Mrs. Cobb, who operates an 11-acre farm with her husband, is most proud of winning second place in the white cake baking competition which she considers "toughest of them all."

News Round-Up

NO AUTO STRIKE

Hope of settlement of the newspaper strike which has halted the presses of Detroit's two newspapers for nearly 60 days remained dim this week, although new mediation talks were scheduled Friday.

Meanwhile, the news was brighter in the auto industry. Negotiators reached agreement an hour before Wednesday's 10 a.m. strike deadline. Chrysler was the UAW target. Bargaining teams from management and labor met around the clock.

If agreement had not been reached, workers were set to walk off their jobs at all auto plants.

Highlight of the settlement appeared to be a pension plan

Sidewalk Sale Space Available

Curb service is coming to Northville Saturday, September 19.

That's the day local merchants will stage their annual Sidewalk Sale.

Charles Lapham is general chairman of the event and promises plenty of money-saving bargains.

For example, the Retail Merchants Association has made arrangements to sell bread at five cents per loaf. There'll also be a popcorn wagon with candy apples and music to add a carnival touch to the all day affair.

Lapham announced this week that sidewalk space is available for any individuals or organizations wishing to sell antiques, hold a bake sale, etc. Reservations may be made by contacting Lapham at his men's wear store or by calling FT 9-3677.

In case of rain the 9 a.m. event will be postponed from September 19 to September 26.

Guernsey Plans New Building

Guernsey Farms Dairy — long established in Northville — will soon move into a new building.

Ground-breaking ceremonies were staged at a new site last Saturday on Novi road just east of Village Green subdivision.

John McGuire, who owns the dairy, said the present structure, located on South Center street for decades, was just too small.

"We've been cramped for too long," he said. "We just want more space for the dairy and parking."

"I don't know what I will do with the building. Maybe the city will buy it and convert it into another municipal parking lot."

Guernsey's new processing plant and retail outlet will be a spacious brick and cinder block structure constructed on one level. McGuire purchased the four-acre site, just across the street from the city limits.

Features of the new building are a dairy bar and self-serve section. In addition, the structure will house offices and a garage.

"Guernsey has seven trucks on the roads and gets milk from 11 producers in the South Lyon area," McGuire noted.

McGuire currently employs a staff of 20 but indicated that a few more names will be added to the payroll upon completion of the new building.

"We have hopes of opening it by the first of the year," he said.

Guernsey only makes milk and ice cream but carries a complete line of dairy products at its store here and outlets in Plymouth, Nankin Township and Livonia.

Guernsey has a long history. McGuire has been the proprietor since 1952 when he bought out his partner, Fred Russell.

Together they purchased the dairy in 1945 from J. A. Appelfhof and John E. Livingston.

"Appelfhof and Livingston earlier took over the Red Rose dairy and that should bring back memories to a lot of people in Northville," McGuire said.

Municipal Court Vote Slated

Council Seeks Nov. 3 Decision

A request to amend the charter of the city of Northville will go to the voters in the November 3 general election.

City council members have given their stamp of approval to a resolution calling for the creation of a municipal court in the city.

The new local court would replace the justice of the peace court now serving the city.

Northville council members have long considered establishment of a municipal court. The new constitution has served to speed up their decision to amend the charter.

Under Michigan's new constitution justice of the peace courts are slated for abolishment within five years.

The state legislature must act within this period to replace justice courts and the general consensus is that a "district" court will be established to serve a number of communities now under justice court rule.

Main objections to the old justice court have been the fee system of payment to justices and the fact that a justice does not have to be an attorney at law.

Northville abolished the fee system in its justice court two years ago and its present justice, Charles McDonald, is an attorney. This is not, however, a requirement for office.

City officials are hopeful that creation of a full-fledged municipal court will enable the community to maintain its own court.

Because of the uncertainty of what action will be taken by the state legislature, this cannot be guaranteed even with the establishment of a municipal court, however.

Both Judge McDonald and City Attorney Philip Ogilvie have strongly urged the council to adopt the municipal court resolution.

