Mrs. Romney captivated an audience of 200 during her Northville stay.

Lenore's Lovely, Lively 'in the Pink'

By JEAN DAY

Mrs. George Romney equated citizenship and politics Tuesday as she addressed about 200 area residents at a late-afternoon reception in the junior high school gymnasium.

"Become informed; become involved," she urged the Republican women and goodly number of men present, declaring that if parents don't fight for standards of honesty and morality in which they believe, they are "letting the kids down."

"Government," she stated firmly, "is going to be no better or worse than what we vote upon. Make your voice heard."

For 20 minutes Mrs. Romney directly and forcefully told her listeners that citizens have obligations to uphold what they believe, that Republicans supported her husband and that now he needs help in gaining Republican legislators to carry through reform programs.

Speaking without hesitation, or notes, Mrs. Romney left no doubt that she was present as a concerned citizen. She summed up her philosophy in saying that an individual's reason for being here is "to perfect humanity through individual effort."

Her specific effort Tuesday was to help return Farrell Roberts to the state senate. She asked that Northville citizens consider his past record in such reforms as mental health and marriage counseling proposals. Roberts and his wife accompanied Mrs. Romney on her whirlwind day, which included four political talks and a church luncheon speech in downtown Detroit.

Mrs. Romney appeared slim and fashion-conscious in a demi-fitted suit of the bright cyclamen pink favored by French and American designers as "the color for spring." She was, hatless and her bouffant hairdo was worn almost in page-boy length. A single strand of pale pink beads and a slim bracelet completed her costume.

Flecks of blue in her suit were picked up in the light blue coat she wore on arrival. Completing a day that began with a 9:45 a.m. coffee in Livonia, Mrs. Romney arrived in Northville at 4:18 p.m. Her talk, Mrs. Roberts reported, expressed the same beliefs as did the three given in the morning but each was different.

"She simply is talking about what she feels are needs and concerns," Mrs. Roberts said in admiration, "but this is no canned talk, by any means." Immediately after a welcome by Mayor Allen and the presentation of red, long-stemmed roses to Mrs. Romney and an orchid corsage to Mrs. Roberts, Mrs. Romney launched into her talk.

At the conclusion she asked her audience's forgiveness for rushing off. "I know the governor needs help," she smiled, "that's why I'm going right home for dinner tonight." Probably this was the only disappointment in the reception as there was no opportunity informally to meet or talk with the governor's wife.

Exactly 25 minutes after she arrived, all pink-and-pretty, she was gone. In that 25 minutes she had convinced nearly everyone that Lenore Romney believes in her husband, knows what is needed and is out to do her part.

Council Business

In routine business Monday night the council approved purchase of a new police car from John Mach Ford Sales for a low bid (including trade-in) of $956.70, delayed action on an amendment to the electrical code requiring conduit in commercial and industrial buildings until the proposal is rewritten to indicate only new and extensive modernization of old buildings, approved a request for a permit for a liquor license by the Eagles Lodge, adopted a policy for granting use of city hall meeting rooms and set April 6 as the first meeting in April because of the election on the regular meeting night.

New Superintendent Named

Air Act to Kill Horse Racing

A bill to abolish horse racing in the state of Michigan has been introduced in the state senate and will have a public hearing before the state affairs committee in Lansing at 7:30 this evening.

Sponsors of the bill are Senators Basil Brown and Coleman Young, Democrats of Detroit. Senators Brown and Young are both proponents of a new dog racing act currently being considered in Lansing. According to Northville's state representative, Marvin Stempien, the dog racing measure has little support in Lansing. The proposal by Senators Brown and Young to abolish the pari-mutuel racing act is a maneuver to rally support for dog racing, Stempien declared this week.

Nevertheless, Representative Stempien said it was his understanding that many anti-racing groups planned to "storm the capitol" to support the Brown-Young bill when it is heard before Senator William Romano's state affairs committee. The hearing will be held in room Q of the senate chambers.

Northville Mayor A. M. Allen urged council members Monday night and other interested businessmen and community leaders to attend the session on behalf of racing.

Alex M. Nelson

Alex M. Nelson, 50, To Succeed Amerman

The superintendent of schools of Menominee, Michigan will succeed Northville School Superintendent Russell H. Amerman when the latter retires this June.

He is Alex M. Nelson, 50, who has served in the Menominee district for four years and previously as superintendent of schools in Richmond (six years), Hesperia (six years) and Hersey (two years).

Amerman has been the Northville superintendent for 32 years and has been associated with the Northville system for 38 years.

The Northville board of education announced the selection of Nelson Monday.

Board President James Kipper said that Nelson was one of 18 applicants for the job. Interviews were held with seven applicants and the field was narrowed down to three, Kipper stated, first to five, then three, two and finally Nelson.

His selection came upon unanimous agreement of the seven-member Northville school board. The search for a successor to Amerman began last fall and the task became one of the board's principle undertakings.

Although the board called upon various agencies and individuals for advice and credential information, as the field of candidates was narrowed down the assignment became strictly a board matter and the final nominees a well-guarded secret.

In Nelson the board chose a man with a varied background in school administration. He attended public schools in Wyandotte, graduated from Dunes high school and received his bachelor's degree in industrial arts with minors in sociology and history from Eastern Michigan University.

Nelson received his master's degree in education administration from the University of Michigan and has completed all but a few hours as a candidate for his doctorate in education administration. He expects to finish this work at the University of Michigan.

In Menominee he was elected "man of the year" in 1963 by the Rotary club for his work in reorganizing the public school system there. He is currently president of the Upper Peninsula Superintendent's Association, a member of the accreditation committee of the North Central Association of Colleges and Universities and was recently elected to Marquis' "Who's Who in Education." He is also chairman of the 1965 superintendent's workshop for the meeting of the Michigan Association of School Administrators to be held in Marquette this August.

Nelson was recently appointed by Bishop Selway as Lay Reader in the Upper Peninsula Diocese of the Episcopal church.

The new superintendent and his wife, Betty, plan to move to Northville this summer. He will assume his new duties July 1. The Nelsons have two children — a son, David, who is 19 and a freshman at the University of Michigan, and a daughter, Jane, 17, presently a junior at Menominee high school.

Nelson expects to visit the community and school administrators several times before the close of the current school term in June. He plans to be here when Superintendent Am-erman is honored at a retirement banquet, May 25. The new superintendent signed a three-year contract calling for an annual salary of $15,000.

Council OK's Water Route

The city council held its longest session of the year Monday night — 4½ hours — but still couldn't come to a final agreement on construction of the city of Detroit water line through Northville.

