Truck Driver Unhurt In Crash with Train

A 60-year-old Zayt Trucking Company driver miraculously escaped injury Saturday morning at the Seven Mile road C & O Railroad crossing when his truck was hit broadside by a fast-moving freight train.

An entire semi-trailer of the gravel truck was demolished as the train tore through the mid-section of the three-part truck.

The engine of the train was termed a "total wreck" by railroad officials.

Traffic was held up three hours as railroad crewmen worked to clear the tracks.

Gladwin Olsen of Warren told Northville police he neither saw nor heard the train signals as he headed southward on South Main street and turned east up the grade onto Seven Mile road. He reported a bright sun made the signals difficult to see.

But just as Olsen approached the tracks, too late to stop, he said he saw the oncoming train.

The tractor, or cab section, in which Olsen was seated cleared the tracks just at impact. The train tore into the center section semi-trailer and the "eight-wheeler" hooked to the rear. The truck was loaded with 40 tons of sand and gravel.

The semi-trailer was carried some 100 yards down the track by the northbound train. It scattered sand and gravel and tore a flasher installation from its foundations along the east side of the track. Olsen was merely swung around in the tractor section, also on the east side of the tracks.

On the other side the final section, or "eight-wheeler", stood upright, its load still intact.

Truck damage was estimated at $20,000 by Mrs. Margaret Zayt, manager of the Northville-operated truck lines. Railroad officials said they would present the trucking company with a bill for the engine, valued at some $70,000, and the flasher installation, a $14,000 item.

Police received the call at 8:44 a.m. They report that witnesses have testified that both the blinker and warning bell systems were operating when the accident occurred.

Driver Olsen was unhurt as the train sheared away two sections of his truck. Notice scattered gravel on east side of train.

The middle semi-section was hit directly by the train and carried 100 yards northward along the tracks.

On the west side of the track the final section of the truck remained standing, its load intact. (See more pictures on page eight).

GOP Run-Off Slated in Township

Master Plan Eyes Future Of Township

An old-fashioned horse and buggy is definitely out of place in the era of limited-access highways and high-powered cars.

Similarly, Northville township doesn't wish to reflect a behind-the-times image in the years ahead as the mass exodus from the city persists and new communities of homes are created. It hopes it'll be ready for the population wave.

Northville township seems to be a prime location for future development. It is a hilly area with intermingling steep and gentle slopes, attracting new homes. And it is regarded as a place where a crowded urbanite can stretch out.

So, to prepare for expansion, a comprehensive master plan is being drawn up for charting the course of the township in the next two decades. A total of six studies are being made over a two-year period. Two — inventory and residential areas and facilities plan — have been completed.

A $17,764 federal grant is financing three-fourths of the cost of the project, with the township paying the rest. Township planners and Vilcan-Le-man & Associates have been working on the vast survey.

Encompassing nearly 17 square miles, the township sits on the outer fringe of Wayne county and is in the so-called metropolitan area. All mile roads link it with Detroit. Roads to the South connect it with Plymouth. More expressways for access to other areas are contemplated.

According to the 1960 census, the township population was 7,673. But only 43%, or 3,297, really live there. The reason is that the remaining 4,376, or 57%, are counted but are confined to institutions ringing the township.

A population boom is seen, however, with the institutional inhabitants remaining relatively unchanged. Some 10,000 are forecast by 1970, a 30% increase, and 17,000 are expected by 1980, a rise of 70% from 1960.

Perhaps most important is the breakdown of the township by age group. Most striking is the high percentage of residents (excluding institutional population) in the 5 to 14 and 20 to 39 age brackets. Together they comprise about 62% of the population.

Another index is the population per household. It is 3.52 persons in the township, outstripping the state total of 3.42 or Wayne county's 3.35.

"The higher than average household size reflects the bulging elementary school age group. This is also a normal characteristic of a new development," the planning report said.

In reviewing the study, it is obvious that the township residents are relatively prosperous. Housing value and income statistics bear this out.

Median family income is $6,533, compared with $6,825 in the metropolitan area and $8,256 on a state-wide basis. Some 17% earned between $6,000 and $7,000 while 21% made between $10,000 and $15,000, according to the 1960 census.

Better than 1% exceeded $25,000 or more in salary. At the same time, slightly more than 1% reported wages of less than $1,000.

Many higher-priced homes are found in the area, as the survey confirms. Of the 667 residential units in the township, 176 or 26.4% are worth $25,000 or more. Only 3% were valued at less than $5,000.

Biggest portion of the homes — 163 or 24.4% — were valued at between $10,000 and $15,000. Further, 16.5% or 110 were valued at between $15,000 and $20,000 and $25,000.

As a footnote, upkeep of homes in the township was analyzed. The results: only 15.6% were substandard in contrast to 21.3% in the state. In connection with the first report, the planning consultants took a poll among township planners to secure "a range of feelings" on problems in the area.

Typical questions and answers:

Why did you become a resident? Because of the "rural environment, rolling topography, reasonable land prices, nearness to work and small town atmosphere."

What are the least attractive features in the township? Responses were "gravel pits, institutions, poor housing and level land."

What are the township's greatest problems? "Incorporate zoning, problems associated with rapid growth, spot zoning of developments and conscientious planning."

Asked about problems created by public institutions, the planners said they bring about:

- Tax revenue loss.
- Lowering of adjacent land values.
- Intervention by outside governments.
- Traffic problems.
- Increased school load without reimbursement from either property taxes or tuition payments.

And questioned about utilities needed in the area, two members thought water was most important while the others indicated the necessity for sewers is paramount.

So the township has been pictured as it exists today. But what happens when it bursts it seams and starts to sprout? How will the area change? This is covered in the second study.

A new foundation for "pleasant living conditions" is envisioned. It is called the neighborhood unit concept and entails the creation of self-contained residential islands served by local roads.

At promptly 7:30 p.m. the first of five summer concerts will be presented in the parking lot area at the rear of the high school.

