

The gray routes indicate Novi road and the Eight Mile road cut-off as they now exist. The darkened routes show the proposed widening of the Novi road curve, the divided entry-exit between Novi road and the cut-off (which would result in the closing off of Novi road west of the divided routes to Novi street), and the new road swinging south and eastward off Novi road.

Propose New Novi Road Entrance

The Wayne County Road Commission has submitted recommendations to the Northville city council for possible correction of the Novi road entrance into the community from the north.

The proposal, submitted in sketch form for "review and comment," came as the result of a meeting between members of the Oakland and Wayne county road commissions called to help resolve the oft-criticized intersection of Novi road and the Eight Mile road cut-off.

Most sweeping change would be a completely new road that would permit southbound traffic to continue onto old Baseline and Griswold and eastward around the city.

The first proposal calls for re-establishment of the connection with old Novi road. The route would swing east and connect with the Eight Mile cut-off at a point east of the bridge. This plan would leave the entrance curve into the city from Novi road the same.

This proposal had no support from the council.

Plan two was more favorably received. It introduced a new road swinging east off Novi road to a point almost directly across from the Allen drive entrance into the Village Green subdivision.

The new road would swing in an arc eastward and south and connect with the cutoff just west of the present intersection of old Eight Mile and the new cut-off. The turn connection at this intersection would be moved westward.

Northville councilmen favored the plan in conjunction with this proposal that would widen the Novi road curve into the city and provide a divided entrance and exit at the cut-off.

The preferred proposal would close off the entrance of Novi road onto Novi street. Novi road entrance and exit at the Eight Mile road cut-off would be moved eastward and be divided. The end portion of Novi road where it now intersects at right-angles with Novi street would be closed to traffic.

This would eliminate what police have termed a dangerous intersection at Novi street and Novi road.

Just how near the plan is to realization is hazy. City Manager Bruce Potthoff noted that the county plans were sketchy. He expressed doubt that the proposals had reached the serious drawing board stage.

But Northville councilmen were nevertheless relieved that some attention is being given the condition that has caused traffic problems, both as a dangerous curve and as a funnel that directs all southbound truck traffic down Center street.

$14 Investment Nets Jazzy Return

Ten years ago former principal Elroy Ellison invested 14 dollars in an idea of Band Director Robert Williams.

Today that investment is cultivating musical talent at Northville high school the likes of which cannot be found in most high schools in the United States.

It launched an extra-curricular jazz band that has won the applause of professional musicians from throughout Michigan and other parts of the nation.

"The talent some of these kids possess," Williams explains, "is simply amazing. Professional people tell me the same thing."

Last year, for example, Northville's jazz band was the only high school group in Michigan to perform at the National Collegiate Jazz Band Festival at Albion. And the 20-piece band has been invited back to participate again this year.

George West, band director at Michigan State university, was one of several who expressed amazement at the local band's professional-like polish at Albion. That statement, plus the fact that Northville shared the spotlight with top college bands — including the national collegiate winners, is a pretty good indication of the success of a 14 dollar investment.

And if that isn't enough consider the fact that last year after performing at a clinic in Detroit for professionals, the local group — particularly the brass section — garnered special praise, were given music stands, and then were treated to a big dinner.

Just what is this band, how was it started, what does it do?

With the 14 dollars contributed by Ellison, Williams purchased 14 arrangements and a week later the band played its first student dance.

The arrangements were for small bands, Williams explains, "so we sat down and put in extra parts, studied mood, chords, notes and really became involved. The result is that they've become really strong."

According to Williams, the jazz band is a collection of top musical students who are eager to learn, to go beyond the normal requirements of a high school musician.

Only those students who are members of good standing in the high school symphony band, who audition for veteran members of the jazz band, and who win the unanimous vote of all members and the director are accepted.

"A fellow or girl just has to cut the mustard," says Williams. "They're reading and playing music that 15 years ago even the professionals would not touch."

"It would be the same if you took the top trackmen and made them run for an hour — at the limits of their endurance. Then only those who performed the best would be selected."

Out of this selectivity comes an esprit de corps that any football coach would give his eye tooth to own.

"And since it's an extra-curricular activity, the student is on his own. There's no pushing. He's got to want to produce, to do his best always. If he doesn't hold up it's goodbye."

Aside from the fact that the band gives talented students an opportunity to cultivate their skills, the professionalism rubs off onto others who might otherwise be content with mediocrity, Williams contends.

It provides a challenge to youngsters coming up in the system, he adds.

Playing jazz, he explains, has no adverse affects upon the student's participation in classical music. "Actually, it increases phrasing, emphasizes ensemble, and it doesn't change tone or tongue position a bit."

One of the most fascinating by-products of the band, according to Williams, has been the writing of many arrangements by students themselves. And these are included among the numbers played by the band. "We've had people who listened to a record once or twice and then sat down and wrote excellent arrangements of their own."

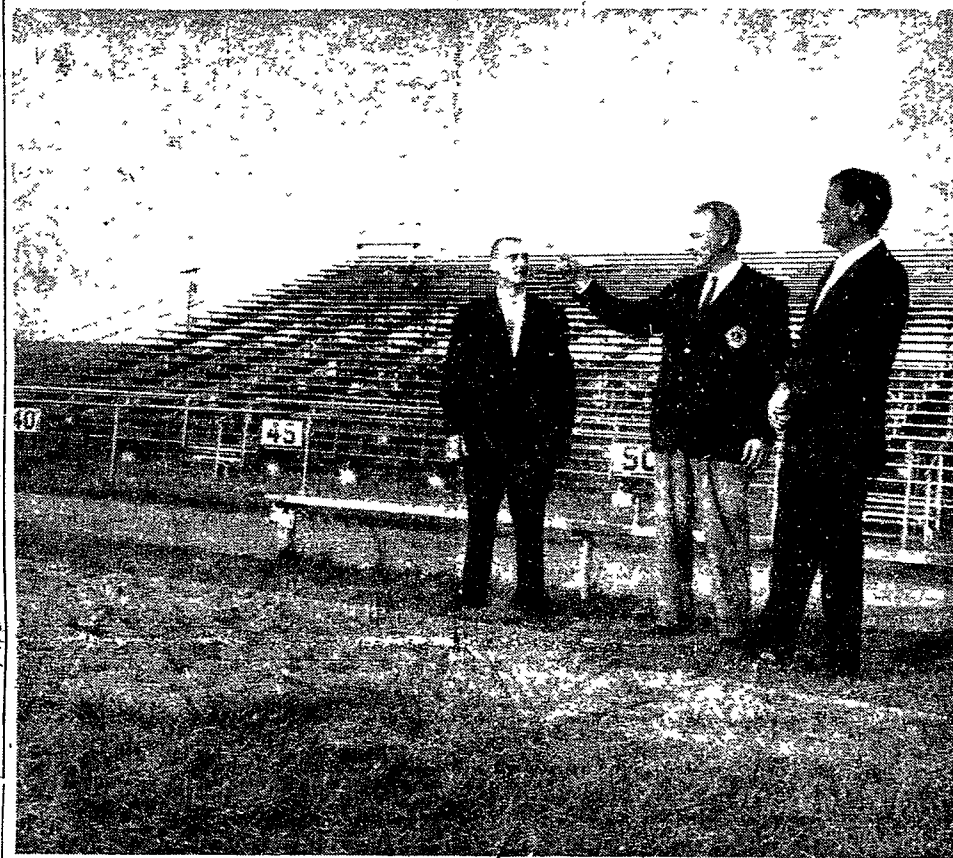

For many, the jazz band has been a spring board into professional careers or training ground for top college band positions.

Williams points out that just this past year George Berryman had an opportunity to play with Les Elgart's band. He chose college instead. And Donna Williams and Carol Leavenworth are top candidates to become the first girls ever to play with the famous lab and television band at Michigan State university.

Current members of the band include:

Saxophone — Gail Nirider, lead alto; Earl Cherne, Bob Van Hellemont, Glenn Diebert, Leonard Rickett, Sue Yoder; Trumpets — Chris Moase, lead; Danny Larkin, Kris Diebert, Phil Muller, Chuck Hummell, Tom Pruett; Trombones — Jo Hildebrandt and Sue Hill, lead, Sue Reed, Pat Moase, Ron Asher; Rhythm — Forest Malott, bass, Carol Klopfenstein, piano, Mary Severance, guitar, and Dave Schmidt, Gary Williams, Frank Friemund, drums.

BAND PLANS — This international trio of Jaycees is making on-the-site plans for Saturday night's Jaycee International Band Festival. The event will be staged at the Northville high school athletic field at eight o'clock. It will feature Canadian and Michigan bands, including the Pipe Band of Leamington under the direction of Pipe Major Jock Copland, M.B.E. Northville high school's marching band will also perform. Shown above (l. to r.) are Northville Jaycee Dick Koziara, Ray Robinson of Windsor, Canada, and Karl Knoth, Northville Jaycee president. Robinson came to Northville Sunday to help make arrangements for appearance of the Canadian bands.

TV Spanish Classes Spark Pupil Enthusiasm

Enthusiastic response to classroom television teaching was noted here in an informal report to the Northville board of education Monday night.

Referring to oral Spanish classes by television that have been incorporated in the Northville elementary schools this fall, Amerman School Principal C. E. Spear said that both pupils and teachers appear to be enthusiastic in early stages of the program.

However, Spear predicted that as the class progresses a few of the students are likely to lose their interest. This loss of interest can be expected, he explained, since some children simply cannot appreciate or cope with a foreign language.

