The model is on display in the lobby of Manufacturers National Bank in Northville. Construction of the addition is the first project of the Northville Area Development Corporation. Contracts for construction and leasing of the facility were scheduled to be signed Wednesday. The local non-profit development corporation has sold $23,300 in six percent interest yielding debentures as its share of the $185,000 project. About $4,500 remain to be sold. The bulk of the remaining funds will come through a Small Business Administration loan. Examining the plant model with Weber is his son, Vice President John W. Weber, and William Keith, assistant manager of Manufacturers office here.

Mental Health Conclave To Bring Experts Here

Several nationally prominent experts in the health field will be the guest speakers at the annual conference of the Great Lakes Region American Association on Mental Deficiency here today and Friday. Hosts for the conference, to be held at the Plymouth State Home and Training School and the Wayne County Training School are:

Dr. Pasquale Buoniconti, medical superintendent of the Wayne County Training School and Dr. Robert I. Jaslow, medical superintendent of the Plymouth State Home and Training School.

The keynote speaker who will address members and guests at the Thursday luncheon, will be Morton A. Seidenfeld of the United States Department of Health, Education and Welfare's vocational rehabilitation administration. Since March 1960, Seidenfeld has been a special assistant to the assistant commissioner of research and training, vocational rehabilitation administration.

For 14 years previous to that time, he was chief of psychological services division of the National Foundation (for infantile paralysis). During World War II, he was the chief clinical psychologist in the neuropsychiatric consultants division for the Surgeon General of the Army. He held the rank of lieutenant-colonel on his discharge from the service in 1945.

Prior to 1945, he served as instructor at the University of Denver, and as director of rehabilitation services with the Tuberculosis Institute of Chicago.

Seidenfeld is a fellow or member of 17 professional organizations and serves as an officer or member of many boards and committees in the health field. He has written for numerous publications, particularly in the area of psychology.

Other top speakers will include: I. Ignacy Goldbert, professor of education in the department of special education at

Landfill Proposal Triggers Township Board Controversy

Tensions hovering over the Northville township board erupted Tuesday night with appointments and landfills serving as the stimuli.

Before the three-hour-long session adjourned Trustee Wilson Tyler had:

— charged the board with acting in a "prejudicial manner" in making an appointment to the board of review;

— opposed Supervisor R. D. Merriam's suggestion that the water and sewer commission be re-activated by appointing members to vacancies; — moved to instruct the board of appeals to halt its activities regarding a request to operate a landfill and turn over all its material to the township board for consideration.

It was the latter motion that caused the heavy fireworks. Particularly ruffled by Tyler's remarks was Township Attorney James Littell, who requested and was granted time to "present my defense."

Tyler waited until the motion was complete and the agenda to adjourn seemed near before introducing the landfill issue.

Specifically, Tyler drew attention to articles which have appeared in The Record.

He said the definition of proposed landfill regulations as "rigid" made it appear that they were therefore favored; that a "cloud" existed as to whether or not the board of appeals had the authority to grant or deny a landfill request; and termed it "unfortunate that our attorney says we will lose in court."

causing me to question that he could adequately defend the case if it goes to court."

(Tyler produced an article from the September 12 edition of The Record. It made no reference to Littell's comments concerning the township's legal position in a court fight, although other articles have contained this. It did quote Township Engineer William Mosher in describing the proposed landfill regulations as "very rigid," and it did make the following reference to the board of appeals' authority:

(Legally, the board was told that some doubt exists as to whether or not it has the power to permit or deny a landfill operation. It is not specified under township zoning, therefore it is presumed that permission would necessarily come from the board of appeals as a "variance.")

The article concerned a meeting of the board of appeals.

"This gives me great concern. I don't think these comments should have been aired publicly," added Tyler. He proposed that they be "kept in the official family." In suggesting that the landfill proposal be turned over to the township board the Trustee called the matter "out of hand" and charged that it had been "improperly handled."

Supervisor Merriam, Trustee Donald Robinson, attorney Littell and several members of the audience jumped into the discussion during the next hour.

'Butch' LeFevre Suffers Coronary

Clifford B. LeFevre, 124 High street, is confined to St. Mary hospital following a coronary suffered early Saturday morning. Visitors are not allowed. LeFevre is manager of EMB Food Market in Northville.

TRUSTEE TYLER
In Dispute with Board

The supervisor said the regulations had been proposed to give the township strict control over landfill operation should such a permit be granted. He noted that rubbish fill could be used in swamps or lowlands, not gravel pits, and that filled areas could not be built upon. He also expressed fear that Detroit courts would be inclined to rule against the township.

Trustee Robinson attacked Tyler's motion as "avoiding the issue" and "like sticking your head in the sand." He said that he thought the township should investigate all sides of the question and hinted that the regulations might become the township's protection.

"like our ordinance regulating trailer parks."

Littell then took his turn. He was visibly upset at Tyler and repeatedly asked that he not be interrupted. Finally, Tyler asked the attorney to "tell me when you're through."

"Don't worry, you'll know," replied Littell.

"I consider it my duty to tell this board what I believe the law to be, not what I want it to be or what the people want it to be," Littell started out.

He said he had been asked by the chairman of the appeals' board, Gunnar Stromberg, for his legal opinions.

Littell termed the board of appeals as the only possible body with authority to rule on the landfill request. But he noted that he had suggested that the township board establish a policy on landfills and consider adoption of an ordinance specifically dealing with landfills.

He said he had been asked if it were necessary for the board of appeals to call for a public hearing on the issue and the answer was "no." He noted that it does not require rezoning, but a variance in the use of the land.

Littell further noted that his answer to the board's question concerning chances of upholding a landfill denial in court had no bearing on his ability to defend the township in court. "It was merely an honest answer to a question any client might ask his attorney," he added.

Tyler told Littell he had not intended to question his ability as an attorney. "I'm sorry if my statement was construed this way," he stated.

The trustee repeated his motion to turn the landfill issue over to the township board. It died for lack of a second.

Several members of the audience spoke out in opposition to the proposed landfill. Mrs. Harold Price, an unsuccessful candidate for GOP nomination as supervisor last spring, said she had "150 questions" and had received 75 calls following her letter to the editor last week criticizing the proposal.

Tyler was at odds with the board on its appointment of Carl Johnson to the board of review. The vote was 4-1. Tyler had introduced another candidate. Clerk Marguerite Young noted that Tyler's nomination wasn't a registered voter and had never voted in the township.

Tyler wanted more time to find out the circumstances and also noted that it was not mandatory that board of review members be registered voters.

But Supervisor Merriam called for the vote.

Tyler was the winner when Supervisor Merriam asked that the board appoint members to the defunct water and sewer commission. Board action brought about its elimination. But Merriam reported that Attorney Littell said the township was legally bound to have such a board.

"I'd like to appoint some residents from the dry-well areas," said Merriam. He indicated that it would be helpful to have interested citizens on the commission with whom he could discuss problems and alternatives.

Tyler proposed waiting. He had support from Robinson.

In other business the board approved the final plat for the first section of Edenderry Hills, a development of homesites planned by Walter Couse south of Seven Mile road near the fish hatchery.

Township Considers Building Site Purchase

In an announcement that came as something of a surprise the Northville township board considered purchase of a five-acre site Tuesday night for a future township hall.

The acreage under consideration is owned by Ralph Gibson and is located on the southwest corner of Sheldon and Six Mile roads.

The parcel is priced at $13,000. A house is now located on the land and is being rented for $50 per month, the supervisor reported.

Merriam noted that the township would one day need new township hall quarters as well as fire hall and department of public works facilities.

Although no action was taken, no objections were raised. Both Merriam and Trustee Donald Robinson spoke in favor of the proposal.

Now located on a one-acre parcel on Franklin road the township hall is a converted one-room schoolhouse. The site is owned by the school district.

Water Speed-Up Brings New Offer from Detroit

Extension of a Detroit water line to Northville is expected even sooner than originally anticipated.

And with it comes a "new offer" from the city of Detroit that has prompted Northville officials to take another look at its choice of source for residents of the "dry-well" southeast section of the township.

Installation of the line along Eight Mile road to Center street "should be completed before the year is out," Gerald Remus, general manager of the Department of Water Supply for the city of Detroit, revealed this week.

Earlier Remus had predicted the line would be installed next spring.

Status of Wayne county water line work and plans now show.

—that a Detroit water line under construction between Farmington and Newburgh roads will be completed soon;

—that bids are in and contracts are to be let soon for extension of the line from Newburgh to Meadowbrook road; —that plans for extension of the line from Meadowbrook to Center street in Northville are in Chicago awaiting formal approval by a federal agency to secure matching funds;

—that installation of the latter extension should begin yet this fall and be completed before the end of the year;

—that extension of the line from Northville along Sheldon road to Five Mile road should be started and be completed next spring.

In conjunction with these stepped up plans, Northville Township Supervisor R. D. Merriam said this week that Detroit has "made a very attractive offer" to sell water to the township, and that this offer has halted, temporarily at least, negotiations with the city of Plymouth for purchasing of water from that municipality.

Although he said "some details" need to be ironed out first, the Detroit offer appears more attractive than either the original plan proposed by Detroit or the offer by Plymouth. He said the Detroit offer is attractive primarily because it —provides for immediate use of an existing Detroit water line serving the Wayne County Training school — a line which until now has been "off limits" so far as public use is concerned;

—guarantees adequate pressure and sufficient water for township use pending completion of the Detroit line from Northville along Sheldon road to Five Mile road;

—constitutes an investment of fewer township dollars for construction of artery lines.

Merriam noted that the water, under the Detroit proposal, would be metered for township use at Franklin and Bradner, rather than at Sheldon as earlier proposed.

The supervisor said he regretted any inconvenience the delay may cause the city of Plymouth, but "this is something we just can't ignore. It's too attractive." Until Detroit made its latest offer, township officials were ready to agree to purchase Plymouth water.

A decision as to which way the township will move on the water question will probably be made at a special meeting of the board this month, Merriam said.

Women's Club Slates First Meeting

'Chorale' Conductor to Speak Here

A large attendance is expected for the first fall luncheon meeting of the Northville Woman's club Friday at Thunderbird Inn. Lester McCoy, conductor of the Michigan Chorale, will tell of the group's five tours abroad in his talk, "Musical Ambassadors of Good Will."

He also is to show color slides of the 1963 Scandinavian tour. Completing the program will be musical selections by Mrs. George Jerome.

Mrs. George Weiss and her program committee are in charge of arrangements. More than 130 luncheon reservations have been made.

