

Fish Hatchery to Close; City Eyes Property

NO FISHING — The Bureau of Commercial Fisheries has announced that its use of the 15-acre "fish hatchery" property on Fairbrook will soon be concluded. Viewed here from a point along the Johnson Drain near the south boundary, the property is dotted with ponds. Hatchery buildings are shown in the background.

A Northville landmark that once attracted thousands of tourists will soon be closed.

The United States Bureau of Commercial Fisheries has announced that it no longer has any use for the "Northville Fish Hatchery," located at 767 Fairbrook.

Current work there will probably be concluded by the end of May and the buildings will be used for storage until a new laboratory facility is opened in Ann Arbor within a year.

The city of Northville has expressed interest in obtaining the site. A portion of the 15-acre parcel, which is divided by Fairbrook, lies in the township.

At Monday night's city council meeting Mayor A. M. Allen directed City Manager Bruce Potthoff to check with federal authorities on their future plans for the site. Councilwoman Beatrice Carlson brought the matter to the council's attention.

Leo Von Wald, administration officer with the fisheries' regional office in Ann Arbor, said that in recent years the bureau had been conducting biological research involving white fish at the Northville hatchery. There is no active research at the hatchery now and only three employees.

Von Wald said the facility is now in the hands of the Washington office of the bureau. While he noted that the fisheries' bureau no longer has use for the site, he said such installations are usually turned over to the General Services Administration either for use by another government branch or for disposal.

The federal government purchased the Fairbrook road acreage in 1891 from the Cold Springs Cream and Butter company. In addition to the two buildings and several ponds on the south side of the road, the 15-acre includes two houses and another pond on the north side.

When the ponds were full of fish, it was a popular Sunday attraction for visitors. Hatching and rearing of sport fishes at the station stopped in 1957, however, and it was converted to a research laboratory.

Improvement Bids Low For West, Butler, Pennell

Bids for storm sewer and curb and gutter installations on West, Butler and Pennell streets came in well below estimates Monday night.

Six construction firms submitted bids ranging from $23,634.45 to $32,878.38 on the special assessment project scheduled for this spring.

In preliminary public hearings Engineer Harold Penn placed his estimated costs at $33,000.

The council set May 4 as the second public hearing when exact costs per property owner will be determined based on the bid accepted.

Two bids were opened for demolition of the interim city hall at 122 North Wing, one at $1,575 and the second at $2,000. Both asked two weeks for completion.

The council plans to have the building torn down shortly after moving to the new city hall. A property exchange is now being negotiated with the First Methodist church to provide access for alley entrance and additional parking area to the lot now bounded by Dunlap, Center, Main and Wing.

In other business on a long agenda that required more than four hours to complete the council discussed conditions on Northville Downs property along River street with John Carlo, executive manager of the track. Residents of the area have complained of manure piles and odors.

The track manager noted that construction crews installing sewer lines on River had made it difficult to service the area. He said horses would leave the area this week and track construction work in the area would be completed within six weeks. He said the area would be greatly improved.

The council pushed for more assurance of action, either by fence or greenbelt and Mayor A. M. Allen named Councilman John Canterbury to meet with Carlo.

William Crump, president of the Northville board of education, appeared at the council meeting to seek information on rental of the old library for board of education offices.

He said the board proposes to use the facility for two years. Northville township has already expressed agreement with any arrangement reached by the city and school board. A council-school board committee will meet Tuesday evening to settle rental terms.

Presentation of a proposed "historical district" zoning ordinance made by William Slattery triggered an hour of controversy.

Representing the planning commission, Slattery said "there seems to be a need for such zoning in town, but we're not certain." He indicated that such zoning could be applied to preserve historical sites and prevent misunderstanding of future use of land.

He emphasized that the planning commission had no specific area in mind and that the ordinance would not designate an area.

But Councilman Canterbury was suspicious and suggested that the ordinance came about as a result of interest in the old library.

Slattery denied this, but admitted that "we all read the paper." When Councilwoman Beatrice Carlson asked Slattery about the conflict in land use between the old library and proposed central business district plan he said that it was his opinion that "planners would not allow a historical site to stand in the way of the central business development."

"Then you'd move the library?" asked the councilwoman. "I wouldn't care to comment on that," Slattery replied.

Councilman Canterbury said that he believed many zoning corrections were now being delayed because planners were tied up with "total package" revision. Slattery denied this, stating that the planners act on every request received.

Canterbury persisted that "there are more important things to do" and said he could use no need for such an ordinance. Slattery admitted he knew of no others in Michigan, but mentioned such ordinances in Boston and Philadelphia.

Finally, Mayor Allen called for a meeting of the planners and the council to discuss the proposal along with the total master plan.

New City Hall Opens Monday

PRACTICING — Clerk Martha Milne will greet city hall customers from the office near the main entrance beginning Monday.

Saturday is moving day for city hall.

Monday Northville's municipal offices will be open for business in the new $260,000 city hall which was constructed with matching federal funds under the public works acceleration act.

The city council approved closing of the interim city hall at 122 North Wing Saturday so that the move may be made.

While the move will mark a return to the "old homestead" on the corner of Main and Wing streets, the similarity is confined only to location.

Northville's old city hall, a 120-year-old converted residence, was torn down last spring.

Construction on the colonial-design building to house a library, municipal offices, police department and fire station began in July.

The new building provides offices on the Main street level for the manager, clerk, accounting, assessor and judge. It also provides a conference room adjoining the spacious 46' x 31' council chambers.

The lower level with entrance from the rear, or by stairway from the upper level, includes complete police department facilities and three detention cells.

The library has two levels and will have its main entrance from Wing street. It is still unfurnished and will not be opened for at least another month.

Fire station facilities on the Main street level at the west side of the building provide three stalls for engines, an office and equipment storage space.

The council decided Monday night to hold dedication and open house ceremonies during Michigan Week, May 17-23.

Councilman John Canterbury was appointed by the council to prepare a list of proposed committee members for the city hall ceremonies. At his suggestion Clerk Martha Milne was named chairman and she was given a list of prospective committee members.

Monday marked the final meeting of the city council at the interim city hall. It held its first session in the cramped quarters on April 29 last year.

The council will hold its first official meeting in the new building at 8 p.m. Monday, May 18.

Del Black Appointed

Michigan Week activities in Northville will be chairmaned this year by Del Black, owner of Del's Shoes. The appointment was made by the city council.

It's Smooth Sailing At Annual Meeting

With approximately 50 residents in attendance Northville township's annual meeting moved swiftly Saturday afternoon with hardly a trace of controversy.

The voters adopted a $74,000 budget, up about $10,000 over last year; designated Manufacturers National Bank of Detroit, Northville branch, as the depository for township funds; and again set the first Tuesday of each month for meetings.

The community building meeting was conducted by Supervisor R. D. Merriam. Reports were heard from Clerk Marguerite Young, Treasurer Alex Lawrence and Planning Chairman Gunnar Stromberg.

Before budget adoption several of the items calling for increases were explained.

Recreation Director Ken Conley was quizzed on township participation in the recreation program. He said 400 township youngsters took part in the summer program. He noted that city to township ratio of participation was about 60-40. The city will pay $6,500 and the township $4,300 to the recreation fund this year.

Conley said the Saturday program during the winter has grown from 150 participants to 450. He also reported 79 members in the new senior citizens club.

Supervisor Merriam noted that new equipment for fire engines along with conversion of voting machines to expand capacity would cost about $3,000. In other matters of discussion several citizens expressed disfavor with service by Wayne County Sheriff's patrol and discouraged the proposed $55,000 annual contract for special township service.

The supervisor was asked if "a concrete request" had been made for Northville city police protection.

Merriam said it was the "general consensus that we would not want city police." But when the supervisor was pressed for more answers from the audience, he said that no official inquiries had been made and that the board itself had not been polled. Merriam referred to "city police problems" and said his reference to general consensus was from residents.

An appeal to ban hunting in the township brought support but Attorney James Littell noted it would take legislative action and a vote of the people. Action was taken to take the issue to the state.

Supervisor Merriam noted that the city was asking for a new contract for use of the dump beginning July 1. He noted that only 202 permits were issued to the township.

Call Constable For Police Help

Local police service is available to Northville township residents, Supervisor R. D. Merriam pointed out this week.

He stated that Richard Mitchell, township constable, is an authorized peace officer and is available evenings and weekends.

Residents requiring police help may call the state police, Wayne county sheriff's patrol or the constable, Merriam noted. Constable Mitchell's number is FI 9-1603.

