

Mayor "Mike" Kauffman Spends Busy Day in Northville

Monday was a busy day for Mr. and Mrs. "Mike" Kauffman of Schoolcraft.

The president of the Kalamazoo county village was mayor-for-a-day of Northville. It was all part of the Michigan Week festivities which began Sunday (See page one, section two). And while Northville's Mayor "Mike" Allen and Councilman Richard Ambler were being entertained in Schoolcraft, local officials were giving the red-carpet treatment to the Kauffmans.

Mayor Pro Tem and Mrs. John Canterbury were official hosts. They were assisted by Councilmembers Beatrice Carlson and Fred Kester, City Manager Bruce Potthoff and Police Chief Eugene King, chairman of the mayor's exchange day activities.

An avid bowler, Mayor Kauffman admitted to Rotarians that a 278 game rolled at Chicago's Peterson Classic this year won him $2,000.

The Kauffmans were greeted by the Northville high school band and warm, sunny skies. But the heat was too much for four members of the band, who fainted, causing Director Robert Williams to cancel the parade.

A band-less motorcade took the visiting dignitaries to city hall, a spanking, new facility that brought envied acclaim from Mayor Kauffman and his wife.

After flag-raising ceremonies and a tour of city hall the mayor presided at a council meeting.

City Manager Bruce Potthoff drew praise from both the visiting mayor and the council for his report on Northville, which pointed to "the city's high level of municipal services, improved roads, new municipal building, Northville Downs, smokeless industries, highly regarded school system and proud history dating back to 1827."

Mayor Kauffman then told the council something about Schoolcraft. It's a community of 1,200 population 12 miles south of Kalamazoo. It has 39 commercial enterprises and five industries. The village is governed by six councilmembers, a president and a clerk. The president is selected by "caucus" each year and President Kauffman is serving his fourth term.

He noted that Schoolcraft's tax levy is 19 1/2 mills, some seven mills higher than Northville's. He also envied Northville its track, which Councilman Canterbury agreed would, if lost, create increased taxes and reduced services for the city.

At the noon luncheon hosted by the Rotary club at the First Presbyterian church officials and members heard William Boyd, director of community relations at Plymouth State Home and Training School, discuss the program of treatment for mentally retarded children.

Boyd's talk was highlighted by color pictures of the facilities at the Sheldon road institution. He explained that most of the home's 900 patients range in age from a few months to 20 years. Boyd pointed out the difference between mental illness and mental retardation and noted that brain damage, usually taking place during or shortly after birth, causes retardation — a lifelong condition.

He explained that the job of the doctors, nurses, attendants and volunteers at Plymouth State Home was to develop the maximum potential capabilities of the youngsters so that some can return to society.

Boyd estimated that only four per cent of the 5,400,000 retarded are institutionalized. He appealed for public understanding of the 96 per cent living within our society.

After hearing Boyd's talk the official Michigan Week Committee visited Plymouth State Home buildings. Later Mayor and Mrs. Kauffman were taken on tours of the new addition to Foundry Flask and Equipment company, Anger Manufacturing, Northville Downs and International Diamond Tool company.

The Kauffmans were impressed.

VFW Members William Braun and Lawrence McArthur raise the flag at city hall.

DISAPPOINTED — These youngsters from the pre-school nursery and their mothers waited for the band to march by with the visiting mayor. Because four members of the high school band fainted while assembling, the parade was cancelled.

City Hall Dedication, Clean-Up Come Next

Sunny skies welcomed the first two days of Michigan Week and officials are hoping for more of the same for city hall dedication ceremonies tonight and the Jaycees clean-up drive Saturday.

After full days Sunday and Monday the Michigan Week program slowed down Tuesday, but resumed again Wednesday when high school students took over city offices.

An open house and dedication ceremony at Northville's new city hall is scheduled today with tours of the building to be conducted from 10 a.m. until 10 p.m.

At 8 p.m. dedication ceremonies will be held at the Main street entrance. In the event of rain the program will be held in the community building.

Mayor A. M. Allen will set the cornerstone, while Nelson C. Schrader will give the dedication address. Past and present members of the city council will be on hand and Clerk Martha Milne, who is chairman of program arrangements, reports that Congresswoman Martha Griffiths will also attend.

The official ceremony is not expected to last more than a half-hour after which tours will resume and refreshments will be served.

Saturday morning Jaycees and Northville firemen will hose and scrub down Main street. Starting at 9 a.m. the Jaycees will conduct a city-wide, residential collection of trash. Citizens are urged to place debris in containers so that it may be hauled away.

Seniors to Hear Ex-Journalist

Gordon A. Sabine, vice-president for special projects at Michigan State University, will be the 1964 commencement speaker, Principal Fred Stefanski announced this week.

The MSU official will address graduates, their families and friends on June 15 in the high school gymnasium.

Sabine, who has rich background in journalism, was appointed to his present position in 1960 after serving a year as director of MSU office of admissions and scholarships, 1959-1960.

His professional experience includes: Newspaper reporter and editor, Lynchburg, (News) and (Madison) Wisconsin State Journal, Chicago Sun, Christian Science Monitor, Kansas City Star and other publications.

Vets to Sell Poppies

Members of Northville's American Legion and VFW posts will team up today, tomorrow and Saturday for the traditional sale of Poppies.

Auxiliaries of these organizations also will participate in spotlighting Poppy Days in Northville.

Poppy Days, officials point out, are held to honor the nation's war dead — "Days when every man, woman and child should wear a Poppy as a personal tribute to those who sacrificed life for our country."

Made during the winter months in veterans administration hospitals on beds and tables by disabled veterans, the Poppies are sold in Northville and elsewhere throughout the nation, to help raise money for disabled veterans.

"The small earnings from making them is often times the only stipend they receive during hospitalization," officials explain.

"Our Poppy Days — May 21, 22, 23 — here in Northville, helps bind up the nation's wounds, to take care of him who has borne the battle, and for his widow and orphan when in need."

Salem Forgets College Mill Levy

Salem Township Treasurer Floyd Taylor informed Schoolcraft college officials this week that the one mill tax, which voters of the Northville school district approved last year for entrance into the community college district, had not been levied.

