

Five Years Ago

The Day 10 Tons Fell on Northville

It's a little surprising perhaps, but it's a fact: five years have passed since the crippled Thunderbolt jet screamed over the city and miraculously crashed in an empty Northville backyard.

Friday afternoon, May 9, 1959.

Five years have failed to dim the memories of the hundreds of area residents who heard or saw the 10-ton army jet crash and explode in a flaming inferno.

Nor have they forgotten the sight of 38-year-old Major John L. Moutier hanging below the parachute that drifted toward Cass Benton Park. But most vivid is their recollection that the plane plummeted from the sky toward the heart of the city, barely missing a busy downtown section, an elementary school, and a loaded school bus, to crash in a little vegetable garden.

A tiny backyard — the only visible opening where the plane could crash without demolishing countless homes and buildings, thought the pilot as he watched from his parachute.

"I could see the opening and prayed," he said. "That plane had an awful lot of outside assistance."

As the plane roared toward the city, a group of young children playing in the backyard of the newly appointed police chief, Eugene King, screamed and ran.

But three-year-old Elizabeth King couldn't move. Her foot was caught in a hole. And her brother, nine-year-old David King, stayed behind to rescue her. Both children were severely burned when the exploding jet hurled burning metal and fuel at them.

The jet streaked over Northville, its pilot gone, and plunged into a garden patch and exploded only a few hundred feet from a Northville school.

Five years have passed since then. And what of the two children, the pilot, and the 90-year-old woman who owned the Cady street garden patch where the plane chose to fall? What has happened to them?

Major Moutier, who took a special interest in the progress of the two injured King children, remained with the Air National Guard at Metropolitan Airport for about a year and then was transferred to the West Coast where he continued to pilot lightning fast jets.

Eventually, however, he retired from the service and at last report was working for an aircraft manufacturing firm in California.

Miss Ida Roe, who thought a school bus was backing when she heard the explosion behind her home, died several months after the jet buried itself in her backyard. Before her death she told this newspaper: "I've lived here ever since my family built the house 64 years ago. It's the worst thing that ever happened."

The two King children are healthy and well, although Beth, now 8, must still undergo more surgery to correct scars. Still the hero for Beth is her 14-year-old brother, David, a big, popular junior high school student.

Events Slated Every Day For Michigan Week Salute

Joining with hundreds of other communities, Northville will help boost the image of the Wolverine State in celebrating Michigan Week, Sunday through Saturday.

Local Michigan Week officials announced that special activities are planned for all seven days of the week-long, 11th annual celebration beginning Sunday.

Highlighting these activities, of course, will be the dedication of Northville's new city hall. (See story elsewhere on this page for details of the dedication program.)

As in the past Michigan Week will be launched on a spiritual note, and Northville churches will weave a spiritual Michigan Week theme into their morning worship services Sunday. Some will feature Michigan Week sermons, others will carry verbal and written messages concerning the important role churches have played in the development of the Apple Blossom State at the conclusion of their churches.

Later on Sunday, a two-part cultural program is planned at the Northville community building.

Northville's prize-winning stage band, directed by Robert Williams, will kick off the first part of the program with a concert at 2 p.m. Immediately following the concert, approximately at 3 p.m., the Northville Players Guild will present the celebrated musical, "Johnny Appleseed," featuring Northville area children and adults. Directed by Dr. Hans Kolbe, the musical promises to be a special treat for children.

At 4 p.m., the Northville Plymouth Writers Guild will present a program of poetry, featuring Northville poet, Max Ellison, who will read some of his own compositions.

The program will adjourn following the poetry presentation until 7 p.m. However, during this intermission and throughout the afternoon and evening the Three Cities Art Club will display paintings and pottery, a special display of Michigan Ambassador Cards, developed by Northville's own Lawrence Wright, will be set up, and the newly organized Northville Historical Society will maintain a membership table at the community building.

A special presentation of folk songs will open the second-half of the program at 7 p.m. Singing and accompanying himself on the guitar will be Marie Bonamici of Plymouth.

At approximately 7:30 p.m., the Northville Camera Club will present a "photomontage" program featuring specially selected, colorful slides of Michigan's numerous assets.

The program will close with a second concert by the Northville band at 8 p.m.

A full-day of activities is planned for Monday when the mayor of Schoolcraft and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Michael Kaufman, visit Northville as part of the Mayor's exchange program. While the Schoolcraft dignitary visits Northville, Mayor A. M. Allen and Councilman Richard Ambler will visit Schoolcraft.

At 9:30 a.m. Northville hosts will meet the Schoolcraft visitors at the Old Spring. The caravan of cars carrying visitors and hosts will proceed along Main street and Northville's marching band will escort them to the city hall.

A flag-raising ceremony is scheduled to take place at 10 a.m., with the Rev. S. D. Kinde, pastor of the First Methodist Church of Northville, delivering the invocation.

At 10:30 a council meeting will be held, with Mayor Kaufman as an official guest. Following a discussion of mutual community problems and projects, the meeting will adjourn at 11:30.

The Northville Rotary Club will host exchange guests at a noon luncheon in the Presbyterian Church. Guest speaker for the occasion will be William Boyd, director of community relations for the Plymouth State Home & Training School. Later in the afternoon, the guests will tour the training school facilities. Tours of the city and other business and industrial plants also are scheduled.

Because of activities on Government Day, the regular Northville city council meeting normally held at 8 p.m. on Monday has been postponed until Tuesday at 8 p.m.

On Tuesday, Hospitality Day, the Northville Historical Society will feature a slide presentation on Michigan's and Northville's historical interurban railroad system by Edmond Yerkes. Residents of Northville and surrounding areas are invited to attend the meeting slated to begin at 8 p.m. in the basement of the old library building.

In addition, the junior high school will present its Festival of Arts on Tuesday from 7 to 9:30 p.m. in the boys' gymnasium (Community building). All classes — not only those in art — will display classroom projects.

The Hartley-Powers Gallery, located on Main street, will serve refreshments for local and out-of-town visitors as a hospitality gesture on Tuesday. Throughout the week, paintings and pottery by Northville artists will be on display at the Gallery, demonstrating the local community's contribution to the culture of Michigan.

Two open house programs are slated to take place on Wednesday, between 7 and 9 p.m. One will be at the Edgerton Handcrafts studio, 571 Randolph, where demonstrations in weaving, jewelry making, and ceramics will take place.

and the other will be at Bob Stewart's art studio, above the P&A Theatre where a painting class will demonstrate their work.

Earlier in the day, high school student council members will take over the reigns of the city as they assume the positions of city officials. At 9 a.m., David Jerome, acting city manager, Rose Budek, acting clerk, and Lance Hahn, acting police chief, will meet with their real respective counterparts and discuss the work of these officials.

Then at 11 a.m., five other student council members who have been elected to serve as city councilmen, will join their three fellow students. The young council members are Dawn McCollum, Jean Donner, Howard Jones, Holly Hines and Eric Peterson. All of the student officials will be entertained by the real city officials at Saratoga Farms restaurant at a noon luncheon. At 1 p.m. the students will return to the city hall for a "council meeting", with City Manager Bruce Potthoff serving as moderator.

Dedication of the city hall will take place on Thursday, Education Day. Also throughout the week, shoebox diorama displays made by Northville students will be exhibited in downtown store windows. Prizes for the best made displays will be awarded by the Northville Historical Society.

On Friday Northville merchants will kick-off special sales and promotions in connection with Michigan Week. Refreshments also will be given shoppers on Saturday.

Rounding out the week will be the annual clean-up campaign sponsored by the Northville Junior Chamber of Commerce on Saturday. Beginning at 7 a.m. the Jaycees, assisted by Northville firemen and other volunteers, will scrub downtown streets with fire hoses and brooms.

At 9 a.m., the Jaycees will man nine trucks and travel throughout the city picking up trash and debris, provided its placed in containers or can be moved without falling apart. "We don't care how big or bulky it is, but we don't want to pick up a cardboard box and have the junk fall on the ground," officials have stated. While picking up trash, the Jaycees will be selling flowering crab trees. When all trees on hand are gone, they'll take orders and deliver them later.

Approximately a dozen neighboring property owners attended the hearing to protest "noise and dust". Earlier Supervisor R. D. Merriam had predicted that some 240,000 yards of sand would be removed if the permit were granted.

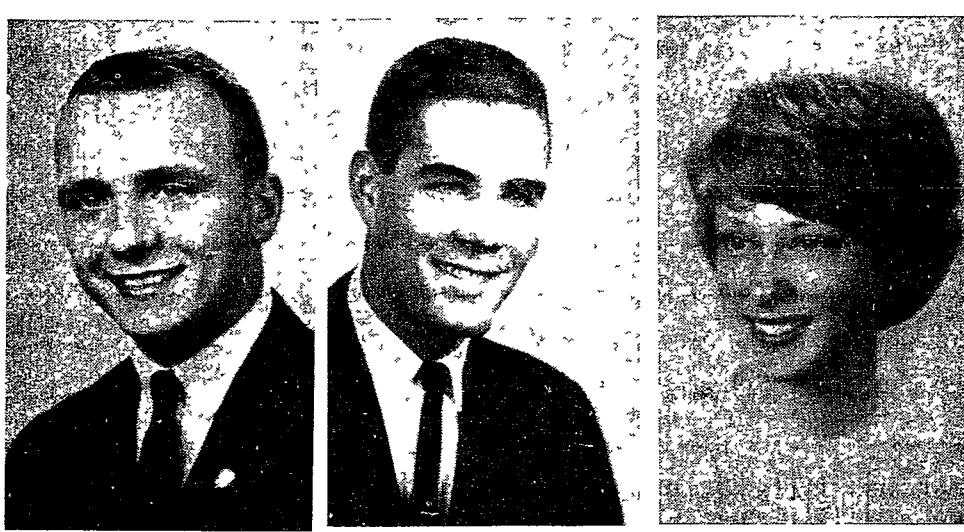

The second request was made by the Fruehauf company and pertained to a nearby site of 160 acres owned by Robert Haass and located south of Six Mile and East of Bradner.

