It's Homecoming For NHS Friday

Northville will roll out the red carpet for royalty this Friday night as the high school and fans honor the queen and her court at the annual homecoming festivities.

Candidates are Seniors Linda Nelson, Pat Pressly and Sally Winner. One of these girls will wear the crown as a result of a student body election today. The others will serve as members of the court.

Other representatives are Junior Beverly Spiker, Sophomore Barbara Bogart and Freshman Luanne Godfrey.

Kicking off the evening's festivities is a parade of the queen and her court at 7:15 through the central business district.

The parade will form at the high school, proceed south on Center to Main, east on Main, north on Hutton, west on Dunlap and then north on Center street to the football field for the kickoff at eight o'clock. Northville will host West Bloomfield.

The queen and her court will take the spotlight when they are presented to the fans during the half-time ceremonies. Escorting the queen across the field will be captains John Mach and Bob Tuck. The band will also perform at halftime.

Batter's On

For a hearty meal before the homecoming game, the Presbyterian Men's club is cooking up its annual pancake supper.

As usual, it's all you can eat. Bring the family. Tickets will be sold at the fellowship hall with service from 5 until 7 p.m.

Climaxing the eventful evening will be the dance at the Community building following the game with West Bloomfield. The royal party and guests will dance to the music of the high school dance band until midnight.

During the pep assembly tomorrow, the queen will be announced and crowned by last year's queen, Mary Logeman. The student body elects the queen and each class votes for its respective representatives during two weeks of campaigning.

This year's queen will be the seventh to wear the crown, which was originally donated by the student council. The pep club will present the queen with a miniature crown as a remembrance. Sponsors of the event are the Pep and "N" clubs.

GM Settles but Dailies Face Hopeless Deadlock

What's a daily newspaper? Perhaps many area residents are beginning to wonder as the Detroit strike enters its 109th day.

There was some hope last week end that the dispute would be settled with negotiators from both sides going to Washington. But the pressmen took a vote Sunday and turned down the latest offer from the publishers.

In reviewing other happenings, there was some good news on the labor front.

General Motors was eyeing full production as its month-long strike ended. A national agreement was approved Sunday but local strikes were permitted to continue. Latest figures indicate that 28 bargaining units have yet to settle their differences with the auto giant. Included are 15 of 23 assembly plants across the country.

Meanwhile, Ford Motor company reported record earnings and sales for the first nine months of 1964. Ford netted $407 million on volume of $7.1 billion. Ford said it built 2.9 million cars and trucks worldwide in the nine-month span.

In an effort to recoup 500,000 units lost by GM during its strike, auto makers have announced a step-up in production for November and December. Manufacturers set output schedules at 800,000 units for the two months.

Officials in Pontiac announceed that the city is in line to get a proposed new osteopathic college. Already $252,750 has been pledged by Pontiac firms to acquire the necessary site but $122,250 in additional funds is needed to carry out the project. It was said that the college would have 280 students initially.

Voters in 40 states will ballot next Tuesday on home state issues ranging from housing discrimination to capital punishment. Up for decision are 253 proposed state laws or constitutional amendments.

Karl Weiss Killed In Novi Car Crash

Karl R. Weiss, well-known in both Northville and Novi, was fatally injured in an auto accident last Thursday night on Ten Mile near Haggerty road.

He was the fifth person to die in a traffic mishap in Novi in 1964 — and the first victim on a surface street. All the others were killed on Interstate 96.

Weiss, a 43-year-old sales representative for the Automobile Club of Michigan who resided with his wife Marion at 40971 Morningside, was dead on arrival at St. Mary hospital in Livonia.

Police said Weiss was traveling west on Ten Mile when his car went over the yellow line, entering the eastbound lane of traffic.

Weiss' car struck another driven by Donald Urbach, 33, of 443 South Shore drive, Whitmore Lake. The impact slammed Urbach's car up against a tree.

ment abutment and flipped over on its top, landing in a ditch on the south side of Ten Mile near the site planned for another Willowbrook subdivision.

Witnesses related the same story to local police.

Urbach was not seriously injured. Police said that he was talking at the hospital but the extent of his injuries wasn't known.

Both cars were termed "totals."

Services were held Saturday for Weiss at the First Presbyterian church. Reverend Lloyd Brasure officiated. Burial was in Oakland Hills memorial garden.

Funeral arrangements were handled by the Ebert Funeral home.

In addition to his wife, Weiss is survived by his mother Mrs. Mabel Hollander of Detroit; two sisters, Mrs. Madge Hollander of Linden and Mrs. Mabel Brown of Detroit, and a brother, H. J. Weiss of Detroit.

Weiss attended First Presbyterian church in Northville and was a member of the board of deacons. He belonged to B.P. O.E. No. 1986 of Farmington and was a past commander of Century Post No. 32, American Legion.

Tuesday Presidential Vote To Attract Record Turn-Out

Local voting records seem certain to fall next Tuesday when electors go to the polls to name their choice for the highest office in the nation.

In addition to the race between President Lyndon B. Johnson and his Republican opponent, Barry Goldwater, the ballot will contain a full slate of congressional, state and county contests.

Voters will also be asked to approve or reject the Massachusetts-type ballot.

An all-time high registration of 2,649 in the city and 1,740 in the township leads to the prediction of a record vote locally. In 1960 the highest local vote was recorded, 3,509 with 2,053 in the city and 1,456 in the township.

An 80 per cent turn-out at the polls would break the 1960 vote mark.

Polls open Tuesday at 7 a.m. and close at 8 p.m.

Information on polling places and local congressional and legislative candidates may be found on the cover pages of sections two and three.

In other state and county races the ballot pits Republican Governor George Romney against Democrat Neil Staelen; William G. Milliken (R) vs. Robert A. Derengoski (D) for lieutenant governor; Allison Green (R) vs. Secretary of State James M. Hare (D); and Meyer Warshawsky (R) vs. Attorney Frank J. Kelly (D).

Democratic U.S. Senator Philip A. Hart faces Republican Elly M. Peterson.

In the races for the state boards the candidates are: state board of education — (2 year term) Leon F. Hill, Donald M. D. Thurber, Karl Parker, Ellen M. Solomonson; (4 year term) Carmen L. Delliquadri, Marilyn Jean Kelly, Joyce Hatton, Bourke Lodewyk; (6 year term) Thomas J. Brennan, Peter Oppewall, Robert P. Briggs, John C. Kregier; (8 year term) Charles E. Morton, Edwin L. Novak, Alvin M. Bentley and James F. O'Neill.

MSU trustees — Frank Hartman, Clair White, Paul D. Bagwell and John S. Pingel; Wayne State governors — William B. Hall, Benjamin M. Rose, Wilbur M. Brucker, Jr., Charles Gershenson.

In all the state board races above two of the four candidates are to be elected.

In Wayne county races the candidates are: Prosecuting Attorney Samuel H. Olsen (D) vs. W. H. Ferguson (R), Sheriff Peter Buback (D) vs. W. G. Jeffries (R), Clerk Edgar Branigan vs. Lawrence Hinkle (R), Treasurer Louis Funk (R) vs. Joe Martin (R), Register of Deeds Bernard Youngblood (D) vs. Frederick Adams (R), Auditor Arthur A. Sumaracki (D) vs. Herbert M. August (R) and Drain Commissioner Henry V. Herrick (D) vs. A. L. Meredith (R).

In Oakland county: S. Jerome Bronson (D) vs. Robert L. Templin (R), prosecutor; Ruel E. McPherson (D) vs. Sheriff Frank Irons (R), John D. Murphy (D) vs. David R. Calhoun (R), clerk and register of deeds; Lucille D. Marshall (D) vs. Charles A. Sparks (R), treasurer; and Stanley Dunn (D) vs. Daniel W. Barry (R), drain commissioner.

Wayne county judicial candidates are: circuit court — Joseph Craig, Charles Kaufman, Arthur Sempliner, Thomas Brennan, Benjamin Burdick and John Connolly (elect three); court of appeals — John Gillis, T. John Lesinski, John Watts, Harry J. Dingeman, Jr., Tom Downs and Thomas J. Foley (elect three). Only three candidates for three vacancies for probate court are James H. Lincoln, Joseph A. Murphy and Frank S. Szymanski.

In Oakland county: circuit court — James S. Thorburn, James Clarkso, Allen C. Ingle, John E. McGrath, Arthur E. Moore, Philip Pratt (elect three); court of appeals — Farrell E. Roberts, Donald R. Freeman, Thomas Kavanagh, Louis McGregor, Francis O'Brien and Timothy C. Quinn (elect three); and Norman R. Barnard for judge of probate court.

Torch Drives Lagging

Northville and Novi Torch Drive workers are still making house calls today to reach their quotas.

Mrs. Arthur Hempe, Northville residential chairman, laments that only two-thirds of her quota has been attained so far but is hopeful that the goal of $2,100 can be accomplished.

"We've only collected $1,400 in the first week and will be concluding our activities by the end of the week," she noted.

She urges residents who have not contributed to the annual drive to call one of four area chairmen: Mrs. John Miller, Mrs. Herbert Weston, Mrs. Archie Richardson or Mrs. David Timbrooks.

Meanwhile, the business solicitation has ended and goal of $1,200 has been met, she indicated.

In Novi, Mrs. Albert Atherton, residential chairman, said her campaign is running short of expectations. About $1,300 has been solicited thus far. The Novi residential goal is $1,919.

"We'll be wrapping up our drive this weekend and I am sure we will make our quota," she said.

Mrs. Florence Harris, in charge of the business solicitation in Novi, has already raised $629 with a few more checks outstanding, Mrs. Atherton said.

Time Running Out For Novi Students

When will Northville high school close its doors to Novi tuition students?

It may be next year, according to the Northville board of education. At least this is the tentative plan.

A letter will be sent shortly to the Novi board of education stating the Northville board's position on the student problem.

As Dr. Kenneth MacLeod, assistant superintendent of Northville schools, put it: "We are overcrowded this year. With 867 students we haven't enough classroom, eating and locker space."

"What do we do when we get to 1,024 students in 1966-67?" MacLeod asked. He offered this figure to the board based on projections for coming years.

Next year, with Novi tuition students in grades 10, 11 and 12, enrollment at the high school will run 916. The following year it will total 1,024 and then in 1967 it will go as high as 1,088, MacLeod estimated.

Now, with no increase in Novi students in the three-year span, enrollment will taper off to 834 next year, 832 in 1966 and 780 in 1967.

