

The Wrights of Northville: Michigan Goodwill Ambassadors

His Postcards Sell Michigan's Virtues

One of the leading contenders for a Michigan Week award this year is a Northville industrialist, appropriately nicknamed Michigan's Ambassador of Goodwill.

He is Lawrence A. Wright of 40241 Fairway drive who, with the encouraging assistance of his wife, two weeks ago launched an ambitious "mail order" sales campaign. His sales pitch: Michigan.

Already twice nominated for the Michigan Week "Product of the Year" award, Wright's product consists of 200 colorful postcards carrying interesting and educational messages from Michigan. Sold in lots of 200, each card carries a different message. One, for example, extols the virtues of Michigan's water wonderland, while another explains that few if any Wolverines were ever trapped in this the Wolverine State.

The cards, which come in 10 different colors, fit into a little brass rack which carries the notice: "Free take one, compliments of all Michigan businesses." And, Wright emphasized, they carry no advertising by his or any other business or industry.

These "Michigan Ambassador Cards", Wright hopefully predicted at the outset, will find their way into the mails and eventually into the homes of Michigan citizens and their neighbors, thus increasing the appreciation of Michigan.

He predicted they will be purchased, as giveaways, by business concerns of every size and description, as well as by many governmental offices, professional offices and civic-minded organizations.

And in just two weeks of marketing it appears his predictions were perhaps too conservative. Hardly had the ink dried when the Wyandotte Chemical Corporation came up with the first order. Many others followed suit. And, already, Wyandotte is ready to re-order, and another, smaller firm, has reordered five times.

Meanwhile, arrangements are being made for five Junior Chamber of Commerce chapters to distribute the cards in a pilot program. If successful, sale of the cards may become a state-wide project of the Jaycees.

Although initial orders by industry and business have been both surprising and encouraging, none has been more flattering for Wright than the significant number of orders coming in from private citizens, such as teachers, parents, and even children.

"It's simply amazing the number of individuals who are buying them. This is by far the most surprising aspect of the whole project," Wright said. Along with the orders have come scores of letters, congratulating and thanking Wright for his unique campaign to sell Michigan. Among these have been messages from Michigan tourist associations, the State Chamber of Commerce, numerous state governmental officials, and from Detroit Mayor Jerome Cavanagh.

Cavanagh told the Northville resident: "I believe the story of our state you are telling in your Michigan Ambassador Cards will enlighten many persons across the nation."

In the near future the Governor's office will add its emphasis to the project. Wright is scheduled to meet soon with Governor George Romney in a joint publicity venture.

According to Wright, the purpose of the cards is to "dispel the myth that Michigan is a state of smokestacks, blast furnaces, and dirty fingerprints." "I do a lot of traveling out of the state in my business and I was getting it from all sides. A little bad publicity I learned travels awfully fast, and it seemed as though the people I met talked only about the bad things."

That negative attitude, explained Wright, "confirmed my belief that something needed to be done to alert Michiganders to the assets of their state so that we can effectively combat bad publicity."

The idea of the Ambassador Cards came easy. But turning an idea into a reality was plenty tough. It required traveling thousands of miles throughout Michigan to acquire information about the assets of the state. It meant reading through mountains of research material. And, of course, it meant hours of copy writing.

With assistance from his wife, Wright turned a room of his home into an office and spent countless hours compiling the "stories" to be printed on the cards.

Finally, 15 months later, Wright took delivery of the first 10,000 sets of cards — that's a total of two million altogether.

Owner of the Wright Bearing Supply company in Detroit as well as a Hammond, Indiana plant, Wright has invested about $25,000 of his own money in the project. Although he hopes to recover this investment, he probably will be quite satisfied if citizens throughout the nation take to heart the motto on the back of each card:

"Michigan — Dynamic, Diversified, Delightful. A great place to live, work, play and visit."

Oral Vaccine Polio Clinics Set Here

A massive project to feed two doses of polio vaccine to everyone in the metropolitan area over the age of one year has been announced by the medical societies of the counties of Wayne, Oakland and Macomb.

The doses will be given on Sundays — the first on April 19, the second on June 14. Immunization stations will be set up in schools throughout the three counties.

Although exact details are incomplete, it is expected that at least one school building in Northville, Novi and Wixom will be designated as immunization stations.

The stations will be established to serve population areas of from 3,000 to 5,000 persons. The area-wide program is part of a campaign being conducted on a community-by-community basis to wipe out polio throughout the country.

Although the nation is now relatively free of this dread paralyzing disease, health authorities warn that polio runs in waves. There is always the danger of an outbreak. Health authorities feel mass immunization programs will eliminate that danger and make polio as rare as vaccinations have made smallpox.

Chairman of the campaign in Wayne County is Dr. Francis P. Rhoades, who is chairman of the Wayne County Medical Society's Public Health Committee.

In Macomb County, the campaign is headed by Dr. Gerald Morris. The Oakland County chairman is Dr. Worth W. Henderson, with Dr. Robert Bookmyer as co-chairman.

They emphasize that all persons over the age of one year should take the two doses, regardless of previous immunization through Salk shots or oral vaccine.

The vaccine to be used in the local program is Orimune, made by the Lederle Laboratories, a division of the American Cyanamid Co.

It is the relatively new trivalent type vaccine. That is, it provides protection against all three strains of poliovirus. Earlier oral vaccines were monovalent, providing protection against one strain and requiring three dosages six weeks apart to be completely effective. Only two doses of the trivalent vaccine are needed, and protection starts two to three weeks after the first dose.

The vaccine will be given in liquid form on sugar cubes. It is pleasant tasting, designed to appeal particularly to children, who are the most susceptible to polio.

There are no harmful after-effects.

A donation of 50 cents or more will be asked of each person receiving the vaccine, but the medical societies stress that no one will be turned away because of lack of funds. The funds will go for administrative costs of the project and for the vaccine.

All of the work at the immunization stations will be performed free, with doctors and other professional personnel donating their services, and volunteers supervising registration.

It is estimated that 30 to 40 persons will be required to man each station. Participating will be physicians, nurses, pharmacists, the women's auxiliaries of the medical societies, and the Boy and Girl Scouts to handle the lineups.

About 800 stations will be set up. Locations of the stations for the immunizations may be set up to save time at the stations.

Besides Dr. Rhoades, the Wayne County steering committee for the immunization program includes Dr. Charles W. Sellers, Dr. Louis E. Heide-man, Dr. James J. Lightbody, Dr. John G. Slevin, and Dr. Brock E. Brush. Administrators are Fred Westphal and Arthur Sheffield.

City-Township Air Water, Dump Use

Two separate issues involving city-township services loomed this week as problems calling for solution by officials of the community's two governing bodies.

Number one involves a conflict of understanding of an agreement between the city and township over use of the city dump.

As a consequence, the city council Monday night voted to terminate the present agreement July 1, but left the door open for re-negotiation.

Number two involves city water service to township residents west of the city limits.

In a communication read at the city council meeting Monday night the township declared it is within its rights to permit institutions in the township to use the city dump. The township opinion was rendered by Attorney James Littell.

Under an agreement, now several years old, the township pays the city $2,500 annually for use of the Gerald avenue dumping facility. But the city recently protested that use was confined to residents, commercial and industrial firms in the township. It was noted that Maybury Sanatorium has been using the dump. Further, the council noted, the Detroit House of Correction is also reportedly using the dump and half of the institution is in Plymouth township.

Attorney Littell reported to the township board that institution inhabitants may be classified as residents of the township.

The council noted Monday night that the city now pays to have its garbage and rubbish collected and deposited outside the area. The dump is still used individually by residents, commercial and industrial firms in the city, however.

It was the council's opinion that a new understanding of terms and fees should be reached with the township and the present contract terminated July 1.

The council heard a report from Councilman Richard Ambler concerning water service to approximately 50 township residents. At least 42 of these users (on Main street east of Clement, on Neeson, Norton and Clement and in Bloom subdivision) have serious problems with inadequate pressure, poor connections, insufficient mains and repeated breakdowns, Ambler reported.

To correct the condition the city has proposed selling water to the township to service the area now being served. The township would then construct its own water system connected to the city's. Ambler's remarks (Continued on Page 8)

GOODWILL AMBASSADOR — Attorney Clifton Hill will carry greetings of Northville Rotarians to fellow service club members in Punalur, Kerala, India via the tape recorder he's shown holding. Hill leaves today on a month's trip that will take him to Tokyo, Hong Kong, Macao, Singapore, Cairo, Istanbul, Vienna and Berlin. In India, Hill will visit the Punalur Rotary club which has been corresponding with the Northville club. He has had several members of the local club record messages of greetings and he will present the recorder to the Punalur club as a gift. Attorney Hill will go to Hong Kong to represent an American businessman there in a tax case.

