

ROTARY'S 60 — Rotarians the world over celebrated the 60th birthday of the organization Tuesday. Coincidentally, it was the regular meeting day of the Northville club so a birthday cake was an appropriate dessert. Also by coincidence, February marks the 39th anniversary of the founding of the local club. While Vice President Harold Bittner (center) holds the cake, President A. R. Clarke serves up the first piece for R. H. Amerman, a 33-year member of Northville Rotary.

'Executive Flu' Hits School Attendance

A "flu bug" has invaded the area hitting Northville particularly hard.

But a local physician described it as not as severe as the Asian flu a few years ago. Symptoms for the so-called "executive flu" are sore throats accompanied by aching muscles, nasal congestion and coughing, the doctor said.

The physician said the usual cure is plenty of "bed rest and aspirin."

In some cases, however, antibiotics are used. "Children are usually given antibiotics to avoid ear and bronchial infections. Adults get them to fight high fever," the doctor stated.

Asked if a trip to Florida would help, the doctor said: "You might get it down there. They haven't found a way to avoid it. It'll be heading that way but is much milder than the Asiatic flu epidemic."

Area schools especially have felt the impact of the flu outbreak.

"About 20% of the students in Northville schools were not in class Monday," said Superintendent Russell H. Amerman.

Amerman mused: "about 10% of our 101 teachers have been sick so we got substitutes. Now the substitutes are all so we're getting substitutes for the substitutes."

Mrs. Mos of the absentees in Northville have been grade school youngsters. Ray Spear, principal of the Amerman elementary school, said: "an average of 75 pupils have been out the last few days. Besides flu, there have been some cases of mumps, chicken pox and measles."

Harry Smith, principal of Main Street elementary, recorded the most flu casualties. "We had 100 children absent Monday, just under 20% of our enrollment," Smith said. "But the situation was much more acute last Thursday and Friday," Smith said in a hoarse tone. He, too, is trying to shake the "bug."

At Northville high school, principal Frederick Stefanski noted that "a number of students who were out are starting to come back. Our absentee rate Tuesday was only 108 out of 850 students."

Donald Van Ingen, principal at the Northville junior high, said the number of students reported ill "was higher last week. It is tapering off now."

In Novi and Wixom, the quantity of flu cases apparently was lighter.

Mrs. Esther McDonough, principal of the Orchard Hills elementary school in Novi, indicated that flu reports "were scattered."

Mrs. McDonough said that "there might be 11 children out in one room but maybe only two in another. Teacher absenteeism has been low, too."

According to Roy Williams, principal of Novi elementary school on Novi road, about "18% of 270 students are at home but the absentee rate is beginning to ebb."

At Novi junior high school, Principal Sam Stewart had good news. "Less than 10% of the students have been hit and few teachers have come down with the flu."

"The little ones were absent more than usual last week," said the secretary for Principal Miss Ethel Mugler at the Wixom elementary school.

"We only had 16 of 260 absent Tuesday," the secretary said.

Del Black Enters City Council Race

Another name was added to the list of council candidates this week as the deadline for filing draws near.

Del Black, 33-year-old owner of Del's Shoes at 153 East Main street, became the fifth council candidate to circulate petitions.

Previously, Councilwoman Beatrice Carlson, C. Oscar Hammond, W. Wallace Nichols and Charles Toussaint announced their candidacy for two four-year seats on the council. Black is a lifelong resident of Northville. He is married and has three children. The Blacks reside at 896 Carpenter. Presently Black serves on the city's board of appeals.

Only Incumbent A. M. Allen has filed for the two-year mayor's term. Likewise, Judge Charles McDonald is the lone candidate for municipal judge. Deadline for filing petitions with the city clerk is noon Saturday.

No 'Best Answer' to Grading Divisions

The following article was written by Superintendent of Schools R. H. Amerman. It is the second of two prepared by the Northville school administration to help explain its decision to convert permanently to a 6-7-8 grade junior high school program. Dr. Ray Budde, who is the director of instructional services for the East Lansing Public Schools and chairman of the Michigan Association of Secondary Schools Publications Committee has published an article in the Michigan Journal of Secondary Education (fall, 1964, Volume 6, number 1) in which he discusses "The Middle School of the Future."

"Space does not permit a complete review of his article, however a few pertinent statements and conclusions may be in order.

The present "Best Answer" There really is no one best answer. The current popular rationale for grouping grades is the traditional (K-6) (7-8-9) (10-11-12). Many of the ideas and assumptions on which these groupings were based are a half-century old. New research studies and experiments indicate that a 'new direction' is needed — that we must re-examine present day practices in terms of what is best for our children. Dr. Budde has stated the case in part as follows.

He says that the 7-8-9 junior high school is "no longer a school organization" and suggests five educational realities which support his contentions. I shall refer to some of them in part.

1. The philosophic basis for the 7-8-9 junior high school is no longer valid. An agreement for making the 9th grade a part of the junior high school was to bring about a reduction in drop-outs. It worked but today the drop-out rate is at a higher level.

Another factor is centered around the idea that guidance service should be extended to the lower level (7-8-9). Now guidance and counselling services are available to many elementary programs.

Studies have further indicated that ten to thirteen year olds should be grouped together to better accomplish the benefits of guidance. This would mean a (5)-6-7-8 grouping would better serve the needs of our young.

2. There is evidence that "Many 7-8-9 junior high schools are not playing any truly distinctive role in the vertical organization of their schools."

3. There seems to be strong evidence to support placing today's ninth graders with older adolescents. Supporting evidence includes these factors among many:

A. Adolescents are physically larger and taller than a generation ago.

B. Attitudes and interests of ninth graders indicate that they are more mature than previously.

C. Many of the developmental tasks of adolescence are already accomplished by the start of the ninth grade.

4. A four year high school is inherently stronger than a three year high school, for these reasons:

A. Better correlated guidance 9th through 12.

B. System is all in one building under one administrator and staff.

C. Many judgments for college recommendations are based on three year's knowledge (at the end of the student's junior year).

D. Occupational information and counselling can be more effectively provided in one building.

E. Better coordination and articulation of the athletic program to serve the needs of our youth can be planned.

5. A (5)-6-7-8 combination allows for team teaching and/or some departmentalization to best utilize special skills and interests of teachers.

