

New City Budget Holds Tax Line

The city of Northville's proposed 1963-64 budget will hit a record $406,955, but at no change in tax rate.

Councilmembers are now studying the budget as submitted by City Manager Bruce Potthoff. No major changes are anticipated before a public hearing is set for approval. It is expected that the council will set Monday, May 20, a regular meeting night and deadline for approval, as the hearing date.

In dollars the budget is up $23,185 over the 1962-63 fiscal year which ends June 30.

But an increase in local assessed valuation of $263,400 to a total of $10,996,160 produces the additional revenue with the unchanged levy of 12.5 mills.

Northville's assessed valuation increased despite depreciation reductions made on real property earlier this year. New building and increased personal property and inventory accounted for the added assessed valuation.

Of the total increase in the new budget $12,900 is earmarked for personnel costs.

An additional policeman to provide stricter control of parking restrictions both in two-hour limit lots and on metered street parking will cost $5,200. It is anticipated that this will also provide manpower to keep meters in proper repair.

Normal increases for employees under the salary schedule step plan account for $2,000, while other increases include $1,000 for court clerk, $520 for planning clerk and $200 in the inspection department.

The city's new 24-hour communications' system employing three clerks accounts for the balance of the increase, 3,980.

The biggest expenditure listed in the proposed budget is for capital improvements, some $101,813. Part of this is due to the fact that $25,000 budgeted for last year was

City Hall To Fall For $3,450

Meeting in special session Monday night the city council awarded the contract for demolition of the old city hall and fire barn to Paul Palmer Construction of Northville.

Palmer's bid was $3,450. There were two other bids submitted — from Arrow Wrecking of Dearborn, $3,475; and Plymouth Excavating Company, $5,500.

Specifications indicated that the job must be completed within 10 days of signing the contract, which probably won't be before Monday.

Because the council now finds it has more time than at first thought to meet federal requirements for beginning construction of the new city hall, consideration was given to extending the 10-day demolition limit.

The council instructed City Manager Bruce Potthoff to negotiate with Palmer to see what financial savings might be realized by extending the time limit. If savings are substantial in the manager's judgement, more time will be allowed. If not, the council instructed the manager to enforce the deadline and establish a penalty for delay.

In other business Monday night the council reappointed Mayor A. M. Allen as the city's representative on the Wayne county board of supervisors. Sydney Frid was re-named to the Oakland county board of supervisors with the understanding that he would be replaced by the city manager next fall when the latter meets the two-year residence requirement of the job.

not spent.

In preliminary discussions the council has considered several improvement projects, including storm sewer, curb and gutter and paving of Orchard drive from Thayer to Seven Mile road, paving Butler street and North Center from Ely drive to the city limits as well as Maplewood east from North Center.

The latter two streets depend upon the progress of the subdivider in Yerkes Estate subdivision (Village Green).

Other items listed under capital improvements include the Rouge Valley interceptor ($7,183), sidewalk construction ($6,000), street name signs ($500), and parking lots ($7,000).

The council has discussed improving street lighting in both the commercial and residential areas of the city. Under a plan proposed by Detroit Edison new poles with mercury vapor lighting in the business district would cost $3,397 for the installation plus an additional $61.11 in monthly rates.

Mercury vapor lighting would more than double the brightness in the shopping area.

The council was inclined to turn its attention to needed lighting improvements in the residential areas when Councilman Fred Kester reported that businessmen had shown little interest in switching to the brighter lights. It had been proposed earlier at the request of retailers on the basis that the businessmen would share in the cost of the new street poles.

PETITION FILERS — Mrs. George R. Wilkie (left) and Mrs. Eugene K. Cook were two of the women who circulated petitions seeking annexation to the community college district. The petitions were filed last night.

Northville Files Petitions to Join College District

The possibility that Northville school district electors will vote on the community college question June 10 became a probability this week.

Time now becomes the key factor.

Legislation enabling the Northwest Wayne County Community College district to annex an adjoining district has been passed by the state legislature. It now awaits the signature of the governor.

Last night petitions bearing some 100 signatures of Northville school district voters were scheduled to be presented to the board of trustees of the community college.

College President Eric Bradner said he was certain the board would honor the request.

"I intend to take these petitions to Lansing Thursday (today), Bradner stated. He said that he had been assured that he could obtain immediate action from the state superintendent of schools so that petitions calling for an election could be issued.

These petitions require signatures of at least two per cent of the qualified electors of the Northville district. They are then directed to the local school board requesting that the community college question be placed on the June 10 ballot.

Deadline for such a request is May 20.

To join the community college district voters must appear on a one-mill levy. If the measure does succeed in getting on the regular June 10 school board ballot, voters will also select a member to represent Northville on the community college board of trustees.

The board now has seven members. The Northville representative would be elected to a four-year term, providing of course, the voters approved joining the college district. To date no specific candidate for the board of trustee position has been indicated.

Northville Superintendent of Schools Russell Amerman announced this week that the school board would meet Monday night with Bradner to discuss the board's role in the election.

In a report made last week by a local community college study committee the board was encouraged to take a position on the question — preferably in favor of the proposal.

It is considered probable that after its meeting with Bradner — and with assurance that the college question will be on the ballot — the local board will make a statement.

Last January Board Member Donald Lawrence encouraged the board to take a position on the matter.

"I feel we, as a board, should try to make our position clear, and I feel I should voice my opinion that a community college program would be advisable for Northville," Lawrence stated.

Other members, particularly President William Crump and Robert Shafer, have been less enthusiastic. While they have not taken a position opposing the program, they have expressed concern that millage needs for the local system might suffer.

The school districts of Plymouth, Livonia, Garden City and Clarenceville now make up the community college district. Scheduled for opening in the fall of 1964, it has been named Schoolcraft college and will be located on the southeast corner of Seven Mile and Haggerty roads.

Burglars Haul Out Whiskey, Cigarettes

Burglars broke in the Northville road McAllister Brothers grocery Tuesday night and removed 14 cases of whiskey, 135 cartons of cigarettes and a radio.

The theft was discovered Wednesday by Jim McAllister, co-owner, when he opened at 8:30 a.m. The store closed at 10 p.m. Tuesday.

Entry was gained by removing the back door. A pinch bar was found in the store.

Wayne county sheriffs are investigating.

Jimmy Pankow Knows That Blood Banks 'Pay'

Ever wonder what happens to the pints of blood collected by the Red Cross in Northville?

Sometimes, like once last year, the pints are used in heart surgery.

Then, young James Pankow, victim of a heart defect dating from his birth in Mexico City, was admitted to Ann Arbor's University hospital for surgery.

The boy, son of the Reverend and Mrs. B. J. Pankow of 220 Elm, was eligible to receive blood from the pints contributed to the Red Cross in Northville.

When he came home 10 days later, he was full of a wire contraption used to close the tiny opening in his heart — and 10 pints of blood donated by Northvillians.

Come Friday, May 10, Northville area residents will have a chance to contribute blood to "self" accounts in the bank of unsettled accounts such as that of young James Pankow. The Pankows, like many other blood bank users, are attempting to "repay" the bank for the pints of blood their son used with more donations.

The bloodmobile will be at the Northville Methodist church 109 Dunlap, from 2 to 5 and 6 to 8 p.m. The visit is being sponsored by members of the Red Cross in Northville.

Recruiting prospective donors are Mrs. A.C. Carlson of 301 Fairbrook, chairman of the Northville branch, and Mrs. C. C. Winter of 230 N. Rogers, blood program chairman. Donor pledge cards may be obtained by calling either of the chairmen at FI-9-1330 or FI-9-2361

James Pankow — hale and hearty now.

Discuss Business Zoning

City councilmen and planners met last week to review the planning commission's progress on its master development plan and consider the adoption of two new zoning classifications.

Specifically, the two zones under consideration — central business district and professional office — deal with projected land use in the city.

In explaining the designations to the council, Chairman George Zerbel noted that the planners were proposing introduction of the zoning classifications, not the specific sites of the districts.

Planner William Slattery outlined the central business district plan. He pointed out that the community population — expected to double by 1980 — must have adequate shopping facilities. "We are trying to do this in the central business district," Slattery stated.

The zone, which would probably include the area bounded by Dunlap, Wing, a new street south of Cady and Church, would provide for retail stores, personal services and the like.

The professional office district would be outside the central business district.

Planners explained that they were presenting the outline to the council for reaction so that they might proceed with public hearings.

Just how soon the community could move towards actual creation of a central business district was left unanswered.