PICKIN'S GOOD — Area orchards are boasting one of the biggest cherry crops in recent years, as shown by this heavy-laden tree at Foreman Orchards on West Seven Mile road. That's young Gary Foreman surrounded by Montmorency pie cherries. There's 500 trees in the Foreman Orchards and they're loaded to the breaking point with exceptionally large-size varieties.

To Host Students

Help Still Needed By Rotary Club

Faced with one of the biggest projects ever undertaken locally by a single organization, the Northville Rotary club is calling upon the community for help.

On Saturday evening, July 25 the club will host some 350 foreign exchange students and their American foster parents. Nearly 1,800 visitors are expected at the farewell dinner to be held on the grounds at the rear of the high school.

They will include the students, their foster parents and brothers and sisters from throughout the state and visiting dignitaries, including American consuls representing the 13 countries from which the exchange students come.

Rotary is planning a "foreign exchange student weekend" for the youngsters who have resided in America during the past year under the Council of Churches' Youth for Understanding program.

Community response to Ro-tary's call for help has been remarkable, Rotary President A. R. Clarke and Program Chairman Dr. H. Lorne Dyer noted this week.

The local churches have cooperated in urging their congregations to provide overnight homes for the 350 visiting youngsters.

Ministers plan to greet the students with special emphasis on the Youth for Understanding program Sunday, July 26. Individual citizens have opened their homes to the youngsters.

Ford Motor Company plants in Northville and Wixom are providing more than 600 chairs for the farewell dinner. Other organizations are donating both chairs and tables.

But help is still needed. Especially in two areas: 1. Overnight homes Clarke estimates that homes are needed for approximately 50 students. Accommodations for 300 have already been supplied in Northville. Plymouth Rotary stands ready to take the remaining students, but if homes can be found here it would be preferable.

2. Labor. Men or high school boys are needed to help set up and remove tables and chairs to accommodate some 1,800 people.

If you can help, call Clarke at FI 9-3300 or Bill Sliger at FI 9-1700 for student accommodations; or E. V. Ellison at FI 9-3400 for volunteer labor.

'Banker's Hours' Getting Longer

New banking hours were announced this week by Manufacturers National Bank of Detroit.

All offices, including the Northville branch, are now open from 9:30 a.m. until 5 p.m. Mondays through Thursdays and until 7:30 p.m. on Fridays.

Band Concerts Return

A summer tradition will return for the 31st year this evening as Band Director Robert Williams raises his baton before the 90-member Northville high school band.

At promptly 7:30 p.m. the first of five summer concerts will be presented in the parking lot area at the rear of the high school.

Normally held at the city hall park, the concerts have been moved to the high school because landscaping at the new city hall grounds is incomplete.

Concerts are scheduled for July 16, 23, 30 and August 6 and 13.

Director Williams promises a variety of popular and familiar show tunes and marches and invites the public to bring chairs or sit in their cars and enjoy the music.

The crowd-pleasing high school band always ranks at the top of its league in musical performance and its concerts have become a traditional treat for area residents.

The concerts are presented free of charge.

Incumbent Treasurer, Trustee Face Test

A September 1 primary for township board offices was assured this week with the announcement that at least two of the incumbents face competition from within their own party.

Petitions for Supervisor R. D. Merriam, Clerk Marguerite Young and Treasurer Alex Lawrence have already been filed.

Trustee Donald Robinson said Tuesday he would file for re-election. James Tellam, a former Republican club president, also plans to file for trustee.

Petitions were also filed for Gunnar Stromberg, township planning commission chairman, for the office of trustee.

But Stromberg said Tuesday he would withdraw his petitions if Robinson filed.

Meanwhile, Mrs. Harold B. (Elsie) Price announced she would file for treasurer. Mrs. Price sought the position of supervisor in the Republican primary in 1963 but was defeated by Merriam.

Deadline for filing is 4 p.m. Tuesday, July 21.

To date there have been no applications for petitions for Democratic candidates.

Even if there are no more petitions filed — either by Republicans or Democrats — a run-off will be necessary on September 1 to determine the GOP candidates for treasurer and trustee.

Because of the change in election dates under the new constitution, all incumbents remain in office until next April even though they should lose their posts in the primary or November election.

Lawrence was elected treasurer for the first time in 1963. He had served as trustee until Roy Terrill's retirement as treasurer in the fall of 1962. He was named to replace Terrill and the board then tapped Robinson for Lawrence's seat. This marks the first time Robinson has run for office.

Clerk Young noted this week that the primary ballot will be full.

"As a matter of fact, the secretary of state has stated that it will be impossible to place local candidates on the same machine ballot with state and national candidates," the clerk pointed out.

The state recommends that townships place state and national candidates and issues on one machine and local candidates on another, if there are sufficient machines. An alternative would be paper ballots for local candidates.

Clerk Young is hopeful that township machines, which have been converted to make the whole board usable for listings, will provide space for the long ballots.

"If not, we may use two machines," Clerk Young added, although this would slow down voting.

Only member of the township board whose office is not up for election in the fall is Trustee Wilson Tyler.

Other offices to be filled include the justice of the peace position now held by Harold Schmidt and constable. Richard Mitchell now serves as township constable.

Although the new constitution does not provide for the position of constable, Clerk Young reports that the secretary of state indicates the position should be on the ballot.

Candidates' petitions must contain the signatures of at least 20 qualified electors and must be filed with the clerk before the Tuesday deadline.

Voter registration deadline for the primary is August 3.

Plan Voter Drive

A non-partisan effort to boost voting registrations in Northville has been urged by the city council as part of a county-wide proposal.

Meeting in special session Monday night the council named Karl Knott to head-up the drive.

Knott said Tuesday he had not yet formulated a definite plan for promoting registrations, but would seek out ideas from other county communities taking part in the project.

He indicated that the most productive method would appear to be door-to-door canvassing if sufficient manpower could be rallied.