Wills' Report on Earthquake

Editor's Note: Following is a letter written by Mrs. Jerre Wills, who with her husband and small children, moved to Alaska from Northville with the now famous Fifty-niners group. Written to Mr. and Mrs. Perry Taylor of Northville, it describes some of the experiences of the family as they huddled in their log cabin during the Good Friday earthquake in the 50th state.

We are all fine. Please don't worry about us. I was planning to send a note to The Northville Record but decided instead to write directly to you.

This earthquake never will be forgotten, and no-one will ever be quite the same. We, our town and Soldotna (located north in the direction of Anchorage) were not hit badly at all. Our electricity was back two or three hours later.

Cheryl and I were doing dishes. Jerre and the two smaller girls were seated at the table. Sue was in the living room rocking the baby in a chair. We were hurrying because Jerre was one of the men scheduled to present the Good Friday sermon at the church.

First, our electric fan stopped. I started to look at the clock when the house began to shake. We both said, "earthquake!" Then everything began in earnest.

Sue and the baby were thrown off the chair. Jerre grabbed them and got into a far corner. The three girls and I didn't have time to move before we were thrown to the floor. Dishes sailed around us, books and knick-knacks crashed to the floor, and the floor itself heaved up and down.

The refrigerator would have tipped over, but the door swung wildly preventing it from tipping. Our cement block chimney rumbled up and down, sending chunks and sprays of cement and dust over us. We expected it to break and fall at any second.

Our ceiling lamp, which hangs down about a foot or so, swung in a crazy circle as though it was about to go into orbit. The noise — the heaving was tremendous. When it stopped the silence was so great that it too was frightening.

Our lake (the property upon which the Wills are home-steading includes a beautiful lake behind their home), which was covered with at least four feet of ice, was heaved upward, leaving great jagged chunks and cracks. Dirt from the bottom of the lake was sprayed on top of the ice.

Our 40-foot dock is nowhere in sight.

The car, parked outside, was moved about 10 feet and left a lurching path as proof of its movement.

My dishes are made of a hard substance so they were not broken, but my glasses were shattered. Our chimney is crooked but still standing. So God watched over us and took care of us.

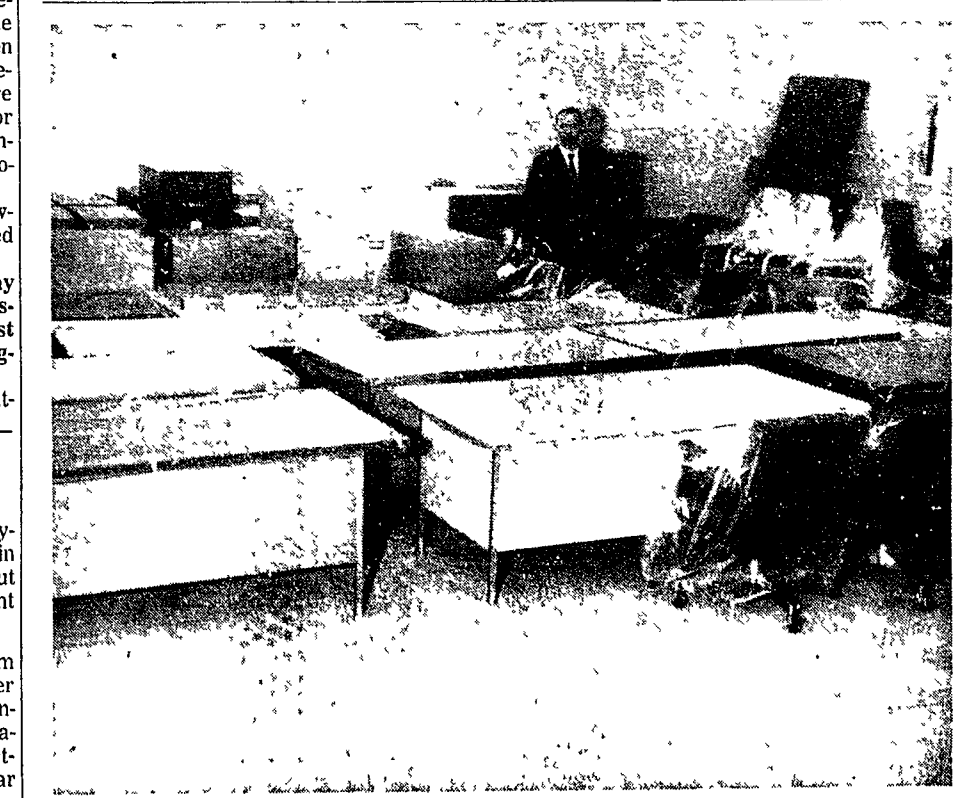

Anchorage and surrounding towns were not so fortunate as you already know. (The Wills live just outside of Kaslof, which is south of Anchorage, west of Seward and north of Kodiak — all three of which were hard hit by the earthquake.)

McAtee Wins

Wixom voters returned Mayor Wesley McAtee to office in Monday's general election but ousted one of three incumbent councilmen.

McAtee defeated William Welke, 325 to 232. Newcomer Donald Nissen edged out Incumbent Councilman Fred Beamish, 316 to 296. Also re-elected were Councilmen Gunnar Mettala and Oscar Simmons.

Elwood Grubb was elected justice of peace, succeeding Welke.

CONTEMPLATING — It's City Manager Bruce Potthoff's job to see to it that the new furniture now stored in council chambers is properly located throughout the offices of the building for Monday's opening.

MSU Grads Speak Vows

Mrs. Roger Cheeseman

Miss Karen Christensen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Christensen of Madison, N. J., was married on Saturday afternoon to Roger William Cheeseman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ira Cheeseman of Novi, in the Madison Presbyterian church.

The ceremony was performed by the Reverend Warren Crater and the Reverend Dr. John Parks. A reception at the home of the bride's parents followed.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of white silk peau de soie, fashioned with a chapel train, both gown and train appliqued with motifs of alencon lace and seed pearls. Her veil was attached to a pillbox of lace and pearls, and she carried a cascade bouquet of phalaenopsis orchids.

Miss Barbara MacVicker of Madison was maid of honor. The other attendants were Miss Ginger Cheeseman, sister of the bridegroom, Miss Patricia Liggett of Madison, and Miss Nancy Clucas of Cambridge, Mass. They were attired alike in gowns of copen blue organza with bouquets and small crowns in shades of blue.

Ira Cheeseman was best man for his son. Ushers were Terry and William Christensen, brothers of the bride, Stephen Fleischer of Chicago, and Jay Lapin of Borden-town, N.J.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Cheeseman were graduated from Michigan State university in March. After a wedding trip they will live in Cleveland, Ohio, where Mr. Cheeseman will be associated with the National Dairy Corporation.

Art Club Plans Tuesday Meet

The April meeting of the Three Cities Art Club will present demonstrations and discussion about painting techniques. This will cover material from impressionism through the non-objective art. A supplementary film will be shown. Discussion on painting technique will be led by people in the club's artist-membership. Particular emphasis will be placed on color as an abstract element in painting.

The meeting will be held Tuesday at the Plymouth Credit Union building at 8 p.m. The building is at 500 South Harvey street (corner of Maple).

Mrs. William Reuter

Campbell - Reuter Speak Vows Here

Wendy Campbell and William Reuter exchanged vows Saturday in a wedding ceremony at St. Paul's Evangelical Lutheran Church of Northville.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Campbell of 9615 Tower road, South Lyon, and the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Edward Reuter of 4121 Llewellyn, Northville.

Officiating at the wedding, which took place in an altar setting of white gladioli and white daisies, was the Reverend B. J. Pankow, pastor of St. Paul's.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a white organza, floor length gown with an empire waistline that featured embroidered border and a light train in back. She wore a head piece of three roses and a circle of white orange blossoms and a shoulder length veil.

Miss Kay Roberts of Chubb road, the bride's maid of honor, was gowned in yellow organza over taffeta, and a floor length, bell shaped skirt. Her flowers were daisies and purple heather.

Junior bridesmaid was Miss Eunice Reuter of Llewellyn street, who wore a dress similar to that worn by the maid of honor.

The flowergirl was Jean Reuter, who wore a floor-length dress and carried a basket of white daisies and purple heather.

Serving as ushers and best man were Allan Herring, Robert Robison and Donald Reuter.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Campbell wore an aqua silk dress with matching jacket and hat. The bridegroom's mother wore a pink silk jacket dress with a pink flowered hat. Both mothers wore white daisies and purple heather.

Organ music for the wedding was provided by Mr. Warren Zabel.

Following the wedding, a reception for 125 persons from Dearborn, Canada, Detroit, Plymouth, Northville and South Lyon was held in the parish hall.

For her going away outfit, the new Mrs. Reuter chose a navy blue knit suit with black accessories. The newlyweds left for a two week trip to New Orleans following the reception.