"Around 750 students is the optimum figure for the high school," MacLeod told the board Monday night.

"Novi is concerned if they can't give a quality program to their 10th graders," MacLeod said. "Well they did it one time in the 1930s."

Novi is only one of three school districts left in Oakland county without a kindergarten through 12th grade program. It now provides a K-9 program, opening a new junior high school in September to accommodate its own ninth graders.

MacLeod revealed to the board that Novi has eight classrooms that are empty while Northville is in dire need of additional teaching units.

Fred Stefanski, high school principal, related that there are areas of the educational program at the high school that should undergo expansion.

"We need more speech, art and industrial classes," he informed the board. "We would like to reorganize our social studies and American government programs and offer 12th grade geography classes."

"And you know where the physics classes are being held," Stefanski reminded the board. They are held in an auxiliary classroom and both the chemistry and physics classes must share the laboratory.

"We did this last year, too," Stefanski pointed out.

Some teachers, Stefanski said, aren't happy "with carrying the present loads and feel we are shortchanging the students."

Trustee E. O. Weber suggested that Northville withdraw classes of Novi students one at a time in an orderly progression.

Weber asked: "Could the state board of education require us to keep them? Trustee William Crump replied that he "is afraid the state board could step in and make us provide high school facilities for them."

Robert Shafer, another board trustee, reasoned that "everything is subject to conjecture."

Superintendent R. H. Amerman repeated to board members that in 1957 when the district was seeking approval of its bonding program for the high school, the Novi student question was raised.

"The state wanted to know if we would be willing to accept Novi pupils. I said we would take them for as long as we could."

Amerman added: "If we would have to build a new school to accommodate tuition students it would be a bad thing for the district."

Shafer commented that "Northville has been reasonable in accepting Novi students. But it looks like we'll have to do a new push job now."

Weber then remarked that Novi should fulfill "its previous agreement" to gradually take its tenth graders and other pupils out of the Northville system.

Crump recalled that the agreement was made about six years ago.

James Kipfer, president of the school board, reflected that if Novi has eight empty classrooms "Northville can make adjustments without them so Novi should be able to make adjustments with them."

Crump brought up the matter of more students in the future. "If Novi undergoes subdivision growth, we're in deep trouble in a hurry. We'd better get out of the noose before it tightens up."

But Crump clarified that any student from Novi that starts high school in Northville "will be allowed to finish here as one class a year is dropped."

Kipfer admitted that the absence of tuition students would throw off the school budget but said that the board could ask the district voters to make up the difference with a half-mill or one mill rise in the tax levy.

The Northville and Novi boards of education will meet jointly at 8 p.m. November 10 in the high school library to discuss their mutual problems.

Country Day To Honor Shaw

F. Alden Shaw, a long-time Northville resident who founded Detroit Country Day school 50 years ago, will be honored by its alumni and students Saturday.

At the homecoming football game, the new athletic bowl will be dedicated as the F. Alden Shaw Field during halftime ceremonies. A bronze plaque with an inscription by poet Edgar A. Guest will be installed overlooking the bowl.

Detroit Country Day school began in 1914 on Ferry Avenue in Detroit with Mr. Shaw tutoring students in preparation for college. The enrollment was 4 students with Mr. Shaw as the entire faculty. In 1916 a bigger building was needed and the school was moved to Euclid Avenue.

He enlisted in the army in 1917 and left his school in the capable guardianship of his mother and faculty members who were exempt from the draft. On his return he plunged into the rebuilding of the school.

In 1919 a move was made to the Senator Palmer Estate, (now Palmer Park). The enrollment: 80 students — Detroit Country Day school was on the march.

In the same year, Shaw married Amy Ellis of Detroit. Over the years, the Shaws had four children — three boys and a girl. The daughter, Betsey, graduated from Smith college. The boys, Charles, Daniel, and Joseph were Country Day students and all graduated from Harvard — two with honors. Now there are ten grandchildren.

Shaw has proved to boys that "their chief want in life is somebody to make them do what they can." To prove it he developed boys into present-day leaders in the business, civic and humanitarian life of the country. The graduate list of the school is a Who's Who of law, banking, science, the ministry, the arts and education.

Under Shaw, debating championships and extemporaneous speaking became a part of the school's tradition. Four times, DCDS has sent boys to Washington as metropolitan spelling champions to compete in the national spelling bee. One became a national champion in 1941.

Indeed, in this 50th year, Detroit Country Day, grown now to 367 students, is extremely proud of its headmaster Emeritus who, although "retired", still conducts a seminar in American government where how to read a book and Ralph Waldo Emerson taught by him always inspires each senior class.

In "retirement", he is busier than ever. Besides the classes at Country Day, he teaches boys and girls at Northville hospital Algebra and Latin for no return except the satisfaction he feels in "putting your creed into your deed".

Shaw is a member of the Country Day School Headmasters Association; he is a past president of the Harvard Club of Michigan and past president of the Private School Association of the Central states. He served as chairman of the Essentialist Committee for Advancing American Education and holds an honorary post as trustee for the American Legion. His hobby is still farming and he's interested as always in baseball, football, hockey — all sports. He thoroughly exemplifies the school motto: "Mens sana in corpore sano".

His memory for all of "his boys" is phenomenal. Mention one of their names and he can recall the college they attended, what they are doing now and the touchdown they scored — (or the pass they missed) — back in '38.

In Our Town

By Jean Day

FOR HER "UNSTINTING SERVICE" Mrs. Crispin Hammond of Timberlane road has been singled out by the Central Volunteer Bureau of the United Community Services of Metropolitan Detroit as one of its outstanding volunteers.

Her contributions in seven volunteer fields were cited in a picture-story in last week's Detroit Shopping News. She is being honored principally for her work as chairman of the new Northwestern Child Guidance Clinic. She is credited with much of the success of the clinic.

In January of 1962 Mrs. Hammond organized a group of interested citizens to establish a clinic to help emotionally disturbed children in western Wayne county. It officially opened in the Wayne county health center and almost immediate need for expansion promoted the purchase of a large house in Garden City.

Northville friends of Ellie (it's Eleanor) Hammond are most familiar with her schedule which includes two days a week assisting with the gift cart project she helped found at Northville State Mental hospital. Her other volunteer fields include Girl Scouting, a P.T.A. past presidency, membership in Northville's coordinating council, activities in First Presbyterian church and participation in the international student exchange program.

The Hammonds shared their home with an exchange student from Holland last year. Married 30 years, Mrs. Hammond is the mother of six — and easily qualifies as the most energetic grandmother-of-five we know.

Glimpsed in church last Sunday in her much-in-fashion black velvet suit and brimmed matching hat, Ellie Hammond certainly must be one of the most chic volunteers ever to wear the Community Service pin she has been awarded.

Another Northville State Hospital volunteer to be honored by the Central Volunteer Bureau is Mrs. Louis Pearlman, of Livonia, who received her volunteer pin at the hospital's annual patients' fair October 6.

Since 1959 Mrs. Pearlman has served as corresponding secretary, then vice president and president of the Northville State Hospital Auxiliary. She now is immediate past president. During her administration as president the auxiliary became the first state hospital auxiliary to be accepted into the Michigan Association of Hospital Auxiliaries. From the opening of the gift shop in 1959, she has served as its buyer — with an assist from her husband who would pick up the Detroit purchases she had ordered. Also sharing "helping honors" have been the Pearlman's two sons, Irvin, now a student at Ferris State college, and Eugene, in high school.

A THEATRE PARTY will take members and guests of Northville Woman's club to Ann Arbor Saturday, November 7, to see the University of Michigan's professional theatre company present George Bernard Shaw's "Man and Superman".

Because Woman's Club was organized in 1892, it is impossible to find an activity that is a "first", but this is the first theatre party the club has sponsored in several years. Plans for the party were a spontaneous outgrowth of the club's first luncheon program this fall. Robert C. Schnitzer, executive director of the University's pioneering professional theatre program, presented such a glowing picture of dramas at the Livonia Mendelssohn theatre that plans-to go were born.

Mrs. George Jerome, program chairman, is in charge of arrangements for the group and is taking reservations through this afternoon for tickets at $3.50. Tentative plans are being made to charter a bus, if members wish.

Members will have orchestra seats for the late-matinee performance at 5 p.m. (This time was chosen to give members and guests opportunity to have dinner in Ann Arbor later.)

Amerman PTA to Hear "What We Should Teach"

"What Should We Teach Our Children" will be discussed at the Amerman PTA meeting at 8 p.m. Thursday, November 5, in the elementary school's multi-purpose room by Dr. William H. Mills, assistant professor of education and assistant director of the University school at the University of Michigan.

Previous to teaching at the University of Michigan, Dr. Mills taught in the U.S. Army School for Medical Technicians at Beaumont General Hospital, El Paso, Texas. He received his Doctor of Philosophy degree from the U of M in 1959. His bachelor of science and master of arts in education degrees also are from the U of M.

He has been asked to speak on "What Should We Teach Our Children" as the topic was one in which Amerman parents indicated special interest in a PTA survey last year. The program is designed to follow last month's meeting at which Principal Raymond Spear and the teachers outlined what children would be taught generally at each grade level.

Dr. Mills taught sixth grade in the University Elementary School for seven years before entering administration. He also has been actively interested in Boy Scout work, both in Detroit and his home town of Toledo. He is married to Dorothy Williams of Toledo and has a son and daughter.

Ann Arbor Woman to Speak On Inter-Racial Communication

Barbara Cartwright of the Religious Society of Friends (Quaker), will speak on the subject: "Opening Doors to Inter-Racial Communication" in the Presbyterian Fellowship Hall, Thursday night, 8 p.m., October 29.

The meeting is sponsored by the Northville Human Relations Council and the public is urged to attend.

For the past year Mrs. Cartwright has served as chairman of the Ann Arbor League of Women Voters study group on fair housing legislation. In 1958

she was chairman of the Relocation Sub-Committee of the Citizens Advisory Committee for Urban Renewal, and also served a term as a "fill-in" member of the city planning commission. She is an artist, has taught art, and since 1957 has been technical and artistic director for the Ann Arbor Junior Theatre.

Supplementing Mrs. Cartwright's talk, there will be a brief panel discussion on the subject: "Why Is A Human Relations Council Necessary In Northville?" Taking part will be Fred Galli, Mrs. Rodney Grover, Thomas Johns and Donald Lawrence. Moderator will be Mrs. Donald Karr.