The above conclusions and many more at hand have led me to the conclusion that:

1 — there is no question about the wisdom of grouping our 9-10-11-12 grades under one roof.

2 — A 6-7-8 grouping is sound, educationally, socially, physically, and otherwise but will require careful curriculum planning and a well thoughtout philosophy of the new intermediate or middle school concept.

This is a rapidly growing trend and schools that have had a few years of experience with it are pleased with the results. If I were not convinced that this is a good program for our students I would not want any part of it.

Parents and other interested parties are encouraged to contact my office for further discussion, to review the several articles available and to state your views, etc. We do not pretend to know all the answers, however, we feel that we have made a serious and thoughtful study of this new concept and are prepared to share our conclusions with anyone. We are particularly anxious to learn of parents' concerns and doubts about this plan, because a sharing of ideas will help us to build a better program.

Life Term Possible For Wright

It took just one hour last Friday afternoon for Northville Judge Charles McDonald to decide there was sufficient evidence to hold Warren Robert Wright for trial on a charge of assault with intent to kill and murder.

The penalty for this crime is a maximum of life imprisonment.

If Wright is convicted of attempted murder, the FBI may withhold charges involving two previous robberies of Detroit Federal Savings in Northville in which a near total of $15,000 was taken.

It was like a page out of the script for a Perry Mason show.

There was a judge, prosecutor, defender, the accused, several witnesses and the "curious" — the composition of a typical courtroom.

But this time it was real. Court was in session at 2 p.m. at city hall for the preliminary examination of Wright, who shot Northville Police Chief Eugene King February 10. Municipal Judge Charles McDonald presided.

In front and to the left of the judge sat state police detective Robert Ferry, and prosecutor Dale Devlin.

To the right of the judge were Warren Robert Wright, his attorney, Frederick Knauer and an unidentified assistant with Knauer.

Detective Ferry was the first witness. On the day Chief King was shot, Ferry signed the complaint, charging Wright with assault with intent to kill and murder.

After a few simple questions, Knauer challenged the signature on the warrant-citing Wright for the crime. Knauer claimed that Ferry didn't witness the shooting "personally." Judge McDonald cleared up the matter. Referring to his case books, McDonald said it was permissible for Ferry to sign the complaint "on reasonable information and belief." Ferry talked to key figures in the case and was familiar with it, Ferry was not setting a precedent.

Later, McDonald said that if Ferry had learned of the shooting over the radio, for example, and had not spoken with principals in the case, his signature could have been contested.

Furthermore, McDonald emphasized, a state police officer signed the complaint because local policemen were directly involved in the shooting.

Theodore Cuda was the second and final witness for the prosecution. Cuda, who runs a uniform business, was in the police car when Chief King was shot twice in the abdomen.

Cuda told the court he met King at the Northville police station at 11:30 a.m. on the day of the shooting. Shortly after noon, he and the chief went to Thunderbird Inn for lunch.

Their lunch was interrupted when an announcement was made over the loud speaker: "Telephone call for Mr. King."

Cuda said he and King left the restaurant and thus began an "hour of terror" in which King was seriously wounded by two slugs fired from a .25 caliber Colt automatic pistol.

Under cross examination, Cuda told the defense counsel that "it was the first time" he and King had ever had lunch. Both Cuda and King were dressed in business suits.

As the defense attorney put it: "You came out for a quiet lunch and got involved in a shooting." Cuda readily agreed.

After the examination, Cuda told a reporter that "I couldn't eat or sleep for three days after the shooting. And I am still a little jittery."

Determining that a crime had been committed and that here was reasonable ground to believe that Wright had committed the crime, Judge McDonald bound Wright over to Wayne county circuit court.

Judge McDonald indicated that Wright would be arraigned in circuit court sometime this week and then prosecuted in March or April.

Board Seeks May School Bond Vote

A CUTE REMINDER — She doesn't come with 1965 license plates but Sally Winner, homecoming queen at Northville high school, is reminding area motorists that Saturday is the final day to buy plates. The secretary of state's branch in Northville will be open until 8 p.m. All cars must show new plates next Monday.

For the most part the reports are in. Now it's up to the Northville board of education to reach a decision:

Which comes first, a junior high school or an elementary building?

Monday night the board received a preliminary report from the population growth and facilities committee composed of citizens appointed by the school board.

The report, presented by Chairman William Seord, said that within three years the school system will need both a junior high school and an elementary. And one or the other must be built immediately.

The citizens' committee recommends that a junior high should come first with the present junior high facility being converted for use by 300 elementary students plus special uses such as administrative offices, special education classrooms, maintenance shop and storage.

Board President James Kipper said the board would announce its decision at its next regular meeting, March 8.

Then the wheels must turn fast. Ideally, the board would like to bring a building bond issue to a vote by mid-May. But admittedly, details may delay the vote until the regular election of board members, June 14.

The target is to have the new building, either junior high or elementary, open by the fall of 1966.

Board members have given no official indication of which course they'll choose to follow. But their alternatives are clear and past history gives some clue as to what might be expected.

In 1957 the board asked school district taxpayers for $3,000,000 to build a high school, construct an addition to the Amerman elementary school and revamp the old high school (now the junior high school).

The work was undertaken over a period of three or four years and the bonds sold and millage levied as it was needed.

If, for example, the board should decide to accept the committee recommendations and build a junior high school first, it is likely that it would seek enough money to complete a full program. Such a program would include conversion of the present junior high school, recommended improvements at the high school and an elementary building.

While no official estimates have been made, a figure of nearly $2 million has been discussed.

Boiled down to dollars and cents to the taxpayer this would mean an additional levy of four or five mills. The hike would come over a period of years, however.

In the $3 million bond issue of 1957 Northville's debt levy millage (for buildings) hit a high of 9.85 mills in 1959-60. It's been decreasing steadily at the rate of about one mill per year as bonds are retired and now stands at 5.70 mills.

With the district's increased state equalized valuation, now at $31,582,047, it seems safe to predict that additional millage needed for the complete junior high-elementary, etc., program would not bring the debt millage total as high as the 9.85 levied in 1959.