Physically, it will differ only slightly from Northville's present court.

Powers and jurisdiction of the municipal court are greater than the justice court, another advantage in providing local service, McDonald and Ogilvie point out.

The judge would be elected, as now, for a four year term. He would be on salary, just as McDonald now serves, but the amount remains undetermined.

Await Bids On Orchard Improvement

The city council moved ahead Tuesday night with plans to install curb and gutters and pave Orchard drive.

No objections were raised at a public hearing on the special assessment project, although three residents of the area urged the council to complete all phases of the project this fall.

Bids are scheduled to be opened September 21. Specifications call for completion of curbs and gutters by November 1. If weather permits, paving will be installed in November.

A request to operate a private disposal area on an acre of land near the city disposal site was refused by the council. It was noted that the land is zoned M-1.

A request to open a coin-operated pool and pin ball room at 108 East Dunlap was tabled by the council until the application could be studied. An ordinance controlling operation of pool halls was submitted by City Manager Bruce Potthoff and the council called for a report on the proposed ordinance from the manager and City Attorney Philip Ogilvie.

In other business Tuesday night the council directed the manager and city attorney to recommend procedure for acquiring the Peterson apartments, located at the rear of Main street stores in the business district.

The attorney told the council that the owner, Reuben Peterson, was willing to discuss sale of the property. He said two methods were open to the council — either acquisition for public purposes or condemnation.

The council has indicated it desires to purchase the property for parking and general improvement of the business district.

In final business Tuesday the council voted to retain one parking space on Main street in front of Cal's Gulf Station, although Councilwoman Beatrice Carlson cast a "no" vote. The manager and police chief had recommended removal of parking. The council turned down a request for a door-to-door solicitation Sunday afternoon for Alsac, a leukemia research charity. It was pointed out that the community supports the United Foundation

The banquet will be held Wednesday, September 16 at 6:30 p.m. at St. Paul's Lutheran Church.

Speaker of the evening will be Charles A. Smith, professor of English on the faculty of Western Michigan University. Chairman of the 24th annual event, in past years a project of the now-defunct Coordinating Council, is Harold Penn, commander of the Lloyd H. Green Post.

Penn has urged all community 21-ers to return their invitations by Saturday, September 11 so the exact number, to be honored may be known.

The event is open to the public and ticket sales are being handled by Philip Ogilvie.

The total set a record for race receipts to the city.

Northville city coffers were given a $150,900 boost last week.

That's the city's total share of the pari-mutuel handle at Northville Downs for this year's 48-night season.

The state takes five per cent of the total handle, which was $13,349,075. One fifth of this is returned to the city.

Breakage (pennies accumulated by paying off bets to the nearest tenth) adds several thousand dollars to the return.

New Teachers Await Pupils

Northville's 25 new teachers were introduced at a special orientation meeting last Thursday. They are (left to right, back row): Mrs. Barbara Rafford, Mrs. Jo Ann VanderMolen, Mrs. Jean Dugan, Mrs. Wendy Roadhouse, R. J. Slober, Robert S. Kucher, Dean Sousanis, Miss Rosanne Williams, Mrs. Carol Godwin, Miss Donna Love, Mrs. Peggy

Robinson Steps Aside for Tellam

Jim Tellam set some kind of a record last week.

Twenty-four hours after he was nominated as a candidate for the township board's trustee position, he was sworn in as an official board member.

The quick switch took place Wednesday evening, September 2 when Trustee Donald Robinson, defeated by Tellam in Tuesday's primary race, resigned.

The board named Tellam, who would not have taken office until April, to succeed Robinson.

Clerk Marguerite Young then administered the oath of office to Tellam and he took his seat on the board.

About 20 minutes later he made his first official motion — a call for adjournment!

Trustee Robinson submitted his resignation to the board near the close of last week's meeting and suggested that Tellam be named to replace him.

