

It's Hootenanny Time

Northville's jazz band, shown in rehearsal here, will perform tomorrow in the Jaycee-sponsored hootenanny. The band is directed by Robert Williams.

Jaycees Sponsor Musical Jamboree

Folk music, spiced with the blues, will fill the Northville community building tomorrow (Friday) when the Northville Jaycees present a "Hootenanny". An estimated 1,000 or more teenagers and adults are expected to be on hand when the musical jamboree opens at 8 p.m.

Fashioned after the popular television program of the same name, tomorrow's event will feature a half-dozen different musicians and musical groups. Entertainment will include vocal, as well as instrumental music.

While folk music and songs will highlight the show, the audience will get a taste of some jazz numbers by Northville's own professional-like jazz band, directed by Robert Williams.

The 20-piece jazz band, which has won praise from numerous professional musicians and jazz journals from throughout the United States, is made up of volunteer high school students who must meet stiff musical requirements to become part of the extra-curricular activity. Other bands and individuals slated to perform include Jack Ray and Carl Pickett, who currently are featured at the Colonial, The Villagers, Mike Wood, Bill Hodge and Ralph Mannisto. All of these perform professionally in the Detroit area.

Members of The Villagers, a four-piece band, are Bob Gill, Gary Sullivan, Rick Bowen and Tom Lamb. Performers at Grayling this year for the National Guard, the Villagers are featured at Wards in Wonderland Shopping Center.

In addition to musical entertainment, refreshments will be sold under the direction of the Jaycee Auxiliary. Mrs. Richard Norton is in charge of the auxiliary committee. Serving as emcees for the hootenanny will be Charles Parton and Charles Ely, Jr., Jaycee chairman of the program is Kenneth Roberts, assisted by Richard Norton, Duane Marshall, Ray Herald, George McCollum and Robert Williams. Tickets will be on sale at the door, with proceeds from the show to be used by the Jaycees for the club's many civic projects.

At Town Hall

Cuban Freedom Fighter Replaces Missing Rorke

So far Northville's Town Hall lecture series is batting 1,000!

In its first two lectures of the 1963-64 season neither of the scheduled performers has been able to appear.

Because of a conflict Walter Slezak couldn't open the series October 17. Nina Magidoff traveled her March 19 date with Slezak.

Now Alexander Rorke, Jr. cannot appear. But his excuse for absence may be much more serious.

The journalist, who was the first American reporter imprisoned by Castro in Cuba, is now reported missing.

According to information forwarded by the agency handling Rorke's lecture appearances, Rorke and his pilot were enroute to Managua, Nicaragua. They landed, either to make repairs or refuel, at Cozumel Island off Yucatan and have not been heard of since. Substituting for Rorke next Thursday (November 21) at 11 a.m. at the P&A Theatre will be Major Pedro Diaz Lanz.

Major Lanz is a former friend and co-worker with Rorke in the underground anti-Communist fight in Cuba.

Major Lanz was the first commanding chief of the Castro regime. He was also the first high-ranking Cuban to publicly denounce Castro, a few weeks after he took office. Lanz attended Catholic schools in Havana and learned to fly when he was only 15. By the time he was 18, he had his private pilot's license. After a year in Batista's Air Force, he became a commercial airlines pilot. For five years he flew for "Q" Airways between Havana and Palm Beach, Florida. Long before he knew of Fidel Castro, he became involved in activities against Batista, and in November 1953 was thrown in jail. He escaped to Haiti and thence to the United States where he remained until Batista gave amnesty to his political enemies in 1955. Upon returning to Cuba, he again joined forces with underground groups, but not with Castro's. He regained his pilot's license and became an executive pilot for the Moa Bay Mining Company in Oriente Province. (This plant is now being operated by the Russians.)

In due course Batista's men were after him again, and he was forced to flee — this time to Costa Rica, where he became the first man to fly arms into Cuba for Castro's guerrillas. At this time, of course, there was no inkling that Castro was a pawn of the Kremlin. He organized and became Commanding Chief of the Rebel Air Force — supplying weapons to Castro in the Sierra Maestra Mountains. Twice his plane was bombed and destroyed in the mountains, and he stayed for three months fighting with Castro's guerrillas in the hills.

On January 1, 1959, when Castro took over, Major Lanz became the Commanding Chief of the Cuban Air Force. As the days went by he found evidence to support his fears that Castro was giving over the island to the communists. When they started pro-Communist indoctrination in the Armed Forces, Major Lanz resigned his commission and publicly told why.

Castro immediately branded him a "traitor", and Lanz once again was forced to flee his homeland — this time in a sailboat. On July 14, 1959 Major Lanz appeared before the Senate Internal Security Sub-Committee. In both the closed and the public hearings, he reported that Castro was not only a Communist but was dedicated to spreading Communism throughout Latin America.

On October 21, 1959 he became the first anti-Castroite to fly over Havana dropping leaflets. On this mission he was accompanied by Frank Florini, an ex-marine World War II hero of Edson's Raiders, who had been in charge of Castro's Air Force Security. Since then he has continued actively with various underground units.

New Court Proposed For City

City Attorney Philip Ogilvie has urged the city council to take steps to create a municipal court. Such action would require a public vote to amend the city charter.

The recommendation came in a report submitted by Ogilvie dealing with the status of the justice court under the new state constitution.

Noting that the new constitution provides that no judge or justice of any court of the state shall be paid from the fees of his court after January 1, Ogilvie pointed out that this provision would not affect Northville.

Although the city has a justice court, it is operated on a salary basis, not fees. According to an opinion of the attorney general, the abolishment of the justice court would not apply to salary courts.

However, Ogilvie continued, the office of the justice of the peace is automatically abolished five years from the date when the constitution becomes effective. It could be abolished any time within the five year period by legislative action, he noted.

When the justice court is abolished, it will be replaced with a court, or courts, of limited jurisdiction — possibly serving several communities.

Because it is unlikely that such a court would be located in Northville proper, Ogilvie urged the council to consider adoption of the municipal court, which could be retained under city jurisdiction.

The city attorney also expressed his belief that any judge should be an attorney, a requirement under the municipal court system.

Ogilvie's report concluded: "To create a municipal court will require an amendment to our charter, which will, of course, involve the submission of said amendment to the voters of the city. The next scheduled election to be held in the city would be the primary election to be held in the fall of 1964. Therefore, if we wish to have a vote on any proposed amendments to our charter prior to this date, we would have to have a special election. At the present time, I do not feel that our existing judicial system will be affected prior to the holding of the next general election. However, this opinion is predicated upon my belief that the Legislature will not act to abolish the office of Justice of the Peace during its 1964 session. If their actions during this session indicate that they are going to handle this matter immediately, then, of course, I would recommend the holding of a special election to submit the proposed amendment to the city charter to our voters."

Doubles 1962

Building Hits High Mark

Building activity in the city of Northville is setting records this year.

City Manager Bruce Potthoff took note of the building permit totals for the first 10 months of 1963 in a special report to the city council last week.

Already building has more than doubled complete totals for 1962.

Permits issued between January 1 and October 31, 1963 in the city total $1,298,599.

In 1962 the city issued $526,888 in building permits.

Admittedly, the new city hall accounts for $160,000, but this still leaves $1,138,599 in new taxable property, the manager pointed out.

Potthoff noted that the nature of the building has been diverse — with high activity in industrial, commercial and residential building.

Industrial permits have been especially significant, a new experience for the city.

Major reasons for the industrial growth have been the arrival of Anger Manufacturing on Novi road and the expansion of Foundry Flask & Equipment Company on Cady street.