The Michigan Chorale's tours include two trips to Europe, two to South America and the last to Scandinavia. They hold special interest for Northville as three local girls have participated in them: Carole Jones, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Jones toured in 1961; Janice and Donna Williams, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. William G. Williams, toured in 1962 and 1963, respectively.

In addition to conducting the chorale group for the past five years, Conductor McCoy is minister of music for the First Methodist church in Ann Arbor. He has been University of Michigan Choral Union director since 1947. He has conducted regularly in the University of Michigan's May Festivals and Messiah presentations.

McCoy received his master of music degree from the U. of M. in 1938. He trained and taught previously at Morning-side College, Sioux City, Iowa.

His Michigan Chorale group is composed of high school seniors and has toured as part of the Youth for Understanding Student Exchange program sponsored by the Wash-tenaw Council of Churches.

Auditions for next year's chorale will be held this fall in Ann Arbor. Interested seniors are invited to contact the Ann Arbor Council of Churches office.

Button Conclave To Attract 100

Some 100 persons from throughout Michigan and Canada are expected here when the state Button Collectors group meets on October 19.

The convention meeting, which will be held between 10 a.m. and 4 p.m., will convene in the Northville Methodist Church hall.

Highlighting the program will be a talk on transportation, supplemented by a film, by the state group's president, Mrs. Milla Livingston.

Dinner tickets will be available at the door for $2.50 per person, according to officials of the local Mayflower group which will host the meeting.

Interested persons are invited to attend.

MEMBERSHIP TEA — Mrs. Walter Couse, right, shows a cranberry pitcher from her husband's collection to Mrs. Robert Lang, chairman of the Northville State Hospital auxiliary membership tea to be given at the Couse home October 16.

Legion Auxiliary to Meet Oct. 9

Committee chairmen will assume their duties at the next regular meeting of the Lloyd

H. Green unit, American Legion auxiliary. The meeting is slated for Wednesday, October 9 at 8 p.m. in the Legion Home.

Mrs. David Hay, president, has named the following committee chairmen:

Mrs. Rex Holloman, Americanism; Mrs. David McDougall, child welfare; Mrs. Arthur Carlson, civil defense, community service and national security; Mrs. Claude Ely, constitution and bylaws;

Mrs. Paul Palmer, education and scholarship; Mrs. John Steimel, Girls State; Mrs. Robert Miller, junior activities; Mrs. Lisle Alexander, legislation; Mrs. Oscar Hammond, membership; Mrs. Hay, music and past presidents parley; Mrs. Keith Trumbull, Pan-American; Mrs. Rex Holloman, parliamentarian; Mrs. Harold Pent, Mrs. Lou Katzback, and Mrs. Robert Miller, poppy; Mrs. Oscar Hammond, publicity, radio and TV; and Mrs. Howard Wright, rehabilitation.

Mrs. Hammond and Mrs. Wright will attend the Fall Conference at Bay City this weekend where workshops and instructions for the year's work will be given by the State Auxiliary officers and committees.

Musical Candy Sale

Bandsmembers will mix music with candy tomorrow when they march downtown the night before the football game.

The candy — boxed chocolate variety — will be sold to help raise money for musical arrangements. Two kinds of candy will be available this year at $1 per box.

And, according to bandsmen:

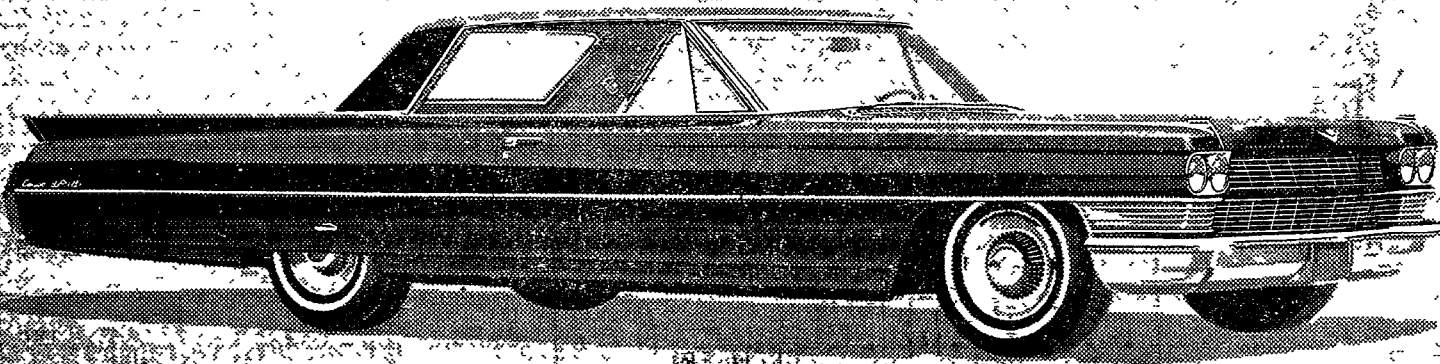

"If you can't make it this Friday, don't despair. We'll be back again next week Friday for the homecoming game. Then on Saturday, October 12, a very special group, Northville's jazz band, will be downtown to play some of its outstanding jazz."

The band promises quality music and quality candy — all in one package — on all three dates.

THE END OF EDENDERRY LANE will be the delightful destination of Northville State hospital auxiliary members and guests Wednesday, October 16 — the date Mrs. Walter Couse is opening her home for the auxiliary's first membership tea.

About 125 members and guests are expected to drop in between 2 and 4 p.m. at the Couse home, located off West Seven Mile road and nestled in one of Northville's most scenic areas.

Tea conversation undoubtedly will center upon the work of the auxiliary in its gift shop and cart projects at the hospital. Guests will learn that auxiliary funds also provide for ward parties and an indigent patient fund.

Equally sure to spark conversation is the Couse home, converted from a barn 16 years ago by Mr. and Mrs. Couse. Now it's an outstanding background for their antiques. The charm of log beams and old brick fireplaces with their collections of early cooking implements is apparent. Mrs. Couse emphasizes that they "live with their antiques" and that her concern has been to create a comfortable home.

Tea guests also will note Mr. Couse's cranberry glass collection brightening the study shelves.

No formal program is planned for the tea, but Mrs. Dewey Horning, auxiliary president, and Mrs. Lou Pearlman, of Livonia, past president, are preparing a resume of activities to give each guest.

Others working on the event are Mrs. Robert Lang, tea chairman; Mrs. Paul Hughes, invitations; Mrs. Crispin Hammond, hostesses; Mrs. H. O. Evans, tea arrangements; Mrs. Charles Raliff, publicity; Mrs. Thomas Mangan, Plymouth, name tags and guest book.

"HAVEN HILL," the country home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Ford near Milford, will be the destination of 40 members of the Northville branch of the National Farm and Garden club for a luncheon program next Monday.

The Fords' log cabin home is now a state conservation project of Michigan's Farm and Garden clubs. While there, Northville members will hear a talk by Walter Van Dien, a member of the state conservation department. Mrs. John Begle, program chairman, is in charge of arrangements.

Members of the club who plan to attend are asked to meet at the home of Mrs. George Kohs, president, at 8:45 a.m. The group will leave Northville at 9 a.m.

MEMBERS OF ST. MARY'S Guild of St. Mary hospital, Livonia, are hoping that their guests will "come early and stay late" at their second annual dinner-dance to be given next Saturday, October 12, in Roma hall in Livonia.

A full evening is planned with members and guests invited to gather at the hall at 7 p.m. Dinner will be buffet-style. Paul Mercer's 12-piece orchestra is to play for dancing. There also will be a midnight snack.

Mrs. Albert G. Kalin is in charge of Northville area reservations. Also working on arrangements is Mrs. H. Lorne Dyer, guild past president, of Northville.

Judge James Lincoln To Talk on Delinquency

Judge James H. Lincoln of Detroit will be the guest speaker here on Wednesday, October 9 at an open meeting of the Women's Association of the First Presbyterian Church. His topic will be: "Problem Parents: Not Problem Children." The program will get underway at 8 p.m.

Judge Lincoln has been judge of the juvenile court of Wayne county since May of 1960. To that position he has brought a varied experience from a number of fields. He has a B.A. degree — a history major from the University of Michigan — and an L.L.B. from the Detroit College of Law.

His work experience includes farm boy, dairy inspector for the state of Michigan; five years in Detroit auto factories, personal staff of Frank Murphy when the latter was attorney general of the United States, assistant U.S. attorney and executive aide to former U.S. Senator Blair Moody. In 1945 he was elected to the Common Council of the city of Detroit after his defeat for mayor in 1953. He was re-elected to the council in 1957. In May of 1960 he was appointed to the probate bench and in November he was elected to a four-year term.

Judge Lincoln is married and has a family of four children between the ages of 10 and 20 years.

He has not confined his interest to Wayne county in matters of delinquency. He serves as chairman of the Youth Employment Opportunities committee as well as chairman of the traffic committee for the National Council of Juvenile Court Judges.

He also is chairman of the resolution committee and vice-chairman of the juvenile affairs committee of the Probate Judges' Association of Michigan.

Judge Lincoln has consistently promoted studies and research on delinquency by using graduate students from various universities who accept projects with a view to obtaining masters or doctors degrees.

Some of the studies undertaken have been a study of recidivism within various institutions; three studies that resulted in an over-hauling of the court's methods of handling juvenile traffic violators; and a study of the reading level of children who come to the Youth Home.

"There is no arguing about the width of a street," says Judge Lincoln. "The sensible thing to do is to go and measure it. There are many factors concerning delinquency that cannot be measured accurately but it is surprising how many problems concerning delinquency are capable of being accurately measured and understood by research."

There has perhaps been more nonsense written about the subject of delinquency than any other human activity. Every person is a self-confessed expert on the subject. I was so certain of so many things concerning delinquency when I became a juvenile judge nearly three years ago. I have been forced to re-examine my thinking so many times that I now tend to reject broad sweeping statements and glib statements that attract attention but really add little to any understanding of the problem.

IT'S GOOD, TOO — Susan Waldenmayer of Novi tastes a piece of the fruit cakes that will go on sale Thursday, October 10 in conjunction with the card party to be sponsored by the Newcomers club. Brothers Donald and Dennis watch with interest as their sister does the official tasting.

Cake Sale Set

Final arrangements for the upcoming card party and fruit cake sale, under the sponsorship of the Newcomers Club, were made last week in a meeting at the Novi home of Mrs. Donald Waldenmayer.

The party and sale are scheduled for October 10, at 8 p.m. in the Our Lady of Victory Church hall.