Councilmen did agree to the proposed route, however. Recommended by the city's water consultants, the route avoids the business district by continuing the line from Baseline at Center southward to Dunlap, west to Wing, south to Fairbrook and then east back to Center where it will be continued southward to Five Mile road.

Stumbling point in the proposed agreement with the city of Detroit is the construction time required.

It had been thought that the project could be completed between racing meets — April 15 to June 15. The council was informed Monday night, however, that this would not be possible. And Detroit would like to continue working on all streets except Center during the racing meet at the Downs.

Northville officials fear traffic problems, especially in the Wing and Fairbrook street areas.

Councilmen will meet again Monday night to study an agreement with the city of Detroit and a permit for the contractor. Under this two-contract agreement (both with Detroit and its contractor) City Manager Bruce Potthoff advised the council that better protection could be gained by the city.

The council also delayed until the special meeting Monday night a decision on adoption of central business district and central business parking zoning classifications.

Members did adopt the planning commission's proposed

"parking authority." This body would set forth rules for providing parking.

The council is expected to adopt the CBD and CBP zoning which has been recommended by the planners and represents the second reading of the proposals. But action was delayed when City Attorney Philip Ogilvie called for time to study the legality of the parking requirement provision. Under the proposal a ratio of parking space to retail area of 2½ to 1 is required. But the manner in which parking shall be financed is left for the parking authority to determine.

If adopted, CBD and CBP zones will be available but still unapplied in the city. Planners hope that the classifications will be used as part of the master planning for business district improvement.

The council also delayed until Monday the first reading of the new density development plan, which has been recommended by the planning commission. Final hearing is scheduled for April 6.

While the council appeared ready to accept the proposal, it was suggested that reductions in lot sizes for R-1S should be limited to 80 by 100 feet instead of 75 feet width, that a deposit should be required to guarantee development of the park area and that appeals of decisions governing the use of density zoning should not go to the local appeal board but to the courts.

Under the density zoning plan, developers may reduce the size of lots by using the extra lot area for a park abutting the homes. The park must be a minimum of two acres, however. Total area used for the development must be equal to the area required for building on the site as it is zoned.

Judge McDonald Panel Moderator

Municipal Judge Charles McDonald has been named as moderator of the Chamber of Commerce sponsored "meet the candidates" night scheduled for Thursday evening, March 25.

Like the candidates who will be appearing on the program,

McDonald's name will be on the April 5 ballot. But the incumbent judge has no opposition.

Another unopposed candidate Mayor A. M. Allen, will also be introduced. Allen has served 3½ terms as Northville's mayor.

Chamber President Dempsey Ebert said the program will open with statements from the two 14th senatorial district candidates, Democrat Edward McNamara and Republican Farrell Roberts.

The audience will then question the candidates before concluding remarks.

The program will then leave the state level and focus on the city council candidates.

Seeking the two four-year seats on the council are incumbent Mrs. Beatrice Carlson, Del Black, C. Oscar Hammond, W. Wallace Nichols and Charles Toussaint.

The public meeting will be held in the community building beginning at 8 p.m. Refreshments will be served at the conclusion of the program.

Streets Need $88,000 Patch

Winter and traffic have taken their toll on Northville's streets.

A repair program covering approximately 30 streets in the city was presented to the council Monday night by City Engineer Harold Penn. Estimated cost of the repairs was $88,000.

The projects range from patching to complete resurfacing of badly gutted streets.

Repairs will get underway this spring. But City Manager Bruce Potthoff estimated the full program would take three years.

Acting Police Chief Dave LaFond shows off "little sticks of dynamite".

Fire Cracker Bombers Sentenced to Pen-manship

Two Northville high school seniors may develop writer's cramp in the next few weeks but it isn't likely their prose will win any literary prizes. They were ordered Monday afternoon by Northville Municipal Judge Charles McDonald to compose lengthy compositions or else face a jail sentence. Their topic: The Evils of Fireworks.

Acting Police Chief David LaFond said that Lynn Gregory, 18, of 46900 Twelve Mile in Novi, and Leonard T. Fritz, 17, of 306 East Cady, were picked up last Tuesday night for shooting off firecrackers.

LaFond said that when the youths were arrested they were armed with block-busters which he termed "small sticks of dynamite."

"We got numerous complaints after the basketball game last Tuesday night about fireworks going off along Randolph and near the high school," LaFond said.

"Why one even bounced off the shoulder of Darwin Teska, an auxiliary policeman, who was directing traffic at Eight Mile and Sheldon roads."

LaFond said that Gregory and Fritz had an unorthodox system for firing their "bombs." Fritz would light them, and hand them over to Gregory, who was driving. Gregory would then throw them nonchalantly out the car window. Judge McDonald meted out a stiff sentence to the youths. He fined them $15 each and then ordered them to write a 3,000 word essay.

The compositions must be submitted to the court, their parents and the high school within 30 days.

If they default, they face a sentence of 10 days in the Detroit House of Correction, McDonald stated.

"The police department won't put up with fireworks of any kind. If we catch anyone with fireworks we hope the court will deal with him in the same manner — or maybe be a little tougher."

Northville Mayor A. M. Allen introduced Mrs. Romney who was presented a bouquet of roses. Mrs. Farrell Roberts received an orchid corsage.

All in pink, she is escorted to her waiting car by state senate hopeful Farrell Roberts.

In Our Town

By Jean Day

EXCEPT FOR TUESDAY this is the week to "color it green." For that day only the emerald green of St. Patrick gave way to the official Romney colors of blue-and-white in honor of the Governor's Lady.

As Northville area Republicans invited the community to meet Mrs. George Romney at an afternoon reception in the junior high gymnasium (formerly the community building), an all-out effort was expended to make the welcome a warm one.

Cookies were baked in at least 50 kitchens Monday as the contribution from many housewives, and local merchants supplied the rest of the tea and coffee needs as well as the floral arrangements. (The A&P and Kroger, Lila's Flowers and Jones Floral company were donors.) Mrs. John Holland was the volunteer who solicited so many cookies.

In addition the florists supplied the long stemmed roses presented to Mrs. Romney and the corsage given Mrs. Farrell Roberts, wife of the Republican candidate for state senate from the 14th district.

The floral presentations were made by Julie Brown, 12-year-old daughter of Dr. and Mrs. John Brown of Farmington road, and Debbie Arlen of Country Lane. Mrs. Arlen was co-chairman of the reception with Mrs. Stuart Campbell.