"I have no hard feelings. I think it's an excellent opportunity to break in a new trustee," said Robinson. He pointed out that it would be easier for Tellam, and that he (Robinson) would merely be serving out a "lame duck" period on the board if he continued in office until April.

The board accepted Robinson's resignation "with regrets". Trustee Wilson Tyler termed Robinson's reasoning "honorable, intelligent and logical", although he said he was sorry to see Robinson leave.

Later in the meeting the board appointed Tellam to take Robinson's position on the planning commission.

Tellam's name will be on the ballot in the November election, but he will be unopposed.

Treasurer A. M. Lawrence was the only other board member who had competition in the Republican primary. He defeated Mrs. Harold B. Price.

Tellam's name will be on the ballot in the November election, but he will be unopposed.

Detroit - City Differ On Water Line Route

A meeting last week between area officials and Gerald Remus, general manager of the Detroit Water Board, failed to settle the question of what route the Detroit water line will follow through the city of Northville.

Remus met with Mayor A. M. Allen, Township Supervisor R. D. Merriam and Plymouth Township Supervisor Roy Lindsay.

Right now the Detroit water line extends as far as Center street on Baseline road. Detroit wants to continue the line southward to Five Mile road as soon as possible to improve service to Wayne County Training School.

Detroit would prefer to run the line directly through the city — down Center street (Sheldon road).

Northville's city council has balked at this suggestion.

The mayor and supervisors gave Remus a brief tour of the city. Mayor Allen pointed out the difficulties that would be experienced locally in extending the line down Center street.

Other possible routes suggested were along the railroad track at Baseline, and west along Baseline to Clement road around the city.

Remus pointed out that these routes would involve considerable more expense.

Mayor Allen expressed concern with disruption of the business district and the resulting traffic problems. He noted that the city has had an unhappy experience with the Novi Sewer line installation.

When he asked the Detroit Water Board manager if the city could expect compensation for the damage that alternate city streets might suffer as the result of detouring traffic, he received a negative answer.

The township would favor the Clement road route because of the obvious advantage of being able to provide service to township residents.

Remus promised to notify the city in writing soon of Detroit's conclusions on the question. The city council will then consider the matter.

It appears likely that Detroit will hold out for the Center street route.

Remus said the construction would be undertaken on a block-to-block basis and that disruption of traffic would be held to a minimum.

He also indicated that Detroit would prefer undertaking the job this fall.

Northville township is interested in the completion of the line to Five Mile road because eventually water service to homes in the Plymouth Gardens area (Badner road near Five Mile) will come from the new line.

The township is now in the process of completing a special assessment project to provide Detroit water for 18 homes in Plymouth Gardens, where wells are running dry.

A line from Detroit currently serving the training school runs across Bradner near the subdivision. This will serve the subdivision. Pressure can be improved when the new line is constructed down Sheldon by running the water back from the training school site to the Bradner-Five Mile intersection. This line will then be turned over to the township. It will be capped at the easterly end so that service will be provided exclusively for the township.

Plymouth Supervisor Lindsay was an interested observer at the meeting. Plymouth township is ready to extend water service to the northwest Plymouth township area as soon as it can connect water mains to the Detroit line at Five Mile and Sheldon. Plymouth township is already served by Detroit water in other areas.

Salute 21'ers Wednesday

One-hundred and twenty-two invitations have been sent to new "21'ers" in the community who will vote for the first time in the November election.

They'll be guests of honor at the annual Citizenship Banquet, sponsored this year by the American Legion.

The banquet will be held Wednesday, September 16 at 6:30 p.m. at St. Paul's Lutheran Church.

Speaker of the evening will be Charles A. Smith, professor of English on the faculty of Western Michigan University.

Chairman of the 24th annual event, in past years a project of the now-defunct Coordinating Council, is Harold Penn, commander of the Lloyd H. Green Post.