The error was not discovered until the township books were turned over to the Washtenaw county treasurer for auditing.

The one mill levy, which should have been spread on the school tax bills of all Salem township residents in the Northville school district, amounts to a total of $1,007.61.

College officials report that it has been established that proper notice was served and received by township authorities. The Washtenaw county treasurer had also certified to the township that the tax was to be levied.

But the millage was somehow overlooked. The state auditor general's office has already ruled that the tax cannot be double-levied in 1964.

Schoolcraft trustees were scheduled to meet Wednesday evening. Legal authorities have outlined the possible courses open to the trustees if they are to recover the $1,007.61 tax levy. They are:

1. Invoke the bond covering the county taxation officer. This would recover the money immediately from the bonding company.
2. Bring civil action against the Salem township collection officer.
3. Bring a civil suit against the political subdivision for the action of their agent.

Because of the legal expense involved, it appears highly unlikely that college trustees would follow the latter two alternatives.

College Business Manager W. Kenneth Lindner has recommended that the college recover its money from the bonding company.

SMILIN' MYRON — Here's proof that Myron Utley is doing his job. He's in charge of prizes at Friday night's P-TA Carnival at the Northville community building. Besides an array of midway prizes, such as these stuffed animals, Utley reports there are more than 100 door prizes. For more information on the carnival, see stories on pages two and three.

Six Township Homes Seek City Annexation

OK Assessments On Maplewood

The city council approved the assessment roll for water, sanitary sewer, curb, gutter, storm sewer and paving on Maplewood Tuesday night.

Cost of one half of the improvement will be paid by the developers of Village Green, while 80 per cent of the remaining half will be assessed against abutting property owners on the south side of the street.

Two of the property owners voiced objections, but the council unanimously approved the project.

Specific assessments against individual property owners are: Joseph E. Jendrisak — water, two lots, $445.90 each; sanitary sewer, two lots, $921.58 each; curb, gutter, storm sewer and paving, three lots, $82.77, $176.22 and $176.22, respectively; Martha K. Lewis, curb, gutter, storm sewer, paving, one lot, $176.22; Earl Wuestnik, curb, gutter, storm sewer and paving, one lot, $192.11; and Clyde Ferguson, curb, gutter, storm sewer and paving, one lot, $384.21.

Objections were raised by Jendrisak and Mr. and Mrs. Ferguson. Councilman Richard Ambler pointed out that the city had a contract with the developer to improve the street and that the improvements would benefit the properties.

After some discussion the council set June 2 as the public hearing for rezoning a building at 206 West Dunlap from C-2 (commercial) to R2A (multiple dwelling). The change was recommended by the planning commission. The house formerly served as a doctor's office.

Councilmen also agreed to go ahead with the purchase of the apartment building at 123 West Main street. Mayor A. M. Allen hailed the purchase as a "long-needed improvement."

The city will buy the property from the Northville Area Development Corporation after it has been demolished and the property leveled. Total cost will include only monies spent by the non-profit development group to acquire and tear down the building. This totals approximately $11,000.

The council approved a suggestion by Councilwoman Beatrice Carlson to store and save three stain-glass windows that had been in the old city hall and cannot be used in the new facility. Two of the original windows are used in the entrance to the new library.

Deadline Tuesday Noon

Six township residents of West Main street are seeking annexation of their property to the city of Northville.

Petitions calling for an annexation election are now being circulated. Specifically, the area involved lies along the south side of West Main street between Clement road and the city limits.

One of the property owners, and originator of the proposal, is George Clark, former supervisor of Northville township.

The other properties involved include the residences of Mrs. Beth Lapham, Mrs. Percy Angove, Mr. and Mrs. Bert J. Sears, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Petrock and Mr. and Mrs. Ralph A. Ayers.

In area the properties stretch about 500 feet along West Main street and extend approximately 200 feet deep. Total assessed valuation of the property is about $50,000.

According to Clark, all residents of the petitioning area favor annexation to the city.

To gain annexation to cities under 15,000 population state law provides that favorable votes must be recorded in both the city and the township area to be annexed.

Township residents outside the area seeking annexation do not vote on the question.

Clark said this week that petitions will be ready for presentation to the secretary of state by June 1. Under normal procedure, if the petitions are found to be in proper order, the annexation vote would be placed on the next general election, either the still undecided September primary or general election in November.

Petitions must contain signatures of one per cent of the total population in both the city and township — or about 70 qualified township electors and 40 city electors.

Last March Clark invited some 75 homeowners on the western boundaries of the city to consider the advantages of annexation to the city. His proposal brought a sharp rebuke from Township Supervisor R. D. Merriam, who replied to Clark's letter with a letter of his own.

In general, Clark contended that township government is not organized to cope with problems and services necessary to serve a growing population. He indicated that the establishment of departments to provide services in the future will boost township taxes higher than the city's.

Immediately, Clark points out, the township residents seeking annexation to the city will gain police protection and rubbish collection.

It will cost the township residents an additional 11.3 mills in taxes. The current city tax levy is 12.5 mills, while the township rate is 1.2 mills. This amounts to something over $100. per year to the six property owners of the area proposed for annexation.

It appears possible that the West Main street annexation could be joined by another such move this fall.

Mayor A. M. Allen, still residing in the city but the owner of a township home on city borders at 900 Scott avenue, has indicated he will seek annexation of the two-acre parcel when he moves.

The mayor must resign his city office when he moves to the township. He has hinted that he might do this sometime "this summer" so that his request for annexation could appear on the fall ballot.

Township board members opposed a bid to annex the Allen property to the city by joint resolution of the city and township governing bodies after the city council had voted favorably.

The township vote was 3-2 with Supervisor Merriam and Trustee Donald Robinson in favor and Clerk Marguerite Young, Treasurer Alex Lawrence and Trustee Wilson Tyler opposed.

In Our Town

By Jean Day

EVERYTHING is coming out lavender for the PTA "May Fair" Friday at the community building and junior high school. From spring lilac to deep purple the hue will be combined with white and yellow throughout.

On stage in the community building it is to be "purple with an Italian touch" as Northville Woman's Club plans to serve cake with coffee or ice cream in an Italian vineyard-in-the-hills. In creating dimensional clusters of grapes to hang overhead, Mrs. William H. Kelly, chairman, is getting an assist from her garden group, the Distaff Botanists.