In specifics, the population and facilities committee outlined the following plans and rated number one as preferred:

Plan 1 — 1965-66, build new junior high to house 700 pupils with provision for expansion to 850; convert present junior high (as previously mentioned in story); improve high school shop, art, drafting facilities; purchase additional elementary site; 1968-69 — build an elementary school for 500 pupils; build an addition to the high school to increase capacity to 1100; 1970-71 — build an addition to the junior high school to increase capacity to 800-850.

Plan 2 — 1965-66, build elementary school, 500 capacity; build an addition to junior high school to provide new space for shop home economics, science, music and classrooms for additional 200 students (from 450 to 650); make high school improvements; 1968-69 — addition to high school; board of education offices; acquire additional space from Main elementary school to house 200 junior high students; 1972-73 — build an elementary school, 500 capacity.

Plan 3 — 1965-66, build an elementary; improve high school; buy junior high site; 1969 — build 650 capacity junior high school; convert present junior high to accommodate 300 elementary students; increase capacity of high school to 1100; 1972-73 — build a new elementary.

Plan 4 — 1965-66, build elementary; improve high school; buy elementary site; 1969 — build elementary; expand present junior high into Main elementary to accommodate 450 in junior high, 200 junior high pupils in Main elementary and 350 elementary pupils in Main street school; 1972-73 — build a new elementary. The Main elementary would become filled with junior high pupils by 1984.

The committee report also recommended the 11-acre Robinson-Larkin property on Taft road behind the high school as the best site for the junior high school. An alternate was a half mile west of Taft on the north side of Eight Mile.

For an elementary the committee recommended sites approximately midway between Beck and Taft roads on either side of Eight Mile road.

Monday night the board instructed the architect, C. Henry Haberkorn of O'Dell Hewlett and Luckenbach, to huddle with the board attorney so that work may begin on possible site acquisition. It was noted that options may be needed so that soil boring tests may be made.

The architect estimated time to complete an elementary school from the date of the bond issue at 13-14 months and a junior high school at 14-15 months.

He Fools TV Panel

A former Northville resident was the subject of the popular "To Tell the Truth" television panel Monday.

Colonel Ward H. Van Atta, whose mother, Mrs. Fred Van Atta, lives at 138 East Cady, appeared as the mystery guest. Colonel Van Atta is commanding officer of the U. S. Army Map Service, which has its headquarters in Washington, D.C.

Only one of the four panelists, who must detect which of three contestants is the genuine personality described, had the right answer when the moderator said, "will the real Colonel Van Atta please stand up".

James Laphams Return From Mountain Honeymoon

James Lapham of Northville and his bride, the former Kathleen Burke of Detroit, are making their home in Plymouth after returning from their honeymoon in the Pokono Mountains.

The couple was married at an evening ceremony on February 12 at Our Lady of Loretto church in Detroit.

Kathleen is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert M. Burke of Garfield avenue in Detroit, and Jim is the son of Mrs. Beth Lapham of Northville and Maurice Lapham of Bay City.

The bride was given in marriage by her father and the Reverend Father John Blaska officiated at the ceremony.

The bride wore a classically styled gown of crystal white peau de soie combined with alencon lace in a rose motif. The fitted bodice, entirely covered with the lace applique, was designed with petal scalloped decolletage and long traditionally tapered sleeves. From the banded waistline, the slender skirt, encircled with a wide garland of Alencon roses near the hemline, tapered to toe-touching length.

Dramatic back accent was created with a removable chapel length train crowned with a streamer bow centered with roses. A cluster of silken roses held her tiered veil of silk illusion and she carried a bouquet of white roses and English Ivy.

Her sister Susan was maid of honor, and her bridesmaids were her sister Peggy and Joan Parmentier, all of Detroit and Mrs. James Clancy of Saginaw.

The attendants wore gowns with a dark blue velvet bodice and floor length skirts of sapphire-blue satin. Their headpieces were blue satin roses and they carried blue and white fugi mums with white ribbon streamers.

Charles Lapham of Northville, brother of the groom, was best man and seating the guests were Charles Parton of Plymouth, Larry Meyer of Northville and James Clancy of Saginaw.

For her daughters wedding Mrs. Burke wore a dress and jacket of pink silk with matching accessories and wore a corsage of white roses. Mrs. Lapham chose a blue two-piece ribbon knit dress with matching accessories and wore a corsage of white roses.

Following the ceremony, 225 guests attended a reception at Ronda Hall in Livonia.

The groom attended Tri-State Engineering College in Angola, Indiana. He served two years in the U.S. Navy and is presently employed at Owen-Mowrey Manufacturing Company in Milford.

Mrs. Lapham attended Highland Park Junior college and before her marriage was employed as a medical office assistant.

Prechesky-Mellen Rites

Rosemarie Prechesky and Brian Mellen exchanged their wedding vows at a double ceremony February 6, at Our Lady of Victory church.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Prechesky of South Lyon and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George Mellen of Baseline road, Northville.

The bride was given in marriage by her godfather and uncle, Ray Prechesky. She wore a dress of white satin damask with a matching circlet headpiece securing her fingertip veil, and carried a bouquet of white roses and stephanotis.

Her attendants were Sarah Ann Mellen, maid of honor, and Darlene Rehs, bridesmaid. They wore matching gowns of red velvet fashioned with long sleeves and carried white muffs with sprays of red roses.

Lyle Ducheneau was best man, and ushering the guests were Frank Iwaniec, David Rehs and John Lightfoot.

A wedding breakfast was held at the home of the bridegroom's parents and was attended by guests from Dearborn and Detroit. A reception was also held later in the afternoon at the home of the groom's parents.

In Our Town

By Jean Day

THE GIRL SCOUT COOKIE RECIPES in today's Northville Record can bear the endorsement, "Northville tested and approved". They passed the taste-test with lip-smacking approval for they are GOOD dessert fare. Testing the recipes proved not so simple:

The recipes arrived last week end from Jeanne Bender of the Huron Valley Girl Scout Council in Ypsilanti. She had heard this column was seeking the mint-brownie pie recipe which Mrs. Carl Stephens had tested — but did not have the recipe.

It then seemed a good idea to see if Girl Scouts could make the recipes as well as sell the cookies that are the base. Here developed the problem: The cookies can be ordered starting this Friday through March 13 but will not be delivered until April 27. Advance boxes sent for sampling at a pre-sale kick-off had been "sampled" completely.

