TYLER REMARK PROMPTS RESIGNATION BY LITTELL

Township Attorney Ends 19-Year Term

Attorney James E. Littell dropped a bombshell on the Northville township board Tuesday night when he abruptly submitted his resignation.

A statement by Trustee Wilson Tyler triggered the announcement, although Tyler denied that the remark was directed at the attorney.

Littell has been the township legal advisor for 19 years. He also serves as the attorney for the board of education.

Tuesday night's session had been relatively quiet, although a discussion of salary increases for the clerk and treasurer resulted in differences of opinion on the board (see adjoining story).

The meeting had reached its final item of business when the Tyler-Littell friction erupted. In a routine matter the board was about to adopt a resolution that would relieve Northville Sand & Gravel of its obligation to leave land in certain condition following mining operations along Beck road near Seven Mile.

Supervisor R. D. Merriam reported that the firm had met all requirements with the exception of one parcel. In this instance the property owner had signed a letter saying the land was in acceptable condition.

The letter, however, was not available. It was determined that the letter was either in the clerk's file, or the attorney's office.

Tyler indicated that the letter was important to the adoption of the resolution, but said he would make the motion.

He preceded his motion, however, with an observation, which he explained was "facetious" and related to the board's previous discussion of salaries.

With this introduction Tyler said anyone in his employ not providing necessary material or information would no longer have a job.

Before the board could act on the motion, Littell spoke. "I'm not sure what you mean by that, but you're right. The letter should be here. I'll produce it tomorrow," said Littell.

Calmly, and rather matter of factly, Littell then announced he was resigning.

After a moment of stunned silence Tyler said "you've come to a quick decision."

The trustee went on to say that the remark had not been intended for Littell. "It was just a little 'Alphonse and Gaston' comment as a result of our salary argument. Actually, it was intended for the clerk," Tyler stated.

"I'll accept that," said Littell. But he said his decision was final and that he had been "thinking about resigning for some time. I'm too busy."

"That's not the reason. This has been going on for a long time," interjected Clerk Marguerite Young.

Supervisor Merriam urged Littell to reconsider and said the board "would not accept the resignation."

But Littell was adamant. "I'll put it in writing," he added. Littell said he would complete immediate obligations, but asked that a replacement be sought as soon as possible.

Treasurer Alex Lawrence also urged Littell to remain. Clerk Young suggested that "maybe we all ought to resign."

"You've given the township so much service. I feel this is a disservice," added the supervisor.

Littell made no secret of the fact that Tyler's remarks prompted his resignation. They have clashed at previous sessions and on one occasion the attorney heatedly refuted comments by Tyler.

Following Tuesday's meeting Littell indicated he would not reconsider his action and that the resignation was final. He said he had given some thought to dropping his school board responsibilities, too.

Without question Littell has been closer to township affairs for a longer period than any other living person. He has helped draft most of the township ordinances, created its boards and been active in its development of zoning and planning.

He is a resident of 46920 West Seven Mile road and is a partner in the law firm of Poole, Warren & Littell in Detroit.

Board Can't Agree On Salary Increases

Township board members failed to see eye-to-eye Tuesday night on the question of proposed salary increases for the clerk and treasurer.

The matter had been turned over to Trustee Wilson Tyler and James Tellam for study. Their recommendations fell short of what the supervisor, clerk and treasurer favored — except in the case of the supervisor's salary.

The trustees proposed hikes, which would become effective under the 1965-66 budget, in the following amounts:

Supervisor — from $4,000 annually to $5,000;

Clerk — from $3,200 annually to $3,800;

Treasurer — from $3,200 annually to $3,600.

Supervisor R. D. Merriam said he was satisfied with the recommendation for the office of supervisor. "But I think Rita and Alex (the clerk and treasurer) are tremendously underpaid. They're not compensated anywhere near their responsibility and work," the supervisor stated.

He said they should each be paid $4,800 annually.

Area May Join City Anyway

Description Errors Doom Annex Vote

Errors of description in the six-lot area proposed for annexation to the city led to probable cancellation of the November 3 vote on the question Tuesday night.

It appears, however, that if all property owners in the West Main street area express a desire to join the city, the township board will permit the withdrawal by an act of joint resolution with the city council.

This action would eliminate the need for an election.

The inaccurate property description was discovered by township engineering and legal representatives. It was brought to the attention of the petitioners by the township board "as a matter of information, but not with the intention of challenging the validity of the election if it is held."

Specifically, the area involved is located on the south side of Main street and includes six homes between Clement road and the city limits near Orchard drive.

Three errors were noted. One involved reference to the east-west line as the "east line," the second had the boundary line extending "west" to the point of beginning when the direction should have been "east," and thirdly, the description indicated that the northerly 33-feet of the parcel was reserved for roadway. Actually, the area does not extend into the middle of Main street and, therefore, the 33-feet for roadway reservation would be a part of the property owners' lots.

Township Attorney James Littell told property owners attending the early part of Tuesday night's board meeting that this description "might create a cloud on the title." He admitted this was a matter of argument, but said that property owners should be aware of the circumstance.

The petition had been in the hands of the secretary of state since June 22. The error was not discovered at that level, however, and the election was not certified and returned to the city and township until September 22, when subsequent examination revealed the mistakes.

Littell pointed to two alternatives — proceeding with the election, or withdrawing the petitions and starting over.

Attorney Philip Ogilvie, representing the petitioning property owners, said it was his opinion that the error could be removed by an affidavit.

But Ogilvie suggested that the matter could be expedited if the township board were willing to approve the annexation by resolution. This procedure was recently used in permitting Mayor A. M. Allen to annex a newly-purchased home to the city.

All township board members agreed to this procedure if 100% of the property owners are desirous of the move.

Favorable action would also be necessary by the city council to make the annexation a reality.

Joseph Petrock, one of the property owners in the area involved, said that all residents were in agreement and that he was certain each would sign a new petition for annexation to the city.

Northville police reported at press time Wednesday that the city had been "pelted" Tuesday night by a rash of broken windows.

Three homes, six cars, two business places and the high school were damaged with reports still coming in Wednesday as they were discovered.

Chief Eugene King said it appeared that pellet guns had been used, shattering but not breaking the windows.

Mrs. Harold Price, one of four persons in the audience, questioned the construction of a home on property owned by Clerk Young near Spring drive.

Mrs. Price asked how a building permit could be issued without action of the board of appeals. Under township ordinances, she pointed out, the house could not be built without having certain frontage on a public street.

Supervisor Merriam said he had ordered the building inspector to issue the permit. He admitted that the house in question did not conform to township building ordinances, but pointed out that many exceptions had been made under similar circumstances.