Michigan has 15 colleges and universities on the approved list. A Special Announcement

From Berry Pontiac

Due to a tremendous popularity of PONTIACS, we have written many, many orders for the 1965 models which are due very soon. Because of the exceptional resale value of PONTIACS, we are taking a large selection of all makes and models, '64's, '63's and '62's; Pontiacs, Olds, Chevys, Fords, Buicks, Ramblers, and etc., and in addition we will have for sale many factory executive cars with a great variety of factory options and accessories. Because we know that many people like to take advantage of the tremendous savings on these units, we are making this announcement now so that you may come in and place an order for the car of your choice. This might seem unusual, however, due to the very great volume of new cars sold at "Berry Pontiac," we feel that we can satisfy anybody's needs for a particular type and make of automobile within a very short time.

As always, these vehicles will be priced below the true market value, in order to keep our inventory moving, warranted and backed by the name so well known for fair and honest dealings, BERRY PONTIAC.

It is now our policy and will always continue to be our policy to sell only the very select used cars to our customers. This is why we enjoy "truly wonderful reputation". If you think that we are tooting our horn, you are right, for it is a wonderful feeling to make so many people happy with a purchase of a car and to be told about it sincerely.

At the present time we have a limited selection, however, our inventory is continually turning and we are sure that you will find the car you are looking for and at the price you want to pay. We shall continue our policy, "Let's Dicker", for the best price for you. Come out and talk to one of our courteous salesmen today and make shopping for an automobile a joyous occasion.

Two Aces at Salem

Salem Country club's number 3 hole, a long par-3, is surmountable. Two holes-in-one were scored there over the Labor Day weekend.

James McGuicken of Detroit dropped a 3-wood shot into the cup Sunday and finished his round with an 88.

Another Detroit, William Davis, slammed home a 5-wood tee shot Monday on the 185-yard long hole. His score for the round was 95 and it was his first ace in 33 years of golfing.

Township Forgets Politics

In its first meeting following a rather hotly-contested primary election the previous day the Northville township board moved smoothly through a routine agenda last week (September 2).

The board took time to listen to a presentation of a proposed policies and procedures manual, by A. DeDonna and Associates.

DeDonna told the board his company could develop a guideline manual for operation of township government for $300. Later the board decided to give the job to Trustee Wilson Tyler, and save the money. Tyler is to present an outline in December.

The board also turned its attention to the condition of the township hall. Supervisor, R. D. Merriam proposed obtaining estimates for installation of modern plumbing and sanitary facilities as well as a new heating plant. Purchase of a filing cabinet was also approved.

The go-ahead was given the supervisor on purchase of water meters, priced at approximately $60 each, for outside installation on homes. The cost is covered by an $80 charge for installation of meters. A check of various types of meters was made by the Supervisor and Treasurer Alex Lawrence and the board accepted their recommendation.

The first quantity of meter installation will be made in Plymouth Gardens where 18 homes are scheduled to receive Detroit water.

Supervisor Merriam notified the board that a request for salary increases would be made at the next annual meeting.

Presently, the supervisor is paid $4,000, the clerk $3,600 and the treasurer, $3,200.

Merriam said he had been informed by Joseph Parisi, executive secretary of the Michigan Township Association, that any salary increase proposals should be brought before the board 60 days before the November election. The proposal would not come up for passage until the April annual meeting, however, when the salary hikes would be a part of the 1964-65 budget.

The supervisor declined to say how much of a raise would be considered. But he gave the trustees a copy of salary recommendations made by Parisi nearly two years ago.

Merriam pointed out that in some townships the treasurer is paid on a one-per-cent basis of tax collection, which would amount to an annual salary of $5,200 in Northville township.

He said he expected the trustees to make a recommendation at the October meeting. Trustees are paid $20 per meeting plus an expense allowance. In final business the board learned that the state liquor control commission will not approve a dance permit with restrictions. A representative of Dun Rovin Country Club, where the township had approved a dance permit for private parties only, asked the board if it would approve an unrestricted license, then confine the club to private party use of the permit.

The matter was turned over to Township Attorney James Littell for consideration.

Engineers Promote R. N. Brown

The U.S. Lake Survey announces that Richard N. Brown of 46900 Stratford Court, Northville, has been appointed chief of its newly-implemented Instrument and Laboratory Branch.