Chairman for the event is Mrs. Waldenmayer. Assisting her are Mrs. David Vincent, Mrs. Paul Sobel, Mrs. Del Bramble, Mrs. C. J. St. Germaine, Mrs. Orville Barnes, and Mrs. Walter Murphy.

Mr. and Mrs. David Hay of Sunset street and her mother, Mrs. Vine Yerkes, recently returned from a trip to Central College at Pella, Iowa, where their son, David, is a junior. While there they were guests at a Parents' Night program that included watching a college football game. Young David recently was asked to join Alpha Zeta Mu, an honorary society usually limited to college seniors.

TUESDAY NOON

1—Card of Thanks

We wish to express our thanks to Rev. Hall, First Baptist Church, friends and neighbors for their comforting expressions of sympathy in our sorrow. These kindnesses have meant much to us.

The Hollon Family H40cx

We desire to express to our kind neighbors and thoughtful friends our heartfelt thanks for their many expressions of sympathy. The beautiful floral offerings were greatly appreciated.

Mary Beth Bruce
Michael, Jean,
Julia and Douglas H40p

I would like to thank everyone for their acts of friendship and kindness during my stay in the hospital. The cards, visits, and gifts, the drivers that kept the trucks rolling were very much appreciated.

Sincerely
Wilson Bishop H40p

PATIENTS FAIR — Plenty of fun and entertainment was available for patients at Northville State hospital Tuesday and Wednesday as volunteers from throughout the area staged the 11th annual patients fair at the hospital. Above, patients line up for turns at a booth sponsored by the Northville Newcomers club. Below is an overall view of the fair which took place on the hospital grounds.

— Wixom News —

Mrs. Charles Ware MA 4-1601 On Sunday, September 29 Mr. and Mrs. Fred Wagnitz, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wagnitz and family, Mrs. Don Wagnitz and family, and Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Wagnitz and family drove to Wauseon, Ohio to be present at the ordination service of Gerald Wagnitz son of Fred Wagnitz, who was ordained to the Baptist Ministry at the First Baptist church of Wauseon where he is a pastor. The sermon was preached by Dr. Arthur F. Williams from Cedarville college where Mr. Wagnitz studied four years and the charge to the church was by Rev. Richard McIntosh, of Cedarville college, charge to the candidate was by Rev. Mann of the Milford Baptist church.

On September 21 and 28 a group of men from St. Williams's parish headed by their pastor, Father Raymond Jones had a work bee and helped Mrs. John Barry winterize her home on Beck road. Mrs. Barry's husband died last summer and she has the job of raising eleven children, the oldest 15 years. The men plan on finishing their work on Saturday, October 5.

The Wixom Chamber of Commerce met on Tuesday night October 1 at 8 p.m. at the Wixom city hall. They discussed plans for Las Vegas night which will be held in December.

The knitting club of Hickory Hills has re-activated and met at the home of Mrs. Harry K. Johnson of Hickory Hills last week. Next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Charles Thomas.

On Saturday, September 28 a Decathlon was held at the city hall grounds for the boys and girls of the Wixom Elementary school and St. William's parochial school, Walled Lake. Pin will be awarded Wednesday at the schools.

Mrs. Wesley McAtee and daughter Ellie Jean have arrived home from St. Mary's hospital.

On Monday September 30 Mrs. Lillian Byrd entertained past matrons of OES club at her home on Charms road.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hill from Detroit were guests of the Lee Harrisons on Friday, September 27.

Miss Beulah Gay of Coldwater was a house guest of Miss Hilda Furman. On Wednesday last week Miss Furman, Miss Gay and two friends from Birmingham took the color tour around the thumb.

Mrs. Pierce Powers of Highland Park was a house guest of the Charles Wares over the weekend.

Dog Violations To Spark Tickets

Oakland county dog owners were warned this week that the day of courtesy tickets has ended.

Beginning this week, Oakland county deputy dog wardens will issue tickets to dog owners who continue to violate the law.

Tickets will be issued for failure to procure dog licenses, failure to prevent dogs from attacking passersby on public streets and sidewalks, allowing female dogs in heat to run at large and cruelty to animals.

Until this time deputy dog wardens have admittedly been lenient in most cases, issuing only verbal warnings and courtesy tickets.

"But people just haven't been taking us seriously. And it was costing the county too much time and money to enforce courtesy tickets," explained deputy warden Al Carnell.

— In Justice Court —

Leo J. and Lyle A. Duchesneau of 324 South Main, arrested last week and released on $50 cash bonds, pleaded guilty Monday of being drunk and disorderly and were each fined $25 and $5 costs.

In other court action Monday, Justice of Peace Charles McDonald found Lawrence D. Osowski of Livonia guilty of driving left of double yellow lines on East Main street and fined him $10 and $5 costs.

Roscoe Cobb of 225 Church, arrested and charged with three offenses, was released on $50 cash bond to appear in court Monday.

The Northville man pleaded guilty to having a defective tail light and was fined $5 for this offense. But he pleaded innocent of speeding and being disorderly, using obscene language and fighting.

Justice McDonald found him guilty of speeding and fined him $5, but after hearing evidence and character witnesses he dismissed the charge of disorderly conduct. However, Cobb is to make $10 restitution for damage to the arresting officer's wrist watch.

Robert Coe of Wixom was found guilty Monday by Novi Justice of the Peace Emery E. Jacques of assault and battery. He was fined $35 and placed on one year's probation.

Mustangs

Face Barons

Tomorrow

One man spells trouble for Northville when Bloomfield Hills comes to town tomorrow, Friday night.

He's Jamie Miller, the Barons' 6' 2", 215-pound-quarterback, who is touted as an excellent passer.

Miller's absence from the Bloomfield Hills line-up ever since he suffered an injury in the Barons' opening game against Oak Park has crippled their attack.

Without Miller, Bloomfield has "dropped two" W-O league contests, one to Clarkston, and last week, 26-7 to Brighton.

His return, however, should spread the opponent's defense, and make for a wide open ball game. To protect against any further injury to Miller's leg, the Barons may utilize a shotgun offense with Miller as the tailback.

Northville, too, is still suffering from injuries to four of its key players. None of them saw action against Holly.

Halfbacks Dave Cummings and Bill Wilson will not see action Friday night. Though improving, Cummings is favoring an injured shoulder and Wilson is having difficulty shaking a leg injury.

Two linemen will also be out with injuries. They are Tackle Tim Krug and Linebacker Ralph Conrad.

Lakers Rated 3rd

West Bloomfield; powerhouse in the Wayne-Oakland league, rolled past Clarenceville Friday, 20-7, for its third straight victory of the season.

The win was enough to give the Lakers a third place rating in the state Class B division by the Associated Press Poll. No other W-O conference team was included in the first 20 places in the poll.

In other W-O action last week, Clarkston upset Milford, 26-12; and Brighton walloped Bloomfield Hills 26-7.

Two Win Opening Grid Quiz

Competition was tough in the first grid quiz of the season last weekend.

As a matter of fact, seven entries tied for top honors with four wrong. Finally, the ties were narrowed down to just two by the use of the prediction of the Lions-Bears score.

Tied for first place were Gregg Balko, 744 Horton, and John Teano of Dearborn, a television-radio repairman at Northville Electric Shop. They'll divide first and second place money and receive $8.50 each.

Third prize, $3.00, went to Herman Reinackel of 315 East Cady.

Others missing just four but missing out on the prediction of the professional game score were Tom Mazanec, Bob Orr, Maxine LaRue and Linda Hoffman.

Most frequently missed games by the contestants were the Purdue upset by Miami of Ohio, Nebraska's tripping of Minnesota, Ferris over Albion, Chicago's trouncing of the Detroit Lions and, oddly enough, Northville's victory at Holly.

Time for another try. So turn to page four of section two. And you're off to a good start with these inside tips: Michigan over Navy, State to down Southern Cal and Purdue to bounce back over Notre Dame.

LET'S TALK CARS . . .

HOW IS YOUR GAS MILEAGE?

For reasons that only a psychologist could figure out, some automobile owners have a tendency to "go off the deep end" a little when it comes to the subject of gas mileage.

In one case we heard of recently, a driver repeatedly amazed his dealer with stories that he was getting 40 miles per gallon and better on a model that averaged 18. Since this went on for months, the dealer was beginning to believe his story that the manufacturer must have installed a new secret economy device in the car as an experiment.

The dealer passed the story on to the factory representative and shortly thereafter a factory man called at the motorist's home to interview him. It happened that he was out at the time and the factory man talked to his wife who told him confidentially that she sometimes used the car in her husband's absence and refilled the tank so he wouldn't be any the wiser.

Then there was the opposite type of case, where a motorist claimed continually that all he could get was 5 miles per gallon from his new car. A little detective work revealed that his teenage son disconnected the speedometer for the same reason the housewife put gas in the tank.

Seriously though, if you feel that your gas mileage leaves something to be desired, many conditions could cause it. Bring your car in and we'll test it. If adjustments are required, we can make them. If not, you'll at least relieve your mind.

He's Staff of Life

Fullback Gallops As Mustangs Win

Northville traveled all the way to Holly Friday night to learn what Orientals have known for ages — that Rice is the staff of life.

However, this Rice, which was all over the field in Northville's 33-6 conquest of the Holly Broncos, is of a singular quantity and quality.

Wearing jersey number 40, he's neatly packaged in a black and orange uniform and takes supreme delight in howling over would-be tacklers. He's the senior fullback who scored all of Northville's 33 points, while charging for 141 yards. He scored on runs of 2, 17, 12, 3 and 2 yards, and also accounted for four extra points on the ground.

His name: Ron Rice. This far this season, Rice has turned in a stellar performance in every game. He played an outstanding defensive game against Plymouth in a losing cause. He next scored all of the Mustangs' 15 points in a 14-6 win over Clarenceville, and then came Friday's fete.

With Rice sparking the attack, the Mustang offense could do little wrong as it scored five of the nine times it had the pigskin.

The defense, too, shared the spotlight. It gave ground near mid-field, but braced in goal line territory to hold the Broncos scoreless until late in the game.

And the Mustangs added another weapon to their attack. Passes in all but one of the surges were instrumental in spreading the Holly defense to open up the middle. This made the game a little easier for the Mustangs.

Northville rallied at least once in each period. The first time it got the ball in the first quarter, the Orange and Black drove 74 yards in 10 plays to score.

Rice ignited the march when he slashed 38 yards through a big hole at left tackle. Two passes to right halfback Dale French, covering 10 and 23 yards, and a 12-yard sprint by Tailback Mike Hall carried the local gridders to the 13 yard line. In three drives up the middle, Rice scored.

