Subdivisions Put Squeeze on Schools

See Tax Hike With Low Cost Developments

School officials took their concern over mounting school enrollment to the city council Monday night.

Specifically, the school authorities wanted to know what kind of subdivision development might be expected in the near future in the city.

With all schools — elementary, junior high and high school — filled to capacity the school board has already appointed citizens' committees to lay plans for a building program.

Faced with annual pupil increases that have soared from 3.1 per cent in 1960-61 to 7.6 per cent in 1963-64, the board must determine how many new classrooms, presumably elementary initially, will be needed.

They found little solace at city hall.

They learned that houses are selling fast in Village Green, plans five and six. The former is underway and includes 25 homes. Twenty-eight more in plan six will complete the development in the northeastern corner of the city.

And while school representatives were on hand they heard another developer ask the council for preliminary approval of a 70-home subdivision just north of Northville Heights.

Representing the school were Board Members W. C. Becker and William Crump and Superintendent R. H. Amerman and Kenneth MacLeod, assistant superintendent.

When informed that the 70-home development next to Northville Heights would provide homes in the $15,000 to $20,000 class, MacLeod said studies show that such a residence with two children costs the school district $400 annually for education.

"Homes less than $30,000 cost us money," said Crump. "Each one of us in the school district will have to pay higher taxes if we permit low-cost subdivisions."

Mayor A. M. Allen assured the school officials that the planning commission, as well as the council, "will take a close look at the plan."

Councilman John Canterbury pointed out that if the land is only suitable for development of this kind, "then inevitably subdivisions are going to be there." He said the council's best hope was to convince the developer that higher-priced homes, on a level or above those in Northville Heights, would offer the best chance for sale.

A representative of Dave Pink Builder, Inc., was on hand to display drawings of the proposed homes. He said Pink had purchased the property, that it was his first subdivision undertaking, and that the homes would be some 1-200 square feet in size and would sell for something above $15,000.

The council finally approved the preliminary plan, with emphasis on "preliminary," so that the developer may make engineering studies on cost of installing water, sewers, roads and other lot improvements.

City Manager Bruce Potthoff pointed out that the developer was aware that off-site costs might be expensive. These would include the cost of extending water and sewer service to the proposed development.

Before the school officials departed, the council pointed out that a 120-acre site along Taft road at Eight Mile was also scheduled for development. No definite date is known but the development could include over 300 homes.

In planning commission hearings residents of Northville Heights have protested that the proposed 70-home development will lower their home values. They want restrictions that will guarantee homes similar to those in the Heights.

Retailers Disband To Join Chamber

The Northville Retail Merchants, once an active organization of 50 members, dissolved as a chartered group last week and joined the chamber of commerce.

Spearheading the move was Essie Nirider, a director of the chamber. Nirider pointed out that the retailers' association had only nine paid members of record. But the group had many interested merchants who could contribute to an organized chamber effort.

The merchants will become a division of the chamber. Nirider said that some $800 held by the merchants' organization for parking and general business district improvements would remain so earmarked.

Presently, the merchants are launching a Christmas promotion campaign that will include a Santa's Workshop for the kiddies and some $600 in new street lighting decorations.

And Monday night the council gave assurance that it would employ a consultant recommended by the planners to make a one-year feasibility study of the proposal.

The consultant's job will be to determine the feasibility and cost of the mall plan as devised by planners for Northville's business district.

"His report should make the council either solidly for or solidly against the idea," said Mayor A. M. Allen.

In other council business Monday night:

Mayor Allen suggested that the city tap a city water line into the dry "Old Spring". He said that at least drinking water would be available and a sign could explain that the spring had run dry.

City Attorney Philip Ogilvie suggested that the city waive its right to secure some division of assets from the township in connection with the recent annexation of six West Main street lots. He said the sum would be minute and that audit costs could amount to more. He proposed a contract that would permit the township to pay one dollar.

Mayor Allen was appointed to discuss the proposal with the township.

Canterbury Reconsiders; He'll Remain on Council

John Canterbury has decided to remain on the Northville city council.

The announcement was made Monday night by Mayor A. M. Allen, who told Canterbury, "I appreciate your decision to stay on."

Last May Canterbury, presently serving the second year of his third four-year term, told fellow council members he would like to retire from the council. He said his reason included a number of "purely personal factors" and suggested that the council select a replacement

"sometime this summer".

Officially, the council never acted on Canterbury's request to resign. No discussions as to possible successors were held.

Monday night Mayor Allen said "I do want to thank you. You have been very free with your time and a good council member."

Canterbury said that "gradually over a period of time personal and business reasons (for resigning) have decreased. Also, I did ask for the job and worked hard to get elected. Now that I find it possible to go ahead, I'll feel better about fulfilling my obligation."

Canterbury is the senior councilman and serves as mayor pro tem. Only Mayor Allen has had more council service. The decision of Canterbury to remain means that he will serve until 1967.

Two other councilmembers, Richard Ambler and Beatrice Carlson, complete four year terms in April. Councilman Fred Kester, like Canterbury, is mid-way through his four-year term.

The mayor is elected to a two-year term.

Superintendency Applications Start

Applications for the position of superintendent of schools for the Northville system have begun rolling in.

When Superintendent of Schools R. H. Amerman announced to the board last spring that he would retire on June 30, 1965, after more than 35 years of service in the district, a system for considering a successor was established.

The board has sent application information to the University of Michigan, Michigan State University and Wayne State University.

It is reported that four applications have already been received by Board President James Kipper. At least one of these is from personnel within the present system.