Graduated from South Lyon high school, the bride attended Cleary College. Her husband was graduated from Northville high school and attended the Detroit College of Applied Science and Lawrence Technical Institute.

Following the honeymoon the newlyweds will live at 46990 Thornapple Lane, Northville.

In Our Town

By Jean Day

INCH-HIGH CROCUSES and swelling pussy willows are giving us all the "lift" that's spring-in-the-country. They also signal time for an annual gardeners' meeting that has been held for more than 25 years: The Tri-Club luncheon of the Northville, Plymouth and Rosedale Gardens branches of the National Farm and Garden association will be hosted by Northville at 12:30 p.m. April 14 at Thunderbird Inn.

Mrs. William Garrison of Detroit, president of the Michigan division of the NFGA is to speak.

Knowing Mrs. Garrison's great interest in the Pennies for Friendship campaign of the Farm Youth Exchange program, Mrs. George W. Kohs (Northville president who will be presiding) plans to ask the 200 ladies attending to "empty their purses of pennies" to help the cause grow.

The decorations committee decided not to rival the be-flowered hats of guests and planned their decorations around unusual philodendron planters. They will be presented as prizes to lucky guests. Mrs. Edwin Schrader and Mrs. M. M. Longley, presidents of the Plymouth and Rosedale Gardens clubs, respectively, will introduce their officers at the luncheon, which replaces the regional meeting.

FLORAL MOTIFS will be created by the Distaff Botanists Garden club meeting at noon today at the home of Mrs. C. R. Arnold, Briar Hill, Farmington. Members are going to experiment with the art of block printing on rice paper in the Japanese manner.

APRIL 1 is April Fool's Day to most persons. In the Carl Stephens family, however, it is the birthday of both Mrs. Stephens and her daughter, Mary Elizabeth, who became 11 this year, celebrated with a luncheon for seven friends Saturday at her parents' home on Norton street.

DANCING at Meadowbrook country club Saturday night will be for a good cause as Northville Mothers' club sponsors its annual Spring Fantasy to raise funds for school projects. This is in keeping with long tradition as the depression-born club began by furnishing milk for needy school children in the 1930's.

Originally a child study club, the group became a Mothers' club to provide many school extras. It limits its membership to 35 to meet in members' homes. Mrs. Essie Nirider, president, stresses that everyone in the community is invited to the dance with tickets to be available at the door.

Several parties are scheduled before and after the dance. Potluck dinners are proving a popular pre-dance get-together. The Robert Bogarts will host one at their West Main street home, while the Donald E. Hannabargers will have a group in at their Wing street home. This group will coffee afterward at the J. S. Canterburys on Randolph.

Another potluck will be held at the Carl Stephens' home on Norton. Mr. and Mrs. Robert F. Lang also will be dinner hosts at their home on Stratford court. Among their guests will be former Northville residents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Palenchar of Grosse Pointe Woods.

Other out-of-town guests here for the dance and the week end will be the Robert Beerbowers, former Northville residents now of Dayton. Accompanying them will be their four children who will visit friends. The Beerbowers will be house-guests of the William Davises of Orchard drive.

Also entertaining after the dance will be Dr. and Mrs. Harold Wright, who have hosted an after-dance coffee for several years.

Vicki Harrison Weds

Mr. and Mrs. James Chilcoff

In a candlelight ceremony in the chapel of the First Methodist Church of Northville, Vicki Lynn Harrison recently became the bride of James W. Chilcoff. The double-ring ceremony was performed by the Reverend S. D. Kinde.

Parents of the couple are Mrs. Marjorie Harrison of Northville and John Harrison of Plymouth, and the William Chilcoffs of Dearborn Heights.

The bride wore a street-length white lace dress with satin trim, and a pearl crown held her tiered veil. She carried a cascade of carnations, cymbidium and orchid.

Attendants were the bridegroom's brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Christopher Chilcoff.

Seating the guests was the bride's brother, Jay Harrison. A small reception was held at Harry Moore's Supper Club for the immediate families of the newlyweds.

The couple is presently residing in Detroit.

Local Girl Featured In Recital

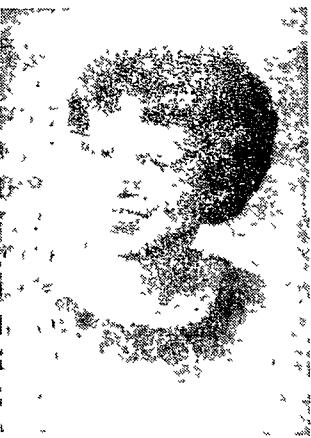

Anne Shirlene Hembrey, 17-year-old student of Mrs. Leland H. Mills, will be presented in piano recital on Sunday at 3 p.m. in the First Baptist church of Northville.

A senior at Northville high school, Miss Hembrey has studied piano nine years and in 1961 attended the All-State Piano Session at the National Music Camp, Interlochen, Michigan. She also is a member of the Northville high school band, playing first chair in the bassoon section.

She is an outstanding student and active member of the G.A.L., Forensic club and National Honor Society. Upon graduation she plans to enter the University of Michigan school of literature, science and arts.

The talented young pianist will play works by Bach, Beethoven, Handel, Debussy and Tchaikovsky. She will be assisted by Shary Lee Mills in a Concerto for Oboe and piano by Handel.

The public is cordially invited to attend the recital.

Plymouth Symphony Plans Season Finale

The final presentation of the Plymouth Symphony, featuring Gioacchino Rossini's "Barber of Seville", will take place Sunday evening.

Performed by the Turnau Opera Players, the comic opera will be staged in the high school auditorium at 8:15 p.m.

The presentation will climax the 18th season of the Plymouth Symphony. Conductor of the 100-piece orchestra is Wayne Dunlap.

The Turnau Opera Players originated in 1955 with a group of former students of the late Professor Josef Turnau and is named in his honor.

A 19th century comic opera, "Barber of Seville" will be sung in a new English adaptation which faithfully reproduces the vigor of the Italian Libretto and suggests the flavor of Beaumarchais' original comedy. Consisting of six young singers, stage manager and musical director, the Players have staged more than 350 performances of 40 operas and have given premieres of five contemporary works.

In addition to a busy itinerary which takes them to all sections of the country, the company has resident seasons in Sarasota, Florida and Woodstock, New York.

Eastern Star Plans Dance

With Mrs. Thomas Quinn as general chairman, extensive plans are underway for the upcoming Eastern Star-Masonic combined dance and card party, to be held Saturday evening, April 25 at the Northville Community building.

Rip Collins orchestra will furnish the music.

A decorating committee headed by Mrs. Frank Wamwright and assisted by Mrs. Donald Green, Mrs. Earl Gray and Mrs. James Vandenburg are working hard on their vision of creating a spring Mardi-Gras.

The evening will be climaxed with table prizes, door prizes and refreshments.

Bride Feted At Shower

Mrs. Richard Atchinson, the former Patricia Palencher of Northville, was the honored guest Thursday evening at a kitchen and bathroom shower in the home of Mrs. George Miller, Bloomcrest drive.

Some 46 guests were present from Northville, Birmingham, Plymouth, Grosse Pointe, and Detroit. Co-hostesses were Mrs. Lola Alexander, Mrs. Hugh Godfrey, and Mrs. Jack Reynolds.

Patricia and Richard Atchinson were married on Saturday, April 4.

1-Card of Thanks

A warm thank you to everyone who remembered me with inquiries, cards, visits and gifts during my stay in the hospital and since my return home.

Velma Peevey H15cx

To those who expressed their sympathy in so many beautiful and practical ways during our recent bereavement, we extend our heartfelt thanks.

Mr. & Mrs. Stanley Potts and family
Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Alexander & Family
Mr. and Mrs. Carol Richardson & Family H15cx

My sincere thanks to the many kind friends who remembered me with cards, visits, flowers and gifts during my stay in Sarasota Memorial Hospital, also in St. Joseph's Mercy Hospital in Ann Arbor.

Words cannot express my gratitude to my good neighbors and friends for the cards, gifts and acts of kindness during my stay in the hospital and while convalescing at home. A million thanks to all of you.
Bessie Elkow H15

We wish to thank everyone for their gifts and acts of kindness shown our daughter Patricia during her stay at home and in University Hospital. A special thanks to Pastor B. J. Fankow and Mr. Dick Gray.

Gets Report On Poisoning
An analysis of poison fed a horse at the Northville Downs last week has been made by the state department of agriculture.

Department officials told Northville police that the analysis shows the poison to be a caustic substance — probably some kind of drain cleaner.