Chewing up big yardage in the second quarter drive were a 17-yard run around end by Hall and a pass from Quarterback Gary Stobbe to End Jerry Imslund, good for 28 yards. Thirty-five of the 80 yards were bulldozed out by Rice, who scored on a seven yard romp. Score: 14-0.

Then came the blow that broke the Broncos' spirit. Holly had marched 52 yards to the Northville 7 where it was first and seven for a TD. Three cracks and the Broncos were on the two-foot line.

Here, Mustang Bob Tuck and defensive company rose up and literally threw the Holly halfback to the turf for no gain.

A few minutes later, after the Mustangs punted out of danger, Tackle Ted Jacques recovered a Bronco fumble on the Northville 35.

Six plays later, Northville scored. Hall circled end for 11 yards. On two successive plays, French snared passes of 17 and 24 yards to move the ball to the 12.

Rice turned the trick again, slanting off tackle and twisting his way into the end zone. The extra-point run by Rice paid off as Northville left the field ahead, 21-0.

The second half was no different, except that the Black and Orange could muster only two scores, while Holly picked up one late in the game against reserves.

Almost before the Broncos could yell 'Look out for Rice', Northville had another touchdown.

This time, Hall and Rice accounted for all but six yards after the Mustangs took the kick-off on their 45. Hall rushed around right, then left end for 14 and 19 yards. Rice cracked the Holly line nine times for 26 yards, diving the final three over the goal line.

Only the change of goals at the end of the third quarter momentarily delayed the Mustangs last TD drive.

Stopped short of a first down on the 50, Mustang Dan Bishop spiraled a punt to the Holly 20, where Linebacker Artie Roth pounced on a fumble.

Rice lugged the pigskin the rest of the way for the tally. Stobbe's placement fell short as Northville held a 33-0 lead.

Holly's last-period 86 yard thrust for a TD ate up most of the time remaining in the fourth period. Two 15 yard penalties against Northville accounted for 30 of those yards.

Juday Sparkles In MSU Debut

EDITOR'S NOTE: The Michigan State athletic department has issued a press box seat to The Northville Record so that the "home-town paper" of its promising sophomore quarterback, Steve Juday, can bring readers a local report of his progress. Last Saturday Roland Peterson, The Record's sports editor, covered Juday's debut.

Juday in the line-up at quarterback for the Spartans. That's what boomed over the loudspeaker in the press box high above the field at Spartan stadium, East Lansing, at the start of the first quarter.

Hardly had the voice faded away when the speaker intoned: "Juday on a keeper for three yards."

Then, "Juday to Snorton for 13 yards and a first down on the 22."

"Touchdown Michigan State. Juday to Krzeminski, who lateraled to Lewis."

An auspicious debut for the back from Northville, Steve Juday. An effort that has earned for him the call at quarterback, but also, the plaudits of fans and scribes throughout the state.

Chalks Up First Win

Ken Rowe, former Northville baseball star who recently gained his first major league victory, may be in line for action when the Dodgers meet the Yankees in the World Series this week.

The Dodger hurler picked up his first triumph in a relief role.

Larry Sherry started for the Dodgers, gave up four runs on five hits over the first five innings and departed in favor of Rowe.

Rowe blanked the Mets over the next three innings after which relief ace Ron Perranoski made his 69th appearance and held New York hitless in the ninth.

PRIZE WINNER — Bob Springer of 111 Austin, Novi, won first place in the Northern Pike division of the annual Michigan Outdoors fishing contest with this 21-pound, 7-ounce monster caught last June in the Upper Peninsula. Bob, who won an outboard motor for his catch, battled the 46-inch giant for 20 minutes before landing him. He was using an eight-pound test line and a small spoon.

Arrest 23 At Vacant Home Here

Twenty-three teenage boys and girls from the Detroit area were arrested Saturday night while "fooling around" the vacant Whipple home on West Eight Mile road near Taft.

The youths, all of whom were detained for questioning and then released to the custody of their parents pending investigation of vandalism, were picked up by Wayne county deputy sheriffs on trespassing charges.

According to a county detective, all 23 have been warned to stay away from the house. Meanwhile, investigation of damage to the building, owned by the Whipple estate, will continue. And, the detective said, some of the youths may be forced to pay for damage.

The Whipple house, like several other vacant homes in the Northville-Novl area, have been damaged by young vandals who like to believe it and others are haunted, authorities explained.

The sheriff's department has received numerous complaints of vandalism and trespassing at the Eight Mile road in past months, but not until Saturday were deputies able to catch violators.

Similar complaints have been reported in Novi. Only recently two barns were destroyed by fire, which police believe was caused by "fun-seeking" youths.

READERS SPEAK:

Where's Justice?

To the Editor:

A few editions ago I read with interest in your paper that the Novi police are going to crack down on juvenile delinquency, because the problem is getting out of hand. I might add that there has been for some time a unique set up in Novi to handle these cases, where juveniles could be made to realize the seriousness of their pranks.

Adults who commit felonies is another problem, and must be handled through the courts, but on the records of the Novi or Walled Lake police departments will show that on September 1, 1963 a man was arrested for carrying concealed weapons which is a felony punishable in the state prison, but was found guilty for disturbing the peace and fined $75. I was told that a perfect setup for a holdup was in progress.

O well, maybe we don't know all the answers.

Nix on Fires

Northville residents were cautioned this week against burning of leaves on blacktopped streets.

According to Police Chief Eugene King, leaves must be burned on private property — not public streets or sidewalks.

Fires on blacktopped streets, he explained, is damaging to the roadway, and leaf fires on streets are dangerous for motorists.

Top F & A M Official, Jewel E. Smith Dies

Jewel Earl Smith, 53, acting Worshipful Master of Northville Lodge No. 186, F. & A. M., died suddenly Saturday at the Plymouth General Hospital.

Mr. Smith, who lived at 11034 Hillcrest, Livonia was also a member of the Royal Arch Chapter No. 55, and Past Patron of Orient Chapter No. 77, Order of the Eastern Star.

Born September 13, 1910, in Gideon, Missouri, he was the son of Henry B. and Lila (Wells) Smith. Married, his wife Juanita survives him.

Mr. Smith was an electrician for Cadillac Motor Company. He retired from the United States Navy, serving from 1927 to 1947, as chief electrician. He served aboard the SS Salt Lake City and the SS Colorado. He had lived in Livonia for the past eight years.

Besides his wife, he is survived by a daughter Diana, at home; a son, Robert of Canoga, California; two grandchildren; a sister, Mrs. Mamie Lucas of St. Louis, Missouri; and a brother, Arlie, of Detroit. Three brothers and three sisters preceded him in death.

Funeral services were conducted at 2 p.m. Tuesday, October 1 from Casterline Funeral Home, with the Rev. Edwin Wyman of the Baptist Church of Livonia officiating. The funeral was under the auspices of Northville Lodge No. 186, F. & A.M.

Burial was in Rural Hills Cemetery.

Obituary

MARY R. BEECH

Mary R. Beech, 91, who had lived at Eastlawn Convalescent Home for the past seven years and part of the time with her son, Edward Burns of Reedling, died at Wayne County General Hospital Monday, September 30, after a long illness.

Born July 16, 1872 at Bethel, Michigan, she was the daughter of Ike and Eliza (Booth) Lockwood. Married, her husband, Harry J. Beech, died in 1948.

She was a life member of the West Methodist Church of Reading, and a life member of the Royal Neighbor Lodge at Coldwater.

Besides her son Edward Burns, she is survived by another son, Alvin Burns of Urbana, Illinois; a sister, Mrs. Nettie LaGrange of Jackson, Michigan, two grandchildren and two great grandchildren. She was preceded in death by two sons and one daughter.

The funeral will take place at the Card Cemetery in Bethel on Friday, with visitation at Casterline Funeral Home on Wednesday and Thursday, October 3 and 4. The Rev. Austin Regair of the Reedling Methodist Church will officiate at the funeral.

BLANCHE E. LYKE

Mrs. Blanche Elizabeth Lyke, 74, of 543 Gener, Plymouth, died Tuesday, September 29 at Wayne County General Hospital following an illness of two years.

Born November 24, 1888 in Novi, she was the daughter of George and Anna (Trumbull) King. She was married to Ernie Lyke, former Northville police chief, on March 29, 1909. He died in April 1952.

Mrs. Lyke had lived on Rogers street in Northville for more than 50 years. She was a member of the First Methodist Church of Northville and Macabees Tent No. 169.

She is survived by one son, Arthur of Plymouth, and two grandchildren and one great grandchild.

Funeral services were conducted Wednesday, October 2 at 2 p.m. from Casterline Funeral Home, with the Rev. S. D. Kinde, pastor of the First Methodist church of Northville, officiating.

Burial was in Rural Hills cemetery.

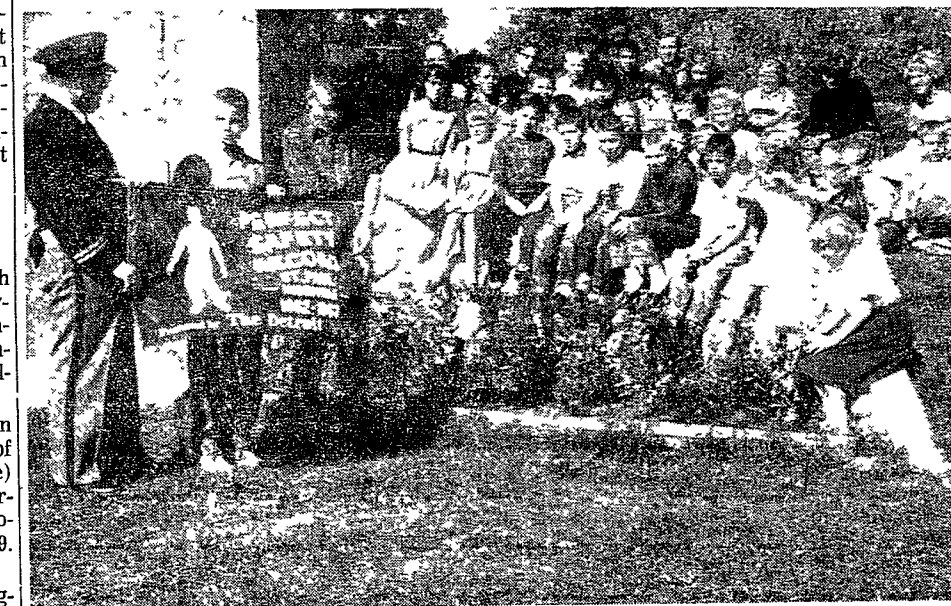

Wins Hospital Honor

Mrs. Byron (Vivian) Champion, 1150 S. Harvey, Plymouth, was honored during the first afternoon of the Patients Fair. She was named Volunteer-of-the Week by the Central Volunteer Bureau of United Community Services.

