

New Industry Slated to Purchase Novi Continental Plant

Would Employ 150; Await Rezoning Bid

Continental Motors plant in Novi — idled since a consolidation of operations during the summer — may soon be reactivated.

A Continental executive, Andrew Ureel, who managed the local facility on Novi road near the Chesapeake & Ohio railroad crossing, has requested a zoning change for the manufacturing site.

In appearing before a joint meeting of the village council and planning board Monday night, Ureel disclosed that a M-3 or heavy industrial classification is sought.

The industrial site is currently zoned M-1 or light industrial.

A public hearing is slated for 7 p.m. December 21 in the village hall and the request is expected to be granted to boost Novi's economy.

Continental — which was one of Novi's biggest employers and taxpayers — will not rejuvenate the plant, however. Instead, Ureel said, some 6.6 acres of the 50-acre site will be sold to a Detroit firm.

Purchase, which hinges on the rezoning, includes the 70,000 square foot plant and 14,500 square foot warehouse. Ureel said Continental has "no plans for the rest of the land."

The purchaser was described as a Detroit, metal-processing manufacturer which has run out of expansion space in two small plants.

Price of the section of Continental property to be sold was put at $250,000.

Ureel said: "We feel it would be an attractive undertaking and nothing but benefit will come from it for the community."

"We have a firm offer. The other firm's leases are expiring and it is interested in getting a quick answer from us."

Questioned further, Ureel revealed that the new owners would like to start up production in a few weeks. About 150 will be employed at the plant.

"We feel that this particular company is the kind you would want to see in here," Ureel noted. "In addition, we really feel that the amount of payroll that can be provided should be put into effect immediately."

Previously, Continental's payroll in Novi was pegged at about $1 million a year and an average of 125 worked at the plant.

Ureel added: "The new firm would like to expand its line and add new products. But it is hesitant to invest $250,000 and keep permissible uses under M-1."

"An M-3 zone is sought so there'll be no worry about what the new firm can make in the future."

Continental — a major engine producer in the U.S. — confirmed April 28 that it would shut down its Novi governor facility.

Ureel said actual production operations ceased here at the end of July and employees were offered jobs in other Continental plants in the Detroit area.

Earlier, changes in Continental's corporate volume coupled with revision and reorganization of the firm's business were cited for the closing.

But Ureel bared Monday night that the firm experienced a decline in government contracts and was forced to combine its Novi and research operations to fill up a larger plant in Detroit.

In 1959, Continental bought the Novi plant — formerly called the Novi Equipment Corporation — from Lewis Welch, who developed the racing cars known as the "Novi Specials."

Novi Equipment was formed in 1935 and constructed the Novi facility in 1938. At one time, it was a big supplier of automotive heaters for Ford Motor Co.

During World War II, the firm turned out governors for tank engines, incendiary bomb casings and connection links for tank treads.

President Kipfer told the citizen group that the board expected differences of opinion. At the conclusion, however, when all opinions are filed and the board has had time to make its determination, Kipfer said he hoped the committee members would use their knowledge of school needs to help tell the story to all voters of the district.

Northville's elementary schools are presently squeezed to the point where all sixth grades are located in the junior high school. The high school, too, is filled to capacity and Novi tuition students may soon find their days numbered (see story on this page).

School Planners Report Progress

A combined meeting of the three committees appointed by the board of education to make a study of the Northville district's school needs was held Monday night at the junior high school library.

Each of the committees gave progress reports and heard Board President James Kipfer call for completion of the studies by February 1 so that the board might act upon recommendations and make preparations for bonding.

Bulging to capacity in all its buildings Northville school authorities have called upon citizens to study the condition and propose a method of procedure. Admittedly, school officials feel a new elementary building should be constructed next year ready for occupancy in 1966.

The most complete report was made Monday night by William Secord's population and facilities' committee. A display of graphs projected possible areas of development, indicating the greatest immediate potential in the northern portions of the district.

Finance and curriculum committees also indicated their progress, but it was noted that much of their work must follow the findings of the population and facilities' committee.

Specifically, the committees must conclude what they would propose to build and where. Some discussion surrounded the question of whether a new junior high school should be given priority and the present junior high school converted into an elementary school.

President Kipfer told the citizen group that the board expected differences of opinion. At the conclusion, however, when all opinions are filed and the board has had time to make its determination, Kipfer said he hoped the committee members would use their knowledge of school needs to help tell the story to all voters of the district.

Chamber To Meet

"Know Your Northville" reports are slated to be reviewed next Tuesday evening when the Northville Community Chamber of Commerce holds its general membership meeting.

President Dempsey Ebert said that committees formulated to compile information on all aspects of the community would submit their reports and consideration would be given to having the material printed for distribution.

The chamber now has 100 paid members, reported Ebert, who said a membership committee would seek an additional 40 members for the newly-formed group.

The meeting will be held at the city hall at 8 p.m.

Appointments Bring Split Votes on Board

The Northville township board, bogging down periodically to haggle, nevertheless waded through a meaty agenda Tuesday night.

An appointment to the planning commission, water and sewer commission appointments and a proposed joint study with the city for industrial development of the Gerald avenue area caused most controversy and delay.

But each was settled, though all the votes were not unanimous.

The evening's first difference of opinion arose when Supervisor R. D. Merriam recommended the reappointment of Gunnar Stromberg and Bernard Baldwin to three-year terms on the planning commission.

Trustee James Tellam said he was disappointed in the manner in which Stromberg, chairman of the planning commission, had handled the landfill question. He said that Stromberg had become too personally involved in the project. (Tellam referred to the Sheldon Hayes' request to operate a landfill in gravel pits. It was granted).

Clerk Marguerite Young upheld Stromberg and called for the reappointment of both Stromberg and Baldwin.

Tellam asked for each candidate to be considered separately.

He won support from Trustee Wilson Tyler, who in addition to Tellam's complaints, said he felt it was unwise to have one man on two boards. Stromberg is chairman of both the planning commission and board of appeals. Tyler noted that a citizen appealing an action of the planning commission must face the same person on the appeals' body.

It was pointed out by Clerk Young that the ordinance provided that a member of the planning commission should sit on the appeals' board.

In the voting that followed Baldwin was elected unanimously to another three-year term, while Stromberg won reelection by a 3-2 vote with the supervisor, clerk and Treasurer A. M. Lawrence overruling Tyler and Tellam.

Both Baldwin and Tellam took part in explaining a planning commission proposal to meet with a committee of city council appointees for possible development of the Gerald avenue area (in the township) and adjoining disposal area (in the city).

They pointed out that the principle purpose would be to remove an eyesore and convert the property into tax-producing industrial sites.

It was finally decided that this course should be followed and Tellam and Baldwin were named as committee members to represent the township. But before passage the proposal became ensnared in conversation, chiefly by Tyler, who proposed that a letter to the city seeking information on their future plans for the dump site might be a preferable first step.

Perhaps the longest discussion involved the appointment of a water and sewer commission.

This body, established to direct the township's utilities, has been non-existent for nearly two years. It was dissolved by board action.

For nearly that long Supervisor Merriam has sought to reactivate the group. He said Tuesday night that he felt that it was necessary to appoint a three-member body to handle the water and sewer business and hinted that the township's water system might have new demands in the near future.