Councilman Richard Ambler wondered if creating a new "shopping center" in the business district might be done in phases, a block at a time. Zerbel noted that such a program "could not be done overnight." It was suggested that the next step might be an urban renewal study.

While the central business district designation would make several businesses now located in the area non-conforming, it would not force any changes, planners explained. Planner Al Smith urged the council to act now. "It's time to get off the fence and layout a plan so that interested parties know the rules," he stated, adding that such planning could prevent the creation of a shopping center on the city's borders.

Angove, Becker to Run

Both members of the Northville board of education whose terms expire this year have indicated they will seek re-election.

Petitions are now being circulated for W. C. Becker, board secretary, and Edward F. Angove. No other petitions have been taken out.

Nominating petitions for the June 10 school board election must be filed by 4 p.m. Saturday, May 11 at the board of education offices. Petitions must bear signatures of 50 registered school electors.

Board members are elected to 4-year terms.

Time to Register Kindergarteners

Registration of kindergarten children for the 1963-64 school year will be held May 6 in the Amerman school multi-purpose room, it was announced this week.

Parents of eligible kindergarten children intending to enter the Main street and Amerman schools will meet at 7:30 p.m. with registration continuing until 9:30 p.m.

"Parents will be informed of basic school policies and the educational program for kindergarteners," said Amerman School Principal Raymond Spear. "They will also be given a booklet, 'Through the Kindergarten Door.' It is designed to give information that will help parents prepare their children for school," Spear explained.

Spear said that after a one-half hour general session, parents of children whose birthdays fall between September 2 and December 1 will be excused to meet separately with Main Street Principal, Harry Smith. He will answer questions and discuss the screening program for children in this age bracket.

"At the same time, I will discuss registration procedures with other parents in the multi-purpose room," said Spear.

According to Spear, all kindergarten children who are enrolled on May 6 will be invited to visit the kindergarten May 20 to talk with their teachers. Parents will be notified of the appointment schedule, Spear noted.

Students Can Sleep Late Wednesday

Students in the Northville school system will have an hour and a half holiday next Wednesday, May 8.

Classes, including kindergarten, will begin at 10 a.m. that day instead of 8:30 a.m. Buses will operate on their usual schedule, but will pick up youngsters an hour and a half later.

Reason for the brief holiday is to give teachers time off to attend an in-service training program at the high school.

A letter from the superintendent's office will be sent to all parents this week, explaining in detail the program.

CLEAN-UP DETAIL — Northville Jaycees decided that the city's Oak Wood cemetery on Cady street needed trimming. So Sunday they got busy and raked, mowed and removed all debris. Shown above are George Miller and Joe Early.

In Oakland

County Considers Plan for College

A community college campus less than 30 minutes away from any Oakland county high school graduate became a distinct possibility last week. The legislature passed an act Saturday permitting Oakland county to vote on establishing a community college district.

The measure permits the Oakland county board of education to call a vote on Monday, June 10.

The issues on the ballot will be:

—To establish a community college district and support it with a one mill tax,

—To elect a six-member board of trustees as the governing body of the community college district.

The Oakland Community college district is an outgrowth of three studies on the needs of higher education in Michigan conducted over a six-year period.

The most recent study was made by 150 community leaders in Oakland county, including Mrs. Fred Loyne of Novi. In a report completed last June, this group recommended that three sites be purchased in Troy, North or Northwest Pontiac and in the Farmington-Novi area.

Construction should be started on the first two sites as soon as possible, the report said. Facilities on each site should be planned to accommodate 1500 students. The building program should be planned so that facilities could be expanded to accommodate 5,000 students in the near future.

The choir will be directed by Leslie Lee with the auditorium performances beginning at 8 p.m.

James Drew and Dave Lane, and Gail Hartner and Christine Boretti will alternate in the leading roles for the two-night performance. Linda Line will be pianist.

The Gilbert and Sullivan operetta "Patience" will be presented next Thursday and Friday evenings, May 9 and 10, by the Northville high school music department.

The choir will be directed by Leslie Lee with the auditorium performances beginning at 8 p.m.

Novi Couple Wed In Saturday Rites

Marietta Lee Velky was united in holy wedlock to Donald Lane Crabtree in an afternoon ceremony Saturday in the Ward Memorial chapel, Livonia.

The bride was given in marriage by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Michael W. Velky of 28480 Summit drive, Novi. Parents of the groom are Mr. and Mrs. H. Lane Crabtree of 28375 Summit drive, Novi.

Tall line arrangements of white snapdragons and mums adorned the altar where Dr. Bartlett L. Hess, united the pair. Sung during the ceremony were "The Lord's Prayer" and "Because."

Frank's O Lord Most Holy, Mendelssohn's "Song Without Words," Bach's "Arioso" and Schumann's "Traumerei" completed the musical setting for the wedding.

The bride chose a beau de soie gown to be wed in. The gown featured a bell-shaped skirt, scoop neckline, kabuki sleeves, alençon lace trim at the neckline and empire bodice and was completed by a chapel train.

The bride carried a crescent of stephanotis and ivy with white cattleya orchids, carnations and snowdrift mums.

Maid of honor was Mrs. Foster B. Gibbs while the best man was Richard Crabtree. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Harmon Nine, Mrs. Robert Grady with Miss Michelle Velky serving as junior bridesmaid. Flower girl was Debra Crabtree, the bridegroom's niece. Ushers were Harmon Nine and John McRoberts.

The matron of honor was attired in an aqua silk organza dress with a bell-shaped skirt, elbow-length sleeves and a scoop neckline. She carried a crescent of yellow snowdrift mums and yellow roses.

The bridesmaids wore dresses styled like that of the matron of honor. They carried bouquets of white snowdrift and yellow mums.

The flower girl also wore a light aqua dress and carried a small basket of yellow rose petals which she scattered in the bride's path.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Velky chose a regal blue sheath dress with a matching jacket and a floral hat. The groom's mother wore a three-piece beige shantung dress with pink accessories.

Following the wedding, a reception for 125 was given at the Torunda Inn on Pine Lake, Orchard Lake. Dinner and dancing followed.

The new Mrs. Crabtree chose a pink silk shantung sheath dress with a tucked front for her wedding trip to Florida and Nassau.

The bride holds an A.B. degree from Eastern Michigan university and was a graduate student at Purdue university. She is a member of Kappa Delta Pi.

Her husband is a former student of Detroit college of applied science.

The newlyweds will make their home in Roseville.

NEWCOMER'S CORNER

I look upon every day to be lost, in which I do not make a new acquaintance.

— Samuel Johnson

ONE'S AWAY — Mr. and Mrs. Russell Baker, Bruce and Janet relax on a Sunday afternoon. Missing is David, who was on the move, caddy-ing at the golf course.

Crossroads of life for the mobile Russell Baker family of Novi is 23625 Ripplecreek drive. So Mr. Baker would be closer to his work at the Burroughs Corporation in Plymouth, the Bakers moved away from Royal Oak two months ago. Now, Mr. and Mrs. Baker have to travel approximately the same distance to work. She is a secretary at the Cranbrook Foundation in Bloomfield Hills.

Traveling is no new occurrence in the Bakers' lives. It was on a trip that Mr. and Mrs. Baker first met. She was vacationing in his home town of Shelby, Michigan, when they met at a dance. A marriage and two children later, the Bakers moved to Mrs. Baker's home town of Royal Oak. Then came the move to Novi.

Their three children travel, too — to school. David, 14, is a freshman at Northville high school. Bruce, 12, is a seventh grader at the Novi school, and Janet, who is nine is in the third grade at Orchard Hills school.

Nights and weekends the family is together in its new home however. Even then, the Bakers are active. They all attend the Presbyterian church in Northville. "We intend to join the church in the near future," said Mr. Baker. "When we were in Royal Oak, my wife was very active in church affairs," he added.

Their son, David is also active. He's a hurdler on the Northville high school track team. On weekends, he caddies at a golf club.

"Although we're on the go, we like this area and our new home," said Mr. Baker. "We like the country atmosphere and we've got a little more room here to move about," he noted.

Long-Shultz Vows Said At Our Lady of Victory

Betty Jean Long became the bride of Dale Gordon Schultz Saturday afternoon in Our Lady of Victory church before an altar banked with red and white roses.

Reverend John Wittstock, pastor of the church, officiated at the double ring ceremony.

The bride's brother, Robert Long, escorted her to the altar.

For her wedding, the bride chose a street-length white lace and satin gown with a scoop neck and three-quarter length sleeves. She wore a wrist corsage of white carnations.

Attired in a lavender gown, Susan Sieger of Detroit acted as the bride's maid of honor. Attending the groom as best man was Peter Marosse of Detroit.