Township Calls Hearing to Delete Public Use Zoning

A public hearing has been set for April 14 by the Northville township planning commission to consider eliminating all "public use" districts from the township zoning ordinance.

The proposed amendment would replace districts now designated for institutional facilities with R-1-E zoning (residential estates).

The action would make all institutions, such as Northville State Hospital, Maybury Sanatorium, Detroit House of Correction "non-conforming" insofar as zoning regulations are concerned.

It would mean that any expansion or change in operation of the facilities would require permission from the board of appeals.

The proposed amendment comes on the heels of a city of Detroit plan to convert a portion of Maybury Sanatorium into a "halfway house" for juvenile offenders. State authorities declared the facility unsuitable for such use, however.

The halfway house proposal raised heavy objections from local residents and undoubtedly prompted township officials to seek controls for similar situations in the future.

Planning commission members set the April 14 hearing at a meeting held last Friday evening. If planners approve the amendment, it must then be passed by the township board.

In other business on the same night members of the board of appeals decided to refer two requests to remove sand and gravel from parcels of land along Bradner road to the township engineer and planning consultant.

Board Chairman Gunnar Stromberg said that the board feels it is necessary to remove soil in some instances to prepare for home development but in other cases it is not. He said the board has asked its engineer and planner for their opinion of the cases under consideration.

Annual Meeting Lets Voter Speak

Annual meeting time, when grass-roots government is best exemplified in early American fashion, will return to Northville township April 4.

Many townships have voted to do away with the annual meeting. Neither Novi nor Plymouth townships conduct such meetings, for example.

But the tradition continues in Northville and usually attracts a fair-sized audience, depending on the issues at hand. Last year township residents voted down proposed pay raises for township officials, called for publication of official board minutes, established a plan for payment of taxes at the bank and approved the new budget.

About 200 citizens crowded into the community building to attend last year's meeting.

Board members will meet next Tuesday evening for "settlement day", regularly called the second Tuesday prior to the annual meeting to hear the clerk's and treasurer's report and study the proposed budget.

This year's annual meeting will be held at 1 p.m. in the community building.

Ex-Detroit Patrolman Added to Local Force

Melvin D. Rooker

A former Detroit policeman was added to the Northville police force this week. He replaces Sergeant Frank Heintz who resigned.

The addition of a sixth officer was approved several weeks ago and brings the department back to the 1959 level of six officers and a chief.

The new officer is Melvin D. Rooker, 35, who had been a member of the Detroit police department for 10 years until entering private business one year ago.

Rooker is married, has five children and is a veteran of the army and air force. He plans to move from Detroit to Northville as soon as possible after the school year.

Northville's police department is still operating one man short due to the dismissal a month ago of Officer Andrew Cain. The officer has appealed his dismissal to the city council. A hearing will be held in the city hall at 8 p.m. March 31.

PATIENTS GO FORMAL — Social activities are important functions in patient rehabilitation at Northville State hospital. Miss Susan Durling, R.N., considered the possibility of holding a formal dance. Word and enthusiasm spread rapidly; donations of formal gowns and men's suits from the community were graciously received. An expenditure of $2 for decorations was authorized from a limited budget, so sprayed crabmeat cans, borrowed altar candles, rock salt from the maintenance department and a number of other items were utilized by the staff and patients. The invitational list included 34 couples. There were dance cards, a receiving line, and refreshments by candlelight in the Terrace Room, adjacent to the Games Room, in the hospital's Occupational Therapy - Recreational Therapy Building. Shown here in the receiving line greeting patients are (l to r) Fred Galli, RN, of Northville; Miss Ramona Huber, RN, of Livonia; Mrs. Philip Brown and Dr. Philip Brown, medical superintendent. Missing is Miss Durling, who developed the dance idea.

In Our Town

By Jean Day

WHERE IN THE WORLD would you like to go? Chances are some area residents have been there — or are about to go.

NEWCOMERS Club members and guests will get a preview "trip" to the New York World's Fair at their spring luncheon meeting at 12:15 p.m. April 7 at Hillside Inn in Plymouth.

United Airlines representative Dwight Grayson, of Ridge road, will present the program. Mrs. Roger Woboril of Travel Plans, Inc., (whose offices have been moved to Main street) will assist.

Luncheon reservations should be made by Wednesday, March 25, with Mrs. Ray Waldren, FI-9-2290, chairman, or with Mrs. F. F. Ishac, FI-9-2455, club president. Newcomers are invited to bring guests.

ATTORNEY AND MRS. CLIFTON HILL have individual spring travel plans, with Mr. Hill's globe-girding tour beginning today. As the sun northbound crosses the equator and spring arrives, Mr. Hill will be taking off for Hong Kong and Singapore. He expects to be gone four weeks as he continues to Madras, Bombay, India; Cairo; Egypt; Istanbul; Rome, Frankfurt, Berlin.

Though a seasoned traveler, this will be Mr. Hill's first around-the-world trip. Because he feels he belongs to "probably the leading International Rotary club in our country," Mr. Hill has scheduled a special stop at Punalur, India, to deliver its Rotary club a tape recorder with messages from the Northville club.

This has been a personal project, undertaken because Mr. Hill feels these Indian members (with an average income of less than $100 monthly) comprise "the poorest club in Rotary." He points out they meet only for tea, using what would have been dinner funds for good works. Since Northville's Rotarians have a special tie with so many foreign students making their final stop here before leaving for home, Mr. Hill feels strongly the club's international value.

Meanwhile, Mrs. Hill will be making final plans for a garden tour of Europe on the Michigan National Farm and Garden clubs' tour. Also going from Northville on the Tour May 7 will be Mrs. E. O. Whittington of Stratford court. They are to return May 28.

BERMUDA AND HAWAII were the island destinations of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Hempe of Finner court west, and Mr. and Mrs. Merl L. Korn of Cottingham road, respectively, recently.

The Hemptes returned last week end from a golfing vacation in Bermuda. They headquartered at the new Bermudiana hotel in Hamilton. While Mr. Hempe daily boarded the Hamilton ferry to cross to choice golf courses, Mrs. Hempe went sightseeing with other golf "widows." She reports an additional bonus of the trip: They met two congenial couples from Toronto whom they plan to see again.

Mr. and Mrs. Korn spent nine days at Honolulu's Surfrider hotel before touring Hawaii's famed outer islands last month. On Valentine's Day they celebrated their 35th wedding anniversary in a never-to-be-forgotten setting at the Cocoa Palms hotel on the island of Kauai.

A TRAVEL "FIRST" is having its beginnings here in Northville: Plans are under way for a statewide DAR trip to Europe in September on which members will have an opportunity to trace their ancestral beginnings. Originated by Travel Plans, Inc., the trip will cover the Highland Games and Edinburgh festival in Scotland as well as historic spots in Ireland and England.

Because of spring school vacation next week, Mothers Club has postponed its Monday meeting.

Name 2 UF Chairmen

Mrs. Arthur Mazur, 22860 Manning, Farmington, will head the Torch Drive in Farmington, Novi, Commerce, and Lyon townships for the fourth successive year.

She was named regional chairman by Mrs. William Purcell of Huntington Woods, Oakland Unit chairman.

Heading up the campaign for Northville, Livonia and Redford township will be Mrs. Ammie Enoch of Redford township.

Mrs. Enoch has been a Torch Drive volunteer for the past eight years, serving as an area chairman in Redford last year. She formally was active in affairs of Girl Scouts.

The Enochs have four children, ages 2, 4, 6 and 8 years. Her husband is a fire marshal at the Chrysler Wyoming plant.

For the past three years, Mrs. Mazur, wife of a television newsreel photographer, has been a co-chairman for the Oakland townships region. Under a new alignment, she is regional chairman for the new region made up of the four townships.

The first step in preparation for the 16th annual Torch Drive, which starts next October 20, will be the naming of divisional chairmen in each of the townships, followed by the recruitment of enough volunteer solicitors so that every home and small business establishment in the 144-mile-square region may be canvassed.

Mrs. Mazur, in addition to her Torch Drive activities, is prominent in the affairs of the First Methodist Church and the American Field Service of Farmington, of which she is treasurer and publicity chairman. She is the mother of two children, a daughter in the 11th grade and a son in the Air Force.

Fellowship Gets $600

The Plymouth Branch of the American Association of University Women has announced the presentation of $600 to the AAUW National Fellowships Fund for 1964.