The blue-lettered white banners worn by the girls for their presentation were the work of Julie, who is starting early to follow in the footsteps of her mother. Mrs. Brown admits she loves being a political volunteer.

Men as well as women made arrangements to be in town at 4 p.m. Tuesday to meet Mrs. Romney, who is known for her approachability and charm.

Her husband's political credentials were assessed comprehensively in a Sunday, February 28 New York Times article, "This Republican for 1968?" Only omission, to our way of thinking, was the too-brief reference to Lenore Romney as "attractive wife." Michiganders know that she also is a tireless campaigner and effective speaker.

Her Tuesday itinerary, as an example, began with coffee sessions in Livonia, continued with a major meeting of Woodward Avenue Christian Church women in Detroit and went on to the reception here.

Area American Motors families can attest that Mrs. Romney always has served as her husband's helpmate. She invariably attended company dinners with him in his years as American Motors president, often accompanied by sons and daughters. (She also was one of the few of the auto magnates' wives willing to come to the telephone to speak to the press. Some others would ask that questions be relayed through a butler.)

WEARIN' O' THE GREEN will be the theme for the St. Patrick party, Friday evening at Meadowbrook Country Club. This is the club's first big dinner-dance since New Year's Eve. Members, wearing the bright green hats of St. Pat, will dance to the music of Eddie O. Schick's orchestra. Spring refurbishing has been completed while the club was closed.

A GUIDED TOUR OF Schoolcraft college is planned for members of Mothers club and their husbands at 8 p.m. Monday. Afterward the group will gather for coffee at the home of the William C. Wileys on Eight Mile road.

Co-hostesses are Mrs. Wayne Wilcox, Mrs. Irvin Marburger and Mrs. Donald Hannabarger. Mrs. Glenn E. Deibert is chairman of tour arrangements. Members and their husbands, are asked to convene for the tour in the Schoolcraft administration building, the middle building facing Haggerty road, in conference room 8520.

"AN INFANT is the only figurine for which Berta Hummel made the original mold," Miss Elizabeth Etz told fellow members of Northville Woman's club Friday, explaining that the common impression that "Hummels" are figurines comes from the fact that the artist's cards have been copied in the familiar small figures.

After a newspaper article spurred her interest in collecting Hummel cards, Miss Etz accumulated the largest collection—more than 450—in this country, and perhaps in the world.

Miss Etz also is the Reverend Etz, an ordained minister in the Unitarian-Universalist church in Farmington. Before her retirement two years ago, she taught at the Wayne County Training School.

Her Hummel hobby was begun in the 1940s as she corresponded with Sister Calista of Mundoline college near Chicago, also a Hummel collector. Eventually, her letters went directly to nuns in the Franciscan convent at Siessen, Germany, where Berta Hummel took her Holy vows to become Sister Innocencia in 1934.

Cage Round-Up

Slow-Starting Mustangs Picked-Up Zip in '65

As far as Dave Longridge, Northville's cage mentor, is concerned, he'd like to forget basketball, 1964.

And, there's good reason. Through December of this season, Northville had a dismal 2-5 record and things looked mighty bleak entering 1965. But that's when the Mustangs came to life to win five games in a row. The spurt almost accomplished the impossible — it all but made Longridge forget that there ever was a year before '65.

In fact, the Mustangs rolled up six Wayne-Oakland conference wins in a row to challenge for the loop title with a 6-2 record.

Even a 50-37 setback at the hands of the league leading Bloomfield Hills didn't discourage the local preppers as they came back to win three more contests and remain in contention.

Only defeats in the final league frays of the season with Clarkston and Bloomfield Hills finally bounced the Mustangs out of the W-O loop race.

But with the end of the regular season, and the farther the Mustangs were removed from 1964, the better things got.

After a rousing come-from-behind overtime victory over scrappy Dearborn Riverside in the opening round of the district tournament at Clarenceville, Northville breezed to the district crown.

Returning to an overflow home town crowd at the high school, the Mustangs came to the end of the line in the regionals when a torrid Holt eliminated Northville, 79-50, to close out the season.

As a result of their blistering 1965 pace, the Mustangs posted a respectable 18-9 record in 1964-65, the best record since 1962's 20-1 slate.

Longridge has a ready explanation for this team's 11-4 record in 1965.

"This was an excellent group of boys to work with," he stated. "They worked hard for everything they got, especially that district trophy."

Longridge pointed out that the Mustangs set their goals early in the year for the district championship. "We won it, and it's been a successful season as far as we're concerned," he declared with a smile.

Biggest game of the year? Northville's victory over Dearborn Riverside in overtime, of course; that one won the district tourney. Longridge noted.

And that's the one won by a gritty bunch of second stringers who refused to give up with three regulars sitting out the final minutes of regulation play and the overtime.

Although the Mustangs reached their goal, and although everybody's aglow with success, it's still not easy to forget 1964, the 2-5 record and what might have been.

"We started slow," said the Mustangs' Mentor, "slower than expected. Instead of 2-5, we should have been 5-2 at that point," he added.

But in the next breath, Longridge was back in 1965, thinking ahead to next season's team. "We're losing some good ball players," Longridge said, "but we'll have some good ones coming back too."

Last through graduation will be three regulars — Forward Rick Milne, and Guards Tom Bingham and Jim St. Germain. Also leaving the team will be substitutes George Burchfield, Tom Wicke, Ted Bunker and Bob Langtry.

But the Mustangs will retain their big boys up front. Heading the list of veteran sparkplugs who will be back another year is Center and Forward Jerry Insland, Northville's top scorer and rebounder.

At six-two, Insland started slowly the past season, but came on strong to earn a berth on the W-O All-League first team. The Free Press also honored him by placing Insland on the All-Suburban third team and, recently, made him honorable mention all-state.

Coach Longridge expects Insland to be even better come next winter. "We expect him to be a stronger rebounder and scorer, and we hope he gets off to a fast start as a senior."

In the person of six-three Steve Evans, Northville has one of the most talented big men in the W-O league. Evans bloomed late this season, putting his six-three height and jumping ability to good use, especially in tournament play.

With the development of a good outside shot, he could become a real threat in the league, Longridge noted.

Back for another season will be six-five Mark Cushing. A good shooter and rebounder, Cushing "came a long way" in '65. Providing he builds up stamina, Longridge thinks he can make the Mustangs' forward wall formidable.

Backing up Insland, Evans and Cushing on the front line will be Mike Turnbull, who saw spot action with the varsity this year. Longridge pointed out that he could develop into a first stringer if he gains a shooting touch and learns to go right.