Northville Players Guild

CURTAIN CALLS

The Chairman of three key production committees for the Players guild have joined in the space race this week.

Their target, however, isn't outer space.

They're aiming for the kind of space that will help rocket the Players guild into a second successful season starting with a bill of three one-act plays the weekend of December 3, 4 and 5.

Gary Webb, chairman of stagecraft, is looking for lots of space. He needs a large enclosed area like a barn or garage where he and his committee can construct and paint sets.

Because the guild is without a permanent home of its own, a place to store sets, costumes, props, and other necessities is also being sought. Anyone who would like to help Gary can phone him at FI-9-2675.

Joyce Griffin, the guild's costume chairman, needs closet space. She has costumes and accessories which have to be stored in a clean, dry area.

She is also asking local residents to help her find some specific apparel — period attire, hoops, gowns and uniforms. These items may be donated outright or the guild will be happy to register those which may be borrowed for individual productions.

If you have costumes or storage space to volunteer, phone

Science Demonstration On Tap at Main PTA

McClurg joined the U-M faculty in 1956 as a teacher of science in University high school, becoming instructor in the school of education in 1960.

McClurg is the author of a series of elementary science instruction booklets published by Clinton-Misco Corp. in 1962. His book, "Caves and Their Mysteries" was published by Whitman Publishing Co., 1962.

of November 20-22 as Traffic Safety Sabbath in the state, urging all clergy to give consideration to the problem in their sermons.

C. Sterry Long, who was instrumental in organizing the American Legion after World War I, died in Pontiac, Illinois, after a long illness. He was 73.

Six months ago a new-born infant was kidnapped from a Chicago hospital. And today its mother, Mrs. Chester Fronczak, will go to church to pray and keep the vigil candles burning. Her day-old son, Paul, was snatched away by a woman posing as a nurse. Chicago police still had no leads in the case.

A senate subcommittee has told the television networks to trim down the amount of crime and violence seen on its programs or face the alternative of federal intervention. "The 'all - too - steady diet' of crime and violence was attacked."

Notre Dame is the talk of the sports world. It has won its first five starts since 1953 when the Irish ranked as an unbeatable contender, ending that season with nine wins and one tie.

Ohio State ranks as the top college football team in the nation today and is eyeing the Rose Bowl. The Buckeyes have yet to stumble this season, racking up five victories so far.

Stan Mikita of the Chicago Blackhawks is off to a quick start in defending his national hockey league scoring title.

With the season just underway, he leads all his rivals in the scoring department. Last season he finished with 89 points.

Arnold Palmer and Jack Nicklaus are just dollars apart in earnings for the year. Palmer has won $111,703 with Nicklaus a close second with $111,384.

Dr. Andrew A. Melendez of St. Louis will give his fourth and final address at 7:15 p.m. tomorrow at St. Paul Evangelical Lutheran church, bringing to a close a "Families for Christ" mission. Dr. Melendez conducts a service including a hymn sing, children's lesson, brief Bible study and a question and answer period. The service lasts an hour. ## — Readers Speak —

To the Editor:

In answer to the "readers speak" letter of Conrad C. Konetshy, detective sergeant retired. In your letter to the readers speak I saw myself ten years ago — when at a drop of a hat I too would have done what you did and I am sorry you were put in such a position by a person I too admired but whom I have learned with a grain of salt.

To disprove your statements, I refer you to the Novi News of July 6, 1961 which states, and I quote, "The candidates as presented by Chief Lee Be Gole at the June 19th meeting are Leon Dochot, 727 South Lake Dr., Richard Faulkner of Howell, and John Jamieson of 23871 West Le Bost. They qualified by completing a series of tests given by the Novi school district and Ann Arbor Police Dept.

(The fact that Richard Faulkner was accepted instead of me has never made me bitter for I think he is a most sincere young man and definitely police chief caliber).

I refer you to the February 12th 1961 paper of the Detroit News Section E, Page 14, stating, and I quote, "Novi the largest Village in size in the state, now has 8 full time policemen, Sgt. Vernon Loeffler, Patrolmen Richard Noble, Leon Dochot, Subey Butts, Roy Hallock, Ralph Abour, Earl Bailey and Chief Be Gole.

Sir after reading your article "readers speak" of October 22, I am sure Chief Be Gole sure

Seniors Eyeing Trip On Annual Skip Day

A "senior skip day" will be established for the class of 1965, according to Northville school officials.

And it will allow some students to take a Great Lakes boat trip that is not sponsored by the Northville board of education.

Earl McIntosh, a spokesman for a parent-teen group, told the board Monday night that many seniors favor the excursion to Mackinac Island.

It was explained that a travel agency would arrange the weekend trip and provide chaperones for about 800 students on the boat. Other senior classes would be aboard, too.

Although Edward Angove, school board treasurer, reiterated why senior trips were cancelled, McIntosh said he didn't anticipate any trouble.

"The students will be on the boat except for a few hours spent on Mackinac Island."

It would cost each senior about $50 for the trip and McIntosh said the money could be raised in full or part through certain projects.

But a few board members said that "$10,000 is a lot of cash to raise in six months."

Superintendent R. H. Amerman said that senior trips can no longer "be justified as an educational venture. Besides only one-third or maybe 50 per cent of the students go."

Trustee Robert Shafer emphasized that the students "have enough to do the way it is — and (fund-raising projects) would be taking away from their school work."

However, the board agreed to put aside one day next spring as "skip day". The date will be set at the convenience of the school administrators and the parent-teen group.

Currently, the board policy stipulates that no trips will be taken on school time or be sponsored without school board sanction.

In other business Monday night:

The board accepted the offer of the Gideons to supply Bibles to certain grades at the board's pleasure.

Talked about the superintendent's report which is expected to be published in time for American Education Week, November 8-14.

Accepted an invitation from the high school coaching staff to visit the dressing room prior to the Brighton game on November 6.

Issues Warning

Raymond Spear, principal of the Amerman elementary school is concerned "with the safety as well as the education" of his charges.

He has sent letters to parents reminding them to know the whereabouts of their children after school hours.

In the correspondence he made this point:

"On October 13, shortly after dismissal, one of our Amerman students forgot a very important rule which has been emphasized not only by the home but by the school.

"He accepted a ride from a stranger.

"The intention of this stranger was not good. However, due to the alertness of a nearby citizen, the child's parents and the Northville police department, the child was unharmed and the stranger taken into custody.

"I bring this matter to your attention to remind you and your child of three very important rules to follow:

"Children should come directly to school after leaving home and go directly home after school.

Children should never under any circumstances accept a ride from a stranger.

Parents should know the time of arrival home from school and call the school immediately if a child does not arrive home when expected.

"It is you and your child's responsibility to get to and from school swiftly and safely."

— In Justice Court —

An accused sex offender was put on probation and ordered to undergo psychiatric treatment Monday in Judge Charles McDonald's court in Northville.

Richard A. Palmieri, 23, arrested by local police October 13, and charged with gross indecency between male persons,
was in court for an examination. He had been released on a $500 bond.

Because the case was a felony, a Wayne county prosecutor was present, too. After the examination, Palmieri pleaded guilty to a lesser charge — assault and battery. The original charge was dismissed.

Palmieri was placed on two year's probation and he must have psychiatric care twice a month during this period. Monthly reports must be made to the Wayne county probation department and the local court.

In addition, Palmieri paid $50 in court costs.

Other cases coming before Judge McDonald:

Charles E. Klocke, of 45801
West Nine Mile road, Novi, appeared on the complaint of reckless driving on Northville road. Klocke was arraigned September 14, pleaded not guilty and was released on $100
personal bond.

Following his trial, Klocke was found guilty of the charge and fined $75 and 45 days in jail. The case was appealed and Judge McDonald set a $200 appeal bond. Klocke was released, pending a circuit court date.

James Bell of 539 Reed pleaded guilty to the complaint of his dog running at large on Welch avenue, paying a fine of $5 and $5 court cost.

Elmer H. Whipple of 342
South Harvey, Plymouth, was ticketed on South Main street
for disobeying a traffic light.
Whipple pleaded guilty and paid a fine of $5.

Iaving the scene of an accident and property damage or Eight Mile and North Center street cost Edward Austin of 404 Beal a fine of $35.

Wixom Sewer Hearing Tonight

Wixom residents will hear the first city council report on the proposed sewage system tonight.

Mayor Wesley McAtee said
the council will hold an "information" session at 8 p.m.
in the Wixom elementary school
on Wixom road.

Council has conferred with a representative of the Municipal Finance Corporation who has termed the Wixom project
"reasonably priced," according to McAtee.

Earlier, McAtee indicated that the system could be built without raising taxes. He figured local road expenditures will be cut next year, allowing funds to be diverted into the sewer program.

A citizens sewer study committee had told the council that the system would require a 2-mill levy to support a bond issue for 25 years.

The project consisting of sanitary sewer line and sewage treatment plant, would cost about $800,000 and primarily benefit the downtown area of Wixom first but be expanded later as the city grows.

The downtown area is the oldest portion of Wixom and small businesses there have
"put a strain on the disposal system."

Wixom's chamber of commerce and planning board have gone on record in support of the system.

INCOMPLETE — Going high in the air to knock a Milford pass to the gridiron is Halfback Mike Turnbull, who sparked on defense. Watching the action is Jim Zayti (34), another defensive specialist.

OFF TARGET — This Northville aerial to Kent Kipper sails high over his head. Without an effective passing game, Northville found the huge Milford line tough to dent.

3 Wrong Wins Quiz

It took some mighty sharp predicting to win last week's football contest.

Even with two ties to contend with Paul Groth of Plymouth and Finn O'Leary of West Six Mile road, Northville, missed only three games.

Groth was the top money winner by predicting Baltimore would down Detroit, 24-10. The final score was actually 34-0, which made Groth's pick just 20 points off.

Third place went to Don Lehr, 409 North Center, who missed just four games and beat out a host of others with only four wrong by calling the Baltimore-Detroit score 34-10.

Mustangs Lose Best Effort to Milford, 14-7

Northville's defense stood tall even though the Mustangs lost a decisive battle in Wayne-Oakland Conference play Friday night, 14-7, at Milford.

The victory gives Milford a decided advantage in the race for conference honors. It has a 5-0 slate. Only Holly with a 4-1 record has a mathematical chance to catch the front runners.

Both teams face Bloomfield Hills and Clarenceville in the final games of the season. Only Bloomfield with its wide open offense could pull an upset. Even then Milford would have to fall apart to lose.