Attorney Littell upheld the supervisor's position and pointed out that many houses in the township did not face "public streets." He pointed to Thornapple Lane and Meadowbrook as private roads. He said the requirement should be changed because it could not be upheld in court.

But the attorney said the proper procedure would have been to make the request for relief through the board of appeals.

Littell indicated that the supervisor had "overstepped his authority."

The supervisor admitted his error. And Mrs. Price said she was satisfied, but felt that procedure should be observed for all citizens alike.

CORRECTING CURVE — The curve on Novi road is taking on a new look. A new southbound lane has been constructed and a green strip separates the two lanes of traffic. Local motorists will be able to use the new stretch of road in a few weeks.

Improved Novi Road Still 30 Days Away

A motorists' "nightmare" will pass out of sight next month, Oakland county road officials say.

But until November 15 or "maybe even sooner" — target date for the completion of improvements on Novi road — the long, long line of cars will continue to jam up at the intersection during rush hours.

If everyone can endure, a safer road will emerge.

So far, Eight Mile has been widened from the overpass to Horton street and the sharp curve on Novi road is being made larger and "not so tight."

In the weeks ahead, Novi road will be blocked off at Novi avenue and two double-lane connection strips will link Eight Mile and Novi road separated by islands.

Besides causing congestion, the curve and Novi road — Novi avenue intersection in the past have been traffic hazards and the scene of many accidents.

In an effort to make the intersection less dangerous, traffic on the curve will be separated by a green strip 10 feet wide and 250 feet long. A new southbound lane will be added.

Frazer Staman, an Oakland county road commissioner and former Novi township supervisor, pointed out that "the two extra lanes on the cutoff will make it easier to turn onto Novi road."

Another phase of the project is to close old Baseline road about 50 yards from where it now merges with the cut-off, eliminating the fork in the road.

At present, the tip of Baseline and the cutoff is only one of two places where east-bound motorists on Eight Mile must stop between Pontiac Trail and Farmington road. The other is North Center and the cutoff.

A larger turn island is being built at the junction to accommodate cars entering and leaving Northville, according to road officials.

When he was named to the road commission in 1963, Staman promised that one of his first projects would be to correct the "joint venture in going on Novi road." Cost of the construction is $104,764 and Oakland and Wayne counties are splitting the bill 50-50.

Federal-Mogul Buys Haller, Inc.

Haller Incorporated will become a part of Federal-Mogul-Bower Bearings, Inc., Detroit-based parts manufacturer.

The announcement was made jointly by John Haller, president and founder of the Haller company, and James O. Wright, president of Federal-Mogul-Bower.

The Northville-based firm located at 16580 Northville road, will become the Haller division of Federal-Mogul-Bower.

Haller now employs 160 office, shop and technical personnel and has annual sales of approximately $4 million. It supplies parts to automobiles and farm implement manufacturers.

In making the announcement, John Haller said, "As a result of this agreement, our company will soon become part of a large and highly respected Detroit company, Federal-Mogul-Bower Bearings, Inc."

Federal-Mogul acquired Haller, Inc. for 83,000 shares of stock — at a current market value of more than $4 million.

M. C. Sarnes, 20248 Woodhill, will be in complete charge of this division with the title of general manager. No other changes affecting our people are being considered, Haller stated.

"There will be other important changes, however. The management of Federal-Mogul-Bower has a very high regard for our know-how in the power metal parts field, and they intend to do everything possible to help us take full advantage of the skills we have developed. Within a very short time, new machinery, equipment and technical facilities that we have needed for a long time will be arriving."

"This was the principal reason why the decision was made to join this company with Federal-Bower, Haller added.

"As a result of the fine work done by every one in the Haller organization, the demand for our products has grown far beyond our capacity to produce. Other companies are entering this field rapidly, some of them well enough financed to endanger our competitive position."

Haller further said: "Federal-Mogul-Bower has both the resources and willingness to build this business as far as we can make it go. We are joining one of the country's 300 largest manufacturing concerns. "Federal-Mogul has six manufacturing divisions with 18 plants in the United States, plus an International Group with manufacturing facilities in seven foreign countries and a replacement parts sales division with 121 branches in the U. S. and Canada to supply the automotive and industrial aftermarket. "They have been in business since 1899 and are important suppliers to the same automotive and farm implement customers we are serving."

Haller will assume an active role with Federal-Mogul-Bower, functioning as technical director of the Haller division and providing technical assistance for other divisions of the corporation.

Wright, Federal-Mogul-Bower president, described the move as, "an important diversification of the Federal-Mogul-Bower product line."

"The Haller personnel are widely known for their technical ingenuity in producing intricate mechanical parts from ferrous metal powders. The growth potential in this relatively new field is one of the best in the entire parts industry."

"Haller's present line of pumps, gears and structural parts, along with other products that will be added in the near future with the introduction of new technical facilities will be valuable supplements to our present lines of bearing and oil seals."

Haller, who resides at 18500 Sheldon road, purchased the old Waterford plant from Ford Motor Co. and moved his operation from Plymouth to Northville in 1958. Since then, the facility has undergone steady expansion.

Hearing Set On Rezoning River Street

A public hearing has been scheduled for next Tuesday evening by the Northville planning commission to hear a request to rezone a group of lots on the west side of River street from R-2 to T-1.

Present R-2 zoning permits two-family residences, while T-1 would provide for race track use.

The lots are located between Beal avenue and Seven Mile road. Petitioners seeking the change are L. W. Snow, Fred M. Wendt, Mrs. Gladys Smith, Mazielle Markham, Herman Janke and the Northville Driving Club, Inc.

Northville Downs' General Manager John Carlo has indicated that the area, which adjoins track property, will be used in part for construction of a receiving barn for pre-race housing of horses.

Tuesday's hearing is scheduled for 8 p.m. in the city hall.

Still Seek Dog

Although police have had numerous calls in reply to the appeal for information on a dog that bit a Northville man and his son, the dog has not been found.

One day remains before Richard Bargert, 1068 Allen drive, and perhaps his three-year-old son, must begin a series of 14 rabies shots.

The dog was described as russet brown, long hair and tail, weighing about 20 pounds. Residents seeing such a dog are urged to call Northville police, FT-9-1234.

Northville high students boarded the buses on Thursday morning. Ninety students and five English teachers along with one of the parents made up three bus loads for the trip to Stratford.

