

What's Happening In Outside World?

Today the Detroit newspaper strike is one-month-old.

Many area residents are "starved" for state, national and international news.

They miss their "friendly" morning companion; and in the afternoon they begin to wonder "what in the world's going on".

We miss them, too. And we hope negotiators will soon reach agreement.

Ours is a community newspaper, devoted strictly to telling our readers what's happening in Northville, Novi and Wixom.

But in an effort to provide some news of the outside world, here's a capsule-style report of what you would find in the pages of your daily newspaper this week.

PAGE ONE

Senate passes President Johnson's $947.5 million anti-poverty bill. The legislation, designed to give work to idle youth and help low-income families get off relief, is considered an election-year boost for Johnson. GOP Presidential Candidate Goldwater opposed the bill.

The peace restored by UN efforts was threatened by a deadlock between Turkey and Cyprus about Greek Cypriot troop dispositions on the northwest coast. Jet reconnaissance flights were maintained by the Turks, and while Greek Cypriot forces were being told to give up three Turkish villages and withdraw from around the port of Kokkina, the Cyprus Foreign Minister Spyros Kyprianou declared they would never withdraw and that they are "ready to die to the last man or win".

Soviet Premier Khrushchev said he is thinking of letting truck farmers go into business for themselves and sell their produce in their own shops. Poor distribution now leaves big Soviet cities short of fresh fruits and vegetables. Prices, of course, will be set by the state.

The Senate rules committee voted 6-1, along party lines, that the appointment of Pierre Salinger as senator from California was "valid, proper and legal". Salinger was named by Governor Brown to succeed the late Senator Clair Engle. Salinger faces Republican George Murphy, a former motion picture personality, in the November election.

Funeral services were conducted Tuesday in Boston for Mrs. John F. Fitzgerald, 98-year-old grandmother of the late President Kennedy.

GENERAL NEWS

Motions were filed in Chicago for acquittal or a new trial Monday by attorneys for Teamster President James R. Hoffa and six others convicted on mail fraud and conspiracy charges. Guilty verdicts were returned against Hoffa and the others for defrauding the Teamster pension fund.

The inauguration of the next President on January 26, 1965, is expected to cost about $65,000, $10,000 more than for the late President Kennedy in 1961. Reason for the increase is the higher cost of labor and lumber.

Time magazine has said that Senator Barry Goldwater and his wife are worth about $1.7 million. Chief source of their wealth is the Goldwater family retail stores. Goldwater and his wife had an income of $65,000 last year.

Auto makers are starting up production on 1965 models. General Motors, Ford and American Motors began turning out the new cars Monday. General Motors is expected to launch 1965 output August 24.

Attorney General Robert Kennedy has indicated he will not consider running as a Senator from New York state without the approval of New York City Mayor Robert Wagner.

Dr. Sam Sheppard, free on bond from Ohio Penitentiary where he was sentenced in 1954 after being convicted of murdering his wife, is reported resting comfortably after undergoing a back operation.

Governor George Romney is besieged with mail about his stand on Senator Barry Goldwater, the Republican nominee for President. Aides said he has received between 2,000 and 3,000 letters, telegrams and postcards in the last two months. The correspondence is equally divided in its support and opposition to Goldwater.

Three children in Chicago climbed into an old icebox Friday. The door closed — and the children died. The old box was just idle and stored in the apartment building where their parents lived. All refrigerators made since 1958 require push-out doors and state laws say doors should be removed from discarded refrigerators.

Detroit Lions Coach George Wilson praised his offensive line "for some of the best blocking we've had in a long time" as the Lions squeezed out a 28-27 win over the Washington Redskins in the first exhibition game of the season last Saturday night.

Tomorrow night the Lions meet the Baltimore Colts in their second warm-up tilt at Tiger Stadium.

Tiger Manager Charlie Dressen is also patting his players on the back. The Tigers have won 7 of their last 8 through Tuesday night and now stand 58-58 for the season, tied for fourth with the LA Angels.

Baltimore leads the American loop with Chicago and New York a game behind. The amazing Philadelphia Phillies continue to lead the National League, some three games ahead of the San Francisco Giants.

Chi Chi Rodriguez edged Arnold Palmer by one stroke to win the Western Open Golf title in Chicago Sunday. Said the crowd-pleasing Puerto Rican after receiving first place money of $11,000, "when I was a kid fertilizing sugar cane, I never thought I would have this much in my whole life."

A Detroit truck driver, Albert G. Horan, who has been "down on his luck", won a $19,255 twin double-pot at the Detroit Race Course in Livonia Monday. The other winners didn't expose themselves at the mutual windows.

Detroit golf fans are awaiting the biggest golf tournament ever, the $200,000 Carling World golf championship slated for Oakland Hills August 27-30.

Area Officials To Support County Tax

The heads of Northville's city and township governments went on record this week as favoring the Wayne county request for additional operating funds.

Mayor A. M. Allen and Township Supervisor R. D. Merriam both members of the Wayne county board of supervisors, said they would urge local voters to support County Proposition No. 1 on the September 1 ballot.

The proposal calls for an additional one mill county levy for five years.

Presently, Wayne county faces a $16,000,000 deficit. Assets are recorded as $17,000,000 with liabilities in excess of $33,000,000.

A fact sheet distributed by Edward Connor, chairman of the Wayne county board of supervisors, outlines the gravity of the county situation.

It points out that every registered voter may vote on the issue and that the levy, which will raise $9 million for each of the five years it will be in effect, will cost the average homeowner fifty cents per month.

Connor has stated that reduction or complete cessation of services in the fields of hospitalization, mental health, public safety and care of aged and rehabilitation of delinquents would be experienced without the needed funds.

Among the county institutions slated for severe cut-back is the Wayne County Training School on Sheldon road in Northville.

Other services facing reduction or curtailment listed by Connor include:

—Wayne County General Hospital will be cut further particularly in the psychiatric services;

—county cost for adequate care for aged persons, nursing homes;

—the county's more than 4,000 acres of parks will become unpatrolled and overgrown with empty beer bottles;

—retarded and emotionally disturbed will go unhelped.

Both Allen and Merriam agreed that the county situation is grave. And both pointed to heavy welfare loads and lack of financial help from city of Detroit and the state as reasons for the county plight.

Mayor Allen expressed hope that the county could straighten itself out within the five year levy period.

Merriam also expressed hope that the five year levy would give the county time to solve its financial problems.

"We have to place costs where they belong," Allen stated. He said he would ask the council to adopt a resolution urging passage of the proposal.

That's why Niles who drives about 10 races a week, has to spend so much time between here and Chicago, where Rusty is now stabled.

This winter it will be Arizona, where fans will see harness racing for the first time since 1949 at a new track at Phoenix.