An attorney for the petitioners said some 500,000 cubic yards of sand would be removed to level the land for subdividing. Northville Township Engineer William Mosher estimated it would total 875,000 cubic yards. About eight neighboring residents protested to this request at the Thursday night hearing.

Special invitations have been sent to all former office holders. Another private showing for area community officials will be held at a later date.

Open house, dedication and cornerstone laying ceremonies for Northville's new city hall will be conducted Thursday, May 21 in conjunction with the Michigan Week celebration. Clerk Martha Milne, who is in charge of program arrangements, stated that the city hall would be open for public tours from 10 a.m. until 10 p.m. on Thursday. Official ceremonies will begin at 8 p.m. in front of the city hall. Nelson C. Schrader will be the dedication speaker, while Mayor A. M. Allen will officiate at the cornerstone laying. William C. Sliger will serve as master of ceremonies. A former pastor of St. Paul's Lutheran church in Northville, the Reverend Edward E. Ros-

Chamber of Commerce To Elect Nine Directors

A meeting to approve by-laws and elect a nine-member board of directors has been called for the newly-organized Northville Community Chamber of Commerce.

The session will be held Wednesday evening, May 20 at the city hall council chambers.

Organizers of the chamber of commerce report some 82 membership applications received from local businesses, industries, professional people and interested citizens.

Nineteen candidates have been selected by a nominating committee from which the general membership will elect nine board members.

Directors will serve three-year terms, but terms will be staggered in initial elections so that three will be elected for three years, three for two years and three for one-year terms.

Nine in Race for Three Board of Education Seats

Three more hats, two flower-laden, were tossed into the race for school board as the deadline for filing was reached Saturday.

The field of candidates now numbers nine — six seeking the two four-year terms and three running for the one-year term.

Latest candidates are Frank W. Angle, Mrs. Arthur R. Hempe, Jr. and Mrs. Robert F. Lang.

Angle and Mrs. Hempe join incumbent James Kipper, Eugene K. Cook, Arthur J. Prodder and Hurd Sutherland in the race for the two four-year terms.

Mrs. Lang and G. M. Bown and E. O. Weber will vie for the final year of a four-year term originally held by Donald Lawrence and then filled by appointment during the past year by William Templeton, who is not a candidate for reelection.

Angle lives at 44955 Thornapple Lane and is employed with the labor relations staff of the General Motors Corporation. He is married and has four children.

Mrs. Hempe is a housewife whose husband is part owner of O and S Bearing Company in Whitmore Lake. The Hempes reside at 46246 West Penner court and have five children.

Mrs. Lang is also a housewife. Her husband is a member of the labor relations staff of American Motors Corporation. Residents of 46670 Stratford court, the Langs have three children.

The school board election will be held Monday, June 8.

Young Man Killed On Sewer Job Here

A Garden City man was crushed to death last week Wednesday afternoon when a power shovel bucket fell on him while he worked on a sewer line under construction just southeast of South Main and Park Place in Northville.

Dead on arrival at St. Mary Hospital was Charles Schneider, 34, of 33747 Marquette, Garden City.

The victim was employed by Northwest Contractors, Inc. the firm which is laying the new Novi sanitary sewer line through the city into the village of Novi. He was a pipe layer.

According to Northville police, Calvin Davis of 643 North Center street, Northville, also an employee of Northwest, was operating the power shovel. Davis had just moved his shovel away from the trench in preparation to extend excavation when the locking device on the shovel failed and it started to roll forward. To prevent the shovel from possibly rolling into the trench the driver dropped the bucket, police said.

Seconds before, Schneider had jumped into the trench to place a steel plate across the mouth of the sewer crack. Apparently, he thought there was plenty of clearance between himself and the shovel, witnesses told police.

Neither Davis nor the workmen guiding the shovel operator saw Schneider in the trench, they said.

Board Studies Bids to Remove Township Soil

Two requests to remove soil from acreage in Northville township are still being studied by the board of appeals.

Hearings were held last week on Wednesday and Thursday evenings on the two requests, but the board delayed action. A Tuesday evening study session failed to produce a decision.

Appeals Board Chairman Gunnar Stromberg stated that "a court case seems inevitable" if the board denies the requests, at least in one of the instances.

Wednesday evening the board heard a request by Alex Gordon, owner of a 120-acre site on the east side of Bradner north of Elk road. A 192-home development has been planned for the site, but Gordon's attorney stated that a one-year permit to remove sand would be needed to lower the level thus making the area more suitable for subdividing. Sewer service is now available to the area and water is anticipated in the future.

Approximately a dozen neighboring property owners attended the hearing to protest "noise and dust".

Earlier Supervisor R. D. Merriam had predicted that some 240,000 yards of sand would be removed if the permit were granted.

The second request was made by the Fruehauf company and pertained to a nearby site of 160 acres owned by Robert Haass and located south of Six Mile and East of Bradner.

An attorney for the petitioners said some 500,000 cubic yards of sand would be removed to level the land for subdividing.

Northville Township Engineer William Mosher estimated it would total 875,000 cubic yards. About eight neighboring residents protested to this request at the Thursday night hearing.

Poster Winner

Senior Sally Mallette will have plenty of tickets for the May 22 P-TA spring carnival. For designing the winning poster proclaiming the "May Fair" theme she won $3.00 in carnival tickets. Second and third prizes went to Judy Gregerson and Holly Hines.

Dog Clinic Flops; Returns May 23

What happened to Northville's dogs?

The mystery of the missing dogs is puzzling both City Clerk Martha Milne and Township Clerk Marguerite Young.

They didn't show up at the annual vaccination clinic held Saturday morning at the city fire station. Only 29 township dogs were licensed and just 42 from the city.

Last year the city and township had nearly 300 licensed dogs each. Dog owners will be given one more chance. Another clinic has been set for Saturday, May 23 from 9 a.m. until noon.

Licenses must be obtained before June 1. Because two-year vaccine is used, some dogs will not need vaccinations.

But the city-township clinic provides dog owners the chance to obtain their licenses, as well as vaccinations, quickly.

Chrysler Scholarship Goes to Senior Girl

CAROL WERDEHOFF

Carol Werdehoff, 18-year-old daughter of Mr. Mrs. Albert Werdehoff, Jr. of 919 Carrington, has been awarded a four-year scholarship by the Chrysler Corporation.

Miss Werdehoff was chosen for the distinctive award by her outstanding achievement on the National Merit tests.

A board member of the high school Girls Athletic League and the Honor Society, the Northville senior plans to enter the Michigan State's Oakland College next fall where she probably will study sociology.

The scholarship winner works part time after school at Travel Plans, Inc.

She's Feted At 3 Showers

Pam Parmenter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Parmenter of Thayer, was feted at three bridal showers in the past three weeks.

On April 25, Mrs. George Weiss, Mrs. James Cowie and Mrs. Jack Blackburn combined with 18 people for a mother-daughter shower. On May 2, Sue Winner, Pam's bridesmaid, Miss Carol Morse, Miss Grace Brinson with some 20 guests gave her a kitchen and linen shower.

Finally, on May 9 Mrs. William Davis and Mrs. Edwin Langtry, with 25 guests, gathered at the Round Table Club for a round-the-clock shower — giving the bride-elect something she will be using for every hour on the clock.

Pam will become the bride of James Correll on June 20.

Town Hall Seeks Award Applications

Only 16 days remain for submission of applications for cash awards to area organizations, Northville Town Hall board of awards committees announced this week.

Groups interested are asked to make requests in writing, stating the need, amount and use to which the monies would be put. The applications should be addressed to Mrs. William Milne, 537 West Dunlap street.

Town Hall Chairman Mrs. H. F. Wagenschutz has stated that the awards to be given will be in excess of $1,000. They will be made to groups in the four areas served by Northville Town Hall: Farmington, Livonia, Northville and Plymouth.

This will be the third year awards have been given. The awards will be made during the first week in June.

Although Northville Town Hall is sponsored by Our Lady of Victory Altar Society, it has become a community project, with outside groups sharing half of its proceeds in this manner.

Last year Northville area awards were made to the Northwest Child Guidance Clinic ($600) and to the King's Daughters ($100).

Northville residents serving on the awards committee are Mrs. Wagenschutz, Mrs. Milne and Herman Moehlan.

Northville Girl Stars With Adrian Singers

Marcia Clum

Six Adrian College freshmen students, including one from Northville, banded together in September to form a singing group called the Chancelaers.

This group will represent Adrian at the first annual Inter-collegiate folk contest sponsored by Olivet College.

The contest which will be held on the Olivet campus on May 15, will draw contestants from colleges and universities throughout Michigan.

Four men and two women compose the singing group from Adrian. These include Marcia Clum of Northville, Doug Carter, Bob Elliott, Jim Glendinning, Mike Curry and Marilyn Dixon.

The Chancelaers organized by chance when they were singing together during freshmen week. Since that time the group has sung to both on campus and off-campus groups.

The group is unique in that they can sing both folk and popular music. They do not use guitars such as other folk groups, and the group size is different from the standard trio or quartet.

Engaged

Mr. and Mrs. James D. Howarth of East Seven Mile road are announcing the engagement of their daughter, Janice Martha, to Don J. Doolittle, son of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Doolittle of Rochester, Michigan.

A June 13 wedding is being planned.

In Our Town

By Jean Day

TWO PORTRAITS on display in the Michigan Week exhibit in Northville's new city hall are examples of a fine talent that, coincidentally, literally had its beginnings "at city hall."

The artist, Dolores Teshka, made her home in the old city hall building with her parents, the Arnold Teshkas, in the portion that was a residence. From there she attended and was graduated from Northville high school in 1956. Then she commuted to the Society of Arts and Crafts school in Detroit, "suffering" two two-hour bus rides daily for her art education.

Now a recognized Detroit artist and teacher of color and design at the Society, Miss Teshka has received a signal honor: a rare Fulbright art scholarship for a year's study in Europe. Furthermore, she has arranged to take the year in four three-month summer sojourns, each in a different country.

