'Keep Library Where it Is'

Citizens pushing for the preservation of the Northville library building received the backing of a Michigan historical official Tuesday morning.

The meeting produced three specific recommendations:

- Northville should preserve the library building.
- The building should not be moved from its present location.
- An historical society should be established in Northville.

The officials who met with the half-dozen citizens at the library were William Alderfer, director of the Historical Society of Michigan, and Solan Weeks, director of the Michigan Historical Commission on Museums.

According to Weeks, who has twice inspected the library, the building is well worth preserving because of its historical significance. The condition of the building, he continued, is such that repair work costs would not be extensive. "There doesn't appear to be any insurmountable tasks."

Asked if he thought it best to preserve the building on the present site, Weeks said: "One way to kill a project of this kind is to move the building. I would say the potential really exists here. The building is centrally located, it's roomy, the expense would be small, and its one of your most historic buildings."

Weeks contended that such a building can be "tasteful" in a surrounding of modern buildings.

During a discussion with City Manager Bruce Pothoff, Alderfer said that take-over of a building by an historical society could possibly be a detriment because of the financial burden. "However," he did not specifically refer to the Northville building and he emphasized that his primary purpose in visiting Northville is to attempt to establish an historical society.

Concerning the latter, both men outlined the procedure in organizing such a group and the presented material to assist local citizens in laying the groundwork for establishment.

Of the informational material presented, Weeks emphasized that under recently enacted legislation, both cities and townships can legally support organizations of this kind and their projects with monies from general funds. And, he added, there is no limit to the amount that the municipalities can use for this purpose.

Both Weeks and Alderfer also emphasized that the governing bodies of the city and township be invited to participate in any movement to preserve the building and to organize an historical society. Furthermore, they advised that representatives of all local organizations also be invited.

Following the discussion, Mrs. Carl Johnson and Mrs. Ruth Starkweather were appointed to head up an organizational committee to begin planning for the actual formation of such a group.

It was agreed that approximately 15 citizens should be invited to join with the two women in their initial work.

While plans are still indefinite, it was the consensus of opinion at Tuesday's meeting that the actual general organizational meeting, to which all citizens would be urged to attend and become charter members, probably would not be held until sometime in January.

Meanwhile, interested citizens are expected to continue their efforts to convince city and township officials that preservation of the library building is the best course of action.

City Records Sharp Population Gains

An unusually large percentage of 433 over the 1960 U.S. Bureau of Census figure of 3,967. The latest estimates were prepared by the commission's population and housing committee.

The 1963 estimated figure represents an increase of 433 over the 1960 U.S. Bureau of Census figure of 3,967. The latest estimates were prepared by the commission's population and housing committee.

While the total increase is not significant in comparison with other communities, the percentage of growth in that area lying in Oakland county was the greatest in Oakland.

The population of this section of the city increased 265 or 26.9 percent from 985 in 1960 to 1,250 this past July.

In the Wayne county portion of the city, the population increased 168 or 5.6 percent from 2,982 to 3,150.

Estimated figures showed Northville township's population up 227 or 3.3 percent. The population in 1960 was 7,673 compared to 7,900 as of July 1.

South Lyon from 1,753 to 1,840; Lyon township from 2,880 to 3,210; Milford, from 4,323 to 4,480; Commerce township, from 9,608 to 10,800; and Farmington township from 25,526 to 29,400.

Here are figures showing the increase in occupied dwelling units in Northville, Novi, and Wixom:

Northville, from 1,266 to 1,410; Northville township from 903 to 960; Novi, from 1,682 to 1,770; and Wixom, from 436 to 460.

The population of Wayne county increased slightly since the 1960 federal census, representing the smallest gain in the Detroit region, which includes Oakland, Macomb, Monroe, and Washtenaw counties. Actually, according to the commission report, out-Wayne county gained considerably.

but losses by the city of Detroit shrouded the overall county figure. If only the portions outside the corporate limits of Detroit were considered, out-Wayne would have placed second among the counties in population gain, the commission noted.

Livonia and Nankin township continued to pace the county, showing gains of 14,298 and 9,994 respectively, and placing second and third in the region as a whole. Warren in Macomb county rated first with a gain of 38,454.

In all, 40 of the 179 communities in the five-counties experienced gains of over 1,000.

Call New Hearing After Cost Hike

A new public hearing to explain an increase in costs of the Orchard drive storm sewer project has been called by the city council for November 18.

Property owners will be told that costs will be about 35 percent higher than previously estimated.

City Attorney Philip Ogilvie ruled that if estimates as submitted to property owners in special assessment hearings were off more than 25 percent then a new hearing of explanation was required.

The 25 percent special assessments are low, City Manager Bruce Pothoff noted, with very few running as high as $100.

City Engineer Harold Penn explained the slip-up occurred when final totals on lengths of pipe to be laid were submitted to bidders but the figures were not used for local estimates. Consequently, the engineer's estimate was $36,000 and the low bidder came in at $48,975.42.

Penn called this a good bid based on his new estimates. The council agreed to move ahead with the project so that the sewer can be installed this year and curbs and gutters may still be constructed next year.

In other business Monday night the council:

- set fine regulations for meters and parking lots; on meeting that it would be possible this year to pay taxes during regular banking hours at any teller window.

Split Votes Mark 'Routine' Township Agenda Items

After the excitement of the landfill permit request was over Tuesday night the Northville township board attempted to get back to its agenda of routine matters.

Some confusion continued as many citizens mulled around in discussion groups while the board handled its other business matters.

All was not "peaches and cream". With Trustee Donald Robinson departed, the vote on three of four matters considered was 3-1. Trustee Wilson Tyler cast the dissenting vote each time.

In addition Tyler was strongly critical of Treasurer Alex Lawrence's failure to make arrangements with Manufacturers National Bank for collection of township taxes.

The treasurer said it "wasn't clear that that's what we were to do". But Tyler insisted it had been a directive of the people at the annual meeting that it would be possible this year to pay taxes during regular banking hours at any teller window. Treasurer Lawrence usually collects on Tuesdays and Fridays in the bank lobby.

In other issues Tyler voted "no" on a $64 payment to the county civil defense as the township's share of the cost of stocking several public buildings in the area for fall-out shelters. He said he did not have enough information.

He also voted against a raise of 25-cents per hour for Margaret Tegge, assistant clerk. He suggested, 10-cents and blamed "poor management" for failure to provide a raise since 1960. He said that raises should be planned and given in smaller amounts.

Clerk Marguerite Young proposed the increase and persisted by making the motion. Lawrence seconded and Supervisor R. D. Merriam joined with a "yes". The hike brings the assistant clerk's salary to $2.25 per hour for a 35-hour week.

Tyler finally voted "no" on a proposal to negotiate for another cubic foot per second of capacity in the interceptor sewer. The township now has 1.6 c.f.s., which is approximately 1,100 taps. Supervisor Merriam urged the acquisition, if the price is approximately $32,000, to provide for anticipated growth in the community.

The township purchased less than its allotment when the new sewer was originally planned some two years ago. The county now holds some of this unpurchased capacity for sale on a cash basis.

The board voted unanimously to purchase a burglary bond for the treasurer during collection time, December 1-March 1.

UF Tops Goal!

Although final tabulations are not slated to be compiled until late today, Northville's seventh annual United Foundation drive was already "over the top" this week.

Against a grand total quota of $3,478 residential, business and select prospects had contributed $3,497 as of Tuesday.

Most successful drive was led by Mrs. Paul Hughes in the door-to-door solicitation. Area women reported collections of $2,080 early this week with their quota set at $1,996.

LeRoy Stone, chairman of the business drive, reports $1,150 of the $1,207 quota on hand. He expects remaining collection to give his team a plus margin.

William Keith heads the select prospects drive. He reports $267 of $275 anticipated. As chairman of this portion of the UF drive for entire Western Wayne County, Keith notes that collections have hit $11,203 against the quota of $10,413.

Running Dates Sought at Downs

A bid to bring thoroughbred running races to Northville Downs has been submitted to Racing Commissioner Berry Beaman for the 1964 season.

By law the commissioner has until December 1 to make up his mind on the Northville request and to assign running dates for thoroughbreds at Detroit Race Course and Hazel Park.

The request for 74 days split between spring and fall was entered by Mark Leach, a former Detroit auto dealer, and now owner of Greenacres Farm in Lexington, Kentucky, a horse breeding, training and boarding establishment.

Specifically, the request was made by Northville Racing Association, Inc., which is headed by Leach.

John Carlo, Downs' executive manager, acknowledged this week that Leach had acquired a 10-year lease with a 10-year renewal clause for conducting thoroughbred meets at the Downs.

Carlo has tried unsuccessfully to bring another trotting meet to Northville. Four times requests have been turned down. Last year attempts were made to move the fall Jackson meet to Northville.

The Downs' manager said that the local track could accommodate runners. He said a starting straight-away would be constructed at the beginning of the stretch extending north of the new paddock and across a stream. The track would then be 5/8ths of a mile, Carlo said.