Northville dropped into third place with a 3-2 record. The local eleven was given a helping hand last Friday when previously winless Brighton pulled the upset of the year by trouncing West Bloomfield, 26-7.

Northville can sew up third place by whipping West Bloomfield here tomorrow night.

Playing its finest defensive game since the opener against Plymouth, Northville held Milford, a team that had scored 20 TD's in three games, to just two. Northville stopped drives on the 10 and one yard lines.

And the Redskins were nearly scalped. Milford's backs were virtually slowed to a stand still as the Mustangs met them head on.

But one Redskin got away — Halfback Jim Ward. He pulled the game out of the fire for the Redskins by tallying both touchdowns, one on an 11-yard pass reception and the other on a 56-yard runback of a punt. Carrying the ball 26 times — matching Northville's team rushing total — he gained 121 yards for a 4.3 average per try.

In the final analysis, it was Northville's inability to pass successfully which made the difference. Milford's two charging six-foot three-inch tackles batted several passes to the turf. Other passes simply missed the mark as Northville hit on just four of 18 tosses.

Neither team could move the ball in the first quarter.

In the second period, the Redskins dominated play.

Sparked by the running of Ward and a 15 and 10-yard pitch to End Joe Tripp, they marched to the Mustang 10-yard stripe. A holding penalty and a 14-yard loss on a pitch-out stopped the drive.

Goalward the Redskins moved again after an exchange of the ball. Ward accounted for 35 of the 44 yards, beating the clock with 26 seconds remaining in the half by gathering in a pass for the TD. The kick was good.

With the second half less than two minutes old, Ward took a punt, faked a handoff on a criss-cross and raced 56 yards down the sideline through a host of Black and Orange jerseys. Again the extra-point kick split the uprights for a 14-0 Milford lead.

Northville refused to fold as it stormed 64 yards to a touchdown with Halfback Kent Kipper slanting 11-yards off tackle play, Milford committed a personal foul which moved the ball to its 39.

A sneak gained six. Then Kipper sprinted around left end to the 17-yard line, but the gain was nullified by a 15-yard clipping penalty. Two unsuccessful pass plays later, Northville was forced to punt.

Milford lost a golden opportunity in the fourth quarter.

The Redskins surged 49 yards to the Mustang one-yard line. Northville's forward wall, however, rose to the occasion to push Milford back to the eight yard line. On fourth down a Milford field goal try from the 15 yard line sailed wide of the goalpost.

Northville then made a bid for a tying marker with a minute left in the game. Quarterback Tom Baughman completed a pass to Fullback

Coaches' Choice

West Bloomfield Next on Schedule

The Northville Mustangs hope to top a gala Homecoming Friday night by stopping visiting West Bloomfield to sew up third place in the Wayne-Oakland Conference.

Only threat to the Mustangs' hopes is West Bloomfield, a team now holding down the fourth spot with a 2-3 mark. Northville has a 3-2 slate.

Northville might even back into a tie for second, providing Holly (4-1) loses to weak Clarenceville.

After losing 26-7 to tallerer Brighton last week, the Lakers will be shooting for an upset. Added incentive is the fact that this is Northville's homecoming. Typically, the Lakers are always high for Northville, reported Backfield Coach Dave Longridge.

Big man in the West Bloomfield line is End John Hecht, a good receiver and a solid defensive grider. Heading the backs is Halfback John Williams, a quick power runner.

The roll out style of the Lakers could also pose problems for the local eleven.

To beat West Bloomfield, the Doug Swiss who rambled 28 yards to the Northville 43. Four desperate passes netted only four yards as the Mustangs gave up the ball. Milford fell on the ball four times in a row, trying to eat up the clock.

By calling time out after each play, however, Northville stalled the clock and took over with four seconds left. A long aerial to Halfback Mike Turnbull fell to the ground out of bounds as the final gun sounded.

GREAT SCOTT! — A ninth grader at Northville high school, Scott Bergo, will represent the Detroit judo club at the invitational junior judo championship November 7-8 at Miami Beach. Scott is the son of Dr. and Mrs. Howard Bergo, 19351 Meadowbrook road. Over 800 boys from the U.S. and Canada will be competing for top honors in the respective age divisions. Scott was chosen for his "fine character along with good competitive spirit and skill," said Fred Fracassi, president of the Detroit club.

Extra Police Help Reduce Vandalism

Extra auxiliary police have been put on duty in the last week to safeguard against vandalism but some mischief was still reported.

Window-soaping was the main complaint, especially in the business section. Windows were lathered with soap over the weekend.

But some convertible tops were slashed. Roy Tisch of 640 North Center reported his top was cut twice — on the weekend and Monday night.

A St. Clair Shores resident, Peggy Mills, told police that someone ripped her convertible top while her car was parked in front of the home of her sister, Mrs. Howard Sherman of Grace street.

In another incident, police arrested an Inkster youth on a larceny charge Monday.

Gerald Clark, 17, will appear in justice court next Monday. He admitted to police that he took a voltage regulator from a car belonging to Jerome O'Brien of South Lyon last Friday night. O'Brien's car was in the parking lot at the Ford valve plant.

Clark's car was impounded as a traffic hazard after it was abandoned in Northville. Earlier, police had told him to move it out of the area or get some help.

Daylight Thief Hits In Township Again

A daytime thief has paid another visit to Northville township — and made off with a pocketful of money.

Two break-ins were reported in the township last Wednesday, bringing the total to three in the last month.

Mrs. Laurence Masselink, 47230 West Seven Mile road, said she found the lock broken off her back door when she returned home. Investigating, she discovered that nothing valuable was missing. The thief had ransacked the house, however.

"He was after money but if he found any it was just some loose change," she said. "He entered the house between 2:15 and 4:15 p.m."

But the thief hit the jackpot at another home on Eight Mile road the same afternoon. He netted $115, mostly in bills. He could have taken camera, sterling and other valuables but just wanted cash.

The resident said the thief gained entry to her home sometime between noon and 4:15 p.m.

She called the Northville police to report the break-in but her home was in the township and out of their jurisdiction. After a two-hour wait, the state police arrived.

Earlier, a vandal entered the James Littell residence at 46920 West Seven Mile Septem-

The four-chair shop will hold an open house Saturday and offer free coffee, donuts and conversation to all visitors. Working with Gray is Al Drake. The pair formerly did their barbering at 142 North Center.

Gray has been in the barber business in Northville for the past 33 years.

Two Pass Exams

Two Northville residents were among 370 professional engineers recently granted registration by the Michigan State Board of Registration for Architects, Professional Engineers and Land Surveyors. To become registered the engineering candidates had to pass a 16-hour written examination, while qualifications call for eight years of experience and college credits in their field.

The Northville men granted registration were Leonard L. Glein, 18450 Fermanagh Ct. and Henry R. Tillikka, 20300 Westview drive.

Candidates' Comments

As election day draws near, candidates become more active, make more speeches and send out more releases.

Here are some of the comments and actions of the candidates that have passed over the desks of this newspaper.

Congressman George Meader (R-2nd district) — "Restoring the balance of power between the three branches of government through curbing the invasion of the federal courts into the legislative field is the most serious problem facing the country today. It will not be solved by a weak, rubber-stamp 89th congress."

Auditor General Billie Farnum (D-candidate 19th congressional district) — "Our youth is America's greatest resource and it should be developed with the same care we use with oil fields and other natural resources. One handicap may be a lack of education. That hurts the nation and each of its citizens."

"This is one reason I am for aid to education. Period, Aid by the community, by the state, or by the Federal Government."

"The vital need to produce educated, useful citizens should outweigh all other considerations except constitutionalism. Fortunately, the Constitution permits the Congress wide latitude in the development of useful citizens for the future. Whether the problem centers on food for a distractingly hungry stomach or transportation to a distant school or almost anything else, a Constitutional way to solve the problem can be found by resorting to practical common sense."

Richard D. Kuhn (Republican candidate 19th congressional district) — "This country was built on the principles of a free enterprise system, with the maximum freedom of the individual. The present administration has cynically tried to buy votes through hypocritical proposals designed for emotional appeal. These programs

Novi Democrats Elect Officers

The newly-formed Novi Township Democratic club held an election last Saturday at its headquarters at 43343 Grand River and elected officers for the first time.

Ed Presnell was voted into the presidency. Other officers are: Thomas Needham, vice-president; Alice Ritter, secretary; Dianna Ward, treasurer, and Roy Shupe, Ray Frichtel and Richard Ritter, trustees.

do not go to the heart of our problems, with an expanding economy, on a sound basis, and with a true partnership of the state and federal governments (where the federal government does not usurp all government functions) we could better solve our problems, at less cost, and with greater responsibility to the people."

Marvin R. Stempien (Democrat candidate state representative, 35th district) — "Our fast-moving economy and the growing complexity of our educational system, makes it essential that teachers have access to legal means of settling differences between themselves and their employers."

In a broad statement covering his objectives in the areas of public education, Stempien said he will also strive for a more equitable distribution of state funds to hard-pressed school districts.

"We must explore the possibility of tapping new sources for school aid so that the staggering burden now being shouldered by property owners can be eased," he continued.

Stempien advocated a reappraisal of the present school aid formula to determine how state funds can be distributed more fairly to all local school districts.

Lonnie Brashers (R-candidate state representative, 35th district) — In addressing the Northville Teachers' club last week Brashers said in expressing his views on the function of State Government in education that education is a function of the State by constitutional and statutory legislation. There are two major sources of school support in Michigan, (1) property taxes collected and distributed at local levels and (2) taxes of other kinds collected and distributed by the State on an "equalization principle" to school districts for operating expenditures.

Local property taxes have reached a very high level which has reflected itself in many areas by failure of millage elections.

Political Meetings Slated in Plymouth

Two political gatherings in Plymouth tonight and Friday night will interest many Northville voters.

Creighton Holden, state chairman for the Citizens for Goldwater will speak at an open house rally at 7:30 p.m. at the Plymouth high school.

A host of Republican candidates will be on hand and will make brief comments.

Friday night Republican congressman George Meader and his Democratic opponent in the second district will give their views to an audience at the Plymouth high school auditorium at 8 p.m.

Meader, in his primary campaign literature, expressed his opposition to civil rights legislation and hewed to a conservative, states-rights line.

Vivian, by contrast, indicated on the campaign trail his support of civil rights legislation and social legislation aimed at relieving poverty and unemployment.