This first summer she will study in Austria under Oscar Kokoshka, whose celebrated school has received international art notice. To help her follow her major interest in painting, she has arranged to have a Volkswagen waiting at the end of her flight.

She first heard of Kokoshka's Austrian school and was encouraged to attend it by an Austrian lady in Detroit with whom she now lives. Her parents now make their home on Cady street. Mr. Teshka has retired; Mrs. Teshka is afternoon dispatcher in the new city hall office.

Although this young artist spent four months in advance preparation for her Fulbright application, she makes an art career sound satisfying. She tells of her present work in the medium of Chinese ink-stick with water Color: "I use traditional oriental paper which is absorbent and demanding. Once the brush is applied there can be no alteration."

MOVING DAYS can have a delightful aftermath, as the Frank W. Angles found Saturday evening when they were surprised with a housewarming given by a group of 28 Northville friends.

The Angles have moved from North Rogers street to 44955 Thornapple lane, former home of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Kay. The Kays have moved to Rivard boulevard in Grosse Pointe where Mr. Kay is principal of Richard Pere Gabriel school.

NOT BIKINIS but muumius will be needed to help launch the social season at Northville swim club. June 13 is the date for a Hawaiian party for adult members and "aikanes" (invited friends). June 12 teenagers will have a western-style Hootennany party with games and prizes. Mrs. Robert Yoder is in charge of the Luau, and Mrs. H. O. Evans, the teenage "Hoot."

The Junior high members will be treated to a Beatle Bath party being planned by Mrs. Essie Nirider for June 18. A children's circus party on June 16 is under the direction of Mrs. Donald Schwendemann.

A SPINNING WHEEL in a window display in Lapham's Men's shop will point up the activities of Northville's new historical society during Michigan Week. The society has been "spinning yarns of yesteryear" on tape at its meetings. The window is to carry out a theme of an earlier period.

CONTRIBUTIONS for two booths on the junior midway at PTA carnival May 22 will be the responsibility of Northville school children. "White Elephants" will be solicited for the booth to be manned by the Northville branch of the Farm and Garden club under the direction of Mrs. Linwood Snow, Jr. Kindergarten room mothers will be in charge of the Surprise Package booth with 25-cent gifts for boys, girls and adults.

Past Matrons to Meet

The Past Matrons club will meet at 12:30 p.m. Wednesday, May 20 at the home of Mrs. W. H. Johnston of Orchard drive. Serving as co-hostess will be Mrs. H. A. Boyden.

Nancy Beard Initiated Into Phi Beta Kappa

Nancy Beard was one of 12 outstanding Albion College seniors honored Wednesday evening at a Phi Beta Kappa national scholastic formal initiation ceremony and banquet on the campus. Dr. William B. Wilcox, professor of history at the University of Michigan, climaxed the activities with a public lecture on "The Academic and the English Language."

To be eligible for Phi Beta Kappa a student must excel in the field of liberal arts, obtaining at least a 2.4 overall grade average (based on 3. system) by the end of the first semester.

VFW Eyes Poppy Sale

By Mary Lou Braun

Very soon it will again be time for the annual sale of V.F.W. Buddy Poppies. We hope that this year, as in years past, the public will lend wholehearted support to this very worthy cause.

The amount given often ranges from a few pennies to a few dollars, but whatever the amount it is gratefully accepted and put to a very good use.

Perhaps most people don't even know exactly where and how their money is used, so therefore, listed below is a breakdown of how each dollar is spent:

45 cents — Post and Auxiliary Relief Funds; 15 cents — Dept. Rehabilitation Funds; 10 cents — National Orphans Home and Hospital; 10 cents — National Rehabilitation Fund; 7 1/2 cents — Cost of Materials; 10 cents — cost of Literature & Sales Promotion; 2 1/2 cents — Disabled Vets for Assembling Poppies.

May we count on each and every one of you to contribute again this year?

CHIMP GOES SHOPPING — Joining Suzi LaRue of 638 North Center street on a Friday shopping trip to downtown Northville was this 18-month-old chimpanzee owned by Bill Durham of Seven Mile road. Dressed in clothes, complete from hat to shoes, the chimp, named "Terry", was raised with the children of an African family and sent to the United States a short time ago. The friendly pet wears diapers, wears clothes, sleeps in a baby crib and eats in a high chair. He's been with Durham for about three weeks. According to Suzi, the chimp's baby sister, "Terry" is well behaved even on shopping trips. He's a gentleman too — he refused to wear his hat, while having his picture taken inside the Record office.

'Love's
Labor Lost'

It was love — expensive love — at first sight.
So for months Jim Hensley, volunteer Novi fireman, painfully but regularly came up with monthly payments... anxiously awaiting the day when he could take home the beautiful new rifle and scope he spotted last fall in a local business place.
On Monday Jim made his last payment on the $219 rifle.
The excited bachelor put the rifle in the back seat of his car, covered it with some clothes, and then stopped at the fire hall before taking his home.
An hour or so later he left — only to return in a few minutes to report the rifle stolen. Someone had taken it from his car while it was parked behind the police station.

Slayer
Sentence
For Life

A Farmington township man, arraigned in Novi several months ago for slaying a mother of four, was sentenced to a maximum life sentence in Oakland county circuit court last week.
Circuit Court Judge Philip Pratt, who ruled William H. Hoskins guilty of second-degree murder, ordered him to South Michigan Prison at Jackson to serve to maximum sentence.
Hoskins was convicted on December 10 for killing of Mrs. Carol Westerman, 27, also of Farmington township.
Upon his arraignment here in justice court, Hoskins was accused of stabbing and shooting the victim in his rented trailer while his 12-year-old daughter slept in an adjoining room.
Apprehended in Middlesboro, Kentucky a day after the killing, Hoskins told police he stabbed Mrs. Westerman with an ice pick and shot her with a pistol after she asked him to kill her.

Dam Finally Breaks

Mustangs Tally 21 Times

The Northville Mustangs hit their high water mark of the season when they flooded across 21 runs to post two wins in Wayne-Oakland league play the past week.

In two games, then, Northville scored more runs than it had all season long. In the past, the Mustangs tallied only 17 times in seven contests.

The Mustangs made it look easy as they clouted five home runs, a three-bagger, three doubles and eight singles.

And Coach Chuck Shonta came up with a winning formula by using his ace pitcher, Eric Peterson, in relief. As a result, Peterson gained credit for both wins and ran his string of scoreless innings to 17 and two-thirds innings. That's pretty fair twirling in any man's league.

The fielding was much improved, too, as Northville committed only three errors.

Although it was a combination of solid pitching, hitting and fielding that brought victory, it was the hitting which made the big difference. After all, the pitching, except for a few isolated incidents, has been good this season.

First victim of the wrathful Mustangs was Brighton, which was inundated by a 10-3 count here Monday.

Leadoff man, Howie Jones, tipped Northville's hand when he drove a ball over the left field fence. Before Brighton could get set, it threw the ball around the field as Larry An-gove, who had walked, scooted around to score the second run.

But Northville fell behind, 3-2, when Brighton scored twice in the fourth.

Dave Jerome and Doug Swiss then put homers back to back in the Mustangs' half of the same inning to put Northville out front to stay, 4-3.

The biggest clout of the day, however, came in the fifth. Angove and John Mach singled and Bob Beller drove them across with a resounding smack over the left field fence. At this point, there was little doubt who would win with Northville leading, 7-3.

Northville added insult to injury in the next frame by scoring three more times. Jerome, started things off with a walk and scored on Swiss' long triple. John Jameson then singled Swiss home. The final run came home on Angove's double.

Just about everybody got in to the hitting act, including Jones with a home run and a double; Angove, a double and single; Jerome, a home run and a single; Swiss, a homer and a triple; Jameson, two singles; Beller, a round tripper, and Bob Bartschi, a single.

The victory over Clarenceville, 11-5, Monday was a gift as three Trojan hurlers gave up 13 walks while their teammates were committing four costly errors.

With Clarenceville leading, 5-4, in the third frame. Peterson silenced the Trojan bats. He relieved starter Steve Evans, who had given up five runs on five hits and a walk, including a homer.

In a sense, Evans atoned partially for his weak mound performance by lifting a high fly ball over the fence with a man aboard.

It was a three run third that turned the trick for Northville as they assumed 7-5 lead.

Peterson walked and struck out four batters while his teammates gave him solid backing in the field.

Northville garnered only four hits, but it got the maximum mileage out of them. Besides Evans' homer, Jim Mazel, Beller and Jameson slammed singles.

Mustang ace Eric Peterson shows the form that wins ball games.

Salem Eyes 'Rezoning'

Citizens opinions were expressed and the issues clarified at a public hearing Tuesday of the Salem township zoning board on the matter of rezoning property at the corner of Currie and Six Mile roads.

Board Chairman Arthur Graham said the board's recommendation would not be made until after a review of the "until after a review of the" Of approximately 35 persons attending the meeting the opinions expressed were for the most part not in favor of the rezoning requested by Post Lane Farms of Detroit.

Two specific rezoning requests were aired at the meeting. Each called for reclassification from "Agricultural" to "Light Manufacturing" designations.

One application specified that the major portion of a total land area in question would be used for a "trailer park." The other specified that a minor portion of the total would be used for two "industrial buildings."

From a letter entered with the board by Louis Savage, representing Post Lane Farms, it was learned that the complete 170-acre area is intended to contain a 265-trailer park area and accessory buildings, the industrial area and an 800' by 2000' area for permanent dwellings.

Savage, however, pointed out that the permanent dwelling area would not be considered in the owner's plans unless the trailer park and industrial areas were rezoned as requested.

Citizens opinions on the proposal centered mainly on the trailer park, which was repeatedly termed "objectionable" to have in the neighborhood.

Barons Edge Local Netmen

The Northville netmen lost two tough ones while winning only one the past week to run their record to 5-4 in Wayne-Oakland league play.

Bright spot in the last three matches, however, has been Norbert Parent, who won each time out by convincing scores. "He's looked real good," reports Coach Dick Norton.