Merriam suggested himself, William McDermott and Frank Arlen. McDermott had been proposed by Tellam.

Tyler added the name of Mrs. Harold Price to the list of candidates, as well as Joseph Fiorilli. Tellam added James Ross and Mrs. Young proposed Dave Dodge.

Finally the board decided to vote by secret ballot.

McDermott won unanimous support, while Merriam and Arlen finished second with three votes each.

McDermott was named chairman and Merriam secretary of the commission.

In other business that needed little discussion the board awarded a bid to Malik Heating of Plymouth for a new oil furnace in the township hall for $660; granted a tavern (beer and wine) license to Brook Lane Golf Club; waived penalty for payment of school, county and township taxes until March 1; adopted a strict brush burning ordinance; and accepted a city proposal to settle the division of assets on the West Main street area recently annexed to the city for one dollar.

However, no commitment has been made by North Farmington. Novi officials have just talked with school administrators there. It would take action by the North Farmington board to place students there.

Asked if the board would recommend holding back seventh graders so 10th grade classes could be added at the junior high, Mac Dermott replied:

"It would result in a minus program. It would be regression and we would avoid it if at all possible."

At this point William Crump, a Northville school board trustee, brought up the fact that the classroom squeeze in Northville could become even more acute.

Crump said "two additional subdivisions have been approved in Northville and a third is likely. About 100 more homes could be built."

"Our guess on a 5% increase (in students) could go right out the window."

Tom Culbert, Novi school superintendent, explained there are some deterrents in enrolling the students in another school district.

"A major consideration is if they'll be allowed to stay and graduate and we don't have the answer to that."

Earlier, the Northville board indicated that any student from Novi who starts high school "will be allowed to finish as one class a year is dropped."

Decision Near On Tuition Pupils At High School

Fate of the Novi tuition students attending Northville high school will be decided in two weeks.

At its regular meeting December 14, the Northville board of education will take up and resolve the so-called "Novi situation."

Specifically, the Northville board will weigh a written request from the Novi board of education pertaining primarily to placing of Novi tenth graders at the high school.

In addition, the Novi board has been asked to outline its plan for gradually weeding out all Novi high schoolers in the Northville system.

Right now, Novi only accommodates pupils from kindergarten through the ninth grade. In the past, it has always sent its high school students to Northville.

But the Northville board is seeking to eliminate Novi 10th graders in particular — and other classes as soon as possible — to provide more classroom space for its own students.

Northville has been firm in its position to remove the Novi students but the Novi board is hoping it will be granted at least a year's reprieve.

Novi school officials foresee launching of a high school program within two years but feel it couldn't be set up by next fall.

Three months ago, the Novi district opened a new junior high school but the building must be expanded to handle high school students.

William MacDermott, Novi school board president, said last Tuesday night that "we recognize the fact that we can provide for the children if necessary but are hoping the door is open for us to continue our mutual agreement."

MacDermott made his remark at a joint meeting of the two school boards in the Novi junior high school library. All board members were present from both districts.

MacDermott continued: "Our only alternative is possibly to send the students to high school in North Farmington."

MacDermott injected that if the ninth graders stay at the junior high "they won't be in a regular high school program or have athletics that go with it. It would be a gray area of their education."

"We are starting to grow," said Arthur Heslop, senior member of the Novi board. "We have been talking high school for quite a few years."

"People in Novi realize their responsibility. We have just got to have time. By 1966 we will have an addition up."

James Kipfer, president of the Northville board, said "we don't relish that we have to make a decision so abruptly. No one is doing it with any glee."

But Robert Shafer, a Northville trustee, clarified: "but there is no mistake about the sincerity of our position."

"Our first obligation," Shafer reminded the Novi board, "is to our own children."

Dr. Kenneth MacLeod, assistant superintendent of Northville schools, mentioned that 42 sections of classes now conducted would be enlarged by 6 or 8 with Novi 10th graders in attendance next September.

Without Novi 10th graders, perhaps only four or five, extra sections would be added, MacLeod said.

MacLeod and Frederick Stefanski further pointed out that all rooms at the high school except the music room and auditorium are filled each period.

"The music room is not used 2 periods a day and the auditorium three periods a day," said MacLeod.

Present enrollment at the high school including Novi 10 graders is 867. With Novi 10th graders in 1965-66 the total will rise to 890 but without them it will decline to 808.

Eugene Cook, treasurer of the Northville board, said it will "cost" his district to lose the Novi tuition students.

"We like your money but we're just going to have make up for it. We'll have to go to the citizens next June and probably raise the operating and building millage."

"We have another financial worry, too. Our millage is higher than yours."

At the moment, a citizens advisory committee is laying plans for construction of another elementary school in Northville. An addition for the high school has been mentioned, too.

MacLeod said, except one or 1% have earned bachelor degrees with 50 or 46% having five or more years of college courses.

Ninety per cent of the faculty attended universities in Michigan. Leading the list is Eastern Michigan University followed by the University of Michigan, Wayne State University, Western Michigan University and Michigan State University.

For master degrees, however, 20 of 42 teachers graduated from the University of Michigan, 12 from Eastern Michigan, three from Wayne

State and one each from Michigan State University, University of Detroit and Western Michigan.

Four others got their master degrees outstate.

Just over 26% of the staff or 29 are between 20 and 24 years old. Thirteen per cent are between 30 and 34 while 11% are between 25 and 29 and 35 and 39.

Median age is 30 among the elementary teachers, 36 among the secondary teachers and 47 among the administrators, the report pointed out.

In adding up the experience column, MacLeod found that 49 or 45% have from ½ to five years experience, 22 or 20% with 6-10 years followed next by eight with 11-15 years.

MacLeod said median teaching experience is three years on the elementary level, seven years on the secondary level and 18 years among the administrators.

On the salary totem pole, 21 make $8900 and up while 18 earn $5300-$5699, 14 are paid $4900-$5299 and 12 receive $6100-$6499.

This familiar plant near the C&O railroad on Novi road will soon hum with industrial activity.

In Northville Schools

Women Teachers Outnumber Men

Women teachers outnumber men by a 2-to-1 margin in Northville schools.

In a personnel study, Assistant Superintendent Dr. Kenneth MacLeod noted that 69 women instructors are employed compared with only 33 men.

But the gap is closed slightly with the addition of eight administrators — all men — to the list.

MacLeod said in his report that the teaching staff now totals 109, up from 105 last year, 99 two years ago and 96 in 1961.

All teaching personnel, Mac-

Leod said, except one or 1% have earned bachelor degrees with 50 or 46% having five or more years of college courses.

Ninety per cent of the faculty attended universities in Michigan. Leading the list is Eastern Michigan University followed by the University of Michigan, Wayne State University, Western Michigan University and Michigan State University.

By Jean Day

A 'FROSTING' at the fourth annual greens market of 13 area Farm and Garden association branches Saturday at the junior high boys' gymnasium (community building) will be the "how-to" demonstration by Mrs. N. K. Pattison of Valencia road.

