

A New Heart Best Christmas Present of All

There has been "a miracle on Grace street" in Northville.

Little Stacey Lynn Lusk has beaten "thousand-to-one odds" to overcome a heart defect. It healed itself naturally.

Stacey, two-year-old daughter of Ernest and Nancy Lusk of 561 Grace, was born with a hole in the lower chamber of her heart.

She had another strike against her at birth, her mother explained.

"Stacey was born with the RH factor—where the negative and positive blood won't mix," Mrs. Lusk said. "But she conquered that without an exchange of blood."

When she was three months old, the blond toddler underwent a series of tests at Henry Ford hospital to determine her condition.

"They used a special camera on her that was inserted through an artery in her leg," related her father. "The tiny camera took a picture of her heart and the hole was discovered."

For the first year of her life, Stacey was exposed to electrocardiogram and fluoroscope probes and physical checkups every three months. Then the heart specialist told the Lusks to bring Stacey back in a year for an annual examination. It took place last Tuesday.

"She was given a clean bill of health," smiled Mrs. Lusk. "We're so happy. It's so wonderful — it really is."

The specialist informed the couple that the hole had "knitted itself together" and "she is cured for good."

All this was done without surgery and drugs, Lusk remarked. "If she hadn't improved, she would have been operated on next year."

"But, now, she is just as good as new," Lusk beamed. Stacey can romp with her brothers — William, 8, Courtney, 6, and Wayne, 5 —

"something she couldn't do without becoming exhausted before," Mrs. Lusk said.

"Stacey used to tire easily and would have to rest to build up her strength."

As the reporter was going out the door, Lusk reflected. "This is the nicest Christmas gift of all."

Reef Manufacturing To Move Plant Here

Announcement of the sale of a building in Northville township this week promises to lead to the establishment of a new industry and construction of a new retail building.

Reef Manufacturing Company, Inc., has purchased the Glenn Long Plumbing & Heating building at 43300 Seven Mile road, just east of the C & O railroad, and expects to move its gage manufacturing business from Warren to Northville by April 1.

Early Copy

Christmas and New Year's editions of The Record will be published one day early.

Therefore, news and advertising copy deadlines for the next two weeks will be moved ahead one day to Monday.

Offices are open daily until 5 p.m. and Saturdays until 1 p.m. To submit want ads or news items telephone FI 9-1700.

Band to Present Winter Concert

A program of traditional Christmas music, familiar popular favorites and a little jazz will be offered this Saturday evening when the Northville high school band presents its annual winter concert.

Director Robert Williams will raise his baton at 8 p.m. for the 1½-hour-long program that will include a variety of Christmas selections as well as The Water Music by Handel, Dixie, Porgy & Bess, A Festival Prelude, Fantasy on American Sailing Songs, Wake Me Up for the Great Jubilee and others.

Members of the jazz band unit will also perform along with a woodwind group which includes Director Williams, three other fellow music teachers and two college students.

Meanwhile, Glenn Long has announced that he has made arrangements to acquire property at 112 East Dunlap to build a retail plumbing supply store.

The Long building on Seven Mile was constructed about 10 years ago and measures 40 by 120 feet on a 100 by 315 foot lot.

Reef Manufacturing is owned by Mr. and Mrs. Jan Reef of 41520 Eight Mile road in Northville. It is one of two operations conducted by Reef and involves the manufacture of a patented gage used for checking grooves and forms. The gages are sold throughout the world.

Another Reef enterprise, Reef Industries, is located in East Detroit. A partner and general manager of this operation is Ed Langtry of Northville.

Reef said the new gage industry in the Long building would employ about 10 men and that some remodeling of the building would take place before operations begin.

While the move of Reef Manufacturing company to Northville is proceeding smoothly, Long has encountered some snags in his proposal to build on Dunlap.

The property is owned by Charles Carrington, partner in the Carrington and Johnson real estate and insurance agency.

Long proposes to build a 25 by 100 foot building adjacent to an apartment house owned by Carrington. At a later date, probably in 1965, Carrington proposes to tear down the house and erect an office building which would accommodate two other businesses in addition to his own.

Carrington proposes to use the west Long building wall as a common or "party" wall.

Planning commissioners have taken a dim view of the proposal. Their master plan calls for widening Dunlap at that point, which would cut into half of the proposed new building. Parking is planned for the rest of the area.

In addition, the planners are skeptical of the zoning classification of Long's plumbing operation. He says its retail sales of plumbing fixtures and supplies, a C-2 zoning classification. At least some of the planners believe it's a plumbing and heating service, or C-3 zoning.

There's also some question of how the business should be classified for offstreet parking requirement.

A decision was expected to be reached last night (Wednesday). It appeared there would be concessions from both sides.

Long would agree to follow early American design of his building and brick three sides (the west side would be block until Carrington builds).

Planners would probably agree to the opinion of Attorney Philip Ogilvie that Long's business requires but one parking space per 800 square feet, not one per 150 square feet.

Some question remains as to the legal requirements in building next to the Carrington house. And unless the planners are willing to permit construction next to his house with the understanding that he can build an office connected to the Long building, Carrington would not be interested in selling his property.

Will the early spring racing dates at Northville Downs create a community problem?

Members of the Northville board of education posed this question Monday night, while looking twice at the employment of teachers at the track. They reached no definite conclusion.

They did contend, however, that the local harness racing facility attracts a few undesirable elements to Northville during the racing season.

Trustee E. O. Weber introduced the subject when he pointed to the 18 spring racing dates beginning March 25 (see story this page). He said he was "concerned about the safety of youngsters in the evening" with "these characters running around."

It is not the first time Northville Downs has operated with school still in session. Opening April dates have been assigned the track in previous years, but recently the season has been during mid-summer.

Weber said he flatly opposed operating the track during the school year and added "if I had a teenage daughter, I would really be concerned about this thing."

Veteran Trustee Robert Shafer was somewhat more cautious.

He admonished Weber to spell out his complaint. "If you're going to tie down the matter you've got to make it concrete," Shafer pointed out.

James Kipper, board president remarked "we aren't going to change the racing dates but we could change the date of school functions."

His suggestion was not endorsed by other board members who felt the district should not make a concession to the track's schedule.

Weber conceded "it is a nebulous anticipatory type of thing"

Downs Awarded Split 57-Night Harness Season

Northville Downs has been awarded 57 nights of racing for the 1965 season by Racing Commissioner Berry Beaman, nine more than the successful 48-night 1964 meet.

But for the first time in the history of the local trotting oval the meet will be divided into two schedules.

Harness racing will open in 1965 at Northville Downs on March 26. Just 18 nights later it will move to Wolverine Raceway in Livonia for 55 nights before returning to Northville on June 21 for 39 more nights of racing through August 4.

"It's a peculiar situation. It could be bad or good," said John Carlo, executive manager of the Downs.

But Carlo revealed that Northville would go "all out" to give the early-season fans a comfortable meet.

Despite the fact that the early meet at the Downs is only 18 nights, Carlo said planning has already started to install infrared electric heat in the grandstands.

"The heating will make it comfortable in the stands even in chilly weather," Carlo noted.

He also speculated at what might happen to harness racing in the future, especially in Jackson.

Northville Downs would like very much to hold the Jackson meet, traditionally in late fall. Leon Slavin, president of Jackson Raceway, has tried to move his operation to Northville but the racing commissioner has blocked the switch.

