foundations goal is to be able to offer superior medical attention to victims of arthritis, birth-defects, who are not now receiving adequate care.

As general chairman for the 1963 March of Dimes Drive in Northville, I would like to thank all of you again for your wonderful co-operation.

William J. Bingley.

Lands Court Decision

To the Editor:
The officials of Novi Village are to be highly commended for their efforts to keep undesirable enterprises away from our doors and thus making Novi a better place in which to live.

Now that the action of the Village Council has been upheld by the Oakland County Circuit Court in denying a license for a landfill on 12 Mile road, I would like to voice my appreciation to our fine attorneys, as well as Circuit Court Judge J. Russell Holland.

It was a satisfying experience for me, as I sat in the court room during the last week of debate, to watch and listen to Mr. Howard Bond, attorney for the Village of Novi, and Mr. David Fried, representing the residents on 12 Mile road. Their clear and concise arguments were delivered with feeling and dignity.

And I could not help but marvel at the patience and understanding attitude of Judge Holland as the case went way beyond the expected time. But the final proof of Judge Holland's warm personality and true southern hospitality came on the day of the final hearing.

As we arrived at the court house, we were told that Judge Holland was confined to his home, on doctors orders, and that he would hear the case there. In addition to the attorneys and village officials, about a dozen residents of the village had come to the hearing.

The Judge greeted us at the door and invited every one to come into his beautiful home where we spent the entire day. I am very grateful to the case.

Judge and Mrs. Holland for their gracious hospitality and I pray that God will bless them in the years ahead as Judge Holland is retiring from the bench after many years of distinguished service to the residents of Oakland County.

Fatness Not Funny Says U-M Doctor In Uniform

The world may love a fat man, as the saying goes. But the fat man's doctor worries about his patient's health. The chief reason is the high death rate among those who are overweight, reports Dr. Park W. Willis, III, of The University of Michigan Medical Center.

"The obese patient is more likely to develop certain diseases that may be fatal or that may have fatal complications. These include diabetes, hardening of the arteries, strokes, high blood pressure, heart attacks, and gall bladder, liver and kidney diseases. "Even cancer has been found to be more common in fat people,"

Dr. Willis says. The overweight person also has a harder time recovering from serious illnesses, operations and accidents, says the U-M physician. In addition, he suffers other annoying physical symptoms and emotional difficulties. "He tires easily, often develops flat feet and arthritis of the knees. Heat bothers him. He flushes and sweats and is prone to develop certain skin conditions.

His solution: convince the overweight to eat less and maintain an "ideal" weight. The next visit of Goodwill Industries pickup trucks to Northville is scheduled for Monday. Goodwill trucks collect household discards of clothing, shoes, hats, toys, most types of furniture and other household discards.

To arrange for a Goodwill Industries truck pickup, ask the operator for toll-free Enterprise 7002.

Dr. Willis lists obesity as the "commonest single disease in the United States today."

Worms, Germany — Melvin L. Hopkins, son of Mrs. Anna R. Hopkins, 19320 Gerald avenue, recently was promoted to specialist-four in Germany where he is a member of the 48th Infantry.

Specialist Hopkins, a rifleman in the infantry's Company D in Worms, entered the Army in April 1961, completed basic training at Fort Knox, Kentucky, and arrived overseas in February 1962.

The 19-year-old soldier attended Northville High school.

Bible readings will include this passage from Psalms (42: 11): "Why art thou cast down, O my soul? and why art thou disquieted within me? hope thou in God: for I shall yet praise him, who is the health of my countenance, and my God."

Other passages will emphasize the Christian science teaching that man's real soul is not something in the material body, but the one infinite Soul, or God. Also included will be this sentence from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy (p. 60): "Soul has infinite resources with which to bless mankind, and happiness would be more readily attained and would be more secure in our keeping, if sought in Soul."

It is no accident that Boy Scout Sunday and Race Relations Sunday are the same day and so near to Lincoln's birthday. For Abraham Lincoln said, "He who denies freedom to others deserves none for himself."

Scouting recognizes the place of religion in the life of the Scout, the individual, and well as the group. A part of the Scout life is to live a worthy religious life. The 12th point of the Scout Law recognizes and expresses the place of religion in life — "A Scout is reverent." Or the Oath: "On my honor I will do my best to do my duty to God ... to help other people at all times..."