In other business Monday night the council decided it would consider a request by Gib Bergstrom, South Main street auto dealer, to construct an elevated parking deck over city right-of-way near Park Place providing Bergstrom would accept three conditions: a revocable license; protection of existing public utilities; and owner responsibility to remove the parking deck if and when the license is revoked.

The council meets in regular session Monday evening.

BOWS OUT — C. Oscar Hammond of Northville will end his year as commander of the Michigan American Legion this Sunday when a successor is elected at the conclusion of the annual convention in Grand Rapids. National Commander Daniel F. Foley will address the convention at the opening session tonight. Two candidates, Duane Brigstock of Battle Creek, and George Frederick of Detroit, seek election to the 1964-65 state commander's post.

This 39-acre site at Waterford Lake just east of the intersection of Northville and Six Mile roads has been proposed as an ideal site for a Northville township community center. The proposal is included in the master plan study currently being made by the township planning commission under a federal grant. As the drawing above indicates, the community center area would include administrative offices, a library, auditorium, police and fire facilities and a band shell in addition to recreation areas.

WE'RE IN THE VOLKSWAGEN BUSINESS — That is the business of ECONOMICAL TRANSPORTATION. We get all kinds of cars as trade-ins. Fords, Chevies, Cadillacs as well as VWs. As they come in, each car is put through a rigid performance test. The ones that pass get the works. They're reconditioned, tuned-up, tightened up, washed and polished (inside and out). The ones that fail never show up on our lot.

Compare the prices of our domestic used cars. We can't afford to sell you anything but the best at the best price. After all, you'll be driving our reputation around with you.

Panthers, Bears Battle For Knothole Loop Lead

The Panthers and Bears are locked in a close battle for first place in the Knothole softball circuit as the teams reached the midpoint of the recreation program.

By virtue of a 12-7 conquest of the Panthers July 2, the Bears ended the Panthers winning streak and moved to within one half game of the league lead.

Hugh Jones and John Schneider paced the Bear attack with two hits apiece in two trips.

The Bears then went on a scoring spree last week, scoring 30 runs in two contests to remain on the heels of the Panthers.

In perhaps the worst drubbing in the past two years in Knothole softball play, the Bears beat the Cubs, 24-3 in two innings last Thursday.

Six Cub pitchers gave up 20 walks and five hits, while the Cubs themselves went hitless. They scored three runs in the first frame.

Jones sparked the Bears' 6-2 win over the Lions July 7 as he lashed a double and single.

The Panthers maintained their slim lead by also going on a run-spree last week.

Offer Classes In Life-Saving

Area youths may obtain a Junior or Senior Red Cross life-saving certificate by taking classes at the Lower Huron Metropolitan Park near Belleville, Northville Recreation Director Ken Conley announced this week.

Classes will be held 9 a.m. until 12 noon every weekday morning from Monday, July 20 through Friday, August 7, Conley noted.

The Junior Red Cross course is open to boys and girls 12 through 15 years old and the Senior Red Cross course is for persons 16 years old and up.

For further information, persons may visit the pool office or phone OXbow, 9-2331.

Don't Rush Your Child

Forcing children to do things before they are ready may actually slow them in learning.

When a child is learning to talk, for example, he may be hindered if his parents are too concerned with grammatical errors or the fact that he does not speak plainly. Constant correcting of a child's use of words can cause hesitancy of speech, points out Janet L. Vooheis, county extension agent for Michigan State University Extension Service.

There is a right time when a child is ready for an experience. This has been called the "teachable moment," in which learning takes place most easily.

There are some clues that can help you decide when a child is ready to learn something new: Is he interested in the new experience? Is he cooperative in your efforts to help him learn? Is he physically ready for the experience? Help a child, but don't force him, into a new experience. Then he'll be more apt to enter into the experience willingly and eagerly.

Even the simple prospect of going down a slide for the first time may frighten a youngster. The parent might prepare the child by first showing him a picture of a slide in a story book. Then the parent and child might visit a slide and talk about how much fun it is to climb up, slide down and land on your feet.

Remember parents that some children require more preparing ahead than others.

John Moe, who spanked a single to left, spared his Colts mates the fate of a no-hitter as the Panthers won with ease, 15-0, July 7.

Brad MacCallister and Glen Strange led the Panthers' eight-hit attack with a double and a single each.

Pitcher Rick Bingley was in control all the way as he threw a 12-3 Panther win Thursday over Lions.

In other Knothole softball contests last week, Jeff Moon with two doubles and a single paced the Tigers to a 13-12 win over the Clippers; and the Colts edged the Tigers, 7-6, when the Tigers committed three errors and gave up a walk to send the winning Colt run across the plate.

The Indians and the Giants remained one-two in the Knothole Baseball league, although the undefeated Indians encountered stiff opposition the past week.

It took a no-hit, no-run effort by pitchers Dave Grondin and Woody Filkin to set up the Indians 2-0 victory over the Dodgers Friday.

The Indians scored two times in the first frame, on an error and back to back singles by John Pauli and Grondin, but from then on they were shut out by Pitcher Bill Baldwin, who hurled a solid game.

Grondin turned in another sparkling pitching performance Saturday, when he twirled, a two-hitter, striking out 10 in the process.

Tom Hotchkins held the Indians to just four hits, but timely hitting was the difference.

Bases loaded doubles by Keny Lach and Bob Lanning featured a six-hit attack as the Giants beat the Dodgers, 14-0; July 8, to stay close on the heels of the Indians.

Stellar hitting by Lanning Saturday led the Giants to a 9-3 victory over the Athletics. He slammed a triple and a double, both with the bases loaded.

In other Knothole baseball games, the Yankees scored 10 runs in the third inning on seven walks, three errors and three hits to edge the Angels July 8, 11-8; the Angels then came back on the strong pitching of Charles Wooten with the 6-0 pasting of the Athletics Friday.

Turtles To Race Friday

The turtle races, which were postponed Tuesday due to rain, will be run off 10 a.m. Friday behind the Scout-Recreation Building, announced Ken Conley, director of the Northville Recreation department.