Brown worked part time for the Corps of Engineers during 1958-1960 while still attending school. When he received his degree in mechanical engineering in 1960 from the University of Michigan, he accepted full-time employment with the Corps. At that time, Brown was appointed chief of the Detroit District Boatyard, the position he held until this present appointment.

The Instrument and Laboratory Branch of the Lake Survey is directly responsible for operating and maintaining a sedimentation laboratory and an electronic laboratory. The sedimentation laboratory will be used to analyze bottom samples and core borings taken from various research project sites. The sediment will be checked to determine concentration and grain size. The electronic laboratory will be responsible for the maintenance, modification, and fabrication of equipment to be used by the Lake Survey Engineering and Research Divisions. It will also have the responsibility of acquiring new equipment to meet current and future demands in solving specific engineering problems related to the Lake Survey mission.

Pat Eyes 'Re-Election' to Lansing

Pat Haley represented Novi in the state legislature in its latest session but didn't have a voice in government. Even so, he has brought prestige to Novi.

At the tender age of 12, he was initially exposed to the whirlwind of politics in Lansing as a page boy in the house of representatives.

Local residents can boast because Pat was one of 10 boys in the state selected to serve in the capitol. Seven were chosen for the house and three for the senate.

Only two came from the metropolitan Detroit area — Pat and a youth from St. Clair Shores in Macomb county. Pat got his appointment on his own.

"No one in the family had anything to do with it," said his father, Edgar Haley. "Besides, I am a Democrat and he was recommended by a Republican," his dad chuckled. Actually it was Kathy Haley who launched Pat's fling at politics. His older sister in June of 1963 visited the capitol with her eighth grade graduating class at Novi school.

She related an exciting account of a page boy's activities and Pat, laid up with a broken leg suffered playing baseball, was intrigued.

He made up his mind to become a page and sent a letter to Lansing, expressing his ambition. A reply said a page must have excellent grades and needed the recommendation of his local representative. Moreover, the waiting list was long.

But Pat was undaunted.

His mother, Acelia Haley, recalls that Pat "hobbled down to the village hall to learn the name of the legislator in the area. We didn't know. We had just moved back to Novi from New York State. We weren't even registered voters in the state yet."

So Pat wrote to Representative Raymond L. Baker of the old 4th legislative district. A short-time elapsed and a letter was received from Allison Green, speaker of the house.

Speaker Green told Pat to get permission and a character letter from his principal, Sam Stewart. As Stewart put it, "Pat is a good boy and a good student. I was glad to help him."

Then a long vigil began. Pat, a patient lad, had to wait from late August until early in 1964 before his appointment was announced.

Mrs. Haley said: "He was very optimistic, even though he knew about the long-waiting list. He heard nothing but said he would just keep hoping he would be named."

He was finally tapped January 16. Summoned to Lansing, he met the assembly of representatives. The following Tuesday he was on the job.

Paid $140 clear every two weeks, Pat said he mostly ran errands and kept the legislators' desks stocked with copies of bills to be introduced. "It was a lot of fun," Pat said.

During the week, he stayed at a boarding house with other pages near the capitol. He did his school work in his spare time and a tutor was provided twice a week.

"He was strictly on his own for the first time," his mother beamed. "He had to pay for his own room and board out of his salary. But he was frugal and saved about $300."

His absence from school had no reflection on his grades. Once again, his mother said, he racked up nearly an all-A average at Novi school.

He returned home on weekends by bus or occasionally rode with representatives living in the area. One legislator, Daniel West of Detroit, called Pat "Haley's Comet."

Pat indicated he "would like to become a politician some day after he goes to law school. I have learned about the legislative process and hope to go back as a page when the new legislature convenes in January."

Two weeks ago, he got a letter from Daniel Mitchell, assistant to the clerk of the state house, saying that he was "in a favorable position to return."