Mrs. Pattison is one of four club members giving lecture-demonstrations during the day. Hers is particularly suited to novice fingers as she will divulge some of the basic techniques of wiring Christmas corsages. This is to include piercing nuts and wiring cones for arrangements. Mrs. Pattison will share a demonstration hour with Mrs. Richard Gerathy, who does wall hangings, at noon and again at 3 p.m.

This creativity presently is an after-work hobby with Mrs. Pattison, but she has had professional training and has worked at Lila's Flower shop on Main street. As a further contribution to the Christmas Frostings market, she has fashioned 100 acorn corsages for the Northville club's booth. This involved punching holes in each nut used! General market chairman Mrs. H. O. Whittington confides that Mrs. Pattison was asked especially to be one of the four demonstrators as she has the happy ability to describe clearly what her fingers are doing in the demonstration.

PRIZE-WINNING PICKLES will be a featured item at the gourmet booth of the Northville club. They will be the donation of Mrs. W. L. Howard of West Eight Mile road, whose recipe won a blue ribbon this year at the Michigan State Fair.

The Christmas Frostings market has become so popular that shoppers wait outside before the doors open at 9 a.m. Mrs. Whittington relates that the first market came into being in 1961 as the "brain child" of Mrs. John Calhoun of the marketing committee of the state, Farm and Garden association. It was created as an outlet for wares crafted by the garden groups. Northville was chosen for the market for its central location and facilities.

Seven hundred shoppers attended the first mart. Last year's attendance of 1,560 was more than double — and this year's advance ticket sale is booming. Tickets also will be sold at the door and are $1.

AS A REWARD for their labors Saturday, members of the Northville branch of the Farm and Garden association are promised a Christmas tea treat at 12:30 p.m. December 14 at the Victorian home of Mrs. George Kohs on Cady street.

"Christmas All Thru the House" will be the theme with members asked to bring ornaments (unusual or hand made, if possible) to trim a tree. A musical program is planned.

OLD-FASHIONED CHRISTMAS decorations seem particularly appropriate to our town with its many well-maintained Victorian homes in town and the ring of colonial homes being built on the fringes.

There is no doubt that the trimmed tree in Lila's Flower shop window is a traffic stopper with its candle lights and strings of PLASTIC (yes!) popcorn. The decorated-cookie ornaments also last because they're plastic.

Other plate-glass windows downtown have been sectioned into small panes to contribute to the Christmas look. (So many people say they were attracted to Northville because of its "small town" look, we wish that area planners who are studying feasibility of a city mall would consider a Town Square feeling instead. This may be only a matter of terminology, after all. With one of the country's largest malls a few minutes away at Northland, Our Town should keep its Victorian charm.)

Elsewhere, the Christmas look is beginning to be seen in home decorations. Two gold angels have appeared in the window of the W. A. Bake home on West Main street as a bright foil against the dark red dining room background. The James H. Tellams have decorated the front door of their Caldwell road home with an autumn-into-winter arrangement of painted seed pods and giant pine cones.

Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Wicks, relax in the living room of their Willowbrook home. Their son, John, was deer hunting in northern Michigan.

"Willowbrook" is a very friendly place," reports Mrs. Ronald Wicks whose family moved recently to this country from Sussex, England.

Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Wicks and their son John Swain, 19, have purchased a new ranch home, at 24042 Glen Ridge Court in Novi.

Particularly appealing to Mrs. Wicks are the popular coffee klatches. "The coffees are not unlike the traditional tea-time in England," she stated.

Mr. Wicks works for Swain Industry, Livonia which is owned by Mrs. Wicks' brother. He is a buyer of machinery.

John graduated from St. Paul's Senior school in Sussex. St. Paul's is comparable to our high schools and he enjoys bowling and is an avid hunter.

A great disappointment to Mrs. Wicks when leaving England for the U.S. was in leaving behind her piano, a favorite possession. "The cost of shipping the instrument was prohibitive," she said. While she did not play professionally she performed occasionally at concerts and for the British Legion.

Her knitting could be classified as professional, however, Mrs. Wicks sold many of her knitted articles in England in much the same way as seamstresses' do here.

Mr. Wicks' hobby is in do-it-yourself projects, he especially likes woodworking.

The Wicks family is enjoying its new home — and newly adopted country.

Curtain to Rise On Guild Plays

Northville Players Guild will present three one-act plays at 8:30 p.m. Friday and Saturday at the Northville high school auditorium.

In the first production, "Trusting Place," the cast is made up of Mary Freydl as Mrs. Curtis, Gary Webb, Zanelet Briggs, Gay Sandrock, Mrs. Briggs, Nancy Ashbaugh, Jessie, Larry Wood, Rupert Smith, James Drew, Mr. Ingoldby, and Linda Pollock, Gretchen Schneider, Larry Wood and Jim Drew, madrigal singers.

Listed in the second production, "Still Alarm," are Walter Avery, Ed. Bud Weber, Bob, Larry Wood, bellboy, and Jim Drew and Robin Wideman, firemen.

Annual Garden Mart To Flourish Saturday

Thirteen booths of Christmas gifts and decorations are expected to draw a record number of shoppers to the fourth annual Christmas Frostings greens market Saturday at the junior high boys' gymnasium (community building).

Sponsored by 13 area branches of the Woman's National Farm and Garden Association, the market will include a program of "how-to" demonstrations. Coffee, luncheon and an afternoon Christmas tea will be served.

Northville Chairman Mrs. E. O. Whittington reported Monday that advance ticket sales have been brisk, indicating that last year's attendance of 1,560 may be surpassed. Tickets now are available from garden club members for $1. They will be sold at the door Saturday during the "all-day" market which opens at 9 a.m.

At 10:30 a.m. and again at 1:30 p.m. Mrs. Arthur Gorge and Mrs. Arthur Stiller will present hour-long demonstrations on how to make pine cone wreaths and chenille trees. At noon, and 3 p.m. Mrs. Richard Gerathy and Mrs. N. K. Pattison will share the hour to show how to make wall hangings and techniques of simple arrangements.

Again this year the Northville club's booth will be filled with gourmet items and related decorations.

Other participating clubs and their booths are: Golfview with candles and terrariums, Mrs. Richard Dehler, chairman; Holly with soap trees, aprons, dolls and ornaments, Mrs. David Squires, chairman; Inkster with pictures, sewing baskets, velvet ribbon, Mrs. Charles Casper, chairman; Kern Lake, bird feeders and houses, aprons, wall hangings, plaques, Mrs. Louis Cicchetti, chairman; Livonia, garden supplies, hats, aprons, bonnets and cone trees, Mrs. John VanLier, chairman; Milford, flower prints, corsages and wreaths, Mrs. Larry Mitchell, chairman.

Still others include the booth of the Northwest Detroit club with handmade candles, pomanders and scrub puffs, Mrs. Paul Keener, chairman; Plymouth with decorated eggs, feather flowers and straw ornaments, Mrs. Charles Nelson, chairman; Redford, hand sewn wall hangings, door knob ornaments, covered clothes hangers, Mrs. Walter O'Connell, chairman; Rosedale Gardens, Della Robia wreaths, ornaments, Mrs. Norman Roffey, chairman.

Westchester club from Birmingham area is bringing candle arrangements and home-made candy; Mrs. John Wait is chairman. Wayne will have door swags and table arrangements under chairmanship of Mrs. Charles Lents.