Judging of the largest, smallest, best and most originally decorated turtles will precede the race at 9:30 a.m. Participants must be registered with the recreation department, noted Conley.

Archery classes normally held Friday behind the recreation building will be held immediately after the races.

Friday's Knothole baseball games have been rescheduled for Saturday at the same time, Conley said.

Conley also announced that there will be a nature hike at Kensington park Monday. Limited to 35 youngsters, the bus will leave Amerman school at 9:30 a.m. and return at 11:45 a.m.

Reservations must be made at the recreation office or at the day camps before Monday.

STANDINGS (Through July 11)

Athletics	3-2
Angels	1-4

The Spagy - Thunderbirds pushed their win streak to three during the past week by racking up two convincing wins to remain close on the heels of the Class E league leaders.

They previously dropped their only two games in successive appearances.

First victim of the T-Birds was Bill's Market by a 5-1 margin June 8. Scoring four runs in the first inning, the Birds protected their lead with some good defensive play.

Key blows in the first frame were Keith Mueller's triple with the sacks loaded, followed by Scott Bergo's triple.

Mueller, who went all the way for the Birds, fired a one-hitter. Although Spagy's mustered only four hits in Monday's 10-2 victory over the Wayne County Training School, the T-Birds took advantage of 11 walks, eight errors and several wild pitches and passed balls.

Making his first start of the year, Pitcher Bruce Durham yielded only two hits while striking out eight. Doug Dingwall finished up unscathed in the last inning.

The Northville Plumbers lost one game by a hair and tied another.

With the Plumbers leading by two runs entering the final frame, WCTS scored three times to win, June 8, 5-4. A hit batsman, a walk and three singles accounted for the runs.

Northville's good pitching and fielding held a tough Novi General Filters outfit to a two-all tie Monday. The Plumbers got only two hits, one each by Rod Braun and Don Gow.

In another class E game Monday, Northville Recreation continued on its hapless ways, losing its 10th ball game without a win to Bill's Market, 27-2.

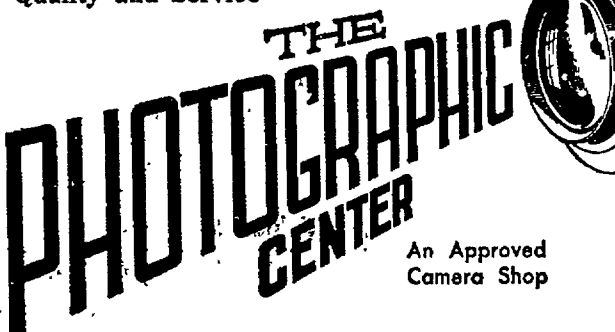

Northville was held to only one hit; Bill's garnered 13.

WARMING UP — Ken Conley, Northville recreation director, is offering two youngsters some advice about throwing and pitching. The boys signed up for the baseball school in fundamentals for five and six-year-olds. Conley said a practice session is held each Friday. A scrimmage game August 6 will cap the season.

Kisabeth Hurls Athletics To 18-4 Win Over Ypsi

The Athletics, Northville's entry in the class A men's recreation league, got off to a slow start with three losses but started hitting Sunday and dumped Ypsilanti, 18-4.

The six-team league has entries from Wayne, South Lyon, Livonia and Willow Run, in addition to Northville and Ypsilanti.

Player - Manager Joe Kritch, Jr., reports that the Athletics are looking forward to winning days ahead now that Pitcher Ken Kisabeth has rejoined the squad.

Kisabeth hurled a three-hitter Sunday against Ypsi. He fanned nine. Jim Juday and Jerry Kisabeth had three hits each. Juday's two doubles and a home run drove in four runs. Tom Swiss also had four RBI with a double and a single, while Steve Juday also added

Coach Opens Cage School

Although baseball is still in full swing, local basketball will steal some of the spotlight beginning Monday evening.

A basketball school, conducted by high school Coach Dave Longridge and sponsored by the Northville Recreation department, will meet each Monday evening from 6:30 p.m. to 9 p.m. at the high school. Director Ken Conley announced this week.

All boys who will be in grades nine through 12 as of September are eligible for the activity, which includes drills in fundamentals and scrimmages.

Truck Driver Gladwin Olsen (above left) was shaken but unhurt following his miraculous escape from injury Saturday morning when the 3-section truck he was driving was hit broadside by a freight train at the C & O Seven Mile road crossing in Northville. Above right is shown the remains of the flasher signal which stood on the east side of the tracks. It was torn down by the middle section of the truck as it was carried some 100 yards along the track by the northbound train. (See story, page one).

An inadequately marked "no left turn" warning on Main street saved a woman driver from a traffic fine Monday in Northville Justice court. Mrs. Helen German of Fairview, Michigan, was ticketed July 3 for making a prohibited turn into the central parking lot. She was arraigned July 7 and pleaded not guilty. At her trial, Judge Charles McDonald dismissed the charge noting that the "signs aren't clear."

Northville city council at its July 6 meeting asked for an overhead sign to warn westbound traffic. A double yellow line will also be painted on the street.

All that alerted motorists to the prohibited turn is faded yellow lettering on the pavement.

Other cases decided by Judge McDonald were:

Claude Bell, 19, of Owendale, Michigan, was found guilty of being a minor in possession. He was caught drinking beer at Northville Downs July 3 and released on $50 bond pending his arraignment July 13. He pleaded guilty and was fined $20 and $5 costs.

Arthur Armitage of Detroit and Jack Jerome of Highland Park were stopped by police July 7 for canvassing and soliciting without a permit. They were freed on $50 bond each. At their arraignment, they entered guilty pleas and were fined $10 and $5 costs.

Dorothy Caraker of Plymouth was found guilty of disregarding the stop sign at Novi road and Eight Mile but the fine and court costs were suspended. She was ticketed June 24.