The city manager took note of the role of the Northville Area Development Corporation in the expansion of Foundry Flask and particularly the co-operation of local citizens in purchasing some $27,500 in debentures to help promote the new addition.

"The full importance of the industrial expansion lies not only in the amount of the building permits but in the fact that the new buildings are followed by new machines and employment opportunities," the manager concluded.

Attendance Hike Worries Schools

The Northville school board moved swiftly through its agenda Monday night adjourning in a record two hours time.

Despite the relatively short session, the board handled a variety of business.

Of foremost concern was a report by Dr. Kenneth MacLeod, assistant superintendent, relative to the unusual increase in school enrollment.

Dr. MacLeod reported that the school enrollment now stands at 2,287 with the sharp increase coming in the elementary grades — from 1,099 when school opened in September to 1,115 today. Junior high enrollment has increased to 300, while the high school is unchanged.

School administrators are currently studying the elementary classroom problem — both for this year and next.

The board has already asked city and township officials to permit transfer of the board of education offices from the Main street school to the old library. This would provide another classroom.

Heavy first grade loads in the Main Street school necessitated creating a third class. Monday night the board approved hiring of Miss Judith Henry of Plymouth to teach the new class.

Board members heard Dr. Gordon Forrer, Northville's representative on the Schoolcraft college board of trustees, report on the college's progress.

Dr. Forrer said he was "very much impressed" with the progress and people connected with the college. "It will be a real asset to our community," he added.

Dr. Forrer noted that the facility is 36 per cent completed, somewhat behind schedule, but will be ready for students in the fall. He noted that the library would be stocked with 20,000 volumes, that the college had received 399 applications for faculty membership, some 432 student applications and that no out-district student applications will be considered until May 1.

An enrollment of 1,350 is anticipated the first year. Dr. Forrer pointed out that the college offers unique flexibility in that courses can now be created in any special subject if enough students show an interest.

In other business the board received commendation from Mr. and Mrs. Paul Beard, who appeared before the board to state they appreciated action taken relative to distribution of Bibles by the Gideon Society.

"Studying the scriptures is a wonderful thing. And I've been told that 75 per cent of the nation's public school children have no introduction to the scriptures," said Beard.

Board President William Crump said he has received numerous calls since the subject had been discussed at a board meeting. "All approved of our stand and I think it's a good thing the community supports us," Crump added.

A school district resident challenged the legal right of the board to permit distribution of the Bibles in the schools at the last board meeting. President Crump noted that School Attorney James Littell had not yet rendered an opinion on the matter.

The board deferred action on a Northville Heights subdivision petition requesting permission to install a gate in a fence to permit school children easier access to the school grounds. A question of liability for damage to private property or injury was to be turned over to Attorney Littell for an opinion.

High School Principal Fred Stefanski reported that three senior boys had been indefinitely suspended until damage resulting from dropping a powerful firecracker into a toilet is repaired. The explosion destroyed the toilet in the downstairs high school lavatory, Stefanski stated.

Township OK's Landfill Permit By 4-1 Vote

(See 'Speaking for The Record' — Back Page, Section Two)

The Northville township board reached a decision Tuesday night on an old problem and promptly took the wraps off a relatively new one.

Board members decided to grant a landfill permit to Sheldon Hayes.

Then they tackled the problem of providing a water supply to the dry well area near Bradner and Five Mile, where more homes are experiencing water shortages.

Following a brief discussion the board voted 4-1 to approve issuance of a landfill permit to Sheldon Hayes.

Tuesday's action followed last week's 2 1/2-hour discussion of the landfill proposal in a meeting at the township hall that drew a capacity-plus audience.

The lone dissenter was Trustee Wilson Tyler, who questioned fellow board members as to whether action by the board constituted approval of a permit or approval to negotiate a contract with Hayes.

Tyler also wondered aloud if a public hearing on the matter ought to first be held before the board's decision. He said he was uncertain that the proper procedure in granting such a permit had been taken.

In answer to his first question, Township Attorney James Littell said action by the board constituted approval of a permit, subject to agreement by Hayes to adhere to specific requirements under the newly enacted landfill ordinance and regulations. The actual permit, he noted, would spell out the requirements.

As to a public hearing, Supervisor R. D. Merriam pointed out that the people of the township had been sufficiently notified of last week's meeting and that the matter was thoroughly discussed at that time.

Under the permit, Hayes will be allowed to dump rubbish from the city of Detroit in a 12-acre swamp in the 325-acre Manning & Locklin gravel mining area between Seven and Eight Mile roads now owned by Hayes.

The permit is limited to five years, renewable annually.

Concerning the water situation, Supervisor Merriam told the board that he was to meet with a representative of the Detroit Water Board the following day (Wednesday) in an effort to determine when and how much water can be supplied to the township areas which are fast drying up. Several residents are now completely without water and must transport water to the premises.

He said he would insist upon

School Use Of Library Under Study

Northville township officials postponed making a decision Tuesday on a two-month-old request of the school board for use of the present library building as temporary quarters for administrative offices.

Following a report by Supervisor R. D. Merriam on his meeting Monday with representatives of the city council, board members declined to take any action because, as Trustee Donald Robinson put it, "a lot of things are unanswered."

Robinson had little reference to the school's request, but rather he was concerned with what ultimately should be done with the building.

Merriam explained that city - township representatives had come up with the following proposal for consideration by the board and the council:

Permit the school to use the library for two years, with the stipulation that the school maintain the building during the two-year period and that the school refrain from permanently altering the building's interior.

concrete answers to these two principal questions in light of the critical situation. Once these questions are answered, he explained, the board can better decide as to whether water should be purchased from Detroit or from Plymouth.

Several weeks ago the board tentatively agreed to purchase water from Plymouth. However, shortly thereafter Detroit made what was termed an "attractive offer," thus temporarily halting negotiations with Plymouth.

Detroit reportedly offered to provide immediate use of an existing Detroit water line, now serving the Wayne county training school, for the critical area. In addition, Detroit's offer guaranteed sufficient water and adequate pressure.

No written commitment, however, has been made by Detroit, the supervisor said this week.

Trustee Donald Robinson, who pushed for an immediate decision, argued that the cost for Detroit water lines will be considerably more for property owners and will serve a smaller area than will the proposed lines for Plymouth water.

He noted that the total cost for Plymouth water has been estimated at $95,000 for an average cost to the individual property owner at $1,200 possibly $300 or $400 less. Detroit water, on the other hand, probably would cost upwards of $2,000 for the individual property owner since only 18 would be served for a total estimated cost of $44,000, he said.

Robinson also pointed out that the existing line offered by Detroit is an old one and may prove inadequate.

Officials noted that even if a decision to purchase water from Plymouth is made immediately it will take approximately 90 days to begin construction and at least one month to complete construction.

Wayne Wilcox Dies in Crash

Funeral services were held Monday afternoon for Wayne J. Wilcox, 43, of 45924 West Seven Mile road who was killed last Friday evening in an automobile accident.

According to state police, Wilcox was alone, driving west on Seven Mile road when his car ran off the road just west of Haggerty. The car hit an embankment, skidded back onto the road and then off again striking a utility pole. The vehicle rolled over and came to rest on its top.

The victim, who was pronounced dead upon arrival at St. Mary hospital in Livonia, apparently fell asleep at the wheel, state police said. The accident occurred shortly after 8 p.m.

A resident of Northville for the past 11 years, Wilcox was director of radio advertising for CBS in Detroit.