This is the largest gift the local branch has been able to make since its founding in 1952. In 1963 and 1962, $500 grants were sent to the national fund, and smaller amounts were sent in previous years.

Branch contributions sent to the national fellowships fund are combined and fellowships are granted to deserving American women for studies beyond the P.H.D. in this country or abroad.

The National AAUW also has fellowship programs for women of other countries to study in the United States or elsewhere.

Abernathy is a nationally known potter who has exhibited throughout the country. A highlight of Milton Kennitz's offerings will be oils, watercolors and drawings of historic buildings in Detroit and Ann Arbor.

Kennitz is a Michigan artist who has exhibited at several Detroit Galleries as well as the Forsythe Gallery in Ann Arbor, and has won state-wide awards.

The exhibit will continue through April 4th. Gallery hours: Monday - Thursday 12-6; Friday 12-9; Saturday 9-6.

No further changes, the minutes were pronounced accepted as written.

Treasurer Lawrence read his report for the month of January 1964. He also reported taxes collected of $434,202.73 from a total tax roll of $459,789.48.

The report was accepted and ordered placed on file. Office receipts for the month of February 1964 for $3276.35, Township Bills payable for $2,745.96 and Water & Sewer Commission bills were reviewed.

Robinson moved, supported by Tyler, that the bills be paid. Yeas. All. Motion carried.

The Building Inspector's report for February 1964 showing an $85,900 increased valuation in Township Building was reviewed.

The minutes of the Appeal Board meeting of February 18, 1964 and the Planning Commission meeting of February 25, were read by the clerk.

Correspondence: 1. Copy of a letter from the Michigan Liquor Control Commission to Dun Rovin Country Club advising that a Dance Permit in conjunction with their 1963 Class "C" license had been denied.

2. Letter from the Wayne County Board Commission restricting the operation of trucks or commercial vehicles on paved streets in new subdivisions in Northville Township.

Old Business: 1. Sewer Permit to Hayes and Gyzynski. Moved by Robinson, supported by Tyler, that the matter be tabled. Yeas: Tyler and Robinson. Nays: Merriam, Lawrence & Young. Motion not carried.

Young moved that the Township board accept the Hayes & Gyzynski proposed agreement with the changes made in paragraph A on page 4 that were discussed at the executive meeting held on Monday evening, March 2.

Lawrence supported the motion. Yeas: Merriam, Lawrence and Young. Nays: Tyler and Robinson. Motion carried.

2. Water Board Contract Attorney Littell reported to the Board on his meeting with the Detroit Water Board, advising that the Water Board were willing to continue negotiations on guaranteed water usage estimated for the Township's consumption.

It was agreed by the Township Board that Attorney Littell should contact the Detroit Water Board, inform them that the township would advise how much estimated water usage they could agree to contract for, as soon as a study could be completed.

3. Library Contract Supervisor Merriam advised that the City of Northville had been contacted regarding a set figure for annual rent of the library. They were going to write the township giving them a formal answer. They adopted the position however, that the city would like the rent on the basis as agreed to by the attorneys when the agreement was first considered.

New Business 1. Letter from the Board of Wayne County Auditors regarding the township's acquisition of the 12" water main owned by the county at the time the County of Wayne would have no further use for it.

It was moved by Tyler, supported by Lawrence, that Attorney Littell be instructed to draw a resolution to be passed by the board, advising the Wayne County Board of Auditors that Northville Township wished to acquire the 12" water main now running to the Wayne County training School, when it is no longer needed by them.

Yeas: All. Motion carried 2. Contract with City of Northville for use of Gerald Avenue Dump.

Supervisor Merriam briefed the board, stating that Maybury Sanatorium had been issued a dump permit by the township and upon presenting it, they were refused usage. He referred to letter received from the City of Northville wherein it stated, "Review of the contract agreement carefully spells out that the only sources from which trash may originate are the residential, commercial and industrial operations." He advised, that upon receipt of the letter from the city, he had asked Attorney Littell to make a study of the contract and present the board with his opinion, copies of which had been furnished the board Attorney Littell was of the opinion the contract did not bar the institutions' use of the dump.

The board in agreement, Supervisor Merriam would write the city of Northville and forward them a copy of Attorney Littell's opinion.

4. Letter from Paul C. Horie asking for a Class "C" Liquor License to be used in conjunction with a Bowling Center of 24 lanes, cocktail lounge, snack bar, general purpose room and retail sales of bowling supplies, the property to be used now zoned M-1.

General discussion followed with Trustee Robinson suggesting that the township board act upon this request when formal application was received from the Liquor Commission and Mr. Horie had acquired an option or ownership of the property he had in mind.

The board was in agreement. 5. Edenderry Hills Subdivision No. 2 Plat was taken under discussion.

After due consideration, Robinson moved, supported by Tyler, that Edenderry Hills Sub. No. 2 Plat be accepted by the Board and that the clerk be authorized to sign the Plat Boards.

Yeas. Merriam, Tyler, Robinson, Lawrence and Young. Nays None Motion carried.

6. Supervisor Merriam briefed the board on a meeting he had attended at which the subject of turning Maybury Sanatorium into a Half-Way House for delinquent boys was discussed. While the change was not allowed, he was of the opinion that Northville township should receive more than normal patrolling of the Wayne County Sheriff's Department since there were so many public institutions within their boundary.

The township board was in complete agreement with Mr. Merriam and it was decided he should contact the Sheriff's office.

7. Mr. Charest, attorney for the Dun Rovin Country Club, asked for audience.

He asked the board to reconsider granting Dun Rovin a Dance Permit, explaining that the wrong interpretation had been placed on the way the permit would be used. The intention of the club was to use the permit for private parties only, that the board could stipulate regulations they would require and the club would abide with them.

After discussion Supervisor Merriam requested Mr. Charest to write a letter of explanation and the board would take it under consideration.

No further business, Robinson moved to adjourn. Meeting was adjourned at 10:05 p.m.

Marguerite N. Young, Clerk

FACULTY FROLICS — An array of stout faculty members took the heart out of high school Friday night when they walked off with a convincing 94-56 victory in the annual faculty-senior game. Led by basketball coach Dave Longridge's 31 points, the teachers literally ran the 12th graders off the floor. Here, JV coach Alex Klukach shows how its done, flipping in a two-pointer (above) and hauling in a rebound. That's the seniors' Bob Ebert looking on with dismay. Others in double figures were teachers Dave Madden 18, Klukach 13 and Ron Horwath 12. Topping the seniors were Howard Ambinder, Larry Angove and Gary Stobbe with eight points apiece.

For Spring Sports

New Faces to Greet Fans

A flock of new faces, including those of four new coaches, will greet fans when warm weather breaks upon the spring sports scene.

In an effort to get prepared for the opening of the baseball, track, tennis and golf seasons, training got off to a flying start the past two weeks.

Where complete rebuilding may not be necessary in most instances, still the new mentors will have their hands full acquainting hopefuls with their systems.

Heading the baseball team this year is Chuck Shonta, better known as a defensive half-back with the Boston Patriots of the American Football League. Shonta is replacing the departed Stan Golonka.

In the wake of his departure, Golonka left six lettermen, three of them being top-notch pitchers. They are front liner Eric Peterson, a senior, and Steve Evans and Jerry Imsland, sophomores who proved their mettle last year.

"Pitching will definitely be our strongest point," Shonta noted.

Shonta admits that some of his pitchers may have to do double duty, although he does not relish the idea. "I'd like to save my pitchers," he said. Since Imsland, Peterson and Evans are adequate or better stick men, the move may be necessary. Imsland and Peterson could play the outfield and Evans may have a fling at third.

The other returning lettermen are John Mack, Dave Jerome and Larry Angove. Mack was the regular left fielder last season. Jerome anchored first base and Angove saw action as a pinch hitter and at first base.

Third and outfield are wide open, Shonta noted, and any of 30 boys will have a shot at those positions. "We're not crossing anybody off our hopeful list," he said.

Competing for the catching job are two strong boys, Freshman Doug Swiss and Junior Bob Tuck. Untried, they may furnish a good one-two punch behind the plate.

Help might be in the offing at other positions from two cagers, Jerry French and George Burchfield.

Most of the gaps were left through the graduation of Third Baseman Tom Swiss, Shortstop Joe Hay and Outfielder Jeff Crawford, most of Northville's stick power.

The practice pace was stepped up this week with more work on fundamentals, conditioning, running bases, throwing, bunting and on the blackboard.

Soon it will be time for Iron Mike, the mechanical pitcher, to serve up his offerings.

Incoming coaches Joe Trickey and Roy Herald also began thinslad workouts last week.