In the back court, Northville could be in trouble. One of this year's varsity crew or a sleeper will have to come through, since both starting guards will graduate.

Top prospect is John Jameson, who broke into the starting lineup early in the past season, then fell short of expectations.

Northville's season in a nutshell

West Bloomfield 60, Northville 50 — West Bloomfield's strong Center Rick Hacht dampened the Mustang spirits in the opening game by leading his mates to victory. He tallied 22 points and dominated the boards.

Holly 55, Northville 53 — In a hotly contested fray, Holly eked out a victory when a last-second shot bounced off the Northville rim. Northville had 13 more rebounds than Holly.

Plymouth 60, Northville 52 — In a rough and tumble contest, Plymouth fought off a rallying Northville squad. Insland scored 21 points.

Northville 65, Clarenceville 45 — It was Northville all the way as Northville took 87 shots, hitting on 26, while Clarenceville bagged 18 of only 58.

Thurston 63, Northville 53: In its opening round of the Holiday tournament at River Rouge, Northville committed too many errors. Behind 14-6, Thurston resorted to a press to take a 28-21 lead at halftime and were never headed from there on.

Lutheran West 53, Northville 52 — It was the game of the year for Lutheran West — it's only win of the season and first in 22 consecutive outings.

Northville 58, Taylor Center 50 — The Mustangs salvaged the last of three games in the Holiday tournament, sparked by Rick Milne and Jim St. Germain in the last three minutes.

Northville 49, Brighton 44: Returning to W-O action, Northville iced the game on Tom Dingham's driving layup with less than two minutes to go. That gave Northville a 42-40 lead.

Northville 53, Milford 46 — Insland's 21 points, four coming on two sparkling buckets with Northville out front in the last quarter, 42-41, sewed it up. Northville 64, Clarkston 52 — Playing stellar ball, Northville raced by Clarkston on Insland's 27 points. Northville once held a 59-38 lead in the third period, but then Longridge began substituting.

Northville 59, West Bloomfield 45 — Northville moved into W-O contention with a 5-2 record by bouncing West Bloomfield. A last quarter burst of 24 points carried Northville from a 38-31 lead to victory. Insland tallied 22.

Northville 57, Holly 52 — Northville saw a 16-point third quarter lead go up in smoke in the fourth period. Only last-minute heroics, five consecutive points by substitute Forward Steve Evans, preserved Northville's sixth league victory in a row.

Bloomfield Hills 50, Northville 37 — Bloomfield Hills turned back Northville's title bid to maintain sole possession of first place. After the first period, Bloomfield came to life, assuming an "insurmountable 30-16, halftime lead;

Northville 59, Clarenceville 44 — Northville sustained its slim title hopes by firing in 17 points in the second quarter to outdistance Clarenceville. At halftime, 32-18. That was the ball game.

Northville 62, Brighton 45 — A minute flurry of 10 consecutive points netted Northville a 17-point lead in the last quarter. The rout was on as Insland and Bingham scored 14 points apiece.

Northville 57, Milford 53 — Behind by 13 points at halftime, the Mustangs applied an all-court press and nerve under pressure to pull this one out. It pushed Northville's record to 9-3, just behind Bloomfield's 10-2 slate.

Clarkston 74, Northville 57 — Sizzling the nets at a 64 percent clip, Clarkston wiped out Northville's mathematical chance for the W-O crown. Although Northville twice cut the lead to five points, it couldn't forge ahead.

Bloomfield Hills 68, Northville 43 — Bloomfield blew Northville right off the court as the Mustangs blew golden opportunities on easy layups. Northville dropped to a tie with West Bloomfield for third place on a 9-5 record. Bloomfield, finished 12-2, ahead of Clarkston's 10-4.

Northville 69, Dearborn, Riverside 64 — Down by four points with 32 seconds left, Northville's second stringers caught up at 59-44, then won it in overtime with spirited play in the district tournament.

Northville 61, Dearborn Hills 43 — Northville crushed Hoston's deliberate game with strong rebounding and fast breaks to win going away.

Northville 77, Lutheran West 63 — Northville walked off with the district trophy at Clarenceville. The Mustangs simply had too much and were fired too high for the Detroiters, as Evans scored 11 points in the first period and Insland 11 in the third to pace the attack.

Holt 79, Northville 50 — Hitting 55 percent of its shots, Holt polished off game Northville in the opening round of the regional tournament at Northville high school before a capacity crowd.

Fenton Cops Tourney Here

In a four-night regional tournament held at the Northville high school last Tuesday through Saturday before a record crowds, Fenton came away the winner, 63-51, over Holt.

Fenton was scheduled to meet River Rouge in the class B quarter-finals Wednesday evening at Ann Arbor high school. Thanks to the efforts of Athletic Director Al Jones and his aids, Northville's first regional tournament went off without a hitch. "Everything ran off smoothly," said Jones.

Over 7,000 fans saw the four games, with a record crowd of 2,200 fans jamming the place for the finals Saturday night. River Rouge's Mentor Lofton Greene, an old tourney pro,

OLV Cagers Take 2nd In League

Our Lady of Victory cagers, scoring during the season. Top rebounders were Saputo and Turnbull, while Bunker and Guard Bill Sullivan were the field generals.

It was the second time in as many years that the parochial five finished high in the standings. Last year, OLV was co-champion in the conference, made up of teams from Redford, Dearborn, Farmington, Detroit, Inkster and Northville.

Playing stellar ball, OLV avenged an earlier defeat suffered at the hands of St. Roberts by beating St. Roberts March 7 on its home court, 21-17.

The victory took on added significance since St. Roberts had already clinched first place and had beaten OLV previously in overtime. Furthermore, St. Roberts has almost seven times the enrollment as OLV. The local boys wrapped up the 1964-65 season by dumping St. Valentine's of Redford, 28-17.

Craig Turnbull, Paul Bunker

and Joe Saputo led the team, scoring during the season. Top rebounders were Saputo and Turnbull, while Bunker and Guard Bill Sullivan were the field generals.

Rounding out the starting five was either Dave Grondin or seventh-grader Jim Pensod. OLV's entry in the CYO league is made up of seventh and eighth graders. Although the fifth and sixth graders do not compete in league play, they hold practice games of their own.

Coaching the 50 boys who participated in the OLV program were Stan Johnston, Greg Pensod and Dan Boland.