Lincoln's thought and the goal of Scouting both may be summarized in two concerns: 1) our relationship with God, and 2) our relationship with other people.

We only have to review the events of the past year to realize the desperate need for proper relationships between 1) ourselves and God and 2) ourselves and our fellowman. We have seen great tragedy in the lives of our fellowman because of conflict between races, mistreatment of some by others, inequality of opportunity for education and housing and employment by many, and the results of a few who incited their hatreds through others.

In the midst of injustice and tragedy of conflict some would rephrase the hymn as follows:
O God, I'm really not a cad,
The things I do are not so bad,
My actions on the whole are right,
All praise to Thee, my God, this night.
My tiny sins thou canst pass by,
The spiteful word, the little lie,
and then I can give thanks aright,
For all the blessing of the light.

My pedacillos are so few
Compared to what my neighbors do.
From their misdeeds (such frightful things!)
Keep me, O keep me, King of Kings.
But Jesus taught us to love our neighbors, our fellowman, and to seek justice for them. St. Paul said, "For in Christ you are all sons of God through faith. There is neither Jew nor Greek, there is neither slave nor free, there is neither male nor female for you are all in Christ Jesus (Galatians 3:26-28)."

We can only pray the prayer of St. Francis, of Assisi:
Lord, make me an instrument of Thy peace.
Where there is hate, may I bring love;
Where offense, may I bring pardon;
May I bring union in place of discord;
Truth, replacing error;
Faith, where once there was doubt;
Hope, for despair,
Light, where was darkness;
Joy to replace sadness.
Make me not to so crave to be loved as to love.
Help me to learn that in giving I may receive;
In forgetting self, I may find life eternal."

News From Wixom

Mrs. Charles Ware MA 4-1601
Mrs. Cal Stafford was hostess to the knitting club on Tuesday, February 12.

On Sunday, February 17 the annual meeting of Hickory Hills civic association will take place at the V.F.W. hall at 4 p.m. Dues will be collected and the members will be presented with a slate for new officers who will be elected at the March meeting.

Mrs. Charles Janke and daughter Jennifer were weekend guests of her parents while her husband coached Southfield students at Grand Rapids. On Sunday, February 10 Miss Hilda Furman traveled to the Toledo art museum to see the Versailles exhibit which consisted of paintings, tapestries, rugs, glass, furniture, etc.

From Toledo the exhibit will travel to San Francisco. Thirty guests attended a surprise party honoring Mrs. Joseph Stadnik on her birthday. The party was held at the Stadnik home.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Pennell treated their parents, the Frank Pennells on their 52nd wedding anniversary on Sunday, February 10.

Mrs. Charles Ramsay is convalescing at her home having had surgery at Pontiac Osteopathic.

On Wednesday, February 6 the entire Kitson family — Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Kitson, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Shellon, Mrs. Beulah Potvin visited their cousins in Flint.

Mrs. Stadnik reports that 50 pints of blood were donated to the Blood Bank last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Kettunen of Detroit were dinner guests on Sunday, February 10 of Mr. and Mrs. Berle Dean at the surprise party which was held for Rev. and Mrs. Caes. Surprise guests were Mr. Caes' father, two brothers and an uncle. There were over one hundred guests present.

On Saturday February 9 Mrs. Norman Brackett was hostess at a surprise birthday party honoring Mr. Charles McCall. Twelve guests were present.

Cutler states there is no evidence to suggest concern at the elementary level. "The demand for excellence is good in that it teaches the child to use his gifts to capacity and gives him the satisfaction of attaining a goal," he says.

It is bad for the group of children whom Cutler calls "losers" because "they do not have the ability to achieve these high standards. Also, since parents and schools tend to judge only on performance, they lose track of the human part of the child," he says.

"This concern for academic achievement is motivated by four factors," he says. "First, our society is a system based on competition and achievement, and second, World War II adults have achieved a phenomenal level of material success which has produced a materialistic society."

The third point Cutler calls a "beat the Russians" attitude. "This has fostered accelerated and enriched programs to maintain our number one position. Last, the accelerated pace of modern life and the pressure to hurry have an impact on the child."