He suggested that at the completion of the first semester some determination probably will be made as to which children should continue.

Currently, one third grade, fourth grade, and one sixth grade sections are involved in the Spanish program, which is voluntary on the part of the teachers. Similar arrangements are underway at the Main Street school, but TV reception difficulty has temporarily curtailed the program at that school.

To implement the program, which involves conversational instruction originating at a Detroit studio under the sponsorship of the Detroit board of education, part of regular class time is devoted to this purpose, according to Superintendent Russell Amerman.

Several other kinds of instruction are available through the television program, but only Spanish and science are being used at this time.

In commenting on the program, Spear contended that some consideration should be given to a "follow-up" program for the junior high school level so that initial instruction can be supplemented before entry into senior high school.

On Wednesday 250 students at Our Lady of Victory school will take the tuberculosis test starting at 9 a.m. while 535 students at Amerman elementary school will submit to the tuberculosis testing of Northville school children during the current school year begins Monday.

Teams from the Southeastern Michigan TB Detection Project begin their search for hidden tuberculosis at the Main Street elementary school where 562 students will be tested in the morning of the opening day. Another 297 students enrolled at tests starting at 11 a.m. More than 3,100 school children and employees of school systems in Wayne, Monroe, Washtenaw, Oakland, Macomb and St. Clair counties were found to be infected with tuberculosis germs during a tuberculosis testing survey by project teams in the last school year.

The project is financed by the state and local health departments and Christmas Seal agencies in each of the counties.

Speed-Up Bond Sale

Construction Of Plant Near

A final "push" to complete the sale of debentures for the Northville Area Development Corporation's first project was underway this week.

At the same time the project — a $185,000 expansion of Foundry Flask & Equipment Company — was ready for ground-breaking.

The project, which has been running hot and cold all summer, appears now to have cleared its final hurdle.

Construction was scheduled to begin this week with John E. Roth & Sons as general contractors.

Nelson C. Schrader heads the sale of debentures for the project. He expressed confidence that the six per cent rendering debentures would be completely sold within a matter of a few weeks.

Schrader noted that sale of debentures had stopped when construction plans were delayed.

Work on the Foundry Flask expansion project began nearly one year ago. Announcement that the newly-formed economic development group would act as a vehicle for obtaining a government loan for the firm was made six months ago. The loan application was approved by the Small Business Administration at that time.

Loan for the project is made directly to the development group, which will own the 120 by 150-foot building addition and lease it to the company for 15 years, or until indebtedness is retired. The building will then be sold to the firm for $1.00.

As its share of the loan the non-profit development corporation must sell $27,500 worth of debentures.

It has nearly $10,000 remaining to be sold.

The Foundry Flask expansion has been called "badly needed" by John A. Weber, president. It will reduce material handling problems and permit the firm to increase volume.

The firm just recently completed installation of a new stress-relieving furnace unit housed in a new building which will adjoin the addition.

Weber has estimated that the expansion will boost employment from 50 to 65-70 employees.

been directed to Schrader or A. R. Clarke at Manufacturers National Bank in Northville. The bank will act as official registrar and paying agent for the debentures.

The young economic development corporation is presently headed by G. A. Smith, Jr., currently working on two other possible new industries for the Northville area in addition to the expansion of the existing Foundry Flask.

An annual meeting for the election of three directors has been called for Wednesday, October 9 at the community building. A report on all projects will be made to members at the 8 p.m. meeting.

Corporation officers in addition to Smith include: Donald Lawrence, vice president; Bruce Potthoff, secretary; Fred Kester, treasurer; John Canterbury, Eugene Cook, H. B. Putnam, Robert Shafer, Gunnar Stromberg, directors. The terms of Lawrence, Potthoff and Shafer expire this year.

City May Lose Justice Court

What, if anything, should be done to preserve the identity of a local court system?

As the State Legislature moves closer to implementation of requirements in the new constitution, local officials are becoming more concerned with the answer to this question.

And, according to Justice of Peace Charles W. McDonald, unless a local decision is made soon there is a strong possibility that the city may lose its court system identity forever.

Under the new constitution, the fee system for justice of peace courts has been eliminated and the justice court system itself no longer has constitutional foundation.

Although Northville does not have a fee system, McDonald fears that the city may lose its court system completely. He outlined the problem in an informal report to the council recently.

As a result of his report, the council has instructed City Attorney Philip Ogilvie to check into the constitutional change in the justice court system and into other area changes affecting city government.

As remedial legislation looms, two basic plans are under consideration on the state level. These, said McDonald, include:

—establishment of a county district court with the responsibility of handling all judicial cases for several communities.

—expansion of the Detroit common pleas court to handle all Wayne county cases now heard in justice courts.

In either case, McDonald said, local court identity would be lost, resulting ultimately in inconvenience to local citizens, increased police expenditure, loss of local judicial jurisdiction, and loss of local revenue.

Because of its location and its unique position as being the only city in Wayne county with a justice of peace system, there is little possibility that Northville will be selected as a district court center, he said. Livonia is more ideally situated for such a court, he added.

McDonald's proposed solution to the problem is the establishment here of a municipal court system, which would require a change in the city's charter. But if remedial legislation is enacted before steps are taken locally, Northville may lose this opportunity, he warned.

A municipal court system, he explained, would be very similar to the present JP system except that a judge would be required to have a law degree. Judicial processes and court procedures would remain the same, he said.

City Receives Project Money

The city received a welcome envelope from the federal government last week.

It contained a check for $34,250.

The money represents 25 per cent payment of the government's half of the new city hall-library project.

Northville received a $137,000 federal grant for the new municipal building under the government's public works acceleration act.

It was the first payment received by the city.

City Manager Bruce Potthoff reports work on the city hall-library progressing satisfactorily. He noted that workmen will complete the fire hall section, probably in November or December, so that fire equipment may be moved from temporary quarters.

Engaged

Carolyn E. Forth

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur E. Forth of 21718 Kilrush drive, Connemara Hills, announced the engagement of their daughter, Carolyn E. to David Scott Owen of Detroit at a dinner party last week in the bride-elect's home.

A summer wedding is planned.

A 1959 graduate of Northville high school, Miss Forth is now a secretary with D & H Osgood company of Detroit.

Her fiancé, son of Mrs. Ivan C. Owen and the late Mr. Owen of Detroit, is a graduate of Grace Hospital of X-Ray technology.

He is a member of the American Registry of X-Ray Technicians and the Detroit Society of X-Ray Technicians.

Service Guild

Members of the Wesleyan service guild of the First Methodist church, Northville, will hold their first fall meeting at 8 p.m. Tuesday at the home of Mrs. John Lahr, 407 N. Center.

Mrs. Charles Denuene will be co-hostess.

Reports will be given on the annual guild mission week end held last June at Albion college.

Lambert - Clark Wed In Double Ring Ceremony

Judy Lambert and John A. Clark exchanged wedding vows recently in a double ring ceremony at Our Lady of Victory Catholic Church.

Officiating at the 11 a.m. ceremony on Saturday, August 31 was the Rev. Father John Wittstock of Our Lady of Victory.

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Lambert of 19711 Clement road, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John M. Clark of Detroit.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor length gown of pure silk organza and Alençon lace, featuring a scalloped lace neckline, full skirt with appliques cascading down the front, and a chapel train. A bouffant veil was attached to a crown of pearls.

Complementing the gown was a cultured pearl necklace gift of the groom. Her flowers were white orchids, stephanotis and miniature carnations.

Serving as matron of honor was Mrs. James (JoAnn) Walker of South Lyon, sister of the bride. She was gowning in a raspberry taffeta sheath with organza overskirt. She carried a cascading bouquet of Bacara roses, accentuated with tiny rose buds.

Bridesmaids were Miss Corinne Bertoit of Chicago and formerly of Northville and Mrs. John Eisenhart, a cousin of Ypsilanti. Their gowns were similar to that worn by the matron of honor, and they also carried bouquets of Bacara roses.

Best man for the bridegroom was Duane Clark of Detroit, brother of the groom.

Other attendants were Pete Caprara and Greg Sebel also of Detroit.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Lambert wore a light blue, re-embroidered silk organza sheath with matching accessories. The bridegroom's mother chose blue brocade with a bell skirt with matching accessories. Both wore orchids.

Soloist for the occasion was Mrs. Phyllis Mitchell, who sang "Ave Maria" and "On This Day On Beautiful Mother".

Following the ceremony, approximately 100 guests attended a breakfast reception in the Knights of Columbus Hall.

For her going away outfit, the new Mrs. Clark chose a black and white suit with black accessories. Following a motor trip through Canada, the newlyweds took up residence in Livonia.

In Our Town:

Benefit Marathon Sparks Bridge Play

BRIDGE IS NORTHVILLE'S GAME — from breakfast-brunch gatherings to late-evening duplicate clubs there are games in progress at almost any hour in this card-conscious community.

If proof were needed of this "thirteen-card" fever, it was supplied when Mother's Club announced its first marathon bridge tournament. Fund raising was as easy as a one-bid as three 20-member teams were formed.

Two evening teams of 10 couples each are in play as well as an all-women's afternoon team. First of the scheduled nine sessions are being played this month and next with results being tabbed by Mrs. William C. Wiley, Mrs. Harold Wright and Mrs. Gordon Forrer.

Response to the marathon was so enthusiastic that it was decided at Mother's club meeting Monday night to see if an additional team might yet be formed. This would bring the score to 80 participants!

Mrs. Gordon Forrer has already hosted her own luncheon bridge group for its first fall session this month.