LET'S TALK CARS A WATCHFUL EYE ON CRITICS

The best circulated memos in our dealership are not from well-wishers. We're always trying to improve, and the source we look to first is from our critics. Like an anxious mother fretting over a problem child, we give them most attention. Any business as complicated and detailed as an automobile dealership is bound to slip up occasionally. Usually, the complaints that cause most customer irritation are those minor items that just get overlooked. Neglect then balloons them into a feeling of dissatisfaction way beyond their actual importance.

There was a certain emotional satisfaction in watching via TV recently the preparations by thousands of our best engineers and scientists to rocket Astronaut John Glenn into orbit. There, before the eyes of millions, the awful fact was bared that this magnificent, multi-million dollar scientific wonder was paralyzed because a simple latch-bolt on the pilot's door had broken.

There are only 15,000 odd parts in the average car compared with hundreds of thousands in a space missile, but that case of the broken bolt made us feel better just the same.

There are two ways to run a car dealership. There is the volume-price approach in which a customer's complaints are usually filed in the waste basket. Or the quality dealership in which they land on the boss's desk.

The vast majority of complaints spring from legitimate grievances and we're grateful for the opportunity they provide to improve our business. Next to the pleasure of filling them in the "satisfied" folder, that is.

Seize 'Goofballs'

A bottle of pills that could leave someone literally "float- ing on cloud nine" has been confiscated by Novi police.

A 21-year-old Detroit who had the pills in his possession; discarded them when local officers Richard Faulkner and Fred Stafford were investigating a drinking party on 13 Mile just east of Novi road last Saturday night.

Stafford said Richard Harlaon tossed the pills under the car in which he was a passenger before he, Timothy Majcher, a 17-year-old Walled Lake youth, and three minors were taken to the station.

Officers wanted to further question Harlaon about furnishing alcoholic beverages to minors.

Stafford asked pharmacist George McCollum to analyze the pills. McCollum told Stafford that "one pill taken with a bottle of beer will make one drunk very fast.

"If too many are taken at once they will stop the heart from beating."

McCollum stressed to the officers, according to the police report, that such pills cannot be purchased without a doctor's prescription.

Later, Harlaon was issued a violation for furnishing alcohol to minors and Majcher was given a ticket for being a minor in possession.

Both were advised to appear on or before today in Judge Emery Jacques courtroom to plead their cases, police said.

Dance Hall Looted; Cash, Liquor Taken

Will a footprint in the snow lead Wixom police to a burglar?

Police Chief D'Arcy Young says it is the chief clue his department is pursuing in the breaking and entering of the Finnish dance hall on Loon Lake last weekend.

Hans Kansman, bartender at the Finnish recreation area, reported the looting to police Sunday morning.

Kansman said that 60 bottles of alcoholic spirits and a case of beer were missing, plus $15 from the cash register and $16 in a jar.

On Water System

Will Township Waive Taxes?

A snag in taking over the ownership of the Willowbrook water system remains unsettled today.

Village officials are awaiting a decision from the Novi township board pertaining to personal property taxes on the system.

An agreement was signed

March 5 by village officials to buy the system. The purchase is contingent on approval of a $210,000 bond issue to bring Detroit water to Novi.

Price of the system is $62,500. Final payment will be made when the bonds are sold.

Harold Ackley, village administrative assistant, told the council that the township has been asked to consider removing the system from its tax roll.

Ackley said that the township board of review was reticent and that Hadley Bachert, township supervisor, said a legal opinion is necessary.

Bachert turned the request over to Emery Jacques, the township attorney. Jacques was expected to have a ruling ready in a week or so.

Although it has no bearing, Howard Bond, village attorney, handed down a personal decision on the matter. He said: "The township could take it off the roll."

In the transfer of ownership of the water system, the village is attempting to be excused from township and county taxes. School taxes must be paid — period.

If the village had taken over January 1, it would have been exempt from taxation. Now the matter is up in the air.

But if it is subject to the taxes, Ackley said the system should be reassessed with taxes based on the purchase price.

Seek Suspect In Cafe Fight

A warrant has been issued for the arrest of a Northville resident on a disorderly persons charge.

Police are seeking Truman Howard of 9639 Currie Road. Howard started a fight in the Cottage Inn, 115 W. Main street early Saturday morning, police said.

Howard, according to the police report, began throwing a coffee cup, dishes and silverware at Frank Stowell of 113 West Main.

Police said Stowell, who had never seen Howard before, defended himself. Result: several broken dishes, chairs and tables.

Fined $80

A Redford township resident should never have revisited Novi, especially with a faulty muffler.

Police stopped James Brown for excessive noise at 4:05 a.m. Saturday. When his driving record was checked, Brown had two outstanding traffic tickets in the village, one for improper passing and the other for no registration on his person.

But Brown's troubles were only beginning. It was further learned that Brown was operating a vehicle on a revoked license.

After spending the night in the Oakland county jail, Brown faced Judge Emery Jacques. He was fined $15 for improper passing, $15 for no registration and $50 or 10 days in jail for driving with a revoked license.

Brown pleaded innocent to the excessive noise violation and will appear April 15 in the local court for trial.

Gathering Evidence For Trailer Suit

Village officials are gathering evidence to bolster the village's position in a court test of the local mobile home ordinance.

Howard Bond, village attorney, told the council Monday night that neighbors near the property of Frank Davis on Beck road near Nine Mile will be asked to testify.

Davis contends that his land is suitable for a trailer park site. His case will be heard April 8 in Oakland county circuit court.

Chamber Publishes Booklet

A booklet to introduce outsiders to Northville — "a small town with big city living" — is being distributed by the Northville Chamber of Commerce.

In the 13-page bound edition, the chamber offers facts about the city and township, schools, churches, businesses and even includes a weather analysis.

Average temperature in Northville is 46 degrees. Some eleven inches of snow falls annually, and the growing season lasts 180 days.

Hospitals, hotels and motels, transportation facilities, truck line utilities and the local economic development corporation are also listed in the pamphlet.

WEATHER'S FINE — Jean McCann, Downs' receptionist-secretary, helped the photographer get the point across: it's warm in the stands at the Downs. An infra-red heating system (see unit overhead) has been installed to accommodate fans at the early season opening next Friday, March 26.

Heated Grandstands To Greet Downs' Fans

The temperatures may be brisk on the track but grandstand fans at Northville Downs will be cozy and warm when harness racing makes its earliest Michigan start Friday, March 26.

A $100,000 infra-red heating system is now being installed at the Downs. The electrical units will hang from the grandstand ceiling and radiate heat downward over all the seats.

For the first time in its 22 year history, the Downs is running a "split" season.

