

'Showplace' a Century Ago, City Hall Enters Northville History

EDITOR'S NOTE: This week for the first time in 119 years complete silence hangs over the rooms of Northville's stately city hall. Its walls have heard the joys and sorrows of the community's leading families; and later, decisions that were to determine the course of local events were reached in its chambers. Now it stands in wait, perhaps for two weeks, until workmen tear down that which was constructed in 1844. Margaret Silbar, Record news editor, has written a history of the famous home. Her information was gathered from old Record newspaper files, the Northville Library and from Mrs. E. A. Chapman, Mrs. T. J. Knapp and Edmund P. Yerkes. Pictures, both old and current, appear on page one of section two.

"Hear the news? Widow Lapham's selling."

Whispers trailing her steps, the tall stately woman in the flowing black mourning veil left the old steeple-topped Main street village quarters.

Mrs. William G. Lapham, wife of the late owner of Northville State Savings bank, consented that warm July day in 1926 to sell her Wing street home to Northville for use as a village hall.

Little did she realize that the sale would later come to symbolize the end of an era, the beginning of suburbanization.

However, perhaps the widow, often described as resembling Queen Marie of Rumania, paused during the short walk to Wing street, trying to visualize what the future held in store for the colonial home. Certainly, she never guessed that come this year 1963, the home would be torn down to make way for progress. Nor that city officials would be housed in a home at 122 North Wing until a new city hall could be constructed with a federal matching grant.

News of the sale quickly spread throughout the village that July day. Soon the stately widow, formerly Edith Stout, was besieged by curious Northvillians, asking to tour the estate.

Many's the time, before actual moving day arrived, that Widow Lapham could be seen touring with officials the parcel of land bounded by Main, Cady and Wing to the east boundary of today's Community building.

Villagers reconstructed the legend of the house: that wooden pins were put into its black walnut framework in nearby woods and then the entire structure moved to the Wing street location.

Oldtimers recalled that once in place, the colonial-style house, built by David Gregory in 1844, became a meeting place for early village dignitaries. Focal point of the house was its six gigantic fireplaces — one of which was bordered by carved chestnut, another made of rare blue tile.

As she grew older, Martha became attracted by short, thick-set Jared S. Lapham, a Northville merchant and wool buyer. Eventually, she became the wife of the quick-witted man who later opened, as a private enterprise, the village's first bank.

Lapham, for all the dignity he carried with his VanDyke beard and banker's position, was, according to letters of the time, "often caught by the small boys of 10 using the toe of his shoe to get his croquet ball into better position."

How Banker Lapham gained control of the Wing street home is something of a mystery.

Some sources say he inherited it directly from his wife's father, "Dr." Gregory.

Others say that the local hotelkeeper, Merritt Randolph obtained the Gregory house. Then, the banker, coming into possession of an old home built by Shoemaker George Wilcox at the rear of today's library, made a successful offer to trade.

After moving into the Wing street house, Banker Lapham also began to travel more extensively in the business world. He became known as a grain broker and a prominent figure on the Detroit Stock Exchange.

The banker's death at 71 in 1893 saw the house's occupants shrouded in black mourning clothes. Dr. Mary E. Lapham, who attained national fame for bringing home from Germany the idea of collapsing TB-infected lungs, returned to the Wing street home to manage her father's bank.

Her brother, William G. Lapham, a Detroit grain broker and a professor at Princeton, became the house's new owner. He brought with him his bride, Edith Stout, the woman who later was to sell the home to the village.

The grain broker-professor remodeled the home around the turn of the century. The high hedge and spacious gardens remained. Among the furnishings he and his wife added were several imported Chinese vases, windows from Tiffany's in New York, a tiny tile stove, a Mieser cabinet, Chippendale dining room furniture. They may even have added to the house's elaborate Victorian furniture carved of rosewood.

It was in this period that the house saw the birth of another Jared, this one destined to become a professor at the University of Virginia. The young Jared, no doubt, wandered through his grandfather's library, settling down before the fireplace topped by a Dresden clock to read until the dinner bell rang. Perhaps, some days, he chose to sit before the bay window and read by the light escaping through leaded panes finished in maple.

He, as other young folk in the neighborhood, watched old Asa Randolph, once the village clerk and druggist, tote a basket of wood to the house behind the library. There, as village gossips had it, he could "catch a smoke away from his beautiful, though persnickety, young daughter."

Death once again upon the house, Mrs. Lapham, now a widow, decided to sell.

Already, village voters had approved by a 6 to 1 vote a $25,000 expenditure for construction of a new village building. The Record of April 26, 1926, reports that "the new structure will provide suitable space for our fire apparatus, convenient and comfortable public rest rooms and toilets, space for a heating plant, a cell block and a room suitable for council meetings and other public gatherings."

"The village certainly needs a building centrally located for our fire fighting apparatus and for public rest rooms. For the past few months, since the rooms in the Park Hotel were closed to the public, there has been no comfort station here available to the general public and that is a condition that ought not to be tolerated longer," the Record article concluded.

The widow, undaunted by the village's plan, set out one July day for the village hall, which originally was in a building, where the Cottage restaurant now stands.

There, she offered her property for a civic hall at the price of $37,000. The village accepted, later promising voters that if they approved this purchase, the earlier construction approval granted the village would be rescinded.

In addition, village officials proposed to sell the old village hall and also the site on East Main street purchased from William Scott in 1925.

Again, village officials received an overwhelming vote in favor of its proposed action. Subsequently, the old village hall was sold to E. C. Langfield at $350 a front foot and the East Main property to two Detroit men at $105 a front foot.

According to Record reports, the prices paid for the village's property established new values for Northville frontage.

The Lapham property in hand, the village set about a one-time remodeling, suiting it to governmental and civic needs.

A stairway was built to the third floor, making it accessible from the outside, and the entire third floor turned over to the American Legion for headquarters.

The apple orchard of the Laphams became the village's Central park, police and fire departments were headquarters in the lower floors of the house as were the council chambers. Just to the rear of the hall, the village built the brick fire engine house that same year.

Village officials of the time reported "satisfaction" with their new quarters. Among the officials first occupying the new hall were Elmer L. Smith, officially dubbed president, but known throughout the community as "mayor"; C. R. Ely, Charles Filkins, Conrad Langfield, Stewart Montgomery, C. Ray Van Valkenburg and John R. Walker were all trustees.

Thomas E. Murdock served as the hall's first clerk; Marion A. Johnston, treasurer, and Fred E. Van Atta, assessor.

The village's new hall was the nucleus of a growing Northville. In 1926, plans for manufacturing the Stinson-Detroit airplane in the old Stimpson Scale company were just getting underway; Ford Motor Company's valve plant was planning a dam to supply extensive water power; Mrs. Kate Penman-Allen had just announced plans to build a $140,000 theatre.

The village already had to its credit such industry as the Bell Foundry company and the Globe Furniture company. The Spring Hill sanatorium of Detroit's board of health was a part of the village as were a government fish hatchery, Eastlawn sanatorium, the Detroit Training school and Northville fairgrounds.

All in all, everyone seemed happy to be living in a "modern day" Northville.

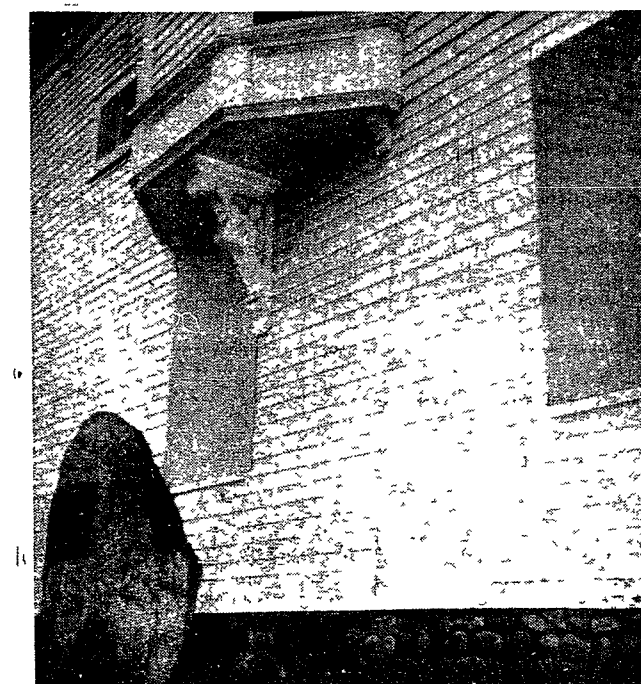

Everyone, that is, except people like the late Mrs. Edward H. Lapham, wife of the man largely responsible for founding the Lapham State Savings bank in 1907 and the cousin of William G. Lapham.

Writing in 1942 of "the old days," Mrs. Lapham noted "I do not believe in ghosts, but it only seems natural that an old, old home should contain a spirit made up of the many births and deaths, joys and sorrows which have been experienced within its walls."

"For instance, even I know enough about the lives which have been lived in the house across the road (the Lapham house on Wing) to make a thrilling novel."

"And I wonder if the spirit of that dignified and once beautiful home does not shudder at the lovely fireplaces that are boarded up, at the delight-

Merchants Ask Dollar-A-Week Parking Fund

An "offstreet parking fund" was proposed this week by Northville businessmen to help promote an improvement program for customer parking in the shopping area.

The proposal was directed to all businesses — retail, professional and other — appealing for a cooperative "one dollar per week" contribution.

Letters were sent to 100 area businessmen by Earl Wine-man, president of the Retail Merchants Association, and a merchants' offstreet parking committee composed of Fred Kester, Essie Nider and William Sliger.

The committee proposes to blacktop the new city parking lot on Main street, properly sign and light parking lots and walkways and generally beautify the downtown area.

Other considerations include an "employee parking lot" and additional services in the shopping area, such as restroom facilities and benches for older citizens.

In recent years the city council, has taken the lead in acquisition of parking facilities with merchants making voluntary contributions. Merchants recently completed a $10,000 payment to the city for parking and alley facilities behind the Methodist church.