The Central Volunteer Bureau received nominations of volunteers from social agencies, hospitals, and other organizations in the Greater Detroit area.

TOP SAFETY AWARDS — Only two local schools, Our Lady of Victory Catholic and St. Paul's Lutheran, earned top safety awards from The Detroit News. Both schools, which had perfect safety records this past year, were awarded appropriate flags by Northville Police Chief Eugene King for The News. Accepting the award from Chief King on behalf of Our Lady of Victory (above) are I to r: John and Joe Saputo, Robert Hubbard and Paul Faulkner. Below, Frank Martin and James Pankow accept the award on behalf of St. Paul's.

DeHoCo Superintendent To Speak Here on Prisons

W. H. Bannan, superintendent of the House of Correction will be the guest speaker at a meeting of the Men's Club of Our Lady of Victory Catholic Church on Tuesday, October 8.

His talk, which will get underway at 8 p.m. in the church hall, will be entitled, "Why Prisons are Full and Will Remain Full."

Prison work has occupied most of Bannan's adult life. While at Michigan Reformatory in Ionia, he worked as a custodial officer, cashier, business manager and deputy warden. On July 10, 1952, he was named warden of the Southern Michigan state prison at Jackson.

Bannan retired from the State Department of Corrections on July 31, 1963 and was appointed superintendent of the Detroit House of Corrections on February 1, 1963.

The warden was graduated from Western Michigan university with a bachelor of science degree. He also holds an honorary doctor's degree in public administration from the same university.

Bannan's talk will be followed by a business meeting and an election of officers for the coming year. A board of directors will be elected and the 1963-64 activity program will be discussed.

Refreshments will be served.

SNAPSHOT REVIEW

Secrets of Better Family Pictures Outdoors

- Let people be themselves. Don't line them up for a shot firing-squad style. The best pictures are of people doing things.
- Avoid the "squinching in the sun look." Move your subjects into soft, shadowless light where possible. Expressions will look more natural.
- Keep the background simple, so it won't detract from the people. Trees, grass, sand or a plain wall do nicely. Or, shoot up at your subject and let the sky be your background.
- Come in close to your subjects. Catch the eyes and the smiles and leave the scenery for another picture.

from the PASTOR'S STUDY

Rev. Lloyd Brasure
First Presbyterian Church

Recently an author wrote a penetrating study under the title, "The Mind of Jesus." Many enlightening chapters deal with the mind of the Master as the author studied the first three Gospels. He concludes among other things that there are two beginnings in the life of every man who has left his mark upon history. There is the day when he was born; and then there comes the day when he discovers why he was born into this world of love and conflict, of loyalty and anarchy, of success and defeat, of light and darkness. There have been many notable examples of this truth.

In the days of ones youth the matter of a chosen vocation or profession is a continuing concern. School days are times of preparation and of study, of activity and many interests. How does one decide finally how to use time and talent and training to honor God and truth? Many of our young people are seriously eager to explore possible uses of their lies, to constructive and worthwhile ends. Many parents help and encourage their children to follow a good line of thinking to come up with some strong and valuable answers. However, all too many students and parents today seem to tally uninterested in applying themselves to this goal.

Present habits and activities contribute only confusion to the pattern of thought; purpose goes down the drain with thoughtless waste of time and talent.

In the total ministry of Jesus Christ, there is to be found a vital emphasis on the use of all gifts from God, the mind and spirit being in the forefront of man's endeavor. St. Paul learned the signal importance of this emphasis as he counseled Timothy, "study to show thyself approved unto God, a workman that needeth not to be ashamed, rightly dividing the word of truth" (1 Tim. 2:15). Christianity is a religion of the heart and of the mind. It gives challenge to all to equip the mind well and to order and discipline the body habits. The days of youth are valuable ones for the learning of lifelong habits, and building interests.

Would that more young people and their parents follow the desire to learn "more of the Master" and let the will of God determine long range purposes and directions. "The Mind of Jesus" is found in the Gospel. May the days of spiritual re-birth direct our pathways into the ways of righteousness and peace, that loving and serving Him with a whole heart, and mind, we may be found faithful in all things.

WHY ADVERTISE?

There's only one businesslike reason to advertise.
You can make more money WITH advertising than you can WITHOUT advertising. This means your advertising is an investment . . . not an expense.

HERE ARE FIVE WAYS ADVERTISING PAYS DIVIDENDS:

1. Advertising builds a desirable reputation for your business. You must sell your store as the place to buy before you can sell your merchandise.
2. Advertising attracts new customers to your store. Before you can really sell, you have to bring customers to your store. Advertising attracts new customers, brings back former customers . . . many more and much faster.
3. Advertising helps you meet and overcome the fierce competition in today's retailing world. Advertising helps you maintain and protect your business.
4. Advertising is informative . . . it tells your customers what's new.
5. Advertising increases profits by building volume. Competition tends to trim profits on each sale, so volume becomes the key to success. Advertising gets your selling message to enough people to build volume sales.

...and NORTHVILLE RECORD
ADVERTISING does all these jobs best!

Landfill Questions: Words and Meaning

NOTE: This newspaper welcomes "letters to the editor" but reminds readers of certain requirements: 1. Letters should be submitted by Monday noon of week of publication; 2. All letters must be signed, but name will be withheld upon request; 3. PLEASE confine length of letter to 400 words; 4. Letters considered libelous or containing profane language may be edited or omitted at the discretion of the editor.

To the Editor:
In your front page story of September 12 and again on the 18th you report the proposed rubbish fill for the Northville area will be coming to a public hearing some time in mid-October.

What this portends for the Northville area may be anticipated by:

What was said with —
What was inferred, from what was said.
Legal counsel as quoted, the board is not legally required to hold a public hearing. They'll pass it anyway. The proposal will be studied

C. A. SMITH, well-known Northville area businessman, has taken a position in real estate sales with the J. L. Hudson company of Plymouth. Former owner of Smith Products, an aluminum fabricating firm, Smith has been active in the Northville Area Development Corporation and currently heads the non profit community group as president. Smith will handle real estate in the Northville-Novi area.

from the legal and engineering aspects.

You lose. (How about a study from social implications for the community?)
Chairman of Appeals board: We'll explain it so you'll understand it.

You're not very bright, but they'll give it a try.

Legally the board was told that some doubt exists as to whether or not it has the power to permit or deny a land fill operation; therefore it was presumed "permission" would necessarily come from the board of appeals as a "variance."

In the case of doubt give the Applicant the benefit.

A "variance" is a use for which no provision was made in the zoning.

"Variance" is a legal loop-hole out of a dilemma.

Township officials have indicated Hayes might win approval if regulations can be invoked that provide adequate safeguards.

Township officials know what's best for community investors. (Why not invoke present safeguards?)

Regulations for Sanitary land-fill.

Same thing as police regulations under the police powers granted local communities. (Ever argue with a policeman? Tell it to the Judge he'll understand.)

Regulations will be very rigid. On paper maybe? Can they be enforced? What about lessening congestion on public streets and roads, a feature of the Planning Act now bypassed by a variance?

No garbage will be permitted.

Fine idea, but will it work? Detroit city officials concede rule is broken more than it is enforced. Besides what is garbage? It is different things in different states. How about a definition of garbage in Northville and Detroit?

Attorney states court-imposed regulations would be milder than those imposed by township.

Are court decision notably unfair, arbitrary, unreasonable?

(Is the township schedule of fees for supervisory personnel an example of strictness we want in the township? And isn't this the same thing as being on the Promoter's payroll? Wouldn't he be in fact subsidizing his own inspection?)

