

Has Old Spring Sprung Leak?

What's happened to Northville's famous "Old Spring?" Councilwoman Beatrice Carlson asked this question at the council table Monday night.

Hundreds of "customers" of the spring are asking the question every day.

Its flow is down to a mere trickle.

"It used to take two seconds to fill a gallon jug, now it takes two minutes," said one Detroit man. "I know, I've been getting water here for 20 years."

A Plymouth man, Joe Valovage, said he has been getting water from the Northville spring for five years. "It takes so long now, that I've been trying for two days," he stated.

Like other users of Northville spring water, Valovage complained that there's always a long waiting line because it has become so slow.

Another Detroit man reported that he had visited the spring at 2 a.m. and had to wait in line.

Councilwoman Carlson thinks that a water line may have cracked underground.

Mayor A. M. Allen pointed out Monday night that it always slows down in the cold winter months.

"But it's never been this slow," claim the longtime users.

The mayor instructed the city engineer to investigate.

Why just a trickle? Northville Councilwoman Beatrice Carlson asks Old Spring water users.

Eye Plans On Interim City Hall

The city council Monday night set about preparing itself for "the big move" — from the present city hall to temporary quarters while a new building is constructed.

Northville learned last week that its bid for a $137,000 federal grant had been approved for construction of a new city hall, library, police and fire department facility.

Matching funds for the project will come from monies acquired by sale of the community building to the school district.

Monday night the council directed the city manager and city attorney to make a firm offer for the Geraghty residence, 122 North W. It was reported that the asking price of the property is higher than a city-acquired appraisal.

The house, located just north of Main on the east side of the street, would serve as a temporary city hall and later be torn down for alley and parking use.

Council is pressed by the fact that it must move by about mid-April. City hall construction must begin May 1 under terms of the federal public works acceleration act.

The proposal to purchase the Geraghty property for approximately $20,000 was opposed by Councilman Juday, but supported by the other four council members.

In other business pertaining to the new city hall the council instructed the city manager to inform tenants of the city hall, the Arnold Teshkas, that they must seek new living quarters by April 15.

The council also reviewed figures for janitorial service for the new city hall as well as a "cadet plan" to provide 24-hour attendance and answering service. With jail facilities a full time attendant is necessary.

Manager Bruce Potthoff noted the additional cost for maintenance and full time attendant would probably amount to $4,200 annually.

In other business in a long agenda Monday night the council:

—approved first reading of the new code of ordinances for the city of Northville; updating and revision (codification) of ordinances is mandatory under the charter and has been a multi-year council chore.

—passed a proclamation to urge residents to study the proposed new constitution to become better informed and then vote as they see fit; Mayor A. M. Allen and Councilman Richard Ambler favored a stronger resolution that would have urged a "yes" vote but it was vetoed by Councilmembers John Canterbury, Beatrice Carlson and Richard Juday.

"I'm for the new document, but believe it has become a partisan issue that we as a non-partisan council should not enter," Canterbury stated.

—approved rezoning of a residence at 119 West Cady from R-3 to C-2.

Public Sale of 500 Acres Proposed at Maybury

A proposal to classify some 500 acres of Detroit-owned Maybury sanatorium property as "surplus" and offer it for public sale was revealed this week by the Detroit planning commission.

Sale of the property could lead to expanded use of Maybury sanatorium as the chief TB sanatorium for the city of Detroit.

The proposal to dispose of the property was revealed in a letter to the Northville township planning commission which must consider zoning the acreage if it is sold.

Two parcels are included, one on each side of the existing Maybury buildings, (See map).

A 387-acre parcel fronts mainly on Eight Mile road extending southward on Napier nearly one half mile. A narrow strip also extends through to Seven Mile road.

A 132-acre parcel, which would appear to be a choice development area, extends the entire length of Beck road from Seven Mile to Eight Mile with the exception of existing medical director and doctors' homesites.

The parcel includes the old main entrance to the sanatorium grounds at Seven Mile and Beck roads and an area once used as a fresh air camp. It also contains a lake and a spring.

Sale of the property will restore it to the tax rolls of the township and undoubtedly result in a development of homesites.

Owned by the Detroit city health department, the land has long been considered "surplus," Health Commissioner Dr. C. P. Anderson stated this week.

He said that money from the sale is needed to bring about the shifting of patients from Herman Keifer hospital, Detroit's other TB facility, to Maybury.

Dr. Anderson explained it this way:

"We want to move psychopathic patients from Receiving Hospital to Herman Keifer. There are now four wards at Receiving and we need this room. To prepare Herman Keifer for these mental patients would require alterations estimated at some $250,000. If we get this money, we'll transfer some 300 TB patients from Herman Keifer to Maybury."

Northville Township Planning Chairman Gunnar Stromberg said the parcels would undoubtedly be highly desirable property and would be zoned residential.

He said that representatives of the Detroit city plan commission and Northville planners were going to inspect the property Saturday.

Merchants, City Discuss Parking

Off-street parking, past and present, made news at a dinner meeting of the Northville Retail Merchants Association last week.

First the merchants made the final $250 payment to the city on a long-standing obligation of $10,000 towards the purchase and improvement of the so-called "Hill lot".

And secondly, the retailers revealed a plan to form a parking fund through wide participation from all area business, both retail and professional.

Guest speakers at the meeting were Mayor A. M. Allen and Councilman John Canterbury, city members of the parking committee along with Retailers Essie Nirider and Fred Kester.

The merchants' total payment of $10,000 for the "Hill lot", which has its entrance from Main street between Wing and Center and extends to Dunlap, equals about half the total cost to the city. Merchants paid their share by voluntary contributions.

Nirider and Kester proposed a "one dollar per week" parking fund plan with perhaps as many as 100 businessmen contributing to the fund. Essentially, the money would be used to improve existing lots, provide signs, lights and apply to wards purchase.

It was explained by Mayor Allen and Canterbury that the council is vitally interested in the economic growth of the business district, but that it must have merchant support and help in off-street parking development.

They noted that the city had recently purchased the Main street lot across from the theatre and proposed that merchants should consider improvement of the lot.

The parking committee members also outlined a plan for removal of all parking meters from off-street lots coupled with strict enforcement of street meters.

Mayor Allen also cited a need for an "employees' parking lot". A survey revealed, he said, that more than 70 cars belonging to downtown employees are parked daily in prime shopping spaces. He called upon merchants to consider creation of such a lot.