Luckily, Mrs. James Kipfer still had a few boxes of cookies from last year's sale in the bottom of her freezer which she willingly donated to the "Test Kitchen" — in the home of her daughter Ann's Troop Leader, Mrs. William Switzer on Reservoir road.

Mrs. Kipfer and Ann with Mrs. Switzer and her daughter Ann first made the Green Angel Delight with Girl Scout sandwich cookies (including filling). Instead of an expected single pie, the lime filling fluffed into enough for three pie shells! At call to Mrs. Bender clarified the recipe published today. The Green Angel Delight should be made in a large shallow, oblong dish that cuts into a dozen squares. Our cooks from Troop 621 varied the recipe by eliminating the chocolate bits in the lime fluff, feeling that shaved chocolate on top would be more in keeping with the melt-in-your-mouth texture. They recommend this as a light bridge-club dessert.

Concerned that Girl Scout-approved recipes be workable, Mrs. Switzer volunteered to make both the Savannah Toffee Torte and the Minted Brownie Pie recipes. They looked and tasted crunchy-good Monday when she brought them to the meeting of her Junior Scout troop for co-leader Mrs. Warner Krause and Mrs. Kipfer to sample. (Mrs. Kipfer is assisting the troop with an art weaving project.)

Therefore, we KNOW these recipes are worth trying. Your Northville area Girl Scouts hope you will clip the recipes — and order some extra boxes. Friday to make these desserts, come Spring.

In addition the annual cookie sale will help a major project: improvement and expansion of camping facilities at Camp Linden at Linden and Camp Crawford in Ypsilanti. Although the United Funds campaign supports the overall operating costs of the Huron Valley Girl Scout council, proceeds of the cookie sale are needed to develop camps and support the summer camp programs.

Camp Crawford is just completing building two shelters accommodating up to 120 girls. First step in developing the 400-acre Camp Linden into the council's MAJOR residence campsite will be provision of tents and tent-platforms and development of swimming facilities.

ARTISTIC MRS. DONALD SOBER proved that the very pursuit of early craft lore can be entertaining and rewarding as she told members and friends in Northville Woman's Club Friday of experiences during the four years she has been studying Indian and Early American crafts.

She terms them "cricket crafts", she pointed out, because they were done at the hearthside. On a small spinning wheel she demonstrated how the pioneer women spun wool into yarn.

A lesser-known art, basketweaving, also was shown by Mrs. Sober, who pointed out the intricate work in Indian baskets. This, she informed her audience, is the oldest art known to man.

Donna Williams Weds Richard Houghton, Jr.

A candlelight ceremony at the First Presbyterian church February 13 was the setting for the marriage of Donna Lynn Williams and Richard Houghton Jr. The Reverend Lloyd Brasure officiated.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William G. Williams of Eaton drive and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Houghton of Tampa, Florida.

The bride was led to the altar by her father. White flowers in long brass memorial planters and four candelabra decorated the altar. A large white wedding candle was placed on the organ. Mrs. E. R. Langtry was organist and soloist was Mrs. George Jerome "Entreat Me Not to Leave Thee" and the "Wedding Prayer" were sung.

For her wedding the bride wore a white lace formal wedding gown and carried white orchids. # Sub Skipper at Town Hall

Captain James Calvert, a famous submarine skipper, will be the next speaker at the Northville Town Hall series. Calvert will appear at the P & A theater next Thursday, March 4, at 11 a.m.

Now occupying the European and NATO desk of the Navy department at the Pentagon in Washington, Calvert is the author of "Surface at the Pole", a story of exploration and adventure at one of the earth's last frontiers.

Calvert commanded the USS Skate in one of the most daring voyages in history — repeatedly surfacing through the frozen Arctic icecap.

Calvert is an Annapolis graduate and a submarine veteran of World War II, when he was twice awarded the silver star and bronze star.

For his achievement on the Skate, he was twice awarded the Legion of Merit and the submarine was honored with the only two Navy unit commendations ever given in peace time.

Calvert was in charge of submarine division 102, which includes all Atlantic Fleet nuclear submarines, before assuming his present post at the Pentagon.

Clarkston Crushes Mustang Title Hopes

Even Ripley would find this one hard to believe.

Hitting on 64 per cent of its shots — that's right, 64 per cent — Clarkston shattered Northville's dreams of a share of the Wayne-Oakland title Friday night, 74-57.

Bloomfield Hills clinched the 1964-65 case championship the same night, easing by Clarenceville, 62-46. The Barons have an 11-2 record with the windup of W-O play scheduled for this Friday.

Northville lost a shot at a title-share by losing to Clarkston and dropped into a second place tie with Clarkston with a 9-4 record.

When a team has a decided height advantage and controls the boards, a shooting fete like Clarkston's isn't so spectacular. But when a team of average basketball size like Clarkston fires 29 of 47 shots, that's going some.

And the Wolves did it on their home court with uncanny outside shooting. Over 75 per cent of their shots were taken from 15 or more feet from the bucket.

Most of the outside damage was done by six-one Forward Dan Fife, who tallied 21 points, and 5-10 Forward Gary Pearson, who hooped 17.

While they were peppering the nets from the free throw circle and beyond, Ron Lippert, a lean, bespectacled pivot man, fired with unerring accuracy from the base line and the corner.

Held scoreless in the previous fray with Northville here, Lippert flipped in 14 points this time to help break up Northville's defense.

With all the hot shooting and although they trailed all the way, the Mustangs were a game lot remaining in the ball game through three and one-third quarters.

They closed ground from scores of 11-4 to 13-10, 28-16 to 28-23, 44-34 to 45-38 and 55-44 to 55-48, but each time Clarkston surged ahead.

In the last quarter, the Wolves parlayed a sevenpoint lead into their biggest margin of the night at the final buzzer, 74-57.

A third-period injury hampered Northville's comeback chances. Guard Tom Bingham, who along with Jerry Insland led the attack, left the game with a gash under his right eye.

Six stitches closed the wound but Bingham did not return to the floor. He finished with 13 points, second to Insland's game high of 23.

To stay in the ball game, Northville hit on 24 of 57 shots for 42 per cent, good shooting that would have brought victory in any normal situation.

