Good News, Bad Greet City Council

Mayor A. M. Allen was unable to attend Monday night's city council session.

He picked a good meeting to miss (the mayor's rarely absent). The 17-point agenda required nearly four hours to complete. Mayor Pro Tem John Canterbury presided.

Perhaps the best news on the entire agenda was the very last, Item No. 17.

It was an official offer from the federal government to the city of Northville of $137,000. All Northville has to do to pick up the check is answer within 15 days (after filling out a few forms, of course).

Actually, the offer of half the cost of constructing a new city hall-library-fire hall had been assured two months ago. But the official papers arrived Monday.

Specifically, the city now has 120 days to begin construction. But demolition of the old city hall may begin next week. And construction of the new facility would begin shortly thereafter.

Agenda Item No. 10 was not so pleasant.

Henry Bernhardt, 23000 North Beck road, and his attorney, Emory Jacques, appeared before the council to register a complaint about damage to some 30 acres of land on the Bernhardt farm due to flooding from the "Bernhardt Spring", once used by Northville as a water supply and never officially vacated.

The council has been studying means for abandoning the line and a report on the matter was given Monday night by City Attorney Philip Ogilvie.

He reviewed the history of the spring noting that the village of Northville had acquired easements and made some property purchases back in 1892 to pipe the supply from the area northwest of the city to the old reservoir located near the present water tower. Ogilvie cited a 1958 letter from the state department of health declaring that the water was "extremely dangerous" and not acceptable for human consumption. Abandonment of the source was ordered.

He noted that some farmers along the route continued to use the source for watering stock.

The city attorney pointed out that old descriptions of easements were not detailed and that to legally abandon the line by notification of all property owners along the route was now impossible without an engineering survey.

He proposed that this be done and then abandonment be conducted through the courts.

Attorney Jacques contended that 30 acres of the Bernhardt land had been rendered untillable by a "broken water line". He said the farmland was now nothing but a swamp. Jacques also noted that the easement agreement of 1892 provided for the village to repair any such damage and he held the city liable. Bernhardt contends that the condition has existed without attention from the city

Free Movies To Start Saturday

Free Saturday afternoon movies for Northville area youngsters will begin this Saturday on a three-week trial basis.

The program, organized by Leo Markham, is sponsored by some 50 business people of the community.

If the idea proves successful, it will be resumed next fall, Markham indicated.

P & A Theatre doors will open at 2:30 p.m. with the movies scheduled to begin at 3 p.m. The movie runs until 5:20 p.m.

This week's show will be "The Magic Voyage of Sinbad." May 18 "Snowfire" will be shown. While the May 25 feature will be "The Thirty Foot Bride of Candy Rock."

Washington OK's Foundry Flask Loan

Northville's economic development corporation learned this week that its loan application for $185,000 through the Small Business Administration has won approval in Washington.

The local non-profit corporation obtained the loan to assist Foundry Flask and Equipment company, 455 East Cady, in expansion plans. The firm will build a 120 by 150-foot addition to its plant.

Detroit confirmation of the application was received in March. Washington approval is the last step before sale of bonds.

Philip Ogilvie, attorney for the development group, stated that bonds in $50 denominations at six per cent interest rate would be prepared for public sale in the near future.

Race Friday Midnight Limit For Community College Vote

Local School Officials Approve; Wayne, South Redford Seek Entry

The deadline tightened this week on Northville's chances of voting June 10 on entry into the Northwest Wayne County Community College district.

In a special meeting held Monday night the Northville board of education heard Schoolcraft College President Eric Bradner explain that petitions must be filed by midnight tomorrow (Friday) to place the question on the ballot.

Odds still seem to favor the possibility that the race will be won by those attempting to have the college proposal come before the public.

But it will call for cooperation from Governor George Romney, Bradner and the Northville school board. If Romney comes through, the others stand ready to do their part.

Legislation that enables the college district to annex new districts and levy a one mill tax on the newcomers (House Bill 758) is still being printed. It cannot be signed by the Governor, and thus become law, until completed.

Telegrams and telephone calls from Bradner, Representative Paul Chandler and James O'Neil — a trustee of the college and newly elected member of the state board of education from Livonia — have urged the Governor to expedite the process.

It is now hoped that Romney will have signed the bill by late Wednesday or today.

In that event Bradner is prepared to provide petitions both for placing the college question on the ballot and election of a trustee from Northville to the board.

Superintendent of Schools Russell Amerman and Board Secretary W. C. Becker have promised to be available until midnight Friday so that petitions may be officially submitted to the local board before the deadline.

Monday night the Northville board of education indicated it would support entrance into the community college district.

Assuming that the measure gains a spot on the ballot this week, the board decided in Monday's special session that it would adopt an official reso-

Trustee Qualifications Outlined by Amerman

Northville Superintendent of Schools Russell Amerman announced this week that any qualified school district elector — not necessarily a property owner — may run for the position of trustee on the Northwest Wayne County Community college board.

He said petitions will be available at board of education offices as soon as enabling legislation is enacted into law by the Governor's signature.

Mrs. Eugene Cook, chairman of the local community college study committee, reported to the school board Monday night that petitions would be circulated for Dr. Gordon Forrer, 46995 West Main.

The petitions must be filed by midnight Friday. The trustee term of office is for four years.

W. C. Soellner Joins School Board Race

A third candidate indicated this week he would enter the race for two seats on the Northville board of education.

Petitions are currently being circulated for William C. Soellner of 43174 Dorissa court.

Earlier incumbent board members Edward F. Angove and W. C. Becker announced their intention of seeking reelection.

Soellner is an assistant sales manager for a Detroit electronics firm. He is a past president of the Yerkes Estates Civic Association and has lived in Northville for 4½ years. He is married and has one son, age 11.

Nominating petitions for the June 10 election are now available at the board of education offices. Petitions for the four-year terms must bear 50 signatures of qualified school district electors and must be filed at board offices by 4 p.m. Saturday.

Deadline for voter registration is Monday, May 13 at 5 p.m. School district voters register with the clerk of the city or township in which they reside.

College President Bradner expressed pleasure at the Northville board's action.

"They don't want to buy anything that will put them behind the 8-ball" said Bradner. "And I don't blame them. They're responsible to their own system first and this is as it should be," he added.

Bradner explained that he anticipates no problem in operating Schoolcraft college on the one mill levy. He noted that the district — composed of Plymouth, Livonia, Garden City and Clarenceville — now has a state equalized valuation of $500 million. At one mill this yields $500,000 annually.

The district has issued bonds totaling $2,435,000 for construction of the facility.

State aid presently available hikes the amount to $3 million. The bonds are scheduled to be retired over a 20-year period with payments requiring one-half the revenues from the one mill levy and the other half going for operating expenses.

If Northville and two other districts currently running the same race to place the question on the June 10 ballot — Wayne and South Redford — join the community college, the valuation will be increased by $300 million.

Bradner points out that this will permit expansion of the size of the facility, gain new state aid and add to the operating funds.

If Northville, Wayne or Redford enter the college district, voters will pledge their millage to retirement of the construction bonds for 19 years. The levy began last year for the present participating districts but cannot be made retroactive, Bradner explained.

Schoolcraft college is scheduled to be open for students in the fall of 1964. It will be located on the southeast corner of Haggerty and Seven Mile roads.

More Sewer Capacity Sought by Township

With an eye on future development the Northville township board Tuesday night decided to explore the possibility of purchasing additional capacity in the Middle Rouge Interceptor sewer system.

Two years ago the board declined to purchase some 1,500 taps allocated by the county when citizens protested at a public hearing. Instead the board purchased an additional 500 taps in the new interceptor to bring the township's present allocation to approximately 1,000 taps.

Supervisor R. D. Merriam proposed that the township investigate purchase of another 500 taps, which he estimated could be paid from present budget monies without additional cost to taxpayers.

Total cost of the capacity is approximately $80,000 — or some $2,500 annually for 40 years.

The board backed Merriam's suggestion with Trustee Donald Robinson noting that sewer capacity was needed to encourage future development.

In other business Tuesday night the board accepted the resignation of Mrs. Marguerite Young from the sewer and water commission — then temp-

THE LEADS in the two-night performance of "Patience" will be played by (bottom to top) Gail Hartner, Christine Boretta, Jim Drew and Dave Lane.

'Patience' Opens Two-Night Run

"Patience", that gay and melodious operetta written by Gilbert and Sullivan, will be presented by the Northville high school music department in the auditorium tonight and Friday at 8 p.m.

Principle parts will be played and sung by Gail Hartner,

Christine Boretta, Marcia Clum, Gretchen Schneider, Nancy Christensen, Donna Williams, Diana McIsaac, Sue Hicks, Jim Drew, Dave Lane, Robert Turnbull, Larry Dearing, Ralph Konrad and William Cargo. Linda Line will play the piano accompaniment.

Original scenery for the operetta has been designed and painted by Mr. Roy Pederson, Mr. O. F. Reng, Anna Martin, Carolyn Cockin, Sally Mallette, Vicki Lonn, and Stan Schlieff. Miss Pat Dorrian is in charge of costumes.

