

Born With 2 Strikes But They're Not Out

EDITOR'S NOTE — This is the third of five articles dealing with Northville's institutions — Our Lady of Providence school, Wayne County Training school, Plymouth State Home and Training school, Northville State hospital, and Hawthorn center. News Editor Margaret Silbar visited each of the institutions, conferred with administrators and hopes through these articles to point out the unique features of each in the field of mental health.

The doors of Plymouth State Home and Training school opened recently, allowing two young Negro girls to leave.

The two, both classified at admission as severely retarded, were watched closely by an attendant as they climbed into a waiting car. For, both were blind.

Authorities had never dared dream that these girls, limited by their double handicap, would ever be able to learn such simple habits as running a comb through their hair.

Yet, both, having mastered a variety of personal grooming habits, were now headed for Lansing's school for the blind. There, among other things, they were expecting to discover something of the braille system.

These two girls — Ellen and Elaine by name — had already achieved some amount of fame before reaching the Lansing school. Besides being the first youngsters moved out of Plymouth State Home in its five-year history, they are also, as near as can be determined, the first ever to leave an institution for the severely retarded.

"Some people say 'so what' — two moved out and well over 600 left behind," notes the medical superintendent, Dr. Robert Jaslow. "But to us, this proves conclusively something can be done."

Plymouth State, housing youngsters from under a year to 12 with a few in the 15 to 37 year-old bracket, at a minimum cost of $2,000 per youngster per year, was established as a home for the severely retarded in 1950. At that time, it consisted of one unit for 320 children located in Farmington, a unit which had once been operated by Lapeer State Home and Training school.

The youngsters living on the home's Sheldon road premises since 1960 are those with I.Q.'s from 45 on down, those with multiple handicaps like the two blind girls or like a less-fortunate 12-year-old named Susie.

Susie, with her brown curly hair and eyes, is, not only severely handicapped mentally, but she's also afflicted with a heart condition. Some days, she'll balance on one foot and head for hours at a time but no one dares disturb her because of her weak heart. At 12, she lives in a crib, standing silently when she does, maybe 30 inches tall.

The blind, living with bedridden youngsters like Susie or with overactive, pushy youngsters, were unable to make even small steps of progress. Thus, about three years ago, 15 blind youngsters were put in a ward by themselves; at first, simply so they wouldn't be pushed around by others.

The program has continued to grow, according to Dr. Jaslow, because most parents and professionals in the field are looking to Plymouth State "as the only hope they now have."

He noted that, if other facilities were available, he would be quite happy to shift the responsibility to them.

The youngsters picked for the special ward, the only of its kind in the state, were those who looked as though they had some potential; that is, they'd tried to walk or talk or feed themselves.

Among those chosen for the special ward dubbed "I-4" were 12-year-old Ellen and 7-year-old Elaine. The two, like other ward residents, began to feel at home in the small room, always a short distance from a wall.

Unlike other wards at the home, I-4 was given a full-time staff member for every six, instead of 10 or 11, youngsters.

Then, the learning wheels were set in motion: This is up, Ellen, this is down. This is right, this is left; this is rough, this is smooth.

Ellen, originally from Lapeer, had spent all but two of her 12 years in an institution. When she first came to Plymouth State, it was said, she had talked clearly and loudly, then in a whisper, finally not at all.

Described by nurses as "a bit on the chubby side," Ellen, when placed with other blind youngsters underwent quite a definite change. The talking problem was beaten as nurses began to realize it was they who, by their heckling — "Be quiet, Ellen" had enforced her silence.

The first thing nurses learned with children like Ellen and Elaine, according to nursing supervisor, Mrs. Jane Bushroe, is to let them do things for themselves.

With an inadequate staff, Mrs. Bushroe explained, "it's so easy to do things for the children, so much quicker."

For example, if each child at Plymouth State helped feed himself, eating for 15 minutes, it would take two and a half hours to complete a meal. Thus, in most wards, unlike I-4 which is called "an enrichment area" because of its extra staff members, the children don't usually have an opportunity to feed themselves.

It wasn't long until Susan was feeding herself in I-4 and last December, as Mrs. Bushroe puts it, "she really began to size up." Then, attending classes at a special school for the blind on Wayne county training school's grounds with six other Plymouth State youngsters, "she latched on to braille," Mrs. Bushroe recalls.

"You could see Susan's seriousness about school" — sponsored jointly by the Livonia public school system and Plymouth State with each sponsor sending seven pupils.

The real jumps, however, lay ahead.

In Lansing, "she's doing things like making beds, taking care of her own clothes, running up and down steps — we don't have any here, everything's flat," Mrs. Bushroe reports.

"She's fabulous — she's tearing around, and, during our last visit, led her teacher to the dining room by the hand. Three months ago, someone was leading her by the hand."

"The biggest thing is that, after finishing a meal, she returns to her room, hangs up her coat, goes to the bathroom, comes and sits in a chair until the bell rings, signaling her for another activity."

"Here, she'd go to the toilet after a meal and if you left her alone or forgot, come supper, someone would ask — where's Ellen? We'd look and she'd still be sitting there."

Sound like a success story? It is, but one, unfortunately with an unhappy overtone.

Ellen — with no father, a mother who earns $35 a week as a domestic — was, at 18 months, considered a normal child, perhaps even a little advanced for her age. She then, like many blind youngsters, began, in psychologist's lingo, "to regress."

She, unlike Elaine, became what's known to professionals as "a pseudo retardate," Dr. Jaslow explained. Or, in other words, she acted as though she were mentally deficient either because of her blindness — "You learn so much by vision," Dr. Jaslow noted — or emotional problems.

Ellen — who declares these days, from her Lansing vantage point, "I'm not going back to I-4" — was tested in 1956 as having an I.Q. of 23. (A normal child has an I.Q. of 90 or better.) By 1961, testing showed Ellen's I.Q. as being 30 and now, Dr. Jaslow said, "she's very active" just two years later.

He calls it "amazing" that the child still has potential, adding, "This is a child that would have ended up in the back wards in the old institutional tradition as Helen Keller would have if she had not been blessed with such a family."

"I wonder how many more there might be," Dr. Jaslow continued, explaining that the purpose of I-4 is not only to discover such youngsters, but also "to develop a technique of reaching and teaching."

The 23 youngsters now forming the unit in one wing of the infirmary building can be divided into three groups: one with good potential, another which includes only moderately retarded, but erratic, youngsters whose future is uncertain and a third group that, in the words of Dr. Jaslow, "we just don't know what we can do with."

The special unit, as Dr. Jaslow sees it, is an area where the staff, because the youngsters have many similar problems, can use the techniques of mass production. "Then, we can use the extra time for little differences."

Currently, all 23 of the blind youngsters are going to school at least an hour a day — courtesy of a practice teacher with Plymouth State for the summer.

There, they're learning to become followers — as most are destined to be for the remainder of their lives. They're also learning to play together in simple group activities as well as, hopefully, to respect the property of others.

One popular activity in the ward school is learning to play simple musical instruments — the triangle, the tambourine — and dancing. Besides developing the children's sense of rhythm, which often is surprisingly good, such activities help their muscle coordination.

The feeling of Dr. Jaslow is that the blind youngsters should not be segregated indefinitely, but, instead "only until they gain self-sufficiency, confidence. It's difficult enough being blind, learning to find your way around without having other youngsters pushing you around."

'Don't Need Director'

Jones Wants Out Of Athletic Set-up

Al Jones, Northville high school's athletic director for the past nine years, submitted a letter of resignation to the school board Monday night.

Board members voted to defer action on Jones' request to be relieved of duties as athletic director until such time as they and Jones can meet over the board table.

Jones was not present at Monday's meeting. The "get-together" is not expected before August because of administrative and board vacations.

Jones explained in his letter that he wished to terminate his present athletic duties, beginning July 1, for three reasons:

—The direct involvement of board of education members in the administration of the athletic department;

—The lack of support for his program by the administration;

—The continuing action of the committee on athletics.