Councilman Canterbury noted the importance of a strong shopping center to the community, "both as a convenience to residents and as a good tax base for our city." He pointed out that the council felt a responsibility to preserve and foster the central shopping district.

"With news of our new city hall and library plus the possibility of a post office and perhaps a factory expansion we're moving in the right direction. It could snowball," said Canterbury.

Northville Vetos 9th Grade Split

EDITOR'S NOTE — The statement below was submitted to this newspaper Tuesday after an editorial appearing on the back page of section two was locked in page forms and ready for press. The editorial takes the school board and administration to task for considering the division of the 1963-64 ninth grade class. School leaders apparently reached this conclusion without our help.

"The Northville Board of Education, in a special Committee-of-the-Whole meeting held Monday, March 4, 1963, carefully reviewed the results of a questionnaire sent to all parents of eighth grade pupils attending Northville Junior High School.

"This questionnaire outlined a proposal of placing about one-third of the ninth grade in the Junior High and two-thirds in the High School. Pupils would have been divided according to: course selected, geographical location of home and wishes of the parent.

"The results of the questionnaire indicated that a large majority of the parents preferred to have their children attend the Northville High School in the fall of 1963.

"Housing the ninth grade at Northville High school will mean that every available space will have to be used every hour of the day. Extra lockers and furniture will have to be provided, some class sizes will have to be increased. The auditorium will have to be used for classes and certain laboratories will have to be used in shifts.

"It had been hoped that sufficient number of parents would approve housing at least three sections of the ninth grade in the Junior High where classroom space is available. This would have given experience in handling grades 7, 8 and 9 in the Junior High building during the 1963-64 school year, since it is the intent to house 7th, 8th and 9th grade pupils in the Junior High School beginning in September 1964. At that time the Northville High School will house 10th, 11th and 12th grades only."

We Want Olympics

Northville's city council and township board adopted identical resolutions in separate meetings this week indicating support of Detroit's bid for the 1968 Olympics.

The resolutions are intended to help the Detroit Olympic committee re-win its exclusive designation as U. S. representative in bidding for the games.

Further, it was suggested by the resolution that residents send cards of support to the Detroit Olympics Committee, Veterans Memorial Building, Detroit 26.

Policy Split Flares

Water, Sewers Plague Township

Water — and sewers — are bringing mounting headaches to Northville township on a variety of fronts, and ironically, the township to date has neither.

Last week a breach between the thinking of Supervisor George Clark and his fellow members on the township water and sewer commission, Clerk Marguerite Young and Treasurer A. M. Lawrence, was made public.

And Tuesday night both water and sewer complaints were tossed at the township board. The difficulty between Clark and his water and sewer commission members stems from a proposal by the supervisor that a water and sewer department be established with a part time manager.

The proposal was greeted with little enthusiasm by Mrs. Young and Lawrence promptly called Clark to cancel a meeting for the purpose of reviewing the plan.

Supervisor Clark believes that the time has come to establish an organization to carry out the policies of the commission — in short, do the leg work and run the department.

He proposes a nominal rate of compensation and offers his services in the capacity when his current supervisor term expires April 1.

He presented a 16-point plan and stated that it "was vigorously opposed (by Mrs. Young and Lawrence) as being unnecessary."

The supervisor pointed to the proposed 66-home Shadbrook subdivision with sewer plans just approved as reason for need of the department.

Both Clerk Young and Lawrence said the plan was not needed yet. "First of all, we don't have the money," said Clerk Young. She also noted that the supervisor had not indicated what he meant by "nominal compensation."

Supervisor Clark said no one was interested enough to ask him.

Both Clerk Young and Lawrence maintain that the water and sewer commission, along with the help of the township engineer, can handle any problems for the present without additional expense.

Trustee R. D. Merriam, GOP nominee for supervisor to succeed Clark, stood with the clerk and treasurer.

He indicated that as supervisor he would expect that these problems would be his responsibility to handle without additional expense.

Thus the stage was set for Tuesday night's regular meeting. And when residents from the Five Mile-Bradner road area appeared to ask help in solving their water shortage problem, Supervisor Clark strongly hinted that it was a job for a water department headed by a manager.

But after everyone had left the three members of the water and sewer commission met briefly and decided that the township engineers, Mosher Associates, should pursue the problem and seek a solution for the near-waterless residents.

William McAllister, C. A. Holdreith and Craig Bowley, all residents of the Roberta-Lakeside area overlooking Phoenix lake appealed to the board for help. "It's a sad predicament," one commented in describing their dangerously low wells.

They were joined by residents east of Bradner road along Five Mile road. There are 16 homes suffering from water shortage in the Roberta-Lakeside area and 40 east of Bradner.

The answer appeared to rest with the city of Detroit. A water main serving Plymouth township (across Five Mile road) extends to Five Mile and Bradner.

In District Play Here

Cagers Nip Howell; South Lyon on Tap

Two nervous teams plunged and reared through the first game of the district tourney here as the Northville Mustangs nosed out spirited Howell, 46-42.

The win advanced the Mustangs to second round play against South Lyon Friday night in the second game of a double-header. Holly meets last night's Brighton-Fenton winner in Friday's opening game at 7 p.m. in the Northville gym. Friday's winners play in the district finals at 7:30 p.m. Saturday.

On the basis of their season record, the Howell Highlanders would have done well to show. But they were a determined lot Tuesday night, leading 22-19 at the half way point. The Mustangs, however, had the horses to win. They streaked from behind at the beginning of the 3rd quarter, took the lead and were never headed.

Tom Swiss started things off in the 3rd period with a three point play to knot the score at 22-22.

The teams exchanged baskets.

Playing spoiler, Jim Juday garnered six consecutive points to put Northville on top, 30-25. Swiss and Dan Bishop then put baskets back-to-back to give the Mustangs their biggest margin of the night, 34-25.

Howell scrapped to cut the lead, but Northville safely protected its margin.

Coach Dave Longridge pulled out all the stops to win the game.

In an effort to find a winning combination at guard, he started Dave Jerome and Jim St. Germaine.

Northville, using man-to-man defense, took a 9-6 first quarter lead. And Howell, straining under a bad case of jitters, couldn't find the range.

Down by a 13-9 count shortly after the start of the 2nd quarter, the Highlanders broke loose for nine straight points. Hefner and Jim Simmons led the surge that put Howell out front at half time.

In the fourth quarter, the Mustangs played deliberate ball to protect their margin and to set up their scores. But the visitors' sniping tactics turned the final minutes into a wild and woolly show.