This confrontation is being presented in the public interest by the Plymouth Assembly for Equal Opportunity and is open to the general public without charge.

The tally of the Detroit Bar Association poll of its membership as to the comparative qualifications of candidates for judicial office in the November 3 election were announced today by president George E. Busnell, Jr. Fifty-seven of the membership participated in this public service operation of the association.

In the contest for the three seats on the new Court of Appeals to be established in January, three candidates stood out. In order they were: Common Pleas Judge Harry J. Dingeman, Jr. with 1,100 votes; Thomas J. Foley with 1,034; and John H. Gillis with 1,003.

Judges Benjamin D. Burdick and Thomas E. Brennan were strongly favored in the Circuit Court race to fill the three unexpired terms ending January 1, 1967. Burdick was high with 1,365 votes and Brennan polled 1,194.

In third position was Common Pleas Judge Charles Kaufman with 796 votes.

Johnson Leads In Local Poll

If the survey made by the eighth grade students of Mrs. Peggy Quinn's social studies class is correct, traditionally Republican Northville will vote for "LBJ all the way."

But split-ticket voters will give Governor Romney a local victory.

In a poll conducted door-to-door by the youngsters some 416 residences were called upon. After tabulating their results they declared:

— a large voter turnout; — President Johnson will carry Northville by a slim margin; — on the basis of national polls it appears that Goldwater will run stronger in Northville than nationally; — strong support for Romney is indicated by the number of split-ticket voters.

It was noted by the surveyors that although 46% of the people consider themselves Republicans, only 22 plan to vote a straight Republican ticket and only 30% plan to vote for Goldwater.

Sixty per cent of the Northville voters polled plan to vote a split ticket, but more than one person out of four remained in doubt on his presidential choice.

Superintendents Differ

MEA Names Favorites For State School Board

For the first time in its 112-year history, the Michigan Education Association has announced its endorsement of candidates running for state elective offices. In a precedent-breaking move, the MEA has recommended the election of candidates running for the new eight-member State Board of Education.

The endorsement won the support of the Northville Teachers Club, headed this year by Richard Norton.

While the MEA was naming its preferences, 25 Wayne county school administrators, including Northville's Superintendent Russel H. Amerman, were endorsing John C. Kregger for the six year term on the board. Kregger did not win support of the teachers.

He's a member of the Flat Rock board of education and a former president of the Wayne county association of school boards.

In announcing the decision of the MEA to endorse candidates Dr. E. Dale Kennedy, executive secretary, said "education in Michigan is at a crossroad. In deciding to endorse candidates for the new State Board of Education, the MEA is recognizing the importance that this new eight-member board can and should play in providing adequate educational opportunities for Michigan youth at all levels, pre-kindergarten through post-graduate work."

The MEA's endorsement action is in accord with the 1964 MEA Platform and with a motion approved by the MEA board of directors. Resolution No. 9 ("Citizenship Participation") of the MEA's Continuing Policies states that "the MEA and its constituent units should exert the right and assume the responsibility to endorse or oppose candidates for public office and to state positions on political issues that affect education."

At its August meeting the MEA board of directors authorized the MEA staff to develop criteria for members of the State Board of Education and to rank the candidates according to their qualifications.

MEAs Selections

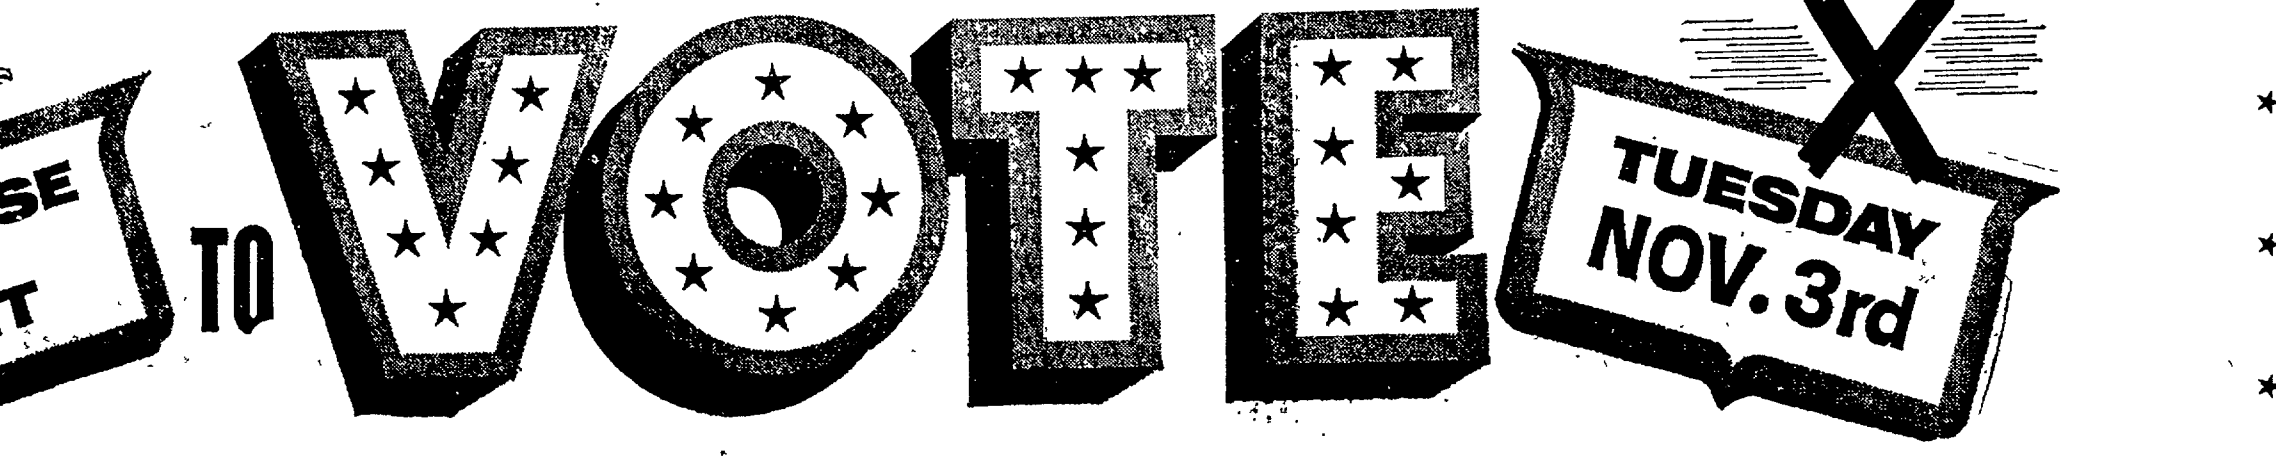

MEAs endorsements for the State Board of Education include two candidates for the two eight-year terms, two candidates for the two six-year terms, and two candidates for the two four-year terms. The MEA felt all four candidates for the two-year terms merited endorsement. The MEA endorses the following candidates and recommends their election on November 3:

Eight-year terms: Alvin M. Bentley (R), Owosso; and James F. O'Neil (R), Livonia.

Six-year terms: Robert P. Briggs (R) Jackson; and Dr. Peter Oppewall (D), Grand Rapids.

Four-year terms: Mrs. Joyce Hatton (R), Grand Haven; and Bourke Lodewyk (R), Bay City.

Two-year terms: Dr. Leon Fill (D), Huntington Woods; Mrs. James Parker (R), Grand Rapids; Ellen Solomonson (R), Norway; and Donald M. D. Thurbur (D), Grosse Pointe. (Select two candidates).

from the PASTOR'S STUDY

Robert K. Spradling, Pastor

First Baptist Church of Northville

Christians need comforting. Sooner or later sorrow will come into the lives of most of us, and we will need comfort from God.
Our health may not always be good; loved ones will be taken from us; our economic and domestic security
could fade in future days.
In these crisis hours of life, there is only one person who can really comfort the troubled heart and that is God.

This writer would suggest that there are several things mentioned in Scripture which are of great consolation to the Christian in life's most difficult moments. First, there is the comfort of the Scriptures. "For whatsoever things were written afore-time were written for our learning, that we through patience and comfort of the scriptures might have hope." (Romans 15:4)

This verse declares the Bible to be a source of hope and blessing to the believer. We may gain renewed moral strength by knowing and living the truth of God's Word. The Bible, regularly and systematically studied, will sus-tain born-again people in their journey through life.

The second comforting thing for the Christian is the comfort of the Holy Spirit. "Then" had the churches rest throughout all Judaea and Galilee and Samaria, and were edified, waling in the fear of the Lord, and in the comfort of the Holy Ghost" (Acts 9:31)

Jesus promised His disciples that He would not leave them comfortless. He promised to send another Comforter to them after His death, resurrection and ascension. That other Comforter was the Holy Spirit who now dwells in every person who has received
Jesus Christ as Saviour.
This wonderful third person of the Godhead uses
the Scriptures to bring comfort to sorrowing Christians in life's darkest hours.
Time or space will not permit this writer to list the numerous occasions where he has seen the Lord transform tragedy into comfort and blessing through the ministry of the Holy Spirit.

The third comforting thing mentioned in the Bible is the comfort of the Saints. The Bible does not reserve sainthood to a select few who have achieved outstanding service in the cause of Christ. In the words of Scripture, all who are born again are called saints. The saints then would be those folk who are members of the household of God by faith in Jesus Christ.

There is real benefit in attending a local church where the Word of God is clearly and faithfully expounded. When our hearts are heavy, it is most comforting to seek out the fellowship of the redeemed.
This very aspect of the Christian life sometimes spells the difference between success and failure,
for some folk turn away from the Lord's house and His people in sorrow's hour rather than turning to them. There are those in this life who seek comfort from sources such as

wealth, pleasure, success, education, friends, social activities and occupation.
None of these are comforting in the finest sense of the word, for none of these have eternal value.

Consider the words of Abraham to the rich man
mentioned in the story Jesus taught His disciples as recorded in Luke 16:25:

"But Abraham said, Son,
remember that thou in thy lifetime receivedst thy good things, and likewise Lazarus evil things: but now he is comforted, and thou art tormented."

This choice is made by each of us in life. Our destiny will either be one of comfort or torment, depending on our personal relationship to Jesus Christ, God's Son.

You can read many things in the human face. It is often the mirror of our emotions. It is sometimes the reflection of our character.

But almost never does the face reveal the needs of the human soul. Like some artificial mask it can look satisfied when the soul is starving. It can look calm when the soul is troubled. It can look content when the soul is restless and yearning.