After his trial, Barry Shapiro of Flint was found not guilty of speeding 10 miles per hour over the 25 mile per hour limit on Randolph June 27. His case was dismissed. He had been released on a $10 bond since his arraignment July 7.

For running the stop sign at Novi road and Eight Mile, Harry Miller of Dearborn was assessed a $5 fine and $5 costs. He was issued a violation July 1. At arraignment, he pleaded not guilty.

Ronald Leppala of St. Sault Marie was fined $5 but costs were suspended for disobeying the stop sign at Sheldon road and Eight Mile July 5.

Kirk McSevery, 17, of 20148 Whipple, was found guilty of reckless driving June 26 near the A & W root beer stand on Northville road. He was arraigned July 7 but stood mute. His trial was held Monday and he was assessed a $35 fine and $15 costs.

Drug Car Driver Hurt

A delivery car for Northville Drug was smashed last Friday as the driver avoided a head-on collision. It landed in a ditch, flipped on its back and ended up almost a total wreck.

The car driven by Donald Wilber, 1916 Clement, was going south on Novi road Friday afternoon. Wilber was forced off the road by a northbound car that was attempting to pass another auto.

He suffered cuts and bruises, according to Police Chief Lee BeGoole.

The driver, who caused the accident, continued north without stopping.

He was observed by John A. Weber, 455 Cady, who chased him. Weber finally caught him, but the driver, Michael Omell of Farmington, ignored a plea to return to the scene of the accident.

However, Omell later went to the police station voluntarily. He was arraigned for reckless driving before Judge Emery Jacques. Trial date has been set for today.

Also this past week, Novi police investigated the disappearance of a car battery belonging to Harry Springer, 1931 West Lake drive.

Springer parked his car by his home Friday morning and didn't use it until Sunday. He tried to start it but the motor failed to turn over, he looked under the hood and discovered that the battery was missing.

Ivonne and Carlos Head Home with Memories of Northville

They left their home, their parents and their friends of seven months yesterday. Northville exchange students Ivonne Casdaibert and Carlos Moreira, are on their way back to their "real" home in Uruguay via New York city and the World's Fair.

Nostalgic about leaving their second home they are still anxious to return home — Ivonne to Montevideo and Carlos to Colonia, Suiza.

These two bubbling and enthusiastic teens, both 18, have many reminiscences about Northville, U.S.A. The most memorable — Christmas.

"It's something I'll never forget," said Carlos. "You celebrate it in a deeper sense with the family and then the snow...."

"...It makes the whole thing just beautiful," said vivacious

Ivonne.

Although the winters in Uruguay get very cold, it never snows. This was the first time that Ivonne and Carlos had ever seen it and they took full advantage of it becoming excellent skaters and tobogganists.

Carlos stayed at the Robert Bruecks, 47129 Dunsany, and Ivonne with the Howard Heimbeckers, 24760 Glenda Avenue.

Their stay wasn't all fun, however. They still had to go to school. Carlos and Ivonne finished their high school education at Northville high school and graduated this June.

"It was just like you see in the pictures everyone dressed in caps and gowns" said Ivonne smiling. In Uruguay, explained Carlos, high school graduation is not as big an affair as it is here.

School procedures here were a little different. At least school was a lot longer. At home in South America, they attended school only three hours a day, six days a week. "But it was a lot harder," added Carlos.

"In order to pass, you have to take comprehensive exams, both oral and written, lasting about three hours," said Ivonne.

And just like many other teenagers, Ivonne and Carlos made time for extra activities after school.

"They don't have organized school activities in Uruguay," said Carlos. While in Northville he started to learn how to wrestle and Ivonne played golf, tennis and basketball.

At school, both were members of the student council. Ivonne was also a member of the Forensics club.

They also had the opportunity of attending Rotary club meetings. "It was the first time that we had relationships with older people in this type of setting," said Carlos. "We were treated as adults and not as kids."

Then with a twinkle in his eye, he added, "They served very good meals." His emphasis was on the "very."

Carlos, who readily admits that he enjoys eating, said he'll miss hamburgers, and French fries most. Ivonne agreed.

Something they never did at home — because youngsters did it only if they were poor and had to help support the family — was work. "Here everybody does it. You work for yourself to help pay your expenses, while in Uruguay you work out of necessity," said Carlos.

Carlos took odd jobs — from washing dishes to mowing the lawn — "something which in my country would be shameful."

Ivonne babysat, which she sometimes did at home for her brothers and sisters.

Ivonne and Carlos came here under the program sponsored by the Council of Churches in conjunction with the Exchange and Rotary clubs.

"It was a wonderful experience. The best way to know what people are like is to live with them," said Ivonne. "Our families were just wonderful."

Before leaving Carlos said, "Thanks very much to your country. It was the greatest chance of my life." He regretted that many more teenagers didn't have this opportunity because "if young people of my age had this chance many world problems would be solved."

"I'll miss my family and my friends and would like to come back very soon to see them again," said Ivonne.

Asked if they would like to come back and live here, Ivonne and Carlos thought a moment and then said "no," but added quickly that they want to return often to visit.

Carlos summed up their feelings when he said, "Although it feels just like home here, we belong to that country (Uruguay) and not here."

Ivonne and Carlos return home to begin classes in March at the University of the Republic in Uruguay — Ivonne majoring in economics and Carlos in law.

Ivonne and Carlos pay a final visit to Northville high school.

from the PASTOR'S STUDY

By Rev. John I. Wittstock

Our Lady of Victory Church, Northville

It is always inspiring to find a good and healthy parent-child relationship in family life. There are many qualities that both parents and children must evidence to bring about this healthy bond between them. One of the virtues that parents must constantly be conscious of is "approachability." Sometimes we hear high school youngsters complain that they approached their parents about some problem and were met with a quick dismissal "not tonight son, I've had a rough day. Later on, all right?" Mother's answer was no better "Why not ask Dad, he certainly should know more about it than I do."