Carlo notes that Windsor will open a new track this fall in competition with Jackson. And he's quick to point out that Northville — with its newly heated grandstands — would fare far better than Jackson in direct competition with the Canadian track for the fall meet.

Carlo thinks it's still possible for Jackson to switch its meet to Northville this year.

Jackson has more trouble than just the new Windsor track. Its first two nights, Friday and Saturday, October 8 and 9, conflict with the final two nights of racing at Hazel Park. Slavin has already said he would rather give up the two nights than compete with a Detroit track for fans, as well as horses.

Overall, Commissioner Beaman issued more harness dates than ever. The total of 212 nights of racing is 16 more than last year.

The split dates at Northville were caused by construction at the Detroit Race Course which will not be complete by the March 26 date. Wolverine, which leases the DRC for harness racing, must open its season as soon as possible so that running dates may follow.

Nine additional nights of racing should give a boost to the city of Northville's tax coffers. Last year the city collected a record $151,000 in rebates from the state based on the total mutual handle for the 48-night season. If the betting average holds up in 1965, the city would gain some $30,000 in tax returns.

School's Out Next Week

A Christmas wish for area students will come true next Wednesday. Schools will close for the holidays.

All classes at Northville and Novi schools will be dismissed at the end of the day.

Our Lady of Victory and St. Paul's Lutheran schools will follow the same schedule, according to school officials.

Only exception is the Wixom elementary school which is in the Walled Lake school district. Youngsters will be let out next Tuesday afternoon.

All area schools will resume classes on Monday, January 4.

Spring Racing Dates Bring School Board Objections

Novi school officials have asked the Northville board of education for more time in resolving the tuition student problem at the high school.

In a letter to the Northville school board, Novi Superintendent Tom Culbert Monday night requested a "delay on the tenth grade problem for another month."

It was granted. Culbert said in his correspondence that the "Novi board of education and the administration has spent considerable time since the joint meeting of November 24 in studying the many problems involved in a high school program in Novi."

"As you know, there are problems of bond issues and construction, program development, accreditation and adequate operating revenue."

In the first week in January, Culbert said he and the board of education would like to discuss the alternatives facing the district "with the parents of the students."

Culbert added: "We hope the issue can be resolved in the best interests of both districts."

Northville would like Novi to instruct its own tenth graders next "fall" due to overcrowded classrooms at the high school.

In addition, the Northville board wants to phase out the Novi eleventh graders in 1966 and graduate the last Novi seniors in 1967.

But Novi's board is hoping it will be given a year's reprieve so a high school program can be readied and be in operation in two years. The Novi board contends it could not be established by next September.

A classroom wing would be attached to the new Novi junior high school to accommodate the tenth graders.

In other official business, the board.

Sold the Chapman school building at Nine Mile and Taff roads and a piece of land measuring 80 by 320 feet for $500.

Advised the administration to prepare bids for a new school bus.

Told the administration to review a bus problem with residents on Westview drive. Parents would like the bus to come down their street if they provide adequate turning space for it. The bus now stops for the pupils at Eight Mile road.

Senator-Elect

Paul Chandler Dies

Paul Chandler

Paul M. Chandler, who has represented the Northville area as a state legislator since 1962 and was elected state senator in the new 14th senatorial district last month, died early Saturday at the age of 45.

Chandler suffered a heart attack at his Livonia home and was dead on arrival at St. Mary hospital at 4:50 a.m.

Funeral services were held Monday afternoon at the Faith Lutheran church with burial in Glen Eden cemetery in Livonia.

Governor George Romney and a number of state political leaders from both parties attended the funeral.

Chandler, a Republican, was publisher of the Observer news-papers in Livonia, Plymouth,

Redford and Farmington. Last March the legislator collapsed at his desk on the House floor and was hospitalized. His illness was diagnosed as "complete physical exhaustion."

Chandler is survived by his wife, Myra; their daughter, Jennifer, 1½; a son by a previous marriage, Thomas 16; and three stepchildren, William 13, Cathy 14, and Cindy 9.

Also surviving are his mother and father, Mr. and Mrs. J. Paul Chandler, and a sister, Mrs. Ruth Tomlinson of Galena, Illinois. Mr. Chandler, Sr., was formerly business manager of the Sault Ste. Marie Evening News and is now retired.

A native of Sault Ste. Marie, Chandler was graduated from the University of Michigan in 1941. He was a navy officer and won the bronze star in World War II.

He worked for the Associated Press in Michigan for two years prior to entering the service and after the war joined the sports staff of the Detroit News. In 1952 he became a vice president of the Michigan Racing Association.

In May, 1956 Chandler purchased The Plymouth Mail and The Livonian with William McKay, an attorney. Several years later he relinquished The Mail ownership and continued publication of The Livonian, expanding it into the present Observer chain.

Governor to Call Special Election

Governor George Romney announced at a press conference this week that a special election will be called to fill the senate vacancy created by the death of GOP Senator-Elect Paul M. Chandler.

An aide said the election would be called as soon as possible, "probably in January." Chandler defeated Democrat James McCarthy of Livonia in the November election and was one of only two Republicans elected to state office in Wayne county.

The 14th senatorial district to which Chandler was elected serves a wide area including Highland, White Lake, Milford, Commerce, West Bloomfield, Walled Lake, Lyon township and the city of South Lyon and Wixom, Novi, Northville, Plymouth, Farmington and Livonia.

Leaking Gasoline Causes Explosion

A manhole cover near the home of a Northville city official literally blew its top Tuesday morning.

Responding to a call at 201 Fairbrook where Councilwoman Beatrice J. Carlson lives, Northville fire fighters immediately began to trace the origin of a sewer fire.

As volunteer fireman Robert Osborne was set to pry up the cover, there was an explosion, lifting the lid out of its base and into the air.

It looked like a flying saucer, raising about 30 feet in the air. Fortunately, the firemen scattered as it dropped to the street.

Fire Chief Bud Hartner said the cover weighed 135 pounds. In an effort to vent the sewer, Chief Hartner said "gasoline fumes hit the air — and what!"

Hartner attributed the fire to a leak in the storage tanks of a filling station at the corner of South Rogers and Seven Mile.

Mrs. Carlson said she has noticed a "terrible odor" of gasoline in the last few weeks but wasn't able to locate the source.

"But Tuesday morning her grandson told her: 'Gasoline smell again.' She went down to the basement to check a drain pipe.

"I had put a wet towel over the drain and it helped to keep out the fumes," Mrs. Carlson said.

Meanwhile, the tanks have been drained at the gas station and filled with water. They will be tested for leaks.

In another fire last Wednesday, a new home in Shadbrook was damaged. It is owned by Enio Kero, 18154 Shadbrook drive. No one was home when the fire was reported.

It's Formal Dress Tonight At State Hospital Dance

They're going to "have a ball" at Northville state hospital tonight.

At 8 p.m. the orchestra leader will raise his baton and the second formal dance to be held for patients will get underway. Sixty patients are expected to attend.

Under the direction of Miss Ramona Huber, assistant director of nursing, the dance gained national recognition last year as the first ever presented in any state institution. Stories on the event appeared in many medical and nursing publications.

Patients chose their formal attire, donated by the student nurses auxiliary, Plymouth Friends of the hospital and other sponsoring groups.

Daryl Stevens and the Minor Keys will provide the music. Assisting Miss Huber with dance arrangements were Margaret Hanson of Farmington, Karen Kero of Northville and Thaddeus Piskorski of Union Lake, Mrs. Jean Dykstra and Darnel Heidelberg, all employees at the hospital.