Resuming, too, as youngsters returned to school was another two-table luncheon group which met last week at the Main street home of Mrs. O. J. Robinson.

An afternoon duplicate bridge group is meeting this Thursday at the home of Mrs. George Weiss on Grace street with three tables playing.

A former Northville resident, Mrs. George F. Newman, is entertaining a Northville group at her Farmington home this Friday.

Six couples will be playing Saturday, October 5, when Mr. and Mrs. Blake Coast host their duplicate club at their Nine Mile road home.

MEMBERS OF NORTHVILLE'S DISTAFF BOTANISTS group will be far from their chrysanthemums that afternoon as they open their year this Thursday with a luncheon at the Top of the Flame restaurant in Detroit.

Mrs. William Kelly is this year's chairman for the 15-member group of women gardening enthusiasts who have been meeting monthly for the past two-and-a-half years.

HOW LONG IS A NEW RESIDENT a newcomer in the Northville area? For its membership tea last week newcomers club decided — three years. About 60 "newcomers" attended the tea given in the Woodhill road homes of Mrs. John Walker and Mrs. H. O. Evans. The two-home arrangement worked out very well, the hostesses report, as Mrs. Walker's farm colonial is just four houses away from Mrs. Evans' New Orleans white-colonial. Both were delighted that very-recently-arrived newcomers turned out for the tea with many joining the group.

Taking turns at the tea services were Mrs. E. O. Weber, Mrs. James Tellum, Mrs. Fred Barnes, Mrs. Stewart Duguid, Mrs. Charles VanNeste, Mrs. David Vincent, Mrs. Walter Murphy, Mrs. Frank Sullivan, Mrs. Donald Carr, Mrs. P. J. Wegeng, Mrs. Carl Henderson, Mrs. Douglas Knapp, Mrs. Orin Hove, Mrs. Walter Avery, Mrs. Elwyn Kaake and Mrs. Arthur Hempe.

Mrs. William G. Williams and Mrs. John W. Blackburn will be co-hostesses at a luncheon baby shower to be given Friday at the home of Mrs. Williams of Eaton drive. The 20 guests will honor Mrs. Boris Dimitroff, the former Suzie Cowie, who will be home from Michigan State university to visit her parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Cowie. Because he is a member of the Spartan football team, Mr. Dimitroff will not be accompanying his wife.

Mrs. Blackburn also will be entertaining her daughter, Mrs. Noble L. Smith, and her nine-month-old son, Noble III, who are flying in from Alexandria, Virginia. Mr. Smith will join his family in a week.

15 MYF Members Attend Convention

Fifteen young people from the Senior High Methodist Youth Fellowship of the First Methodist church of Northville attended the Annual Fall State Convocation held in the Methodist church at Owosso, September 20-22.

The keynote speaker was the Reverend Robert Regan, Jr. of Washington, D.C. Dr. Regan is a member of the General Board of Christian Social Concerns of the Methodist church. His theme was, "God Created Man."

On Sunday morning the young people attended the morning worship service in the beautiful new First Church and heard Dr. Don Morris speak. Housing was in private homes.

GOING, GOING, GONE — These words created plenty of excitement Saturday as hundreds attended the auction-rummage sale during the two-day Fall Festival at Our Lady of Victory. The little girl at the left moved in close to make sure her bid was heard.

Label Fall Festival A Tremendous Success

Officials have labeled the Fall Festival at Our Lady of Victory last weekend as "tremendously" successful.

While proceeds and attendance figures were not available by publication time, a spokesman said the event was exceptionally well received.

Winners of the prizes were: Television, Mrs. Louella Gilen of Ann Arbor; $100 basket, Stewart Duguid, 20336 Woodhill; two Town Hall tickets, George Bundoff of 12 Mile road; hair dryer, Mrs. Tom Purdy, 21301 Summerside Lane; bedspread, James Miller, 41001 Seven Mile road; and can opener, B. Miller of Farmington.

Officials also reported that a telegram had been received from Governor Romney. It read: "Very sorry, but very busy schedule prevents my accepting your most cordial invitation to attend Fall Festival Saturday of Our Lady of Victory. My best wishes for a most successful and memorable festival. Best regards, George Romney."

Annual Fair At Hospital Draws Near

Excitement is mounting at Northville State Hospital where patients eagerly await the Eleventh Annual Patients Fair slated for October 1 and 2.

With plans all but complete, only inclement weather can halt the spinning of the bingo wheels, the start of the dice-horse races, the ball throws, and the shooting gallery.

More than 20 groups comprising 150 volunteers, plus hospital employees, will make sure that the 17 booths are monitored and well supplied with prizes.

Should rainy weather take the place of expected Indian summer, arrangements are completed for the outdoor event to be held later that week or the following week, according to Louis J. Schult, director of community relations at the hospital.

Added this year to the music, which will be provided by Eddie Schick and his orchestra of Detroit, and an organization provided by the Smith Music company of Plymouth, will be a busy group of puppets operated on a portable stage by Mrs. Walter Ruessman of Bloomfield Hills.

Although many of the patients can't play quickly enough to win prizes in the games of chance, others have a wonderful afternoon keeping beat with the band or watching extra entertainment that is planned, Schult explained.

On the first afternoon of the fair, Mrs. Byron Champion of Plymouth, hospital chairman for this year's fair, will be honored as volunteer of the week by United Community Services of Metropolitan Detroit. Her interest in volunteer activities for the hospital patients date from 1952 and every year, through several organizations, she has given hours of service to patients.

Among those persons from the Northville area who will head up committees for the fair are: Wallace Westerfield, booths; Mrs. Florence Bonner, prize sorting; Mrs. Vivian champion, hospitality; and Miss Roberta Carr, decorations.

Among the local area groups participating or providing financial assistance for the fair and their chairman are:

Northville Newcomers Club, Mrs. F. F. Ishac; Northville Optimist club, Roger McClain; Northville Psychiatric Association, Francis Collins; and Northville State Hospital Auxiliary, Mrs. Gladys Horning.

Northville Man to Lead Poetry Class

A Northville man will lead a class in great poetry which will get underway October 2 in the Plymouth high school.

He is Harold Hartley, Sr. of 630 Randolph.

The class, sponsored by the Plymouth Recreation and Adult Education division, will offer the following program:

October 2 — Herman Melville and the poetry of "Moby Dick."

October 9 — Prose poetry of Ivan Turgenev.

October 18 — Prose poetry of Rimbaud, Baudelaire and other French poets.

October 23 — Greek poetry of the Periclean Age.

October 30 — Guest lecturer, to be announced later.

November 6 — Contemporary South American poetry.

All classes will be held in Room 111 on Wednesdays, 7:30 to 9 p.m. Cost of the class is $5. Checks may be sent to the Plymouth and Adult Education division, Plymouth high school.

Hartley will bring a keen understanding of poetry into the class as leader. A poet himself, he has had several works published. Last year, for example, Doubleday & Company published one of his poems in an anthology, and this year the Young Publications of Virginia includes one of his poems in an anthology entitled: Modern American Lyrics. Best of Contemporary Poetry.

A carpenter and cabinetmaker by trade, Hartley is a vigorous craftsman who, when he takes time off for resting, listens to the music of Bach and other masters, and then proceeds to write poetry.

The members of Wixom community held a welcoming reception for the new pastor of First Baptist church of Wixom, Rev. Robert Warren. Visiting pastors were from West Bloomfield, Walled Lake, Novi and Northville.

A history of the church was given by Joseph Porter. The church is 125 years old. A light lunch was served following the program.

Mr. and Mrs. Evert-Petteys have left for Florida having spent the summer in Highland.

Mayor and Mrs. Wesley McAtee are the proud parents of a new baby girl, weighing over six pounds. She was born in St. Mary's hospital, Livonia Monday, September 23. The McAtees have three other daughters and one son.

I look upon every day to be lost,

— Samuel Johnson

James Weatherdons and sons Scott, Brian and Randy

Frequent trips to the Northville area over the past several years led finally to the move of the James Weatherdon family to a new home at 387 Welch.

Now settled in their home after moving from Redford township about a month ago, James and Ruth Weatherdon and their three sons are convinced they made the right move — even though they felt an attachment years ago while visiting Mrs. Weatherdon's brother, Leonard Broquet, at 42100 West Eight Mile road.

The sons of the Weatherdons are Scott, 11, a seventh grader; Brian, 10, a fifth grader at Amerman; and Randy, 3½, who spends his time keeping mom busy at home. Another important member of the family is Pepie, a friendly black poodle.

Mr. Weatherdon is a plant security employee at General Motors' Detroit Diesel plant. He's been with GM for nine years.

Born and raised in the Detroit area, the Weatherdons had lived in Redford for nearly 12 years before moving here. "We had been looking for a suitable home in the Northville area for a long time. Our boys love sports and the outdoors so Northville seemed like an ideal place to live.

"Right now our older boys particularly like archery. But they also enjoy swimming and just about any sport. Scott is looking forward to the basketball season."

Mr. and Mrs. Weatherdon derive much of their enjoyment in working with groups at the Evangelical Covenant Church, located at Eight Mile and Telegraph. Some of their church work has been limited, however, since their move to Northville.

Another "hobby" of the Weatherdons is traveling — even though traveling may be only a ride through the country on a Sunday afternoon. Recently, the family returned from a trip East where they visited Washington, D.C., West Virginia, and a brother of Mr. Weatherdon, who is a retired lieutenant colonel.