Showing the way for the winners were Swiss with 22 points, Juday with 10 and Bishop with eight.

Hefner with 15 and Simmons with 10 paced the Howell attack.

Frid Needles Council

Sydney Frid, a candidate to become a member of Northville's city council, had little sympathy for its members Monday night.

In rapid-fire order he challenged the council to call for a "straw vote" in the April election on a proposed site for the post office. Then he questioned the validity of the dates reported by City Engineer Harold Penn in announcing his resignation as engineer for Trend Homes subdivision.

Frid said the post office vote could be easily inserted on the April 1 ballot. But Councilman Richard Ambler reported that he had investigated the post office matter that very day.

"The Cady-Wing site has been approved at Detroit and Chicago and now awaits Washington approval. I've been told that appropriations for post office construction have been cut in half. If we delay this again, we may lose out entirely," Ambler stated.

Frid said if he had known that Penn's letter of resignation was prepared February 11 he (Frid) would not have written a letter of criticism to the newspaper two weeks later. He asked the council why it had not discussed the matter at the February 18 meeting. He also intimated the dates might be erroneous.

Penn said they were right and Councilman Canterbury criticized Frid's insinuations. Penn said his resignation from Trend Homes was a personal matter that had been under consideration for several months.

Long Distance Dialing to Change

A new dialing procedure to safeguard telephone users from accidentally misdialing long distance calls will go into effect for Michigan Bell Telephone company customers in Northville, Novi, Livonia, Garden City, Farmington and Plymouth at 12 01 a.m. Sunday, April 7.

The new dialing procedure will apply to all telephone users in the West and Downriver Area directory and to most customers in the East Area directory.

Under the new procedure, callers will dial the numeral "1" to become connected with the long distance network and then dial the distant telephone number exactly as they now do.

Unless preceded by the numeral "1", dialed long distance calls won't go through after April 6.

"Except for dialing '1' before each direct dialed long distance call, nothing is changed," said Hazen J. Wilson, local manager for Michigan Bell.

"Local calls will be dialed as they now are by just dialing the telephone number."

The numeral "1" is known as an "access code" which, when dialed first, connects callers directly to the long distance network. The access code will prevent misdialed local calls from becoming unintentional long distance calls.

Wilson cited an example of a misdialed call. "Should a customer intending to dial a Fieldbrook 9 (349) number in Northville mistakenly dial FL 9(359) his call would end up in Lexington's Flanders 9 exchange instead of Northville. The customer probably wouldn't realize he had reached a Lexington party until his next telephone bill showed a charge for the long distance call."

Under the new method, the call wouldn't be completed because newly installed equipment would turn it back, Wilson said.

"A wrong number long distance call is an inconvenience to the caller and the surprised answering party," he said.

"Experience shows customers find telephone service more satisfactory when long distance calls are dialed somewhat differently from local calls," Wilson said.

He said the "1" access code is becoming common practice throughout the country.

The introductory pages of the April, 1963, West and Downriver Area directory will explain fully the new dialing procedure, Wilson said.

The local American Legion, Lloyd H. Green post and auxiliary, will celebrate the 44th anniversary of the national leg on March 16.

The celebration will begin with a 6:30 p.m. dinner in Veterans Memorial hall followed by a short program and dancing. Past commanders and past presidents will be honored.

National theme for the anniversary is an "American Legion Showcase." Michigan posts are celebrating the anniversary March 15 through March 17, stressing four programs — Americanism, child welfare, rehabilitation and national security.

Local officials ask that reservations for the local observance be made with Mrs. Oscar Hammond or Howard Wright by March 13.

Water, Sewers

Littell explained that a special assessment district could be created to finance the project and could include both adjoining areas.

Water appeared far more important than the cost to the separate homeowners represented at Tuesday evening's meeting.

Following the discussion of water, the board turned to sewer problems. John Northup, developer of Shadbrook subdivision criticized the proposed tap-in and inspection fees for sewers in the township.

Northup's development will be the first sewer system to be constructed in the township.

He said the board would discourage development and bring cost of building out of line with its excessive rates.

Northup compared the proposed township rates with a dozen other area communities to prove his point. He said that the local inspection fee amounts to 4.9 percent of the job, where 3 per cent is usual and that tap charges of $400 were higher than all others compared. He said $250 would be more in line.

Engineer Mosher said that the rates were not much higher than most and pointed out that the township wanted each subdivision to pay for itself. He also noted township responsibility to maintain the system once completed.

Attorney Littell supported Northup's figures noting that fees were 33 to 50 per cent higher in many instances. "He made a very cogent point," said Littell.

Supervisor Clark suggested that the matter be turned over to the water and sewer commission for review.

In other business the board heard a report from the engineer concerning the cost of a proposed sewer down Seven Mile road from Marilyn to Northville road. The project would be privately financed if undertaken. The preferred route — along the north side of Seven Mile and south on Northville road to the interceptor — would cost an estimated $79,000, Mosher said.

Cagers Drop Finale To Brighton 49-44

The Brighton Bulldogs made confetti out of paper statistics that showed visiting Northville to be the superior team last Friday night as they upset the Mustangs, 49-44.

Northville thus ended a so-so season with a 7-7 conference and 8-7 record overall.

Although the Mustangs were in contention most of the way, they were way back in "determ nation", the difference between victory and defeat.

Since Brighton's tallest player and star, Bob Case, did not suit up for the game and since the game was a primer for the tournament, the loss seems even more humiliating.

The Bulldogs were primed for the game.

They used an all-court zone press from the outset to harry the Mustangs in mistakes. When the local cagers got into their front court, Brighton's scrappy man-to-man defense kept them off balance and off target.

On offense, the Bulldogs were just as aggressive. By overloading the Mustang zone, they scored from the strong side by passing quickly in and around the defense.

And they fought for and picked up many rebounds and loose balls.

The spirited play was marred by a flare-up when the winner was already decided. With 25 seconds remaining in the game and Brighton leading by five points, a few feverish players clashed. The officials and other players immediately broke it up.

Coach Dave Longridge was displeased with his team's performance. "On paper we were the better team, but they didn't read any notices and were unimpressed by the league standings. It seems like a long season," he said.

THIS IS BASKETBALL? — Tempers flared in the waning seconds of the game at Brighton Friday night as players from both teams clashed in a brief melee. Officials and players quickly broke it up. Northville lost, 49-44.