Peggy Moore and her committee will do the make-up, while James Riley and David Chabot will handle the lights.

The sprightly satire on the aesthetic rage of the eighties presents a "Fleshy Poet" and an "Idyllic Poet" — Bunthorne and Grosvenor, who are rivals for the affections of the Milk Maid, Patience. A train of languid ladies and their former flames, a Colonel, a Duke, and a Major, with a regiment of officers of the Dragon Guards complete the picture.

Plymouth Home Auxiliary Wins Praise for Growth

Mrs. John Begle of Northville was re-elected president of the 135-member Plymouth State Home and Training School auxiliary at the group's an-nual meeting Monday night in the home.

Other officers re-elected in-clude Mrs. Pamela Schultz of Plymouth, first vice president in charge of membership; Mrs. J. P. Malley of Northville, second vice president in charge of publicity; Mrs. James Law-son of Farmington, third vice president, hospitality; Mrs. John McIlhargie of Plymouth, secretary, and Mrs. Joseph Portney of Livonia, treasurer.

William Boyd, community relations director, thanked the auxiliary for what he called its "great strides in the past two years."

He warned that, with the ex-pected rate of growth at the training school-and-home, the auxiliary will soon need five times its present membership.

Boyd praised the women for their record of last month.

Then, 275 groups or individ-uals volunteered a total of 2396 hours of service, he said.

As president of the Ply-mouth Association for Retard-ed Children, Rex Morrison, presented the auxiliary pres-ident with a check for $200 to be used for yearly-operating expenses.

Achievement certificates, ba-sed on length of service, were given a group of auxiliary members.

On hand to welcome the aux-iliary was Dr. Robert I. Jas-low, medical superintendent of the institution.

AAUW Names Speakers

In 'Listening Post' Series

The Plymouth branch of the American Association of Uni-versity Women this week an-nounced speakers in the 1963-Listening Post lecture series.

On the agenda are Reverend Malcolm Boyd, Philosopher Ar-thur W. Burks and German Historian Margaret H. Steghe.

Malcolm Boyd will open the series on October 23 with a talk entitled "Art and Morality in the Modern Theater."

Now Episcopal chaplain for Wayne university students, Reverend Boyd worked as playwright, producer and di-rector on both the legitimate stage and television before en-tering the ministry.

On January 23, Arthur W. Burks, professor of philosophy at the University of Michigan, will speak on "The Theory of Artificial and Natural Robots" — a discussion of the applica-tion of symbolic logic to the computer.

Dr. Burks was formerly at Princeton where he was close-ly associated with the development of the first modern-day computers.

The last lecture, slated for March 13, will feature Mar-garet H. Sterne, associate pro-fessor of history at Wayne uni-versity and internationally-known authority on Germany.

Recipient of Germany's high-est civilian award and a fre-quent representative of our state department on special missions to that country, Dr. Sterne will speak about "A New Look at a New Ger-many."

May 24 P-TA Carnival To Offer 'Spring Fling'

Mark Friday, May 24, on your calendar for P-TA Carnival — 5 to 10 p.m.

The annual fund-raising affair of the combined four Northville school P-TAs will take place at the Junior high and surrounding grounds — rain or shine.

Theme of the '63 carnival is "Your Spring Fling".

Carnival chairman Bill Seccord and his committee of Jack Ruland, Robert Lang and Harold Guenther, representatives from the senior high school, Mrs. Myron Utley from Junior High, Mrs. Arthur Hempe, Main Street elementary representative, and Robert Bogart and John Wisner from the American elementary school, have given the carnival a complete face-lifting for this year.

Midway activities, the dinner style, and all outside activities for the small fry have been completely changed to give a "new look." In keeping with this, a complete new assortment of prizes have been secured for the lucky midway winners.

Mrs. Hempe, chairman of the dinner to be served at 5 p.m. prior to the opening of other activities at 5:30, has several innovations for this year. The dinner will be served in the community building family style instead of cafeteria style and will be priced in three ranges, adults, children over 6 and children under 6. The decor of the dining room will coincide with the menu — spaghetti, Italian style.

Wisher, chairman of door prizes, has secured many items from around town to be drawn.

from the Lucky Barrel every half hour during the carnival. Grand prizes will be a boy's and a girl's bicycle. Prize drawing slips will be given with each $1 worth of tickets purchased at any one time. The schools will again handle advanced ticket sales the week prior to carnival time with the bonus feature of 11 tickets for $1 during the week. The evening of the carnival tickets will be 10 for $1 or 10 cents each.

Last year's carnival netted the Northville P-TA monies to carry on activities for the benefit of Northville students, teachers, and education in general.

Funds from last year's carnival were used in the following ways: Registration for boys and girls' state, $90; scholarship, $300; teacher activities, $500; elementary schools, $400; and junior and senior high schools, $125.

The carnival is the one money-making project that supplies these funds. The carnival committee again asks the co-operation of all community people to stock the "white elephant" room, enter cakes in the cake decorating contest, contribute to the surprise package booth in the junior midway, donate cakes for the cake walk.

Volunteers are also needed to operate the various activity booths. Those wishing to help may contact any of the school offices.

Ronnie helps his mother, Mrs. Edward F. Angove, tell the story: volunteers are needed for the annual P-TA carnival.

Hospital Wife Shares English, French Recipe

The pages of Kitchen Diary open this week on two dessert recipes — one originally from France, another from England. Guest contributor for this week is Mrs. Charles Fountain of 39701 Haggerty court.

Mrs. Fountain, who's of English-Swedish descent, learned one recipe — that for English plum pudding — from her mother.

The other dessert recipe — creme de bluee — came from France via Montreal where Mrs. Fountain and her psychiatrist husband lived before coming to Northville.

Mrs. Fountain's recipes:

ENGLISH PLUM PUDDING
1 1/4 cup of pre-sifted all purpose flour
1 cup sugar
1 tsp. nutmeg
1/2 tsp. salt
2 cups finely chopped suet
3 cups seedless raisins
2 cups seeded raisins
two-thirds cup chopped mixed peel
1/2 cup finely chopped citrus
1/2 cup chopped blanched almonds
3/4 cup cherries cut fine
3 eggs well beaten
1 cup milk
Grease thoroughly two 1 1/2 pint molds or one 6-cup mold. Measure flour without sifting into mixing bowl, adding sugar, nutmeg, salt and stirring thoroughly. Blend in suet with pastry blender, add fruit and nuts and combine.

Beat eggs until fluffy and add milk. Pour into dry ingredients and blend. Turn into greased molds until two-thirds full. Cover with greased lids or tie on several thicknesses of greased wax paper.
Put on rack in large kettle and pour boiling water into the kettle until 1/2 full. Cover kettle tightly and steam. If using 1 1/2-pint molds, steam for three hours; if 6-cup mold, steam for four hours.
After steaming, let set for 24 hours. Then, remove from molds and store in cool, dry place. The pudding may be made as much as three weeks in advance, but before serving, must be re-steamed for two hours. Serve with brandy sauce topping or sugar and butter frosting.

Start Census For Schools

Northville school district's annual census got underway this week as four official census takers began calling at district homes.

Census takers this year are Mrs. Charles Angel, Mrs. Lloyd Moore, Mrs. I. Paul Terry, and Fred Hart.

The quartet will collect census figures from now until May 31. The figures will then be turned over to Dr. Kenneth MacLeod, assistant superintendent of schools, for compilation.

State law requires that a district take a census each year.

Dems to Hear Dzendzel, Gillis

State Senator Raymond D. Dzendzel and Representative Joseph A. Gillis will speak at an 8 p.m. meeting of the Democratic club Wednesday in the Northville community building.

The pair will give a report of this state legislative session.

The community college and its problems will also be discussed at this meeting, open to the public.

Swim Club OK's Construction Bid

Members of Northville's new swim club voted last Thursday to go ahead with plans for an olympic-size pool and awarded a contract for construction of the pool, wading area and bath house.

The winning bid was $60,000. Construction of the facility will get underway within two or three weeks with the pool opening planned for early July. Site of the pool is adjacent to the city water tower behind the high school.

Original plans for the project were reduced when membership failed to reach a desired 300. Although the pool remains the same size, the diving bay has been eliminated. Bath house plans call for one level instead of two.

Membership in the club now stands at 115. Officers of the club have announced that the club will be limited to 200 members this year. If more members are gained for the second season, a separate diving pool will be added along with a paved parking area and shuffle board and tennis courts.

Health Department to Test Pre-Schoolers' Vision Here

Dr. Joseph G. Molner, Wayne County health commissioner, has announced the vision screening schedule for Northville pre-school children from three and one-half to four and one-half years old. The project will be conducted in Northville on May 15 and 16 at Amerman and Main Street schools.

Testing will take place daily from 8:30 a.m. to 3:00 p.m. No charge will be made for this service which is being provided by the Wayne County Health Department in cooperation with the State Health Department.