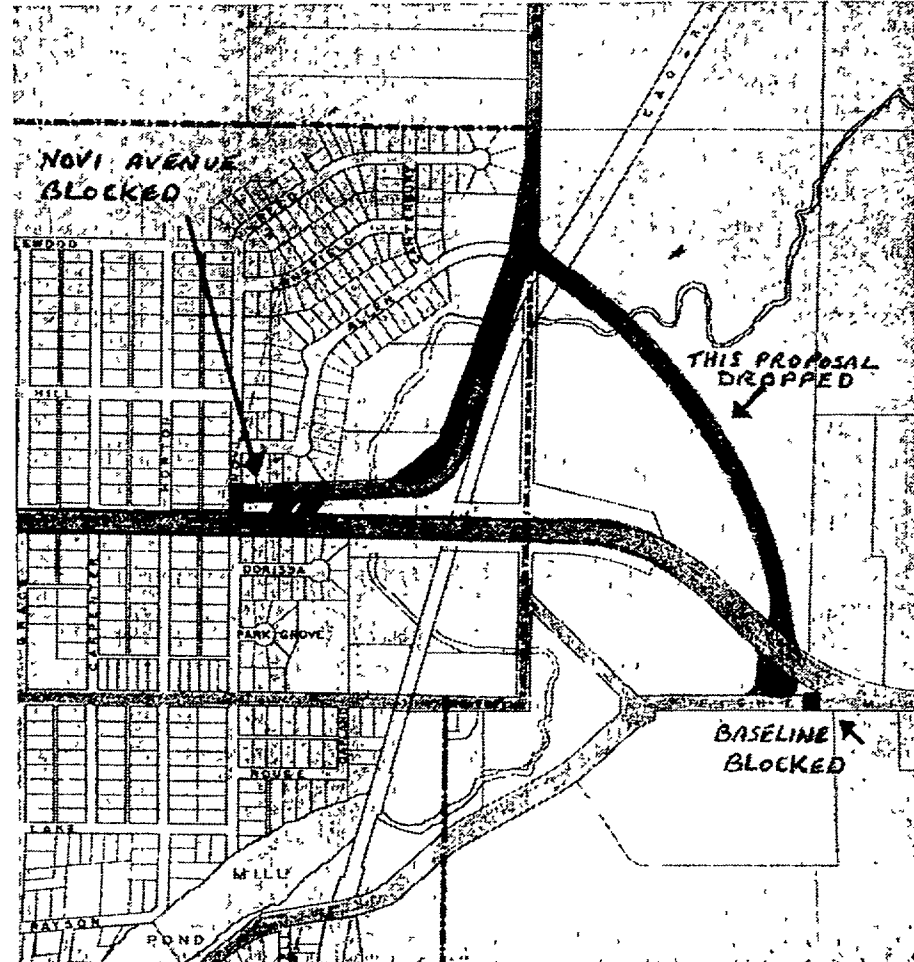

And they'll meet the best in the business — Rusty Range and Willard Niles — beating out a rhythm over the oval that's as sweet-sounding to the harness fan as the Van Cliburn's fingers tickling the ivories for the Philharmonic set.

She has owned and operated the retail shop for the past three years.

Directors To Huddle

The boards of directors of the Northville Area Development Corporation, Chamber of Commerce, Retail Merchants and Jaycees will meet in joint session August 19 at 8 p.m. at city hall.

An explanation of the work of the economic development group to date will be outlined for the directors.

This map shows how the Novi road curve will be widened and the road blocked at Novi avenue. Two divided lanes will connect Novi road with the Eight Mile road cut-off. Old Baseline will be blocked at Eight Mile and a wider connection path for two-way traffic constructed between Baseline and the cut-off. A proposal to connect Novi road and the cut-off with a new road east of Novi road (shown on the map) has been abandoned.

See Slight Decrease In School Tax Levy

The Northville board of education switched its regular "second Monday" meeting to Wednesday this week in order to meet a legal requirement for accepting bids on $250,000 in tax anticipation notes.

Other items slated for action last night were: bids on gasoline, milk, fuel oil and fleet insurance; adoption of 1964-65 tax rates and budget; establish tuition rates for 1964-65 school year.

It is anticipated that the board will adopt a millage levy of $24.10 per $1,000 of state-equalized assessed valuation. This would be a slight increase from the 24.70 mills levied last year.

Last week board members interviewed six architectural firms in anticipation of construction of a new elementary school in the near future.

No board action was taken following the presentations and the board agreed it would withhold any decision until September.

Firms appearing before the board were: Odell, Hewlett, Luchenbach; William P. Lindhart; Wakely, Kushner, Associates; Richard Prince, Ralls, Hamill-Becker; and Jahr, Anderson Associates.

A citizens' committee to study school needs for the future is slated to be named by the board. It is anticipated that this committee will work on the building program along with other school matters.

Superintendent R. H. Amerman pointed out that selection of an architect is especially important for determination of possible sites.

An effort has been made by the board to acquire the Seven Mile road fish hatchery property when it is officially declared surplus property.

Some question still remains, however, as to the suitability of the property for school construction.

To Straighten Curve, Widen 8-Mile Cut-Off

By the end of summer, a traffic bottleneck will vanish in the Northville-Novi area.

The Novi road curve at the entrance to the city of Northville will be improved and new intersections will be placed to ease the flow of vehicles.

Work on the project is scheduled to begin shortly, according to spokesman for the Oakland county road commission.

Bids were opened last Wednesday and a contract was awarded Friday to Max Frisinger of Ann Arbor. "We expect work to get underway sometime next week," the road commission representative said.

Cost of the project is put at $104,764. Oakland and Wayne counties will split the bill 50-50.

Construction will be centered at two points, a member of the road commission planning staff indicated. First, the fork at the 8 Mile cut-off and Baseline road will be eliminated.

"The present turn island enabling motorists to go west on 8 Mile will be enlarged, and Baseline road will end here," he said.

Motorists can now leave Northville, for example, by taking Griswold to Baseline and then proceeding on Baseline to where it merges with 8 Mile without interruption.

Under the new set-up, east-bound traffic on Baseline would swing slightly north near the old fork and then go either east or west on 8 Mile.

Meanwhile, Novi road will be blocked off at Novi avenue. Just 200 feet east of Novi avenue a large complex will be built.

Two double-lane connection strips for northbound and southbound traffic will link 8 Mile and Novi road. Islands will separate the lanes.

"The Novi road curve will be made into a larger curve — it won't be such a tight turn. A new northbound lane will be added," the county spokesman stated.

He explained that the present southbound lane on the curve will be retained but the old northbound lane will be converted into a green strip 10 feet wide and 250 feet long.

In addition, 8 Mile will be widened from Horton street east to the overpass. An 11-foot lane will be laid on either side of the cut-off to facilitate traffic.

Besides causing congestion, the sharp curve and Novi road-Novi avenue intersection have been traffic hazards and the scene of many accidents.

GOP Sets Candidate Night Here

Northville voters will have an opportunity to meet candidates on the Republican primary ballot at a "meet the candidates" night here August 20.

Mrs. Stuart Campbell, president of the Greater Northville Republican club, announced that the public meeting has been scheduled for 8 p.m. at the community building.

Invitations have been mailed to all Republicans entered in the primary race for township, state legislative and senatorial and U.S. Congressional posts, Mrs. Campbell stated.

NEAR COMPLETION — The new 16-classroom Christian education addition to the First Presbyterian church is expected to be ready for use late next month. The Reverend Lloyd Brasure, pictured above at the church street entrance, said dedication ceremonies will be conducted about October 1. The $112,000 addition provides eight classrooms on the Church street level and eight on the upper level. There are outside entrances both off Church street and the parking-alley behind the church. The addition is connected to the church proper at both levels. Off-street parking will be added on Cady street behind the church.

Breezing Along Behind Rusty Is Sweet Music to Niles' Ears

It might be difficult for the average individual to appreciate exactly the way Willard Niles feels these days.

A piano teacher who discovers there's another Van Cliburn enrolled in her class might know; a struggling boxing manager who suddenly finds a potential Joe Louis on his hands might also have the feeling.

Niles has been driving harness horses for 15 years. For the past four years he's driven Rusty Range, a five-year-old pacer, in every one of Rusty's 109 starts.

Fifty-nine times Niles and Rusty have finished first. They've piled up more than $200,000 in winnings for Rusty's owner, Bill Eggers of Livonia and South Lyon.

And this year, Rusty's greatest, they've collected $80,000 and are almost certain to top the $100,000 mark.

Niles has his "Van Cliburn" and "Joe Louis" in Rusty Range — "the greatest pacer I'll ever drive."

Last week Niles and Rusty thrilled harness fans at Sportsman's Park in Chicago with the fastest mile ever run in the harness racing history of the Windy City.

The 1:58 mark topped first place in the $10,000 Governor's Cup Preview and earned Niles an additional $2,000 for setting the track record.

Breezing along behind a pacer like Rusty Range is a thrill that's especially meaningful to Niles.

Flowers Provide Help for Retarded

Some people say it with flowers. However, for the Northville Farm and Garden Club it's "help them through flowers."

There are 28 girls, ranging from 15 to 18, who are able to feel useful again by the club's horticultural therapy program. These youngsters live in Cottage 5 of the Wayne County Training school. They suffer from mental retardation.

This is the fourth year for the program and thus far it has been very successful, said Mrs. D. H. Clark, the chairman.

