Drop Township Charter Idea

But Still Seek Expanded Board

It took 60 days for the township to resume its adjourned annual meeting.

But it only required 45 minutes Tuesday night to decide that a charter township held few advantages for Northville.

While the 65 citizens in attendance at the community building meeting decided that a charter township form of government held little attraction, the earlier decision that the board should be expanded from five to seven members was re-emphasized.

After Supervisor R. D. Merriam opened the session Attorney Edward Draugelis gave a brief report on charter township government.

He reported that:

--it was legally possible for the township of Northville to incorporate as a charter township;

--such incorporation would not prevent annexation by neighboring cities (such as Northville and Livonia);

--among the advantages are greater flexibility in administration by permitting the township board to hire a superintendent (manager), the power to levy a real estate tax up to five mills, greater bonding authority and an expanded seven-member board;

--among the possible disadvantages the attorney mentioned elimination of the annual meeting (although the proposed budget requires a public hearing), some loss of the right of people to control the amount of tax levied on their property.

His report concluded that the charter township act seemed to be designed for townships more "urban" than "rural".

Attorney Draugelis also reported that it is legally possible for the township to expand its board from five to seven members. He said a population of 5,000 is required for by the statute for expansion, but that the patient population of township institutions may be counted, thus boosting the non-institutionalized population of 3,177 (1960 census) to more than 7,000.

The attorney reported that he had obtained a state attorney general's opinion on the population requirement issue.

He said that under the statute such an expansion would take place at the next regular biennial township election.

This statement was challenged by Joseph Florilli, 39914 Har-bert, who wondered why the board expansion could not take place sooner. He asked Attorney Draugelis whether the opinion that the expansion election must wait until the next regular election was his or the attorney general's.

"It's mine", said Draugelis.

He said the statute called for "the next regular township election" and he explained that such a provision was probably made to provide for an established order in term of office for the two new trustees. He said that at the next election three trustees, instead of one, would be elected and that the two top vote-getters would be elected for four years and the third for two years. In following elections two trustees would be elected to four-year terms.

Florilli indicated he would seek an attorney general's opinion to see if an election for board expansion might be held sooner.

Before adjournment at 8:45 p.m. discussion returned to charter township. One citizen asked if there were other means for the township to avoid annexation.

Attorney Draugelis described a method of incorporation employed by a township outside the city of Holland designed to prevent annexation.

The method is exactly the same as used for several years in Plymouth township. (Draugelis, who is also attorney for the city of Plymouth did not refer to Plymouth township - although Plymouth has been successful in its maneuvering, while the township outside of Holland made legal errors in its incorporation petitions).

In this method the township votes to incorporate as a city thus gaining immunity from annexation. Then two years later the township votes against a proposed charter, thus voiding the city status before it comes into being. The procedure is then repeated. Plymouth township has done this twice over a period of several years.

Two other township citizens voiced the opinion that they would rather become a part of the city of Northville eventually.

When one citizen asked "why can't the matter of charter township be dropped?" Supervisor Merriam answered that no request or motion had been made. "It's dead", concluded Merriam.

Trailer Hearing Tuesday

Oakland county circuit court Judge James Thorburn will hear arguments next Tuesday on the validity of Novi's trailer park ordinance.

Frank Davis, a Novi resident who is seeking to construct a mobile home site on Beck road south of Nine Mile, is challenging the ordinance.

Davis' request was denied last summer by the village council along with two others.

Davis appealed the decision because he felt his land is suitable for a trailer site and the ruling was "unreasonable and arbitrary."

The Northville Estates civic association, the Northville school board and city council raised objections about the Davis site at the time.

Public to Hear School Story

A special meeting of the board of education has been called for Monday evening at the Northville community building specifically to explain to the public the details of the forth-coming school bond issue.

Board members, administrators and members of the citizens' study committee will be on hand at eight o'clock to outline the proposed building program and answer questions.

Two proposals will appear on the June 14 ballot.

Number one asks voters to approve the expenditure of $2,800,000 in the next five years for a new elementary and junior high school plus other improvements including expansion of the high school, converting the present junior high school for central offices and special classroom use and construction of a bus repair facility.

Proposal number two calls for construction of a swimming pool, either in the new junior high school or at the high school site, for $500,000.

The proposals will be outlined visually with slides in a presentation by William Secord and Clyde Vadner, both members of the citizens' study group.

Board members and administrators will then outline the need, explain the building program procedure and point out the method of financing.

The board recently approved adoption of the state-guaranteed qualified bond issue plan, which limits the local millage rate for building debt retirement to seven mills, 1.3 mills higher than the present rate.

IT'S OPEN-Northville's new post office opened Tuesday looking neat and trim. The early American design building is surrounded by well-landscaped side-yards and a parking area at the rear. Postmaster John Steimel said an official dedication ceremony would be held in July.