Reportedly bringing the resignation to a head was a recent recommendation approved by the committee on athletics and submitted informally to the board Monday.

The recommendation, prepared by the five-member committee on athletics which Jones now sits on, is that such a committee be made a permanent fixture in the school system, says the athletic director.

The current committee, set up last year on a one-year basis to formulate athletic policy, is expected to complete its work this fall. Among its duties are the review of all procedures concerning athletics with recommendations going to the board, drawing up criteria for the role of the principals and one elementary principal.

The current committee includes, in addition to the athletic director, Dr. Kenneth MacLeod, assistant superintendent of schools, E. V. Ellison, director of administrative services, Fred Stefanski, high school principal and one board member, James Kipper.

When presenting Jones' letter to the board, Superintendent Russell Amerman made the comment that it "looks to Jones in the committee set-up as though he is being frozen out."

Besides listing his reasons for resigning, Jones noted in his letter that he has felt "for the past year or so our athletic program has deteriorated."

"I cannot see hope for a reversal of this trend. Then, too, with so many people involved in the administration of athletics we really don't need an athletic director."

He said he tendered his resignation with deep personal regret for, he added, "I am still greatly interested in athletics. But I feel that this is the only means remaining open to me whereby I might register my protest for what is happening."

Presumably, Jones would continue teaching history, social studies and driver education in the system.

Board Studies Changes In Driver Ed Job Policy

It looks as though, come next summer, no teacher will have more than one driver education course at a time.

The consensus of the school board, after discussing a driver education program policy Monday night, is that the courses "should be spread around."

Board President William Crump noted that what he was concerned about is that "it's beginning to look like a relatively small number of teachers are picking up all the extra jobs."

Superintendent Russell Amerman told Crump that only one man who was qualified for teaching in the program and willing to do so was not now being used.

This summer, there are eight sessions of driver education, each with 30 pupils. Five teachers are in the program, four from the high school, one from an elementary school.

Board members came to no decision as to how the teaching assignments might be handed out. It was suggested, however, that a rotation system be employed, with perhaps the assistant superintendent doing the rotating.

Board member Edward Angove objected, noting that the system doesn't rotate a biology teacher. "If he or she's qualified, she's in."

He said he got the feeling that the board was "playing with it (the driver education program), playing with personalities."

Angove pointed out that if there are those teachers in the system who want teaching positions, in the program, why shouldn't they wait until there's an opening. "That's what a new teacher has to do."

"Another thing that's bothering me a little," he continued, "is that lately there's been a lot of rumors floating around town."

"I've heard from a couple of elementary guys that they were promised this summer job, that one, and that they've never gotten it."

"I wonder why the rumors are coming out now," Angove said.

program. The matter was not finished here, however.

Crump reported that he had received several telephone calls from irate taxpayers, complaining about the fact that "some of these teachers are working all day on driver education and are working at the track all night."

They're saying — as I would, added Crump — that they don't want their children taking a class in driving from over-worked teachers.

The board unofficially decided that any driver education policy ought include a stipulation that teachers in the program carry only that job.

The board concluded its discussion by asking Amerman to draft a policy, incorporating the points brought out at the meeting, and submit it to the board at its next meeting.

In other business, the board awarded teacher contracts to Miss Rebecca Bahlman for a position as high school science teacher and Mrs. Zelta Donaldson, high school English and geography.

They also rescinded an earlier motion to accept the resignations of Mrs. Donna Cress, speech correctionist, and Miss Rita Salan, an elementary teacher.

VANDALS VANISH — Police would like to find the sharpshooters who used Northville school buses as their targets last Saturday evening. Parked in the school's community building parking lot, the buses suffered damages estimated at between $1,000 and $1,500. The vandals used rocks to break six windshield sections, 10 side windows, one corner window and three rear door windows in four buses. Two seats had been cut with scissors and a $25 first aid kit destroyed. The recreation department now faces a shortage of buses for use in taking youngsters swimming.

Officials Hail City Hall Bids

Construction bids which came in comfortably under the estimates — and limits — set for Northville's new city hall brought smiles to the faces of city officials Monday night.

Although contracts will not be awarded until next Monday night, if low bidders for the general construction, plumbing and heating, and electrical win the job, total construction cost will be $247,288.

Some $14,000 in architectural fees must be added, bringing the total of $261,288.

The project, which includes a city hall, library and fire hall, will be financed by federal matching funds under the public works acceleration act administered by the Housing and Home Finance Agency.

Northville had been awarded $137,000 in federal matching funds. If the construction bids had totalled more than double the grant — or over $274,000 — the government's share in the project would remain at $137,000. Conversely, the federal grant is reduced to one-half the actual cost, or approximately $131,000.

Representatives of the HHFA attended Monday night's bid session and expressed pleasure at the results. They indicated acceptance of the low bidders if approved by Northville's architect.

With bid-awarding set for July 1, construction should begin by July 15 with completion scheduled for some eight months later.

The city of Northville's share of the construction cost will be paid from funds received from the sale of the community building to the school district.

Interest accumulated on the money since the sale in 1960 has increased the sum from $145,000 to $156,000. With nearly $25,000 available after cost of construction it is estimated that the city will have sufficient funds for landscaping and furnishing of the facility.

The colonial style building was designed by Architect Harry M. Denyes, Jr. of Pontiac. It will be located on the old city hall site with the city hall level facing Main street.

Entrance to the library will be from Wing street. The three-story fire hall will also face Main street and will be located on the extreme west end of the building.

Overall the building is 158 feet long and 79 feet, four inches in depth. A circular drive will be provided at the Main street entrance. A drive is planned in the rear from Cady street at the southwest corner of the city lot line to the rear of the building and exiting on Wing near the rear line of the building. Paved parking for 35 cars will be provided behind the city hall.

The library area measures 62 by 38 feet overall with a mezzanine area providing a reading room and stack area for books. It extends over the two levels.

The main level city hall area provides for offices for the manager, clerk, accounting, assessor, judge and judge's clerk plus a conference room, vault and laboratories for men and women.

It also includes council meeting chambers measuring 30 by 46 feet. The council table itself will be located at the east end of the room on a platform eight inches above room level. It is at the rear, or south end, of the main level.

The lower level, with entrance from the south, provides police headquarters. It includes a communications area, interrogation room, squad room, chief's office, exhibition area, pistol range and three cells.

Office and storage facilities are also provided at the rear of the fire hall on two levels. The specific bids as submitted Monday night were: Carl Luoma, $165,164; Hyatt Construction, $172,000; Bersche (electrical) Gillis Electric, $22,684; Folgmann Electric, $22,885; Munro Electric, $25,200; and Moote Electric, $25,950. Architect Denyes will examine all bids and check bidders before making his recommendation for awards Monday night.

Three sky divers will perform over the city at 11:30 a.m. The program also includes a 3-mile-long parade at 1:30 p.m., a carnival at Ford Field and fireworks at 9 p.m.

Pope Paul Visited Here

Northville received a visit from the new spiritual leader of more than 500,000,000 Catholics back in the early 1950's.

Pope Paul VI, then Monsignor Montini, was at the time visiting the late Edward Cardinal Mooney in Detroit.

Cardinal Mooney's secretary then, the Right Reverend Monsignor Joseph Breitenbeck, now pastor of Assumption Grotto church, recalled the visit.

"He walked around the golf course at St. John's Seminary with Cardinal Mooney, and I remember taking him out to Our Lady of Victory parish."

A search for families willing to serve as foster parents of mentally retarded youngsters is now being conducted by Plymouth State Home and Training school.

Under the family care program, a select group of children are placed in private homes so they can receive more individualized attention, according to Mrs. Doris Sterrett, family care supervisor. Mrs. Sterrett notes that this personal relationship and introduction to community living, some of the children will never achieve their highest level of potential abilities.

Foster parents, referred to as family care sponsors, receive $3 a day. The foster homes are licensed in accordance with state laws, but the youngsters remain the responsibility of Plymouth State. The state home not only supervises the foster care, but also provides medical care for the youngsters.