"If the dance is as successful this year as the one held last year, said Miss Huber, we hope other hospitals throughout the U.S. may follow our trend."

In Our Town

By Jean Day

BELLS ARE RINGING — A joyful addition to the season in our town are the Christmas programs by the Northville Presbyterian Bell Ringers. The group of 25 high school age boys and girls under the direction of William G. Williams performed Sunday at the annual Council of Churches program in Ford auditorium, Detroit.

The Bell Ringers have been invited to be a part of a special Christmas program to be presented from 8 to 8:30 p.m. next Wednesday on Channel two. Mr. Williams arranges his own music for the group which has been in existence for 11 years. He finds replacements no problem for, as one mother observed, "All younger brothers and sisters in a Bell Ringer's family want to become part of the group."

The church bells which produce the melodious tones — and blisters — are hand cast at White Chapel in England. An extra octave for the group has been ordered for almost two years, but the hand production makes delivery slow.

THE NEXT PERFORMANCE by the Bell Ringers will be Friday when Northville Woman's club holds its annual Christmas tea and program at 2 p.m. For this and future meetings of the club year the group is moving to the junior high school building, Mrs. O. F. Reng, president, announces.

The program is to include selected readings by Mrs. Charles Yanne, a club member. The club tradition of honoring new members will be continued.

Mrs. Reng will present Christmas corsages to Mrs. George Hanley, Mrs. George Schueder, Mrs. Walter Gail, Mrs. Arthur Basel, Mrs. E. O. Weber, Miss Florence Keith, Mrs. William P. McDermott, Mrs. John M. Walker, Mrs. Lloyd G. Swank, Miss Ethel Cameron, Mrs. William H. Brasure, Mrs. Hugh McKay, Mrs. Eugene Karer, Mrs. Donald Kushmaul, Mrs. John Stuyvenberg, Mrs. Leonard Klein, Mrs. John Brown, Mrs. John Moorhead and Mrs. Paul Hughes.

In accepting 19 new members during the past year, Mrs. Reng points out that the club board has adopted a policy to "grow with Northville." Now in its 72nd year, Northville Woman's club meets on the first and third Fridays of the month October through March.

TWO CHRISTMAS TREES decorated the social hall of the Northville Presbyterian church Monday as the Northville branch of the Farm and Garden association held its annual Christmas tea. From the festooned side door of the church to the green-skirted tea table, decorations were the expert work of club members.

Jewel-like ornaments of velvet, sequins and beading shimmered from frosted branches — the specialty of Mrs. Edwin E. Mueller. Mrs. George Kohs brought wreaths of cones and greens arrangements with votive candles. President of the group, Mrs. John Begle, brought a jeweled wreath created with cast-off jewelry donated by her friends.

Three members presented a Christmastime program: Mrs. Ronald Hagelstein sang; Mrs. William Slattery read December selections; and Mrs. Kenneth Clum gave an illustrated talk, identifying holiday evergreens. Mrs. Hagelstein is soloist at Detroit Unity church whose Sunday and Wednesday programs are broadcast locally.

Frostings Market Chairman Mrs. E. O. Whittington had returned to town in time for the meeting after a quick visit with her mother in North Carolina. In Asheville, she and Mr. Whittington visited the permanent Christmas time market maintained by that city's Farm and Garden club. Mrs. Whittington reports that this major project is the work of a club of only 50 members.

THE 'LUMINARIAS' which brightened the driveway of the John Begles' Nine Mile road home for buffet supper guests Sunday evening were an idea the Begles adopted after their trip to Mexico last summer.

At Labor Day festivities in Santa Fe, New Mexico, Mrs. Begle relates, the "Mexican candles" brightened homes everywhere, including vast estates and the governor's mansion.

The "luminarias" are made with size 20 bags, the bottoms filled with three or four inches of sand into which a candle is placed. The candles are lighted and the bag tops folded over twice, making dark bands at the top and bottom and a soft light through the bag.

THE ROUND TABLE club in Plymouth with its conversation-piece antiques has been a popular place for entertaining. Mrs. Edwin R. Langtry entertained both her Northville and Detroit bridge clubs there recently.

News Around Northville

Pre-holiday festivities continue around Northville as hosts and hostesses plan coffees, luncheons, cocktail parties and late dinners.

Mrs. Wayne Wilcox and Mrs. Robert Lang co-hosted a old-fashioned coffee Tuesday morning at the home of Mrs. Wilcox on Thayer boulevard. In keeping with an old-fashioned traditional Christmas theme, the table was set with hand-painted china, antique brass pieces and holly. German sour cream coffee cake, a favorite recipe of Mrs. Lang, was among the delicacies served.

A champagne dinner for 24 guests was held Saturday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William E. Schultz of West Main street.

Mr. and Mrs. Cliff Hill entertained Saturday evening at an open-house party at their home on Beck road for 36 of their friends.

Mr. and Mrs. George Merwin of Cottsford road have just returned from a trip to Nassau. They attended the annual meeting of Speed Weeks which was held this year in Nassau, and is the meeting place of international racing and sport-car owners. The Merwins stayed at the Nassau Harbor House.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Spagnuolo have just returned from a visit with Mrs. Spagnuolo's brother Dr. B. Ballard of Riverside, Ontario. Dr. Ballard was just elected Mayor of Riverside.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Van Valkenburgh will celebrate their 60th wedding anniversary with an open house Sunday afternoon from 2 - 5, at the Fellowship hall of the Presbyterian church.

Cadet-sergeant John W. Peat son of Mrs. J. M. Peat of River road will be home for the holidays from Carlisle Military School, Bamberg, South Carolina.

Edmonson at a meeting of the society's board of directors recently. Edmonson is associate dean of engineering at the University of Michigan and immediate past president of ESD.

For the Gardener

This column on gardening information is compiled by the Northville branch of the National Farm and Garden Club.

The plant we in the United States tie over our door ways at Christmas time once grew on the limbs of some deciduous trees in the southeastern states. During winter when the trees stand naked and forlorn we might well think they could never live again.

However, if we look into the branches of some, we can see a small, intrepid shrub in full leaf - this vigorous alien is the well-known mistletoe. All through the winter its color is a vivid yellow-green, and almost golden when it blooms in February and March.

As far back as history can trace, mistletoe has been revered in myth and custom. A plant which grew without benefit of soil, it was used to cure children's ailments, a scourge of witches and talisman to secure good harvest.

Drinks were concocted from its berries to cure sterility and as an antidote for poisons. Since the berries themselves have been reported to be poisonous this treatment must have been quite rigorous.

To a people for whom bare existence was difficult through the winter, this green-gold shrub growing on limbs of leafless trees must have given them hope that spring would come again. At the winter solstice (around December 22) when the sun started its northward trip again, mistletoe was a feature of the festivities. When the mistletoe was hung from some high place public celebrations began, and restraints were forgotten.

This is probably the basis for our present tradition concerning the mistletoe.

Mistletoe is of course, a parasite. All members of its family make their homes in the branches of trees and gain their sustenance by sinking roots into the sapwood of their hosts. Most of the mistletoes do not severely damage their hosts, but some of the more vigorous southwestern varieties will eventually kill the trees on which they grow.

About 10,000 years ago the last glacier retreated from Europe and the flora of that continent began to develop into its present form. Men hunted the forests for game and fruits, and feared the nature they could not understand.