While the new fund would not produce a large sum of money immediately, the committee hopes that participation will be widespread and grow into a source of revenue to meet future needs as they arise.

Businessmen were asked to reply to the request this week.

Plan Ceremony

The Northville Garden Club will hold dedication ceremonies at the Joseph Denton Park Wednesday, May 1 at 10 a.m. when a new sign donated by the club is erected.

Mayor A. M. Allen will participate in the ceremonies. Mrs. George Kohs, Garden Club president, will be in charge.

Mental Health Week

Hospital Invites Public Inspection

As Mental Health week opens, a group of Northville State hospital's elderly Catholic patients will be dedicating two new worship cases.

The cases, to be on display during the hospital's open house Sunday, are a combination of the old and new.

Bordering the cases are several walnut timbers, the original timbers forming the cow stalls on the 1820 estate where the hospital now stands.

Inside the cases are new hand-carved crucifixes from Oberammergau, Germany.

The walnut borders were the invention of two Northville carpenters, Wallace Westerfield of West Nine Mile, and Glen Ellsworth, who resides on hospital grounds.

They said they found wood from the old barn last owned by the Henry M. Campbells, now of Grosse Pointe, and "couldn't bear to see it going to waste."

The crucifixes were the gift of the Detroit Archdiocesan council of Catholic Women.

The project was the brainchild of Reverend Paul Lederman, a member of the hospital staff.

Father Lederman noted that although most of the geriatric patients can get around well in their own buildings, the necessary weekend trips to confessions and Mass in the auditorium, nearly a block away, proved hazardous.

The new worship cases will be shown visitors touring the hospital Sunday during open house, the first day of national Mental Health week.

Tours that day will begin at 1 p.m. with the last tour scheduled to leave the hospital lobby at 3:30 p.m.

Exhibits will be featured in various hospital buildings. During Mental Health week groups and individuals may call the hospital's community relations department to make arrangements for tours of the buildings.

Board Cool To Support Of College

In one of the shortest sessions of the year, Northville's school board Monday approved 10 new teacher contracts, three resignations and heard a report from the community college committee.

To be issued elementary teaching contracts for the coming year are Miss Patricia Curry, Mrs. Nancy Gray, Richard Gray, Mrs. Janice Hobart and Miss Patricia Terry.

Secondary contracts were approved for Mrs. Mary Brown, Miss Barbara Green, William Joseph Trickey Jr., Roy A. Herald and Kenneth E. Thompson.

Letters of resignation came from Mrs. Shirley Jean Hoffman, junior high physical education instructor; Jack Kreiner, high school instructor and wrestling coach, and George G. Sarkozy, junior high science teacher.

The board okayed re-instatement of Miss Carol Shauman, an elementary teacher, who had earlier been granted a leave of absence for next year.

In other business, the community college committee, headed by Mrs. Eugene Cook and Mrs. William Davis recommended that the board take a stand on Northville's proposed entrance into the Northwest Wayne County Community College district.

However, the board declined until it learns the results of a bill, now in the legislature, which provides for the annexed district to pay a one mill tax.

Mrs. Elsie Price, minority committee member, questioned whether the tax will remain at one mill after a year or two.

Board President William Crump noted he was "skeptical" of the proposed financing of the college and added that he was "scared an additional one mill tax for the college would hurt us locally."

Points covered in the community college study committee's report included:

—Proximity of Schoolcraft community college will make it possible for many local residents to use its facilities;

—Northville's school district is more closely allied to districts in the Western Wayne County district than with other districts in proposed community college districts in Oakland and Washtenaw counties;

—By becoming a member of a community college district, Northville has an opportunity to participate in the control of the college;

—Financial support of the local K-12 program is of prime importance — but Northville also has an obligation to provide opportunities for higher education, especially when higher education at the local level can help relieve the burden of four-year colleges and universities;

—While it would be possible for local students to attend Schoolcraft at the non-resident rate, the difference in tuition could be a deterrent to local students enrolling; and

—Economic factors such as the maintenance of property values in the community, reduced cost of attendance, the training and possible retention of technically-trained persons in this area, the convenience to local residents and the possible benefits to local business would be sufficient to balance the one mill assessment for operation of Schoolcraft, the report concluded.

City Initiates 24-Hour Communication System

It took less than two days to move 37 years' accumulation from old city hall to interim quarters at 122 North Wing street.

On Saturday the city's nerve center was completely relocated.

And with the move the city introduced its first full time communications operation — tabbed the "cadet system."

Under the new set-up at least one person is on duty at all times in the city hall communication center to answer fire, police or other emergency calls.

Previously, night calls to Northville were directed to Plymouth night clerks and then radioed to local police.

Now the Northville city hall is in direct radio contact with police. The fire phone, siren and bank alarms are also controlled from the communications center.

Currently serving in the cadet clerk capacities are Mrs. Arnold Teshka (4 p.m. - midnight), William "Spike" Walker (midnight-8 a.m.) and Alan Wakenhut, who serves as relief clerk on Saturdays and Sundays.

Red Cross Plans Bloodmobile Here

Members of the Northville branch of the Detroit Red Cross Chapter are sponsoring a visit of the Red Cross bloodmobile to the First Methodist church, 109 Dunlap, Friday, May 10.

The bloodmobile will be open for donors from 2 to 5 and 6 to 8 p.m.

Mrs. C. C. Winter, Northville blood program chairman, has invited members of all organized blood groups to make use of the facilities and credit the account of their choice. Donor cards may be secured from the chairman, Mrs. Winter, FI 9-2361, or the Red Cross Northville Regional office, GA 4-0220. Mrs. Winter, along with co-chairman Mrs. Harry Crofts, will make appointments for prospective donors until May 6. She stressed the convenience of appointments which are a time saver for prospective donors.

Mrs. A. C. Carlson, chairman of the Northville Red Cross group, is assisting Mrs. Winter and Mrs. Crofts in recruiting donors. During the visit of the bloodmobile Northville Red Cross volunteers will assist the professional staff.

dispatching of fire equipment. Fire engines will remain temporarily in the old fire barn until demolition begins. A temporary building of pole-barn construction will be erected in the rear of the interim city hall to house fire equipment. When the new facilities are ready, the pole barn will be moved to the city's public works building area near Gerald avenue for storage of equipment, the city manager stated.

Monday night the city council meets to open bids for demolition of the old city hall. Plans for the new facility have been approved and bids for construction are expected to be advertised immediately upon demolition. (See pictures, page one, section two).

With the exception of the council chambers the temporary building offers as much or more space than the old. The clerk's office is on the main floor along with offices for the manager and bookkeeper. The council chamber is also on the main floor.

In addition to the communication center the second floor has offices for the justice of the peace and court clerk, a courtroom and officers room and an office for the chief of police.

A drive-way is currently being built completely around the city hall to provide for fast

Swim Club Set To Take Plunge

Directors of the Northville Swim Club have decided to go ahead with plans to build a new pool this year.

At a membership meeting held Saturday at the community building the board announced that three swimming pool contractors would submit bids for the project April 29.

Construction is scheduled to begin May 15 with the contract calling for completion by July 2.

Admittedly faced with difficulties in obtaining hoped-for membership, the directors decided to scale down original plans and divide the project into three phases.

Phase one will call for construction of an Olympic size pool — 42.5 by 80 feet — a basic one-level bath house and a spray pool for youngsters. These facilities will be designed to accommodate 200 members only. At present the club has 111 paid memberships.

The directors have emphasized that memberships will close at 200. After this total is reached membership applications will be accepted in anticipation of phase two — an addition of a diving "L" to the pool and a second level on the bath house.

Phase three would be undertaken when sufficient funds are available to build tennis and shuffleboard courts and pave the parking lot.

A membership meeting has been called for Thursday, May 2 at 8 p.m. at the community building when a vote to award the building contract will be sought.

Meanwhile, directors are seeking new members to bring the total to 200.

The pool will be constructed on property behind Northville high school adjacent to the city water tower.

Directors of Northville Swim Club, Inc., are: Raymond Jackson, president; Robert Bogart and Robert Bretz, vice presidents; Ed Langtry, secretary; and Charles Altman, treasurer.

Plan Movies For Children

A program of free movies for children on Saturday afternoons is being promoted by a Northville businessman as a possible regular feature.

Leo Markham, owner of Ramsey's Bar, has made arrangements with the Northville's P & A Theatre management to provide movies for youngsters at 2:30 p.m. each Saturday. They would run between 2-2½ hours.

Markham said he has contacted numerous area businessmen seeking weekly contributions of $2 to support the program and has had excellent response. He said a similar plan has met with success in Milford.

He proposes to try the program during May only. If it is successful and wins business support, it will be resumed in the fall. Markham asks businessmen who have not been contacted, but would be willing to support the program, to call him.

Teacher Dorrian In 'Mousetrap'

One of Northville high school's English teachers has found a new hobby: playing a murder suspect in Agatha Christie's mystery-thriller, "The Mousetrap."

Five nights a week, Miss Pat Dorrian trods the boards rehearsing her lines for the Plymouth Theatre guild production scheduled to open May 2 in the Plymouth high school.

The play will also be given
May 3 and 4.

"Quite a change for me,"
says Miss Dorrian. "Last month
I was directing Northville high students in 'Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs.' Now I'm on the other side of the footlights taking direction."

The part Miss Dorrian plays, that of Miss Casewell, is "a real challenge," she reports.
Besides, she continues, "it's the first time I've had a chance to appear in a play that's still running."

"The Mousetrap" is in its 11th year at London's Ambasador theatre, Miss Dorrian explained, adding that it's been reported Agatha Christie loves the show so much that she's been back to see it over 50 times.

Miss Dorrian appeared in a Plymouth guild show, "The Biggest Thief in Town," last season.

Advance tickets for "The Mousetrap" are now on sale for $1 at the Melody house in Plymouth.

last weekend in her kitchen filling cookie jars and boxes.

Half of her cookie harvest, she says, was mailed off to her boy Gerald, stationed with the U.S. Navy in Bainbridge, Maryland.