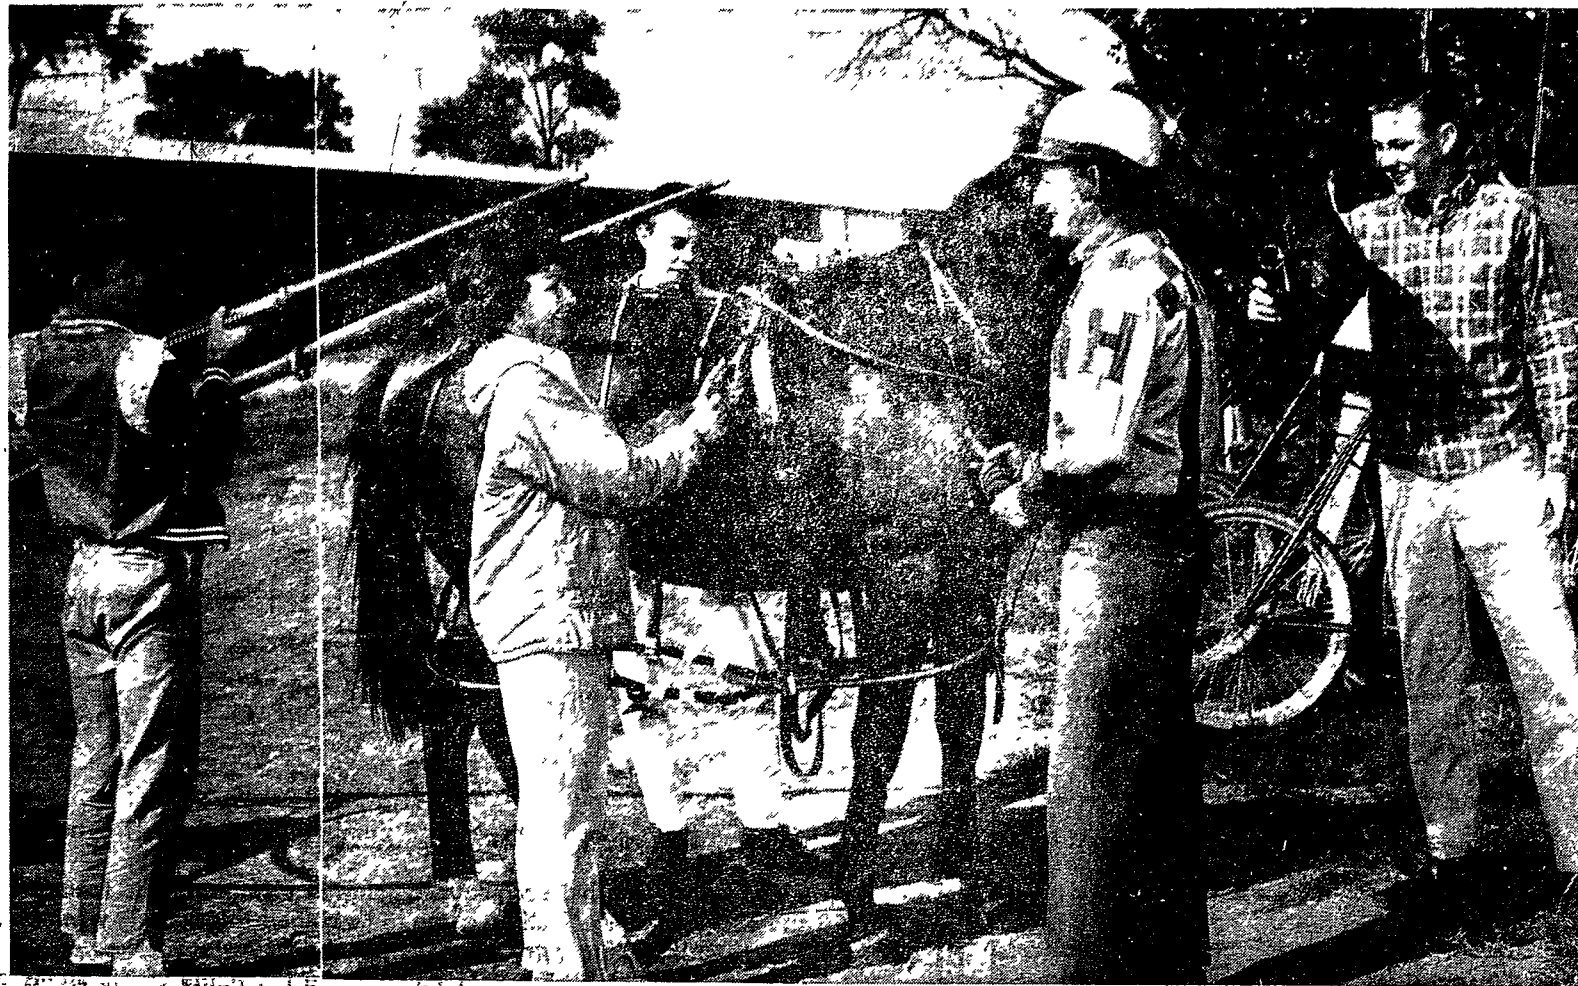

Summarizing:

Who knows sanitary fills and dumps? There is a difference, better than those who run them? The city of Detroit is hard pressed to dispose of rubbish as townships with Experience close their doors to rubbish. They have had their fill of fill. These include Townships of Taylor, Brownstone, Romulus — there are others. But Northville will take it.

Detroit city Planners faced with increased resistance seek outlets outside the "metropolitan core." A soon-to-be-released report will recommend discontinuance of all rubbish hauls over the highways; instead it will be carried on flat cars by rail, eliminating traffic problems and public resistance. To soften public resistance for the present they recommend public control with elimination of profit. Swollen profit they say leads to gangster control. Absence of a plan and lack of traffic control spell trouble for the area. The township has neither. After the hole, what? The people would like to know. A hole-a-cadst? A fill without a plan is a dump.

What can you do? You can be informed. Get wise. A responsible citizen is an informed citizen. Aroused voters in Romulus township elected a supervisor on an anti-land fill campaign. Outraged women in Taylor township blocked the fill with their cars, closed it out. (There is a lesson here which will not be lost on responsible community leaders responsive to public opinion. They're worried too. Public health, safety, morals are not exclusive township problems, they're area problems too.

DRIVING CHAMP — Northville's Don Hall led the field at Wolverine Raceway for the driving championship of the 50-night meet as the season closed last Saturday night. He received plenty of encouragement and help from his family (l. to r.) Pat, 14; Mrs. Hall; Steve Gallentine, a nephew from Bucyrus, Ohio; and Mike, 17. It would mark the first crown in 20 years of driving for Hall. He's gained acclaim during the Wolverine meet for his handling of Mike Pick, the sensational four-year-old pacer, winner of 10 of 11 races at the meeting. Last week the Wolverine meet showed a seven per cent increase in mutuel handle and a three per cent hike in attendance.

Three Local Students in Merit Test Semi-Finals

Three Northville high school students have been named semifinalists in the 1963-64 Merit Scholarship competition, Principal Fred Stefanski announced this week.

They are Anna S. Hembrey, Anna C. Martin and Russell D. Schoof.

Semifinalists are chosen on the basis of their outstanding performance on the National Merit Scholarship, Qualifying Test. This test of educational development was given in more than 16,500 high schools last March.

Some 13,000 seniors throughout the country attained semifinalist status. Each semifinalist now moves a step closer to winning a four-year Merit Scholarship to the college of his choice.

Semifinalists must substantiate their qualifying test performance on a second examination, be endorsed by their schools, and fulfill certain routine requirements to become finalists.

All merit scholars are selected from the finalist group.

"The future leaders of our nation will be found among young people who have the qualities and aspirations represented by these semifinalists," said John M. Stalnaker, president of the National Merit Scholarship Corporation.

To increase their opportunities to obtain financial assistance if they need it, the Merit Corporation sends the names of semifinalists to all accredited colleges and universities and to other scholarship-granting agencies and financial aid sources.

In past years, about 97 percent of the semifinalists have become finalists.

Boy Hurt By Car Here

An eight-year-old Northville boy was injured Saturday when struck by a car on East Main street.

Treated by a private physician for a bruised foot was John Luckett, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Luckett, 44040 Wyn-gate.

According to police, the boy ran from between parked cars near the theater into the path of a car driven by Robert W. Sample of 20803 Chigwidden drive.

Commenting on the accident, Police Chief Eugene King urged motorists to stop double-parking near the theater entrance while picking up children.

"This accident might have been avoided," King said, if cars had not been double parked in the area. Both the boy and the motorist apparently had their vision hampered by double-parked vehicles."

SERVICE AWARD — Elmo "Spike" Lemmon (right) of 421 Horton accepts congratulations from John C. Spruhan, general manager of the Dunn Steel company of Plymouth, upon reaching his 25th year of employment with the firm. Looking on is Lemmon's son, Lee, who also is employed by Dunn Steel. The senior Mr. Lemmon, who received a diamond tie clasp for his 25 years of service, is an assistant foreman in the secondary machine department. His son is an industrial management trainee for the firm which was founded in 1926 and which has been located in Plymouth for most of those years. Since 1951 the firm has been a division of the Townsend corporation.

— Out of the Past —

ONE YEAR AGO —

October 4, 1962
—The question of whether or not Northville will ever become a part of the Northwest Wayne County Community College district depends upon the citizens of Northville.

These were the words of College President Eric Bradner this week when he reported to The Record that Northville petitions seeking a vote to join the college district were in the hands of the college attorney and would probably stay there.

—The Northville city council turned its attention to the consideration of Detroit city water and appointed city Councilman Richard Ambler to head up a study effort.

—If registrations are any indication, Northville should record one of its biggest votes for biennial state election this November.

—The city council postponed its choice of builders for the proposed new recreation building Monday night in an attempt to avoid possible delays once construction gets underway.

—Six new voters were honored at the 22nd annual Citizen-Dinner sponsored by the Northville Coordinating Council and the Optimist club.

—The Edward Erwins, partners in the locally prominent Erwin Fruit operations, were named the Oak and county "family of the year."

—Some 400 businessmen were expected to attend the testimonial dinner honoring Northville area industrialists Roblee B. Martin of the Dundee Cement company and chairman of the Michigan Industrial Ambassadors was to be the speaker.

—The Northville Mustangs rolled over Holly, 33-14.

FIVE YEARS AGO

October 2, 1958
—First step in the appeal action of Warren Products in its suit protesting annexation into the city of Northville is scheduled for next Tuesday when the state supreme court will consider a "right to appeal" request.

The action is normal procedure in seeking an appeal before the high court. It is expected that the request will be granted and the case heard before the supreme court during its next three-month session which begins in January.

—The possibility that a loaded pistol is lying somewhere in the Northville area brought a worried warning to parents from Northville Police Chief Joseph Denton.

The pistol is the one used in the shooting of Mrs. Evelyn Little Saturday night.

—The Novi school board was scheduled to meet last night to recount votes cast in the September 22 school millage increase election. At stake is a proposal to increase school taxes by 2½ mills for each of the next five years.

—More than 300 priests took part in a ceremony blessing the striking new Our Lady of Victory Church.

—The man who led Novi's incorporation movement from its very beginning, three years ago, was sworn into office Wednesday night as the first president of the village.

Walter Tuck was elected to the office by a unanimous vote of his four fellow councilmen, Durk Groenenberg, Russell Burton, Dieron Tatrallan and Philip Anderson.

—The Mustangs were rated second behind River Rouge in the Detroit Times' weekly football poll Tuesday.

—Two workmen suffered minor eye injuries last Thursday when a water main they were testing at Wayne County Training school exploded.

FIFTEEN YEARS AGO

October 8, 1948
—The village of Northville and township residents, who are eligible to become registered voters, but who have not registered with the Clerk Fred Lyke, may now do so for the November 2 election.

—Villagers this week through the mail received pledge cards for the local Sister Kenny polo fund drive.

—George Clark of the Clark Hardware store on North Center street announced a total of $50.88 in prizes to be given to small game hunters.

—Perry Hayden, "The Quaker Miller" from Tecumseh, is to be a guest of the Presbyterian Men's club Monday evening, October 25.

—Edward P. Lanning, 214 North Wing street, and Donald R. Racine, 526 Orchard drive, both of Northville, play baritone and cornet in the University of Michigan Marching Band.

—The United States Trotting Association has granted Northville Downs a five-day extension of racing dates from October 9 to October 14.

—The blessing and laying of the cornerstone for Michigan's new provincial major theological seminary of St. John at Plymouth has been set for 3:30 p.m. Sunday, October 10.

The seminary will provide final years' training for the majority of the state's diocesan candidates for the priesthood. The site of the seminary is on Phoenix road, between Sheldon and Northville roads.

—The village council reported that the new water pump would be installed this week which would increase the village water supply.

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

October 7, 1938
—The village's immediate interest in the paying, tax re-funding is to see that all property is cleared so that persons may sell their property without embarrassment. If proper payment of the taxes has been made, it's up to us to push the recording of deeds and to see that the taxes are cancelled on the books," asserted Mayor Arthur S. Nichols before members of the council and a number of villagers Monday evening at the regular session in the village hall.

