

Public Invited to Schoolcraft Dedication

Sign of Schoolcraft—the Belltower.

Public ceremonies marking the culmination of a seven-year-old project will be held Sunday afternoon at Schoolcraft College, 18600 Haggerty road at Seven Mile.

Citizens of the Northwest Wayne County Community College District, which includes Northville, Livonia, Plymouth, Clarenceville and Garden City, have been invited to the dedication program scheduled to begin at three o'clock.

Ceremonies will be held on the open court in the center of the college campus and will include public participation to emphasize the role of each individual community in making establishment of the college possible.

Mrs. Kenneth L. Hulsing, a

Plymouth resident who worked with citizen groups to form the college, will represent the citizens of the district and present the college key to Harold Fischer, chairman of the Schoolcraft board of trustees. Fischer in turn will present the key to Dr. Eric J. Bradner, president of Schoolcraft, who is entrusted with the administration of the college.

An original composition "Fare and Dedication", will be performed for the first time by Schoolcraft music students and guest musicians. Vernon Knight of Plymouth was commissioned to compose the dedicatory anthem especially for the occasion as a tribute to the citizens of the college district. A college hymn, composed by Wayne Dunlap and Ralph Kelley of the faculty, will be sung by the college choir.

Dr. Ferris Crawford, assistant state superintendent for general education services in Michigan, will deliver the principle address, "The Birth and Growth of a Community College".

Public inspection of buildings and grounds will follow the ceremonies. A dedicatory booklet to commemorate the first year of the college will be distributed as a gift memento.

In case of inclement weather, the ceremonies will be held in the library.

Parking facilities for 2,000 cars are located near the main entrances on both Haggerty and Seven Mile roads.

Potthoff Takes Berkley Post

Northville is looking for a new city manager.

The council learned officially Monday night that Manager Bruce K. Potthoff has accepted the management of Berkley and will terminate his job here on May 28.

Potthoff has been Northville's manager since October 1, 1961. He was the second man serving in the post since city incorporation eight years ago. Potthoff succeeded John Robertson.

The council accepted Potthoff's resignation on a motion by Councilman John Canterbury which expressed regret "at losing the excellent service of Mr. Potthoff and wishing him continued success."

"I'd like to see this item postponed another year. I regret this very much," chimed in Councilwoman Beatrice Carlson.

Mayor A. M. Allen appointed Councilman Canterbury to direct the search for a successor.

Potthoff's appointment in Berkley was announced by Berkley Mayor George Kuhn. The job pays $11,000. Potthoff is making $9,400 in Northville.

The Northville manager was the unanimous choice of the Berkley council from a field of 31 applicants.

Prior to coming to Northville Potthoff served for two years as an administrative assistant in Jackson and for one year as a research analyst for the Michigan Municipal League.

Perhaps one of the biggest projects during Potthoff's term of office has been the construction of the new city hall. Potthoff had charge of most of the arrangements and had to direct the moving of city offices from the old building to temporary quarters and then back to the new facility.

Reorganization of police and fire activities as well as introduction of street improvements under the 25 per cent assessment plan have also come about during Potthoff's stay.

Potthoff lives at 551 Reed avenue with his wife, Evelyn, and their three daughters, Leslie 8, Nora 5, and Stacey, 3.

The Potthoffs plan to remain in Northville until school closes. They will move to Berkley as soon as sale of their present home is completed this summer.

BERKLEY BOUND—City Manager Bruce Potthoff

School Ready to Launch New Building Campaign

A program to acquaint district voters with proposals in the upcoming June bond election was previewed Monday by the Northville board of education. A graphic film presentation was made by Clyde Vadner, a member of the citizens' committee studying expansion needs under chairmanship of William Secord.

Secord explained that three-man teams consisting of a member of the citizens' committee, the board of education and the administrative staff would make the presentation to voters and answer questions. Special PTA meetings already have been set for May 6 at the elementary schools. Superintendent Russell Amerman said civic groups, such as Rotary, also were reserving dates for the presentation.

The film pinpoints growth areas with pictures and graphs, showing the elementary schools now operating close to optimum capacity and the junior high school already beyond optimum. The committee estimated a 10-year growth projection with the district growing from present load of 2,185 students to a probable 3,700 in 1974.

In further consideration of sites for the proposed expansion, the board instructed its attorney, James Littell, to enter into preliminary negotiations with Thompson-Brown company concerning an option to purchase property "bounded on the west by Taft road and on the north by the entrance access into Northville Heights subdivision" in the proposed Thompson-Brown subdivision. The site, approximately 10 acres, would be for the proposed junior high school in the upcoming bond issue.

The board delayed until next Monday night a decision on the elementary site purchase, pending a further report from the citizens' site committee, which had been asked to review its findings and recommendations in view of the apparent immediate development of the Center street-Nine Mile area, which previously was not anticipated.

Board feeling was that a site of approximately 10 acres should be obtained in the Nine Mile area rather than at Eight Mile, as previously proposed.

The board also discussed the state's seven mill limitation on debt service, a provision for qualified bond issues that keeps the local debt limit at seven mills. No action was taken as Superintendent Amerman reported the administration has an appointment with Louis Shimmel of the State Municipal Advisory Council Friday to clarify what should be adopted in view of future operational millage needs and legislation pending in Lansing.

The board agreed to a request from the salary committee of the Northville Teachers' group to hear its request regarding fringe benefits at its meeting April 26.

It held a preliminary discussion on teachers' request to eliminate noon lunch duty, leaving the matter under study. Superintendent Amerman brought the request up as a "matter of long standing dissatisfaction" among the teachers. He pointed out that a bill now in the state legislature may force districts to free teachers from lunch duty.

Amerman Principal Raymond E. Spear was asked what the duty consisted of at his school. He reported his teachers serve 15 minutes during their 40-minute lunch hour once a week.

In other action during the four-hour session the board delayed approval of continuing the 20-cent per child appropriation to the Northwest Wayne County Child Guidance clinic, instructing that a letter be sent expressing the board's dissatisfaction with its relationship with the clinic.

Specifically, it was learned that reports have not been received back from the clinic regarding referral recommendations, as originally promised.

The board unanimously passed a resolution that protests be sent to the state representative, senator and governor indicating the board's opposition to Senate bill 108, which would provide that any auxiliary services for the health, safety and general welfare of public school children also be provided for non-public school students on equal basis.

Board President James Kipfer explained that this would mean safety crossing guards, speech teachers etc., would have to be provided by the district to all parochial schools, and that it would present an "impossible burden". He pointed out that the bill already has been passed in the senate and is in the house.

Warned of legal problems by Attorney Littell, the board reconsidered its earlier approval for placing a gate in the fence at Amerman school inasmuch as it would exit on private property.

Superintendent Amerman reported that representatives of the Wash-Oak school district had approached him regarding annexation. Since the district lies almost entirely on the boundaries of the South Lyon district near Chubb road, the board recommended that it be discouraged as "unrealistic", pointing out also that the district was trying not to grow in this manner.

Amerman also reported that there would be no afternoon school sessions Thursday, April 22 to free the professional staff to "fulfill their responsibility in the building program." He indicated that three such sessions tentatively have been set up but may not be needed. He was given discretion to use as needed.

The North Central association meeting in Chicago March 29 approved Northville High school for accreditation, Amerman said. The district, he added, also received its annual state approval for tuition students.

He reported that funds totaling approximately $200 were being sought from the districts four PTAs to finance costs of publicity in the upcoming bond issue campaign.

$4,365,821 Bet at Downs

Northville Downs ended its 18-night spring meet last Thursday (April 15) with a total mutual handle for the season of $4,365,821, an average of $242,546 bet nightly.

Total attendance was 72,622, an average of 4,035 fans each night.

The city's share of the state's take from the mutual should amount to about $43,000.

June 21 the Downs opens its 39-night summer meet.

COMING DOWN?—Fire Chief Bud Hartner said Tuesday that the city will negotiate with the Salvation Army and Bell Telephone to tear down the old Whipple estate on West Eight Mile road. The Salvation Army owns the house. Officials fear a big fire would melt a main telephone line running across the property. The house has been a repeated target for arsonists and another fire was extinguished there Sunday night. Police said the porch (right) was pulled down before the fire started.

King Trial Monday

Warren Robert Wright, who shot Northville Police Chief Eugene King two months ago, will face the jury Monday in Wayne county circuit court.

His case will be heard by Judge Charles Kaufman.

Chief King said he has been subpoenaed to appear in the courtroom as Wright is prosecuted on a charge of assault with the intent to kill and murder.

Wright felled King February

10 as the police official was taking him to the station for questioning about two robberies last year at the Detroit Federal Savings branch in Northville.

A total of $15,000 was taken in the hold-ups. Wright was later charged with robbing the savings-and-loan office.

King was shot twice in the abdomen and the slugs were never removed. He returned to his job March 25.