The Mustangs failure to dominate the boards, as they had in the first meeting of the two teams, proved costly. Northville had a one-rebound edge, 30-29 Friday night, compared to the local cagers' 42-23 rebounding margin in their 64-52 win earlier this year.

Before Northville could get its bearings in the first period, Clarkston swept into an 11-4 lead.

With Bingham scoring six points, Northville came back to close ground at 13-10, but four quick buckets pushed Clarkston back to a 23-12 lead at the end of the quarter.

Within a minute, Northville crept back into contention in the second period. Steve Evans, Rick Milne and Insland tallied consecutive baskets and Jim St. Germain contributed a free throw to cut Clarkston's margin to 28-23.

But the Wolves bounced back with two lightning strikes to take a commanding lead, 37-28, at halftime.

Insland scored 11, and Bingham four, before his injury, to keep Northville even in the third period, 55-48.

When Coach Dave Longridge switched his cagers into a zone defense, they momentarily befuddled the Wolves in the fourth quarter. Insland netted a jumper and converted a free throw to cut the margin to 55-48, but that was Northville's last chance.

In other league contests Friday, Holly edged Milford, 68-60, and West Bloomfield kept pace by turning back Brighton, 66-54.

League Champs Here Friday

Hoping to pick up the pieces of a shattered title chance, the Northville Mustangs will take on Bloomfield Hills in the local gym tomorrow night.

Matmen Shelved

Northville's matmen received sad news this week when it was announced that they would not be able to compete in the state wrestling tournaments which begin this weekend.

Reason for the disqualification was the fact that an entry form did not reach the regional tournament director's hands in time.

By Michigan State Athletic Association rules, all applications should have been received before 6:30 p.m. last Saturday. Northville's was not received until Monday.

According to Coach Dick Gray, the form was placed in the mail Friday evening, but it was not picked up until Saturday.

Repeated efforts to appeal the decision were turned down by state officials.

A local wrestler in each weight division was scheduled to enter the regionals, including Heavyweight Jerry Burns who copped the regional title last year and placed sixth in the finals at East Lansing.

Tuesday at Clarenceville

Cagers Start Tourney Play

The Northville Mustangs will square off against Dearborn Riverside Tuesday night as prep basketball teams swing into state tournament action next week.

All local games will begin at 8 p.m. at the Clarenceville high school gymnasium, site of the district tournament.

Winner of the Northville-Riverside game will face Dearborn Hoston Thursday night, and the winner of that round will move on to the finals Saturday night.

In the other bracket, Garden City will clash with host Clarenceville Monday. The winner will then meet Lutheran West Wednesday night, with the victor in that semi-final contest moving to the finals.

Of the six teams entered in the Clarenceville district tourney, Northville has the top record to date of 10-7. Garden

City West has an 8-5 slate, Riverside 7-8, Hoston 6-8, Clarenceville 2-13 and Lutheran West 1-14.

Besides Clarenceville, which Northville has beaten twice, the only other team in the tournament that the Mustangs have met is Lutheran West. Lutheran West won that one, 53-52, in the River Rouge Holiday tournament to register its only victory of the season.

Northville will be the site of the regional tournament the following week.

Frosh Continue Winning Streak

The rampaging Northville freshmen continued their blitz of opponents during the past week to register a 14-3 record with one game remaining on the 1964-65 schedule. They won twice.

Coach Bob Kucher's cagers will wrap up the season 4 p.m. Friday when they take on neighboring Novi in the Northville high school gymnasium.

Combining board strength and a fast break Friday here, the local frosh rolled over West Bloomfield, 68-39.

Northville came up with balanced scoring in the fray with high-scoring Center Jim Peterson paving the way with 19 points, followed by Bob Hubbard with 17 and Joe Andrews with 10.

Monday's contest was another runaway as Northville beat Clarenceville, 57-29.

Bothered by an all-court press, Clarenceville made repeated errors to make the local cagers' job easier.

Clarenceville did give Northville a battle in the first quarter, however, by outscoring the Trojans 20-2 in the second period, Northville raced to a comfortable halftime margin.

Cited for his stellar play was Guard Joe Andrews, who Kucher praised for his solid floor game and setting-up of easy baskets with sharp passing.

Scoring honors once again went to Peterson, who tallied 25. He was given support by Dennis Matthews, who flipped in 11, and Hubbard, who netted 10.

MARK CUSHING — Six-five and still growing is Mark Cushing, Northville's new-found skyscraper forward. Not since he moved off the bench after the opening game has anybody been able to nudge Cushing off the starting five. He has used his height to advantage under the boards, grabbing as many as 12 rebounds in one game. With a little more weight, Coach Dave Longridge pointed out, the willowy junior could go far. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Gene Cushing of Dunsany road.

He tied for the honor with another cadet at a screening held at Selfridge Air Force Base in January. The screening consisted of a written examination, an inspection, drill and a personal interview by a board of officers.

Cadet Schoof is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Schoof of 23701 Heartwood drive in Echo Valley. He graduated with honors from Northville high school in 1964 and is now a freshman in Aeronautical Engineering at the University of Michigan. His CAP career began when he joined the Northville Squadron three years ago and became the unit's first Cadet Commander. He transferred to Ann Arbor last fall, where he is the Cadet Commander of a new squadron which he helped form.

Last summer Lt. Schoof traveled to Austria as a guest of the National Aero Club of Austria on the International Air Cadet Exchange. The IACE is a youth exchange between aviation groups of 22 nations in Europe, South America, and the Middle East, which is sponsored by CAP. Each summer 140 CAP cadets from the nation travel abroad on the program.

This year Schoof has won the Jet Orientation Course. One cadet from each of the 52 wings will go to Perrin AFB, Texas, for a one week course in jet flying, including extensive ground school and preflight training and six hours of dual instruction in a T-33 jet trainer.

Novi Police Officer Helps Juveniles

A juvenile is never recognized in a newspaper story but he is hardly a nameless subject to Novi Patrolman Richard Faulkner.

Faulkner is the one-man juvenile bureau for the Novi police department. A corporal in rank, he has been a member of the force four years. He is 28.

As a juvenile officer, Faulkner spends at least 25 hours a week — over half is on his own time — on matters concerning boys and girls under 17 years of age.

After some schooling in December of 1963 at Michigan State University, Faulkner started keeping records on juvenile offenses in the village. His 1st annual report has been submitted to the village council.