How then can we read our soul's needs?

Copyright 1964
Keister Advertising Service, Inc.
Strasburg, Va.

We can read them in the Bible. And in the centuries of man's universal reaching for God. In the prayers that a hundred million lips have framed. In the hymns and psalms that generations have echoed.

God alone fully understands the needs of a human soul. He who created us knows what is essential for His creatures. And when we come to His House, trying to understand these deep spiritual needs... all the while He is supplying them, satisfying the hungers of the soul.

CHURCH FOR ALL • ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and read your Bible daily.

larity and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4)
For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

To Address Convention In Boston

Stafford

Willis Stafford, manager of sales promotion and advertising for the American Standard Controls Division, Detroit, will be one of the principal speakers on the program of the 27th Annual Educational Conference sponsored by the Refrigeration Service Engineers Society.

The four-day convention will be held November 12-15 at the Statler-Hilton hotel in Boston, Massachusetts.

Members meet regularly under the sponsorship of local chapters to study and evaluate new developments and improved techniques for the maintenance of domestic, commercial and industrial refrigeration and air conditioning equipment.

Stafford will speak on the subject, "The Role of Refrigeration Controls - Color Them Complicated."

He has written numerous articles on various aspects of air conditioning and refrigeration service and maintenance published in technical journals and trade magazines. Also, he has appeared on many national industry programs on these subjects. Presently, he is chairman of the public relations committee for RSES.

He resides with his wife and daughter at 2399 Forest Park Drive in Northville.

Goodbye Martha...

Hello Billie!

When the new Districts were formed, we lost the finest member of Congress any District ever had, MARTHA W. GRIFFITHS. They just don't make Congressmen any better than our girl, Martha.

In leaving us, you will be comforted to know that the new Congressman to succeed you will be a man after your own heart. As MICHIGAN'S AUDITOR GENERAL, BILLIE S. FARNUM has already shown a record of great service, and alongside you in Congress, BILLIE S. FARNUM will serve as a credit to our community.

So, after the voters of this community elect your friend, BILLIE S. FARNUM, we will not have lost a Congresswoman but will, instead, have gained a team — Martha and Billie — who together will get things done for all of us.

In Justice Court

LET'S TALK CARS ...

Is Dealer

Service Expensive?

A leading national automotive magazine recently conducted a survey of service shops to learn how much time was saved by use of modern equipment. Their findings showed that time saved with the latest type of tools compared with older methods ranged from 24 to 44 percent. On a few jobs the difference was exactly half. This is one of the obvious advantages of having your car serviced by a franchised dealer with a fully equipped service shop.

The other is in the specialized human skills necessary to service a particular make of car. Automobiles are changing so rapidly that even a fully qualified mechanic has to undergo factory instruction two or three times a year just to keep up with the changes.

In the 1940's, most cars averaged less than a hundred electrical assemblies which contained a little over 6,000 feet of wiring. Today's cars average better than 200 assemblies containing more than two miles of wiring. That is why more and more dealers are employing specialists who concentrate on one or two classifications out of the thirty or so modern cars.

Automobile manufacturers have made time studies of all repair operations and have set the times for each job for a SKILLED journeyman mechanic. About half of all mechanics require more time than is allowed but you are charged only the set rate.

Finally, when you compare mechanics' hourly rates with other skilled labor, you will find they are invariably lower. You are receiving outstanding value when you buy an hour of that time.

City clerk

Dr. Donald Karr spoke in behalf of the Human Relations Council and asked if Sunday, November 8th, 1964, 8 p.m. could be designated for their use of the city hall when Mr. Bert Levy of the Civil Rights Commission in Detroit would be the speaker. Permission granted.

Mr. Ambler asked if there had been a meeting with the board of appeals on zoning. City manager answered that he had met with the chairman, Mr. Ritchie, who felt there was no need for a meeting. Mr. Ogilvie reported that he had obtained approval from the State on the proposed charter amendment concerning the municipal court and this is to appear on the November 3rd ballot.

Mr. Ogilvie reported the inaccuracy of the legal description relative to the annexation proposal and said that in his most recent conversation with the director of elections for the State unless the petitioners withdraw their petition, the question of validity would be up to Northville Township.

There being no further business, the meeting was adjourned at 8:55 p.m.

Respectfully submitted:
Martha M. Milne
City clerk

TO ELECTORS AND RESIDENTS, 14th SENATE DISTRICT:

THAT YOU MAY KNOW: why I have announced as a "write-in" candidate STATE SENATE, 14th DISTRICT, this is a part of the record:

THE PLYMOUTH MAIL: Of James McCarthy they said; "We think he is not sufficiently independent to merit consideration." Of Northern Wayne County State Rep. Paul M. Chandler, they said; "During 1963, the Livonia publisher was absent 16 days out of a possible 85 . . . and failed to answer roll call on 96 occasions . . ." they further stated; "Another factor which detracts from his palatability is his inextricable tie with the Detroit Race Course."

THE FARMINGTON ENTERPRISE: said of Chandler; "he missed the last 38 days of that special session". He apparently was not carried on the 1964 roll call because of his continued absence. The ENTERPRISE further stated; "Some of Chandler's campaign methods have also been distasteful to us".

THE LIVONIA NEWS: refers to, "Paul Chandler, a politician who gets business from the school and city boards without even the benefit of being low bidder . . ." They also refer to, "Chandler's extremely poor attendance record . . ."

Chandler advertises "he is liberal". McCarthy is a "party line" liberal. A "write-in" will provide A CHOICE NOT AN ECHO for those of us who are not quite so liberal or enamored of the infallibility of the "party line".

TO "WRITE-IN" IS OUR RIGHT; not only a good old American custom but sometimes our Responsibility. TO "WRITE-IN" IS EASY . . . Just Vote Your Ticket . . . be sure to void any vote for McCarthy or Chandler on the STATE POSITION on the machine (just raise the lever), then open "WRITE-IN" slot #7 and "write-in" Paul A. Kern, Jr. If you have any doubt just ask your election worker to show you how to "write-in".

If you are sick and tired of big time politics and want a STRONG INDEPENDENT voice in Lansing the next two years just open "write-in" slot #7 and "write-in" Paul A. Kern, Jr. . . . A Citizen not a politician . . . and if elected I will do my best for you and the 14th.

NOTE: In the Townships of Northville and Plymouth use "write-in" slot #10. Everywhere else use #7.

Sincerely yours,

SPEAKING for The Record

By BILL SLIGER

Next Tuesday the people decide which political tune is the one to dance to.

The voter has been the apple of the politician's eye for more than two months, through campaigns for nomination and election.

Now . . . millions of words and dollars later . . . the individual pulls the levers that determine who shall govern.

Campaigns do little to help the responsible voter make a sensible choice. But they arouse interest and, hopefully, stir the sincere citizen to thoughtful appraisal.

This edition contains election data in both news and advertising form. Some of it, I believe, will prove helpful to voters in determining their choices, especially for judicial positions.

The following is personal opinion.

Ordinarily, this newspaper prefers to remain within its own bailiwick, where it can rightfully lay claim to some measure of authority in selection of candidates.

But for a number of reasons, including the Detroit newspaper strike, we'll edge slightly afield in our appraisals.

It is my sincere conviction that the responsible voter must support Governor Romney. He has earned another term.

The very presence of Romney in our state capitol has restored a national image of progress and industry to the state that was once lost.

JFK recognized the importance of prestige and he campaigned on this promise. And his appearance in Germany was solid proof that he possessed the magic touch. So does Romney.

But beyond this, Romney has proven that he is a rare politician, a man of high integrity and deep religious belief who refuses to compromise with principle.

Under his administration Michigan has moved from a general fund deficit of $110 million to a surplus of $50 million.

Such a record by a candidate of either party should prompt the most partisan voter to consider a split ticket.

I also heartily endorse the Massachusetts ballot.

Every voter — Republican, Democrat or independent — should hail this system.

It is already used in 22 states representing approximately 50% of the nation's population.

It would prevent voting a straight party ticket by merely pulling a single party lever. But straight party voting is still possible by voting for each candidate.

It is argued that such a ballot weakens partisan activity, but in fact the party is strengthened by electing good candidates. A weak candidate may be swept into office by the party, but that candidate will not strengthen his party.

The Massachusetts ballot places the emphasis on good candidates. Vote YES on this measure.

I believe voters should elect Paul M. Chandler to the state senate. He has served as our state representative in the past and has displayed keen political knowledge and ability.

He's a workhorse who publishes the Observer newspapers in addition to his political chores. A liberal Republican, Chandler is well qualified and has demonstrated to this writer that he is a man of high integrity.

The 35th legislative race is a toss-up. Both Lonnie Brashear and Marvin R. Stempien offer good qualifications. Because of his maturity and my Republican leanings, I'll vote for Brashear.

In the congressional races I like Democrat Weston Vivian over Congressman George Meader in the second district. In this instance it's a matter of disapproval of Meader's record, rather than intimate knowledge of Vivian's ability.

Although he is more conservative than the model Republican that I would shape, Dick Kuhn has my support in the 19th congressional district.

He's a smart, young attorney who has good grass-roots' experience in government. As a youngster, he served as a page in the United States house of representatives. And as an attorney he has served as legal advisor to our most basic governmental level, the township.

Kuhn does not think business, big or small, is a dirty word and he understands that profits are the life-blood of our capitalistic system.

His opponent, Auditor General Billie S. Farnum, has strong labor support and would bring one more administration voice to a congress that is crying for a few conservatives to provide some balance.

James O'Neil, an incumbent seeking an eight-year term on the state board of education, should receive the support of all local voters. He is extremely capable and conscientious. What's more as a resident of Livonia, O'Neil once served on the board of trustees of Schoolcraft college and is well aware of our local educational problems.

Finally, I would urge Wayne county voters to return Circuit Court Judge Benjamin D. Burdick to the bench.

Although I am not acquainted with Judge Thomas E. Brennan, also a candidate for the Wayne Circuit Court, a poll of women in our news offices resulted in a landslide endorsement.

He visited Northville Tuesday. Rock Hudson couldn't have made a better impression on The Record girls.

A later check with Northville Judge Charles McDonald revealed that young Judge Brennan also possesses the judicial qualities that make him an asset to our circuit court.

State Income Tax Future Uncertain

Lansing — No firm indication has been given whether Michigan's Legislature will be asked to seriously consider a state income tax program in 1965.

Any such program considered at a future date, however, likely will be more complicated than previous income tax proposals because a number of cities have now entered this area of revenue raising.