Parking Ban Eyed by City

A 3 a.m. to 6 a.m. parking ban in the business district seems inevitable for Northville.

But the council is moving cautiously, perhaps remembering that a city-wide ban met with disaster some years ago.

Monday night the council accepted a recommendation by City Manager Bruce Potthoff and Herman Hartner, director of public works, which calls for no parking from 3-6 a.m. on the following streets:

Main street - Wing go Griswold; Center street - Cady to Dunlap; Cady street - Center to Church; Dunlap street - Center to Hutton; Hutton street - Dunlap to Main; Church street - Main to Cady.

In his report Manager Potthoff noted "by 3 a.m. the need for using the street for parking purposes is virtually non-existent. Such an arrangement will expedite and improve street cleaning functions and permit extended restrictions on those occasions where extensive snow removal is necessary".

Councilman John Canterbury urged some delay to allow public reaction to the proposal. "If there are some who have reason to oppose the idea, I'd have to hear their objections", he stated.

Other councilmembers agreed, but there was enough approval of the plan to prompt Mayor A. M. Allen to instruct the city manager to order signs.

Actual adoption of the 3-6 a.m. parking ban is scheduled for the May 3 meeting of the city council.

Board, College Petitions Available

Nominating petitions are now available for candidates for a single opening on the Northville board of education and the Schoolcraft college board of trustees.

E. O. Weber completes an abbreviated one-year term on the Northville board on June 14. Weber said Monday he had not yet decided whether or not to run for re-election.

Petitions must contain a minimum of 50 signatures and be filed with the secretary of the board of education not later than 4 p.m. Saturday, May 15.

The term is for four years. Sam Hudson of Plymouth is completing a one-year term on the Schoolcraft board of trustees. He replaced Charles Kirkpatrick, an at-large member who moved from the district. Hudson has indicated he will run for the four-year term.

Petitions for Northville residents interested in serving on the college board or local school board are available at the Northville board of education offices. College petitions may also be obtained at the Northville Record.

Deadline for voter registration for the June 14 election is 5 p.m. May 17. School district residents should register with the clerk of their township, village or city.

In addition to the single board vacancy the Northville ballot will contain the bond issue proposal for the school building program.

A PLAYGROUND today is an "obstacle course." And by mid-May, if all goes well, Amerman elementary school youngsters will be gliding along space bars, climbing horizontal ladders and swinging up-and-over a fence climber barricade as the first pieces of PTA-purchased equipment are installed.

Eventually Principal Raymond E. Spear hopes to have the entire 13-step obstacle course laid out in an L-shape along the Eight Mile and western boundaries of the school grounds. At recess and in physical education programs the children will crawl, climb, slide and balance on a prescribed course through a maze of twentieth century playground equipment designed to develop proper muscular action.

The initial three pieces of the course were purchased with PTA allocated funds at the beginning of the school year. They have arrived and will be installed as soon as weather permits. An additional $100 was voted for the project from funds remaining at the April meeting. Principal Spear hopes the remaining half of equipment needed to complete the course can be purchased in the next two years.

AMERMAN PTA OFFICERS for 1965-66 elected at the April 1 meeting are Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Proddger, presidents, succeeding Mr. and Mrs. Albert Myers; Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Slabey, vice-presidents; Dr. and Mrs. Harold Wright, secretary-treasurer; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Fountain, treasurers; Mrs. Helen Bradshaw, teacher vice-president. CORNER

Mr. and Mrs. Halton Axtell with their two children, Dean, 2, and Carolyn, 6, moved into their new home recently on Beck road.

A love for the architectural design of the old homes of New England prompted Mr. and Mrs. Halton Axtell to build a true colonial styled home in Northville.

"While many people refer to our home as a 'salt box' design, it is traditionally a New England colonial," reports Mrs. Axtell.

The house is painted a bright yellow with white trim and is surrounded by five acres of land.

Their former home in Washingtonville, a short distance from New York City, was a picturesque barn which Mr. Axtell remodeled.

One of his favorite hobbies is refinishing old furniture.

The Axtells lived in Farmington for a short time before moving into their new home at 19600 Beck road.

They have two children, Dean, 2, and Carolyn 6, a first grade student at Main Street school.

A graduate of Kenyon college in Ohio and holder of a law degree from the New York School of Law, Mr. Axtell is with the labor relations department of the Ford Motor Company in Dearborn.

A substitute kindergarten teacher for a short time in Farmington, Mrs. Axtell received her degree from Centenary College, New Paltz, New York.

She is a member of the Madrigal Club in Detroit. This group of women singers stages two concerts a year and performed April 13, at Wayne State University.

While transplanting New England charm to Northville, the Axtells' are lamenting a little over the late spring in Michigan and wished they could have brought a little New England sunshine to Northville.

They are looking forward to warmer weather and a few "sets" of tennis.

Top Goal

Residents of Western Wayne county contributed a total of $40,025.57 on behalf of crippled children and adults in the annual Easter Seal appeal, which ended Easter Sunday.

Northville area residents did their part. They topped a $1,000 goal by $2.05.

Chairmen for the drive in Northville were Herman Moehle and Bruce Potthoff on behalf of the Rotary club.

Funds raised locally finance the Easter Seal Center near Middlebelt and Michigan; an information and referral service; the purchase of equipment for loan such as wheelchairs; a summer Day Camp for crippled children; classes and clubs for physically handicapped children and adults and other special services which no other agency provides. 500 crippled children and adults called on the Easter Seal Society of Western Wayne County for help last year. The local Society is an affiliate of the National Society for Crippled Children and Adults.

Police Chief Eugene King said that a recently-acquired sound movie projector was taken. It was valued at $590.

The coin box was removed from a soft drink machine in the teachers lounge. The amount of money taken has not been determined.

King said that the thieves gained entry to the school by prying open an outside kitchen door. The projector was located in a closet off the kitchen.

SPEAKING for The Record

By BILL SLIGER

Bet you'd forgotten ... there's a new post office under construction in Northville.

The contract was awarded in December, 1963, when it was announced that "Northville will have a new post office by September 1, 1964".

Time marches on. Now it's estimated that the new building at Cady and Wing streets will open between May 1 and 15. But no one will say for sure. Post office officials in Northville, Detroit and regional headquarters in Chicago shy away from any predictions. One official, not at the local level, said "we've given up guessing" and admitted that the project was slow even by government standards.

Delay in the post office project hasn't hurt the general public. But it hardly speaks well for the government's emphasis on speed in mail deliveries (zip, zip, zip) to have a five-month project be seven months late.

Postal authorities tell me they have no control over the independent firms or individuals who win contracts to lease buildings to the post office department. Generally, economics are enough to encourage the lessor to complete the building so that it may begin to provide returns in the form of rent. So no penalty clause for delay in construction is included in such contracts.

In this case, the delay may not inconvenience the general public. But what about the owner of the old post office building? What if he has plans to use the building when the post office moves? What if he had made arrangements to rent the building to a new tenant when the post office was supposed to move?

If he did, it's tough luck. The government has top priority - lease or no lease.

It happens in Northville that the owner of the old post office building, Nelson Schrader of Schrader's Home Furnishings, can wait. But the delay is postponing opening of an enlarged floor covering department for his furniture store.

So some damage has been done. The government's idea of bringing private enterprise into the building of post office facilities is a sound one for several reasons. Most notably, it provides the local community with a taxable piece of property, not a tax-exempt government-owned facility.

But certainly good business procedure should dictate that the post office department reserve some control over the length of time taken in providing the building. The government specifies design, floor space, etc., why not a time limit?

Glenn Deibert, who lives on Napier road and whose job it is to see that there aren't any fires or explosions at the Ford plant in Wixom (and that if there are, they are brought under control in a hurry) had something of a busman's holiday Monday.

As he and his wife were driving out of Milford, they pulled up to a curb to permit a sirening police car to pass. It stopped right behind the Deibert car, which had parked in front of a public works' building.

Deibert watched the officer get out and start towards the building just as it exploded.

No one was hurt and fire trucks arrived promptly. But Deibert was glad to get out of Milford, back to his job as superintendent of the plant.

I know the word "mall" has become taboo in Northville's business district. But a 60-mile trip to Jackson might be worthwhile for city planners and merchants.

In a block comparable to Northville's Main street from Center to Hutton Jackson has created an attractive shoppers' mall that appears to be easy to shopper and not too expensive.

Northville Must Fill 18 Teaching Spots

Eighteen teaching vacancies for the 1965-6 school year will occur in the Northville school system, with four additional possible, Dr. Kenneth MacLeod, assistant superintendent, reported at the Northville board of education meeting Monday.

He told the board that the placement offices of the University of Michigan, Central Michigan University, Eastern Michigan University and Western Michigan University have been visited and that Michigan State University will be visited this week in a recruiting program.

MacLeod expressed satisfaction with the caliber of teachers who are contacting the system as a result of the recruitment program and indicated he may have recommendations to fill some of the vacancies by next Monday's meeting.