Parents in the middle class have a tendency to make their children feel like failures when they are actually pretty good kids, says Richard L. Cutler, University of Michigan associate professor of psychology.

"Parents should let their children do what they can, not set impossible standards, and should set good examples for excellence in their own work," Cutler urges.

The U-M educator notes that "there is an increased national concern today as to whether a child's academic achievement is a true measure of his capacity."

Mrs. Rena Linder celebrated her birthday February 6 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Branch in Walled Lake. Mr. and Mrs. Diana Branch, their daughter and the Keith Branch children were also present.

Returning home from church on Sunday, Mrs. Linder was surprised to find company waiting for her. They were her nephew and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Don Linder of Lansing and Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Webb of Sheridan. They brought a cake in honor of their aunt's birthday.

Mark Ortwein, one year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Ortwein, was brought home from the Osteopathic hospital in Pontiac Sunday evening where he had been for the past week.

Mrs. Theo Poling of Ypsilanti is visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Al Potchard this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Johnson Jr. and children of Trenton were guests of their aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Race on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Andy Burgess spent last Sunday with Burgess' brother and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Pova of Wilson at Fowlerville. The Leon Wilsons of Howell were also present. The occasion was to celebrate the birthday of Mrs. Burgess and her sister-in-laws, whose birthdays all occur in February.

The Andy Burgess family also recently visited Mr. and Mrs. Frank Burgess in Gregory, Burgess' brother and sister-in-law.

Mrs. Helen Hallaman is home recuperating after a stay in St. Mary's hospital, Livonia. David Branch, son of Mr. and Mrs. Keith Branch, is out of school this week. He is recovering from a slight concussion resulting from an accident at home last week.

Sunday company at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Coleman were Mrs. Coleman's sister, Mrs. Mabel Smith, her grandchildren from Ypsilanti and her aunt, Mrs. Lily Balgaard, and her niece, Sylvia Balgaard. Saturday evening guests at the Lloyd Coleman home were Mr. and Mrs. Ken Elberling and son, David and daughter Cindy from Fenton.

Mrs. Eugene Dallas had a birthday February 7. A group of friends and relatives helped her celebrate at a party Saturday evening. Those who came were Mr. and Mrs. John Finch, Mr. and Mrs. Emery Green, Mrs. Orba Warner and Mrs. Loretta Lahr.

Noel F'Gepert spent the weekend with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Erwin F'Gepert. Noel is starting the new semester at Eastern Michigan university and is again on the dean's list.

R. E. Wendland is a patient in St. Mary hospital. He will undergo major surgery later in the week.

Mrs. Jack Schwartz of Pontiac was a Thursday visitor at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Smith.

Explorer Scouts
Explorer Scouts Post No. 119 met last Tuesday. They practiced some of the scout skills for their Polar Bear badge and they made plans to go to the Metropolis in Windsor for a smorgasbord dinner March 2. After the business meeting, they played basketball.

Novi Boy Scouts
Boy Scout Troop No. 54 held its annual dinner at 2 p.m. Sunday in the Novi Community hall. There were 106 parents and children present.

Levon Taffralian, John Campbell and Allen Barnett were given tenderfoot awards. Year pins were awarded to the scouts and committee members.

Mr. Totten and Mr. Tymensky were each given a cake from the troop in appreciation of the time spent working with the troop. The bear patrol gave Mr. Totten and Mr. Tymensky a framed picture of all the boys in the patrol. A skit was presented to the troop by the Warrior patrol.

Novi Girl Scouts
Senior troop met at the home of Mrs. Kriedeman. The girls continued their plans for the summer which include a trip to the Upper Peninsula. Mrs. F'Gepert, cookie chairman, distributed materials. Special guests were Mrs. Brooks and Mrs. Cook. This troop is also registering this month and would like to encourage any girls who are 14 or in the ninth grade to join the troop.

Novi Northville schools this week reported absenteeism to be about 10 percent above the normal 10 percent due to a round of winter "flu." Dr. R. M. Atchison noted, however, that the virus was "generally less severe" than last year's and that an epidemic is not in sight.