All too many teenagers complain "I can't even talk to my parents." Then there are the isolated cases, "My dad hasn't talked to me for several years in a good healthy conversation except for blunt expressions that he uses, 'shut up,' 'go to bed,' 'eat your food and be quiet' and 'get lost.'"

A lack of communication between two supposedly mature people, husband and wife, is bad enough but when a child is the victim of this sad experience there arises many psychological conflicts for the youngster, who consciously or unconsciously develops attitudes and feelings of rejection and insecurity.

This aspect of unapproachability cannot be emphasized enough because of its many possible consequences after leading to a depressive state, or abnormal behavior in both adolescent and adult years. The child who steals, who misbehaves in the classroom, who has no respect for his parents, who cannot get along with others, who frequently is impure, who has no regard for another's property by vandalism, may be doing these things to prove to himself and to others that he can obtain personal satisfaction from delinquent action and thus gain the attention of adults whereas his own parents had rejected him with their unapproachability.

Generally the loss of close contact and confidence with their children begin when children are more or less situated in school. Parents feel that the teachers will educate and train them and so less time is necessary to give them understanding and love. But it is true that children must know and feel they belong to a family and are an integral part of a community of life and love. Unless they have this sense of belonging to their family they will react adversely by rebellion at home, in school and against society as a whole.

Parental approachability goes beyond mere parental availability "we are here, if they need or want us." But parents must take the initiative in communicating with their children. There is all too much lack of dialogue, on sex education, "growing up problems" of adolescents, are easily answered by parents who began communicating with their children from the earliest years of formation. The honest, and open approach is by far the best approach. The youngsters can better accept and understand purity, holiness and true meaning of God's creative powers when both parents are equally co-operating in its explanation.

The Robert Waugh's of W. LeBost parked their trailer in Indian River and took a tour of the Eastern part of the Upper Peninsula. They viewed the Tahquamenon Falls, then on to Sault Ste. Marie to see the locks then over the new International Bridge to the Canadian "Soo" before picking up their trailer in Indian River and coming home.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Garbin and children of Mallot drive took a weeks vacation last week spending the first four days at Mrs. Garbin's parents (Mr. and Mrs. Charles Meyer) cabin near Cadillac. After leaving the cabin they spent one day at Bob-Lo and one day at Greenfield Village and Kent Lake. They wound up the week by attending a family picnic at Cass Benton Park. Approximately 24 people of the Garbin family attended, including Mr. Garbin's brother, Gene Garbin of Orchard Hills.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Pinner of W. LeBost had a barbecued steak dinner Sunday for guests Bruce and Dorothy Sanders, one of their "ham" friends from the canal zone. The four have been talking to each other via the air waves, but had never met. ed by its own elementary school park and playground within the township.

Everything evolves from the township, an agricultural entity of 36 square miles. Next comes the community, a complex of people engaged in business, industry and civic activities. It provides such basic services as the high school and shopping center.

Finally, the neighborhood is the basic planning unit, according to the study. It has a large enough population to support an elementary school and park. The street system is designed to eliminate thru traffic. Both school and park are centralized within safe walking distance for children.

In Northville township, however, it would be unrealistic to have schools within short proximity for all students as suggested in the neighborhood unit concept. So residential planning units would be established instead.

In a further breakdown, the study pinpoints standards for the neighborhoods. They include:

- About 3,000 to 5,000 persons in a unit.
- An elementary school enrollment of between 400 to 600 students.
- Five acres minimum and 10 acres maximum for school and playground sites.
- One acre per 900 persons for parks.
- Some 20% of total area of neighborhoods with 15,000 square foot lots and larger would be set aside for streets; 25% in denser areas.
- Size of lots would vary. In a half acre development site, 1.6 dwellings per acre would be allowed. A 100-acre subdivision would produce 160 living units. On the other hand, an acre development area would permit 0.8 units per acre or 80 houses in a 100-acre plot.
- All told, 12 residential units are proposed with the number of residents ranging from 2,680 to 4,850. Ultimate population "hold" of all units is pegged at 46,110, or average of 5.9 persons per acre.
- As the township mushrooms in population, the planners are aware that there will be a substantial increase in the demand for government services and administrative functions.

At the moment, township offices are modest. Officials occupy a renovated one-room schoolhouse. It is apparent it will be obsolete in the next 10 years. Thus a new community center must be constructed, the study indicates.

A location has been proposed. It is east of Northville road and Six Mile and adjoins Waterford Lake. The center would constitute an administration building, library, cultural facilities and a fire and police station.

Wayne county sheriff and state police now provide police protection for residents in the township. Fire alarms are answered by the city of Northville. Library facilities are shared with the city of Northville.

Public recreation sites haven't been overlooked either. As the study amplifies, "...growth planned with adequate space reserved for recreational activities will help to promote sound and stable real estate values."

Northville township right now has 271 acres of regional parkland within its borders. This is part of the Middle Rouge parkway, owned by Wayne county. It has picnic areas, winter sports and summer sports areas.

On recommendation of the National Recreation Association, the township will eventually need a total of 460 acres for recreation. This is based on 10 acres per 1,000 residents.

In their report, the planning consultants show that proposed schools will account for 280 acres of the total with Middle Rouge parkway taking up the balance.

Along with more homes and residents, more schools are anticipated. Besides the 12 elementary schools, three junior high schools and two senior high schools are projected.

However, the planning consultants point out that, "the need for one of the senior high schools can be met by expanding the existing high school in the city of Northville."

At ultimate development, 24 junior high students per family for over 3,100 for the entire township, will require classroom space. School administrators figure the enrollment should range from 700 to 1,200 at each building.

In suggesting two senior high schools, the study clarifies that there will be "2 senior high school pupils per family" and an enrollment size of 1,000 to 2,000 students.

Minimum site size for a junior high school is 25 acres and 45 acres for a high school. The average elementary school encompasses 15 acres. Thus for all the schools, a total of 300 acres must be set aside.