No less than 12 communities are collecting, have enacted or are considering the levy of a tax on personal income.

Experience in two of these cities indicated opposition to an income tax may not be as strong as some legislators believed.

In Flint an advisory vote on the income tax gained public approval. Jackson city councilmen found some opposition to their tax proposal, but no organized anti-income tax movement was apparent.

Most of the cities which have considered this tax method offered a trade, basically the same idea the legislators considered in the state, fiscal reform programs submitted to them.

At the city level, most of the trades involved reduction in property taxes if the income levy was imposed.

Citizens in these communities, with the exception of Detroit which is already collecting its tax, want a referendum on the income tax proposal.

In several areas, suburbs of the core cities are threatening a retaliatory income tax to keep from losing revenue to their urban neighbors.

Writing a state income tax proposal if the governor and lawmakers agree it is necessary will be much more difficult if this full dozen or additional cities are using this form of taxation.

Indeed, some legislators had hoped the state could force cities to rely on property levies and leave income sources to them.

Bad driving habits might be corrected if they were spotted at the very start of a motorist's experience behind the wheel, according to Secretary of State James M. Hare.

For this reason the Legislature will be asked again next year to include 16-year-old drivers under the state violation point system.

Under present law, motorist violations are not recorded with the Secretary of State records, center until the driver is 17.

Records show that youths in the 16-20 age group are involved in 15% of all fatal accidents in the state, although they make up only 8% of the driving population.

The ban against permanent recording of a 16-year-old's violations under the motor vehicle code gives these drivers an unfair advantage, contends Hare.

"There are instances where these youngsters have run up an astronomical number of infractions while driving," he said. "It gives them an unfair advantage over other youngsters who get their first license after 17 and whose violations are counted against their record."

Opposition to the local officials' actions was strong in the Detroit area, Muskegon, Muskegon Heights, Saginaw and Grand Rapids.

Weather Forecasting

Babson Park, Massachusetts. All of my readers are familiar with the weather forecasts that are given on radio and TV several times a day. These cover not only the territory which your station serves, but the TV forecasts also show a map indicating what is occurring in all other sections of the country.

This is a booklet that has been issued for 172 years and is published by Yankre, Incorporated, Dublin, New Hampshire. As to how their predictions are made, I do not know. But the book contains forecasts about the coming winter, whether it will be mild, cold, wet, dry — and gives predictions also for the full year ahead. I am not guaranteeing the forecasts of the Old Farmer's Almanac, but the editors have been at it for a long time and should be able to make a good estimate.

So far as I know, all sections of the United States get the same Almanac and the same forecast, wherever they live. However, suggestions are given readers for making adjustments to fit the various areas. In my opinion, the Old Farmer's Almanac is a valuable book and I recommend it.

Those who have followed this column for many years will remember that I often refer to Sir Isaac Newton's "Law of Action and Reaction." In fact, it was on the basis of this Law that Babson's Reports was originally founded. Readers who have been to my conferences will remember that the large (Richard Knight) auditorium at Babson Park carries a reference to the Law of Action and Reaction, which law I am using today to help forecast what the coming winter will develop. I am breaking away from professional meteorological forecasting methods and basing my experiments on the up and down curvature which applies to almost everything on earth — from the waves of the ocean to the temperatures of the land.

My interpretation is that — considering the whole country — if one traces this curve over periods of years the ups and downs will come close to balancing. In other words, there will be a period of years with temperatures running a little colder until they reach a curve trough where they will start up again and be a little warmer. Only time will tell whether my experiment is right or wrong. The professional meteorologists may not agree with my forecasts; but then, they often do not agree with one another.

After tracing the temperature thus far this year, I find that most of the country has experienced a cool summer. Based on these curves I will forecast that the cool weather is not over. My curves do not take into consideration snow by which many readers judge winter. I plot the regular temperature figures, in winter just as in summer.

My forecast is that those sections of the country which have had a cool summer will continue to have lower temperatures until the curve reaches its nadir. Then it will gradually turn and start upward until it reaches an apex and heads back down again. To complete one of these curves requires four to eight years. Hence I forecast that both winter and summer will be cooler than normal for at least a couple years more. Then the temperature will begin to move upward.

With my readers living in different sections of the country, I do not like to give too definite advice. However, I do feel that any reader who is handling perishable foods would do well to have a talk with his TV meteorologist.

I think television is wonderful, and I especially appreciate the studies given by the TV meteorologists. I often think, however, that nothing will take the place of good old-fashioned commonsense such as our grandfathers showed when they anticipated the cold of winter and stored their vegetables in their cellars accordingly. Along this line, I understand that one of my "Babson clients" uses a system somewhat similar to mine — forecasts on cycles of weather. From these he judges crop yields, hence is better able to plan his canning operations months ahead.

In United States Congress

19th DISTRICT — Includes Novi and Lyon township, and the cities of Northville (Oakland and Wayne county sections) South Lyon and Wixom.

Democrat Republican

Billie S. Farnum

Farnum, currently auditor general of Michigan, is fighting to switch from state to national politics. If he wins next Tuesday, he will represent the 19th congressional district.

Born in Saginaw in 1916 and raised on a farm in Watrousville, he graduated from high school during the depression and joined the Civilian Conservation Corps. Later, as a Pontiac Motors worker, he became active in the labor movement.

Gov. G. Mennen Williams appointed Farnum to the Michigan State Fair Commission in 1951. A year later, he joined the staff of Senator Blair Moody. In 1957, he became deputy Secretary of State under James Hare.

He was appointed auditor-general in 1961 and elected to a two-year term in November of 1962.

Farnum is married and has three sons and four grandchildren. He is active in boy scouts, United Fund, PTA and the Masons.

Richard D. Kuhn

Kuhn, 34, has worked in the halls of congress but never as an elected official. He was a congressional page from 1943-44.

A practicing attorney and business man in Pontiac, he is a precinct delegate in Waterford township and a delegate to the state Republican conventions. Earlier, he was a special employee to the 1952 Republican national convention and a district director for the GOP in the 1956 campaign.

He was a delegate to the state constitutional convention in 1961-62. His brother George is mayor of Berkley.

Married and the father of two children, Kuhn is a resident of Waterford township. He attended Albion college and holds a degree in political science from Michigan State university and an LL.B. degree from the Detroit College of Law.

He belongs to the West Pontiac Kiwanis club and the National Federation of Independent Businessmen and was a charter member of the Waterford Jaycees.

2nd DISTRICT — Locally includes just Northville township.

Democrat Republican

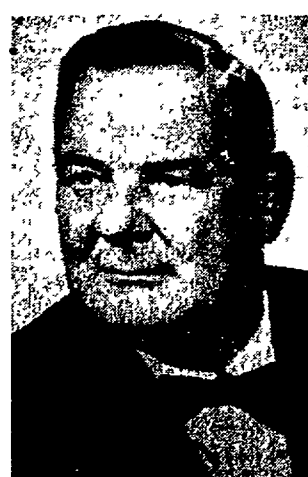

Weston Vivian

Another new face in the line-up of candidates seeking national office, Vivian is well known politically in Ann Arbor, his bailiwick.

Vivian was the Democratic nominee in his ward for the Ann Arbor city council in 1958 and 1959. In addition, he was chairman of the Ann Arbor Democratic party in 1959 and 1960 and was named vice chairman for organization this year.

His other activities include the Ann Arbor area United Fund, membership on the board of the Michigan United Fund and co-chairmanship of the bipartisan "support for schools" committee which led a successful drive for passage of millage and school bond proposals in 1963.

Vivian is 39, married, and has four children. He served in the Navy during World War II. Presently he is vice president of engineering and research for a corporation in Ann Arbor. Earlier he was a University of Michigan faculty member.

George Meader

Voters sent Meader to the halls of Washington in 1952. Seeking re-election again, he wants to be on hand next January for the Presidential inauguration.

His fate now rests with his constituents.

A practicing attorney in Ann Arbor since 1932, he holds a bachelor's degree and law degree from the University of Michigan. He belongs to many local and state bar associations and has been admitted to the bar of the supreme court of the U.S.

Meader is a charter member of the Michigan Federation of Young Republicans, was the prosecuting attorney in Washtenaw county from 1941-43 and was counsel for the U.S. Senate banking and currency subcommittee investigating the Reconstruction Finance Corporation in 1950.

Meader, 57, was born in Benton Harbor. He is married and has two children.

In State House

35th DISTRICT — Includes Wayne county portion of Northville and Northville township.

Democrat Republican

Marvin R. Stempien

Stempien is facing the district's voters for the second time and wearing the Democratic label.

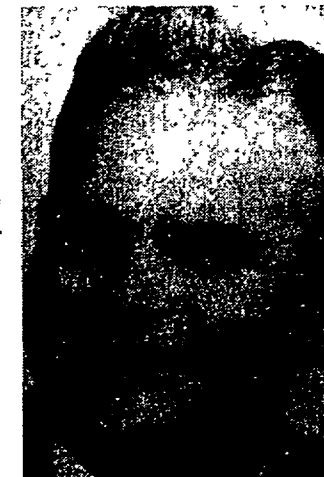

Holder of a bachelors degree from the University of Michigan and a law degree from the Detroit College of Law, Stempien is a resident and attorney in Livonia. In addition, he is a faculty member at the Walsh Institute of Accounting in Detroit.

Stempien, 31, is an officer and board member of the Livonia Jaycees, and director and officer of the Livonia bar association.

Other affiliations are the Detroit and American Bar association, St. Michael's parish ushers club and the Knights of Columbus.

A native of Dearborn, Stempien is married and has three daughters. He and his family have lived at 32321 Maryland for five years.

In the primary, Stempien set back six other Democratic hopefuls to secure his party's nomination and earned the nod to square off against Lonnie Brashear next Tuesday.

Lonnie H. Brashear

Like his opponent, Brashear is another Livonia resident but he has had some experience in politics. He is now serving his second term on the Livonia board of education.

Earlier, he was elected to the board for four years.

A resident of Livonia for 14 years, he is married, has three children and graduated with a bachelors degree from Evansville College and a law degree from Wayne State university.

Brashear has been a practicing attorney since 1939 and belongs to the Livonia, Detroit, Michigan, Federal and American bar associations.

Further, he was a special agent for the FBI from 1940-45, hearing officer for the U.S. attorney general in conscientious objector cases and chief of auxiliary police in Livonia for 11 years.