He was born in London, England on February 2, 1920. He is survived by his wife and two children, William 14, and Gale, 11; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond H. Wilcox of Tucson, Arizona; and two brothers and two sisters, Norman of Lake Orion and Stanley of Crozet, Virginia, and Mrs. Robert Weber of Grosse Pointe and Mrs. Edward Grace, Jr., of San Marino, California.

Wilcox was a member of the Adcraft Club, Detroit Athletic Club, Economics Club, DAGA and Meadowbrook Country Club. He was a veteran of World War II, serving in the 501st paratroopers in the European Theater.

Funeral services were held at Casterline Funeral home with the Reverend Lloyd Brasure officiating. Interment was at Glen Eden Cemetery.

Our Schools Report

The annual report of the Northville Public Schools appears in this edition of The Record and Novi News packaged in an eight-page insert section.

Financial reports of the school district are required annually by law. But Northville school administrators always try to enliven the statistics with words and pictures of the schools' activities.

This year's report, compiled by Superintendent Russell Amerman, Assistant Superintendent Kenneth MacLeod, E. V. Ellison, director of administrative services, and Board Secretary W. C. Becker, includes messages from the superintendent and Board President William Crump; pictures taken at each of the schools; and charts revealing increases in student population, faculty and operational costs.

"THREE KINGS OF ORIENT" are destined to appear in at least 30 area homes this Christmas season — in a striking conversation-piece wall decoration. Mrs. Gene B. Cushing, of Dunsany road, spent last summer with scissors, glue, bits of fabric and trimming fashioning the appealing wall hangings on colored burlap.

These will be her donation to the 1963 Christmas Magic market to be staged by 12 branches of Garden association December 7 at the Northville community building. Mrs. Cushing's bright sampler art will hang in the Inkster branch booth as she retains her membership with that group.

The gift-bearing kings were displayed at Mothers Club meeting Monday at the home of Mrs. Gordon R. Forrer, West Main street. Mrs. Cushing demonstrated Christmas arrangements for different rooms. She also created a Thanksgiving turkey of a pine cone, colored pipe cleaners and feathers, which even a Brownie or Cub Scout could assemble.

Mrs. Essie Nirider, Mothers Club president, introduced and welcomed to the group two new members, Mrs. Bernard Bach and Mrs. H. O. Evans.

A WEDDING ANNIVERSARY and the orient provided themes for two parties last week end.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald E. Schwendemann were honored at a surprise party Friday evening marking their 15th wedding anniversary. Mrs. Schwendemann's brother and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Robert F. Brueck, (who also are Northville Estates neighbors), gave the midnight supper surprise at their home on Dunsany road.

An Oriental meal with SukiYaki cooked at the table set the theme of the dinner party given Saturday by the William B. Crumps at their Timberlane road home. Women guests even accepted the invitation to come in Far East garb, lending additional atmosphere to the chopstick meal.

The hostess was given an assist in keeping arrangements authentic by Dr. and Mrs. Arthur R. Basel, who lived in Japan for 11 months. They supplied the beautifully inlaid and decorated chopsticks — so elaborate that guests merely admired them and used the "everyday" wooden variety to juggle rice.

NEWCOMER'S CORNER

"I look upon every day to be lost, in which I do not make a new acquaintance."

— Samuel Johnson

Mr. and Mrs. Scott Krause, Mark, Stephen, Kimberly, Brad and Christopher.

Small town atmosphere and an excellent Catholic school prompted the recent move to Northville by Mr. and Mrs. Scott Krause and their five children.

The Krause family moved into a large new bi-level home in Northville Estates at 47325 Dunsany. They moved here from a home, which they built themselves, in Livonia.

The children are Mark, 9, Stephen, 7, Kimberly, 3½, Brad, 2, and Christopher, 6 months.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Krause are originally from Detroit. She was graduated from St. Mary's high school of Redford, and he from the University of Detroit, high school and from the university itself.

Mr. Krause, who has been in the insurance business for the past seven years, currently is life insurance manager of Michigan for Acacia Mutual Life, which has its headquarters in Washington, D.C. He has been with Acacia for the past year and a half.

Camera Club

The Northville Camera Club will meet on Wednesday, November 20.

A speaker from Ann Arbor will talk on and illustrate "Color and Composition" at the meeting, slated to get underway at 7:45 p.m. at the Wayne County Training School.

Keeping house, particularly now as the family adjusts itself to its new home, and caring for five energy-filled youngsters is the full-time occupation of Mrs. Krause.

Since both are very busy people, they have little time for outside hobbies. But they find plenty of relaxation in listening to classical music, and Mrs. Krause enjoys listening to her piano-playing husband. And sometimes Mr. Krause finds a little time for a few rounds of golf.

Name Chairmen Here For Holly Mart Bazaar

Names of the various chairmen for the upcoming Holly Mart bazaar at the Northville Methodist Church were announced this week.

The bazaar will be held on December 3 and 4.

Heading up the toys booth will be Mrs. Kenneth Corkin, who reports that the committee has made more than 100 stuffed toys, including seals, foxes, zebras, owls, monkeys, cats, horses rag dolls and clowns.

Doll clothes for all size dolls also will be featured.

Mrs. William Brown is chairman of the linens department featuring hand-made lace pillow cases, luncheon sets, pillows, laundry bags, and bathroom novelties.

A pick-a-pocket apron will be the featured attraction of the candy booth, headed by Mrs. Phelps Hines. Pockets in the apron will be filled with candy and children will be invited to "pick-a-pocket". A wide variety of homemade candies will be available, according to the chairman.

Mrs. R. G. Skelly is chairman of the aprons committee which will sell aprons of nylon and organdies, cobbler and bib aprons as well as Christmas aprons.

Mrs. William Cansfield is chairman of the knitting booth, featuring mittens, red socks, hats and baby items.

Novelties and Christmas decorations will be under the direction of Mrs. William Swank and Mrs. Ray Gregersen. Among the featured items will be combs and mirrors for girls, shoe bags, fancy bottles, piggy banks, typing covers, candles, centerpieces and tree decorations.

Mrs. Alan Peterson is chairman of the baked goods group which will sell pies, cookies, sweet rolls, breads, etc.

Garden Club Project Includes Demonstrations

Plans for special demonstrations for the upcoming annual Christmas project co-sponsored by the Northville branch of the Women's National Farm and Garden association were announced this week.

The project — called Christmas Magic — will be held on Saturday, December 7 at the community building. Eleven neighboring branches of the Farm and Garden association are cooperating with the local branch in sponsoring the big event.

Demonstrations to be featured during the day-long event will include:

11 to 12 p.m., Mrs. Richard Gerathy of the Northville branch will demonstrate wall plaques, pictures made from seeds, and arrangements using glycerine and dried materials.

5 to 6, Mrs. Arthur Stiller of the Holly branch will demonstrate topiary trees, both economy and extravagant types.

Pre-sale tickets at reduced rates may be purchased from Mrs. John Northrup, 47000 West Main street.

Susie Jones Selected On Chorale

Another of the "Jones girls" has been chosen to be a member of the Michigan Chorale.

She's Susie Jones, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Jones of Horton street. Her older sister, Carol, was a member of the travelling singing goodwill ambassadors in 1961. Susie is a senior at Northville high school.

Although the itinerary has not been released, the 1964 Michigan Chorale group will journey through South America next summer.

Sponsored by the Michigan Ann Arbor-Washtenaw Council of Churches, the Chorale members are selected from high school students in southeastern Michigan. They are chosen on the basis of musical ability and citizenship.

Weekly practice sessions begin this week in Ann Arbor in preparation for the summer tour.