December 1 has tentatively been set as the deadline for accepting applications, but this date is somewhat flexible.

It is anticipated that the board will review the applications then hold personal interviews with applicants after the first of the year.

A final choice will be made in the spring with the new superintendent taking over on July 1, 1965.

Following is a profile of the superintendent desired as outlined by the board of education:

age range — not more than 45 years of age; practical experience — at least 10 years experience in the educational field with five years successful administration experience in a public school system;

training and degrees — minimum of a master's degree plus

30 hours or the specialist degree in administration or its equivalent;

marital status — it is preferred that the candidate be married and have a family;

health and leadership strengths are emphasized; starting salary — $14,000 to $16,000 annually, initial one year contract with renewal contracts on a three-year basis.

Valve Plant Open, But Wixom Out

One area Ford Motor company plant has been shut down by a strike against the auto maker while another is still operating.

Ford's Wixom assembly unit — where Thunderbirds and Continentals are built — has been closed since last Friday, a Ford spokesman said.

"Production was cut off because of a parts shortage," the spokesman indicated. "There are no local disputes at the Wixom plant."

About 4,200 production workers at Wixom were laid off, although some 1,000 office and maintenance personnel are still on the job.

Production of Thunderbirds and Continentals had been running about 625 a week.

The strike centers on local issues, the spokesman said. Ford and the United Auto Workers signed a national agreement in September.

Ninety bargaining units then started to iron out local problems. Wixom settled September 30. Last Friday, however, nine of the remaining locals that hadn't come to terms struck the second largest auto producer in the U.S.

Their action has crippled output at Ford.

A few facilities continue to operate but the spokesman said that all Ford plants could be idled by the weekend if there is no accord.

Local issues at five plants — four of them in Michigan — are holding up output.

They are the car and truck operations in Wayne, the Ypsilanti parts center and the Sterling township chassis plant. In addition, the Buffalo stamping plant is down.

Meanwhile, the Northville valve plant is humming, said superintendent Joseph Bujak.

"We can't tell when we'll be forced to close down," Bujak said. "Valve production is scheduled all week unless the Dearborn specialty foundry goes out."

The foundry provides castings for exhaust valves for the Northville plant.

Arsenic, Old Lace On Stage Tonight

A bit of suspense is in store for the audience when the curtain goes up on "Arsenic and Old Lace" at 8 p.m. Thursday in the high school auditorium.

Under the direction of Miss Patricia Dorrian and Miss Florence Panattoni, the annual production of the Forensic club will run three nights this year. Other performances are slated Friday and Saturday.

Called a rollicking comedy, the play deals with the story of Abby and Martha Brewster, two charming aunts in their sixties. They live in a house in Brooklyn as Victorian as they are.

They are loved for their kindness and generosity. But they have one thing they especially like to do — and as a result have 12 bodies buried in their cellar.

Abby and Martha have three nephews — Teddy, Jonathan and Mortimer. Teddy, who lives with his aunts, thinks he is Teddy Roosevelt and delights in charging up the stairs — his facsimile of San Juan Hill.

Mortimer is a drama critic for a New York newspaper. He is young, handsome and engaged to marry Elaine Harper, the chic daughter of Reverend Harper. He was all set for the marriage until he got involved with the kindness of his aunts.

Jonathan is a gruesome character who resembles Boris Karloff, thanks to the talents of Dr. Einstein, a plastic surgeon who looks like Peter Lorre. Jonathan left Brooklyn early — by request. He traveled all over the world and left many dead bodies in his wake.

What is the act of kindness? Area residents can uncover it by purchasing a ticket at the auditorium door. Prices are 75 cents for students and $1 for adults.

In the main double-cast roles of Abby and Martha are Judy Insland, Jean Downer, Nancy Shafer and Sara Petz.

Other leads are Mortimer played by Alan Jones and Dave Orphan; Teddy by Han Pen-see, the exchange student for 1964-65; Jonathan by David Pankow; Dr. Einstein by Cliff Smith and Randy Caliguri and Elaine by Nancee Slattery and Penny Scantlin.

Torch Drive Tops Goal

Northville ended up with a surplus but Novi with a deficit in door-to-door solicitations for the Torch Drive.

Mrs. Arthur Hempe, Northville chairman, reports that $2,221 was collected in her area. The goal of $2,128 was surpassed by $93, she said.

"It was a little slow at first but the volunteers kept working to reach the goal," Mrs. Hempe said. "I was real pleased with what the workers did."

In Novi, Mrs. Albert Atherton noted that house-to-house donations were $100 short of the proposed goal of $1,900.

But she still had some good news.

The collection among the merchants in Novi went over the top. Mrs. Atherton said that the businessmen gave $1,175, exceeding the goal by $445. The goal was $730.

Mrs. Hempe added that the business collection in Northville was 110% of the goal. The merchant's goal was $931 and $1,026 was solicited.

Vandals Smash Store Windows

Police are still seeking two suspects today in the wave of malicious destruction that erupted on Main Street last Thursday morning.

At 2:28 a.m. Officers William McGee and Robert Glatfelter discovered that three plate glass windows had been broken along the business row. Glass was shattered at Lila's Flower Shop and the D & C store. A pane of glass was knocked out of the door next to Spagy's market leading to the second floor Lov-Lee Beauty salon and doctors and lawyers offices.

Police found traces of a broken beer bottle at the D & C but unknown objects were used to smash out the glass at the other locations.

A witness told police that he saw two men tip over a trash receptacle at Main and Center, after the incidents took place, and then run east on Main street.

Two other witnesses related that they observed two men throw something and then get into a car and speed away. But they jotted down the license number.