According to Dr. Molner, the purpose of the vision screening project is to locate those pre-school children in Northville who need the attention of an eye doctor. He emphasized the importance to child health of early detection and treatment of abnormalities of the eye.

The screening will be done by trained vision technicians from the health department. Parents of any child who does not pass the test will be advised to take the child to an eye doctor for further examination and treatment if needed.

Town Hall Seeks Award Applicants

Northville Town Hall's board of awards noted this week that applications for this year's cash awards will be accepted until May 17.

Chairmen Mrs. H.F. Wagon-schutz and Herman Moehman said that the total of the awards to be given this year will be in excess of $1,000.

Interested individuals or organizations in the Northville area may make written application stating their anticipated use of the money to Mrs. William Milne, 537 West Dunlap.

To Display Serigraphs

A display of serigraphs, silk screen printing process, by James H. Walker will be presented at Hartley-Powers Gallery, 116 Main street, beginning with an opening reception Sunday, May 19 from 2 p.m.

The show will continue through June 1.

Local Businesses Plan Changes

In separate announcements this week Northville's two bowling establishments revealed contemplated changes — one an expansion, the other a complete new operation.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Alessi, owners of Royal Recreation at 120 West Main, announced plans to open a family billiards and pool room. All bowling alleys have been removed and complete remodeling is now underway. Alessi said new pool tables would be installed and opening under the name "The Cue Ball" would take place in approximately two months.

Angelo Gadioli, owner of Northville Lanes on South Center street, has purchased an additional 60-feet of property adjoining his alleys on Center street. The lot extends back 130 feet and gives Gadioli a total of 90 feet next to his present building on Center. The property was purchased from Alex Lyke.

While definite plans are incomplete, Gadioli hopes to add six new alleys bringing the total to 18. Gadioli purchased the four alleys removed from Royal Recreation.

Gadioli said the expansion of Northville Lanes depends upon time. He expects to present his plans to the city and apply for a building permit within two weeks. If contractors can complete the addition before the fall bowling season, it is probable that construction will begin immediately.

1—Card of Thanks

We wish to extend our sincere and heartfelt thanks to the many friends and neighbors who during our recent loss found numerous ways to express their sympathy and offered their assistance. Special thanks to Rev. and Mrs. Chip-chase, Clyde Heistand and Ed and Emily Casterline. Your kindness will always be remembered. The family of Bob Stanbro.

We wish to express my thanks for the cards, visits and other kindness shown during my three weeks stay in the hospital.

Mustang Nine Takes Over Top Spot in W-O League

Riding the crest of last week's two game winning streak, the Northville baseball nine continued on the pitching arm of Eric Peterson to a 4-0 victory over Milford Monday on the local diamond. Peterson had near perfect control as he walked one, hit one batter and struck out five in going the route. And he permitted only two hits, both singles.

Northville thus averaged an earlier loss to Milford and moved into first place, contention with a 6-2 conference record. Pending the defeat of Clarkson by Bloomfield Hills, the local team could move into a three-way tie for first place with the same two teams.

Hard pressed by two pitchers, the Mustangs could muster only four hits — all singles.

Northville scored once in the first frame on a single, a hit batsman, an error and a fielder's choice.

The Mustangs scored three times in fifth.

With one out, Howie Jones singled and Crawford sacrificed safely as the throw was wide at first. With men on first and third Crawford stole second.

On Juday's grounder to second, all hands were safe as Jones was safe on the play at the plate. Tom Swiss then singled in the slot to score Crawford.

Juday, who had moved to third, scored the Mustang's fourth run on Hay's grounder.

Top team batters as of the Milford game were Juday (.572); Swiss (.406), Peterson (.348), Larry Angove (.333) and Hay (.321).

Down W. Bloomfield, Holly

Delayed two days by rain, Northville wasted no time Wednesday (May 1) in disposing of West Bloomfield, 5-3, on the local diamond.

Sparked by Jim Juday, the Mustangs scored all their runs in the first four innings.

Juday, who had spanked a double to left center in the first inning scored on Joe Hay's single.

Northville scored again in the second without a hit. Gordie Hammond, safe at first, on an interference play, advanced to second on a wild pitch. Larry Angove then grounded to short, but the throw to first was wild and Hammond scored.

Three pitchers worked for Northville. Swiss pitched scoreless ball for four innings, allowing only two hits and two walks, while striking out four.

Stellar pitching by Peterson — his third complete game this year — paced Northville to a 4-0 win here Thursday over Holly.

RECREATION TRY-OUTS — Set to take a hefty swing at the first try-out session for Northville Recreation baseball teams is Billie Thomas. Ricky LaRue is the catcher. Practices are held Saturday morning at Cass Benton park.

Golfers Top Class A Teams

"We didn't shoot as well as we can," said Coach Al Jones of his Northville high school golfers.

That's saying a lot.

The Mustangs had just beaten one of the top class A golf teams in the state and last year's W-O conference winner, Bloomfield Hills, 167-170, in a triangular match Wednesday at Forest Lake Country Club.

Another class A school, Watertown, finished third with a team score of 177.

Freshman Jim St. Germaine again led the field with an even par 34. "His score kept us in the running," noted Coach Jones.

Bob Boyle also shot in the 30's, garnering a 39, the next best mark.

Other scorers for the Mustangs were Dave Zielinski and Jim Bertoni with a 46 and 48, respectively.

In a return engagement with West Bloomfield at the local Brae Burn course, the Mustangs avenged an earlier loss, 178-184.

Although St. Germaine's first shot was out of bounds, he rebounded to tie teammate Zielinski for scoring honors with a 41.

Bill Wiedner and Rick Talbot posted 47's to round out the Mustang team total.

The Mustangs then lost by a single stroke to an improved Milford squad even though the local team tallied a season team low score of 158.

Mustang Bill Wiedner shot a par 36 to top the golfers. St. Germaine wasn't far behind.

with a 38 as he again came back after hitting his first ball out of bounds.

Rick Talbot and Zielinski tied for the third position with 42's.

The Northville golf team clinched two more victories, swamping Clarenceville 187-226 Monday at Brae Burn golf course and taking a forfeit from Redford Union Tuesday.

Scorers for the Mustangs in the Clarenceville tilt were Bob Boyle and John Walters, both with 40's, Bill Wiedner with a 43 and Dave Zielinski with a 44.

Netmen Suffer 3 Setbacks

The Mustang netmen took it on the chin, losing three times while winning only once.

They dropped non-league contests to Plymouth and Ypsilanti Roosevelt last week.

Then the local netters beat Milford 4-1 Monday and suffered their first league setback since 1958 Tuesday at the hands of Bloomfield Hills, 3-2. Both were road matches.

It was strictly no contest against Milford.

Turk Ornekian swept both sets from his opponent by 6-1 scores. Gary Grysiwicz rolled to victory, 6-3, 6-3. Jim Jiggins had an easy time, winning 6-2, 6-1.

But the doubles team of Dave Schmidt-Mark Byard faltered, 6-2, 10-8. Bob Wiedner-Bob Langtry won 6-4, 7-5.

Bloomfield Hills dealt Northville the most humiliating blow by ending its conference winning streak.

Playing with his usual finesse, Ornekian whipped by his opponent, 6-1, 6-1.

Grysiwicz tripped up however, 6-2, 7-5.

Jiggins was extended in winning, 1-6, 6-4, 6-2.

Chris Gazlay-Wiedner, playing doubles, lost two sets by 6-1 and Schmidt-Langtry worked for a 6-3, 6-3 victory.

Coach Krause's squad flunked its first two tests of the season, both by 5-2 scores.

"Plymouth and Ypsilanti Roosevelt were the first tough opponents we've met this year, and they proved that we aren't so tough," Krause commented.

Plymouth employed strategy Friday that helped beat Northville. "They moved their number one singles man into the number two slot," Krause said. "The Plymouth coach felt that his number one man would probably lose to Turk Ornekian, our top man."

The move paid off as Turk overpowered his man 6-1, 6-1, while Gary Grysiwicz — playing in the second position — was blanked, 6-0, 6-0.

Jim Jiggins was the other bright spot in the line up. He defeated his opponent, 9-7, 6-1.

Mark Byard absorbed a 6-2, 6-2 loss.

The three doubles teams lost. Dave Schmidt-Bob Langtry fell, 6-0, 6-0. Bob Wiedner and Randy Caliguri were outclassed, 6-1, 6-3, and Norbert Parent-Jack Winner bowed out 6-2, 7-5.

The loss to Ypsilanti Roosevelt Saturday was especially painful for Coach Krause.

Facing a tough opponent for the first time this year, Ornekian wasted no time. Turk defeated Joe McCulloch, last year's runner-up in the class C state high school tennis championship, 6-2, 6-1.

Although Grysiwicz fought frantically, he succumbed in three sets, 6-0, 4-6, 6-1.

Jiggins again came through in convincing fashion, winning, 6-1, 6-3.

Byard, too, put up a scrap but lost, 6-1, 8-6.

The doubles teams took it on the chin once again. Schmidt-Langtry lost 6-2, 6-2. Wiedner-Dale French tripped, 6-1, 6-0 and Caliguri and Larry Thibos were six-love, six-love, losers.