Leach tried to bring runners to Northville in 1954 but was turned down. He took his appeal against former Commissioner James Inglis to the state supreme court.

Proposed dates as submitted to the commissioner are: March 28-May 16; October 10-November 14.

Vets' Breakfast

Pancakes and sausage will be served from 5 a.m. until 10 a.m. Monday by Northville Legionnaires at the post home.

The annual breakfast is held in observance of Veterans Day. Bob Collacott is chairman and John Steimel, co-chairman.

Landfill Issue Attracts Full House; Board Delays Decision 'til Tuesday

The Northville township board will decide Tuesday night whether or not to issue a landfill permit to Sheldon Hayes.

After 2½-hours of haggling in a jam-packed township hall last Tuesday evening Supervisor R. D. Merriam announced the board would delay its vote because one of its members, Trustee Donald Robinson, had to leave the meeting a half-hour earlier.

"I want the full board present before we vote," Merriam stated. He later announced the special meeting date.

Although there was strong resistance to the proposal expressed by many members of the audience, board explanations of the details of the project appeared to tone down, if not convert, some objectors.

There remained, however, stiff opposition and a suggestion by some that the issue should be voted upon by the people.

It is known that the majority of the members of the board favor issuing the permit under the township's new ordinance and regulations governing landfill operations. Only Merriam, Robinson and Trustee Wilson Tyler joined in the discussion, however. Tyler indicated he was not convinced that the rubbish fill was necessary.

Specifically, the township board is considering a request by Hayes to deposit rubbish from the city of Detroit in a 12-acre swamp in the 325-acre Manning & Locklin gravel mining area between Seven and Eight Mile roads now owned by Hayes.

Last week the township planning commission voted, 4-2, to recommend approval of the request for a five-year period, renewable annually.

The township board must take final action on the plan-

Supervisor Merriam opened Tuesday's meeting with a background briefing. He noted that 25 years of gravel mining had left the area scarred and called it an "eyesore". He recalled that nearly two years ago Hayes had sought permission to fill the area, including the gravel pits, with rubbish. He said the township objected and would not accept this plan.

He referred to Hayes' new proposal as "the first constructive suggestion for rehabilitation of the area."

Under Hayes' plan to convert the gravel pit area into a development of homesites and lakes rubbish fill can be deposited in swamp areas only, Merriam explained. The remaining useable land will be graded and homesites created around six or seven lakes, the supervisor pointed out.

Merriam explained that no building or roads could be placed upon the filled swamps, which would either become open lots or recreation sites.

The supervisor then turned to the regulations governing the landfill operation. He called them the "best and most complete ever drawn," providing protection against rodents, smoke, fire or any other nuisance connected with a dumping operation.

"I honestly believe that this plan will restore nearly 400 acres that is now an eyesore to a liveable, useable part of our community," the supervisor concluded.

At this point the public took over. At times the crowded room hummed with a number of individual discussions and general confusion.

Highlights of the issues raised at least once include:

—a declaration by a citizen that Hayes would realize $20,000, not some $500,000, from the landfill project and that it would make Northville "the garden spot" of Wayne county;

—a charge by citizens that "we are not being represented by our elected officials," also criticism that there was no information about the landfill proposal in the newspaper;

—an explanation that rubbish landfill is confined to swamps, not permissible in gravel pits;

—Some 2,000 cubic yards per day will be filled including earth used to cover rubbish daily requiring some 28 trucks per day;

—the supervisor pointed to "economics" as the reason for using rubbish for fill instead of earth solids;

—Engineer Mosher said the regulations follow best U.S. Health Service recommendations with earth fill over rubbish and compaction every day to prevent seepage; he said there would be no danger "even if garbage were being used as fill" under the township's restrictions;

—"point of experiment" has been reached, Lewis Alexander of the planning commission claimed. He noted that the operation could be stopped immediately if regulations violated or a nuisance is created;

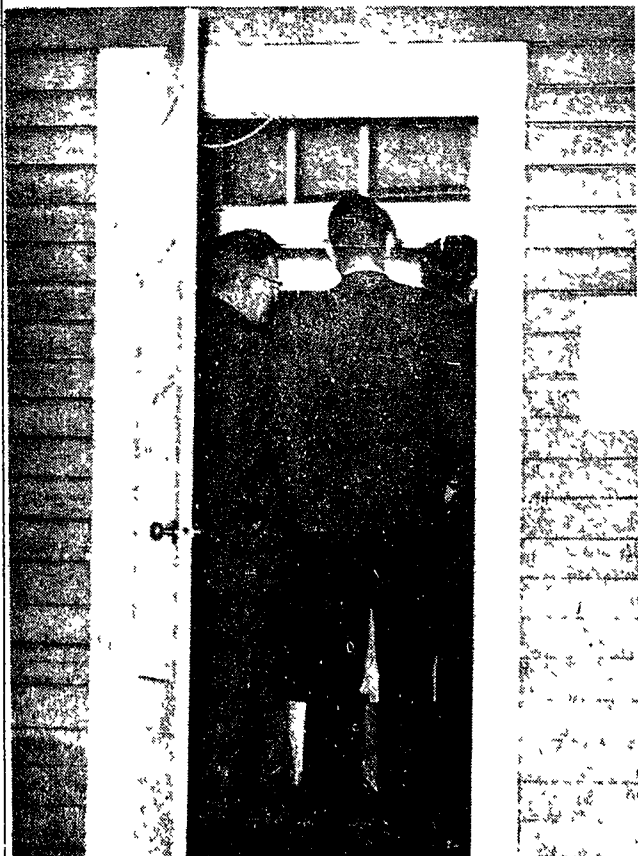

—Attorney James Littell answered the appeal for a vote by noting that elected officials are not expected to ask for a public vote each time a difficult issue comes before them. "It's their responsibility to make a decision and if they're wrong, the voter has recourse at the polls," he concluded;

—Supervisor Merriam admitted hurried action on the issue by the board after Hayes started dumping rubbish briefly without a permit; the good faith of the board was stressed by Trustee Robinson, Attorney Littell and some citizens, dispelling any wrong-doing;

—Planner Bernard Baldwin reported that he had opposed gravel pit landfill, but favored the reclamation of swamps by rubbish fill as part of an overall development plan if strict regulations were enforced;

—the question of creating a precedent was denied by the board and attorney, who pointed out each case was individual and the landfill ordinance gave authority to decide on the merits;

—Littell stated that traffic routes could be regulated in the interest of public safety.

FULL HOUSE — People were literally hanging over the doors Tuesday night as the township board considered issuance of a landfill permit. The decision was postponed until next Tuesday.

Gale - Milne Wed in Plymouth

Mrs. William S. Milne

Carole Beth Gale was united in marriage to William S. Milne in an eight o'clock candlelight service performed in St. Peter's Lutheran Church, Plymouth.

Officiating at the double ring ceremony was the Rev. F. H. O. Jungkuntz of South Lyon.

The bride, daughter of Mrs. Russell F. Gale, 54280 West Eight Mile road, walked to the altar on the arm of her grandfather, M. E. Schuster of Plymouth.

Mr. and Mrs. William S. Milne of 537 Dunlap, Northville, are the parents of the groom.

Richard Schard presided at the organ. During the ceremony soloist Helen Goebel sang "The Lord's Prayer".

Arrangements of burgundy and white mums were placed at the foot of the altar rail. A gold chalice was placed on each side of the altar containing all white mums. Other floral arrangements carried out the pink and burgundy motif.

For her wedding the bride chose a gown fashioned with a bodice of Chantilly lace over ivory satin, embroidered with sequins and pearls. The long sleeves ended in points over the hands, and the bouffant skirt of ivory satin was styled with an overskirt of net with applied lace and sequins, falling into a slight train.

Her fingertip veil of illusion was attached to a small crown of lace, pearls and sequins. She carried a white Lutheran prayer book, a gift of her mother, centered with a white Cattaleya orchid, burgundy sweetheart roses, and stephanotis with white streamers. She also carried a handkerchief brought from Belgium by her aunt, Mrs. Gordon Moe.

Anita Kay Gale was her sister's maid of honor, and bridesmaid was Susan Lynn Beyer, cousin of the bride, of Plymouth. Their petal pink floor-length gowns featured skirts of taffeta with a gathered overskirt of chiffon. Chiffon draped about the neckline and shoulders, overlapping and streaming down the back. Their headpieces were of matching pink flower petals and a small illusion veil. They carried cascades of pink mums and burgundy sweetheart roses with streamers of ivy.

Serving as best man was Charles Woodruff of Northville. Ushers were Jon Rodgers of Ann Arbor and Richard Milne, brother of the bridegroom.

The bride's mother was gowned in a pink metallic jacket dress with pink accessories. Mrs. Milne wore a gold metallic jacket dress with matching gold accessories. Both mothers wore a Cattaleya orchid corsage.

Pinned to the gowns of the bride's two grandmothers, Mrs. M. E. Schuster of Plymouth and Mrs. Edith Gale of South Lyon, were corsages of cymbidium orchids.

Following the ceremony a reception for 250 guests was hosted by the bride's aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Bakhaus, at the Mayflower Hotel in Plymouth.