"The girls have a feeling of doing something constructive and above all, someone is interested in them," she added. Each girl has an individual garden that ranges from flower beds to vegetable patches.

At the beginning of the season the members of the Farm and Garden club go out to the school and help the girls plant their gardens and offer hints on their care.

Then the girls are left on their own. They do receive a little supervising by a few members. Mrs. Clark, among others, keeps a watchful eye on the progress.

"They are so proud of the gardens. They have a sense of accomplishment. You can tell because their gardens are the first thing they show their visiting parents," said Mrs. Clark.

Gardening helps to occupy their time. In the past, it was difficult to handle the girls after the dinner hour when they had nothing much to do. Now they go out and weed, plant, or hoe their gardens, she explained.

The therapy program includes various activities throughout the rest of the year, such as study of owls which the girls were arranged in, dance games, parties for the seasons and even picnics.

The club also sponsors a horticulture therapy program, using different methods, for the Eastlawn Sanitarium, a home for the aged.

Letter from a Girl Camp Counselor

EDITOR'S NOTE — Mrs. Rose Carrington of Northville received this letter from Sue Reinbuckel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Reinbuckel, of Cady street, Sue is a counselor at Camp Sarrah, Grindley in Gregory, Michigan, for the summer. Mrs. Carrington believes Sue's comments point-up teenage responsibility that deserves recognition and asked that the letter be published.

Dear Mrs. Carrington,

I was both pleased and surprised to receive your letter. I really appreciated it because really letters are the only contact we have with home. About camp: I really do enjoy it. The children are wonderful to work with. Most of them are agreeable, cooperative and helpful. We do have a few who are problems but when you come down to the bare facts, these are the children who need the most love.

An example in point is a small eight-year-old boy staying with us now. All that comes from his mouth is filth and unpleasantness yet when you think about the fact that he got this from home you have to feel sorry for him.

There were many kids which I just loved, Linda McKillop was one. Unfortunately she didn't have a mother or father but she had courage. She was so plucky and sweet that everyone loved her.

Right now we have a little boy who is seven-years-old. He is so short that you'd think he was four. The thing that amazes me is that the other campers just love him and the older boys are so watchful of him. They make sure he gets a turn at all the games and include him in all they do.

I enjoy this also because of the counselors. Never have I met such a nice group of kids. I really enjoy working with them and we have a lot of fun together.

Benson — Crain Vows Said Here Saturday

Judith Elaine Benson and Michael Gail Crain exchanged marriage vows Saturday, August 8 at a candlelight service at the First Presbyterian church. The Reverend Lloyd G. Brasure performed the double ring ceremony and Mr. William Williams was the soloist assisted by Mrs. Williams at the organ. Mr. Williams sang "The Lord's Prayer" and "Because."

Given in marriage by her father, Judith is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore H. Benson, and Michael is the son of Mr. and Mrs. S. Gail Crain of Ferndale, Michigan.

Seed pearls and crystal beads were re-embroidered in a floral pattern on the alencon lace bodice of the bride's nylon organdy gown accented by a large empire shawl collar. Her illusion veil fell from a matching lace crown. She carried a colonial bouquet of white roses and orchids.

Betsy Ellen Benson was her sister's maid of honor and Susan Meredith Benson, junior bridesmaid. Bonnie Bradley of Livonia, Mary Kazmark of New York and Mrs. Douglas Maclean of Royal Oak were the three bridesmaids, all wearing identical floor length blue chiffon gowns with small circular headpieces to match. They carried flowers of small white pom-poms and blue sweetheart carnations.

Assisting Mr. Crain, best man, were his cousin, Robert Cook, Douglas Maclean, Arthur Miller and Thomas Meyer.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Benson wore a dark brown chiffon gown contrasted by beige gloves and hat. Mrs. Crain wore a lavender-blue dress and white accessories. Both mothers' corsages were shaded orchids.

A rehearsal dinner hosted by Mr. and Mrs. S. Gail Crain, was held in the Miles Standish Room of the Mayflower Hotel, Plymouth.

The reception was held for 250 guests at Meadowbrook Country Club.

For her honeymoon trip to the Pocono Mountains in Pennsylvania the new Mrs. Crain wore a soft blue silk suit and white accents.

She attended the University of Michigan for two years and her husband graduated from Michigan State University with a masters degree in education.

The couple plan to live in Royal Oak.

Chorale

Trip Ends

Northville's Youth Chorale member, Margaret Jones, is off her way home. Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Jones of 791 Horton, will stop in New York Tuesday to pick her up.

Margaret, who has been gone since June 29, is one of Michigan's 66 singing teenage ambassadors to South America.

They have presented a series of programs ranging from appearances in schools and community centers to formal concerts in major music houses and on television in Montevideo and also in several smaller interior cities.

The vocal group is only one aspect of the Youth for Understanding Teenage Exchange program sponsored by the Michigan and Ann Arbor-Washington councils of churches.

A new chorale is formed each year from high school students from southeastern Michigan for an international summer concert program. This is their third visit to South America.

The home of Mrs. Howard Everts of Northville, her daughter and two grandchildren, was an auto camper, "Dreamer."

Mrs. Everts, Mrs. Jean Lund, John and Sherry, traveled to the northeastern section of the country in an auto camper. They started off from Florida where Mrs. Everts spent a few months.

Their first stop was New York City and the World's Fair. From there a two day visit to Washington, D.C. where they saw the changing of the guards at Arlington cemetery and President Kennedy's grave.

Next on their agenda was Atlantic City followed by Ohio. In Cleveland they visited the Museum of Natural History where models of clipper ships that Mrs. Everts' grandfather sailed on around the world are displayed.

Final stop-over was a friend's 80 acre farm in Harrow, Ontario, Canada.

Mrs. Lund and her two children spent a few days in Northville with her mother and sister, Mrs. George Hill of West Seven Mile road, before returning home to Hialeah, Florida.

This is Mrs. Lund's first trip to the north in twenty years.

Jaycettes Honored

The Jaycettes held their regular monthly meeting Wednesday, August 5. Sparkette awards were presented to four members, Mrs. Robert Panikow, Mrs. Charles Ely, Jr., Mrs. Richard Norton and Mrs. Kenneth Roberts, for their outstanding work this past year. This is a state award from the Michigan Jaycee auxiliary.

A program of colorful slides was held following the meeting.

A schedule of projects and events of the Jaycettes for the coming year was presented and approved at a joint board meeting held with the Jaycees last Thursday.

NEWCOMER'S CORNER

I look upon every day to be lost, in which I do not make a new acquaintance.

— Samuel Johnson

Mr. and Mrs. William Milligan, Beth Ann and David

The William Milligans have been Northville residents for two months.

Mr. and Mrs. Milligan and their two children, Beth Ann who is four-years-old, and David, two-years-old, live in a two story colonial home on Reed Court.

Formerly from Port Huron, Mr. Milligan was a member of Junior Chamber of Commerce and his wife, treasurer of the Jaycee Auxiliary.

"When my husband was transferred to this area we just looked around until we found a home. We liked Northville because of the beautiful countryside," said Mrs. Milligan. Mr. Milligan is with the Standard Oil company.

A graduate of South West Missouri state in Springfield, he calls Gary, Indiana his home town. Mrs. Milligan is originally from Mt. Clemens. Moving into their house and doing the landscaping are the only things that the Milligans have time for now.

Ely Oilers Win Tourney Opener

With Jim Peterson pitching a sparkling three-hitter in the first game of the 13-and-under Inter-City tournament, the Ely Oilers trounced Wyandotte, 8-1, Monday.

Tuesday's second round game was rained out. The game was rescheduled for 10:30 a.m. Wednesday.

Peterson struck out 12 and walked only two in going the route Monday. The only two hits were a bad bounce shot over the shortstop's head and an infield single.

He was given plenty of support at the plate as the Oilers slammed three homers. Peterson connected with one mate aboard and Jerry Asher and Randy Simpson each poked solo homers.

Asher's round-tripper in the third gave Northville its initial lead, but the Oilers clinched the victory with a six-run outburst in the fourth.