Police hinted they know who owns the car but haven't been able to find the owner.

Lila Collins points to her broken window at Lila's Flowers & Gifts, 115 East Main street.

SQUEEZE PLAY — Three cars ended up in the same corner Tuesday morning — the northeast corner of West Dunlap and North Wing streets. Police said the driver of the middle car, Mrs. Dorothy Dillon of 14 Terrace road, was heading north on Wing and apparently ran the stop sign at the intersection. The car on the right, owned by Mrs. Earehart of 431 Yerkes, and the one on the left, driven by Robert Ebert of 218 West Dunlap, then collided with Mrs. Dillon. Mrs. Earehart suffered a scalp wound and knee injury but the others — including Mary Logeman of 795 Grace, a passenger in Ebert's car — got out of the accident with bruises and scratches, police said.

Baroness von Trapp At Town Hall Today

Many honors have come to Baroness Maria von Trapp. Pope Pius XII bestowed upon her the "Benemerenti Medal" and made her a Lady of the Holy Sepulchre, two of the highest awards of the Vatican.

to Catholic laity. The present government of Austria has conferred upon her its "Gold Medal for Merit."

Season tickets may still be purchased at the box office.

Unveiling Christmas Collections

Four local artists will be featured in a Christmas collection at Hartley-Powers gallery, 116 East Main street.

Gloria Parres and Kathleen Edgerton, Northville residents, and William Case and Roy Pedersen, both teachers in Northville schools, will show new paintings and ceramics.

An opening reception with refreshments will be held Friday, from 4 to 8 p.m. Also included in the Christmas collection will be colorful holiday decorations, new children's books and old-time toys.

THIS EMPIRE SOFA, displayed by Alexander Forster, West Main street, is thought to have been built by the late President John Kennedy's great-grandfather. Each design in the period piece is symbolic, with the eagle representing America. This and other antiques will be described by Mrs. Forster, guest speaker at Northville Woman's Club meeting at 2 p.m. Friday in the junior high gymnasium lobby (community building.) Mrs. George Weiss will introduce the speaker.

Jaycees Seek Funds For State Home Pool

Northville Jaycees, along with other clubs in district six, have kicked off a fund-raising campaign to construct a swimming pool at the Plymouth state home and training school.

Cost of the pool is estimated at $10,000 and money is being accumulated by selling patron tickets for $30 and plaque sponsorships for $100 to a New Year's Eve dance.

The first includes admission to the Candlelight Ball at Carpenter's Hall on Grand River and the contributor's name will be listed on the program.

In the second instance, the donor's name will be placed on a plaque at the pool site, giving permanent recognition for his gift.

The dance is a project directed by the Jaycees but actually sponsored by all the civic and service organizations in the surrounding communities, a Jaycee spokesman said.

Other clubs working on the project are Plymouth, Livonia Garden City, Belleville, Dearborn, Dearborn Heights, Nankin, Romulus, Wayne and Redford.

The Plymouth institution houses 859 mentally-retarded children from Wayne and southern Oakland counties. It is situated near Five Mile road on Sheldon road.

Dr. Robert I. Jaslow, superintendent of the Plymouth home, said the "idea for creating an outdoor pool here for use of the children is deeply appreciated by myself and members of my staff."

Jayettes Aid Hospital Children

The Northville Jayettes, in connection with the Michigan State Jaycee Auxiliary are working with the Michigan Association for Emotionally Disturbed Children. Their project includes writing letters and sending gifts, to boys at the Northville State Hospital.

The chairman for the Michigan Association for Emotionally Disturbed Children, Mrs. Ruth Macaulay, wrote letters to several merchandising companies asking for donations to the hospital. The Fuller Brush Company, through its sales representative in this area, Mr. Stanley Lesko, donated much needed supplies, Mrs. Macaulay reports.

In Our Town

By Jean Day

A STORY OF FAITH, buttressed with music, should be an inspiring prelude to the holiday season. The story belongs to Baroness Maria Von Trapp, who is speaking on "Around the World With the Trapp Family Singers" at 11 a.m. today at Northville Town Hall in the P and A Theatre.

The life of the Trapp Family Singers who gave more than 2000 concerts while making their home in a blue-and-yellow motor coach already is famous, having been so well told in "Sound of Music." Those who have heard the baroness say that her personal telling is not-to-be missed as she is a delightful speaker.

Her appearance here is providing opportunity for a personal visit with friends, Dr. and Mrs.

S. L. Slowik of Auburn Heights, Michigan. They will be guests at town hall. Mrs. Beatrice Carlson will introduce the baroness.

The 225 town hall members with reservations for the celebrity luncheon following at Meadowbrook country club will have opportunity to ask individual questions of the speaker.

At the head table with the baroness will be Mrs. Harry Deyo, hostess, Miss Ruth Knapp, Mrs. Roy Mattison, Mrs. Robert Wiloughby, Mrs. Eugene Konrad and Mrs. Carlson. Mrs. H. F. Wagenschutz, ticket chairman, reports that she still has available a few season tickets for the 1964-5 town hall series which may be purchased this morning.

FOR CHILDREN ONLY is the new booth at the annual Holly Mart bazaar at the Northville Methodist church Friday and Saturday. Advertized "For Little People at Little Prices," the booth promises to be a mecca for children as everything in it will be priced under 50 cents. Only children will be allowed to purchase the bean bags, pin cushions and other family gift items.