The buffet table was centered with a five-tier wedding cake topped with a bride and groom. Large silver candelabra and burgundy and pink flower decorations also adorned the serving table.

Guests included three college room mates of the brides from Mt. Pleasant and one from New York City. Other guests came from Traverse City, Marshall, Kalamazoo, Grand Rapids, Clinton, Hillsdale, Milan, Ypsilanti, Warren, Birmingham, Bloomfield Hills, Grosse Pointe Farms, Detroit, Plymouth, Northville and South Lyon.

When the couple left on their wedding trip to northern Michigan, the bride was wearing a beige suit complemented by a leopard hat and purse and an orchid corsage.

The bride is a graduate of Central Airlines and attended Central University. The bridegroom attended Northern University.

The newlyweds will reside at 264 Hutton, Northville.

Repeat Wedding Vows

Carol Jean Wendland of Novi became the bride of Orris Renner of Plymouth in a candlelight ceremony at the Novi Methodist Church on October 13.

The Reverend LaVere Webster, pastor of the church, officiated at the double-ring ceremony.

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph Wendland of 26150 Novi road, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. William Renner of 117 Fairbrook, Northville and the late Mabel Renner.

For her evening wedding, the bride wore a full length white satin gown with three-quarter length sleeves, scoop neckline, a bow at the waist, and an A-line skirt.

Her headpiece included an elbow length veil and a crown of pearls, and she carried a colonial bouquet of white roses.

Setting the wedding atmosphere was Paul Aubrey of Walded Lake who sang The Lord's Prayer and Oh, Perfect Love. The maid of honor was Midge Wendland, sister of the bride, and the bridesmaid was Phyllis Allen, also a sister of the bride. The attendants wore hunter green taffeta sheath dresses with three-quarter length sleeves and detachable overskirts, along with matching shoes and pillbox hats.

Their flowers were colonial bouquets of yellow and rust colored mums.

Attending Mr. Renner as best man was James Thompson of Plymouth, a friend of the bridegroom.

Ushers were William Renner of Garden City, brother of the bridegroom, and Robert Fox, brother-in-law of the bridegroom.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Wendland wore a gold brocade suit with gold and black accessories and a corsage of roses. The bridegroom's sister, Mrs. Harriet Fox, who took the place of his mother, wore a beige brocade dress with beige and brown accessories and a rose corsage.

A reception for the newlyweds was held at the Novi Community building.

For her going away outfit, the bride wore a light brown wool suit with dark brown accessories and a white rose corsage from her wedding bouquet.

The couple traveled to Northern Michigan for a week-long honeymoon.

The new Mrs. Renner manages the Two Sisters Beauty Shop in Novi and she is a 1958 graduate of Northville high school. Her husband, who attended Plymouth high school, is a mechanic at Berry Pontiac, Inc. in Plymouth.

WITH JUST 48 DAYS UNTIL CHRISTMAS, a festive holiday spirit is invading local activities.

Mother's Club members and their guests are to see a demonstration of holiday decorating ideas at their 8 p.m. meeting Monday at the home of Mrs. Gordon Forrer, 46995 W. Main street.

Mrs. Gene B. Cushing will give the demonstration. Hostesses for the evening are Mrs. Richard Kay, Mrs. Blake Couse, Mrs. Kenneth Conley and Mrs. George Zerbel.

AN 'EXHIBIT OF SEASONABLE TABLE SETTINGS and centerpieces will highlight the 1 p.m. meeting Monday of the Northville branch, Farm and Garden club. With a full program scheduled, the committee plans to begin with tea promptly at 12:30 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Charles Walker, 21101 Cambridge drive. Members are invited to bring guests.

Assisting the hostess will be Mrs. John Burkman, Mrs. Orson Atchinson, Mrs. Bruce McAllister, Mrs. Clifton Hill and Mrs. Kenneth Clum.

Mrs. Edwin E. Mueller, who in the past has conducted Christmas workshops with her original holiday ideas, is creating the table settings and centerpieces.

She already is at work with tweezers, sequins and glue, creating the glittering "enchanted egg" decorations which made the Christmas tree at her Fonner court home one of the most admired in town last year.

This Christmas is certain to be a most-blessed one for the Mueller family as Mrs. Mueller's first grandchild was born October 30 to her stepson and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Jan C. Mueller of 46111 Fonner road.

The baby was named Eric Edwin Mueller. He is the grandson and namesake of the late Dr. Edwin E. Mueller, who was medical director of Maybury sanatorium until his death. The baby was born at Mt. Carmel hospital, Detroit, and weighed eight pounds.

WHEN IS AN OWL NOT AN OWL? If it's one of Roy Pederson's ceramic creatures, it is a patio light or table centerpiece — and a most novel idea for "gifted giving."

These wide-eyed owls and other pottery pieces were displayed by Northville high school's arts and crafts teacher Friday for Northville Woman's club.

Mr. Pederson brought his potter's wheel and clay and donned an apron to demonstrate his each-piece-different art. (Mr. Pederson is one of those individuals who gracefully endure having a name that constantly is misspelled.)

While "throwing clay," he explored the limitless creations from casseroles to birdhouses that ceramics hobbyists are making. He also pointed out that ceramics are vital in home construction—from bricks and glass to fireplaces and tile fixtures.

NORTHVILLE STATE HOSPITAL AUXILIARY is planning a November luncheon and tour as a follow-up of its membership tea last month.

Fifty interested tea guests are invited for an orientation tour and subscription luncheon at the hospital November 19.

Also touring Northville State hospital are members and guests of Newcomers' club. Following luncheon at 12:30 p.m. Tuesday the group will be escorted on a hospital tour. President Mrs. F. F. Ishac is in charge of arrangements.

More in the holiday spirit — Mrs. Donald Nicholson is inviting friends to attend a jewelry demonstration at 8 p.m. November 22 at her home, 308 Debra lane. Proceeds will benefit Redford Catholic charities.

JUST LISTED — 490 Griswold

Lovely 3 bd. rm. bkt. with large cozy family rm., nice fireplace, large fenced lot, big 2-car garage and slick as a pun. Pretty view on an uncrowded corner lot overlooking lake. Or this deceiving small looking home with its 3 cute bd. rms. on a 75 ft. lot, 1 1/2 car gar., close to Catholic or public schools may please you. Its low price of $10,600.00 will surprise you for $$$ value.

$400.00 down on this old home near Salem on a half-acre (not Hell's). Lots of work to make it strictly modern but a handy man's dream for a cheap home to fix while living in it.

And acreage at $700.00 per acre is not plentiful in this area. I have 56 acres that any investor in land should look into. And on E-Z terms.

Mustangs Share W-O League Crown

Dame Fortune frowned on Northville last Friday night.

Despite her ill temper, however, the Mustangs fought their way to a 13-13 tie with Clarkston to gain a share of the Wayne-Oakland conference football title.

Both teams thus finish the 1963 football season atop the league with identical 5-1-1 records.

As if the visiting Wolves did not pose a sufficient threat, the Orange and Black also had to cope with freezing temperatures, the adverse bounce of the ball and a bad pass from center.

Passes from Quarterback Gary Stobbe were on target, but they slipped off numb fingers as the Mustangs just couldn't find the handle. It was so cold, in fact, that freezing temperatures discouraged many local fans by half time.

They left.

With the Mustangs leading 13-6, a wild second half pass from center on a fourth down situation set up the tying TD. Standing on the Northville 40 with outstretched hands, Punt-er Dan Bishop watched as the ball soared over his head. He retrieved the ball, but was tackled on the 10.

On the following play, the Wolves scored on a slant over tight tackle. The extra point kick was good to knot the score at 13-13.

But the most heartbreaking and most unfortunate incident was the loss of the ball in the last minute of the game on a fumble in the end zone.

After the local gridders had driven 72 yards to the Clarkston six yard line, Halfback Dave Cummings headed around right end on a power play. He had the first down on the three yard line, but ...

The ball slipped from Cummings' hands, skidded into the end zone and was knocked out of bounds by sprawling Clarkston players.

It was ruled a touchback. Brought out to the 20 yard line and the ball was given to the Wolves.

It was Cummings, however, who put Coach Horwath's gridders into scoring position with a 40-yard jaunt.

And he sparked in Northville's first TD drive when he sprinted 56 yards to pay dirt to give the Mustangs a 6-0 first quarter lead. The drive covered 73 yards.

Northville added another touchdown early in the second quarter to build up a 13-0 lead. It began on the Wolves 39 when Clarkston punted only 17 yards.

Fullback Ron Rice and Cummings carried the ball in four tries to the 9. Rice then drove over right tackle and plunged into the end zone with two Wolves on his back for the TD.

The 13-point lead was short lived, however.

Yoeman work by fleet Half-back John Williams put Clarkston back in the game, 13-6, at half time. The Yellow and Blue moved from its 44 to pay dirt in nine plays. A 22-yard pass was the big gainer.

Northville opened the second half with a rush, giving an indications that it would break the game wide open.