An 18-night portion, March 26 through April 15, is being held at the Downs so that remodeling and track preparation can be completed at the Detroit Race Course where the Wolverine meet is held.

The trotters will return to Northville on Monday, June 21 for a 39-night season through August 4.

The 57-night season tops last season's meet by nine nights.

The infra-red heating is controlled by means of a thermo-static system.

Two types of units are used — one a lamp unit which provides both light and heat. The tube-type is weaker and used at points nearer the fans.

Infra-red heat warms objects, not the air.

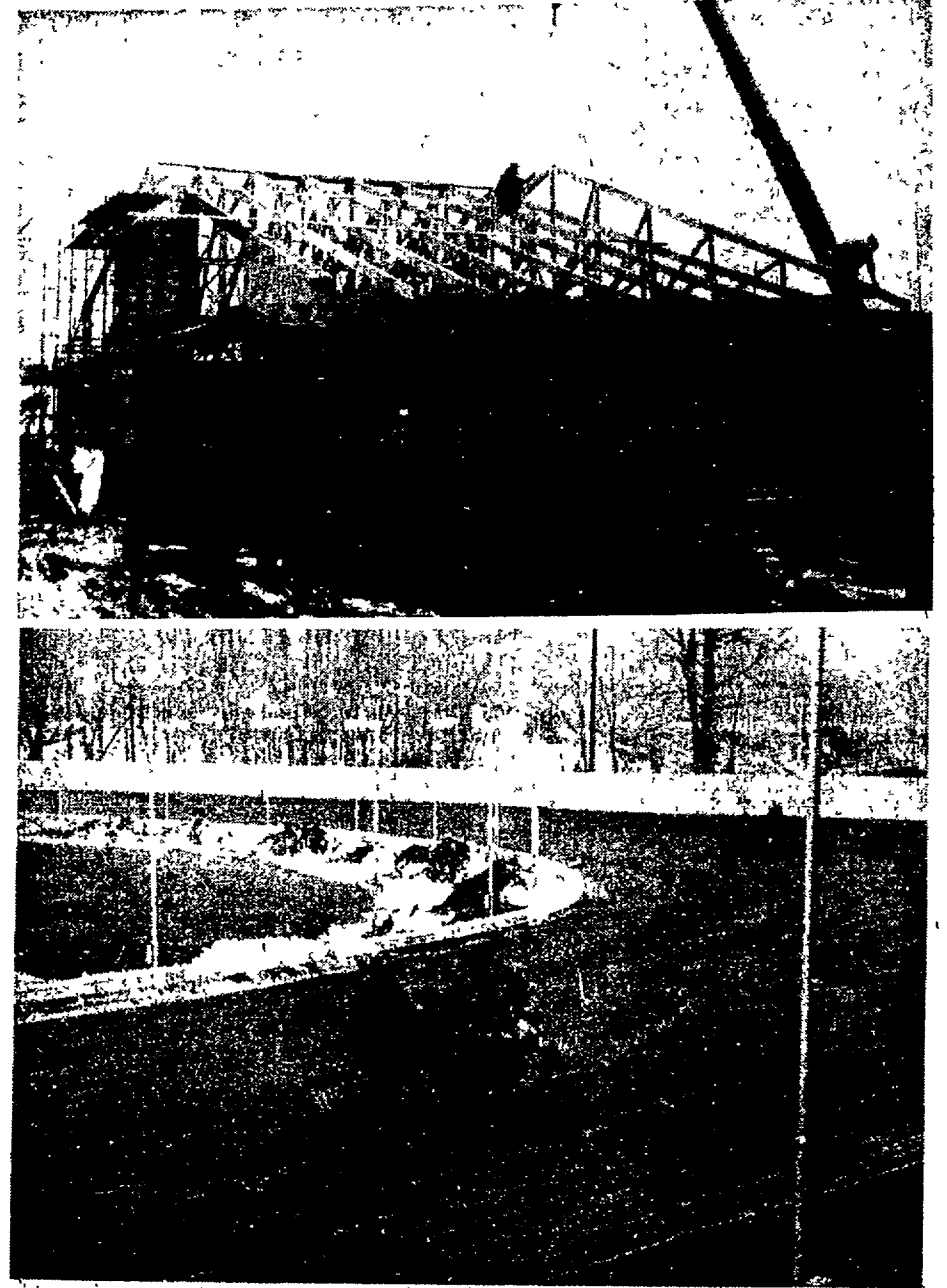

The system operates on 1200 kilowatts — equivalent to operating 12,000 100-watt lamps.

Electrical baseboard radiant heat is provided in interior rooms of the stands.

In addition to the installation of the new heating system, Downs Executive Manager John Carlo is hurrying completion of a new receiving barn on River street.

The new facility will house horses arriving at the track and will provide some 48 stalls in addition to four tack rooms. The 160' x 80' building is directly east of the two-year-old paddock where horses are housed just prior to racing time.

In addition to its use as a receiving barn, the new building will be used to hold annual horse auction sales

Top — Huge joists for the Downs' new receiving barn on River street were being hoisted into place last week. The 160'x80' structure is scheduled to be completed for the opening of the 22nd season. Below — Workouts are under way on the Downs' oval.

A Matter of Equity

Dear Mr. Sliger:

Thank you for your frank discussion of the part I played in the Northville High Wrestling Team application for the Regional Tournament. I sincerely commend you for your continuing recognition of our joint responsibility to keep our Northville people current on my every activity in Lansing.

Your comments appear to be one side of the ancient legal argument between the rule of Law and the conscience of Equity.

Shakespeare characterized the dilemma well in the story of the Merchant of Venice. Ancient England was wise in developing the Equity side of its courts, from which our American system of jurisprudence has developed many wise rules.

I do and shall continue to feel a sincere sense of responsibility for the welfare of all innocent by-standers, whether they are registered voters or not.

Keep up the good work.

Very truly yours,

Marvin R. Stempien

State Representative

Old Days

Not So Good

Mr. Bill Sliger:

Our son sent the March 4th issue of the Northville Record to us. Enjoyed whole issue very much. However we wish to take issue with you on your statement that we were a sturdier lot in the good old days. Fifty years ago we didn't live as far from school, or twenty to forty miles from our job. The walk to school wasn't complicated by dangerous traffic then. Wind and snow of that intensity we didn't tackle. We just hugged our hard coal burner sensibly.

Then a little later, do you remember the blizzard of February 1918? Working people froze ears, feet and noses waiting for street cars that never came. All that next week straw was piled knee deep in said street cars. The average trip on the street car in Toledo, Ohio was two miles, not the long drive of today. Many people in this last blizzard walked farther than that two miles.