Those interested in participating in the program may call Mrs. Sterrett at GL 3-2500.

News Around Northville

Yerkes street was the scene of a giant neighborhood picnic Sunday afternoon.

Approximately 87 gathered at the home of the Allen Bucklys for a 2 p.m. picnic dinner — ham and the fixings, croquet and talk and a 7 p.m. supper.

Organizers of the affair were Mrs. Buckley and Mrs. Elmer DeKay. Guest of honor was the oldest "neighbor," Mrs. George Dixon who's just reached 83.

The picnic, a cooperative affair, drew on neighbors up and down the street for passing dishes, the VFW, for chairs and tables.

Hopefully, according to Mrs. Buckley, neighborhood picnics will become an annual affair on Yerkes.

The William Gaab and Dorothy Busch families and a few friends, some 34 in all, enjoyed last Sunday on the Gordon Norris farm at Nine Mile and Napier.

The Gaabs, who live at 105 Fairbrook, and the Norris' of 109 Fairbrook were presented with a cake in honor of their wedding anniversaries.

Mr. and Mrs. Rollin Hollis and Mr. and Mrs. Bob Conner were Sunday dinner guests of Mrs. Florence Boyer in Detroit. Also attending were Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Boyer of Livonia.

Frank Martino, a Northville resident 16 years ago, stopped here to visit with his aunt and uncle, the Jim Spagnuolo, Sunday.

He has been with the U.S. Air Force for the past 14 years, recently returning from an African jaunt. Accompanying him on his Northville visit was his sister, Bozzo of Lansing.

The Allan Peterson home on Fry road was opened last week Sunday for a reception for the Peterson's daughter, Karen, a June graduate of Northville high.

Some 85 relatives and friends attended the reception for Karen who served as class secretary in her senior year.

This fall, Karen plans to enter Michigan State university where she'll be studying interior design.

Visitors at the Maxwell Austin home on Walnut are Mr. Austin's sister and niece, Mrs. James Phinney and her daughter Gail.

The Phinneys, after stopping in Grosse Pointe to see relatives there, came to Northville over the weekend.

Entertaining last weekend at their Milford farm were the William Bakes of West Main street. The couple had 14 guests from Northville and Plymouth.

The 51st Lyke family reunion was held Sunday in the home of the Melvin Carters of Joy road with over 65 members of the family attending.

Officers elected for the coming year are Melvin Carter, president; Roy Lyke, vice president; and Mrs. Mark Larkins, secretary.

Those attending the pot luck dinner came from East Lansing, South Lyon, Plymouth and Northville.

Mrs. George Merwin traveled to Detroit Saturday with her children, Mimi and Jackie, for a meeting of the John Paul Jones society of the C.A.R. While in Detroit, the Merwins had a picnic and toured old Fort Wayne.

Saturday, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Rollings of Park Grove celebrated their 25th wedding anniversary.

The Rollings traveled to Muskegon to visit the gentleman who was best man at their wedding, Frank Goodling, and his wife.

On Friday evening, the Rollings entertained Mrs. Rollings' mother, Mrs. Eda Phillips, in honor of her 81st birthday. Also attending the dinner party was Miss Lynn Johnson, a family friend.

Kitchen Diary

Midnight Cake

A cook who says she "just sort of whips up dishes" is this week's contributor to Kitchen Diary.

She's Mrs. Russell Taylor, wife of Novi School Board member Taylor.

Mrs. Taylor explained she's the kind of cook "who carries recipes around in her head."

Asked if she ever forgets any, she replied "no," adding, maybe it's because "my family's in a rut — they like certain things and that's it."

"Consequently, we have a variation of the same thing all the time."

The "we" Mrs. Taylor's referring to includes herself, her husband, and their 18-year-old son, Robert, who has his sights set on Detroit Bible college this fall.

The same thing or not, Mrs. Russell's famed throughout Novi for her cookies, cakes and breads. Her recipes:

POWDERED SUGAR COOKIES

1 cup powdered sugar
1 cup butter or margarine break in one egg, add
1 tsp. vanilla
1/4 tsp. soda
1/2 tsp. cream of tartar
2 cups flour

Mix well, roll into balls, flatten with spoon. Bake in 350 degree oven for about 12 minutes. Add an additional cup of flour to make rolled or cut-out cookies.

MIDNIGHT CAKE

1/2 cup shortening

1 1/2 cup sugar
2 eggs
1 cup hot water
1/2 cup cocoa
1/4 cup sifted flour
1/2 tsp. salt
1 tsp. baking powder
1 tsp. soda
1 tsp. vanilla
Cream shortening, add sugar and beaten eggs. Sift flour and dry ingredients, add creamed mixture and dry mixture alternately.
Bake in 350 degree oven for 45 minutes. "Usually, I make it in a loaf cake," says Mrs. Taylor, "and top it with a powdered sugar frosting or whipped cream — but the topping's up to a person's individual taste."

GINGERBREAD

1 cup white sugar
1/2 cup shortening
2 eggs
1/2 cup molasses
2 cups flour
1 tsp. ginger
1 tsp. cinnamon
1/2 tsp. clove
2 tsp. soda
1 cup boiling water

Sift flour three times, add ing spices. Then, add to creamed mixture composed of the eggs, sugar and shortening. Last, add water and soda baking in 375 degree oven for 35 to 40 minutes.

"I look upon every day to be lost, in which I do not make a new acquaintance."

— Samuel Johnson

COOL RELAXATION — That's what Mr. and Mrs. Fritz Gensing and their son, Fritz Carl, can boast of during the hot summer months in their new Willowbrook home.

The Fritz Gensing family took a "round about" way to Novi.

From campus to New York, Pennsylvania, Ohio, West Virginia and Virginia they traveled, till they finally settled down.

Starting point was the campus at the University of Toledo where Mr. and Mrs. Gensing met on a "blind date" and later were married in their senior year.

Both natives of Toledo, she graduated with a degree in elementary education and he as an engineering physicist.

Mr. Gensing's employment as a sales engineer with Surface Combustion, a division of Midland-Ross corporation set the Gensings on their long journey to parts east.

Re-assignment to the Detroit branch of the company ultimately brought them to 40941 Mallott drive.

"We specifically chose Novi because it's close to my husband's work, the people are very friendly and there are a lot of children for our son to play with," noted Mrs. Gensing.

There're golf courses in the area that prove especially enticing to Mr. Gensing, "an avid golfer." Whenever his job permits, he tries to improve his golf game which usually tallies in the 80's.

Work comes before play with the lady of the house too.

"After we're completely organized—we've only been here two months—then I'll have time to play bridge," Mrs. Gensing said.

Ordering the house and keeping an eye on three-and-a-half-year-old Fritz Carl are now occupying much of Mrs. Gensing's time.

And there's more work in offing. The Gensings are expecting a new addition to the family sometime in January.

Presbyterians to Hear Former Pastor July 7

Reverend Harold F. Fredsell, pastor of the First Presbyterian church of Northville from 1941 to 1954, will return to Northville to conduct the 9:30 a.m. service in the Presbyterian church Sunday, July 7.

Dr. Fredsell is currently director of the department of new church development and building aid of the Board of National Missions, United Presbyterian church, with offices in New York.

He counsels with churches planning major building programs about their long-range building plans, financial arrangements and sites. He has had wide experience in banking, as a local church pastor and a synod director of church extension.

He has been moderator of the Presbytery of Detroit and stated clerk of the Presbytery. He has held a number of offices in both the Detroit and Michigan councils of churches, was awarded an honorary doctor of divinity degree from Alma college following the publication in 1950 of his History of the Presbyterian church in Michigan.

Accompanying Dr. Fredsell on his return to Northville will be his wife, his son Paul and daughter Margie.

Reverend Harold Fredsell

Director Of Nursing Appointed

The board of trustees of Schoolcraft college announced the appointment of Mrs. Harriett H. Sattig, a native of Virginia, as director of nursing education at its meeting yesterday.