There will be plenty of old-fashioned booths of candy, baked goodies, Christmas decorations and handmade aprons and knits for parents to browse through from 10 a.m. to 8 p.m. Friday and from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Saturday. Always a special treat at the Holly Mart are the VERY fancy Christmas cookies that look as though they belong in a big Victorian glass cookie jar — but taste too good to keep. (Many have tasty fillings!)

Cooperating on the dinner to be served Friday evening are the members of the WSCS, the Wesleyan Service Guild and the Methodist Youth Fellowship. Morning shoppers Friday can stay for lunch. Saturday tea will be served. Mrs. William Swank, bazaar chairman, urges everyone in the community to "feel especially invited" to come-and-eat.

THE DISTINCTIVE CHRISTMAS green invitations sent out by the Hartley-Powers gallery on Main street for an open house reception from 4 to 8 p.m. Friday were silk-screened by Miss Linda Edgerton. This really is an open invitation for everyone in the community to drop in for coffee and to view the gallery's one-of-a-kind gift ideas. All of the contributing artists have new paintings available.

The gallery's Christmas decorations follow a Medieval theme with the unusual banners being for sale. There also will be ceramics, children's books and tree decorations.

A WINDOW-WIDE INVITATION beckons Northville shoppers to see the floral gift ideas at Lila's Flower shop on Main street this Sunday afternoon. Here Early American pine containers, Mexican tinware and ceramics are filled with holiday greens.

Also open Sunday from noon to 6 p.m. in this annual merchants' preview will be Stone's Gamble store where both toyland and housewares departments will be stocked with gift ideas. Items may be reserved but not purchased Sunday.

Concert Slated Sunday

The Plymouth symphony orchestra's second concert of the season will be held at 4 p.m. Sunday at the Plymouth high school auditorium.

The program will include Symphony Number 35, "Haffner" by Mozart, Concerto for violin and orchestra by Millard Taylor, featured soloists, and Symphony number six in B minor, "Pathetique" by Tschai-kowsky.

Taylor is a member of the faculty of the Eastman school of music, Rochester, N.Y., and concertmaster of the Rochester philharmonic orchestra.

Wayne Dunlap is in his 13th season as conductor. John D. White, assistant professor of music at the university of Michigan will be appearing with the orchestra for the first time as principal cellist.

Dr. White's primarily a composer. His symphony number has been performed by the Cleveland orchestra, the Eastman Rochester orchestra, the Oklahoma city symphony and a number of community orchestras.

All concerts are open to the public without charge.

Mustangs Fell 14 Points Shy of Crown

What's the difference between a championship season and a third place finish in the Wayne - Oakland Conference? Fourteen points.

That's the number of points Northville needed in the showdown battle with Milford, the undisputed 1964 conference title with a 7-0 record. The Mustangs lost their second league game by a 14-7 margin.

Victory would have meant a three-way tie for first between Northville, Holly and Milford. But that's all wishful with a 5-2 slate, just half a thinking as the Mustangs finished the season in third place with a 5-2 late, just half a game off the previous season's mark.

Statistics revealed this week by Coach Ron Horwath give other indications of how the Mustangs' fell shy of last year's performance, when they shared the crown with Clarkston, holder of a 5-1-1 record.

The 1964 Mustangs scored 35 less points than last year's squad and they also gained 422 less yards. The Orange and Black amassed 1888 yards, 1371 rushing and 517 passing.

On defense, however, this year's gridders were tougher on opponents, giving up only 1355 yards, 1126 rushing and 223 passing as compared with 1963's yield of 1248 yards rushing and 227 yards passing.

Of championship caliber were the rushing feats of Halfback Kent Kipfer, who led the Mustangs with 649 yards in 118 tries for a 5.5 average rush.

He was also the top scorer with seven TD's.

Backing Kipfer up as the other workhorse in the Mustang backfield was Sophomore Fullback Doug Swiss. He ran for 414 yards in 81 carries for an average of 5.1 yards.

Other Northville backs who posted averages of better than five yards per try were Halfback Mike Turnbull (16 tries for 104 yards and 6.5 average), Halfback John Mach (10 for 59 and a 5.9 average) and Flankerback Jerry French (three for 19 yards and a 6.3 average).

Quarterback Tom Baughman threw 81 passes, completing 38 for 497 yards and an average of 47 per cent. His most frequent target was French, who caught 14 passes for 115 yards, while three ends also were favorite targets, including Jerry Inland (nine for 93 yards), George Burchfield (five for 164 yards) and John MacMillan (five for 50 yards).

Seven Mustangs scored TD's with Kipfer leading the pack with 42 points, followed by Baughman's four touchdowns for 24, Swiss' three for 18, Burchfield's one TD and 12 extra points for 18 and Mach's, Turnbull's and Inland's one apiece for six points.

Perhaps the most vital statistic is the number of lettermen lost through graduation — 18. The Mustangs are hardest hit at guard, where Tim Krug, Greg Penn and Bob Fisher depart.

Two 200-pound tackles, Bob Tuck and Jerry Burns, and Tackle Bruce Dayton played their last games in a Mustang uniform. Losses were also substantial at the linebacking and halfback posts. Horwath will have to fill gaps left by Burchfield and Artie Forth. Four offensive halfbacks, French, Kipfer, Bob Steeper and Captain John Mach played their last prep games, as well as Fullback Jim Bell.

Other players who saw their last action as Mustangs include All-League Center Dave Kerr, Defensive End and Punter Howie Jones, Ends MacMillan and Kent Hunter and Defensive Halfback Vic Eskie.

Although the loss through graduation is considerable, Coach Horwath pointed out that there's a substantial number of returning lettermen to form the nucleus for a solid ball club next year.