Intermediate Troop No. 149 made plans at their meeting for attending the Island Lake roller rink February 20 from 4-6 p.m. There will be a court of honor meeting for this troop Monday afternoon. Mrs. MacBride, leader of this troop, is completing her training this week.

Intermediate Troop No. 550 had Mrs. Louis Chismark as special guest and she spoke regarding life in Australia for the girls requirement on international friendship. She showed pictures and various objects. Sandra Harshorne had treats for the troop.

Brownie Troop No. 391 made plans for a Valentine party and ice skating at their meeting. Andy Anderson and Carol Polunas brought treats.

Brownie Troop No. 145 and Brownie Troop No. 891 will both resume meetings in the very near future, however, there is still need for leaders at the Orchard Hills school.

All girls from troop No. 1023 are urged to call troop organizer and become registered with another troop immediately so there will not be a lapse in their membership. There is room for additional girls in Intermediate Troop No. 550, Intermediate Troop No. 149 and Intermediate Troop No. 1027.

Brownie Troop No. 913 went ice skating at their last meeting at the Northville City pond. Mrs. Ritchie was special guest and helped to furnish transportation. Valerie Pinner brought treats.

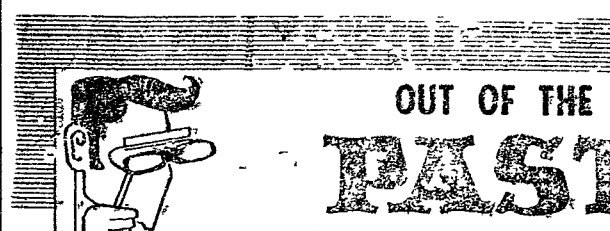

Intermediate Troop No. 1027 had a flag ceremony, received cookie information, made plans for their birthday party and played "Stirring the Stew." Linda Krogg brought treats, and they finished with closing circle.

Troop meeting was led by Mrs. Ward and Mrs. Taffralian in the absence of Mrs. Lyke.

The cookie sale is continuing through this week. There is a variety of five different kinds: four-flavored sandwich, chocolate and vanilla. Scout-teas, mints and savannahs. Last day for orders is February 16, delivery is March 22-30. Neighborhood cookie chairman is Mrs. Jirvel Ratcliffe at FI 9-7609.

Mrs. Albert McRobbie, mother of Mrs. Ray LaFond of Clark street, Novi, died in her home in Royal Oak February 7.

Funeral services were held in Royal Oak Monday with burial in the Holy Sepulcher cemetery.

—A Northville city ordinance, which has been revised by the Northville Planning commission, is scheduled for a public hearing on February 27. The ordinance which will be sent to the city council for final approval if approved by planners, will do away with overhanging signs and limit their size.

—Representatives from eight schools in the Wayne-Oakland league choir will give a concert here next Thursday at 10 a.m. in the high school auditorium. The 96-voice choir will sing eight selections.

—The Northville board of education Monday night adopted a new policy governing the use of buses and passes for admission to sports contest. The recommended policy changes were submitted by Superintendent Russell Amerman.

—The elementary and secondary Northville schools this week reported absenteeism to be about 10 percent above the normal 10 percent due to a round of winter "flu." Dr. R. M. Atchison noted, however, that the virus was "generally less severe" than last year's and that an epidemic is not in sight.

—Only an extension of the 1957 racing season saved Northville Downs and Northville. In fact, the jump from 35 to 38 nights of racing saw an increase of revenue over the previous year. The city received $80,289 in tax rebates as against $85,000 in 1956, the commissioner's office reported.

—The Northville city council began a careful study of the city's nearly completed reappraisal program Monday night. Councilmen are expected to soon come up with assessment ratios on both real and personal property.

—Walker L. Couse and company of Detroit was named general contractor last week for the new Northville school by the board of education. Speaking for the school board, President Sch... said that the Couse firm was chosen for the project because the board has been satisfied with the company's past work in the school district.

Art of History and Today

By JESSIE HUDSON

Surrounded as we are by churches and college buildings built with soaring spires and pinnacles in the Gothic manner it is hard for us to believe that this, to us, classical ecclesiastical style was ever considered crude.