Statistically speaking, Faulkner said "85% of my contact was with males, 15% with females, 43% with non-residents and 30% with repeaters."

Drinking is a major problem, Faulkner stated. "Twelve per cent of cases handled involved drinking. And juveniles who drink cause other acts like breaking and entering, larceny and disorderly conduct," Faulkner said.

Of all juveniles taken into custody, Faulkner said "19.9% are for traffic offenses, 17% destruction of property and malicious mischief, 12% run-aways, 8.8% disorderlies and 31.3% breaking and entering, stolen autos and larceny cases."

Faulkner notes that the delinquency problem "lies in the home. Defective homes which lack love, affection, security and discipline account for about 88% of our delinquency," Faulkner said.

An unfavorable family environment is created by desertion, drinking, poverty, immoral conditions, abandonment, violence and ignorance, Faulkner pointed out.

"Anyone of the seven items can, and does stem from very little parental supervision," Faulkner said. "The weaker the home life becomes in a community, the faster the community deteriorates."

"We of the Novi police department will continue to do all we can to decrease this problem of delinquency. All we need is a helping hand to make our job a little easier by receiving 100% cooperation from the community."

Award Contract To Widen I-96

A $1.9 million contract has been awarded to the L. W. Edison company of Grand Rapids to widen Interstate 96 over an 18-mile distance.

An extra lane will be added on either side of the freeway from Interstate 696 in Novi to U.S. 23 at Brighton. Work is expected to be completed in June 1966.

Michigan state highway officials say that the construction project will round out plans to modernize I-96 in Oakland and Livingston counties.

LET'S TALK CARS

LADIES AT THE WHEEL

Modern cars look smarter and suffer from far fewer maintenance problems than automobiles did years ago and one of the reasons is women.

Let's face it fellows, the ladies are more demanding than we are and the industry is hustling to meet their wants. This is the prime reason North American cars have always led the field in style, comfort and reliability over their European counterparts where feminine influence is less pronounced.

A recent survey reveals that eight out of ten women drive and that 48 percent of them drive every day. Ninety percent take the car out at least once a week. Forty three percent buy the gasoline for the family car and about the same percentage have the service work done.

Comparative accident records show they are as equally competent drivers as men, despite the fact that superior male chuckles may still be heard over those female driver jokes ("Ours is the only house in town with dented trees — my wife drives.")

Ladies are most interested in style. A national magazine recently received 33,000 entries in a design contest for a car style of the future. It is a rare woman these days though that doesn't have some idea of the various working parts of an automobile.

We are always pleased to take the time to explain the technical mysteries of the engine or other mechanical parts of their cars to our lady customers. Experience shows that once properly informed, they take as good care of a car as they do their home.

Winless Wixom Peewees Plugging Away at Puck

By DON BAUERLE

"They may be in the cellar but we still love 'em."

Like a New York Mets fan, a rooter for the Wixom Peewees may come to the same conclusion. The Peewees, an amateur hockey team, try hard but somehow remain winless.

Even so, Coach Tom Burke and his 16 players aren't dismayed. "Wait till next year," says Burke, the 37-year-old recreation director for Wixom, with a straight face.

The other coach for the Peewees is Fred Waara. His wife, Fay, is acting city clerk in Wixom.

Burke, who is also a local barber, confesses: "We haven't done very good so far — we haven't won yet. The fellows get a little discouraged but I don't have to call them to come out for practice or a game."

"They call me." Despite their slump, Burke figures the Peewees "will have the upper hand" next winter. "This is our first season and we've been up against some teams whose members have played before in organized hockey," Burke laments.

"Seventy-five percent of my boys are nine or ten years old. Next year we'll be experienced. Then we'll go."

Members of the Peewees are between nine and 12. They compete in a league with Walled Lake and Milford. Most of the games are played in Wixom which has the only ice rink in the area.

"Our rink measures 70 by 170 feet," Burke explains. "It is still undersized. Regulation rinks are 10 feet longer and wider."

Burke says his son, Danny Burke, and Cass Shulte are the leading local goal-getters. Others, comprising the offensive unit are Greg Morgan, Tommy Tuck, Myran Korhorst, Darvi Markyn and Jeff Thornsberg.

Pee wee goal tenders are Robert Trombley and Roy Robinson.

In the defense lineup are Guy DeRresne, Ken Carother, Greg Geller, Marty Wilkinson, Dennis Harland, Mark Grainer and Chuck Rollo.

Besides the rink which can be used for night games, the recreation budget provides pads and sticks for the goalies plus other safety equipment like face masks and gloves.

Uniforms are a hodge-podge, Burke says that jerseys, used last fall in the Beaver football league in Walled Lake, are worn by the Peewees.

"But they're just on loan," Burke says. "Sometime this year we hope to launch a money-raising project so we can get our own."

Right now, the Peewees are facing off against rivals at least twice a week. But there is some "overtime".

Exhibitions are scheduled, too.

"We went to Canada a few weeks ago. Wixom and Milford teamed up and opposed Walled Lake, the stronger team in our tri-city league. Walled Lake still won. And we have played Plymouth," Burke says.

"Last Friday the boys went to Olympia stadium. The boys thought it was great. It was the big time, just like playing baseball in Tiger stadium. We lost to Walled Lake again."

Burke would like to see the hockey league grow. "Maybe another team will be formed in Walled Lake. But I talked with a few players from the Plymouth squad who live in Northville. They said they wish they had a local team."

Hockey is just one part of the recreation program offered in Wixom. Burke, who has run the local program for three years, is allocated a budget of $4,200. Other activities include three Little League teams, a Babe Ruth team, softball league for men, golf tournament and tennis.

SERVE FOR SAFETY — Sarah Horner and Richard Gotts (left) of Main street elementary and Karen Glenn and Michael Rosinski of Amerman elementary smile for the cameraman as they are honored for being outstanding safety boys and service girls, respectively, for January. Michael and Richard got pen and pencil sets from Manufacturers National Bank while Sarah and Karen were given recognition pins from the Northville Mothers club. However, the brief ceremony was a glum one. Northville Police Chief Eugene King, who usually passes out the awards, was in St. Mary hospital fighting for his life.