And a week ago Saturday, Pat met an old acquaintance at Novi Gala Day — Governor Romney. "His office was just off the assembly hall and I saw him occasionally. Once I even bumped into him accidentally on the elevator."

Pat was on the local welcoming committee for the governor.

But reappointment will depend on the outcome of the November election. "The speaker makes the final choices and we don't know who the speaker will be for the next session," Pat said.

Now 13, Pat will enter the 8th grade at the new Novi secondary school next Monday but will be ready to leave on short notice if "Haley's Comet" is called to Lansing again.

The life of Abraham will be reviewed next Sunday at Christian Science Churches to show how "faith is the substance of things hoped for, the evidence of things not seen" (Heb. 11).

The subject of the Bible Lesson is "Substance," and the Golden Text is from Galatians 3: "They which be of faith are blessed with faithful Abraham."

Selections from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy will include a description of Abraham as an example of "Fidelity: faith in the divine Life and in the eternal Principle of being. This patriarch illustrated the purpose of love to create trust in Good, and showed the life-preserving power of spiritual understanding" (p. 579).

from the PASTOR'S STUDY

By Rev. John I. Wittstock

Our Lady of Victory Church, Northville

It has not been my good fortune as yet to visit the World's Fair but if I do go I shall make sure that I see the celebrated statue of the Fair. Millions of visitors to the Fair are viewing Michelangelo's famous Pieta in New York. Thousands have probably never seen even on television the statue of the Sorrowful Mother holding the body of her crucified son. Catholics recognize it as a familiar sight, for countless reproductions are objects of devotion in churches everywhere. Some, like the original, are carved by great sculptors from rare and costly marble; others are inexpensive plaster models; all have caught something of the infinite pathos created by the supreme master.

Those who have the wonderful opportunity of admiring the original Pieta at the Fair are deeply impressed by the peaceful expression of grief that rests on the beautiful, youthful face of the Mother. The head is slightly bowed in holy sorrow. Only the outstretched left hand shows the anguish into which Mary's soul is plunged. The body of the Savior, still limp as if just taken down from the cross, shows but slight traces of the suffering endured; the noble countenance is full of Divine peace. Michelangelo was only twenty five years of age when he carved this immortal work.

Some of the visitors seeing the Pieta for the first time may have the same reactions as a character in a great Catholic novel by a famous English author. The young man is introduced to the reader as objecting vigorously to the statue of the Sorrowful Mother.

Why should such a distressing subject be prominently placed in Catholic churches? What need was there to shock or wound people's feelings? So asked the young man in the story for he was young and inexperienced. Otherwise he would have known better than to raise the question. The story unfolds and the reader sees sorrow creeping into the young man's life. Then the realization dawns on him that the Pieta is necessary, that consolation comes from uniting our sorrows with the supreme sorrows of Christ's mother. The young man in the story makes the profound discovery that it is good for the crushed and heartbroken to kneel at the foot of the cross and mingle their tears with Mary's.

SPEAKING for The Record

By BILL SLIGER

Reflections of another summer:

Small town celebrations are good community morale boosters. And they provide something to do, someplace to go without driving miles on crowded highways for local residents.

That's why I was glad to see Novi bring back its Gala Day celebration. The Board of Commerce and Chairman Leo Harrowood deserve congratulations for their effort.

But, like many other residents, I was sorry that Northville skipped its Fourth of July event.

The Jaycees can't be blamed. They sponsored the program for several years. But it outgrew their manpower and help seemed impossible to find.

Several residents have told me that they missed the celebration — the parade, carnival, sky divers, fireworks, etc.

It's Americana... like apple pie. Maybe next year... maybe the new Chamber of Commerce could give their junior counterparts a hand.

Speaking of apple pie, Americana, etc., how about Mrs. Fred Cobb! No frozen TV dinners in her house.

Her picture is published elsewhere in this edition as the winner of the First Lady Homemaker award at the State Fair.