It took the second-half kickoff and marched 41 yards to the visitor's 28 where a pass interception stymied the drive. Eating up most of the turf was a 35-yard aerial from Stobbe to End Jerry Inmsland.

The next time the Mustangs got the ball, they gave Clarkston its golden opportunity on the bad pass from center. Williams scored on a 10-yard dash to terminate the scoring. Score: 13-13.

The ball exchanged hands three times before the Orange and Black gridders drove to the Clarkston 6 late in the final period.

Then came the fumble. But the game was far from over as the Wolves moved down field in a last-minute bid for victory.

Juday Brothers Injure Shoulders

In any athlete's book, an injury is the big cheater in life. To a sophomore quarterback who has engineered the Michigan State Spartans to the top of the Big Ten with two games remaining, an injury is a cruel blow indeed.

That's what happened to Northville's Steve Juday, out with a shoulder separation.

"It normally takes four weeks, but it depends on the extent of the injury — how well it heals," noted Juday, who admits "it's a little bit uncomfortable."

Students Set for Play

The auditorium of Northville high school will be transformed into a Japanese village on November 21 and 22 when the high school Forensic and Theatrical clubs present the famous stage comedy, "Teahouse of the August Moon."

The play, directed by Miss Florence Panattoni and Miss Patricia Dorrion, is concerned with the occupation of the island of Okinawa, a prefecture of Japan, by American of Colonel Purdy III.

The officious colonel's plan to improve living conditions on the island backfires when the natives, with the help of Captain Fisby, commander of the village of Tobiki, construct an elaborate teahouse instead of the school building ordered by the colonel.

The natives are thrilled, Colonel Purdy infuriated, and Captain Fisby the victim of both. However, the play ends happily and provides an evening of unforgettable entertainment.

The cast is as follows: Leads, Sakini, Terry LaRue; Captain Fisby, Jay Warren; Lotus Blossom, Jean Downer and Judy Inmsland; Colonel Purdy, Larry Angove and Alan Boddlong; Dr. McLean, Mark Bjard and John Spietz; Mr. Seiko, John Harrison; and Miss Higa Jiga, Susan Shafer and Connie Crump.

Others, Larry Price, Russ Straith, Jerry Burns, Chuck Lanning, Dawn McColtun, Cliff Smith, John Remington, Jackie Henschell, Lois Gatrell, Mike Utley, Wayne Ritter, Jack Britton.

Nancy Atherton, Martha Lane, Anna Martin, Susan Reinbachel, Barbara Elliot, Gregory Adams, Barbara Pillar, Randy Caligiuri, Larry Forth, Janice Moon and Boots Gregerson.

Admission: children $.75, adults $1.00.

W. H. White Wins First In Grid Quiz

The Lions' surprising 45-7 conquest of the 49ers proved to be the deciding factor in naming the second and third place winners of the football quiz this past week.

Four contestants came up with four mistakes, but two of them were closer on the Detroit-San Francisco game thus earning them second and third place money.

Alone in first place was W. H. White of 11846 Riverside drive, Plymouth, who came up with three mistakes in attempting to pick winners of 20 games.

The second-place winner was Bernie Bach of 21255 Summer-side, while Mike Conley of 302 Orchard drive placed third.

Elmer Balke of 744 Horton, and Howard Beller of 771 Horton finished out of the money but made only four mistakes.

All contestants missed the Northville-Clarkston game because of the tie; and a heavy majority came up with a mistake in picking Northwestern over Michigan. Navy's victory over Notre Dame, California's triumph over UCLA; and Indiana's triumph over Minnesota also proved to be the undoing of many contestants.

Colts Find Punch; Belt Two Foes

The Northville Colts finally found the scoring punch as they beat South Lyon and Brighton on successive Tuesdays to run their record to 2-3 on the season.

Only one game remained. That was a road game with Clarkston and the score was not available at press time.

Northville first trounced out-manned South Lyon, 37-6.

The defense and offense shared the scoring spot light. Line-backer Bob Fisher and Defensive Halfback Jim Zayti both ran 50 yards each with intercepted passes to score.

Defensive End John Tymenski grabbed the ball out of a South Lyon back's hands and scampered 25 yards for another tally.

End Bob Springer caught a pass and rambled 15 yards to pay dirt and Halfback Pete Sutherland turned in a sparkling 36-yard jaunt to sew things up.

The coldest with Brighton was a tough battle as the Colts squeezed by, 9-6.

The Colts jumped into an early lead as Sutherland capped a 40-yard drive with a 10-yard TD sprint. Sutherland scored again, but the 35-yard run was called back due to a penalty.

A second quarter safety, however, was the difference. Dick McIsaac tackled a Brighton halfback in the end zone for the two points.

Brighton then came back with a 50-yard touchdown drive to narrow the gap, but the Colt defense tightened to preserve the margin through the second half.

Former Coach Wins Praise

Former Northville football coach, Ron "Skip" Schipper, is fast earning laurels as a college mentor.

The following article, written for a sports column by Dave McMillen, appeared in the Oskaloosa Daily Herald on October 25:

Three years ago a little-known high school football coach arrived on the Central (Iowa) college campus to accept the school's head football position and take the place of one of Central's all-time athletic greats, Richard "Babe" Tysseling. They said it couldn't be done.

Along came this upstart to fill the bill. His primary claims to fame had been as a star quarterback for Hope college in Holland, Michigan, where he led his team to a tie for the conference championship in his senior year, 1951, and a high school coaching mark of 38-10 that included four conference championships.

Today, in just three short years, Ron Schipper has gained the distinction as one of the most astute young coaches in the state's collegiate circles. His current team is 5-1 for the season to bring his record at the Peila school to 18-6 for a 750-percentage.

"His 1962 club tied for third in the IC with a 5-3 record

Jazz Band Set For Hootenanny

Northville's 20-piece jazz band was added to a growing list of musical groups which will perform at a "Hootenanny" here next week.

Directed by Robert Williams, the local band made up of top bandmen at Northville high school, will be one of several bands to entertain young and old alike at the community building Friday, November 15.

The Hootenanny is sponsored by the Northville Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Other performing groups or individuals include The Villagers, a popular Hootenanny group in the Detroit area, Jack Ray, and Carl Pickens.

According to Ken Roberts, program chairman, the Jaycees hope to have six bands or individual performers on stage for the program, which will be fashioned after the popular folk-music TV program of the same name.

In addition to musical entertainment, refreshments will be provided by the Jaycee auxiliary.

Tickets, which will cost $1 each, for both adults and students, will be sold at the door although some advanced sales will be made between now and next week Friday.

Novi Votes to Share Cost

Novi village councilmen voted Monday to authorize the village attorney to negotiate a settlement for payment to the court-appointed board that decided a Beck road drain case last spring.

The three-member board has not been paid for hearing the dispute between Novi and the county.

Village officials contend that it is the county's responsibility to pay the bill — $375, since the county lost the case.

However, it was apparent from Monday's meeting that the village was willing to split the cost with the county, particularly since the board's decision resulted in a savings of $2,165 for Novi.

The county had attempted to force Novi to pay that amount of money for its share of the drain's cost.

In other business Monday, the council learned that the Wayne Disposal company is appealing its landfill dispute with Novi to the supreme court; learned that plans for Beck road improvement are to be submitted soon to the county for approval; and voted to approve for payment two warrants, one for $5,883.44 and the other for $1,762.57.

Local Postmasters Urge Early Christmas Mailing

Faced with the certainty that Christmas 1963 will set an all-time record for mailings of Christmas cards and gifts, Postmasters of Northville, Novi and Wixom this week requested citizen cooperation in their annual "Mail Early For Christmas" Campaign.

The Postmasters said "Here are the things to watch to be sure that every Christmas card and gift package will be delivered before Christmas Eve."

"First, check over your Christmas card and gift list very carefully — be certain each address is complete with full name, street and number, community, state and zone or ZIP Code number."

Second, stock up soon on sturdy packing materials for your gift packages, including heavy wrapping paper, corrugated cartons, strong cord and paper adhesive tape.

Third, buy your postage stamps now. Be sure to use the colorful new five cent Christmas Tree stamps on your cards.

Fourth, procure free labels from your post office which read "All for Local Delivery" and "All for out-of-town delivery", so that you can sort your Christmas cards into two groups, with addresses all facing one way, thus insuring fast delivery.

Fifth, be sure that your full name and address is on all of your Christmas card envelopes and shipping labels and be doubly sure to include your ZIP Code number in your return address.

Postmasters Leland V. Smith, Mrs. Harry Watson, and Herb Abrams especially request that "you schedule your Christmas mailings so that all of your cards and gift packages going to most distant points are mailed by December 10th. Those for local destinations should be mailed at least a week before Christmas."

UNICEF Drive Nets $100 in Novi

Despite wet weather, the annual drive for UNICEF contributions was successful, officials revealed this week.

With some 40 Novi youngsters participating in the drive, $100 was collected to help supply milk, vaccines and other basically needed materials for less fortunate children in underprivileged countries.

The young people and the counselors represented youth groups of Holy Cross Episcopal, Novi Methodist and Willowbrook Community E.U.B. Churches.