In 1600 a pupil of Michelangelo described the buildings of the middle ages as "a fantastic heap of spires, pinnacles and grotesque decorations lacking in all the simple beauty of the classical orders." The prejudice against this kind of architecture continued into the nineteenth century when it began to be admired again. It is currently in full favor and some of the principles employed in the building of Gothic cathedrals are embodied in some of our modern skyscrapers.

It is impossible to talk about Gothic art and not stress the architecture of this period and even the purely artistic contributions of that time sculpture and stained glass windows were related, to architecture rather than separate forms by themselves. Sculpture was planned to enhance the buildings and to decorate functional structures. Wood carvings of beautifully designed geometric floral motifs were used lavishly throughout interiors and on outside doors on which even the hinges and locks were exquisite works of art.

But it is stained glass windows for which this period is most admired. Like jewels in delicately ornate settings of stone, their rich colors cast a burning glow of mysterious and changing light over the interiors of Gothic cathedrals. At first these windows were closely related to illuminated Manuscripts in style, the figures stiff and distorted surrounded by bands of intricate floral and leaf designs. Later windows of exceptional beauty treated the figure, as did the early Christian mosaics, in an idealized, other-worldly way, but with the forms attenuated and exaggerated in height.

The term "stained glass" is rightly applied to glass which has been colored by fusing metallic oxides into the glass. Later artists found new metallic oxides such as copper for green tones, cobalt for blue, manganese for purple and silver for yellow, to make more variety in hue of the translucent mosaics. Glass, too, became thinner and stronger towards the end of the middle ages and a technique known as "flashing" came into use. This involved dipping clear glass while still pliant into molten colored glass so that a thin enamel-like covering of the colored glass coated the clear thin glass.

An integral part of stained-glass mosaic windows is the lead stripping which holds the built Coventry Cathedral windows in Coventry, England. A handsome use of colored glass in a simple, clean-lined modern manner is the cross in the garden of the Episcopal church on Sheldon road, Plymouth.

By the seventeenth and eighteenth centuries the old techniques had disappeared and the art of stained glass was virtually dead. However, recent revitalizing of the art has resulted in some interesting modern treatments, notably the re-lead stripping which holds the built Coventry Cathedral windows in Coventry, England. A handsome use of colored glass in a simple, clean-lined modern manner is the cross in the garden of the Episcopal church on Sheldon road, Plymouth.

Plaster Pouring, Painting Fun

For 123 Novi youngsters (at right) Saturday morning from 10 a.m. until noon has been "plaster and paint time" every week since the first of December. Classes were concluded last Saturday with plenty of evidence of accomplishment — like Candy Beach and Mary Pat McKeon (l. to r.) in picture above. The classes in plaster pouring and painting have been sponsored by the Novi Protective Committee of which Leon Dochol is chairman. Volunteer adult workers in the project were Mrs. Mary Louise Taylor, Pamela Harnden, Mrs. Patricia Rowley, Eugenie Choquet, Russell Stevenson, Mrs. Helen Harnden and Richard Riffert, Jr.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES
LANSING, MICHIGAN

REPORT from LANSING

By PAUL CHANDLER

LANSING — Telephone rate differences in the most equitable manner. I would think you would want to be present at these hearings and have requested our staff to notify you when they are scheduled.

In recent days we have accumulated a host of letters of support from all parts of the 21st district, plus many other petitions of the metropolitan area. The City of Livonia of fidelity has joined the battle, on orders from Mayor Moelke, and Mrs. Natalie Shirley of Livonia also has submitted a formal complaint about unfair phone rate inequities.

This is to recommend that all other Townships and Cities who share the belief that there is inequity in the phone rates join the legal proceedings. A phone call to assistant city attorney Charles Forrest in Livonia (GA 1-2000) would yield light on how to proceed.

Today I received a letter from Chairman Burns which indicates his commission will give serious and full treatment to the subject Burns wrote in part:

"Your recent letter to Governor Romney regarding the telephone problem has been forwarded to us for consideration and reply.

"The staff has furnished a report on the January 22 meeting in our conference room that you attended. It is our information that the meeting did not result in an acceptable solution.

"This Commission is vitally interested in the telephone service problem in all of our rapidly growing suburbs and has in the past taken many steps to alleviate what it could of the irritating situations.