Forming the nucleus of this year's track squad are five returning lettermen.

They are Kent Kipfer, who holds the school pole vault record of 10 feet 10 and three quarter inches; Chuck Angett, a top miler who is only a second off the 4.49 school mark; Jerry Burns, a shot putter; Terry Winner, pole vault, and John Gibson.

Weather is all important to us, the coaches stated, especially since we will have to be ready for an indoor invitational April 3 at Michigan State university.

Their job is imposing in view of the fact there is a lot of rebuilding to be done. We definitely have to rebuild," Herald said. "No position has been filled. We're both new and we have to sound out the potential of each boy."

With a break in the weather, the coaches will speed up the work out program, which includes plenty of running and work on form for 30' boys.

Taking over the tennis reins is Coach Dick Norton, who is also confronted with a rebuilding job. Graduated are such mainstays of last year's W-O conference champs as Turk Ornekian, conference and district singles champion, and the doubles team of Gary Gryciel-wicz and Jim Jiggins, winners of the conference doubles crown.

Only three lettermen are returning to form the nucleus of this year's squad. They are Dave Schmidt, Jim Wiedner and Jim Langtry, all of whom saw substantial action in loop play. Although he did not win a letter, veteran Bruce Dayton is also returning.

Showing promise among a group of 21 newcomers are Randy Caliquiri, Larry Thibos, Jim Long, Bill French.

"We've got a lot of work to do," noted Norton. "All of the boys are ninth, tenth and eleventh graders. There's not one senior in the bunch."

Workouts will continue indoors at the junior high school gymnasium as Coach Norton crosses his fingers in hopes of better weather.

The man with reason for optimism is Al Jones, Northville's golf coach.

Although he lost three good golfers, Bill Weidner, Dave Zielinski and Bob Boyle, there's some stellar material returning.

A top prospect and one of the best prep golfers in southeastern Michigan is Jim St. Germain, who should card in the thirties for nine holes.

Sophomore Rick Talbot and Junior Jim Bertoni are expected to shoot in the low 40's to round out Jones' list of hard core golfers.

Historical Society Hears Recollections of Oldtimer

Interesting recollections of the first use of electricity in Northville highlighted a meeting of the newly organized Northville Historical Society here Tuesday evening.

Meeting in the basement of the library building, members heard a taped interview of one of Northville's most colorful oldtimers, Ray VanValkenburg as he recalled the introduction of electricity to the community and his experiences in helping to provide that electricity.

Interviewing VanValkenburg was the society's curator, Edmund Yerkes, and Robert Williams of the high school.

Taping recollections of senior citizens of the community is being considered as one of the continuing functions of the historical society. Additional tapes are to be used for future programs of the local group.

Another immediate role of the society may be assisting in development of a program for Michigan Week in May. A committee has been appointed to suggest various projects that the society might sponsor for the week-long event.

The next regular meeting of the society — slated for April — will be held in the library. Interested persons are urged to attend and learn more of the community's history and learn how they can assist in the preservation of that history.

Meanwhile, persons wishing to join the organization may contact either Richard Lyon or Miss Ruth Knapp.

Help Needed

A talent search for persons with singing, dancing and acting abilities has been extended by the Northville Players Guild.

Although initial auditioning uncovered some talented men and women for the guild's upcoming musical, more persons are needed for solo and chorus parts.

The musical is slated for late June. Selection of the musical will be dependent upon the number of participants.

The next audition is Friday at 7 p.m. in the Scout building.

Twenty-one year old Ambrose J. Beaton of River Rouge will face examination in Novi justice court today (Thursday) on a charge of killing a person by careless discharge of a firearm.

The examination is scheduled for 1 p.m. before Novi Justice of the Peace Emery Jacques, Jr.

Ambrose accidentally shot and killed a companion, Erwin Weiss, 24, of Ecorse on February 26 shortly after he and several other companions had completed target shooting in Novi off Meadowbrook road.

The victim died of a head wound a little more than six hours after a bullet struck him in the face and lodged in his brain.

A Detroit motorist, Daniel R. Kuczewski, arrested by State Police for reckless driving (Speeding at over 100 miles per hour on Seven Mile road) on March 7, was fined $100 in Northville Justice court Saturday.

Kuczewski pleaded guilty and was fined $100 but costs were suspended by Justice of Peace Charles McDonald.

Also on Saturday, Gerald Hunt, a patient at Maybury Sanatorium, was sentenced to 60 days in the Detroit House of Correction for being drunk and disorderly on sanatorium property. He was arrested by a sanatorium guard.

Hunt stood mute on March 9 and was jailed when he was unable to post a $50 cash bond. He was found guilty, following testimony at his trial Saturday.

Vincent Briscoe of Inkster pleaded guilty of reckless driving upon arraignment Saturday and was fined $75 and $5 cost or face a 10 day sentence.

Twenty-two year old Dennis D. Madigan of 42777 East Eight Mile road was fined $50 for each of two moving violations, reckless driving and hit-and-run upon sentencing Saturday.

Madigan was arrested on February 11 after he reportedly drove recklessly in the vicinity of Grace street and then deliberately crashed his car into the vehicle driven by Rolan Hollis of 753 Carpenter street at 605 Grace. Madigan then sped from the scene, Hollis charged.

He stood mute on February 20 and posted $50 bonds for each violation, pending his trial on February 24. He was found guilty on that date, but sentencing was deferred until Saturday.

James J. Mazel, 18 of 41895 Grand River, Novi, pleaded guilty of speeding 40 mph in a 25 mph zone on East Main street. He originally pleaded innocent. Judge McDonald fined him $10 and $5 costs Saturday.

A $10 fine and $5 cost or two days in jail were assessed against George V. Cook of 20 Woodland Place, Lyon township, after he pleaded guilty Saturday of crossing over a double yellow line, causing a property damage accident on March 6.

Another charge against Cook, that of driving without an operator's license on his person, was suspended by the judge.

port noted that the double-rate charge to township residents is insufficient to maintain and operate the system and that it would be "improper" to use city funds for rebuilding the lines.

This would require a special assessment program conducted by the township involving the water users.

"If we cannot do this, the city must take other steps to correct the situation," Mayor A. M. Allen noted.

In other business Monday night the council appointed two Democrats and two Republicans to the board of canvassers and voted to pay them $5 each per election. They are: Robert Whitehair (4-year term) and Aubrey French (2-year), Democrats; and W. E. McCarthy (4-year) and L. M. Eaton (2-year), Republicans.

Councilman John Canterbury urged the city to conduct a "vigorous clean-up campaign" on its own property to encourage others and "lead the way".

The council also took note of complaints concerning conditions behind the Northville Downs paddock on River street. Clean up work plus erection of a fence was proposed. Mayor Allen volunteered to pursue the inquiry.

Novi Principal Gets Salary Hike

In a split vote last week, Novi School Principal Sam Stewart was granted a $1100 pay raise for next year when he assumes the principalship of Novi's new junior high school.

The 3-2 vote came after board members came out of executive session, following a recess from the regular board meeting to discuss principal salaries. The two negative votes were cast by President Arthur Heslip and Russell Taylor.

Action on the salary of Roy Williams, part-time principal of Orchard Hills elementary school, was tabled because Williams was in the hospital and unable to attend the meeting.

According to Superintendent Tom Culbert, who recommended the salary increase from $7,400 to $8,500, the increased salary will be closer to salaries paid to most other junior high school principals in neighboring school districts.

Little League

Tryouts for Little League baseball in Novi will be held April 2, officials announced this week. They'll be held at 7 p.m. at the Novi school.

All interested boys, ages 8-12, are invited to turn out and they are asked to bring along their fathers.

Victorious Band Eyes State Honors

A philosophy of providing musical experience for all rather than limiting participation to ensure competitive superiority has paid off again for Northville high school.

Northville's 110-piece band, fresh from its top rating at the recent district band festival at Royal Oak, in which more than a dozen bands participated, will compete now for Michigan honors in the state festival at East Lansing April 18.

And as in the past, emphasizes Director Robert Williams, it'll enter competition with all its members — not with just the top individual bandmen as is done in many school districts.

This emphasis on the educational benefits of competition paid off in the district as evidenced by comments of the judges. Typical of these was a comment by Bernie Kuschel, judging the difficult Montmartre March by Hadyn-Woods, who noted that despite difficulty most large bands have in maintaining "clarity," Northville's was "a very impressive performance."

The Northville band was the largest to compete in District 4, and it is one of the largest in the state.