Returning to the Willowbrook Community Church following the solicitation, cooperating youngsters had a good time in meeting Mr. Ghost, playing Halloween games and enjoying refreshments of punch, popcorn and candied apples.

LET'S TALK CARS . . .

Power Brakes and Winter Driving

Some motorists will be using power brakes and steering on snow and ice for the first time this winter. Perhaps a few words of caution now may save somebody from a costly and injurious collision.

The main thing to bear in mind is that a skid occurs when the front wheels are turned in a direction other than that in which the car is moving. It takes very little speed to cause this to happen on packed ice or snow.

If a skid should occur, turn the front wheels in the direction the front of the car is skidding while you gently apply the brakes until the momentum has slowed to allow you to straighten out again.

A skid is much more easily caused by power steering until you become used to it. The reason is that the turn is often sharper, putting the wheels abruptly at an angle to the car motion. The same problem of suddenness applies to power brakes, so press your foot down as gently as possible. It is even better to pump them, releasing your foot each time.

When starting on ice, the least possible pressure on the gas pedal required to move the wheels is the best pressure.

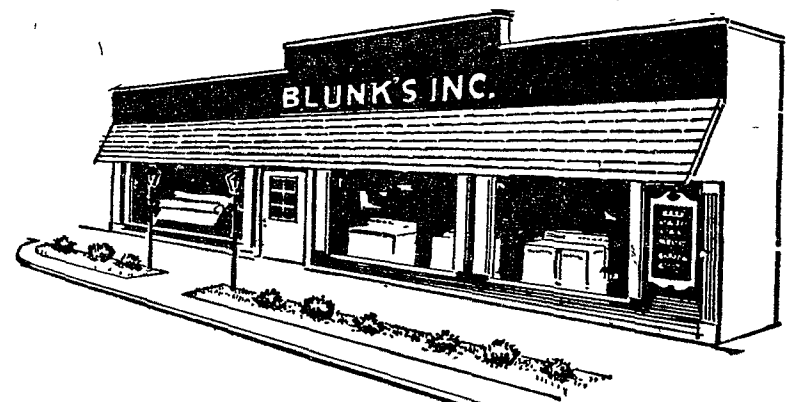

Snow tires are a good investment and they often pay for themselves in avoided accidents, towing charges and inconvenience. They may even save your life.

For New Scout-Recreation Building

150 Attend Dedication, Open House

Northville's new scout-recreation building (top left) was officially opened Sunday with a brief but auspicious ceremony and an open house.

An estimated 150 persons turned out for the ceremony and open house.

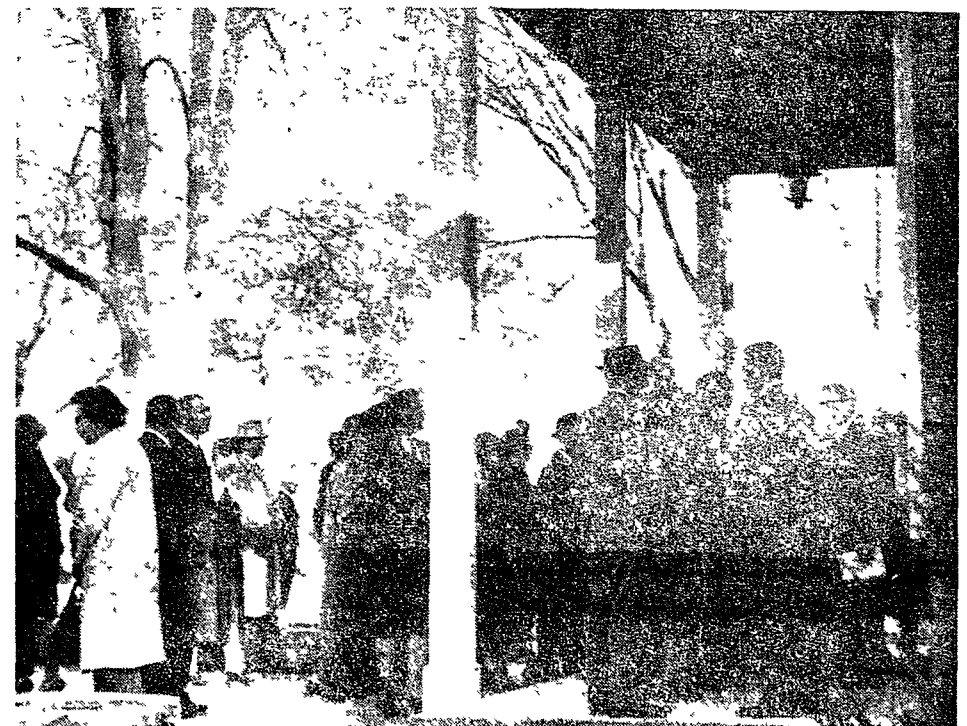

Properly known as the Jennette M. Lawrence Scout - Recreation building (located on Cady street, next to the cemetery), it was so dedicated by Mayor A. M. Allen and Township Supervisor R. D. Merriam (top right), who symbolically removed a covering from the "corner stone."

Both officials paid tribute to the generosity of citizens who contributed funds to finance construction of the building, and The Reverend Lloyd Brasure, who opened the program with a prayer, paid tribute (top center) to the late Mrs. Lawrence in a brief address.

Chairman of the ceremony was Councilman John Canterbury (right), who turned over a check for approximately $12,000 to city-township representatives. Canterbury headed up the fund-raising group.

Land for the structure was given by the city. Some $13,000 was raised by the sale of the old building at the corner of Dunlap and Hutton streets. Contributions paid for the balance.

Following the ceremony, guests inspected the building and enjoyed refreshments served by Northville girl scouts (below).

from the PASTOR'S STUDY

By the Rev. B. J. Pankow, Pastor
St. Paul's Lutheran Church of Northville

Jesus said "If ye continue in My Word, then are ye my disciples indeed."
(St. John 8:31).

Why should we continue in Jesus' Word? Jesus' Word is God's Word. In fact, Jesus is called the Word. He is truly the focus of the Bible. He is the center of all of its teachings. To Him point the prophets of the Old Testament. Of Him write the Apostles and Evangelists. The Scriptures are a unit, one oneness, and that oneness is Christ. Without Him there is nothing.

To continue in Jesus' Word means to adhere to the central teaching of the Bible, namely, that we are saved by grace alone

through faith in Christ, who suffered, died, & rose for us.

To continue in Jesus'
Word means to believe not only some, but all of the doctrines of the Bible. For example, we must accept the creation story in Genesis as the exact way in which God made the world.
We must believe that the miracles of Christ were actual happenings. We must accept Baptism and the Lord's Supper as they were instituted by Christ. We must believe even those teachings that are difficult to understand. Our finite human reason must always be made subservient to God's Word; for God's Word contains God's infinite wisdom. Thus, our criterion must never be: "Does this or that teaching seem logical?" Rather we must say:

"What does God's Word
state concerning the matter?" Let us remember that man's reason has been blinded by sin and therefore is unreliable.

To continue in Jesus'
Word means we must continue in it all our life. It is not enough merely to believe for a time. We must hear and believe His Word until the end of our life.

Jesus gives a wonderful promise to all who continue in His Word: "And ye shall know the truth; and the truth shall make you free."
(St. John 8:32).

Official Minutes — Northville Township

Pursuant to call by Supervisor Merriam, a Special Meeting of the Northville township board and the Township Planning Commission was held on Saturday, October 26, 1963.

Township board members present. Alex M. Lawrence, Marguerite N. Young, Donald
E. Robinson and Wilson D. Tyler.

Township Planning Commissioners present. Gunnar Stromberg, Luke Bathey, Ralph Gibson, Donald E. Robinson and Lewis Alexander.

Consultant Attorney James E. Littell and L. W. Mosher, Engineer.

Visitors Sheldon Hayes and Joseph S. Radom Legal counsel for the Sheldon Hayes Land Development Company.

After an inspection trip of the Sheldon Hayes Land Development Area, which trip started at 9:00 a.m., a meeting of the combined boards was called to order at 10:35 a.m.
at the township hall.

Due to Supervisor Merriam's absence, Treasurer
Lawrence was asked to chair the meeting.

Treasurer Lawrence, not having attended the meeting at which the Attorneys, Sheldon Hayes, Supervisor Merriam and Gunnar Stromberg had discussed the Landfill Regulations, etc., asked Attorney Littell to brief the members.

Mr. Littell advised that the meeting had been called in order that the Township Board and Planning Commission members could inspect the Sheldon Hayes development area and take under consideration certain objections which
Mr. Hayes and Mr. Radom had raised regarding requirements in the Landfill Regulations.

Mr. Radom thanked the boards for making the special inspection, complimented L.
W. Mosher on doing a good job with the regulations, but stated that if there could not be some flexibility in the regulations, the Sheldon Hayes Development Company could not live with them. He stated they were willing to do the right and reasonable thing, that this was a year to year program and if the fill was not done properly, then the Township could stop it.

Chairman Lawrence opened the meeting for discussion as to whether or not this particular area lends itself to a reasonable landfill operation. Each member of both boards was called on for his thinking in the matter.