The theme was chosen, Mrs. Kelly points out, to correlate with the Italian spaghetti dinner being served at the fair.

CAKES to be served with coffee from 5:30 to 10 p.m. represent some of the best recipes from Northville kitchens each year. Woman's Club members never are told what kind of cake to bring, but chairmen from year's past, Mrs. Francis Gazlay and Mrs. Donald Schwendemann, recall there always is a wide open variety, ranging from rich German chocolate to feathery chiffon and angel food.

"Out of this world" is the way the nut coffee cake traditionally baked by Mrs. Charles Wilcox is described. There must be many fair-goers who like a not-too-sweet fare for this pecan treat is reported to disappear fast. Mrs. Wilcox is planning to bake it again this year. She says it is composed of alternate layers of batter and pecan fill.

GOURMET FOOD at a bargain also will be found at the Italian dinner to be served from 5 p.m. on. Mrs. Arthur Hempe, Jr., who is chairman of the dinner for the second year, reveals that the recipes for the meat and meatless spaghetti sauces are from the personal files of Mrs. Marie Knapp, high school cafeteria manager.

Mrs. Hempe adds that if the rolls seem homemade, they are! (Mrs. Knapp's assistance again.) A tossed salad with vinegar and oil dressing (another Knapp recipe), relishes, ice cream, coffee and milk complete the menu.

This is being served to adults and high schoolers for $1. Children in kindergarten through sixth grade are 50 cents, and pre-schoolers are free. Mrs. Hempe and a large committee expect to serve 600.

THE ITALIAN MOOD for the dinner will be recreated this year with the vivid wall posters done by Mrs. Gene B. Cushing; she has depicted an organ grinder and an Italian street scene. They were done in the very 20th century "medium" of Magic Marker. Mrs. Glenn Deibert's Girl Scout troop has contributed candles in bottles to the atmosphere.

In addition to making dinner arrangements, Mrs. Hempe has been entertaining her husband's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Hempe, Sr., of Chicago this week. They came to see Robert Hempe confirmed in Sunday services at the Northville Lutheran church.

Grade chairmen assisting with dinner arrangements at the PTA fair are Mrs. Raphael Skelly, Mrs. Laurence Wood, Mrs. Doyal Gray, Mrs. Leo Hollis, Mrs. William Epps, Mrs. John Keyes and Mrs. William Davis.

Mrs. Weir was a member of the Birmingham Branch.

MICHIGAN APRONS—Boosting Michigan is more than a one week observance for the Michigan Federation of Business and Professional Women. The official insignia for their coming convention features two of the state's industries, the state bird and flower, along with a silhouette map — placed upon a net apron. One of the aprons is on display in Freydl's women's wear. Come the last week in May, the Statler hotel in Detroit will be the scene of the Michigan Federation convention, with its many delegates wearing this Michigan badge. Eight hundred-plus Glamour Aprons — developed by a member of the Northville BPW chapter — will stand out among the various insignia from the other states. With Michigan printed plainly across the waist band, there will be no doubt in the minds of visitors that Michigan has loyal supporters — particularly in Northville.

2 Northville Girls, Boy Win Forensic Awards

Competing against top oratorical students from some 20 high schools, two Northville girls and a boy copped three of the five awards in the regional spring Forensic Contest last week Tuesday.

They are Judy Imsland, junior; Sheila Sandrock, senior; and Jay Warren, also a senior. These three students, along with five other Northville students, were winners in district competition earlier this year.

The three Northville winners were each awarded plaques for their outstanding achievements.

Winners of the remaining two awards represented Pontiac Northern and Southfield high schools.

Judy was awarded her plaque for winning in the humorous reading category. She read an excerpt from "Life Among the Savages" by Shirley Jackson. Sheila was the winner of the interpretive reading division, reading a selection from Thomas Wolfe's book, "You Can't Go Home Again."

Jay won his award for original oratory. His oration, entitled, "The Strength of a Nation," compared the present national situation with history.

Earlier this year the local Forensic members swept first-place honors in all five divisions of the Wayne-Oakland League contest at Clarkston.

Northville Players Guild

CURTAIN CALLS

Northville Players Guild Director Hans Kolbe set a heady example this past Sunday for even the busiest of those proverbial busy bees.

The tireless mentor of Northville's fledgling drama group had no sooner put the icing on one finished production, the children's musical "Johnny Appleseed" staged as a special opener for Michigan Week festivities, than he began sifting the ingredients for another play, "The Geisha," a musical comedy that will close out the players' guild's premier season on the weekend of June 25-27.

Dr. Kolbe, who directs the players' guild in his off-work hours — he makes his living as a teacher at the Detroit Institute of Musical Art — may be short on time, but he's long on conviction. When he helped spearhead the organization of the Northville Players Guild a year ago, he said he thought a musical would be a good finale for the group's first season.

The skeptics had their doubts. Where, they queried, would the novice organization find the musical talent and production know-how to undertake such an ambitious venture?

Sunday night Dr. Kolbe assembled his cast of "Geisha" principals at his home for rehearsal.

All are amateurs, most from here in Northville. They are:

Tom Williams, Lieutenant Reginald Fairfax; Jim Drew, Lieutenant Cunningham; Gino Farrah, Wun Hi; Tom Griffin, Marquis Imari; Glenn Deibert, Takamini; John Hyde, Lieutenant Katana; Betty Sterner, Lady Constance Wynne; Carolyn Oldford, Molly Seamore; Gladys Weiss, Ethel Hurst.

Also, Betty Seller, Marie Worthington; Sharon Mazanec, Juliette; Geraldine Mills, O Mimosa San; Gwenlaure Karr, Chrysanthemum; Sylvia Longfield, Blossom; Georgie Richards, Golden Harp; Mary Welch, Little Violet; and Joyce Griffin, Nami.

"We still need more men and women to sing in the chorus," Dr. Kolbe told them. "We especially need men, age 17 to 40ish. Call me (FI 9-1782) if you know anyone who would like to sing."