Another of the philosophies of local band direction concerns selection of music for competition. "The festival," says Williams, "is a tremendous experience, and it's a good test of the quality of the musicians. We'd rather choose a difficult number and receive a "2" (rating) than pick a simple number and get a "1".

Plan Novi Meeting Friends of Library

A $100 check was presented recently to the Novi library, through the Friends of the Library, by the Vivians — a musical entertainment group that performed at the recent Arts & Crafts show.

The money, according to Librarian Mrs. Robert Flattery, will be used to purchase books or equipment for the library.

USE OUR WANT ADS

Williams points out that the bandmembers selected their own music — and, he adds, "they picked one of the most difficult numbers written for bands — Finale, Shostakovich Fifth Symphony."

In winning the top "1" rating, the Northville band was competing not only in one of the toughest districts in competition, but it had to compete with Class "A" schools since Class "A" competition includes all schools having between 650 to 950 students.

Last year Northville received a "2" rating. Previous to that they had always received a "1" in district competition.

Among the written comments by the judges which heard the local band were these:

Eugene B. Riechhoff — "Congratulations to you and your director for reading a most difficult set of compositions. Good luck to you at state!"

Freeman Russell — "Nice spirit in this march. With your size band it's difficult to hear in this 'barn' of a gym ... You have a good ensemble sound."

Edward J. Rima — "I would like to hear this played in an acoustically good auditorium. I realize that this number should be jarring — but way too much for this room."

Bernie Kuschel on symphony — "This is an excellent combination of individual band members, band ensemble, and a fine conductor ... This is music education at its best."

"I can only suggest you keep going in the same direction — above all, don't change your present teaching techniques. Continue to challenge each individual to his highest possible potential. Congratulations to all for this splendid performance."

Two Novi Taxidermists Knock Stuffings from Old Fallacies

Mom stuffs a turkey, the undertaker embalms a body, but a taxidermist does neither.

That's the word from two Novi men who have operated a taxidermy business for more than two dozen years. They are Marvin and Harvey Guntz-tablishment at the northwest corner of 10 Mile and Taft roads since 1932.

"Whatever you write, please don't say we are embalmers or stuffers," they pleaded before showing another doubting

Thomas through their quarters this past week. "You'd be surprised how many people call or come in and ask us to embalm a deer head or something for them."

Actually, embalming or "stuffing" animals or birds was practiced back as early as the ancient Egyptians. But the art of the taxidermist, as it is known today, probably is no more than 300 years old.

But if you don't stuff or embalm animals, what do you do? Rising to the occasion, Marvin Guntzville allowed that the craft of the taxidermist is like that of the seamstress who dresses a manikin. "You take a form and dress it up in the skin of the animal you are doing."

Taxidermy, according to the experts, is the art of preserving the skin, together with the fur, feathers, or scales of animals. The word itself is derived from the Greek words: "taxis", meaning order, arrangement, or preparation and "derma", meaning skin.

But the professional taxidermist must necessarily be more than a "dressmaker". "To do a good job you've got to be a naturalist; you've got to know the anatomy of the animals, their habits, and their habitats," the brothers explained.

The Guntzvillers first became interested in taxidermy while attending high school. "It was just a hobby for us then," explained Marvin. "We loved nature — all the birds and the animals."

Back in 1925, he recalled, Harvey shot a prairie chicken

— now a near extinct Michigan bird — while hunting in Green Oak township. The bird was "mounted" by Marvin, thus beginning a long and fascinating career. Many thousands of birds and animals have been mounted since then by the brothers, but that first prairie chicken still occupies a prize place on the shelves and walls of the brothers' own vast collection.

Because taxidermy means the use of skin and fur, the craftsman insists that his customers present him with "unspoiled" skins. "It isn't difficult to tell if a skin is spoiled. You can smell it or the hair may begin to drop out. If we took a skin like that the customer would certainly be disappointed with the end result and he probably would think we were to blame. So we have to be real careful."

Here's what happens when a customer brings in an animal (domestic animals are not accepted) to be mounted:

It is taken immediately to the "salting room" where it is salted and fleshed.

And in this business of fleshing the animals there is another of the great fallacies of taxidermy, they explained. "Many people won't bring in a prize animal or fish because they want to keep the meat. What they don't seem to understand is that we don't use the flesh — or even the skeleton.

"If they want the meat all they have to do is tell us. They can have it."

From the salting room, hides are shipped to a tannery, either to process it for making leather products or to prepare it for mounting. Tanning is a long, tedious art itself, and few taxidermists tan hides or pelts, preferring instead to concentrate on techniques of taxidermy.

Once the tanned hides are returned the process of "dressing" forms with skin and fur begins. But even before this operation, the Guntzvillers must either purchase or prepare the moulds from which the forms are made.

Forms, which actually are iron-hard materials, are hollow cores that resemble but do not include the details of the animal to be preserved. For example, the form does not include ears, teeth, antlers, or eyes.

In preparing the forms, the taxidermist carefully lines the inside halves of the moulds with layers of laminated paper and plaster, building it up to a thickness of about one-quarter inch — thicker, of course, for larger animals. The halves of the mould are joined together and set aside to let the wet forms dry. Once dried, the two halves are removed, leaving only the hollow, iron-hard form.

Shapes and sizes of the forms differ, depending upon the size of the animal to be preserved and upon the shape or position in which the customer wants him mounted. And since animals are of various sizes, it takes a "pretty good" eye to determine the correct size form to dress with the skin and fur.

To the form are attached the eyes, teeth, tongue and, in the case of deer and similar animals, the antlers. All but the antlers are artificial, although some taxidermists use the animal's own teeth.

Glass eyes, for example, come in all shapes, sizes and colors and are carefully filed away in drawers where the taxidermist can quickly locate "just the right ones" for the animal he is preparing.

Once these are in place, the taxidermist stretches the skin over the form, sewing and tacking it into place.

"Sounds easy, doesn't it," said Marvin Guntzville as one of his aides worked on a huge elk, "but there's plenty of work to it. In cases where the hair may be worn or shot away, patches of new hair — exactly the right shade — must be sewn in, scars must be covered, and the expression of the animal's face, must be carefully set.

"In fact, we have to paint parts of some specimens because original colors begin to fade as soon as the bird or animal is dead.

"A single specimen may take months to prepare if exactness to life is to be obtained."

According to the Guntzvillers, the development of forms revolutionized the art. Previously, taxidermists used skeletons of the animals. This process was considerably more difficult, they explained, and only a relatively few taxidermists were able to master it.

One of the newer processes in the field of taxidermy is plastic. Although plastic is a long way from replacing the materials used now for forms, it nevertheless is making inroads and eventually may be used exclusively because of its light weight, strength and convenience.

But even with these innovations, "the golden day" of taxidermy is past. No longer are taxidermists swamped with huge orders as they were in the early part of this Century. "Taxidermy survives as one of the few really true crafts, but business is slowly diminishing," they explained.

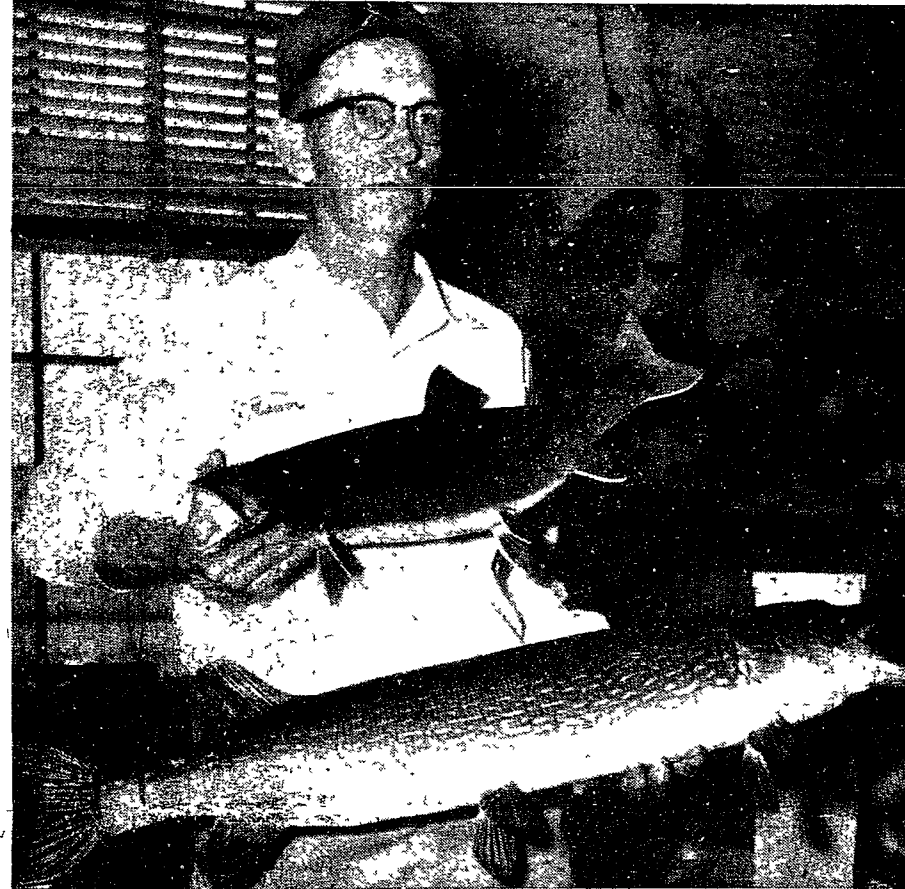

There's a paradox in this decline too. For while the professional taxidermist is a conservationist, a man who believes in the conservation and protection of wildlife, it is the development of conservation and laws which have led to the decline in business.