"We just loved it. The boys particularly enjoyed visiting the famous landmarks in the Capitol. It was our first trip East."

- BIRTHS -

Wixom Mayor and Mrs. Wesley McAtee of 3023 West Maple road are proudly announcing the birth of their fifth child, a baby girl, born Monday at St. Mary's hospital in Livonia.

The baby, who has not yet been named, weighed six pounds three ounces at birth.

Awaiting the arrival home of their new sister are Terry 8, Jackie 7, Valerie 5, and Wesley 2. Maternal grandmother is Mrs. Richard Bachus of Howell.

Mrs. Gordon McKinney of Lake street who are visiting with their daughter and son-in-law and the new David Bryant.

Great grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. J. L. McKinney of Rayson street.

Women to Show Paintings Here

An oil and watercolor exhibit of three Ann Arbor artists will open with a reception on Sunday, September 29, 2 to 6 p.m. at the Hartley-Powers Gallery, 116 East Main street. It will run through October 12. All three artists, Patricia Alting, Alice Crawford, and Sue Hodges, are associated with the Artist's Gallery at Ann Arbor, and have appeared in many state shows.

Patricia Alting, originally of Worcester, Massachusetts is a world traveler; Alice Crawford of the U. of M., is a mural painter who has exhibited in Brazil; and Sue Hodges, who studied art at the U. of M., has had work exhibited throughout the state.

DEADLINE

TUESDAY NOON

Card of Thanks

I want to thank my relatives, neighbors and friends for their kind thoughtfulness of me during my illness, in the hospital and at home. Also for the nice visits, cards, flowers and gifts.

My appreciation to the Novi fire department for their efforts in aiding my late mother during her sudden heart attack and my father who recently became seriously ill but is now recovering satisfactorily. Val-Jen Court Family.

The Association of Parents and Friends of the Wayne County Training School wish to express their appreciation to the Washington Boys club and Lechard Bogotiatius for their help at our carnival Sunday. Thanks again.

I would like to thank everyone for their visits, calls, flowers and gifts I received while I was at St. Joseph hospital and since I have been home. Thanks go to Dr. Smith for being so kind, Rev. Nicholas for his many calls and a special thanks to Ann Manning for caring for my little boy. Thanks to everyone who was so kind to my family while I was gone.

P-TA to Receive Tips On Coping with 'Junior'

How does the parent keep ahead of his child?

That and many other interesting questions will be answered here on Wednesday, October 2 when the Man Street Elementary P-TA holds its first meeting of the new school year.

The meeting, which will feature as speaker Arthur Ruhl, an authority on his topic "What Makes Dennis the Menace", will get underway at 8 p.m. in the community building.

Principal Harry Smith and his teaching staff will be on hand to greet new and familiar parents during the program.

Also at this first meeting, a mystery trophy will be unveiled. It will be presented to the

Northville Council Minutes

The regular meeting of the Northville City Council was called to order by Mayor Allen on Tuesday, September 3, 1963, 8:00 p.m. at the City Hall. Present: Allen, Ambler, Canterbury, Carlson and Kester. Absent: None.

Moved by Canterbury, supported by Ambler that bills in the following amounts be paid: General, $6,973.03; Water, $11,536.57. Unanimously carried.

Communications:

A letter was received from the Detroit Edison Company stating they would assume the cost (approximately $1,000) for removal of old City Hall service and relocation of new. The Mayor asked that a thank you letter be sent to Detroit Edison Company.

Information from the Northville Record concerning their special edition commemorating the 100th anniversary of the birth of Henry Ford and quoting rates for advertisements was read. This was tabled until September 16 meeting.

Communications from Citizens:

Mr. Clyde Fulton, attorney for Foundry Flak appeared before Council regarding the proposed sewer line (Novi Sanitary Sewer) running back of their property. City Attorney reported that his conversation with Mr. Neglesch, Oakland County DPW staff indicated that Mr. Bingham of Wayne County felt they would allow taps into this line. After a lengthy discussion concerning the policy related to this situation, it was moved by Carlson, supported by Kester that agreement, waiving tap-in fees, be drawn between the City of Northville and people owning property where an easement has been given to allow the Novi Sanitary Sewer to cross their land. Mr. Neglesch is to be called to determine property owners that might be affected in addition to Foundry Flak. Yeas: Canterbury, Carlson and Kester. Nays: Ambler (Allen abstained).

Sanitary sewer — $4500.
Water — $5900.
The city manager is to have figures on possible taps for this project and report at September 16th meeting. Council felt that the land adjacent to the stream should be a dedicated right-of-way and the City engineer is to supply figures on tiling for same.

Beniecke and Krue were told that subject to plat approval they could go ahead with Welch Rd. extension.

The annual audit was received by the council. After consideration of the list of streets to be improved, it was moved by Canterbury, supported by Kester that this city engineer do the engineering for West St. (Dunlap to Randolph), Pennell (Grisswald to Butler) and Butler St. Unanimously carried.

The city manager spoke about a previous recommendation by Wayne County to revamp the light at the intersection and install corner lights at Main St. and Center St. The approximate cost would be $2300 — the city's share would be $1150.

Moved by Ambler, supported by Carlson that the city manager be instructed to proceed with the above recommended change to corner lights at Dunlap and Center Sts. Unanimously carried.

The city manager is to check with the Police Department regarding cars being ticketed on Saturdays and Sundays on N. Center between Main and Dunlap streets. This is only to be done on week days.

Miscellaneous:
The city manager is to see that Mr. McGreevy distributes notices to all residents regarding hours and days for garbage and rubbish pick-up and details as to what can be picked up by this service.

Mr. Ambler asked that back of the Scout-Recreation building be graded. The council unanimously agreed to have this done.

The city engineer is to check the drain situation in back of the Scout-Recreation building. Council unanimously agreed to authorize the Recreation Director and Commission to have the Northville Playhouse group do the work on cupboards, lockers, etc. under the direction of Mr. Cohley.

Council asked that street lighting program be placed on agenda for September 16th. Mr. Canterbury mentioned the fact the dedication of the Scout-Recreation building should be in the planning stages. There being no further business the meeting adjourned at 12:20 a.m.

Bids Sought For Post Office

The Post Office Department is seeking competitive bids to build and lease the new Northville post office. Deputy Postmaster General Sidney W. Bishop announced this week.

Under the Department's Lease Construction program, the site selected at the south-west corner of South Wing and West City streets will be assigned to the successful bidder, who will purchase the property, construct the building according to departmental specifications and lease it to the Post Office Department for a basic period of ten years, with options to renew the lease for an additional twenty years.

Colts Lose At Redford

The Northville junior varsity griders couldn't cope with experience and size September 19 as they dropped a 28-6 decision to Redford Union there.

The home Col. touchdown in the recently scheduled game was scored by Dick McIsaac in the final period. He picked up a loose ball and raced 67 yards across the goal line.

Since the JV's are short on personnel this year due to a large contingent of freshmen and sophomores on the varsity, they performed well. "We'll work on fundamentals," said Coach Brian Dunn, "and we'll especially work with the defensive linemen."

According to Dunn, the passing game didn't look too bad, and with work the running game should improve. Two boys performed exceptionally well. Chris Holman, a quarterback, made some nice moves, and Tackle Mike Mahoney looked good on offense and defense, Dunn noted.

Perhaps the greatest handicap was the lack of linemen replacements to relieve the tiring regulars. Dunn has only 15 linemen to work with. The Colts will next meet Holy October 1 here.

In Justice Court

Three persons paid fines in Northville justice court Monday.

J. C. Diekey of Plymouth changed his plea to guilty on two different traffic violations after pleading innocent on both counts a week earlier.

Justice of Peace Charles McDonald fined him $50, and $10 costs, or 20 days for reckless driving, and $15 and $5 costs for failure to stop at the command of an officer. He paid both fines.

Charles Mummary of 384 First Street was found guilty of permitting a dog to run at large and was fined $5.

Steven A. Willis of Plymouth pleaded guilty of driving a car with improper license plates and was fined $5.

Three persons were fined in Novi justice court Thursday before Justice of Peace Emory E. Jacques.

Barney Gline of Union Lake pleaded guilty to a charge of assault and battery and was fined $35 and placed on two-years probation.

A $10 fine was levied against Frank Griffin of Detroit, who was found guilty of making a right-hand turn on a red light.

James Craft of Detroit, who pleaded innocent to the charge of reckless driving, was found not guilty of the charge, but he was found guilty of careless driving. He was fined $10.

College Night Set For October 8

"College Night" for juniors and seniors of Northville, Farmington, North Farmington, and Walled Lake high schools will be held at the Walled Lake high school on October 8. Northville Principal Fred Stefanski revealed this week.

According to the principal, juniors and seniors and their parents are invited to attend the meeting, which will be held from 7:30 to 10 p.m. College representatives will be present for the program.

Let Contracts For College Library

Contracts for construction of a $474,500 library were approved Monday evening by the board of trustees of the new Schoolcraft College.

The three low bidders are: Schurrer Construction company, general contractor; Gilles Plumbing & Heating, Inc. plumbing; and Jones-Sherman, Inc., electrical.

The new library will include a wing of eight classrooms and a language laboratory, which, with expansion of the college, will become all library space. The initial combination of library and classroom was an economy move by trustees.

LET'S TALK CARS . . .

Are Women
Safer Drivers
Than Men?

Well, statistically it can be shown that they are. Then again, it can be statistically shown that they aren't. So if you're in mixed company, here are some statistics you can use for both sides.