Police and the owner of the animal, Ed Asher, believe the poisoning was deliberate. The poison had been placed in a feed storage barrel and fed to the horse by the unsuspecting owner.

The horse suffered severe mouth and tongue burns. In other police action this past week, Mrs. Marjorie Tabor of 700 Baseline reported that someone stole the hubcaps from her car parked in front of the house late Monday evening.

PREP LINKSTERS — From this array of golf talent, Coach Al Jones will choose his varsity squad, which will compete for the Wayne-Oakland title. On the strength of last year's third place finish, the Mustangs should be top contenders with competition coming from Milford and Bloomfield Hills. Team members are left to right (first row) J. Berti, R. Rice, J. Kleinsorge, L. Schoof, J. St. Germain, P. Gunther, (second row) Coach Jones, B. Bunn, B. Sproule, R. Bennett, B. Van Hellemont and A. Martin.

Netmen Drop Opener Here

The determined Northville netmen dropped their opening match to Holly, 3-2, Monday at the Cass Benton courts. — but Coach Dick Norton can plead mitigating circumstances.

Three of his top racket men, all letter winners, were not in the fold. Dave Schmidt, Jim Weidner and Bob Lantry failed to get their physicals, which disqualified them from match play.

As a result, Norton moved some newcomers into the fray. It was in the numbers one and two singles spots that Northville suffered.

Mustang Randy Caliguiri was edged 6-4, 7-5 by Jeff Jon and Northville's Jim Long also lost by a close score, 6-4, 6-4. Norton was quick to laud their play in view of the fact that they were under pressure due to the absence of the veterans. Playing in the number three slot, Norbert Parent trounced Chuck Lamew of Holly, 6-0, 6-1.

The other local point was scored by the doubles team of Bruce Dayton and Dick Ricketts, who won a 7-5, 8-6 match, while the local entry of Bill French and Larry Thibos dropped a 6-2, 6-0 decision.

"With the veterans, we would have beaten them, 5-0," Norton mused. "Even though we lost, we've indicated that we'll be tough later in the season," he added.

To give his netters more experience before going into further league competition, Coach Norton is attempting to schedule a practice match Friday.

Weather Confines Linksters

Still hampered by bad weather, Northville's golf and JV baseball teams are trying their level best to get in shape for their first outings of the year come next Monday.

At that time, Coach Al Jones' golfers will take the first step in a serious bid for the Wayne-Oakland title.

Forming the nucleus of this year's squad are three veterans, Jim St. Germain, Rick Talbot and Jim Berti, all of whom can shot in the 30's. Jones is undecided as to who will fill the other two slots.

Providing the good weather holds, the linksters will work out as a team for the first time at the Brae Burn country club. A consolation to Jones is the fact that future opponents have been hampered by the same inclement weather.

Putting his club through its second week of practice is Coach Dave Madden, new mentor of the JV baseball nine.

He, too, was cheered by warmer weather, but he also made it clear that with the first game just a few days off (Monday), his hopefuls will have to make use of every possible moment to be ready.

Several boys have shown good promise, headed by two pitchers, Chris Holoman and Glenn Deibert, both freshmen. Other prospective starters are Pat Hall at shortstop, Russ Kelly in center field, Tom Frounfelter at third base, Bill Sliger at first base and Dick McIsaac behind the plate.

Mustangs Take Diamond Today Against Milford

Barring the unforeseen, the Northville Mustangs are set to open the 1964 baseball season today against a tough Milford outfit. Because of the wet condition of the high school field, the game will be played at Cass Benton park.

Receiving the starting call on the mound will be Eric Peterson, mainstay of the Mustang staff last season, who has been showing his old form in workouts this week.

Milford should prove a strong test for the Mustangs. The Redskins have enough returning veterans to be seriously considered as a contender in the Wayne-Oakland conference.

Coach Chuck Shonta announced his starting lineup, which includes only three seniors, all letter winners. The batting order, positions and class are as follows:

Howie Jones, 3B, Jr.
John Andrews, LF, Soph.
John Mack, CF, Jr.
Jerry Insland, RF, Soph.
John Jameson, SS, Soph.
Larry Angove, 2B, Sen.
Dave Jerome, 1B, Sen.
Doug Swiss, C, Fresh.

Two late comers and the return of an injured player have given Shonta reason for optimism. Howie Jones, a letterman, and Jim Mazel have worked out at third base. Both have good arms, but Jones is the stronger fielder.

Their presence has freed John Mach to play center field, where his speed and strong arm can be used to an advantage.

Mach was the source of worry last Thursday, when he re-injured a knee which sidelined him during the past football season. With a leg brace to strengthen the strained ligaments, he will be ready to play.

Returning to the lineup after a week and one-half's absence was Pat Templeton, an outfielder. He has looked especially good in the field, according to Shonta.

Thanks to a break in the weather this week, Shonta has had a good opportunity to gauge each player's potential.

In an intra-squad game held Tuesday, pitchers Steve Evans, Jerry Insland and Peterson each took a three inning turn, throwing with authority. Both shortstops, Jameson and Larry Beller, got good wood on the ball and they were steady in the field. Jameson clouted a long double and a single.

Perhaps the most surprising and heartening turn was the reserves solid showing. They lost by only two runs, 7-5.

Wolverine Opens 50-Night Stand

Wolverine Raceway will open for 50 nights of harness racing Friday at 8:30 p.m. (April 10) with the expectation of breaking all opening night attendance and wagering records.

Northville's Orlov G. Owen, vice-president and general manager of Wolverine, at the Detroit Race Course plant, said that the track, opening with the only pari-mutuel racing in the Detroit metropolitan area, is planning on 10,000 opening night fans.

The largest first night crowd to date was 8,463 in 1960. Wagering is expected to hit $400,000 compared to $357,476 for the 1960 opening night.

Owen said the inaugural Pace should help break the records. It will bring two of the nation's best in Butch Harmony (1-59.2) and Spring Romance (2.01).

Butch, driven and trained by Joe Marsh, Jr., leading U.S. driver, has earnings in excess of $100,000. He is owned by Mrs. Bertha Alexander of Detroit. Spring Romance, driven by Pat Bellows and owned by Birmingham, Michigan, trucking executive Norman Mealy was outstanding at Pompano Park earlier this year.

Another crowd favorite scheduled to perform at Wolverine is Rusty Range, driven by Willard Niles of Northville.

Northville Firemen Answer Five Calls

The Northville fire department answered five fire alarms this past week — none of which were serious.

On Wednesday, April 1, firemen were called to 39557 Six Mile road where a grass fire had started shortly after 1 p.m. About an hour later, the department was called to the corner of Wing and Cady where a rubbish fire was left untended by workmen who razed the building to make way for the new post office.

An overheated furnace was reported on Monday morning at Margie's Beauty Salon, 128 North Center. There was no damage.

At 2:10 p.m. on Tuesday firemen quickly extinguished a fire in a car on East Main near Griswold. Leaking gas set wiring on fire in the vehicle, which is owned by Norman E. Laraway of Ann Arbor.

Less than an hour later, the firemen responded to a grass fire call at Griswold and Eight Mile road.

Northville Thinclads Tune Up at East Lansing

Competing against the best track and field talent in Michigan's high schools last Friday at East Lansing, Northville failed to place a man, but the Mustangs made a respectable showing.

There were over 35 schools represented in a tough field at the Michigan State relays, held in Jenison field house.

Noting that it was their first outing of the 1964 season, Coaches Roy Herald and Joe Trickey were pleased. "We've had little opportunity to stretch our legs outdoors," Herald said, "and that's the only way to get into proper condition."

Kent Kipler, who holds the high school pole vault record, cleared the 10 foot four inch mark in a field of 33 contestants. Having qualified, which ensured him of being in the top 10 entrants, he barely missed the bar at 10-foot. The winner soared over the bar at 12-seven.

Kipler saw double duty by running one of the two 220-yard legs in the sprint medley relay. The team took third place in its heat, and was one of the top 10 entries.

Other members of the sprint medley squad were 220-yard man, Terry Winner, and Mike Hall and Ralph Caliguiri, each sprinting a quarter mile. All ran in this event for the first time.

Making a good showing in the shot put with a heave of 41 feet was Jerry Burns. According to the coaches, he looked promising.

A top local miler, Chuck Annett, failed to place but legged a 5:01 time to finish in eighth place. Jim Trotter, the only other Mustang to make the trip, competed in a fast field in the 60-yard dash.

The weatherman brought sunny skies and soaring temperatures for the thinclads Monday, which gave them their first opportunity this year to work outdoors without sweat clothes.

Observe Library Week

Northville high school students are busy this week preparing for the observance of National Library Week which begins Sunday.

