Sixth Grade Classes Slated For Junior High in 1964-65

Move Designed to Delay Building

By unanimous action, the board of education has approved a recommendation of the superintendent to move sixth grade classes to the junior high school beginning with the first semester of the 1964-65 school year next fall.

The proposal represents another step in attempting to solve classroom shortages that are fast becoming critical.

Related action included a vote to rescind a previous motion of the board — made in March — to make the ninth grade part of the junior high program. This latest decision means ninth graders will remain at the high school.

The board action is admittedly designed to delay consideration of a new elementary classroom facilities until 1965 when the proposal can be included with a millage vote coming up at that time to renew 10 mills for operating expenses.

In discussing the transfer of sixth graders here Monday evening, it was emphasized that it constitutes a trial move and that it does not necessarily mean that the sixth grade will become permanently integrated into the junior high program.

Until administrators have studied the sixth grade program as it relates to the junior high, the move constitutes only a change in quarters, Superintendent Russell Amerman noted.

Specifically, here are the reasons given for recommending the move:

1. Larger than anticipated growth at the elementary level means more elementary classrooms are needed. By moving the sixth grade, five classrooms will be made available for elementary use.

2. More efficient use of music, art and physical education teachers and facilities.

3. No large amounts of money will be necessary for special equipment.

4. Depending on the rapidity of population growth, this transfer will enable the school to use present available space while making plans for new elementary buildings or additions.

5. It will not be necessary to build or rent portable classrooms for the immediate future.

6. The physical, educational and emotional development of the average sixth grade pupil is closer to the seventh grade than to the fifth.

7. The ninth grade pupils can be efficiently housed in the high school. Beginning next fall Novi will no longer send its ninth graders to Northville.

In the previous meeting, the board adopted another measure aimed at solving the large influx of pupils on the elementary level by the addition of a second kindergarten class at Main Street school.

Additional steps approved that relate to the second kindergarten included:

—Move of the special education pupils from the basement of Main Street school to the kitchen at Amerman;

—Move of the Main Street library to the basement room vacated by the special education class;

—Move of a regular class into what is now the library;

—Move of the new kindergarten class into the room to be vacated by the regular class moving to the library.

To implement the additional kindergarten, the board Monday night approved the contract of a new kindergarten teacher to become effective in January.

She is Mrs. Marian H. Maas of 128 Walnut street, who has substituted in the local school system. She previously taught in the Detroit school system, giving it up while on a maternity leave of absence. Superintendent Russell Amerman recommended that she be hired.

The additional kindergarten was recommended because enrollments have climbed significantly. Administrators have noted that the present enrollment of 197 is 45 more than anticipated this fall.

Another matter of space still before the board concerns possible use of the present library building as quarters for administrative offices once the library is moved to the new city hall.

Negotiations with the city and the township are continuing, and Superintendent Amerman reported that the Mother's Club, present tenant of the library, is willing to discuss substitute facilities that the school may offer for its use.

—Approval of accepting two children from the Plymouth State Home and Training School for the special education program in the local school system.

—Extension of sick leave for Fred Clark until January 3.

—Approval of a driver education policy, which was discussed at length last spring and since corrected, amended and recommended for approval by the superintendent.

—Suggestion by Superintendent Amerman that the board begin consideration of up-dating the teachers' salary schedule in view of changes in neighboring school districts.

—Decision to continue studies concerning possible development of a new sick-leave policy for the school system.

—Notation by Amerman that new furniture will be needed for the additional Main Street kindergarten scheduled to begin in January.

—Reminder that schools will close December 20 and reopen on January 6, and a suggestion that the December 23 board meeting be cancelled unless some pressing business needs attention.

School Hours To Change Next Semester

New starting and closing times for Northville schools — on a trial basis — were approved Monday evening by the board of education.

The new times — to begin with the up-coming second semester — include:

—Begin high school and junior high school at 8 a.m.

—Close high school and junior high school at 2:45 p.m.

—Begin elementary schools at 8:45 a.m.

—Close elementary schools at 3:30 p.m.

Presently, elementary and junior high school students attend from 8:30 a.m.-3:30 p.m. and high school students from 8:30 a.m.-3:12 p.m.

Advantages of these times, as pointed out to the board by school administrators, are:

1. Bus pupils will not have to arrive at school 30 or 40 minutes before school starts or wait 30 or 40 minutes after school.

2. High school athletes in spring sports rarely will have to be excused early.

3. Buses will not be as crowded.

4. Young children will not be on the same bus with teenagers.

5. Elementary school day will not be as long as it is at present.

6. If it is necessary to retain junior or senior high school pupils for student council, bands, clubs, etc., they can ride on the elementary bus if there is room.

Furthermore, it was pointed out that although the new schedule will mean additional bus mileage and some additional driver time, the estimated increase in cost should not be significant.

Under this new starting and closing schedule, buses will be re-routed to cover the entire school district, using eight buses with all making double runs.

First run buses, it was explained, will transport students in grades 7-12; second run buses will transport children in grades K-6.

The rearrangement of routes, the recommendation noted, "would continue to follow our written policy on transportation with respect to safety to students, convenience to parents and students, distance to bus stops, health of riders, emergency measures to be taken during exceptionally hazardous road conditions."

In a related matter, the board advised E. V. Ellison, director of school administrative services, to continue his investigation into the feasibility of safely transporting students to and from the new Shad Brook subdivision southwest of the city.

Other matters discussed and action by the board included:

Enroute to Hospital

Mary McGuire

Hurt in Accident

On the way to the hospital side of her brother, James, 21, who was seriously injured in recovering from a traffic accident in Novi on November 16.

According to Livonia police, the McGuire girl was driving east on Five Mile road when her car collided head-on with a United Parcel Service vehicle driven by Richard William of Garden City.

The accident occurred just east of the Houghton road intersection. William escaped serious injury.

James McGuire, who has been unconscious since the November accident, "is just now beginning to come out of it," a hospital spokesman said. He is reported as improving.

Mary McGuire, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John T. McGuire of 240 Orchard drive, was reported doing "fairly well" at St. Mary Hospital Tuesday. She suffered serious facial injuries and was in surgery for more than four hours Monday.

The young motorist was on her way to St. Mary hospital in Livonia, it was learned, to relieve her mother at the bedside of her brother.

New Petitions Slow Township Water Bid

Plans to speed up water service to 18 homes in Northville township where wells are running dry, hit a snag Monday night.

But the delay is only temporary, and perhaps not more than a week.

Township board members meeting in special session Monday afternoon learned from bonding authorities that new petitions must be circulated before special assessment procedures may be undertaken to provide water for Plymouth Gardens subdivision.

Original petitions had included a larger district extending down Five Mile and along Bradner bordering the subdivision. Because the district now includes only the 18-home Plymouth Gardens, it was determined the request must be re-filed by homeowners. The precaution also avoids original signers declaring they favored the assessment only on the basis of a larger district to be served, Township Attorney James Littell noted. Residents were expected to circulate the new petition this week.

Supervisor R. D. Merriam said the board would now aim for a January 3 public hearing on the proposal.

A clearer picture of the exact cost of the project was presented, along with the means of assessment, at the Monday meeting.

Total cost of the project is estimated at $24,000 by Mosher Associates, township engineers. The assessment will be divided equally between owners of each lot standing to benefit by the improvement.

The exact number of benefiting properties has not yet been determined. It will be between 20 and 24, making the individual assessment to the property owner about $1,200 each.

The assessment may be financed at six per cent interest over a 10-year period. It was pointed out that uniform annual principle payments will be made plus the interest on the unpaid balance.

The one-inch line to serve the subdivision will be tapped into the 12-inch city of Detroit main which now extends down Five Mile to Bradner and then to the Wayne County Training School. The latter facility will receive its water supply from a new Detroit line through the city of Northville which will run southward along Sheldon road.

The subdivision water lines will be extended to the property lines of each benefiting lot, the engineer pointed out. It will be the responsibility of the property owner to run the line from this point to the house. This cost, plus an approximate $75 charge for a meter, will complete the expense to the homeowners.

In earlier sessions before the board the property owners have indicated an eagerness to obtain the water at any reasonable cost. Four homes are presently completely without water. Others experience periodic "dry spells."

The water system will constitute two "firsts" in the township. It will be the first water system operated by the township and the first municipal use of Detroit water in Northville.

Supervisor Merriam said a final contract remains to be signed with Detroit. He also noted that the board plans to charge a $400 tap fee to any residents who tap directly into the 12-inch main in the future to help offset the cost of a $20,000 master meter which will eventually be needed to record water acquired from Detroit.

March Completion Of City Hall Seen

Northville's new city hall-library-fire hall is now more than 50 per cent complete and about three or four weeks behind schedule, City Manager Bruce Potthoff informed the city council in a special building progress report.

"It appears, however, that even with the delays the building will be ready by March 5, which is the deadline under the terms of the contract," the manager noted.

The new facility, under construction at the Main-Wing street site of the old city hall, is being built under the federal government's public works acceleration act with a matching fund grant of $137,000.

Manager Potthoff pointed out that construction has progressed smoothly to date with no change-orders.

Most of the exterior brick work has been completed. Roof trusses are now being assembled on the site and it is expected that they will be raised into position by a crane this week.

Original plans called for the fire station portion of the building to be available for use by mid-December. Delays have made this impossible, the manager stated, making it necessary to move fire equipment to the temporary garage.

The temporary garage constructed at the rear of the present city hall will be relocated at the public works grounds on Gerald avenue as soon as weather and time permit, Manager Potthoff concluded.