The other half? "I put those into the cookie jar for my four grandchildren," Mrs. Jerome adds. "They're coming home with their mother, Mrs. Richard Hooker of Kalamazoo, this week."

The recipes of Mrs. Jerome:

OATMEAL COOKIES

1 1/2 cups oatmeal one-third cup sour milk or buttermilk
3/4 cup shortening
2 cups brown sugar
2 eggs
1 tsp. vanilla

2 1/2 cups sifted flour
1 tsp. baking powder
1 tsp. soda
1 tsp. salt
1 tsp. cloves
1 tsp. cinnamon
1 tsp. nutmeg
1 cup raisins
1 cup chopped nut meats
Sprinkle the oatmeal in a shallow pan and brown lightly under the broiler. Place in a bowl and add sour milk, let stand five minutes. Cream shortening and sugar until smooth, add eggs and vanilla and beat thoroughly. Add the soaked oatmeal and then add dry ingredients. Mix until smooth. Then add raisins and nut meats. Drop by teaspoon on greased baking sheets. Bake in 425 degree oven from 12 to 15 minutes.

Family Service Offices Now Available in Area

Family Service of Metropolitan Detroit, a family counseling service and a Torch Fund agency, opened a new district office in Livonia to serve western Wayne county Monday.

The out-county district office, as it will be known, is located at 15223 Farmington road, Livonia.

Service will be available to families living in Northville, Northville township, Livonia, Garden City and the area in Nankin and Canton townships north of Cherry Hill road, according to Howard Hush, executive director.

The boundary lines are temporary, officials said. The objective, as financing permits, is to build up the services in the western Wayne county area — north to Oakland county, west to Washtenaw county (except for Plymouth and Plymouth township which are not a part of the United Foundation area) and south to Van Buren road.

This extension of service followed an intensive citizens' study and report completed late in 1962, which indicated a lack of family counseling service in the area.

The initial allocation of funds makes it possible to have two qualified professional caseworkers and a secretary. Acting as district director until the position can be filled permanently, is Arne A. Erickson, administrative assistant in the metropolitan agency's office.

Agency officials acknowledged that the funds available do not provide enough personnel to meet the current needs of the area. However, they said, it is assumed that staff additions can be made in 1964, depending upon the fall success of the Torch drive.

Family Service of Metropolitan district offices throughout the metropolitan area, offers a counseling service for individuals and families in which there is a crisis or extreme misunderstanding and a need for professional counseling from outside the family group.

In 1962, 5968 different families used the service. More than 50% of these families came with a problem in their marriage relationship. The second largest group consisted of those with critical misunderstanding between parents and children.

MOLASSES DROP COOKIES

1/2 cup molasses
1/2 cup sour milk

1/4 teaspoon cloves
1 tsp. cinnamon
1/4 tsp. allspice
1/4 tsp. nutmeg
1 tsp. soda
1 egg

nuts may be added if desired
Cream butter and add sugar, egg and beat. Add molasses and sour milk. Add dry ingredients sifted together.

NEWCOMER'S CORNER

I look upon every day to be lost, in which I do not make a new acquaintance.

— Samuel Johnson

PEACE PLUS — Setting of the Raymond Heyman's home is a far cry from the bustle of Detroit — and they like it.

After living in Detroit for 35 years, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Heyman have found their haven in Northville.

It's a home and a half acre of land at 20051 Springwood Drive.

"We're just enthralled with the place," beamed Mrs. Heyman.

"He loves to work around the yard," she said of her attorney husband. "And I like taking care of this big house."

The Heymans' interest is not only in their new home.

Mr. Heyman is an active Masonic member of the Oakland Lake, Redford and Moslem Shrine of Detroit. He is also a member of the Northwest Exchange, the Michigan and Detroit Bar Associations and formerly worked for the Detroit Bank and Trust Company. He is now vice-president of the Plymouth Finance Company in Plymouth.

Both are members of the Bushnell Congregational church of Detroit, in which Mrs. Heyman has been especially active.

The long ride every day to and from his law offices in Detroit does not discourage Mr. Heyman. In fact, he likes it.

"He enjoys the trip to work every morning," Mrs. Heyman noted. "And the trip home at night is every bit as enjoyable."

Neither of the Heymans is a stranger to a small town, however. "I'm from Grand Haven, originally, and my husband is from Coldwater. We met on the Michigan State university campus," she said. "We were married shortly after graduation."

Grade Schools Schedule Parent-Teacher Talks

Parent-teacher conferences will be held next week in the Northville grade schools.

Conference schedule for parents of pupils in the Amerman and Main street schools is as follows:

Students Hear Hillsdale Choir

The 104-year-old Hillsdale college choir of 46 voices under the direction of Prof. Harold F. Brown, presented an assembly concert for Northville high school students today. The assembly was sponsored by the high school student council.

—Parents of kindergarden students, Wednesday through Friday.

—Parents whose children are attending grades one through six at the Amerman school, Monday and Tuesday.

—Parents whose children are attending grades one through six at the Main street school, Thursday and Friday.

The appearance is a part of a five-day tour-of-tower and central Michigan during which the aggregation will keep 10 engagements. In addition to the full choir, some numbers will be presented by the men's chorus, the Madrigal Singers (10 of the choir members singing a cappella) and instrumentalists.

Two Northville students at Hillsdale are included in the choir personnel — Rosemarie Tetzlaff, of 105 Linden, is one of the 17 sopranos in the group, and Paul DeJohn, 17637 Beck road, is a bass.

Main School Principal Harry Smith said that previous participation has been excellent with as many as 95 per cent of the parents attending the conferences. "We're proud of our record and hope that parents will be as enthusiastic this time," Smith said.

Main purpose of the conferences, Smith continued, is to keep the channels of communication open between the parents and the school and to inform the parents of their children's progress.

This will be the second conference of the school year, the first being held in October.

Mrs. Heyman worked as a secretary to help put her husband through law school. "It was a lot of fun," Mrs. Heyman said.

In Review Seven Tears for Apollo

EDITOR'S NOTE — It's appropriate that the following book review by News Editor Margaret Silbar is being published during National Library Week. A world of good books awaits Northville-Novis residents in their public libraries. Why not visit your library this week.

Phyllis Whitney lives up to her earlier reputation of wielding the pen to combine romance and suspense in Seven Tears for Apollo, her ninth novel.

Set in an historical background — as are most Whitney tales — Seven Tears, just out this year, is woven around an imaginary Delphi oracle revealed on the modern-day Greek island of Rhodes.

The island symbolizes escape to the young heroine, Dorcas Brandt — escape from the terrifying chain of events set in motion by her too-young marriage and climaxing with the report of her Italian husband's death.

But Dorcas' hopes for a haven are thwarted. Even on Rhodes, her husband's companions in illicit art dealings continue to stalk her, reasoning that she must know the details of her husband's final art coup.

Dorcas is subjected to one strange incident after another: owls' eyes are scribbled over her mirror, an ancient coin suddenly appears on her bureau, she imagines she feels a dead man's hand, she dreams a tear on the marble head of a boy is misplaced.

More and more frustrated, Dorcas begins to suspect she's losing her sanity. Adding to her fright is the realization that she may forfeit her tiny daughter unless she can untangle the web of confusion tightening around her.

All in all, Seven Tears, a new Northville library book, adds up to an easy evening of reading.

Phyllis Whitney — delightful grandmother that she is — does not, for me at least, rank in the same class as a Daphne du Maurier or a Bronte, a class she's frequently put into. Although Miss Whitney gives Seven Tears some quite imaginative twists, her tale is peopled with stilted characters. But certainly it can be said that Miss Whitney uses to advantage in Seven Tears her years of travel, her love of research. She writes in this last novel, as in others such as The Moonflower, from the position of an American visiting a foreign country, observing and describing well tourist attractions, the habits native to a people.

Senior Prom Friday Night

Tomorrow evening, April 26, strains of dance melodies will float from the Community building as the Northville high school senior class presents the annual 'senior Prom'.

Decorations for the theme of "Twilight in San Francisco" will be put in place Friday for that night's event.

Music for the dance will be provided by the Tom Houghton orchestra.

Those working on this year's prom are Millie Smith, Brenda Coburn, Irene Engel, Jeff Crawford, Bobbie Davis, Chuck Somers, Nancy Christenson, Lauren McKarns, Mary Mitchell, Ginger Cheesman, Jamie Jameson, Dikron Ornekian, Tom Swiss, Bill Weidner.

Also, Gary Grysiwicz, Don Biery, Jim Juday, Bill Challas, Carol Leavenworth, Etta Ruitan, Karen Peterson, Jim Drew, Karen Hinck, Rose Kinski, Sue F'Geppert, Carol Bell, Donna Williams, Vicki Boyd, Kathy Gallagher.

Selfishness Destroying UN Wadsworth Tells Town Hall

The president of the Peace Research Institute rapped this country's U.N. "double talk" last week and declared that poor communication and man's selfishness are eating away at the very foundations of the world organization.

James J. Wadsworth, deputy representative to the U.N. for seven years, pointed out in the final Town Hall lecture that this country is "not trusted in the U.N."

"We seem at times to say one thing, to do another," Wadsworth told an audience gathered in the P & A theatre. "The best U.N. speech ever made was one President Kennedy delivered in 1961," he recalled. "At that time, Kennedy challenged the Soviets and over 100 other countries to a peace race."

"With the sole exception of a peace corps, Kennedy has not been able to get even his own country up to the starting line of a peace race."

Or take, for example, the speech I gave in 1960 as head of the U.S. delegation, Wadsworth said.

"I spoke about freedom being dearer to Americans than to any other people since the United States is a country born of revolution," Wadsworth reported.

"Then, when it came time later that day to vote for a harmless resolution endorsing struggling new nations — I was ordered to vote against the resolution."

Or, he continued, look at the U.S. part in the Bay of Pigs invasion. "There, we flouted not only the U.N. charter, but our Cuban and OAS treaties as well."

Until nations can be made to realize that "it is to their personal, selfish interest to get along," Wadsworth declared, "the United Nations cannot take another step."