An innovation at the market this year will be a morning coffee hour from 9:30 to 10:30 a.m. Mrs. Whittington explained this is being instituted as many shoppers wait in the cold for the market to open.

With below freezing temperatures this week, the committee felt a "warm-up" would be welcome.

Luncheon at $1 will be served from 10:30 a.m. to 2:30. A Christmas tea is planned from 2:30 to 4:30 p.m. with a 50-cent donation.

As an added service, a group of Northville boys, known as the Ughashontons under the leadership of Leonard Bogotaitis, will assist in parking cars.

Reading Subject Of PTA Session

How well does Johnny read? Parents of Main street elementary students can find out at 8 p.m. Thursday at the PTA meeting in the junior high gymnasium.

A live unrehearsed series of three demonstrations of first, third and fifth graders having actual reading lessons will be featured at the meeting.

Mrs. Eunice Martin, first grade teacher, will guide her charges through the area of word mastery or the learning of difficult words.

Third grade youngsters will show the basic steps in learning to spell with Mrs. Kay Dinsmore at the head of the class.

A polished job of reciting an old-fashioned Christmas story will be presented by the fifth grade accelerated reading class conducted by Mrs. Robert Prom.

Mrs. Prom's group is being exposed to reading and then thinking critically about the subject matter.

Club Eyes Movie Date

The Northville Senior Citizens' Club will meet Tuesday evening, December 8, at 7:30 p.m. in the Scout-Recreation building.

Travel pictures and narration of a trip to New Zealand will be given by Mr. and Mrs. Lee Eaton, following the regular business meeting.

Refreshments will be served and plans will be made for the club's trip by chartered bus to the Adams theatre in Detroit to see Mary Poppins, later this month.

The movie My Fair Lady was seen by 50 club members in November.

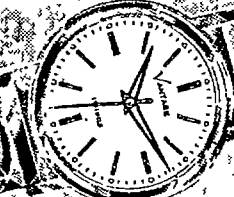

By popular request, Dr. L. LaMont Okey is returning to address the Northville Woman's club at 2 p.m. Friday in the all-purpose room of the junior high school gymnasium (community building). He will speak on "Gathering Gems for Christmas". Dr. Okey is an associate professor of speech at the University of Michigan.

Novi Methodist Church
The church started the first Sunday of the Advent season by lighting 1 candle. Advent is the season that begins on the 4th Sunday before Christmas day and ends Christmas eve. The word advent is derived from 2 Latin words which mean "coming." In advent we get ready to celebrate the birthday of Christ. White candles were sent home with the children, one to each child, to use in the advent wreath for the home that has already been presented with a wreath packet and an entire wreath packet for new families.

Scripture reading Sunday was from Isaiah 35 and Luke 2:39-52. Sermon by Rev. Webster, "How to be at Home in Church."

The church school is planning to have a special Christmas contribution for the Methodist Children's Village on West 6 Mile road. Cagers Host West Bloomfield in Opener Mustang Matmen

The Northville Record—Novi News—Thursday, December 3, 1964
Section One — Page Seven

BREIFING BREAK — Mustang cagers huddle around Coach Dave Longridge for some strategy pointers during last Saturday's scrimmage with Howell. Northville opens its 1964 season tomorrow night hosting West Bloomfield.

Meet Bob Kucher: Newest Mustang Mentor

Bob Kucher, a man whose "life is sports," is the new mentor of the Northville freshman basketball team.

"I've played sports all my life, so working with young athletes is a natural," said the soft-spoken coach. He is equally at home on a football field, basketball court or a baseball diamond.

Northville lured him from Brighton to teach geography and science and to coach the varsity basketball squad as well as the freshmen cagers.

At Brighton he was head coach of the baseball team for four years and he also was the backfield coach of the Bulldogs griders. He put his basketball knowledge to good use by guiding the junior varsity cagers before being selected coach of the high school varsity two years ago.

"We didn't exactly burn up the league (Wayne-Oakland) in any sport," Kucher pointed out, "but we played spoiler a few times." His admittedly weak cagers split with Northville the last two years, even though the Bulldogs were the underdogs on each occasion. Under Kucher's guidance, the Bulldogs made their best showing on the Northville court during the 1963-64 district tournament. Brighton gave highly touted Fenton the scare of its life before losing by just one point in double overtime. Fenton went on to eliminate Northville to win the district title.

While teaching at Brighton, Kucher obtained his master's degree at his alma mater, the University of Michigan. He and his wife, Marge, and 19-month old son, Gary, still reside in Ann Arbor, although they're on the lookout for a home in this city.

Tammie Chapman, Susan Burton, Rebecca Cox, Kerrie Haley, Spring Lamont, Shawn Lovett and Judy Turner. They had birthday cake and played games. They will continue to have a birthday party at the end of each month.

Novi Rebekahs
Regular meeting of Novi Rebekahs Thursday December 3 (tonight). December 7 the Rebekah club will meet with Mrs. Florence Sentz. Bring a passing dish for the Christmas party. Next regular meeting Thursday, December 10 at 7 o'clock. After meeting there will be a visitation at Edgewood Lodge.

Before taking to the coach's chair, Kucher made his mark at the university where he copped three letters in baseball and one in basketball in his senior year. At five foot 10 and one-half, Bob played both second and third base and was a reserve guard on the cage squad.

He came to the Michigan with blue chip credentials. As a prepster, Kucher was a nine letter man at Denby, high school in his home town of Detroit, earning three each in basketball, football and baseball.

In recognition of his prep talents, the new Mustang coach was nominated to the All-Detroit basketball team.

It seems apropos that he should fashion future prep stars as coach of the frosh. "We've been working on fundamentals," Bob noted, "and I'm satisfied with the progress so far."

Injuries to key cagers, however, have posed some problems. Bill Harrison, a sure starter is out for the season with a knee injury, and two stalwart guards, Joe Andrews and Dennis Matthews are temporarily sidelined. Andrews has a bad case of shin splints and Matthews is suffering a dislocated finger.

Probable starting forwards who will alternate with Evans are lettermen Rick Milne and Tom Wicke. Both have come a long way, Longridge reports. Wicke is a better rebounder and shooter while Milne has shown strength under the boards.

Rounding out the top prospects in the front line is the tallest man on the team, six-five Mark Cushing. Just a junior, Cushing will spell the regulars.

It's in the back court that the Mustangs must find a field general, a take-charge guy who can direct the attack. With

When the whistle blows Friday night opening the 1964-65 basketball season at Northville high school gymnasium, the Mustangs will be "one-up" on last year's squad.

Coach Dave Longridge's charges host West Bloomfield following the junior varsity tilt, which begins at 6:30 p.m.

Coach Longridge figures his team's edge comes from a scrimmage held last Saturday against visiting Howell.

"We found things out that should definitely help us. It won't be like last year when we didn't have any pre-season scrimmage to uncover our weaknesses and strengths."

Last year's Mustang five posted a 5-12 record and opened on a particularly sour note at Bloomfield Hills. Bewildered by an all-court press, the Mustangs lost by more than 30 points.

What did Longridge learn that should enhance his team's chances for victory? "We'll have to junk the man-to-man defense in favor of the zone," he pointed out.