"We don't like to lose business," the men declared, "but we're just as determined as the next to protect our wildlife. That's why we carry this verse on the back of our business cards:

"Conservation is the intelligent management of all benefits bestowed upon us by Nature, and the protection and preservation of those benefits so that while yielding a maximum pleasure and profit today, they will remain inviolate as a heritage for the future."

BARE FACTS — Mounting a head is no easy task, particularly if the animal — such as this huge black bear — has had his face ripped in fighting or torn by a bullet. It means sewing, covering and replacing with skin and hair in order to produce a "perfect" specimen. Here James Bordner, employed at the Novi taxidermy, repairs a lip scar.

HE SPECIALIZES — Although Marvin Guntzville mounts both fish and mammals, he specializes in the mounting of fish — probably the most difficult of wildlife to preserve by taxidermy. Here he is shown with two newly mounted fish, a Splake (top) and a Great Northern pike.

TANNED HIDES — One of the important business aspects of the Novi taxidermy is the sale of leather products made from hides brought in by the customer. Here Harvey Guntzville checks over a huge stock of tanned hides, many of which will be turned into jackets, gloves and a host of other leather products.

OUT OF THE PAST

ONE-YEAR AGO

March 21, 1963
The city council decided to advertise for bids for demolition of the old city hall. Razing of the building must be completed in early spring so that construction of a new city hall library may get underway in May.

The council meeting marked the last official session for Councilman Richard Juday. He'll serve as a canvasser of the April 1 vote on Thursday, April 4, but the next council meeting is scheduled for April 11.

Funeral services were held for Clarence R. Davis of 20889 Cambridge drive, who died at Henry Ford Hospital where he had been taken after suffering a heart attack earlier in the day. He was president of Davis Tool and Engineering Company and Davis Stamping Company.

Completion of a job that was undertaken nearly five years ago by the Northville city council was realized Monday night in the form of a 339-page book. It's the complete publication of the city charter and code of ordinances. Under provisions of the city charter it is necessary to revise and update the city's ordinances every 10 years.

In the saddle of 25-mile an hour winds, South Lyon Jaycees dashed to Northville Sunday afternoon to claim a disputed victory in the walk-a-thon with Northville Jaycees.

Northville placed a single player on the Detroit News-Tribune Oakland league basketball team. Senior Craig Bell, a Mustang, hard-driving guard, joined Jack Bennett of Holly, Dan Carven of Clarkston, Bill Callahan of Bloomfield Hills and Dan Greig of West Bloomfield on the starting five.

FIVE YEARS AGO

March 19, 1959
March lived up to its windy reputation with reported gusts up to 70 miles per hour. The heavy winds interrupted a saint morning at approximately 11 a.m. and continued most of the afternoon.

Northville won national recognition when the city was awarded first place in the 1958 National Cleanest Town Contest.

Northville planners re-announced their meeting of two weeks ago and again postponed action on the proposed rezoning of the north side of Cedar street between Center and Church streets.

Northville high school junior Charles Hix cut short his winning streak in the national American Legion Oratorical contest by finishing runner-up in zone eliminations in Reese.

The mayors of Northville and Caro will trade communities May 18 in the annual Michigan Week "Mayor's Exchange Day" with Caro.

You have to give the city council credit. It doesn't give up easily. Monday night councilmen decided to send the three defeated $300,000 water bond issue back to the voters.

The player who "gave 100 percent in every game" was named honorary captain of the 1963 varsity quintet by his teammates. Bob Starnes, 17-year-old athletic standout at Northville high school, also was elected the "most valuable player" by Northville basketball coaches.

Northville Township Treasurer Roy M. Terrill reported that township county and school tax collections for 1958 were the lowest in 18 years. By the February 28 deadline township residents had paid 86.36 percent or $285,559.34 of a total roll of $330,658 in personal property and real estate taxes.

FIFTEEN YEARS AGO

March 24, 1949
V.F.W. Auxiliary, Post 4012 elected the following officers: Mrs. Evelyn Dixon, president; Mrs. Meta Myers, senior vice-president; Mrs. Daisy Peters, junior vice-president; Mrs. Isabel Williges, treasurer; Mrs. Arlie Smith, chaplain; Mrs. and Mrs. Ann Dixon, guard.
At the Wayne Out-County Chapter of the Michigan Society for Crippled Children and Adults meeting held recently, Lynn Sullivan of Eaton Drive was elected Vice-President and Russell Amerman of West street was elected a board member.

Novi Township expects to start a building this spring to house the Fire Department, provide fire proof storage for valuable records and also provide township office space.

A special election is being held in conjunction with the regular spring election April 4 as to whether the Township Board shall in the next two years set aside an additional $20,000 and be able to contribute all interior finish, and furnishings and equipment.

A Chapman school project of house of other lands is now on display at the Northville library. The first in the series is Sweden.

The regular village commission meeting at Northville village hall saw an amendment to the trailer camp ordinance passed allowing the planning commission to designate areas for trailer camps.

Anne O'Leary was declared the winner in the Grade school building spelling bee and Marlene Weiss is the champion winner in the junior high school bee. The girls were victorious in the spelling contest conducted at the schools.

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

March 24, 1939

Through action taken by the councilmen, Northville took steps to join hands with Dr. A. B. Wickham of Eastlawn sanatorium, and the state department of health to assure an adequate (and at the same time pure) water supply for the village by sinking a new well.

The Middle Rouge Parkway Intersecting sewer, composed of six units, has reached a state where construction is in progress in the immediate Northville vicinity. A project sponsored by the Wayne County road commission, it is designed to clean up the streams flowing through the county's parks and is scheduled for completion by July 1.

The acceptance to the call by the members of the Northville Baptist congregation to the Rev. Dr. Howard R. Chapman of Ann Arbor, to the pastorate of the Baptist church here has led to his resignation as Baptist student guild director in Ann Arbor, a position he has held for the past 20 years.

Dr. L. W. Snow, state fair secretary-manager, who is at work to make the Michigan State Fair an institution that will give the farmers a break, minimizing the stress that has been placed previously on the midway, paid a tribute to the late Governor Frank D. Fitzgerald who was giving him every support in his plans for a bigger fair at the time of his death.

A. C. Carlson, cub scoutmaster, and Dan Draper, boxing instructor of the athletic club, came forward to announce a full card for the fourth boxing exhibition sponsored jointly by the cubs, boy scouts and athletic club.

LET'S TALK CARS . . .

PRIVATE DEALS

As anyone who has tried will tell you, attempting to sell your old car privately and then buying a new one without a trade can make you wish you hadn't.

Here are some of the steps an owner must go through to accomplish this complicated task:

Firstly, he must advertise his car in a newspaper where he will find that his ad won't begin to compete with those of dealers. If he is lucky and it does get him results, then he must generally be forever on call waiting for the right prospect to come along.

When he does find a buyer, he runs into real price resistance. Private buyers expect to buy from an individual for substantially less. That's usually why they answer such ads in the first place. In addition, the seller can offer no guarantees or service after delivery and the buyer knows that all future faults with the car become his responsibility.

Since better than three-quarters of all buyers have a car to trade, the chances are good that the buyer himself will have a car that will stand in the way of the deal. If the transaction passes this hurdle, then the problem of finance arises. Again, better than 70% of all cars are sold on terms, and the chances are good that the prospective buyer will wish to buy this way.

It is to overcome all these problems, of course, that car dealers exist. You will be farther ahead if you find a reputable one and trade your car with him.

Annexation Talk Spurs Round Robin of Letters

MERRIAM
Carrying on a correspondence.

CLARK

The City of Northville the voters have approved a millage limit under which the city council operates.