The teams matched baskets in the first quarter with Brighton taking a 13-12 lead. Caught off-guard by the Bulldogs' defensive moves, Northville adjusted late by passing quickly down court before their opponents were set.

With Jim Juday doing yeoman work under the boards, the Mustangs gained a 23-21 advantage at intermission.

Juday scored on a rebound shot at 2:16 to give Northville a 21-1 margin, but Brighton rebounded with two goals to tie at 21 all. Gary Stobbe then connected on two free throws to end the first-half scoring.

Charged with four fouls just before half-time, Juday sat out most of the second half. His absence proved detrimental as the Mustangs lost much of their drive.

The Mustangs came out fast. Tom Swiss hit on two consecutive jump shots in the first minute of play to give the local cagers their biggest margin of the night, 27-21.

But the Bulldogs stormed back with 14 points before Mike Lang countered for the Mustangs. The 3rd quarter ended with Brighton leading 38-32 as they outscored the visitors 17-9.

Northville was not dead yet.

Gun Beats Colt Five

One second made the difference last Friday night as the Colts dropped a hair splitter to Brighton, 44-43.

With an open court before him, Tim Krug raced the clock toward the Colt basket. But the buzzer sounded, and Krug shot a fraction later.

No matter that the ball dropped through the cords, the game was over.

As in the previous game with Milford, the Northville JV's set a torrid shooting pace, but couldn't find the net. They connected on only 17 of 61 shots (28 percent) to the Brighton Bulldogs' 13 of 31 (42 percent).

To compensate for the eight-point field goal disadvantage, the Bulldogs converted 18 of 26 free throws attempts while the Colts made 9 of 16.

Northville eased into a 17-10 first quarter lead, and it looked like a run away. The local cagers controlled the backboards and kept Brighton away from the basket with a tight defense. They took 24 shots. They made eight, while holding their opponents to four of seven.

Tenor of play changed in the second quarter. Brighton matched the Colts field goal output (5) and capitalized on their mistakes to close the gap to 27-26 at half time.

John Callaghan, the Colts tall center, picked up four fouls by half time. He was used sparingly from then on.

It was nip and tuck in the third quarter, with Northville protecting a two point margin at the buzzer, 36-34. All but two of the Bulldogs points were scored on free throws.

But Northville was a different team this half, showing little of their first quarter finesse. With four minutes remaining in the final period, Brighton finally took the lead, 40-39, and extended it to 43-39.

The local team fought back, cutting the margin to 44-43 just before Krug's last-second effort.

Krug led the Colts with his finest scoring try of the season 17 points. Tom Wicke came through with 10.

The Colts wound up the season with a 6-8 record.

A short spurt carried the local cagers to within one point of Brighton, 39-38, but they slackened off and fell behind 48-40 with 2:50 left in the game.

Brighton then began stalling as the Mustangs tried to get the ball.

Every starter shared equally in Brighton's victory. Bob Evenson and Denn's Hartmen scored 11 points each while Roger Lane (10), Al Verellan (9) and Lou Williams (8) gave them good support.

Lang led the Mustang scoring with 11 points, followed closely by Swiss with 9.

The curtain came down on conference, and regular season play last Friday with West Bloomfield and Bloomfield Hills tying for the loop crown. Bloomfield Hills beat Holly, 54-47, and West Bloomfield downed Milford 59-50. And lowly Clarenceville mastered Clarkston, 66-60.

Four Matmen In Regionals

Competing in the regional wrestling tournament at River Rouge last Friday and Saturday, Northville matmen placed eighth in a field of 14 teams.

Four Mustangs, who finished fourth in their weight class, will journey to Lansing Eastern high school tomorrow and Saturday to compete in the state finals.

They are Russ Nichols at 112, Ron Rebitzke at 133, Bob Orr at 165 and Jerry Burns in the heavyweight class.

"This year's tournament was much tougher than last year's," explained Coach Jack Kreiner. "I am proud of the boys that won."

Last year the Northville wrestlers captured fourth place, topped by the winning performance of Mike Brandenburg in the 95 pound class.

LET'S TALK CARS...

SAFETY IS HARD TO SELL

As most automobile manufacturers have found out over the years, the sales appeal of car safety features is not exactly impressive. It seems that the public can't be persuaded in very great numbers at least, to value safety or rules that were obviously made in their own interests.

If possibly saving your life doesn't appear as a good enough reason to keep your speed down, then here's a more practical one: If your car gets 21 miles per gallon at 30 m.p.h., it will give you 18 at 50, 16 at 60, 14 at 70 — and after that you should save a little money from gas bills to pay your life insurance premiums and make sure you have made out your will.

Statistics prove that when you drive at more than 70 m.p.h., and have a collision of any type, that your chances of surviving the accident are only one in two! Not very good odds when you consider the stakes —

Put another way, consider a rifle bullet that hits with the impact of one foot-ton. If you weigh about a hundred and fifty pounds and your car hits another car while both vehicles are traveling only 30 m.p.h., then your body will hit the steering wheel, windshield or instrument panel at 6 1/2 times the impact of the bullet!

We're hurting our own business when we talk like this because careful drivers are poor service customers. Their cars and especially their tires, last longer but usually work more when they go to trade them in.

B.L. Munro Dies at 75

Burton L. Munro, 75, a life-long Novi resident died last Sunday in San Benito, Texas, where he was visiting his son and hunting up rocks for his extensive rock collection.

He was a farmer for 14 years, then worked for the Ford Motor company in Northville for another 14 years. Ever since 1936, he had been a saw mill operator.

But his primary interest for the past five years had been rock hounding. With the saw, polisher and grinder in his basement, he finished rocks for his collection.

He and his wife had made other trips to the southwest part of the United States, especially to the Woodward Ranch near Alpine, Texas. Once, they shipped home 350 pounds of rock from this area.

They also made many trips to Lansing — one a month to the meetings of the lapidary club. He was a charter member of the Central Michigan Lapidary and Mineral club.

He was also a good lumberman and bowler.

Born in Novi, he was the son of James and Mary (Leavenworth) Munro. He was married February 2, 1909, to Bertha Mabel Harking, who died in 1946.

He leaves his wife, Lelia; two sons, John Brent Munro of Novi and James Harding Munro of Rio Hondo, Texas; one daughter, Mrs. Dorothea Jean Van Sickle of Novi; one sister, Via A. Huffman of La Verne, California, and 12 grand children.

Visitation will be Friday at the Casterline Funeral Home. Funeral services will be held at 1 p.m. Saturday in the First Baptist church of Novi with the Reverend Arnold Cook, officiating.