It must have been very early that these people gave special regard to the mistletoe, for it is mentioned in the earliest legends.

Annual Choir Concert Sunday at St. Paul's

The St. Paul's Ev. Lutheran Church choir under the direction of Mr. W. O. Zabel will present their sixth annual Christmas Concert on Sunday December 20, at 7:30 p.m. Mr. Clarence Luchtman, chairman of the music department, at Bloomfield Hills high school, will be the guest organist. Mrs. Carol Radke, teacher in the Christian Day School, will serve as accompanist.

The concert will follow the theme of the Christmas season, proceeding from the observance of Advent through Epiphany. The singing of the carols and anthems will be interspersed with the appropriate scripture readings and congregational singings.

The children will open the concert by chanting the Twenty-fourth Psalm according to the Gelmeau Psalms. They will also sing the perennial favorites: "Glory to God the Angels Sing", "O Holy Night", "O Come, O Come, Immanuel", "Away in a Manger", "Little Children, Can You Tell?", and "Beside Thy Cradle".

The Senior Choir will sing, among other well-known carols: "The Shepherd's Carol", "Mary's Lullaby to the Infant King", "Resonet in Laudibus", "Go Tell It on the Mountain", and, with the congregation, Wagner's arrangement of "Silent Night" with descant.

Among Mr. Luchtman's selections will be the beautiful "Gesu Bambino".

Following the concert, all are invited to a fellowship hour in the parish hall with refreshments served by the Mission Circle of the Women's Guild of St. Paul's church.

Readers Speak

Dear Editor:
I just cannot help but express my views on Novi township after reading the Novi News of December 10. In the article headed, "Tax Notices Mailed Out," it said a "piece of mail arrived this week in area homes that perhaps stirred some grumblings."

It sure did in my case with an increase of over $250 from previous years. With Novi on an assessed valuation, I feel I cannot support any future school increases and etc. on a millage basis.

I feel this is very unfair to all concerned. For example, my total township taxes are over $800 with the school portion well over $600. I believe in school support but cannot afford this type of taxation base.

Why must schools be supported on property assessment rather than on a flat assessed rate per home owner? The size and construction of a home does nothing to increase the school load.

Vacant land requires no schools so why should it support them? Industry does create school problems and therefore, should be taxed on a valuation basis. This type of taxation, I believe, would support our schools.

On a second matter, to quote Mr. Crupi "I hate to open Pandora's Box but I, for one, am paying the equivalent of three mills ($15) for private garbage pickup."

So, again, why not make it a flat rate per household, not on an assessed valuation of property.

I do not feel I should pay the equivalent of $36 for the same service. I also feel that business, and industry should be exempt from this type of program, as they usually have to get a private pickup service anyway.

To the Editor:

The members of the Novi Improvement Association would like to voice their appreciation to the Novi Village Council for its conscientious work in upholding the ordinances of the village.

We are especially grateful for the council's recent successful effort to end the cutting up and burning of junk cars in a location not zoned for that use and for Judge Frederick Ziem's ruling holding that this was a violation of the village zoning ordinances of a small community. We are both grateful and proud to have such fine people on the village council and the Oakland County circuit.

Vicior Rust, President
Novi Improvement Association.

To the Editor:

We are deeply grieved to learn of the untimely death of State Senator-Elect Paul Chandler. In our opinion he was a noble gentleman and an honorable and responsible politician. Too many people prefer the laziness and non-partisanship. They abdicate their birthright and refuse responsibility for active participation in the work of government. These are the do-nothings who chide the politician yet deny their own failure to come to grips with issues.

Paul Chandler was not one of these. He truly believed in the principles of his party, and proudly fought for them. We disagree with the political philosophy which Mr. Chandler espoused, but we always welcomed his honest debate and heritage. For only through fair controversy and debate will the best of political work be accomplished.

Paul Chandler believed this too. We count his passing as a great loss to our community.

LET'S TALK CARS ...

RANDOM HISTORY

If you're wondering what to give the female in your life for Christmas, be a sport and give her a car. At least you'll be keeping up with the times.

A spokesman for the diamond industry recently admitted the fact that while it is still friendly to give diamonds to a girl, they are no longer the most popular gift. Cars have taken first place in gifts over $500, with furs and diamonds following in that order.

An 80-year-old man in Great Bend, Kansas, recently backed into another car, hooked the bumper and towed it five blocks. The car broke free at a busy intersection, jumped the curb and rolled onto the Courthouse lawn. The police caught up to him but are still vainly looking for a traffic ordinance they could charge him with violating.

Times are always changing, of course, and with them the rules that we all live by. The first man to go to jail in North America for a traffic violation was locked up in 1908 in Newport, Rhode Island. He was just involved in an accident and was found driving 18 miles per hour. "This speeding must be stopped," the judge announced and gave him five days.

The streets these days are full of hurrying Christmas shoppers. Drinking and driving just don't go together. And while the speed laws are more liberal jail sentences aren't. Keep it a safe and happy Christmas.

Mustangs Improve, but Still Can't Win

With a return to last year's rebounding form, the Northville Mustangs battled two rivals down to the wire last weekend before losing both hard fought contests.

Holly, a pre-season favorite to cop the Wayne-Oakland title, was given the scare of its life Friday. Only when the ball bounced off the Northville rim as the game ended did the Broncos breathe in the safety of a 55-53 victory.

Saturday's contest on the home court with Plymouth, a class A outfit and traditional foe, was a bruising affair, won in the last minutes by Plymouth 60-52.

Although Northville trailed most of the way, the Mustangs fought to within three points of Plymouth in the final period before the Rocks pulled away by converting in one-and-one

Matmen Pinned

With its veterans pitted against Northville's inexperienced matmen, Redford Union pinned a 33-11 defeat on the Mustangs last Thursday.

Heavyweight Jerry Burns, the most consistent performer this year, pinned this mat in 43 seconds. He has lost only once in five matches.

Other winners for Northville were Dale Ashby at 154 pounds and Bob Fisher 138. Both won by decision.

Scouts Honored

Boy Scouts of troop 755 entertained their parents Monday night at the troop's first court of honor for the year.

They held a demonstration period showing their new pop-up tents and cooking equipment at the fellowship hall at the Presbyterian church. Pictures of recent canoe trips, camp outs and the bike hike badge were on display.

The evening ended with the boys serving cider and cookies to the guests. Scouts were given the following awards: Tenderfoot — Woody Filkin, Tom Grieves, Bill Kelly, Mark Lister, Ralph Luckett, Vin Parent, Andy Walter, Star Scout — Paul West, also Citizenship in the home and first aid merit badge; Bill Thomas, also home repairs and first aid merit badges; Steve Hughes, also cooking, home repairs, pets, basketry, first aid, merit badges and patrol leader badge and one year pin.

One year pins given to: Ed Cheesman, Richard Endress, Ken Enns, Jim Frogner, Joe Hines, Alan Jaslow, Bruce Jensen, David King, Steve Paul, Brent Snelgrove, Bill Soellner, Bob Stoddard and Mark Tellam.

Scoutmasters Billie Thomas, Boyd Armstrong and institutional representative, Warren Stoddard, made the awards.

ily," noted Coach Dave Longridge, "and with a few more breaks we could have won one or two ball games. But we made some vital mistakes and failed to shoot up to par."

Largely responsible for Northville's improved performance since the opening game loss to West Bloomfield has been the return to form of Center Jerry Inmsland, a six-two, 180-pounder.