Expected to carry the Mustangs' title hopes are the following letter winners: Fullback Swiss, Halfback Jack Winner, Halfback Mike Turnbull, Defensive Halfback Jim Zayti, Quarterback Baughman, Ends Inland, John Jameson and Mark Cushing, Tackles Dave McIsaac, Ted Jacques and Neil Brasure, Guard Don Bongiovanni and Center Daley Hill.

The Mustang Mentor also pointed out that the reserve squad, which gave up only one TD during the past campaign, will furnish talent to complete the varsity 1965 alignment.

TD's, the Mustangs came back to close the gap to 13-12. A last-second interception by Plymouth killed the Mustangs' chances.

Northville 13, Clarkston 0 — Northville's defensive crew forced mistakes and held Clarkston to a mere 61 yards while Halfback Kent Kipfer led the offense with 130 yards in 27 carries.

Northville 20, Clarenceville 6 — By playing possession ball — running 73 plays from scrimmage to Clarenceville's 27 — the Mustangs won their second conference game of the season. Fullback Doug Swiss led the attack with 88 yards in 18 tries.

Holly 18, Northville 0 — Two third-period scoring thrusts turned a close, 6-0, battle into a Holly rout as Northville's title ambitions suffered a crippling blow. Holly rolled up 212 yards, all on the ground.

Northville 34, Bloomfield Hills 25 — In a free scoring affair, Northville put on its best offensive display, coming from behind to wipe out a 19-6 Bloomfield lead. Kipfer sparked the attack with 194 yards rushing and three TD's on runs of 78, 42 and 52 yards.

Milford 14, Northville 7 — Playing its best game of the season, Northville still lost as Milford dealt the coup de grace to the Mustangs' title chances. As a result, Northville claimed a 3-2 conference record.

Northville 20, West Bloomfield 14 — Two fourth-down gambles backfired on visiting West Bloomfield as Northville came back in the last quarter to erase a 14-6 deficit. Swiss applied the clincher with a 26-yard TD dash.

Northville 14, Brighton 9 — Northville's defense barred the scoring door and, in fact, didn't permit the Bulldogs to get any closer than the 23 yard line. Two first half touchdowns turned the victory trick.

Kerr, Tuck, Kipfer

Mustangs Win All-League Honors

Three Mustangs copped grid berths on the first two Wayne-Oakland Conference All-Star teams, selected by league coaches this week.

Garnering first team honors were Center Dave Kerr and Tackle Bob Tuck, while Halfback Kent Kipfer earned a second team nomination. Holly led the loop with seven gridders on the first and second teams, followed by Milford, the conference champion, with four representatives and Northville with three.

The three Mustangs were largely responsible for Northville's strong third place finish with a 5-2 record.

For the second year in a row, Kerr was placed on the first squad. He anchored the Mustang line both seasons and was especially effective on offense.

Tuck, who is a co-captain of the local eleven, moved up a notch from the all-league second to the first team this year. A 220 pounder, Tuck played Middle guard on defense and sparked the Northville rush. He also doubled at offensive tackle.

Kipfer was a football newcomer, better known for his pole vaulting feats in track. The speedster led the Mustangs in yards gained and TD's, playing his best game against Bloomfield Hills when he romped for 194 yards and three touchdowns.

Selected to the first eleven beside Kerr and Tuck were Ends Rich Hacht, West Bloomfield and Mike Stillwagon, Brighton; Tackle John Griffith, Milford; Guards Jim McFarland, Milford, and Paul Hoxie, Clarkston; Quarterback Tom Fegan, Holly; Halfbacks Jim Ward, Milford, and Mark Phalen, Holly, and Fullback Bill Barnes, Bloomfield Hills.

Second team nominees beside Kipfer were Ends John Wilburg, Clarkston, and Dave Robillard, Bloomfield Hills; Tackles Jim Prisk, Clarenceville, and Chuck Rosell, Holly; Guards Jim Hanks and Parry TD's, playing his best game against Bloomfield Hills when he romped for 194 yards and three touchdowns.

Selected to the first eleven beside Kerr and Tuck were

Culver Elects Scott Addis

Scott Addis, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Addis, 22279 Haggerty road, has been elected co-captain of the 1965 Culver Military Academy football team by vote of varsity football letter winners.

"Scott played defensive tackle this season," said coach Russ Oliver, "but next season he will go both ways."

Addis and his teammates downed West Lafayette November 7, 26-6, to finish the season with a 6-2 record.

Twenty-two players including Addis, were awarded varsity letters after the game at a football banquet.

Addis is five-feet, 10-inches and weighs 185 pounds. He is a junior at this northern Indiana college preparatory school.

Mrs. Hoffman Wins Quiz

First place and $10 prize money went to Mrs. Barbara Hoffman of Livonia in the weekly football contest.

She's the only contestant missing as few as four games. A host of others missed five. But Narda Foreman, 49824 West Seven Mile, and R. C. Talbot, 40160 Fairway III dr., divided second and third place honors by predicting identical scores in the Cleveland-Detroit game. They each won $4.

The final contest of the season is published this week on page six of section two. It's your chance to pick up a few Christmas-shopping dollars.

Meadowbrook Elects Officers

BIG BUCK — Morley Godley, 438 Eaton drive, shot this 11-point buck early opening day near Glennie. Godley bagged the buck on a 50-yard shot. It weighed about 160 pounds field dressed. Godley shot the buck shortly before 9 a.m. and was back home in Northville by mid-afternoon Sunday. He's shot about a dozen bucks, but this was his first in four years.