Burial will be at the Novi cemetery.

Schools Rate High In Comparison Test

Northville's school administrators have a new yardstick to measure operating expenses by.

The yardstick is like the federal government's consumer price index.

Only instead of attempting to show how much more (or less) a basket of groceries costs today than yesterday, the new yardstick serves as a gauge for comparing school expenses in Northville with those in other communities.

The tool in hand, it didn't take Northville school administrators long to find out that the district rates as "better than average" both in the state and throughout the nation.

The idea of comparing Northville with other school districts on a large scale was born when the January issue of School Management reached board of education members' desks. The issue was devoted almost entirely to the magazine's fourth annual cost of education index study — indicating costs in 1,200 school districts.

Northville's board of education turned to Dr. Kenneth MacLeod, assistant superintendent of schools, asking him to add a Northville chapter to School Management's index. Dr. MacLeod worked for several days, finally coming up with a set of figures for the Northville district which could logically be compared with those reported by School Management.

The value of developing such a yardstick?

"It tells us whether we're way out on a limb or not," according to Superintendent of Schools Russell Amerman. "It helps us check ourselves; it lets us know how we're doing financially by indicating if we're top heavy or too light in an area."

"If we can judge quality education from the amount of money spent, we can take comfort in such areas as instruction," Amerman said. Last year, the Northville district spent $291 of total per pupil expenditures ($391) for instruction as compared to an average of $262 throughout the nation. Amerman cautioned that the yardstick can only show dollars and cents spent by schools. "If costs seem high, then we administrators have to look behind the figures to seek the reason why."

For example, he said, we find from the two studies that we're high in maintenance expenditures (3.9 percent of local total per pupil expenditures as compared with the national average of 3.5 percent).

Does this mean we're spending too much for maintenance, Amerman queried. "Not necessarily," he continued. "Just the other day someone came into one of our buildings and remarked — things are so much cleaner and neater here than they used to be."

He noted that quality of maintenance is just one variable which must be taken into consideration when administrators sit down to study costs. Another, he said, might be number of employees: "It takes the same number of people to run a building whether it's full or half full. Thus, as school population expands, maintenance cost goes down."

Variables aside, the bare facts show that Northville schools last year spent more "percentage-wise" for administration and operation than did most schools, but less for instruction and health.

In Northville, five percent of total per pupil expenditures ($391) last year was devoted to administration. Meanwhile, four percent of total per pupil expenditures was devoted to administration in most schools across the nation and also in the 300 schools dubbed "quality quarter" schools — those spending more than $396 per pupil.

Northville's costs for administration were slightly higher than those in other schools in both its region and its size category. Region 3 schools — those in Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Michigan and Wisconsin — devoted four percent of total per pupil expenditures ($345) to administration as did schools in the size 5 category — schools with 1,201 to 3,000 students and average per pupil expenditures of $322.

Northville channeled 13 percent of its budget to operation last year while most schools in the nation spent only 10 percent in this area. However, schools in region 3 devoted some 12 percent of per pupil expenditures to operation while size 5 schools spent 10 percent.

In instruction expenditures, Northville was slightly below most schools in the nation. Last year, Northville spent 74.6 percent of per pupil expenditures for instruction while the national average was 78 percent and the "quality quarter" average, 74.9 percent. Moreover, size 5 schools spent 76.8 percent of per pupil expenditures for instruction with region 3 schools spending 73.7 percent.

Yet in terms of dollars, Northville is spending more for instruction ($291 per pupil) than the average school ($262) or region 3 schools ($254) or size 5 schools ($247). In instruction dollars, Northville is topped only by "quality quarter" schools who are spending an average of $346 per pupil.

In health expenditures Northville is, according to Amerman, "weak, but not suffering." The yardstick shows Northville as spending .11 percent of total per pupil expenditures for health or 42 cents. Yet, the national average in this area is .6 percent or $2 and the "quality quarter" average, 1.2 percent or $5.75. Region 3 schools are devoting .32 percent of per pupil expenditures or $1.11 to health and size 5 schools, .65 percent or $2.08.

Amerman concluded that free nursing service from the county health department helps to compensate for the few dollars spent for health services in the school system.

Easter Seal Drive Opens Here Today

A goal of $50,000 was announced today for the 1963 Easter Seal Campaign in Western Wayne County by Fred A. Casterline, chairman of the Crippled Children's Committee of the Northville Rotary Club, who heads the appeal this year in Northville.

He expressed confidence that the residents of Northville would cooperate fully to assure the success of the appeal.

The 1963 appeal opens today and continues through Easter Sunday, April 14, to furnish rehabilitation care and treatment to crippled children and handicapped adults in the Western Wayne county area.

Casterline said, "Easter Seal contributions in any amount will help purchase much needed equipment and services for crippled children and adults, through our own Easter Seal Center, near Michigan and Middlebelt. This Center is free and clear, built especially to serve the physically handicapped."

He cited the buying power of the Easter Seal dollar for a few of the essentials necessary to rehabilitate a crippled child. They are:

- $5.00 for a pair of crutches;
- $10.00 - $15.00 for a complete medical examination;
- $9.00 - $15.00 for special shoes with corrections;
- $25.00 for a speech and hearing evaluation test;
- $60.00 for two weeks stay at a resident summer camp;
- $100 - $175 for a wheelchair.

Casterline pointed out that just as rising costs have affected living expenses of the average American, so has it affected the cost of rehabilitation services to our handicapped population. Expenses of medical treatment, therapy, equipment, operation of Easter Seal Centers and facilities for the disabled have greatly increased.

"However, rehabilitation pays," he added. "A handicapped worker can be rehabilitated and returned back to a profitable job in business or industry for about 90 percent of what it would cost to keep him for one year at public expense. For the rest of his life, he will be paying from $7 to $10 in federal income taxes for every dollar spent on his rehabilitation. With help, crippled children may not have to grow up into handicapped adults."

EASTER SEALERS — Fred Casterline (right), chairman of the Northville Easter Seal campaign for the Rotary club, enlisted help from his wife and John Goss, Jr., last week. They're preparing appeal letters for mailing to every resident in the Northville area. The drive starts today with a goal of $50,000 for the western Wayne county area.

Northville Debaters Win Regional Meet

Northville high school varsity debaters defeated Melvindale high school last week in the district debate tournament held at the high school and earned themselves a spot in the state quarter finals.