Teachers accompanying the students on the trip were Mrs. Rosella Lee, Mrs. Linda Heller, Mrs. Zelta Donaldson, Miss Barbara Green and Mrs. Jean Dugan. Mrs. Morley Godley of Eaton drive joined her daughter for the trip along with Mrs. Yvonne Rollings, secretary at the high school.

Many of the teachers required their students to study, read and discuss the play before they made the 130 mile journey to the festival.

"The reception shown by our students was wonderful," said Mrs. Heller. After the play a leading member of the cast, stepping out of character, commented on the production and then answered questions from the student audience.

Northville students were particularly interested in the "props" and scenery. In the production of "King Lear" Mrs. Heller noted, in particular, they inquired about the use of "blood" in the play. It was explained that the blood was made-up by "Max Factor" and is a combination of lipsticks and gelatine poured into tubes. The tubes are then concealed under the actor's clothing. The "beautiful" costumes also impressed the students as well as the friendliness of the cast, Mrs. Heller added.

The climax to the day was a dinner, in a local restaurant in Stratford before the students returned to Northville.

Two Northville Seniors Honored for Scholarships

Two seniors at Northville high school have been honored for their high performance on the National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test (NMQT) given last spring. Each student who is endorsed by his school receives a formal letter of commendation signed by his principal and the president of the National Merit Scholarship Corporation.

Fred Stefanski, high school principal, announced that the commended students are Barbara Elliott and Michael Horner.

John M. Stalnaker, president of the National Merit Scholarship Corporation, said "letters of commendation are being awarded to 38,000 students throughout the country in recognition of their outstanding performance on the qualifying test. We wish to call attention in this way to their high academic achievement."

"Although they did not reach the status of semifinalists in the current merit program, they are very capable students. The semi-finalists and commended students together constitute about 2% of all high school seniors. This certainly signifies noteworthy accomplishment by all these bright young people."

In Our Town

By Jean Day

ORANGE AND BLACK — the colors of Halloween and of UNICEF (United Nations International Children's Emergency Fund) already are in evidence here, as our children are given opportunity to save pennies to help children in other lands.

It seems particularly appropriate that in this most-internationally minded-month Northville residents welcomed guests from another part of the world.

Last week Mr. and Mrs. Carl H. Bryan's houseguests at their Main street home were Mr. and Mrs. Havelock Emslee and daughter, Miss Linnette Emslee, of Durbin, South Africa. Thirty Northville friends were invited to meet the Emslees Friday evening and to see Mr. Emslee's slides of Africa. The contrast that is Africa was pointed out by Mr. Emslee who showed both backward native tribes and new, modern cities.

Mr. and Mrs. Bryan, themselves extensive world travelers, met their guests when they visited Africa. They were introduced through mutual friends. The Emslees left Saturday after taking in the football game in Ann Arbor. Before returning to Africa, they plan to visit the west coast, Florida and New York.

Miss Emslee will remain in this country as an exchange nurse at Henry Ford hospital. An operating room "Sister" specialist in her country, she is here to study American techniques. Miss Emslee and her mother were Mrs. Bryan's guests at the opening luncheon of the Northville Woman's club.

NORTHVILLE WOMAN'S CLUB'S opening luncheon at Meadowbrook country club Friday alerted members and guests to the fact that "we have the best acting company in the United States" right in Ann Arbor. Colorful Robert C. Schnitzer, executive director of the University of Michigan's pioneering professional theatre program, emphasized his statement by pointing out that the repertory company has taken eight plays to New York.

Three of the four plays in this year's 20-week season, he said, will have off-Broadway performances. In rotating performances "War and Peace," "Judith," "Man and Superman" and "The Hostage" will be shown at the Lydia Mendelssohn theatre in Ann Arbor.

Schnitzer called the U. of M. effort in the professional theatre field the "curl on the wave of the future" — with UCLA and Princeton other bubbles. He cited the high cost of Broadway productions as one of the factors that will move professional theater into academic hands, which can guarantee many weeks' work to a company and can provide fellowships toward a graduate degree.

ON THE LIGHTER SIDE, it's also circus time in our part of Michigan as Ringling Bros., Barnum and Bailey Circus is coming to the State Fair coliseum Oct. 18 - 22 for two performances daily. Twenty new acts are promised with most coming from Europe.

At Greenfield Village and Museum it's anti-iques' forum time, beginning Oct. 12. Last Sunday the Model A Restorers club held an automotive competition at the village. Among those viewing the competition was the J. R. Jackson family of Silchester circle. Mr. Jackson has a special interest in Model A's having acquired one from a Northern Michigan farmer recently.

The Greenbrier at White Sulphur Springs, West Virginia, was convention headquarters for the national Society of Automotive Engineers the end of last month. Among the couples going from Detroit by special train were Mr. and Mrs. Arthur R. Hempe, Jr. of Fonner court west.

UNITED NATIONS emphasis this month focuses both on the UNICEF orange-and-black canisters children are asked to fill by some churches and also on the special Christmas cards and calendars available.

The canisters were distributed Sunday to primary children at Northville Presbyterian church by Mrs. Rolf Batzer, who was dressed from hat to shoes in pumpkin color. She promised to wear her ensemble every Sunday in October to help remind youngsters that every penny they save in a canister will "buy some other child five glasses of milk." Canisters also will be passed out at Northville Methodist church for children to fill themselves or to use for Halloween treating. Presbyterian children are to fill their canisters in a sacrifice offering only.

Samples of United Nations cards are now on display at Hartley-Powers gallery on Main street. Mrs. Harold Hartley annually takes orders and sells the UNICEF cards as a volunteer effort. She cooperates with Mrs. Cy Frid of Dubuar street through the Women's International League for Peace and Freedom.

Northville Players Guild CURTAIN CALLS

Moving full steam into its sophomore year in the amateur theatre circuit, the Northville Players Guild this past week laid down the framework for the entire year's production schedule in the space of just one general meeting.

Convening at the Scout - Recreation building a week ago Tuesday night, members of the players' group seconded the selection and scheduling of three productions, set prices for tickets, and okayed a host of committee chairmen, who will direct and coordinate activities on and off stage from now through May.

For its season opener the guild will present a playbill of three one-acts the weekend of December 3, 4, and 5. On the playbill are "The Fabulous Tale," "Still Alarm," and "The Trysting Place."

On February 4, 5, and 6 the dramatic fare will be a suspenseful drama, "Ladies in Retirement." An audience favorite, "Visit to a Small Planet," has been slated to close out the season on May 20, 21, and 22.

Bud Weber, president of the guild's board of directors, has announced the introduction of a season ticket plan designed to offer playgoers a sizeable savings over the year. A season ticket good for all three productions will be offered at $4.50 each. Individual ticket prices have been set at $2.