Historical Group To Organize

An organizational meeting for the proposed Northville historical society will be held Tuesday at the public library beginning at 8 p.m.

Committees appointed last month to investigate various aspects of establishing such an organization will present reports of their findings. Interested persons are urged to attend.

Reminder To Voters

Notices from Northville city and township clerks will soon remind many resident voters that their registration will be suspended unless reinstated within 30 days.

The notices take on new significance this year because of the new state constitution which takes effect January 1.

Previously, voter registrations remained on the rolls if the citizen had voted within a period of four years.

The time limit is now two years.

Township Clerk Marguerite Young announced that notices would be in the mail this week to all township electors who have not voted, continued their registration, reinstated their registration or recorded a change in address within a period of two years.

The notices will warn these voters that their registration as a qualified voter will be cancelled "unless you apply for a continuation within 30 days from this date." City Clerk Martha Milne said similar notices will be sent in the city between Christmas and New Year's.

E.M.B. Food Market Sold

OLD AND NEW — Everyone's smiling at E.M.B. Food Market. Left to right are "Butch" LeFevre, former store manager; Leland Smith, former owner; and Ray Garrod, new owner of the Main street grocery.

E.M.B. Market, downtown Northville for more than 30 years, has been sold.

The sale, from Leland V. Smith of 419 Yerkes to Ray Garrod of 117 South Center, became effective on December 1.

And with the sale, "Butch" LeFevre, manager of the store since Smith purchased it from E. M. Bogart in 1944, announced his retirement.

The new owner has been a resident of Northville since 1963. For the past 10 years he has been employed by Lakeside Packing House in Walled Lake. He was manager of the meat department.

Years ago Garrod worked in the old Northville farmers' market located near the famous opera house on Center street that has long since been torn down.

He is married and has two daughters, one of whom is married. She is Mrs. Gilbert Black.

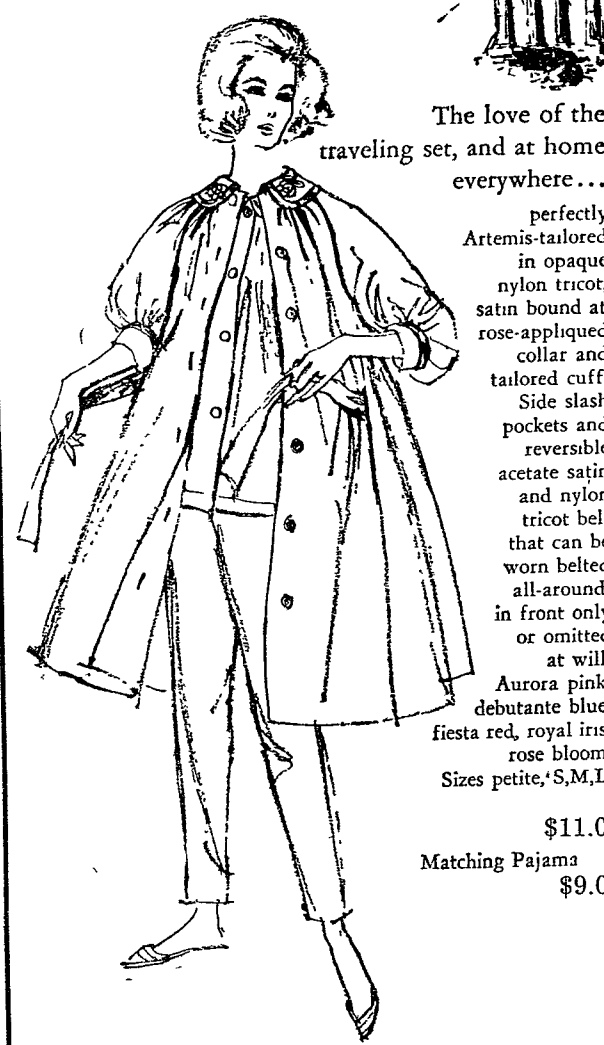

Garrod, who will manage the store, said the name will remain the same. The interior of the store will be remodeled, he said.

E.M.B. Market is named after E. M. Bogart, the original owner, who still lives at 335 North Center. It is located on the south side of Main street just east of Center.

CHRISTMAS MAGIC — Colorful decorations, dazzling displays and ingenious "home-made" products greeted an enthusiastic crowd Saturday at the Northville community building where 12 area garden clubs joined together to stage the annual Christmas market. Around the outer edge of the gymnasium, the clubs sponsored individual booths — similar to the Northville booth shown below but each distinctively different.

In Our Town

By Jean Day

IT LOOKS AND FEELS LIKE CHRISTMAS all around town. Doors are decorated, mantels trimmed as holiday entertaining begins.

A most hospitable tradition in the Northville area is the Christmas time coffee or breakfast. Between 45 and 50 friends of Mrs. John H. Begle will be driving down Nine Mile road this morning to her annual breakfast. Conversation and carol singing will be combined informally.

Next Thursday, the 19th, Mrs. Alfred Parmenter has invited friends to her home at 727 Thayer boulevard for a Christmas coffee, a tradition for the last several years.

A HOLIDAY BRIDGE CLUB-LUNCHEON for eight was given yesterday by a Thayer boulevard neighbor, Mrs. Edwin R. Langtry.

Date for the annual December breakfast of Doctors' Clinic doctors, their wives and staff members is next Wednesday, the 18th, at Meadowbrook country club. Mrs. Russell M. Atchison reports that there will be about 30 at the breakfast and gift exchange.

This Friday Meadowbrook Ladies Bowling group will have its Christmas party at the club.

NEWCOMERS CLUB PROMISES Santa will have a Christmas stocking for every child attending the children's party to be given from 6 to 8 p.m. Sunday at Our Lady of Victory church social hall. A program of holiday music is planned, followed by refreshments. Mrs. C. W. Fountain, chairman, hopes to have 100 children attending. Assisting her are Mrs. Thomas Paggert, Mrs. Walter Guavara, Mrs. Stewart Duguid, Mrs. Frank Whitmyer and Mrs. Robert Brueck.

NORTHVILLE COOPERATIVE PRE-SCHOOL PLAY GROUP will have its children's Christmas party December 20 at the recreation building where the three- and four-year-olds play every Monday, Wednesday and Friday morning.

Since moving to the new quarters last fall, the group has been able to enlarge its membership to 32. Mrs. Harold Wright, membership chairman, announces that for the first time in two years she is able to take names for the enrollment list.

MRS. CRISPEN HAMMOND "talked clinic" at a Detroit Club luncheon last week when she was the guest of Mrs. Alfred Glancy of Grosse Pointe. Mrs. Hammond and Mrs. Robert Herman, of Dearborn, answered questions about our Northwestern Wayne county child guidance clinic for a steering committee of a new proposed North-eastern clinic in process of being formed for East Detroit, Harper Woods and the Grosse Pointe area.

NORTHVILLE PLAYERS GUILD members are basking in the glow of praise after a successful "first production". It appears there even may be a small profit from last week end's three performances. Casts of the three one-act plays gathered after the final performance at the Center street home of Mrs. Coy Sandrock for an after-glow.

Mr. and Mrs. William C. Soellner, Jr. invited friends who attended the play to their home on Dorisa court following the Saturday performance.

NORTHVILLE WOMAN'S CLUB members who attended last Friday's meeting are much more knowledgeable about events surrounding President Kennedy's assassination. Bernard C. Brown, special agent in charge of the Detroit office of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, distinguished between FBI duties and those of the Secret Service, whose job it is to guard the president and members of his family.

Brown said he felt there was no more reason to anticipate trouble in Dallas than elsewhere, that the city has a good police force and was considered conservative despite the "Stevenson incident."

He pointed out that the president can't stand up in the "bubble" top. "It was his choice, and he made it," declared Brown, referring to its use.

Brown pointed out that kidnap cases become the province of the FBI as soon as the victim is taken out of state, or if not located in 24 hours. (This week he could illustrate his talk with the Sinatra, Jr. case!)

DAR Tea Set Monday

Highlighting the December meeting of the Sarah Ann Cochrane Chapter (DAR) will be a Christmas Tea at 1 p.m. on December 16.

The tea will be held at the home of Mrs. William Bake, 418 West Main street.

Speaker for the occasion will be Mrs. Clyde Kell, first vice-regent, St. Clair Chapter, DAR in Detroit. Her topic is "Let's Keep Observing Christmas as Christ's Birthday."

Guests of honor will be Miss Ilse Reichle of Germany and Mrs. David Wood of Plymouth. Miss Reichle will receive her citizenship papers this month, and Mr. and Mrs. Wood are her sponsors.

Hostesses who will assist Mrs. Bake are: Mrs. Dan Hiller, Mrs. George Zerbe, Mrs. Gerge Merwin, Northville; and Mrs. Arthur Anderson, Livonia.

Members are reminded to bring their useable discarded clothing which will be sent to DAR supported schools.

NEWCOMER'S CORNER

I look upon every day to be lost, in which I do not make a new acquaintance.

— Samuel Johnson

Peter, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Karrer, Eugene, David, Chuck, Pat and Nancy.

A large new home, five children attending four different schools, a teenage permanent guest of the family and Christmas approaching.

It all spells work and plenty of it. But Mrs. Eugene Karrer loves it. "I guess you might call it my hobby," she laughed.

The Karrers moved into their new home at 47000 South Chig-widen only a few weeks ago, but already they're finding strong attachments.

Life-long residents of the East Detroit area, Mr. and Mrs. Karrer decided to move west — and to this area — so that "our kids could have plenty of open space to run and play in. And, gosh, they sure like it here."