"When one looks at the so-called dangers to the United Nations — the broken treaties, the communist plots, the Arab-Israeli battles, the money lack — one sees that they're all examples of the real challenge: selfishness."

The selfishness, he noted, is compounded by poor communication.

For example, a member of the People's State of some South American country says in the U.N. that his country has freedom, democracy and is making economic strides.

"That representative believes what he's saying. Only trouble is, freedom in the People's State is coupled with a fear that the next person one looks at sideways may be a secret policeman.

"Economic strides mean that a pair of shoes may be purchased with the earnings from 25, rather than 26 days. Democracy means everyone can vote for the country's one presidential candidate," Wadsworth explained.

The U.N. "is not a be-all, end-all organization," Wadsworth reminded his audience. "It is only a partial, temporary step in man's evolution," he said. "However, the very fact that such an organization as the U.N. exists today indicates considerable success."

There's no "easy" answer to today's problems, to governments "acting like little children on a playground with chips on their shoulders," Wadsworth said. "The only thing that can be done is to see if we can't translate this tremendous feeling of 'no more' into governmental programs."

— The Northville Mustangs baseball team won its fourth game in a row Monday 6-2 over Clarkston to remain undefeated.

— Mrs. John Haas, secretary-elect and present legislative chairman, Mrs. B. William Secord, president, and Mrs. Robert Bessery, membership chairman, went to Detroit. They will represent the area branch of the American Association of University Women at the conference at the Statler-Hilton hotel.

—Three mayoral candidates have filed petitions for Wixom's city incorporation election May 19. Village President Joseph Stadnik will have competition from Wesley McAtee and Lawrence R. Schardt.

— Mayor Claude N. "Pete" Ely, Northville's only city mayor, died suddenly Sunday. He was 65 years old.

—Twenty-five years ago today, Russell H. Amerman became superintendent of the Northville school system.

— Nearly 100 young ballplayers turned out Thursday and Saturday of last week in Cass Benton park to try for a spot on one of Northville's midge league teams.

FIFTEEN YEARS AGO
April 23, 1948

— The Northville Exchange club celebrated its 25th birthday Wednesday. Robert Brown of Ann Arbor, first president of the club, spoke, as did Carl Ely, Elmer Smith, Dr. Cavell, Don Yerkes, M. J. Murphy, Lou Stewart, Rev. W. Leslie Williams and Fred Van Atta.

Is Chief Full Time?

Yes, Virginia, (sorry I mean Al) — there is a police chief in Novi, at least there is supposed to be one, if you can find him for he is elusive because he is a man of many hats as the Novi News told us, it's no wonder he so seldom wears the hat of Police Chief of Novi. For you must understand it is difficult to find the one of Novi among all the hats and after all it might not be his favorite one.

However I will tell you Virginia, (sorry I mean Al) as soon as your letter was published, your Novi Chief did grace us with his presence for a few weeks. Of course we will not count his side trips to all the surrounding areas shall we say for his coffee klatches.

It's a crying shame Virginia (sorry I mean Al) we didn't let him continue to wear the hat of Police Chief of Cheboygan — as he used to wear that one quite often around Novi.

Just think Virginia (sorry I mean Al), we could have at least saved the salary we are paying him today and hire a good patrolman whose loyalty is to Novi and not to pet projects and surrounding areas.

Don't blame the Novi News Virginia (sorry I mean Al) cause it isn't their fault that the so called police chief of Novi likes publicity, but that is neither here nor there Virginia, (sorry I mean Al) but to answer your question — Yes there is a police chief in Novi, at least the council pays him for being a full time chief — but is he, this I really don't know — what would you say? Signed, A Taxpayer

Correction

An article in the April 11 edition of this newspaper reported that a former Brighton hospital patient had attempted suicide at the Andrew Burgess home on Beck road. This report was incorrect.

Police answered the call at an Eleven Mile road address. The attempt was halted by police and the patient was taken to the hospital.

Mrs. Burgess is not a nurse at the Brighton hospital as reported.

Scout Visit

Company's coming for the 8000 Girl Scouts of the Huron Valley council.

Three girl guides from India are due to arrive in this country May 14, their visit culminating a novel idea in international friendship entirely conceived, financed and carried out by the girls in the Huron Valley council.

Two years ago, area Girl Scouts, including those in Northville, started planning. They would invite three foreign girls to come visit awhile. Since the idea would take money, the Michigan girls' chipped in 50 cents each. Suddenly, they had a no-charge of $4000 to cover air transportation for their guests and even a little spending money left over.

Word arrived last week from India, identifying the guests: Sunita Bhargava, 18, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. N. Bhargava of Lucknow, Uttar Pradesh; Rupa Trivedi, 17, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. K. Trivedi of Allahabad, and a chaperone, Miss Violet Caleb, joint national organizing commissioner of India's guides.

The Indian guests will be entertained in Northville July 3 at an open house sponsored by Girl Scout adult leaders and July 6 at an old-fashioned picnic sponsored by scout troops.

Chairman of the welcoming committee is Mrs. Archie Moore of 230-Lake street.

Students Gain EMU Honors

Eight area students were named this week to the fall semester honors list at Eastern Michigan university.

They were Marjorie Dail, Ann Downer, Carol Fritz, Chris Krauter, Mary Lamp, Brigitte Muller and Leslie Sheehan, all of Northville, and Noel F. Ceppert of Novi.

All students named to the list compiled academic grade-point averages of three or better. A four point is an A, three a B and two a C.

There were 503 students on the list.

High School Holiday

Northville high school students will have a holiday Friday.

Mustang Nine Starts Slugging

The Northville Mustangs literally walked to victory Thursday over Clarenceville, 14-4. Four Clarenceville pitchers couldn't find the plate on the local diamond as they walked 11 men.

And the visitors didn't have much better luck finding the ball. They committed seven errors.

Timely hits, however, won the game for Northville.

The Mustangs scored four runs in the third inning and eight in a big fourth inning rally to secure the victory.

John Mach, the sophomore left fielder, continued hitting with men on base. He came through with a bases loaded single in the fourth frame, scoring two.

Pinch-hitter Larry Angove also came through again with men on base. He drilled a long double to right-center field to score two more runs in the fourth.

Jim Juday, although he had two hits in four trips to the plate, couldn't keep up his torrid hitting pace.

Entering the game, he was batting 1.000 on seven hits seven official times up. He's now batting .818 — still a pretty fair average.

Big shot of the game came off the bat of Duane Ashley, of Clarenceville who powered one over the left-center field fence with two men on in the fifth. There was no doubt about that one.

But the visitors had little else to yell about.

The Mustangs broke the scoring ice with four runs in the third inning.

Eric Peterson was safe on an error and Howie Jones walked to put men on first and second. Juday singled one run across. Then Joe Hay slapped a single to drive in two runs and he scored on two wild pitches.

In a hectic fourth inning, the Mustangs pushed across eight runs. They capitalized on two walks, three errors and three base hits.

Angove's double and Mach's single sparked the rally and accounted for four runs.

"We started off well defensively and we hit them well later," noted Coach Stan Golonka. "Their pitchers were wild, which helped us a lot."

Statistics bear out Coach Golonka's contention as Northville just outthit the visitors, eight to seven.

Tom Swiss, who pitched the first five innings, gave up all seven hits and the four runs while striking out three.

Swiss was relieved by Dave Cummings. In a two inning stint, he struck out two and allowed no hits.

The Mustang nine was finally stopped last Monday.

The weather did it with Northville leading Clarkston, 8-1.

The game was called in the top of the seventh inning, the bases loaded with Mustangs and nobody out.

Clarkston, on the other hand, was hard pressed to contain the visiting Mustangs.

geance as he pounded out three hits and drove in four runs. His home run, a booming clout over the right fielder's head, brought in three insurance runs in the sixth.

For the second time this year, Eric Peterson went the route on the mound. He twirled a four-hitter, striking out 10 and walking none.

All four hits came in the first two innings. Peterson re-fired the last twelve men in order.

Larry Angove came through again as a pinch hitter — he's failed only once. This time he drilled a single to center which scored two runs in the third inning.

In all, Northville collected 11 hits.

"We're really sticking that ball," said Coach Stan Golonka. "And Clarkston is the best team we've played thus far."

The win moved Northville into a three-way tie for first place in the W-O league. Clarkston, Milford and Northville all hold 3-1 records in conference play.

Overall, the local team stands 4-1 for the season.

The Mustangs broke into the scoring column in the first inning.

Howie Jones singled and Jim Juday sacrificed him to second. Swiss singled to left to drive in the first run. John Mach then lifted a high fly to left, which was dropped and the second run scored.

Northville added three more runs in the third.

Swiss led off with a single and stole second. Mach walked. Jeff Crawford reached second on an error at short.

with Mach stopping at third. Angove then singled both runners across.

In the sixth frame, Swiss slammed a home run to score Peterson and Juday who had singled ahead of him.

Clarkston's lone tally came in the first inning.

The first man led off with a triple between the outfielders. The next man struck out. Two singles scored one run and put men on first and third. But Peterson nipped one runner on a play at the plate and struck out the last man to end the threat.

The game was all but over for Clarkston.

Despite adverse conditions Northville linksters won their first match Monday at the Brae Burn golf course.

They not only fought off the rainy, cool weather, they also battled and won over an old nemesis, Milford, 163-165.

The Indians had an impressive record entering Monday's dual meet. They had beaten Northville four times last year, placed second in the W-O league, and were undefeated in three matches this year.

"And they had all four top men back from last year," added Coach Al Jones.

But the Mustangs rose to the occasion on their first outing.

Five men from each team entered the competition, but only the four best scores for nine holes were recorded.

Golfers Topple Milford Squad

Northville recorded some good scores:

—Veteran golfer Bill Weidner led the Mustangs with a 40.

—Seniors Dave Zielinski, Bob Boyle and sophomore Jim St. Germaine tallied 41s.

—Freshman Rick Talbot, although he did not place in the top four to qualify, came through with a 42.