In the hopes of keeping production machinery running smoothly during actual play preparation as well as between plays the following chairmen have been named to head standing committees:

Muriel Ross, tickets; Virginia Pacific, properties; Betsy Van Ee, house; Betty Sterner, production publicity; Sharon Mazanec, guild publicity; Walt Avery, business manager; Peggy Jones, finance; Pat Cupchett and Ellen McNeice, wardrobe; Florence Rowland, make-up; Joyce Griffin, costumes; Maud Huff, Charles Freydl, membership; June Gasser, meeting programs; Betty Sellers, play programs; Helene McDonough and Mary Freydl, scripts; Fran Schliefl, librarian; Alice Hosbach, prompting.

Still needed is someone to direct stagecraft.

Dr. Hans Kolbe, resident director of the players' guild, will hold tryouts for aspiring actors and actresses who have not auditioned before this Friday evening at 7 o'clock in the Scout building. He is asking those interested to bring material of their own choice to read.

The guild's next regular meeting will be held Tuesday, October 20, at 8 p.m. in the Scout building. Topping the program will be slides of last year's productions and a workshop on make-up with demonstrations.

For information about guild membership or activities phone FI-9-0955.

Jaycees Win Honors

Northville's Jaycees walked off with some honors recently at a meeting of the sixth Michigan district.

President John Macauley accepted a blue chip award for achieving a 25% increase in membership and a chapter and individual development award for the local group.

Also in attendance were: Richard Norton, first vice president; Ken Roberts, second vice president; Douglas Hargraves, treasurer; Roy Harold, director; Dave Ballanger, a new member; and Karl Knott and Charles Ely, past presidents.

Macauley said that a project of district six is to install a swimming pool at the Plymouth state home and training school.

A candlelight ball will be held to raise part of the money for the project. The pool will cost between $6,000 and $10,000. Some $2,000 has been pledged to date. Twelve clubs in the district are scheduled to bring in $5,000 to $6,000 and another $1,500 is anticipated from dance proceeds.

The council welcomes individuals as members with dues of one dollar per year, and has requested that all local organizations to send special representatives to the business meetings of the council.

Waugh, professor of political science at Eastern Michigan University, Monday at 8 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Glenn Deibert. He is the author of a political satire "Heaven Speaks American" and a book on the vice-presidency, "Second Consul."

A punt, pass and kick competition will be held at Ford field Saturday, sponsored by John Mach, the local Ford dealer.

Some 120 boys between 8 and 13 have already signed up. Registration ends at 6 p.m. tomorrow at the local auto agency.

Boys will vie in their own age group. Prizes for the 8 through 10-year-olds are: 1st, warm-up jacket; 2nd, place kicking outfit; and 3rd, a football. Boys 11 through 13 will be squaring off for plaques.

Local winners will have their scores entered in zone competition. Grand prize is a "tour of champions" with parents of Washington, D.C.

In their first game of the year, the Northville Freshman Football team defeated a determined 'Novi eleven last Thursday.'

Trailing 6-0 at halftime the Mustang Frosh rallied in the second half to gain a 13-7 victory. Touchdowns were made by Fullback Scott Bergo and Halfback Dennis Matthews.

Next game is today at Plymouth at 4 o'clock.

Chuck Turner, a Northville high school senior, won top honors in the second weekly football contest.

Turner was the only contestant to miss as few as five games in a weekend of football marked by upsets.

Second place went to Bob Kucher, a Northville high school science teacher. He missed six games, but came closest to predicting the score of the Detroit-New York game. He won $5.00.

Many other contestants also missed but six games. But three picked the same score for the Detroit game and split the $3 third prize — winning $1 each.

The third place winners were Phil Nauman, 21831 Conne-mara, Muriel Hinchman, 522 Baseline, and Mrs. Fred Tuck, 46620 Stratford.

Mrs. Tuck's son, Bob, was the contest winner last week. She enters every week and competes with her son, a Northville high school gridder, to see who can do the best job of picking the winners.

One of the 24 games in last week's contest, Duke at Tulane, was called off because of hurricane weather. All contestants also missed the Whitmore Lake-Clinton game because it ended in a tie score.

Northville will face its first real test of the grid season tomorrow night when the Broncos from Holly come to town. The game is scheduled to get underway at 8 p.m.

Loaded with veteran talent, including a line with plenty of savvy and a strong running backfield, Holly with a 1-1 W-O Conference record would like nothing better than to beat the Mustangs. Northville is currently tied for the league lead with Milford at 2-0.

This might be Holly's year. The Broncos have had a wide statistical margin over every opponent they have played, even in a 13-0 defeat at the hands of Milford. The Broncos simply blitz their opponents.

Pacing the visitors' attack will be speedster Halfback Mark Phalen, rugged Fullback Jim Starr and Quarterback Tom Fagan, all of whom have been playing together for at least two years.

have this year." Horvath said, "Holly stacks up as the best team we've met to date."

Realizing this, Horvath and his hopefuls may "have a few surprises" in store for Holly. "If we play hard-nosed football, we can win," he declared.

The Mustangs will be handicapped, however, because of the absence of End John Jameson, a defensive standout. "An

Their class was evident last Friday when Holly trounced a good West Bloomfield squad, 34-19. Phalen scored three times and Starr twice, an explosive one-two combination.

Shortly after halftime, West Bloomfield scored to make it, 21-19, but then the Broncos tallied once in the third and fourth quarters to win going away.

Returning to the lineup after a week's absence will be 200-pound tackle, Jerry Burns. His leg injury has knifed.

In other conference games played last week, Milford flashed his class as Halfback Jim Ward scored five times in a 54-6 slaughter of Brighton, and Bloomfield Hills charged by Clarkston, 18-7.

DOUG SWISS — Just a sophomore... Fullback Swiss led the Mustangs' rushing game against Clarenceville by plunging for vital yardage when Northville was in need of a first down. At 185 pounds, he also delivered key blocks on two TD runs. A letterman, he is following in the footsteps of his brother, Tom, who also starred for Northville. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Swiss of Ridge Road. Selection of Doug as Player of the Week was made by Coach Ron Horwath and his assistants who will select a player each week.

Wives Wonder Why Policeman Resigns

To the Editor:
Once again the Northville Police department seems to be the "talk of the town." We, a few of the hundred interested taxpayers, would like to know, what in the world is going on, and, what if anything, is going to be done about it?

Another policeman, with ten years experience in police work, has "quit." WHY? (The so called trouble makers of the department were eliminated about nine months ago, so now who's to blame?)