While using the man-to-man defense Saturday, the local cagers were outplayed by the smaller yet speedier visitors to the tune of 51-40 at the end of four quarters.

Switching to the zone the next two periods, Northville put its height and weight advantage to good use to control the boards and to outscore Howell.

"Since both teams shot 46 per cent," Longridge declared, "we know our man-to-man defense killed us."

The Mustangs also realized that the offensive machine needs some oiling. "We'll have one man yelling out the pattern of play so everyone on the club will know exactly what to do."

Strengths were also evident and Northville's rests will be its muscle under the boards. The front line averages six feet two inches.

Much depends on the performance of six-two Jerry Lansing, a junior center, who must play consistently good ball to make the Mustangs go.

Pushing the veterans at center and forward is Junior Steve Evans, the most improved cager on the squad. At six-two, he is a strong rebounder.

Probable starting forwards who will alternate with Evans are lettermen Rick Milne and Tom Wicke. Both have come a long way, Longridge reports. Wicke is a better rebounder and shooter while Milne has shown strength under the boards.

Rounding out the top prospects in the front line is the tallest man on the team, six-five Mark Cushing. Just a junior, Cushing will spell the regulars.

It's in the back court that the Mustangs must find a field general, a take-charge guy who can direct the attack. With the success of one of its guards rests the fortunes of the Northville squad.

Top prospects are Seniors Jim St. Germain and Tom Bingham and Junior John Jameson. A veteran, St. Germain could be the steady influence if he holds up under game pressure. One year of experience could make the difference.

With Bingham at one guard post, the Mustangs won't be hurt by having two small guards on the floor at the same time. He's a good jumper at six-one.

Jameson could be a sleeper. Longridge declared hopefully. Although he lacks varsity experience he's aggressive and has shown leadership capabilities.

Capable of playing either forward or guard is Junior Mike Turbitt, up from the JV squad. He's a strong rebounder in need of experience, but he's a "hard worker."

Those are the standouts thus far, but as Longridge noted, any other varsity members could move up, providing they show they "have the stuff." This includes John Callaghan, Art Forth, George Burchfield and Bob Lantry.

Against West Bloomfield, Northville will face an always scrappy team led by six-two Junior John Hecht and Tim Molner, a six-one sophomore.

Hurling the Laker's chances for a strong cage season is the departure of All-League Guard Dan Craig, the squad sparkplug. If Molner and Hecht can take up the slack, West Bloomfield will be tough.

But Northville can expect the usually scrappy team that Coach Art Paddy turns out every year.

Top teams in the circuit this year and pre-season favorites are Holly, Milford and Bloomfield Hills. Holly, with an all-veteran array is the strongest, followed by Milford with veterans and members of last year's strong reserve unit and Bloomfield Hills, which must come up with the back court men to make a serious bid.

Mustang Matmen Strong in Defeat

Putting everything into focus the Northville matmen made a successful wrestling debut even though they lost, 31-18 Wednesday to visiting Livonia Bentley.

Coach Dick Gray slimmed up his team's first encounter.

Niles Hurt At Jackson

Howard Niles, well-known Northville horseman, was injured November 18 in a race at Jackson Raceway.

Niles suffered a broken hip and was taken to Mercy hospital in Jackson. He was slated to be confined at Mercy for at least 10 days, before returning to Northville for a recuperation period estimated as long as six months.

The popular driver was injured when the horse of another driver fell in front of Niles, who was then thrown towards the infield rail.

When he said, "We did well considering it was our first meet and our opposition was a class A team."

And of the 12 local varsity Mustangs entered in the match, five were wrestling in competition for the first time.

Mustang winners before an enthusiastic crowd of 100 fans were Tom Wright, Mike Horner, Jerry Burns and Dick Clark. Wright, seated in the 103-pound category, pinned his man in just 17 seconds of the opening round. The sophomore's performance was one of the most sterling in Northville's mat history.

Burns, a heavyweight All-Stater, also pinned his opponent as did 165-pound Mike Horner. Freshman Clark, a 133-pounder wrestling in his first meet, won by decision.

Although no official score was kept on the performance of the junior varsity entrants, Gray cited Bob Baber and Dwight Hopper for their solid showing.

Schoolcraft Wins First Cage Contest

Schoolcraft college copped its first encounter on the courts Saturday downing Western Ontario Institute of Technology, 71-59.

Schoolcraft hosted the Canadian quintet at the Clarenceville high school gym.

The community college five took an early lead and was never headed. The halftime score was 41-26.

Four Schoolcraft cagers hit for double figures, Cal Lulbrand with 19, John Breckinridge with 15, Gerald Kisabeth, 14, and Scott McIntyre, 13.

Marvin Gans and Wilson Munn coach the Schoolcraft team.

Wixom Hockey Teams Call First Practice

Wixom's hockey team will launch its 1964-65 season next Wednesday night under the lights at the city hall rink.

Tom Burke, recreation director, has called a 7 p.m. practice session.

Burke said two teams will be formed — one for boys from 9-13 years of age and the other for youths from 13-18.

"All goalie equipment, and helmets will be provided by the city," Burke said.

Wixom is a member of the Waterford township league which will start its regular schedule in a few weeks, according to Burke. Half the games will be played at home while the others will probably be scheduled at Cranbrook or the University of Michigan.

Burke asks players to register at the city hall with DPW Director Robert Trombley before the first practice round.

Hockey Call

Any boys between the ages of 12 and 14 interested in playing ice hockey this winter in a regular league or artificial ice may try out with the bantam team from Plymouth. Tryouts are scheduled for the next two Saturdays at 7 a.m. at the University of Michigan ice rink at Ann Arbor. For further information call 453-9297.

Legion Taps Local Trio

Three Northville Legionnaires have been appointed to national American Legion committees by National Commander Donald E. Johnson of West Branch, Iowa.

Announcement of the appointments was made by State Commander Duane T. Brigstock.

C. Oscar Hammond, a former state commander and resident of 511 North Center street, was named vice chairman of the National American Council.

John J. Steimel, 488 Hill street, was named general member of the National Council-Subsides committee.

And David McDougall, 9330 Napier, was appointed general member of the General Membership and Post Activities committee.

They Earn All A's At MSU

Three Northville students were among 330 at Michigan State University earning all-A records during the spring and summer terms.

The students were feted recently at a dinner by MSU President John A. Hannah and placed on the university's honor roll, which offers "recognition of the highest attainment in scholarship."

The students from Northville were Etta C. Rutan, 840 Grace; Richard L. Woborn, 320 High; and Gary T. Grysiwicz, 131 Ely drive.

J-HOP FUN — Dancing and gaiety again highlighted the traditional Northville high school J-Hop held last Friday evening at the community building. Shown squeezing through the arch of arms are Sandy Parmenter and Artie Forth.

Area Residents Hurt In Three Accidents

A three-car collision last Tuesday, on North Center street near Northville high school caused minor injuries to the occupants.

Police said the driver of one of the cars, Harold E. Borne of 8890 Dudley, Taylor Township, crossed over the yellow line, struck the car of James E. Carrell, 129 North Wing street and careened into the on-coming car driven by Mrs. Cecil Boynton, 230 North street, Brighton.