Bloomfield Hills, the title favorite and undefeated league leader, squeezed by Northville, 3-2, on its home court May 6.

Parent, playing in the number two singles spot, won 6-3, 6-1, and the doubles combo of Jim Long-Dave Schmidt scored an upset in downing Bloomfield's top duo, 6-8, 10-8, 6-3.

From there on in Northville was subjected to rough treatment as Jim Wiedner dropped the number one singles match, 6-0, 6-2; Randy Caliguri was thumped, 6-1, 6-0, and the combination of Larry Tibbos and Bill French was toppled 6-1, 6-3.

An upset cost Northville a victory in a match last Thursday at Clarkston 3-2.

The doubles team of Long-Schmidt was beaten badly in an upset, 6-2, 6-3. "It was a let down after their good showing against a stronger doubles team from Bloomfield Hills," Norton noted.

Parent again was a winner, 6-1, 6-3. The duo of Wiedner and Caliguri took up some of the slack, however, by winning in a long match, 9-11, 7-5, 6-4.

Suffering losses were great Ricketts, six-love, 6-2, in the first singles and Tibbos, 7-5, 4-6, 8-6 in the number two slot.

Northville's lone conquest came at the generous hands of weak Clarenceville, 5-0, Monday.

Bob Langtry, back in action after a slight layoff, dumped his man 6-3, 6-2; Parent breezed along, 6-0, 6-1, and Tibbos also made a strong showing in winning, 6-2, 6-1.

The doubles teams also had great success, winning with ease. Wiedner-Caliguri worked a 6-3, 6-0 victory and competition newcomers Bill Hart and Ron McCollum blasted their opponents off the court in straight love sets.

Golfers Notch 2 Wins For Northville High

The Northville golf express got up a head of winning steam the past week by slamming its way to two wins.

Milford, a previous victor over the Mustangs, lost by a lopsided count, 165-184 Monday on the back nine of Meadowbrook Country Club. But Milford was lacking its two best golfers because of some previous commitment.

Making a habit of grabbing medalist honors was Jim St.

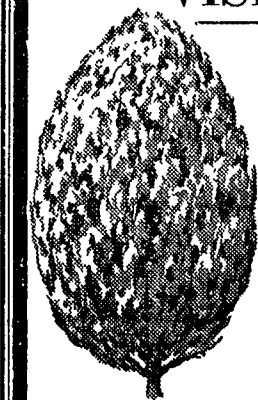

Germain, Northville's most consistent performer and top golfer. He carded a 36, two under his closest competitor, teammate Rick Talbot. Jim Bertoni, another Mustang who fires near 40 every time out, turned in a 43. He was followed by Ron Bennett with a 48.

Coach Al Jones again pointed out that if they are consistent, he's confident his boys will win.

2 Records Fall In Track Meets

Two new school records were established the past week in separate track meets, one a triangular with Brighton and Milford and the other in a dual meet with South Lyon, which Northville won easily, 71-38.

Kent Kipfer, who recently set a new school pole vault record of 11 feet, beat that mark by soaring over the bar at 11 feet six inches. The vault, however, was only good for second place in the triangular as a Milford thindlad won by missing the bar fewer times.

The 880-yard relay team of Terry Winner, Jack Crawford, Kipfer and Ralph Caliguri smashed the previous school mark of 1:36.4 by turning in a scintillating time of 1:35.9.

In running South Lyon out of Northville Monday by virtue of a 71-38 pasting, the Mustangs made their most impressive showing of the season, although admittedly against a weaker foe.

Northville, en route to victory, copied nine of 13 firsts. The long list of winners was Jerry Burns, shot put; Jim Mazel, broad jump; Mike Hall, 440-yard dash; Kipfer, the pole vault and the 100-yard dash; Caliguri, 180-yard low hurdles; Winner, 220-yard dash and the team of Ken Puff, Chuck Annett, Dave Cook and Hall, mile relay.

Northville also piled up second and third place points, including Annett, second in the mile; Eric Peterson, second in the high jump; Jim Trotter, second in the 220; Crawford, third in the 220; and the 100-yard dash; Russ Straith, third in the 440; Joe Loynes, third in the 880; Dennis Cook, third in the 180-yard high hurdles; Gary Adams, second in the high jump, and Phil Prinsnell, third in the high jump.

Milford, with 86 and one-half points and eight of 13 first places, simply powered its way to a cinder win over Northville (28 points) and Brighton (22 and one-half points) here Friday.

A battle royal is thus in the offing when Milford and Bloomfield Hills will meet head on to determine the conference winner.

Northville garnered only two firsts, with Terry Winner racing to victory in the 220-yard dash and teaming up with Crawford, Kipfer and Caliguri to walk off with first place honors in the 880-yard relay.

It was third and fourth place points, however, that provided the margin of victory over Brighton.

Kipfer took third in the 100-yard dash; Caliguri leaped to third in the 180-yard low hurdles; Crawford raced to third in the 220-yard sprint; Burns heaved the shot good for third; Peterson copped third in the high jump and Puff leaped to a third place finish in the broad jump.

CLARENCEVILLE WINS — Despite this winning 16', 11 1/2" jump of Bill Wilcox, Northville seventh grader, the junior high track team lost out to Clarenceville Tuesday evening by a single point, 41-40. Coach John Hyde, who has a team of 40 boys, is looking forward to next Wednesday's meet here with Milford Highland. The local squad won its first meet, 49-33.

JV Bats Blaze; Northville Wins

The Northville Jayvees

swung a mean bat to win their second game in succession Monday when they banged out nine hits for a 6-4 decision over South Lyon on the road.

A three-run last inning, scoring Carrie Joe Stevenson, Bill Sliger and Mike Grant brought Northville from behind to the deciding margin.

South Lyon made a game of it in the early innings by scoring three times on two walks, a single, two errors and two steals.

Northville got one run back in the fourth when Frank Pauli singled, stole second and scored on a single by Chris Holman. The Colts tied the score in the top of the sixth with

Trapped in 25-Foot Deep Shaft

'Nine Lives' Spared in Novi

Nine lives were saved Thursday in a dramatic rescue at the Willowbrook Stables, corner of Beck and 10 Mile roads.

When it was all over, five-year-old Randy Wroten, son of Mr. and Mrs. Moe Wroten — new owners of the stables, smiled and hugged his two-tone cat named Fluffy.

And Fluffy purred and lapped up a dish full of milk — not at all concerned about the alarm, excitement and sympathy he generated in his young owner and a half-dozen or more adults.

And why should he? It was just another day in the nine lives of an adventurous cat.

At about 2 p.m. Friday, Fluffy leaped from the arms of his owner onto what he probably thought was a shadow a few feet from the Wroten house. But the shadow turned out to be a 25-foot deep abandoned water shaft.

So for more than four hours the cat huddled at the bottom of the shaft while above Randy's dad and several other grown-ups dangled ropes and sticks down the 12-inch opening in hopes of coaxing the cat to the surface.

Fluffy wouldn't — or couldn't be budged.

Then police were summoned. After officers agreed the hole was too small to lower newspaper reporters at the scene down the shaft, Chief Lee BeGole called the Anti-Cruelty Association of Michigan, 13569 Joseph Campau, Detroit.

Out came an association ambulance and Robert Sutter became the real hero. Lowering what he called a "cat pole" with an adjustable noose at the end, Sutter and Randy's dad "fished" for more than 30 minutes before looping the noose over the cat.

Up came Fluffy.

And down into the shaft went stones, posts, and debris. "Nothing," promised the happy boy's father, "will ever fall down that hole again."

So Randy smiled, Fluffy lapped up his milk, and the reporters went away murmuring something about being too fat.

RESCUE — Attempting to snag a five-year-old boy's cat, trapped at the bottom of a 25-foot abandoned water shaft at 10 Mile and Beck, are Robert Sutter (left) of the Anti-Cruelty Association of Michigan and Moe Wroten, the boy's father.

LET'S TALK CARS...

Can You Afford A New Car This Year?

If you've been looking over the new '64 models but holding back because you didn't think you could afford one, then here is something to think about. Recent national studies have borne out the fact that the difference in cost of owning and operating a new car compared to one three years old or more is diminishing.

In our growing automation economy, service costs are increasing faster than manufacturing costs, coupled with the fact that today's new cars are less and less subject to breakdown.

Anyone who owns a car purchased in 1958 or 1959, for instance, would be amazed at the improvements in this year's models. Even in the last three years there have been great changes. The new cars perform and ride tremendously better. Body squeaks and rattles have been almost completely eliminated and there is increased operating economy. Automatic transmissions are also vastly improved.

If you are driving a car you purchased 3 or more years ago then you owe it to yourself to take a demonstration ride in one of the new cars. Only sitting in and driving one of these new cars can make you realize what you are missing in not owning one.

Finally, if you add up the cost of depreciation and maintenance of your present car against that of a new one, you'll be surprised at how little the two figures will vary. You may find that the pleasure and comfort and safety of owning a new car will more than outweigh that difference.

Local Historical Society Plans Membership Drive

Capitalizing on the incorporation of "Our Heritage" as part of the Michigan Week observance, the recently organized Northville Historical Society is planning a campaign to gain both publicity and an increased membership during Michigan Week, May 17-23.

Plans are afoot to make it easy to become a member of a group of private citizens dedicated to the purpose of "Preserving the Past for the Future."

On Sunday evening, May 17 when activities are centered at the Community Building for an art exhibit sponsored by the Three Cities Art Guild and a drama by the Northville Players Guild, a Society member will be available to answer queries and to sell memberships.

During the following business week a desk will be set up at the Manufacturer's Bank and will be staffed during afternoon business hours.

Primarily, the group is "Taping Yesterday for Tomorrow" by having the long-time residents recall the origins of various local happenings in taped interviews under the direction of Curator Edmund Yeckes.

At a recent meeting a tape prepared by Verkes and Ray VanValkenburg traced the coming of electricity to Northville from pioneer efforts at the Globe Furniture Company to the eventual take-over by Detroit Edison.