"These complaints will be heard by the Commission and we will attempt to resolve the

One bill which will be voted upon in the House of Representatives this week would permit Townships to spread special assessment payments for fire protection facilities and equipment over 20 years. Today they must be paid in five annual installments.

The bill was offered because some groups of townships need a lot of equipment in a hurry and the five year payoff is hard for the taxpayers to handle.

My own belief is that 10 years would be sufficient relief (the interest charges on 20 year borrowing are huge) but I'll vote "aye" in any case. We have some local townships in our District who might find the change helpful in beefing up their fire protection now. In Redford township, for example, they have been attempting for a long time to have their fire insurance rating improved, a change which would lower the cost of fire insurance for every resident. This new law might expedite the solution.

Over in the Senate, Frank Beadle is about ready to introduce his perennial bill which would reduce the amount of race tax revenue returned to the communities in which tracks are located. (Livonia, Northville, Hazel Park, Jackson.)

Sen. Beadle says his bill would "reduce the rebate in annual stages."

The Senator has been promoting this type of bill for several years and may have some new tactics in mind this time. It hasn't even been assigned to committee yet, but this is to be heard by the Commission and serve warning to all concerned that it's coming ... again.

Named LIT Registrar

ROBERT L. HART of Northville has been appointed registrar of Lawrence Institute of Technology. He succeeds Miss Genevieve G. Dooley, who is retiring in June after 30 years with the college. After joining the LIT staff in September, 1959, Hart was appointed assistant registrar last fall. He earned a Master of Arts degree at Ohio State university and also studied at the University of Wisconsin, the University of Chicago and Northwestern university. Prior to coming to LIT, he was dean of the Evening School at Chrysler Institute of Engineering for seven years. Hart also has teaching experience — seven years at Defiance (O.) and Maumee (O.) high schools and two years at Stephens college, Columbia, Mo. He and his wife live at 915 North Center. They have three sons, 11, 17 and 19.

SPEAKING for The Record

by Bill Sliger

About 50 Northville township voters turned out Monday night to see and hear the Republican slate of candidates running in next Monday's primary election.

As most followers of township affairs know, the only competition on the ballot appears within the GOP ranks for the offices of supervisor and trustee.

The session didn't advance beyond the stage of polite exchanges — as political discussions are often wont to do — but a few sensitive areas were opened for inspection.

For example — Elsie Price, candidate for supervisor, spoke out against the proposed salary hikes for supervisor, clerk and treasurer on the basis that they are excessive in relation to additional township services.

Wilson Tyler, trustee candidate, supported this viewpoint, adding that "part of the pay is in the personal satisfaction one gets in serving his community."

Clerk Marguerite Northup Young upheld the proposed raises and cited a long list of clerk duties to justify the hike.

She was supported by Treasurer Alex Lawrence and Daniel Brown, trustee candidate.

Trustee A. M. Merriam, candidate for supervisor, didn't voice an opinion. Instead he said it was a matter for the people to decide at the annual meeting.

In our opinion, he's right. The board should be prepared to support its recommendations at the public meeting.

The pay hikes may then be upheld, reduced or blocked at the annual meeting — which this year is scheduled two days before the April 1 election — on Saturday, March 30.

The proposed increases — as reported in a page one Record story on December 6 — would boost the supervisor from $4,000 to $4,800, the clerk from $3,200 to $4,200 and the treasurer from $3,200 to $4,000 annually.

The sensitive subject of landfills also arose. Everyone agreed that eventually the holes created by gravel mining in the township must be filled, converting the areas to usable, taxable land.

But no one was prepared to suggest a means for filling aside from the use of a combination of trash and dirt cover.

Candidate Price called for a study to determine policy and reclamation "on our terms."

Candidate Merriam (who pointed out his residence is surrounded by gravel mining operations) noted the urgency of maintaining proper controls — and not forcing court action that might eventually strip the township of these controls.

Brown and Tyler followed similar lines of reasoning, but the latter stressed the need for "better communication" with the people—a point he referred to as a plank in his platform.

Tyler would like advance agendas published in the newspaper plus follow-ups of the business results.