Just as a point of information for modern housewives to ponder (and a reminder to husbands who can recall the odors of Grandmother's kitchen) here's a list of Mrs. Cobb's awards for canning, baking and needlework:

First place — Apple and mint jelly, crab apple jelly, pork, rabbit, beef, ground meat, lamb, veal;

Second place — Canned fruits, canned boysenberries, white layer cake, cross stitched buffet scarf;

Third place — grape jelly, needlepoint unmounted chair seat, applique pillow case, chicken;

Fourth place — canned pears.

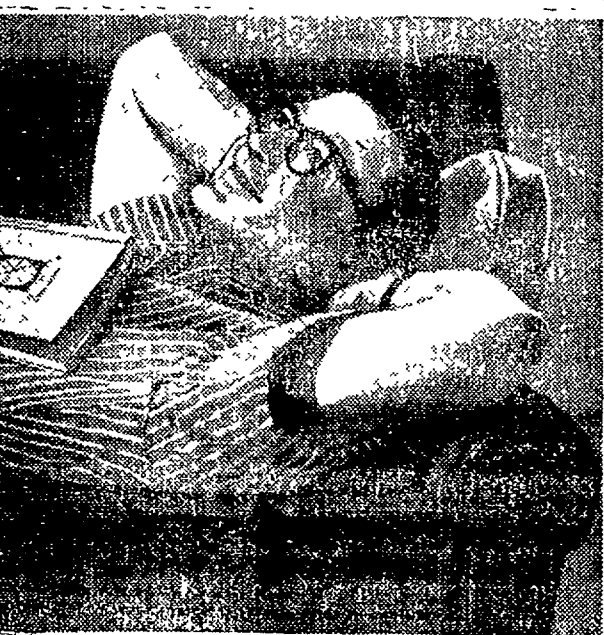

In her spare time Mrs. Cobb helps her husband run their 11-acre farm on Beck road.

Another Northville winner in this division was Mrs. Carolyn Howard of 47787 West Eight Mile road. She won first place for her watermelon rind pickles and strawberry preserves.

Northville will be the scene of a rather unique event this fall.

A horse auction will be staged here October 16 and 17. The sale is usually held in Adrian, but this year Paul Linehan is bringing the auction to the Downs.

Some 200 standard bred horses (trotters and pacers) will be placed on the block.

State Campaign Against Litterbugs

LANSING — Since public education is the biggest problem behind the state's anti-litter campaign, much of the Keep Michigan Beautiful effort is aimed at mass information media.

Gordon B. Bonfield of Grand Rapids, chairman of the permanent Keep Michigan Beautiful organization, now has 10 citizen committees working to inform various segments of the population of the need for a no-litter attitude.

Each is working with local organizations "so that others will know of the campaign and how they can help," said Bonfield.

Armed with Michigan's new anti-litter law, the committees hope to encourage law enforcement officials to levy penalties upon litterbugs.

These penalties can include such things as requiring an offender to remove litter from public places. But preventing the cluttering eyesores caused by litterbugs is the main goal of Keep Michigan Beautiful.

Through the use of a national film, brochures and broad publicity campaigns, they hope to make Michigan citizens aware of the litter problem and how every individual can help diminish it.

"As time goes on, we hope to produce a movie made on the Michigan scene to point out the problems we have right here at home and how we can lick these problems," said Bonfield.

Keep Michigan Beautiful started under the administration of former Gov. John B. Swainson as a group of high government officials.

This group studied the problem generally to determine its scope and make recommendations for official action to eliminate it.

Then under Gov. George Romney the new organization was formed among prominent private citizens to provide a continuing effort.

Working with organizational help from the State Chamber of Commerce in Lansing, the new group has been funded by Gov. Romney for its work to date as "a remarkable example of private action in the public interest."

Birth records in Michigan are expected to continue the seven year downward trend, State Health Department statisticians predict.

Reports during the first six months of this year showed a continued decline from the previous year. The January to June figures reported 2,622 births less than in the same period of 1963.

Births hit a peak in 1957 at 207,277 and have declined every year since. Last year's total of 177,636 births marked the first time since 1952 that the number of births in Michigan did not exceed 180,000.