The senior Karrers met as classmates way back in grade school. Both were graduated from St. Bernard's high school. Following graduation, Mr. Karrer went into the naval air corps. He and Mrs. Karrer were married while he was in the service.

After four years in the service, Mr. Karrer entered the General Motors Institute where after another four years he earned his BA degree.

He joined the Ford Motor Company and in 1958 was sent to M.I.T. under a Sloan Fellowship. He received his MA degree there in industrial management.

Currently, he is an executive engineer with Ford Motor. The children are the center of attention in the Karrer home. One of Mr. and Mrs. Karrer's proudest moments came nearly two years ago when their oldest son, 16-year-old Eugene, entered Sacred Heart Seminary to begin the long and difficult study for the priesthood.

Sharing the spotlight in the Karrer home are the other children, David, 14, a freshman at Northville high school; Patricia Ann, 11, sixth-grader at Our Lady of Victory; Charles E., third grader at Amerman; Nancy Jean, 5, kindergarten at Amerman; and of course, Mrs. Karrer's teenage brother Peter Lauwerier, a junior at Northville high school. Peter moved into the Karrer home after both his mother and his father died.

Of course, with three active teenage boys in the family, sports are probably the "keenest hobbies." And, besides, the women of the family are great sports fans too.

Asked for her first impressions of this community, Mrs. Karrer didn't hesitate at all but quickly pointed out that "this is a very, very friendly place."

Economic Group Tell Programs

Home economic study groups of the Northville area are well into their programs for the 1963-64 years.

The home economic program, part of the Michigan State university service, consists of educational meetings which are held in different areas of Wayne county.

Lectures are given by a specialist in a particular field and are attended by at least two members from each study group. These members then teach the lesson to their own group.

"The Family in the Midst of Change" was the topic for the October session, while "Save by Altering Ready Mades" highlighted the November topic.

Upcoming programs will include: "The Michigan Constitution" in January; a three meeting series on "Choosing Housing" in February; "Foods and Customs in the Far East" in March; "Financial Manage-

Honor Society Plans Bake Sale

The National Honor Society of the Northville high school will sponsor a pre-holiday bake sale, beginning at 3:30 p.m., tomorrow (Friday) at the Northville bank. The bake sale will feature breads and rolls of all types, including coffee cakes and sweet rolls.

Art Themes To Highlight AAUW Meet

"Christmas Themes in Art" is the seasonal program of the Plymouth branch of the American Association of University Women December 12 at 7:30 p.m.

Mrs. Brose, education director of the Detroit Institute of Arts, will narrate a series of appropriate slides for the program. Mrs. Brose, who has been with the Institute since 1948, has been an instructor in the History of Art for the Detroit Society of Arts and Crafts. Several of her articles have been published in the Institute Bulletin and she has worked with two films produced by the museum.

The meeting will be held in the Dunning-Hough Library, Plymouth, with a social hour preceding the program. Mrs. J. R. Witmer, of Plymouth, will be chairman of the hostesses, with the assistance of Mrs. William Riley of Livonia, Mrs. James Knowles and Mrs. Floyd Peterson of Plymouth. All eligible women are invited to attend. For information or rides persons are asked to call Mrs. Robert Messerly at GL 3-3605 or Mrs. David Van Hine at FI 9-3015.

Term Debut Of 'Players' Successful

"It was successful in all respects."

That's the word from officials of the Northville Players Guild which last week made its stage debut here in the high school auditorium. An estimated 350 persons attended.

Enough money was raised, according to E. O. Weber, board spokesman, to permit an immediate start on the group's next production. He made the comment following a board meeting at the home of William Soellner on Monday.

On Friday and Saturday of last week, the Guild presented three one-act plays under the direction of Hans Kolbe. They included "The Flattering Word," "The Sandbox," and "The Monkey's Paw."

Immediately following the next regular membership meeting of the Guild — slated for Tuesday, December 17, at 8 p.m. in the Scout-Recreation building — tryouts for the next play will begin. Although the name of the play has not yet been announced, it probably will be a three-act production to be staged late in February officials said.

Persons interested in trying out are asked to bring along material to read for the director. Those wishing back-stage positions also are urged to attend.

All interested persons are invited to next week's meeting.

Early Dating by Youths Blamed to Family Decay

Changes in our society make dating a problem in the grades and certainly in junior high school, according to Richard L. Cutler, University of Michigan associate professor of psychology.

"The average youngsters are dating younger, going unchaperoned younger. There are more pregnancies among the younger girls and more younger marriages," Cutler says.

"What's going on is something that is penetrating our whole society and several things are contributing to the loosening of the control parents have over their children," he says.

Among these contributing factors he names decay of the primary family group. "Home is not as important as it used to be as a source of pleasure and gratification. Pleasures and fun for the entire family are found outside the home, and they are inexpensive."

"Every generation is different from every other one by virtue of having grown up in a different era. The present generation has seen such immense and fast changes since the first atomic bomb was dropped that we parents cannot comprehend how they see the world," he says.

The traditional emphasis has been on saving and on delay in gratification. "But since World War II this country and its people have grown unbelievably rich. We have good cars, good clothes, good rugs on the floor, all provided by jobs."

"Now we are overpowered by the philosophy of immediate reward. We think 'why wait, why not enjoy things now?'"

"Then we say to our kids, 'You better wait, you are too young for lipstick, grownup clothes, sex, and marriage.' We live one way and expect them to live another," says Cutler.

He concludes, "If you want your children to have what you call a good life, you must live your own life according to the same standards. Then when you have to fight for these standards in your child, you are in a position to have more control of the children."

FUTURE SCHOOLCRAFT — Eventually 10 buildings will rise on the 140-acre Schoolcraft community college site at Seven Mile and Haggerty roads. Presently, four buildings are underway... the latest a one-story library (indicated by arrow). Three other one-story buildings, administration, engineering-science and maintenance, will be completed along with the library for first classes next fall. All of the buildings, designed for electric heating and air conditioning, will be of brick and timber with pitched metal roofs with standing seams. A series of classrooms will temporarily occupy part of the new library. Academic classrooms will be built later as the college grows. As temporary classrooms in the library are discontinued the library will grow within itself rather than be added to. The library will be one of the central buildings around a campus quadrangle when completed.

Safety Suggestions For A Merrier Christmas Season

Glass Christmas tree ornaments definitely are not recommended for baby's diet this holiday season.

Absurd statement? Of course. But not as absurd as you might think.

Christmas is a time of bright little lights on a tree in the parlor, of shiny glass ornaments and decorations, of filmy spun glass filaments, of toys that sometimes have sharp, rough edges, of lots of candy, nuts and other rich edibles.

These are a part of Christmas, and no one is suggesting there's anything wrong about it. The American Medical Association at this holiday season, however, points out once again that there are safety hazards at the Christmas season that aren't usually encountered during the rest of the year. A few simple precautions can help insure a safe Christmas for your household.

—Check over your old strings of Christmas tree lights and discard those that are worn or brittle. If there are very small children around your house, discard burnt-out bulbs with caution, so that baby can't get at them.

—Keep the glass ornaments and filmy glass "angel hair" out of baby's reach. The ornaments crumble readily into sharp shivers.

—Make absolutely certain that no toys coated with lead-based paint are included in Santa's pack. Lead poisoning is a danger should the child chew on the toy. Most manufacturers now avoid dangerous paints.

—Select toys with a minimum of sharp, rough edges, toys that won't burn quickly if flicked through a candle flame, toys that are large enough so that baby can't swallow them.

—Electrical toys, such as trains, also should be selected with safety in mind. Is the wiring intact and strong, or is it loose and flimsy?

—Air rifles, sling shots, archery sets and other missile throwing toys are obviously dangerous if carelessly used. Set up target ranges and make certain the youngster is taught to use the toy properly and safely.

This list could be continued, but you can make your own. The prime objective of an article such as this one is to remind parents that in the bustle and excitement of Christmas, accidents can happen. Certainly no one wants to spoil the holiday with undue worry. Make your plans for a safe Christmas, and then enjoy it to the hilt.

Novi Supervisor Hadley Bachert, attending a University of Michigan short course on assessments, found himself taking lessons this week from a man he helped hire for a reassessment program in Novi.

According to the supervisor, Lahman Bower of Commerce township, who currently is engaged in conducting a reassessment program in Novi township, is one of the lecturers at the university.

Bower reportedly has completed about 80-percent of the field work in Novi and is expected to complete the entire project by the February deadline.

Practice for Christmas Concert

Choir practice continued this week as Northville high school students sharpened their preparation for the Annual Christmas Concert slated for Wednesday, December 18.

Narrating for the 8 p.m. concert, which will be held in the high school auditorium, will be Terry LaRue and Kristine Larson. Linda Line will be the pianist.

Approximately 105 students participate in the high school choir program, with about 80 of them who perform. Director Leslie Lee explained. For small engagements, about 25 students perform.

Among the engagements for which the choir has or will perform are the Novi Mother's Club, Northville Rotary Club, Garden Club, and Catholic Church.

Lee also reminded area residents of the upcoming 29th presentation of the Messiah on December 22. Anybody interested in taking part is asked to turn out for the final rehearsal which takes place at 4 p.m. on Sundays at the Presbyterian church.

UP N' IN — Northville Captain Dan Bishop (21) flips a two pointer into the net as Jerry Imsland (35) and Tim Krug await the rebound. West Bloomfield's captain, Dan Greig (31), tries to block the shot.