As we sit here writing this article, we are also wondering how much more clothing and schooling the taxpayers are willing to pay for, before they realize something is radically wrong.

We do not know if anyone would have any use for "used police uniforms," but if they do, there is a complete line to choose from ranging in all sizes including the sergeant's uniforms who were the last two to leave the department. This adds up to about 50 or 60 shirts, several pair of pants, blouses, overcoats, hats, badges, etc. and a lot of the taxpayers' money.

Just to refresh your memories, five men left the department in about a year's time. Three of them within just a few months of each other.

Some were asked to resign, some were fired and some quit. Again we ask you WHY? A good police department is essential in Northville. Just recently and again three months ago we made the headlines and television news because of the bank robberies. The people need to know and feel that we have good police protection. How can this possibly come about when there is such a vast turnover in the men?

A policeman is important to all of us every minute of the day. They are on duty every minute of the day or night or whenever called upon regardless of there own personal likes. You see, they have to be dedicated to their job for the small thanks and pay they receive. So let's get busy and find out where the trouble really is.

Three Ex-Policemen's Wives

Report Gun Shots to Police

To the Editor:

Most of us know the fable of the boy who was sent to guard a flock of sheep. He played jokes on the shepherds, bringing them out several times with false cries of "Wolf!" At last when the wolves truly attacked the sheep his cries for help were thought only another trick.

This fable came true in Northville last weekend. Residents in the northwest section have become so used to the sound of gunshots that when their alertness and help were needed they failed to respond.

It is a heart-breaking experience to lose a pet as did the Reeds last Sunday, September 27. The incident has more serious implications however. Suppose that it had been the living-room of your home which received that shot-gun blast. Suppose you were unable to reach the phone for the police. Could you count on your neighbors paying enough attention to call them for you?

The Ordinance on Offenses, Section 8 — 105 for the City of Northville reads:

"It shall be unlawful for any person to discharge any firearm or other instrument producing a like effect and noise within the city, except in lawful defense of his person or property or as otherwise permitted by the law."

We, as citizens interested in both private and public safety, make this request of our fellow citizens:

First, as parents, make sure that your children abide by the law in their handling of guns.

Second, don't be reluctant to call the police when you hear shots in your area. This situation has been discussed with Chief King and the police are ready and anxious to respond to such calls. Remember, it was a duck

Public Hearing Set For Orchard Drive

In a fast one-hour session Monday night the city council set October 19 as the date for public hearing on the Orchard drive special assessment improvement project.

Bids for installing curbs and gutters and paving the road came in lower than estimated, reducing assessments to property owners about 20%.

Police Officer Melvin Rooker, who has submitted his resignation effective October 11, appeared before the council to request a meeting with the council and police department.

City Manager Bruce Potthoff pointed out that such a meeting was not required upon resignations, only dismissals. He said that there had been no action calling for Rooker's dismissal.

Rooker said he felt certain things surrounding his decision to resign should be aired before members of the department and the council.

Mayor A. M. Allen said the council would discuss the question and inform Rooker of their decision. Manager Potthoff pointed out that such a man-never would eliminate the role of the manager in handling personnel.

In final business Monday night the council purchased a Dodge police car from G. E. Miller, low bidder at $789 including trade-in allowance.

In bids opened for a new pick-up truck, the G. E. Miller agency was also low. Bids were turned over to the manager for examination and recommendation.

The council approved use of the city hall council chambers for a Sunday, November 8 meeting of the Human Relations Council.

In Justice Court

Mrs. Carroll Loy of 48500 West Nine Mile road discovered that it doesn't pay to tear up a ticket and throw it on the highway. At least not when the police officer is standing by.

Ticketed for driving a defective vehicle on September 25 in Novi, Mrs. Loy tore up the ticket. Police then ticketed her for littering the highway.

In Judge Robert Anderson's Novi justice court Thursday the sentence was suspended and Mrs. Loy paid court costs of $10.

A $100 fine was paid by Walled Lake, $150.

Charged with two counts, Lloyd DeGrandchamp of 923 Le May, Walled Lake, pleaded not guilty to the first offense of leaving the scene of an accident September 26. He was fined $15 and $10 court cost. The second offense was driving under the influence of liquor. However, no blood test was given to DeGrandchamp and Judge Emery Jacques dismissed the case.

SMOKY STAND — The old concession stand at Ford field that served Mustang fans for many years before the team switched to the high school gridiron was gutted by fire Tuesday afternoon. Burning insulation produced dense smoke that billowed up and was visible all over the city. Firemen have not determined the cause of the blaze.

Woman Falls, Breaks Hip At Post Office

An elderly woman was injured Monday when she fell in front of the Northville post office.

The injured woman was identified as Mrs. Elizabeth Borchart of 1120 Maple, Plymouth. She was taken to St. Mary hospital and was reported to have a broken hip.

$100, Not $500

In a recent edition it was incorrectly stated that each member of the Novi board of education receives $500 annually. Actually, the sum of $500 is divided up among the five members of the board so each gets $100 annually as a token payment for his services.

NOTICE

All interested persons are advised that the Michigan State Highway Department is planning the expansion and reconstruction of the Interstate 96 - Kent Lake Road interchange.

This interchange serves Kensington Metropolitan Park and is being improved to add additional capacity for increased safety and to provide for better operational characteristics.

Under provisions of Federal law, any citizen who would be affected by the proposed relocation may request in writing that the Michigan State Highway Department hold a formal public hearing concerning the economic effect of the proposed project upon the area involved.

Such a written request must be received on or before October 12, 1964.

Still No Rides for Village Green Students

Even the Novi board of education couldn't solve the transportation problem for 25 parochial students living in Village Green subdivision.

The youngsters are still walking to Our Lady of Victory school, a distance of 1.8 miles.

"We found we just didn't have room for them on our buses," said Novi Superintendent Tom Culbert. "I have notified their parents of the decision."

Last month, the Novi board adopted a plan allowing the students to be picked up at Northville high school, about a half mile from their homes. But the scheme didn't work. A contract was to have been drawn up with the bus fee set by the state department of public instruction.

The Novi buses carry non-public school students. One comes out of Willowbrook and goes directly to OLV and St. Paul's Lutheran schools. The other is a shuttle bus operating from the high school.

Novi buses were jammed on the first day of school. There were 15 extra students on Willowbrook run and they were transferred to the shuttle service. At that time, the Novi bus could only accommodate five Village Green pupils.

Earlier, representatives of the students' parents appealed to the Northville board of education but were turned down. The board ruled that all students in Village Green must walk to school, basing its decision on a state report.