Today, last week's winning team — Miss Ann Hembrey and Miss Duna Penn — will debate Grand Rapids Central high school in Grand Rapids. If they win again, Northville will be eligible for the state semi-finals for the second time in eight years.

Today's debate marks the third time in eight years that a Northville team has participated in the quarter finals.

The question the Northville pair will be debating — and the national high school topic this year — is "Resolved: That the United States Should Join in Forming a Common Market of the Western Hemisphere."

Miss Hembrey, a junior this year, has debated on the varsity team for two years. Miss Penn, a senior, is a four-year debater and president of the class. She has been selected to compete in the March 16 Detroit Free Press' scholarship contest at the University of Michigan's Flint branch. Miss Penn will be competing with other state debate finalists for a $2,800 scholarship.

Other members of Northville's varsity team are Barbara Pilarz and Robert Sproule, both juniors. Miss Florence Panattoni is debate coach.

TAKE A BREAK... I HAVE TO GO "FISHING"!

This well driller is going fishing, but not for fun!

To the men who drill gas wells, fishing is not a pleasant pastime — it's a painstaking, tedious job. It means that the well driller has to take his large, heavy, cumbersome tackle (hooks and line) and fish out drilling tools that have become stuck or broken off deep in the earth. Consumers Power Company, too, has an important and expensive task — that of providing its customers with a dependable supply of natural gas during the cold winter months. To assure a sufficient reserve supply, it has underground storage fields near Marion, Michigan and elsewhere. Natural gas is put back in the earth under a pressure of hundreds of pounds per square inch and withdrawn as needed when gas consumption is highest.

from the PASTOR'S STUDY

By the Rev. B. J. Pankow, Pastor
St. Paul's Lutheran Church of Northville

The Greatest Discovery
"What do you consider your greatest discovery?"
This question was once asked of the world-famous scientist, Sir James Simpson.
His reply was: "My greatest discovery is that I am a sinner and that Christ is my Savior."

In our day of man-made satellites and space probes such a discovery may not seem of great importance to some. And yet it is truly the greatest discovery that any person can make.

To know ourselves as God knows us, that is, as sinful human beings, and to know the remedy that God makes available to us, namely salvation through Christ who died for us and rose again

— this is supreme, heavenly knowledge. It is a discovery so great that only God can make it known to us through His Holy Spirit in the Gospel.

The person who has made this discovery has come upon a power that is greater than anything in the universe, for as St. Paul attests, "It is the power of God unto salvation to everyone that believeth." (Romans 1:16).

During this season of Lent we have special opportunity to hear of the source of this power, namely the atoning death of Christ on Calvary.
There on that little hill outside the city of Jerusalem over 1900 years ago the powers of heaven met the powers of hell, and the powers of hell were utterly defeated. When Jesus died in the place of sinners, the power of the devil was broken forever, and man was reconcil-ed to God.

Millions of people who have placed their trust in the Gospel of Christ can tell of the new power that has entered and cleansed their lives.

Have you made this great discovery? Have you come into personal contact with the power of the Gospel? It is within reach of everyone in this community.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES LANSING, MICHIGAN

REPORT from LANSING

By PAUL CHANDLER
State Representative, 21st District

LANSING — Some of the most suspenseful bills here don't sound glamorous at all.

House Bill No. 57 sits on the calendar today, awaiting debate on the floor. If it can be navigated through the various tricky shoals of the legislative process, it could save the City of Livonia $800,000 over the term of some water revenue bonds, at the rate of about $32,000 a year.

But it's not only Livonia's bill — it has drawn the keen interest of every public corporation in Michigan, and the sums of bond money which might be involved run into multi-millions.

Here's the story —

Livonia recently received an improved credit rating from the bond rating houses in the East. This enables the city to sell future bonds at a more favorable rate of interest, but soon afterward some of the Livonia officials began wondering, "what about our existing revenue bonds?"

On the books today are $4,350,000 of bonds being paid off through revenues from the sale of water. If these bonds could be cashed in, and new ones refunded at better interest rates, wouldn't that save some money?

Bond counsel said, "Yes, but it's never been done, and it'll take some new legislation to enable it." I was contacted, a bill was written, it was introduced in proper manner, and sent to the Committee on City Corporations.

We've now nursed it out of the committee to the floor. At this point, the magnitude of the change is beginning to become evident to the House membership.

The legislation would apply to hundreds of Michigan public corporations, if they wanted to avail themselves of it, for one reason or another. Multi-millions of dollars of revenue bonds sit on the books. Every municipality in our 21st District has an interest in the bill. As written, it would permit legislative bodies (such as City Commissions, City Councils, Township Boards, Water Authorities, Building Authorities, etc.) to refund their bonds and, by a two-thirds vote, place the faith and credit of the municipality behind the new bonds.

The latter clause would make the bonds more attractive to purchasers and, hence, bring lower interest rates.

But because the change is so sweeping and involves so much, some of the House members were a little gun-shy on their first reaction. They wanted assurance.

We've since been in touch with bond counsel, with the Michigan Municipal Finance Commission, with key legislators, trying to get the story told among all of them and a common agreement that House Bill No. 57 is safe and sound. The Michigan Township Association and the Municipal League have endorsed the bill.

One of the worries is that municipalities might use the new authority even if it didn't bring better interest rates on the new bonds — instead, maybe just to start over again on a term of bonds, which would provide some fresh capital. This would be outside the intent of the legislation, and I'm having an amendment written which would prohibit this, which may or may not have to be added to the bill during floor debate. It comes up on the calendar again next Thursday and that's where the floor debate will occur.

It's my own first bill to emerge from committee, it involves immediately $800,000 in potential savings for Livonia taxpayers, and — as we said, there's suspense in some of the most dull sounding bills.

OUT OF THE PAST

ONE YEAR AGO

March 8, 1962

—The Northville city plan to impose a 25 percent assessment for street improvements hit a snag late Monday night. With a public hearing set for next Monday, the Northville school board notified the council that the $800 interest charge is not fair. The hearing is scheduled to confirm the assessment roll on the proposed paving of North Center street from the Eight Mile cutoff to South Ely drive and portions of East, High, Elm and Walnut.

—Novi voters next Monday will elect three new councilmen, indicate what they think of becoming a city and select nine members for a city charter commission.

—By defeating South Lyon 72-33 Tuesday night, the Northville Mustangs earned a trip to the district finals at Milford Friday evening.