The eight elementary teachers leaving the system include Mrs. Linda Sobol and Mrs. Jo Ann VanderMolen, Amerman kindergarten and second grade teachers. From Main street are Mrs. Marian Maas, kindergarten; Mrs.

Diane Schrader and Mrs. Elaine Vanderkarr, first grade; Mrs. Rita Denoyer, second; Mrs. Florabel Sullivan, third; Miss Jill Barber, fourth.

Leaving the junior high are Miss Patricia Podlesak, sixth; Mrs. Joan Emerson, English; Mrs. Patricia Quinlan, home economics and English. An additional sixth grade teacher also is needed.

At the high school Miss Barbara Green, English; Merritt Meaker, U. S. history; Charles Shonta, science; Dino Sousansis, physics-math will be leaving. An additional teacher also is needed here. Miss Judith Domrowski, the special education teacher, also is leaving and will be replaced, MacLeod said.

He listed as probable vacancies two in the elementary schools and one each in the junior and senior highs.

The board approved two minor changes in the salary schedule, which Superintendent Amerman recommended to bring the schedule in line with tenure.

Car Rams Gas Pumps

A Wixom resident is out on $100 bond today pending sentence for ramming into the gas pump island at the service station at Pontiac trail and Wixom roads Sunday night.

William Byrd, 2959 Potter road was arraigned before Wixom Judge Elwood Grubb Monday morning for driving under the influence of alcohol. Byrd pleaded guilty but sentence was deferred until the matter of restitution is clarified.

Ronald Dendy, an attendant at the station, was reading the pumps at 9:40 p.m. Sunday when Byrd's car struck the pumps. Dendy was not injured, police said.

Gas gushed out of the pipes and sparks ignited a fire. The Wixom volunteer fire department responded to the call and the blaze was quickly extinguished.

Police said that Dendy tried to persuade Byrd, who had been drinking, to move his car but Byrd was incoherent at first. Then Byrd fled the scene.

Byrd was later picked up at his home, police said.

High winds and dryness spell grass fires for area fire departments. "Winter goes, the ground soaks up the moisture and then we're in for trouble," commented one fire official. Residents can help too. They LANSING - A $10-million increase in revenue collections over 1963's previous high mark ... a true barometer of the record-shattering year enjoyed by the automotive industry ... was reported by the Michigan Department of State for last year.

According to Secretary of State James M. Hare, total collections from vehicle licenses, titles and registrations, driver licenses, and other sources rose from a peak of $164-million in 1963 to another all-time high of $174.4-million last year. Vehicle licensing accounted for $74.1 million of the total amount.

can, if they wish to burn trash or leaves, obtain a permit from local city, village and township clerks.

"This way we know where burning is taking place and if the citizens do it sensibly, we won't be having fire runs all the time," remarked another area official.

Firefighters are issuing warnings because of the rash of grass fires that swept the area last April. At that time carelessness was blamed for many of the fires. Novi and South Lyon were hardest hit.

Hundreds of acres of weeds, grass and trees went up in flames along Taft road in Novi in one instance. Starting near Beck road between Nine and Ten Mile, the blaze swept across dry fields and through small orchards.

High winds fanned flames to the east side of Taft to the Jacob Fuerst farm.

In another fire, approximately 200 acres of property were scorched as a blaze branched out east and south of homes on Nine Mile road to Taft and Northville's boundary.

Northville, South Lyon, Lyon township and Salem township volunteers battled a 200-acre fire a year ago on Seven Mile road, from Tower road to the Seven Mile railroad crossing.

It took five hours to extinguish. Another fire in South Lyon last April 14 gutted 750 acres.

After a wave of fires in 1964, the state conservation department ordered a ban on burning permits. The ban was lifted a week later.

To minimize fires this spring, an area official said: "If you get a permit, have someone on hand to watch the fire. He should stand by with buckets of water and a broom. Then be sure to observe weather conditions.

"If high winds prevail, don't burn," the official continued. "Just a breath of wind can pick up burning scraps of paper and before you know it the fire department is called out."

For getting rid of ordinary trash and waste, the official suggested that a 55-gallon oil drum be used with holes punched in the bottom for draft and a mesh cover on top.

Scenes like these are being repeated in fields throughout the Northville- Novi-South Lyon-Wixom area. Grass fires are costly, even when brought under control, when swept up in gusty, spring winds they can cause severe loss of buildings and homes. Don't burn without first obtaining a permit from your city, village or township clerk.

The Salem Township Fire Ordinance requires that a fire permit be obtained before burning any grass or brush when ground is not snow covered. Permits can be obtained without charge by calling your fire chief, Charles Raynor, at FI-9-1741, or if you are unable to reach him, by calling the fire department at FI-9-1155.

A fire permit is not required to burn trash in a container with a cover. However, if the fire is allowed to escape from the container all cost to the township for the suppression of said fire shall be billed to the party responsible.

A few safety rules to be followed if you have a permit are as follows:

1. Confine your burning to early morning or late evening.
2. Never start a fire when the wind is blowing.
3. Have enough help on hand to control the fire.
4. Have water and broom handy.
5. NEVER LEAVE A FIRE UNTIL IT IS OUT!

State Board Faces Challenge

LANSING — An important challenge to the authority of the new State Board of Education has come early in the unit's existence.

The board was first elected last November under terms of the new state Constitution. A number of important decisions awaited the formal organization of the eight-man unit. One of these, and the first on which a decision was made was the question of whether the University of Michigan should expand and continue to operate its Flint branch. Apparently leaning toward the recommendations of several studies that Michigan's future expansion in higher education should be in the form of new, autonomous colleges, the Board said the U. of M. should meet its present commitments at Flint, but initiate no more.

Behind this decision and the forthcoming results of it lies the question of whether the Board will really be an effective unit as created by the Constitution.

The Constitution gives this board power to serve as the "general planning and coordinating body for all public education, including higher education..." but sets some limitation on this power.

Power to advise the legislature "as to the financial requirements" in connection with higher education is given to the board. In the one-paragraph section creating the unit, however, the Constitution exempts higher education institutions from the Board's control of "leadership and general supervision" over public education.

Another portion of the document gives the various boards of the separate colleges and universities "The power ... to supervise their respective institutions and control and direct the expenditure of the institutions' funds. It specifically says these powers shall not be limited by the authority given the Board of Education.

Influence on legislative budgeting then appears to be one of the only areas in which the state board might be effective in getting its decisions followed where higher education is concerned.

As one observer of the Flint situation noted, cooperation among the state colleges will usually be weak where the interests of one is at stake.

The Michigan-Flint decision by the board will be closely watched by officials of other institutions facing similar policy questions in board consideration. If U. of M. authorities decide to disregard or veer from the board recommendation, it is well assured other colleges will feel free to do the same in the future.

The search is on for a successor to State Police Commissioner Joseph A. Childs.

This position is filled by gubernatorial appointment. Childs has served at the pleasure of three chief executives, having been first appointed by G. Men- nings Williams in May, 1952.

His retirement this summer is of his own doing. It was he who set 56 as the mandatory retirement age for state police officers.

A successor for the soft-spoken, calm-appearing Childs apparently will be somewhat unique among state departments in the past few years. Most vacancies which have occurred have resulted in a nationwide search for talent in the area.

Gov. George Romney has indicated he will rely on the battery of top-ranking officers now in the department to replace Childs.

With responsibilities in fire prevention, civil defense, and civil and criminal processes as well as the all-important traffic law enforcement, the department is an important one to have an experienced, well-qualified man at its top.

Agreement between the chiefs of the two major political parties in Michigan is rare at best. On one important question, however, they recently expressed basically a single idea although the conclusion was based on different reasoning.

Republican State Chairman Mrs. Elly Peterson and Democratic chief Zolton A. Ferency both feel that Gov. George Romney should seek a third term in Lansing next year rather than run for the U.S. Senate as he has been mentioned a possibility.

The governor's chair would be a more logical position from which to seek higher, national office in 1968. As a junior Senator, Romney would be just one of many novices who might have higher goals.

Dispute between reasoning by Ferency and Mrs. Peterson comes in their views on whether the governor's view should be a stepping stone for Romney or simply a place to be.

Ferency contends Romney, soon to be 58, started his political life too late to be realistic about presidential aspirations. Mrs. Peterson says the governor has been successful in many fields and therefore has the qualities necessary for the nation's top officer.

Despite agreement that Lansing is the place for Romney to spend the years 1966-68, the Governor is not famous for taking other people's advice where his future was concerned.

The U.S. Senate seat now held by Patrick V. McNamara might look good when the 1966 election rolls around, particularly if the incumbent fulfills the persisting rumors that he will not run again.

Searching Beneath the Seas

BABSON PARK, Mass. — The population of the earth is expanding at such a pace that it may not be too long before the land resources alone will not be able to provide man with sufficient food and industrial commodities. Hence the mounting scientific interest in the endless supplies of nearly all basic human and industrial requirements that are there for the taking in the 153 million square miles of water covering three-quarters of the earth's surface.