"The Geisha," involving the romantic entanglements of some amusing characters who frequent a Japanese teahouse, will be presented Thursday, Friday and Saturday nights, June 25, 26 and 27 on the stage of Northville high school's auditorium. Ask a guild member for tickets or phone FI 9-9555.

Tornado

Aid Project

A search for linens for survivors of the tornado that slashed the Anchor Bay area is underway in Northville.

Called a "Shower of Linens", the project to supply linens to families, who lost most of their earthly possessions in the disaster, of two weeks ago, was launched here by Mrs. Mary Ware.

In a letter received from one of the Anchor Bay families, Mrs. Ware learned that most families who lost their homes are in need of bedroom, bathroom and kitchen linens.

Insurance claims and financial contributions, received by these families, she learned, are being used to rebuild their homes. "Little or none is available for these seemingly unimportant but necessary linens," she said.

Persons wishing to donate linens for the "Shower of Linens" project are asked to drop them off at the Detroit Federal Savings & Loan Association, 200 North Center, today, tomorrow or Saturday.

Mrs. Ware and her husband plan to take donations to Anchor Bay on Sunday.

Novi Library Gets Donation

Two books, one concerning nature hobbies and the other concerning pets, have been donated to the Novi public library under the book-a-month program here.

The selected books, donated by the Clifford Bunker family, are "The Golden Book of Nature Crafts" by John Samderson and "The Golden Book of Wild Animal Pets" by Roy Piny.

According to the book of the month committee of The Friends of the Library, the latter book shows young people how to make pets of unusual animals such as the armadillo, racoon, flying squirrel, crow, salamander, and other creatures of wood, field, and stream.

"The Golden Book of Wild Animal Pets" also contains easy directions for setting up simple cages of wood and wire, a bird feeding station, an aquarium, a terrarium, an ant house and even a back-yard zoo.

Big P-TA Fair Slated Tomorrow

Northville PTA will climax Michigan Week here with its own "May Fair" from 5:30 to 10 p.m. Friday at the community building and junior high school.

As is traditional in this annual-and-only money raising PTA event there will be junior and senior midways with old and new games, rides, snacks, and a dinner. Everyone in the community is invited, Chairman John Wisner emphasizes.

The Italian-style dinner will be served in the community building, beginning at 5 p.m. — a half hour before the rest of the fair. A meat or meatless spaghetti dinner, complete with salad, rolls, dessert and coffee or milk is planned under the direction of Mrs. Arthur Hempe.

Advance ticket sales for the fair booths are being held in schools this week with 11 tickets being sold for $1. On the fair night it will be 10 for $1. Each strip of tickets will have a stub for prize drawings.

Grand prizes will be a boy's and a girl's bike. There will be drawings every half hour for more than 100 prizes donated by local merchants.

A "Bumper Game" will be new on the junior midway this year. Other popular attractions will be a fish pond, bug game, ping pong toss, "HuckleBuck" (A barre toss), a make-up booth, lollipop tree and two ring-a-cane booths in the center of the junior midway, located in the junior high gymnasium.

On the first floor of the junior high school will be white elephant, candy and cookie booths. Elementary school children are bringing white elephant donations. The candy booth is supplied and manned by Mothers' Club, and the cookie booth, by Northville school mothers.

The senior midway will be located in the community building where the cake walk also will be held. Cake and coffee will be served in a "Vineyard-in-the-hills" on the community building stage. This event is the responsibility of Northville Women's Club.

Creampuff? That's a used car without the second-hand headaches. Mainly we're in business to sell new Volkswagens. But people trade in all kinds of cars for VWs and we find ourselves with all kinds of used cars on our hands. The really good ones, we'll recondition and resell. The "heaps" never even get close to our used car lot. We don't sell any car, new or used, that can't pass our 16-point safety and performance check. After all, our reputation rides around in every used car we sell. That's why you'll find worthwhile automobiles on our used car lot. We're specialists, you know. In creampuffs. Get the best deal anywhere.

Barons Take W-O Tennis Title

There's no doubt in the Northville camp that Bloomfield Hills is the top team in the Wayne-Oakland Conference as the Barons trounced the Mustangs in a dual meet Thursday and Saturday at Clarkston.

On the basis of conference dual meet records and the tournament results, Northville tied Holly for third place in the league. The meet was held Friday and Saturday at Clarkston.

Preparations have been made by club members, under the guidance of the club's leader, Mrs. E. Earehart.

Northville area members are Martha Smyth, who will enter a pinto pony; Karen Hembrey, entering an Arabian gelding; Terrie Rogers, entering a saddlebred yearling; Leatha Carr, entering a one-half Morgan mare and filly; Belinda Dolan, entering a one-half Quarter mare; and David Earehart, entering a Morgan gelding.

There will be 23 classes in the show. Among these will be those for halter, model stock, pleasure, costume, girls and boys equitation, open reining, pleasure stake horsemanship, trail class and others.

Judge will be Barbara Gougou Scheffer, Ringmaster Ted Roberts, veterinarians Dr. Wesley Lickfeldt and Dr. Rick Thompson, and blacksmiths Jim Wolfong and Jerry York.

It's 2nd Straight Golf Title Mustangs Cop Regional Crown

Northville's high flying golf team "won 11 victories in one day."

Impossible? Not according to Coach Al Jones' tally sheet. It was no mean feat, although the Mustangs did not play ten separate dual meets.

They beat 10 other class B teams — and a string of class A entrants — to walk off with their second regional title in as many years.

Northville carded a team score of 334 Friday at the Glen Oaks Country Club in Farmington to qualify for the state tournament Saturday at Midland. And the score was even more impressive since the course was made especially tough for the event.

Northville also copped individual prizes with Jim St. Germain grabbing medalist honors by firing a 38-38 (76) and teammate Jim Bertoni, extended to a three-way play off, hauled down second place medalist honors.

In fact, they were the only two men to shoot below 40 in classes A or B on the back nine. It is a 36-36 (72) par round.

Rounding out the top team performance were Rick Talbot with an 87 and Bob Regenhardt with an 89.

Closest competitor was Grosse Ile's 353, followed by Royal Oak Shrine's 360. Further down the line came Monroe Catholic Central, West Bloomfield, Benedictine, Anchor Bay, Marysville, Redford

St. Mary's, Romeo and Wyandotte Riverview.
Jones pointed out that though his boys shot well, they weren't pressed. They'll have to shoot better to take the state crown, he added.