According to librarian Mrs. Marian Sullivan, posters with the theme "Reading Is The Key..." are being placed in downtown windows as well as throughout the school building.
Highlighting the observance will be the appearance next Tuesday of William Bannan, warden of the Detroit House of Correction and former warden of the Southern Michigan Prison at Jackson.

Bannan will address two student assemblies at the high school and have lunch with the faculty.

Mrs. Sullivan will herself give a talk to members of the Northville Rotary Club and present two student librarians, Karen Lang and Larry Hurlburt at the Tuesday luncheon.

Births

A son, Robert F., was born at 11:59 p.m. Monday, April 6 to Mr. and Mrs. Donald Golem of Livonia at St. Joseph's hospital in Ann Arbor. The baby weighed 7 pounds, 4 ounces at birth. Golem is advertising manager of The Northville Record.

Dr. and Mrs. O. J. Robinson of Northville are the new parents of a daughter, born Saturday, April 4 at 1:30 p.m. at University hospital in Ann Arbor. The baby weighed 6 pounds, 12 ounces. Dr. and Mrs. Robinson have not decided upon a name for their daughter.

To Star in Play

Northville's Peggy Assemany of 46400 Ten Mile road interprets the role of Noreen in Ladywood High School's three act musical comedy, "The Wishing Well," April 18 and 19 in the school auditorium, 14680 Newburgh Road, Livonia.

The operetta takes place in the charm and romance of Old Ireland and features Ladywood choral members and boys from Catholic Central and Divine Child high schools.

Three performances will be given — Saturday evening at 7:30 Sunday at 2:30 and 7:30 p.m.

LET'S TALK CARS...

SPECIALLY FOR THE LADIES

Most everyone has heard about the mythical "little old lady" who lived mostly in the imagination of used car salesmen.

According to legend, she never drove her car (the one they were selling) more than 30 miles per hour. And only on short trips, attending church functions and the like.

This sales approach is guaranteed not to work on mechanics, who know from experience this kind of driving is hardest of all on a car. It is unfortunate, but most cars get more short-trip, cold engine driving than distance highway trips — especially in winter when it is hardest on them.

In two car families, the wife's car is the short-trip one. A cold engine develops treacherous moisture (five quarts of WATER to every gallon of gas) from condensing air sucked in through the carburetor. This is the cause of muffler rusting.

Unburned fuel from rich starting mixtures forms crankcase acid. The acid corrodes pistons, rings and bearings, causing an engine to burn oil years before its time. The remedy is frequent oil changes — never less than once a month in winter regardless of mileage and every two months in summer.

It takes ten miles of driving to replace the engine used in one starting. If your car's not getting that driving, give the battery a slow charge once during the winter to make sure you start when you turn the key.

John B. Mach

meeting. They will discuss the high school paperback book program and school library service in general.

On Thursday afternoon school administrators and school librarians plan to attend the open house of the new Library Resource Center of the Wayne county library.

And on Friday and Saturday Mrs. Sullivan will be in Ann Arbor for the annual conference of the Michigan Association of School Librarians at the University of Michigan.

Rescues Boy But — Needs Help Himself

Sometimes playing the role of the hero can be a little embarrassing.

But Northville Postman James Baxter of 755 Novi avenue doesn't mind. He likes children.

Last Thursday he and Patrolman David LaFond teamed up in a mud hole to rescue a frightened five-year-old boy who had sunk to his waist in the soupy mud of a basement excavation in a vacant lot on Langfield drive.

Little Johnny Harwood was playing near the excavation when a foot sank ankle deep in mud at the edge of the hole filled with water. Struggling, his other foot sank out of sight, and soon he was crying and fighting to keep from sinking deeper.

That's when Baxter came to the rescue. He was joined soon by Patrolman LaFond with a shovel. Together the men dug and pulled and dug some more. Within 10 minutes the boy was back on dry ground — minus one shoe and a boot.

But even then the rescue wasn't complete. In the process of helping the boy, Baxter became stuck. And it was several more minutes of tugging and digging before the hero stepped to dry ground.

5 Hurt in Novi Auto Accidents

Two children and their 32-year-old father were injured Saturday night when their car was struck head-on in front of Lillian's Market on East Lake drive.

Hospitalized at St. Mary Hospital in Livonia were Thomas E. Suggs and his two children, Tommy, 5, and Gary, 12. They were reported in good condition Monday with multiple cuts and bruises.

Raymond J. Koenig, who has been charged with reckless driving, was treated at St. Joseph's Hospital in Pontiac.

According to Novi police, Koenig's automobile crossed over the center line and crashed head-on into Suggs' car. Both vehicles collided into a car parked nearby.

Novi firemen were called to the scene to wash down gasoline which spilled from the wrecked cars.

In another Novi accident last week, Lee J. Ingle, 32, of Wayne, suffered head injuries and was treated at St. Mary hospital Thursday after his car plunged out of control and crashed into three cars parked in a used car lot on Novi road.

Ingle, who paid a $15 fine Friday after pleading guilty of reckless driving, told police he lost control of his car while driving south on Novi road. His car careened past the parking lots of Ward's Barber Shop and Nick's Grocery before plunging into Alex Motor used car lot.

All three of the used cars were badly damaged.

"DISEASE IS NOT INCURABLE"

from the PASTOR'S STUDY

by the Reverend M. E. Rickert
Willowbrook Community Church

The recent commemoration of Easter has served to pin-point once again the resurrection of Jesus and the renewal of Christian discipleship. During the tragic hours of late Thursday evening of Holy Week and the appearance of the risen Christ on Easter morning, the eleven remaining disciples were scattered and hidden. Fearful of their lives, they were disunited in their fellowship. Following the emptying of the tomb, they moved to re-assemble in their familiar meeting place. It was as though the reality of the resurrection of Jesus was being mirrored in the renewal of life among the disciples. Each experience was of spiritual significance, releasing the power of victorious living.

The renewal of Christian discipleship, was made possible through the personal acceptance of the "fact" of the resurrection. In contrast to the jeers of the crowd,
"Crucify him, Crucify Him!" and the later news reports, "He is crucified," came the glorious, happy news, "He is risen! He is not dead. He lives!" At least eight times, in forty days, the resurrected presence of Jesus was recognized by the disciples and others. They heard Him speak, they walked with Him, He blessed the meal,

He ate with them and Thomas felt the wound in His side.

The renewal of Christian discipleship expressed itself in a personal resurrection of "faith." The fact of Christ's resurrection now gave spiritual fuel to the emerging fires of conviction: Jesus Christ is more than human, He is God; life at-one-with God is indis-trictible; because Christ lives, His cause will endure forever; all that He said is true; the Christian way of life is the right way and he who believes and lives in Christ - though he die, physically - shall live forever, spiritually.

The renewal of Christian discipleship, resulting from a renewal of Christian "faith" based upon the "fact" of the resurrection of Christ, expressed itself in a personal embuement of spiritual "force." Where there had been fear and mistrust, there was now courage and certainty. Where there had been a felt need to learn how to pray, there was now the spontaneity of seeking out spiritual companionship with God-in-Christ. Where there had been reluctance to endure hardship, there was now a voluntary desire to "share his sufferings."

As Roger Babson stated, in a syndicated article printed in a recent issue of the Novi News, "we are caught today in the middle of a vast struggle between a temporal, materialistic world and a world of the spirit. - I am convinced that one thing, above all others, is needed to save this old world of ours: A spiritual rebirth such as that which Saul of Tarsus experienced - As a result the regeneration of Europe began; the foundations of a new civilization were laid."

It was because of the renewal of Christian discipleship through spiritual rebirth, brought about by the renewal of Christian "faith" due to the "fact" of the resurrection of Christ, that the "force" of courageous, Christian, victorious living was released in the lives of the early followers of Christ.
It is this same "faith"
based upon this same "fact" which will release this same "force" within the lives of those who personally experience it that will enable them to win out - today, and every day - in the "vast struggle between a temporal, materialistic world and a world of the Spirit."

Attendance Hits Record Wixom High

A new attendance high was set Easter Sunday at the First Baptist Church of Wixom in the Sunday School as 344 children and adults attended their respective classes.

This attendance, according to the Rev. Robert V. Warren, pastor, broke the old record of 321 set back in October of 1955. The average attendance for the month of March of 295 per Sunday also was a record high for any one month since the Sunday School was established more than 100 years ago.

Mr. Kenneth Gibby is the general superintendent of the Sunday school.

The Wixom church, with an increase of 46.8 percent over last year's average attendance of 201, also finished in fourth place in the state Sunday School contest sponsored by the Conservative Baptist Association of Michigan. More than 19 churches were competing against each other.