Mrs. Sattig, who is at present on the nursing faculty of Syracuse university, brings to the program an unusual background. In addition to holding a nursing diploma from the State Hospital of North Carolina, she has a bachelor of science degree in nursing education from Columbia university and a master's degree from Syracuse university.

For six years, Mrs. Sattig was affiliated with the Practical Nursing center of Syracuse, New York, the last three of which she was director of the center.

Mrs. Sattig is expected to join the Schoolcraft faculty in August, 1963, so that she will have an opportunity to develop all details of the practical nursing program, to employ faculty and to establish standards for recruitment.

The college looks forward to adding a program in registered nursing after the practical nursing program is operating successfully. Mrs. Sattig will be working closely with the state board of nursing and the Tri-County Nursing League.

Two new members will join the board of trustees after July 1 and attended yesterday's meeting. They are Leroy C. Bennett, trustee-at-large, who was elected to fill the position of James O'Neil, who resigned after he was elected to membership on the State Board of Education, and Dr. Gordon R. Forrer of Northville.

Need Homes For Visitors

One-night homes are needed for some 160 foreign exchange students who will attend the Northville Rotary club's "farewell dinner" on July 17.

The dinner program is sponsored annually by Rotary and marks the last night in this country for students from throughout the state.

Students leave here by bus on the morning of the 18th. They stay overnight in local homes, where they are given breakfast and, if possible, a box lunch for aboard the bus.

Residents willing to accommodate one or more youngsters for the evening of the 17th are asked to contact Richard Lyon, FI 9-1252 or Philip Ogilvie, FI 9-2600.

Receive Degrees

Among the 1,817 Wayne State university students awarded degrees last Thursday in Cobo hall, Detroit, were three Northville area residents. They are Miss Kay E. Campbell of 21800 Haggerty road, B.S.; Marcel Jelinek of 417 West Dunlap, M.A. in social work, and Mrs. Mable C. White Schwartz of 23145 Novi road, a B.S.

Dr. Clarence B. Hilberry, Wayne State president, conferred 1,158 undergraduate degrees and 659 graduate and professional degrees. The total compares with the previous high of 1,660.

READY FOR POURING — Its forms all in place, the Northville Swim Club pool awaited concrete, scheduled to be poured this week. An anxious mermaid stands at the shallow end, undoubtedly wishing workmen would complete the job so that she might take a refreshing dip during current 85-degree temperatures. Pool club officials are anxious, too. But it appears that the opening date may now be mid-July. The pool is located near the city water tower behind the high school. Family memberships are still being sought.

ROTARY GIFT — C. A. Smith (rt.), president of the Northville Rotary club, presented a check for $556.96 to a fellow Rotarian Tuesday noon, E. V. Ellison. As director of administrative services for the Northville school system, Ellison accepted the donation towards a new press box for the high school athletic field. Rotary raised the money through its travel film series. Shown seated is Rotary District Governor William Gillette, who was speaker at the Tuesday noon luncheon meeting.

IN REVIEW Devil's Harvest

A new arrival at Northville's public library is a tale given the label, Devil's Harvest. Compiled by Frank Slaughter, Devil's Harvest has all the elements of a successful novel, 1963-style ... a native lass as lovely as Aphrodite, two brilliant scientists, one, unfortunately, a blackguard, and political intrigue.

The scene of action is the Enchanted Valley, a remote crevice between Laos and the Chinese border. The time is now.

There, bounded by the Gates of Hell, a noted American microbiologist, Dr. John Merchant, works against time and his foster brother, Chan Thornton.

Both, reared in the valley and educated in the United States, are fighting to transform a giant octopus-like apparatus into a producer of food, using algae.

The strategy the two are using, however, is quite different. One sees the project as a means of alignment with the communists; the other like Indra Lal, his childhood playmate in the valley, plagued by the dread of the political consequences should the Reds gain control of the potential food product.

How the scientist of the pair wins out over the alchemist gaining the native lass along the way, comprises the remainder of this novel.

Sound dramatic? Be assured, it is.

Doctor-Novelist Slaughter, in turning out his 34th novel, has drawn full on his stock of experiences, spinning, for some, a pleasurable evening.

Called by critics earlier this year, "the best ever" — I'm tempted to apply slightly lesser adjectives to Devil's Harvest. MLS

P-TA Seeks Readers

The P-TA is looking for two readers.

Once found, the readers, high school girls or moms, will be asked to participate in the P-TA reading hour each week at the library.

The program, due to start in July and run through August, is for youngsters five and above. Hours will be scheduled at the convenience of the readers.

Anyone interested in participating is asked to call Mrs. James Tellam at FI 9-2441.

HEY DAD! SPONSOR YOUR BOY IN THE DODGE "KING OF SWAT" COMPETITION (FOR GRADE SCHOOL BOYS, 6 THROUGH 11 YEARS OF AGE)

HERE'S WHERE A BOY GETS A TASTE OF SOME HONEST COMPETITION! Come on, dad, let's see that keen eye and batting power of your boy in action. He'll show you he's got what it takes in the Dodge "King of Swat" competition. It's fun. It's fair to all. There's nothing for you to buy or try.

Here's how it works. You bring your boy in to our showroom. He takes five practice swings and then ten official swings at a baseball that's attached to an ingenious stand. Every hit sends the baseball round and round while a meter records the distance.

If a boy is in good form, he's going for long distance—because this baseball looks, feels and hits like a regulation baseball. And, as it is with the real thing, it's not how hard the ball is hit that counts—it's how squarely. A cool head and a sharp eye can do wonders toward winning! Boys only compete in their age group: The Senior Circuit (boys age 10 and 11) or the Junior Circuit (boys age 8 and 9) or the Rookie Circuit (boys age 6 and 7). Winners receive "King of Swat" championship trophies and the honor of being "King of Swat for 1963".

Each boy must be accompanied by a parent or guardian. So come on in. The 1963 "King of Swat" could be your boy!

Vangieson Wins Special Certificate

Twenty-seven selected Detroit area men who have been taking classes with the University Center for Adult Education (WSU, The U of M, EMU) to master the A, B, C's of radioactivity will "graduate" at 6 p.m. Monday, July 1.

The group, including chemists, health engineers, public health sanitarians and a medical director, will be awarded certificates by Hamilton Stillwell, Director of the University Center for Adult Education, during ceremonies at the McGregor Memorial Conference Center.

The lone area resident to be honored is Val C. Vangieson, 50496 Pontiac Trail, Wixom.

BE SURE...INSURE

WORTH SEE'IN is the way Driver-Trainer Stanley Dancer sees it as he gets his great trotting mare, 'Worth Seeing', ready for the opening leg of the HTA trotting series Friday night at Northville Downs. Dancer, the nation's leading money winner last year with $760,343, dominated the HTA pacing series with Lehigh Hanover and hopes to do the same with the mare. She boasts a winning time of 1:58.

World's Best 4-Year-Old Trotters Featured at Downs Friday Night

Headed by A. C.'s Viking, the three-year-old trotter of 1962 and Hambletonian king, a cast of more than 12 of the nation's outstanding four-year-olds are expected to battle it out in the $12,300 HTA Trot Friday (June 28) at Northville Downs.

Since this is the first of the five qualifiers in the trotting series — the 10 leading point winners clash for the $50,000 championship on August 1.

Racing Secretary Harry Peterson expects more than half of the 23 nominees to appear.

It is the only chance Michigan fans will have this year to see all of the fastest four-year-old trotters compete against each other and will be the only 1963 HTA event in the area since the pace at Hazel Park was cancelled due to the virus epidemic.

Peterson stamps this year's field as the strongest in history with at least four of the probable starters at Northville boasting marks of better than 2:00 in competition.

They include: A.C.'s Viking (1:59.3), Isaac (1:59.4), Terrell (1:59.1) and Worth Seein (1:58).

A.C.'s Viking, everybody's choice for the sophomore trotter of the year in 1962, is the early favorite to dominate the HTA series. He won $235,184 for 62-year-old Driver-Trainer Saunders Russell a year ago and is reported in top shape this season.