"For your information, my brochure was checked for legality and accuracy by an attorney, and by three responsible citizens who know community problems.

"While I am writing to you I would like to comment on the attempt of the Wayne County Sheriff's department to interest the township in hiring police protection. One proposal is that Northville Township join Plymouth Township at a $50,000 annual cost, to provide one sheriff's deputy and one car for day time patrol, and two men in one car for night patrol, to cover 30 square miles and hundreds of miles of streets in the two townships. This is supposedly in addition to the present sheriff's services which are practically non-existent. Dearborn Heights tried this service and gave it up as not satisfactory.

"As you know this is part of the plan of the City of Detroit to force the outlying rural areas to pay for county services, for which we are now being taxed and which under the state law should be furnished to us. I was on the Wayne County Board of Supervisors when this plan was proposed by Detroit, and as you know Detroit controls the Board of Supervisors through its majority of supervisors. These supervisors, as you know, are appointed by individual members of the Detroit City Council.

"One of the outstanding evidences of the many county charges for services is the charge for operating a library in our community.

"I hope the township board will not be interested in the sheriff's proposal. It would mean control of police powers by a politically minded sheriff's department. Also, control by the City of Detroit. Certainly we don't want Detroit to control our essential services. We want to operate our own community."

Very truly yours,
George L. Clark

Although Clark reports no definite action taken by any township residents following his letters, an annexation of township property to the city seems certain to appear on the November ballot.

Mayor A. M. Allen has indicated that he will petition to bring a two-acre parcel at 900 Scott avenue into the city. The mayor purchased the home last winter and asked the city council and township board to permit him to annex the property to the city by joint resolution. The council approved but the township board declined, 3-2, with Supervisor Merriam and Trustee Donald Robinson approving and Clerk Marguerite Young, Treasurer Alex Lawrence and Trustee Wilson Tyler opposing.

Allen must give up his position as mayor before moving to the township. He has hinted that he will do this so that the annexation can be on the November ballot.

In such an election only Allen and his wife, as residents of the portion to be annexed, would vote in the township. City voters would have to approve the annexation.

Allen has said that he would not encourage other township areas to join him in the annexation move. He points out that this could hinder his chances. "With just my wife and I voting, I can be reasonably sure of the outcome in the township," the mayor noted. But, if other township residents petitioned to join the same annexation move, Allen said he would not attempt to stand in their way.

Promoting Activities for All

Student-Parent Council Outlines Objectives

Last May a group of interested parents met at the Northville high school auditorium with Superintendent of Schools Russell Amerman and Principal Fred Stefanski to discuss student-parent participation in coordinating and guiding high school social activities.

Stemming from this meeting a group of parents volunteered to form an active committee, which met in January and elected the following board of directors:

Chairman Douglas Straith, Vice Chairman Sid Moase, Secretary Jane Kaake, and Treasurer Larry Hill.

After several weekly meetings, a student representation was asked to join. They were chosen on the basis of every 14th or 15th student in alphabetical order in the senior high class so that a proper student representation would have a voice in the council. The student chairman is Fred Bryce, who presides over part of each meeting. At present there are 12 students (seniors) and 12 parent couples on the council.

The aim of this council is to help promote school activities which may be enjoyed by all high school students, are in good taste, and are socially acceptable.

While the following puts special emphasis on the senior class, because it will be leaving school very soon, it is the intent of the council to extend the scope to include all high school classes.

Currently, the council is:

A — Assisting in making the senior prom an outstanding event, something to look forward to and long remember, and give future senior classes something to shoot for.

B — Helping foster more enthusiasm in social activities as well as athletic events.

C — Assisting in setting up a voluntary acceptable "code of ethics" which will serve as a conduct guide for all high school students.

D — Ensuring that parents are fully informed about all athletic and social events sponsored by the school.

E — Providing parent stand-by help where needed and asked for, without interfering with student-teacher projects.

The council reports good progress has been made in certain areas of study, namely:

1 — This year the senior prom will be for seniors and their dates only (except for invited chaperones). The dance will be held in the high school cafeteria, using the adjacent library as a lounge. These changes appear to have generated unusually high interest level in many senior students, faculty and parents. This enables the prom committee to go "all out" on their theme of "Twelfth of Never".

2 — Establishment of student study committees to cover:

A — Action by other communities relative to student-parent council activities.

B — The publication each week of a calendar of high school events, giving complete information as to time, place, cost, etc. (Parents are urged to help build up attendance).

3 — A system has been established whereby parents can be contacted by telephone on short notice.

In the long range plans the council intends to include interested parents and students of all high school grade levels.

Students and parents are welcome to attend the council meetings held at 7:30 p.m. in the high school library.

Council meeting dates will be published in the school calendar of events in The Northville Record. The next meeting of the Parent-Student Council is April 1.

The council emphasized the cooperation it has received from school administrators, faculty, school board and P-TA membership.

SPEAKING for The Record

By BILL SLIGER

Anybody else got spring fever?

I stayed home one afternoon this week while my wife taught school and my daughter, Sally, recuperated from a cold.

It was a bright, sunshiny day and as I sat at the kitchen table typing away I couldn't avoid gazing out the window at a budding pussy-willow tree, an occasional robin and a pre-school age youngster waddling around the neighborhood.

It made me think how many things in the world do not change.

Youngsters staying home from school are still restless. They listen to children's programs just as we did, only via television instead of the radio.

Robins lift your spirit after a long winter and seem to say "there's brighter days ahead."

Pussy-willows sway in the spring breeze and their fuzzy, furry blossoms remind you of miniature "cat-tails" that you once waded knee-deep in a swamp to pursue.

And the youngster. Well, he's like every little boy on any brisk, spring day. He's been bundled-up by mother so that he won't catch cold. His round face is red-cheeked and his nose is running. He's got a stick in his hand and he's poking holes in the soft, muddy ground. His trousers are mud-soiled at the knees so that you know he's been exploring corners deep in the jungles of neighborhood hedges. And his lips are moving as he talks to his imaginary companions on a spring day adventure.

Man has invented many wonderful things to make our lives more enjoyable. But he can't improve spring.

If you haven't stopped to take a look and soak in the magic of the season, do so soon. It slips away so suddenly that when you look again the little boy is a man.

The Michigan Press Association has sent bulletins to all its member newspapers bringing attention to the increasing number of traffic deaths and accidents.

It points out that there has been virtually no new traffic safety legislation since 1956. For three years following this legislation the accident toll dropped. But since 1959 it has taken an upward turn and 1963 showed a heavy increase.

The beginning of 1964 has been dramatically worse.

The press association traffic committee believes that Michigan will get the kind of safety record its citizens are willing to work for and it urges newspapers to alert citizens to action.

It's our personal belief that traffic safety must begin at home — with the individual driver and pedestrian and in each community, however small.

Police should enforce traffic regulations. If more police are needed to increase enforcement, we should be willing to pay this small price.

And if we are found guilty of violating a traffic regulation, we should assume the responsibility of our actions and pay the consequences.

Lives can be saved by following simple safety rules.

The press safety committee thinks more lives can be saved if we encourage our state legislators to support these bills now under consideration: chemical test for intoxication; teen-age drivers handled in traffic courts (rather than probate court); increased state police force (200 more men); prohibit drag racing (example: West Eight Mile road); motor vehicle inspection; photographs on driver's licenses; reactivation of Michigan Traffic Highway Center; practical budget for Michigan Safety Commission.

Speaking of assuming responsibility for our own actions, it's encouraging in these days of dodging the penalty for our deeds to see a jury return a verdict like the one handed down in Dallas.

Use Computers To Reduce Taxes

BABSON PARK, Mass. — Every reader of this column is interested in reducing taxes. We see in the newspapers much about the cut in federal income taxes, but almost nothing about a cut in state or local taxes. I believe this will be discussed much more during the next year or two as readers become better acquainted with what computers can do, to reduce county taxes at least.

Readers who wish to reduce local and state taxes should send for a salesman from a leading computer manufacturer, such as International Business Machines.

In a talk which I had recently with Paul Pickett of Orlando, Florida, who is on the Budget Committee of Orange County, I gained some very interesting information. He tells me that one of these computers, at a rental of about $7,000 a month, should save the county a net of over $20,000 a month on extra help. Now such a modern computer could do the schedule programming in a few days that it takes school teachers (supplementing their regular employment) several weeks to accomplish.

When I asked Mr. Pickett whether the school teachers would complain, he stated, "Many of them will be glad to have extra days off; while many of those who take their places when they have time off are housewives with no regular employment. Thus the employment situation as a whole should not be upset."