Carrell and Mrs. Boynton were driving south on Center street when Borne's car swerved into their path. They were taken to St. Mary hospital with cuts and bruises.

A passenger in the Carrell car, Harold Chambers of Ecorse, was not injured.

A two-car accident on Beck and Eight Mile roads, Wednesday November 25, sent two motorists to the hospital with minor injuries. An eastbound car driven by Mrs. Patricia Dixon of 8121 West Six Mile road started making a left hand turn onto Beck road from Eight Mile.

According to police, Mrs. Dixon had not seen a westbound car driven by Orville Wallman of 23777 Currie road, South Lyon. Wallman swerved to avoid a collision but struck Mrs. Dixon's car head-on.

Mrs. Dixon was hospitalized and Mrs. Wallman, a passenger in her husband's car, was taken to St. Mary hospital for observation.

In the third accident, Anthony Psaris of 1 Arbor Way had a close call Friday morning at Eight Mile and Lanthorn. Psaris lost control of his car in avoiding a collision with another car driven by Jack Kaday of 20852 Chigwidden.

Kaday was making a left turn onto Eight Mile and did not see Psaris approaching from the west. Psaris swerved off the road, missed a row of trees and spun around on the gravel.

His car ended up going west instead of east.

There was no impact or damage to either car but Psaris, wearing a neck brace from injuries suffered in a previous accident, was taken to St. Joseph hospital in Ann Arbor.

A reception for the Melands will follow the 7 p.m. service.

Training, Camping Occupy Troop 731

Boy Scout Troop 731 of Northville has been active in both training and camping this month. Adult leaders, Jeff Baker, Dick Bloomhuff, Bud Shank, Bob Shronce, Don Tiffin and Frank Whitmyer attended two or more sessions of the adult leader's training course, presented in Livonia for the Sunset District. Bloomhuff, troop committee chairman, completed the entire course plus campout.

Eighteen scouts camped out at the D-A ranch in Brighton on November 7 and 8. Scout fathers, Harold Thomas, Gene Leper, Ralph Hay, Rex Holoman, Jim Breen helped Gene Walter, assistant scout master, at the campout.

This past week-end junior leaders of the troop, Bill Skelly, Kurt Wiley, Tom Leper, Alan Whitmyer, Bill Baker, John Bowen, Clayton Walker and Paul Orphan attended junior leaders training in Garden City. They were accompanied by J. Baker and R. Hay.

With their extensive training the troop is expecting a full-year of fun and adventure and would like to extend an invitation to all boys, 11 years or older, to join their 730 p.m. Monday meeting at the Methodist church.

'Bargain Nook' Opens Locally

Another shop has opened along the business row on North Center street in Northville.

The Bargain Nook, a miscellaneous resale store, put its merchandise on sale for the first time last Friday. It replaces Jack's barbershop which recently relocated on East Dunlap street.

Reflection as well as anticipation can do much to stabilize and settle one's attitudes. As this will be my last article for the Record in this calendar year, I will indulge a bit in looking backward over the year 1964, and then thrust my thinking into some of life's great tomorrows, namely 1965.

Each one of us will remember some high points during 1964, as well as some of the times when life seemed rather pointless and frustrating. As a part of a nation that experienced a level of prosperity that gave most of its citizenry cause for Thanksgiving, we admit to being well favored with the good things of this world. It has been said that our poor in this age are more comfortable than kings and princes of old. Obviously, this will not prove to be true in many cases. None the less, the U.S.A. is well fortified with material blessings. Our nation went through the experience again of electing its national leadership. With this comes always a certain amount of division and animosity. Pray as we do, some of this seems to carry over into the everyday routines. We have made much progress in many ways that show we can live together under the canopy of God's heavens, with understanding and equality of opportunity for all who desire to live and "work" and "apply themselves," responsibly to the job of living in a world of competitive effort. We have reached for the stars not only poetically, but actually. As we have tried to bring into focus our prayers for God's grace to understand our fellow-men and to have the ability to live truly as neighbors, we have into some stumbling blocks such as pride and prejudice (not new enemies to man's better nature).

Loss of work for many because of labor and industrial disagreements as well as some of the racial tensions that have broken forth in a sad demonstration of man's spiritual strength, form a backdrop of dismay for the year 1964. There is good reason to be reminded that the Gospel admonished us to "judge not lest ye be judged" and know that the first stone should be thrown by the one without sin in his own life.

Second Advent Service Slated Here
Second in a series of three advent services in preparation for Christmas will be held next week at St. Paul Evangelical Lutheran church in Northville.

The service will begin at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday and the topic of the sermon will be prophecy. The upper grades of St. Paul's Christian Day school will sing the anthem: "The Advent of Our King." A week later, on December 16, at 7:30 p.m. the third service will be held. The theme will be "Jesus, the Branch from Jesse's roots," also based on the Old Testament.

Mr. Hoppe, who is a member of National Council of Church's committee on Racial Relations,

We Won!

Garry and I won first prize last Saturday! It was the young people's Old-Time costume party at the church, and we had a wonderful time.

I go to almost everything the club puts on, and of course there are lots of activities besides parties and dances. We visit hospitals, we collect and repair toys for underprivileged children, and we help with various church events. We have regular religious discussion groups that often get me so interested I continue the discussion around the family dinner table all week long! Mom and Dad don't mind, though. They think it's good for me to be mixing with other young Christians, and they never worry when I'm over at the club.

Your own church offers many enjoyable and worthwhile activities for Christians of every age. Why not join? You'll be warmly welcomed.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL • ALL FOR THE CHURCH
The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Northville Board of Education Minutes

November 9, 1964

I. The meeting was called to order in the board of education offices by president James F. Kipfer at 7:30 p.m.

Present: Mr. Kipfer, Mr. Wilfred C. Becker, Mr. Edward F. Angove, Mr. Eugene K. Cook, Mr. Robert H. Shafer, Mr. William B. Crump, Mr. Elmer Weber

Absent: None

Others Present: Superintendent R. H. Amerman; assistant superintendent K. M. MacLeod; director of administrative services E. V. Ellison; principals F. Stefanski, L. Quay, D. Van Ingen, H. Smith and R. Spear; Mrs. Robert Yoder; Mr. David Longridge, of high school faculty, Miss Linda Kate Edgerton.

II. The minutes of the meeting of October 12, 1964 were read by the secretary and one correction noted. The minutes of the meeting of October 26 were then read by the secretary and two corrections noted, after which they were approved.

III. Communications:

1. Maintenance employees board-faculty dinner.

2. Our Lady of Victory school, requesting use of our gymnasium facilities for basketball, on the same basis as other years. They would appreciate being able to use the gymnasium for additional and more convenient hours this year.

3. Miss Ada Fritz, of Main street elementary faculty, also expressing appreciation for faculty dinner.

IV. Report of Superintendent:

Meeting with Novi board of education — Mr. Amerman reviewed for the board a conversation which he and Dr. MacLeod have had with Mr. Culbert, superintendent of the Novi Schools, regarding the coming meeting and the two districts' mutual problems. A discussion followed, regarding our crowded high school conditions and the question of when Novi 10th graders should be eliminated. No decision was reached, pending discussion with Novi board of education which is to be held on November 10.