We find a tendency in this latter day and age to belittle current happenings. Earlier a spade was a spade. Several times in the last couple of years storms that tore down power lines, unroofed and collapsed houses, and twisted and uprooted trees have been called live storms. Earlier, more literal generations termed such storms tornados.

Maybe fifty years before we see such another blizzard then they'll brag about the hardy citizens of '65.

Signed Louis & Ruth Wood P.S. The horse, bobsled and cutter of that day could do the job. Cars then were put on blocks for the winter. Hurrah for modern days.

Name Calling Out of Order

Dear Editor:

It is indeed unfortunate that more people are not aware of the endless hours of time which many of our dedicated citizens give in their communities. In this age of skepticism and cynicism we find many who believe that everyone has to have "an angle." They cannot believe there are hard working people giving many, many hours of their time just because they are sincerely interested in performing a service to their own community or to their country without any desire for personal gain.

Our local Board of Education is an excellent example of this kind of service. Those who keep in touch know that these men are sincere, hard working, honest people who rarely receive a commendation and frequently receive abuse. We cannot possibly always agree with all of them but Northville has been blessed with conscientious and intelligent men who sincerely believe they are representing the best interests of the majority of the electorate. We all definitely have a right to disagree with individuals and sometimes even with the group decisions but prudent and responsible people are very hesitant to question a man's integrity.

It would not be surprising if some of our Board members would get "fighting mad" in reaction to irresponsible statements made recently. Name Withheld On Request

Stempien Proposes Mental Health Bills

Two companion bills which would broaden provisions for mental health care and in many cases would avoid hardship and added expense to patients and their families, have been introduced in the legislature at Lansing by Rep. Marvin R. Stempien, (D), of the 35th District, which includes Northville.

The title of these bills is "Interstate Compact on Mental Health." Representative Stempien stated, "This measure proposes that Michigan join in the existing reciprocal program or 'interstate compact,' in which 24 states are now participating. The bill provides the necessary legal machinery for treatment and care of the mentally ill under a system which recognizes patient welfare to be of paramount importance, and to define the responsibilities of the party states."

In operating under this program, Michigan, as a "sending state," could transfer committed mental health patients to other states, would accept patients from other states. All transfers would require the request of the attending physician and approval of both of the two states involved.

UM Honors Local Pupils

Two Northville freshmen at the University of Michigan have received the William J. Branstrom prize for scholarship.

They are Robert D. Bosak, of 43000 Nine Mile and Anne S. Hembrey of 9300 Napier. They were among 355 freshmen so honored.

Branstrom prize winners rank in the top seven percent of their class and for their achievement select one of 27 books gold-stamped with the U of M seal and marked with a special bookplate.

Presentation of prizes will take place April 9.

DEL BLACK for COUNCIL
Although relatively young in years my entire life has been spent in doing business in Northville, and successfully, I believe.
I honestly feel an obligation to my community to help do what I can to provide for its continued improvement.
If elected to the city council, I'll undertake the responsibility with the same vigor with which I believe I have conducted my businesses.

Independent front suspension takes the "truck" out of truck ride. It smooths rough roads, protects truck, driver and cargo from excessive jolting. And on Chevrolet pickups it's a proved system with millions of miles of user experience behind it. Try it out on one of Chevrolet's great Fleetside or Stepside pickups. It's one of the big reasons that Chevrolet is first choice with pickup users from coast to coast.

Smokers Give Schools $20 Million

LANSING — Both official and public concern over cigarette health hazards has died down considerably since the 1964 U.S. Surgeon General's report. Some lamented and some were relieved by the change.

The adjustment in official concern involved somewhat of a paradox.

On the one hand the Governor appointed a special group to study the health report. This unit recommended the State Health Department "explore, promote and develop programs for the reduction and the ultimate elimination of cigarette smoking."

Sitting, opposite, or perhaps adjacent, were much of state government and the local school districts. They depend in large part on cigarette tax revenues for operating costs.

The study group's recommendations and several made subsequently by the Health Department have not been implemented in any way. The legislature has side-stepped any action in this area.

Cigarette sales are big business in Michigan. Preliminary figures indicated 1964 was the third consecutive year in which more than a billion packages were sold in the state.

In terms of money to operate government units, the sales meant more than $20 million for local public schools and more than $48 million for the state. This was in 1963.

The tax on cigarettes is now seven cents per package. With two cents of this going into the school aid fund, legislators would be hard pressed to find a replacement for this income if a strong anti-smoking campaign was effective in Michigan.

Last year the revenue was expected to have increased despite a sharp drop in income during the month immediately following release of the Surgeon General's report.

In the past, Democratic governors and a scattering of legislators have supported such a proposal. It was also considered during the Constitutional Convention but lacked sufficient support.

Leaders of both political parties have one constitutional change in common on their lists of legislative goals.

This is the lowering of the voting age to 18. If approved by the legislature this year it presumably would be on the ballot at the 1966 general election.

Strong support for the idea has now been voiced by Gov. George Romney and Democratic legislative leaders.

"Our young people arrive at a peak of public interest at that age," contends Romney. "I am unqualifiedly for the 18-year-olds and above having the right to vote."

Democratic Senate and House leaders Raymond Dzendzel and Joseph Kowalski, both of Detroit, agree. They included it, along with revision of voter registration laws, as one of three major goals in the elections area.

Teenagers in the Central Michigan area formed a campaign group last year urging the legislature to put the voting question on the ballot.

The movement spread to a few other areas through school groups but failed to gain much attention in the quarters where it would count.

Legislative approval of a vote on the question would undoubtedly bring forth formation of a similar group on a statewide basis. Its size and enthusiasm could have great impact on the outcome of a vote.

As surely as Spring arrives in mid-March, so does Michigan Week follow closely behind in May.

The 12th annual brag week has occupied many individuals and committees since the 1964 event ended last May 23.

The format this year will be much the same as in the past. As each of the previous ones, it, too, will be aimed at bigger and better achievements in promoting the state at home and afar.

Each day of Michigan Week, to be observed May 16-22 this year, has a special designation.

"Spiritual Foundations Day" officially starts the observance in church services and other public gatherings across the state.

The mayors' exchange, paired already, is the big feature of "Our Government Day," always set on Monday.

The remainder of the week is set aside daily to turn the spotlight on Michigan's hospitality, means of livelihood, education, heritage and youth.

Again the goal is to make the six to eight months of work fruitful by involving as many of Michigan's populous in the observance as is humanly possible.