He tallied 15 points against Holly, then came back with 21 against a rugged and taller Plymouth squad. Backing him up in both contests was Guard John Jameson, who flipped in 12 and nine points on consecutive nights.

After a nip-and-tuck first quarter, Holly jumped to a 30-23 lead at halftime and threatened to pull away from the Mustangs, who couldn't find the scoring range although they outshot Holly 31-21.

An 18-point third period gave Northville a 41-38 advantage as Jameson and Guard Tom Bingham came off the bench to score six and five points, respectively. Inmsland tallied four in the period as Northville's attack began to jell.

The lead exchanged hands in the first four minutes, then Guard Jim St. Germain tied the score for the last time at 47-47.

Holly's Tom Fagan, who led all scorers with 22 points, took over in the remaining minutes to keep his team out front, 55-49. He converted four free throws.

St. Germain then took up the scoring slack, firing one through the net and dropping in two free throws to close ground to 55-53.

The stage was set for Jameson's shot as the buzzer sounded, but the ball bounced off the rim.

Plymouth's balanced scoring paid off Saturday night. The Rocks' five starters all reached double figures, with Gary Grady tallying 14, Jim Leading Plymouth's attack was its center, who tallied 29 points. High for Northville were Jim Peterson and Dennis Matthews, both with 14 points, and Bob Hubbard with nine.

Northville's frosh now has a 1-1 record. Coach Bob Kucher lauded his charges. "Even though we lost the game, we played a better game than in the opener. Our man-to-man offense worked well," he noted.

SCHOOLCRAFT CAGERS — Two games have been played by Schoolcraft college's first basketball team to date. Last Saturday night the local community college cagers lost their first game to Adrian JV when the game was called minutes before the final gun to comply with a time ruling on the start of the Adrian college game. ## North and Clarence

Winless 'Villes' To Meet Here

Northville will try again to win its first game of the young cage season when it takes on visiting Clarenceville tomorrow night.

The varsity tilt will follow the JV contest which is scheduled to begin at 6:30 p.m.

Both Clarenceville and Northville are winless in Wayne-Oakland Conference play with 0-2 records.

While Northville was losing to Holly by just two points last Friday, Clarenceville was KO'd by Milford, 79-48.

By all indications, Northville will be the favorite, but anything goes when these two teams clash. Last year, the Mustangs edged Clarenceville on its home court and Clarenceville whipped Northville here in the return match.

This is a rebuilding year for Clarenceville.

JV's Down

Holly, Lose To Plymouth

Northville's Colts split two games right down the middle the last weekend to run their season's record to 2-1.

After leading through three quarters of the clash with Holly Friday night, Northville fell behind, then closed fast to eke out a 40-38 road victory.

Then Plymouth came to town Saturday night to spoil the Colts' perfect record, 60-44. A 20-point surplus in the second period proved to be the difference as Northville lost the scoring range and fell behind at halftime, 33-17.

Northville's comeback chances in the fourth quarter against Plymouth suffered a crippling blow as Glenn Deibert, Jim Zayti and Jack Crawford fouled out. With them went the Colts' scoring punch and rebounding edge.

It was a team effort by Plymouth. Four Rocks scored in double figures, including Mike Manley and Bob McCall with 11 each, and John Davis and Dennis Rickard with 10 each.

Pacing the Colts was Zayti, who tallied 14 points, followed by Chris Holman with seven and Deibert with six.

Coach Alex Klukach lauded his players for their comeback effort against Holly.

Shoplifting Doesn't Pay; Court Doles Out $50 Fine

With his pocketbook bare but a car trunk full of merchandise, a Union Lake youth has been unmasked as a shoplifter in Northville.

Raymond Staniecki, 17, of 6143 Borowy drive in Union Lake pleaded guilty after being arraigned Tuesday afternoon in the court of Judge Charles McDonald. The judge levied a $50 fine and $5 costs or 10 days in jail.

Earlier in the day, he was arraigned for shoplifting in Bloomfield township and was released on $100 bond. He will appear for trial there December 28.

Police Chief Eugene King stressed that Staniecki faces up to 90 days in jail or up to a $100 fine — or both. Shoplifting is a misdemeanor.

Chief King said Staniecki came to Northville Monday afternoon to pick up a few items for Christmas. He was accompanied by two Union Lake friends — Richard Charles and Alvin Black.

After questioning they were cleared as suspects by the chief. While his buddies were trying to find gifts to purchase with cash, Staniecki was busy pilfering articles of clothing in Brader's department store.

In his first snatch at Brader's he walked off with two sports shirts. Returning to the store later, he got a sweater, socks and cuff links.

At Gamble's, Staniecki put a set of wrenches under his coat and hurried out of the store undetected.

Next the trio ventured to a shopping center near Pontiac. Staniecki was caught stealing by a store manager there.

He was arrested by Bloomfield township police and his pals were taken into custody. Police, in searching the trunk of the car used by the youths, found the goods from Northville.

It was established that "Black and Charles weren't with Staniecki when he was shoplifting and they were released," King said.

King said Staniecki admitted he had lifted the clothing, cuff links and tools in Northville. All the clothing bore Brader's price tags.

Late Tuesday, King was questioning five Northville youths about petty thefts from local stores. Their names couldn't be revealed because they are juveniles (under 17).

King indicated that they had taken items from Gamble's, D & C and Gussell Drug store on Main street.

OUT OF THE PAST

One Year Ago—

Frank DePodesta, president and founder of Paragon Bridge and Steel company in Novi, died at the age of 52. One of the chief organizers of Paragon, DePodesta directed the firm to a position of leadership in its field. It is now the second largest fabricators of structural steel in Michigan and a pioneer main supplier of railroad auto carriers.

Northville Downs was awarded a 48-night harness racing meet for the 1964 season by racing commissioner Barry Beaman. Last year, the Downs season ran 45 nights. Most important is the fact that the three additional nights at the Downs are Thursday, Friday and Saturday—when, mutual receipts are highest.

The route of a 24-inch Detroit water line through Northville will be the subject of discussion when local officials meet with Detroit Water Board representatives. Detroit is pressing for a decision.

Lee BeGole, Novi police chief stepped down as president of the Oakland county law enforcement association. He and Northville Police Chief Eugene King were installed as directors of the organization.

Five Years Ago—

Police officer Roman Nowicki was dismissed from the Northville department for insubordination. Nowicki had been on the force six years.

Walter L. Couse, president of a construction firm, bearing his name and a Northville resident was named to the board of directors of the newly-formed Michigan State Chamber of Commerce.

Sewers—the key to development in Novi and Wixom—could be constructed within the next three years.

Northville merchants and the post office are preparing for the "big rush" this week as shopping days before Christmas narrowed down to six. Post office officials expect a "record business."

Seven months ago, an air national guard jet crashed into the backyard of the Eugene King home severely burning David and Beth King, 10 and 5. Sunday the Kings will visit the airfield where the plane was based. While David's recovery is nearly complete, Beth faces more plastic surgery.

Fifteen Years Ago— Hundreds of people filled into the old Northville opera house Saturday to have a last look at the famed old building before it is torn down. W.H. Elliott of Trenton and formerly of Northville, recalled when the crew of bricklayers arrived from Detroit to venerate the building. His father ran the Elliott Hotel on East Main street then and the workers stayed there. Mr. Elliott, now 81, stated he played the piano in the opera house orchestra as a young man.

LeLand V. Smith, Northville Postmaster, is now accepting proposals for a site for a new post office building.