Northville outdistanced all of the entrants in class A with the exception of Birmingham Seaholm (330) and Brother Rice (333).

Perennial Wayne - Oakland Conference threat, Bloomfield Hills, finished fourth (343), behind Birmingham Groves (335). Other teams entered were Bentley, Monroe, Redford Union, Ferndale, Oak Park, Southfield, Trenton, Royal Oak Dondero and Kimball, Franklin, North Farmington and others.

Not content with Class B conquests, Northville trounced visiting University of Detroit High school, 161-174, Monday at the Meadowbrook Country Club.

Playing the par 36 front nine, Northville's St. Germain fired a 37; Bertoni 38, Talbot 40 and Regenhardt 46. Low for Detroit was Pete Ewing's 40, with the high being a 46.

Registration for the summer recreation program will begin on Saturday, June 6, Conley said.

The Scout-Recreation office will be open for this purpose from 8:30 a.m. until 4 p.m. on Saturday, June 6 and on Saturday, June 13. The office also will be open from 3 p.m. until 5 p.m. from Monday, June 8 through Friday, June 12.

Beginning Monday, June 15, the office will be open from 8 a.m. until 12 noon; Monday through Friday.

Registration fees are 75-cents for residents of the city of Northville and Northville township. Non-resident fees are eight dollars for the full summer program.

Tiger Baseball
The Detroit Tigers will clash with the St. Louis Cardinals in an exhibition game on Monday, June 1 at 7 p.m. in Tiger Stadium. Stan Musial will make an appearance with the Cardinals.

All proceeds from the game will be used for the promotion of youth baseball. The Northville recreation department will receive part of the proceeds — based upon the number of tickets sold locally.

Tickets will be on sale at the Scout-Recreation building on Saturday, May 23 from 9 a.m. until 4 p.m. They also may be purchased from any recreation department employee until Saturday, May 30.

6th Inning Rally Stops JV Nine

With the game tied two-all entering the sixth frame of the JV game Monday, the roof fell in on Northville as visiting Walled Lake came up with seven runs for a 9-2 win.

The Colts committed six errors in the contest, five in the last two disastrous innings.

Although Northville pitcher Jim Grant gave up 10 hits, it was largely poor support in the field that lost the game. He struck out eight and didn't walk a man until the sixth.

Northville finished seventh in the regional track meet held Saturday at Livonia Bentley, but it was the individual performances that marked the Mustangs' success.

Two Northville entries accounted for all the local points in the field of 16 class B teams.

Kent Kifer and Jim Mazel, as a result of their placements, qualified for the Michigan state track finals next Saturday at East Lansing.

Kifer took second place in the pole vault with an effort of 11 feet four inches. The winning vault was the same height, but the winner missed fewer times.

For the Clarkston pitcher, who faced only 23 men, two over the seven inning limit. John Mach helped his teammates avert a no hitter early by singling in the first inning.

So the Mustangs, after scoring 21 runs in winning two consecutive contests, reverted to their old ways. Combined, they eked out only four hits.

The 1-0 loss to Bloomfield Monday on the road was an especially bitter pill to swallow since Northville's Jerry Island turned in a solid performance on the mound. He twirled a seven hitter, but was tough in the clutch.

Clarkston was in command all the way Thursday, scoring twice in the second and fourth frames and once in the third, while Northville mustered only one single. Score was 5-0.

Summer Fun Plan Gathers Steam

Northville's recreation activities started to bubble this week as Director Kenneth Conley came up with a mixture of fun and entertainment for young and old.

High on his list was the announcement that a meeting of representatives from all organizations and groups wishing to enter the Northville Recreation Men's summer softball league will be held Saturday.

The meeting will get underway at 1:30 p.m. in the Scout-Recreation Building. He emphasized that organizations must have a representative at the meeting if they plan to enter the league.

Class E Baseball.
All boys interested in playing Class E baseball and who will be at least 14 years old before September 1 but will not have reached their 16th birthday before September 1, are requested to report to the large baseball field in Cass Benton Park on Monday, May 25 and on Wednesday, May 27 at 5:45 p.m. Meetings and practice sessions for these boys will take place at that time.

Practice sessions also are slated for June 1 and June 3.

Class F Baseball
Practices will be held on Saturday, May 23, and on Saturday, June 6 (but not on Memorial Day), for boys interested in playing Class F Baseball — ages 10 through 13.

Veterans Plan Memorial Rites

Members of the Northville American Legion and Veterans of Foreign Wars chapters will attend the 11 a. m. worship service at the First Baptist Church Sunday, preliminary to the annual Memorial Day parade and ceremonies six days later.

According to Walter Sousa, commander of the VFW post and chairman of this year's Memorial Day activities, attendance en masse of veterans at a worship service occurs each year. The veterans attend a different church each year.

Preliminary plans for the Memorial Day program on Saturday, May 30, also are well underway, Sousa said. Besides the VFW and the American Legion, other organizations are expected to participate. These include Girl Scout and Boy Scout troops and the high school band.

The parade will form in front of the American Legion post at Center and Dunlap. It will proceed east on Dunlap to Hutton, Hutton to Main street, Main to Wing, and Wing to the Oakwood cemetery on Cady. Here a VFW firing squad will fire a salute at the Veterans grave.

From Oakwood, the parade will proceed to Rural Hill cemetery. Enroute, American Legion members will fire a salute at the bridge overlooking the Rouge River and drop a wreath into the water in memory of the Navy's war dead.

At the Veterans Plot in Rural Hill, members of both the VFW and the American Legion will fire a joint salute to the war dead. Taps will echo the salute.

Principal speaker for the Memorial at Rural Hill will be Ernest Stratyckuk, Michigan department commander of the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

Michigan Week Opens on Cultural Note

VISITORS DELIGHT — Delighting visitors at Sunday's Michigan Week cultural program was this display of art by members of the Three Cities Art club. The display was located in the lobby of the community building.

Northville residents and visitors to the community were treated to an afternoon and evening of cultural entertainment Sunday with the opening of the Michigan Week celebration here.