This is an area where we're sensitive. But we'll admit there's room for improvement — at the township level. Sometimes we feel like we're on the outside looking in the window of township affairs, many of which develop outside the official meetings.

This same condition does not exist in the city — due in great part to frequency of meetings and heavier amounts of business to report.

In fairness, it should be stated that strong efforts have been made by Supervisor George Clark to improve the flow of public information through the press.

But, it's an area that requires constant attention — by the public and elected officials, as well as the press itself. And it's important to add (from a newspaper standpoint) that we're not looking for publicity hand-outs — just the facts.

Now for some conclusions. I like to feel that a newspaper editor has a responsibility to his readers to recommend a candidate, or a position on an issue, based on his own observations and close contact with local affairs.

If I were casting my vote in the township, I would choose Merriam and Tyler. But it would be a difficult choice, indeed.

Mrs Price is waging a spirited campaign. She's intelligent, industrious and an independent thinker. What's more, she's vitally interested in her township and informed on its affairs — and few township citizens can boast these characteristics.

But Merriam is the solid choice. He has experience that will be important to the immediate future. And I sincerely believe he will grow in the job once he is rid of the responsibilities of his county engineering post.

Why Tyler? I don't really know. His criticism is often caustic, but his qualifications cannot be ignored.

I like and respect Brown. He is well qualified. But he is the "inside" choice.

Consequently, it is most likely that he will be elected, despite these opinions.

Personally, I'd like to see an "outsider" on the township board. One who has not been handpicked.

And in my opinion, Tyler would be a good starter — one who could become a valuable asset to the township board.

Michigan Mirror

Credit for Surplus Argued

THE VICIOUS circle of political credit-taking is an interesting phenomena to watch. A recent example of a dispute over pride of accomplishment came when Gov. George Romney presented his budget message to the Legislature. He said some $34.6 million surplus would result at the end of the current fiscal year. Some $33 million of this, he proposed, should be applied to the state's current deficit.

Gov. John B. Swainson made a similar pronouncement a few weeks before the end of his two-year term. Citing savings accomplished under his administration, Swainson then estimated the surplus at $35 million. THE DEMOCRATS now without the attractive public forum automatically provided to the party which holds the executive office, would very much like to take credit for reducing the deficit.

Ever since 1959 when the fiscal crisis of a "payless pay-day" brought national attention to Michigan's problems, the Democrats were largely given the blame for creating the deficit. Their voices were tempted to shift the blame to the Republican controlled Legislature.

THERE IS no doubt that the surplus to be counted on July 1 will be a remainder from the Swainson administration, since his budget runs through the end of the current fiscal year. The likelihood of his party getting credit for creating the surplus is very small, however. Legislative records will show that the surplus is largely the result of a $77 million "nuisance tax" package passed during 1962. The same record will show Democrats in the Legislature fought the tax down to the wire and in the end provided only the bare minimum of votes necessary to pass the package through both houses.

The same record will show that Swainson voiced publicly his reluctance in letting the tax bills become law without his signature. It is rare when a Governor attempts to take credit for a law which on passage he did not approve by signing it into effect.

GAMBLING, prohibited by law, is practiced in one particular way almost daily in Michigan, according to State Health Commissioner Dr. Albert E. Heustis.

"If you sit in a parked car with the motor running, you're taking a gamble with death," he said.

At least a dozen young people, and at least 45 persons of all ages, have been killed by carbon monoxide poisoning in the early part of this winter, said Heustis.

THE LACK of wisdom of sitting in a parked car with the motor running is never realized until it's too late, because there is no fool-proof method of detecting the silent deadly carbon monoxide.

The victims are usually overcome rather suddenly without warning, because the rapid buildup of carbon monoxide causes the occupants of the vehicle to be overcome without experiencing the headache, nausea and smarting eyes which are common symptoms of exposure to the fumes.

Because of the high incidence of carbon monoxide deaths among young couples in parked cars, Heustis has issued a special request for parents to impress upon their children the danger of such a practice.

"The best way to prevent accidental carbon monoxide exposure in a car is simply never to sit in one with the motor running and all the windows closed," said Heustis.

IF YOU WANT a job well done, seek an expert at it. This is exactly what the Michigan Week officials have done in naming a chairman for Hospitality Day during the May job service.