Milford's golfers had the lowest and highest scores. They had scores of 39, 41, 42, 43, and 49.

Coach Jones was satisfied with his team's performance. "Everything taken into consideration, we played some pretty fair golf in our first match," he said. "But there's tough competition ahead."

Netters String Up Trio of W-O Wins

The Northville netters are off and running.

They swept by two conference foes on the home courts last Wednesday and Thursday by identical 4-1 scores.

Then they scrapped by Clarkston on the road, 3-2.

Coach Keith Krause is more optimistic now. "We looked pretty good. We've been coming along well after our first game loss. I'm a little more satisfied," he said.

He added, "Our doubles teams are straightening out with the sophomores getting more experience. Hopes for a good season are a little higher now."

Holly was the first victim. Dikran Ornekian, the only winner in Northville's upset loss in the season opener, again defeated his opponent with ease, 6-0, 6-1.

It was the improvement of Mark Byard and Bob Langtry, playing in the number two and three singles spot, that led to victory. Byard won 6-0, 6-1, and Langtry fought off game opposition to win, 8-6, 6-2.

The top doubles team of Dave Schmidt and Jim Weidner were hard pressed but, nevertheless, blanked his opponent, 6-0, 6-0.

Gary Grysiwicz and Jim Jiggins, who had just returned from a vacation trip, to compete in their first match, barely got by their men.

Grysiwicz won, 6-8, 6-4, 6-4. Jiggins out fought his opponent, 6-8, 7-5, 6-3.

"They played bad tennis," said Coach Krause of Jiggins and Grysiwicz, "but they played scrappy ball to win. And they were playing freshmen who weren't too good," he added.

Both of Northville's doubles teams lost.

Byard and Weidner dropped their match, 6-3, 4-6, 9-7, and Langtry-Schmidt lost, 7-5, 6-3.

"Maybe we just got our bad game out of our system," Coach Krause said. "The weather was very bad too."

LET'S TALK CARS . . .

Tire Pressures

One thing that makes us especially proud is the number of people who buy their first used car from us, let us service it, and then as they move up, come back to buy newer cars from us.

Take the simple little matter of keeping tires properly inflated.

Tires that are overinflated wear out quickly in the middle of the tread. Underinflation is just as bad. It brings overheating which causes the layers of fabric inside the tire to separate.

Wandering and weaving on the road can be caused by underinflation, and a pull to one side can result from unequal inflation on the front tires or from not having matched treads. Underinflated tires can cause a shimmy, too.

All this worry can be saved by nothing more complicated than checking your tire pressure. When you've been running around town, pressure should be no more than three pounds above the recommended cool pressure; on the open highway five pounds above is all right.

These are the important little things you'll learn by talking to the people on our lot and in our service department.

When something really goes wrong, those mechanics have the machinery and the know-how to fix it. But like any good doctor, when nothing is really wrong, they'll tell you.

Boy, 6, Hurt In Accident

A young Northville boy was injured in a two car collision last Thursday on Randolph street.

Six-year old Rodney Baird is in St. Mary hospital, Livonia.

According to police, Mrs. Pearl Baird of 408 Randolph street said she was backing out of the drive way when the car which she was driving was struck on the right rear side.

Driver of the car heading west on Randolph street was Paul E. Gregory of South Lyon. Police said that Gregory stated he was driving 15 to 20 miles an hour when Mrs. Baird backed out in front of his car.

The impact spun the Baird car completely around, said police, and the boy was probably thrown out of the car. He was riding in the front seat, police added.

Gregory has filed a complaint charging Mrs. Baird with failing to yield the right of way which caused a property damage and injury accident. Arraignment is scheduled May 6.

Appeal Board Airs Requests In Township

The Northville township board of appeals approved one request, tabled two and denied another at a meeting held last Thursday at the township hall.

The A. M. Thomson Sand and Gravel company was given permission to construct a small asphalt plant at their gravel pits at 48399 West Seven Mile road. It will be used to supplement another plant already in operation.

A request by Bruce McAllister to construct a house on Timberlane property owned by McAllister was denied. The lot is .708 acres in an area which requires minimum one acre lot sizes. The board noted that adjacent property was available to meet the requirement.

ful living room now full of unpainted voters' booths, at the grating which marks the former library, once full of beautiful and valuable books and at the handsome and expensive carved chestnut woodwork which has been covered with walnut varnish," Mrs. Lapham wrote.

Unfortunately, there's no record in existence of how Widow Lapham felt about the summer home and took up residence permanently near the "remodeling." After selling the property, she still tied to the village by relatives and friends, purchased another home at the southeast corner of Rogers and Dunlap. This, she used as a summer residence for many years; spending most of her time in Charlottesville, Virginia, with her son and friends there.

When young Jared died some years later in Virginia, the widow sold her Northville summer home and took up residence permanently near the university until her death.

The William G. Laphams gone from Northville, Mrs. Edward H. Lapham termed it "the end of an era."

She lamented in her 1942 writings the "loss of those strong individuals of early days," adding, "It seems to me that they were not made in the same mould or wishing to be, but each exhibiting his own characteristics, unhampered by precedent or criticism."

It is one of the largest of 10 divisions in the Conference. Membership comprises 65 contractor trade associations representing an estimated 19,000 contractors throughout Michigan's construction industry.

Days are Numbered for Old City Hall

Northville's village and city hall offices since 1926 are vacant and boarded up awaiting demolition. Below is the combination city hall-library-fire department which the city will erect on the same site, thanks to a $137,000 in federal matching funds.

Thirty-seven years is a long time to accumulate things in a city hall. But everything was moved out last week end — lock, stock and filing cabinet.

Thus an era ended that began in 1926. In contrast the new city hall is a temporary headquarters slated to last little longer than seven or eight months — just long enough to tear down the old and build the new.

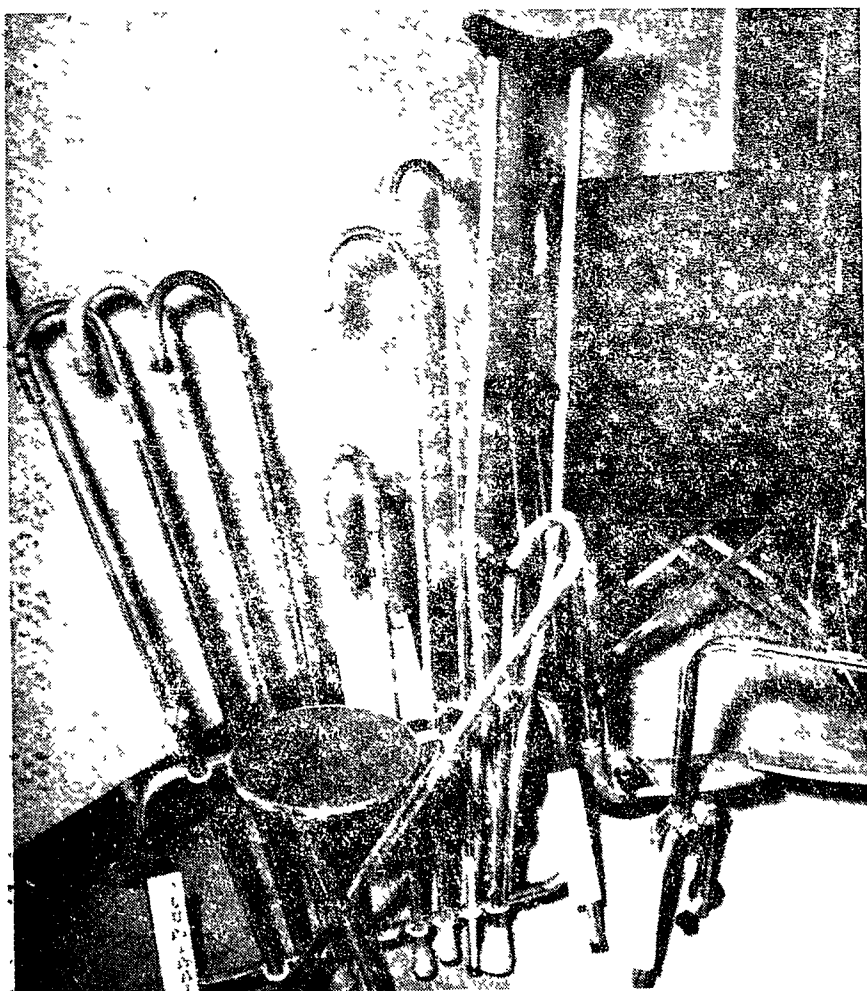

Waiting to be erected over its new front door at 122 North Wing.

This was J. S. Lapham's banking office on Main street.

This is J. S. Lapham, founder of the Lapham bank. He married Martha Gregory, whose father owned and built the house which later became Northville's village and city hall.

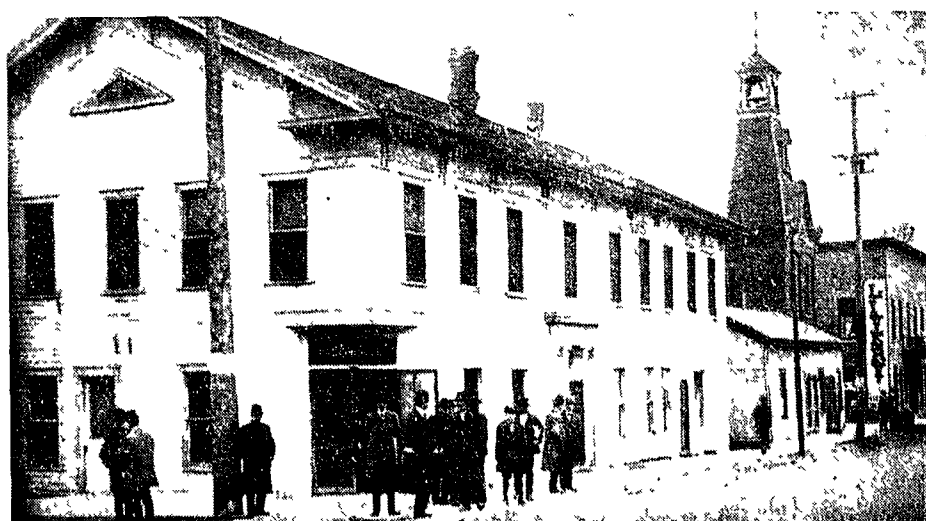

William G., son of J. S. Lapham, is shown at the piano with Professor Fred Taylor of the University of Michigan. William's widow was the last owner and resident of the Lapham home. She sold it to the village in 1926.