Preparing for Slump

BABSON PARK Mass. — The country never had, it so good. That is what we hear all over the nation today. Dollar incomes after taxes are at record peaks. The physical volume of production is higher than it has ever been before. And now a new prod to the economy — the form of exercise tax cuts is expected to go into effect after midyear.

Yet, President Johnson is not planning to rest on his laurels. He knows that the history of good times is that bad times always return — sooner or later. He wants to prepare now, while business is booming, to ward off any sinking spells the very minute they appear. He understands that the beginning of a downturn is a shadowy area at best.

Usually, not even the economists can say for sure that a decline has set in until after it has gotten started.

Heck, if the government is going to do anything to stave off a recession, it cannot afford the time loss of waiting on Congress to formulate plans and enact them into law. The anti-slump arsenal must be ready and waiting in the closet to be hauled out at the first sign of trouble.

While this column is going to press, a task force is preparing — at the President's request — all manner of plans for warding off any recession that may appear. The Council of Economic Advisers has been alerted to develop "early warning signals" for use in determining when a letdown in production and incomes may be about to start. For it is realized that, to be effective, the anti-slump tools must not only be available...but they must be used early.

Biggest objective is to have vast sums "ready to go." These would be poured into the economy by Executive order whenever the Council warned the President of the need. Among methods most talked about: The right to raise unemployment benefits and to lengthen their time of payment; standby authority to order tax cuts, perhaps even a tax moratorium; cold storage public-works... that could be trotted out of the "freezer" at the drop of a hat; and standby lists of ordinary government supplies that could be bought in increased quantities at any time.

The intention of leveling the hills and raising the valleys of economic fluctuations is a noble one. But it is a new stand for government to take. It is not the same as the Administration's saying that no one will starve; that no one will have to sleep in the streets. It is actually the assumption of a responsibility for doing something that no one in history has been able to do.

Cycles appear to be a part of nature... in weather, in harvests, in animal life, and in human populations. Granted the historical fact that in periods of high good times men begin to think more and more that "things will not change." Their minds become conditioned to boom.

It becomes very unpopular to suggest, when the economic sun is shining brightly, that it will ever rain again. But... it usually does; at least, it always has.

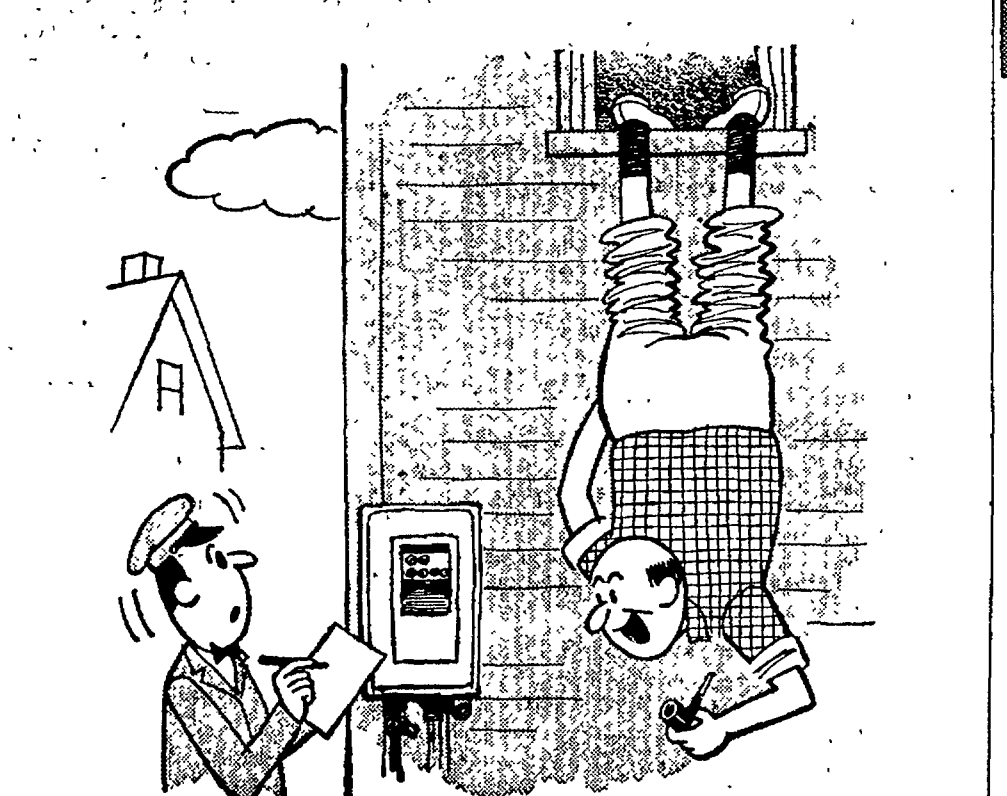

As economists, we are very much impressed by the power of rising credit totals to carry production and trade along to higher and higher levels. This has been true in other booms; and we see the same forces at work now. The correlation is certainly worth noting. We are experiencing the best good times of all. We are having the most massive increase in credit in history (credit is the other side of the debt coin). However, just as in other eras of debt buildup, there will intervene some force — now unknown — that will check the upsweep. The day and the hour will not be recognized until it is upon us. But, at that moment, the chain of bigger debt, bigger boom will be broken.

The Babson theory of action and reaction in economics (as Newton's in physics) points to the conclusion that the greater the prosperity, the more severe will be the correction. And we very strongly suspect that men have learned more about adding power to the uphill climb of business than they have about braking its descent. Use of stimulants — too many and too soon — in an incipient slump could greatly add to the severity of an eventual correction.

Rivals!
It has often been said that the only logical substitute for a new Cadillac is one that has seen previous service. Whatever you plan to invest in your next car, above all consider Cadillac.
If you are like most people, you hope someday to own a new Cadillac motor car. For Cadillac's continuing greatness in design and engineering has made it one of the world's most desirable and sought-after possessions. But if a new Cadillac is not presently feasible, you should consider the pleasure and satisfaction that would be yours with a late model, previously-owned Cadillac. Your dealer currently offers an unusually wide selection of fine used Cadillacs at a cost in line with that of many new cars of far less stature and quality. These fine Cadillacs are all in superb condition, and many offer features not yet available on other makes. And from a standpoint of investment, remember that a Cadillac traditionally returns more of its cost at resale than any other car at or near its price. So visit your authorized Cadillac dealer, and let him show you a Cadillac—new or used—that will fit your budget. Your visit will be the wisest motoring move you have ever made. Why not make it this week?