Oceanographic research is coming up with new and fascinating possibilities every day, probing all the way from the continental shelves stretching out from the land masses to the ocean's deep abysses. The bathyscaphe is a vessel that can explore as far as 36,000 feet below the surface; sonar, oil and geological drillers, complicatedly equipped divers, and other ingenious devices are investigating the riches of the ocean depths.

While a cubic mile of sea water contains some $93 million worth of gold, millions of tons of magnesium, sodium and sulfur, and vast quantities of cobalt, nickel, silver and other valuable elements, the big problem is still how to extract these treasures profitably — or at least economically.

The solution may come eventually. Meanwhile, attention is being focused on the vast storehouse of minerals on the ocean floor of the continental shelves. There is as yet no public or private U.S. program for exploring the shelves in search of valuable lodes of metals and minerals, despite the fact that ocean-bottom oil and gas supplies have been successfully obtained for a long while. It is encouraging to note, however, that last June an international convention agreed to each country's having exclusive jurisdiction over and access to the resources of its own continental shelves.

For the United States, this means that commercially exploitable ocean floors reaching out from ten miles to as far as 300 miles assure this country of some 850,000 square miles of underwater land believed to be fantastically rich in minerals and metals. Some legislators are aware of the unlimited addition to national wealth and resources that could come from off-shore deposits, and are urging federal support for the necessary research and exploration. Fortunately, too, several large private companies are working on the problem, emphasizing the technological means of locating heavy quarries of requisite materials and exploiting them at a reasonable cost.

Mining of the sea floor is bound to come, despite the skepticism that always accompanies such new ideas. Pioneers with ingenuity and vision are already giving their attention to this matter, and others will join forces as the "fool's venture" becomes an ever-nearer reality. Keep in mind that less than a hundred years ago few believed that phosphate from the earth could be used to fertilize our agricultural land. But chemists who knew enough never to underestimate the future kept at it, and now phosphate fertilizing is a generally valuable and rewarding practice.

Despite the half-hearted efforts that have been made thus far in techniques for finding and bringing up minerals and metals from the coastal shallows, at least a few hopeful steps have been reported. In fact, dredging is said to be used at present in Japan to surface iron-bearing sand deposits, in South Africa to raise diamonds from the coastal shelf, in Malaya to obtain tin. The U.S. Bureau of Mines has contracted with two domestic corporations to develop a means of recovering nodules of gold and silver from the continental shelf, — with costs expected to be much lower than land methods.

Humanity's needs will be steadily more difficult to supply as the population explosion becomes ever more critical. With the resources of the continents strained to take care of requirements, interest in the infinite potential of the ocean floor will quicken.

It's Time for Golf 'Widows' Again

Golf season is moving into full swing.

Despite cool weather last weekend, duffers and pros thronged to area courses. More are expected in the weeks ahead as the temperatures warm up.

Besides changes in layouts, higher greens fees have been put into effect at many courses around Northville, Novi, Wixom and South Lyon.

Here is a run down of the public courses and what they have to offer:

ANN ARBOR MUNICIPAL
Ann Arbor Municipal Golf course located at 1519 Fuller has been reported "very playable" by resident pro Bill "Willy" Mustard. Mustard is in his second year there and has regained his Class A PGA status. He is a 13-year veteran.

Lessons, pro shop and 18 holes which have "dried out fine with exception of a couple of holes" are available.

Fees remain the same as last year: Weekdays $1.25 for nine holes and $2 for 18; weekends and holidays $2 for nine and $2.50 for 18. Twilight rates are $1.25. Students may play 18 holes Thursday and Friday and 75 cents if they are 18-years old or under and in school. Senior citizens may play 18 holes anytime for $1.

BOB-O-LINK
Golfers will find two different rates for the two courses at Bob-O-Link Golf Club on Grand River near Beck road in Novi.

As of next weekend, Bob-O-Link will be a 36-hole layout, said Midge Cova, owner and pro. Cova said that part of the 18-hole north course will be 6 1/2. The front nine will feature seven par 3's and two par 4's while the back stretch will be composed of five par 4's and four par 3's.

Previously, the front nine on the north course was a par 36. The south course hasn't changed from last year, Cova said. It is still an 18-hole layout with a 70 par.

Longest hole is the 540-yard par 5 on the north course while the shortest distance from tee to cup is the 120-yard par 3 on the south course.

Fees vary for each course. It is $3 for 18 during the week and $4 on weekends and holidays on the south course. On the north course it is $2.50 for 18 on weekdays and $3 on Saturday, Sunday and holidays.

Nine holes can be played for $2 anytime. Cova said.

DUN ROVIN
Dun Rovin Country Club is under new management, Kenneth Cummins is the manager and Earl Myers, formerly of Farmington Country Club, is the pro. The club is located off Haggerty between Five and Six Mile roads in Northville township.

Dun Rovin is an 18-hole par 72 course. Cummins said that 2,000 trees were planted during the winter so a few more obstacles will come up in the future.

Greens fees have been raised at Dun Rovin. During the week, Cummins said, the charge is $2 for 9 and $3 for 18. On the weekend, the charge is $3 for nine and $4 for 18.

HICKORY HILLS
Hickory Hills is a par 36, nine-hole 2,865-yard course located on Orton road off Loon Lake road in Wixom.

George Catto is the manager. His father, William Catto, died April 2 in Troy. Mr. Catto had run the course for three seasons. Previously, Mr. Catto was the pro at Sylvan Glen in Troy.

New prices have been posted: $1.50 for 9 and $2 for 18 on weekdays and $2 for 9 and $3 for 18 over the weekend.

HURON HILLS MUNICIPAL
Huron Municipal Golf Course at 3465 E. Huron River drive offers 5392 yards and 18 holes with lots of hills and woods; "a wonderful course for golf" says assistant pro Tom Bourke there. The front nine are par 36 and the back nine are par 32 for a 68 total.

The course has been public for 17 years although it was formerly private, has a modern new pro shop in a clubhouse built in 1963 and is in excellent shape on the fairways. Milton Seward is the Class A PGA head pro.

Rates are the same as last year; weekdays $2 for 18 holes and $2.50 for 18 on weekends. Twilight rate is $1.25 after 5 p.m. Students may play for 75 cents during school session and two days per week during summer vacation, if they tee off before 11 a.m.

KENSINGTON METRO
David O. Laidlaw, park superintendent at Kensington Metropolitan park north of South Lyon, announced recently that its 18-hole, 6,400 yard par 72 golf course is now open.

Present hours of operation are from 8 a.m. to dusk daily, with earlier opening times on Saturday, Sunday and holidays and extended hours later in the season.

Fees for the Kensington Park course are: 18-hole - Monday through Friday, $2.50; Saturday Sunday and holidays, $3.50; 9-hole play - Monday through Friday, $1.50; Saturday and Sunday and holidays, $2; and a Twilight fee of $1.25, available Monday through Friday only, and there is no twilight fee for holidays.

Golfers must provide their own equipment, however, golf bag carts are available for rent at the Control Building, for 50 cents per cart. Food service is available at the Control Building as well as restrooms. Nearby is a 114-car parking lot.

Over 95,300 golfers have used the course since it was dedicated in May of 1961.

For information persons may phone 685-1408, the golf control building.

SALEM HILLS
Located on Six Mile road, just west of Salem village, Salem Hills is open for its third year. It is semi-private.

Bob Szilagyi is again the pro, a 26-year veteran Class A PGA. He reports that the 7000 yard, 18-hole course with its triple tee greens is in excellent shape. Woods have been cleared and a new well allows tip-top watering. A new practice green has been added to the facilities and parking areas have been improved at this fast coming course. Complete pro shop equipment, including electric carts are available, as are lessons.

Fees have been raised slightly over last years. Season memberships now are $135 individual and $175 for a family. Weekday rates are $1.75 for nine holes and $2.75 for 18. Weekend and holiday rates are $2.50 for nine and $3.75 for 18. Twilight rates every day are $1.50. Retirees may play all day weekdays for $1.75 - a new feature.

WOODLAND GOLF CLUB
A nine-hole, semi-private golf course, Woodland is located at 7635 West Grand River, two miles west of Brighton. No pro is employed but lessons are available from a member.

A special feature is a separate 300-yard driving range and banquet facilities. The course is reported "good for this time of year."

Season rates are $65 for a single, $75 for double and $85 for a family. Fees are: Weekdays

$1.25 for nine holes and $2.25 for 18 holes; weekends and holidays $2 for nine holes. Twilight after 5 p.m. is $1.25 and special rates are available for students.

BRAE-BURN
This course will be a little tougher, reports Mrs. Lillian Block, the manager. Brae-Burn is located on Five Mile at Napier.