Al Wistert, Chuck Ortman and Al Wahi members of the 1949 University of Michigan football team, spoke last Wednesday at the Exchange club.

Twenty-Five Years Ago—

Since Saturday morning, villagers have been using water from the well in the village park. "The water from the well in the park is superior to water from the Fairbrook spring," a state official said. Water from the new source is softer, too.

The voting body of St. Paul's Lutheran church elected Harold Heidt to the eldership of the church.

Nelson C. Schrader was elected president of the Northville Wayne county fair association. He is the youngest member of the board and follows in the footsteps of his father, "Nels" Schrader, who was president of the fair for 10 years.

Horace Knight was named president of the Men's Club in the Presbyterian church house. He succeeds Clarence Davis who resigned.

J. Harry Bolton was installed as worshipful master of the Northville Lodge No. 186 A. & F.M.

SKI SCHOOL STARTS — Every snowy Thursday there will be a bus waiting behind the junior high boys gymnasium (community building) to leave at 3:30 p.m. for an evening of skiing at Mt. Holly. The skiing program for junior high and high school students is under the supervision of Mrs. Donald Boor of Northville. Part of the group making the first trip last Thursday were Bruce Boor, Joy Kadey, Pat Sullivan, Judi Hallam, Diane Ambler and Dave West.

Plan Christmas Party

The local Senior Citizen's club is planning a Christmas dinner and party in the Scout-recreation building at 6:30 p.m. next Thursday evening.

The girls of the Junior Chamber of Commerce auxiliary volunteered their services for serving the co-operative dinner and are in charge of entertainment for the evening.

Plans will be made for a chartered bus trip to a Detroit theatre to see "Mary Poppins".

THE JOY OF CHRISTMAS

The wisdom of the Wise Men of the East lay, in part, in the fact that they were religiously motivated. Though they were Zoroastrians, they were moved by the "astrolo-ger's" conviction that changes in the starry heavens were foretellings of changes in the pattern of man's living on the earth.

If Father Burke-Gaffney's 1937 interpretation of the Bethlehem Star is correct, the star which the Wise Men saw and followed may have been a "Nova" — a broken-off part of a star visible for several months.

Matthew, in his Gospel, records that "when they saw the star they rejoiced with great joy."

When they saw the Star the Wise Men experienced the re-activation of their sense of mission to explore every new star and to pursue the identification of this "heavenly" change with an "earthly" change. Herein, for them, was the joy of Christmas! Like a chemist looking for an "unknown" chemical which, though he has not yet found it, he is mathematically sure exists and, therefore, goes in pursuit of it — with joy — every man is a wise man who finds in Christmas the motivation for continuing in joyful pursuit of his noblest mission.

The re-appearance of the star, following their inquiring pause at Jerusalem, brought to the Wise Men the "joy of progress" in their life's pursuit. The happiness of those who were able to affect the change of course of the "Mariner" projectile making its way to take pictures of the planet Mars, resulting in USS CONSTELLATION — Seaman Apprentice David P. Rushlow, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon O. Rushlow of 892 Allen Drive, Northville participated December 9-12 in a large scale fleet training operation in the Western Pacific called "Operation Tall Back" while serving aboard the attack aircraft carrier USS Constellation.

The exercise, under the direction of the Commander of the Seventh Fleet in the Far East, was designed to increase the readiness of Seventh Fleet units in strike, anti-aircraft and anti-submarine warfare. Twenty-three surface ships, three submarines and several land-based Air Force and Naval air units participated in the exercise.

Two task forces, each with an attack aircraft carrier as its hub, opposed each other.

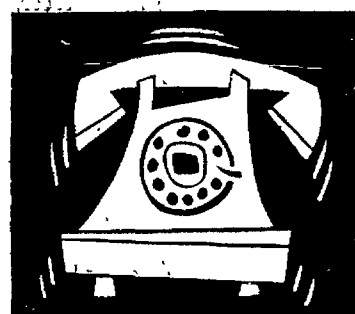

The operation was conducted to test and evaluate Seventh Fleet units under the most realistic operating conditions.

a sense of progress in their given mission, is part of the joy initiated by the star of Bethlehem and the Wise Men's reaction thereto.

The third joy of Christmas is that of realizing the fulfillment of one's noblest expectations. The Wise Men found joy in the fact that their idea of a heavenly change affecting an earthly change was fulfilled when, in following the star, they came face-to-face with the presence of the One who was to change the lives of men for good in a way in which they have never been changed before or since. When the full impact of this JOY fell upon them, they, themselves, returned way.

May "the joy of Christmas", beginning at the point of your religious belief that your God-given mission is to pursue ever-closer relationship with Christ, continuing in recognizable points of progress and culminating in a distinguishing quality of Christian change in the privacy of your life, be yours!

Young moved, supported by Lawrence, the re-appointment of Gunnar Stromberg to a three year term on the Northville Township Planning Commission.

Tellam said he was disappointed in Mr. Stromberg's handling of the landfill problem, it seeming as though he had become personally involved.

Tyler agreed with Tellam and added that he believed that no man should be a member of both the Planning Commission and the Appeal Board and it had been a particularly improper situation when petitioners had to appear before these two boards chairmaned by the same man.

His attention was called to the fact that the Township Zoning Ordinance required that the chairman of the zoning board should be chairman of the zoning board of appeals, and the only way to change this situation was to change the zoning ordinance.

No further discussion, supervisor Merriam called for a vote.

Ayes: Merriam, Lawrence and Young.

Nays: Tyler and Tellam.

Motion carried.

4. Appointment of a Committee to contact City of Northville regarding City owned property on Gerald street.

Trustee Tellam, as a member of the planning commission, explained why the commission wished a committee appointed to meet with the City of Northville. Mr. Baldwin joined in the explanation and pointed out that the principal purpose of the committee was to work out some program that would remove the blighted area known as Gerald street, and convert the property into tax producing industrial sites.

After discussion, Tellam moved the appointment of a committee to meet with the City of Northville.

Tyler, seconded, with the recommendation that the purpose of the committee was to discuss the Gerald street area in possible relocation of the dump.

After further discussion, Tellam moved, supported by Lawrence, that the township of Northville pay the City of Northville one dollar as a settlement of assets.

Ayes: All.

Eclipse of Moon Scheduled Friday

ANN ARBOR — A total eclipse of the moon will take place Friday (December 18), three days before the official beginning of winter, University of Michigan astronomer Hazel M. Losh reminds.

The moon will be in a favorable position for observation, says Professor Losh, because at the beginning of the eclipse it will be about 40 degrees above the eastern horizon.

The moon will first touch the earth's shadow at 8 p.m. Soon after, a noticeable dimming at the eastern edge of the moon will show up. The darkened area will gradually spread over the moon's surface until 9:08 p.m., when the moon will be entirely in eclipse.

The mid-eclipse will come at 9:38 p.m., with totality ending at 10:08 p.m. It will then take another hour for the moon to leave the shadow completely, Professor Losh says.

During the partial phase, the earth's shadow will appear dark in contrast to the remaining section of the moon. During the total stage, however, the moon will be illuminated by sunlight, which filters through the earth's atmosphere and is refracted into the earth's shadow. The moon will then shine with a dull reddish glow, Professor Losh points out.

Winter will begin in the northern hemisphere at 2:50 p.m. Monday (December 21), the U-M astronomer says.

"At this time the sun will arrive at the winter solstice, the most southerly point that it reaches during its apparent yearly journey around the earth."