In Our Town

By Kris Deibert

Miss Deibert, valedictorian of the Northville high school class of 1965, is guest columnist this week for Jean Day, who returns this week from Europe.

Northville high school has just a few more events planned for its seniors before it bids them a final farewell. After weeks of enjoyable and sometimes hectic activity, only the programs centered on commencement remain for the graduates. But, June is going to be the most memorable, if not the busiest month of all for us.

Honors convocation will be held the 9th of June to honor those receiving scholarships and other awards. This year the convocation will be taken away from its traditional auditorium setting and will assemble in the cafeteria for a dinner by invitation-only. At this gathering, recipients of local scholarships will be announced, science, math, and language awards will be given, and those seniors earning the gold tassel will be recognized.

Baccalaureate is next on the agenda, scheduled for June 13th and at this time the graduates will first wear their caps and gowns. The baccalaureate ceremony, centered on the religious aspect of our graduation, will include speeches from local clergymen and hymns sung by the high school choir. Our graduating class will begin and conclude the ceremony with their solemn march down the aisle, accompanied by the traditional rendition of "Pomp and Circumstance".

Then, only the night of commencement, June 17, awaits us, after which we have left only the memories of four wonderful years.

Our senior class certainly has many memorable events to look back upon. Although we are the largest class to graduate from Northville to date - 230 of us - we are a very close-knit group. This spring we conducted a Bermuda Day, charging everyone a quarter for the privilege of wearing Bermudas. Luckily, it was a very warm day, and everyone appreciated running around in shorts and bermudas. Senior Skip Day was another highlight of our spring. On June 1 it was noticed at the high school that every senior was absent. But, of course, it was authorized, and we had a carefree day of parties, just plain relaxation and doing homework(?).

Besides sponsoring these traditional activities, our class was full of innovation. This year, for the first time in the history of Northville High, the senior prom was held outside the community schools. Meadowbrook Country Club was the enchanting setting for our prom on May 22. The prom included dinner at the club before the dancing began at 9:00. Then, until twelve, the couples swirled across the dance floor to the big band sound of the sixteen-piece Carl Edson orchestra. A photographer took pictures, capturing the smiles of the girls in their lovely floor lengths, and their handsome beaus in crisp dinner jackets. In the words of all present, it was "truly an evening to remember".

Another successful venture was the Senior Trip taken over the Memorial Day weekend. Senior trips were discontinued in 1960, at Northville, but this year, when our class heard of the boat trip to Mackinac Island, it sounded too good to resist. So, class officers, parents, and students worked together to plan for and to insure the success of such a trip. And it certainly was a success! The voyagers left the dock at the foot of Woodward Saturday, May 29 and traveled up Lake Huron and Lake Michigan reaching Mackinac Island Sunday. They spent an exciting day sight-seeing on the island, and then relaxed that evening in their cabins as they returned home across moonlit waters. There were seniors from other high schools on the boat, so the trip combined adventure with the fun of making new friends. Our trip was such a wonderful experience, we hope in the future other senior classes may have the privilege of taking one.

So, most of our senior fun is gone, and the more serious side of our year awaits us as commencement approaches. Of course, there is going to be an after-graduation party which will last most of the night. The graduates' parents are organizing this for us, and there will be plenty of food, dancing, and fun. This will be our last fling together, and no doubt we will have, as in the past, a perfect time. With a class like ours, how could we help it?

CORNER

Winning trophies is commonplace at the Jack Thomas home, 883 Allen drive in Village Green subdivision.

Newcomers to Northville, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Thomas, who moved here recently from Waterford, have two daughters who are piling up trophies for their excellence in baton twirling.

Shirley 15, the star of the family is a student at Northville high school. Sharon, following rapidly in her sister's foot steps, attends the junior high.

The girls were members of the Land-O-Lakes baton crop for two years. They have won contests all over the United States sponsored by the National Baton Twirling Association and the World Twirling Association.

Shirley and Sharon planned to demonstrate their baton twirling ability in the Memorial Day parade but due to a knee injury Shirley will be unable to perform. Her sister, however, will be in the parade.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas are proud of their girl's achievements and are equally proud of their son, Jack Jr., 9, a student at Amerman school.

Jack plays the drums and hopes with more training, to catch up with his award-winning sisters.

Mr. Thomas is employed at Ford Motor company in Rawsonville. He and his son have a joint project, racing stock cars (the table-top variety).

REMEMBER MR. AMERNAN—Youngsters at Amerman elementary school couldn't allow Superintendent Russell Amernan to retire without honoring him. Students Lorrie Diebert and Ricky Ambler (above) informed Mr. Amernan that a plaque will hang under his picture in the school and bear this inscription: "Hereafter he it known that Monday of Michigan Week is established as Amernan Day at Amerman school." Others in the picture are Mr. Amernan and Amerman Principal Ray Spear. In the picture below, Mr. Amernan poses with two teachers — Mrs. Ann Chizmar and Mrs. Beatrice Ellis — who were educated under the Amerman administration in local schools. Other students who turned teachers are Richard Gray, Robert Prom and Mrs. Diane Schrader.