It was most enlightening to hear Van Valkenburg relate that at one time every woman in Northville who had an electric iron was home on Tuesday afternoon because the electricity was turned on at 1 p.m., instead of at dark that day, in order for those housewives to do their week's ironing.

Rather than collect objects, such as furniture and bulky items requiring extensive storage and exhibit space initially, the group is concentrating on pictorial records, diaries and printed records as well as the tapes.

Further information may be secured from Mrs. C. M. Chase, president; Richard Lyon, membership chairman; and Miss Ruth Knapp, treasurer.

Currently, meetings are held on the third Tuesday each month from October to May at 8 p.m. in the Library building.

Parents Plan Party For Northville Grads

Plans for a graduation party on June 15 by parents of Northville seniors are well underway, Mrs. C. St. Germain and Mrs. J. Whiteford, co-chairmen of publicity announced this week.

In a letter sent out to parents of seniors, the co-chairmen explained that it is hoped that the party will become an annual affair.

They pointed out that voluntary donations of money to cover expenses are needed. With 165 seniors in the 1964 graduating class, an estimated $700 will be needed to make the party a reality, they said.

"We need about $5 therefore, per senior. However, any amount will be appreciated and all donations will be kept confidential. Please mail all contributions to Mrs. J. L. Hahn, 464 Welch street, Northville. An early response will help speed up our plans."

"We have decided to go all out for this party. A well-known disc jockey will be on hand to entertain and play records. There will be a variety of games for those who do not dance. A tempting assortment of snacks will be served throughout the evening. Special door prizes and last but not least a breakfast served around 3 a.m."

Mrs. St. Germain explained that committee officers are hoping that the party will take the place of numerous individual "house parties." By having this supervised party, she emphasized, the committee expects to eliminate drinking parties.

Persons wishing to contact Mrs. Hahn by telephone to inform her of their contributions are asked to call FI 9-2014.

Committee members are: Mrs. H. Guenther, chairman; Mrs. E. Rice, secretary; Mrs. J. Hahn, finance; Mrs. J. Harrison, entertainment; Mrs. R. Brueck, breakfast; Mr. and Mrs. P. Ramanos, snacks; Mrs. C. St. Germain, publicity and rules; Mrs. D. Straith, telephone; Mrs. H. Wedemeyer, chaperon; and H. Hembeker, security.

JH Teachers To Receive Pins

Receiving pins at the 7:30 p.m. meeting in the community building will be Mrs. Patricia Quinlan and John Hyde. The meeting will be held just before the junior high festival of arts begins.

Oscar's Response to Tribute

"Greatest Wealth a Man Can Have"

MORE THAN 300 Legionnaires and friends of C. Oscar Hammond came to Northville Saturday night from throughout the state to pay tribute to the American Legion state commander. Dinner and official ceremonies were held in the community building. A social hour preceding and a dance following were held at the post home. The testimonial dinner-dance was sponsored by Northville's Lloyd H. Green Post No. 147 and the 17th District.

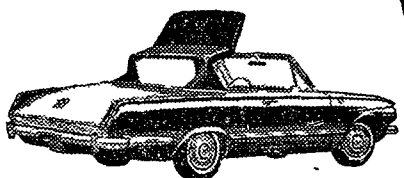

SURPRISE — Oscar's grandchildren are shown sitting in a boat given the commander by the state Legionnaires. The curtain was opened to reveal the surprise gift on stage.

Northville Endorses Schoolcraft, High School Co-op Education Plan

A resolution giving Northville's blessing to further study and planning for a cooperative vocational-general education program was enthusiastically adopted by the school board last week.

Specifically, the resolution paves the way for studying ways to finance the program, which, if realized, will mean an exchange of vocational facilities of schools for the training of both employment-bound students and adults.

Such a program would mean, officials have explained, that students in one school who need or desire training in a specific area not offered could enroll in a class at another school. In other words, the secondary schools would cooperate in providing the best training available with facilities available in the various schools.

Furthermore, the cooperating schools would, through the administration of a Schoolcraft College institute, provide vocational training for adults. Action by the Northville school board last week followed presentation to it of a documentary report of investigation and study to date by the Schoolcraft College secondary school advisory committee—a committee made up of directors of curriculum and instruction, principals and vocational education directors.

Local members of the committee are Dr. Kenneth M. MacLeod, assistant school superintendent, and Fred Stefanski, high school principal. Both men have voiced praise for the work of fellow members and for the proposed program. Plans call for the program to be administered by an institute of Schoolcraft College whose purpose, as outlined by Schoolcraft President Dr. Eric J. Bradner in December of 1963, will be:

1. Enroll for vocational or general education persons who have dropped out of school without completing their course work.

2. Enroll for retraining or upgrading purposes citizens of the Schoolcraft college district who feel themselves in need of further vocational training.

3. Secure the active cooperation of educational, governmental, industrial and labor organizations in establishing, financing, and operating this Institute.

4. To marshal and utilize in the most economical manner, all funds and facilities available for vocational education.

According to Dr. MacLeod, the program as currently envisioned would be unique since in addition to cooperative vocational education, it would provide classes in general education as well.

The committee's report contains a detailed survey of available vocational training facilities in the community college district high schools and a report on their availability. In addition, the committee report identifies occupations in which job opportunities exist for employment-bound youth, and the report contains characteristics and interests of youth who are expected to enroll in the vocational institute.

In its report the advisory committee makes four recommendations. These include:

1. That officials should proceed with plans to initiate the vocational institute of the college in the fall of 1964 "on as extensive a basis as time, facilities, personnel, and student applications shall determine."

2. That vocational education facilities of the high schools be extended to Schoolcraft college.

3. That the vocational institute provide education to "in-school" youth as well as "out-of-school youth"; that any such course work at the institute be evaluated by the school districts in terms of credit toward graduation, and that such course work be without cost to the student other than normal materials fees.

4. That committee members work with representatives of the institute in an effort to establish and extend to people educational opportunities of a "terminal" nature and particularly those designed for vocational training and retraining of youth and adults.

In its report, the committee defines "employment-bound youth" as those intending to enter employment upon leaving the public schools, or, after obtaining only the minimal training required for an entry job in some occupational area.

It does not include, adds the committee, those who have planned an educational program beyond high school of two or more years, for whom job placement seems reasonably certain on completion.

Data obtained by the committee shows that 874 students were identified as "employment-bound" youths from a total of 2,046 in the 1964 graduating classes of Schoolcraft College district high schools.

Studies also show that—75-percent of the 1964 graduates probably will be living in metropolitan Detroit five years after graduation.

—66-percent of the boys, and 82-percent of the girls, approximately, will be married within five years.

—50-percent of the recent graduates have not gone on to an institution of higher learning (opening of Schoolcraft may, however, decrease this percentage, the committee notes);

The range of intelligence among employment-bound graduates is approximately the same as for the total population;

—The range in reading ability and general academic achievement is broad;

—Desire to learn is high, but more supportive counseling is necessary to maintain application and forestall discouragement.

In reviewing the percentages of dropouts, the committee reports that——Most dropouts are not significantly behind their age group in grade placement.

—Most recent drop-outs have not found work.

—Most have no plans for future education.

—More than half the fathers and about half the mothers of dropouts did not complete high school.

—The largest numbers of fathers of drop-outs are employed on the skilled trades or as laborers.

—Academic records generally indicate low achievement over a period of years.

—In contradiction to superficial evidence, desire to learn is high, but much supporting counseling is necessary to maintain application and forestall discouragement and resignation.

By surveying vocational interests of "employment-bound" youth, the committee learned that:

—14.6-percent are interested in occupations kindred to the professions, such as electronic technicians and medical and dental assistants.

—34.7 percent are interested in occupations such as clerical, sales, and etc.

—18.6-percent are interested in occupations such as draftsmen, foremen, etc.

—1.6-percent are interested in machine operation, etc.;

—14.4-percent are interested in occupations requiring service workers;

—16.2-percent were tabulated as indicating "no identifiable vocational interests at this time."

Here's Resolution

WHEREAS the Northville Board of Education has received with appreciation the documentary report entitled "Available Vocational Education Facilities in Schoolcraft College District Schools, Job Opportunities for Employment-Bound Youth, and Characteristics and Interests of Employment-Bound Youth" dated May 1, 1964, and

WHEREAS, the Superintendent by common agreement recommend that the constituent Boards of Education urge the Schoolcraft College Board of Trustees and administration to proceed with plans to initiate the Vocational Institute of the college in the fall of 1964, on as extensive a basis as time, facilities, personnel and student applications shall determine; now the use of the available vocational education facilities of their high school as is indicated in the report,

THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED that the Northville Board of Education extend to the Schoolcraft College Board of Trustees and administration

NOW BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the Board of Trustees be requested to ask the Business Manager of the College to meet with the Business Managers of the School Districts to work out a uniform and equitable financial plan for review and acceptance to this Board and all other Boards involved.

18 Teachers To Quit Here

Eighteen Northville teachers have indicated they will not return to their teaching positions here next fall.

Reasons given for leaving include:

Six are pregnant, one is retiring, two want to remain at home, three by mutual consent, one to return to college, three to teach in other schools in the state, and two in other schools out of the state.

Easter Seal Fund Totaled

Final totals on the annual Easter Seal Society campaign for funds for western Wayne county show that Northville fell behind last year in contributions, $919.19 to $835.15.

Collections from all communities were up slightly, however, with $36,076.13 this year and $34,391.16 in 1963.

Mortality is a dream from which we need to be awakened.

This is the theme of the Bible lesson to be heard at Christian Science churches on Sunday.

The subject will be "Mortals and Immortals," and the Golden Text is from Ephesians
(5:14): "Awake thou that sleepest, and arise from the dead, and Christ shall give thee light."

Selections from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy will include this: "Mortal existence is a dream; mortal existence has no real entity, but saith 'It is I.' Spirit is the Ego which never dreams, but understands all things; which never errs, and is ever conscious; which never believes, but knows; which is never born and never dies" (p. 250).