However, the list of nominees includes such standouts as Frank Ervin's Sprite Rodney ($140,750), C & M Stable's Lord Valentine who will be handled by George Sholly, long a Northville favorite; and Allwood Stable's Lord Gordon who has been outstanding in tests to date.

Worth Seein, winner of $102,106 a year ago, has been going good and Arden Homestead's Terrell could be the darkhorse off his speed in recent starts.

Should the field go over 12, then Peterson indicated he would probably divide it into two divisions.

The stake, richest to date in the Motor City area, is slated to go as the eighth race on Friday and is expected to attract the largest crowd of the three-week-old meeting.

'Pillers' Number One In Novi Little League

With the Novi Little League season at the mid-way point, the Pillers are proving themselves immovable.

In fact, they're almost as indestructible as the pillars of ancient Greece as they stand atop the league with a 9-1 record.

Still threatening to steal the show from the Pillers, however, are the Bandits (8-2).

The only other team playing 500 ball or better is the Steelers (5-5). Holding down the second division are the Earthmovers (3-7), Jayhawks, (3-7) and the Eagles (2-8).

Within the past two weeks, the Pillers enhanced their first place position by winning five times.

But the Pillers have the Steelers to thank. Steeler Gary Boyer, who has an impressive 4-1 pitching record, hurled a sterling one-hitter against the tough Bandits to cap a 6-0 win. Ronnie Thompson robbed Boyer of a no-hitter by slugging a double.

Buddy George led the Pillers to their most convincing win of the season, 14-0, over the Jayhawks. The Jayhawks could muster only two hits off his offerings and George won his game by poling two homers.

George also paced the win over the Eagles, 10-8. He contributed two home runs and a double. Dave Romain also blasted a four-bagger for the Pillers.

The Pillers also beat the Steelers, 8-7, the Earthmovers, 9-3, and the Steelers again, 11-3. Gaining credit for the two Steeler decisions was chucker Lee Snow, who now has a 4-0 slate.

William White of the Bandits retained an unblemished pitching record, 5-0. He fashioned identical 6-4 wins over the Earthmovers and the Jayhawks.

The Bandits' other victory was a 21-7 rout of the Eagles. Elsewhere around the league:

—The Steelers clipped the Jayhawks, 5-4, as Boyer pitched and Gary Christensen with a homer batted the way to victory.

—The Jayhawks trounced the Eagles, 11-6, and the Earthmovers copped a 4-1 win from the Steelers.

Class E

Pitching is keeping the Northville Orioles' hot on the heels of front-running Party Pantry in the class E 13-and-under league.

Tied with the Orioles for the second spot with four wins and one loss is Plymouth Recreation.

Two other Northville entries, Casterline Braves (2-3) and the Ely Oilers (1-3) are tied for third and in fourth place, respectively, in the eight team circuit.

The Orioles pitching faltered only once against heavy-hitting Party Pantry.

But for a five-run third inning for the opponents, the Orioles might be on top of the league. Errors and walks.

Class E

The Northville Plumbers are making a strong bid for the top spot in the class E 15-and-under league with a 3-0 record.

They trail Plymouth's Loper Firestone (4-0) by a half game as a result of one rained out tilt.

Close on the Plumbers' heels are the Novi Flyers with a 3-1 slate.

Not all area teams are faring as well however. Spagy-Thunderbird Inn and the Novi Filters, both with 1-3 records, are having their difficulties getting started.

Occupying the cellar is Northville Recreation (0-4).

Only loss suffered by the Flyers thus far, has been a shallocking at the hands of the Plumbers, 14-1.

A cliff-hanger, until the fifth frame, the Plumbers came up with 10 runs. Jerry Inslund not only pitched his way to victory, he also stroked two home runs in the fifth inning.

Inslund and Mike Turnbull have been doing double duty all season. Inslund turned in another winning effort on the mound over Spagy-Thunderbird, 6-1, and he has pitched out a triple and two doubles in addition to the two homers.

Turnbull gained credit for the other Plumber win, 10-6 over Bill's Market, and is leading the team with a 7-0 average, collecting six hits in eight at bats.

Spagy-Thunderbird rode the arm of Keith Mueller to a 9-5 victory over Fisher Shoes for its only win. Mueller allowed two hits while his teammates managed seven. Chris Holman lead the attack with two singles.

In dropping two games, Spagy-Thunderbird narrowly avoided being the victim of two no-hitters.

Bill Sliger lined a single to left to break up a no-hit effort by the Flyers' twirler. Pinch hit singles in the last inning by Dave Wyler and Ted Budek snapped a no-hit bid by a Loper pitcher.

Class D

The Plumbers, Northville's entry in the class D 18-and-under league, have hit rock bottom.

They're holding down last place in the league with a 0-3 mark — a complete reversal of last year's winning show.

But with all the losses, the Plumbers can plead mitigating circumstances. There has been a shortage of players due to vacations and absences.

The local team was humbled June 17 by league-leading Champion Sports, 20-2, in a game marred by weak hitting and errors.

Howie Jones, who pitched the first three innings, left the mound with a sore arm. Dave Jerome relieved, but was no more effective as the opponents rolled on.

The Northville club could garner only two hits.

With veteran high school pitcher, Tom Swiss, on the mound, the Plumbers showed marked improvement as they lost a squeaker June 18 to the Plymouth Elks, 4-1.

Although the home team could muster only four hits, it was much improved, both in the field and at bat.

Unable to field a complete team, the Plumbers forfeited a game last Thursday to the Plymouth Elks.

An Egg Isn't Always An Egg

A New York advertising agency ran a trade journal advertisement a little while ago in which they made the point that the difference between one agency and another was really just people. They did it by showing a picture of what looked like an ordinary, run-of-the-mill chicken egg. To a lot of people, an egg is an egg and they're all alike as peas in a pod (which, come to think of it, are actually all different too).

Well, they pointed out that one egg could look like any other but inside it could be a prairie owl or a Plymouth Rock or a Rhode Island Red or it could be sterile or ticking with life. Their egg turned out to contain a potential lady alligator!

Car buyers are making a mistake if they think that car dealerships are all alike except for what appears to be slight differences in price.

Car dealerships are very different. Some stress high volume sales and play down service. Some advertise heavily with price ads, train salesmen to be aggressive and believe that the long term repeat customer is usually not worth the trouble.

Well, we DO stress service, we don't normally advertise heavily and we try and stress quality when we do. We train our salesmen to be aggressive, but in seeking out the best solution to the customer's needs in order to make a sale. Most of all we think that a repeat customer is worth all the trouble you can possibly go to keep him.

- In Justice Court -

Four men were charged Monday with contributing to the delinquency of minors in Northville justice court.

Lonnie Fields, 21, and Michael Howe, 19, both of Walled Lake, and Robert Scheffler, 17, of Allen Park were found guilty and fined $25 and $5 or 10 days in jail. All paid except Scheffler, who was committed.

Charges against Raymond Trenz, 19, of Hazel Park were dismissed on grounds of insufficient evidence.

Break In - Out

A building was burglarized and two street lights were broken during the weekend in Northville.

Entry to the International Tool company Sunday morning was gained by smashing a front window to unlock the front door, police reported.

Two check books and a record book were stolen from the business, according to police. It is located on 21141 Novi road.

Street lights were broken Saturday night in the Wing-Cady street area by two 12-year-old Northville boys.

Residents reported the incidents to police, who promptly apprehended the youths.

The boys' parents will be charged for damages by the Detroit Edison company, police said.

The car in which the boys were riding was stopped June 22 by police on the corner of Center and Dunlap streets to warn the occupants of defective equipment.

The officer determined that the four men and two 16-year-old girls had been drinking. They were questioned and later released.

Dale Swegles of Lansing, who is charged with assault with intent to kill or murder, was bound over to circuit court for trial. Council for the defendant waived examination and bond was set at $10,000. Swegles is being held in the Wayne county jail until trial.