Music for the wedding was done by Miss Karen Wetterstroem.

Following the ceremony, wedding guests attended a breakfast in the church social hall.

The bride, daughter of Mrs. Carl Yurgalite of Livonia, is employed by American Motors company. The groom, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Schultz of 48564 West Seven Mile, is a private in the United States Army stationed at Fort Knox, Kentucky.

Pops Concert Going 'Out of this World'

Wayne Dunlap, Conductor of the Plymouth Symphony Society, has again come up with some unique and unusual features for the annual Plymouth Symphony Pops Concert on Saturday, May 18.

Several objects, familiar but unusual in a symphony orchestra, will be used during the concert. Starting at 8:30 p.m. in the Plymouth High school gymnasium, this entertaining spring program has become a high light of the musical and social events in this area. Sponsored by the Plymouth Symphony League, all proceeds are given to the Plymouth Symphony Orchestra.

The theme will be "Out of This World" and will include a number called the "Grand, Grand Overture" by Malcolm Arnold, utilizing three vacuum cleaners, a floor polisher and a firing squad. Nat Sibbold, a Plymouthite with a professional background, will again be a soloist. Sibbold will sing a number called "All Points West" by Rogers and Hart in which the singer portrays a train caller and tells of the various points of interest and individuals he encounters enroute.

Kitchen Diary

For Casserole Lovers

A casserole collector is this week's Kitchen Diary contributor.

She's Mrs. Robert Hallam of 21456 Summerside who says she became a combination recipe hunter soon after she married.

My husband is casserole-minded, Mrs. Hallam explained.

She theorizes that her husband's taste for casseroles probably originated back when his mother was doing the cooking.

"In those depression days, my husband said his mother threw everything together to make it go a little further," Mrs. Hallam recounted.

Mrs. Hallam's contributions:

CHICKEN CASSEROLE
3 cups cooked rice
½ cup stuffed olives chopped
½ cup walnuts broken
2 cups cooked chicken cut in large pieces
10½ ounce can of condensed mushroom soup

1 cup chicken broth.
Add the rice, olives and walnuts, letting the rice cool first so it won't cook the olives and walnuts. Toss lightly. Put ½ of the mixture in a greased 1½ quart casserole dish.

Combine chicken and mushroom soup, spoon ½ of the mixture over rice. Add remaining rice mixture, top with remaining chicken mixture. Add broth. Bake covered in a 350 degree oven for one hour. Makes 6 servings.

GOURMET PORK CHOPS
Melt 3 Tbs. butter or margarine in a skillet. Brown 6 center cut pork chops on both sides in fat. Remove chops and add to drippings:

one-third cup finely chopped onions
¾ cup sliced celery
1 4-ounce can sliced mushrooms drained

Cook vegetables until tender or about 5 minutes. Add and crush 2 bouillon cubes, stir to blend and add 2 cups cooked brown rice. Cover and bake 30 minutes in a 350 degree oven. Remove cover and bake 15 minutes more or until chops are tender and brown. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

2—In Memoriam

Dad, 50 long years have gone by since I last saw you, and heard your sweet voice. I remember very well that sad November day, the snow was on the ground when you took your journey to heaven. Since you've been gone Heaven has been a little closer. I have thought of you lots of times. I remember that morning just before you left you called me around to the bed and told me you had to go, and instructed me to be a good boy. Those memories still linger. One of these days I will be up to see you.

Love from your son,
Bob Conner

Mustangs Show Potential In Opening Track Meets

Individual successes and a team triumph got the Mustang thinclads off to a respectable season start.

Strong points on the local track squad appear to be the relay and the pole vault.

A new school record in the pole vault was set by Northville's Kent Kipper against South Lyon. Kipper soared over the bar at 10' 10 1/2" to wipe out the old mark.

The team of Bill Davis, Frank Steinberger, Bill Adams and Chuck Annett raced to a 3:44 victory in the one-mile relay against Oak Park.

Topping the field in the Marysville relays Saturday was the two-mile relay team comprised of Bill Davis, Don Biery, Steinberger and Adams. They walked off with a first place trophy by recording an 8:48 in the event.

Kipper copped fourth place honors in the pole vault at Marysville.

Then a combination of Kipper, Gary Davis, Biery and Adams won the mile relay against South Lyon in 3:49.

South Lyon fell victim Monday to the Mustangs, 78 1/2-30 1/2, their first win against two earlier setbacks.

Besides the mile relay victory and Kipper's record pole vault, there were other firsts racked up by Northville.

Gary Davis lopped five and eight-tenths of a second off his best previous time in the 880 by winning in 2:05.1 against South Lyon.

Northville piled up points in four events.

Steinberger cracked the five-minute mark in the mile — the first Mustang to do so this year — winning in 4:58.

Annett came in second.

—Callaghan and Dave Cook swept first and second, respectively, in both the high and low hurdles.

—Jerry Burns threw the shot 33'11" and John Pemberton was runner-up.

The scoring didn't stop there however. Biery pulled up the winner in the 440 in 53.6 on Brädenburg leaped 18'8.5" to take first in the broad jump. And Terry Winter gave Northville a second in the 220 yard dash.

Oak Park defeated Northville Friday, 70.5-38.5.

Absence of some Mustangs who were resting up for the Marysville relays prevented the local team from making a better show.

Biery, once again, took honors in the 440. He was clocked at 54.6.

Kipper oled three third his record-breaking potential by vaulting 10'6" to take first.

Bloomfield Hills, last year's conference track kings, smothered Northville in its first outing April 23, 81-18.

"They were very strong," said Coach Paul Mack.

Nevertheless, Northville had its winners.

Gary Davis sped to a win in the 880-yard run, registering a good 2:10.9, and John Callaghan won over a slow field in the 120 high hurdles.

Kipper polled three third places; in the pole vault with a 10' 3" effort, and in the 100 and 220 yard dashes.

The Mustangs placed two in the mile. Steinberger captured second and Annett, third.

Another Mustang scorer was Cook who took third in the 180 yard low hurdles.

Formula for Losing: 11 Errors, 13 Fans

MISQUE

That's the game the Mustangs played at Bloomfield Hills last Thursday as they committed 11 errors and struck out 13 times.

They lost the baseball game, 5-4 in nine innings.

Here's how Bloomfield Hills scored:

—one unearned run in the first inning on four errors.

—three unearned runs in the sixth on five hits and four errors.

—one unearned run in the bottom of the ninth on an error, a walk and a single to win the game.

It was a frustrating day for pitcher Eric Peterson who had a no-hitter for five innings. Of the six hits he gave up, five came in the sixth inning and one in the ninth. Otherwise, Peterson was in control all the way.

With all the antics, the Mustangs played some good ball. "We made a lot of good defensive plays," noted Coach Stan Gojonia. "In fact, we threw two men out at the plate. But sloppy play paved the way for them," he added.

All four of Northville's runs were earned.

The local team scored once in the sixth to tie it one-all.

Joe Hay and John Mach put singles back to back. Jeff Crawford and Dave Cummings then walked to force in the marker.

Down by three runs going into the final frame, Northville tied it up, 4-4.

Howie Jones and Jim Juday singled. Hay doubled them home on a solid liner to right center. Mach continued hitting in the clutch by singling Hay across. But the next two men struck out to end the threat.

Netters Win Breather

It's a breeze.

At least that's what the Mustangs were thinking as they skinned Clarenceville alive, 5-0.

And they did it with tennis rackets.

Turk Ornekian whisked through his match in something like a record 15 minutes, banishing his opponent, six-love, six-love.

The rest of the Mustangs didn't waste any time either. Gary Grysiwicz disposed of his opponent in short order, 6-0, 6-1 and Jim Jiggins, playing in the number three singles spot, scalped his opponent by the same score.

Although the doubles teams didn't storm over their opponents, it was an easy kill.

Mark Byard and Jim Weidner prevailed against a little stiffer opposition, 6-2, 6-1, while Bob Langtry and Dave Schmidt went on the war path, winning, 6-1, 6-1.

But there was a reason for the Mustangs easy route.

"Clarenceville was terrible, a pretty sad team," said Mentor Keith Krause.

"They won't win a match all year. They haven't enough kids over there to field a complete team on a Monday," Krause explained. "So they usually schedule their games any other day of the week. In fact, they don't even have their own tennis courts it's so bad."

Golfers Dump Clarenceville

The Northville Mustangs shot their way to victory in a dual golf meet away, then took a second place in a triangular match at Pontiac Catholic Center.