BLOOD BANK — One hundred and forty-nine pints of blood were donated Friday at the blood bank held in Northville at the Methodist church hall. According to Mrs. C. C. Winter, blood bank chairman, and Mrs. A. C. Carlson, branch chairman, who commended donors for their gifts and the volunteers who staffed the bank for their services, pointed out that not all blood is credited to the community bank because some goes to groups or personal accounts as the donor wishes. Above, Richard Juday, former city councilman, donates a pint of blood as Councilwoman Mrs. Carlson looks on. Below donors enjoy refreshments in the blood bank canteen after giving blood.

Teacher Tenure Law Explained

The recently enacted Tenure Bill by the state legislature was discussed recently in a briefing session in the office of the Wayne county intermediate school district.

Dr. Kenneth MacLeod, assistant superintendent of Northville schools, attended the briefing and reported back to board members information concerning the new act—which takes effect 90 days after the legislature adjourns.

Tenure provisions, as reported by MacLeod, include: Teachers on school staffs two years or more will be on tenure unless the board of education by unanimous vote excludes individuals. Individuals not granted tenure will teach in 1964-65, if contracts have been signed. If a contract is issued for the next year (1965-66) the teacher concerned will automatically be on tenure.

Action must be taken during the period between the effective date of the act and the first day of school in the fall. If the act doesn't become effective until after school starts it will cover those who sign contracts after that date.

A probationary period of two years is provided. At the end of two years a teacher will be placed on tenure unless (1) notice is given at least 60 days before the end of the school year that services are no longer required; and (2) notice is given at least 60 days before the end of the school year that a third year of probation will be required.

Persons teaching on special certificates (who do not hold a valid certificate in another area) are not covered by tenure.

Administrators will have tenure in positions unless specifically excluded by a vote of the board of education. Persons holding administrative positions, or other specialized positions will retain tenure as teachers if denied tenure in positions.

When the tenure law becomes effective continuing contracts are meaningless. Districts with continuing contracts should discontinue their use.

and prepare contracts in compliance with the new law.

If it is necessary to reduce the staff by eliminating positions, tenure teachers must be given preferences over teachers on probation.

Teachers who transfer from one school district to another who have served two years probation may be requested to serve one additional year of probation. No teacher may be requested to serve more than three years of probation.

Persons performing extra duties, coaching, etc., are not covered by tenure, nor are persons who work part-time (half-days, part of a week, etc.), who hold valid certificates, nor are persons holding valid teaching certificates performing a duty where a teaching certificate is not required (bus drivers, business managers, etc.).

Each school district should prepare a statement of policy to implement the tenure act.

Northville's Budget Up Before Tax Body

Officials of the Northville school board are scheduled to appear before the Wayne county tax allocation board tomorrow (Friday) afternoon.

Cadet Casterline Wins Top Honors at Howe

Butch Casterline, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Casterline of Northville, won top honors in special Mother's Day activities at Howe Military School in Howe, Indiana.

The young cadet was awarded The American Campaign book for perfect scores on three military science tests — the only award of its kind made at the school.

In addition to this award, Cadet Casterline also is a member of the company that copied top honors in the Battalion Review on Sunday.

Attending the week of activities were the cadet's parents and Roxey Atchison.

Each year parents of cadets come to the school by the hundreds from throughout the Middle West. In honor of the mothers, special company competitive drills, reviews and precision exhibits are held by the famous Hussars.

Saturday night, there is a formal dance in both the Lower School and preparatory classes. Arrangements for this affair is an activity of the Howe Mothers Association.

The cadets' dates are brought from their home towns by their families, and the local motels are filled with excited girls, some of whom are attending their first "prom".

Sunday morning, the cadets, with their dates and parents, attend chapel services. For this large number, two services — at 9:30 and 11 a.m. — are required. A Battalion Review follows chapel at 12:30 p.m., with Sunday dinner served at 1:30 p.m. in the new dining room.

Sunday gives the parents an opportunity to meet with the faculty and review problems of mutual interest.

"This is a very special weekend at Howe Military School," explained Colonel B. B. Bouton, school superintendent, "and we all join in offering our homage to mothers of Howe cadets."

Michigan Week Feature

He Raises Hogs, Writes Poetry

Max Ellison, a genial, bearded man of 50, lives at 9040 Haggerty road and has a big hog farm in New Hudson.

But Max is more than a farmer, and more than a man with a beard. He will be reciting his own poetry at the cultural program for Michigan Week to be held in the community building, Sunday afternoon and evening, May 17.

Max, who is a member of the Northville - Plymouth Writers Club, has been writing poetry since he was 10, and because he was born in rural Bellaire, Antrim county, and been close to the soil ever since, a large part of his writing reflects Michigan's natural heritage.

But he is not solely concerned with nature. He saw service with the First Cavalry Division, 7th Regiment, at

New Guinea and the Philippines in World War Two, and has been writing a series of combat poems keenly descriptive of his experiences there.

"One of the interesting things," he smiles, "about the First Cavalry Division, is that it was General Custer's command. He lost the regimental colors in the defeat at Big Horn, and we won them back in the Pacific."

A few of Max's poems have a Frostian touch, but most of them are pure Ellison, rich in his own imagery and feeling.

As for Max's beard: he doesn't wear it out of Beatnik inclinations, but because he has a skin allergy making sunlight dangerous, and the beard is a protective device.

RECEIVES FELLOWSHIP — Don Brown, Northville high school counselor and sociology teacher, has been awarded a fellowship to the Counseling and Guidance Institute at the University of Missouri at Columbia. The summer session course, which will be from June 15 to August 7, includes study in gifted and talented youth, human learning and counseling process, advanced counseling theory, and counseling and learning laboratory.

Three tragedies, each involving a death, hit the area. A Northville man was killed as his car crashed into a train, the body of a Farmington man was thrown from a car in Novi and a Blissfield man burned to death when his truck-trailer collided with a road grader near Wixom.

Only three petitions were filed for the board of education. The candidates are Incumbent Board Members Edward F. Angove and W. C. Becker, and W. C. Soellner.

The Northville board of education endorsed the recommendation of the community college committee that the Northville school district become a part of the Schoolcraft Community college district.

Monte Mohr of Seven Mile road was re-elected director at large of the Michigan State Employees association. Mohr is employed at Northville State Hospital as a medical technician.

In addition to toting home heavier pay envelopes next year, Novi's school bus drivers will be given sick leave, it was decided at the Novi school board meeting.

Novi's board of appeals met, turning down by a unanimous vote a request to operate a drag strip on Grand River between Taft and Beck roads.

The Novi board of education, by a vote of 3 to 2, extended the superintendent's contract for a period of three years, with a $1,000 raise in salary for the first year, bringing his salary to $11,400.

Oscar Hammond, Northville director of civil defense, announced that renewed efforts will be made to expand the local unit. He also stated that a new tornado warning system will be tested Wednesday, May 20.

If public interest is strong enough, Northville will have a community hospital.

This was the conclusion reached by Dr. L. W. Snow and a group of area doctors studying the possible purchase of Sessions Hospital. The group has held three planning sessions and will meet again tonight at the American Legion. Dr. Snow reports that all the former staff physicians have expressed a strong desire to have the institution in full operation again.

Northville should be happy over the new racing law recently enacted by the state legislature and signed by the governor. Financially speaking, it will boost the city's tax return from racing by 12 1/2 percent.

Roy Stone, owner and operator of Stone's Gamble store has been elected president of the Northville Retail Merchants association. Serving with Stone on the board are Monte Ellis, vice-president; Fred Kester, Leland Smith, Charles Altman, Carl Johnson, Richard Ritchie and Essie Nirider.

Four candidates will seek the three seats up for election June 8 on the Northville board of education. Only non-incumbent Charles A. Smith of 44101 West Nine Mile road, owner of Smith Products in Novi. The incumbents are President Nelson Schrader, William Crump, vice-president, and Robert Shafer.

David Cameron is the newly elected president of the Northville Coordinating Council.

Edward H. Lapham, 75, a life-long resident of Northville, died at Sessions Hospital on Sunday, May 8. The son of Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Lapham, Mr. Lapham was born June 14, 1873 in the house on High Street where he resided all his life.

Upon graduation from Northville schools, Mr. Lapham started his banking career in October of 1891. Northville's only bank for many years was the private one owned by Jarred S. Lapham and here Edward Lapham became a clerk and teller, continuing on in the employ of William G. Lapham, who succeeded as head of the bank upon his father's death.

The cornerstone for the new St. Paul's Lutheran church and Parish hall was laid in afternoon ceremonies last Sunday.

Northville's new grade school principal is Charles T. Pregitzer. The board of education recently hired Pregitzer to fill the position left vacant when Elroy V. Ellison was promoted to the high school principalship.

Northville's track team defeated Milford, 69-39.

Don Hay was first in the high hurdles with Tom Bernhardt taking third; Dave Sechlin was first and Ed Kazarian third in the 100 yard; Orville Petrie won the mile run; Keith Branch was first in the 440 yard with Roger Brummel placing second.

In the 220 yard dash Dave Sechlin was first and Chuck Stephens third; Dick Lyon was second in the 880, Jack Stovall was second in the shot put and first in the pole vault; Dick Gray was third in the pole vault; Don Hay was first and Del Black and Charles Dickinson tied for third in the high jump; Charles Dickinson was first in broad jump with a leap of 18'7", which is reported good for a ninth grader.

Non-Public Students Climb Aboard in Fall

Citizens' Study Group Makes Bus Recommendations

Transporting youngsters to and from school is a costly business.

It's a losing proposition, too. The more students a school system transports, the greater the deficit becomes — especially if the youngsters happen to live inside the boundary which determines the limit where state aid funds may be claimed.

For example, no state aid funds may be claimed in fourth class districts such as Northville for students residing within the city limits regardless of how far they may reside from their school.

Those outside the city must live 1½-miles from their school to fall within the category where state aid funds for transportation may be claimed by the local school system.

The local system loses on these students, too. State aid per student amounts to two-thirds the actual cost of transportation.