Peterson's homer, two singles, two walks and two errors accounted for the runs.

Simpson's circuit smash with no one on in the sixth frame was the Oilers' last marker.

Smking curve balls proved to be the Waterloo for the local Spagy Grocery-Thunderbird Inn outfit, as Roseville won 10-0 in the opening round of the 15-and-under Inter-City tournament at Ecorse.

Northville was thus eliminated from the tourney in a game shortened under tournament rules. All games are called when any team has a 10-run lead.

Northville could not solve the offerings of the Ecorse twirler, who set the T-Birds down without a hit.

The home team, however, had little trouble with the slants of the Birds' Keith Mueller, who gave up seven hits. Although he gave up many walks, he was the victim of some shoddy fielding by his mates.

Winding up regular season play last week, the Northville Plumbers split two games in the class E loop, while the T-Birds dropped a make-up game to Party Pantry, 4-0.

Party Pantry bunched eight hits off Bill Skelly July 31 to score a 12-1 victory. The Plumbers fell victim to a no-hitter.

In the Plumbers other outing, they whipped Bill's Market, 5-3, last Thursday in a game called at the end of five innings because of darkness. A three-run third frame gave Northville a lead it never relinquished.

The hapless Northville Recreation "Mets" kept their record in tact Monday night by losing their 18th (and final) game of the season. The WCTS Phillies topped the Mets, 15-2. Said Met Coach Dave Jerome, "we were the only team in the league with a perfect record."

By winning their season finale, 11-0, over the Dodgers August 3, the Casterline Indians clinched the Knothole Baseball league pennant.

It was a shoo-in for the Indians, who had too much hitting and pitching for the Dodgers.

The Spagy Grocery Giants who threatened the Indians all season long, also won their final outing of the year with a 5-1 conquest of the Asher Pure Angels Monday night.

Pete O'Hara's triple and singles by Ken Lach and Bob Lanning paced the Giants' attack, while Lanning gave up only two singles in his stint on the mound.

Closing out the season with a furious rush, the Bloom Insurance Cardinals copped three games in a row.

They dropped the Yankees, 13-5, August 3; scored eight runs in the last inning to edge the Angels, 8-7, August 5, and trounced the Athletics, 12-7, on Monday night.

In the only other Knothole baseball contest, the Athletics squeaked by the Yankees, 4-3, on August 5.

Pushed to the last game of the season, the Northville Drug Panthers finally grabbed the number one spot in the Knothole Softball circuit and walked off as the 1984 champions.

The Colts threatened to stop the Panther express, but they lost the game in the last inning on a run-scoring single by the Panthers' Tom Marzonia. The Panthers won the game, 10-9.

In their other contest last week the Panthers overwhelmed the Lions, 11-0. Rick Bingley paced the win with a no-hitter.

The Bears matched the Panthers game for game, but still fell short of the title.

They upended the Lions, 8-4, and trounced the Colts, 18-0. In the two games, Hugh Jones blasted five singles and a double in seven times at bat, while pitching two stellar games.

Catching fire as the season drew to a close, the Tigers posted three victories in a row. They clipped the Clippers, 7-6; pounced on the Colts, 10-1, and mauled the Cubs, 10-2.

Jeff Moon and Gary Allan each slammed four singles, a double and a triple in the three games to pace the Tigers' attack, as well as sharing the pitching chores.

In the only other game, the Lions came close to winning their first game, but lost in the last inning, 11-10, to the Clippers. Ed Kritch and Wally Reed had two hits apiece for the Clippers, with Reed scoring the winning run on Mark Murray's single.

A's Finish Strong

The Northville Athletics began post season play this week, despite the fact that they finished the regular season in the Men's Class A Baseball loop with a mediocre 8-5 slate.

First hurdle in the local nine's path to the state tourney was Livonia last night. It was a play-off game necessitated by a tie between Northville and Livonia for the second round championship.

The league was set up on a three-round basis, with the winners scheduled to play off for the league title and the right to enter the state baseball tourney, beginning August 28.

If Northville got by last night, it will take on South Lyon, first round winner, at 8 p.m. Saturday in Livonia. The winner will square off against the third round winner, Livonia, 8 p.m. Sunday at Livonia.

In their final four games, the Athletics swept a double-header August 1 from Ypsilanti 10-3, and 14-1; walloped Willow Run August 2, 13-1, with Tom Swiss hurling a two-hitter, while striking out 16; won a forfeit last Saturday from Wayne, and lost to Livonia Sunday by a 12-4 count.

St. Germain Cops Honors In National Junior USGA

Northville's Jim St. Germain etched his name in the United States Golf association Junior Amateur annals last week when he up-ended the defending national champion and finished among the top four entries.

Scene of St. Germain's medal-winning showing was the USGA match-play tournament held in Eugene, Oregon July 29th through August 1st.

He gained national recognition in the quarter finals by defeating top-seated Gregg McHatton of California, 5-4. McHatton copped the junior title for youths 17-and-under last year and was the favorite to repeat.

Advancing to the semi-finals, St. Germain ran into hot John Miller of San Francisco, who eliminated the Northville youth, 6-5, and went on to win the title. It was Miller's best game of the tournament.

Jim, who enters every match with the attitude that he is going to win, began his climb to the semi-finals with a first-round victory over John Lampman of Idaho, California, 4-3.

He then fired his way past Charles Murphy, Jr., of Albany, New York, 5-4 and squeezed by Steve Cisco of Ottawa, Illinois, 3-2, before disposing of McHatton and losing to Miller.

Even in defeat, St. Germain made his mark, placing higher than any previous Michigan entry in national junior golf championship history.

It was a long, tough road to the semi-finals at Eugene, which began five weeks ago at the Detroit Country Club.

A field of 162 young golfers from throughout the state gathered there to compete in the qualifying playbys.

Jim fought an up-hill battle to earn one of the 10 positions available. He was forced into the three-way play-off before emerging the winner with a 78 on the 72-par course.

Behind the scenes, Jim's father and some members of the Meadowbrook Country Club pitched-in to send him to Oregon. He flew there July 28.

In the qualifications that began the next day, Jim shot his way into the tourney with 63 other junior golfers. Only three of the 10 Michigan entries survived the test.

This has been a banner year for the 17-year-old Northville golfer, who still has a year remaining in high school.

He first copped Michigan state high school honors by topping all entries from every class high school. Then he gained first round honors in the National Jaycee tournament.

Playing in the Michigan amateur golf tournament at Charlevoix with men of all ages, Jim advanced to the third round. He was the youngest golfer in the tournament.

Two Youths Fined For Car Tampering

Detective work by two Northville patrolmen at 4 a. m. Saturday led to the arrest of two youths charged with 'tampering with a motor vehicle' — specifically, tires.

Officers Louis Westfall and Robert Pankow, while checking on buildings in the alley north of Main street near Huton, discovered a parked car with its trunk lid partially raised. They saw a pile of hand tools on a seat.

They left the scene but returned a few minutes later. Pankow got out of the patrol car and observed Ernest H. Lamb, 19, 20005 Westview drive, heading toward Main.

Pankow stopped Lamb and asked what he was doing. The officer said Lamb answered: "You know. I was stealing tires."

In the meantime, Westfall observed James Mazel, 18, 41695 Grand River, Novi, running up Dunlap street. Mazel was quickly apprehended.

Officers took the youths to the police station. They went back to Mazel's car where three tires removed from another car were found. Two were already in the trunk of Mazel's car.

Mazel and Lamb were taken to the Wayne County prosecutor's office where statements were taken and warrants issued for their arrest. They were put in jail until appearing before Judge Charles W. McDonald later that day.

Both pleaded guilty to tampering with a motor vehicle and were fined $75 and $5 costs.

In Justice Court

The "teenage arsenal" youths who were arrested by Novi police last week were arraigned before Judge Robert K. Anderson Thursday. After pleading guilty to larceny of public property, possession of dangerous and deadly weapons and possession of fireworks, they were each fined $15 on each count.