"Silent" Scott shows off some of the trophies he has won as a judo performer. He was exposed to the sport in 1961.

A rare feat is recorded by the cameraman. Scott, a potential champion, is about to "flip" John Osako, a former AAU title-holder.

14-Year-Old Scott Bergo Throws Weight, Judo Style

Scott Bergo, a freshman at Northville high school has put down many opponents since he took up judo three years ago.

Now he is being pegged as a future champion.

"He shows the best potential of any student I have had since I have been teaching," said John Osako, head instructor at the Detroit judo club.

"He could be the youngest black belt the way he is going. I am sure he will make it."

Osako has known the feeling of success. For three years — 1955, 1956 and 1958 — he reigned as a national AAU judo champion in the U.S.

A chunky teenager, Scott is 14, weighs 177 pounds and is five feet ten inches tall. Right now he is wearing a sixth degree green belt in competition.

Already Scott can lay claim to laurels. A few months ago he was crowned at the Canadian National Exhibition as the best in the junior division and he holds the midwest championship in the junior class.

Earlier in the month, Scott ventured to Miami for the U.S. invitational judo meet. Over 800 entered. Scott lasted six rounds.

Osako reflected: "The more he practices, the more he advances."

"On the first grip you should be able to tell how much you can control or block your opponent. This is what he will have to pick up."

Belts show the degree of ability. A white belt indicates a beginner while a brown belt signifies marked advancement. A black belt is tops.

"There are two eighth degree black belts in the U.S. but two tenth degree (the ultimate) black belts are in Japan," Osako said.

Judo is based on the ancient sport of jujitsu. Many of the deadly kicks, slashes and locks were abolished so that judo can be practiced safely.

Judo means the "gentle way" and a man may overcome a rival by yielding some ground and then utilizing some of his opponent's strength of momentum.

In his classification Scott is limited to his method of flooring a challenger. He can only employ throwing or holding tactics.

Performing on a 30 x 30 mat, he is dressed in a standard uniform — a white jacket and baggy short pants. He is barefooted.

Split-second timing is essential to win a match. If Scott doesn't outsmart his competitor he is apt to end up flat on his back.

But he isn't seriously injured if he is slammed to the mat. He has learned to fall properly, Osako explained.

"Scott doesn't break his fall by landing on his elbow or hip. He lands with a 'thud' with all his body to avoid hurting himself."

Judo is more than physical maneuvering, according to Scott and his trainer. Character and sportsmanship are stressed as well.

Before a match begins, Scott and his opponent will bow to one another. Win or lose, Scott will repeat the ritual after the match.

It has instilled humility, too. That's why Scott is so soft-spoken about his athletic feats, said his father, Dr. Howard Bergo.

"You won't hear him talking about himself," Dr. Bergo commented.

His mother added: "Scott was clumsy before he took judo instruction. Now he has poise and balance."

from the PASTOR'S STUDY

Reverend Paul E. Barnes

First Baptist Church of Novi

This is the season of the year that the emphasis is upon being thankful. As Christians we are called upon to "praise the Lord and give the glory due unto His name, for the Lord is great and greatly to be praised."

If you are as I am, you find it difficult to adequately form the words to express your praise, so let's let the Psalmist do it for us:

Bless the Lord, O my soul; And all that is within me, bless his holy name. 'Bless the Lord, O my soul, And forget not all his benefits:

Who forgiveth all thine iniquities; Who healeth all thy diseases; Who redeemeth thy life from destruction;

Who crowneth thee with loving kindness and tender mercies; Who satisfieth thy desire with good things.

So that thy youth is renewed like the eagle. The Lord executeth righteous acts, And judgments for all that are oppressed.

He made known his ways unto Moses, His doings unto the children of Israel. The Lord is merciful and gracious, Slow to anger, and abundant in loving kindness.

He will not always chide; Neither will he keep his anger forever. He hath not dealt with us after our sins, Nor rewarded us after our iniquities.

For as the heavens are high above the earth, So great is his loving kindness toward them that fear him.

As far as the east is from the west, So far hath he removed our transgressions from us. Like as a father pitieth his children, So the Lord pitieth them that fear him.

For he knoweth our frame; He remembereth that we are dust. As for man, his days are as grass; As a flower of the field, so he flourisheth.

For the wind passeth over it, and it is gone; And the place thereof shall know it no more. But the loving kindness of the Lord is from everlasting to everlasting upon them

OLD ENOUGH!

Not old enough for a novel, a dictionary, an encyclopedia.

But old enough for the Bible!

For in these very years before she fully understands its truth, a child learns to respect God's Word. Reverence is born. A sense of the importance of religion develops.

The passages must be short... and sensibly chosen. Childish but searching questions must be answered. Mother and Dad will soon discover that explaining Truth to their child deepens their own comprehension.

Take advantage of a parent's most sacred privilege. Introduce your child to God. Make the Bible part of the family. Participate in and cooperate with the Church's program of religious education.

A child grows spiritually whose parents grow spiritually!

Trustee Tyler advised the board that he had contacted Mr. Potthoff regarding the $1700.00 depreciation item listed in the Northville City Fire Costs for 1963-64, 59% of which was paid by the township and Mr. Potthoff agreed that perhaps this was an improper charge but he had followed procedure established in listing this item. He agreed to check further into the matter and trustee Tyler was asked to report back to the board at the next regular meeting.

No further business, Merriam moved to adjourn, supported by Lawrence.

Meeting adjourned at 10:25 p.m.