A new green is being built on no. 13, a double dog-leg 545-yard par 5. Its completion will "depend on the weather," Mrs. Block said. Meantime, the old green is still in use.

No other changes were made on the 18-hole par 72 course, she noted. But Brae-Burn has a new greenskeeper. He's Frank Meinber. Meinber succeeds Leo McKeever who died in December.

Ron Nicoll is the club pro. Mrs. Block said that greens fees have been increased for the "first time in five years." They are: $1.75 for 9 and $2.50 for 18 during the week and $2.50 for 9 and $3.75 for 18 on the weekend.

A special rate is in effect for lady golfers. They can use the course on Monday, Tuesday, Thursday and Friday until 3 p.m. for $1.50 for 9 and $2 for 18.

BROOKLANE
Both the driving range and course are in top shape, said Ernie Shave, pro and manager of Brooklane Golf Course at Six Mile and Sheldon roads in Northville township.

Shave said the fee for nine holes is $1.50 and an additional nine costs $1. Brooklane is currently just a par 3 nine-hole course.

The longest hole is the 238-yard no. 6 and the shortest is the 90-yard no. 5.

Shave said the work is starting on the east course which will consist of par 4's and par 5's. Eventually Brooklane will become a regular-size course.

Area Ladies Eye Fun In Summer Golf League

Ladies, get your slacks, Bermuda shorts and wide-brimmed straw hats out of storage; hock your ice skates for a set of golf clubs and prepare to chase a dimpled white ball around in the clean, fresh air.

A group of ladies have set about making golf more fun for you, whether you are an expert or a learner.

They want you to join a Ladies Golf League just now being formed at the Salem Hills golf course lying about midway between South Lyon and Northville.

Mrs. Billy Lawrence of South Lyon issued a call this week for all ladies who wish to join the league to attend an organizational meeting at the course Thursday, April 29 at 10 a.m.

First tee off is slated for Thursday, May 6, in the morning and then will continue to be on Thursday mornings.

"Those who play golf or who are interested in learning are welcome," said Mrs. Lawrence. "There will be offered a series of group lessons. We are hoping to get about 30 ladies in the league from South Lyon, Northville and Plymouth. For more information call 437-2152."

Five who have already "signed up" are Margaret Williams, Geraldine Cogger, Olive Tapp and Thelma Wagner, all of South Lyon.

Northville Township Minutes

A regular meeting of the Northville Township Board was called to order by Supervisor Merriam on Tuesday, April 6, 1965 at 8:05 p.m.

Members present: R. D. Merriam, Marguerite N. Young, Alex M. Lawrence, James H. Tellam, and Wilson D. Tyler.

Consultant: Mr. John Ashton, Twp. Attorney.

Visitors: Harold Church and Mr. Rathert of the Church Ins. Agency, Mr. Frank Arlen, Richard Mitchell and Mr. Bauerle of the Northville Record.

No corrections, the minutes of the regular meeting of March 2, 1965 - Settlement Day meeting of March 23, 1965 and Special meeting of March 29, 1965, were accepted as written.

Treasurer's report for March 1965 was read and accepted.

The following were reviewed: Office receipts for March 1965 $582.50; Water & Sewer Commission receipts March 1965 $1052.42; Township bills payable (including election expense) 7082.64 Water & Sewer Commission bills payable 416.49.

LET'S TALK CARS . . .

IDEA FOR A HOT SUMMER DAY

Some day soon, when the sun has turned the inside of your car into an oven while you wait in congested traffic for a light to change, you are going to long for a breath of cool fresh air.

Motorists who have air conditioning installed in their cars have just that - on breezeless and humid city streets, blistering hot highways and dusty side roads. They ride in comfort free of pollen, road noises and dirt for relatively little cost.

Back in 1957 only 2.8 percent of all new cars were air conditioned. Last year this figure rose to 10 percent. The forecasts for this year are predicting another substantial increase.

Most new car buyers today insist on power steering, and lack of it is an impediment in selling better used cars. The absence of this accessory can lower a car's resale value by as much as $100. Yet not so many years ago when power steering was a new accessory, it was hard to sell, even on higher priced new cars.

Its popularity grew, and with it the resale value of a car so equipped. Because his used car would sell for more, a purchaser was largely repaid for his initial investment.

Much the same thing is happening with air conditioning. Installation usually requires only one day and most units are guaranteed for a year. Drive in for detailed information on various makes and costs before the really hot weather sets in.

questions. The Planning Commission minutes of March 23, 1965 and March 30, 1965 and Appeals Board were approved.

CORRESPONDENCE

1. Letter copies from Bruce Potthoff, Northville City Manager, Mr. Donald Boor, Taft Colony resident and Mr. Merriam's reply, all referring to the possible annexation of Taft Property to the City of Northville, were read. Discussion followed.

2. Letters of transmittal from the Planning Commission regarding the Public Hearings held on March 23 and March 30, 1965.

3. Letters from the Coordinating Zoning Committee of Wayne County referring to the Public Hearing notices, asking that they be advised of final action of the township board. Discussion followed.

4. Letter from Manufacturer's National Bank to Alex M. Lawrence.

5. Letters from Draugelis & Ashton regarding Nicholas Koudr Building violation court case and Roland R. Beyer Zoning violation court case.

6. Letter of resignation from Carl Johnson, Board of Review member.

7. Letter from the Russ Amerman Retirement Committee advising of the Russ Amerman Retirement dinner and program giving date and cost.

NEW BUSINESS

1. Bonds for Treasurer, clerk, deputy clerk and constable.

The Church Agency was the only Agency submitting bids although other township people had been contacted. There was question of why the cost of these bonds were less than they had been two years ago with Mr. Church advising that Ohio Casualty Ins Company's experience with bonds in this area had been good and they therefore had submitted these prices. He also advised that there would be a 15% discount each year upon presentation of a copy of the township audit.

Tellam moved, supported by Lawrence, that the Church Agency be awarded the Bonds business. Ayes: All. Motion carried.

2. Appointments to Board of Review. Held over until next meeting.

3. Appointment of Board Member to Zoning Board of Appeals. After discussion, Young moved, supported by Tellam, that Alex Lawrence be reappointed to the Zoning Board of Appeals for the term of his elected office.

Ayes: All. Motion carried.

4. Library committee

Supervisor Merriam informed the board that Mrs. Eliza Wagonschutz, Wayne County Library Board member, had contacted Mayor Allen and himself regarding appointing an eight member library committee - This committee to meet with the Wayne County Library Board regarding local questions or changes in policy. He stated he had four or five residents in mind for these appointments.

Trustee Tyler suggested that Mrs. Wagonschutz be contacted and possibly the residents who had contacted her would be willing to be appointed. Carried to next regular meeting.

5. Compensation of Planning Commission members. After discussion, Tyler moved, supported by Lawrence, that all Planning Commission members be paid $10 per meeting attended with a maximum of $350 per fiscal year. Ayes: All. Motion carried.

6. Newphoto copying machines. After discussion, it was decided that Trustee Tyler would check out this kind of equipment and recommend a possible purchase at the next regular meeting.

7. Fire Dept. water truck. Supervisor Merriam informed the board that there was available a GMC tractor and 3,000 gallon aluminum water storage tank complete with transfer pump at Jackson for $650 - Civil Defense material. The township was in need of a tank truck for more water supply at a large fire, it could be stored at the City of Northville DPW Yard and to duplicate it later would probably cost in the neighborhood of $10,000 or better. Arrangements had also been made to have the truck painted red and lettered. He recommended the purchase.

After discussion, Lawrence moved, supported by Tellam, that the township purchase the equipment. Ayes: All. Motion carried.

8. Janitor service. The board was informed that Mr. Gus Kolb, Township Custodian, would be willing to continue doing the work for one more year at $50 per month.

Tyler moved, supported by Young, that Mr. Kolb be asked to stay on as custodian at $50 a month. Ayes: All. Motion carried.

No further business, Lawrence moved to adjourn. Meeting adjourned at 9:30 p.m.

Merchants Propose Monday Night Hours

Retailers of the Northville Community Chamber of Commerce met last Thursday evening and decided to meet more often.

Chairman Essie Nirlder called the meeting to discuss parking and store hours.

A committee of Naird and Fred McLean was named to deal with parking matters in the business district. They were encouraged to call for appointment of a parking authority by the city council so that offstreet parking facilities for employees' cars might be provided. Merchants noted that many prospective customer spaces were being used by clerks and office employees all day long.

A committee of Charles Lapham and Del Black was named to poll merchants on night hours. It was suggested that Monday as well as Friday night hours should be promoted.

A promotion committee to tie in with the P-TA carnival on May 15 was named consisting of Lapham, Harvey Ritchie and John Harrington.

It was decided that regular meetings will be held in offices below Detroit Federal Savings on the third Thursday evening of each month.