In other cases Thursday Judge Anderson:

Sentenced Robert A. Tatom of Detroit to two days in the Oakland County jail, assessed fines and costs of $100 for driving with a suspended license August 4;

Fined Larry James Garland of Detroit $10 and $10 costs for furnishing beer to a minor July 2.

Clifford Marcotte, 19, of Detroit was fined $10 and $10 costs for being a minor in possession of alcoholic beverages July 2.

For driving with a defective muffler June 23, Joseph William Leeming of Farmington was fined $15.

Fines of $20 were assessed

Screaming Juvenile Put in Jail

"You can't touch me. I'm a juvenile," screamed Edward Collica of Royal Oak to Officer Merle Spencer.

However, he wasn't. Collica was 18 and therefore, was transported to the Oakland County jail until his father posted a $75 bond for his release.

Collica was arrested by Spencer for being a minor under the influence of intoxicating beverages.

When Collica was brought to Novi Police headquarters he attempted to bang his head on the iron railing outside the station and threatened to bash his head into one of the windows.

He had to be handcuffed for his own protection, police said.

Judge Urges Water Safety

Elwood Grubb, Wixom justice of the peace, is promoting water as well as highway safety in the city.

His reason is that "a number of complaints have been received about boats going too fast and coming too close to swimmers on Loon Lake."

"I would hate to see a repeat of what happened on nearby Cass Lake almost two weeks ago."

A 20-year-old Keego Harbor youth was killed August 3 when run down in the lake by a "hit-and-run" boat operator, according to the Oakland county sheriff's department.

The operator is still at large. Grubb lamented that Wixom police have no authority on Loon Lake. He said it "is a private lake and we have to rely on citizen's to sign complaints."

But sometimes "citizen's don't want to get involved," said Frank Jadzinski, police chief. "We expect as much cooperation as possible from citizens. Without cooperation, there is no law enforcement."

Police don't have a crystal ball to use in catching violators, Grubb said. "Citizens must take down a boat's number or be able to identify its driver if a water accident occurs."

Grubb and Jadzinski agreed that the only way to prevent a Loon Lake tragedy is to have "the three associations near the lake get together. They represent the Finn camp and the Birch Park and Hickory Hills homeowners."

"Then they could make a recommendation to the sheriff that someone in the area be deputized to patrol the lake. That's about the only solution there is."

Grubb explained that most reported offenders in Wixom ignore two parts of a local ordinance.

"They either drive too close and fast to swimming areas or else there aren't two people in a boat pulling a skier."

"In the first instance, they must be 100 feet clear of any swimmers. In the second instance, another competent adult beside the driver must be in the boat to observe the skier."

"However, if a boat is equipped with a wide-angle mirror, no second person is needed in the boat."

Grubb said a new concept — delayed sentencing — is now being imposed in water accident cases.

"If a person pleads guilty he is sent to a boating education school held in the Oakland county jail auditorium on the first Monday of the month."

PT-109's Barney Ross Leaves Reporter Agog

EDITOR'S NOTE — Marilyn Sable is a senior in the school of journalism at Wayne State University. This summer she's working at The Record, getting some on-the-job experience. Last week she asked for an afternoon off to attend a press preview of the Kennedy Memorial exhibit in Detroit. An avid admirer of the late president, and the Kennedy clan, she was thrilled at the prospect of meeting Sargent Shriver. Following is her report of what transpired.

I arrived at my first press conference. As I walked into the room after being cleared by two security men, I was faced with a room full of men who all seemed well acquainted.

Feeling like an outsider, I took the most inconspicuous seat and waited.

At second glance I noticed a few other females, Detroit's Mayor Cavanagh and some city officials who I didn't recognize.

A few seconds elapsed. A man hurried into the room shouting "Mrs. Kennedy is here."

Introducing myself, I told him I was with The Northville Record, a weekly paper, and asked why Joan Kennedy came instead of Shriver.

He explained President Johnson called a last minute meeting which Shriver had to attend. "If we couldn't have gotten Joan we would have had Pat Lawford flown out from California, since we have a member of the Kennedy family open the exhibit in every city that it appears."

Senator Kennedy was to have been in Detroit. However, this was before his plane accident, he said.

The entire Kennedy family will be in Boston to introduce the exhibit, he added.

We were standing by a number of large pictures of the late President with Jacqueline and Caroline on the beach. "They were the President's favorite," he said.

As we looked at some of the others, we paused at a black and white photograph of the then Senator Kennedy, holding Caroline in his arms in front of his Georgetown home with Jacqueline watching them. "This is a scene that can never happen again," he meant that Mrs. Kennedy could never again have a moment of privacy.

FRIDAY — A press conference with Joan Kennedy (Senator Edward Kennedy's wife) a brief chat with the head of the Kennedy Memorial Exhibit and — a personal tour of the exhibit by "Barney" Ross, crew member of the PT 109 and supervisor of the Detroit presentation.

Everyone rushed to the lobby, I followed.

Joan Kennedy, looking very chic in a pink linen sleeveless dress, was welcomed by the mayor.

Newsreel and TV-camera men focused their lenses on her as she stood near the President's desk with John-John's secret door slightly opened and his famous rocking chair.

For instance, he said, in Washington after Mrs. Kennedy moved into her new home, people just waited outside of the house to catch a glimpse of her. Now people are flocking around her new apartment in New York. "I took a ride out there a few

This is how I spent Friday afternoon at the Detroit Institute of Arts and it was just by chance.

The pictures concluded, the reporters were ushered into the conference room. After the meeting, which lasted only a few minutes, we were allowed to look over the exhibit.

Needless to say, it was magnificent.

I began glancing at some of the personal gifts that were given to the President by his wife, when I remembered that Shriver was originally the one scheduled to speak.

It began Wednesday morning. I heard a radio news-cast announce Sargent Shriver would arrive in Detroit Friday for a press conference before the exhibit opened Saturday.

My editor knew I wished to hear Shriver more than anything else. He said it was alright to go even though we probably wouldn't run a story. However, neither he nor I knew then who I would meet. Monday morning I told my boss of my adventure, and here I am writing the story days ago and there were so many, that police had to re-route traffic," he said.

While we were discussing the newspaper strike and the effect it may have on attendance at the exhibit, three men came towards us. He called them over and introduced me.

After hearing the name "Barney" Ross and shaking hands with him, I'm afraid that I can't remember the other two names.

A reporter should always remain calm, nothing should affect him — this is one of the first rules of journalism. It's one I didn't follow.

George "Barney" Ross was one of the crew members of the PT 109 and served with the then Lt. Kennedy. Ensign Ross was one of the sailors shipwrecked with the late President in the Pacific. I was told. They didn't have to tell me. I already knew.

Having the opportunity to meet a man who was close to the late President, a man who was intimately involved in getting him elected and who is now helping build a lasting memorial to him, left me spellbound.

Then I was informed that "we just keep Barney around to take care of the female reporters." What they didn't tell me was that Ross was in charge of the Detroit exhibit and traveled around when he had the chance to all the showings.

Ross is a tall man with sandy hair and deep blue eyes.

Before I could say anything but hello, he asked me about my job and the paper. Then with a wide grin he said he knew the area well since he had been born in Detroit and lived in Birmingham. "I was born in a taxi-cab. My mother never made it to the hospital," he said. I didn't know whether to believe him or not.

We began talking, about what at first I don't recall as I was very excited. Any time I spoke to him I said "Sir" or "Mr. Ross."

He, however, didn't like being addressed that way because "it makes me feel old, so please just call me Barney. Nobody ever calls me anything else."

Barney is very impressive. I don't think he's a person that one could ever forget. I know I won't.

He's a person that you would instantly like and feel comfortable with. He makes you feel as if it were an honor to meet you rather than the other way around. I guess I felt that he was the kind of person that could be close to the late President.