Women hold about 39% of all driving licenses, yet last year they got into only 19% of all accidents. So that's simple. They're the safest drivers, huh?

But wait a minute there gals. Another one of those statistics kept on digging and he came up with the conclusion that men drive more than women. Figuring it out on an accident-per-miles travelled basis it comes out that men have 18% fewer accidents by day and 3% fewer by night. If you're still not satisfied with the figures you can take it up with the U.S. Bureau of Roads who issued them.

If you ever have occasion to pull a trailer, even the small, two-wheeled variety used for week-end camping trips, here is some useful information to remember. It takes up to twice as long to stop a car pulling a trailer of any kind. So if you are not used to pulling trailers, be sure to maintain distances that will permit safe stops in the event of emergencies.

If you sometimes feel that cars are getting more expensive compared with what you earn as the years go by, here are some figures to ponder. In 1947 an average wage earner had to work 31.2 weeks to buy an auto, compared to 1962 when he had to work 24.5 weeks for it.

Disputes School Minutes

To the Editor:

For reasons unknown to only a few, or just a misunderstanding of intent; my name appeared in the last official minutes of the meeting of the Board of Education.

Through entering into a discussion with a board member, I was quite surprised to read of it in such a confused way. Altho, I am pleased opinions are carried on to the Board meetings. I only hope that other citizens complaints and opinions are relayed as fast as mine.

The words — help, aid, assist — can come from a person as soft spoken to be used for the benefit to one or more persons. These type of words do not come from this writer.

These same words may be spoken to stimulate, encourage, and expect the best from leadership in an elected office in the capacity they represent. These type of words do come from this writer.

To correct and relieve confusion, I have sent the following letter to the Board of Education and feel it is an open letter for explanation to the citizens.

Mr. William Crump, President Board of Education Northville, Michigan

Dear Sir:

It has been brought to my attention via the Northville Record of assistance offered by me and residents of the Bloomcrest Area, and to assist the board in anyway possible in its next effort to pass a bond issue and millage election.

I would appreciate the following corrections at your next board meeting before the minutes are approved.

1. Bloomcrest Area — to my knowledge there is no such area, but only a street.

2. Area of residents — Taft Colony, Northville Township.

3. Message conveyed to Mr. Angove from residents — "Interested parents who are greatly concerned with the present and future plans of the board for the education of their children and the needs of a growing community due to the increasing population in the school district."

4. Bond Issue — "There has been no discussion of this."

5. Assist from Mrs. Hempe conveyed to Mr. Angove as "Aid in public communications for a Superior School System."

6. Assistance — "Support would be given to a proper millage, IF, the public had the knowledge, understanding, and assurance the board had a Master Plan which would provide the following goals."

1) Meet the educational needs of our children, through cooperative planning, which would provide the foundation needed as future citizens and allow for increasing population.

2) Be assured that the Administrative organizational structure of Business Management, Instruction, and Educational Services:

Provide, proper balance between their relationship.

Provide, in each area, unites with a qualified person, who can achieve the efficiency which will provide more and better services for the teacher and pupils.

Provide, in each area, continual evaluation under cooperative planning for performance, accomplishments, improved methods, etc for better education.

ter education.

3) Be assured that a taxpayer's dollars would be returned in educational dividends. A few of many suggestions such as cooperative planning to eliminate waste, duplication; hasty decisions in any area because of poor or no planning which create costly crisis; salaries that will attract and keep the very best of qualified teachers, etc.

It is with the deepest of regret that the discussion with Mr. Angove was not more clearly understood by the board.

I appreciate the consideration given me and am pleased to see the School Board is concerned with the thoughts and opinions of its citizens.

Respectfully yours
Mrs. Arthur Hempe

Police Seek Clues Here

To Burglary

Northville police are investigating a burglary Monday involving the theft of jewelry and liquor valued at $3,672.

The burglary took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Jensen of 47055 Chigwidden sometime on Monday, police said.

According to Police Chief Eugene King, Mrs. Jensen noticed that three jewelry boxes were missing from her bedroom upon waking up from a nap Monday afternoon.

The theft apparently occurred while Mrs. Jensen was away shopping between 11 a.m. and 2:30 p.m., the chief said. King said the house was unlocked, and there were no signs of forced entry.

Detroit Offers 20 Acres As Possible School Site Here

Northville school officials have received an inquiry from the city of Detroit concerning possible sale of a 20-acre parcel of Maybury Sanatorium property for a school site.

According to Superintendent Russell Amerman, an official of the Detroit planning commission asked him if the school district would be interested in having Detroit reserve a 20-acre parcel for that purpose.

Apparently, the Detroit spokesman referred to a local planning board map which included several possible areas for future school development, Amerman said. There has been no official or unofficial action in pinpointing a school in the area, he added.

The map was the product of joint planning by city-township planners and school officials and represented only long-range possibilities.

After considerable discussion of the matter Monday, most of which emphasized the lack of funds for purchase while questioning whether a school in that area would be more immediate than another area, the board of education instructed Amerman to secure more information from the city of Detroit.

In another report, the board learned that few apparent problems resulted from initiation of a charge for student transportation to away football games. However, E. V. Ellison, director of administrative services, indicated that some adverse comment by students may be in the offing.

Beginning with the away game at Clarenceville Friday, transportation was offered to students at a cost of 50-cents per student by the Northville Coach Line.

"School bus transportation has been eliminated, because of rising costs, and school officials have explained that it is illegal for a public school system to accept money for operation of its buses to offset operational expenses."

Other action by the board included—

—Decision to deny a request by the recently organized little theatre group here free use of the high school auditorium and to charge the group for use of that facility;

—Agreement not to permit use of the high school gymnasium for the upcoming Jaycee Band Festival in case of rain, as requested, because of possible damage to the floor;

—Decision to seek professional advice concerning improvement of the "plateau" area of school property adjacent to the high school football and baseball fields;

—Receipt and filing of a letter from Mrs. Arthur Hempe who disputed the wording of board minutes concerning a reported conversation between she and Trustee Edward Angove. Angove was not present at Monday's meeting.

EMPLOYEES TOUR NEW BUILDINGS — Several hundred employees and their families attended an open house tour of two new facilities at the Plymouth State Home and Training school Sunday. Shown here inspecting cookers in the spanking new food service building are (l. to r.) James Smolenski, assistant business executive, and William Boyd, public relations director.

450 Tour New Buildings For Mentally Retarded

Approximately 450 persons visited the new facilities at the Plymouth State Home and Training School during an open house Sunday.

Employees, their families and members of the Parents Association were given fact sheets and tour guides before their inspection of the newly completed food service building and the patient building.

The latter building, costing $1,035,000 for construction and furnishings, will house an additional 220 severely retarded children. It will increase the patient population to about 920 and will extend the age range from 12 to 20 years olds or adolescent children.

The service building, costing $735,000, is one of the most unique installations of its kind in the state.

With two-way walk-in coolers and freezers, food can be stored from one end and removed for cooking from the other. To facilitate food handling, the kitchen equipment proceeds from storage coolers to kitchen cooking to preparation area to cooking area to heated carts.

The cooking area has overhead ventilation with a steam fire prevention system. The cooking capacity is 1250 per meal. Floor grills have been installed for additional cooking equipment which will double the capacity as the patient population increases.

The largest dishwasher and dryer on the market can handle 9,000 pieces of dishware per hour. This is the only state institution that has a centralized kitchen and dishwasher which will mean an estimated savings in salaries of $25,000 per year, officials explained.

Under the direction of the Department of Mental Health, Plymouth State Home & Training School was established for the mentally retarded in July, 1958. At that time, it consisted of one unit housing 320 patients at Farmington.

The present site of approximately 250 acres was purchased from Wayne County for one dollar and construction of a hospital-administration building began the same year. By March, 1960, children were admitted to the new building until its capacity of 170 nursery patients was attained.

In October, of 1961, a 220-bed patient building for young ambulatory children was completed. To reduce the cost of operating two far-distant units, the 320 patients in Farmington were transferred to the new building at Northville.

In December of 1961, the infirmary building was completed, providing housing for an additional 220 severely retarded children.

The present patient population is approximately 700, including the 50 children who have been returned to the community.

Officials anticipate the population to reach 1800 when the expansion program is completed.

Planning money has already been appropriated for a research wing, two patient buildings, habilitation building, an out-patient building, and one for blind retarded children.

With the laundry and maintenance buildings yet to be considered, it is estimated that an additional eight to 10 million dollars will be expended to complete the building program at the school.

Operation Rubbish Heap

To the Editor:

What does it take to drum through the heads of the Northville township board of appeals, that the citizens of Northville township do not want rubbish dumped in their township. Outraged residents have, not once, but twice packed the township hall to be sure that Stromberg and company got the message. For government functionaries of at least average perception, one clear cut directive from the public should be enough. The slow trickle of information in the Record indicates that the appeals board looks with favor on the latest rubbish fill proposal. What possible motivation can explain their impending stampede into a plan which will ultimately make Northville township, Detroit's dumping ground. The manner in which the first hole is filled will establish by precedent "Operation Rubbish Heap."

The kindest interpretation I can put on the appeals board's apparent position is that they are ready to run away from a threatened fight before the first popgun goes off.

No doubt a future issue of the Record will tell the voters how this rubbish fill will be unique. It won't have garbage and smoke and fires and rats like any other dump, because our courageous township officials will have safeguards to rigidly control this dump. The Record reported our Northville township attorney theorized and opined that "to deny any landfill operation could result in court direction to do so." Permission thus gained would not be subject to regulations as strict as those currently being drafted. It would appear our esteemed attorney thinks out loud that we might lose in a court fight. But, I would greatly appreciate less theorizing and opining and more vigorous legal support for the stated preference of the voters of Northville township.