The northern hemisphere will have its shortest day and longest night, about 9 hours and 15 hours respectively.

Miscellaneous:

The City Attorney discussed the coming elections and stated the filing dates for petitions for city office vacancies could be filed between February 1 and March 1, 1965 for the April 5 election. The city attorney asked for an opportunity to meet with council to discuss the Municipal Court. A special meeting is called for Monday, November 23, 1964, 8:00 p.m. at the city hall to discuss the Municipal Court and various unfinished business.

Mr. Carlson reported attending the Southeastern Beautification council meeting in Southfield and described the ideal set-up which has a committee consisting of appointed people from various clubs or organizations who serve on a more-or-less permanent basis.

Mr. Allen asked if Northville City water could be tapped into the spring for drinking fountain purposes.

Mr. Canterbury announced he has decided to withdraw his letter of resignation from the Northville City Council and serve out his term on the body. Mayor Allen thanked Mr. Canterbury for continuing.

Mr. Canterbury complimented Mr. Ambler and Chief King on the Civic Recognition Dinner which was held recently and suggested that next year it might be open to the public.

Mr. Canterbury also spoke regarding the Northwestern Child Guidance Clinic which recently held their open house on Merriam road. He wondered if consideration had been given to a contribution to this organization.

Mr. Canterbury discussed the possibility of a 4-way stop at Wing and W. Dunlap streets and asked the manager for a report.

He also inquired about the breakage of windows recently in downtown Northville.

There being no further business, the meeting adjourned at 10:30 p.m.

Routes to Sunny Florida

Roads to Florida Much Improved

Ninety-five per cent of the record one-half million Michigan residents expected to visit Florida this winter will travel there by car, in less time than ever before, according to Automobile Club of Michigan.

"There will be a 12 per cent increase over the 440,000 Michiganders who visited Florida last year," says Jerry E. Fisher, Auto Club's touring manager.

Economy and convenience of car travel plus improved road conditions were cited as the reasons the majority of vacationers will elect driving to Florida.

It will cost each auto passenger $14.50 daily for travel, food and lodging. There will be an average of 2.5 passengers per car. Average motel fees per couple en route will be from $10-$12.

"Those taking their own cars to Florida will spend at least three days driving each way," the Auto Club said. "But the hours spent behind the wheel should be more pleasant and fewer than last winter because there are more miles of four-lane road."

Motorists going via I-75 which has a 70-mile-per-hour speed limit, will find the most improvement.

A 563-mile stretch of I-75 recently completed between Perry, Georgia, and the Sunshine Parkway (toll road), allows the motorist to travel this stretch in nine hours compared with 12 last winter.

The opening of I-75 through Cumberland Canyon, referred to in the past as the narrows, and the freeway through Atlanta makes this Lexington, Knoxville, Atlanta to Miami route relatively free of mountain driving.

Four popular auto routes to Florida are suggested. For convenience, they are referred to as Routes A, B, C and D.

Route A, with an ultimate destination of St. Petersburg, is popular with all Michigan residents, even those going to Miami. It has practically no mountainous driving, and during winter, it is usually in better condition than other routes. There are also 131 more miles of four-lane road than last year.

Route B (I-75) is the most direct for eastern Michigan residents. Central and west Michigan motorists can use this route. A number of optional routes are possible, the most popular via Smoky Mountain National Park and US-41 or via Asheville and Augusta. Route B, compared with last winter, has 68 additional miles of four-lane road.

Route C provides an alternate to Route A. Although this extremely eastern route can be used all year, travelers are advised to check on snow and ice conditions before leaving Michigan or Florida. This route has much scenery and many historical areas. There are 45 more miles of four-lane road than last winter.

Route D also is hazardous when snow and ice conditions prevail in West Virginia and North Carolina mountains. However, it is a scenic drive. There are an additional 21 miles of four-lane road on this route.

Comparative figures on the four principal routes from Michigan to Florida are:

Route A — Mileage 1570 — Four-Lane Road 1161 — Toll $5.40.

Route B — Mileage 1409 — Four-Lane Road 1040 — Toll $4.80.

Route C — Mileage 1599 — Four-Lane Road 980 — Toll $6.80.

Route D — Mileage 1439 — Four-Lane Road 607 — Toll $4.35.

There are several "strict law enforcement areas" along the above routes which the motorists should drive through with caution:

—Route A—Bonnieville, Kentucky, on US-31.

—Route B—Livingston, Kentucky, on US-25.

—Route C—Between Staunton and Lexington, Virginia, on US-11; and in Tattall and Long Counties, on US-301.

—Route D—Between Pulaski and Hillsville on Virginia Highway 100 and US-52.

The only other area for caution—not on the four routes mentioned—is in Dinwiddie and Sussex Counties, Virginia, on US-301, just south of Petersburg, Virginia, and north of the North Carolina border.

"For those who don't want to drive," says Fisher, "time and money will decide the best mode of transportation. We recommend that those with less than two-weeks time go by air."

There are 13 express flights daily from Detroit to Florida, and jet time between the Motor City and Miami is only 2½ hours.

One-way air fares to Miami, via either Eastern or Delta Airlines, range from $57.90 to $94.65, plus 5% tax.

Bus or rail transportation—both take two days—is suggested for those who like viewing scenery en route.

Round trip Greyhound bus fare to Miami from Detroit is $72.75 while train fare ranges between $91.05 and $106.45, plus added pullman rates for all first-class train tickets.

The traveler who wants to rent a car in Florida between December 15 and April 18 should consider package rates which can be purchased only with round-trip air or rail tickets and must include hotel or motel accommodations. (Arrangements can be made through travel agents.)

Weekly rates for a package rental car vary between $24.95 and nine cents per mile and $54.95 plus 12 cents per mile. Without the package, cars can be rented daily from a low of $7 to a high of $22 to weekly rates of $35 to $110, plus nine cents to 22-cents per mile.

SPEAKING for The Record

By BILL SLIGER

Northville, like many communities in various stages of transition, is suffering some of the pains of progress.

They've been best demonstrated at recent meetings of the planning commission involving the establishment of a new building in the business district.

On page one of this week's Record a story announces the sale of the Glenn Long Plumbing & Heating building on Seven Mile road to Reef Manufacturing Company, Inc. It's a happy event — the community gains a new industry and Long plans to move his business into a new commercial building.

The new Long building, however, is proposed for East Dunlap street right in the middle of an area earmarked for parking and street right-of-way in the city's master plan.

Legally, there's little the planning commission can do to block the proposed building. Their plan for providing a new network for traffic, improved and expanded shopping area and additional parking has not yet acquired "teeth".

And actually, the planners do not want to block new business. But if they had the authority, they'd like to direct development along a planned pattern that their study over the past four years has convinced them is the answer to Northville's future as a commercial center.

Their meetings with Long have produced a few outbursts from both sides: the frustrations of a businessman who wants to spend money to build a new building versus the anxieties of a group of planners who see new roadblocks being created for their proposal to meet the challenge of the future.

While he is sympathetic, Long has problems of his own. He has sold his building and he must move as soon as possible. He has found a site that satisfies his desire to build a showroom for display and retail sale of his plumbing and heating supplies.

Wednesday night Long was scheduled to appear before planners again with an artist's sketch of his proposed building. He has promised to comply with the planners' request that the building follow early American architectural lines.

Ironically, both Long and the planners have the same goal in mind: an improved central business district.