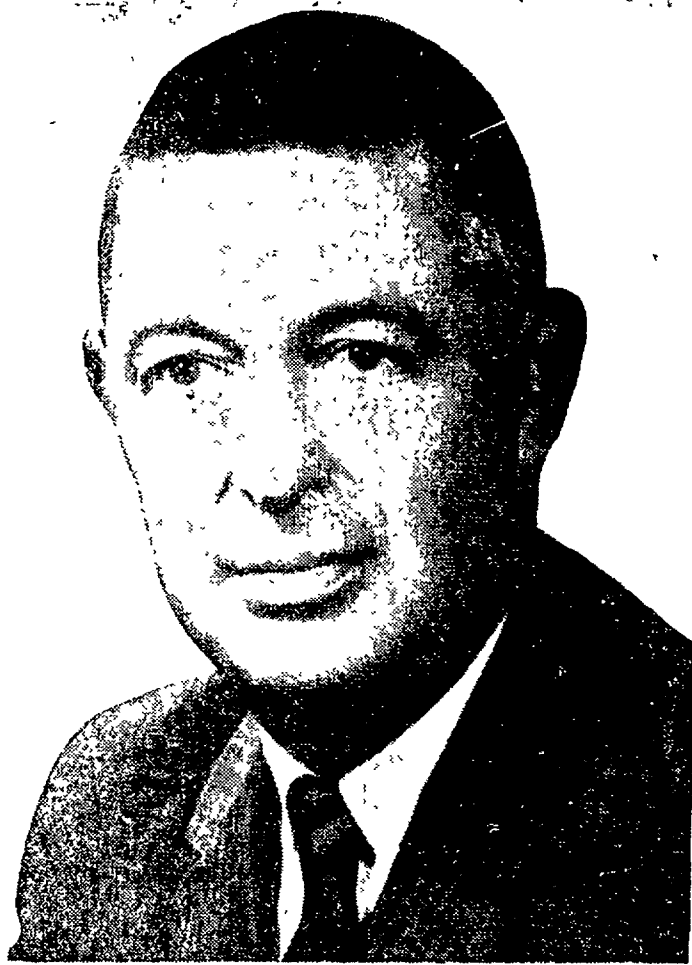

What stands out most about that entire afternoon is that everyone was so friendly and willing to talk with a young reporter from a small weekly. And it wasn't because they thought they would get some publicity out of it. They knew they probably wouldn't.

The other three gentlemen were called off to do something else. Barney and I remained.

We were near the cabinet containing some of President Kennedy's war remembrances — those things which Ross had a part in.

I don't think I'll ever be able to express my feeling at seeing the famed coconut. Everyone knows the story but I heard it from someone who was actually there and

Worm Farming

There's an 'Angle' to Her Business

Mrs. Irene Slater of Northville runs a "slippery and shady" business.

She raises worms.

She breeds and nurtures thousands of them in the cool dark basement of her home at 40311 Sunbury. Mrs. Slater, who owned old Sessions hospital, has been operating Hillaire worm farm since 1959.

"I bought 1,000 originally and then sent away for another 5,000," she recalled. "Then I got an old bathtub and dismantled freezer to use for breeding."

She now has 14 breeding pits where the worms, which are bi-sexual, reproduce. "My worms lay at least one egg a week creating two to four offspring. I have seen as high as 21 new worms hatched out of one egg," she said.

She is constantly sifting through the pits and transferring the worms "to cans so they'll get more to eat and fatten up."

Mrs. Slater has no estimate of how many worms she has. She claims that they multiply so fast that if "I ever stopped to count them, I would never get anything done."

Her worms are on a special diet. She primarily feeds them chicken mash and leaves and "sprinkles down the pits and cans so they get water."

Many may say her products "are for the birds." Well, they are. But there are many other uses for them, Mrs. Slater remarked.

"An organic gardener, for example, who does not believe in chemicals, will buy them. He would stack leaves six feet high and then let about 5,000 worms eat them up."

"The worms' castings (their waste) make the richest soil there is — everything grows like wildfire." Anything grown this way tastes much better."

Fishermen like her string-like creatures, too. Mrs. Slater then proceeded to tell a "real" fish story which was heard at her only retail outlet in Northville, a gas station. All the rest of her worms are sold through mail orders.

"One fellow came in and bought a can of worms. A few hours later he returned and said he had caught a whole sack of fish with them. He then bought two more cans to use as bait.

"My worms are mostly hybrid red wigglers. They catch more fish than crawlers because they are hearty and wiggle."

"Worms are salable if they can stretch across three fingers and are as big around as a darning needle."

Some people even consume worms, according to Mrs. Slater. In China, for example, salted earth worms are considered a delicacy. She said they could be placed soon on the connoisseur's menu in the U.S.

Medical applications are known. "Worm oil is rubbed on stiff joints or muscles of those suffering from rheumatism," she pointed out.

In an advertising circular, she said:

"It's been brought to my attention by people in the know the worms may someday be a pill to help make your brain grow."

"Many drugs are made of mold, so worms may be your pot of gold."

She wholesales the hybrid worms for $4 a thousand — and a special breed — African night crawlers — for $14 a thousand. There is a small market for the latter and "they are slower breeding and eat a lot more than the others," Mrs. Slater said.

Her largest order so far has been for 25,000 worms at one time. But she figures she still does not have enough experience to fill larger bookings.

Questioned about the profitability of her venture, she commented: "Ask me in 10 years. I am too new at this. It will take that long to see how much I can make. But, profit or not, I am having a lot of fun."

Mrs. Slater inspects part of her flock.

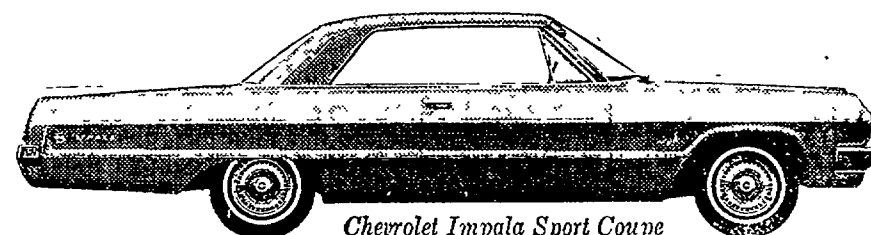

Worms multiply fast in breeding pit.

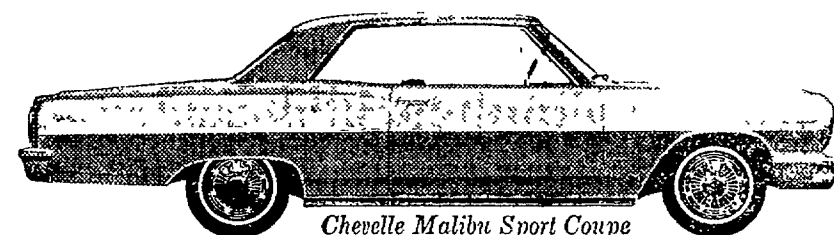

Drainage holes are punched in worms' home.

"FINDING FREEDOM FROM ALLERGIES"

from the PASTOR'S STUDY

by the Reverend M. E. Rickert
Willowbrook Community Church

Togetherness
Increasingly the world is getting smaller in the sense that the people of the world are being drawn closer together. We are told that an airplane flight from Chicago to Paris, France which now takes approximately fourteen hours will — within a few years — take only two and one half hours. As people come closer together the need for being able to live together becomes increasingly demanding and important.

The question, "How can people best live together?" can, in one sense of the word, be answered very simply. Common sense and simple logic would dictate that the best way to live together would be in keeping with the plans and purposes of the One who created all things — God!

The Jewish-Christian faith has specific help to give at this point. There comes, first of all, the "Shema" or what Christ referred to as the first commandment, "Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, soul, mind and strength." Second, there comes the revelation of God through Christ and we discover that "God is love" and that He loves ALL His creation. Thirdly, the "second" and equally important commandment of Christ is that one "love his neighbor" not only as he loves himself but, even more particularly, as Christ has loved him.

The world is full of people who are endeavoring to find the secret of living successfully together by going it on their own. We call them "humanists." The basic tenets of Communism are based upon such human principles.

On the other hand, there are those who recognize the limitations of humanism — primarily, its self-centeredness. Such people are unashamed to acknowledge their dependence upon God and seek repeatedly to relate themselves to other people — not in their own strength but in the love of God-in-Christ.