NOTICE OF ADOPTION OF AMENDMENT TO ZONING ORDINANCE

PLEASE TAKE NOTICE, that the following amendment to the Zoning Ordinance was adopted by the Northville City Council at a regular meeting held Monday, April 19, 1965:

THE CITY OF NORTHVILLE ORDINANCES:

PART I. The Zoning Ordinance of the City of Northville, as amended, is hereby amended by the addition of a new ARTICLE XIII-B, RESIDENTIAL UNIT DEVELOPMENT PLAN, to read as follows:

ARTICLE XIII-B RESIDENTIAL UNIT DEVELOPMENT PLAN

Section 13-B.01 PURPOSE. The purpose of planned unit development is to allow diversification in the relationships of various buildings, structures and open space in planned building groups and in the allowable heights of said buildings and structures, while insuring substantial compliance with the district regulations and other provisions of the Zoning Ordinance. Further it is the intent of the Ordinance to require adequate standards relating to the public health, safety and general welfare, without unduly inhibiting the advantages of modern large scale site planning for residential purposes.

13-B.02 OBJECTIVES. In approving the application of the "Unit Development Plan" the Planning Commission and the City Council shall consider the following objectives:

(a) To provide a more desirable living environment by preserving the natural character of open fields, stands of trees, brooks, hills and similar natural assets.

(b) To encourage developers to use a more creative approach in the development of residential areas and to encourage a more efficient, aesthetic and desirable use of the land while recognizing a reduction in development costs and by allowing the developer to bypass natural obstacles on the site.

(c) To provide a more desirable living environment than would be possible through the strict application of Ordinance requirements.

13-B.03 APPLICATION. Application for permit shall be made by the owner or owners of any tract where use of the planned unit development process is contemplated. The application shall be accompanied by a fee to be determined by the City Council in each case and shall cover the cost of evaluating the plan as to the principles and conditions herein-after set forth. A permit will be effective on approval by the City Council of the Residential Unit Development Plan and the Preliminary Plat as required under Ordinance No. 139. Approval shall be authorization to proceed with a Final Plat as required by Ordinance No. 139, as amended.

13-B.04 CHANGE OF DISTRICT. No application shall be accepted for a use which will require a change in the overall density of a zoning district, unless said application is accompanied by an application for a zoning district change.

13-B.05 DRAWINGS AND PLANS. The application shall be accompanied by a general development plan to be submitted to the City Planning Commission which shall study the plan and its relation to the Master Plan for the City and make such recommendations as deemed advisable. The plan shall show the use or uses, dimensions and locations of proposed structures, areas to be reserved for vehicular and pedestrian circulation; parking; public uses, such as, schools and playgrounds, landscaping; open spaces; together with architectural drawings and sketches demonstrating the design and character of the proposed uses and the physical relationship of the uses. Such other pertinent information shall be included as may be necessary to determine the contemplated arrangement, or use, making it desirable to apply regulations and requirements differing from those ordinarily applicable under the Zoning Ordinance.

13-B.06 HEARINGS. No public hearing need be held, provided that no zoning amendment increasing over-all density is required; provided, however, that a hearing may be held by the Commission in any case when it deems such hearing to be necessary in the public interest. Such a public hearing shall be held by publishing notice thereof at least five (5) days prior to the hearing in a newspaper of general circulation printed and published in the City of Northville.

13-B.07 PLANNING COMMISSION APPROVAL. Before submitting its recommendations for approval, for any planned unit development to the City Council, the Planning Commission shall determine that the following principles and conditions have been provided:

13-B.08 PRINCIPLES AND CONDITIONS. 1. Lot dimensions in R-1-H, Country Homes Districts, or R-1-S, Suburban Residential Districts, may be reduced in accordance with the following schedule, provided, the number of residential units shall be not greater than if the land area to be subdivided were developed in the minimum square foot lot area required in R-1-H Districts and R-1-S Districts. Land in R-1-H, Country Homes Districts, and R-1-S, Suburban Residential Districts, may be developed in accordance with the requirements of the R-2-A, Restricted Multiple Dwelling Districts, provided the number of residential units shall be not greater than if the land area to be subdivided were developed in the minimum square foot lot area required in the respective districts.

A. All calculations of density for residential development shall be predicated upon the R-1-H, Country Homes District; and R-1-S, Suburban Residential Districts, having the following gross densities, (including roads)

R-1-S 3.6 Dwelling Units per Acre

B. When developed as Single Family Residential, lot width in R-1-H, Country Homes District, shall not be less than ninety (90) feet and in R-1-S, Suburban Residential District, shall not be less than eighty (80) feet.

C. When developed as Single Family Residential, lot depth in R-1-H, Country Homes District, shall not be less than one hundred twenty (120) feet; provided, however, lot depth may be reduced to not less than one hundred (100) feet when such lots back on land dedicated to the common use of the subdivision as indicated in paragraph 2 of this Section.

D. When developed as Single Family Residential, lot depth in R-1-S, Suburban Residential District, shall not be less than one hundred (100) feet.

E. When developed as Single Family Residential, minimum front yard for R-1-H District, shall be not less than thirty (30) feet and the minimum side yard shall be not less than ten (10) feet and the combined width of both side yards shall be not less than twenty-five (25) feet.

F. When developed for Single Family Residential, minimum front yard for R-1-S District, shall be not less than thirty (30) feet and the minimum side yard shall be not less than eight (8) feet and the combined width of both side yards shall not be less than twenty (20) feet.

G. When developed as Single Family Residential in either R-1-H or R-1-S Districts, lots shall have a rear yard of not less than thirty-five (35) feet in depth, except that rear yard may be reduced to not less than twenty (20) feet when rear yards back on lands dedicated to the common use of the subdivision as indicated in the following paragraph 2.

H. Lot coverage in the R-1-H and R-1-S Districts shall not apply under this article.

2. For each square foot of land gained under the provisions of Paragraph 1 of Section 13-B.08 within a residential subdivision, through the reduction of lot sizes below one-half (1/2) acre required for R-1-H Districts and ninety-six hundred (9,600) square feet required for R-1-S Districts, equal amounts of land shall be dedicated to the common use of the owners and/or residents of the land so developed in a manner approved by the City Planning Commission.

3. The area of land to be dedicated for the common use shall, in no instance, be less than two (2) acres and shall be in a location and shape approved by the City Planning Commission, provided a parcel divided by a road or stream may be considered, as one parcel.

4. Access, by means of streets or pedestrian access ways, shall be provided to areas dedicated for the common use of the land developed for those lots and parcels not bordering on such dedicated areas.

5. The developer or subdivider shall (1) dedicate the total land area designated for use by the owners and/or residents (See Item 2 above); (2) create an incorporated non-profit home owners' association; and (3) record covenants which automatically make every lot owner an association member giving him the right to use the common property and establish his obligation to pay assessments. The above items, shall be in force at or before the time of filing the final plat on all or any portion of the plat.

13-B.09 REVOCATION OF PERMIT. A planned unit development permit may be revoked in any case where the conditions of such permit have not been or are not being complied with, in which case the City Council shall give the permittee notice of intention to revoke such permit at least ten (10) days prior to review of said permit by said City Council. After conclusion of such review, the City Council may revoke such permit if the Council finds that a violation in fact exists and has not been remedied prior to such hearing.

13-B.10 EXPIRATION OF PERMIT. In any case where a planned unit development plan under a permit has not been started within nine (9) months after the date of granting thereof, then without further action, the said permit shall be null and void.

13-B.11 EXTENSION. Extensions of time limitations in this Article may be granted by the City Council upon the showing of good faith effort, by the permittee to comply therewith and failure to so comply by reason of conditions beyond the control of the permittee.

13-B.12 ASSURANCE OF INSTALLATIONS AND MAINTENANCE. Provisions for bonded security for the assurance of the installation of required improvements, utilities and facilities shall be in compliance with the City's requirements.

13-B.13 CONFLICTING PROVISIONS. Where ever the provisions of Ordinance No. 139, as amended, are in conflict with these regulations, these regulations shall govern.

STRICTLY FRESH

A mother reported this conversation with her eight-year-old son in which she said, "Isn't it nice that Grandma and Grandpa are going to get to go around the world?"

Said the boy, "How many times?"

FUNNY BUSINESS

"They're getting cagey—carrying away a decoy and dropping it back."

Novi Downs Colts, 8-4

The Northville Colts got some rough treatment in their baptism of fire within the last few days. They were defeated twice on the baseball diamond.

But according to Coach Dino Soussanis, that's to be expected in the opening games of the season. In each contest, errors proved Northville's downfall.

Plymouth sent the JV's down to their first defeat, 6-3, last Thursday, but not before Northville had committed seven costly errors.

Six of the miscues came at shortstop. To plug the gap, Soussanis shifted four players to that position, but it was the same old story.

Starting Pitcher Bill Skelly put in a respectable stint, allowing only seven hits, walking one and giving up just three earned runs.

But victory was simply not in the cards.