The churches finishing first through Fourth, which includes Wixom, will be given awards at the State C.B.A. Youth Rally at the South Baptist Church of Lansing on May 2. Over 1,500 youth are expected to attend the giant rally.

Special youth workshops and interesting and challenging music and speakers will be featured.

Any young person, junior high-college age, interested in attending the rally is asked to contact Pastor Warren.

OUT OF THE PAST

ONE YEAR AGO April 11, 1963

—Northville school board members gave unanimous approval to a preliminary 1963-64 budget that, for the first time in district history, predicts expenditures over the $1 million mark.

The preliminary budget forecasts expenditure increases of over $80,000 and a deficit of just over $8,000.

The record-high proposed expenditures of $1,058,212 are expected to be offset almost entirely by regular anticipated revenues of $1,050,006.

Plans calling for the relocating of Northville's municipal headquarters from its present city hall to temporary quarters at 122 North Wing street were approved by the city council.

Manager Bruce Potthoff was given official "go ahead" on a plan that will introduce 24 hour on-duty service at the temporary city hall for fire and police calls.

The manager anticipates that the city hall move will take place the week of April 22.

Meeting in special session Friday, the Northville township board purchased bonds from the George Clark insurance agency and gave preliminary approval of 15 lots in the proposed Edenberry Hills subdivision.

The Northville Presbyterian Church announced plans to expand its Christian education facilities with the addition of a 9,000 square foot unit.

The new $120,000 addition will adjoin the south end of the present church building. A two-story structure measuring 44 feet by 102 feet, it will provide 16 classrooms, each approximately 16 feet by 20 feet.

The Northville Mustangs exploded. They scored 20 times here in their initial start of the baseball season while North Farmington squeezed out only two runs.

FIVE YEARS AGO April 9, 1959

—Summer-like weather brought out a record number of city voters Monday as Mayor A. Malcolm Allen and Councilman John Canterbury were re-elected by whopping majorities. The second seat in the eight-man race for council went to Richard Juday, a surprise winner.

—Twenty-four years as a member of the Northville township board came to an end this week for Mrs. Mollie Lawrence. Saturday afternoon she presided over the annual meeting. Tuesday night, the day after the election, Mrs. Lawrence conducted her last board meeting. At adjournment George Clark was sworn-in as the new township supervisor.

—Although Oakland county recorded its heaviest spring vote in history, only a handful of Novi electors went to the polls in giving Republicans a clean sweep of township and state offices.

—Written examinations were taken by four members of Northville's six-man police force for the office of police chief. Officers taking the written exam were Frank Heintz, Eugene King, Leonard Mazuchowski and Ray Nowicki.

—Charles Hannabarger, 4, son of the Donald Hannabargers of Wing court, missed serious injury Monday evening when he was hit by a pickup truck driven by William J. Dowsett of East Eight Mile road.

—A 14-year-old Northville high school girl escaped harm Tuesday when threatened by a man carrying a knife in the Detroit Art Institute.

—Charles F. Bredlow was installed as commander of the Northville Commandery No. 39 Knights Templar.

—Governor G. Mennen Williams attended the Northville Democratic club's booster party at the American Legion Hall.

FIFTEEN YEARS AGO April 14, 1949

—At the board of education meeting, Elroy V. Ellison was named principal of Northville high school succeeding Edward C. Mollema who resigned. Mr. Ellison is at present principal in the grade school, a position he has held for the past five years.

—Northville citizens will be pleased to hear that Marlene Weiss, Northville eighth grader, was the winner of the Detroit News District Spelling Bee, which was held in the Northville high school gym.

—Howard I. Atwood was installed as commander of the Northville Commandery No. 39, Knights Templar.

—Melvin "Chick" Herbert, golf pro at Meadowbrook Country Club was stricken with appendicitis while playing in the Masters Tournament at Augusta.

—Because of the overcrowded conditions in the Northville grade school building, the board of education is now studying plans for a nine-room addition to be built on the present building.

—Northville high school spring athletics has attracted about 100 boys who are practicing baseball, track and golf. The coaches of these three sports are Al Jones, assisted by Charles Ketterer, for baseball; Charles Yahnke for track; and Merritt Meaker for golf.

—Northville residents will be saddened to learn of the death of Richard J. Hammermeister who for several years ran "Hammer" Hardware on Northville Center street now known as the George Clark Hardware.

—Solo numbers for the Northville high school band's spring concert were played by Joan Oliver and Corine Clark, with Donna Schnute at the piano.

—Winners of the Poppy Poster contest were: Dick Miller, Charles Westerheld, Charles Kremkow, Robert Heslip, Harvey Russell, Christoff Newman, Marlene Coykendall, Mildred Ballagh, and Pat Madigan.

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO April 14, 1939

—Test diggings were made early Monday morning at the site on the four corners which has been recommended by the Treasury Department for Northville's new $75,000 post office.

It is understood by local post office authorities that the digging does not mean that the Main street site has been definitely selected. Organized clubs in the village and many individuals who have taken a stand to protest the Main street site feel that the Treasury Department will give consideration to the letters and wires which they have sent voicing their objections.

—E. M. Bogart, prominent Northville grocer, was elected president of the Northville Rotary club at a meeting of the directors held recently. Mr. Bogart will take office July 1. Other officers named by the newly elected board of directors of the club are: Russell Steinger, vice-president; Leslie Lee, secretary; and John Litsenberger.

—Northville's Gun Club did some practice shooting under expert supervision in readiness for the return match at Plymouth.

—After a week of winter weather, Thursday dawned clear with sunny skies and a temperature of 28 degrees. Winter, in a late spring-month fling, coated the village with snow twice.

—Northville's Lodge No. 186 F and A.M. will celebrate Ford Night on the evening of Monday, April 17.

—Mrs. Roy Matheson was named church clerk at the annual meeting of the Baptist Church.

—Despite the fact that villagers attended Good Friday service Friday afternoon just after a rather heavy, but brief, flurry of snow, Easter dawned clear with the sunshine making it much warmer than any day during Holy Week.

Raspberries Provide Opportunity For Local Part-Time Farmers

EDITOR'S NOTE—Western Wayne County contains many "small farms", estates or small 5 to 10-acre homesites. Many of the persons who own these acreages are concerned that they should be using this good land for some agricultural or horticultural pursuit. Good soil, good climate, and many nearby consumers make it possible that there might well be some specialty crops that would produce an income from these lands and for these part-time farmers. This is the second of four articles dealing with four projects: Strawberries, raspberries, peaches and eggs.

In years past raspberries have been a rather important horticultural crop in Michigan. During recent years, however, the incidence of disease and virus infection plus the difficulty in securing large numbers of pickers during the short harvest season has limited production, except in Southwest Michigan. A good seasonal demand for raspberries remains, and seldom if ever is the local market over-supplied.

Raspberries will grow well in soil that contains a considerable amount of clay, as long as it is well-drained and fertile. They will do well on the lighter soils if they receive enough moisture and fertility. They are very susceptible to many diseases, some of which are associated with other garden crops such as tomatoes, potatoes and previous or nearby crops of other brambles.

Raspberries, like strawberries, adapt well to pick-your-own harvest methods. They also sell well at roadside markets and in local stores. The larger chain stores do not often feature locally-grown raspberries.

Raspberries are planted in 8 or 10-foot rows, about 3 feet apart in the row, and are usually set out in the early spring. Site selection with relation to previous crop grown is very important, and it is very important that all stock for new settings shall be obtained from certified inspected nursery sources. The first crop a small one, comes the second year after setting the plants. Production should reach a peak in the third year and continue for several years afterward. Inroads by virus and abandonment of the planting after about 6 to 8 years.

A pest control program will be necessary for good raspberry production. Weeds, especially quack grass, are a serious hazard. New methods of chemical weed control are effective. The grower will need a small power sprayer and will need to make at least five applications of chemical pesticide to keep cane blight and insects in control. Mosaic virus must be recognized and rogued out periodically.

Raspberries need annual application of fertilizer, and a late-planted cover crop between the rows is beneficial. An inter-planted crop can be harvested from between the wide rows during the first year or two of the plantation. Raspberries must be pruned properly each year, and must be thinned to maintain the proper size of row. They are usually planted hedge-row style, but occasionally they are found in clump-type plantings. Irrigation is of considerable value in lighter soils, or in seasons of drought. Entire crops can be lost during one extreme hot dry spell during July.

Only two varieties of red raspberries are recommended: Latham and Taylor. Latham is the old faithful and most productive variety, but Taylor is of superior quality and somewhat less winter hardy. Black raspberries can be grown also, but must not be planted within 500 feet of red raspberry plantings. Certain viruses are spread from the reds to the blacks which cause much more injury to the black raspberries.