The program, which ranged from a display of paintings by Northville residents to the reading of poetry by two of Northville's poets, was divided into two parts — half of which took place between 2 and 5 p.m., and the other half between 7 and 9:30 p.m. in the community building.

One of the highlights of the afternoon program was the presentation by the Northville Players' Guild of "Johnny Appleseed", a two scene musical play for children.

Produced and directed by Dr. Hans Kolbe and Rita Sprenger, the cast included three adults, Mrs. Mary Freydl, Glenn Deibert, and Tom Williams, and the following children:

Jeff Mills, who played the role of Johnny Appleseed, Steve Utley, James Penn, Colleen Deibert, Lynn Angove, Nancy Ambler, Ronald Angove, Judy Bogart, Jane Forrer, Sue Forrer, Gregory Freydl, Cheryl Hollis, Mary Prodder, Diana Sellers, John Stopper, Cindy Westphal, and Ellen Wisner.

Other program specials included a colorful slide presentation by the Northville Camera Club, introduced by Miss Elizabeth Beard, which showed outstanding man-made and natural wonders of Michigan.

Singing folk songs, including a number of songs she wrote herself, was Mrs. Marie Bonamici of Plymouth. She accompanied herself on the guitar.

Decorating the lobby of the community building were paintings and pottery by members of the Three Cities Art Club, and section of the auditorium floor held the fascinating works of Northville artists.

Members of the Michigan Week committee, which arranged Sunday's program along with other activities this week, are Delbert Black, Chairman, Mrs. Harold Hartley, Miss Linda Edgerton, Eugene King, Robert Williams and Jack Hoffman.

CHILDREN'S PLAY — A lilting melody combined with a piece of American folklore provided a heart-warming play by children and adults during Sunday's program. "Johnny Appleseed" was presented by the Northville Players Guild.

SWINGING MUSIC — Hardly a toe remained still as members of the audience tapped to the swinging beat of the numbers presented by the Northville high school stage band, under the direction of Robert Williams.

NORTHVILLE ARTISTS — The "home-grown" works of Northville artists occupied a featured place in the displays in the community building. The paintings emphasized another aspect of the culture of Michigan and Northville.

He Recalls Working On Old Spring Line

To the Editor:

The Record that is being sent to us by Dorothy Shoebridge carried the information that the old spring has failed again.

Now it is faintly possible that I have a clue that would lead to further information from the files of my own Northville Record.

During a period from about 1918 to 1924 I was one of a crew of five men who were employed with funds donated by some local organization, to push a pipe line under the P.M.R.R. (The old spring had failed) to be connected to the spring then known as Deep Springs, just a little north east of the standard oil bulk plant. I believe it was operated by

D. J. Stark's father (this may place the date closer). This line may have failed.

Later Deep Springs was renamed Silver Springs and a line was run to pump into railroad tank cars. Later it was converted to a bottling plant and water hauled by tank trucks.

Of that crew I remember the names of Harvey Hinchman and Henry Toussaint, Sr. Two others were from Plymouth. Oh yes, Mr. Barber who was the P.M.R.R. agent then may have some information.

It may be that excavation in the gravel pit may have dried it as it did a spring in the old D.U.R. pit.

The old spring always seemed as permanent as the sun and the moon, and I drank from it for nearly forty years, many old springs have and are coming to extinction in this area also.

from the PASTOR'S STUDY

by Rev. Elwood H. Chipchase
Pastor, Salem Federated Church

Recently it was my privilege to stand in line to take a lump of sugar on which two drops of Polio Vaccine had been dropped.
By faith I put that cube in my mouth trusting my health and possibility against polio to the medical profession. By faith, thousands in this area took the same dosage as I, trusting those whom they did not know, regarding a medicine they did not understand, and taking the word of the well-qualified medical profession.

Do you have faith? You must answer "yes." This is one proven fact in your life, you could not exist without faith. You exercise faith when you go to the grocery store, when you sit on a chair, when you drive your car or ride a bus, when the pharmacist fills your prescription, in reality, you exercise faith in almost everything you do.
Have you fully used your faith in relation to the living God? Immediately there are those who say, "I can't have faith in someone I can't see." Have you seen the person who prepared those foods, made your chair, assembled your automobile, produced the medicine or even the man who discovered that wonderful Polio Vaccine? Probably not — yet you have faith in one you have not seen. Then why not place your faith and trust in the Lord Jesus Christ for your soul's eternal salvation?

Then comes the protest,
"I have faith in these others because of what I have seen as a result of their work even though I have not seen them." Then you can put your faith and trust in the Lord Jesus Christ.
The results of His workmanship are all around you.
"The Heavens declare the glory of God and the firmament sheweth His handiwork." If the universe itself is not sufficient proof of the power and glory of God, then look at the lives of many who have been completely changed by the power of God.

Whether you wish to accept the preceding or not,
you are responsible to God.
In the final analysis, you must come to God in simple faith — much like you did when you took that sugar cube with the vaccine. By faith, believing what God has said in His Word regarding Christ's sacrifice for your sin on the cross, ask the Lord Jesus Christ to come into your heart and life and save you. Trust Him to make you the new creation you need to be.

It is impossible to live and breathe in this day and age without faith. You do have faith, and so does everybody else that you and I know. Now use that faith to the salvation of your soul, "Verily, verily, I say unto you, He that heareth my word, and believeth on Him that sent me, hath everlasting life, and shall not come into condemnation; but is passed from death unto life." John 5:24.

Members of the morning panel included volunteers and staff members who outlined the history of the hospital's volunteers, the work of departments directly related to volunteer programs, and new opportunities for service.

Holds 4th Workshop

The fourth annual Volunteer Workshop was to be held yesterday at Northville State hospital.

The hour program was followed by buzz groups which discussed a variety of topics of common concern.

After lunch and a fashion show, in which a volunteer outlined how her patients' sewing project utilized donated materials, Philip N. Brown, M.D., medical superintendent, conducted an award ceremony.

"This practical workshop," offered Dr. Brown, "provides helpful information and an opportunity for our volunteers to become better acquainted.