Thinclads Lose To Plymouth; Place in Relays

Northville's track fortunes dipped as Plymouth won a dual meet here Tuesday, 76-33, but the relay team salvaged second place in the Central Michigan Relays Saturday at Mt. Pleasant.

The two-mile relay team that competed in the relays was composed of Don Biery, Frank Steinberger, Bill Adams and Gary Davis.

Bill Adams broke the tape first in the 880 yard run in 2:04.6 and Gary Davis came in a close second. This was the first time Adams has beaten Davis in the event this year.

Don Biery won the 440 in 54.1 with Ron Vrandenburg finishing third.

Steinberger copped the mile in 4:52.1. Chuck Annette ran second.

Kent Kipper once again proved his versatility. He placed third in the 100 and second in both the low hurdles and the pole vault.

Dennis Cook vaulted to third place in the pole vault.

John Callaghan took third in the 120 yard high hurdles.

Thieves Break In Dairy, Bowling Alley

Burglars broke into two Northville businesses early Sunday morning. Sites of the burglaries were the Guernsey Dairy at 125 Center street and the Northville Lanes at 132 Center street.

— In Justice Court —

A Northville man, who was awaiting circuit court sentence on a breaking and entering charge, was arraigned Saturday in Northville justice court for contributing to the delinquency of minors.

John Molands of 321 Yerkes street, found guilty of the charge, paid a $50 fine and $5 costs.

He is presently awaiting sentence on a charge of breaking and entering the Northville Lanes.

Judge Charles McDonald also fined five motorists this past week in justice court.

Charles Medaris of Union Lake pleaded guilty to reckless driving Friday and driving without an operator's license. He paid a total of $55 in fines and $5.

Daniel O'Keefe of 235 First street was fined $10 and $5 costs for allowing an unlicensed driver to drive his car Friday on Main and Center streets.

George Campbell of South Lyon hit a Wayne county road sign Sunday on Main street. Found guilty of failing to have his car under control, he paid $15 and $5.

Roger Garner of Walled Lake was ticketed for driving April 28 on Main street without a driver's license. He pleaded guilty and paid a fine of $5 and $5 costs.

Pearl Beard of 408 Randolph street, charged with failure to yield the right of way that resulted in a property damage and personal injury accident April 19, pleaded guilty. She was backing out of the driveway at her home when she was struck by another car. She was fined $10 and $5.

Three Northville youths walked away uninjured after police chased this car in 100 m.p.h. race.

Appeal Board OK's Requests

Northville's board of appeals approved two requests for variances in the zoning ordinance last week.

Clayton Myers, 359 First, was permitted to extend the length of his garage. The building is non-conforming under the ordinance because the side of the garage is directly on the lot line. Present ordinance requires a three-foot set back.

A compromise decision was reached in a request made by Fred Casterline, 114 West Dunlap. Casterline proposes construction of an addition to his funeral home including a chapel, casket storage room and furnace room which would extend to within eight feet of the rear lot line of property owned by Eural Clark on Wing street.

Because the lot is zoned R-2, a 20-foot greenbelt is required. After Casterline explained the project it was proposed that a 12-foot greenbelt could be provided.

Zoning board members unanimously approved the motion.

Members of the board are Chairman Harvey Ritchie, William Bingley, W. W. Nichols, Alfred Parmenter, Paul Palmer, Jefferson Baker, Sydney Frid and Ray Westphall.

A cash register drawer, which contained no money, was also pried open, Chief King added.

"It was a fast job," King said. "The alley owner, Angelo Gadiolo, left at 12:45 a.m. and the burglary was discovered at 1:25 a.m. by the janitor who notified police."

No money was stolen from the Guernsey Dairy.

Police said that the hasp and lock on the back door to the storage room were pried open at the dairy. The air conditioning unit was removed from the storage room wall to gain entrance to the office, police said.

The burglars didn't find any money in the safe and left small change in a drawer untouched, noted police.

They left by the back door, replacing the hasp and lock on the door to cover their tracks, according to police.

Five Youths Take Part In Gang Fight

Five men were apprehended Thursday for gang fighting in Northville.

There were no serious personal injuries in the "grudge" fight which took place at 3:53 p.m. in the Main street alley behind Freydl's cleaners.

An iron pipe, a knife and a large rock were used in the fight, police said.

Police explained that a difference in feelings on Good Friday between Northville and Walled Lake boys led to the fight.

It had been scheduled for 8 p.m. Thursday on Wixom road. But the Walled Lake boys observed the Northville boys in the afternoon, a challenge was issued and the fight broke out, said police.

Two of the men were arraigned Monday in justice court.

Lee Allen Kay, 17, of 127 South Rogers street, found guilty on a disorderly person charge, paid a $35 fine, $5 costs and one-half the damages to a car, amounting to approximately $8.50.

Paul Rose, 18, of Wixom pleaded guilty to the charge of disorderly conduct. Fined $35, $15 costs and one-half of the damages to the car or 20 days, Rose went to jail.

Richard McCordle, 20, of Walled Lake was remanded to his parole officer for disciplinary action. He was on parole for a previous breaking and entering charge.

Complaints have been filed in juvenile court citing the two juveniles with disorderly conduct on a public roadway.

A Young Man's Fancy Turns

He Dreams of Air Dance But Twists on Takeoff

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the third in a series of articles concerning the fun, adventure and difficulty in learning to fly, written by the Herald's advertising manager, Al Lubowitz, who is taking lessons at the New Hudson Airport.

"Where are you?"

It's questions like that — simple things — that complicate flying.

My first impulse when I heard the question was to say, "Here." After all, where else was I? I was in the plane right behind Bill McKinley, my instructor, and we were up 2,000 feet. I mean where else could I be? What a ridiculous question to be asking, I thought.

That was my first reaction. But on giving the matter a second thought, I realized I didn't have the slightest idea where I was. Sure, we were up in the air, but where in the air? Like, for example, in which direction was the airport?

Just a simple thing, but nonetheless, one of those things that make for complications. Then and there, I learned that "we pilots" have to keep a continual sense of direction. Getting lost in an airplane is easier than most people realize.

There are no roads in the sky. A plane can meander and suddenly the pilot can find himself over a strange countryside with no idea where he, or the airport is. He could be near Ann Arbor, Livonia, or Northfield Township — or he could be over Green Oak township. If he's a good pilot, he should know.

So besides paying attention to the controls and learning how to fly, I find that I must keep an eye on the ground, learn various landmarks, and remember the maneuvers that have brought me to whichever point I'm at.

But that's not the half of it! There are other factors involving wind, wind speed, angle of drift, weight of occupants in the plane, humidity, cloud formations, and probably some more "factors" I haven't even heard of, but will have to learn.

Truly, there is more to this flying business than just getting into a plane and taking off.

Thinking about taking off makes me think back to MY take-off. The plane is on the ground. I've checked everything, and I'm waiting for Bill to arrive so that the lesson can start. Sitting at the controls, I let my imagination go and suddenly, I'm flying.

In my day, dream I'm the best pilot who's ever jockeyed a plane. I'm doing somersaults and hair-raising dives. I'm dancing through the sky, playing tag with the wind, cartwheeling with the clouds, dipping, twisting, turning — when I'm cruelly interrupted by a voice saying, "Well Al, ready to take the plane up today?"

Take the plane up today? He can't be serious. Me! Fly the plane off the ground! For a fellow who has just been stunt flying, this is quite an abrupt come-down. I'm terrified.

And Bill's not kidding. He's serious. He wants me to fly the plane. In fact, he's downright calm about the whole matter.

"Taxi out to the active runway, take her up to 1800 feet, make a 90 degree turn, then a 45 degree turn and fly her to the practice area."

Just like that he says it. Just as if it's an everyday matter-of-fact thing. I gulp and shudder. But there's nothing else for me to do or say except get started.

I check the direction of the wind and taxi the plane out to the active runway. I'm a little jittery, but this I manage.

Then I rev up the engine and run a safety check on the magnetos and the instruments. Everything is AOK. Now all I have to do is jockey the plane around so that it faces the wind at the end of the runway. This also I manage.

By this time all there is left to do is to take-off. Simple. Nothing to it. Just an ordinary thing. We're all set. Ready. But for some reason I check my seat belt just to make sure it's fastened. Now I can't put it off any longer. This is it!

I open the throttle, slowly at first and then faster. All the way. The plane is moving now. The ground is a blur. "Watch your rudders Al," Bill shouts. "You're too far to the left." I push the right rudder and the plane veers to the right.

One third down the runway, I slowly pull the stick back. Not too much. Just a little. The plane is now too far to the right and I kick the left rudder. The plane fishtails and veers to the left.

We're about ten feet off the ground now and I level the plane off slightly, so that it can build up speed for the final lift that will take us into the air. But I'm having trouble with my rudders. The plane won't stay headed straight down the runway. It fishtails first one way and then the other.