TOPS Plans Dress Parade

Secrets of losing weight will be shared with guests who attend the Big Dress Parade, to be sponsored by the TOPS club on Monday, November 25. The program will get underway at 8 p.m. at Amerman school.

Members of the local club who have successfully lost weight will don their "original" dresses over pillows and padding to make themselves appear as they were before losing the weight.

Then, according to officials, the dramatic change will be accentuated when the women are revealed in their current slender, sheath dresses.

Mustangs Shine in Figures Too

Statistics Back Champs

Post season figures reveal what Northville Mustang fans have known for some time — that the local gridders were of championship caliber.

Northville shared the Wayne-Oakland conference crown with Clarkston with a 5-1-1 record and the Mustangs only encounter outside the league was a loss to the ninth ranked class A team in the state, Plymouth.

By all indications it was a successful season.

Consider these facts:

—Northville scored 63 more points than its opponents.

—Northville had the W-O conference scoring leader in the person of Fullback Ron Rice.

—Northville outgained its opponents in the air and on the ground.

—Four Mustang backs averaged over five yards per carry.

—Northville's Quarterback Gary Stobbe completed 55 percent of his pass attempts.

The Orange and Black tallied 158 points with 107 of those being scored by Rice. Other scorers were Halfback Dave Cummings with 20, Stobbe and Jerry French with 12, Tackle Bob Tuck with 6 and Halfback Doug Swiss with one.

On the ground, the Mustangs rolled up 1825 yards and the airways 485 to the opponents' 1248 and 227.

Cummings' rushing average was an excellent 8.2. Not far behind were Stobbe (5.4), and Rice and Hall, each with a 5.1 average.

In 60 pass attempts, Stobbe connected 33 times.

Northville had some top receivers in Jerry Imsland, 8 receptions for 176 yards; French 8 for 120 yards; Hahn, 7 for 92 yards; Halfback Mike Hall, 4 for 47 yards, and Cummings, 2 for 31 yards.

Perhaps the best measure of the Mustangs' quality however, is their game by game performance.

Plymouth 26, Northville 12 — A team with superior manpower, the Plymouth Rocks outplayed the Mustangs. Northville showed its fortitude, however, when it took the play away from the visitors in the last quarter, salvaging a TD.

Two of Plymouth's scores came on blocked punts.

Northville 14, Clarenceville 6 — The Mustangs showed improvement, especially defensively. They limited the Trojans to a mere three first downs. Showing the way offensively was Northville Fullback Ron Rice, who tallied all fourteen points.

Northville 33, Holly 6 — Strictly no contest as the Mustangs broke out in a scoring flurry with Rice accounting for every point. In all, Rice gained 141 yards while hitting pay dirt on jaunts of 2, 7, 12, 3 and 2 yards. Northville scored five of the nine times it had the ball.

Northville 26, Bloomfield Hills 0 — Punts off the foot of Dan Bishop and the ram-like rushes of Rice kept the Barons off balance as the Orange and Black waltzed to victory. Rice again provided the impetus, scoring 20 of the local team's points.

Northville 13, Milford 7 — Homecoming was a success as the Mustangs thrilled a capacity crowd with a last-minute 72-yard drive to pay dirt. Halfback Dave Cummings capped the march with a three-yard scamper around right end. Rice scored the first TD and the extra point in the opening period, but Milford's Jim Ward broke loose for 80 yards on the subsequent play to tie it up. The teams battled back and forth until the local gridders' final drive.

West Bloomfield 25, Northville 13 — With fire in their eyes, the Lakers of West Bloomfield upended league-leading Northville. As a result, Clarkston, West — Bloomfield and Northville were tied for the W-O lead with 4-1 states. Both Mustang TD's were scored by Jerry French and the local eleven fumbled away other opportunities.

Busch Cops First In Grid Contest

A 20-year-old sophomore at Michigan State university was first-place winner in The Record's football contest this past week.

He is Donald T. Busch, son of Mrs. Dorothy Busch of 280 South Center street.

Don, who is a graduate of Northville high school, missed only two games, wrongly picking Ohio State over Penn State and Detroit over Baltimore.

The second-place winner, Frieda O'Leary of 244 South Wing, beat out Mrs. W. L. Howard of 4787 West Eight Mile road, by picking the exact score between Detroit and Baltimore. Both she and Mrs. Howard, who was the third-place winner, had three mistakes.

Named to All-Conference Teams

5 Mustangs Win Laurels

Five Northville Mustangs gained gridiron laurels this week when they were named to the first and second all-conference teams by Wayne-Oakland county league coaches.

Grabbing first team berths were seniors Fullback Ron Rice and Guard Dave Jerome.

Selected as members of the second team were seniors Dave Cummings, a halfback, and Bob Tuck, a tackle.

It was largely through the play of these men that the Mustangs were able to forge a 5-1-1 record in the W-O conference.

Rice, the conference's leading scorer and one of its leading rushers, bulled his way for vital yardage to lead the Northville attack.

Combined with Cummings, it gave the local gridders a one-two punch in the backfield. Hurting Cummings' chances for first team honors was the fact that an injury sidelined him for two of the Mustangs' games.

Kerr, a transfer student playing his first year with the local gridders, gave them unexpected strength up the middle. What's more, he'll be back next year to anchor the line.

Jerome was a stalwart, not only at a guard spot on offense, but also as a linebacker.

Rounding out the stellar selections is Tuck, a mobile big man, who was the only lineman to score for the Mustangs. He picked a ball out of the air against Plymouth and rambled 30 yards for a TD.

Sharing the spotlight with Northville was West Bloomfield, which also placed five men on the first two conference teams.

End Rick Hacht and Quarterback Dan Graig, the Lakers fine passing combination, each won a first team berth, along with Guard Larry Zidar.

Second team Laker selections were Guards John Shearlock and Mike Starick.

Others on the first team were End Dave Graves, Clarenceville; Tackle Gary Armstrong, Brighton; Tackle Howard Chantnor, Holly; Halfback John Williams, Clarkston and Halfback Skip Miller, Milford.

Filling out the second team roster were End Ken Miskin, Clarkston; End Gary Thrall, Holly; Tackle Scott Lovejoy, Milford; Center Glen Bullard, Clarkston; Quarterback Larry Appleby, Bloomfield Hills; Halfback Jim Bedson, Clarenceville, and Fullback Rich Burris, Brighton.

Clarkston Buries Colts In Finale

The Northville Colts hit a football juggernaut from Clarkston head on October 29 and came out on the short end of a 41-0 rout to wrap up their 1963 football season with a 2-4 record.

There was no stopping the Clarkston JV's as they ran with ease through an outmaneuvered Northville squad.

Hindering the local gridders' chances of getting into the scoring column were two key injuries.

Tackle Mike Mahoney broke his arm on the third play from scrimmage and End Jim Zayti suffered a mild concussion later in the game and was forced to leave the field.

"They were a very powerful ball club," said Coach Brian Dunn. "They had a 6-1 record entering the game."

"We had some good drives underway, but we never capitalized on them," he added.

The Colts thus close out the season, having defeated South Lyon and Brighton while losing to Holly, Clarkston, Bloomfield Hills and Milford.

4 Youths Fined in Novi Following Drinking Spree

Four young men pleaded guilty of charges ranging from disorderly conduct to being minors in possession last Thursday in court before Novi Justice of Peace Robert Anderson.

Three of them were arrested at the Casino dance hall near Walled Lake.