Attorney Littell has told the board of appeals that it is not necessary to call a public hearing to issue the landfill permit, but appeals board Chairman Stromberg has stated that a public meeting will be called to explain and discuss the issue. Following the explanation and discussion, Northville township citizens can for the third time make clear that they do not like Detroit rubbish any better this year than they did last.

While the board of appeals has the final word in issuing the necessary permit, the township board must approve adoption of the proposed landfill regulations. Failure to represent the interests of township constituents could then be made most appropriately at the voters precincts in the next election.

from the PASTOR'S STUDY

Reverend LaVeré Webster,
Pastor of New Hudson Methodist Church

Religion Like a Wedding
When people make up their minds to be critical they have no difficulty finding subject matter. Trying to please someone who has decided not to like you is an impossible task. One inch from the mythical line to rectitude and at once there is the scorn of the critic.

The same people attacked Jesus because he made a too great claim for himself as because another was making religion too easy. John the Baptist was too austere; Jesus too sociable. John's disciples fasted, Jesus' did not. Jesus' reply was that you do not expect people to fast and mourn at a wedding. He suggested that religion should be like a wedding.

This suggestion was quite different and anything different to the conventional-minded is dangerous to the well established. Different ideas open too many doors and introduces too many new possibilities. Someone might question the established order and disturb our Great Belief that there is "safety in custom." It may not produce efficiently but it is "safe."

When the Good News of Jesus introduces men to Christ there is a wedding — a wedding of my life to His. The Bible does not talk about religion. The Bible is a record of a living God who confronts men, lifts and pow. Religion is often social custom, institutionalized ethics, tradition-ridden. The Faith that Jesus proclaimed was revolutionary and full of expectancy. Look at the people with whom Jesus was concerned: those with human need, the lame, the maimed, the blind; the sick — sick in body, in soul and in mind; the outcast; the untouchables; the down-trodden; the sinner; those who suffered injustice.

Today, if we are to follow Jesus and be a part of his wedding party, worship the God of the living and not the dead, we must share His concern. We must share His concern not only in church but also in the life we live with our family, our neighbors, our neighborhoods. The voice of the Prophet of the Old Testament and the Christ of the New Testament must never be silenced when it cries out against injustice. We must listen, and then we must live to His.

Scientist to Discuss Life-Changing Ideas

Ideas that reform people's lives will be explored at one-hour public lecture here on Sunday, by Otto Bertschi, a member of The Christian Science Board of Lectureship.

He will speak under sponsorship of First Church of Christ, Scientist, Plymouth. The lecture is titled "The Meaning of Reformation" and will be given at 4:00 p.m. in the church edifice, 1100 W. Ann Arbor Trail, Plymouth.

Mr. Bertschi is from Zurich, Switzerland, and was formerly associated with the Bureau of Standards of the Society of Swiss Machine Manufacturers.

He left this position several years ago to devote his full time to Christian Science practice. He is also an authorized teacher of the religion.

In Uniform

USS Valley Forge — John L. Lamp, boatswain's mate third class, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Otto H. Lamp of 49300 West Nine Mile road, a crew member of the amphibious assault carrier USS Valley Forge, was forced to move to a nearby personnel ship during "Happy Valley's" current overhaul.

Valley Forge is undergoing a nine-million-dollar overhaul under the Navy's Fleet Rehabilitation and Repair program at the Long Beach, California, Naval Shipyard.

Her crewmen moved to the personnel ship to allow improvement work on their own living spaces in the carrier. They will spend about three months aboard the personnel ship before returning to their ship in November.

Improvements scheduled for Valley Forge include new living and ventilation in the living compartments.

A Pacific Fleet unit operating out of Long Beach, California, Valley Forge is scheduled to return to normal duty in January 1964.

Ronald Rebitzke has joined his brother, Richard, in the "Air Force Blue." Ronald is training at Lackland AFB, San Antonio, Texas. Ronald enlisted in the Mechanical Aptitude Area, is assigned to Custer AFS, Battle Creek, as a draftsman.

The twins are both graduates of Northville high school and are the sons of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Rebitzke, Northville.

The brothers both enlisted in the Air Force thru the Air Force Recruiting office at 6228 Middlebelt road, Garden City.

WHY ADVERTISE?

There's only one businesslike reason to advertise. You can make more money WITH advertising than you can WITHOUT advertising. This means your advertising is an investment... not an expense.

HERE ARE FIVE WAYS ADVERTISING PAYS DIVIDENDS:

1. Advertising builds a desirable reputation for your business. You must sell your store as the place to buy before you can sell your merchandise.
2. Advertising attracts new customers to your store. Before you can really sell, you have to bring customers to your store. Advertising attracts new customers, brings back former customers... many more and much faster.
3. Advertising helps you meet and overcome the fierce competition in today's retailing world. Advertising helps you maintain and protect your business.
4. Advertising is informative... it tells your customers what's new.
5. Advertising increases profits by building volume. Competition tends to trim profits on each sale, so volume becomes the key to success. Advertising gets your selling message to enough people to build volume sales.

... and NORTHVILLE RECORD ADVERTISING does all these jobs best!

Legion to Honor Boys' State Committee Here

The seven members of The American Legion Wolverine Boys' State committee are coming from all corners of Michigan to attend the Boys' State Banquet given by the Lloyd H. Green Post No. 147 Saturday at 7 p.m. at the First Methodist church.

John L. Farley, chairman of the committee, of Marquette, will head the Boys' State delegation with the following members also in attendance:

Charles McKelvey, Detroit; Stanley Fox, Battle Creek; Harold Stoddard, Grand Rapids; Dwight Rich, Lansing; Jack Zeider, Niles; and Clarence Carlson, Whitehall.

Each committee member will report to the banquet audience on a different phase of the Boys' State program.

State Commander C. Oscar Hammond, who will be an honored guest at his home post in Northville, will comment on the 1964 session of Boys' State which is already being readied.

The Lloyd H. Green Post representative to the 1963 Wolverine Boys' State Acker, will give his report of his 10-day training session in government at the conclave held last June on campus at Michigan State university. Boys' State Representative Acker will outline what he learned at the "government in action" sessions and review his impressions of this democracy-learning seminar.

Twenty-seven representatives from other community service organizations in the Northville area who sponsored boys to the 1963 Boys State session will also attend the banquet to hear first hand reports on the aims and ideals of this American Legion youth training project.

The guiding committee of American Legion Wolverine Boys' State will convene at this Boys' State banquet in its entirety; the committee is not being officially called to meet at the Fall Conference of the Michigan American Legion in Bay City, October 4, 5, and 6, in lieu of the Northville meeting.

Anyone wishing reservations to the dinner is requested to contact John Steimel, FI-9-1682.

It's Time To Enjoy Colorama

Michigan's annual color extravaganza is at hand.

It is the time of year when motorists by the thousands flock to country roads to view nature's vivid colors. Almost any area becomes an attraction.

Michigan offers many opportunities for color tours, points out Jerry E. Fisher, Automobile Club of Michigan touring manager.

"Tours begin in Michigan's Upper Peninsula about mid-September, reach a peak in the northern half of the Lower Peninsula in late September or early October, and make a last stand in the southern half of the state about mid-October," Fisher said. "Much depends on the arrival of killing frost."

Fisher suggests five widely separated areas where motorists can enjoy Indian Summer to the fullest. He adds, however, that this is merely a sampling and that the motorist will likely pass through many other areas of equal beauty. These are the locations:

Munising area of the Hiawatha National Forest; take US-2, then leave the main highways for maximum enjoyment.

Grand Traverse Bay area, from Traverse City north. Take US-31 to Traverse City, then county roads.

Newaygo area of Manistee National Forest. Take M-46 or M-37 to Newaygo, then the back roads.

Tawas - Oscoda area along Lake Huron. Take US-23, then the county roads.

Oakland county, with particular attention to Kensington Park on I-96 and county roads in the northern portion.

Enters National Cattle Exposition

Water Cress Farm, owned by Edward W. Porath, of Northville, has entered three head of Brown Swiss cattle in the 1963 National Dairy Cattle Congress in Waterloo, Iowa. The nation's oldest dairy show is scheduled from September 28 through October 5 this year.

The 51st Dairy Exposition will feature the official national shows of the Ayrshire, Brown Swiss, Guernsey, Holstein and Milking Shorthorn breeds, with a nation-wide showing of Jerseys. Over 2,000 of the nation's top dairy cattle will be competing for the richest dairy premiums ever offered.

Goodwill Pickup

The next visit of Goodwill Industries pickup trucks to Northville is scheduled for Monday. Goodwill trucks collect household discards of clothing, shoes, hats, toys, most types of furniture and other household discards.

To arrange for a Goodwill Industries truck pickup, ask the operator for toll-free Enterprise 7002.

PRACTICE SESSION — Practice is the key to top-notch performance by Northville's jazz band. Members practice together at least once each week, and section groups within the band practice individually as well. These two pictures were taken at a practice session last week when Director Robert Williams was filling in for a missing player (back row). According to the director, the band has been invited back for another performance at the National Collegiate Jazz Band Festival at Albion.

The '64s from Ford are here: The Year of the Test Drive starts today!