With the game tied two-all at the end of five innings, the roof caved in on Northville. Plymouth pushed across five big markers to ice the game.

Northville also had its troubles at the plate. Bob Hubbert helped his teammates avert a no-hitter when he spanked a single in the seventh and final inning.

All of Northville's runs were unearned.

Using almost the same victory formula as Plymouth, Novi pinned an 8-4 defeat on the Colts Monday.

Again, Northville had its fielding troubles as seven balls squirted through outstretched hands.

A four-run seventh inning put the game in the Novi win column. At the time, the four markers looked like insurance runs as Novi led, 4-3.

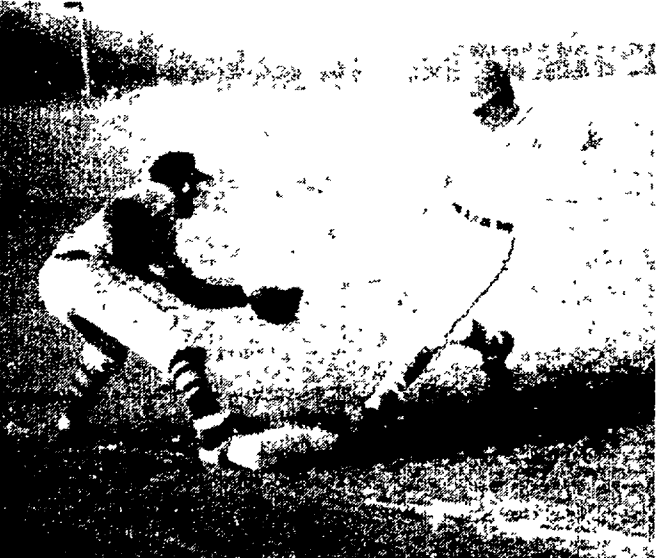

But Northville came up with a run that would have tied the game.

Dennis Primeau, a fast baller, went the distance for Novi to gain credit for the victory. He fanned 11 and gave up seven hits.

Northville's Jim Peterson pitched solid ball, allowing nine hits, but it was the errors that spelled defeat.

Primeau also led his mates at the plate, clubbing a long triple and a single. He was backed up by Joe Donner's two singles.

Larry Biddle and Hubbert each bagged two singles for the Colts to pace the attack.

IT'S SAFE at third for a Novi ninth grader as Northville's Bill Asher reaches for the late third. Novi won the game 8-4 in the first meeting of the two schools.

Sports

It's Two-Love For Southfield

At least the Northville netters have one satisfaction after losing two matches during the week—they have seen the last of Southfield for this year.

Southfield pinned two defeats on the Mustangs, their first two of the season to push the local netmen's record to 1-2.

Coach Dick Norton's charges dropped a close 4-3 match here April 14 before losing to Southfield Monday, 5-2.

In each contest, lack of a strong show in the doubles cost Northville victory. "We've got to come up with some better doubles play before long," said Norton.

Northville failed to take one doubles match.

Not even the return of Jim Long who plays in the number one singles spot, could turn the trick in the second encounter. He missed the first fray.

After taking three of four singles matches in the first meeting, Northville failed to come up with one doubles victory.

Larry Tibbos, playing in the first slot, dumped Dave Gungberg, 6-3, 6-2, to get things rolling.

Norbert Parent and Bob Langtry followed suit in the number two and three singles spots. Parent upended Murray Sheldon, 6-2, 6-4, while Langtry outlasted Kent Vibert, 6-4, 1-6, 6-4.

The twosome of Ron McCollum-Randy Burnett then lost, 6-2, 6-2, to Greg Blaszk-Hack Nagler. Dave Eberhart-Bill Hart were defeated by identical 6-2 scores by Dick Halle-Dave Eary.

In the final doubles match, Rick Harrington-Dave Wahl beat Northville's duo of Dave Kerr-Steve Quay, 6-3, 6-1.

Southfield's Mitch Sherman dumped Jim Hill, 6-3, 6-4, in an extra pairing that did no figure in the scoring.

Southfield turned the tables on Northville in the second meeting when Gungberg avenged the loss to Tibbos by beating him, 6-3, 6-4.

And Northville's Langtry got the same treatment from Vibert, who won, 2-6, 6-3, 6-2, to complete Northville's woes.

Only Mustangs who salvaged points were Parent and Jim Long. Parent whipped Halle, 6-4, 6-2

Golfers Lose

Northville no sooner beat the weather, then they were faced with another challenge.

This time they weren't quite as successful. Milford capitalized on penalties assessed against Northville to top the Mustangs, 168-173.

Coach Al Jones' linksters thus dropped their opening golf match Monday at Meadowbrook Country Club.

"We lost six strokes through penalties," said Jones, "and we had some fives on three-putt greens."

There was some solace in the fact that this was the local prepsters' first outing. It was Milford's fourth conquest in as many outings.

In beating Northville, Milford, the defending Wayne-Oakland conference champs gave notice that with its all-veteran lineup, they'll be tough again this year.

Bright spot for the Mustangs was Jim St. Germain's return to 'last year's form. He led the field with a 87.

Other local scorers were Jim Berton with a 43, Rick Talbot with a 44 and newcomer Ted Bunker with a 49. Since the best four of five were tallied, Bob Regenhardt's 54 was not counted.

Balance was the key to Milford's attack. Adrian Campbell topped his mates with a 40, followed by Burke Kingsbury and Pete Castelle with 42's and Mike Yeager's 44. Brent Morgan, with a 49, finished out of the running.

to post his second triumph in as many outings, and Long took the measure of Perlman, 6-3, 8-6.

Although Coach Norton reshuffled his Mustangs to find a winning doubles combination, it was to no avail.

Kerr-Caliguiri lost to Blaszk-Negler, 6-4, 6-2; Quay-McCollum dropped one to Wahl-Eary, 6-2, 7-5, and Eberhart-Hart succumbed to Harrington-Dick Roth, 6-2, 6-2.

Northville also dropped two extra matches. The duo of Burnett-Jim Hill was toppled, 6-0, 6-3, and John Clixley polished off Northville's Cliff Smith, 6-1, 6-0.

Two Strikes on Mustangs

Not only the weather has been wild and woolly lately. It's not the runs that hurt so much, it's the way the Rocks go them.

One hit, two walks, and three errors scored five unearned markers.

Victim of the shoddy fielding was Pitcher Steve Evans who came on in relief of starter Jerry Imsland in the fifth inning. Evans walked only two and struck out three in his short twirl.

In his four innings, Imsland walked five and struck out seven while giving up only one hit.

It was at the bat that Northville was really hurting. Thanks to a fifth inning double by Second Sacker Bob Bartski, the Mustangs escaped a no-hitter.

Bartski's double scored Bob

Tuck from first base for Northville's only run, an earned one.

Things really got out of control in Monday's fray with Clarkston on the road. The Wolves won it, 5-1, with the help of 11 walks.

Within the short period of three and one-third innings, Starter Imsland walked 10 and was tagged with all five runs.

But in defeat, Kucher was given a pleasant surprise in the guise of reliever Mike Grant. Just a sophomore pitching his first varsity ball, Grant struck out three, walked one and scattered five hits.

"His performance was a real morale booster", Kucher noted. "The boys gave him good support."

Grant's chief weapons are a sneaky slider and a heavy fastball — and most important, he seems to put the ball where he wants it.

Clarkston jumped to a 5-0 lead at the end of the fourth inning with benefit of only one hit.

Four walks with one man on base and two out forced two runs across the platter in the second frame. Then a walk, an error, a wild pitch, another walk and a single scored three more runs for Clarkston to gain the five run lead.

Northville's lone tally came in the fifth inning. Shortstop John Jameson singled, advanced to second on Tuck's ground ball, moved to third on a pop fly and came home on a double steal.

In all, Northville picked up four hits to five for Clarkston.

What's Kucher's strategy to pull his Mustangs out of the hole? "I'm going to stick with the same basic lineup," he said. "They haven't had a chance to really demonstrate what they can do," he said.

If at the end of this long week — five ball games in five days — there is no change in the Mustangs' play, Kucher indicates that there may be a shakeup.

"I think what's hurting us most," Kucher stated, "is that some of the boys we had been counting on haven't been coming through. But it's still early in the season," he added.

Chevrolet Impala Super Sport Coupe—one of two bucket-seated beauties for '65.

People who buy other big expensive-looking cars get one thing you won't (big expensive-looking payments)

It looks like a big car. And is—by almost any standard you want to apply.

Width? Nobody builds a car as much as one inch wider. Length? It grew three inches this year. Roominess? Every closed model's got three inches more shoulder room, front and rear, and more leg and foot room up front too. Luxury? Nice little touches like the look of mellow walnut across the Impala's instrument panel. And big touches. Like the fineness of the same Body by Fisher workmanship that makes some of America's most expensive cars look so expensive. How about the ride? Chevrolet engineers took the Jet-smooth one and smoothed it out even more this year. Also made it more stable by widening the wheel stance. Price? That's where Chevrolets fall way short of the other big expensive-looking cars. But we wouldn't have it any other way. Would you?