All the same I pull the stick back further and begin a gentle climb. Now I'm too far to the left, now to the right. Frantically I manipulate the rudders so that the plane will be headed straight. Eventually I get straightened out.

I look around. I'm UP! I'm at 1500 feet. I actually, took off! A flush of triumph surges over me. Maybe I'll make a pilot yet, I think.

This glow of satisfaction last until I realize how my take-off must have looked to someone on the ground. Remembering the way the plane was wig-wagging down the runway, the best description I can come up with is that I must have looked like a fat woman swaying on the end of a congo line.

Art Around Us

By Jessie Hudson

Was able to visit two quite different art shows this past week. One was the Contemporary European Paintings exhibit at the University of Michigan Art Museum in Ann Arbor, the other was the work of students of Mrs. Marion Sober and Mrs. Johnnie Crosby at the Joy Studios in Plymouth.

The Ann Arbor show by professional avant-garde artists was, of course, very abstract — non-representational — featured color, texture, movement and mood done by painters from various countries in Europe but we have all studied or lived in Paris, the Artists' Mecca, at one time. The paintings, as I mentioned above, are far-out, some in primary colors with busy confusion symbolizing and appropriate to our own busy, noisy civilization — some in sombre mud, also symbolizing our civilization and the disastrous development of which it is capable.

Two paintings seem to sum up the whole of man's experience. They are by Luis Feito, born and now living in Madrid. One large panel 63 x 71 inches is one in smooth black glossy paint with dull black textured areas over subtle tans and greys with a smooth white area relieved by white textured spots, the whole seeming to be the essence of reverence and hope. The second painting, numbered simply 203, 1960, is smaller only 32 x 39 1/4 inches, is mostly black with black textures over beautiful reds both smooth and rough. This seems to present the other choice left to man — hellfire and brimstone. The whole exhibit takes one into the vanguard of art-art which may be accepted and admired fifty years from now.

Mrs. Sober runs what she calls "an old-fashioned school" and most of the paintings are done in a manner which was contemporary as long as 400 years ago. A few students employ an impressionistic or pointillist style which is as recent as one hundred years ago.

Acting in the different role of judge, I chose a still-life painting which impressed me with its color values and compositional elements, painted by Mrs. Erna Lósee. Two portraits were equally attractive to me, one a soulful, haunting study by Virginia Stout, the other by Mary Engstrom showed the same model as a more youthful and somehow courageous individual.

Many of the paintings hold promise of adventures to come and all, I know, would be accepted and admired by most people today.

For several years May 1 has been designated at Law Day USA. This has been done through the efforts of many citizens engaged in the functions of law interpretation. By act of the Congress in 1961, in joint resolution, the first day of each May was designated as Law Day USA. Appropriate ceremonies and meetings are held across the nation to emphasize our loyalty to the precepts of truth and justice as law separates man's humanity to man, rather than as anarchy would show forth man's inhumanity to man.

On the cover for the program folder used in ceremonies held April 30, 1963 in the Masonic Auditorium, Detroit, Michigan, the words printed under the American Eagle are:

"Rule of Right Not Might."

In a statement from the General Chairman, the Honorable Wilbur M. Brucker, some of the meaning for this observance is given. It is the aim to furnish the whole world with our statement of faith in the freedoms of speech, assembly, press, religion and protection of the law. Where some nations observe this day with massive parades of troops and weapons for destruction, we would do so in quiet meditation and devotion to more basic needs and freedoms. Where we see imperfections in our system or our behavior, we would seek ways to

Spring Site Officially Becomes 'Joe Denton Park' NHS Band Presents Concert

Tuesday, the Northville high school band will present its annual spring concert at 8 p.m. in the high school auditorium.

The program, under the direction of Leslie G. Lee and Robert Williams, will include show tunes, classical music and contemporary selections.

Among the concert selections will be State Fair, Most Happy Fella, the first movement of Schubert's Unfinished Symphony, Segmeister's Praxiari Legend and Jenkins' Charles County Overture.

A reception will follow the concert. Tickets are $1 for adults, 50 cents for students, and will be available at the door or may be purchased from any band member.

As the sign says above, the two-acre parcel of ground at Fairbrook and Eaton drive officially became "Joe Denton Park" on Wednesday, May 1.

Dedication ceremonies were conducted by the Northville Garden Club, the organization contributing the Redwood sign.

Mrs. George Kohs, president of the Garden Club, officiated. The Reverend Lloyd Brasure opened the ceremony with prayer. Mrs. Kohs, Mayor A. M. Allen and Councilwoman Beatrice Carlson each cited contributions to the community, particularly in the field of youth activities.

"I never expected anything like this," Denton told the audience in expressing his gratitude.

The picture at top right shows those attending the ceremony and how the park now looks. The Coordinating Council is heading up a drive to landscape the area, which will be maintained by the city as a park for toddlers and community beautification.

As shown by the pictures below (taken in 1930), the park has been a beauty spot before. It also served the village as a standby water supply for many years. History of the spring area dates back to 1852 when the spring site was used for watering stock. The spring rights were leased by the Borden Condensed Milk company in 1886 for four years and then by the Clover Condensed Milk company for another four years. In 1893 a 66-acre area including the spring was subdivided and platted, known as the Clover Condensed Milk Company addition. Later the plat was vacated and in 1914 the village with owner Edwin Sadler took water from the spring. When Orchard Heights subdivision was developed in 1919 the 2-acre spring area was acquired by the village. It was filled in for park purposes by the city in 1960.

Can your child pass this safe driver's test?

The American's Safe Bicycle Driver's Test

1. Write is a good color to wear when riding after dark.

2. Bike drivers should make way for pedestrians who are crossing against a red light.

3. You should ride at least three feet away from parked cars.

4. A busy street that is well lighted is as safe as a quiet street at night.

5. A light or reflector on the back of your bicycle should be visible from 300 feet.

6. You don't need to stop for a red light if no traffic is coming.

7. Bike drivers don't have to watch for cars pulling out of alleys, driveways and parking spaces. It is the auto driver's job to be careful.

8. A bicycle is the right size — and the rider should be properly adjusted — if your feet are slightly bent when your foot is on the pedal.

9. Most signals for bike drivers are the same as for auto drivers.

10. Always ride your bike with the traffic on the right hand side of the road.

11. It is not necessary to slow down at intersections if the pavement is not slippery.

12. This is the signal for "SLOW DOWN".

13. The tail light on a bicycle should be yellow in color.

14. Your brakes are in good shape if you can stop within three bike lengths.

15. A bicycle's headlight should be visible from 500 feet.

16. Handle bars should be adjusted so that your body is in a riding position.

17. Lean forward slightly when in a riding position.

If you have a young bike rider or two in the family, you want them to know the rules of safe driving. Not only now as they pedal around the neighborhood — but later when they graduate from bikes and get behind the wheel of an auto. That's why we are offering you a 16-page booklet, "Safe Bicycle Driving Today." Published by The American Insurance Company, this booklet is written for bicycle-age boys and girls. It gives them all of the rules of the road and includes a 30-question test for you to give them. When they pass, reward them with a metal license plate for their bikes. All material is yours for the asking — free of charge. Simply call our agency or mail a post card to the address below.

Mrs. Russell Race attended a banquet dinner, an annual affair, at the Grand River Baptist church Sunday evening.

Novi Boy Scouts

Novi Boy Scout troop 54 went to the Bald Mountain recreation area for the Ottawa District campout last Friday. Extremely bad weather caused the camp to break up earlier than scheduled Saturday evening.

Boys on the camp out were L. Taffalio, D. Bingham, J. Lambeth, T. Dryer, C. Bowman, R. Collins, B. Harris, N. Krogg, D. Sigsbee, R. Ary, A. Barnett, J. Simonsen, P. Lutz, J. Svee, B. Hector, B. Frutchey, F. Frutchey, J. Campbell and B. Campbell.

Leaders accompanying the boys were D. Lutz, D. Parta, R. Collins and E. Frutchey.

A Green Bar meeting was held at the home of D. Lutz

Monday to make plans for the forthcoming troop meetings. Attending the meeting were leaders D. Parta and R. Collins and Scouts N. Krogg, J. Tymensky, D. Sigsbee and P. Lutz.

The troop will have a day hike on the Wilderness Trail May 18.

Blue Star Mothers

Novi chapter 47, Blue Star Mothers, numbering 14 met at the home of Mrs. Harold Miller on West Grand River Monday afternoon. Two visitors, Mrs. Katherine Bezaire and Mrs. Lois Lehner, were also present.

Several of the mothers plan to attend the convention in Saginaw June 2 through 5.

The mothers decided to buy small gifts for the closed ward and the TB ward at the Veterans hospital, Ann Arbor.

They adopted the Seven West ward. They will give parties for them and send them cards.

Eight birthday cakes are needed at the hospital for the month of June.

Mrs. John Klasermer, Mrs. Fred Mandilk, Mrs. Olive Clapison and Mrs. Al Pritchard will do shopping service for the veterans at the Veterans hospital today.