One subject most predominant in the discussion was the length of time the landfill would take, the general thought being that seven to eight years should be long enough. Mr.

Hayes said that he thought the area where he wishes to fill could be completed in eight years.

Mr. Mosher questioned whether Mr. Hayes could contract any specific amount of landfill for the area since he did not have a firm contract for a definite amount of the kind of landfill that was required. That any issue of a permit would be on a yearly basis and renewable so long as the landfill was conducted satisfactorily.

Attorney Littell voiced the same opinion, any permit issued would be for a year's period, renewable from year to year so long as the landfill was conducted in the manner required.

Mr. Hayes and Mr. Radom were asked to inform the members the sections of the regulations they could not agree to.
Section 4.01 (d) Maps shall show the proposed subdivision layout.

After discussion, it was determined that the intent of the wording of this section was not at all of the subdivision ready for recording but a general plan layout and the area staked where the fill was to be placed. Mr. Hayes agreed with this intent and said he would have this plan made available to the township.

Section 6.0 (e) "Cost of inspection of Sanitary Landfill."
This matter to be taken under consideration.

Section 8.01 (c) "Chain link fencing at least six feet high".
Mr. Hayes objected to chain link fencing around the individual pieces of land to be filled since his property was fenced at the entrance and road blocks had been built by the bull dozers on old roads. He was in complete agreement to fencing the landfill areas with snow fencing or chicken wire so that papers would not blow.

Section 8.01 (b) Hours of operation.
Mr. Hayes asked for a starting time of 6:00 to 6:30 a.m.
instead of 7:00 a.m.

Section 8.02 (f) Prohibited
Fill Materials.
He questioned the wording of "any garbage" under prohibited fill materials, stating that there was approximately 1% to 3% of this material in any trash.

He was informed that "any garbage" meant that no loads of garbage would be allowed at anytime, that everyone was aware that trash of any kind was almost certain to contain a small percentage of garbage.

Section 8.02 (j) Salvage prohibited.
Mr. Hayes was informed that no one from the outside would be allowed to enter and salvage any materials from

OUT OF THE PAST

ONE YEAR AGO
November 8, 1962

Seventy-eight percent of Northville's registered voters went to the polls on a sunny Tuesday to top any other previous local turnout with the exception of the 1960 presidential election.

Voters followed traditional Republican lines. They gave Governor-Elect George Romney a 2-1 margin, but Democrats made strong gains in other races although all GOP candidates led in local balloting.

The highest award that can be given a volunteer scout worker at the state level was presented to Philip Ogilvie of Northville. Ogilvie received the Silver Beaver Award at the annual meeting of the Sunset at Cherry Hill junior-senior high school.

"The news was encouraging," City Manager Bruce Polthoff told city councilmen Monday night following his return from Chicago where he submitted the city's application for matching funds to construct a new city hall.

Northville Township Supervisor George L. Clark told township board members that he would not be a candidate for reelection the following spring.

Mrs. Robert Bennett of Napier road and Mrs. Richard Fizeiredo of Chubb road are sisters — daughters of Mr. and Mrs. James Lower of Napier road.

On Sunday, November 4, they each gave birth to daughters — three of them to be exact!

Mr. and Mrs. Bennett became the parents of twin girls, and a daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Fizeiredo.

FIVE YEARS AGO
November 6, 1958

Northville maintained its Republican voting record Tuesday but failed to create even a ripple in a county and statewide flood of Democratic votes.

Re-location of Northville road just south of Seven Mile got underway. The $175,000 project will include a new bridge and about 2,200 feet of new road to the east of the present Northville road. It is designed to eliminate a dangerous curve that has caused several fatal accidents in the past year. The project is scheduled for completion in 1959.

"I'd like to thank the kids," Police Chief Joseph Denton said this week, "for helping Northville enjoy the quietest Halloween in its history."

Plymouth's liquor "by the glass" issue was defeated 1,273 to 1,194.

Displaying near perfect football both offensively and defensively, Northville rolled to its 24th straight league victory crushing Clarkston, 47-0.

St. Paul's Lutheran Church, corner High and Elm streets, will soon begin construction of an estimated $150,000 church and parish hall. Rev. E. E. Rossow, who has been the pastor of St. Paul's since February 1937, states that the drawings are now complete and construction will begin in the very near future.

Novi township, traditionally Republican, remained true to form and gave GOP candidates, including Tom Dewey, a majority all the way from top to bottom.

A third route was started by the Northville post office.

E. C. Mollima, principal of Northville high school, was to attend the 20th annual principals conference at the University of Michigan.

Doris Atwood and Ray VanValkenburg were installed as Worthy Matron and Worthy Patron, respectively, in an Orient Chapter No. 77 ceremony.

The Carrington Agency received a plaque from the Phoenix Life Insurance Company for 25 years service in representing the firm in Northville.

The Northville Mustangs won their fifth victory of the season before a large homecoming crowd at Henry Ford Field. They defeated Clarenceville by the score 29-7 in a one-sided game. Next up Plymouth.

Death christened newly paved Eight Mile road Saturday night with the blood of three victims even before the unfinished highway was officially opened to traffic. The crash occurred west of Beck road between the homes of M. J. Koldyke and Dr. H. S. Willis.

Betty Fultz, 17, a sophomore in Northville High school, and Ralph Traxler, 30, 1520 Twentieth street, Detroit, met instant death when Traxler's car was demolished after hitting a truck driven by Charles Reed, Napier road, while going at an unknown high speed.

George Fultz, 48, father of Betty, died Monday night in Pontiac General Hospital to which he was removed from Sessions hospital Saturday night.

Sudden death claimed Henry W. Behringer, aged 73, at 8 a.m. Monday, October 31, at his home, 753 Carpenter street.

Frank D. Clark, supervisor of Novi township, came out strongly against the proposed welfare legislative issue which voters must face when they go to the polls Tuesday.

Mrs. Jennie Cousins will open a new shop for ladies ready-to-wear garments in the vacant building owned by the Schrader Brothers, just south of their place of business.

House movers were busy in Novi, moving the large building on West Grand River opposite the post office.

Willard Niles Rides to Win

Already billed as the greatest pacer ever bred in Michigan, Rusty Range — owned by William Eggers of South Lyon and driven by Willard Niles of Northville — is well on his way to becoming the top pacer in the United States.

The big win in New York was doubly surprising to the experts. Rusty Range hadn't won during the cross-country eliminations leading up to the final, and it was Niles' first race at Roosevelt.

"I've been driving 10 years but this was my first drive here," Niles said after the race. "I never came here in the past because I always thought it was a little too tough."

The four-year-old, now in California training for the rich

American Pacing Classic on Saturday, boosted his earnings for the year to $80,547 three weeks ago with a stunning upset in the $50,000 Harness Tracks of America at New York.

A 10-to-1 pacer, who stables at 7975 Dixboro road, South Lyon, Rusty Range was pitted against the six top horses of the country in winning three weeks ago at Roosevelt Raceway.

Racing over the mile track at a dazzling time of 2:00.1, Rusty Range paid $21.50 for a $2 ticket and picked up $25,000, first-place money — the richest purse ever won by a Michigan bred harness horse.

Going into Saturday's classic at Los Angeles, he will carry a lifetime earnings of $114,887.

Niles, a 33-year-old member of the Northville harness family, will be driving Rusty Range in the California race.

Although Rusty Range looked good at the finish, sideline commentators said he wasn't impressive looking enroute to victory. He's considered bigger than most horses, awkward and rough-gaited.

But his owner didn't care less what the so-called experts say. Rusty Range doesn't win all his races, but he wins enough to keep Eggers happy. And really that doesn't have to be a lot, since Eggers entered the racing scene only a few years back as sort of a hobby, a retirement venture.

Now he's got a winner — a big one, and a couple of other horses that, just might make that retirement especially nice.

More Readers Speak on Library Fate

To the Editor:

The Urban Renewal Administration, in an article published August 17, 1963 suggested that urban planners sometimes view an operation as a clean-up job intended to erase an acre or so of blight, while others with a sense of history occasionally see something else. They see ghosts of another era, and often in the midst of the rubble is found a memory of its historical heritage worth preserving.

I believe this to be the feeling of many of Northville's citizens about our Library on Wing street and moreover feel that some of them should be asked to sit in on the planning of the future of this historic building.

Sincerely,
Geraldine K. Kohs

To the Editor:

Last week a stranger walking on Northville's Main street was heard to say to her companion, "This is a charming town."

Will it be a charming town ten years hence or will PROGRESS, spelled d-e-s-t-r-u-c-t-i-o-n, have made it into another stereotype of mediocrity?

In one part of our city, giant old trees have fallen and will continue to fall to make way for development and in another area the removal is contemplated of the Library, a building which is steeped in tradition.

Perhaps our present City Council will be remembered for having the vision and imagination to preserve our remaining historical landmarks.

Gladys W. S.

To the Editor:

Woodman, spare that tree! At least, let us pause before we convert the "old" library into business offices or worse — tear it down. Let us first contemplate how Northville might preserve it and use it for posterity.