The Mustangs outshot an inferior Clarenceville golf team Wednesday, 175-187.

"We didn't shoot very well," said Coach Al Jones. "And I was disappointed by the seniors' showing."

Seniors led the way, however, with Dave Zielinski and Bill Wiedner both recording 43s.

Sophomore Jim St. Germaine shot a 44 and freshman Rick Talbot, a 45.

Last man was senior Bob Boyle with a 46, who failed to qualify since only the four lowest scores count in the team total.

For losing Clarenceville, a 44, 45, 48, 50 and a 63 were scored. "They were pretty weak," said Coach Jones.

Jones was also disappointed by the seniors' showing in Thursday's triangular.

"The younger boys played fine golf. All of them should have shot below a 42. The course was easier than Brae Burn," Jones said.

West Bloomfield topped the field with a team total of 157. Northville was far ahead of Brighton, 165-182.

St. Germaine shot a "remarkable" two under par, 34, best score of the day by far. Closest rival was Bob Aumagher of West Bloomfield, who recorded a 38.

Other scorers for Northville were Talbot, 41; Sophomore Jim Bertoni, 43; and seniors

John Walters, and Bill Kleinsorge, a 47 and 48, respectively.

West Bloomfield which was paced by Aumagher, tallied two scores of 39-41 and a 43. Brighton had scores of 43, 45, 46, 48 and a 55.

Monday's scheduled triangular with South Lyon and Brighton at the Brae Burn golf course was postponed because of rain.

Colorful Oldtimer Dies at His Salem Home

Eugene "Bert" Stanbro, one of Salem's most colorful oldtimers, died Sunday at his home at 8090 Dickerson. The 91-year-old retired farmer, who upon reaching his 90th birthday said today's generation is becoming a nation of softies, had been ill for the past five months. Despite serious injuries suffered in an automobile accident in 1949 that claimed the life of his wife, Mr. Stanbro remained active until only a few years ago. He was an avid hunter who took great pride in his collection of rifles and shotguns.

In an interview with this newspaper two years ago, he said in serious jest: "I think we are becoming a nation of softies. People don't seem to care to do any strenuous work or play much anymore. We need strenuous work or play to keep our muscles coordinated. I think it keeps us growing."

A member of Salem Federated Church before the present building was built, Mr. Stanbro painted the church inside and out — "including the steeple" — at the age of 80.

Despite his dislike for the nation's inactivity, Mr. Stanbro considered himself fortunate to live in today's modern world. Aside from friends and pleasant memories of years ago, he did not regret the disappearance of "the good old days."

Born November 14, 1871, in Highland, he moved to Salem with his parents, Alexis and Adeline (Dennis) Stanbro, 83 years ago. He operated a farm just east of the village of Salem for many years.

Mr. Stanbro's wife died July 5, 1959 of injuries in a automobile accident. He leaves one son, Earl of Salem, manager of the Wixom Co-op at Wixom. Funeral services were held Wednesday in Casterline Funeral home, 122 West Dunlap in Northville, with the Reverend Elwood Chipchase, pastor of Salem Federated, officiating. Burial was in the Salem-Walker cemetery.

Also pictured are Principal Fred Stefanski and Mrs. Howard Wright, Girls' State chairman for the Northville American Legion auxiliary.

Carrington Agency Sets Bicycle Safety Campaign

A Safe Bicycle Driving Campaign will be started in Northville this month by The Carrington Agency, 120 North Center street. The agency is cooperating in the campaign with The American Insurance Company of Newark. The agency's campaign here is being conducted as part of a national bicycle safety campaign.

Charles Carrington and Carl Johnson said that the agency will seek to promote "bicycle safety activity on the part of parents and their youngsters through distribution of a 16-page, color illustrated booklet entitled, Safe Bicycle Driving Today.

The booklet outlines the principles and practices of safe bicycle driving. Along with the booklet, the agency will distribute metal license plates for attachment to bicycles of riders who pass a test on the contents of the booklet. The

Northville Coordinating Council

The April meeting of the Coordinating Council was attended by 16 organizational representatives.

President Al Smith appointed William Shulz chairman of the annual Citizenship Banquet to be held the second week in September.

Treasurer Miss Ruth Knapp announced that $105 had been received from organizations for the beautification of Joe Denton Park and that plantings were being made. Other contributions may be sent to Miss Knapp.

A. P. Galli of the Northville State Hospital announced that clothes and toys for disturbed children between the ages of 8 and 10 for boys and 12 and 17 for both boys and girls were badly needed and could be left at any time at the information desk of the hospital.

A committee was appointed to investigate the possibility of having a float in the 4th of July parade. The next meeting of this organization will be May 16. Cards will be sent to designate the place.

CAP Members Tour Airport

Twenty-four cadets and senior members of the Northville Civil Air Patrol made a grand tour recently of Willow Run airport.

They toured the mail and radar rooms, the control tower, and the weather station. They also watched how maps were made. Highlight of the visit was a complete tour of an airliner.

Salem Couple Wed 50 Years

Mr. and Mrs. Pearley Jones of Salem, formerly of Flushing, celebrated their golden wedding anniversary in Flushing at the home of a daughter and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Velden Lewis.

About 75 guests were present to congratulate the couple.

The open house was hosted by their seven children: Mrs. Verna Cobb, Mrs. Florence Lewis, Mrs. Gladys Schneider, A. Ruldolph Jones and Mrs. Lucille Crandell all of Flushing, Russell Jones of Flint and Mrs. Glen Hardesty of Salem.

The couple was married April 14, 1913, in Winslow, Maine. They moved to Michigan in 1927, and have been residents of Flint, Flushing, and Port Austin. They have resided for the past five years at 9971 Seven Mile road, Salem, at the home of Albert Rider.

Students Describe UN Experiences

Five Northville high school students described to members of the Rotary club Tuesday noon their experiences as representatives to the state high school "United Nations" at Hillsdale college last month.

The local participants were Barbara Pilarz, Frank Steinberger and Jan Svenson. They were among 800 students attending the sessions.

Also attending from Northville was Donald Brown, high school counselor, who introduced the program.

CASE OF THE BARGAINING DEALERS

When you trade in your used car on a new one, it is often the case that the dealer's work has only begun in the arduous business of disposing of your used model at a price that will leave him a profit on the whole transaction.

As sometimes happens due to lack of storage space, or because he has too many of this particular model, or other reasons, a dealer must wholesale a used car to another dealer.

When this happens, as might be imagined, quite a bit of price bargaining goes on between buyer and seller, sometimes with a very humorous twist.

This was the case recently when two dealers ended up arguing over a windshield with a pinhole in it that the buying dealer thought should be good for $50 off the price.

"Come off it now," said the selling dealer. "You KNOW you wouldn't replace that windshield!"

The buyer kept insisting he would and finally won out on the deal. The sale agreed upon, the selling dealer then treated the buyer to a coke from a nearby cooler.

With the papers all signed and the transfer of titles completed, the selling dealer finished his drink and walked over to the windshield to examine it more closely.

"It seems a shame," he said, "on account of such a little flaw. But since you're going to replace it anyway..." and he swung his empty bottle at the windshield and smashed it completely.

Not Problem Children

Youngsters With Problems

EDITOR'S NOTE — The following was written by Mrs. George Weiss, senior high Sunday school teacher at the First Presbyterian Church of Northville.

It would be naive and comfortably blind to state that Northville does not have problem young people. However, as these are not the boys and girls with whom I am most familiar, I cannot speak of them with any authority. The young people with whom I work are representative of that very large group of intelligent and to use an out-worn and ambiguous phrase, well-adjusted teenagers.

It would be ridiculous to try to define their attitude toward their troubled world in a few words, for they are complex human beings and there are as many attitudes as people and more, for they are growing and maturing and changing from day to day.

So we can only generalize. They are critical and often disenchanted with our society. They are shrewd in their observations and quick to detect "phonies".

To their elders, these young men and women sometimes seem to be lazy, uncommunicative, vapid and negative. They are not! Or they do not wish to be. They simply do not want to be caught with their illusions down. Their reticence is armor for their vulnerability. If they do not let people know their hopes and dreams they will not look foolish if they do not materialize.

These yesterday's children have minds that are full of a number of things. They have far more learning than had we and are facing a far more complex life situation.

They demand and must be allowed the freedom and the time to question and challenge, accept or reject ideas and old precepts. They are searching for a meaning to build upon.

To say that these are not problem young people is not to say that they are young people without problems. They know that to be without problems is to be dead, and they are diligently striving to work out answers for their own private doubts and agonies, and are cultivating courage to live morally and positively, while recognizing that morality and positive thinking are looked upon by some of their popular peers as exceedingly square.