Win Schuler of Marshall well-known for his four restaurants, plays host to thousands of visitors to the state every day.

As head of the planning for Hospitality Day during Michigan's annual "brag week," Schuler is urging every community to carry on activities to demonstrate its friendliness to visitors.

AS IN previous years, Schuler hopes communities will provide free meals, entertainment, gifts and parking, or just official greetings to visitors coming into Michigan from other states.

His recipe calls for presenting Michigan as "America's Hospitalityland." The ingredients are a friendly greeting and a gracious invitation to visit, mixed with a bowl of friendship and good fellowship.

In 1870 the city of Lincoln, Nebraska had only 2,441 residents. Today it has over 128,000. Omaha had only 16,083 people when I was a boy and visited my uncle there, but by 1900 it had 102,555 residents, and now has over 300,000.

Kansas City was a straggling village of about 5,000, but soon became a city of 42,000. As late as 1900 the map of Missouri showed a great unhabited swampland stretching across the southeast corner of the state. This swamp area has since been drained, bringing over a half-million acres of most fertile land into cultivation.

No longer ago than 1870, Oklahoma (then Indian Territory) had only 2,407 white residents. In 1900, Oklahoma City (then only 11 years old) had a population of 10,037. Today, its population is well over the 325,000 mark. Tulsa, founded in 1887 had but 1,390 residents in 1900. By 1960 this "village" had become a booming city of 261,685 people.

IN 1904 Oklahoma had only 1,123 manufacturing establishments which employed 7,456. By 1958 the census credited the state with 2,387 industrial plants employing 92,933 people. Of our 180,000,000 people, 20,000,000 live in twenty large cities near the sea coast. These are the cities that Russia would destroy with missiles fired from Soviet territory, or from submarines (which both Russia and the United States are hurriedly building).

Unfortunately, my business is located just outside of Boston; but I am urging my grandchildren to move to the central portion of this country. There they will be assured of food, clothing, and shelter — together with oil, gas, and other natural resources.

Owing to the missiles which we now have buried in this heartland country, it would suffer some losses, but one's chances would be a thousand times better than in one of the large Eastern or Pacific cities. Hence, for either safety or land speculation, I recommend one of the six states in the Magic Circle, of which Eureka, Kansas, is the center.

These six states are Iowa, Missouri, Nebraska, Kansas, Oklahoma, and Arkansas.

Council of Churches Endorses Constitution

Michigan's proposed new constitution has gained the endorsement of the Michigan Council of Churches, a group representing a million church people from 19 denominations. The Council is the most recent organization to act favorably on the new document which will be voted upon at the April 1, 1963, election.

The council, through its board of directors and annual general assembly delegates, recorded its stand in a resolution that said:

"It is our judgment that the new constitution, while not perfect, is a tremendous step beyond the present constitution and offers so many opportunities for good that we recommend its adoption."

"Important reasons" for the stand were listed as follows: The new constitution "will have the best civil rights section of any state constitution, both in its 'equal protection clause' and provision of a mandatory civil rights commission."

It makes "significant advances in correcting inequities in legislative apportionment, and yet provides for the unusual problem of population concentration in one part of the state and the existence of three major economies in Michigan — industry, agriculture and tourism."

It "strengthens local government in many areas, including the provision that permits optional home rule for counties and the opportunity to develop a form of government suitable to their changing needs."

It places Michigan in a better economic position, through the order for uniform assessment of property at 50 per cent

WHEN YOU HEAT WITH NATURAL GAS IT'S HARD TO BELIEVE THAT

January this year was one of the coldest we've had in many years

Throughout most of the month gas appliances worked harder than usual. Your gas furnace worked overtime—maintaining the steady, even, comfortable temperatures that you and your family have come to demand and enjoy. The gas water heater was busier too, because the water coming into the home was colder than normal. More hot meals and beverages were prepared for cold weather menus.

This helps explain why your gas bill for January was higher than usual. It really is easy to forget how cold it has been when you let automatic gas heat take over your heating worries.

COMPARED WITH OTHER LIVING COSTS, GAS IS ONE OF THE BIGGEST BARGAINS IN THE FAMILY BUDGET