One last question: How soon can you make a good spring buy on a Chevrolet? One last answer: Just as soon as you can get down to your Chevrolet dealer's.

Zing into spring in a new Chevrolet, Chevelle, Corvair, Chevy II or Corvette

Spice CABINET
Larger quantities are usually less expensive than small amounts. Compare prices of fresh, frozen, canned and packaged foods to see which one gives the most servings for the least money. Select the largest size package or containers that you can use without waste, especially those flour, sugar, cornmeal, oatmeal, rice, nonfat dry milk and coffee.

FIX-IT TIP
You can silence creaking floors and stairs by driving two-inch nails down through the tread and into the top edge of the riser.
Three small-headed wire nails driven at an angle and pointed in a little below the surface ought to do the trick. Plastic wood fills holes. Don't use glue to fix steps. It won't work.

SELF ANALYSIS QUIZ
Money... Is It Your Friend Or Foe?
By Jane Sherrod Singer

Money has been cursed and praised, sought for and rejected. D. Bouhours, the French Jesuit etymologist, summed up his opinion with the statement: "Money is a good servant, but a poor master." What is it to you?

	YES	NO
A. 1. If you have some extra money, do you spend it on something you really don't need?	()	()
2. Are most of your purchases made on credit?	()	()
3. Do you envy millionaires?	()	()
4. If you inherited a fortune, would you drastically change your way of life?	()	()
5. Would you enjoy flashing a large roll of bills, expensive jewelry and costly clothing?	()	()
B. 1. When eating out, do you automatically read the right-hand side (the cost) of the menu first and usually order the least expensive meal?	()	()
2. Do you feel it is entirely up to the government rather than you as an individual to take care of needy persons and/or causes?	()	()
3. Has it been over a year since you bought a new piece of clothing?	()	()
4. Do you often tell your friends how much you paid for things or services?	()	()
5. Do you consider gift-giving at Christmas, birthdays, anniversaries, etc. childish and unnecessary?	()	()

SCORING: The first five questions are aimed at the spend-thrift type. The last five, at the penny-pincher. Give yourself one point for each YES answer in parts A and B. Subtract the smaller number from the larger. If you have answered all questions NO, you have a 0 score, a very healthy attitude toward money. If you have answered one question in A as YES and one in B as YES, your score is again 0, and since your freedom with money is balanced by some penny-pinching characteristics, you will still find a good friend in your bank roll.

1 to 2 points in either A or B: still safe
3 to 4 points in either A or B: you are in fierce competition with money.
5 points in either A or B: Money is your master! Chuang-tse said in 275 B.C., "To have enough is good luck, to have more than enough is harmful. This is true of all things, but especially of money."

OUT OF THE PAST

ONE YEAR AGO
"Terrific response and excellent cooperation." That remark seems to sum up the reaction of area chairmen of the polio clinics as they viewed results of the massive campaign conducted locally throughout Wayne, Oakland and Macomb counties.

Two high school senior girls with a flare for music have been named valedictorian and salutatorian of the Northville graduating class for 1964. Anne Hembrey, 17 year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred W. Hembrey is the school's 1964 valedictorian and Anna Martin, 18-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bermon Martin, is salutatorian.

James Frisbie, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Frisbie, 47215 Eleven Mile road and a Michigan State University sophomore, completed in a world-wide contest of the Amateur Radio club. Out of 474 contacts he reached 90 different countries.

Elegance is spelled S-A-R-M-I by Detroit Free Press fashion writer, Laurena Pringle, who introduced Italian born fashion designer Count Ferdinando Sarmati to Northville Town Hall last week.

FIVE YEARS AGO
Cash-conscious Novi school officials crossed their fingers last week after submitting a record budget to the Oakland county allocation board for study, prepared by superintendent William Medlyn and approved by the school board. The 1960-61 school year budget calls for $322,400. Northville football coach Ron Schiffer will accept the head coaching position at Class A Jackson high school in Detroit, this week.

Although the "proof of the pudding" is still two days away, professional and amateur artists are holding an upcoming Northville art show as one of the most exciting exhibits ever held in the Detroit metropolitan area. The all-student suburban art show will be unveiled here at the community building Saturday.

Drizzly weather didn't dampen the spirit of some 300 area youngsters who turned out Saturday to hunt Easter eggs on the yard of the city hall.

Steve Juday lifts two homers as Mustangs win opener 4-0. The ball was diving over the right field fence as Juday chased teammate Roger Atchison around the bases.

Meadowbrook country club will become a "Spring Fantasy" Saturday night as the Northville Mother's stage its annual major fund raising event. Chairman of this year's dance is Mrs. Robert Yoder.

FIFTEEN YEARS AGO
In a colorful ceremony Sunday afternoon, the Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 4012 and auxiliary installed their officers for the ensuing year. Arthur C. Carlson was installed as commander, John Nulty, senior vice president, dent, and Glen Gerrard, Junior vice-commander. Over 200 persons attended the installation.

The Northville businessmen's golf league will again have the privilege of playing twilight golf at the Plymouth Country Club weekly on Tuesday evening beginning May 2.

Charles Root, Jr., was re-elected president in the general March election of Local 896, UAW-CIO at the Ford valve plant.

The following winners have been chosen in the V.F.W. auxiliary essay contest, Gail Bemish, Andrea Owen, Ann Bechel and Donna Schulte. Judges for the contest were Mr. and Mrs. Paul Schulz, Don Severance, Mrs. J. K. Eastland and Arthur Heslop.

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO
Blue Baron will come to Northville to play for the girls "N" dance April 19. The dance is informal and will be held at 8:30 to 12 p.m. The price of admission is 15 cents.

Kroger celebrates managers' week. Specials for the week include smoked hams for 17 cents a pound with 1/2 pound of bacon free.

Sally Bell bakery specials include cookies for 6 cents a dozen. Spring styles in shoes are being shown at Brockways shoe shop on Main street. Children dress shoes, $1.98 a pair.

Lucius Bake returned to Northville Wednesday from the jeweler's convention at Grand Rapids. Parties were at a standstill in the village last Thursday evening when the seniors presented "Girl Shy" to play goers at the Northville high school auditorium. The auditorium was packed to capacity.

Announcement was made today that the Northville Fair Association has granted its 1940 racing concession to Ivan Peat, prominent Northville and Detroit horseman and racing enthusiast. Seventeen days of twilight racing have been scheduled for the Northville Track, August 3-24.

Managers Roland Widmeyer and Charles Woodard of the Kroger store unloaded a freight car of grain at the depot Wednesday morning for selling directly to the buyers at wholesale prices.

At a noon day luncheon Tuesday, the Northville Rotary club elected its board of directors for the ensuing year. Six directors chosen are R. H. Amerman, W. H. Cansfield, M. J. Gussell, Dr. Joseph E. Seiday, Russell H. Steininger and D. H. Van Hove.

An epidemic of measles has broken out in Walled Lake and vicinity, according to Dr. O. R. MacKenzie, Commerce township health officer.

The American Guernsey Cattle Club, Peterborough, N.J. reports that a registered Guernsey cow has been sold to Sherwin A. Hill of Northville. This animal is Meadowbrook Constance Ann 613027.

Takes New Job

Phil Blanchard resigned his position on the Northville planning commission when he announced his acceptance of a position as administrative assistant with the Thompson-Brown development company. Thompson-Brown plans a home-apartment project in Northville at Taft and Eight Mile roads. The city council accepted the resignation but named no successor Monday night.

Sets Attendance Record

The First Baptist Church of Wixom, for the second consecutive year set a new attendance record in its Sunday school with a high on March 28 of 385.

For the second straight year, as well, Wixom Baptist will receive an award from the Conservative Baptist Association of Michigan for placing third in the state Sunday school contest, based on a gain of 37.9% over the previous year.

The award will be presented at the annual state youth rally to be held at the Lansing civic center May 15. There will be 2000 teenagers present at the youth convale.

Just a little over a year ago the Wixom Baptist Sunday school was averaging only around 200 per Sunday. Last year the attendance jumped to around 250 per Sunday and this year the attendance has run near 300 every Sunday morning.

According to the pastor of First Baptist, Robert V. Warren, the growth of the Sunday school can be attributed to a new "Achievement Program" that has been initiated, as well as to a renewed desire on the part of each teacher to show a genuine Christian concern for every member of their respective classes. A consistent program of follow-up on every absentee and visitor is also carried on weekly.

The average attendance for the month of March of 346 per Sunday was also a new record high for any month in the history of First Baptist which was 127 years old this past March.

First Baptist is planning to erect in a few months a new 26 room Christian education unit to help house its growing Sunday School. Mr. Kenneth Gibby is the Sunday School superintendent.