The boys and girls I know have a marvelous capacity for fun and a delightful sense of humor. Their energy must have many outlets — intellectual, physical and social. They may dabble in or contemplate the reckless and the unsavory, but such activities quickly become distasteful to them.

Our senior highs and young colleagues are bewildered by discrimination. Their first associations with boys and girls, teachers and counselors of other races invariably delight and interest them. They feel guilty by inheritance and resentful of the heritage.

Our young people know that the responsibility of a challenging and perhaps terrible future is theirs, but they are not ready to wear the harness. They want time for lightheartedness and time for study and thinking and decision making. And they know that they may not have this time.

But they also know that never have there been so many exciting paths for their taking, and now, quite literally, "the sky's the limit."

Anyone who is not interested in our young people has resigned from life, because they are now, in a sense larger than ever before, our present and our future.

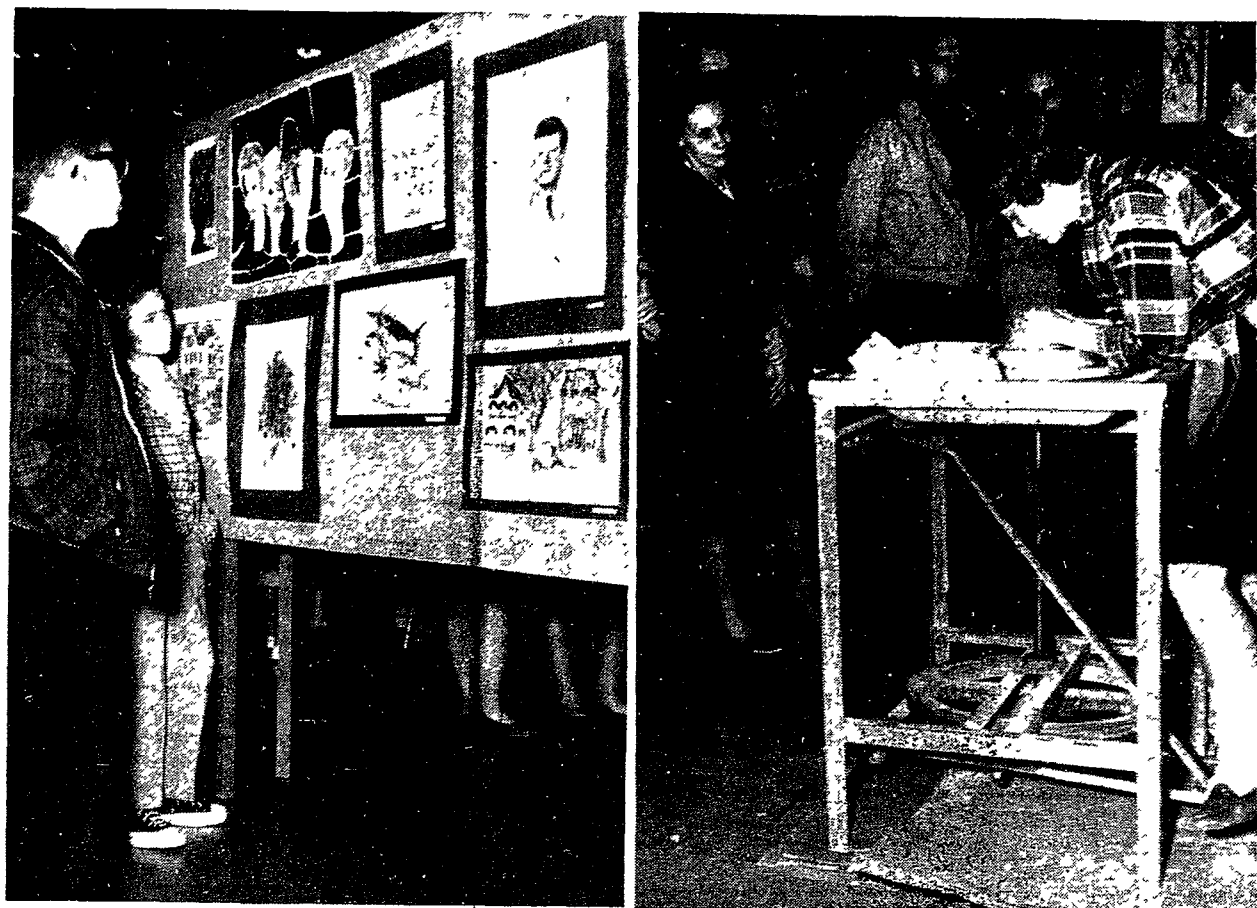

One who has counseled at a youth conference, and who has been honored and humbled to be chosen to listen in private conferences to the outpourings from the naked heart of these young people, cannot but know that these are not innocent babes, but young adults who already have faced temptations, made mistakes or avoided making them by the skin of their teeth; are learning compassion; are distrusting their elders for their unconcern or lack of fair play. They are realistic but not resigned.

The eagerness for life which these young people display and their quest for knowledge are assets which must not be allowed to depreciate. If we cannot always understand them, we must encourage them and, above all, let us love them.

FESTIVAL OF ARTS — Northville high school students from the English, art, mechanical drawing, shop, science and home economics classes displayed examples of their work last Thursday evening. The occasion was the "Festival of Arts" which followed the final high school P-TA meeting of the year. The affair attracted a large number of parents and school officials. A familiar portrait catches the eye of observers (at left), while Rosemary Budek is shown at the potter's wheel (at right) modeling a clay vase. At the P-TA business meeting new officers were installed. Outgoing officers were: Mr. and Mrs. A. Lawrence Hill, president; Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Ely, vice president; Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Lee, teacher-vice president; Mr. and Mrs. Elwin Kaake, secretary-treasurer; and Mr. and Mrs. William Davis and Mrs. Pauline Lyke, council delegates. New officers are: Reverend and Mrs. Lloyd Brasure, president; Mr. and Mrs. William Slinger, vice president; Donald Brown, teacher-vice president; Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Hinck, secretary-treasurer; and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Long and Mr. and Mrs. A. Lawrence Hill, council delegates.

WSU to Honor Percy C. Angove

A Northville man will be one of five Wayne State University alumni who have achieved distinction in their fields and brought honor to the University and who will be cited Saturday at the University's 95th Annual Reunion at the Latin Quarter.

Named to receive citations at the dinner meeting are Percy C. Angove, WSU class of 1933, of Northville; Miss Elizabeth Hilborn, '44, Dr. Marion W. Jocz, '27; Dr. Robert C. Lusk, '51; and M. Gorton Riethmiller, '44.

The presentation of the awards will be the highlight of the Reunion. The dinner program will also include remarks by President Clarence B. Hilberry.

Angove recently retired as executive director for the Michigan Society for Crippled Children and Adults. For over 30 years he has played a major role in developing education services for the physically and mentally handicapped. He is the recipient of the Charles S. Potter Award, annually given to an outstanding worker in the field of the handicapped, and is the first non-medical man to receive a Distinguished Service Award from the Michigan State Medical Society. He lives at 841 West Main.

BOLENS ORBIT-AIR MOWS, CLEANS, MULCHES

In both ORBIT-AIR models, an exclusive feature circulates grass clippings in an orbit chamber until they're cut to tiny particles. These fine particles are then blown down near the ground to nourish growing grass.

• Safest mower made — ORBIT-AIR'S orbit chamber is completely enclosed — eliminates danger from objects hurled by the blade.

• ORBIT-AIR leaves your lawn lush and beautiful — as clean as a carpet.

• Two models: 3-hp push-type; 3 1/2-hp power-propelled.

Can your child pass this safe driver's test?

The American's Safe Bicycle Driver's Test

1. White is a good color to wear when riding after dark.
2. Bike drivers should make way for pedestrians who are crossing against a red light.
3. You should ride at least three feet away from parked cars.
4. At night, a busy street that is well lighted is as safe as it is in the daytime.
5. The light or reflector on the back of your bicycle should be visible from 300 feet.
6. You don't need to stop for a red light if no traffic is coming.
7. Bike drivers don't have to watch for cars pulling out of alleys, driveways and parking places if it is the auto driver's job to be careful.
8. A bicycle is the right size — and the saddle properly adjusted — if your knee is straight out when your foot is on the pedal.
14. Hand signals for bike drivers are the same as for auto drivers.
15. You should always ride your bike with the traffic on the right hand side of the road.
16. It is not necessary to slow down at intersections if the pavement is not slippery.
17. This is the signal for SLOW and STOP.
18. The tail light on a bicycle should be yellow in color.
19. Your brakes are in good shape if you can stop within three bike lengths.
20. Your bicycle's headlight should be visible from 500 feet away.
21. Handle bars should be adjusted so that your body leans forward slightly when in a riding position.