He is suspected of attacking Mrs. Grace Miller of 321 Yerkess street while she was in bed June 19 at her home. Mrs. Miller was struck three times on the head with a tire wrench. Robert Mettatal II of Plymouth, guilty of reckless driving June 19 on Main street, was fined $35 and $10 costs.

Mettatal had stopped on Main street, then started at a high speed. Police chased Mettatal down Northville road on to Five Mile road and then left onto Sheldon road. Unable to catch Mettatal, Northville police notified Plymouth police, who stopped him at a road block in Plymouth. Mettatal was reported to have driven at speeds estimated at 80 miles an hour.

Charles Peacock of 41222 Nine Mile road was cited for being drunk and disorderly June 21 at the Paddock Inn. Guilty, he paid a fine of $35 and $5 costs.

Jack Fox of Walled Lake was fined $20, $5 costs and two days for driving with a revoked license June 20 on Main street.

Ronald De Nio of Southfield was arraigned on two June 2 counts. He paid a $5 fine and $5 costs for disobeying a stop sign at the intersection of Seven Mile and Northville roads and he also paid a fine of $20, $5 costs and two days for not having a driver's license in his possession.

Two men were arraigned in Novi justice court Thursday on counts of felonious assault. Larry Pugh of Detroit stood mute on charges of assault with a dangerous weapon (a knife) June 7 in the Walled Lake Amusement park. He was placed on $1,000 bond and bound over to circuit court for trial.

Bernard Toye of Eight Mile road was also bound over to circuit court.

According to police, the complaint, Clinton Colbert of 43300 Eight Mile road, said that Toye threatened him with a loaded shot gun June 13 on Eight Mile road. Novi police made a citizens arrest and turned the case over to state police.

Walter MacArthur of Walled Lake, guilty of disorderly conduct May 23 on Novi road and I-96, paid a $20 fine.

Bernard Brown of Plymouth was fined $100 on a count of reckless driving June 16 on Novi road south of Grand River.

Glenn R. Nelson of Terre Haute, Indiana, pleaded guilty to driving under the influence of liquor June 19 on Novi road. He was committed to 10 days in jail.

Two youths were fined $25 apiece for having liquor in their possession June 15 on 12 1/2 Mile road. They were Larry French, 18, of Detroit and Howard Meece, 19, of Plymouth.

Charles Wundeach of Berkeley was found guilty of reckless driving June 4 at the intersection of Grand River and Novi road. He paid a $35 fine.

3-Car Crash Injures Nine

Eleven Detroit people were involved in a three car collision Sunday on Novi road.

Nine of the 11 were taken to Wayne County General hospital for treatment of bruises and other minor injuries.

According to police, witnesses said an unidentified car, which was traveling south on Novi road near 12 1/2 Mile road, stopped on the road. The car behind crashed into the rear of the first vehicle. A third car smashed into the second vehicle.

Driver of the second car was Ralph Sparks. Passengers in the car were Eddie Trumble, Donald Sparks, Daniel Ashbrook and Douglas Sexton. Floyd Moore, Jr., was the driver of the third car. Jeffrey Moore, Exlee Moore, Marion Moore, Hazel Pack and Arley Marcum were passengers. The first car left the scene before police arrived.

All were taken to the hospital for treatment except Sexton and Exlee Moore.

Both cars were badly damaged.

Health Authorities Urge Immunization by Adults

Dr. Joseph G. Molner, Wayne county health commissioner, today termed "shocking" the fact that some 70% of adults in Wayne county are not fully protected against smallpox, tetanus and polio.

Urging immediate immunization, he said that many adults have not had smallpox vaccinations since childhood. Others have not been protected against this disease since World War II in spite of the fact that medical science is effective for a period of three to five years only.

Dr. Molner's statement was in connection with the promotion of Immunization Month, currently being conducted by the Wayne County Medical Society, in cooperation with the Wayne County Department of Health and the Detroit Department of Health.

Dr. Molner urged all adults to contact their private physicians to bring their immunization against contagious diseases up to date. He pointed out that in so doing, they would also be protecting their children from exposure in the home.

A suggested immunization time-table, drawn up by the Detroit Department of Health, is reproduced below. The Wayne County Medical Society recommends that it be clipped and retained with the family health records, for future reference.

Protection Schedule for Adults
Polio: 1st polio-vaccine treatment - Start today! 2nd polio-vaccine treatment 1 month later; 3rd polio-vaccine treatment, 6 months later; 4th polio-vaccine treatment, 1 year later. Boosters every 5 years

To Host Brazilians

The Northville Civil Air Patrol cadets will host five Brazilian cadets in July as part of the International Air Cadet Exchange.

Robert E. Parmenter, commander of the local CAP squadron, will take the foreign cadets on a tour of his city mill during their stay with the Inter-Lakes group of which Northville is a member.

Host to the cadets for the months of July and August will be the Michigan CAP Wing.

Twenty-six countries, including the United States, will participate in the International Air Cadet Exchange, which originated in 1947 to "foster international relationships among the youth of the free world."

At the end of their visit, the foreign cadets and escort officers will tour the White House, and possibly meet with the President.

The cost of the IACE is borne by the CAP. The United States Air Force will provide overseas transportation for exchange cadets.

How You Can Help Freedom Marchers

To the Editor:

For the information of persons wishing to send financial help to the men, women and children imprisoned in the South for parading peacefully in order to call attention to the fact that they are denied basic constitutional rights, I have been told by the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People that checks can be sent to:

N.A.A.C.P.
20 West 40th Street
New York City 18, New York

I personally hope that many in Northville will send such help for the following reasons:

1) It is 100 years since the Emancipation Proclamation went into effect.
2) Martin Luther King told the nation last Sunday that segregation is merely another form of slavery. Having waited 100 years for freedom, the American Negro "can wait no longer."

3) That 20 million American Negroes are denied constitutional rights and treated as they are is criminally immoral, a danger to the freedom of everybody, and has international repercussions detrimental to the interests of our country.

4) Vice-President Johnson has called upon all Americans to give aid to those in the forefront of this campaign.

To those in Northville who have questions about this campaign for freedom that they want answered, or even objections to it, may I call attention to a letter of first importance published in the July issue of Presbyterian Life.

I quote two paragraphs from this letter of Martin Luther King:

"...I have almost reached the regrettable conclusion that the Negro's great stumbling block in the stride toward freedom is not the White Citizen's Council or the Ku Klux Klan, but the white moderate who is more devoted to 'order' than to justice; who prefers a negative peace which is the absence of tension to a positive peace which is the presence of justice; who constantly says 'I agree with you in the goal you seek, but I can't agree with your methods of direct action'; who paternalistically feels that he can set the timetable for another man's freedom; who lives in the myth of time and who constantly advises the Negro to wait until 'a more convenient season.'"

Shallow understanding from people of goodwill is more frustrating than absolute misunderstanding from people of ill-will."

And further on:

"...One day the South will know that when these disinsmallpox vaccination.

4 months - Diphtheria, pertussis, tetanus and polio; 5 months - diphtheria, pertussis, tetanus and polio; 1 year - diphtheria, pertussis, tetanus and polio; 2 years - diphtheria, pertussis, tetanus and polio; 5 years - diphtheria, pertussis, tetanus and polio; smallpox vaccination; 9-10 years - diphtheria, tetanus and polio. Smallpox vaccination; 14-15 years - diphtheria, tetanus and polio. Smallpox vaccination.

ited children of God sat down at lunch counters they were in reality standing up for the best in the American dream and the most sacred values in our Judeo-Christian heritage, and thus carrying our whole nation back to those great wells of democracy which were dug deep by the founding fathers in the formulation of the Constitution and the Declaration of Independence."

In the complete letter, Mr. King answers many questions disturbing the white people of Northville.

My family and I walked down Woodward Avenue to Co-bo Hall last Sunday in the "Walk to Freedom." When I saw these tens of thousands upon tens of thousands of friendly, neatly dressed, courteous men, women and children, I realized again the enormity of the crime of segregation; and when I saw that most of them were from Baptist, Methodist, Presbyterian, Catholic and Episcopal churches, I knew that the families of Northville - if they knew these dedicated Negro walkers - would be glad to have them as friends and neighbors.