It was easy for patrolman David LaFond to track down a suspect Monday morning in Northville.

LaFond was checking front doors at business places at Main and N. Center at 2:45 a.m. when he discovered the rear door of Cloverdale Dairy was smashed.

He had little trouble in finding his suspect — he left a trail of blood behind him. LaFond followed his path to apartments located next to the laundromat.

George M. Conley, a trainer at Northville Downs who lives in a trailer court on Ridge road, was found bleeding profusely from a deep gash on his left arm.

He was sent to St. Mary hospital where he was given blood transfusions and was in surgery almost four hours as doctors mended his arm.

Police Chief Eugene King said that LaFond later found that Conley had shattered the front door of Spagy's market on Main street. Again, a trail of blood was uncovered.

As the case was pieced together LaFond ascertained that Conley first dashed the door at Spagy's, cutting his arm. Conley then went up N. Center to Dunlap and then proceeded down the alley to Cloverdale. A pool of blood was even found in the laundromat.

King interrogated Conley at the hospital. Conley told King he had been drinking all day Sunday. His memory was short on the incident.

Conley related he left a local bar about 1 a.m. He said he remembered "smashing the door at Spagy's with his fist but had no intention of breaking in." He couldn't recall his actions at Cloverdale, King said.

King said Conley is under investigation right now. Formal charges will not be lodged against him until he is released from the hospital. King indicated Conley will stay at St. Mary a few more days.

IN NOVI JUSTICE COURT

Even a judge understands wife trouble. That's why Judge Allen C. Ingles suspended a $5 fine against Orris Hamilton, 44149 Durson.

Judge Ingles was taking Judge Robert K. Anderson's place in court Thursday.

Hamilton, the owner of a dog, was ticketed because his wife let the dog stray beyond their own yard. This was the second violation.

He pleaded guilty. There was one hitch, however. His wife apparently handles the money. And as Judge Ingles said, "I felt his wife would rather see him in jail," so he suspended the sentence.

Other cases before Judge Ingles were:

—Richard W. Croff, Wayne, for leaving the scene of a property damage accident at Paragon Bridge and Steel Company, June 20. Within 30 days he must make restitution of $75 to cover damage costs and $25 court costs.

—A $5 fine levied against Robert C. Meyer, Plymouth, for failure to signal for a right turn April 25.

—Trial date set for Marilyn E. Raby of Detroit, July 23. She pleaded not guilty at arraignment. She failed to yield the right of way June 20.

—Trial has also been set July 23 for Robert G. Hall. He is accused of simple larceny — stealing three shirts and a pair of work pants from Joe Andrews, 203 Duana street June 12. He entered a plea of not guilty at arraignment.

—Pleading not guilty to driving without driver's license, A. B. Tisdale, 2215 Novi road, will go to trial July 23.

Judge Emery E. Jacques also spent a busy day in court.

He fined William C. Koester of Dearborn $100. Koester was arrested July 1 for reckless driving on Novi road, south of East Lake drive. He was arraigned the same day and posted $100 bond. A trial was held and he was found guilty of the charge.

After a good lecture, the case against Donald Lamontagne, 21, of Walled Lake was dismissed. He was found contributing to minors July 5.

Also of Walled Lake, Joseph B. Krumm was assessed $30 in fines and costs for carrying improper registration April 24.

Judge Jacques also rendered decisions July 9 in the following cases:

—A $5 fine for Robert E. Nance of Southfield for speeding June 25 on 13 Mile and Haggerty roads.

—After finding Neil G. MacPetrie of Southfield guilty of failure to yield the right of way June 8, a $10 fine was levied. MacPetrie pleaded not guilty to the charge at his arraignment June 18.

—Assessed a fine of $10 against Wayne D. Morse, Pontiac, for driving through a red light on Novi and 12 Mile roads

July 8.

—A $10 fine to Arnold A. Mattson of Walled Lake for burning without a permit on the L. Crusoe property July 7.

—A fine of $100 or 15 days in jail to John Parrish of Walled Lake. Parrish was ticketed by Officer Merle Spencer July 7 for driving after his license was revoked.

—Found John B. Sundling of Detroit guilty after trial of contributing to minors July 4. Sundling was assessed a fine of $15 and $10 costs. He had entered a plea of not guilty at arraignment July 6.

—Ronald S. Jankowski of Garden City pleaded guilty to driving a defective vehicle and failure to comply with restrictions June 30. He was fined $15 on the first count and $10 on the second.

SPEAKING for The Record

By BILL SLIGER

As I read a statement this week from Michigan's new director of mental health, I recalled a recent monthly report from the Plymouth State Home and Training School on Sheldon road in Northville township.

(I always like to remind the public that "Plymouth" State Home is in Northville township, despite the name given the new facility a few years ago by Lansing powers with little regard for geography).

Anyway, Dr. Robert A. Kimmich, the new director, told newsmen at his first press conference "this department exists for only one reason — to help those who have mental disabilities or emotional problems."

Dr. Kimmich stressed, wherever possible, the return of patients to community living, and contact with the public "in ways which will help families understand and work with those who have mental and emotional problems."

In the particular Plymouth State Home report to which I refer, Dr. Robert I. Jaslow, medical superintendent of the local unit, departed from the usual statistical information to relate progress reports concerning two specific cases.

I think these cases demonstrate that Plymouth State Home is following the credo of Dr. Kimmich and, more importantly, reveal the role that volunteers — women's auxiliaries and individual citizens — play in the rehabilitation of patients.

The first case involves a 12-year-old boy, described as friendly and extremely engaging, who cannot walk and is confined to a wheelchair. While the youngster was more capable than the average patient, placement in a community program was ruled out because of his physical handicap.

Surgery could solve this, but to be effective adequate bracing in addition to a wheelchair would be necessary. The latter items would cost more than $500.

That money was provided by The Women of Kendallwood Farms to be used solely for this youngster's needs.