203. Lapham Residence, Northville, Mich.

This was the Lapham residence before it was sold to the village. This picture was taken from Cady street. The library can be seen at the right.

Before acquiring the Lapham house Northville's village offices were in the building with the tall steeple. It's now the Cottage restaurant building. The large building above is the old Park House hotel, which was destroyed by fire. It was located at Main and Center streets.

Public works employees moved city hall furnishings Friday and Saturday. Everything gone but his phone and a few books, Manager Bruce Potthoff makes his last call from old city hall.

from the PASTOR'S STUDY

By the Rev. B. J. Pankow, Pastor
St. Paul's Lutheran Church of Northville

A LIVING HOPE
The hope of all who do not believe in Christ does not deserve the name "hope." No matter how beautifully man may describe the hereafter, whether he refers to it as the Elysian Fields, the Garden of the Hesperides, Valhalla, or Nirvana, he can have no hope without Christ.

The hope of the Christian, however, is a living hope, because it is based on the living and resurrected Son of God. The resurrection of Jesus is the fountainhead, the source, the generative power of this living hope.

The Christian's hope is a living hope because the living Savior has given him a living inheritance.

This inheritance is incorruptible. Here on earth, wherever we look, corruption stares at us. But the inheritance that Christ promises to all who believe in Him is not subject to corruption. It is indestructible and everlasting, because God is everlasting.

This inheritance is undefiled. Here on earth all is defiled, contaminated by sin. There, in heaven, the believer's inheritance is pure and undefiled.

The heavenly inheritance is one that does not fade away. Here on earth our pleasures fade and change, but the pleasures of heaven will never fade away.

The inheritance of the believer is safely reserved in heaven. Here on earth our treasures, ever in the most so-called "impregnable" vault, are not absolutely safe. The heavenly inheritance is secure beyond question.

All of this is guaranteed to us in God's infallible and unchanging Word. There we read: "Blessed be the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, which according to his abundant mercy hath begotten us again unto a lively hope by the resurrection of Jesus Christ from the dead, to an inheritance incorruptible, and undefiled, and that fadeth not away, reserved in heaven for you, who are kept by the power of God through faith unto salvation ready to be revealed in the last time." (1 Peter 1:3-5)

It is this living hope based on the resurrection of Jesus Christ that God would have us share with the whole world.

REPORT from LANSING

By PAUL CHANDLER
State Representative, 21st District

Lansing — There is something about the words "lobbyist" and "lobbying" which fascinate many voters.

Maybe it's the influence of intrigue-type TV shows where practically everything comes to pass as the result of a "deal." Maybe it's just the natural suspicion — confirmed occasionally by an actual case — that little in government is what it appears to be.

Whatever, I've talked to enough citizens to know they are curious about "lobbyists."

Lobbyists (or legislative agents, as they're sometimes called) have a single purpose in life. It is to persuade those elected officials who possess a vote, to cast that vote in a way that is agreeable to the employer of the lobbyist.

Everybody understands that, but hardly anybody really understands how this is done.

The most common idea about winning a vote is that somewhere — in a dark doorway or a hot hotel room — a sum of money passes hands, a clear-cut bargain is reached, and that contract fulfilled when the legislator makes his vote. This is a common idea, but it rarely happens. At least, I haven't encountered it yet, and there is a good practical, earthy reason why it isn't feasible in most cases. There are too many legislators and it would cost too much money, to operate on a straight pay-off basis.

Rather than pay-off guys, lobbyists are closer to psychiatrists. They are shrewd, wise, introspective and they know there are areas where a lawmaker can be touched which have nothing directly to do with money, and which are more forceful, more subtle, more accepted by society, and more effective than any bribe ever could be.

Hoping you will forego the many exceptions to the rule for purposes of discussion here, I would contend that those in elected office, in general, are —

Subject to flattery — generally insecure, which is another way of saying the same thing. They are starved for "friends."

Lonely — Lansing is far from home and solitude is not normal.

Searching — they have curious minds, a sense of adventure, a good intellect which tells them that the status quo is not necessarily the correct value. The minds of honest men are not frozen.

Faced with the prospect of losing a job they love, at the next election in their district, an event always only a few months away.

All of the foregoing are problems more important to the sensitive mind than is even need for money.

Good lobbyists — and some of them are geniuses — recognize all of these characteristics, and play upon them.

They flatter by listening, by paying attention to the inner-bred thoughts, by stressing the accomplishments and ignoring the flops of individual legislators. They introduce the legislator to prominent people, invite him to events where the audience is "select." They introduce him to expensive eating places and cater to him, as those abroad would defer to royalty.

Some of the best lobbies maintain large hotel suites, open to anyone lonely, where the solitary individuals can gather, just to talk, play cards, mingle — as contrasted to spending the evening hours within four walls of a hotel room. Politics, or legislation is almost never discussed in such hotel suites, and the visitors arrive from both political parties. Nonetheless, to a lonely man, there is a sense of debt and obligation, when he leaves.

Good lobbyists know the facts. They understand searching minds and the intellectual approach. They furnish reasonable logic for their cause, and buttress it with statistics and data. A busy, burdened legislator with a thousand other subjects surging through his mind simultaneously, listens, and the point of view is imprinted on his brain, particularly if a contrary point of view is not expressed prior to the time of vote.

And some lobbyists use the fear of losing the office as their tool. This can take many forms, but one is to suggest that a large bloc of votes are going to be lost in the district, unless — In this case, sometimes the lobbyist doesn't even make himself known to the legislator. He simply launches a mail, telephone, telegram campaign. When the letters arrive, in quantity, without a word being spoken the lawmaker has been lobbied. "Either go with us, or there are enough votes in these letters to throw you out of office," is the unsaid message. If the legislator is awed enough, or frightened enough, he might buckle from his own personal principals.

If there is a moral for voters, after all this, then it might be —

When you vote for men for public office, select those who are strong in their own moral values, informed on a wide range of subject matter, not immature in their own personal lives, not so covetous of their political office that they would sacrifice principal to hold it —

Find them, that is, when you can.

And then pray they can raise the funds for the campaign without being obligated to some special interest, before they even start the term.

An engineer of structures and expressways at the time of his retirement, Merriam was responsible for design and construction of all bridge and expressways in Wayne county.

He joined the county road commission 39 years ago upon graduation from the University of Michigan as a project engineer.

His fellow employees gave Merriam a lightweight aluminum boat and outboard motor and a sum of money.

The banquet was held at the Capistrano Restaurant on Plymouth road in Detroit. A. W. Johnson, engineer of design for the county road commission, served as master of ceremonies.

Correction

In the official minutes of Northville township published April 18 covering the special April 5 meeting an error was made in reporting a board vote.

The error was due to a deletion of one line and was the fault of this newspaper. The section in question should have read:

2. Authorization by the board to the clerk to order bonds for the treasurer, clerk, deputy clerk, justice of peace and constable.

After discussion and due consideration, Trustee Tyler moved that all of the bonds available and due be placed with the Clark Insurance Agency. His movement was supported by Trustee Robinson.

Yeas: Tyler, Robinson and Merriam; Nays: Young and Lawrence. Motion carried.

Official Minutes of the Northville School Board

I. The meeting was called to order by Vice-President James F. Kipfer, in the absence of President William B. Crump, at 7:30 p.m.

Present: Mr. Kipfer, Mr. Wilfred Becker, Mr. Robert Shafer, Mr. Donald Lawrence. Absent: Mr. William Crump, Mr. Edward Angove, Dr. Waldo Johnson.

Others present: Superintendent R. H. Amerman; Ass't. Superintendent K. M. MacLeod; Director of Administrative Services E. V. Ellison; Principals F. Stefanski, D. Van Ingen, H. B. Smith R. Spear; School Attorney James Littell; Mrs. Robert Yoder.

II. The minutes of the meeting of March 11, 1963 were read by the secretary and it was moved by Mr. Lawrence that the minutes be approved as read. Mr. Shafer seconded the motion, which was carried.

The minutes of the meeting of March 25 1963 were then read by the secretary. Mr. Littell, the school attorney requested that a correction be made to that portion of the minutes which reported his opinion as to whether or not the school can legally lease administrative office space. Also the report of one motion did not show the word "carried." It was moved by Mr. Shafer that the minutes be approved with the two corrections noted. Mr. Lawrence supported. Motion carried.

III. Communications:

1. Department of Public Instruction, replying to Mr. Amerman's request for information regarding leasing of office space.

2. National School Board Association, general information bulletin.

3. Michigan Association of School Boards, legislative bulletin.

4. Wayne State University, announcement of a clinic on the use of wood in building construction.

5. A. C. Lamb Associates, management consultants, advertising their services.

IV. Report of Superintendent:

1. Tuition — Mr. Amerman reported that the secretary of Salem School District No. 1 Fr. had advised him by telephone that they are unable to pay their tuition bill in full at this time. They have discussed the matter with Mr. Haab, Washenaw County School Superintendent, and he is aware of their problem. They have paid $3,000 of a $5,326 bill. Mr. Amerman feels that a letter should be sent to the school failure to pay the balance of this bill by the end of the school year could jeopardize the entrance of their children into Northville schools next fall. So moved by Mr. Shafer. Supported by Mr. Becker, and carried.

2. Management Survey — Mr. Amerman discussed with the Board the offer of A. C. Lamb Associates to conduct a 3 day survey of our operational systems at a cost of $150. It was decided to make further investigation before undertaking this program.