Send for this free bicycle safety booklet, 30-question test, and license plate today!

If you have a young bike rider or two in the family, you want them to know the rules of safe driving. Not only now as they pedal around the neighborhood — but later when they graduate from bikes and get behind the wheel of an auto. That's why we are offering you a 16-page booklet, "Safe Bicycle Driving Today." Published by The American Insurance Company, this booklet is written for bicycle-age boys and girls. It gives them all of the rules of the road and includes a 30-question test for you to give them. When they pass, reward them with a metal license plate for their bikes. All material is yours for the asking — free of charge. Simply call our agency or mail a post card to the address below.

"THE MEANING OF BAPTISM"

from the PASTOR'S STUDY

By Rev. John I. Wittstock
Our Lady of Victory Church, Northville

God Demands Obedience To Lawful Authority! "I resent being pushed around and bossed" says the average American, but I recognize the need for proper authority and obedience in my life. I live and work with others every day. As a member of a family, a team, a club, a profession, or as part of the organization in which I earn my living, I see that they all consist of members working together, some with authority to command, others with the duty to obey. But when I obey a law or the boss's command, I want to do so — with the dignity of a free man — not with the fear and reluctance of a slave.

When we honor another, we express respectful recognition of his superiority. Children honor their parents when they respectfully recognize their position of authority and willingly obey honor would be a surly, grudging service and honor without obedience would be a mockery.

Obedience is necessarily included in respect for lawful authority. It is honest and dignified obedience, entirely in accord with the instincts of human nature. The authority of parents and the duty of children is singled out in the Fourth Commandment because parents represent the authority to whom all men are first directly subject. The human family is a little world which husband and wife have brought to complete fruition by their love. The authority of God the Father is vested in the human father and shared by the mother and the children find their full development and happiness in loving and respectful obedience.

God could not and would not command children to honor parents without implicitly commanding parents to be worthy of their honor. Parents must always remember that their children are first of all God's children and that they are bound to treat them as such and do all in their power, not only for their welfare in this world, but much more for their eternal welfare.

Obedience is first learned in the home and rarely learned later. As the first law-givers that their children ever know and whom they first learn to obey, parents can train their children in obedience to the laws of God and man, so that the instinctive obedience of infants will grow into the loving and intelligent obedience of later years.

Children fail in their duty of love and respect, by refusing to help their parents in need, by unjustly causing them sorrow and anger, by unjustly striking them or threatening them or by insulting them and by being ashamed of them because of their lack of means or education. Teachers in school, take the place of parents, and must be obeyed and respected. Civil authority, if it does not oppose the law of God, is to be obeyed.

Neglect of this commandment leads to chaos. No scheme of social reform is workable unless people of all classes learn to keep the commandment — rulers exercising their authority as a trust from God and subjects giving them obedience and due respect for God's sake. Otherwise, there can be nothing but selfish domineering on the one hand and constant rebellion on the other.

OUT OF THE PAST

ONE YEAR AGO
May 3, 1962
In a joint closed session of Northville and Novi school board members and officials, the Novi board unanimously agreed to take another millage proposal to the voters — probably in July.

Echo Valley residents expressed a desire to be annexed to the Northville school district. The 10-mile road subdivision is in the Novi district. The Northville Mustangs baseball team extended its unbeaten string to six games as the local team upended Bloomfield Hills, 7-1, and West Bloomfield 7-4 last week.

Mrs. Pearl Willis, Wixom city clerk, took the oath of office this week. Mrs. William Byrd, who resigned from her position as Wixom's clerk, administered the oath.

Art Around Us

By Jessie Hudson

Water-color, as I mentioned in a recent column, is a difficult medium. It takes years of experience to know just how far to go, just how much and just where to put the paint on paper. Six women painters, now exhibiting at the little Hartley-Powers Gallery in Northville, have acquired the years and the experience.

The show as a whole is an interesting one, the paintings mostly large, colorful and thoughtful.

Gloria Yoshihara Parres, youngest of the group, presently instructor in the Occupational Therapy Department of Maybury San, chose casein for her large, sweeping abstractions. Casein, though water-based, is an opaque medium more like oil, and has a characteristic matte (not shiny) finish. Mrs. Parres' works in a subtle range of delicate color values. Her two studies of ears convey the falling feeling of this classical legend. A third painting, "The Turtle" is reminiscent of the awesome message, "and the voice of the turtle was heard throughout the land."

Marjorie Becker, Northville resident, Co-ordinator of Elementary Art for Livonia schools, has a more traditional approach to painting. Her large watercolors deal with subjects such as "Reflections" a charming, watery, autumnal landscape, "Rainy Day in the City" blues, blacks and buildings, "The Hagglers Island Market" a reflection on a visit to Jamaica is more freely painted as is "Going to Market — Jamaica". Dark blue is repeated in "City at Night" and in "Seagulls" which shows swooping birds against a stormy backdrop. "Corn sieves" treats of indigenous pheasants and "Our Village at Night" is an interesting view of pinpoints of light in cosy houses tucked safely into the folds of nearby hills.

Mabel Bacon, Plymouth realtor and self-taught artist, achieves a mysterious feeling of movement and mood in her jewel like combination of colors. Her "Storm," "Fugue" and "Nocturne" show masterful handling of wet-on-wet. She knows how to control this most difficult of all water-color techniques.

Mrs. Sam Hudson, also of Plymouth, and teacher of art in Plymouth high school, works mostly in a semi-abstract manner, is currently developing faces and forms out of analogous backgrounds, half-stated, find-and-seek. Two most recent and more abstract paintings evince the mood and color of spring — blue, green and daffodil yellow.

Ruby Churchill and Barbara Dorr from Ann Arbor, have both achieved some standing in the state, are usually represented in the Michigan Water Color Society and the Michigan Artists' Annual Exhibit. Both are versatile artists and their watercolors reveal professional control. Their paintings are large, colorful, and gay.

This exhibit will remain through May 4th. (This week end) but works of all these artists are always on hand at the Hartley-Powers Gallery.

In the Galleries:
Joy Road Studio, 48234 Joy road — Crafts, pewter work, chair-caning and rush-seating demonstrations, and paintings by students, on view during gallery hours. Call Mrs. Marjorie Sober at GL-3-9180 for information.

Forsythe Gallery, 201 Nickels Arcade, Ann Arbor — Oil paintings based on "The Family" by Mexican painter Rafael Cornel. Through May 3. Weekdays from 10-4, Saturday from 10-1.

Hartley-Powers Gallery, 116 E. Main street, Northville — Six women painters, water colors in a variety of approaches to technique and subject matter. Weekdays 12-6, Friday to 9, Saturday 9-6.

Official Minutes — Northville Township

A Special meeting of the township of Northville Board was called to order by Supervisor Merriam at 9:45 p.m. on Wednesday, April 10, 1963.

Members present: R. D. Merriam, Marguerite N. Young, Alex M. Lawrence, Donald E. Robinson and Wilson D. Tyler.

L. W. Mosher, Township Engineer, was attending.

The purpose of the meeting was to consider the pay back agreement to Sheldon Hayes and Charles Allen's client on the proposed sewer main to be built by them on the north side of Seven Mile road which location had been suggested by the Water & Sewer Commission.

The recommended agreement was as follows:

A maximum of $100 of the connection charge of $400 be rebated to the developers who finance this sewer main from each house connection to this sewer or to any lateral sewer that discharges into this sewer, plus the collection from any premise tapping directly into this sewer main of an amount up to $2.50 per front foot on a maximum of $300 for the use of this sewer main in lieu of a lateral sewer. It was suggested that this agreement would terminate within ten (10) years but the payments would not exceed the amount of the cost of the sewer.

Robinson moved that the Township Board adopt the recommendation of the Water & Sewer Commission concerning the Allen & Hayes payback arrangement on the proposed Seven Mile road trunk sewer.

Tyler supported the motion.

Ayes: All Nays: None. Motion carried.

No further business, Robinson moved that the meeting be adjourned. Supported by Lawrence. Motion carried.

Meeting adjourned at 10:00 p.m.

Marguerite N. Young, Clerk

A special meeting of the Township of Northville was called to order by Supervisor Merriam at 3:20 p.m. on Wednesday, April 17, 1963.