—Voter registration for the special Novi school district election is now open. The election was scheduled last month by the school board after it learned that the school system will need to increase revenues by $7,000 next year if it is to operate on a balanced budget.

FIVE YEARS AGO

March 6, 1958

—The Northville high school debaters will enter the quarter finals after winning over three class A schools to take the district honors. The affirmative team of Becky Coolman and Lillian Zinnecker won over Berkeley, Waterford, and Flint Northern.

—Northville Heights, the proposed 120-home development, will celebrate its official opening this week end. Located on North Center street next to the Amerman elementary school, the 32-acre site will offer paved streets, sewers and city water.

FIFTEEN YEARS AGO

March 5, 1948

—A million dollar power plant project started last Friday at the Northville State Mental hospital. The O. W. Burke company is the general contractor.

—Roy A. Elliott, chairman of the crippled children committee of the Northville Rotary club has been named to head the 15th annual Easter Seal sale for crippled children in Northville. Other Rotarians on the committee are Russell Amerman, Fred Casterline, Preston Fuller, Dr. T. G. Hegge, Reverend E. E. Rossow and Nelson Schrader.

—The 1948 American Red Cross Drive got under way this week in Northville under the chairmanship of George A. Locke and will continue through the month of March. The village quota is $1225.

—Two men will be candidates for the presidency of the Northville Village commission next Monday. Forrest Doren, President of the Village for the past two years seeks re-election to that position. Conrad E. Langfield, president of Northville Laboratories, is Doren's opponent.

—Friends and members of Orient Chapter 77 and F. & A.M. Lodge 186 will attend the annual Eastern Star-Masonic Ball at the Northville high school gymnasium this evening.

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

March 11, 1938

—Incumbent Clerk John Littenberger defeated Sherrill W. Ambler for the second consecutive time in Monday's Northville township primary election. Other winners of contested seats were Charles Dubar for board of review and Ward Masters for constable. A. S. Nichols, (justice of peace), W. A. Ely (supervisor), Harold Farmer (highway) commissioner, and Mollie Lawrence (treasurer) were all unopposed.

—A salary schedule submitted to the Northville board of education by the Northville school teachers was adopted in principle Tuesday evening. According to R. H. Amerman, school superintendent, the scale will be put into practice in part this year, but it will take three years to complete the institution of the new pay scale.

SPEAKING for The Record

by Bill Sliger

At the bottom of this week's "Speaking" column is a copy of a letter sent to the Superintendent of Northville schools with copies to each member of the board of education.

With some background information it should be self-explanatory.

The subject concerns the proposed split in the 1963-64 Northville ninth grade between the junior and senior high school buildings. It should be a matter of considerable concern to parents in both the Northville and Novi school districts.

As most followers of local school affairs know, the question of whether or not Northville would accept Novi ninth graders for the 1963-64 year was not settled until last week.

It should have been decided when Novi passed its operating millage request last summer. Northville board members — in writing — guaranteed Novi that it would accept its ninth graders if it could prove its ability to pay tuition through the 1963-64 year.

But later some second thoughts developed when enrollment estimates were closely studied.

Northville then took the attitude that it would accommodate Novi only if the latter insisted. One board member even suggested it would be rather unorthodox for Novi to hold Northville to its word.

So a crisis was created. And Novi looked elsewhere for a school for its ninth graders.

Farmington was willing to help Novi out of its predicament. It would take the Novi ninth graders.

At this point another consideration became painfully evident to Northville. Without Novi's ninth graders in 1963-64 the budget would suffer a $26,595 loss in tuition revenues.

So the welcome mat was out again for Novi.

And it was decided that the 1963-64 ninth grade class would be divided between the junior and senior high schools.

Now the question arises, how does one decide which student attends the high school and which one remains at the junior high school?

Can any educator honestly say that there are absolutely no advantages or disadvantages between the two facilities?

Would there be any "stigma" on the junior high ninth grader?

Would Novi have any reason to question, in light of its recent experience with Northville, that perhaps its students might suffer under such an arrangement?

Would there be any pressures from parents?

Most important, is this drastic measure necessary at all?

Ironically, school administrators admit it is a poor arrangement while refusing to say that it is absolutely necessary.

Some remember that five years ago it was "authoritatively" stated (and not refuted) that the new high school would "easily handle 900 students." Estimated enrollment at the high school next year with the Novi ninth graders is 868.

(In fairness to board members and administrators the 900 figure was never used in statements prior to the public vote on the bond issue).

It is the position of this writer that to divide any class would be a grave mistake — psychologically and educationally.

It would seem far wiser to settle the ninth grade in one building — either the junior or senior high school — and, if there be some discomforts or disadvantages, let the students share them equally.

In one year Novi will have its own junior high school and the problem will no longer exist.

March 2, 1963

Mr. Russell Amerman
Superintendent of Schools

Dear Mr. Amerman:

Last Tuesday morning I called you concerning the decision of the school board regarding 1963-64 ninth graders.

I was, to put it politely, disturbed.

As you know, I had already talked to Don Lawrence.

My purpose in calling was not to exert pressure or dictate to the board of education or administrative staff.

I do not believe that there has ever been any evidence of such tactics by The Northville Record during my 6½ years as publisher.

Equally important to me personally is the individual conduct of a parent in this area. Again, I do not believe that there has been a single instance of interference with the judgment of school administrators or teachers in the field of education from this writer as a parent.

Undoubtedly a fine line exists between "interference or pressure" and newspaper responsibility to the community it serves.

To me this responsibility is highly important and one which I hope never to abuse.

It would appear that in my anxiety to express displeasure with the "split ninth grade" decision I committed a "near miss" personally, however.

It would have been better judgment on my part to have simply investigated your reasons behind the decision — and then to have written my editorial objections without calling you in advance.

I consider the decision to split the ninth grade as a "last resort" solution to your problem (if, indeed, one exists). I believe you will create a "second class" ninth grader at the junior high school.

It is inconceivable to me that such a division can be made without strong pressures upon the administrators by parents — especially since the system already has a record of such activity.

If, in fact, the junior high school or high school cannot accommodate the entire ninth grade; or if all students cannot be treated exactly the same, then your decision is understandable.

To me, however, this would be an admittance of some misrepresentation of the capacity of the new high school. And that's where the newspaper responsibility comes in.

Because there was no intention upon my part that I be given any "special audience" with the school board, I have decided not to attend your Monday night meeting.

It is the intent of the newspaper to present the facts to the people as they exist (and I believe we have done this accurately and fairly to date).