Sincerely,
Harold S. Hartley

Dixboro Ghost: What Was Secret Danger?

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the second of six articles dealing with the once famous ghost of Dixboro. The articles are taken from a historical research paper authored by Russell E. Bidlack of the University of Michigan, and it comes to us through the courtesy of Mr. Bidlack and his friend, Clare Korabacher of Whitmore Lake, both members of the Washtenaw County Historical Association. Last week readers learned something of the background of James Mulholland, his wife Ann, Ann's sister Martha Crawford—a widow who was to marry John Mulholland, brother of James. Ann, according to a newspaper account written by A Spectator in 1846, was a peculiar woman who apparently was bothered by some "secret care" that "haunted her sleepless nights."

Now to continue: When Ann realized that her sister, Martha, had agreed to marry John Mulholland, she tried in every way to dissuade her, but to no avail. It was then that Ann shared her awful secret.

Immediately, Martha's love for John Mulholland turned to loathing, her admiration to disgust, and she prepared to return to Canada. Learning of her plan, the Mulholland brothers attempted to dissuade her, but found that "she remained firm in her resolve."

Her brother-in-law then resorted to a more convincing argument. If she refused to marry his brother, James Mulholland promised that she would never reach Canada alive.

Although we have only the statements of A Spectator on these family affairs, it is a matter of record in the Washtenaw County Courthouse that on September 11, 1835, John Mulholland and Martha Crawford were married by a justice of the peace named Esak Pray. Records also support A Spectator's statement that Ann died soon after her sister's marriage. James Mulholland married again in 1836.

Whether Martha's marriage was as unhappy as her sister feared, we do not know. It did not last long, however, for on June 2, 1840, John died. The one child that was born to this union, a son, died soon after his father.

According to A Spectator, John Mulholland was "much out of health" for some weeks before his death and, fearing "he could not much longer remain an inhabitant of this world," was anxious that a division be made of his property that he and his brother held in common. Deeds recorded in the Washtenaw County Courthouse reveal that such a division was made on May 30, 1840.

Following her husband's death, Martha Mulholland continued to live in Dixboro with her son by her first marriage, Joseph Crawford.

Since John Mulholland had failed to leave a will, Martha was appointed administratrix of his estate, and three neighbors, Mathew N. Tillotson, Jabez Hawkins, and Frederick P. Townson, were ordered by the Probate Court to assist in preparing an inventory.

A year later, however, James Mulholland petitioned the Court to issue a new warrant of appraisal, since Martha has taken no action. He added that he himself was the principal creditor of his brother's estate.

In August, 1842, Martha requested the Court to appoint a new administrator because she herself has become incompetent. Although on previous occasions, she had signed her name in a clear hand, she signed this document by mark. An explanation for Martha's inaction is provided by A Spectator. She appears to have developed an illness similar to that of her dead sister. She was "melancholy and downcast, as if laboring under the dread of some secret danger...and often waked from her troubled sleep, frightened with horrid dreams...Frequently she would arouse herself from her slumber with cries and exclamations, shuddering and exhausted, as if endeavoring to escape some eminent danger."

A Spectator further tells us that "vague suspicions began to float among her neighbors, and former rumors...were revived."

Furthermore, she was "often subjected to the ill usage of her brother-in-law, who seemed to take every opportunity to make her life as full of trouble as possible." It was the opinion of many of the neighbors that James Mulholland's "only study was, how he might possess himself of the property which had been possessed by his brother and was now in the possession of his unfortunate widow."

Plymouth State Home . . . a pioneer in the field of the blind retardate.

Born With 2 Strikes

blind youngsters from 2 to 14. The ideal situation, according to Dr. Jaslow, would be to have a specially constructed building ready and waiting for those — the majority of the blind — who'll not ever be able to leave. "There, in a sheltered situation, they would at least be able to take care of themselves better."

But the future of the school's program for the blind isn't just tied to buildings; in fact, they, perhaps, are less important than erasing the image of the field of mental retardation as "dead, dull."

"Unless we get people in the university world enthused, willing to do research, we won't move on," Dr. Jaslow believes.

An example of the kind of research needed is one study done last year in conjunction with the University of Michigan. Then, a group of researchers attempted to trace the learning pattern of the blind, using sounds.

What they were trying to do is to determine how quickly a blind child could recognize a sound he'd heard earlier if it were disguised in several different ways. The results of this study can be used to help Plymouth State determine how rigid they must be in teaching the blind.

This one study by no means meets the research needs in the area of the blind. Still to be developed, among other things, are ways of testing the intelligence of the visionless, more sophisticated methods of teaching. More important, basic research in this area is needed: how the blind act, develop, learn, what prevents their learning.

In addition, the problem of working with the blind is one of finding people "who are creative." There's so little known about retardation, no training exclusively in the narrow field, that we have to have people who can improvise, Dr. Jaslow explains. "Even in hiring professionals, we have problems — so many are good technicians, so few can adapt."

With a note of optimism, Dr. Jaslow observed that "since doing so little on it has made such a change, it's indicative of more to come."

from the PASTOR'S STUDY

Rev. Lloyd Brasure
First Presbyterian Church

The book of Jonah has been called many things by many people of diverse religious loyalties and by some which no particular theistic belief or church affiliation. Probably one of the world's most popular and well-known fish stories, it has been downgraded all too often and its central teaching missed in the heat of argument.

Long ago there were people who thought God Almighty had smiled on them but not on their neighbors. This was part of Jonah's problem, when sent to Nineveh to speak the truth to the people. His attempt to run away from an assignment that was a difficult one is not too unusual a story. His desire to avoid the obvious truth that the love of God is for all people everywhere is found in many places in every generation.

Jonah's story suggests to us the modern application of a question such as this, "What are you trying to avoid in the way of duty or truth, or from what are you running?" In the life of God's children there will come a time of testing. Then the person will have to face up to doing something unpleasant that is a challenge to a belief or a feeling that might go back to earlier years, perhaps a bad experience, or to a person of mean and degraded mind. It is too easy to run from such an unpleasant task or decision. Emotion and sentiment will conjure up all manner of rationalizations. The mind will find an out, a place to run. Truth will be denied. All of us have known the time of "running away". Among us there is not one perfect.

This brief column was never meant to answer all questions. All conditions and problems should properly be dealt with in more detail than is possible here. As a contributor, my counsel to all readers is to consult your own clergyman for your own problems in the areas of religious beliefs and attitudes.

Be prepared to study your own needs, the situations that lead you to a hard decision. The Christian faith offers much satisfaction as it seeks to guide us to answers that strengthen us morally and ethically. "Be of good courage for the Lord will strengthen your heart."

SPEAKING for The Record

By BILL SLIGER

A blast of dynamite signalled the opening of construction last week of a 25 million dollar shopping center at Seven Mile and Middlebelt roads.

The sound couldn't be heard in Northville, but you can bet that there'll be local reverberations when the center opens in the fall of 1964.

The twin mall center will cover 60 acres, provide 700,000 square feet in store area and park 5,000 cars.

It's 10 minutes away.

As I write this, my ears already detect the grumblings of my fellow businessmen.

"What's the matter with that nut. It's bad enough that they're building the center. He doesn't have to remind everybody."

The day, of course, has passed when we can ignore what is happening around us. Television, handbills, radio, daily newspapers and sky-writers will flood the community when the "open for business" sign is ready to hang up.

And one day, there will be still another new center, perhaps on the other side of the community, and only five minutes away.

People moving into the area will determine how soon this will happen. The centers will follow them — reaching out to regain business lost in their original center, downtown Detroit.

Meanwhile, what do we do in a community like Northville?

We don't toss in our oars. We continue to pull.

But first we must determine our direction, so that we are working together.

The planning commission has already delved deeply into the subject. And it has come up with some definite recommendations.