Members present: R. D. Merriam, Alex M. Lawrence and Marguerite N. Young. Absent: Wilson D. Tyler and Donald E. Robinson.

Also present were L. W. Mosher, Township Engineer; John N. Northup, builder; Ken Gipp and Wynn Wakenhut, Engineer for Shadbrook.

The meeting was called for the purpose of checking and signing Shadbrook Subdivision Final Plat Boards.

After due consideration, Lawrence moved that the Plat be approved and the Clerk be instructed to sign the plat boards.

Merriam supported the motion. Ayes: All Nays: None. Motion carried.

Lawrence moved, supported by Young that the meeting be adjourned. Meeting was adjourned at 4:45 p.m.

Dave Hay

He's Elected To Head Class

David L. Hay, son of Mr. and Mrs. David Hay of 46141 Sunset has been elected president of his class at Central College, Pella, Iowa, for the coming year.

Hay, presently a sophomore, has been an outstanding athlete at Central and has compiled a very good academic record.

Head Football Coach Ron Schipper, an ex-Northville coach, is counting heavily on Hay as an offensive and defensive halfback during the coming season. For two years, Dave has played as a regular cornerman or defense, and sparkled offensively for the Dutchmen during the latter part of the 1962 season.

In the second game last fall against Iowa Wesleyan, Dave ran back a punt for a touchdown giving Central its only score in a 7-0 victory. Central was 7-2 this year and finished second in the nine-school Iowa Conference.

Hay is currently the regular right-fielder for Central's baseball team which has a 3-2 record so far this season.

Help Still Welcome

To the Editor:

The Novi Friends of the Library would like to thank the people of Novi for supporting the Library Millage in the last election. We are very proud of the community in Novi for wanting to keep and choosing to support a library.

Although it will be nine months before the Library receives any money from this millage, the Friends plan to continue their activities and hope to support, at least partially, the library until the tax monies are available. We would welcome any help from anyone who would like to join us.

We would also like to thank the Novi News and its staff for their complete and most welcome coverage of the activities of the Library and of the Friends of the Library. Without the publicity you have given us, none of the things we have accomplished would have been possible.

'Broom Handle' Sweeps Plane Down

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the second in a series of articles concerning the fun, adventure and difficulty in learning to fly, written by the Herald's advertising manager, Al Lubowitz, who is taking lessons at the New Hudson Airport.

Straight and level flying. It's wonderful! I'm up 2,000 feet in the blue sky, the sun's glinting off the wings, the engine's purring along, and all's right with the world. Suddenly my Piper Cub dips forward and dives!

What am I going to do? I hear the reassuring voice of Bill McKinley, my flying instructor, saying, "Now bring the plane back to straight and level flight."

Only then do I sigh in relief. I remember that he warned me earlier that he would be "tinkering" with the controls every once and awhile to see if I could restore the plane to its normal cruising position.

This I do. By now I'm getting the hang of it. The control stick is like a broom handle. Take a broom, stand it on its end. See how it can flop in any direction? That's how the control stick works. It can flop around too. Which ever direction the stick leans, that is the direction the plane will go.

The gentle art is not to have the plane leaping and wobbling through the air.

Needless to say, in my first attempt, I had the plane wobbling up imaginary mountains and down impossible valleys. Now I've graduated from "mountain driving" to a more gently rolling terrain.

Still it's a relief to know that Bill McKinley is there in the plane with me. It's particularly reassuring when I remember that he started flying the year I was born. He's been flying as long as I've been living. And for twenty of those years, he has been an instructor. In fact, for a time prior to his coming to the New Hudson Airport, he taught Army pilots how to fly.

Unknown to Bill, I shoot a grateful glance in his direction and then we're off doing a series of turns.

To turn, you simply move the stick in whatever direction you want to go and the plane banks. That's all. The plane turns by itself. On completing the maneuver, you bring the stick back to a neutral position and continue straight on. Very simple. So simple that I'm getting careless.

I begin to turn and discover that the stick won't budge. I try again. Still nothing happens. The answer? Bill is holding the stick. He refused to let me turn. I haven't cleared myself.

"What would happen if another plane was behind you?" he demands. He is right. I should have cleared myself for the turn by looking to see if anything was behind me.

This is just another instance whereby I'm impressed with the safety measures taken by pilots. Over and over again safety is emphasized.

"Flying is as safe as you make it," Bill tells me. Therefore, even before the plane leaves the ground, there is a safety procedure to go through.

Gas and oil must be checked. The plane must be inspected for general wear and tear. The engine has to be examined and the gasolator drained to clear the gas tank of dirt and condensation. Even the stray possibility that a bird's nest has appeared over night must be checked for.

This all takes place before the engine has been started. Later before take-off there is a pre-flight check. The engine is revved up to see if the magnetos, oil gauges, and manifold gauge are functioning properly. The carburetor heat, the controls, the gas shut-off valve, and the stabilizer are also checked.

The air overhead must be clear of in-coming planes. Even a seat belt check is necessary. All this happens before the take-off. Once in the air, other regulations go into effect. These are plentiful — so plentiful that it takes several volumes to contain them all.

Safety is all important to the pilot. He can't afford to take chances, especially because, if something goes wrong, he can't pull over to the side of the road to see what the matter is.

But now the lesson is ending. It's time to go home. Wonder of wonders, Bill is going to let me glide the plane down toward the runway. In other words, I'm going to be doing a major part of the landing!

I cut the throttle back so that the engine is idling. Immediately the plane slows and begins a glide earthward. My job is to keep the nose up so that our descent will be gradual.

Oops, the plane is dropping too fast. I pull up a little. "Clear the engine, Al," Bill tells me. I open the throttle a little so as to reassure myself that the engine is okay. Then I close it.

"Up that nose. Your glide is too steep," Bill yells. I try to bring it up, but by this time the plane is gaining speed and the pressure on the stick is heavy. "Get that nose up. You're diving!"

The ground is rushing toward the plane faster and faster. I manage to get the nose "Clear the engine, Al," Bill says. "Clear the engine again."

ing that, the nose dips down again. "Use the right rudder," he yells.

Suddenly the field is close up and I realize that the plane is diving, the engine has to be cleared, and the right rudder has to be pushed. Agghh!

"I'll take over now," Bill says and, to my relief, the plane miraculously evens out and glides in a more gradual descent.

We come down in a perfect landing. Not even a bump. A beautiful landing on Bill's part!

So now when my friends ask me how the lessons are going, I reply, "Great." Then I add to myself ... as long as Bill's along.

What I wonder is what will happen when I'm all alone? Will I ever learn how to fly? (Continued Next Week)

SPEAKING for The Record

By BILL SLIGER

There's a chimpanzee down at a Wayne State university laboratory who has become an adept cigarette smoker. He's been taught to inhale and now enjoys the habit at the rate of a pack-a-day.

He's also developed lung cancer.

And if we want to adopt an ostrich attitude on the subject, we can pretend there's no connection between the two aforementioned facts.

I'd also suggest that you don't read "Cigarette Smoking and Cancer," a new booklet issued by the American Cancer Society.

The facts aren't pleasant. Certainly no cigarette advertisement can boast: "smoke our brand, they're good for you."

It isn't my intent to spoil the pleasure a confirmed cigarette smoker gets from "dragging a fag." I have my own problems in this regard. Cigarette smoking is a personal habit and the risk involved is the option of the individual.

But I believe the risks should be made perfectly clear to our teen-agers so that they may reach an educated decision.

This is the position the American Cancer Society has taken. A filmstrip, "To Smoke or Not to Smoke" and a movie, "Is Smoking Worth It?" have been made available by the Society and shown in thousands of high schools (although not locally, I am told).

The number of cigarette-smoking teen-agers is unbelievable.

An administrator of our local school system estimates that 20 per cent of the youngsters in grades nine through 12 smoke cigarettes.

An official of the American Cancer Society would like to bet him a package of chewing gum he's wrong.

Here are the figures gathered by the Society in a study taken at Highland Park high school:

- 12th grade—50-60 per cent;
- 11th grade—45-50 per cent;
- 10th grade—40 per cent;
- grades 7 through 9—over 20 per cent.

And these youngsters are not "smoking one out behind the barn." They're smoking at least one pack of cigarettes per day.

One million of these youngsters will die from lung cancer. That's not a figure at random — it's an inescapable statistic.