Edwin R. Ortiz, 19, of Garden City, was fined $20 for being disorderly, and Vernon L. Harris, 18, of Detroit, and Jimmy D. Hollingsworth, 18, of Detroit, were each fined $20 for being minors in possession of alcoholic beverage.

She Talks to Her Plants For Some Amazing Results

Some have "green thumbs", but Mrs. Nestor Kucinskis talks her plants into growing.

"That's right, I talk to them. And I really think it helps."

Mrs. Kucinskis, who lives at 40995 Ten Mile road in Willowbrook subdivision, is quite serious. And she's got a house-full of plants to prove the value of conversation with plants.

"People think I'm kidding or a little bit mixed up when I tell them that," she explains, "but I'm not. The plants need help and I'd heard about other people talking to them so what did I have to lose?"

The Novi mother has been talking to her plants ever since she started growing fruit in her home about four years ago after visiting Florida.

"I loved it there so much I just didn't want to leave. The fruit trees just thrilled me.

Since we couldn't live there I decided to bring a little bit of Florida back to Michigan.

"A little bit" was a lemon tree.

She had so much fun watching the tree grow — and eventually bear fruit — that she began growing other plants, many of them from seed.

Today besides the lemon tree, which incidentally droops under the weight of a couple of one-pound lemons, Mrs. Kucinskis' home contains banana, caldmondin, grapefruit, and tangerine trees along with a couple of pineapple plants.

Always green, the trees — they're less than four feet high — blossom and bear fruit year around.

Some of the interesting tips that Mrs. Kucinskis has picked up since starting her unusual hobby include: coffee grounds and cigarette ashes makes ideal fertilizer; transferring plants to the outdoors in the summer time upsets the growth; pinching off leaves keeps the plant small but healthy; stems from ferns and pineapples grow into fine plants if properly cared for.

One of the most interesting techniques employed by this woman whose home and yard contain numerous examples of her skill is growing tropical fruit trees from seed.

Many people, Mrs. Kucinskis noted, simply put a particular seed in a jar of water or in dirt and hope for the best. And more often than not the seed decays before sprouting.

Mrs. Kucinskis' method is to place a piece of cardboard around the inside of a jar. Then between the glass and the cardboard, the seed is placed about half the distance to the bottom of the jar. Then she puts about an inch of water in the jar.

Thus, pinched between the glass and the cardboard, the seed absorbs "just enough" water to start the growth action.

The other tip: Peel away the thin shell layer covering the seed of a grapefruit, orange, etc. before placing the seed in the jar.

BELIEVE IT OR NOT — It's a little hard to believe, but growing in the home of Mrs. Nestor Kucinskis is a lemon tree containing one-pound lemons! Below (lower right) is a fruit-bearing caldmondin, a pineapple, and a jar in which the Novi woman grows tropical fruit trees from seed.

'64 Jet-smooth Luxury CHEVROLET

Chevrolet Impala 4-Door Sport Sedan

Now how are the high-priced cars going to explain this!

Here are looks, luxury and comfort that you'd expect to set you back plenty—if they came from anybody but the people at Chevrolet.

Fresh-minted styling with clean uncluttered lines that give the '64 Jet-smooth Chevrolet its feeling of new length and lowness. Rich new interiors with supple fabrics. Foam-cushioned front and rear seats and door-to-door carpeting—now standard in all models, including the modestly priced Biscaynes. And, of course, the niceties of Body by Fisher craftsmanship.

You've got a wealth of power to pick from—engines from a peppery 140-hp 6 to a 425-hp V8! And you've got the '64 Jet-smooth ride to cushion you from road noise and vibration.

Been promising yourself luxury like this someday? Your someday is here, as your dealer will gladly show you. *Optional at extra cost.

can lay off mortality and find

from the PASTOR'S STUDY

By Rev. John I. Wittstock
Our Lady of Victory Church, Northville

"Thou Shalt Not Steal."

Stealing is a tragedy that is very costly. Two and a quarter billions of dollars are stolen in the United States every year. But even though many people are dishonest, the commandment "Thou Shalt Not Steal" still holds for everybody. In God's design for human living, the commandment gives the principle of justice and honesty to all... it safeguards the human rights for all. It declares that no one may take that to which he has no right. This commandment outlaws all forms of dishonesty, including that of the wealthy man who would never steal a dollar but will sell worthless stock or take an unfair profit.

There are no loopholes in this commandment. In the civil law, there may be loopholes through which some escape civil punishment for their theft. But most persons who defraud their neighbor in any way know that while they escape the punishment of man-made laws, they are answerable to the unmistakable justice of God.

There are many forms of dishonesty, such as burglary, robbery, shoplifting, forgery and counterfeiting. Not without guilt is the big businessman who buys politicians and others for protection, while he stamps out competition and fleeces the unwary by a thousand dishonest tricks which he calls "smart business."

A great many persons would resent being called a thief but who are nevertheless dishonest. The business world is filled with sharp practice — selling at short weight, selling adulterated foods, overcharging and other forms of cheating. The fact that the public is foolish enough to believe his advertising does not justify a merchant in deceiving them.

There are all too many persons who would never pick a pocket but who think of nothing of failing to pay their debts. Then there are those who think that stealing from the government or from General Motors is not a sin because "they will never miss it."

Not only must a man restore what he has stolen
but also any stolen goods that might come into his possession in a lawful manner. When a stolen article cannot itself be restored, its equivalent can and should be restored as soon as one is able. The serious obligation of restitution can become most complicated and those who are conscious of the obligation will profit by and should seek, competent advice.

Salvation Army Offers 'Pilot' School

A new pilot program for the Salvation Army in Plymouth, involving the formation of a Sunday School class for trainable mentally handicapped children, was announced this past week.

According to Brigadier Ernest Hammer, local corps commander, the new venture will be under the direct supervision of Miss Mary Lou Durbin and she will be assisted by Mrs. Major Oscar W. Agre.

Miss Durbin is employed in the Garden City Public Schools as teacher for a class of trainable children. Mrs. Agre also is employed in the Garden City schools where she serves as visiting teacher. Both have studied beyond the master degree and are well qualified to direct such a program, Brigadier Hammer said.

Classes will be conducted at the Salvation Army, located at 290 Fairground. The 11 a.m. meeting is planned to coincide with most worship periods at other churches, thus allowing parents to leave their child for a pleasant and helpful experience while they attend the church of their choice, he explained.

Children outside Plymouth will be accepted so long as the parents bring them and call for them.

The training program will be geared to meet the needs of handicapped children and will consist of simple Bible stories and songs along with visual aids and art materials suitable for this type of child.

Miss Durbin is especially anxious to draw the child whose parents are unable to take them out very much due to the short attention span, or hyperactive behavior.

Interested parents are asked to call Miss Durbin at PA
2-6817 or Mrs. Agre at GA
7-8725 in the evening. There is no charge, since the cost will be borne by the Salvation Army.

Novi Leads In Road Tax Rebate Here

Novi village will receive the greatest share locally of the motor vehicle highway fund payments for the third quarter, State Highway Commissioner John C. Mackie revealed this week.

The village will receive $13,838.

Next highest share $6,566, will be given to Northville, while Wixom will receive $4,302 and South Lyon $2,785.

According to Mackie, net receipts of the highway fund during July, August and September amounted to $46,289,244, an increase of $1,798,892 or 4.4 percent compared to the same period last year.

All state gasoline and diesel fuel taxes and license plate fees go to the Motor Vehicle Highway Fund.

After deduction of collection costs and the Waterways Commission's share, the money is distributed under provisions of state law which provide that 47 percent goes to the state highway department for use on state highways, 35 percent to the state's 83 counties for use on county roads, and 18 percent to 515 incorporated cities and villages and their roads and streets.