I'm not at all certain they have the right answers; neither are the planners. But at least they have recognized the need for future planning and they have been willing to face up to facts. We need others to look at their work — to agree or disagree.

They say that a camel is the creation of a committee that set out to make a horse.

Nonetheless, Northville needs another committee. One composed of interested businessmen, elected officials, planners and just plain everyday citizens who care about the future of Northville.

I've heard a hundred ideas — let's make Northville a center for antiques . . . an art center . . . let's keep it as it is . . . why not apply for urban renewal assistance, etc.

It's time we tossed the problem on the table, decided exactly what we must do . . . what we can best do . . . to maintain and improve our own shopping center so that it, too, will attract its share of business.

Then we must join together in support of the agreed upon the program.

There's a famous song entitled "I Love a Parade" which, at the moment, isn't very popular in the Wallace Nichols' family.

Driving to St. Catherine's, Ontario to join their neighbors, the James Dingwalls, for a brief vacation last week in Canada, the Nichols' were driving rather hurriedly through Brantford.

Suddenly, they found that their car was part of a parade — and there was no way out.

Nichols never learned the reason for the celebration. (Maybe it was a salute to visiting Americans, Wally).

In God We Trust; In Arms Invest

Babson Park, Mass., Following publication of a recent release, certain readers indicated that they felt I placed too much confidence in drugs. Many of these critics are devoted Christian Scientists, for whom I have much respect.

Out of my deep respect for Congressman Charles E. Bennett of Florida, let me state that he was the person chiefly responsible for getting the motto "In God We Trust" placed on our paper currency.

Said Rep. Bennett: — It is my position that "In God We Trust" is the best possible phrase for us to officially designate as the national motto of the United States. Our forefathers had a deep and abiding trust in God, the greatest heritage left to us, their descendants.

But when nations become prosperous, the people tend to think of themselves as self-sufficient, as masters of their own destiny. The phrase "In God We Trust" simply but forcefully expresses our humble acknowledgement of the wisdom and power and mercy of God. I these days when imperialism and materialism seek to destroy freedom, we should continually look for ways to strengthen the foundations of our freedom. At the head should be America's faith in God and our desire to live by His will and guidance... (as was emphasized by Major Cooper in his recent talk before Congress.)

I wish our dollar bills and other currency could read, "In God We Should Trust", but I expect that Mr. Bennett would not have succeeded in persuading Congress to enact this law; therefore, I certainly commend what he has done. I must also, however, be frank with my readers — although I may be wrong. Here is my reasoning:

With the huge amounts of money which we are now spending on armaments, the motto "In God We Trust" must seem rather hypocritical to many nations of the West.

Also, nations such as Russia, China, and other Communist countries and their satellites including Cuba, as well as perhaps some Central and American countries, must likewise think us hypocrites.

It certainly seems as if Jesus must look with great despair when He sees us use the motto "In God We Trust" when we are really trusting in our missiles, bombers, and almost everything else except God. Although the majority of individuals are still putting trust in God, last year we as a nation spent over $40 billion on armaments compared with less than $5 billion to build and maintain churches, hospitals, and other helpful or charitable structures and organizations.

Many of my older readers will remember the teachings of Thomas Nixon Carver, who was a prominent clergyman and also secretary of the National Statistical Association of America. One of Mr. Carver's books which had a great circulation discusses the different religions and what is meant by God, making the point that the nation which will finally survive will be that nation whose citizens produce the most worthwhile people, irrespective of creed, race, color, or wealth.

When I personally visited Moscow five years ago, I found that Communism was the result of the cruelty practiced by the priests of the old Russian Church. These government priests talked about God and Jesus' Gospel, but absolutely ignored them in practice. This caused the Russian people to suppose that all religions would be cruel. This is really what started Communism. This cruelty has again arisen under the leadership of Castro in Cuba.

I hope I am wrong; but I fear that our adopting the motto "In God We Trust" and having it printed on our currency will not give the poor countries of the world the correct idea of what Jesus' teachings really were.

What we should do is to conduct a real campaign—supported by our embassies in all countries—to demonstrate our belief in the teachings of Jesus. We can with good conscious display the motto which our nation officially adopted through Mr. Bennett's Public Law 140.

Power in the Parties

The political workings of the Legislature in Lansing gives it something in common with the U.S. military forces; it's a wonder that either functions as well as it does.

In both House and Senate each party names a floor leader, or whip, and an assistant to him. In addition, each party has a caucus chairman. During the recent session, however, the titles borne by certain men did not exactly match the members who performed the duties of the positions, particularly in the Senate majority ranks.

The floor leader is charged with the responsibility of directing his party's debate whenever possible and making sure his colleagues stay in line on party questions. The caucus chairman is more strictly a presiding officer of the closed door party meetings, although he must be a strong-voiced leader.

In the Senate this year, for example, Sen. Stanley Thayer of Ann Arbor was named caucus chairman and Sen. William Milliken of Traverse City held the title of floor leader for the Republican majority.

But it was Grand Ledge Republican Sen. John W. Fitzgerald, son of the former governor, who exhibited most of the leadership for his party in the Senate.

Fitzgerald, one of the organizers and still chief spokesmen for the Senate group commonly known as the "young moderates," is the oldest of the trio of leadership in Senate service. He has served since the cash crisis session of 1959. Milliken and Thayer are both in the second terms.

Democrats named Sen. Raymond D. Dziedzic of Detroit as their leaders.

In the House, Detroit Democrat Joseph J. Kowalski retained his floor leader's title without contest. Kowalski is now serving his eighth term in the Legislature and works effectively in the floor leader's post.

Republicans named Rep. Robert E. Waldron of Grosse Pointe to succeed Allison Green of Kingston when Green was elected House

Speaker. Much of the direction for GOP floor action continued to be held by Green in his first session as Speaker, however. He also is GOP caucus chairman in the House.

Michigan could well be in for extensive Federal funds if a migrant labor aid program is approved by the U.S. House. The measure recently passed in the Senate.

As one of the leading states in the use of migrant laborers to harvest the crops, Michigan has several times come close to initiating a program of this type on its own.

Former State Rep. Edgar Currie, Detroit Democrat, tried for 10 years or better to get legislation adopted to require services and improved care for the migrant farm families working here.

Now Congress is giving serious consideration to four bills which would allow the outlay, in separate appropriations of an estimated $50 million for improved education, sanitation and working conditions of migrant laborers.

The bulk of the effort under the Senate plan would provide more than $35 million in matching funds to states to pay the cost of educating migrant children and establishing adult education programs for the workers.

Additional funds would be set aside for states which provided day care services for young children of migrant laborers, and sanitation facilities in field work areas.

These areas are almost precisely those which Currie attempted to get Michigan moneys for in past years. He met strongest opposition from legislators who feared the cost it would incur on farmers who employ the temporary labor. With Federal funds forthcoming the votes could shift.

The onset of summer brings to thousands of Michigan residents a problem known to non-sufferers as the sneezin' season.

Individuals bothered by hay fever or asthma during the hot, humid weather when the pollen count jumps sky high do not take this season as lightly, however. Boyne City, a popular spot for winter tourists, issues an open invitation to allergy sufferers to spend their summer there.

The community near Lake Charlevoix boats the purest air in the Midwest. In several years of testing, Boyne City never recorded a day the pollen count went over the distress point.

Chevy II Wagons — The heft of a suitcase. The rustle of a road map. There's something about one of these spruce, surprisingly spacious wagons that can turn even the routine preparations into a happy part of your trip.

Take that old bugaboo of packing, for instance. No bother. With the kind of room you get in that easy-loading cargo compartment, you can just about toss things in any old whichway and come out with space to spare. The load won't dampen the spirits of the spunky 6-cylinder engine either. It just hums along passing up gas pumps (there's also a choice of an even thrifter 4 in most models) like it didn't have a care in the world. Fact is, it has far fewer cares than most engines — being built with the special knack Chevrolet engineers have for dependability and ease of maintenance.