FOOTBALL BANQUET — The largest crowd ever to attend a football banquet here jammed into the Presbyterian Church hall last week for a dinner tribute to Northville gridders. Highlighting the banquet, sponsored annually by the Northville Exchange club, was the presentation of individual awards to the players. Each player received a little trophy — donated by the VFW Post here. Singled out for special honors were (below) Robert Tuck, Ron Rice, Mike Hall and John Mach. Rice received the "most valuable" award, Tuck and Mach were elected co-captains, and Hall received the sportsmanship award. Of course, entertainment was furnished by the traditional emcee, Cliff Hill, shown above with special guests Steve Juday and MSU Backfield Coach Dan Boisture, and Mustang Coach Ron Horwath, who incidentally was presented with a beautiful plaque by fathers of the team.

Mustangs Drop 2nd Cage Outing

The young Northville costly one — as they lost Mustangs took another 58-43 to West Bloomfield step toward basketball last Friday night in a comaturation — although a test punctuated by whistles.

2 Weekend Tilts Face Local Five

The Northville Mustangs face the stiffest test of the season this weekend when they take on Holly at home Friday night, then journey to Plymouth Saturday to engage the Rocks.

Holly, with a 2-1 record, will furnish the opposition for the Mustangs' home opener following the JV game, which begins at 7 p.m.

Coach Robert Pence's cagers dropped their opener to W-O conference favorite, Clarkston, 71-49, but they have been on the winning road ever since. They turned in impressive victories against Fenton, 64-48, and Clarenceville, 57-46.

In view of the fact that Pence considers this a "re-building year," the Holly speedsters have exceeded expectations. "We're a scrappy ball club," Pence noted, "and the boys have proved that they can cope with taller opponents."

Tallest man on the visiting squad will be Tommy Fagan, a six-foot forward-center. No other man measures six feet. Team scoring balance has also figured prominently in Holly's success. "All the boys can shoot fairly well," said Pence.

Leader of the team and one of the best outside shots in the conference is Jack Bennet, a regular last season. He is the only senior on the young squad.

Other cagers who have made Coach Pence's year a little brighter are Guard Mark Fahlen, a five-foot eight-inch sophomore, Junior Forwards Allen Call and Bill Stark and transfer student Jeff Jones, a junior who scored 10 points in the last quarter against Clarenceville.

Against Northville, Pence indicated that Holly would take its time at the beginning of the game to see how things develop. He is ready to go with a man-to-man or zone defense as the situation demands.

The encounter Saturday against Plymouth, which will follow the JV game scheduled to begin at 7 p.m., promises to be a typical Northville-Plymouth battle.

Plymouth will floor a team that can match the Mustangs in height and it also has the experience.

It was Northville's second loss on foreign soil in as many outings this season and its second in Wayne - Oakland conference play.

Coach Dave Longridge pulled out all the stops again in an attempt to muster a sustained attack, but repeated whistles blew the ball dead, hampering any offensive strategy.

In fact, because of some 57 penalties, the action was slowed to a snail's pace.

The local cagers' attack, however, showed signs of improvement as they left the floor at half time with a 24-21 lead.

They successfully controlled the boards in the first two cantos, utilizing their height to good advantage against a smaller Laker aggregation.

But the Lakers, led by veteran Guard Dan Greig, opened the second half with fast breaks to set up quick buckets from the free throw area and drove close in before the Mustangs' defenses were set.

Leading by two points, 38-36, and for three minutes the entering the closing stanza, teams exchanged the lead. West Bloomfield capitalized on a West Mustang foul to win going two free throws by Forward John Callaghan and one each by Jim St. Germain and Im-

Leading the Mustang attack was Captain Dan Bishop, who tallied 16 points, all but two being scored in the second half to keep the Mustangs in contention. Ten of his points came on free throws.

Greig with 15, Don Ruen with 12 and M'ke Hargreaver with 11 points paced the Laker attack.

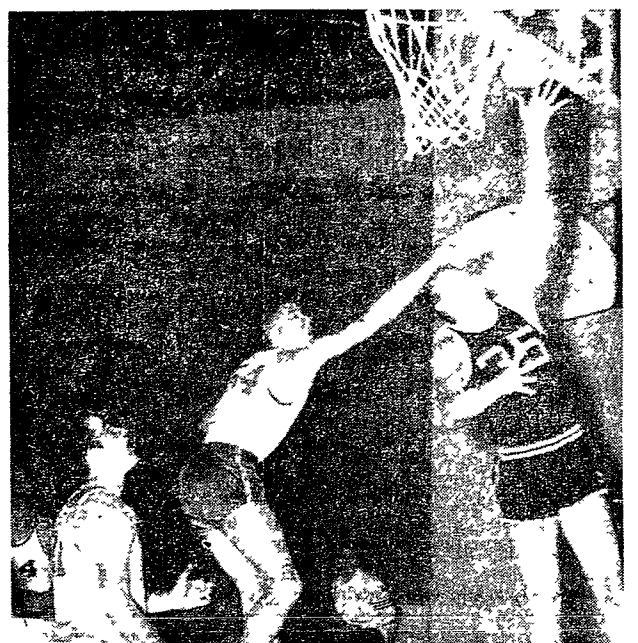

In the opening quarter, West Bloomfield found the range on its home court to dent the local quietest zone. It assumed a 11-7 lead.

The Mustangs relied on the eye of Mazel, who accounted for five of the seven points. Northville tied the game at Northville hung close through the remainder of the third period, however, trailing by no more than four points and closing only two points back.

The fourth period was disastrous to home town hopes as the Lakers scored eight points before the Mustangs could register a tally.

Northville fought to cut the Laker lead, but fouls and over-anxiety cancelled all last-minute efforts.

CLOSE BUT NOT CLOSE ENOUGH — Jerry Imsland (35) drives in for a layup as a Laker tries to block the shot. Like Northville's score, the ball didn't quite make it.

2nd Half Rush Fatal for Colts

A second half rush by the Northville Colts fell short as West Bloomfield hung on to eke out a 51-46 Friday night on the road.

Northville just couldn't find the range early in the contest against a smaller foe, especially in the second period when the Laker JV's outscored the local cagers, 14-6, to surge to a 23-13 lead at half time.

The local JV's scrapped for points in the second half, led by Steve Evans, Mike Turnbull and Ron Asher. But their 34 point effort was not enough. Evans with 16, Turnbull with 12 and Asher with 11 points topped the scoring honors.

Both teams were cold in the first stanza as West Bloomfield grabbed a 9-7 margin. The second quarter was Northville's downfall, repeatedly missing good opportunities to convert on goal. And they were outscrambled for rebounds.

With renewed vigor, the JV squad returned to the floor, controlling the boards to compensate for missed buckets. In the final period, Evans, working from the post, found the center lane open on several occasions to drive in for easy counters.

The JV's pressing tactics befuddled the home team as Northville closed the gap to 48-44 with one minute remaining, but West Bloomfield regained its balance on the strength of free throws to protect its lead.

Holly will furnish the opposition tomorrow at 7 p.m. in the first home encounter for the local JV's.

Cager of the Week

LANCE HAHN — It was a lucky strike for Northville when this young man came to town. Hahn is a transfer student from Natick, Massachusetts. Already a letter winner in football as an offensive end, he is now devoting his talents to basketball. To the Mustang cage squad, he adds experience, versatility and a good eye. In previous years at his former high school, he participated in football, basketball, baseball and track. A senior, he hopes to attend either Adrian or Alma next year, majoring in biology. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John L. Hahn, who reside at 464 Welch street.

Matmen Drop

The Northville matmen narrowly dropped two decisions during the past ten days, one to North Farmington Thursday and one to Cranbrook on Saturday.

Both losses were by no more than a few points. One more individual victory in each match would have swung the win into the Northville camp.

The local wrestlers will host Grosse Ile 7:30 tonight, (Thursday) in the gymnasium.

Newman, replacing William Keith who has been appointed manager of another Manufacturers office, started his banking career in 1950 with the Romulus State Bank and became a part of Manufacturers' staff when the two banks were consolidated in 1960. He served as an administrative assistant at the Bank's Telegraph-Sheridan office in Dearborn and at its Melvindale office before coming to Northville. Neuman, who has earned his graduate certificate from the American Institute of Banking, lives with Mrs. Neuman and their three children in Ypsilanti.

Spence, who had been an office manager for the Family Finance Corporation in Boston, Massachusetts, joined Manufacturers in 1962. After an assignment at its Telegraph-Sheridan office in Dearborn, he joined the Northville office staff early this year. Currently studying accounting at Walsh Institute, Spence has also attended Boston University, where his major fields were history and philosophy. He and Mrs. Spence are Livonia residents.

Autopsy Indicates Drowning

An autopsy showed that Norman Feuerbacher of Walled Lake died of drowning here last week, state police reported Tuesday.

The 46-year-old man was pronounced dead last week Monday at the Sheldon Hayes gravel pit shortly after a state police skin diver recovered the body in 20 feet of water.

Feuerbacher was driving an earthmover when it plunged into the artificial lake.

Because he was an experienced driver and because it appeared to state police that the earthmover was well off the pathway along which it had been traveling, an autopsy was ordered to determine the cause of death.

Motorists Injured in Novi

Two motorists were injured early Saturday morning, one seriously, when their cars skidded on slippery Novi streets and plunged into ditches.

Roscoe Connell, 58 of 160 Whipple street, South Lyon, is reported in good condition Monday at University Hospital in Ann Arbor where he was taken following an accident on 10 Mile road near Beck.

According to police, Connell was driving west on 10 Mile road about 2 a.m. when his car skidded on "icy frost", crashed into several trees and plunged into the ditch.