As in the world of electronics and radar, people in one part of the world can communicate almost instantaneously — by way of Teletype — with other people in another part of the world. So a Christian seeks the God, the great spiritual telestar, to enable him to live in the best pattern of "togetherness" with his neighbors at home and abroad. To each person comes the piercing question, "Am I tuned in to God, the spiritual telestar of togetherness?"

Democrats Form Staebler Committee

A Democratic Committee sponsoring Neil Staebler for governor has been inaugurated in Northville.

Chairing the campaign is Mrs. C. E. Woodruff. Other officers are: Aubrey French, business chairman; Eugene M. Rice, finance chairman; Ken Conley, publicity chairman; Mrs. Eugene Gault, special events chairman; Mrs. Fred Van Atta and Mrs. Ina Whipple, coffee hour co-chairmen; Mrs. Marge Kalin, programing chairman; Mrs. Jane Zobel, telephone chairman; Bill Kinnaird and Aubrey French, education co-chairmen. Members of the committee include Mrs. Helen Etnier, William Bingley and Mary Smith.

The committee requests that anyone interested in helping contact any of the above individuals or anyone wishing to make a cash donation, large or small, call Gene Rice at FI 9-3257.

The Northville and Plymouth Democratic clubs held a meeting Friday evening in Plymouth.

Mrs. Helen Uciniski, The second week of their vacation they stayed home and visited Poud and Kent Lakes and Kensington Park.

Eleanor and Douglas Foley of E. LeBost left the children home and spent three weeks in northern Michigan. They visited Mackinac Island, Sault Ste. Marie and Tahquamenon Falls.

Former Willowbrook residents, Louise and Phil Ranno are the proud parents of a new daughter Dianne Jeanine born July 28th.

Dee and Bob McKeon of Willow Lake flew to Torch Lake Friday in the private plane of their host and hostess Jo and Jack Pierce. They spent the weekend at the Pierce cottage and flew back Sunday night. Dee is convinced that this is the way to travel.

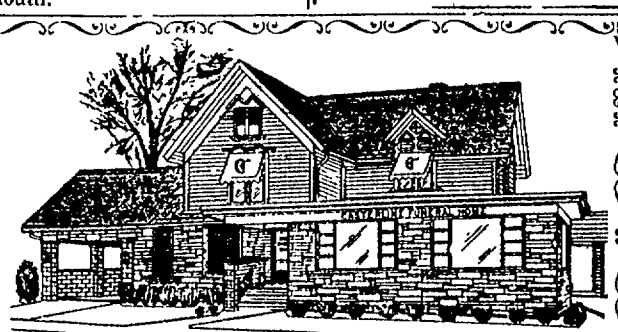

Tom Culbert, school superintendent clouds the issue between building bonds and operating expenses, but in the final analysis the 3 mills will be used for operating expenses and to pay off the deficit of $31,228 that has been on the books for many years. This deficit has always been an issue in the past millage approvals.

Nothing is mentioned about what will be saved by not having to send our children into the Northville schools !!!!!!! There always comes a time when one must match their income with taxes, 26.83 mills or $26.83 per thousand of the assessed valuation is enormous.

The school board was very careful to only ask millage for four years instead of five years because the latter, only property owners could have voted under the new State Constitution.

who knew some of the little things that weren't publicized.

For example, the coconut was one of two messages sent by Lt. Kennedy to make sure one would reach his base safely. Or that President Kennedy didn't see the coconut until he ran for congress.

It was then the Navy man who received the coconut returned it to the campaigning congressman from Massachusetts, said Ross. This man saved it because he thought it was interesting and unique.

Barney campaigned for the President during 1960 as did a lot of the old PT-109 crew members, but the first time that they were all together, he said, was at the inauguration.

"We decided to ham it up and have some fun," he said smiling. They had a party the night before that was only dampened slightly by the blizzard that engulfed Washington. He talked about his ride in a replica of the old ship in the inaugural parade.

They say a seasoned reporter is nonchalant about everything. But since I'm still a beginner I think it was all right to have my eyes sting a little at hearing a first-hand account of a portion of the life of the late President. It was almost as if I knew him or was very close to him.

The next time the old gang got together, Barney told me, was for the Jack Parr show. Parr threw a party before and presented each crew member with a gold watch.

Barney unstrapped his and showed me the inscription on the back. From what I remember, in the center was engraved — JACK PARR SHOW — and around this the date of the broadcast and something about the PT-109.

Barney also expressed a desire to visit the islands where they were stranded, but didn't know when he could do so.

Now he is taking his vacation and a few weeks' leave of absence to travel with the exhibit.

Perhaps it makes him feel closer to a "friend" that is gone.

Ross was appointed by President Kennedy in 1960 to the committee on juvenile delinquency and youth crime. Now, however, he will transfer to the non-governmental body which operates directly with the President's committee.

We started talking about Robert Donovan's book, "PT-109" when someone came up and told Barney about a truck that had never arrived. Business beckoned and Barney had to leave.

I said good-bye to the man who made my memory of the President more vivid — personal. Someone I shall never forget.

Schoolcraft Open For Business

All divisions of Schoolcraft college with the exception of the library have now moved to the new campus on Haggerty and Seven Mile roads.

It is particularly important to students who still are to have counseling appointments at the office of student affairs, that they be aware of the changed location. The new telephone number by which Schoolcraft college can be reached is 591-6400.

RADIANT REFRIGERATOR — One of the 50 oldest Kelvinator refrigerators still in use was found in Northville in the kitchen of the Northville Bar and Hotel. It originally belonged to Mr. and Mrs. Nicolae Pavel of Detroit (on the right). Mr. Pavel purchased it as a Christmas gift for his wife in 1933. He said it "still shines as brightly now as it did then and never broke down." Mr. Pavel eventually gave the refrigerator to his daughter, Mrs. Marioara Manica (on the left). Her husband, John, runs the local establishment. Mr. Manica uses the unit for storage of food. Now, however, the unit will be "honorably discharged" and be replaced by a modern 17 cubic foot Kelvinator no-frost refrigerator-freezer. Mr. and Mrs. Manica will receive it since they were in possession of the old one. Coincidentally, Kelvinator is celebrating its 50th year in business and Mr. and Mrs. Pavel will mark their golden wedding anniversary this weekend.

SPEAKING for The Record

By BILL SLIGER

Those lazy, hazy days of summer are slipping away for another year and youngsters will soon begin the annual trek back to school.

A few weeks of fun and frolic remain . . . if we do not permit carelessness to replace them with tragedy.

The Reverend Lloyd Brasure reminded me this week, as well as his congregation and any bicycling youngsters who would stop to listen, of the dangers of improper peddling.

I have spoken to many motorists, like Reverend Brasure, who have had uneasy experiences with youngsters riding bicycles on the streets.

A zig-zagging, racing pair of bicyclists can upset a motorist more than any other hazard of the highway.

While the adult motorist must exercise all caution to avoid an accident, the fact is that the youngster riding a bicycle on the street is as responsible for his conduct as is the motorist.

Police remind our youngsters of this each year just before summer vacation begins.

But they forget, or are in a hurry, or somehow think that accidents always happen to the other fellow.

Perhaps this review of the Michigan State Police Uniform Traffic Code covering operation of bicycles would be helpful to parents who have bicycle-riding youngsters:

—Any person operating a bicycle shall obey the instructions of official traffic-control signals applicable to vehicles;

— whenever authorized signs are erected indicating that no right or left or U turn is permitted, no person operating a bicycle shall disobey the sign except where such person dismounts from the bicycle to make any such turn;

— A person propelling a bicycle shall not ride other than astride a permanent and regular seat, and such person shall not carry more persons at one time than the number for which it is designed and equipped;

— every person operating a bicycle upon a roadway shall not ride more than 2 abreast except on paths or parts of roadways set aside for the exclusive use of such vehicles;

— whenever a usable path is provided for bicycles riders shall use such path and not the roadway;

— clinging to other vehicles prohibited;

— excessive speed prohibited;

— the operator of a bicycle emerging from an alley, driveway or building shall upon approaching a sidewalk yield the right-of-way to all pedestrians . . . and to vehicles upon entering a roadway;

— carrying articles which prevent the driver from keeping both hands upon the handle bars is prohibited;

— parking that obstructs pedestrian traffic is prohibited;

— whenever any person is riding a bicycle upon a sidewalk, such persons shall yield right-of-way to any pedestrian and shall give audible signal before overtaking;

— every bicycle in use at night shall be equipped with a front lamp emitting a white light visible at least 500 feet and a red reflector on the rear visible from 50 to 300 feet;

— no person shall operate a bicycle unless it is equipped with a bell or other device capable of giving a signal audible at least 100 feet, except that such vehicles shall not be equipped with sirens or whistles;

— every bike shall be equipped with adequate brakes.