IV. Report of Superintendent:

2. Citizens' Committees — Mr. Amerman advised the board that all three subcommittees to the Citizens' Advisory Planning Group have had several meetings and he feels that it might be helpful to call a general meeting of all three committees, to review what has been accomplished to date. Another possibility would be to have a representative of each committee attend the next board of education meeting and give a progress report.

It was decided to hold a general meeting of all the subcommittees and the administrators, on November 9 at 1 p.m. in the junior high library. Mr. Kipfer outlined the following objectives for this meeting:

1. A progress report from each sub-committee.

2. The charge will be presented to the entire group again.

3. Misunderstandings, if any, will be cleared up and a more definite timetable initiated.

3. Petty Cash — In accordance with the board's suggestion at the last regular meeting, Mr. Amerman has had a survey made of monthly expenditures of $10.00 or less. He finds that an additional $30.00 per month allocated to the Internal Accounting Fund, would enable us to pay all bills up to $1.00 from that fund. The current allotment to Internal Accounting is $250.00. It was moved by Mr. Crump and seconded by Mr. Shafer that an additional $150.00 per month be allocated from the General Fund to the Internal Accounting Fund, and that all bills of $10.00 or less be paid from the Internal Accounting Fund. Motion carried.

4. Maintenance Department — Mr. Ellison reported several illnesses among the maintenance personnel. Mr. Iversen is in the hospital awaiting surgery, and Mr. Iversen is having circulatory troubles and expects to go to the hospital shortly. Mr. Ellison is still looking for a boiler engineer.

IV. Report of the Superintendent:

5. Football Banquet — It was announced by Dr. MacLeod that the annual banquet honoring the football team, will be held this year in the high school cafeteria, sponsored by a luncheon club of businessmen. It will take place on Wednesday, November 18, and all board members are invited to attend.

6. Transportation Problem — Mr. Crump asked about a bus program which had come to his attention and Mr. Amerman reported that a group of parents living on Haggerty road near Seven Mile road had been concerned about the location of the bus stop in that area, feeling that the one which was being used was too hazardous since the roadway there has been altered. Mr. Amerman, Mr. Stefanski and Mr. Quay, in Mr. Ellison's absence, had taken care of the problem, requesting a decision from the state police, who came out immediately and settled the problem.

Enthusiastic Troop 226 Sparkles in New Uniforms

To have all Scouts in a troop in uniform is satisfying to any leader, but when the Girl Scouts are members of the very special Troop 226 at Plymouth State Home and Training School the event is a milestone. This happened for the first time last week.

Another special event for the almost-year-old troop took place Tuesday. Harold Penn of the Northville American Legion Post is presenting a 50-star American flag to the troop. For the occasion the girls mastered the pledge to the flag and some patriotic songs. Leaders Mrs. Robert F. Brueck and Mrs. Francis Jennings explain that one of the joys in establishing the only troop in this section of the country for retarded girls in an institution is their boundless enthusiasm.

"Almost everyone in the school peeked in last Tuesday," Mrs. Brueck relates, "to admire the 14 Scouts all in uniform for the first time." Because the girls range from 12 to 18 years in age and from junior to cadet uniform sizes, buying and begging uniforms was a big project. For a time, Mrs. Brueck admits, one size 40 waistline almost defied finding a green skirt to fit.

At its first full-dress meeting, the troop was reviewed officially by representatives of the Huron Valley Girl Scout council. The troop is under sponsorship of the Northville branch of the National Farm and Garden association, which also sponsors another Northville troop.

The Plymouth home pays the annual scouting dues of the girls, but no weekly dues are collected. Because of the need for materials and money for projects, Mrs. Brueck points out, help always is welcome from local organizations. Right now, sashes still are needed for the uniforms.

As service projects, other Girl Scout troops in the area have baked cookies for "treats" for the girls at their meetings. Mrs. Fred Russell's Northville troop of Senior Scouts is planning to host a Christmas party for the new troop.

Also planned for a future meeting is a trip through the Kroger warehouse on Middlebelt road. On such outings, Mrs. Brueck stresses, the leaders have full cooperation of the Plymouth Home staff. A bit last summer was a trip taken by Mrs. Jennings and the girls to the Northville area day camp.

In starting the troop Mrs. Jennings corresponded with a similar troop in New Jersey. The leaders found it is rare to establish a troop in an institution. They have gleaned ideas from a troop of handicapped Scouts in western Michigan.

Basically, the leaders are following a Junior Scouting program with the girls working on the Sign of the Arrow. Mrs. Brueck admits that sometimes achievements take two or three times as long as normal, but then the reward, too is three-fold!

"You don't feel you are wasting your time for one minute," Mrs. Brueck explains as she tells how she looks forward to the Tuesday meetings. Like Mrs. Jennings she had been "involved" in scouting with her daughters for several years.

Right now, Mary Beth Brueck is in a Junior troop while Barbara is a Cadet.

Thus, it wasn't hard for Mrs. Jennings to persuade her to try the troop at the home. Mrs. Jennings, whose council job is organizational, became so devoted that she remained as the other troop leader.

Red Cross Provides 'Voices From Home'

"You can put a lot into your serviceman's Christmas package, but you can't pack home into it," said Mrs. Richard Cook, Northwest regional chairman for the Voices from Home program of the Detroit chapter of the American Red Cross.

"However, 'Voices from Home' recordings provide the next best thing — the sound of home and loved voices."

The recordings may be made free of charge at the Northwest Regional Office, 31228 Five Mile road, Livonia. They permit 12½ minutes of personal message for the holiday season, a birthday or family anniversary which can be played back in private by the serviceman through facilities provided by the Red Cross Field Director stationed at all military installations. Hours for making the recordings are 11 a.m. to 8:30 p.m. through December 12.

Call the Northwest Regional Office of the Red Cross, 422-2787 now and make your appointment to send, your serviceman the gift only you can send.

Democrats Plan Victory Party

Former Governor John L. Swanson and 2nd district congressman-elect Weston Vivian will be the featured speakers at 8 p.m. Friday at the victory celebration and membership invitation sponsored by the Wayne II Democratic organization. The celebration will take place at the American Legion hall at 888 North Sheldon road in Plymouth. Marvin Stempel, recently elected as the 35th district state representative, will also be on hand along with Wayne county officials. A buffet dinner and refreshments will be served free of charge.

SPEAKING for The Record

By BILL SLIGER

Bob St. Germaine is the director of education at the Wayne County Training school in Northville township. Understandably, he's enthusiastic, and proud, of the work that's being done with children at the Sheldon road facility.

Tuesday he talked to the Northville Rotary club. And for those who might have had other ideas, he explained that WCTS is not a jail for bad boys.

Indeed, St. Germaine pointed out, WCTS is the only county institution of its kind in the nation. And it is doing work in the field of special education that is attracting the attention of other institutions throughout the United States.

There are 600 boys and girls at WCTS, about twice as many boys as girls.

Most of the youngsters are there because they had problems in adjusting . . . in the home, at school, in society in general. They may be retarded, but frequently the routine and attention at WCTS releases tensions that reveal the youngster — given the opportunity to perform — is normal.