The purple raspberry Sodus is very productive and of excellent quality. Its productivity and mosaic resistance results in yields often exceeding red raspberries. When mosaic infections occur in Sodus, symptoms are distinct. Growers can more easily eliminate infected plants because of this characteristic.

Everbearing and yellow raspberries are interesting crops, but are not regarded as important varieties for commercial production. An acre of mature, well-doing red raspberries should yield about 1200 to 1400 quarts of good berries each year. Blacks should yield about the same. The purple raspberry, if grown well, should yield nearly twice as much. Some growers report consistent yields of 5000 or more quarts per acre per year. Prices have stabilized in recent years near the $4.50 per quart mark, picked, in lots, and $.50 per single quart at stands. Pick-your-own harvesters pay about a dime less.

In conclusion: Good quality red, black and purple raspberries are not in surplus and find a ready market in Western Wayne County. Many of the soils of the county are adapted to raspberry production. Diseases and insects are a serious consideration: a pest control program must be carried out. Raspberries are not a "quick-in - quick-out" crop, but carry through a 6-8 year cropping program. Pick-your-own marketing is very possible with these berries. Only disease-free nursery stock should be used when starting a plantation. A few one-acre plots of good raspberries should yield a good part-time income to local people.

Persons interested in part-time, commercial production of raspberries under these conditions may receive further information, literature and consultation by contacting Wayne County's Extension Agent in Agriculture Edgar C. Kidd at the Extension office in Wayne, at 3930 Newberry street, or by telephone PARKway 1-6550.

Subsequent similar news-stories similar to this will discuss peach and egg production in Western Wayne County.

New Phone Books To Arrive Soon

The Michigan Bell Telephone Company began delivery of its 1964 telephone directories in the metropolitan area this week.

Included in the distribution are 556,000 West-and-Downriver area directories, up 11,000 over last year. The 276 page directory covers 44 Wayne County communities.

It will take two weeks for some 450 distributors to complete the delivery.

Included this year on the green cover of the new directory is a map of some 60 communities with an easy-to-see West and Downriver area section shown in bright yellow.

The West-and-Downriver area directory is one of three suburban directories distributed by Michigan Bell. The other two area directories are the East directory which includes southern Macomb county and the North book which covers part of Oakland county.

Telephone customers who need one or both of the other two area directories may obtain them by calling the local Michigan Bell business office.

In addition to the three suburban books, 1,336,000 Detroit directories also are being distributed at this time to Detroit subscribers and to those suburbanites who request them.

Junior High P-TA Eyes Panel Talk

A panel discussion entitled "Changes in The Junior High" will highlight a meeting of the Northville junior high school P-TA on Thursday, April 16.

The meeting is slated to get underway at 8 p.m. in the Community Building.

Moderator will be Kenneth Conley, and the panel will include Donald Vaningen, principal of the junior high school, James Kipfer, member of the Northville board of education, and Russell Amerman, superintendent of schools.

Following the discussion by panel members, the program will close with questions from the floor.

P-TA officials urge all junior high school parents, as well as parents of all fifth and sixth graders, to be present for the meeting to learn about changes that are to take place next year.

In Uniform

Great Lakes, Ill. — William E. Schreiber, 20, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dominic E. Schreiber of 16119 Beck road completed basic training March 20 at the Naval Training Center, Great Lakes, Illinois.

The nine-week training includes naval orientation, history and organization, seamanship, ordnance and gunnery, military drill, first aid and survival.

During the training recruits receive tests and interviews which determine their future assignments in the Navy. Upon completing the program they are assigned to service schools for technical training or to ships and stations for on-the-job training in a Navy rating specialty.

Obituary

DUNCAN GRANT CHISHOLM
Duncan Grant Chisholm, 75, of 361 East Cady, died Tuesday, March 31, at the Veterans Hospital in Ann Arbor.

Born in Dingwall Scotland in 1889, he was the son of Alexander and Jessie Chisholm. On April 24, 1919 he married Isabella Watt of Northville. She survives him.

Besides his wife, he is survived by five sons, Bruce of Farmington, Douglas of Northville, Wallace of Novi, Cameron of Newberry and John of Northville; four daughters, Mrs. Jean Sherman of Northville, Mrs. Betty Kenney of Hazel Park, Mrs. Peggy Mills of St. Clair Shores, and Mrs. Mary Jane Hitter of Plymouth; 27 grandchildren and two great grandchildren; a brother, James of Royal Oak; and several nieces and nephews.

During World War I Mr. Chisholm served in the United States Army. When he moved to the United States he worked for a time as a farmer. Later he learned the meat-cutting trade and for many years was a meat-cutter, working in Northville, Plymouth and Ypsilanti. He retired several years ago.

Funeral services were conducted Friday, April 3 from the Staffan Funeral Home of Ann Arbor. The Rev. Robert Spradling, pastor of the Northville Baptist church, officiated. Mrs. Ila Black sang, "Let the Lower Lights be Burning", and Mrs. Westfall played the organ.

Burial was in Soldier's Lot in the Fairview Cemetery at Ann Arbor.

SPEAKING for The Record

By BILL SLIGER

Every area resident ought to place a circle around April 19 and June 14.

On these two Sundays in Wayne, Oakland and Macomb counties the medical societies are sponsoring a mass immunization program.

All persons over the age of one year will be asked to swallow two anti-polio sugar cubes — one on April 19 and another on June 14.

This polio immunization is important to you and your family. Medical authorities point out that polio runs in cycles, which have been slowed down by polio shots. But they haven't been stopped.

The medical societies believe that this mass program will prevent any future outbreak. If everyone over the age of one year takes the two doses, our area will be free of the danger of any polio outbreak for years to come.

But the program can succeed only if you do your part. All you have to do is eat a couple of lumps of sugar and you'll be protected against three types of poliovirus.

The charge is just 50 cents, which will be waived for those who cannot afford it.

Clinics will be held in Northville at the community building; in Novi at the community building; and in Wixom at the UAW hall on Wixom road.

It's as easy as giving candy to a baby.

While on the subject of health, it should be noted that April is cancer crusade month.

Mrs. Harry Smith is chairman of the Northville chapter of the Michigan Cancer Society. And as part of the society's program to fight cancer with knowledge, the local chapter is sponsoring free showings of films.

One of these is directed at men will be shown at the high school auditorium on Monday evening, April 27. It's called "Time Out for Living".

An area physician will be on hand to answer questions and explain the incidence of cancer, its symptoms and the sites most prevalent in the male.

Northville's most famous fisherman is living up to his laurels.

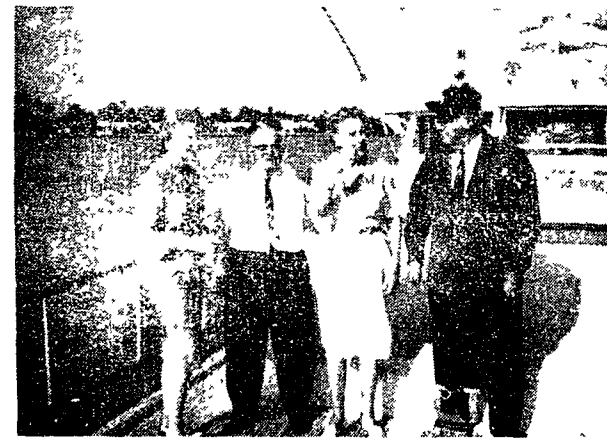

C. E. Langfield, owner of the Northville Laboratories, is again leading the Metropolitan Miami Fishing Tournament with a prize bonefish catch.

The annual tournament gets big play in the Miami newspapers and Langfield's picture was carried in the March 24 edition of The News for his 14½-pound bonefish caught on the flats at Bimini.

In addition to leading the general division for trolling and still fishing, Langfield has two hands on the special "Bonefish Release Trophy" for releasing 52 catches.

RARE CATCH — Con Langfield is shown here with his guide "Bonefish Sam" and a rare fish seldom seen — a 33-pound, 3-ounce Permit. Langfield hooked the Permit on an 8-pound test line using shrimp for bait. It took 35 minutes to land.

VISITORS — The Carl Bryans of Northville (center) visited Mr. and Mrs. Langfield on their yacht in Florida.

Seek More College Scholarship Aid

LANSING — A plan to broaden Michigan aid to college students an estimated $1.2 million is getting closest perusal by the Legislature. This is the third year a state scholarship program has been proposed.

Its aim is to provide scholarships to more Michigan youth in Michigan private colleges. Part of the advantages is a reduction for more public expenditures at state universities.