Anyone needing pillowslips or dolls for gifts may get them at the home of Mrs. John Klasermer. So far they have sold $55 worth of dolls for the chapter.

Novi Rebekah Lodge

Thirty-seven Rebekahs from the Novi lodge attended the district meeting in Pontiac last Wednesday. Mrs. Frances Curtiss of the Novi Lodge was elected treasurer of the district.

The Novi drill team put on a drill and Mrs. Nesby Button and Mrs. Celia Sharpe were the vocalists who took part in the session program.

May 14 at 6-30 p.m. the Rebekahs will have a potluck supper with the IOOF at the IOOF hall.

Regular Rebekah meeting tonight (Thursday) at the hall.

The Rebekah club met at the hall on Wednesday of this week.

Methodist Church News

The W.S.C.S. was invited to Willowbrook Community church Monday evening. Several Novi women attended the meeting.

The W.S.C.S. wishes to thank all those who participated in the bakeless bake sale last week.

A Mother's Day program has been planned by the church school at 10 a.m. next Sunday. Everyone is invited.

Novi Baptist Church

The Workers met Tuesday evening at 7:30 p.m. in the church. The following topics were discussed: plans for the Sunday school picnic, children day, church newspaper and the Sunday school visitation program.

Sunday will be a combination family day and Mothers Day service. Families are urged to sit together during worship service.

Saturday evening, the BYF teens will attend the Voice of Christian Youth at the Masonic temple in Detroit.

Last Sunday evening, the teen BYF held their business meeting. Plans are in progress for a Wednesday night prayer meeting May 22. The teens will have charge of the meeting.

On their days off from school, the BYF teens have planned work days at the church. They will help with polishing, scrubbing and the general spring cleaning.

Novi Farm Bureau

The Novi Farm Bureau reports a very successful card party Saturday evening at the community hall. Now they will be able to send a local boy to Boys State.

Cub Scouts

The committee, under chairman Mrs. Orlo Bumann, is planning a picnic for the Cub Scouts June 8 at Kensington park, beginning at 11 a.m.

They will first have a hike, then they will have a rope-pulling contest, sack race and horse shoe games.

The Cubs are going to sell flags for the Memorial Day parade. The parade will start at the fire hall and they will march to the Oakland Hills cemetery. Fathers are urged to march with their sons.

Pack meeting will be held May 24 at the community hall. Den mothers and committee men will meet at the same time.

The Cub Scouts will attend the ball game in Detroit some time later this month.

Novi Girl Scouts

Intermediate troop 1027 met at their usual meeting time. Denise Taffalio, Denise Ward, Janice Hargin, Rose Ciot and Ellen Lyke demonstrated a flag ceremony to Brownie troop 145.

LOCAL SPEEDSTER — One of the top sophomores on Central Michigan university's track squad this year is Tom Darling. During the indoor track season, he posted a :51.1 440-yard dash time, best on the team. He's expected to do even better outdoors. A graduate of Northville high school, Darling is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Darling of 26510 Taft road, Novi.

ONE YEAR AGO May 10, 1962

The Wayne county board of supervisors placed Northville's representatives on the following committees: Township Supervisor George Clark, chairman of the library committee and member of the sewage disposal and water supply, and drains committees. Mayor A. M. Allen, member of the Wayne County Training school and parks and parkways committees.

Patrolman Chris Flynn received his badge as an official member of the Northville police department.

The bid of the A & A Asphalt company of $8,816 to pave East-High-Elm and Walnut streets was almost $5,000 less than the estimate for paving by city Engineer Harold Penn. The street will be paved by the 25 per cent assessment method.

The Novi road-South Main street connection proposed by Northville city planners last February was turned down by the Wayne county road commission not feasible, it was revealed Monday. The plan, which would extend South Main street northward from a point at Park Place to Novi road north of the Eight Mile road cut-off, would present too many traffic operational problems, county officials stated.

Novi village councilmen Tuesday night approved a 1962-63 proposed budget of $187,500.

Minutes of Northville City Council

The Northville Record — Novi News—Thursday, May 9, 1963
Section Two — Page Six

The regular meeting of the Northville City Council was called to order by Mayor Allen on Monday, March 18th, 1963, 8:00 p.m. at the City Hall.

Present: Allen, Ambler, Canterbury, Carlson and Juday. Absent: None.

The minutes of the previous meeting were approved after corrections.

Moved by Canterbury, supported by Juday that bills in the following amounts be paid:

General $14,947.15
Water 1,560.93
Other Government 152,161.61

Unanimously carried.

Communications:

An invitation was extended to Council from the Wayne County Library Board for an Open House on Thursday, March 28, 8:00 p.m. at 33030 Van-Born road.

A letter from Mr. Russell Amerman, Northville Public Schools, was read regarding their interest in leasing or otherwise gaining control of Ford Field if the City should relinquish it. Mr. Ambler, Mr. Oglivie and Mr. Potthoff are to meet with School representatives on this question. The city engineer was instructed to look over the bleachers, etc. and report condition of same to city manager.

An acknowledgment and letter of appreciation received from the Detroit Olympic Committee for Council's resolution in support of the 1968 Olympic Games to Detroit. A resolution from Gibraltar, Mich. was referred to the city manager for a report at the next meeting.

A letter from Mr. Herrick, the Wayne County Drain Commissioner, stating his view-point on the resolution to transfer the duties of the Wayne County Drain Commissioner to the County Road Commission and place all drains under the jurisdiction of the County Road Commission, was read.

The city manager reported on his meeting with the architect regarding the demolition of the present city hall.

Moved by Carlson, supported by Canterbury that the City of Northville advertise for bids from demolition contractors for demolition of the present city hall and bids to be considered at the Council meeting of Monday, April 15, 1963.

Unanimously carried.

Several items are to be salvaged from the present city hall including the stained glass windows.

Request from city manager to purchase a receipting and validation machine.

The city manager reported on the open bids which he had previously been given permission to obtain. These were as follows:

Burroughs — 2 total machine (cash drawer included) (Style 10-10-31) — $34.72.

National Cash Register Co. — single total machine (cash

Code of Ordinances be adopted. Unanimously carried.

Planning Commission's recommendation to amend the Zoning Ordinance to include provisions for a central business district.

This recommendation referred to the city attorney. Council suggested that a member of the Planning Commission attend Council meeting when this matter is discussed.

Further Consideration of proposed agreement with Oakland County permitting Northville to connect to their interceptors.

The preliminary agreement should state the $2875 is for the privilege of putting 6CFS into the Oakland County line and the city will pay for any additional cost for any other connections. The city attorney recommends an additional paragraph being added regarding the 6CFS in this sewer for the City of Northville.

The City Manager and the City Attorney are to take this agreement to Oakland County and discuss it with them and bring same back to the Council.

Request permission for cemetery trust fund to sell the two $5,000 government bonds and loan money to general fund to purchase Geraghty property.

Moved by Ambler, supported by Canterbury that the two $5,000 government bonds in the Cemetery Trust Fund be sold and the money loaned to the General Fund to purchase the Geraghty property at 122 N. Wing street. This loan is to be for a 4-year period, interest at 4% and an option to pay this loan in a shorter period than 4 years, if it is deemed possible and advisable.

Unanimously carried.

Request permission to take bids on the demolition of the existing city hall.

The city manager reported on his meeting with the architect regarding the demolition of the present city hall.

Moved by Carlson, supported by Canterbury that the City of Northville advertise for bids from demolition contractors for demolition of the present city hall and bids to be considered at the Council meeting of Monday, April 15, 1963.

Unanimously carried.

Several items are to be salvaged from the present city hall including the stained glass windows.

Request from city manager to purchase a receipting and validation machine.

The city manager reported on the open bids which he had previously been given permission to obtain. These were as follows:

Burroughs — 2 total machine (cash drawer included) (Style 10-10-31) — $34.72.

National Cash Register Co. — single total machine (cash drawer — $40 additional) — $1065.

Moved by Juday, supported by Carlson that a receipting and validation machine be purchased from Burroughs. Unanimously carried.

Report on staffing temporary city hall for fire and police communications:

The city manager reported on methods used by Linden and Mr. Morris, Michigan as requested by Council. Mr. Oglivie and Mr. Allen reported on meeting with Mr. Wilson of the Michigan Bell Telephone Co. regarding an operation that could be handled with the City of Plymouth, on a monthly basis. As various possibilities the city manager was instructed to go ahead with implementing this plan and come back to Council with two alternative plans which would include tentative schedules and details on personnel.

Resolution to change regular council meeting because of election.

Moved by Ambler, supported by Carlson that the regular Council meeting scheduled for Monday, April 1, 1963 be changed to Monday, April 8, 1963 because of the Spring Biennial and Regular City election on April 1, 1963.

Unanimously carried.

Miscellaneous:

Board of Canvassers to meet Thursday, April 4, 8:00 p.m. at the City Hall to certify regular city election.

The matter of the diminished water pressure at the Northville Spring was discussed. The city engineer reported on his findings at the old Silver Springs site plus a general survey of the total Northville area — a lowering of the water table of about one foot. This lowering might be because of the particular time of the year. The city engineer was instructed to continue his research on this.