Next fall bus service is destined to become more costly. Under the new state law the public school system must also transport non-public school children.

It is anticipated by E. V. Ellison, director of administrative services for the Northville public schools, that one more, and possibly two, school buses must be added to the present fleet. Buses cost approximately $7,000 each, depending on passenger size.

Last year bus service amounted to a $27,433.63 business for the Northville school system. State aid for transportation amounted to $14,720.13 leaving $12,713.50 coming out of the system's general operating budget.

Earlier this year the Northville board of education called for a citizens' committee to study the existing school bus system and policy and make any recommendations it wished.

The committee was headed by E. O. Weber. Members included Robert Reichenhardt, Mrs. E. F. Trombley, Mrs. John Stuyvenberg, Mrs. J. L. Hahn, Fred Hart, Mrs. Hiram Pacific, William Sliger, Mrs. James Ross, Mrs. Edward Sepp and Mrs. Billie Thomas, Jr.

The report has been accepted by the school board with the exception of one provision, which called for a "shuttle service". Specifically, this service applied to non-public school students who could not be dropped at their respective schools enroute, for example, to the Main street elementary school. The committee proposed a "shuttle service" between schools.

The board decided it would be unwise to make a definite policy on this matter until the system has had an experience record.

Although state law does not require that the public school bus system create new routes to accommodate private schools, the committee agreed that non-public school children should be given the same service as public school children.

The committee agreed that as many "general" pick-up points as possible should be established to reduce individual stops, particularly within the non-reimbursable areas.

Exceptions for picking up within the non-reimbursable areas were made only where distances were excessive (Northville Estates on West Eight Mile road, for example, is within the city limits and non-reimbursable) or where sidewalks do not exist and walking conditions are considered hazardous to youngsters.

Following is the complete text of the Northville public schools' transportation committee report.

At your request, the Northville Public Schools Transportation Committee has reviewed the current bus routes, load and unload points, and also various requests for additional school bus service.

transportation service and to the safety of our children. However, we have not been unmindful of the cost consequence of our recommendations.

Michigan State Law and Board policy regarding school bus transportation were reviewed prior to our deliberations. We have interpreted board policy under "Riding Limits, safety of children, age" to mean that bus transportation shall be provided for those students whose normal route to school is along heavily trafficked streets or roadways which have no pedestrian sidewalks. We recommend some such interpretation be recorded for application to future requests.

In the future, we recommend that the board adopt some policy with regard to bus stops using wording such as, "Students being transported by school buses, will board and unload at points designated by the Administration with full consideration for the avoidance of traffic safety hazards and avoiding back-up — turn-arounds wherever possible."

Recommendations concerning the previously existing "safety" bus practices and additional requests are as follows:

1 — Sheldon Road Area: Continue as now stated. "It is recommended that all children live South of the intersection of Sheldon road and Hines Drive be transported."

2 — North Center street area within city limits including Northville Heights and Village Green:

Continue as now stated. "The recommendation of the committee is that the children in this area need not be transported. We make the following supplemental recommendation:

(a) A patrolman should be on duty early enough to accommodate all walkers at Eight Mile road and Center street.

(b) Children walking to the Junior High School from this area should be permitted to eat lunch at school.

3 — West Seven Mile road area:

Continue as now stated, one modification. "It is recommended that all children who live West of the intersection of Seven Mile and Clement road and South of the Seven Mile road outside of the city limits be transported."

4 — Clement Road area: Modified as follows: Committee recommends that children in grades K-12 who live on Clement, Sunset, Frederick, Neeson and Norton streets be transported.

5 — West Main Street area: Continue as now stated. "It is recommended that all children in grades K-12 who live on West Main or connecting streets West of the intersection of West Main street and Clement road be transported."

6 — West Eight Mile Road area: Continue as now stated with one addition. "The committee recommends that all children who live on West Eight Mile road and connecting roads West of the intersection of Taft road and Eight Mile road be transported."

(a) The pick up at the corner of Westview road and West Eight Mile road be made by a bus traveling East. The committee does not feel that there is a need for a bus to travel Westview Road.

7. Taft Road Area including Centermar: To continue to read as now stated, "It is recommended that all children who live on Taft road north of the intersection of West Eight Mile and Taft road be transported."

8 — Novi road area: Delete paragraph one of the 1957-58 recommendation and reword balance of recommendation to read as follows: All children K-12 who live on Novi road and in adjacent areas in the school district and North of the city limits should be transported.

9 — Griswold — East Eight Mile area: Change to read as follows: All children who live on Griswold outside city limits and all children who live on the South side of East Eight Mile road should be transported.

10. East Seven Mile road area East of Northville road: Continue as now stated with one addition to read: "All children who live on East Seven Mile road and adjacent areas North and South of Seven Mile road within the school district be transported."

11. Northville Road Area: Continue as now stated. "It is recommended that all children who live on Northville road south of the intersection of Northville and East Seven Mile road be transported."

Recommendations concerning new request for bus transportation follow:

1 — Reservoir Road pick up: The committee agrees that the bus should not proceed up Reservoir road because of the difficult driving and turn around conditions. Children should board the bus at the intersection of Reservoir Road and Edward Hines Drive.

2 — Shadbrook Subdivision: In view of the somewhat hazardous pedestrian route to Seven Mile it is recommended that the bus proceed into the subdivision, the pick-up location to be decided by the Board of Education.

Other new requests for bus transportation falls within the scope of the modified recommendations of the 1957-58 committee.

In addition to the specific area recommendations, the committee considered a number of other school bus questions and make recommendations as follows:

1 — Northville Township and the city of Northville should be encouraged to construct sidewalks in all areas within the city limits and/or one or one-half miles within the several schools. This will alleviate several safety hazards and perhaps permit curtailed bus transportation.

2 — All grade school students should attend Main Street Elementary School and thus no bus service need be provided since there are sidewalks the entire route to Main Street School.

3 — There should be general pick-up points in the non-reimbursable areas.

4 — Shuttle service between all school buildings in the school district was discussed. Particular attention was given to the matter of non-public school children riding buses. It was agreed these children should be given the same service of being deposited at their respective schools as public school children. The authorities at the local public school are to use their own discretion as to whether children will be deposited directly from the bus they ride or be retransported on a special shuttle bus to their respective schools.

5 — The committee discussed transportation for those non-public students attending schools outside the local district. The committee recommends that no student who attends a school outside the local school district shall be transported.

6 — The committee strongly recommends that the Board of Education arrange to use a public carrier for transportation of public school spectators to out-of-town activities. If unable to arrange for public carrier, the Committee feels school buses should be used in consideration of highway safety.

These recommendations should continue in effect only so long as the city limits and routes of travel exist as they are now defined. Other matters were discussed which are contained in the minutes of our meetings and may be of interest to the board.

SPEAKING for The Record

By BILL SLIGER

Saturday night at the Oscar Hammond testimonial dinner I talked briefly with Congresswoman Martha Griffiths.

Mrs. Griffiths, like Michigan's other congressional representatives in Washington, is deeply concerned over the failure of the state legislature to agree upon reapportionment of the state's 19 legislative districts.

She pointed out that the state's congressional representatives have appealed for a compromise that would permit Michigan to retain its seniority in congress.

The threatened "at-large" election could cause leading Michigan congressmen, like Mrs. Griffiths and Gerald Ford, to lose key committee chairmanships. (Mrs. Griffiths, for example, was recently named to head a committee to study the effect of the tax cut on our economy.)

Congressman Ford has announced that he might run for U.S. Senator if forced to campaign "at-large".

Saturday night Mrs. Griffiths made the same statement. "Why shouldn't I challenge Hart for the Democratic nomination if I have to run for state-wide votes?" asked the congresswoman.

Why can't the legislature compromise? A good question, which I later asked State Senator Raymond Dzendzel, who was also at the Hammond testimonial.

"It's all George's fault. He's trying to usurp legislative authority," declared Dzendzel.

I suggested to Dzendzel that it wasn't all one-sided, and that as a key figure in the senate he had an opportunity to lead the way by displaying statesmanship.

"It isn't 50-50, it's all George's fault," he replied.

Congresswoman Griffiths had commented earlier that it is most difficult to make suggestions to the state legislature. I presume this would be called "usurping legislative authority."

But Michigan legislators have been known to work together on many projects.

They recently voted themselves the highest paid state legislators in the nation, for example.

It was interesting to me that Mrs. Griffiths pointed to the lack of a statewide newspaper as one of Michigan's principle problems. Such a publication could bring public pressure to bear on the legislature, she commented.

The Record isn't statewide but if every newspaper in the state would urge its readers to write their elected officials and threaten them with a spanking if they don't snap out of their tantrum, it might help.

Anyone know of a good source of used playing cards for patients at Northville State Hospital?

Until recently a card club in Detroit sent its discarded decks to Miss Harriette Miller, OTR, for use in the hospital's occupational therapy department.

These cards are no longer available, so a search for a new supply has begun. If you can help, call Miss Miller.

Do People Want Highway Safety?

The soaring death and accident rate on Michigan's highways concerns some, but not enough people. Ways to cope with the latest upturn in fatalities are sought by safety experts, but there is growing indication they are frustrated.

All discussions lead back to the same place, and not many people are willing to point their finger. One person who sat through a meeting where remedies were carefully considered said: "It boils down to the public citizen. He will have to decide whether he wants to pay skyrocketing insurance premiums and take growing chances he will become a traffic victim himself or if he prefers to insist on stricter traffic enforcement and respect for the law."

Police officials state that their officers are discouraged in giving tickets to offenders because too often sentences are light or the ticketed people are not convicted. State officials are equally discouraged with the mechanism to suspend or cancel driver licenses. A high percentage of those who appeal license revocation to circuit courts get their licenses back. Others simply drive without licenses. Most of those who are caught without licenses are punished in only a minor way. Drunk drivers do not go to jail. A high percentage are found not guilty of this serious charge.

As legislators will, today's elected representatives get no more excited about this problem than their constituents. In the session just finished there was no rush of interest or action to deal with worsening traffic picture.