Surgery has been completed. Now there's hope that in time, perhaps years, the boy will walk with the help of braces. And one day, he may return to family living.

An eight-year-old girl has been attending one of the public school programs for the retarded (a program which Northville supports). Until a few months ago she had never been in a private home.

Institutionalized since infancy, it is possible that this youngster is simply reflecting the effects of a lifetime in institutions.

At any rate, she demonstrated ability in the special education program. And, with help from a social worker, one of the volunteers opened her home to the child and for the first time she saw what a home was like.

Showing up well in school, and in a family atmosphere, the youngster is now slated to return to her home this September to stay.

In these instances it has taken a combination of forces to help offer hope of meaningful life to two youngsters — the skill of a professional staff, volunteer citizens, a community that is willing to support a program of education for the retarded — and finally, the families who have held out hope and who must continue to look to you and I — the public — for understanding.

Elmer Balko, Northville's assistant postmaster, has a problem.

He has a letter from Clewiston, Florida seeking information regarding "bell number 48", made by the American Bell Foundry company of Northville.

The Community Presbyterian church in Clewiston is planning to have the old bell restored (it hasn't rung in 25 years) and would like to mount a suitable plaque with some history of the bell.

Soon it will ring each Sunday in a new tower.

As everyone knows, "the mail must get through". But who has the old records of the now defunct American Bell Foundry company? If you know, call Elmer.

Highway Rest Areas Reduce Accidents

LANSING — Summer weather is rarely given direct blame for highway mishaps, but most experts agree it is a factor.

Usually, however, this factor is teamed with the increased motor traffic, shorter tempers, and others to cause the disasters which occur on the roads.

Heat waves which cause distorted visual patterns for otherwise tired motorists often are listed among weather conditions contributing to accidents.

Even brief rest periods on a summer outing can mean a big difference between highway safety and roadside tragedy.

Michigan's roads offer one of the most convenient means of getting these rest periods. The rest areas scattered throughout the state also offer a close look at some of the beautiful scenic spots at roadside.

Rest areas provide rest room facilities, picnic tables, parking areas for cars and trucks, telephones in some cases, a state map, and drinking water.

Just over 30 rest areas are state maintained on main routes. Many others are placed by community and county officials.

The steadily increasing rate of highway accidents and deaths points up the need for use of these roadside facilities. Deputy State Highway Commissioner Frederick E. Tripp describes rest periods as "an effective means of reducing driving fatigue, an important feature of any highway safety program."

Visitors to Michigan's Capitol during the next two years will find an empty display case on the main floor rotunda. The void represents progress in preserving a segment of historical memorabilia.

Some 211 historic battle flags carried by Michigan regiments during the Civil War, Spanish-American War and the two World Wars are displayed in the rotunda cases.

Last fall the first batch of flags, many of them barely holding together in shreds, was shipped to West Point for restoration.

Deterioration of the flags continues while they are on display because of the strain placed on the cloth by its own weight, notes Floyd Haight, chairman of the state Civil War Centennial Observance Commission.

In time the flags would eventually have been destroyed by the process. At West Point, however, each flag will be sandwiched between two layers of nylon netting dyed to match the flag colors.

By hand-stitching the three layers together, the nylon net takes the strain off the flag when it is hanging. The nylon will not deteriorate with age, Haight said. Three years will be required to complete the restoration because of the amount of hand work involved.

Mail-order purchasing is at an all-time high in the country and is, on the whole, a convenient means of acquiring quality goods and services without leaving the house.

One notable exception, however, is a segment of the mail order business especially active during the summer months, according to the consumer protection division of the state attorney general's office.

This exception is labeled by the division as the diploma mill business, a mail order operation aimed at offering various types of schooling in special fields.

Price of Labor Going Up

BABSON PARK, Mass. — Any man who owns a business, no matter what kind it is — store, service station, laundry, or factory — is going to see more of his money go for labor costs in the months ahead.

This is fine, of course, for the employees, if the company is prospering and can manage to stay afloat; but it means more problems than ever for the owners.

There are plenty of good solid reasons to expect the rise in labor costs to continue, and both business operators and their workers should be interested in keeping their company thriving under these conditions. I am talking as much to employees as I am to their bosses, because only through their joint efforts can jobs and incomes be safe for both.

If even a small firm goes under, it means a further burden of unemployment, not only for the families involved but also for the whole community.

A look at union contracts in practically all of the important industries shows that the trend of both wages and fringe benefits is still strongly upward. I predict that for at least the rest of this year and next there will be no leveling off. Profits of nearly all the big corporations are high, and the union leaders are dead set on earning their keep by getting the biggest possible slice of the profits pie for their members. Remember, too, that it doesn't take long for the gains in unionized organizations to spread out to the workers in non-union plants.

Let me stress that there not only will be continued increases in pay rates and in fringe benefits, but that these increases may be bigger than they have been. Package raises (wages plus worker benefits) have been running about 3-4%. Upcoming agreements may be stepped up closer to 5%. If so, this will be due not only to union hammerings for them, but also to the fact that management is always more willing to allow larger gains when business is booming and profits are sizable.

Fringe benefits will play a bigger part in labor costs over the period ahead. The unions highlight them in practically every bargaining session; and nonunion businesses are forced to give them serious consideration in order to attract high-grade people to work for them. I understand that most of those who go looking for work ask the personnel directors about health programs, pensions, vacations, holidays, insurance, and such. Once in a while it seems as if an applicant is more interested in whether or not he will get a coffee break than he is in the basic wage rates or in the working hours he will have.

There is no doubt about it — fringe benefits are here to stay; and both employers and employees should realize that such fringes are very costly — even though the cost may not be so immediately evident as that of wages.

I suppose nobody really wants to flout the government's plea to hold the line on wages and prices; but the fact is, they are doing it! Pay and price inflation has become such a habit in this country that with things going well it is easy to forget that serious difficulties can result if such inflation becomes "runaway". So, until government gets more excited about pay-price inflation, I look for labor leaders