Under this formula, the state highway department will receive $21,755,945 as its share of the third quarter collections, while the counties will receive $16,201,235 and the incorporated cities and villages will get $6,332,064.

Funds to be received by other area communities: $5,091 to Brighton, $7,373 to Milford, $5,578 to Walled Lake, $10,005 to Farmington, $102,977 to Livonia and $12,571 to Plymouth.

Oakland county is to receive $972,786, Wayne County, $3,225,635, and Washtenaw county $286,098.

Readers Speak

Another Look at Landfill

To the Editor:

This letter is addressed to the good people who reside in Northville Township. And I think they are all good, all 1603 who are registered as voters in the Township. It is merely to suggest that we all back off a little and take a good look at ourselves as individuals. Such as saying to ourselves "Am I really doing unto others as I would have them do unto me?"

Several times in the last year or so I have been to Township meetings at which the problem of the so-called Hayes Land Development has been discussed. At each of these meetings emotions rather than calm discussion of the facts have led to several hours of recriminations, distorted facts, disparagement of the character of Mr. Hayes, members of the Planning Board and the Township Board and others. Experts on water pollution, land use, laws and ordinances, etc. have been blithely brushed aside in the stress of unbridled emotions and, as the result, settlement of the problem has dragged on and on and is not settled yet.

I moved into the Township in the Fall of 1957 and acquired, along with the home I now live in, eight acres of land bordering this Hayes project which was entirely unknown to any of us at that time. It has always been my intention to sell this extra acreage some day as it is of no use to me. When Mr. Hayes started on his development there were a number of us residing on it's borders who saw a chance to sell the land we did not wish to keep.

I am sure most of us know what Mr. Hayes plans are for this rather large area of gravel pits, swamps and run down acreage so I will not bore you with repetition. For some months since Mr. Hayes started this development I have, with his very ready permission, visited it on an average of every two weeks. I have asked him any question I wished to ask and honestly feel that he gave me the best answer he could each time and the most honest answer. At the same time I have inquired at the Township Hall on other questions I wanted answered. Again, I was always treated with the utmost courtesy by the members of the various boards although, I am sorry to say, I have not yet had the pleasure of meeting all of them and getting better acquainted. At no time have I ever felt the slightest doubt as to the integrity, in the pursuance of their duties to the best of their abilities.

Last week, due to the considerable controversy over Mr. Hayes' request to use sanitary fill from the City of Detroit in three swamp areas amounting to a paltry thirty acres out of roughly 372 acres, I took the liberty of preparing a few facts concerning this fill problem to present to the Township board at this meeting. My facts, as I saw them of course, concerned the cost of the operation to Mr. Hayes, the profit he would make on the sanitary fill, and the amount of stench, rats, fires and water pollution which so many feel is inevitable in an operation of this kind. I am sorry to say I don't think my facts were very interesting to some although, for their own satisfaction, each could have discovered the same facts just as I did, by snooping. I do not say my facts are accurate. In fact I feel sure, not being an expert on these matters, that I made mistakes. But I did try in all sincerity at least.

There could be several possibilities as to why some of us are so opposed to this project. One is that there are a number of 'Unconvincibles' among us. These are people who are not amenable to reason of any sort. Their minds are not only closed, but bolted and hermetically sealed. They are encased in a rigid framework of thought and feeling, which no evidence or argument can penetrate. It is impossible, someone once said, to reason a man out of something he has not been reasoned into. For having acquired their beliefs on an emotional level, they cannot be persuaded out of them on a rational level.

Another possibility is, that we have some 'Wheeze-wumps' among us. What are these? The latin name is 'Wheezulus wumpsinensis fontanus incredibilis'. This creature exceeds unity amounting to at least 1.5. They are found throughout the social structure, among politicians, dictators, editors and 'Live Letter Writers'. Each wheeze-wump believes he adds up to more than 1. This superblown egotism manifests itself in the most extraordinary ways. Wheeze-wumps are utterly fearless and readily rush in where angels fear to tread. Their voices are as the sounding brass or tinkling cymbal. Their heads are a cavity and their bodies are all bowels. Their credibility is amazing. The slightest rumor or bit of gossip, devoid of fact of course, is their meat and bread of life.

You know, I don't really think there are 'Unconvincibles' or 'Wheeze-wumps' among the good people of Northville Township. I just think we have been a little lax in our love and consideration of our fellow man. I know we have differences in our opinions and I thank God for that. It would be a lousy world to live in if everyone thought exactly the same. But I am just as sure that we can meet at our Township Hall discuss our differences and opinions in a sensible and mature manner, trust the experts and the men and women we have elected to our Township Board, come up with a reasonable solution, and remain as I'm sure we would all like to be, FRIENDS each of the other.

There is a little poem I found many years ago and I know not the author but it has been a little help to me over the years to curb my defects of character. Who builds a church within his heart, And takes it with him everywhere, Is holier far than he whose church Is but a one day house of prayer.

My dear Mr. Sliger: Ever since your article on cigarette smoking appeared, I have intended to send my congratulations to you. I have given each of my grandchildren living here — excepting four-year-old John — a dollar for reading it carefully. At least, they agreed it was the best article they had ever seen on the subject. For the next few years, I plan to give them each a dollar for rereading it, each year. Thank you for writing it.

OUT OF THE PAST

FIVE YEARS AGO

November 13, 1958
They stood lined up in the rain last Saturday waiting their turns to help a little girl critically ill with leukemia.

The occasion was a benefit spaghetti dinner to raise money for Kim Smith, 18-month-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Smith, 48500 West Nine Mile road, who is fighting for her life in the University Hospital.

Frazer Staman, Novi township supervisor, was named treasurer and assessor for the village of Novi Monday night. The appointment came as a mild surprise, although Staman had submitted his application along with four others.

Negotiations that began nearly 1 1/2 years ago, are scheduled to be completed at the city council meeting.

A contract agreement between the city and the Northville Downs and Driving Club regarding the sale of two acres of land on River street is now ready for approval.

Northville public schools will begin selling $50,000 in tax anticipated notes this week until November 20, in order to meet November school payroll payments.

A zoning restriction preventing wintering of horses in the Sheldon road barns of Northville Downs was lifted by the Northville planning commission. The vote was six to two in favor of wintering horses at the new barns.

Northville's city council notified the A&P company it was enthusiastically in favor of its proposed plan to build a new supermarket locally.

The Novi township board decided to turn over the township hall facilities to the village and to move to the vacant bank building next to the hall.

FIFTEEN YEARS AGO

November 12, 1948
Novi's Perry Kenner Post No. 76 of the AMVETS re-elected Charles Trickett commander of the post. Others elected were Earl Holmes, first vice-commander; Ed Baylo, second vice-commander; William Mac Dermid, finance and recreation officer; and Ed MacDermid, adjutant.

Meadowbrook Country Club's Pro, Melvin "Chick" Harbert last weekend tied for third at the Pinehurst, North Carolina golf tournament with Clayton Haefner of North Carolina.

A football banquet was given to the Northville high school team by Porritt's Inn. Commissioner Claude Ely complimented the boys on their fine showing and good sportsmanship for the year. The coaches and team were also extended congratulations by R. H. Amerman, E. C. Mollema, and Leslie G. Lee.

Wilson Funk, director of the Northville Recreation Committee, has announced that local members of the Huron Valley Kennel Club are sponsoring an obedience dog training class to be held in connection with the activities of his own group. The class will begin as soon as enough interested persons enroll.