Private college administrators are giving heavy backing to the proposal introduced by Sen. William G. Milliken, R-Traverse City.

They say the state needs to provide more scholarship aid through the higher education appropriations for public colleges and universities.

One spokesman for the group of private college officials is Fr. Laurence V. Britt, president of the University of Detroit.

"The assistance to public schools is provided equally to the 17,000 or 18,000 out-of-state students in our colleges," he said. "If the state can supply public funds to assist non-residents of the state, we feel the least it can do is make scholarship aid available to all students in the state."

Support for the Milliken bill has been voiced to leading lawmakers by representatives of 16 private colleges in the state. The proposal would provide about 2,000 scholarships awarded on the basis of ability and need.

Private college spokesmen say the current space available in their institutions could be better used if scholarships were on hand for capable students. This would also alleviate some of the crowding pressures on the public institutions.

A bill similar to Milliken's measure, but providing for only 500 scholarships, was introduced in the House by Rep. Gilbert E. Bursley, R-Ann Arbor, and was approved by the Education Committee.

With two possibilities for action, officials of U. of D., Andrews University and Albion, Alma, Adrian, Aquinas, Calvin, Hillsdale, Hope, Kalamazoo, Madonna, Marygrove, Mercy, Nazareth, Olivet, and Siena Heights Colleges are hoping for positive action this year.

All stops will be pulled when Michigan observes its annual Michigan Week, May 17-24.

In addition to the annual mayors' exchange, special recognitions of various segments of the economy, and the big "Michigan Day" plans at the New York World's Fair May 18, another first has been added to mark the occasion.

The 1.3 million people in the country who receive the New York Times Sunday edition will receive a special supplement a week before Michigan Week.

Many other states have previously published these magazines detailing advantages in their domain, but the May 10 issue will be a first for Michigan.

The Legislature is being asked to put forth a portion of the cost of the supplement, but much of the cost will come from state advertisers.

Various specialty writers throughout the state are being asked to donate their talents to help spread the word about Michigan's industrial, residential, tourist and other advantages.

Debt is not a peculiarity of individuals or the state government, a report of the Michigan Municipal Finance Commission shows.

As of the beginning of the current fiscal year, local units of government in the state were in debt to the tune of more than $2 billion.

This debt, which a Commission spokesman said represented Michigan communities "meeting increasing needs," rises at about the rate of $100 million a year.

Growth of the debt is marked weekly at the Commission meetings where approval is given for local units to issue bonds and notes to fulfill the responsibilities of growing government.

Normally, a bull market is associated with a condition of rising stock prices. During these periods, many stocks participate in the market advance to varying degrees. The current bull market, however, is somewhat of a paradox. Only a handful of stocks have been rising in price. The vast majority are either standing still or losing some ground.

This has left many investors disappointed as they watch the Dow-Jones Industrial Average march resolutely to new highs while their own investments have done little or nothing. The reason for this is that the bull market has been largely in high-grade stocks being bought by the institutional-type investors, such as insurance companies, pension funds, and trust funds.

The bear market which exists simultaneously is largely in secondary stocks, and in the so-called glamour stocks which took a terrific trouncing in the last market collapse. For example, the bear market may still exist for electronics stocks and other speculative issues which pay little or nothing in the way of dividends. In the absence of unbridled speculative fervor, demand for these stocks has dried up.

The existence of divergent trends is not limited to the stock market; it is also apparent in the real estate market. Demand for office buildings, apartments, and good residential developments is holding up well, especially in large cities. Activity is still high and prices firm in these segments of the building industry.

In contrast, hotels and motels are still sliding in price in many areas. The same applies to farm lands. Those near large cities, and those situated on the side of such cities where the bulk of growth is taking place, still enjoy brisk demand and high valuations. This is especially true of property for shopping centers, industrial and office centers, and good-quality residential developments. However, farm lands, too far out remain a drag on the real estate market.

Many savings and loan associations, particularly in California, are paying 4.85% — a rate well above those permitted commercial banks. These are advertised in newspapers and magazines by the savings and loan associations which seek additional savings money to meet the demand for mortgage money.

In staid old New England, rates for savers run about 1% less than the California savings and loan associations pay. Lowest rates are paid by the savings departments of commercial banks and on commercial bank certificates of deposit; highest rates by the Massachusetts mutual savings banks — varying from 3¼% to 4¼% — and by savings and loans and so-called co-operative banks, which average a little higher.

I conclude by emphasizing what I said in the early portion of this column; namely, that two distinct markets are operating at the present time. Hence, it is unwise to argue whether we are in a bull market or in a bear market. These two different types of markets appear to be running along at the same time. Even the "blue chip" label is not a guarantee of sure-fire profits, as the 30 stocks which comprise the Dow-Jones Industrial Average have not all participated in the advance.

Therefore, I urge readers to be very selective in making their investments. Forget about whether this is a bull market or a bear market. Concentrate, instead, on the fundamental factors of quality, growth, and a healthy profits picture.

A look at the earnings and dividend records for the past year shows that the stocks which have enjoyed a bull market have been those of companies that have fared best in a keenly competitive climate and successfully surmounted the grueling cost squeeze. These companies have increased their profits and paid out larger dividends. This is no time for careless speculation.

Twice her mother had scolded her and, just as often, she had responded with the characteristic sounds of a child who has been unjustly treated.

She was neither angel nor devil, but a palatable combination of adolescent innocence and childish irascibility. And now, after successfully igniting the embers of anger within her parent, she suddenly reversed her complex behavior and caught her mother off guard.

"These are the same eggs that we get in our Easter baskets," she declared as her mother dipped them into the coloring solution at the kitchen table.

She made her profound statement, in the presence of her younger brothers and sisters, probably hoping that it would spark some words of denial from her mother. They didn't come. Instead, "Is that so?"

"Yes, and I know who puts them there ... It isn't the Easter Bunny either."

"Well," said her mother, "if the Easter Bunny doesn't put them there who does?"

"You do," she said fully expecting an angry denial. "The kids at school told me. They know everything. You put them there don't you?"

The eight-year-old's mother said nothing, waiting instead until bored of the egg coloring process, the other children retreated to their toys and play in another room. Alone with her oldest child at last, the mother pushed aside the eggs and spoke:

"You're getting to be a grown-up girl and I think you're old enough now to keep a big secret. Do you think you can keep a big secret?"

Her mother need not have asked. A secret! The girl's face flashed excitement as she indicated her willingness.

When the words were out, the child pondered them for a few minutes and then whispered in her mother's ear: "If that's so, what about Santa Claus?"

Almost regretting this moment of truth with her daughter, the mother reluctantly widened its scope. But the words had little apparent affect on the child, who once again cupped her hands and whispered:

"Can I help you and daddy put the presents under the Christmas tree next year?"

"Certainly," replied the mother.

"Then," added the child with eyes sparkling, "when Santa Claus gets here he won't have much work to do will he?"

"No," she said, "I'm afraid not."

Hits Danger On 7 Mile

To the Editor:

Why is Sheldon Hayes and his trucks & associated trucks allowed to carry clay and other soil out onto Seven Mile road and make a nasty, slippery mess of it when it rains and a dusty mess when dry? I speak of the area on Seven Mile road east of the C & O tracks and running in both directions from the entrance to the Sheldon Hayes gravel pit. I believe it is against the law to do such an act and I know that some poor citizen would be immediately prosecuted if he did such a thing. However because it is assumed that Sheldon Hayes is a rich man the authorities kow-tow to him and everything he does is all right. Who is it on the Northville Township Board that is so big hearted as to not bother Hayes and his continued violations of decency and right. Or is it just another case of the Township of Northville not having adequate police protection to stop such actions of our pampered big shot? Why not make Hayes clean up his mess just as any ordinary citizen would be compelled to do.

Restaurant to Serve Elderly at Half Price

It pavs to be over 65 at the Old Mill Restaurant in Northville.

In a new policy introduced this week Owner Howard Mitchell announced that all customers over 65 years of age will be served at half price.

Mitchell is calling the new plan the "Senior Citizens Dinner Club".

He admits that it's an experiment. "Maybe I won't be able to continue the idea, but we'll try it this year, anyway," Mitchell stated.

Special cards are available at the Old Mill that must be obtained by eligible members.

Two-Way Market

BABSON PARK, Mass. —

Many readers are wondering whether the stock market will advance much further beyond the 800 mark which the Dow-Jones Industrial Average has recently succeeded in penetrating. It may be that an extraordinary condition exists, in which we may be seeing two types of markets going on at the same time. That is, a bull market may be co-existing with a bear market.

Normally, a bull market is associated with a condition of rising stock prices. During these periods, many stocks participate in the market advance to varying degrees.