Edison Rate Reduction Wins Approval

The Michigan Public Service Commission has given approval to the Detroit Edison Company for a reduction in electric rates amounting to $3,750,000 per year. The new rate schedule has been under joint study by the staff of the commission and Detroit Edison for several months.

The announcement was made jointly by Peter B. Spivak, chairman of the Michigan Public Service Commission, and Walker L. Cisler, chairman of the board of Detroit Edison. The officials pointed out that the reduction would be of greatest benefit to residential customers using more than 500 kilowatt-hours per month and to commercial customers. These changes will be effective for service rendered on and after December 1, 1964.

A number of factors have made it possible for Detroit Edison management to hold the line and actually reduce electric rates during these 15 years. One of the most important is the increased use of electricity by its customers. This use — more than doubled in the case of residential customers — has permitted Detroit Edison to build larger and more efficient generating plants, and to pool generating capacity and exchange power on an economic basis with other large electric systems. Other important factors are increased efficiency in the burning of fuel and the cooperation of railroads in reducing the transportation charges on fuel from the mines.

In a joint statement on the rate change, Mr. Spivak and Mr. Cisler said, "We are always pleased to cooperate on matters that have an advantageous effect upon the economy and well-being of Michigan."

Mr. Cisler further said "It has been a traditional policy at Detroit Edison to pass on to our electric customers a fair share in the economic gains that management has been able to achieve. When rate reductions encourage greater use of electric energy, this in turn helps to reduce the cost of production to offset inflationary trends. In this way Detroit Edison and its customers actually work together for a mutual goal."

"Superior Tree"

Douglas Fir

Buyers of Christmas trees are in for a pleasant surprise this year if they buy a Douglas fir.

A native to the Rocky Mountain and west coast areas, the Douglas fir is relatively new to Michigan growers. But it's called a "superior tree" by T. D. Stevens, professor of forestry, Michigan State university.

The MSU researcher says that Douglas fir has excellent needle retention, fragrance, soft short needles, and keeps its shape and color well.

In comparison, pines retain needles as long but are not as fragrant. They need more shearing and shaping by the grower.

Although a Douglas fir costs more, Stevens thinks consumers are willing to go higher for a better tree.

SPEAKING for The Record

By BILL SLIGER

City and township planning commissioners sat down together recently to compare notes and, more specifically, learn what has been happening in the way of planning in the township.

Presently, the township is about half way through a comprehensive planning program. The two-year study is being conducted by Vilcan-Leman Associates, professional planners. Total cost of the project is $23,685 with the federal government picking up the tab for $17,764 of the amount.

In reviewing the progress of the township study George Vilcan made some interesting comments—which should make every local merchant take notice and convince all taxpayers that co-operative city-township planning is essential.

Vilcan did not talk in terms of timetables. Too many factors enter into the growth of an area. But he did talk about ultimate population in the township.

With the same percentage of public property a population of 35,000 will ultimately occupy the township. This could go as high as 46,000 with a reduction in public-owned lands.

For this population township planners see a need for a 40-acre central business district for comparison shopping. In addition the township would need four "convenience-type" centers for groceries, drugs, etc.

Rather than create an entire new shopping center that could prove disastrous to business in the present city-oriented center, logical planning calls for expansion of the present center to accommodate the demand.

This is where city and township planning comparisons become interesting.

The city's master plan calls for a central business district of some 20 acres, just half of what township planners say will be needed.

While this master plan may have appeared to be a long range dream to some businessmen, the township forecast sees it as insufficient. And Vilcan predicted a competing center would be necessary in the township if city sights are not raised, in fact, doubled.

Another possibility for city-township cooperation was touched upon in the township's general plan for future land use.

Vilcan pointed to the Gerald avenue area as a possible renewal project, which would qualify for federal assistance and require city-township cooperation.

Much of the area lies in the township, however the city owns a large portion currently used as a disposal area.

Through joint effort Vilcan pointed to a possible industrial belt that would extend to the Waterford lake area.

The joint city-township planning meetings should become a habit. They have been promoted by Gunnar Stromberg and George Zerbel, township and city planning chairmen, respectively.

They can only result in better understanding of mutual problems and community progress.

Long before most of us late-comers thought of moving to the area there were a handful of citizens who volunteered their time and talent to see that development in Northville township was in keeping with the beauty of its hills and streams.

They worked on zoning and other ordinances within the framework of township government. They had their arguments with gravel pits and trailer camps, just as other communities do.

We can see the results of their efforts about us. The severest critic would have to admit they didn't do badly.

The chief contributor to this early effort passed out of township government recently following an unfortunate incident involving an unnecessary remark.

Northville township can replace James Littell. But it will look far and long before it will find an attorney of this talent, this devotion to community welfare.

His 19 years of township service deserve the appreciation of those residents who now reap the benefit of his legal guidance.

Michigan Mirror

Even Dems Surprised by Gains

Highest hopes of the Democratic Party were surpassed in the November 3 election where legislative races were concerned.

All party workers predicted Democrats would gain a majority in the state house of representatives, but even the highest guesses were far from the 72-28 margin achieved.

Senate hopes were pinned on 17 sure seats for each party with the remaining four anyone's guess. As it turned out the party which has held such a small minority in the senate for many years will have a 23-15 edge in the 1965 session.

Strength of President Johnson's victory in Michigan accounted for several Democratic gains, but most Capitol observers feel this was not entirely the cause.

"Look at those returns closely and you can see a definite bias by the voters in several areas at the conservative," noted a veteran lobbyist who knows the voting patterns well.

In several traditionally Republican strongholds such as Ingham, Jackson and Berrien counties, defeats were handed to long-term lawmakers whose political philosophy puts them in the so-called "Old Guard" ranks.