Here are a few more:

- lung cancer is rare among non-smoking males and practically non-existent among non-smokers living in rural areas;
- 41,000 Americans die yearly from lung cancer: 35,500 men, 5,500 women — 10 times the rate of 30 years ago;
- the likelihood of death before 65 for men aged 35 is nearly twice as great for heavy smokers as non-smokers;
- cancer of other sites besides the lung is far higher in cigarette smokers than non-smokers;
- lung cancer is increasing more rapidly than any other cancer in the body — paralleling the consumption of cigarettes;
- lung cancer death rates are lower in ex-cigarette smokers than in persons who continue to smoke cigarettes, and except for individuals who have prolonged occupational exposure to certain dusts, fumes, or gases, lung cancer is rare in persons who have never smoked cigarettes.

The American Cancer Society believes that cigarette advertising today is directed to a large degree at teen-agers (65 per cent of the TV cigarette ads appear before 9 p.m.).

But take away the pretty girl walking beside a rippling stream, the rugged mountain climber scaling a peak, or the handsome athlete rounding third —and you still find more than 10 cancer producing agents in cigarette smoke.

This month the American Cancer Society is taking its lung-cancer message to the telephone. By dialing TR-2-4666 you may hear Dr. Arthur Vorwall, the WSU professor currently experimenting with chimpanzees, deliver a two-minute recorded message.

Soon you'll also hear a star athlete, Rocky Colavito of the Tigers, proclaim that you don't have to smoke cigarettes to be a big leaguer.

And in another area of cancer, local women are invited to the P&A Theatre Monday at 1 p.m. to see films on breast cancer and uterine cancer. A doctor will also be present to discuss cancer.

Said an official of the Cancer Society this week: "if 500 women attend this showing at the P&A Monday, we can save 50 lives."

Roger Babson

Employers Rank Drop-Outs Low

Babson Park, Mass. — In this unsettling day and age, many workers feel that their job is of no real importance. They think of it only as a source of income, and they don't care much whether they do their level best or not.

Naturally, this attitude doesn't afflict all workers, but I do think that far too many employed men and women consider their jobs are not particularly important.

This is not true; and the quicker our workers of all ages find that out, the better off they — and the economy — will be.

In the first place, if a job were of no special importance, it wouldn't be there. Since the job is there, this means that it is necessary and that it is worth doing well.

Doing a job badly hurts not only yourself but everybody in your entire organization. Those involved in turning out any product or presenting any service are — and must be — interdependent upon one another in order to achieve top results. If anybody lets down, all are injured.

In an automotive company, for example, all steps are equally important: Manufacture of the various materials, assembling of the parts, painting, upholstering, cleaning, showing and demonstrating. Necessary and significant, too, is inspection of each step in the complicated process of taking an automobile or truck from its initial stages through to the ultimate customer. Nobody can say that the inspector's job is less crucial than any other along the line.

A craftsman's mistake could travel right to the customer and botch a sale if it were not for the inspectors' "craft" in checking the work through all its phases. Disappointment because of a faulty product breeds dissatisfaction with the company itself.

No amount of advertising can convince a customer that a company's prestige is deserved when he has encountered something drastically wrong in its products.

Individualism may be a good thing in our private lives; but when it comes to making a living, teamwork is all-important. Only through perfect teamwork can employers, employees, and stockholders all get the most out of any operation. A man who makes a tiny electric switch may think his job very unimportant when contrasted with that of a brilliant scientific engineer who designs a space ship. But a multi-million-dollar space ship could fail at take-off, could plunge into the ocean, or could just plain blow up if anything should go wrong with that tiny switch.

So, if you happen to be the man making that small switch, don't think that you are less important than the big-salaried engineer. If you are not responsible on your part of the team, it won't do the engineer any good to be brilliantly responsible on his part of that team.

A good many young people today are not naturally aware of the necessity of discipline, and unfortunately their families and school teachers often fail to make this need plain to them. That is the reason for the innumerable dropouts from junior high schools and high schools throughout the nation. If these children have no sense of responsibility toward their own education, it is not likely that they will assume any when they go out into the business world. Such children grow into adults who consider their jobs of no real value, who do not know the meaning of job responsibility.

Let me warn the parents of today's youngsters that employers are deadset against hiring school "dropouts."

This is a time of specialization. There is 20% less demand right now for common labor than in 1950; and certainly nobody can expect any rise in the going wage rate for those in unskilled categories. Best opportunities are in engineering, advanced mathematics, physics, electronics, data processing, and communications.

If you let your children or your grandchildren drop out of school, they will probably never acquire any needed responsibility; and they will never get the training that will make them prospects for the big jobs — perhaps even for any job — of tomorrow. Don't let your child become a "dropout!"

State Studies Delta Plan

Controversy over creation of a junior-senior year college in the Saginaw Valley rages on despite previous studies and legislative recommendations.

Now the interests seeking some method of providing the senior college facilities for students at Delta College are hoping that a blue ribbon committee appointed by Gov. George Romney will solve the problem.

A legislative committee which undertook an extensive study of the needs of the Saginaw Valley population last summer thought its conclusion was a valid one. It sponsored and gained House approval of a measure to create a two-year state-supported institution in the area.

The college would have been established in the same way Grand Valley College was created two years ago, with an initial $1 million coming from individual and group contributions.

At Romney's urging, however, the Senate refused to approve the House-initiated bill. Romney said he wanted his committee on higher education to come up with a comprehensive plan for the entire state rather than to continue patchwork development of college units in single areas as the need arose.

The governor's committee could well come forth with a plan to satisfy everyone. If so, it is assured residents in the Saginaw Valley would feel the wait was well worth while.

They, as well as residents throughout the state who might one day seek a similar service, were well aware of the need cited so aptly by Rep. William A. Boos, Saginaw, to end the "massive power struggle" between the existing institutions of higher education.

TB is not licked although great strides in detecting and curing the disease have been made in recent years, says State Health Commissioner Albert E. Heustis.

"We still have a lot to be concerned about," Heustis said. "There were 2,314 new active and probably active cases of tuberculosis reported in Michigan last year."

Since the introduction of new drugs in the early 1950's, however, the death rate from tuberculosis has been dramatically reduced. As a result, the length of hospitalization has also been reduced. This permits most patients to return home after a relatively short period of isolation and treatment in sanatoriums.

New advances in treatment are continuing, Heustis noted, with the probable result that the number of beds needed for tuberculosis care will continue to decrease, but this is no indication that the disease is on the way out.

"We need a new yardstick to measure the importance and extent of the problem, since both the death rate and the number of beds occupied by tuberculosis patients are no longer meaningful measures," he said.

"We are beginning to measure the extent of infection through a combination of things, including large scale tuberculin testing and selective x-raying." The number of new cases of TB discovered is now being affected, Heustis noted, by where and how hard health authorities look for the disease.

Individual interest in touring Michigan is great, if the requests for 1963 road maps is any indication.

The State Highway Department noted that approximately 50,000 individuals requested a copy of the new map by letter or post card even before the copies were printed.

Another 121,000 maps were shipped directly to local chambers of commerce, regional tourist associations, county and city offices, newspapers, and other organizations. State agencies in the Lansing area received 140,000 for their distribution and use.

Eventually, all 600,000 copies of the map printed this year will find their way into the glove compartments of cars throughout the nation, and many of these will return to Michigan as the heavy tourist season approaches.

Swindle schemes designed to rob senior citizens of their life savings are many, warns Gary D. Hansen, director of the Michigan Commission on Aging.

Hansen urges retirees "to be on the alert against promoters and salesmen who offer 'get-rich-quick' investments and 'cures' for various diseases, such as arthritis."

Among the major frauds being perpetrated on senior citizens are land "deals" on undeveloped property in distant places; and sales of quack medicines, sold on the basis that as people grow older they need an increase in some nutrient or food not supplied by the ordinary diet.

Dance studio offers in which many widows reportedly have been induced to deplete their savings by buying "lifetime" dancing lessons also should be avoided, Hansen warned.

Who needs muscles?

Do you know how easy it is to take a corner with a Corvair or park one? Turn this newspaper sideways and it will give you a pretty good idea. The wheel handles just about that easily.

The Corvair's engine is in the rear, for not only greater traction, but more balanced weight distribution. And that's what makes the steering so completely effortless.

The engine is air cooled, too. No radiator. No water or antifreeze. No boiling over or freezing up to worry about. It takes the weather and the terrain as it comes.

So think about those trips to the beach this summer, those bright sunny days and balmy moonlit nights.

And besides, looking at it from a very practical point of view, it's Trade 'N' Travel time right now at your Chevrolet dealer's. He's got some beautiful buys.

But you had better hurry before somebody muscles in ahead of you. Spring's here. Summer's coming fast. And with these sporty good-looking Corvairs selling the way they are, he who hesitates will want to kick himself.