Remedies will be found when the public wants to stop the killing and damage on the highways, not before. All that has to happen is for a sizable percentage of people in each community to let local judges, policemen and politicians know they care enough to support constructive action.

The number of college students from other states has been an increasingly tender issue between legislators and administrators for a long time. How real an issue is it?

Latest figures from the U.S. Office of Education show that in 1963 all Michigan colleges and universities enrolled 26,896 students from other states. The same year 18,664 Michigan students attended college in other states. This is a difference of 8,232.

Other states show differences much more pronounced. California had 12,000 more students cross into the state than leave. Indiana had 20,361. Massachusetts had 25,662 more; Utah had 12,034, which might represent many of the Mormon faith. Missouri had 10,365 and Tennessee had 10,935.

Chief among states with more leaving than entering is New Jersey with 56,507. New York, with a much large population base, had 36,232 more young people seek education in other states than came there. Highest percentage of out-of-state students at Michigan institutions is at Michigan Tech in Houghton. About 30% of their students are "from the outside."

University of Michigan has 28.2% out-of-state students, a 1962 study showed, down 1% from the previous year. Michigan State University had about 20%, according to the same survey.

Advantages of out-of-state students are pointed out by college administrators. The variation of backgrounds and outlooks they bring with them helps broaden Michigan students. They bring sizable amounts of money into the state, not only in the increased tuition rates, but in expenditures for Michigan-produced goods and services. Many stay to become residents.

According to Dr. Gordon A. Sabine, vice president of MSU, out-of-state students have not crowded Michigan young people out of a college education. He said that no Michigan high school graduate who is academically capable of receiving a college education has been deprived of it. He did concede that all qualified students might not be able to attend the college of their choice.

Somewhat reluctantly, however, it appears that Michigan institutions will bow to the wishes of the legislature. Administrators feel a strong pressure and are willing to bring about further reductions in out-of-state students. But they also seem to feel that the move will do little to solve the basic problem of providing top grade college education for Michigan youth or reduce substantially the cost of that education.

Have you ever been locked inside a store or public building and then, while quietly letting yourself out, feel guilty and maybe a little dishonest?

That experience has been my lot on a number of occasions. The first, as I recall, took place in a church: the second was staged in a college building, and the third took place a couple years back in the little basement museum at Howell.

It's difficult to describe the feeling of guilt that comes over me on such occasions. It's as though I had stolen the collection plate, made off with the professor's test, or pilfered some Civil War relics.

Of my experience in the museum, I wrote the following shortly afterward to the Howell librarian.

Remember the young man (I like that description) you guided down into your fine basement museum Thursday afternoon two hours before closing time? Remember, you unlocked the museum door for him and then asked him to stop by your desk before leaving? Did it occur to you that he did not stop by the desk?

Wait! Before you scream and run frantically for the museum let me assure you that he's alive and not a bookend on your pioneer history shelf. Let me explain.

While digging through your library's fascinating Michigan history books I plum forgot about the time I was mid-way through an interesting biography on Governor Kinsley S. Bingham when the strange lack of footsteps above the museum jolted me from my reading.

Luckily, you left the museum door unlocked or I might still be sharing the room with what I believe was a Civil War cannon and all those other interesting relics of the past. But upstairs I found the readers and the library staff missing. The library was closed.

After first checking the front door to see if I could unlock it, and after finding that I could, I returned to your desk intending to leave my calling card. I simply wanted to put your mind at ease in case you should suddenly remember the man in the museum.

But alas, I discovered to my horror that I had left my billfold at home. And of course it contained all of my identification—including my driver's license. I must confess that the thought of walking out the front door after closing time and without identification left me just a little panicky. Nevertheless, I mustered all my courage, opened the door as if I owned the place, checked to see that it locked again, and bounced down the walk to my car.

Driving home—careful-like so as not to attract any undue attention—I recalled the recent story of the girl who was locked in the freezer. You know, the one who counted all those times.

Well, let me assure you I wouldn't have traded places with her even if the times were gold. I can think of no place in which I'd rather be locked than in a well-stocked library or museum.

Miracle of Seeds

Babson Park, Mass. The greatest miracle, of course, is the conception and birth of a helpless baby with its unparalleled opportunities. It is said that one reason the Chinese nation has had such a long and matchless history is because the Chinese figure their children's age from 9 months earlier than we do. Hence the mothers also give much more attention to what they do and think during those nine months.

The next-wondrous miracle to the birth of babies is the "birth" of seeds. This will be the real subject of this week's column. I have just returned from the Evers Flower Farm at Lakeland, Florida—run and operated by Orris R. Evers who raises over 275,000 plants every spring and 100,000 more every fall. He is a graduate of the University of Florida and has a Master's Degree from Ohio State University. I mention this to show the importance of an education to a "farmer."

This should be an inspiration to those college graduates who think that they must be doctors, lawyers, or insurance agents in order to build a large business and make a better, happier, more beautiful world. This my friend Evers is now doing. God bless him. He knows that every seed contains a miracle.

Two facts about seeds interest me intensely; the first is the billions of seeds—both vegetable and flower—going to waste every year.

The head of one company which raises and sells only vegetable seeds sells over one hundred billion (100,000,000,000) live and active seeds each year. The second fact is that each seed is a complete factory. Had I the space I would prove this to every reader. Moreover, each "factory" knows exactly when to commence operating without the need for any labor union or any legislation. Each seed is a most marvelous automated device—far more extraordinary than any computer.

Computers are a very wonderful invention; but they give out only what has been fed into them. This is probably true also of seeds; but nature "programs" the seed. As yet, computers do not think; but seeds apparently do "think"—at least they know when to sprout or burst their shell and grow into a vegetable or into a flower or into a magnificent oak tree. You say this is merely done by the seed "listening" to the sun. Or to put it another way, the sun "programs" the seed to send a sprout upward to form leaves, and a fiber downward to form roots. Truly it all is very wonderful.

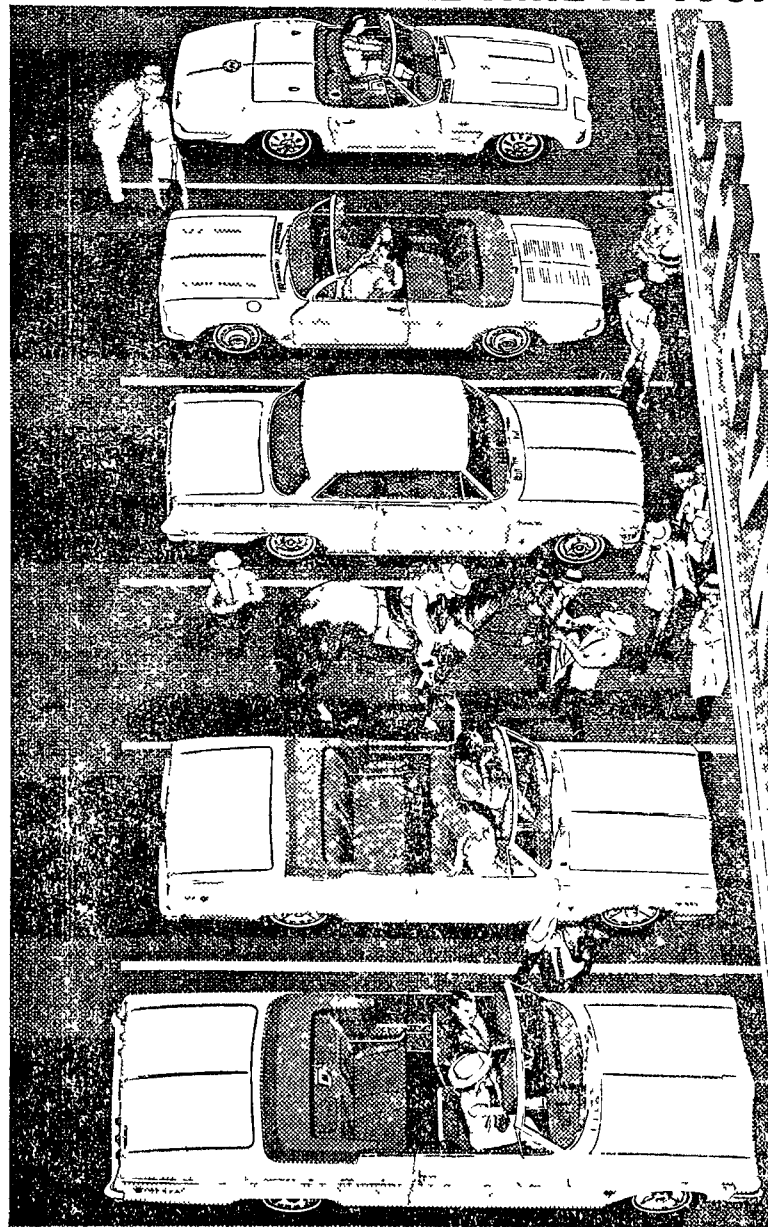

Computers also are wonderful; but none of the five leading computer manufacturing companies (a list will be sent gratis on request) will work by doing their own thinking. They need to be "programmed", which means that the information must be fed into them by some human brain. Psychologists tell me that the time is coming when brain waves—in leaving our heads—will operate computers.

I feel sure, too, that the day is coming when the computer will secure its knowledge from the rays of the sun, from the direction of the wind, or from other invisible data fed to it by nature.

Now let me get back to my favorite subject of "seeds." Each seed is a miniature computer already being "programmed" by nature. It, however, depends greatly upon environment and almost wholly upon what has happened before. Let me again refer to the writings of Dr. Rufus Cole of Mt. Kisco, N.Y. Every seed proves his basic claim: That there is nothing new under the sun, and that what happens today is dependent upon all that has happened for generations before. Furthermore, seeds will someday become real economic forces, though this possibility is now almost entirely ignored.

I wish I were a young man and could enjoy the great changes ahead of us; we have only tapped the great computer era! Even Edison once said to me: "Give me a few more years, and I would have seeds perform wonders such as the incandescent light and the electric motor have done for the industrial era."