EDUCATIONAL ADDITION — Groundbreaking ceremonies for the 38'x64', two-story educational addition at Salem Federated church were held Sunday afternoon. Turning the first shovel for the addition, which is slated to be completed by August 15, are the Rev. Elwood Chipchase (left) and Donald Lanning, chairman of the building committee. The addition, made necessary by steadily increasing attendance, will provide an assembly area, classrooms and a recreational area for the church's various youth organizations.

During Michigan Week stop in and look over the Ford Family of Fine Cars. You'll be pleased at the progress that has been made since Henry Ford introduced one of the most famous automobiles of all time, The "Model-T". Even though the Ford Motor Company discontinued the Model-T in 1927, you occasionally see one of them still in use! Inasmuch as 15,000,000 of them were built, and Henry Ford put emphasis on durability, this is not surprising.
Ford's emphasis is still on quality. You'll see this in the 1964 Family of Fine Cars — Falcon, Fairlane, Thunderbird and the all new Mustang.

SPEAKING for The Record

By BILL SLIGER

Superintendent of Schools Russell Amerman called Mayor A. M. Allen and Township Supervisor R. D. Merriam together last week for a chat over the 14-acre fish hatchery site on Fairbrook.

It's reported that the fisheries division of the federal government will be through with the property by the end of the year. It seems unlikely that any other government agency will have any use for the grounds and buildings.

The city had shown interest in gaining ownership of the parcel; Supervisor Merriam had written two letters to federal agencies seeking the land as a possible site for a township hall; the school board thinks it might be just the spot for a much-needed elementary school.

While the city had indicated it would support the school board in a cooperative effort to obtain the parcel, the township's position was unclear.

But Superintendent Amerman reports complete accord. Supervisor Merriam is ready and willing to throw township support behind the school board effort.

The township supervisor told Amerman that his chief concern was with the promotion of recreation, which school use of the property would aid.

The mayor, supervisor and superintendent also agreed that it makes good sense to use property which is already non-taxable, rather than acquiring a far more costly parcel and adding it to Northville's high percentage of tax-free property.

No one can be sure that the fish hatchery is a desirable building site until closer appraisal is made. And it's no certainty that the school district can acquire the property.

But success seems more likely when the effort is united, not divided. And in this instance, success could add up to dollars saved for the taxpayer.

It is not easy to work hard, perform efficiently, meet deadlines in the face of constant interruptions, and at the same time win friends.

Not so for Jack Hoffman.

Without fanfare he handles all situations, grinds out his assignments and then looks around for ways to help others.

Jack came to The Record nearly six years ago. During that time he's taken a lot of kidding. There's absolutely nothing he will not try. He'll challenge anyone to a game of golf, bowling, fishing, foot-races, hikes or resolutions to stop smoking. He hardly ever wins, but no one questions his effort.

At work it's the same determination, but with the opposite result. No one can match his performance.

Jack Hoffman is a throw-back from another age. He gains great satisfaction from a job well-done, never complains and solves 99 per cent of his own problems.

If he's stuck, he asks for and accepts advice. As you may have guessed by now, The Record will soon lose its editor.

Monday he becomes assistant to the director of public relations at the General Motors Coach and Truck division in Pontiac.

My emotions are mixed. I am happy because Jack will move into a position offering far greater potential. His efforts will gain the financial rewards they deserve.

I am sad because Jack Hoffmans come along so rarely. He has made life more pleasant for his fellow workers; he has contributed greatly to his community; and he has been a good friend.

I'm not sure how things have been going over at General Motors. But they're certain to look up as soon as Jack gets on the job.

The Northville Record—Novi News—Thursday, May 21, 1964
Section Two — Page Six

Of the 83 counties in Michigan, no less than 31 of them derive their names from the Indians. Names of the other 52 counties stem from a variety of countries, dignitaries, and local characteristics.

During this 11th annual celebration of Michigan Week it may be interesting to review a few of the colorful and important facts pertaining to this great state.

For example, only one county in this vicinity — Washtenaw — takes its name from the Indian vocabulary. Oakland, Livingston, and Wayne take their names from other sources.

The name Washtenaw stems from the Indian word, "Wash-Ten-og", meaning at or on the river. In this case the river would be the Huron. Washtenaw was organized in 1826 and reorganized in 1829.

Wayne county, of course, was named for General Anthony Wayne. The first county in Michigan, its organization dates back to 1815.

The prevalence of oak trees led to the naming of Oakland county, which was organized in 1820.

Livingston county, organized in 1836, was named for Edward Livingston, Secretary of State under President Andrew Jackson.

Among the Indian names and words which were used in naming other Michigan counties were these:

Allegan was named for the Indian tribe of "Allegawi" or "Allegans", believed by some to have been identical with the Indians who were noted as mound builders. Arenac is a derivation of the Latin word "arena" and the Indian word "ac". Combined, the words mean "sandy place".

The Kalamazoo river apparently had special significance for the Indians for the county eventually became known as Kalamazoo — a word which supposedly means "the mirage or reflecting river."

Kalkaska is Indian, but the meaning of the word is uncertain. Keweenaw means "portage" or "place where portage is made"; Leelanau means "delight of life"; Lenawee means "man"; and Muskegon is a derivation of the Indian words "river with marshes".

Ontonagon is a derivation of the Indian word "Non-don-organ" meaning "hunting river".

Saginaw derives its name from the Indian words "Sag-enong" or "Sac-town" having reference to the story that a tribe of Sacs lived at the mouth of what is now known as the Saginaw river. Shiawassee is an Indian word meaning "river that twists about", supposedly referring to the stretch of the Shiawassee river.

Other county names that do not have Indian origin include:

Schoolcraft was named for Henry R. Schoolcraft, who served as mediator between the United States and the Indians, and who was also a member of the Territorial Council of Michigan.

Presque Isle is a derivation of the French, meaning "narrow Peninsula" or "almost an island". Montmorency was named in honor of County Morency, who aided the United Colonies in the war with England. The settlers of Genesee county came from a county in western New York by the same name.

St. Clair was named for General Arthur St. Clair, the first governor of the Northwest Territory. Macomb was named for General Alexander Macomb, an officer in the Revolutionary War. And Monroe was named in honor of President James Monroe.

Finally, this great state of ours takes its name from the Indians. Early Indians called it Mishigamaw — meaning "Great Water". The word also is sometimes spelled "Michigama" or "Michiguma".