He suffered crushed ribs and head cuts.

In another accident of a similar nature, Donald F. Wilkinson of 909 East Lake drive suffered severe bruises when his car skidded off 14 Mile road west of Haggerty and flipped over into a ditch shortly after midnight.

He was treated by a private physician.

Wilkinson told police he was attempting to avoid hitting a dog or a cat that ran across his path when he lost control of the vehicle.

Both cars were badly damaged, and the latter accident resulted in damage to a fence on private property.

Those driving to Florida this winter are expected to utilize the four main routes shown on this map, with the bulk of them favoring routes A and B because they offer most miles of four-lane highways and turnpikes and are relatively free of mountainous driving. The other routes are recommended for spring and fall. A 10 per cent increase is expected this winter over the estimated 400,000 Michigan residents who made the trip last year, Automobile Club of Michigan estimates.

NEW CHEVELLE!
BY CHEVROLET

The kind of go—6 or V8—you'd expect from one of Chevy's great highway performers. Come on down and drive it.

The kind of comfort you'd expect in a large interior. Come on down and sit in it.

The kind of fresh styling—inside and out—that makes it the year's smartest surprise. Come down and stare at it.

Now—Chevy spirit in a new kind of car!

We built this one to do more than just stand around looking beautiful. Held its weight down in the 3,000-pound range. Then built four lusty engines—two sixes and two V8's—with output all the way up to 220 horses*! And if that makes you think this is one frisky car, you've got the right idea.

You've also got a roomy car here. Yet its 115-inch wheelbase keeps it highly maneuverable in traffic and very easy to park.

With its Full Coil suspension, it's got a ride that reminds you of the Jet-smooth kind the way it muffles noise and cushions bumps.

And the fine hand of Body by Fisher craftsmen shows up beneath this one's suave good looks, too.

Sound good? There's more. Like the fact that Chevelle comes in three series with eleven models—convertibles, sport coupes, sedans, wagons, even Super Sport models with front bucket seats. Like the fact that (and see if this isn't one of the nicest surprises of all) the new Chevelle comes at an easy-to-take price!

Like to hear more? The listening's wonderful at your Chevrolet dealer's—and so's the driving.

50th Anniversary of Great Lakes Disaster

Retired Sailor Recalls Great Storm of 1913

It had been a typical November week. Overcast, cold, and dreary.

But by late Friday and early Saturday morning, a breeze that had been whispering through the rigging suddenly increased in velocity until it was smashing hard into the pilot house and skating across the blue steel deck.

The first blast of icy wind was nature's way of announcing danger. Sailors knew the signal well.

It was Saturday, November 8, 1913.

Captain F. W. Light was at the wheel of the Manola, a freighter out of Toledo bound for ports in Lake Huron. Her holds were filled to capacity with coal.

Down in the engine room, a Lyon township farm boy who had become a sailor shortly after the turn of the century, kept his eyes glued to the gauges. This was his first ship as chief engineer, but L. L. Vradenburg was a veteran of the Lakes — hardly concerned when the engine thumped especially hard.

By noon Friday, the U. S. Weather Bureau had hoisted the sinister square red flags with black centers which mean storms. And later it raised accompanying lanterns signifying a hurricane — winds of more than 74 miles an hour.

Inland, throughout the Tri-State area, blizzards slashed through communities, paralyzing traffic, disrupting communications, and dumping mountains of snow in the wake.

"We'd just gotten up to Port Huron," recalls Vradenburg, who has lived in Northville since giving up the sea nearly 40 years ago. "The storm signals were already up. It was about noon, I think."

"The captain called down. Asks if I thought we should go ahead. I told him it was up to him 'cause he was captain. You do what you think is best, I told him, and that we'd do our best."

"So he said he'd turn her out and if it got too bad he'd try to put in at Harbor Beach (about 60 miles north of Port Huron)."

Two other freighters followed the Manola out. They were the steamship Charles S. Price and the Scot'sh freighter, Regina.

"The further out we went the worse it got. We started taking water over the pilot house and back over the smoke stacks and after cabins. It was pitching awful, but riding pretty good considering. Course we weren't making much headway."

"The wind was out of the northwest. We took it full on all the way."

By the time the Manola had steamed up the coast opposite Harbor Beach, Captain Light had had enough and old his crew to get ready. He was going to turn her in toward shore.

"Well, course we was out about two or three miles. So when he says 'we're going in,' we knew what to expect. We'd take those waves broad-side."

The Manola turned. Nearby, the Regina watched to see what would happen.

"I believe that wind must have been blowing about 80 or 90. The ship was rolling bad. Inside that engine room you had to hang on for dear life."

"They said later that it got so bad that the smoke stacks touched the water on both sides when she rolled one way then the other."

"She'd dive down and the stern would come right up out of the water. And everytime she came out I'd have to ease up on the throttle. If I hadn't, the vibration would have shaken her to pieces."

According to the 83-year-old man, the waves were unbelievably high. So high in fact that each time the Manola crested a wave she'd dive down and scrap the lake bottom.

What was happening to the Manola was enough to convince the skipper of the Regina, Captain E. H. McConkey, to turn back.

The Regina steamed out of sight. Neither she nor the Price, already fleeing the storm's face, survived.

When the Manola finally reached the port, she was ordered to tie up at the breakwater. "It was a stupid thing to make us do. The water came up over the wall and over the ship."

"It smashed out the skylight over us. We didn't get hurt, but we got plenty wet and cold. The old engine just churned up the glass. Another one came over and snapped the cables and we went adrift."

"That's when the captain and mates dropped both anchors. Even so we had to keep the engine going half-speed to keep from drifting to shore."

"Everything froze up. There was eight-inches of ice on the rigging. Everytime they changed watch, they had to chop the ice off the doors of the rooms to get the guys out."

When the winds finally subsided and men had time to ponder the storm's wrath, authorities counted 251 dead American sailors, and 71 vessels lost or damaged sufficiently to require official notation.

The storm claimed more lives, sank more big ships, and caused more property damage than any other storm in the history of the Great Lakes.

First felt at the western end of Lake Superior on Friday evening, it spread across the upper lakes, reaching peak velocity during the day and evening of Sunday, November 9.

Only one missing ship, the Charles S. Price, was ever found. She floated upside down north of Port Huron, for several days.

The Price carried 27 men and one woman. All of them perished.

Twenty men aboard the Regina perished.

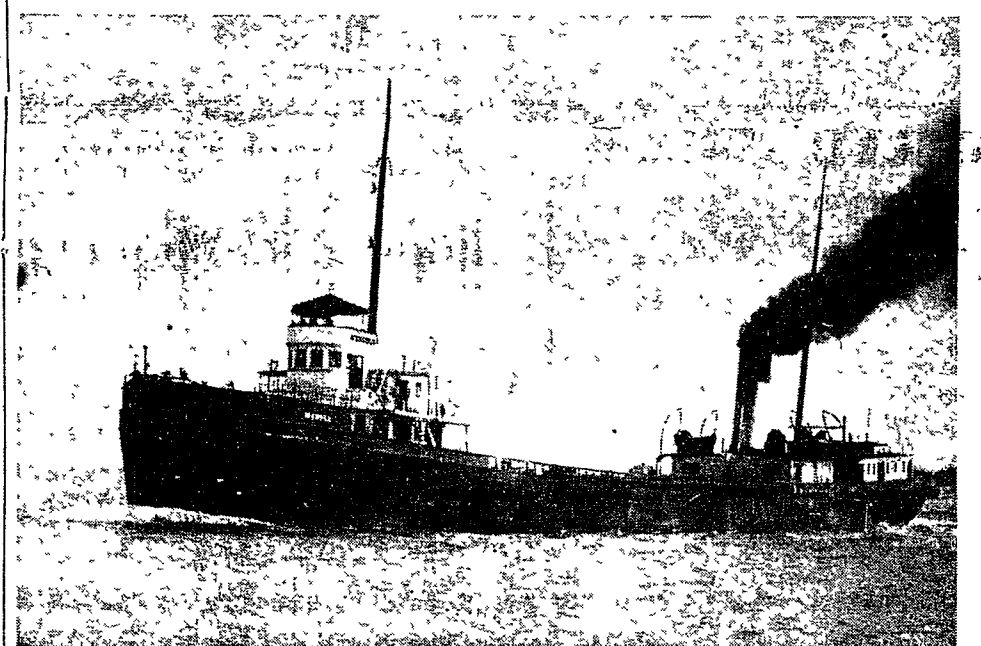

According to Vradenburg, the two ships probably went down in the same vicinity — if they didn't collide in the storm — because when bodies washed ashore at Goderich, some Regina sailors were wearing Price life jackets and vice-versa.

Vradenburg gave up the life of the sea a few years later after nearly 20 years of it. He moved with his wife and child to Northville where he became power plant engineer at the Ford plant. He was at that job 25 years before retiring.