Ford cars have changed. Only a test drive can tell you how much. Races and rallies, economy runs, braking and acceleration tests have bred into our 1964 models the kind of total performance you just can't create on the test track alone. They are hard-muscled, fast-moving, sure-footed. Open competition helped make them that way. They offer you substantially more car than anything at their price. You don't have to take our word for it. We're willing to rest our case on our cars.

FOOTBALL CONTEST

It's Easy . . . It's Fun      Nothing to Buy!

FIRST PRIZE . . . $10

SECOND PRIZE . . . $7

THIRD PRIZE . . . $7

HERE ARE THE RULES

Take a plain piece of paper and number down the left hand side from 1 to 20.

You will notice that each square below is also numbered from 1 to 20 and each contains a football game to be staged this coming weekend.

To complete your entry you must do the following:

- (1) after each number on your paper write the name of the sponsor of the corresponding numbered square.
- (2) following the sponsor's name — write the name of the winning team.
- (3) In addition you must pick a score on the outcome of the game in square 20. This will be used in the case of a tie and then the contestant whose score is closest to the actual score will be declared the winner.

Be sure to write your name, address and phone number plainly on your piece of paper (your entry).

Enter just once a week, but you may enter as many weeks as you wish. In case of ties, prize money will be split.

Copies of the contest will be posted at the Northville Record office each week.

Entries must be postmarked or brought to the Record office no later than 5 P.M. each Friday.

Mr. George Ames and his sons, David and Roll, were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Everhart for an afternoon of fishing Sunday.

Expect great things from Chevrolet again-for '64

Today... Jet-smooth Luxury '64 CHEVROLET

'64 Chevrolet Impala Sport Sedan—one of 15 Jet-smooth luxury Chevrolets.

Chevrolet was luxurious before, but you should see it now. With smart new styling, the '64 Chevrolet looks even longer (but isn't). There's even a whole new series this year—the Impala Super Sports—with front bucket seats as standard equipment. (The new Impalas and Bel Airs are more luxurious, too. Even the lowest priced Biscaynes have new foam-cushioned seats front and rear and are fully carpeted.) Of course, you expect more than just luxury from Chevrolet. A choice of 16 power teams, for instance—a 6 and six V8's up to 425 hp (optional at extra cost). And quieter transmissions. Jet-smooth ride with Full Coil suspension. ## Take your first look at the first CHEVELLE!

CHEVELLE! by Chevrolet

New Chevelle Malibu Super Sport Coupe—one of 11 models in three great series.

You've never seen anything like this totally new line of cars before. Chevelle is new in everything but Chevrolet quality. Chevelle is a good foot shorter than the big cars, so it parks easily. Yet the interior of its Body by Fisher gives you a generous supply of passenger and luggage room. The ride is surprisingly smooth with a rugged coil spring at all four wheels. And not so surprisingly for Chevrolet, the new Chevelle offers a choice of engines ranging from an economical 120-hp 6 to a 220-hp V8 (optional at extra cost). Choose the Chevelle you like best from the three series—the Malibu Super Sport, the Malibu and the 300 Series, eleven models in all—at your Chevrolet dealer's. (This good-looking Malibu Super Sport maybe?)

Area Residents
To Test Drive
New Fords

John Mach of John Mach Ford Sales announced this week that 22 area residents will be participating in the first phase of a national consumer opinion program instituted by Ford Division of Ford Motor Company.

Ford calls the program the "Million Mile Review." The title, according to Mach is derived from the number of miles totaled in test drives.

"During the next 28 days," Mach said, "selected Ford dealers all over the nation will be loaning out new Fords for 24-hour periods. 'Review' program participants are expected to number more than 22,000. And averaging the number of miles driven by each participant, we figure the total will go well over the million mile mark. This is probably the most extensive program of its kind ever instituted. We'll have more than a million miles of road testing on new Fords by consumers, in just 28 days!"

When the participants return the borrowed car, they'll be asked to rate it on an opinion form. "Ford will then use these forms to determine the public reaction to the change in Ford for '64," Mach added.

These New Models Bow This Week

Chevrolet offers a total of 43 new models for 1964. Top to bottom above are the Corvair Monza Coupe, Chevy II Nova 4-door sedan, the newcomer Chevelle Malibu 4-door sedan and the Chevrolet Impala Sport Sedan. They're on display at Rathburn Chevrolet Sales, 560 South Main.

These new Ford products for 1964 will go on display today at John Mach Ford Sales in Northville. Above is shown the Ford Galaxie 500 4-door sedan and the station wagon. Below is the restyled Ford Fairlane, followed by the Falcon and at bottom is the new Thunderbird convertible with reclining seat.

Fall Revival

The Plymouth Church of Christ will hold its annual fall revival beginning Wednesday, October 2, and continuing through Wednesday, October 9.

Mr. Basil C. Doran of Houston, Texas will be the guest speaker.

Evening services are set for 7:30 o'clock, with the exception of Sunday, when the time is 10:30 a.m. and 6:30 p.m.

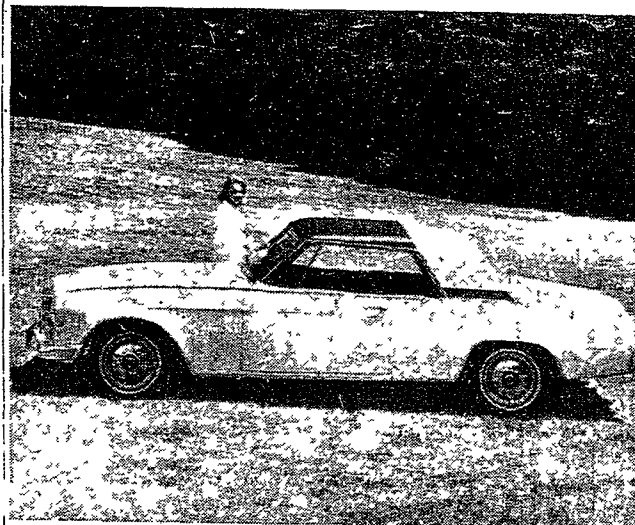

Plymouth's new building is at 9301 Sheldon Road, just south of Ann Arbor road (M-14).

A new feature of this meeting will be interpretation (sign language) for the deaf. Mr. David Laikind is the interpreter. Much interest is being shown in a Bible Class held at 6:30 p.m. each Sunday for the deaf.

All (including the deaf) are extended an invitation to hear his presentation. Transportation can be arranged on the church bus by calling GL 3-3020 or GL 3-7630.

These new Studebaker models are on display at Gib Bergstrom, Inc., 200 South Main street. Pictured above is the Commander. Below is the Gran Turismo Hawk featuring a vinyl roof, European styling.

Long-Term Mortgages;
Are They for You?

When you buy a house, should you take the longest term mortgage you can get? The FHA now insures 35-year mortgages on new homes, and sometimes loans up to 40 years.

Consider both the advantages and disadvantages before you decide on a long-term mortgage, advises the Michigan State university Extension Agent.

The chief disadvantages are that the total interest costs are considerably higher and equity in the house is built up more slowly.

In fact, a $15,000 loan at 5 1/4 percent annual interest for 35 years will cost the homeowner $17,823 in interest alone. Had the same loan been obtained for 20 years, interest payments would have been only $9,264.

An advantage of long-term mortgages is that they allow lower income families to become homeowners. They enable a family with a certain amount to spend for monthly payments to buy a more expensive house. And they make it easier to sell the house, because more people may be attracted by a long-term mortgage and a small cash settlement.

Each family should make sure that the mortgage contract permits the borrower to pay off the debt sooner than the contract states, if he so desires.

Easter Seal Society
Sets Annual Meeting

The annual meeting of the Easter Seal Society will be held at the Easter Seal Center, near Middlebelt and Michigan in Inkster, on Monday, October 14.

An informal supper will be served between 5-7 p.m. Tickets which must be secured in advance may be obtained from any board member or from the society directly through P.O. Box 101, Inkster, or by telephoning Parkway 2-3055. The donation is two dollars.

The business meeting will start at 7 p.m. Members of the board of directors will be elected. Officers are selected by the Directors from their members. James J. Brummel of Northville is a director of the Society, while R. H. Amerman is an honorary director.

All those interested in meeting some of those served by the Easter Seal Society and the Center in which those services are offered are urged to make their reservations by October 9th.

Schoolcraft

Sets Plans
For Nursing

Plans for the Practical Nursing Program are well under way at Schoolcraft College. Mrs. Harriett Sattig, Director of Nursing Education of the College, has announced that 35 students will be admitted to the first class in August 1964.

In order to be considered for admission, applicants between 18 and 25 years of age must be high school graduates. For particularly well-qualified applicants over twenty-five, exceptions may be made on an individual basis. Both single and married women will be accepted.

Those interested in nursing first must apply for admission to the College and complete all admissions procedures. They will then be interviewed by the Director of Nursing Education, required to furnish additional information, and will be given supplementary testing.

The Nursing Program is approximately twelve months in duration. Tuition and fees for the year is $101. The cost of books, uniforms, and incidental expenses is $119, making the total cost $220.

Further information may be secured by telephoning Mrs. Sattig, Garfield 7-6620.

SPEAKING for The Record

By BILL SLIGER

Every now and then I write something about the threat of shopping centers to Northville's business district.

It serves to remind our merchants that times are changing, new people are moving to town and the ever-increasing population of our area will soon become an attractive plum for some enterprising promoter to pluck off.

It's conceivable that he could pick out a spot somewhere between here and Plymouth, erect a handful of stores, pour a couple of acres of concrete for parking and start drawing in the customers.

The possibility should concern each of us, whether we are merchants or not.