In connection with American Education Week, which was observed this week locally, as well as throughout the nation, several students took over the Northville faculty positions all day Thursday.

For the first time in 13 years, the Northville high school team emerged the victor over their traditional rival, Plymouth Monday night. After 48 minutes of tense play before 2,000 spectators, at the Henry Ford Field, the Mustangs came out on the long end of a 20-7 score.

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

November 11, 1938
It was just 15 years ago last month that the Rev. Father Joseph G. Schuler came to Northville to Our Lady of Victory church. With his new appointment which was made known this week, Father Schuler will officiate Sunday at Mass for the last time at his Northville post.

According to a report made by Police Chief Loy M. German, Wendell Pister, who is out of prison on parole, is evading Detroit and State police on check forging charges.

Upon the suggestion of Dr. R. M. Atchison, health officer, in an effort to obtain cooperation from the township in the matter of enforcing a dog ordinance, Mayor Arthur S. Nichols volunteered Monday evening to attend the township meeting, December 6.

Some 42 boys between the ages of 12 and 17 years made their way to the high school gymnasium where they spent two hours participating in supervised recreation under the leadership of Night Officer Richard Loomis and Assistant Scoutmaster Robert Power.

Without taking away from the triumph of Governor-elect Fitzgerald, an analysis of the election returns indicate that the avalanche of republican votes that swept down on Wayne county was, not so much for him as against Governor Murphy.

Jimmy Adamick, who doesn't remember anything about his fight with Toles, left the Henry Ford hospital November 3 to make his way to the John J. Hettche home on East Baseline road.

Traditionally republican Northville endorsed all GOP candidates in the election Tuesday by ratios in some cases of more than three to one.

SPEAKING for The Record

By BILL SLIGER

I'm writing this column on Monday, the day before the Northville township board is scheduled to make its final decision on the now-famous Hayes' landfill request.

It's almost a certainty that the permit will be granted; and if the odds were right, I'd bet the vote would be unanimous.

At any rate, this section of the paper will be printed before the Tuesday night action so any observations made here will have been of many weeks standing. A page one news story reveals the board's final decision.

Personally, I have mixed emotions about the whole affair. I'm sure others who have followed its progress feel the same.

At the outset we must accept the fact that the problem will not go away. It must be faced and solved, regardless of how unpleasant it may seem in the eyes of many.

Sheldon Hayes has attempted for many months — now running into years — to gain permission to deposit rubbish in the pock-marked area between Seven and Eight Mile roads where the Manning & Locklin gravel mining operation is conducted.

Initially, Hayes wanted to fill some of the pits. In the face of strong opposition he modified the plan to apply only to naturally swampy areas.

His long-range plan is to convert the ugly acreage into an exclusive development of home-sites around a series of six or seven lakes.

It is a tremendous undertaking and final realization would undoubtedly take more than a dozen years. Just how long remains unclear to me. Although Hayes owns the land, Manning & Locklin retains mining rights for 19 years. I've been told, however, the operation will peter-out long before this time.

So what do we have? Assuming Hayes is granted dumping permission, we must look to Hayes and the township board for our answers.

First, Hayes must be sincere. He must fulfill his pledge to develop this land for the benefit of the community. If the proposed project is merely a disguise to make money dumping rubbish, then we have been duped.

If it is as represented, the community should be grateful that an eyesore will be converted into property that would become both a credit and a tax source.

Next, the responsibility for control of the landfill operation falls squarely upon the shoulders of township officials. If the privilege is abused or regulations ignored, the permit should be cancelled immediately and the evidence recorded for any ensuing legal action.

I sincerely believe that township officials have made every effort to provide for the protection of its citizens, while not infringing upon the rights of free enterprise.

The ordinance and regulations are most rigid; and rubbish fill of gravel pits is specifically prohibited — a condition most important to our area.

As one member of the planning commission stated, the time for the experiment is here.

Now for the mixed emotions.

While I am satisfied that the township has taken proper steps legally to cope with the land-fall problem, there are many maneuvers surrounding the case of which I do not approve.

I resent the last-minute rush; the unannounced meetings; the obvious and admitted preference for discussing, and even acting upon, matters surrounding the request without a public audience.

And official minutes published after-the-fact fails to justify the act.

When any elected official begins to prefer privacy because the ability of the public to comprehend or sympathize is doubted . . . when the public becomes a nuisance to the office-holder . . . then it's time for that official to re-examine the principles of democracy.

The lobbying that accompanied the entire affair became nauseous at times. Specifically, I refer to the appearance of an influential community leader before the planning commission on the evening of its recommendation.

In an obviously rehearsed statement, the praises of Hayes were twice repeated giving the impression that perhaps this individual was speaking for the organization he represented.

It is my contention that none of the above was necessary. The public can comprehend and will accept conscientious action of its elected officials. But it is their democratic right to know what's going on and to disagree if they wish.

In short, I'm saying the township board has suffered from poor public relations' policy. But it's my belief that it has been a mistake in judgment, nothing more.

In conclusion, I believe a golden opportunity now exists for the board to show good faith and win public support and assistance.

I refer to the proposal to purchase land for a new township hall.

This is a big project. The land alone will apparently cost in excess of $13,000.

I believe that it is politically unwise for the board to merely toss this project on the agenda as a matter of fact.

It's possible that there are taxpayers who believe construction of a township hall would be a waste of money. There may even be taxpayers who envision the day that the township will find it wise to become a part of the corporate limits of the city and a new township hall could become a white elephant. (I'm sure this thought makes the hard-core politicians churn).

Others may have different ideas on the proposed location. I believe this project affords the township an excellent opportunity to appoint a citizens' study committee to: (A) decide upon the desirability of constructing a new building; and (B) determine choice locations.

Further, I'd be certain that the proportion of the committee accurately reflected the Republican-Democratic ratio as recorded in the last election in the township.

Let UN Run Whaling

BABSON PARK, Mass. — This is an article on whales, but I need the help of the United Nations to make whaling a "new" industry. Well, here is my story.

When I was a boy, it seemed as if the ocean was full of whales. They apparently lived at the bottom of the sea where they would not be harpooned by whalers going out from New Bedford, Mass., and other seaports which made a specialty of getting whales.

Gradually, the number of whales was depleted. Finally, an international "agreement" was arranged whereby the nations were given quotas; but these have never been honored.

Therefore, I have a definite proposition, namely, that the whaling industry be taken over by the United Nations, which would see that only the male whales are killed and that the female whales are allowed to reproduce. This would seem a legitimate work for the United Nations, and one which would bring the UN a definite income. — I can imagine it making a good contribution toward paying up the United Nations' present deficit.

When I was a boy there was virtually no cattle industry. My uncle went west to Nebraska where the cattle with great horns were roaming freely over the prairies. Gradually, wire fences were erected to allow the cattle to be branded and ultimately dehorned. That was done with cattle, and we have the great cattle industry of today. The same type of thing could be done with the whaling industry; but it must take place under water instead of the open prairie.

Whales are mammals, not fish. They are kindly and intelligent; but have gradually been driven away from civilized ports and killed, irrespective of whether they are male or female, and even when they are pregnant.

The whaling industry could be brought back and become almost as great as the cattle industry; but this can only be done if the industry is controlled by an organization like the United Nations.

Therefore, I make an appeal to the United Nations that it seriously take up this problem before the whales all go to the Arctic or Antarctic waters, largely under the ice, for protection. Let us turn the tide before it is too late, and bring forth and protect a new industry for the world which will equal the cattle industry in importance, and provide wealth, employment, and prosperity for all who have a part therein.