Minutes of Northville Board of Education

I. The meeting was called to order by President James F. Kipfer at 7:45 p.m. in the Junior High school library.

Present: Mr. Kipfer, Messrs. Wilfred C. Becker, Eugene K. Cook, Edward F. Angove, Robert H. Shafer, William B. Crump, Mr. Elmer O. Weber.

Others present: All administrators, members of the Citizens' committees, the architect and Dr. L. Faies of the State Department of Public Instruction.

II. In the interests of Dr. Faies' time schedule, regular business was set aside for the time being, to permit Dr. Faies to present a report of his day spent with the administrators reviewing possible school locations and school plant needs.

Dr. Faies listed four possibilities: A. to build a new Junior high school; B. to build a new elementary school; C. to remove elementary pupils from the Main Street school site and expand the junior high school into the present elementary facilities; D. to remove the Junior high school children to another site and expand the elementary school into the present junior high school.

When asked to state a preference among these alternatives, Dr. Faies expressed the opinion that it would be better for this school district to build a new junior high school first. He supplied reasons for his opinion and answered a number of questions from the floor.

III. The secretary then read the minutes of the meeting of January 11, 1965. It was moved by Mr. Crump that the minutes be approved as read. The motion was supported by Mr. Shafer and carried. The minutes of the meeting of January 25, 1965 were then read. Mr. Shafer moved they be approved as read and it was supported. Motion carried. It was suggested by Mr. Cook that the minutes be distributed to Board members by mail, with the agenda for the meeting. Mr. Amerman agreed to have this done.

IV. Communications:

1. National School Board Association, announcements re national convention.

2. Mr. John Todd, President of a fraternity known as Alpha Kappa Iota, composed of Schoolcraft college students, requesting use of Northville Public Schools facilities for a dance.

V. Report of Superintendent:

1. With regard to request of Schoolcraft College students, it is against the policy of the board to permit use of school facilities by unrecognized groups. Therefore, it was moved by Mr. Angove that this request be denied until such time as this fraternity is recognized by the college. This motion was supported by Mr. Weber and carried.

2. Mr. Amerman presented, for Board approval, an administrative directive on the "Tenure Policy." This was carefully reviewed by the board and one change suggested, and it was then moved by Mr. Cook that the administrative directive be adopted, with the change.

Schoolcraft Construction

The Board of Trustees of Schoolcraft College, at its February 17 meeting, made a final decision to begin a new building, the "Campus Center," by the middle of April.

just approved. Mr. Weber supported this motion, which was carried.

3. Check-Signer — Mr. Ellison reported he has made arrangements for purchase of a second signature plate for the check-signing machine and it should be available for use in preparation of the March checks for payment of general bills.

VI. Report of Treasurer:

Mr. Angove presented the following report of fund balances as of January 31, 1965:

It was moved by Mr. Shafer that the report of the Treasurer be accepted. Mr. Becker seconded the motion. Motion carried.

Crump that the report of the Auditing Committee be accepted and bills and payrolls be paid. Motion carried.

IX. Unfinished Business:

1. School Bus — Mr. Ellison reported the results of his investigations of the cost of ordering two additional school buses at this time. A small saving can be made and therefore it was moved by Mr. Crump and supported by Mr. Shafer that the two additional buses be purchased from John Mach Ford Sales, for delivery this summer. Motion carried.

2. Mr. Kipfer appointed Mr. Eugene Cook to serve as this District's official representative at the hearing of the school district's 1965-66 budget, on February 24, 1965.

Over $3,400 was collected in fines and costs last month in the Novi justice courts of Robert K. Anderson and Emery Jacques Jr.

Judge Anderson, accounted for $1,844 while Judge Jacques turned in $1,504.

In January of 1964 some $1,889 was collected totally compared with $1,677 in the same period of 1963, according to the monthly report of Police Chief Lee BeGole.

Chief BeGole said that January "was much busier than any previous January. The department handled 232 cases, an increase of 52 over last year."

Number of tickets written by local officers was 313, over double the total in the same month in 1964, BeGole stated. Some 149 violations were handed out then.

SPEAKING for The Record

By BILL SLIGER

Should a local businessman become involved in politics?

This question seems particularly pertinent right now. Saturday noon is the deadline for potential candidates for the city council of Northville to file petitions.

At this writing five persons have indicated their intention to run for the two vacancies on the council. Only Mayor A. M. Allen has come out for the office of chief executive of the city.

There is a popular theory circulating the community that a merchant, dependent upon goodwill for his bread and butter, is inviting bankruptcy when he takes a hand in the direction of local government.

If a councilmember is to do a good job; to really become involved and dig deeply into a community's needs, he is almost certain to come up with solutions that will be disturbing to many.

More accurately, he will undoubtedly create animosities that could cost him customers.

And in a community of our size the average merchant does not have a customer to spare. So this type of revenge is effective and painful.

I do not think it is logical to say that every merchant should offer his services to his local government by running for council. Some are not personally suited for such a job; others are not interested; and many not qualified.

But every citizen, whether his business is retailing locally or selling on the road, should test his own qualifications and ask himself (or herself) whether or not he has something to offer his community.

If the results of this personal appraisal are positive, then, by all means, become acquainted with the workings of your local government, volunteer for boards and committees, attend council sessions, run for office.

Governments at all levels are crying for competent and interested officials. The rewards are almost completely confined to feelings of personal satisfaction. And the elected official is fair game for all — the taxpayer, the non-taxpayer, the voter, the non-voter and the press.

But personal satisfaction can sometimes be almost as nourishing as steak. And the official who is genuinely trying to improve his community has set himself apart from those who second guess from the wings (a role that should always be preserved). He is participating.

Citizens with qualifications should run for public office. But they should do so with the intention of contributing wholeheartedly and without fear of reprisals.

If they harbor illusions of glamour connected with council service, they should look to other fields.

Northville's city council needs workers. There are important and difficult decisions to be made, particularly in the area of planning, that will cast the die for our future. These decisions will most surely come within the next two years.

Unfortunately, the council is losing an excellent member in Richard Ambler. He has been a working councilman. His ability to boil problems down to their essentials and take a firm position supported by logical explanation will be missed on the council.

A challenge awaits the new member or members. And citizens with a stake in the future of our community should not discourage potential candidates.

Instead, they should appraise themselves, and others, and seek out the best that our community has to offer its future.