The state said: "No school district has to furnish transportation for non-public school children unless such children are eligible for an allotment in state aid."

"Any child who lives inside the city limits of Northville is not eligible for an allotment in state aid. Consequently, a school district does not have to furnish transportation for such children."

It was further explained by school officials that children in the district may not pay the board for transportation. Novi, on the other hand, can accept a fee from non-resident students transported to a non-public school.

Village Green is in the Oakland county portion of Northville near the Novi road entrance to the city.

Joe Tambasco

He's Police Dispatcher

Legs Paralyzed But Voice Strong

Joe Tambasco, a recent addition to the Novi village hall staff, is a new "mouthpiece" of the police department.

He is a natural for the job.

Confessed Joe: "I may be a little bit on the gabby side but I try to be as business-like as possible." Since late August, Joe has been radio dispatcher for the department on the afternoon shift. "But he doesn't budge from his desk too often during the 4 p.m. to midnight turn. For 15 years he has been a paraplegic."

Joe, now 35, was struck down by polio on July 4, 1949. As he recalled: "I was feeling dizzy. I got up from my chair and fell on the floor. I spent 11 months in Herman Kiefer hospital and the McGregor rehabilitation center in Detroit."

"I was lucky, though. I wasn't placed in an iron lung. I was paralyzed from the waist down and couldn't raise my left arm. If I had been paralyzed an inch or two higher — from my chest to my feet — I would have been put in the mechanical lung."

After a few months, he regained use of his left arm but his legs are still limp. "I can feel a fly on my legs," Joe said, "but I can't use my limbs."

Following his stay in the hospital, Joe went to work for his father who operates Tambasco Cattle in Detroit. Joe maneuvered a big tractor with special hand controls.

Five years ago the Detroit News hired Joe to handle a motor carrier route in Novi, Walled Lake, Farmington and part of Livonia. He was gainfully employed until July 13.

That's the day the News and Free Press were closed down by the striking pressmen and paper handlers.

"I knew they were having trouble downtown at the papers," Joe related. "But I heard about the strike on a radio bulletin. If I were still waiting for the papers to resume publication, I would be pretty hungry by now."

Joe was delivering about 550 daily papers for the News and 600 Sunday editions and "making a good living. But I figured I would lose about 150 customers whenever the papers started up again."

In late July Joe visited the Novi police station to have his address changed on his operator's license. He had just moved to 48910 12 Mile road.

At that time Police Chief Lee BeGole was looking for another dispatcher. Mrs. Jean Clark, the "soft" voice of the afternoon airwaves, wanted to work only on a part-time basis.

Other dispatchers are Lawrence Fest on days and Al Stace on midnights. All work 40-hour weeks and are classified as civilians, not policemen.

"I spent the first week in August on the job on my own time," Joe explained. "Chief BeGole told me that I would have to be able to handle myself and get here under my own power. That was fine with me."

Joe elaborated: "I can bowl in my chair, drive a car, go swimming with an innertube and even venture into the woods to hunt deer. Last year I drove to California, a distance of 5,600 miles round trip."

In his job Joe dispatches messages to local police cars and answers the fire and police telephones. In addition he does clerical work.

"Once in a while somebody gets pretty wound up on the telephone and can't even remember his own name. So I try to calm him down by talking. It usually works."

from the PASTOR'S STUDY

First Methodist Church
by the Rev. S. D. Kinde

Autumn is the time of color. We look out over the countryside and see the foliage ablaze with color. Maple trees are decked in red, yellow, and orange while a mac in a blaze of glory boasts shades of red. The aspen leaves rustle in the wind and are a marked yellow. Color tones are being changed and announced in nearby communities. People by the hundreds will be out on the highways on warm, sunny week ends to view the splendor of the hills and valleys. They will say, "Isn't life good to be lived with so much color about us?"

Our friends and neighbors join us in admiration of the sunset when, all of the colors of the rainbow tint the western sky. We stand in awe in admiration of the picture painted by the hands of the greatest of all artists.

Then we walk the streets and see people with many colored skins. Why are we not able to admire them as all belonging to one family? Why can we not appreciate the varied colors in man? Do we fear and judge all by one?

Whatever my own skin color — red or yellow, black or white — am I ever in any way tempted to look askance at persons of another color? What would God my creator have me think, about my own color, about others' color?

As a religious person I lift up other concerns in prayer. Do I lift up this one? Am I willing to let God help me overcome any pre-judging of others, which is what prejudice is after all: judging them on appearance before giving them a chance?

When will I, who am a lover of fall flowers because of their bright and varied colors, the red sylvia, the yellow gold, and orange marigolds, the multi-colored petunias, chrysanthemums and asters, learn to love and appreciate the differences in the colors of man's skin?

When will my own attitudes bring me to my knees to pray the prayer of a young high school student: "Father of all of us — may we all seek Your guidance and be willing to do Your will rather than follow evil influences so often present. Forgive us that so many times we allow petty prejudices to influence our actions more than your teachings. As we are willing to forgive and to help others we ask that You do so for us."

"Guide us and give us strength to overcome the temptation to act hastily and with no regard for Your will. Bless all teenagers and may no group desire to do evil to any other group. "For yours is everything, God. We can do nothing without You, and everything with you. Amen."

THE CHURCH FOR ALL ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the church. They are: (1) For his own sake (2) For his children's sake (3) For the sake of his community and nation (4) For the sake of the church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

THE MORNING I PLAYED

Hooky.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the church. They are: (1) For his own sake (2) For his children's sake (3) For the sake of his community and nation (4) For the sake of the church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

This picture will always live in my memory. It was Sunday morning, and I was about eleven years old. I was on my way to Church School when I met Tom Snyder. He didn't take much urging for me to join him in a fishing expedition.

I had always thought it would be fun to play hooky. It came as kind of a shock that it wasn't. I was downright uncomfortable, sitting there with my line dangling in the water. I kept thinking about how nice our Church School teacher had been to me, and about how my parents would be looking for me in Church. And pretty soon I found that inside me I was wriggling.

I think that's the first time I ever realized I "ought" to do anything. I didn't catch a fish that morning, but I did learn a big lesson. I learned that there is very little honest joy in doing something you shouldn't be doing. I learned that we have a certain duty to God and to ourselves, and that we can't be happy when we turn our backs on it.

From then on, my Church School attendance was 100%. Now that I'm older, I try to maintain that same record. Sunday means the Church to my family.