Licensing of bicycles was discussed and the city manager is to talk to Chief Police King regarding this.

The city attorney reported that the abstract on the Geraghty property is clear.

The city manager presented the water maps to Council.

There being no further business, the meeting adjourned at 10:20 p.m.

Navy Seeks Volunteers

The United States Navy announces that there will be vacancies for young men and women to commence their basic recruit training during May and early June. Applicants are preferred with a high school education, although this is not a requirement for enlistment, be in good physical condition and meet character and moral standards. Applicants are desired who can meet mental requirements to be eligible for a number of various training schools after completion of basic training. Volunteers who can qualify are needed for submarine duty in the Navy's RBM submarines throughout the fleet.

Those interested and who believe they can qualify should contact their local Navy Recruiting Office at Veterans Memorial Hall, 10 West Dunlap street, Northville, Michigan or telephone for an appointment any Monday through 5:00 p.m. The telephone number is Ffledbrook 9-3444.

For further information, contact your local United States Army Recruiting Station for this area at 22506 Orchard Lake road (at Grand River) in Farmington or call: GR 6-3090.

Wait until the grass dries before mowing.

3. See that adults, as well as children, are out of the way. Keep children in the back yard when you mow the front and in the front yard when you mow the back. Objects have been thrown over 150 feet from the target area," says Pfister.

4. Check the mower for mechanical condition and adjust before starting the engine.

5. Start the motor only after the previous four steps have been carried out. Place your feet so that you can maintain balance while starting the motor and make sure self-propelled machines are out of gear.

By following these safety tips, you will "take steps to be one of the thousands of people who don't have a mowing accident in their family.

Certain safety practices should be checked before the first blade of grass is cut, according to Pfister. He says:

1. Check to see that you are ready for the mowing job. A child is ready to properly operate a rotary at about the same age he or she can handle a .22 rifle properly.

2. Walk over the lawn and picks up rocks, and sticks or other objects that might be thrown by the mower blade.

Best Trout Catches In Northern Lakes

The average Michigan angler will fish a little less than two hours for each trout he keeps, according to a biologist of the Institute for Fisheries Research, located at The University of Michigan.

Researcher K. G. Fukano says the trout fisherman is most likely to have early success in one of the trout lakes in the Upper Peninsula or northern Lower Peninsula, especially if the lake has been planted with brook trout.

He recommends a trout lake rather than a trout stream because the lake fish are apt to be feeding more actively due to warmer lake waters.

"However, if you are interested in catching a trophy trout, your best bet would be one of the streams with a spring rainbow run," he says.

Fukano's information is based on creel records collected by officers of the Michigan Department of Conservation, which operates the Institute for Fisheries Research.

The dominant kind of trout in Michigan, of course, is the brook (speckled) trout, taken in greatest numbers in the Upper Peninsula, the biologist points out. Introduced rainbow and brown trout are most frequently caught in northern Lower Michigan. Southern Michigan has few trout waters, but some nontrout lakes have been stocked with rainbows.

Heart Disease Still No. 1 Killer In Michigan

Diseases of the heart remained the leading cause of death in Michigan last year, according to provisional figures compiled by the Statistical Methods section of the Michigan Department of Health.

The total number of deaths from all causes increased from 67,118 in 1961 to 69,743 last year, with heart disease accounting for 1,722 (or approximately two-thirds) of the increased number of deaths.

There were no changes in the ranking of the ten leading causes of death, and all showed slight increases with the exception of eighth-ranked congenital malformations and ninth-ranked immaturity, accountable in part to increased emphasis being placed on good prenatal care.

The number of reported infant and fetal deaths from all causes together showed a decline of 269 in 1962, and maternal deaths dropped from 75 to 55.

The ten leading causes of death in Michigan in 1962 are as follows: (1) diseases of the heart, 27,068 (2) cancer, 11,978 (3) strokes, 7,754 (4) accidents, 3,702 (5) pneumonia and influenza, 1,989 (6) diabetes, 1,894 (7) arteriosclerosis, 1,469 (8) congenital malformations, 991 (9) immaturity, 903 (10) cirrhosis of the liver, 848.

State Home Gets Grant for Study

Why do parents seek commitment of retarded children to state home and training schools?

This question will be studied by the Michigan Department of Mental Health in a state-federal research project to be conducted in cooperation with Plymouth State home and training school.

An announcement of a $155,000 federal grant for the two-year project was made this week by Charles E. Wagg, department director.

Major aims of the study will be to determine the sequence of events leading up to parental action for commitment, factors which have an influence on the decision to commit, and the relative importance of the various influences.

The study will be focused on parents who commit children 10 years of age and under.

Dr. V. A. Stehman, M.D., deputy department director, and Dr. R. L. Jaslow, M.D., medical superintendent at Plymouth, will be co-directors of the project. Dr. Gwen Andrew, chief of the department's research section, will conduct the survey.

Artist Robert Mohr and his "spontaneous rendition"

Local Artist Gains Finals In N. Y. Show

A Northville artist may win a national art contest with a "spontaneous rendition."

Those are the words artist Robert Mohr used to describe his original painting — for it has no name.

It was chosen one of 25 finalists in the Benedictine Art awards contest. The winner, to be announced in June, will receive a $1,000 prize.

For Mohr, it all started like this. He decided to enter the competition in January when he read of it in an art magazine. Then, with an image of the "proposed painting" in mind, Mohr began work. "It was spontaneous," said Mohr.

He took slides of the finished work and sent it in to the judges in New York.

The finalists were chosen by the American Federation of Arts from nearly one thousand entries in the competition which was established by Benedictine liqueur of Fecamp, France, to encourage recognition of American art.

Mohr is no stranger to art shows. He won the Rookwood Pottery Award in 1946 and the Dixie Sheldon scholarship to the Art Academy of Cincinnati in 1949.

Mohr's work also was chosen as best of the show at the Garden City, Michigan, show in 1962, and he was represented in the University of Michigan Regional show in 1962. He has also displayed a painting at Wayne State University.

Although he exhibits a flourish for the geometrical in art, Mohr's paintings are of a variety. They range from still lifes to surrealism.

His professional career finds him expert in another art form. He is a professional medical illustrator who serves as director of the medical illustration department at Wayne County General Hospital in Elioise. He also free lances in his spare time, painting special projects for doctors.

In the future, he hopes to paint medical illustrations for national magazines.

Much of his work is done in his home at 512 Reed Avenue. In fact, it's a showplace for his paintings.

But Mohr is awaiting the June decision of the judges at the special show at the Galerie Romanet Vercel in New York City. That's when his "spontaneous rendition" will be on display.

Consumers Meter Readers To Become 'Men in Blue'

There'll be a new look at Consumers Power Company by the end of May, and homemakers in the Northville area will probably be the first to notice it.

Consumers Power Company is dressing its small army of Meter Readers throughout Michigan in new blue uniforms.

According to Division Manager James Thomas, Consumers Meter Readers will be uniformly turned-out for the first time in the company's history. Heretofore, the men who visit your home to record your use of utility service have dressed, in most communities, in ordinary work clothes.

Now, they'll all be in blue. Manager Thomas said the company had decided to dress its Meter Readers to make them readily identifiable to homemakers, and to help them gain entrance to buildings which ordinarily are closed to salesmen, deliverymen and the like.

A big Consumers symbol on the front of the shirt or jacket which Readers will wear says plainly "Consumers Meter Reader."

Summer uniforms are a light blue shirt and dark blue trousers, with a light blue skier's cap. The winter uniform is all dark blue, except for the light blue shirt. A dark blue jacket with removable lining will be worn all year, as the weather indicates.

Bouquets For BeGole

To the Editor:

For the several years that I have lived in Novi I have read and heard of many things in a tepid and fawning manner. But the present situation in regard to the activities of our Chief of Police sure tops them all. It would seem that there are enough problems in the community to occupy those who are concerned without making more.

There seem to be considerable anxiety because of Chief BeGole's several hats. I wonder if any of our city fathers have only one hat in their closet, or do they also participate in fraternal and veteran's affairs, fund raising drivers and church matters.

GEORGE L. CLARK YOUR "Citizens' Man" Clark Insurance Agency 160 E. Main St. FI-9-1122

I'm sure that the Chief's activities, much of it on his own time, have reflected much benefit and good will on to Novi. We could use more leaders with this kind of energy and initiative. I suppose, too, that there are those who criticize his participation in the "Army Reserve Program" which is so vital to our country in these times. I wonder how many others in Novi are giving some of their time to the Reserve other than those that are obligated by law.

I have seen our police force come a long way in recent years and feel that our small community can well be proud of it. It would stand up well in comparison with those in many larger areas. I have always found the officers to be efficient, willing and cooperative in all matters in which I have had contact with them. Their courtesy and appearance make them among our best representatives of Novi and advertise the fact that in some areas we do make progress. I'm sure that the Chief is directly responsible for much of this success along with the fine personnel who have joined him on the force.