Case of Legislative 'Study-itis'

Lansing — Several years ago then-Governor G. Mennen Williams suggested the state should have an executive mansion. Many states already provided a residence for their governor, he said.

He then proceeded to have a study drawn up to determine what such a mansion should include.

Serious thought and considerable time went into the Williams-initiated study. Included in the results were recommendations that it be near the capitol, contain distinctively private as well as public areas, include a state dining room for large groups and overnight accommodations for visiting dignitaries.

Not wanting to appear selfish in his motives, Williams shelved the study recommendations until after he announced in 1960 he would not seek another term.

He then brought it to the legislature's attention but nothing was done with it. Austerity was too important at that time.

Constitutional Convention delegates in 1962 decided maybe the former governor was right. Michigan should provide its chief executive with a home.

With a provision for a governor's mansion written into the new Constitution, the mandate went to the legislature. Last year a committee studied what such a building should include.

Lo and behold, the recommendations presented to the legislature this year are basically the same as those of the Williams study. But now, with the change in legislative power, some say further study will be required before any formal proposal is forthcoming.

No doubt, studies of proposed legislation is such a lasting import are required. It would appear, however, that the governor's mansion proposal, like a number of other matters, could be studied to death.

It is difficult to decide whether legislators have an innate distrust of their predecessor's abilities or whether each group of lawmakers just wants to take full credit for accomplishments.

The mansion question seems to be one in which the lead of former Governor Williams might have been followed with little or no complaint in later years.

One area of taxation is almost a certainty for action in the current legislative session. This is the often-proposed tax relief for senior citizens. Living on relatively low, fixed incomes, many thousands of Michigan citizens over 65 years old have drawn sympathy from both parties in recent years.

All agree these citizens have contributed to Michigan's growth and they deserve special consideration. Methods proposed to demonstrate this consideration varies.

Property levies generally have been the target in the past, and again in bills presented this session, for senior citizens exemptions. Some propose eliminating property taxes to older landowners with low incomes.

Others would give tax relief on only part of the assessed value. Most plans have been proposed by Democrats.

Governor George Romney proposed a method in 1963 but was rebuked by Democrats, whose support he needed, because his plan called for deferment of property taxes rather than a full exemption. The deferred levies he proposed be paid from the person's estate after death.

This year it appears the Governor and Democratic legislators will make a more intensive attempt to agree on a plan for providing this relief.

State agencies are fully geared to seek a share of the federal anti-poverty funds expected to pour out of Washington in the next few years.

All agencies were asked by the governor last fall to become fully familiar with the program to determine how the state could benefit from it.

In addition to his broad request, a coordinating committee was created and officials in various departments were delegated with responsibility in specific areas covered by the federal program.

Primary agencies concerned with the program include the youth commission, employment security commission, departments of public instruction, social welfare, agriculture, economic expansion and mental health. But all others are keeping tabs on provisions of the federal program.

Don't Ignore Thrift

Babson Park, Mass. — It is often impossible to convince young husbands and wives that it is during periods of prosperity like the present that plans must be made for possible unexpected reverses. Business has never kept on going up indefinitely without recessions or other corrective adjustments, and chances are that it never will.

The fundamental law of economic Action and Reaction is easier to forget than to repeat. Nearly everybody wants a new car, a color TV set, appliances, luxuries, exotic vacations, and a modern up-to-date home. It is only natural for the young and the optimistic to want the highest possible standard of living for themselves, and for their children.

But it seems to be going out of fashion for people to check on just how much the family pocketbook can stand. (How many of today's workers, for instance, set aside part of their weekly pay check to place in some form of liquid savings before they buy desirable but not essential things?)

During a boom it is easy for a young family man to get trapped. And at present, he is further lured by the promises of the Great Society, and he is also a product of the "unending" prosperity that has come out of World War II. Like many others, he is enticed into overloading, by newspaper, magazine, radio, and TV ads. With more money to spend than he has ever had before, he is easily tempted to get in over his head.

Whereas families 20 years ago were spending only 45% of their incomes for the essentials of living, a substantial majority of family income today is used up in fixed charges such as food, rent and installment debt.

This may be all right as long as a boom is in progress. But let a downturn set in and bring about layoffs, and the burden of installment commitments carried by many people could mean economic catastrophe for them. There will always be important cycles of overexpansion and depression because the inevitable quirks of human judgment will see to that. Only if you increase your financial reserves during an "up" period can you hope to ride through a "down" period without being done in.

Inflation talk is everywhere

Scholarship Recognized

Three Northville students have made the dean's list at their respective colleges. They are Rosmarie Tetzlaff, David Hay and James Tuck.

Miss Tetzlaff, foster daughter of Mrs. Elsie Shafer of 105 Linden, achieved the academic honor for the fall semester at Hillsdale College.

She is a junior majoring in early childhood education. Hay, son of Mr. and Mrs. David Hay of 46141 Sunset, was honored for his scholarship during the first semester at Central College in Pella, Iowa. Hay is a senior.

Tuck was one of 182 students at the University of Michigan's school of engineering to qualify for honor list ratings. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Tuck of 46620 Stratford court.

at the present time, so family heads are especially ready to take on new expenses if only to avoid the higher prices for goods that they expect a little later on. It must be kept in mind, however, that inflation is always followed by a blow-up. So if we should have an inflationary explosion, you can count on it to be followed by deflation. And deflation means business troubles, more unemployment, lower incomes.

If a man has no reserves, a layoff could leave him with unpayable commitments for mortgage, interest, real estate tax, car, furniture, appliances. If, in addition, he owes for store purchases and utilities, no unemployment insurance is going to scratch the surface of his needs.

Prosperity is a time for putting funds aside in savings accounts, with an idea perhaps of carefully investing the money later on. Money in the bank is one of the best types of insurance against unemployment emergencies — which are almost always "unforeseeable." It is, of course, a blight to have all the finest things that you and your family may want. They bring happiness and satisfaction. But not if your financial planning has been bad and the bill collectors and repossession agents beat an unpleasant path to your door.

Time teaches that it takes even more intelligence, will power, and courage to plan for tomorrow than it does to take care of today's obvious obligations. Thrift is still one of the cardinal virtues, even though the buy-now pay-later system that is so prevalent in our society encourages careless spending and unthrifty attitudes.