City Hall Signs Prove Both Attractive, Informative

Campaigning candidates visited Northville last week from both parties. Democrats Billie Farnum, Weston Vivian and Marvin Stempien appeared at a meeting of the Northville Democratic club. And Mrs. Elly Peterson (center above), Republican candidate for U.S. Senator, greeted shoppers in the business district. She's shown with Mrs. Stuart Campbell, president of the local Republican club, and Mrs. Clara Farmer, owner of The Little People Shoppe.

Northville Democrats Hear Farnum, Vivian, Stempien

Last Wednesday night congressional and legislative candidates spoke before a meeting of the local Democratic club.

Billie S. Farnum, Democratic nominee for the 19th congressional district that takes in the city of Northville, and Weston Vivian, candidate for the 2nd congressional district, which takes in the two precincts in Northville township, spoke about the various issues in the national election.

James McCarthy, candidate for the state senate running in both the city and township of Northville, also told the members what his program was should he be the successful candidate for the 14th district. Marvin Stempien, candidate for the 35th district state representative, covering the city below the Eight Mile line and the township, also spoke to the gathering of some 40 people.

The local club has recently been organized for more active participation in local politics. The officers and executives five board were confirmed at the meeting. Jack Ruland and Mrs. C. E. Woodruff are co-chairmen and the elected delegates for the various precincts are as follows: Ken Conley, city precinct No. 1; Aubrey French, city No. 2; and Ruland, city No. 3.

All those interested in helping in the coming campaign should contact the delegate in their precinct. Any questions about the organization will be answered by Gene Rice at 349-3257.

The next area Democratic meeting will be October 12 in the Plymouth Credit Union hall under the auspices of the newly organized 2nd Congressional District club of Wayne county. Adelaide Hart is scheduled to be the speaker.

Boys State Report Given Optimist Club

The Northville Optimist club at its regular meeting at the Thunderbird Inn October 1st, heard reports from the two boys that the club sponsored at Boys State at East Lansing June 18-25.

Prior to introducing the boys, Program Chairman Don Severance pointed out that Boys State is sponsored by the American Legion and, as far as the Optimists are concerned, this is truly 'Optimism in action'.

Severance then presented Northville high school seniors Bob Beller and Kent Hunter. Bob and Kent were part of the 28 boys who were sponsored by Northville and Novi clubs and organizations. Northville, due to the work of the local American Legion post and the cooperation of clubs and organizations, had the largest contingent at Boys State.

Bob and Kent described their activities at Boys State. These activities include: learning how our government works by means of lectures and practical politics in organizing their cities, states and counties; athletics; tours of campus; church services; music; talent show; newspaper; yearbook, room and personal inspections, etc.

Bob and Kent praised the American Legion, the local clubs and organizations and the personnel running the activities at Boys State. More than 1,100 boys worked a lot, learned a lot, and returned home happy and tired knowing that they had profited a great deal from the experience and particularly knew that "my government is my way of life," Bob and Kent stated.

In closing Severance noted that the Michigan Department of the American Legion originated Boys State and now nearly every state in the union has a similar project patterned after the Michigan plan.

SPEAKING for The Record

By BILL SLIGER

Remember when mother would say, "why don't you go play in the attic?"

My friend, Bob Silbar, publisher of the Fenton Independent, bemoans, the fact in his weekly column "Bobbing Around" that this is a forgotten phrase. The old-fashioned attic has been replaced by "basement storage space", and whoever heard a mother say to her children on a rainy day, "Why don't you go play in the basement storage space?"

In the modern home there's a recreation room for such occasions.

But remember the enchantment of the attic before the days of television?

Silbar's recollections bring back memories... the stillness of an attic, the old, dusty trunks, the birdseye view of the neighborhood as you peeked out a small dormer window.

It was as though you were in another world, all alone with boxes of treasures to explore. And who can forget the odor of an attic? The mothballs, the un-circulated air.

Suddenly you become interested in old pictures, puzzles and games long before discarded. Then your solitude was interrupted by a call to dinner and the attic was forgotten until another rainy day.

Television is a wonderful invention, but they'll never produce a western thriller that will replace the attic for lasting adventure in a small boy's mind.

The Michigan Press Bulletin, weekly publication of the Michigan Press Association, contains 10 tips for advertising writers, that should be of interest to every merchant and salesman.

They promise better sales' results if you:

1. Don't sell me a car, sell me transportation, glamour and style;
2. Don't sell me a house, sell me a home with comfort, prestige and security;
3. Don't sell me clothes, sell me neat appearance, style and attractiveness;
4. Don't sell me shoes, sell me foot comfort and the pleasure of walking in the open air;
5. Don't sell me furniture, sell me a home that has comfort, cleanliness and contentment;
6. Don't sell me books, sell me pleasant hours and the profits of knowledge;
7. Don't sell me toys, sell me playthings to make my children happy;
8. Don't sell me tools, sell me the pleasure and profit of making fine things;
9. Don't sell me tires, sell me freedom from worry and low cost-per-mile;
10. Don't sell me plows, sell me green fields of tall corn.

New Look in Lansing

Legislative chambers of the State Capitol will be new to all in January, not just the many freshman members of the House and Senate.

Both houses are undergoing major renovation this fall from the floors up. In the House, the torn and faded carpet which covered the floor nearly 35 years was removed to disclose the need for complete new flooring.

The Senate carpeting is a little newer than that in the House but will also be replaced while the Senators' desks are sent to the Ionia Reformatory for refinishing. House desks are getting the same treatment.

Improved electrical wiring for the House voting machine and both chambers' public address and telephone systems also are slated as part of the mammoth project.

Work began early this summer in the 110 — seat House, but desks were still in place in the Senate in mid — September, prompting some observers to question whether that chamber will be ready for occupancy early in January when the session begins.

A major argument for continued increases in state aid to higher education is seen in a comparison of public versus private college enrollments, say those in the field.

The Department of Public Instruction notes that another increase was recorded this year in the percentage of students being educated in public institutions.

Michigan already ranked second only to California in this count before the 1964 school year began. Opening enrollment estimates were that 79.5 per cent of Michigan's college students were attending public institutions. Just three years ago public institutions provided education for 77.9 per cent of the total state enrollments, while private facilities had 22 per cent of the students.

With 10 four-year degree-granting institutions publicly supported and 18 community colleges of a public nature, preparing for an appeal to the 1965 Legislature to increase state support to higher education on a parallel with the enrollment growth.

"Realizing that the demands of society for college-trained youth are greater than ever before, we can ill afford to deny fully capable students the higher education and training that their potential warrants and industry demands of them," says Superintendent Lynn M. Bartlett.

The value of "Federal aid" projects frequently comes up for debate in an election year.