The decisive victory by Governor George Romney, despite the Democratic sweep, indicated many more voters than ever before were very selective in their ticket-splitting.

Once again Michigan's government returns to the dilemma which existed for 14 years under Democratic Governors G. Mennen and John Swainson.

Romney, however, will have one advantage over his Democratic predecessors. Although working with a legislative majority of the opposite party, he will have a couple of his team members on the state administrative board.

Republican Lieutenant Governor William G. Milliken of Traverse City was elected on the joint ticket with Romney and the governor now has the ability to appoint the state treasurer, previously an elected post.

Most predictions are that Romney will be able to work better with the Democratic legislators than his predecessors could with the GOP majorities of past years.

Part of this theory is based on the fact that Romney is generally viewed as a moderate or liberal Republican, while the two liberal Democratic governors had to contend with conservative GOP lawmakers.

Some difficulty is anticipated in the legislative-executive exchange, however, based on personality conflicts and the simple fact that Democrats have so long anticipated the day when they would be the party in power.

Each year Michigan surpasses the last in preparations for the rising number of winter sports enthusiasts, and this year is no exception.

Now State Tourist Council publications list 89 winter sports centers scattered across the state. This is the largest number ever, but expanded facilities and improved equipment and accommodations add even more to the offerings.

One resort will put into operation this year what its owners boast is the first four-passenger chair ski lift in the world. This device has a carrying capacity of 2,400 skiers per hour up the slopes at Boyne Mountain.

Conventional double chair lifts are very plentiful at other areas, as are the more old-fashioned T-bar, J-bar and rope tow conveyances.

Equipment rental and professional instruction are available at many of the 89 resorts and Tourist Council director William T. McGraw notes that non-skiers can have as much fun as skiers at most areas.

Ice skating, tobogganing and sledding facilities, indoor game rooms and even heated outdoor swimming pools are available at some Michigan winter resorts.

Given normal winter temperatures and snowfall, McGraw said it is anticipated more than 225,000 sports enthusiasts will be in Michigan this year to spend close to $25 million on various activities.

Hopefully Michigan will miss the mark predicted some months ago: 2,500 highway traffic accident victims in 1964!

Indications as the year draws to an end are that motorists will again exceed the death toll of last year.

In early November, highway deaths passed the 1,700 mark which was the full year total in 1962. Last year nearly 1,900 persons died in highway crashes.

Rain and snow-slicked pavements, the early hours of darkness and the comparatively heavy traffic load during the year-end holiday periods traditionally bring an increase in weekly accidents.

If present indications hold true and the death toll rises again this year, Michigan motorists can be assured of a concentrated effort in 1965 to change several state laws and enact new ones to crack down on errant drivers.

Many state officials are convinced stricter laws and law enforcement are the only means of reversing the current trend of carelessness. All the intensive safety campaigns have appeared to be of little use.

Right to Education

BABSON PARK, Massachusetts — One of the most valuable of the 14 agencies associated with the UN is UNESCO — the United Nations Educational, Scientific, and Cultural Organization.

Its aim as expressed in its charter is "to contribute to peace and security by promoting collaboration among the nations through education, science, and culture, in order to further universal respect for justice, for the rule of law and for the human rights and fundamental freedoms which are affirmed for the peoples of the world, without distinction race, sex, language, or religion by the Charter of the United Nations."

The Universal Declaration of Human Rights asserts that everyone has the right to education. Yet, half the world's population cannot even read or write. To meet this challenge of illiteracy, UNESCO has undertaken major programs in Latin America, Asia, and Africa.

The problem is not one that can be solved quickly. Before education of the illiterate can begin, teachers must be trained, and schools reconstructed. Technical and vocational education is needed at all levels. Also, after one learns to read one has to have materials to read — books, papers, pamphlets. UNESCO has planned a program also to help solve this problem. It has sent out specialists to work in national systems of education.

A nation's economic, social, and cultural life is directly related to the level of its knowledge of the basic sciences — mathematics, physics, chemistry, biology, geology — and their applications. Offices in Latin America, the Middle East, South and Southeast Asia advise UNESCO of the scientific needs in the different regions.

For example, the Intergovernmental Oceanographic Commission is advancing the knowledge of marine science. The Indian Ocean Expedition is a five-year venture for study of the world's least-known ocean.

The principal objectives of the programs in the field of the social sciences are to contribute to the social and economic development of countries, and to study and promote such legal, political, and economic aspects as will lead to greater extension of human rights.

UNESCO assigns social scientists to various areas, and also maintains research center in South Asia and Latin America and a clearing house in Paris for exchange of information among member states of the United Nations.

By encouraging members of all nations and of all races to know and understand one another, this organization hopes to develop the spirit of peace among the various peoples of the world.

It endeavors to cultivate an appreciation of the art and literature of the many nations by exchanging the cultural material of each nation with the others.

The organization is also working to provide all possible means of communication among the people of the underdeveloped countries. A group is now working on development of a low-price radio receiver for mass production and distribution. This would be particularly useful in regions where most of the people cannot read or write and where they will not be able to do so for a long time to come.

Wherever radio and television are operative they can spread the messages of peace more quickly.

Some 800 fellowships in education, science, and the arts have been granted in 1963 and 1964. Opportunities are being provided for people in all walks of life to meet people in other countries. Grants are being made to workers in many fields to travel in other lands.

The general purpose of all of UNESCO's program is to make the world a more enlightened, better, safer, and more peaceful place in which all the peoples of the earth may live.