Loss of local business is certain to lower commercial property values, which would result in reduced tax income from the business district. And government, unlike gravity, has a law that says if something goes down, something else must go up — like residential taxes, for instance.

Like I've said before, one group of individuals is concerned with this problem. They're our city planners.

Wally Nichols is chairman of the central business district committee for the planning commission.

He asked me last week what local businessmen thought about their plan for Northville's shopping center. He's been unable to determine any reaction and has decided that "if the approach is wrong, we ought to forget it."

I told him I thought that most businessmen and their landlords understand the value of a plan for the future (which is becoming more immediate) but they're like a man with a toothache. He knows he should go to the dentist, but he's afraid the cure will hurt worse.

In this case, "the cure" is money. Financial aspects of the proposed "central business district" plan can be frightening to one owning business property — just as frightening as the results of no planning.

But consideration of the plan costs nothing.

Planners and businessmen should get together, probably in a series of meetings, and decide to adopt, amend or scuttle the central business district plan.

The Northville Area Development Corporation is about to stamp the word "complete" on its first project — the $185,000 expansion of Foundry Flask & Equipment company.

Construction of the addition is scheduled to begin this week. Sale of debentures under the direction of Nelson Schrader continues — and committee members are convinced it will be wrapped up quickly.

About $10,000 worth of debentures remain. For those with idle money it's an opportunity for a sound, six per cent investment. Read the advertisement elsewhere on this page for details.

Teacher Turnover Rate 10%

Lansing — Teacher turnover in Michigan runs about 10 per cent annually, according to a survey by the State Department of Public Instruction.

Superintendent Lynn M. Bartlett believes that, most teachers who did not return this fall to the jobs they held during the 1962-63 school year went to other school districts.

This was the first year the department compiled statistical data on the number of teachers who do not return to the same school system in a succeeding year.

The 10 per cent attrition represented 6,921 teachers.

Analysis of the survey showed 27.2 per cent went to other school districts, another 19.6 per cent retired to rear families, 15.1 per cent retired, 9.4 per cent obtained other employment and 2 per cent died.

The other 26.7 per cent gave up their teaching posts for unknown or miscellaneous reasons, Bartlett said.

The extensive study also showed the number of fulltime teachers in Michigan reached an all-time high of 65,146 last year.

A rather interesting fact was also noted in the survey report. Most people think men are a small minority in the teaching ranks.

The study, however, showed there were 21,149 male teachers and 43,997 females. Most of the men were in the secondary schools, with only 5,501 teaching at the elementary level. Men outnumbered women teachers, 15,648 to 11,952, in the secondary system last year.

The same unfortunate increase in accidents that is being recorded on the highways is taking place on Michigan's waterways, according to the State Police.

A provisional report through mid-September showed 215 persons drowned and 202 persons injured in 474 accidents. This represented an increase of 13 deaths over last year.

The injuries in the first nine months of the year were higher than the total number hurt in water accidents during all of 1962, however, the department said. The number of accidents which occurred also was higher than the full-year figure of 457 accidents for 1962.

State Police Commissioner Joseph A. Childs noted that water accident deaths and injuries generally show a marked decrease after the Labor Day weekend.

"Outdoor enthusiasts are reminded, however, that they should exercise due caution in any activity in or near water during the remainder of the year," Childs said.

Water accidents are not confined to summer activities, Childs noted. Three of the victims already recorded this year fell through ice, and some 40 others died when they fell from bridges, banks, docks or piers.

Planning for the annual Michigan Week has come to be nearly a year-round job for the organizers of the event.

This is as it was hoped when the annual brag week was initiated a decade ago.

Now a new selling campaign is getting under way, similar to that intended in the planning of Michigan Week promotions.

The group conducting the new effort is headed by A. R. Saunders, executive vice president of the Michigan Real Estate Association.

Known as the Michigan Minutemen, the new unit hopes to sell the state 365 days a year to attract new industries, tourists and permanent residents.

Working as leaders of the Minutemen are executive secretaries or managers of 12 organizations representing civic, farm, labor, religious, professional and trade associations.

Each of the associations in turn will enlist members of the Minutemen, which derived its name from the volunteer units trained before the Revolutionary War to "fight at a minute's notice."

Unforeseen Upsets Economy

BABSON PARK, Mass. — Investors are always studying with the greatest care those economic factors that seem to shape the trend of the stock market.

This is all very well, but now and then I like to point out to my readers that unexpected events are often the most powerful influence. The way our stock market system is set up in our democratic society permits the wildest ups and downs in investment prices when unforeseeable events come like a bolt out of the blue.

I can always learn a great deal simply by reviewing the effects of unexpected events on business and the stock market over the past one hundred years or so.

Starting at the time of the Civil War, business was relatively stable and promised to climb in a healthy way following the end of the war. Then came President Lincoln's assassination — one of the most unexpected events in our history — and stocks tumbled sharply. The crash was followed by a year of depression. Thereafter, business boomed until the corner on the gold market brought a sudden plunge known to financial men of the time as "Black Friday". Stocks made a good comeback and investors were feeling generally optimistic about the future when two apparently non-economic events occurred: The Chicago Fire in late 1871 and the great Boston Fire in November 1872.

These set the stage for another financial panic. The market was making a recovery from this setback when the great banking house of Jay Cooke and Company suddenly failed. The shocking announcement resulted in the first closing of the leading Stock Exchange for several weeks, seeding the deep depression that began in 1873 and went on for a number of years.

A new flood of investment selling was brought about by the sudden shooting of President Garfield on July 2, 1881. Out of this panic came the unsettling failure of the great banking house of Grant and Ward and of the two most important "bulls" of the period, Henry Villard and James R. Keene. As usual, another depression came along after these unexpected events and lasted a few years.

Prosperity prevailed generally in 1882; then came a shattering blow in May 1893: The failure of the National Cordage Company. This firm was then one of the nation's ten largest, and was considered a real "Blue Chip".

The next year, like a flash of lightning, came the nation's first serious walkout, the Pullman Strike. Pessimism spread across the country, increased still further by a rash of crop failures and mortgage foreclosures. By 1897 conditions were again so bright that forecasts of permanent prosperity were once more being made. Stock splits, large security offerings, and mergers were the order of the day. Then, in 1903, came another unexpected happening: A Supreme Court decision followed a charge of "undigested securities" involving investigation of leading life insurance and transit corporations which were then extremely popular.

All these events were truly unexpected. But then came another totally unforeseen occurrence: This time it was the San Francisco earthquake!

Interference with business by the federal government kept market prices soft in the early 1900's, but things went well after our entrance into World War I until 1920 when stocks lost ground due to very high interest rates. After this situation was corrected, the market went skyrocketing until it hit what were then the all-time highs of 1929. I do not have to elaborate on the depression of the 1930's. Starting in 1938 business began a recovery that continued throughout World War II, but the stock market did not do much until 1942. Then came a long upward climb, with only temporary interruptions.

The reason I give readers an occasional historical review of this sort is so they will never forget that, no matter how sure one may feel about future trends, an unexpected event can throw the situation completely out of whack.

Seasoned investors keep this fact in mind at all times.

Top of the Deck

by JACK W. HOFFMAN

His name was Buff, this eccentric young man who survived his second year of college on a diet of breakfast cereals. He lived in a musty cellar near the MSU campus, wore an unkempt beard and a soiled sweat-shirt, and seldom studied.

While his personal habits were uncouth, he nevertheless possessed a superior intellect. Valetudinarian of his high school, graduated at the top of his college engineering class, he never smoked or drank.

But despite his brilliant mind, he disliked college and loathed his professors — mostly because he refused to become regimented.

It was this peculiarity of his which later led to a humorous but almost tragic army experience some 12 years ago.

The incident took place at Fort Carson, Colorado — a better than average army post that sits in the shadow of Pike's Peak. Despite my military shortcomings I had somehow managed to gain top brass favor and had landed a non-commissioned officer's job inside the post headquarters — just two doors down from the office of the commanding general.

Veterans will recall that such places are as tranquil as a hospital after dark and as foreboding as a king's throne room.

I was sitting in the general's private barber chair one morning, enjoying the ridiculous privilege of having my locks shorn while a couple of angry captains were forced to wait their turns.

The door opened, conversation stopped, and in strode someone with what must have been a great deal of arrogance. Since I am nearly blind without my glasses, I guessed because of the silence that it must have been an important officer.

"Hello Hoffman, how's the old general?"

A face full of grenade fragments couldn't have surprised or shaken me more. Sweeping my glasses to my face I saw in horror my friend Buff. He was smiling beneath his usual stubble of beard, lounging next to the disbelieving officers in his soiled sweat-shirt, patched dungarees and dirty shoes.

"Ah, er, ah, hello," I muttered, leaping from the chair and pushing him out the door in a single motion. "How... why... what are you doing here?" I gasped as I backed him into a doorway out of sight of the top brass.

His answer compounded my horror.

"Hitched-hiked out. I'm on my way to California. Thought I'd stop by and see you. Had a heck of a time, getting past those guards at the door. Been looking all over for you. Tried every door — even dropped in on the general."

Hiding him in the latrine, I double-timed back to my office hoping to get permission from the commanding officer to take a few hours off.

The officer's voice met me at the door: "Sergeant Hoffman! Who in the... Never mind... He walked into the general's office! Is he still? ... Never mind... Get him off the post... In the latrine! Did anybody? ... Please, out the back way!"

He wore a breastful of medals, even a Purple Heart, but on my honor that officer was nearly in tears as two suspicious characters tipped out the back door.