I've tossed-in a few rules governing conduct for bike-riders on the sidewalks where pedestrians are involved. Personal experience gives evidence that this is information our youngsters should review, too.

Our area communities have been fortunate this summer. There have been no reported accidents involving bicycles. But many motorists, and pedestrians, report "close-calls" with the zig-zagging two-wheelers.

Why not take the time to tell them to take their time?

Discrimination Unproved

LANSING — A count of people in minority racial groups in state employment turned up some informative but less than conclusive figures.

The Civil Service Commission, which ordered the study and received the report, agreed that it "neither proved nor disproved the existence of racial discrimination."

Primarily aimed at determining where and how many Negroes hold state posts, the study included all non-white racial groups. It was prompted by Negro leaders' demands for equal employment opportunities for members of their race.

Since no racial classification was listed on employment records in past years, the study was largely dependent on supervisors' counts of employees in their jurisdiction.

It showed that 8.6 per cent of state employees are non-whites, slightly less than the 9.4 per cent figure of non-whites in the total state population.

In the southeastern metropolitan area, however, the percentage of non-whites on the state payroll is higher than the population rate in that area, the study showed.

More white employees receive promotions once they are in the state service, according to the survey. White workers also have a higher median pay than non-whites.

Commission members said these conclusions could not lead to any generalizations about racial discrimination, however.

"There is no question that the Civil Service examination program discriminates against the less qualified candidates," the report said.

With the education level among the non-whites generally lower than Caucasians, the Commission report said it could draw no conclusions on whether discrimination existed on criteria other than job capacity.

A similar study in the future could only be meaningful, the report said, if race were listed on the job application. This change is currently under study.

The racial designation would show how many non-whites apply for jobs and why they do or do not succeed in competitive examinations.

Michigan consumers may soon see an end to the milk price war which has been waged over several years between grocers and dairymen.

Members of the dairy industry at the retail level have blamed much of the situation on the wholesalers, who they say have sold milk to grocers at lower prices than it can be delivered at home.

Wholesalers deny this, saying the grocers were at fault for selling milk below cost as a loss-leader item to get consumers into the store.

Loss-leader milk prices in the grocery stores, nonetheless, have been putting retail dairies out of business at an increasing pace in the past five years or less.

Legislative attempts to regulate dairy pricing methods have failed, largely due to opposition from all segments of the industry.

Now, Gov. George Romney calls for strict industry regulation from its own membership, threatening government control if this is not forthcoming.

Loss-leader selling results in demoralization of the industry involved, the Governor said. "When price is the only thing you're selling, you're on the way to real trouble, and in the long run it is the customer who pays for the trouble," he said in a meeting with industry representatives.

"We don't like governmental regulation," said Romney, "but if it is necessary we would require it."

Large figures cited to support political positions often mean little or nothing to the average man.

Income Growth Changes Market

BABSON PARK, Mass. — Consumer markets are being reshaped so fast, so dramatically, and on such a wide geographic scale that I sometimes wonder how many of my readers recognize the extent of the "revolution."

The people I most want to talk to about this are, of course, those of you involved in manufacturing, retailing, the services, advertising, or promotion in general.

One of the key reasons why consumer habits are experiencing such a dynamic change is the unprecedented growth in personal incomes. During 1963 for instance, about a million family units were newly raised into the income bracket of $10,000 a year or better, carrying the total for this secure economic group of buyer units to an all-time high of 12.3 million.

It should be noted, in fact, that at least a third of these had incomes of over $15,000. Also important is the knowledge that 1963 saw a reduction of 700,000 in marketing families earning less than $4,000 a year.

The thing I want to stress about this trend is that it does not mean that families simply buy more of what they have always bought, but that they are learning to look for better-quality goods. The tendency toward luxuries and toward higher living standards is also strongly on the increase. More money is being laid out for foreign travel, better automobiles, boats, and — probably most important of all — higher education. As a matter of fact, the education "explosion" is having a tremendous effect on buying habits, and will continue to do so over the years ahead.

Searching out the latest statistics, I have found that, while the population of our nation contained only 7.5 million college-educated men and women 20 years ago, it now has 16 million. And this upsurge is gaining speed at a great rate. In fact, government observers anticipate that the college-educated will total 20 million by 1970, and will reach as high as 28 million during the following decade. Already, estimates have it that 20% of our households are headed by at least one parent with a higher education.

Add these facts to the increasing personal incomes and you have a buying public with far more sophisticated tastes than ever before, especially when you consider that the college-educated people are almost always in the best salary brackets. Hence this growing part of the consuming public must be an important consideration in your planning for future goods, promotion programs, packaging, and sales attitudes generally.

Whenever there is a revolutionary social trend, as in the current outburst of enthusiasm for higher education, its effects circle out and sweep along those not directly involved. While millions are going to college, other millions not college-bred are becoming sympathetically interested in cultural objectives.

Self-learning is strongly on the upgrade, as is evidenced by a massive turnover in paperback books, bigger attendance at concerts and art centers increased library use, more educational TV programs, higher record sales.

Free seminars on science, law, painting, sculpture, and even more highly specialized subjects are attracting larger numbers, both in person and by way of TV. This is true not only in the big cities, but throughout virtually all parts of the country. Summer theaters, rare and just about unknown not too many years ago now flourish everywhere. I hope that my emphasis on this change of perspective in an ever-wider section of the purchasing public will be taken seriously by all connected with distribution. Those who pay no heed to the surge will get caught short in the years ahead.

My final word of advice: The enormous number of working wives has helped bring up family incomes substantially, and their pay-check independence makes them interested in purchases previously left more commonly to the menfolk. So it would be smart to direct more attention to the women than ever before when you are staging promotions for merchandise usually aimed at the nation's males.

ol enrollments is one which is easily translated on a small scale because it affects every parent in Michigan.

The total figure involved, however, remains impressive. Experts tell us Michigan public schools have increased in enrollments by more than 55,000 annually in the last few years and will likely continue at this or an even greater pace.

Superintendent of Public Instruction Lynn M. Bartlett translates this into a more meaningful figure. He explains that this growth pace is equivalent to the combined public school enrollments of Bay City, Battle Creek, East Detroit, Muskegon and Grosse Pointe.

THE WORLD'S FINEST USED CARS ARE BUILT BY CADILLAC.

To prove our point, we offer as evidence the three Cadillacs shown above.

From top to bottom in our illustration are a 1960 Sedan de Ville, a 1962 Coupe de Ville and a 1963 Sixty Special. Each is unmistakably Cadillac. Each, regardless of vintage, will have special appeal to the man who desires the comfort, convenience and pride of ownership that only Cadillac can offer.

That's why thousands of wise car buyers favor a previously owned Cadillac over new cars of other makes. First of all, they realize that Cadillac engineering is so far advanced that "newness" becomes a relative term. In fact, there are features found on late model Cadillacs that are only now being offered on other cars. This is a major reason why a Cadillac retains its value through the years, from buyer to buyer.

Another thing to consider. Cadillac owners lavish the most meticulous care on the cars they are so proud to own. The "car of cars" almost always receives regular maintenance and servicing by highly skilled and carefully trained mechanics.

Your authorized Cadillac dealer's selection of one-owner models has never before been so appealing. And he can probably match one of these fine cars to your budget.

Who knows? Your used Cadillac could possibly be the "newest" car you've ever owned!