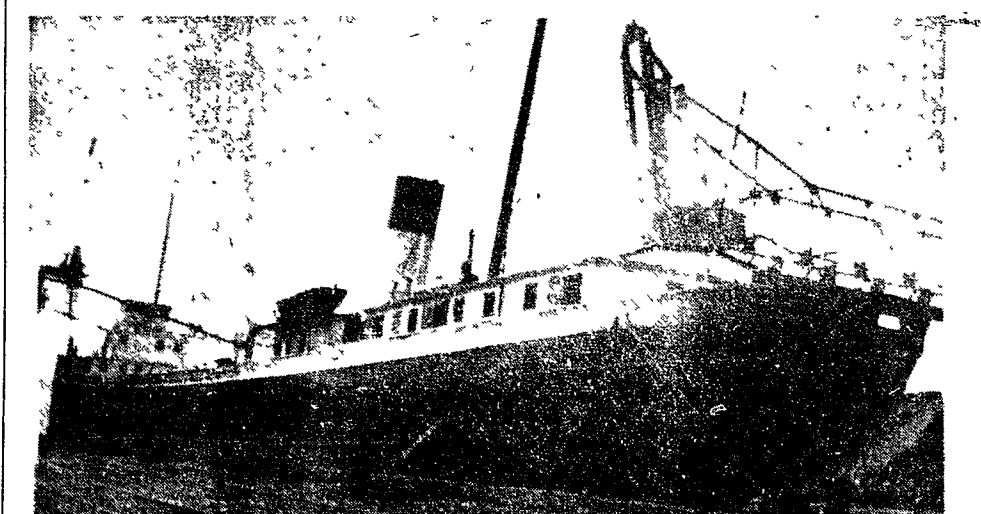

And now, in this the 50th anniversary year of The Great Storm of 1913, he is one of only a very few still living who battled the sea and survived.

REGALLS DISASTER — L. L. Vradenburg of Northville goes through his scrapbook of pictures and clippings as he recalled the greatest Great Lakes storm on record.

SURVIVES STORM — This Great Lakes ship, named Manola (shown in both pictures), survived the vicious storm that sent more than a dozen ships to the lake bottom 50 years ago. A Northville man, born and raised in Lyon township, served aboard the Manola as chief engineer at the time of the 1913 disaster. He is shown at the far left (with mustache) in the bottom picture.

"WHO WAS JESUS?"

from the PASTOR'S STUDY

by the Reverend M. E. Rickert
Willowbrook Community Church

Another Advent season is here. The excitement of expectancy has already begun to mount. Children and adults — especially in family relationships — are looking forward with wonder-ment to Christmas day.

Stripped of its secular emphasis upon the giving and getting of presents,
"expectancy" is the key experience of this holy season. It was in this kind of an atmosphere that the first Christmas came.

Through years of racial and national slavery, the Jewish people looked "expectantly" for the coming of a Messiah — a "Deliverer" — who would work out for them their freedom. The prophet Isaiah added to our understanding of the nature of his peoples' hope when, writing of the coming of the Messiah, he referred to him in the title,
"Emmanuel" — meaning
"God with us." When the Angel informed Joseph that Mary would soon be the mother of a baby boy, he also gave instructions concerning the baby's name, saying, "thou shalt call his name Jesus: for he shall save his people from their sins." Later, when the Wise Men came seeking the newborn babe they spoke of him as "King."

"Messiah," "Emmanuel,"
"Jesus" and "King" —
these are the words men use to express singular characteristics of their "expectancy," as they looked forward to what we look back upon as being the first Christmas. Though they are different words, they might well be, as it were, parts of a puzzle which, when put together, reveal a composite meaning and understanding of a proper spirit of expectancy with which to look forward to the coming of another Christmas day.

Looking at this possible composite word-picture-puzzle of "Christmas-expectancy," we may see a number of distinguishing characteristics. There is, first of all, a line of belief that God desires man to be free and that He, in time, will help man to be free. Through the shading of racialism and nationalism, one catches a glimpse of the radiance of the light which is in man's understanding of "Jesus" — the One who would and can save man from his sins. In this perspective, one sees that the "slaveries" by which man is held captive stem from the sins of men and it is only as man is saved from his sins that he can really be free. The strong brush marks of "Kingship" express man's genuine desire for a leader and his willingness to follow the accepted

"ruler" of his life. The divinely rich colors show forth the singular fact that "Messiah," "Jesus" or "King"
— the "expected" One is of God, "Emmanuel, God with us."

The Christian Advent season is a time for "expectantly" commemorating the coming of "The Incarnation" when God came afresh into the experience
the person of Jesus Christ.
In this is revealed the further fact that the spirit of God — which is love — can enter and dwell in a man's life.

Among the "gifts" we look forward "expectantly" to receive at Christmas may we anticipate entering prayer: Cast out our sin and of receiving the spirit of God into our lives.
"O holy, Child of Bethlehem, Descend to us, we pray; Cast out our sin and enter in. Be born in us today."

Pleasing The Family

ALL-GAS HOME

Mom's the best cook in town! That's what your family will say about you as soon as they taste the appetizing, separated in flavor of your meats, vegetables, cakes, and other foods; cooked with Natural Gas. Delicate sauces, mouth-watering casseroles, hearty stews and pressure-cooked foods, all take on "gou-met" qualities when cooked with Gas.

And there's nothing like the new, automatic Gas range for turning an amateur into an expert cook. The thermo-statically-controlled ovens and top burners prevent over-cooking, under-cooking, burning or scorching — virtually eliminate meal failures. Automatic clocks, timers and thermostats provide a wide range of temperatures and speeds for fast or slow cooking — the kind of control that conserves the natural food flavors.

Pleasing the family is of prime importance to every homemaker, and an easy, economical way to accomplish this is to start "cooking with Gas."

ONE YEAR AGO
December 13, 1962

—Northville's Scout-Recreation Building Fund committee hoped for "higher temperatures" this week as a thermometer to measure the progress of its campaign was erected.

—The question of whether or not to award Jackson racing dates to Northville Downs must — by law — be answered by Saturday.

Already it is surrounded by controversy which would be compounded and extended into the courts after Racing Commissioner Edgar Hayes.

—Although a number of petitions are known to be in circulation (and others expected) only one set has been turned in to the Northville township clerk by a candidate for office in the spring election.

Petitions for Laurence A. Massellink, West Seven Mile road, for justice of peace on the Republican ticket have been received by Clerk Marguerite Northup. Several other Republicans have indicated their intentions to file for office.

R. D. Merriam and Mrs. Harold B. Price for supervisor; Daniel R. Brown, trustee; and Incumbents Clerk Northrup and Treasurer Alex Lawrence.

Township Democrats have not yet announced who their candidates will be.

FIVE YEARS AGO
December 11, 1958

—With completion of the new high school near at hand the Northville board of education at its meeting Monday night, turned to its next big worry — rehabilitation of the junior high school.

A letter from Walter Couse, general contractor for the new Northville high school, pointed the finger at the city as the cause behind the probable delay in opening of the $2 million building.

—Northville may have a new city on its borders come February 16 if voters living in 8.3 square miles of Plymouth township approve incorporation as "Plymouth Heights".

—The weather, which has kept an unseasonably mild face up to the edge of winter, finally showed its hand this weekend.

With snowfalls tying up traffic in midwestern metropolises and banking up to 20 feet high in northern Michigan towns, traffic officers and public works employees have become civic heroes of the moment.

—An estimated 120 horses will begin making their winter homes at the new Northville Downs' barns on Sheldon road today.

—A request for a hearing before the city council has been made by two Northville public works department employees protesting their forced retirement.

—Foster VanAlta is the new cub master and Robert McTigue is the new assistant cub master. A. Russell Clarke is secretary and treasurer of the organization.

—Mortimer Osborne, 80, of 9706 Six Mile road, Salem, was killed instantly Tuesday night when he was struck by a car driven by another Salem resident.

—J. J. Brummel this week opened up a new storage locker designed to serve Northville and the outlying community. It is located at 10690 Six Mile road.

—Members of the varsity basketball team were: Jack Stovall, Bud Porter, Dick Kremkow, Tom Shrake, Bob Prom, Gerry Heaton, Captain Tom Stalker, Ed Kazarian, and Bob Cole.

—The local Ford Union, Local No. 896 will hold their annual children's Christmas party, Thursday afternoon, December 22 at the Penniman-Allen Theater.

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO
December 9, 1938

—Northville's grade school turned over $111 to Mrs. Claude N. Ely Wednesday to represent the tuberculosis seal sale this year, making an increase of $11 over last year's returns.

—Eight times shown, eight times a junior champion. That's the record of Elegant du Morais II, a two-year old stallion owned by Julius Porath and Sons. The eighth title was won last week in Chicago, where the International Lave-show show was held.

—A resolution to clear the Northville paving records in the county office and which may keep the village from becoming involved in a law suit over the refunding of paving taxes on a Cady street site, was passed Monday evening when the council, together with Mayor Arthur S. Nichols, met in regular session in the village hall.

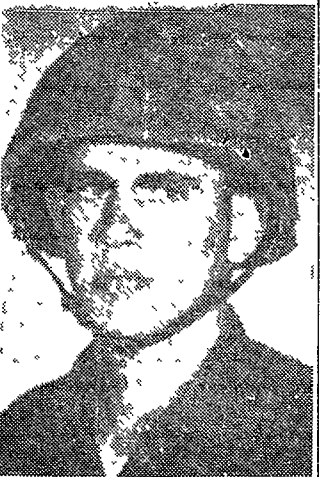

A heart attack suffered Sunday, December 4, was responsible for the death of Archibald Kerr at his home, 321 Yerkes avenue. He was 79 years of age and had been in failing health for some time.

TO THE 1,185,000 FAMILIES SERVED BY DETROIT EDISON

What can you buy for pennies today?
Electric energy is one thing—the cleanest, most versatile form of useful energy. One great advantage is its adaptability. Electric energy is used for lighting, cooking and communication; for heating, cooling and to run computers. It powers motors small enough to run wristwatches, and motors large enough to operate the presses that form auto bodies.