Marcella Douglas

To the Editor:

So that I may be among those having "The Last Word," may I add my earnest desire and plea to those who already have suggested that our Town reconsider saving our library building. The charm of it — the warmth of it — the antiquity of it — the history hidden in its walls — may all of this have bearing on the final decision. And may that final decision — that Last Word — be, the nurture, upkeep and preservation of our library building.

Sincerely,
Ruth Jerome

To the Editor:

It has been suggested, to me that I write to you expressing my thoughts regarding the building the Northville Library now occupies and its final disposition and relating some of its early history, for the benefit of later residents. Its history has been long, over one hundred years, and it has filled many needs.

The Library building is one of the earlier constructions of Northville, being erected about 1845 as a Presbyterian Church — New School. My father's parents rented a pew there. Later when the Presbyterian churches were reunited and the building was no longer needed as a church, it served as the only public school building from 1849 to 1865. Following the building of the new brick school on the site of the present Junior High, the building became known as "Young Men's Hall" and served a multiplicity of uses including a Salvation Army Barracks, a men's debating society, temporary quarters for various denominations. Northville Township held its annual meetings there. Speakers coming to the village addressed capacity crowds; families sometimes lacking room in their houses for family gatherings, rented it; private dancing parties were entertained there and for years it answered all the needs for a public hall. It was the scene for many amateur theatricals, among them was a presentation of "Queen Esther" and many musicals and piano recitals.

When Dr. Mary Lapham became interested in a community library, which was started in a store building on Main Street, she purchased the building and the library was moved there. It was opened Saturday afternoons and evenings, and was supported by gifts of books, money and the fee of fifty cents for library cards (later one dollar). A group of ladies donated their time and did all the work of choosing, buying, labelling, cataloguing, and lending the books. Also the janitor work of tending the furnace and keeping the place clean. This group of women was called the Library Association and served for forty-five or fifty years.

Mrs. Dowd, who was the mother of Mrs. William G. Lapham, started the Northville Woman's Club and a meeting place was provided in the library. This was in 1892. The club has met there continuously ever since. When Dr. Mary Lapham died she left the building to the Ladies Library Association with the provision that a meeting place for the Woman's Club always be provided.

In 1936 the Wayne County Library Commission offered to come in and run the library providing the township would provide a place. The Library Board after much discussion with both representatives of Wayne County and township officials, decided the building to the Township, who after extensive repairs, made it one of the most attractive libraries in the suburbs. Mrs. Harry Wagenschutz, as Northville's representative, was instrumental in this accomplishment. This is the history of the building to-date.

The library building is an attractive building of early architecture. The City of Northville has gone to considerable trouble to make sure that the prospective Post Office is to be of Colonial architecture. The new city hall is also of the same period. If Northville wishes to keep its village appearance, as do many small communities, why tear down the only public building that answers this requirement? And one that has such a history of so much community service. If it were a monstrosity in appearance or in a dilapidated condition, there might be some excuse. But as conditions are, I feel that it would be a great mistake to be in a hurry to decide on its demolition.

A great many uses might be found for it. It might be used for an attractive meeting place for small civic organizations, such as a Senior Citizens or the Community Council. Or it could be used as a meeting place for small social groups or as a historical museum of local interest. I am sure many other uses would be found once it was open to the public.

I hope officials of the City of Northville and of the Township Board who presently control the property give it their considerable thought before making a decision.

Ruth M. Chase

13th for 25

Believing that 13 is a truly lucky number, U of D alumni, members of the 25 Club, are planning their annual Homecoming cocktail party at the Latin Quarter on November 14 from 5:30 to 8 p.m. It will be the thirteenth such party presented by the club, founded almost 40 years ago as a group interested in aiding the university's athletic department.

Linn A. Walter, 1885 Meadowbrook Road, Northville, is heading the entertainment committee for the 1963 25-Club party.

This year's affair is expected to be the largest yet with approximately 600 guests attending, according to Ralph J. Roach, general chairman.

Originating in the early days of "Gus" Dorais' coaching career at U of D, the club has been responsible for scholarships and promoting support among the alumni for the athletic and football programs.

REHEARSAL — Four of the five members from the cast of the upcoming one-act play, "The Sandbox," rehearse their parts above in the home of the director while below they stop to hear comments by their director. Members of the cast shown here are (l to r, above): Fred Farrah, John Hyde, Peggy Jones and Ruth Jerome. Missing is Glenn Deibert, Jr.

Hard at work rehearsing for its first stage production, the Northville Players Guild was bubbling with excitement this week upon learning that the organization has officially become an adjunct of the Northville Recreation Department.

The association means, among other things, that the Players probably will receive some funds to help underwrite costs until returns are realized from the first production.

Although officials of the Guild have been confident of the group's success, until this latest announcement they admittedly were worried about financing their first production.

(Costs of obtaining stage facilities, facilities for rehearsing, costumes, tickets, etc. have resulted in the quick death of similar amateur theater groups in other communities. The theater group of South Lyon, for example, succumbed in less than two years after its formation).

The Guild's first production, consisting of three one-act plays, is slated for December 5, 6 and 7 at the high school auditorium. The plays include "The Monkey's Paw" by W. W. Jacobs, "The Sandbox" by Edward Albee and "The Flattering Word" by George Kelly.

Directing the plays will be Dr. Hans Kolbe of Northville township, who teaches at the Detroit Conservatory of Music. He will be assisted by Rita Sprenger of Northville as technical director.

In helping organize the Guild and now in directing its first production, Dr. Kolbe continues a background in dramatics that stretches back to college days.

Holder of numerous degrees in music, language and associated fields, he taught dramatics in Detroit high schools, produced musicals at Wayne State university, and organized and directed for six years — under the Detroit Institute of Arts — a theater group called "Cometrag Players."

He also has held down numerous acting roles himself. In the early 1930's he was associated with the Jesse Bonstelle "Playhouse" in Detroit.

Each of the three plays to be presented in December includes a cast of five persons.

Peggy Jones, Ruth Jerome, John Hyde, Fred Farrah and Glenn Deibert, Jr., will display their talents in "The Sandbox"; Gladys Weiss, Jack Sweeney, Bill Soellner, Glenn Deibert, Sr., and Fred Farrah are cast in "The Monkey's Paw"; and Carolyn Oldford, Betty Sellers, Mike Abbott, Helene McDonough, and Bud Weber are the actors for "The Flattering Word."

While cast members concentrate on memorizing lines and developing their on-stage personalities, the following volunteers will be working on off-stage production roles:

Dr. Hans Kolbe, production manager; Rita Sprenger, technical director; Staging, John Hyde, Chuck Gross, Glenn Deibert and William Soellner; programs, Charles Freydl, John Sweeney, Mrs. James Mc-

Neice, Mrs. Frederick Stern, properties, Mrs. Coy Sack, costumes, Mrs. William Soellner, Pat O'Malley and William Schulz; business manager, E. O. Weber.

Also makeup, Pat O'Malley, V. McKeefer and Mrs. James Neice; house, A. E. Johnson; John Hyde and Gasser; publicity, Mrs. Thomas Mazanec and Mrs. Brown; membership, Hans Kolbe; tickets, Mrs. de Huff and Mrs. Hiram; script girl, Mrs. John Sweeney.

Staged are ushers and more for the staging committee. Interested persons are asked to contact Mrs. Mazanec.

NEW CHEVELLE! BY CHEVROLET

The kind of handling ease you'd expect in a smaller car. Come on down and drive it.

The kind of comfort you'd expect in a large interior. Come on down and sit in it.

Only a car that looks as good as this could come between Chevrolet and Chevy II. Come on down and stare at it.

New Chevelle Malibu Sport Coupe

Now—Chevy spirit in a new kind of car!

We built this one to do more than just stand around looking beautiful. Held its weight down in the 3,000-pound range. Then built four lusty engines—two sixes and two V8's—with output all the way up to 220 horses!

And if that makes you think this is one frisky car, you've got the right idea. You've also got a roomy car here. Yet its 115-inch wheelbase keeps it highly maneuverable in traffic and very easy to park.

With its Full Coil suspension, it's got a ride that reminds you of the Jet-smooth kind the way it muffles noise and cushions bumps. And the fine hand of Body by Fisher craftsmen shows up beneath this one's suave good looks, too.

Sound good? There's more. Like the fact that Chevelle comes in three series with eleven models—convertibles, sport coupes, sedans, wagons, even Super Sport models with front bucket seats. Like the fact that (and see if this isn't one of the nicest surprises of all) the new Chevelle comes at an easy-to-take price!

Like to hear more? The listening's wonderful at your Chevrolet dealer's—and so's the driving.

SPEAKING for The Record

By BILL SLIGER

The city and township of Northville and the city of Plymouth have decided to get together in Northville with representatives of the Detroit city water board and talk.

The subject of course, will be the possible future use of Detroit water, which will soon be pouring through the middle of all our communities through new lines.

First, however, officials of the three communities have decided it would be best to set forth a set of questions for the Detroit board to answer. These questions will be forwarded to Detroit weeks in advance of the proposed meeting so that there can be little reason for half answers.