Further, because I believe it is my responsibility as a newspaperman (not a parent), I intend to comment editorially on the matter.

Finally, I apologize for my display of temper in my call to you. I cannot say that it will not happen again. Sometimes my concern runs away with my better judgment — that's why I always reserve editorial comment for a least a few "cooling off" days.

The Northville Record has a higher boiling point than its publisher.

More Libraries Sought in State

Efforts to expand Michigan's library system in the rural areas are under way throughout the state.

The State Board for Libraries earlier this year started a move to bolster the creation of multi-community library systems to take the world of books to more people in Michigan.

A further effort recently announced is the offer by the board of four $2,000 scholarships for graduate study in library science.

State Librarian Genevieve M. Casey said the scholarship fund recipients will be expected to work for two years following graduation in a public library serving a rural area.

Miss Casey said the agreement does not impose any actual restrictions on the type of library involved, however, since it could be either a large or small system. The scholarship program was designed to provide trained personnel for the development and improvement of rural library service, she said.

Any person with provisional acceptance from an American Library Association-accredited library school may seek one of the scholarships available through funds provided by the Federal Library Services Act.

On-the-job injuries rose in Michigan last year in unequal proportion to the hike in the labor force and the rise in work accidents throughout the nation, according to the State Labor Department.

There were 31,000 compensable injuries reported in Michigan last year, a 6 per cent hike over the previous year in the manufacturing industries.

This compares unfavorably with the national total of 1,990,000 injuries, a 3 per cent increase over the 1961 rate. Labor officials said the hike in the employed labor force last year was only 2 per cent throughout the country.

Permanent disability injuries showed a startling increase of 8 percent during the period but the number of fatalities was not significantly changed, department officials noted. Manufacturing deaths showed an increase last year, but fatalities in the non-manufacturing previous annual report.

Water resources of Michigan are of primary concern to many. One unit of government devotes much time to them, mostly unnoticed.

One phase of the Water Resources Commission's work is devoted to on-the-spot investigations of sites proposed for the disposal of waste and sewage.

Under the law a municipality, industry or business of any kind which wishes to increase or add new use of waters in the state is required to gain permission from the Commission. During 1962 alone the Commission requests for usage.

Job Opportunities Best For Capable Salesmen

Babson Park, Mass. — When I was National Moderator of the Congregational Christian Conference I was asked for my answer to this question "What business would Jesus be in if He were living today, — surely He would not be a carpenter or fisherman?" To the above I replied: "My guess is that Jesus would sell life insurance."

This column is not a "plug" for any line of business. In fact, there may well be enough good life insurance agents today; but I know that Jesus would be in some useful work, and I think He would be a salesman.

In fact, Jesus and His apostle Paul were the great salesmen of Christianity.

In a recent survey of American manufacturers and service organizations compiled in New York City, it was reported that their members are in need of 303,672 salesmen. They also strongly recommended a training course for salesmen, wishing that more colleges would teach practical salesmanship and courses in psychology, public speaking, and other subjects which would be helpful in honest selling.

It is interesting to note that salesmen do not need to form labor unions. "Union wages" cannot be "sold" to salesmen, for labor knows that a salesman can always get what he is worth. The annual pay of salesmen varies from $6,000 to $100,000 or more — according to what and how well they sell.

There is some fear that broadcasting tends to undermine — or make unnecessary — "short cut" — the work of the nation's salesmen. This may be true in the case of cosmetics, drugs, cigarettes, etc.; but it is not true in general. As we listen to radio or television, we are inclined to think that these much-advertised products comprise an important percentage of the U.S. national income; but this is not true. With the exception of the auto industry, over 80% of consumer products, real estate, and building materials are not being sold via broadcasting. Certainly, this 80% leaves enough for salesmen to work upon.

My estimate is that newspaper and magazine advertising gives the advertiser more for his money than does television.

The latter reaches vast numbers of people, but only for a minute or two (although these ads are prepared with great care by very able and experienced specialists). To me one of the most interesting portions of a TV broadcast is the list of the large number of concerns and individuals who were employed to prepare the broadcast.

Readers will note that the automobile manufacturers are still using — and perhaps making even more important use of — newspapers and magazines to sell their cars. Such ads are on hand and available to readers for 20 hours or more; while the TV ads often are available for only 20 seconds at a time.

Finally, let me say a word about the selection of salesmen. They should be men of character and with a pleasing personality. A good salesman believes in his product and in his employer. He honestly feels that he is serving his customers by selling them his "goods".

He is convinced that full employment is dependent upon the nation's salesmen, whether his territory is international or only local. He believes that the future of America depends upon real industry, the number of homes built, the amount of clothing and good food sold — rather than upon the number of cigarettes or bottles of beer or quantity of cosmetics sold.

If President Kennedy should ask me what he could do to help business, I would say: "Do more for the nation's salesmen." They are the basis of prosperity.

League of Women Voters Boosts New Constitution

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is another in a series about the proposed new Michigan constitution. Additional articles will appear in subsequent weeks.

In a clearly-written 24-page pamphlet entitled, "It's Your Choice," the League of Women Voters of Michigan takes a strong stand supporting the proposed new constitution which will be voted upon by Michigan citizens on April 1.

The League has worked for constitutional revision for many years. It is a nonpartisan organization dedicated to promoting political responsibility through informed and active citizen participation in government.

The League never supports or opposes any political candidate or party and its positions result solely from member study and agreement.

The pamphlet reports that its members have studied both the present and revised constitution.

constitution is much better than that of 1908 because the proposed constitution meets League standards," says the publication. "We believe the proposed constitution will benefit all Michigan people."

The booklet describes briefly the provisions in the 12 Articles of the new document and then urges a "yes" vote because the new constitution provides:

—Greater weight to population in apportionment while retaining traditional checks and balances.

—Reapportionment of both house and senate every 10 years.

—Strengthened authority for the governor.

—Strong and expanded civil rights.

—Streamlined executive branch departments.

—Less rigid financial restrictions; better budget provisions.

—Overall planning in education; state aid to be paid on time; professional executive freed from politics.

—Elimination of expensive spring elections plus savings in other areas.

—Strong and expanded civil service.

—Legislative council and modern legislative procedures.

—Stronger local government; county home rule, metropolitan area cooperation.

—Unified and modernized courts.

—Clearer, more easily understood language.

Copies of the pamphlet are available for 10 cents each from the League of Women Voters of Michigan, 4612 Woodward Avenue, Detroit, Michigan.