—If a proposal made by State Representative E. R. Eaton of this district should be approved, the people of Michigan will nominate all State officials instead of just the candidates for governor and lieutenant governor.

—A mixed chorus, an outgrowth of the former Northville-Plymouth male chorus, an organization of five years' standing, has been organized including the voices of singers from the Detroit and Wayne areas as well as from the two neighboring communities of Northville and Plymouth, under the direction of Leslie G. Lee, head of the music department of the Northville high school.

—An editorial appeared in The Record urging public support for Northville's high school football team, which opened with a victory over Walled Lake. It read in part: "Now it's up to the school patrons and merchants to take two hours away from their business houses and stand by the team this afternoon in the face of Melvindale's attack. Well-filled bleachers can go a long way toward bringing home a victory team. The boys have started the season with a victory and a little pat on the back from villagers may be the turning point in the face of previous years' defeat."

Harry B. Smith was coach of the Mustang eleven.

Western Union Service Moves

The Western Union Telegraph Company has given public notice that it will officially close its agency office in Northville.

In an advertisement appearing in this week's edition the company states that service will be available through the Plymouth office. Any public protests may be made to the Federal Communications Commission, Washington 25, D.C., on or before October 23.

An office is not currently being operated here. Carrington Agency had handled Western Union calls until last June.

FOOTBALL CONTEST

It's Easy . . . It's Fun . . . Nothing to Buy!

FIRST PRIZE . . . $10

SECOND PRIZE . . . $7

THIRD PRIZE . . . $3

HERE ARE THE RULES

Take a plain piece of paper and number down the left hand side from 1 to 20.

You will notice that each square below is also numbered from 1 to 20 and each contains a football game to be staged this coming weekend.

To complete your entry you must do the following:

- (1) after each number on your paper write the name of the sponsor of the corresponding numbered square.
- (2) following the sponsor's name — write the name of the winning team.
- (3) In addition you must pick a score on the outcome of the game in square 20. This will be used in the case of a tie and then the contestant whose score is closest to the actual score will be declared the winner.

Be sure to write your name, address and phone number plainly on your piece of paper (your entry).

Enter just once a week, but you may enter as many weeks as you wish. In case of ties, prize money will be split.

Copies of the contest will be posted at the Northville Record office each week.

Entries must be postmarked or brought to the Record office no later than 5 P.M. each Friday.

Employees of the Northville Record-Novl News or sponsoring merchants are not eligible.

Enter Today . . . You May Be A Winner!

HONORED — Dave Hay, a junior at Central college at Pella, Iowa, was one of four juniors and four seniors elected to Alpha Zeta Mu, the college's highest scholastic honor society. Members are elected by the faculty. Hay is the son of Mr. and Mrs. David Hay of Sunset.

American Legion Notes

Plans were revealed this past week at the regular meeting that the annual Thanksgiving Feather Party will be held on November 22. This is one of the most important fund-raising campaigns that the Post conducts each year.

Commander Katzbeck reported that the Post has purchased a new sewing machine for the children's home at Otter Lake. It was to be delivered to them this past Sunday. Here is one of the areas in which proceeds from the annual poppy sale are used.

The Fall Conference at Bay City, slated for October 4, 5 and 6, will attract at least eight members from our Post. Also on hand for the Conference will be Northville's State Commander, C. Oscar Hammond, and his wife.

To date 40 local members have become "Early Birds" by paying their dues for the 1964 year. You can make it 41!

Two new members were elected to the Building Board. They are Louis Katzbeck and Conrad Acker. Bob Blough also was re-elected to the board.

The next meeting is scheduled for Tuesday, October 8. Bring another member or prospect with you.

—Goodwill Pick-up—

The next visit of Goodwill Industries pickup trucks to Northville is scheduled for Monday. Goodwill trucks collect household discards of clothing, shoes, hats, toys, most types of furniture and other household discards.

To arrange for a Goodwill Industries truck pickup, ask the operator for toll-free Enterprise 7002.

"Just Right" For CLEAN Housekeeping!

No wonder they say CLEAN when they talk about Gas househeating—it's so clean-burning! Since Natural Gas is already a gas, it is ready to burn—therefore it burns easily and efficiently. You aren't left with smoke, soot, or a messy film on your furnishings. Women enjoy selecting light colors for decorating and with natural Gas heat they know there is less concern for soiling and expense of upkeep. It saves time—saves cleaning bills—saves hours of housecleaning. And the surprising fact is that people who get the facts, generally find this better heat saves them money too!

Today 8 out of 10 new homes are heated with Gas

YOUTH ADDRESSES LEGIONNAIRES — Kim Acker of Northville (above), local Boys State representative sponsored by the Lloyd H. Green Post No. 147, addressed Wolverine Boys' State committeemen from throughout Michigan here at the First Methodist church Saturday evening. Kim gave a report on his 10-day training session government at the conclave held last June on the campus at Michigan State university. Twenty-seven representatives from other community service organizations in the Northville area who sponsored boys to the 1963 session also attended the banquet to hear first-hand reports on the aims and ideals of the American Legion youth training project. Shown at the head table with the young speaker are Mrs. David McDougall of Northville and two outstate Boys' State committeemen and their wives.

WHEW! HE MADE IT — Traffic was slowed at the intersection of Main and Center Friday morning when the truck-trailer loaded with tons of sod grunted and groaned but failed to make the steep grade on its own. Two G. E. Miller wreckers were pressed into action but even they had difficulty. Finally, after more than a half-hour of straining and tugging, the wreckers inched the loaded truck over the crest of the hill to the cheers of shoppers who gathered to watch the show.

Admissions Information Sent Out by Schoolcraft

Each of the approximately 40,000 families in the Schoolcraft college district will receive this week a communication from the college giving important information concerning admission.

Although Schoolcraft College will not hold its first classes until August 31, 1964, those interested in entering either part-time or full-time are urged to read this bulletin carefully. It is the hope of the board of trustees and the college officials that no one will be deprived of admission to the college because he does not understand the necessity of early application and admission procedures.

In the brochure which is being mailed, details will be given on how, where, and when to secure application blanks and all curricula which will be available. Seniors attending high schools of the college district will receive information and applications through the high schools. Seniors attending other high schools and those residents not in school, whether interested in full or part-time programs, will find the pamphlet particularly helpful.

'64 Jet-smooth Luxury CHEVROLET

Besides looks, ride and power—what's so special about it?

(It's so reasonably priced)

Kind of leaves the high-priced cars some explaining to do, wouldn't you say? Long and luxurious—with a fresh-christened look. Richer roomy interiors with subtle new blendings of colors and fabrics. Like the ultra-soft vinyl upholstery in the new Chevrolet Impala Super Sport Series.

A choice of seven engines, no less, with output all the way up to 425 hp.* And a choice of four smooth transmissions to go with them. And underlying it all, the opulent feel of this '64 Chevrolet's Jet-smooth ride.

Matter of fact, the most noticeable difference between this beautiful new 1964 Chevrolet and the high-priced cars is the price itself.

Let your dealer show you how much luxury that reasonable Chevrolet price now buys.

SPEAKING for The Record

By BILL SLIGER

For three days last week I joined 35 other businessmen from throughout Michigan and an equal number from Massachusetts as guests of the Navy at Pensacola Naval Air Station.

Specifically labelled an orientation cruise, the trip was designed to acquaint us with the Navy air cadet program. In three days the Navy attempted to demonstrate highlights of a cadet program that lasts 18 months.

We heard lectures, saw movies and watched demonstrations from dawn till dark. If anyone was expecting a leisurely sojourn south, he was disappointed.

Our trip started Monday at 6:30 a.m. at Grosse Ile Naval Air Station. After breakfast, movies and briefing we took off aboard a four-engine (DC-3) transport plane for Florida.

We arrived at Pensacola at 1 p.m. where we were greeted by a red carpet, band and Vice Admiral Fitzhugh Lee, chief of Naval Air Training.

We were then shuttled by buses to our barracks and given about 15 minutes to prepare for a tour of the base. So we wouldn't wander off, get lost or forget where we belonged, the Michigan group was issued blue flight caps and the Massachusetts group gold.

During the afternoon we heard four lectures and saw two movies. Then we witnessed an air-sea rescue demonstration with a helicopter crew recovering a wet "volunteer" who had been bouncing around in a rubber raft in choppy Gulf waters for about an hour.

Navy pilots then introduced us to their prop and jet-type training planes by buzzing us in formation in squadrons of three.

Next we witnessed demonstrations of the physical education program. One of the instructors was 56 years old. He looked about 40 and performed "sit-ups" like he was 20. Most of us tightened our belts a notch and stood a little straighter as we watched.

A cadet must be able to do a minimum of 82 sit-ups and swim at least a mile fully clothed.

Next we saw the "Dilbert Dunker". This is a training device used to teach students the principles of emergency underwater cockpit escape. It's about the size of a plane's cockpit and is mounted on a slanting track at the end of a swimming pool.

The cadet — with safety belt tightened — is released and plunged into the water. The "Dunker" overturns and the cadet finds himself upside down in 10 feet of water. He must gain his release, inflate his life raft and await rescue.

The day ended with a reception and fish fry and a warning that the next day would really be rough aboard the Lexington carrier with reveille at 5:30 a.m.

Our tour guide, a young lieutenant, advised us to get to bed early — as he departed for the officer's club bar.

But at 5:15 a.m. he stomped into our rooms, flicked on the lights and yelled something about "everybody up".

Our day on the Lexington was the highlight of the trip. It was a big day in the lives of a number of air cadets, too. They would be making their first landings on a carrier.

Most of us had never been aboard a carrier — and the Lexington is a whopper. It's three football fields long — 900 feet — and has a 182-foot wide flight deck. It has a crew of 1,700 officers and men, displaces more than 40,000 tons and has enough horsepower in her four engines to propel 750 automobiles at top speed.

And how would one of our local fuel oil dealers like to have "The Lex" as a customer? The carrier's fuel oil bill for August was $14,000.

I must confess I was awed by the floating airport with the facilities of a small city. For example:

— four sets of evaporators produce more than 180,000 gallons of fresh water for daily use;

— the cooks in one week prepare 10,000 pounds of meat, 6,500 pounds of potatoes, 2,000 gallons of milk and 800 pies;

— the ship has a 63-bed hospital, modern medical and dental clinics, 900 telephones, lounges, library, hobby shop, smoke shop, tailor and barber shops, post office, cobbler shop, clothing store, soda fountain and an athletic and fishing gear shop;

— other features include the ship's own closed-circuit radio station and monthly magazine.