I would seem that we can all feel a little more at ease knowing that our officers under the Chief's guidance is on the job. I know that while I am away on business or for vacations I feel much more secure knowing that my home is being checked on frequently by the force. In closing, I have never spent the time to write something which I was ashamed to sign so I will ask the Editor to print my name.

Save Water

To the Editor:

I wish to tell you about the water problem. I feel that people should understand the water problem. People waste water a lot of ways. People leave the water running. They leave sprinklers running. They throw garbage in streams.

I feel that the government should make a law about the water problem or else they will have a real problem. Michigan rain fall has gone down a lot. A lot of factories pollute water. If the government doesn't do anything about it, it will be a big, big problem so help the water conservation.

SPEAKING for The Record

By BILL SLIGER

Relocated Eight Mile road, the Novi road entrance into Northville and heavy Center street traffic have become a nightmare to local officials. The five-year-old project has been called an engineering folly — and worse.

Monday night the city council learned that the Oakland County Road Commission also takes a dim view of the arrangement.

(It must be with some embarrassment. Oakland road authorities approved the original plan, although it was designed and installed by the Wayne County Road Commission).

At any rate, a letter from the Oakland road commission to their Wayne county counterparts was read to the council here Monday. It prompted the council to call a special meeting to review the entire problem.

Here are some of the proposals by Oakland:

— remove stop signs for east and west bound traffic at Center street on the 8 Mile road cut-off;
— remove the stop sign on Center street at the old 8 Mile road intersection;

— relieve the sharp curve on Novi road immediately east of Novi street and provide additional warning, such as flashers, for southbound Novi road traffic;

— determine method whereby southbound Novi road traffic need not yield nor be delayed by northbound Novi street traffic;

— either widen the section of road that is common to both Novi road and Novi street (at the entrance to the cut-off) to four lanes or rebuild the section with a median and two lanes in each direction;

— consider removing existing stop sign on relocated 8 Mile road for east bound traffic where it intersects Griswold and install it on Griswold so east bound traffic on old 8 Mile must stop;

— urge Northville officials to consider removing all parking on North Center street south of the relocated 8 Mile road.

The Oakland county letter pointed out that surveys prove there is several times as much traffic using Novi road attempting to travel in a north and south direction as compared to traffic on the relocated 8 Mile road. Their letter, therefore, is aimed at alleviating this flow.

While it would be difficult to argue with any of its points, it would seem that the Oakland road commission is more concerned with its motorists than it is with Northville's pedestrians and general traffic congestion.

Even so, each recommendation could be considered worthy of trial if the Oakland authorities had placed more emphasis on the real solution — an alternate north-south route.

As every pedestrian or motorist who has ever crossed the Main and Center street intersection well knows, north-south bound vehicles of all descriptions and sizes must now be channelled through this busy commercial section.

The alternate route is now filled with tons of earth. Oakland authorities point to the possibility of connecting Novi road with Griswold again, but conclude that "this would be very expensive and does not seem necessary at this time particularly if the improvements suggested above can be made."

The traffic will become heavier, the problem more acute until the time an alternate route is provided.

Inquiries keep coming in: "what's happened to the Old Spring?"

The favorite watering spot for thousands of residents from miles around, Northville's spring is down to a trickle.

Nobody really knows the answer, but City Engineer Harold Penn can only conclude that it's the water table level. Whether spring rains (if they come) will return the flow is unknown.

Cuban Crisis

Babson Park, Mass. — Although this week's column will be mailed from Babson Park, Mass. as usual, it is being written in Florida less than 300 miles from Cuba. Furthermore, Palm Beach — where some of the Kennedys have been staying much of the winter — is much closer to Cuba.

No one really knows how many Russian soldiers, technicians, or officers still remain in Cuba. The estimates range from a low of about 2,000 to a high of 18,000.

When the Russians leave Cuba they go in covered "wagons" and they are dressed in civilian clothes. They claim to have removed all "offensive weapons"; but they admit to selling a large number to Castro which are classed as "defensive." These would be able to "blow up" areas in Florida, but not any large American cities elsewhere.

Our Intelligence is trying to get the facts by photographs. This is in part a reason why certain camera company stocks sell at very much higher prices than they did in 1960. Although we own permanent rights in Guantanamo on the southeast corner of Cuba, we are very careful to allow no one to pass the lines to enter or leave Guantanamo who has not a high character and reputation.

It is rumored that Castro has dug a tunnel under Guantanamo, and threatens, in case of war, to blow it up!

Khrushchev will not allow Castro to destroy Cuba, as some Republicans are urging Mr. Kennedy to do. He knows that such an event could well start a world war. Furthermore, President Kennedy knows that the American people would much rather lose Cuba now than start World War III. Consequently, Russia seems to be "sitting in the driver's seat" at present.

I further believe that Mr. Kennedy wants to go to the voters in 1964 under the slogan "I kept you out of war."

I also believe that if any Republican candidate for the 1964 election urges that we now "clean up Cuba," he will surely be defeated. Another thing to remember is that the Cuban people are 90% Catholic and that the Pope is working for a friendly settlement.

The Pope probably has no influence in Russia; but he should have real influence in Cuba.

Friends tell me that Castro will try both to placate Russia and also to entice the Communists of Venezuela, Colombia, and especially Brazil. All these and the other countries of Central and South America I have visited. In fact, the Babson Institute, office had a branch in Guatemala. I owned a fine stone building which was destroyed by an earthquake. Fortunately, I was not there that night. If I had been I would have been killed.

I repeat that we will not get into a war with Russia over Cuba. On the other hand, I know the Latin American people, as I have indicated above. The trouble with these nations is that they have no "middle class"; they are either very rich or very poor; and whether rich or poor, they are temperamental.

One sad fact is that the rich do not invest their money in their own country, but send it to Switzerland to be invested in high-grade stocks listed in New York or London.

All of the above means that it will be very difficult to help Cuba or any of the South or Central American countries. Russia knows this. President Kennedy also knows it; but does not know the real answer, which is one of the fundamental difficulties with the Cuban problem. Geographically Cuba is a wonderful base for Russia to have in the Western Hemisphere; but from a temperamental standpoint Russia knows that neither Castro nor any successor of Castro's can be depended upon. Hence, I believe President Kennedy is now right in keeping out of Cuba — directly or indirectly.

Planned Community Attracts Business

Officials in many Michigan communities are looking for the answer to an important question and planning specialists at Michigan State University think they have it.

The question, foremost in the minds of city planners hoping to draw new business to their economy, is this: What does the business executive look for when locating a new plant?

Site, available labor and market proximity are obviously part of the answer. MSU experts say there is much more to be considered, however. Many communities can provide these features so the competition is greatly cancelled out in these categories.

"Executives are placing more emphasis on recreation facilities, schools, shopping areas, and other factors that contribute to the 'gold life' and recreation specialist for MSU's Cooperative Extension Service.

The theory is that the executives not only want a nice place to live and raise his family. He also feels that good living conditions for his employees will make for higher productivity.

This executive wants the "fringe benefits" of a well planned community, according to Twardzik.

The MSU specialist contends that subsidies for new industry will not necessarily provide the drawing power the suggest that subsidies tend to attract unstable businesses, while the well-established industries, the kind all communities really want, are more likely to locate with an eye on these "fringe benefits."

Twardzik stresses the value of well-developed and managed open spaces: playgrounds, sports areas, community centers, parks, and swimming facilities.

"In all too many cases," local industrial efforts completely miss the idea that the town should be a pleasant place in which to live," he said.

In advising local planners, Twardzik's primary recommendation is that they view their community by asking themselves the question, "Is this the kind of town where strangers would want to invest and live?"

Bells will ring throughout the state on July 4 if Gov. George Romney has his way.

Calling for a slight change from the traditional firecracker sounding on the anniversary of Independent Day, Romney hopes civic leaders will join in getting bells chimed in every church, government and school building simultaneously.

Working with the Hi-Y clubs of the Michigan YMCA, the Governor's plan calls for the bells to ring for four minutes, starting at 1 p.m. on July 4. Romney said such an observance would be a rededication to our national unity and our undying devotion to our country and for what it stands.

Approach of the vacation season foretells increased traffic on Michigan's vast network of high-speed roadways.

To the State Highway Department it also means an increase in the comments about its directional sign placements. In the past two years, since motorists began to use full length east-west and north-south freeway routes, the comments about the signs have been numerous.

A legislative study of tourist industry problems last summer came forth with the general impression that motorists wanted more information from the signs. They wanted greater use of directional signs to small communities along the route, and they sought more definite data than they could gain from the "Food-Gas-Logging" markings at freeway exits.

Standards for the freeway sign installations are set by the Federal Government, which pays for approximately 90 percent of the limited access roadways.

State highway officials are hoping they can make some improvements in the system, however, to satisfy at least some of the most frequent complaints.

"We are making a continuing study of freeway signing," says Highway Commissioner John C. Mackie. "Our goal is to provide the motorist, whether he be a Michigan citizen or a visitor from another state, with signs that will help him to reach his destination quickly."