Local officials are naturally concerned with such items as rates, supply, pressure, etc. And it appears that they have not received satisfactory answers to date.

The idea sounds good. But I think Novi should be invited, too.

Novi officials are anxious to obtain Detroit water. And chances are that at least one of their taps to the Detroit line would be within the city of Northville.

With Novi gaining sewer service through connection to the Wayne county interceptor through Northville (which has now, incidentally, reached the point of advertising for construction bids) and Detroit water near, new development in the Nine to 11 Mile area is a certainty.

Such development is certain to bring about mutual planning problems for our communities.

And Detroit water seems like a good place to start working together.

Forty-five years ago next Monday World War I ended.

Some 27 years later the curtain fell on World War II.

Then came the Korean conflict and finally a decision that the old November 11 "Armistice Day" would henceforth be known as "Veterans' Day," a time to pay tribute to veterans of all wars of our nation.

You can pay tribute in many different ways.

A moment of silence, a thought; a glance at the flying flags; a visit to a grave of a friend or relative; a pleasant exchange of remembering old times, old friends.

Aside from the flying of flags, the only official observance in our area will be the annual pancake breakfast at the American Legion hall.

You can pay tribute to our veterans by just enjoying good food and fellowship at the Northville post Monday morning.

I'll see you there.

Many people have wondered why the "flags have been flying" in Northville all week.

It's the Legion's reminder that November 1-10 is their membership drive.

View Gresham's Law

Babson Park, Mass. — During my travels I have watched for young men who have original ideas and I found one in Scott City, Missouri. His name is Edison E. Shrum, who wrote for me most of the following, based on Gresham's Law. Mr. Shrum is Secretary of the Magic Circle Educational Foundation.

One of the oldest and most generally accepted monetary theories is known as Gresham's Law. This is the principle that "bad money tends to drive out good money." This means people tend to hoard the "good money" — that is, the money they have confidence in — and tend to pass on the bad money. The term "bad" money refers to money which is less valuable than the so-called "good" money.

The remarkable validity of this law is demonstrated in the extremely interesting example of what happened to England's money in the period from 1663 to 1700. Prior to that time, English coins were of the hammered variety, without milled edges. This made it easy for the edges of these coins to be often ground off. Thus, in time, most of the coins became less valuable.

Around 1663, new full-weight coins were minted, with milled or inscribed edges. These coins began disappearing into hoards. By 1690 this had reached a critical point. Then a group, including Sir Isaac Newton (who was then warden of the mint) convinced the government that it should call in the defaced coins. They were then melted down, and reminted at full weight with milled edges, and outline inscriptions. Then the "good" money came out of hiding!

Here in the United States, we too experienced the painful workings of Gresham's Law during the Revolutionary War period, in 1797, 1818, and from 1837 to 1842. At the time of the discovery of gold in California the workings of Gresham's Law was also evident when the increase of gold was so rapid that its value declined to the point where silver was driven out of circulation and hoarded. Then came the experience with the Civil War greenbacks in March of 1862. These products of the printing press were not backed by either gold or silver reserves. Hence, people took to hoarding gold and silver coins.

In 1890, the Silver Purchase Act caused gold to flow out of this country. This precipitated a rush to hoard money, culminating in a crisis in the New York money market in 1892 when the cashing of checks to obtain gold for export reached serious proportions.

Due to this reduct of gold in the federal treasury, the nation's gold reserve, too low and we had a depression which lasted for about five years.

Another example as the great crash of the 1933 period, when people trusted bank deposits and began hoarding cash, and later hoarded gold. This depleted the gold reserve, ensuring banking system that ensuring bank crisis resulted in the moratorium when nearly every bank in the United States closed for about two weeks.

Gresham's Law has been neither repealed nor modified. In view of our much publicized loss of gold, the law is

Years ago a nurse and I with a needle bent over perspiring body and pronounced rather gravely, "You have rolling veins."

The pronunciation came as no surprise since I had already arrived at a similar conclusion: my veins had learned to roll with the punch.

This medical terminology if it really can be classified with such distinction, is really a kind way of saying I am a coward when it comes to having a needle jabbed into my arm or, for that matter, into any other part of my anatomy.

Psychiatrists probably would have a field day trying to analyze the cause of this apparent inherent fear. Maybe it could be traced to my childhood when, running across a field one day, my foot became entangled with a nail protruding from a board. Or maybe it was that thumbtack I picked up one day in sitting down at my desk in the third grade.

Whatever the cause, one thing is certain, the effect has been staggering.

Take for example the physical examination I was required to have a dozen years ago.

It was shortly after the outbreak of the Korean war. I had just entered college and, because I was one of those fortunate students to gain a deferment, I missed being swept up in the first wave of draftees.

I applied for a part-time job as a truck driver and was sent to a doctor's office on the sixth or seventh floor of a downtown Flint building for the examination.

Now, the ensuing episode may be the product of my wild imagination, but it nevertheless, was a real life nightmare.

"You certainly look healthy young man," Dr. Jeykle smiled as he glanced over my card. "Let's see, you're..." He paused, shot a glance in my direction and continued, "Just about draft age, aren't you son? I've got a couple of boys who went in awhile back myself."

In my haste to get the examination over I blurted out in what probably sounded like a boast: "Yes, but I've got a deferment and I keep my marks up I may never go in."

If I ever made a mistake that was it.

Election Fever High

This isn't an election year, but activity in the legislative halls would tend to dispute this fact.

The majority of Republicans are hoping to be able to come up with a compromise to please both Gov. George Romney and all GOP members on fiscal reform.

Democrats, on the other hand, are hoping they can give the Governor a setback and at the same time protect their political necks.

Romney, regardless of his intentions in the 1964 political arena, needs at least a substantial victory on fiscal reform to keep himself alive. Despite a relatively successful regular legislative session, most political observers agree he is now facing his first real fight.

Many Republicans have long opposed a statewide income tax, which forms the core of Romney's fiscal program. The Governor has indicated he cannot accept a program which would eliminate this basic feature.

With the so-called "moderate Republicans" fully supporting his program, Romney will still need a considerable number of Democratic votes to accomplish his aim.

This puts the Democrats in the sticky position of standing in the middle, holding the key to success or failure.

Some of them also oppose an income tax although they were not so vocal in their opposition of it when it was proposed by former Democratic Govs. G. Mennen Williams and John B. Swainson.

Now they must make a decision on whether to give Romney the votes so that it is he who is blamed for having imposed an income tax or given credit for accomplishing major tax reform in Michigan.

At least one segment of the Democratic party favors giving any tax program just enough votes to pass. Another group says, "Don't give him any votes. Let him try to get them from his own party and they can do the job of tying the rope around his neck."

The "give him just enough" group appears to be in the majority now, but maneuverings between now and the time a vote is taken could easily change this distribution. Their thought is to kick Romney's proposal around, change it a little; then give him blame for faults while taking bows for the benefits.

The dragging out of the special session appears to be working against Romney. As time draws on, some members already are predicting a quick job of minor reform will have to be done so the Legislature can move on to the job of passing bills to implement the new Constitution.

Good Alley Games
Senior citizens who are in good physical condition probably will have only kind words to say about State Rep. Mrs. Lucille McCollough, Dearborn Democrat.

Long an advocate of providing facilities for Michigan's retired persons, Mrs. McCollough was instrumental recently in working out an agreement with the Michigan Bowling Proprietors Assn.

Through Association Secretary W. W. Edgar, the lady lawmaker from Dearborn gained an agreement to provide specially reduced rates for senior citizens who bowl in Michigan.

In addition to the special rates, Edgar said members of the association would offer the use of their building and meeting room facilities free of charge to senior citizen groups.

Mrs. McCollough viewed the free facilities as a means of getting around the serious shortage of meeting rooms at the neighborhood level.

The Dearborn Democrat said she hoped "this fine and voluntary effort by the bowling industry will set an example for others to follow."

Deadly Gas

The annual battle against Michigan's "silent killer" is on, according to State Health Commissioner Dr. Albert E. Heustis.

The silent killer, of course, is carbon monoxide. This invisible, odorless, colorless poison is present wherever there is combustion. It is in canned heat, gas refrigerators, furnaces and automobile engines.

Protection against its lethal fumes requires adequate ventilation, says Heustis. "And by adequate ventilation, I don't mean having a window open a crack. I mean a good strong draft."

Carbon monoxide poisoning claims lives throughout the year but is most common during the fall and winter months, Heustis said. This was the cause last year of more than 60 deaths.

One of the too common occurrences of monoxide deaths is among teenagers or other persons sitting in parked cars. "The tragic scene of a young boy and a young girl found in a parked car with the windows closed, the ignition on, the gas tank empty, and the battery dead, was repeated at least 16 times last year and caused 18 deaths," said Heustis.

"I don't suppose it would do any good to try to discourage young people from sitting in parked cars. They are going to do it anyway. But if we can convince them not to turn on the car motor when it becomes too cold, they would go home instead of being taken to the hospital or morgue."