The whole purpose of WCTS is to provide special training for these youngsters so that they may return to society as useful citizens.

WCTS is fully staffed with specialists in this field. And St. Germaine will tell you that these teachers are dedicated to finding ways to succeed.

They find, for example, that a retarded youngster may do exceptionally well in art, music or home repairs.

Practical, functional exercises are employed — such as toasting bread, frying eggs, voting, buying something through a want ad, looking for a job, using the telephone in an emergency.

These youngsters have an opportunity to observe boys and girls in the community around them and they're finding they're not unlike themselves, St. Germaine pointed out.

He concluded by inviting interested citizens to visit WCTS and see firsthand what is being done.

And as a clincher to the taxpayer, he noted that the cost of keeping each youngster at WCTS, or any institution, is about $2,500 per year. Prison costs run much higher.

So for each youngster that can be helped during the average four-year stay at WCTS, the taxpayer's ahead, the community has gained a useful citizen and a human being has been given a chance at making his own happiness in life.

Rotarian Cliff Hill has come up with a unique project.

He's chairman of the international relations committee this year and has started a letter-writing campaign with some 300 Rotary clubs in foreign countries.

What's more, Cliff had each of the letters written in the language of the country.

Eighty-seven clubs have replied and Cliff has assigned these letters to local Rotarians for answering. As a result, Northville Rotarians are creating letter friendships with Rotarians in Ireland, Ecuador, Scotland, Australia, New Zealand, Tasmania, Bechuanaland (in central Africa) and a host of other countries.

"I honestly believe if the people of the world get to know one another better, we'd stop fighting," says Hill.

His approach seems too direct and simple for the state department.

An Age of Electrical Power

The utilization of moving water to accomplish useful work dates back to very ancient times when water wheels were employed to lift the water of rivers for use in irrigation. Before the advent of electricity, water power turned the water wheels or turbines which powered machines in mills along the banks of rivers, and in such installations as the Sausage Iron works.

Whether power from the prime mover is transmitted to the machines by mechanical or electrical means depends on the efficiency of the transmission, the nature of the load, the proximity of the load, the convenience achieved, and the cost. Where the load is similar to that in a grist mill, the power might be transmitted more economically by mechanical coupling. If there are many machines in various locations to be turned on or off frequently electrical power transmission would be preferable.

Where the capacity of a waterfall is large, the power is usually distributed in the form of electricity. Because of the economies of large installations, industries can purchase electricity from a power company more cheaply than they can make it themselves. For example, the Tennessee Valley Authority is able to generate electricity at two-tenths of a cent per kilowatt hour. Some of the largest hydroelectric plants are in Russia, e.g. Bratsk, 4,500,000 kw, and Nurek, 2,700,000 kw.

These compare with the Grand Coulee on the Columbia River, 1,974,000 kw, and with the Hoover Dam on the Colorado river 1,345,000 kw. The total of the Niagara and the Robert Moses Dams is nearly 3,000,000 kw.

There is a trend toward higher and higher voltages in transmission lines because the power loss on the line decreases as the voltage increases. However, the cost increases also; so that a point is finally reached at which the saving in transmission equals the interest on the investment. Beyond this point it is uneconomical to use a more expensive line.

The Quebec Hydro-Electric transmit power from the Manicouagan and Outardes Rivers to Montreal at 700,000 volts. Here and in Europe there is discussion of sending power at one million volts. At the Grand Falls on the Hamilton river in Labrador there is a capacity of some 600,000 kilowatts, which could be transmitted to the Manicouagan river development by a 700 kv line for use in Montreal and even for extension to New York City and other urban communities in northeastern U.S.A.

It would appear that the loss in transmitting power from such falls is much less than most people think. The expense is almost wholly the interest payment on the investment in wires, towers, and right of way. The cost of construction such as high-voltage line is from $75,000 to $100,000 per mile. Hence to construct a line from Grand Falls to the Manicouagan River would cost some $40 million. Because of the very small loss in transmitting power by wires, this

Schools Seek New Tax Source

LANSING — School district officials throughout the state are frustrated that their efforts to meet local educational needs were stalemated by a 1964 legislative act.

The local property tax is no longer adequate to provide revenue for the schools along with other community services, they say, and voters vent their ire on school millage proposals because of high taxes at all levels.

This year the Legislature adopted a law declaring a moratorium on all local taxes except the city income levy.

Now local school board members are hoping a legislative committee will recommend to the 1965 session authorization for school districts to levy excise taxes rather than relying almost totally on the property tax revenues.

The committee headed by Rep. James N. Folks, R-Horton, has been told school districts suffer heavily in nearly every extra millage and school bonding proposal. Voters defeat such questions because they have no direct control over other taxes.

School districts now get part of the state sales tax, cigarette and liquor tax collections in addition to the snare of local property assessments. A number of school officials feel they now should be allowed to impose excise taxes on items such as gasoline, cigarettes, intangibles, incomes or sales.

Other education-oriented spokesmen contend additional funds for local school operations should come from a bigger cut in existing or new state revenues.

"Education in Michigan needs a great deal more money and the only adequate way to meet this need is through a state income tax, a significant portion of which should go back to the schools," says Henry Linne, Grosse Pointe president of the Michigan Federation of Teachers.

With a substantial surplus in the treasury from the last fiscal year, it is certain these divergent views among school people will be strongly represented in lobbying attempts next year to get a bigger share of state funds available.

Much has been heard in Michigan about the smog problems existing on the West Coast, largely blamed on Michigan-made automobiles.

Although the blame is more dispersed among several industries, some areas of Michigan also have expressed deep concern with the general problem of air pollution. Much less has been heard to date about this problem in Michigan, however.

Specific authority to control air pollution of any origin has rested solely at the local level for many years, although the State Health Department has worked with community officials on projects to eliminate air pollution.

Next year, however, Gov. Romney has indicated he will propose to Legislature the first state-wide regulatory legislation and appropriation for an air pollution control program.

By proposing the creation of an air pollution section within the Health Department, Romney hopes the state will qualify for some federal funds under the new Federal Clean Air Act.

Romney may attempt to get a state appropriation which would give the new working unit about $80,000 in combined state and federal monies for the initial program.

The governor said the start of the program "will be a major forward step toward assuring the people of Michigan that the air we breathe is as free from contamination as modern science and vigorous education and enforcement can make possible."

Voter rejection by a wide margin of the so-called Massachusetts ballot enacted by the 1964 Legislature came as a big surprise to many, including some Democrats in high positions.

Democrats organized the petition drive which led to ballot placement of the controversial measure.

It appeared to be a well organized petition campaign and resulted in the filing of more signatures than ever before gathered on a referendum question.

The opposition movement then seemed to disappear. Little publicity was directed to urge a "no" vote on the state proposal.

One state elections official, a nonpartisan civil servant, said he was very surprised that the vote was so decisive. His reaction was based largely on the fact that the wording on such proposals is often unclear to many voters and rarely has such a controversial question been decided without an extensive campaign by proponents or opponents of it.

Another state officer elected on the Democratic ticket expressed similar surprise at the outcome of the Massachusetts ballot question.

"We were very lucky on this for some reason," he said. "Another time using as little campaign effort as was exerted after the petition drive we might not be so fortunate," he said.