There will be more conflicts and they will become more frequent until a final decision is made.

Meanwhile, the council has retained a professional consultant to determine the feasibility and cost of the proposed master plan. His job will take a year.

It remains for the council to decide whether or not it should adopt the ordinances that would establish central business district zoning in the future. Undoubtedly, the council will carefully weigh the report from its newly-hired consultant.

In the meantime, a workable middle-ground must be maintained so that new business is not discouraged and future planning is not side-tracked or scrapped.

Next week The Record will publish the latest central business district plan, which has undergone several revisions in the past year.

It is hoped that businessmen will view the work of the planners with an open mind reserving their criticism until the idea is understood.

The central business district is not a "mall" alone. It is the network for traffic, the provision for parking and the area plan for shopping that will enable the businessman to gain the utmost from the facility he owns within the central business district.

Like all plans for the future it is flexible.

But to the credit of our city council and planning commission, it is a plan that provides tangible stuff to consider. And it gives hope, though many believe the hour is already late, that the community will not face a "crash" program of urban redevelopment.

MSU Delays Medical Program

LANSING — Michigan will wait at least another year before a new medical facility is started.

John A. Hannah, president of Michigan State University recently announced that the institution would not begin a two-year medical science program next fall as originally planned. The opening date is not definitely set.

The MSU decision will meet with approval of the Michigan Coordinating Council for Higher Education. Council members, including MSU, agree that the state's existing medical schools should be raised to planned size before a third is established.

Although MSU's present plans are for an Institute of Biology and Medicine, within which the College of Human Medicine will offer two years of training, it could be easily developed into a full-fledged college of medicine.

There were three reasons for the MSU delay. First, the building program dropped substantially behind, mostly due to union-management differences beyond the control of the university.

Secondly, the administration does not at this point have the top notch instructors they want to teach the technical courses. Teaching staff is a problem for the medical profession, and it was recently stated that there are 800 openings in the nation for medical instructors.

A third problem which was not completely solved involves the relationship between the institute and local hospitals. The medical accrediting committee recommended that this understanding be well formulated before students were enrolled for courses.

It will be difficult for U-M to increase enrollment of its medical school without losing much of the training that is important to doctors, according to Dean William N. Hubbard, Jr. Wayne State University shows promise of enrolling perhaps 70 more students per year. If, as anticipated, the need for doctors grows more rapidly than this supply, the people of Michigan have an investment in MSU's Institute of Biology and Medicine that can quickly be developed into a first class source of fully trained M. D.s.

A big push can be expected in the 1965 legislative session to require periodic safety checks of all Michigan motor vehicles. Safety check bills have been introduced for several years in succession without success, but next year may be the exception.

The continually mounting highway traffic death toll will certainly be one factor in this consideration but another major factor may be the latest national survey on the matter.

One vehicle in six in use today is unsafe to some degree, a study by the Auto Industry Highway Safety Committee indicates.

Of nearly three million vehicles checked on a voluntary basis in the study more than 440,000 had "rejectable items" such as rear or front lights or signals, brakes, tires, steering or exhaust system.

Projecting this to the more than 84 million registered vehicles on the nation's highways the study means more than 14 million unsafe cars and trucks are in use. Some Michigan officials feel the figure would be even higher since this study was a voluntary one rather than a true sample test.

Nineteen states now require periodic motor vehicle safety inspections.

WINTER HAZARDS

War must be declared, says State Health Commissioner Dr. Albert E. Heustis.

The war Heustis speaks of has no relation to international affairs, however. It is a limited war on the home front against carbon monoxide poisoning.

"An intensive educational campaign with constant repetition is the only way to prevent the annual toll of utterly needless deaths from carbon monoxide poisoning," he said.

Already this year several persons have been found dead in cars parked with the windows closed, the ignition on, gas tank empty, and battery dead. The scene will unfortunately be repeated several more times during the cold season.

Carbon monoxide deaths, in cars and homes, occur at all times of the year but the majority happen in winter, Heustis said.

Because carbon monoxide has no odor, it is known as the silent killer.

"If everyone recognized that carbon monoxide is present whenever there is combustion, whether it's canned heat, gas refrigerator, furnace, or automobile engine, and that to protect against it merely requires adequate ventilation, we could eliminate most of the accidental exposures," said the commissioner.

No Contact with Red China

BABSON PARK, Mass. — Bad feeling between Red China and the United States seems to intensify as we become more and more involved in the war in South Vietnam. We are opposed to the aggression of the Viet Cong forces there which are being encouraged and supplied from Peking.

China has an area of 4 million square miles and a population estimated to be near 700 million. This ancient land possesses in abundance strategic raw materials. China has rich deposits of iron, uranium, and coal. Her mighty rivers, when properly harnessed, could provide inexpensive sources of energy more powerful than any yet developed. Her forests are among the most luxuriant known. Some day this still sleeping giant will become a first-class world power.

Yet, this vast land, so full of human and material resources, is completely cut off from the United States. No American citizen can gain admission to China under ordinary circumstances. The Communist government simply does not want visitors from the U.S., especially if it cannot be sure they will react favorably to what they see or hear as they travel in this tightly disciplined country.

The lack of contact between our two nations is bad for us, bad for China, and bad for the world. China is poisoned in her spirit by her intense pride. And she is poisoned in body by certain Western powers whose aggressions and treacheries of the past still irritate and humiliate her.

Yet the swiftness with which the Chinese have employed new inventions — even to nuclear power — shows that they cannot long be expected to resist using all the facilities at their disposal.

Red China may now be nearing admission to the United Nations. Next time the vote comes up in the General Assembly, it will probably run in favor of Peking. And admission of Red China to the UN would hasten the day when American citizens with legitimate reasons for travel and study in China, would be permitted to enter that country.

We do not believe, however, that giving Mao's government a seat in the UN would lead very soon to diplomatic relations between Peking and Washington. As long as Mao continues to rant against the United States and to ignore the rules of international behavior, he will remain in Uncle Sam's doghouse.

Also discouraging to early recognition of Red China by the U.S. is the thorny question of Formosa. This island off the China coast, lying between Japan to the northeast and the Philippines to the south, is ruled by Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek, Chiang's Chinese National Government presently holds China's seat in the UN. At this time the U.S. just cannot recognize Red China without going back to our solemn treaty commitments to Chiang and without weakening the American position in Asia.

But some day this situation will change.

ed by Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek, Chiang's Chinese National Government presently holds China's seat in the UN. At this time the U.S. just cannot recognize Red China without going back to our solemn treaty commitments to Chiang and without weakening the American position in Asia.

But some day this situation will change.

Red China — even with its new nuclear capability — is no immediate threat to the world. What causes concern is that the destiny of the Chinese masses is in the hands of aggressive, ruthless, totalitarian Communist bosses. In time, perhaps China may expand into those areas of Asia now held by Russia, but that time is not yet and Russia knows it. For the present the shadow of China looms more threateningly over the lands of her immediate neighbors to the south (including India which is now without the strong leadership of Nehru), Red China's eventual goal is probably the rich islands of Malaya and Indonesia. But Mao's progress toward them is hindered by the resistance in South Vietnam. This resistance in fact, may well be preventing or at least postponing World War III.

One day, however — and that day may be nearer than we now dare hope — China may throw off the shackles of Communism just as she has through the years shed some of her outworn ancient customs. Through trial and error and hardship, China is building a power that will again become a dominant factor in the Far East and a force to be reckoned with by the entire world.