Nurses in Michigan hospitals received a substantial increase in average earnings over the past few years, but they are still not among the top five categories in hospital personnel.

This year's survey by the Michigan Hospital Association showed the average starting salary of a general duty nurse has increased 20.3 per cent since 1959 while the cost of living has gone up only 7.6 per cent.

The top five salaried positions in hospital staffs are the nurse anesthetist, pharmacist, registered social worker, physical therapist, and staff dietitian, the Association study showed.

Monthly pay among 30 key hospital staff jobs this year has increased an average of 4.3 per cent over 1963, the survey showed.

Alan Barth, executive director of the Association, said 73 per cent of the Association's hospital members participated in this year's survey.

The average pay for the 30 positions was $376 per month as compared to $362 in 1963 and $347 the previous year. The study was limited to certain positions which could be related to the other job classifications being surveyed, said Barth.

Taxes on income remain a major issue with the people of Michigan, the current campaign reveals.

Several legislative candidates from throughout the state who went through a primary campaign report that one of the most frequently asked questions from their constituents was "Where do you stand on a state income tax?"

There has been no indication at this time that either candidate for Governor plans to propose a state income tax program next year.

There can be little doubt, however, that each will be listening to public sentiment about it as they travel through the state in the remainder of the campaign.

Our Dwindling Coin Supply

BABSON PARK, Mass. — The replacement of our one-dollar silver certificates, the last U.S. paper currency backed with a full dollar's worth of metal, brings this nation's money supply close to a position of irredeemability. About all that now seems to stand in the way is our dwindling supply of fractional coins. However, even if we are forced to adopt a non-convertible currency, it will not be the first time.

During the Civil War, for example, we issued a total of $450 million in irredeemable greenbacks. The results of this action are interesting, and perhaps not without significance for us today.

The first of the Civil War greenbacks rolled off the presses in March of 1862, and by early summer a severe coin shortage had developed. This was of course in accord with the tenets of Gresham's law, which states, in effect, that the most valuable pieces of money will be driven out of circulation, once a disparity in value exists in a monetary system.

On August 21, 1862 the government released its first issue of fractional paper currency, in 5 cent, 10 cent, 25 cent and 50 cent denominations. These releases continued intermittently for fourteen years, with the final issue coming in 1876.

Specie payments had been suspended in early 1862, and by January 1, 1863 gold was commanding a 60% premium over the irredeemable greenbacks. This process of depreciation continued until 1864, when the gold premium was a whopping 200%. Even so, this 35 cent Civil War dollar still was three cents more valuable than terms of its 1913 counterpart. It was seventeen years before the nation could resume specie payments. This was done on January 1, 1879 and, remarkably enough, in the final year of a great depression.

This would be much more difficult, if not impossible, today because of the enormous obligations of the federal government.

This experience with coin shortages suggests that some of the proposed remedies for the present scarcity may prove ineffective. Continuation of the 1964 dating on future mintings could well make earlier issues more valuable, and thus bring Gresham's law into action on pre-1964 coins. In that event, the proposed maximum minting of 9.5 billion coins per year would simply drive the 30 to 50 billion coins now in circulation into the hands of collectors. This would set us back, production-wise, from three to five years in our effort to cope with the problem.

In the past, some nations have resorted to stringent laws in attempts to prevent hoarding of coins. Historian Macaulay, discussing England's great mutilation and hoarding problems of the 1690's, says "At every session that was held at Old Bailey terrible examples were made. On one morning seven men were hanged... for clipping. But all was vain. Nay, the severity of the punishment gave encouragement to the crime." England's coin problems were solved, as all such problems must be by applying monetary principles in accord with Gresham's law: By calling in the old underweight coins, by stepping up mint output of new full-weight coins, and by renouncing all plans for cheapening or inflating the coinage. (These were drastic measures, about equivalent to our recoining the pre-1934 gold dollar and renouncing inflation-producing unbalanced budgets!) "Within four days after the meeting of Parliament," records Macaulay, "there was