This is a very practical matter and it could easily be accomplished. The waters of the oceans are the only natural monopoly the United Nations have. Certainly, before spending billions on "going to the moon," we might find out what is at the bottom of the seas, which make up four-fifths of the world's area and which we now know almost nothing about.

John D. Rockefeller personally told me that there was a breakthrough in Pennsylvania where the crust of the earth was thick, and a puddle of oil was seen on the surface. Later other "breakthroughs" occurred in California, Texas, and other states. This is the way the great oil industry started.

It is only common sense to believe there are many "breakthroughs" on the crust of the floor of the ocean through which oil comes which the whales have been living on. Now, however, they have been driven north to the Arctic or south to the Antarctic, where it is too cold for them to be found and killed. The bottom of the ocean is today as brilliant a hunting ground as were the prairies of the Central West before the wire fences were built or the cattle brand or dehorned.

The first man of my acquaintance who had the foresight to study the bottom of the ocean was E. W. Scripps, who personally told me of its great undiscovered wealth and who left a sum of money to endow such a study. Let me add that I think he was a great-grandfather of the wife of William Loeb (commonly known as "Nackey"). Unfortunately, no United Nations existed in that day and Scripps was obliged to depend upon his newspaper syndicate to promote interest in the project.

Naturally, it was while hurriedly retracing my steps in my anxiety to get out of the woods that two deer pranced across my path. Both were positive thinkers. I'm sure because I distinctly heard one say to the other, "Don't be afraid Mable; he's too scared to shoot."

Too much emphasis is placed on the plight of the doe when she becomes legal game for the hunter. But what about the hunter? Where is the sympathy for him?

I'm speaking of that peculiar brand of hunter who reverts to the primitive tools of the field — the guy who leaves home with a curved branch, a piece of string and a few pointed sticks, who enters Michigan's northern jungle full of optimism, and who returns empty-handed and discouraged.

Granted, thousands of the more than 35,000 archers who stalk the woods each year take does, bucks and fawns. But many more thousands who hunt the white tails come back with sad tales, tired eyes and sore feet.

These fellows naturally can little appreciate those who shed tears for the "poor little creatures" that must hide from the archery bullets. If they be bullies, then the critics they pick on are just plain mean.

And pity the fellow who comes home empty-handed. He has to put up with those nasty little remarks about "hunting with toys."

Invariably, the authors of these jests remind us repeatedly that during the last regular season a doe wandered by so close they could have hit her on the head with a club. And of course we hear again that worn-out remark: "Why don't you try some REAL hunting during the regular season?"

Perhaps it is more difficult picking off a buck with a rifle than trying to bring down any-sex with a bow, but I would much rather come home empty-handed than dodge bullets for a week. If it's war I wanted I could rejoin the infantry and ask for an assignment to the German Autobahn.

Think positively, someone once told me, if you want to get a deer.

Well, there's not a more positive thinking hunter in the woods — so positive thinking that often I have a deer skinned and in the refrigerator before he's even sighted. Unfortunately, the deer is even more positive that he's safe in the area I hunt. While I'm thinking of how I'm going to get him, the deer is thinking too — thinking how easily he can avoid me.

Two of these positive thinking creatures had a good positive laugh recently.

Stalking through the woods without a compass, I was tired and sat down to rest. A short time later, I heard the excited voices of my hunting companions off in the distance. Off after the voices I went, through unfamiliar woods, across a creek and deep into an erie swamp — shouting all the way.

A half-hour later someone poked his head out from behind a tree, and asked, "Who do you want?" It wasn't one of my companions. In fact it wasn't a deer hunter. I'd been following a party of partridge hunters, and now a couple of miles from nowhere, I had to retrace my path.

It was growing dark so I hurried along, my bow dangling ineffectually at my side, hoping I'd be able to find my way home. On the verge of panic, I finally found my original path and eventually my way out of the woods.

Naturally, it was while hurriedly retracing my steps in my anxiety to get out of the woods that two deer pranced across my path. Both were positive thinkers. I'm sure because I distinctly heard one say to the other, "Don't be afraid Mable; he's too scared to shoot."

Scholarships from 'Talking Money'

An admirable effort to provide quality education to persons who most likely could not get it on their own is under way at Michigan State University.

With little fanfare, University officials found 23 young men this fall who had the scholarship ability but no monetary means to attend college.

All 23, from five Michigan high schools, are now studying and working at the East Lansing institution.

The rather unique program which got these 23 into MSU is known as "Operation Ethyl." University officials said this name was selected to denote "an educational additive."

Funds for the expenses incurred in attending college were derived because a number of MSU educators decided to contribute earnings from public speaking appearances to a special fund. These monies were earmarked for use by talented youngsters who don't have the money needed to attend college.

High school officials are called upon to find deserving students for whom college attendance is financially impossible.

Each of the students must earn money for the customary advance deposits on dorm and tuition fees and be willing to borrow and work to help put himself through college.

University officials said the borrowing and earning requirements of the students was aimed at insuring that the students who receive aid are sincerely interested in earning a degree.

The fund, started just two years ago, is continuing to build up as members of the MSU faculty and staff are invited to speak at public meetings, high school commencement and other occasions.

The official state tree, the white pine, once covered much of Michigan. Historians note that this was before the coming of the white man.

Much of the forest stands were lumbered off, however, in the later part of the last century and early this century.

The State Agriculture Department now notes that the state tree appears to be staging a comeback. A recent aerial survey showed stands of more than 1.2 million acres of white pine concentrated in Chippewa and Mackinac counties. Other stands are sparse throughout the state but total about a quarter million acres, department officials said.

Children and windows on "fully automatic" automobiles can be a dangerous mixture, State Health Commissioner Albert E. Heustis warns.

Several recent incidents, one of which resulted in a death, pointed up the danger in a child using an automobile for a plaything.

"Children should never be left alone in an automobile under any conditions," Heustis said. "A car with automatic winds particularly is a booby-trap." The power of automatic windows exerts up to 50 pounds pressure. This is enough to strangle a child easily, Heustis said.

In standard models, the windows work only when the ignition key is on, so removing the keys eliminates the danger," he said. "In most station wagons with automatic tailgate windows, however, the ignition key is not required. The windows can become a blunt guillotine for a child."

Heustis views the solution to this rapidly increasing problem as a matter of engineering.

"I am happy to say that the auto industry is actively engaged in trying to solve the problem," he said. "Today, however, the only answer is to keep kids out of the car when it is unattended."

Michigan now has a tiny ambassador of good will touring the country. A Flint girl, 5-year-old Mary Lou Graves, is this year's National March of Dimes child.

Regardless of one's feelings about united campaign drives or single-purpose fund campaigns, one look at the March of Dimes poster child brings a single thought: This could be my child.

Born with an open spine which was quickly corrected through surgery, Mary Lou had other problems to overcome. Water on the brain, hydrocephalus, developed but stopped. She also required an operation to overcome a severe bladder and bowel involvement.

Health and hospitalization insurance can cover many bills, but the widest imagination cannot measure the amount involved in a case such as Mary Lou's.

Through physical therapy, Mary Lou is gaining some degree of independence. She is learning to walk and next year will attend a special school for crippled children.

As the oldest of four children of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Graves, Mary Lou is her mother's helper. She can dust, dry some dishes, fold clothes, and "mind" her brother and sisters.

A poster picture hardly tells the story, but Mrs. Graves, who had polio before she was two years old, puts it this way: "The March of Dimes is the greatest friend we ever had."