3. Resignations — It was moved by Mr. Shafer that the resignations of Mrs. Malone, Mrs. Kress, Mrs. Upthegrove, Mrs. Lengemann, Mr. Sternfield, Mrs. Kontos, and Miss Wilcox be accepted. Mr. Becker seconded the motion. Motion carried.

4. Tax Anticipation Note — Mr. Ellison reported that 1962 taxes have now been received to 87% of the levy, and in view of this fact he is recommending a payment of $100,000 on our Tax Anticipation Note at the Manufacturer's National Bank. This would leave a balance due of $70,000 on June 1st. It was moved by Mr. Lawrence and supported by Mr. Shafer, that $100,000 be paid on the Tax Anticipation Note, in accordance with Mr. Ellison's recommendation. Motion carried.

5. Budget — Mr. Ellison represented a tentative budget for 1963-64 calling for a total expenditure of $1,054,772 and a possible tax levy of $24,000. The board suggested a number of changes and additions and it was then moved by Mr. Shafer that the tentative budget be adopted with the changes noted. Mr. Becker supported and the motion was carried.

6. Teacher Recruitment — Dr. MacLeod reported that he has interviewed 31 candidates to date, at 3 different universities. 18 vacancies exist and none have been filled as yet.

7. Driver Education Teachers' Salaries — Mr. Amerman asked the board whether it is their wish that he bring them a recommendation at the next meeting on what should be paid to driver education teachers this summer. Board replied in the affirmative.

8. Physical Examination Policy for School Personnel — Mr. Amerman presented policy for board approval.

It was moved by Mr. Lawrence and supported by Mr. Becker that the proposed Policy No. 4114, Physical Examinations, be adopted as presented. Motion carried.

9. Administrative Directive — Mr. Amerman then presented a proposed Directive for the carrying out of the policy on Physical Examinations.

It was moved by Mr. Lawrence and supported by Mr. Becker that the proposed Administrative Directive No. 4114, regarding Physical Examinations, for School Personnel be approved as presented. Motion carried.

V. Report of Secretary:

Mr. Becker reported the following moneys received in the month of March, 1963: Current Taxes, $152,821.65; Delinquent Taxes, $106,519.19; Interest on Taxes, $622; Tuition, $88,592.92; Miscellaneous, $3,404.40.

VIII. Unfinished business:

1. Office Space — The letter from the Department of Public Instruction advised that there is no authorization in the School Code for a Fourth Class district to lease, rent or purchase an existing property for administrative purposes.

It was decided that a letter should be sent immediately to the Department requesting that legislation be instigated in the current session of the legislature, if possible, to amend the School Code in this respect.

X. New Business:

1. Administrator's Salary Schedule — Mr. Amerman had brought the Board a recommendation on this, but since

While on the subject of Athletics, Mr. Ellison mentioned that there are still 2 poles at the stadium without lights and these will really be needed for the League track meet which is to be held here in May. Board instructed Mr. Ellison to procure prices on athletics. This motion was supported by Mr. Becker and carried.

only 4 board members were present, it was decided that the entire board will meet as a committee-of-the-whole on Monday, April 15, 1963 at 8:00 p.m. in the Faculty Room of the Main Street school, to discuss this problem with the administrators.

XI Adjournment:

It was moved by Mr. Lawrence, seconded by Mr. Shafer that the meeting be adjourned. Motion carried and meeting adjourned at 11:30 p.m.

He's Learning to Fly

Staffer Sprouts Wings But Has 'Driving' Trouble

EDITOR'S NOTE: Just how easy or difficult is it to learn how to fly? To give our readers some idea of the fun, adventure and difficulties in learning to fly, Al Lubowitz, advertising manager of The South Lyon Herald, is writing a series of articles concerning his current experiences on the ground and in the air at the New Hudson Airport. Following is his first article.

"Hey everybody, I'm gonna learn how to fly!" That was my happy and confident boast when I first announced the news to my friends. But now, seated in the cockpit of the Piper Cub with the controls in front of me, I wasn't so sure.

Could I really learn how to fly this thing? I had heard that flying was fun and easy. I had laughed when my friends predicted I would never get off the ground. Yet, the lesson had just started and already I had problems.

Talk about flying! I couldn't even drive the plane along the ground! Dismayed, I thought about what had just happened.

Bill McKinley, my instructor out at the New Hudson Airport, was demonstrating how to taxi the plane. Finally, he leaned back in the seat, in front of me and asked if I was ready to try it. "Ready as I'll ever be," I said and swallowed hard.

"Good. Now put your hands lightly on the controls and feel what I do."

We taxied slowly down the runway. Following Bill's movements at the controls, I learned that the speed of the plane is regulated by moving the hand throttle.

To steer the plane you press the foot pedals which swing the rudder. The rudder is the vertical part of the tail. To go right, the right rudder pedal is pushed. To go left, the left one.

It's all very easy except that I'm used to driving a car. So when Bill told me to try my hand at taxiing the plane, I switched over to my driving habits.

Before I knew what was happening, the plane was roaring across the runway toward a field. I stomped on what I thought was the brake which was actually the rudder pedal. This made the plane careen toward a fence.

Excitement made me push the throttle (maybe I thought it was the emergency brake or something) and the plane hurtled forward even faster.

Suddenly Bill grabbed the controls and the plane rolled to a stop. "Where are you going, Al?" he asked. I maintained a dignified silence. What else could I do?

Right then I realized that this flying business wasn't going to be as easy as I had thought.

I started to suspect that this was the case when earlier I had been listening to my 'fellow pilots' talking about mean bus fractostratus capillatus something or other type of clouds. It was all confusion to me.

To add chaos to confusion I was fool enough to take a gander at an air map. There I was confronted with a complex puzzle of airline routes, radio frequency beams, prohibited areas, caution areas, mysterious symbols and code words. Utter nonsense to a person used to simple road signs.

To top it off I had climbed into the front seat with the natural assumption that a person flies a plane like he would drive a car—from the front seat. No such luck. My plane was flown from the back seat!

By now I was considerably humbled.

Back at the runway, we got ready to take-off. This time Bill was at the controls and we were really going to go up. This was it! Nervous and tense, I couldn't help wondering how a little 65 H.P. engine that looked no bigger than one on a lawnmower could lift not only Bill and me, but also the whole plane.

With my stomach churning like the propeller, I waited while Bill revved up the engine, checked out the instruments, and cleared himself for a take-off. We started moving down the runway. Faster and faster we went. I braced myself for some unexpected shock. Suddenly I noticed that the ground was below us. We were up!

I hadn't even noticed when we'd left the ground. Already the cars looked like toys, the fields below like a patch-work quilt. I looked back and the airport was way behind us, the landing strip looking like a cowpath.

I looked at the altimeter. We were up 1000 feet. I was flying!

Rather Bill was flying. My lesson was just starting. First thing on the agenda was straight and level flying.

Straight and level flying sounds easy, but it's not quite the simple reason that there's nothing under you to keep you straight and level. That's up to the pilot and how he uses the control stick.

The stick is fascinating. Push it a wee bit to the left and the plane banks to the left. Push it forward just a jot and the plane drops its nose and dives. Pull back and the plane climbs. A fraction to the right and the plane banks in that direction.

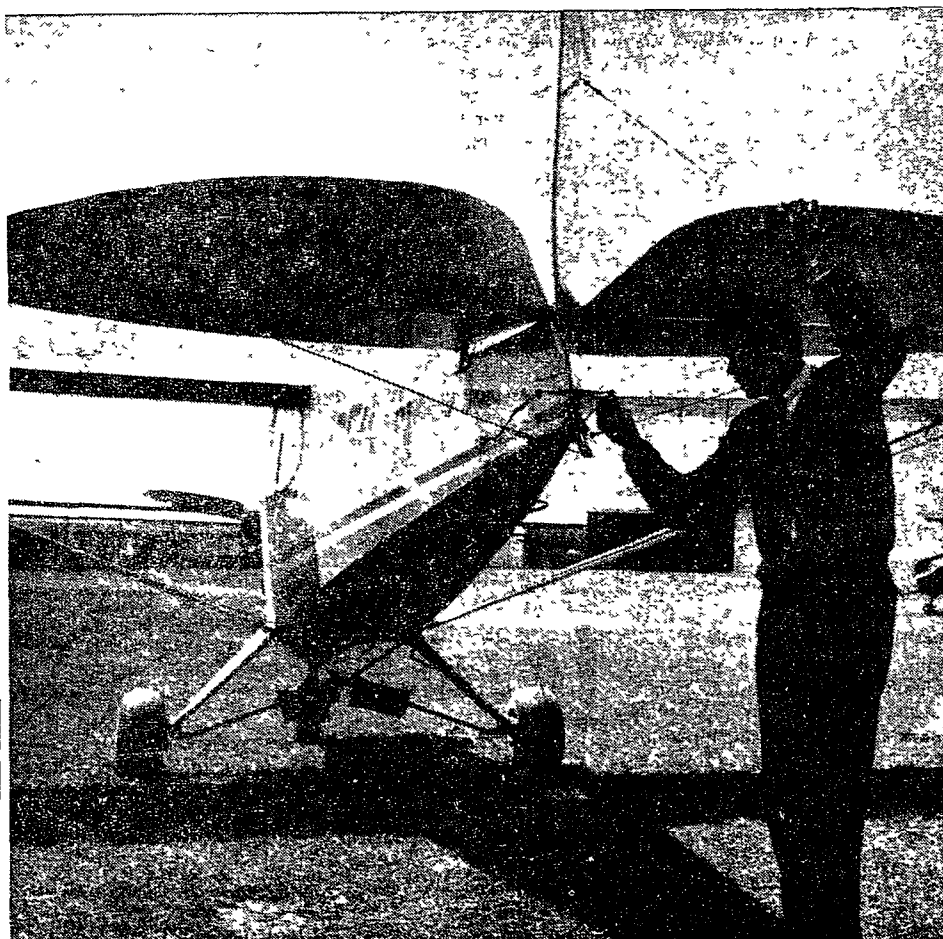

The key to straight and level flying is NOT to push that stick a wee bit to the right or left—nor a jot to the front or back. THAT is the secret!