He has also served as past president of the Livonia Rotary club and is currently president of the Livonia Chamber of Commerce and the Livonia Shrine club.

In State Senate

14th DISTRICT — City of Northville in Wayne and Oakland counties, Northville, Novi and Lyon townships and the cities of South Lyon and Wixom.

Democrat Republican

James McCarthy

An old-timer at local politics, McCarthy is a newcomer to the state ring as he winds up his campaign for the Democratic bid for the 14th district senate seat.

He got the nod in the primary after defeating Joseph Mullaney of Livonia and A. E. Vallier of Plymouth.

Married and the father of four children, McCarthy, 30, attended St. Theresa high school, and Wayne State university and is employed as a supervisor at Michigan Bell Telephone company.

He has never held public office but ran for the mayorship in Livonia in 1962. As election day approaches, he has been endorsed by the Livonia Democratic club, and by COPE in Wayne and Oakland counties.

Paul M. Chandler

A state legislator in the former 21st district, Chandler is eyeing the 14th senatorial district seat. His democratic opponent is James McCarthy, a fellow Livonian.

Chandler's old district was considered one of the largest in terms of population in the state.

Born in Sault Ste. Marie 44 years ago, Chandler holds a bachelors degree in political science from the University of Michigan, was a Navy officer in the Pacific in World War II and a former sports writer for the Detroit News.

From 1953-56 he was vice president and director of the Michigan Racing Association and currently is the owner and publisher of the Observer newspapers in Livonia, Plymouth, Redford township and Farmington.

60th DISTRICT — Included are Novi and Lyon townships, the portion of the city of Northville in Oakland county and the cities of South Lyon and Wixom.

Democrat Republican

Dwight R. Lawler

It'll be North versus South when Lawler and Smart face off at the polls Tuesday. Lawler hails from Swartz Creek in Mundy township in the north end of the 60th district. Smart is from the southern portion.

A political novice, Lawler is the youngest man running in the area state and congressional races. He just turned 25 last Sunday.

Lawler, a native of Philcampbell, Alabama, is married and the father of three boys. Employed at the Chevrolet Motors division in Flint, he is a graduate of Flint technical high school and attended General Motors Institute and Flint junior college.

He lists membership in the Mundy township Democratic club, AFL-CIO COPE boosters club, "Sixty-Now" and the Maple Grove Wesleyan Methodist church of Flint.

Clifford H. Smart

Republican nominee for the newly formed 60th state legislative district, Smart presently is superintendent of schools in Walled Lake, a position he has held since 1945.

In the September 1 primary he emerged victorious over five other GOP contenders in his first crack at seeking public office.

Smart has been a resident in Oakland county since 1926. He has lived 19 years in Walled Lake and 19 years in Auburn Heights. In the latter he was a principal and subsequently superintendent of schools.

Smart, who holds bachelor and master degrees from Wayne State university, is a member of the Michigan School Boards association, Oakland county community college board of trustees, Walled Lake Rotary, Walled Lake Chamber of Commerce, Masons and the United Presbyterian church.

Schoolcraft College to Hold Public Open House November 8

The board of trustees of Schoolcraft college is inviting the members of boards of education of each school district within the college district to visit the campus at 2 p.m. on Sunday.

It is hoped that all members and their wives and husbands will use this time to see the facilities of the college so they may have an understanding of its educational program.

The board further is inviting all citizens of the college district to an open house, Sunday, November 8, between 1 and 5 p.m. so they may have an opportunity to see the campus.

Keep 2 Parties Alive

Attention Republicans: Everybody knows the old saying — "United we stand, divided we fall." It's a tried and true adage — an adage that at present seems able to be the epitaph of the Republican party. For the party is split and unless it gets together and sticks together it will never be anything but the tail of some other party's kite.

Are the Republicans resigned to being the tail of the Democrats' kite, helping to keep it afloat? It would appear so. A Republican requires at least two strong parties. If it has less than that, it is no longer a republic — it's a dictatorship.

VOTE FOR DEMOCRATS ALL THE WAY

Neil Staebler

Your State Democratic Candidates for the Northville - Novi area, headed by Neil Staebler for Governor and Bob Derengoski for Lt. Governor are for holding the line in real estate taxes, for aid to education, help to the aged and civil rights. STAEBLER, present Congressman at Large, voted for them all.

PHIL HART, your present Senator in Washington, has done an outstanding job in your interest. Truth in packaging, National Recreation Areas and proper regulation of Drugs are some of his interests.

Northville City and Novi, now in the new 19th congressional district, would be well represented by BILLIE S. FARNUM. He is now State Auditor, a responsible and experienced legislator, and, as a staff man for former Sen. Moody, knows Washington. He staunchly opposes irresponsible ideas of "Goldwaterism". An active Mason he is the father of three boys and four grandchildren.

WESTON VIVIAN, running in the newly outlined 2nd congressional District covering Northville Township, pledges hard work for action on human rights, employment and education. He is V.P. of Conductor Corp. of Ann Arbor and long active in local civic affairs. MARTHA GRIFFITH now bespeaks the vote of all that have voted for her in the past for FARNUM and VIVIAN.

JAMES MCCARTHY, candidate for State Senator in the 14th District, asks the votes of Northville City and Township and Novi residents. He is well qualified with experience in municipal and state affairs, and promises close contact with voter-needs in the area.

MARVIN STEMPIEN wants your vote as State Representative for 35th District covering Wayne Co. area of Northville and the Township. He is an active young lawyer in Livonia, member of Walsh Institute of Accounting faculty and the father of three young daughters. Active in Livonia City affairs he is for all-out assault on highway deaths and help for mentally ill and the aged.

The National ticket is headed by LYNDON B. JOHNSON and HUBERT H. HUMPHREY for PEACE and RESPONSIBILITY in National Affairs. Vote straight DEMOCRATIC.

For the Gardener

This column on gardening information is compiled by the Northville branch of the National Farm and Garden Club.

Winter injury to trees and shrubs varies from complete killing to twig blight and die-back, root and bud killing, frost cracks, winter sunscald and other abnormalities.

These injuries may weaken or wound plants, leading to attack by insects or disease.

Trees and shrubs growing in sunny, windy locations or in poorly drained soils may be injured by low temperatures, alternate freezing and thawing, or drying winter winds and sun. Plants overfertilized in the season with a high nitrogen fertilizer, or those still actively growing in late fall, are most commonly injured. Kinds of winter injury fall into two main categories, frost injury and winter killing.

FROST: Severe injury or death results from freezing temperatures in the fall before plants are hardened by periods of moderate cold. Twigs may die back or entire trees and shrubs be killed. Injury is most common on young plants with thin, smooth bark which continue active growth late in the fall.

WINTER KILLING: The type and severity of injury caused by low winter temperatures varies with the species, variety and age of plant.

A sudden great drop in temperature causes vertical cracks to occur in the bark and wood of the trunk. Heat from the sun warms the south or southeast sides of the trunk. As the temperature plunges downward during the night, great strains are set up due to unequal shrinkage between the outer and inner wood. The layers of wood then separate.

Frost cracks close in warm weather and seal up with ridges of callus growth called "frost ribs". The crack never completely closes, however, and may reopen during following winters.

Well-defined, scorched, dead areas may occur in the bark on the south or southwest sides of the trunk. Winter sun causes overheating, drying out, and killing of the inner bark and cambium. Later dead bark may curl and peel off. Young deciduous trees are most susceptible. Such plants should be protected from both direct sunlight and that reflected from nearby light-colored walls, concrete, or ice and snow.

Broadleaf and narrowleaf evergreens may be injured when cold weather is followed by warm, dry, windy periods. Extreme and rapid fluctuations in temperature are most damaging.

Protect young trees from frost cracks and sunscald by wrapping with burlap strips, sisal-kraft, paper, aluminum foil, or simply tie a six inch board upright on the south side of the trunk. Another way to minimize winter injury is to protect exposed evergreens by erecting burlap or canvas screens to shield off drying winter winds. Water evergreens thoroughly during the fall and early winter before applying a two inch layer of mulch. Mulching helps prevent deep freezing or alternate freezing and thawing after the ground is frozen. Apply mulch after ground freezes.

Avoid practices which encourage growth late in the season, such as large applications of nitrogen fertilizer from mid-summer on, heavy pruning, or excess watering.

In the spring fertilize and aerate the topsoil around injured plants to increase vigor.

Deadline Near for Navy ROTC Competitive Exams

High school seniors and graduates have only until November 20 to apply for the Navy's Reserve Officer Training Corps. Applicants will take the nationwide competitive examination on December 12 as the first step toward an appointment as midshipman.

Designed to supplement the officer output of the Naval Academy, the NROTC program makes it possible for a young man to earn a regular commission while studying at one of the 52 civilian colleges which have an NROTC unit. All tuition, fees and books are furnished by the Navy, and the student receives a retainer of $50.00 per month for not more than four years. During the summers, the student goes on interesting cruises to many parts of the world. After completing a four year college course, he is commissioned in the regular Navy or Marine Corps and goes on active duty as a career officer in the Naval service. He receives the same promotional opportunities, duty assignments and benefits as Naval Academy graduates.

High school seniors and graduates who will be at least 17 but not 21 years of age on 30 June 1965 may apply for the Navy College Aptitude Test. Those who make a qualifying score will be given a thorough physical examination in January and February 1965. From the number of qualified young men remaining in competition, approximately 2,000 will be selected to begin their naval careers in college next September.

Application forms are available at local high schools, and Navy Recruiting Stations or from the Chief of Naval Personnel, Department of the Navy, Washington, D. C. 20370.

School to Salute Book Week

A sparkling array of 555 new children's books — representing some 50 publishers — will be on display at the Northville junior high school during Book Week, November 1-7.

The exhibit will be open to the public next Monday, Thursday and Friday from 3-8 p.m.

Used nationally by school systems and libraries, this unique free service provides teachers and librarians, as well as parents, with an effective way of keeping up with the new books being published.

The exhibit is supplied by Books on Exhibit, a promotional organization, and is brought to this area through the cooperation of the Northville public schools and Miss L. K. Edgerly of Gallery Books, 116 Main street.

For pupils in grades kindergarten through junior high, the curriculum-related exhibit presents all the outstanding new titles of late 1963 from picture and easy books in the primary range to literature, science, mathematics, foreign language, sports and activities books at the intermediate and teenage levels.

The Board of Education expressed interest in the lease arrangement, although the option to buy would necessarily have to clear some legal hurdles before the Board could sell the building.