The Lexington is commanded by Captain John M. Miller and bears a proud war record. Commissioned in 1943 after the fourth Lexington had been sunk by torpedo during the battle of the Coral Sea, the new Lex set out to avenge her namesake. She was the only aircraft carrier in the Pacific not camouflaged at that time, and seemingly impossible to destroy, was dubbed by the Japanese as the "Blue Ghost".

By the end of World War II the Lexington had destroyed more than 850 enemy aircraft, sunk 300,000 tons of enemy shipping and damaged another 600,000 tons. After nine years in "mothballs" the Lexington was recommissioned complete with modern angled deck, steam catapults and mirror landing system.

From 1955 until 1962 she operated in the Pacific area with the Seventh Fleet. Now the proud warrior of the Pacific is assigned to Pensacola as a training carrier in the waters of the Atlantic and Gulf of Mexico.

Although rescue helicopters hovered about, thankfully none of the young cadets missed their mark. Four groups — two flying jets and two in prop-type planes qualified.

After a banquet Tuesday night at the Mustin Beach officers' club, where we were entertained by an excellent cadet choir, the visit was concluded Wednesday with tours of the base chapel and museum.

I'm sure all of the civilian visitors were duly impressed. The Navy completed its mission — which was to tell the Navy story . . . its struggle to train and keep men, its hope that salaries will be hiked so that the service may attract career men, its devotion to the traditions and history of our nation.

Now that I'm back at the typewriter again, I'm ready to hear the competition. Bring on the Air Force.

Seventy-four years ago, a Southfield couple gave birth to a deformed baby boy. He was one of 16 children in a family that otherwise was normal in every respect.

They named him Carl. Doctors gave the boy only a few years to live. Insurance companies refused to consider him worthy of risk. And friends, even his parents, looked upon him as an oddity who would forever require the help of others.

But what Carl lacked in physical size and shape — he was only 42-inches tall when matured — he made up with a superior intellect and an uncanny quest for success in a world that shook its head at him.

As a young boy he shrugged off the teasing of children and the distasteful sympathy of adults and went to work selling soap and books door-to-door throughout the Detroit area. By the time he reached the eighth grade, Carl was earning more money than some adults.

And he worked by "hard selling", refusing to accept charity.

Once, recalled a friend, a sympathetic woman "looked at his twisted frame and gave him five dollars without buying a thing. Disgusted, Carl tossed the bill onto the ground and stomped on it. "I don't need that kind of money, lady," he said, angrily and limped off.

With his earnings, Carl bought most of the furniture for his parents' home and he began a savings account. By the time he reached the eighth grade, life's pace seemed too slow so Carl quit and entered the Detroit Business University to study law and business administration.

To help pay for his college studies, he teamed up with a 6½-foot friend in a Mutt and Jeff act which played the Detroit circuit before World War I. His stage role was to balance himself on the head of his partner. Upside down, he ate a cookie and drank a glass of milk.

After graduating five years later, Carl married a "wonderful woman" who tipped the scales at nearly 250 pounds. He and his wife moved to Wixom about 1920, where he bought a 108-acre farm for himself and a house in the center of the community for his parents.

If citizens of Wixom had any doubts about Carl's abilities, they soon changed their minds. He did everything required of a farmer, from milking cows to cultivating with a team of four horses. Instead of driving the team from the rear, he rode atop one of the animals; instead of walking behind the plow, he rode on it.

In many ways his height was an advantage. "I didn't have to walk around the hay wagon. I'd just walk under it."

But farming was only one of many occupations for this man who seldom ever worked less than 15 hours a day. He operated a fleet of 145 dump trucks from an office in Wixom and another in Detroit. Nearly every major road in this area — including the then unpaved Grand River avenue — was gravelled by one of Carl's trucks. And, by using a cushion and specially built pedals, Carl was able to drive one of the trucks himself.

In 1928 he was elected president of the Michigan Dump-truck association.

Before his wife died, she and Carl raised an adopted boy. Later, the little man raised six children of two sisters who died.

Besides operating the trucking business, Carl also purchased a confectionary store and a tavern in Wixom. It was while operating the former that he organized and managed a Wixom baseball team that became the envy of amateur managers in the southern Oakland county conference. Oldtimers still recall that team with pride.

Then in 1935 Carl obtained a real estate brokerage license and opened a real estate office in Wixom.

Today, nearing the age 75, Carl Algrim, now crippled by arthritis and nearly blind, is planning to retire soon from that real estate business.

And the birthday and the retirement of this man who was given just a few years to live will not be celebrated by any of his 15 brothers and sisters. All are dead.

Carl Algrim carries 90 pounds on his 42-inch high frame. That makes him 15 pounds overweight.

But unlike some afflicted who suffer cruel ridicule and sympathy and who look upon their own lives despairingly, this man wears a smile and is very sincere when he says, "I don't think anyone has enjoyed life or gotten more from it than me."

State Boasts 18 Community Colleges

LANSING — Education facilities above the high school level are increasing in Michigan, according to Superintendent of Public Instruction Lynn M. Bartlett.

Construction at the state supported colleges and universities make this very apparent, but it is even a bigger factor where community colleges are concerned.

Bartlett noted that when the Michigan community college law is 13 years old, the number of its public locally operated colleges will have doubled.

"While this growth rate has been outstanding, we will again need to almost double this number in the next 10 years if we are to satisfy anticipated demands for post-12th grade education," said Bartlett.

By next fall, 18 community colleges will be in operation. In 1951, when the legislation to establish community college departments was passed, nine junior colleges existed.

Growth of these institutions in terms of use has been almost more significant. The superintendent noted that enrollments in community colleges have grown in the past 10 years from 8,000 to an estimated 40,000 this fall.

Bartlett emphasized, however, that Michigan has not yet met the real impact of need for community college space. The biggest jump in college enrollments is expected to hit in 1965.

"Considering the fact that some of our community colleges are not now able to accommodate all those who seek admission, we can see the imperative need for rapid expansion in this area," he said.

One new institution, Bay de Noc Community College in Escanaba, opened this fall. Next year the 18th community college, Schoolcraft college near Northville, is due to begin classes.

Public instruction officials said there was a good possibility that studies and plans now in the preliminary stages could result in the addition of as many as nine new institutions very soon. These could include two facilities in Macomb County, and one each to serve Oakland, Ionia, Monroe, Washtenaw, Livingston, Mason and Cass-Van Buren Counties.

The Michigan Education Association would very much like to have Michigan become the 25th state to provide tenure for public school educators.

"A careful study of tenure in the 59 Michigan school systems where tenure has been adopted locally has convinced the MEA Board of Directors that this important principle basis so that all educators may enjoy the advantages of this provision," said Dr. E. Dale Kennedy, MEA executive secretary.

"It is another important step in our continuous efforts to upgrade educational programs available for Michigan children," he said.

With this in mind, the association is sponsoring a petition campaign beginning in mid-October to secure 250,000 signatures of proponents of a tenure law.

Tenure, as defined by the MEA, is the principle of having probationary periods of employment followed by assured positions as long as a teacher continues to give satisfactory service.

The association's arguments for the law include that good administrative practices are encouraged, comprehensive personnel policies are made desirable and adequate protection for both the teacher and school district are provided.

The petition drive, if successful, will place the question of statewide tenure directly before the State Legislature.

Gown series. The series is part of MSU's continuing education service.

First of the two productions will be Euripides' immortal classic, "Medea." It will be presented starting in November by the Performing Arts Company, a group primarily composed of graduate students with a wide range of theatrical training and experience.

The second production, starting the tour in February, will be Lonesco's French comedy, "Rhinoceros."

Most of the members of the specially selected group have had community or professional theatre experience as well as educational backgrounds in drama.

Predicting Business

BABSON PARK, Mass. — There are many methods used to determine what business in general is going to do next, but none of them are surefire — as those of us in the forecast business know so well.

However, one barometer of business weather that I always watch with interest is consumer buying intentions. This is published each quarter by the Census Bureau.

When you come right down to it, public sentiment is very quick to reflect economic tendencies, — even sometimes to direct them.

If, for instance, people simply do not feel like buying, it is pretty difficult to make them buy. And if they do not buy, stores are caught with top-heavy inventories, orders die down, production has to be cut back, and unemployment begins to rise. Thus the scene is set for a possible recession — or perhaps even for a depression.

Fortunately, however, the opposite is true if the nation's shoppers really want (and are able) to buy. When the future looks comfortably secure, this desire to buy can carry consumer resistance almost to the disappearing point. The more buying increases, the more inventories are used up. Then come new orders for salesmen, for wholesalers, for manufacturers. Production starts to climb, employment expands and chances of an early recession — or depression — practically vanish for the time being.

This seems like a good time to take a look at the latest estimates of consumer buying intentions, just recently released. Over the next twelve months, more people intend to buy new automobiles than planned to in the previous year.

In fact, the Census Department says that 8.4% of households reporting to it plan to purchase a new car. That is the highest level for this time of the year in the history of this statistical series.

I find this situation optimistic because a great many people are more inclined to pick up a second-hand auto than a new car unless the future looks relatively serene and prosperous.

But, right now intentions to purchase used cars show practically no change from a year ago. The emphasis is on new cars — a good sign for business generally in the months ahead.

The picture in household goods may not be quite so rosy as that in automobiles, but it reflects a trend in the same optimistic direction. Consumers intend to buy "somewhat more household equipment over the next six months than was the case for the same period a year ago. Many families also expect their incomes will be higher. This is comforting, inasmuch as figures show that people have stepped up their buying during the past year faster, than they have been increasing their disposable income.

Of course, I realize that a sudden international or financial debacle could make the public pull in its horns very quickly. However, even such an occurrence could not for very long prevent a fundamentally secure feeling populace from extending its buying again. As an example: Even the threat of war with Russia over her Cuba-planted missiles did not keep people's purse strings closed for any great length of time.

Even though unemployment is giving the Administration a headache, employment totals are climbing steadily, carrying incomes up with them. Except in the relatively few centers of real work scarcity, people expect to hold their jobs indefinitely, to add to their family incomes "from time to time," and to be able to afford more luxuries. Better homes, second (and even third) cars per household, brand-new labor-saving devices, are all popular expectations for many households today.

Fundamentally, business is good; money and credit are plentiful; Russia does not want war; 1964 is an election year, which is always favorable for business. Given co-operation by the weather, it all adds up to good production and trade in the months to come.