REGARDING THE PROPOSED SERVICE PLAN

A number of residence customers have asked, "What Detroit exchanges can I call free?" In most instances these questions have been answered by referring to the bottom of Page 11 in the new telephone directory.

The proposed super extended area service includes most of the west side of Detroit, but if you care to check what area a given telephone number is in, you can refer to the directory. All telephone numbers in areas 1, 4, 5 and 7 are included in the new service plan.

Remember to vote whether you wish to keep your existing service.

THOUSANDS OF IDEAS for ways telephone people might do their jobs better! Where'd they come from? From Michigan Bell employees themselves, who submit their ideas through our Employee Suggestion Plan.

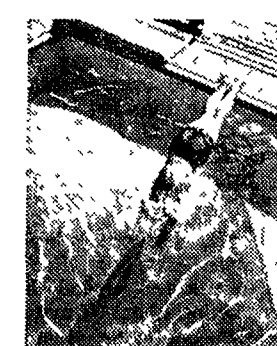

Since the Plan was introduced sixteen years ago, 7,000 ideas have been accepted and put into use. In 1962 alone, 500 operating improvements resulted from employee suggestions, ranging from such a simple thing as an improved wire clamp to a major improvement in pole-setting methods. These practical ideas help us bring you the best possible service at the lowest possible cost.

LIVING'S AS EASY AS 1-2-3... with handy extension phones to save trudging, time and temper. A space-saving wall phone in the kitchen, for instance, makes Mom's chores lighter, her days brighter. Or a lovely Princess telephone in the bedroom gives privacy by day, protection at night. And the whole family enjoys added convenience with a step-saving family-room extension. Ordering an extension telephone is as easy as 1-2-3, too! Just call our Business Office, or ask the man on the telephone truck.

SPEAKING for The Record

By BILL SLIGER

For nearly 350 weeks now I've tried through the prose offered in this column to attract and hold the attention of our readers.

I've tried humor, suspense, criticism and praise.

Then after a particularly noteworthy effort (in my opinion) I'll casually sneak the subject into a conversation with one of my loyal readers on the chance that he'll want to tell me what a fine job I've done.

Too often the "loyal reader" doesn't know what I'm talking about — but thinks it would make a good subject for an editorial sometime.

Well, I think I've finally discovered the trouble.

Our type is too small. Like this 8-point boldface.

Even this 10 point lightface is too difficult to read.

(You may not have noticed it) but we recently changed to 9-point, like this, for all our single-column news and want ads.)

(And, as you can see, we have 9-point boldface to provide some contrast in our news columns, or to emphasize a point).

So now we're introducing 11-point, which like our 9-point, is from the "Corona" family of type faces.

We also have an 11-point boldface — but it's "Erbar", rather than "Corona", which we believe contrasts well with the lightface.

The 11-point will be used for all two-column material, for our cutlines under pictures, for "leads" into certain important front page stories, and for the weekly "Speaking" column.

So in the future (as one of my loyal readers has already said), this column may not be the most interesting you've read, but it will have the biggest type.

(If the 11-point doesn't work, I may have to switch to 14-point "Spartan", like this).

One of the best methods for increasing club membership that I've ever seen is currently being used by the Northville Jaycees.

It may be a little underhanded, but you can't argue with its effectiveness.

The club originally had 23 members when the membership drive began. It now has 18 new members. And number 19 is due to be signed up just as soon as Buzz Stone can find him.

Until he does, the outhouse pictured below stays on his front lawn at 635 Horton.

Buzz Stone ponders his "problem house".

Buying in Florida

Babson Park, Mass. — I came to Florida 40 years ago when 'convalescing from tuberculosis' (TB, not TV)! I never got mixed up with the Florida boom as I then had neither ambition nor strength.

As this is the 40th anniversary of the beginning of the famous Florida Boom, I want the younger generation to know what then happened. One illustration will give the picture.

The young man who typed for me showed me a check for $10,000 which he had received as a commission; he immediately bought a Rolls-Royce with the money.

Very few people actually saw any money, or even the property they "bought". They were content to receive a "purchase and sale agreement" which they did not bother to file at the Court House. They merely gave their note for the sales agreement; then they sold this at a profit to someone else, who, in turn, sold it to another party. A man could build $1,000 up to $100,000, swapping one piece of paper for another. Finally the crash came, and the last party lost everything.

Farmers were not the only ones taken in. Many banks failed. And municipal bond prices collapsed. Sarasota bonds fell from $100 to $20; Orlando bonds fell to $40; the bonds of the city of Sanford dropped from $100 to $10.

Beautiful homes costing $500,000 sold at 10 cents on the dollar. Most people called it a "panic" but it was more like an epidemic of diphtheria or typhoid, except that it was mental.

Will it come again? I don't know; but there are no signs of it now.

People are no longer speculating in pieces of paper. Most speculators are buying large acreage and dividing it into house lots. People are buying one or two lots on speculation, but their total loss would be not more than $5,000 even if the development company went into bankruptcy. The difficulty is that these companies sometimes fail to put in water systems or hard roads or other improvements promised. There is still considerable speculation in Florida land, but it is legitimate; the lots have been bought and the deeds recorded.

I do not answer specific questions which come to me, as I cannot afford to get involved in any lawsuits; but I am willing to say that anyone who buys a small house and an adjoining lot in a Florida city of 20,000 or less, in which he plans to live, should make a good and healthful investment.

He, however, should first drive down to Florida and take a trip around the state. The local bank of any city will give the name of a reliable real estate agent.

It is a mistake to put all your money in any one thing, whether it is a bank or the stock market or an orange

See Upswing of Declining State Birth Rate

Michigan's Birth Rate is bound to go up soon, according to State Health Commissioner Dr. Albert E. Heustis.

The 1962 birth rate was 182.475, the lowest since 1952, and the fifth consecutive year, to show a drop from the previous 12-month period. The births last year were nearly 10,000 fewer than in 1961, Heustis said.

"Whether births continue to go down or remain on a plateau for the next few years is anybody's guess. One thing is certain, however, they are bound to go up later," Heustis said.

The Health Commissioner's prediction comes from a look at past statistics.

The majority of parents of babies born during the last few years were born during the 1930's and early 1940's, when births averaged around 90,000.

Within the coming five years most of the "War Babies," born from 1945-49 when births averaged around 150,000 per year, will be getting married and having babies of their own.

The newspaper you are reading now is an essential part of our free society although you might at first think of it as just a frill.

J. Montgomery Curtis, director of the American Press Institute, at Columbia University, recently described the newspaper as "the most intimate, personal and effective form of communication."

Pointing to the New York newspaper strikes earlier this year, Curtis said, "the loss of a newspaper to a community leaves a vacuum that cannot be filled by any other means of communication."

Radio and television also contribute to the public's right to know. But both of these are immediate and not long lasting, said Curtis.

"When it comes to news in depth, television and radio just aren't in the same league with the newspapers," he said. "The (New York) strike proved this point. The loss of newspapers resulted in a decrease in department store sales, as well as in food store sales, auto sales, and general stock market activity," he said.

By order of Mabel Ash, Clerk
Village of Novi, 25850 Novi Road

In addition to these advertising benefits, Curtis pointed out the loss of newspapers caused drops in attendance at many of the cultural and entertainment events; people had difficulty locating available housing; and employers and potential employees couldn't get together.

Curtis predicts that the newspaper will continue to provide the most complete coverage of any media.

Most businessmen are honest and the exceptions hurt the majority as much as they harm the consumer.

This is one of the primary observations of the Consumer Protection Division of the Attorney General's office, which has been hearing complaints about these exceptions for nearly two years.

In this short time, the Division has processed more than 600 complaints involving frauds or cheats. The Division accepts only cases where facts show a violation of state law and a continuous pattern of operation sufficient to imperil the public interest.

The Division does not handle cases which can be handled exclusively by private counsel, but only those which involve a state question.

Deceptive or "bait" advertising, misrepresentations, referral sales and other deceptive buying, selling and lending practices are the primary areas brought to the attention of the Attorney General's staff.

Hopes are that both the continued existence of the Division's probing into complaints, and likely legislation to tighten laws governing possible areas of fraud will discourage such practices and cut the minority in the business world which falls short of honest dealings.

HOW THE PLAN WORKS

The budget year begins with May and runs through April of the following year. The total amount to be paid for service during the budget year is estimated on the basis of past usage or other available data. Your monthly service bill then becomes approximately one-twelfth of this amount.

During the first part of the budget year, your monthly payments are somewhat larger than they would be under normal billing. You are thus building up a credit against the winter months when your use of service will reach its peak.

You will be billed for the same amount each month unless the credit you have built up is insufficient, when combined with the amount of the budget payment, to cover the service used, in which case you will be billed for the amount due.

In April, 1964, you will receive a bill for the amount then remaining due, which may be less than the amount of the monthly budget payment. Small overpayments of a year's bills can be carried over to apply against the next year. Larger overpayments can be refunded.

IF YOU ARE NOT PRESENTLY ON THIS PLAN AND WOULD LIKE TO PAY YOUR SERVICE BILLS ON A BUDGET BASIS, JUST FILL OUT THIS FORM AND MAIL OR TAKE IT TO THE NEAREST CONSUMERS POWER COMPANY OFFICE. YOUR FIRST BUDGET PLAN BILL WILL REACH YOU IN MAY.

one after the other of the "first" in road progress in the nation, has received another honor.

The 330-mile Ohio-to-Mackinac freeway has been cited as one of the nation's most scenic new highways. This marks the second year in a row that portions of the freeway have received such a citation from the Better Highways Information Foundation.

Both sections cited for their scenic attractiveness are in the northern half of the route, between Indian River and the bridge was chosen as one of the most scenic new routes in 1961, and last year the section from Clare to Gaylord was selected. This stretch is 85 miles long.

State highway officials fully expect the section between Gaylord and Indian River, considered the most scenic portion of the entire freeway, stands a good chance for honors from the Foundation this year.