In view of the activity of salesmen of the leading companies, it is probable that many more counties may be making this same saving. Whatever the facts are, I am only passing this along to readers as an illustration of what the introduction of computers may accomplish, or upset — according to the circumstances.

As the Federal Government is constantly assuming more of the cost and maintenance of road building, the present trend indicates that the greatest "local" expense will be our public schools. It looks now as if the education of our children could be considerably improved at lower cost by the use of computers.

I feel certain that fewer new school houses will be built and that computers may materially reduce the construction of new college buildings.

The taxes which voters are now assessed for the maintenance and operation of buildings used for educational purposes can be considerably lowered and the efficiency of the teachers increased.

For some peculiar reason, parents want their children to spend more time at school. Are they really anxious to have these children learn more; or are they using the school as a sort of "parking lot" for the care of their children a good portion of the day?

Of course, I am opposed to the large number of "drop-outs"; but the present educational system may be more responsible for these drop-outs than the children.

At any rate, from visits I have recently made to schools, I do not see much change in the methods of education from when I was in school many years ago. Most leaders of Parent Teachers Associations and other organizations probably agree with me. The immediate question is: Who runs the school? Do the parents, or the teachers, or the taxpayers, or the politicians?

It is a very complicated situation; in most communities the school committees are made up largely of businessmen and others who know very little about proper improvement of their schools. When some one committee member makes a study and tries to bring about a reform he is persecuted as one who simply wants publicity.

The early part of this column explains how the budget commissions of many states are using computers to reduce expenses, but I forecast that computers must also be used to increase the efficiency of teaching.

Parents seem to believe that the amount of time spent in school determines their children's education. This is all wrong. Instead of the time being increased, it should be decreased. This will someday be done with greater use of computers.

There are several companies which will demonstrate how this can be accomplished — resulting in fewer teachers, better education, lower taxes, and children trained to concentrate and get real jobs for which they are best fitted. Research and new machinery have entered almost every phase of family life except education. I believe education is on the verge of a revolution in which computers will play a prominent part.

Top of the Deck

By JACK W. HOFFMAN

"Why, I don't mind, young man, but I don't feel too well today so you'll have to excuse me if I sit down."

Carefully, she seated herself and insisted that her guest do the same. "I remember you ... you were here once before weren't you," she said. "About some history or something, wasn't it?"

Nearing 80 but nevertheless spry of heart, she looked little different than she had upon my visit four years earlier. A small, thin woman in a huge, immaculately clean house. But something was missing.

"Your husband," I asked, "how is he?"

It's like that sometimes. Separate a very close couple and one, seen alone, seems unnatural — like the rose without its leaves.

For more than 50 years she had shared his home, cooked his meals, mended his clothes and nursed him to health whenever he became ill. And because they were without children, it seemed as though some of the love that might have shone elsewhere was concentrated in the bond that held them together.

Theirs had been a good, long life, filled with the joys and sorrows that respect none. But as the taint years gradually slackened and gave way to wrinkled and slow ones, so too did the spare, small frame of her husband begin to wither.

And it was now, in the waning years of their marriage, that she called upon some of her greatest strength to sustain them both. Carefully, she clothed and fed and helped him into his wheel chair. Patiently, she tended his every dying need.

Though physically ill, he had great recollection and from the 96-year-old treasury of his memory came some very interesting stories about the development of the community.

That was four years ago. Now she seemed lost, by herself, as she sat across the kitchen table from her unexpected guest.

"He..." She paused, searching for just the right words that somehow would protect him from the embarrassment of his unseen senility. "He's not here anymore. He's gone," she cried.

And, finally, in a shower of emotion she blurted: "He's in a convalescent home. I visit him everyday but sometimes he doesn't remember. Each time he asks me where he is and I tell him and everything seems alright but the next day he asks me again."

"It's good he's not alone there. He needs someone. He needs me. He needs to know he's not alone."

How cruel it seems, I thought, that two so close for so many years should now be separated; she alone in this huge house with only her memories, and he alone in his puzzling new surroundings. But how fortunate is he to have her nearby to unravel that puzzle.

Who, I wondered, will stand by her side when he is gone. That was a month ago.

Last week I wrote the cold, factual obituary; she will not be alone, but the puzzle will go unanswered.

Bell Wages Set Record

Michigan Bell Telephone company today reported that it paid wages of $344,818 to its 43 employees who worked in the Northville - South Lyon - Farmington area during 1963.

Hazen J. Wilson, manager here, said the company's entire wage bill of $146,616,779 for its 21,692 employees throughout the state set an all-time record.

In addition to Michigan Bell's payroll, the Western Electric company, manufacturing and supply arm of the Bell System, paid $8.8 million to its 1,300 employees who worked in Michigan, and AT&T's Long Lines department paid $3.4 million to its 520 employees in the state.

Traffic Signals Often Increase Accidents

LANSING — Stop-and-go traffic signals do not always hold the answer for a community which is concerned with mounting road accidents, according to State Highway Department studies.

"These signals have only one purpose and that is to assign the right-of-way at heavily traveled intersections," said a Traffic Division Director Harold Cooper.

"Our experience shows a general increase in accidents can be expected after installation of a new signal," Cooper said.

Countless requests pour into the Department annually from citizens seeking the installation of traffic lights at intersections where the accident rate is increasing.

More often than not, traffic engineering studies show that a light would not necessarily solve the accident problem and might even increase it. Increases are particularly prevalent in the rate of rear-end collisions, Cooper said.

As an example, Cooper cited the installation of a stop-at-the intersection of M-78 and Abbott road. A yellow flasher was previously in use at the intersection.

The demand from the citizenry for a stop light was similar to that from many other communities. In this case a Department study indicated the traffic volume at the intersection was heavy enough to warrant the stop signal to assign the right-of-way to the opposing flows of traffic. In the 12 months following the installation, however, the accidents at the East Lansing intersection increased almost fourfold.

Fifteen persons were injured and one was killed in the year after the signal was installed as compared to 10 personal injury accidents in the year before the stop-and-go light was in use.

A one-man campaign to boost Michigan's vast resources is being conducted by a Northville man.

Using the title "A Michigan Ambassador," which was first given to a group of businessmen who bragged about our state at every opportunity as they traveled throughout the country, Lawrence A. Wright has launched his promotion.

Wright, the owner of a Detroit industrial firm, says he does not intend to make a profit on the "Ambassadors" but hopes to break even. He already has at least $25,000 invested in the project.

The "Ambassadors" are standard sized post cards made on Michigan paper stock and bearing one legend of the State's various advantages.

There are 200 cards in the series telling briefly about Michigan's highways, copper supply, rock salt mines, potatoes, outstanding museums, islands, water facilities, universities and industries. Each is on a different subject.

Wright's goal is to sell the series to various industries,

Chambers of Commerce and other organizations which have contact with tourists. They are designed to be given away to Michigan tourists who in turn would send them to their friends back home, thus luring more visitors to Michigan.

The eye-catching series has come to the attention of the State Highway Department, Tourist Council and Economic Development Department and at least one statewide service club, all of which are considering distribution methods.

Wright hopes widespread distribution of the cards will send the slogan from coast to coast which he has had printed on the message side of the card: "Michigan, Dynamic, Diversified, Delightful. A great place to live, work, play and visit."

The kickoff of Michigan Week at the New York World's Fair in May is getting bigger as the date draws nearer.

In addition to the initial plans by various universities' alumni groups for breakfasts for fairgoers who attended Michigan's higher education institutions, a unique meeting of Detroit Economic Club will be held in the fairgrounds.

Ralph F. Swan, secretary to the committee planning the event, said officials expect the Economic Club luncheon to be the biggest of its kind during the two-year run of the Fair. Members of the New York Economic Club are being invited to participate in the luncheon.

The three pictures above illustrate one reason for their enthusiasm. The top car is a 1963 model . . . the center car is a 1962 Cadillac . . . and the lower car is four years old. The styling through the years has evolved and refined, but each is unmistakably a Cadillac.

These owners share a common knowledge. Not even most new motor cars offer the degree of pleasure and reliability that come with a previously owned Cadillac. First, there is Cadillac's renowned craftsmanship, which results in a car of unusual endurance.

Next, consider value. The equipment on a Cadillac of older vintage is still extra cost on most new cars . . . and includes such features as Hydra-Matic, power steering, power brakes, power windows on most models . . . plus many Cadillac engineering advancements that still have not found their way into other new 1964 cars.

And don't overlook Cadillac's reputation for operating economy — comparable to many smaller cars. So when you make your next motor car investment, new or used, consider only one name — Cadillac.