Detroit Edison provides electric energy for pennies per kilowatt-hour. And the more you use, the lower the unit cost becomes. Below, expressed in pennies, are estimated costs of operation of the more commonly used electric appliances.

Constant research, alert management and the dedication of our employees have enabled us to reduce the unit cost of electric energy. For example, when I first became a part of the electric industry in 1922, it took nearly two pounds of coal to generate one kilowatt-hour of energy. Over the intervening years I've seen technological developments reduce this figure to 1.7 pounds—1.5 pounds—1.25 pounds and then a pound. Today, the most efficient of our turbine generators produce a kilowatt-hour of electric energy from three-fourths pound of coal.

Detroit Edison has pioneered in many of the engineering improvements which have led to these and other economies. As a result, the company has not increased its rates for electric service since 1949. Equally important, most of our customers use more electric energy now than they did then, so the average cost per kilowatt-hour is 14 per cent less than it was in 1949.

This is one reason why it's good economy to live electrically. Detroit Edison services, including free or minimum cost electric appliance repairs, are additional reasons. Backing up these services are all the efficient facilities and friendly people that are the company.

Sincerely, Walker L. Cisler

PREPARE GIFTS — In an assembly line-like operation fourth grade youngsters at Amerman school prepare Christmas gifts for Eskimos in Alaska.

4th Graders Assist Santa By Giving Eskimos Gifts

An absent-minded Santa Claus will receive some timely assistance from a class of fourth graders at Amerman elementary school this year.

It's like this: Not too far from the North Pole, only a hop, skip and reindeer jump from Santa's home, is a government school for Eskimo children.

Well, because the school's so close to Santa's home, the bearded gentleman has difficulty stopping his reindeer. Usually, he passes the school by, hoping to catch it on his way back. But by then he's given away all his toys so there isn't anything left for the Eskimo children.

That's where the local fourth graders come into the picture. Mrs. Eloisa Johnston, fourth-grade teacher, recently received a letter from an old friend with whom she went to college. That friend, Mrs. Paul Forrer, and her husband are teaching in the government school for Eskimos at Alakanuk, Alaska.

Alakanuk is located about 15 miles from the Bering Sea. In her letter, Mrs. Forrer explained that the children of her school come from very poor families and seldom receive anything for Christmas. Reaction by the local fourth graders in Mrs. Johnston's class was immediate and heartwarming. They dug into their toy boxes, searched their shelves for old games, and gathered together some discarded clothing.

At school, studies turned to the geography and history of Alaska as the children learned about the new state, pinpointing Alakanuk on maps.

Meanwhile, the fourth-graders set up an assembly-line process, sorting, wrapping, and boxing the gifts for shipment to Alakanuk.

More than 100 gifts were wrapped and sent to the Alaskan school — so this year if Santa forgets, the Eskimo children will not be forgotten.

The Day School children will sing the German carols, "O Come All Ye Children" and "O How Joyfully"; and the American Carol, "It Came Upon a Midnight Clear".

The choirs will combine to sing the favorite, "Glory to God the Angels Sing".

Here's Tips On Buying Clothing

It's fun to buy a frilly velvet dress for a little girl's Christmas present, but she is sure to get more use from a simple little dress for play.

When you buy clothes for children, consider the following points:

Children's clothes should be simple in design, comfortable, and roomy enough for squatting, reaching, running and climbing.

Bright colors make it easier to spot the child on the playground, yard or street.

Keep the trimming on children's clothes to a minimum and also in scale with their size.

Look for self-help features such as easy front openings, large buttons, and as few fastenings as possible.

Allow room for growth, especially in length. Features which allow for growth include deep hems or tucks in hems, adjustable straps, deep cuffs, raglan sleeves and large seams.

Soft, firmly woven or knitted fabrics are easy to care for, comfortable, and do not wrinkle easily. Printed fabrics show wrinkles and soil less than plain.

Air Patrol Cadets Compete For Activities Awards

Several Northville cadets participated in the Civil Air Patrol screening session recently at the Milford Legion Hall.

The screening program is part of training towards earning one of the special activities awards available to all CAP cadets.

Awards include a trip to Europe through the International Air Cadet Exchange, a jet age orientation course at one of the U.S. Air Force bases, as well as several others.

In CAP Group 10, a total of 15 cadets are competing for these awards, included seven from the Northville area. The local cadets are: C. A2C Timothy Dickinson, C. A2C Terry De LaGardie, C. TSGT. Jon Kaake, C. SSGT. Tony Maroni, C. TSGT. Robert Parmenter, C. TSGT. Russell Schoof, and C. A1C Gary Williams.

Part of the screening program at Milford included a dinner at Aunt Jemima Pancake House in Wixom. Some 75 guests and CAP personnel attended. Special guests were Colonel and Mrs. Robert Anderson, region staff officer, and Colonel and Mrs. John E. Issit, Michigan wing commander.

Group 10 trophies, which will be awarded next year, were placed on display, and Col. Issit explained the purpose of each trophy and the steps required for earning it.

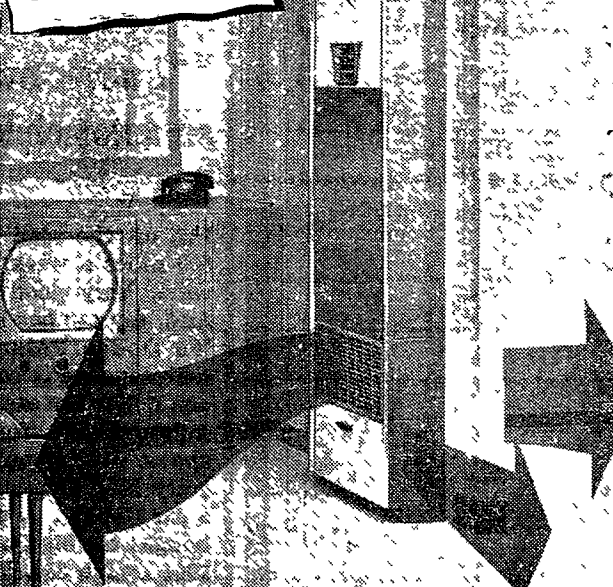

C. MSGT. Richard Burtkow-

ski of the Walled Lake squadron showed films and told of his trip to Colorado Springs and the Air Force Academy. He earned the trip by being selected as Group 10's drill commander for the Michigan wing drill competition.

Newly promoted officers of the Northville squadron included: C. TSGT. Kaake, cadet commander; C. TSGT. Schoof, cadet executive officer; and C. A2C Richard Parmenter, cadet information officer.

On January 4, the 15 cadets of Group 10 plan to travel to Selfridge Air Force Base for wing screening. Cadets from throughout the state will attend, with five possibly being chosen for the international air cadet exchange.

SPEAKING for The Record

By BILL SLIGER

City of Detroit water will make its Northville debut in the township, probably next spring when some 20 homeowners in "Plymouth Gardens" gain service.

Assessment procedures are already underway for this area of $40,000 homes near Bradner and Five Mile roads where many wells have run dry.

Meanwhile, the city of Detroit will be running a water line right through the city of Northville, probably this winter.

As yet, however, there's little indication when Detroit will pick up its first city customer.

The most obvious advantage of Detroit water is its softness. And with the uncertainty of ground wells, long range supply is also an important factor.

But there are many questions still to be answered. And when council members can sit down with Detroit Water Board officials (a meeting was cancelled by Detroit Monday), here are a few of the inquiries to be made:

1. Should Northville purchase water from Detroit, what kind of control is exercised concerning change of our system that are of an internal nature such as main extensions?
2. By virtue of the fact that we have over a 36-hour storage capacity, why isn't it possible to have a lower rate than other areas requiring peak hour demand?
3. Why is it necessary to connect to the Northville system at more than one point? By connecting at a point south of Baseline Road, it requires additional meters and their subsequent expense plus making a peak hour demand on the basic system which we have been told heretofore is undesirable and more expensive to the user.
4. It has been stated that the system will be looped. If Plymouth does not become a customer, how and when would such a loop take place?
5. What would be the status of our existing water supply? Would we be able to maintain it on a standby basis, and if so, to what extent?
6. Is there any guarantee that water will be available to meet the growth requirements of this area as projected by the Detroit Metropolitan Planning Commission without additional capital expense or rate increase?
7. Will there be any restrictions on the use of water?
8. What is the Water Board's position in regards to fluoridization?

Northville township board members agreed last week to permit the Wayne County Board of Health to copy its new landfill regulations for distribution to other inquiring communities.

The board was flattered that the regulations are considered the best available . . . and suggested that copies should credit "Northville Township."

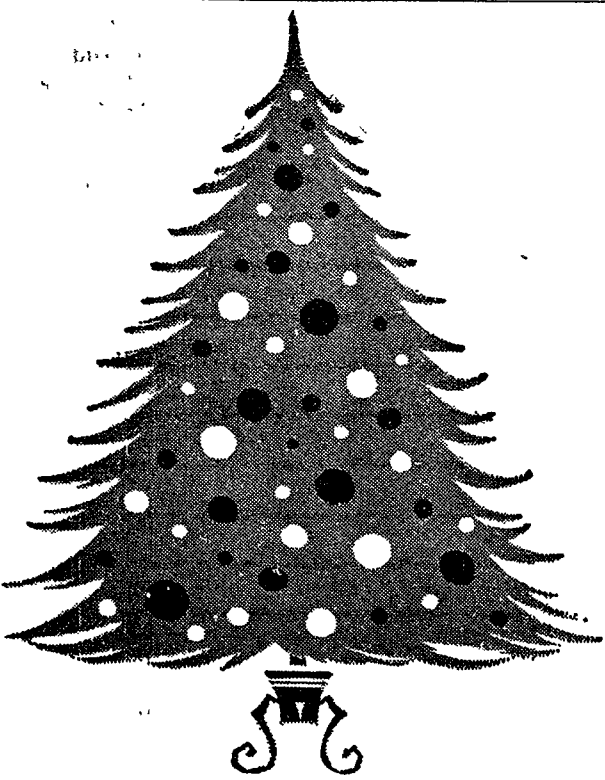

Here's a real estate transaction with a different twist.