One partisan, Don Kinsey of the Michigan Farm Bureau, says the benefits derived from Federal aid should be considered in view of its origin.

Michigan receives an overall amount of $176.3 million in Federal funds for various purposes, says Kinsey. "Michigan people cough up $233.8 million a year to the Federal tax collector," he said, on the basis of 1963 U.S. Treasury Department figures.

"This is a payment of $1.33 for every dollar returned to Michigan so the question becomes 'Who aids who?'" said the Bureau spokesman.

Booms in community expansion must be seen well ahead of their occurrence, according to a recreation planning expert.

G. Leslie Lynch, planner for the National Recreation Association in New York City, says planning and acquisition of land for recreation and school sites must be done five or more years in advance.

"The planning and acquisition of recreation lands and school sites should be at least five years ahead of the development," he says. "The planners, and not the developers, should determine the pattern of our urban areas."

Too often, Lynch notes, community planners are hesitant to submit honest recommendations for community recreation because of apparent inadequacy of funds.

"The fact that there is no vacant land in the neighborhood must not keep us from declaring that 10 acres is needed for a recreation area," he said.

"We are standing on a firm foundation when we recommend the expenditure of large sums of money to provide public recreation services and facilities."

In growing communities the advance planning is all — important, Lynch says, because lack of public open space is often one of the principal reasons for urban renewal needs in established cities.

The recreation spokesman contends that adequate recreational facilities are guaranteed by the constitution as a part of man's pursuit of happiness.

"Any nation, that spends annually over $50 per capita for alcoholic beverages and over $30 per capita for tobacco, can well afford to spend $6 or $7 per capita each year for the operation of park and recreation services," he said.

Ideas Need Salesmen

Babson Park, Massachusetts. I often recall something that Thomas A. Edison said to me many years ago at his home in New Jersey. He told me that there were at that time enough inventions in the Patent Office to make the United States — and in fact the whole world — prosperous for fifty years if there were enough men with "guts" and vision to get these ideas working.

It is not surprising that he was thinking in those terms. At the time, he was manufacturing the only phonograph records in existence; they were then in the form of waxed cylinders. He kept insisting that flat records would someday be used, but he was unable to work up any enthusiasm in the trade. It was his feeling that true salesmanship could have put the idea across.

"But, Babson," he told me, "I am only an inventor, and not a salesman. The salesmen and advertising agencies will determine the future of America — not the inventors."

On the other hand, my friend Johnson, who founded the Victor Phonograph Company, was a salesman and not an inventor. He had faith in the future of the flat phonograph record, but he had to travel all over the country before he could finally get enough financial support to start the Victor Company.

He was like Henry Ford. He would not take "no" for an answer. Johnson and Ford were such determined salesmen that they built up firms that have since made billions of dollars. Many who refused to invest in the "ideas" of these men learned how stupid they had been when it was too late.

It was Edison who once pointed out to me that steam had been used for power a great many years before Watt developed a commercially successful steam engine. University professors had long been discussing the subject of utilizing steam for power, but nobody had gone ahead with the down-to-earth job of making the idea attractive to the public. The same is true regarding Whitney's invention of the cotton gin and Fulton's building of the steamboat. These men saw the opportunities, paid no attention to temporary defeats and wound up proving to the doubting public that they were right.

In the early days of my business, a client of mine was William L. Douglas of Brockton, the largest shoe manufacturer in the world. That was at the time when people wore high shoes, and Douglas kept worrying about the dangerous hooks on these shoes. He offered a prize of $10,000 to any of his salesmen who would solve the problem of the hooks. One of his men told him to cut out the hooks entirely by making a line of low shoes.

"If you will," he told Douglas, "I'll sell them, or resign." Douglas was smart enough to see the light; and before long the entire industry shifted over to low shoes.

I admit that there is a continuing need for many technicians today — engineers, mechanics, specialists of all sorts. But I believe that young people should realize the tremendous importance of basic salesmanship, of educating themselves to promote the valuable new ideas that have not yet got beyond the drawing board or the test tube. I do not pretend that this is easy; it is, in fact, a long and rough road. Those, however, who want the kind of challenge that calls for everything a young man has will go far in this field.

In fact, if I were of college age today, I would take a course in Business Administration, knowing that there might be difficulty — even tedium — along the way. There is no place in Business Administration for the plodder, the pencil pusher, or the clock watcher. Anyone who thinks success comes from sitting in a plush chair all day and dictating letters might as well give up any prospect of becoming a developer of remunerative ideas. That kind of work calls for knocking at a thousand doors, wearing out a lot of shoe leather.

Patriotic Education Week Proclaimed October 12-19

The week of October 12 to 19, 1964, has been proclaimed Patriotic Education Week in Michigan by Governor George Romney.

The observance is sponsored by the Children of the American Revolution and the Governor's proclamation was obtained by the senior state president of the CAR, Mrs. George Merwin, of 43461 Cottisford.

The proclamation reads: "The history of this Nation is such that all Americans can proudly affirm the heritage which is theirs.

"Americans need to be re-awakened to their great past, to the sacrifices, hard work, and diligent efforts that have gone into the creation of the American democracy and freedom.

"The principles upon which this Nation was founded are as valid today as when they were first articulated by our founders in the Constitution.

"We must carry our system to a higher level of accomplishment and adopt our principles to help others so that all people of the world will benefit from our endeavors.

"Therefore, I, George Romney, Governor of the State of Michigan, do hereby proclaim the period of October 12 to 19, 1964, as Patriotic Education Week in Michigan, and urge every man, woman and child, every church, school organization and business establishment in Michigan to affirm their belief in our system of government and the principles upon which it is founded and to undertake the adoption of our way of life for the betterment of mankind."

Pat Reynolds admits she was wrong!

(She was sure electric dryers were more expensive. Then we showed her these money-saving facts.)

- 1 Gas dryers cost a couple of pennies less per load to operate; we'd be the first to admit it. But with electric dryers you still come out ahead. Read on.
- 2 Electric dryers cost less to buy. Model for model, prices run about $20 to $40 lower than gas dryers.
- 3 And now, for a limited time, this lower price includes installation and wiring, if needed. For details, see your dealer.
- 4 Electric dryers cost nothing for electrical repairs or labor. According to manufacturers' service policy premiums, the average dryer requires about $200 worth of repairs over a 10-year period. But, of course, if your dryer is electric, Edison comes out, repairs it, and leaves without leaving you a bill! (It's the only no-charge dryer repair service offered by a utility company in this area.)

Add up ALL the costs and you'll see what Pat Reynolds saw — electric dryers cost less to own.