The name of the state, meaning "Great Water", is quite appropriate when you consider that — —Except for the new state of Alaska, Michigan has the longest coastline of any state.

—Its 3,121-mile shoreline is equal to the Atlantic coastline all the way from Maine to Florida and longer than the Pacific coastline from southern California to the northernmost point of Washington.

—This coastline is much longer than the 935-mile coastline of Hawaii's eight principal islands.

Windows on Way Out of Schools

LANSING — Schools of the future may be considerably different than the buildings familiar today, say education authorities.

Increased use of television, teaching machines, films and slides and tape recorders will undoubtedly be part of future changes in teaching methods but there also may be more major shifts.

Windowless schools may be a part of the new trend. Studies are under way in several places to determine whether schools without windows help students to concentrate, reports the Michigan Education Association.

Effectiveness of the "team teaching" method could mean school building interiors would be considerably different. This is the method in which a group of specialized teachers take responsibility for a large class.

Team teaching, if adopted on a large scale, would require large rooms for use when the entire class gets together, and smaller rooms for specialized small group instruction.

Also in the near future, Michigan and National Education Association officials see possible changes in testing and grading methods.

Outside tests, those initiated by groups outside the local school system which generally measure academic ability, have been under fire by school administrators. These are expected to be reduced or eliminated from use soon.

Strict age grouping in classes and all existing grading systems also are under attack. A growing number of educators say classes should be formed on the basis of ability in each subject.

This same group favors abolishing grades and report cards.

Each pupil, they say, should be taught as much and as fast as he can absorb.

Far distant in the future, educators say some of the possibilities include: students studying a foreign land via jet field trips; adjusting the school day and school years to needs of the individual; and disappearance of the school building itself as education moves from the classroom to the universe.

Word that Michigan's employment situation is constantly improving brings with it predicted change in two other areas. These are population and income growth.

David I. Verway of Michigan State University's Bureau of Business and Economic Research reports that the state's downward trend in population and income may be reversing itself.

The state's population rose 7 percent since 1956 as compared with an 11 percent growth rate nationally. Employment fell in Michigan during the same period, while the nation's employment rate rose 5 percent. Income growth rate here was 16 per cent, less than half the national rate.

All three areas are very closely related, said Verway. "When job opportunities fail to materialize in an important industry such as manufacturing, many persons in the labor force will be induced to seek employment in a state where conditions are more opportune," he said. "A movement like this, one it begins, can become cumulative."

People moving out of the state, in turn, encourage the decline of taxable income to the government. Fifteen of Michigan's 83 counties showed a decline in taxable income since 1956, Verway said.

Out-migration of the population, the high unemployment rate and lag in the income growth may be changing, the MSU economist said.

Some signs are already showing in the economy. For example, Verway said total personal income between 1961 and 1962 increased slightly faster than it did in the nation.

"This could be a signal that Michigan's adverse growth situation has ended."

Brick highway pavements will soon be just a part of history, highway officials report. Not so many years ago brick pavements were common in every city and even on a few rural highways. Most of them now have been replaced or at least covered with blacktop in deference to the demand for new and better roads.

The few stretches of brick roads still remaining are all in cities in very short segments. When brick pavements were laid it was quite an event, highway records show.

Paving bricks were laid by hand by a squad of men, the skilled members of which could lay the bricks in smooth, straight lines. The bricks used were different from building construction bricks. They were harder, larger and thinner, more like a tile.

The main disadvantage of the brick pavements was that time caused unevenness on the roads. This wasn't very serious, highway officials note, when traffic was light and speeds were low. Today traffic engineers consider smooth pavement one of the biggest assets in promoting safe movement of traffic.

As for business itself, it must not only keep up its vigorous interest in technological improvements, but also stress the dignity of the individual and the meaningfulness of life. Probably the most destructive influence of our industrial civilization has been its focus on materialism and the pitiful lack of religious fervor.

To change this situation, the social scientists, government authorities, advertising writers and businessmen must all work together. The party that is carried into power by the voters next November will have a real challenge to develop the type of philosophy and the course of action that will carry us to ever-better human relations — both within our own country and among the other nations of the world.

Business Gaining Stature

BABSON PARK, Mass. — There have been a number of periods in our country's history when public distrust of business was strong and bitter. There was such an explosion of popular feeling against business interests during William Jennings Bryan's day in the 1890's. The next surge of indignation — probably the most violent of all — came during and immediately after the depression of the 1930's, fanned into flame by Franklin Roosevelt's accusing implications.

I now feel that the tide is turning. It is no longer fashionable for educated men and women to lambaste business and discredit its social value. Rapidly losing ground is the old belief that business does not care about people as individuals, that business contributes little or nothing to human welfare in our present social order.

The public is becoming increasingly aware of the fact that business has founded all kinds of research institutions and has heavily endowed them; that it has operated more and more for the purpose of developing better products — and better living conditions.

It was interesting to note how our late President Kennedy grew steadily more pro-business as he became better acquainted with the attitudes of most of today's businessmen.

Naturally, he realized that business, like any other human institution, was far from perfect. But it was clear that he also began to see that business was no longer heavily infected by opportunists who would exploit the many for the special benefit of the few.

There were numerous indications that President Kennedy recognized that business management was further advanced than the political management that tried to regulate it.

While President Johnson strives to build his image as a man of the people, he too obviously realizes the essential need for government to work amicably with business. It is evident that he feels business in general is a responsible force having high regard for the welfare of the individual.

The next administration, which the voters will decide upon in November, will have to stay with this approach, and I believe that both the Republicans and the Democrats know this.

The marriage of business to the physical sciences brought our nation to its present high pinnacle of technological achievement. From now on, emphasis must be upon a similar union between business and the social sciences. The depression crisis of the thirties brought about a reluctant engagement between these two forces, but it was accomplished by crucial pressures rather than by mutual desire. There was still distrust, and even hostility, between the common man and the big industrial powers.

Some of the largest and most responsible labor unions have helped bring about a closer tie between the worker and the employer — and also between government (representing the people) and industry.

Since I do not believe that our nation should be high-handedly dominated by either management or labor, I am always encouraged when I see men in high government plac-