D. J. Stark, a realtor and former clerk in Northville township, sold his home at 900 Scott avenue this week to Mayor A. M. Allen.

What's the twist?

The house is in the township, and His Honor must, of course, live in the city. Mayor and Mrs. Allen aren't planning to move until late January or February.

Meanwhile, the mayor will formally petition the township board and city council to allow annexation of the 2½-acre parcel into the city limits. It can be done by joint resolution where the property abuts city borders.

Tax Revenues Outgain Income

LANSING — Personal income slightly less than 40 per cent in the last 10 years in Michigan, but revenues from state and local taxes have grown more than twice that percentage.

The State Revenue Department's report shows personal income went from $12.9 billion in 1953 to $18 billion this year, an increase of 39.93 per cent. During the same period the total state-local taxes combined brought in 109.84 per cent more to government units.

Local taxes increased the greatest, with a 126.09 per cent jump in revenue. State taxes jumped by 98.01 per cent during the 10 year period.

The department report shows the greatest increases on the state level were on the business activities, use, cigarette and intangibles taxes.

The business activities levy, just written into law in 1955, brought $30 million in the first year and $77.9 million in the most recent full year of report, for a hike of 232.9 per cent.

In 1953 Michigan residents were paying 7.53 per cent of their personal income for state and local taxes, while this year the figure had jumped to 11.29 per cent, the department said.

A tardy winter could well have some effect, but the tourist industry in Michigan is hoping to surpass its record $20 million season put on the books last year.

Some 85 winter sports facilities will be open this year, State Tourist Council Director William McGraw said before the season opened. This represents a total increase of two over last year, but eight new resorts will be opening this year. Six center operators decided against continuing in business, McGraw said.

The new facilities are well scattered around the state. They will be at Harbor Springs, Bellaire, Holland, Lakeview, Rockford, Kalamazoo, Oxford, and in the Al Quaal Recreation area of the Upper Peninsula.

McGraw said major improvements also have been made at a number of resorts throughout the state.

This winter, ski buffs will have their choice of many new ski runs, improved slopes and additional tow equipment. There will be 20 chair lifts, 42 T-bar and J-bar lifts and 19 pomalifts in operation. Some 28 ski areas are geared to make their own snow this year, he said.

Michigan's fish industry, badly hurt by the recent botulism scare, may get federal help toward a comeback.

Although federal and state officials attempted to make clear that only smoked products were suspect in the botulism poisonings, many people just crossed all fish products off their shopping lists. At least one firm blamed its bankruptcy on the scare.

Now, however, urgings of officials from Michigan and Wisconsin prompt the U.S. Senate to broaden the small business disaster loan program to include special relief for the Great Lakes fish packing industry.

The change in the loan program made it applicable to all natural disasters. U.S. Sen. Philip A. Hart, Michigan Democrat, spearheaded a move to the change when he termed the botulism scare a "severe disaster" for the industry.

The holiday season at the end of each year is one when individuals should be particularly aware of the well-known maxim "Let the Buyer Beware."

State Attorney General Frank J. Kelley notes that one of the most frequent problems called to his attention during this season is that of unordered merchandise being received by mail.

A check with the U.S. Post Office Department indicates that mail can be refused at any time and that a person is never required to accept either letters or packages.

Any mail, including packages, can be given back to the mailman as "refused" if it is unwanted. This cannot be done, however, if the merchandise is opened.

Post office regulations also prohibit the mailing of any merchandise C.O.D. which was not ordered. Kelley said the U.S. government department is anxious to learn of any violations of his regulation.

"My advice to anyone who receives unordered merchandise is to return it at once to the mailman or local Post Office without opening it," Kelley said.

by JACK W. HOFFMAN

From the moment she danced into the house singing her staccato tune of the impending march to the altar, her parents were naturally both happy and a bit apprehensive.

Such a big step for such a little thing, they thought. Hardly old enough to fathom its deep meaning.

But since parents seldom recognize their children's capacity for understanding, they shared her great joy, plunging wholeheartedly into this her big day. They beamed with pride as she discussed the important event with her friends.

Her excitement was almost overwhelming. But, oddly, she exhibited little of the usual nervousness kindled by such momentous occasions.

The parents feared the worst: will the dress fit? Will she make it to the church on time? Will she panic at the altar? Will she really say, "I do?" The possibilities struck terror in their hearts.

So it was when the big day arrived. A smiling, blushing, beautiful daughter. Proud but extremely nervous parents. And a huge, lovely and crowded church.

Finally the organ began its melodic introduction and instinctively heads turned to watch the procession. Already handkerchiefs fluttered and mother, catching sight of her daughter, dabbed a wet eye with a trembling hand.

Father too cleared his throat.

It was ages before the wedding procession finally reached the altar and the waiting, somber clergyman.

It's difficult to put into words the thoughts of parents at such times. Even more difficult to accurately record the thoughts of the angelic figure who stood silent by the side of the towering young man.

He was a fine man. Tall, straight and handsome. She glanced his direction several times during the ceremony. But not once did he turn to meet her gaze. Instead, he turned away almost as if to avoid her mischievous eyes.

The nervous parents leaned forward to listen for the two words that, glibly spoken, would live forever.

The words never came. And the parents sighed almost audibly. Their daughter, they thought, had indeed understood the difference between childish fancy and adult reality.

But they wondered aloud when, minutes later, the pretty little flower girl bounced up to her parents and exclaimed jubilantly, "I'm married now, I'm married."

Roger Babson

Elect These Subjects

BABSON PARK, Mass., — Parents throughout the nation will be having their young folk home for Christmas from the colleges they have been attending this year. In most cases, when the young people return to college they can select certain optional studies in addition to the compulsory courses which are the minimum requirement.

Without being specific, I would like to recommend strongly that these "elective" studies be in one (or all) of the following four general divisions.

Any student looking forward to government work of any kind will have to take an examination in English. This applies especially to those going into the diplomatic service, or out of the country on any government work. Such memorandums or reports as they send out will be read by many persons, and the character of the English used will reflect on the government employee writing the material.

In fact, a good grounding in English grammar and facility of expression are important to success in any line.

Many a scientist (brilliant in his own field) has found acceptance of his conclusions hampered by an inability to present his case with clarity and effectiveness. It is also important for parents to use good English at home. Irrespective of what our children learn at school, they inevitably use the language they hear at home and are judged thereby. Hence, English should be one of the primary electives for young people.

We are living in a new age. When I went to high school, and even college, the laboratory work consisted mainly of a few experiments in physics and chemistry. Not only are these now outdated, but much new research and discovery have been added in this era of radio, television, and other wonderful inventions. Moreover, we are now in the atomic age, which will develop new sources of power all over the world.

An elective course in one of the sciences should be a great help in getting any kind of job today. The main thing is to understand the various terms so that you can talk intelligently, as a salesman or as a fellow worker. This especially applies to the nomenclature of the electronics industry, which is still in its infancy. Although I graduated from the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, which today is supposed to be "tops" in electronics, yet I was taught nothing — in my day — about that subject and therefore am ignorant in that field. Be sure your youngster takes a course in the sciences.

Too many young people are graduating from college as "experts" only in football, baseball, basketball, or some of the other games in which colleges compete. Such men are idolized by the girls, but this does not help them get good jobs when they graduate.

My immediate interest is that you urge your children to take an elective in physiology and the studies which treat of their own bodies and health. Very few of us have ever understood what a wonderful creature we are, and how we can keep well by observing a few simple laws. Courses along these lines should certainly be given careful attention at this time when theories regarding the life-giving DNA and RNA are being developed by independent researchers and the leading drug companies.

WHAT'S THE GOOD WORD?

"I never owned an automobile
like it

I'm on the road about 500 miles a week. I sell wine. Very good wine. And, my car has been a '63 Dodge Polara. In maintenance it cost me one dollar for each 1000 miles. That's for new spark plugs, points—everything. I never owned a car like it . . . until I bought the big Dodge. A 1964 Dodge 880. This is the biggest Dodge they make. And, do you know, I get 17 miles per gallon!"

Norman A. King, Detroit, new owner of a '64 Dodge 880 hardtop

"Tops for Economy

My husband owns a Northville gas station. He'll never get rich with the economy I get out of my new 1964 Polara Hardtop. Now I'm one of the 'Dodge Girls'."

Mrs. Paul Long, new owner of a '64 Dodge with Torqueflite automatic.

"PERFECT!"

I bought a compact Dodge Dart because of its good styling, economy and room. Dart gives me all this, plus Dart rides and holds the road like heavier cars. That's it. I like to take trips and Dart's the perfect answer for me."

Betsy Schump, Detroit, new owner of a '64 compact Dodge Dart

You said it, Neighbors. The good word is Dodge! Big Dodge 880—standard-size Dodge—compact Dodge Dart! People are buying them at a record rate. And there's another good word and it's deal. The Dodge Boys' deal. That's the clincher to The Dodge Boys' success story!

THANK YOU, NEIGHBORS FOR THE BEST ANNOUNCEMENT IN DODGE HISTORY!