The June dinner and business meeting of the Northville Estates Civic Association will be held Saturday, June 5, at 6:30 p.m. at Botsford Inn, Grand River and Eight Mile road.

SPEAKING for The Record

By BILL SLIGER

What next Class of '65?
Who cannot remember the hollow feeling when you finally realize that an era is ended? Nothing in the future, it seems, could be quite the same.

Really, it never is. But more frequently than not, it is far better.

For those seniors who receive their high school diplomas in two weeks and await fall entrance into college, a whole new educational experience awaits.

It is a prospect to be envied, an opportunity that should not be abused.

Not all high school graduates enter college. Many seek no additional training, but strike out in search of a career. Their lives face a more abrupt change, a demand for more rapid maturity, an ability to meet immediately the give-and-take of routine daily life.

During the next few weeks they'll receive all kinds of advice. But each of us must learn in our own way ... some plodding and stumbling, others oblivious to outside considerations, some nimbly side-stepping anything that smacks of responsibility, still more trying their best to meet each challenge day-by-day.

Superintendent Russell Amerman, soon to retire after a career in the Northville schools of 38 years, reflected that his formula for success might be summed up in the effort "to keep everything in perspective."

This is, of course, good advice for anyone, but tremendously difficult to follow religiously.

Some things move us more than others, especially when they apply directly.

Without meaning to be cynical I think it's most important if we, as individuals, do not expect too much from our fellow citizens. Each of us sets our own standards. Alone they may be similar, but when applied our interpretations differ greatly.

We're Christians, but we allow ourselves a few private prejudices.

We're honest businessmen, but we permit a few loose rules to prevail where "making a sale" is involved.

"We believe in fair play, unless a small infringement 'just this once' helps our cause.

We believe in the letter of the law until its application hurts us personally.

We say that we "have nothing against" and that "some of our best friends are," but we talk from an isolated isle.

We talk about under-paid teachers, poor educational systems and then we vote against facilities because it costs us more tax dollars.

If you understand these ground rules when you enter the game of life, the disappointments will not be so severe.

And hopefully, the class of '65 can do something to make these words just the bitter echo of an age past.

Speaking of hope, Northville Rotarians witnessed a good example Tuesday noon.

We heard Mr. and Mrs. John Van Landingham talk about their six months in the Congo.

These youngsters attend the University of Michigan and were brought to Rotary by Harry Smith. They rent a home from Smith at Whitmore Lake.

Mrs. Van Landingham, a most attractive young lady, recently received her M.D. degree from the U of M. John has his master's degree and is an electrical engineer.

They combined their vacation and between-semester interim to spend six months working in a Congo bush village. Mrs. Van Landingham worked in a 225-bed hospital manned by one white doctor serving a village of 40,000. John repaired cars, trucks and electrical systems that had gone without maintenance for years. The x-ray machine, for example, had not been in operation for four years until John arrived.

After three or four more years of study they hope to return as missionaries.

Why is this hopeful?

John's a farm boy hailing from just about the last place in the country you'd expect for a Congo missionary - southern Alabama.

School Study Group Urges Language, Government

This is the last of a series of three articles dealing with Northville's proposed school building program. Prepared by Amerman School Principal Ray Spear, it deals with studies for new school curricula.

On October 5, 1964, the Northville Board of Education officially established a Citizens Advisory Group to assist them in planning for the future educational needs of Northville.

One of the committees organized within this Advisory Group was the Committee on Curriculum.

It is the intent of this article to inform you, the reader, of the work of the group of citizens charged with the responsibility of studying the current school curriculum and making recommendations to the Board regarding their findings.

The Curriculum Committee was composed of 19 citizens, one teacher, three administrators and two Board members. The committee was broken into three subcommittees, with each subcommittee studying a specific phase of the Northville Public Schools curriculum.

The total committee met 12 times between October 5, 1964, and March 29, 1965. Each subcommittee met at least as many times.

A thorough evaluation of the Curriculum Study made in 1957 by another group of citizens found that, to a large extent, the recommendations made then are currently being carried out. Those recommendations which were not fulfilled were studied carefully and in most cases have been re-recommended in the 1964-65 Citizens Curriculum Study Report.

The recommendations made at this time were also based on the results of a questionnaire sent to all parents of Northville school children, as well as a questionnaire distributed to the teaching staff. Outside reading by committee members, as well as an evaluation of current school practices, was valuable in establishing the final recommendations to the Board.

Some of the significant responses to the Community Survey were as follows:

1. The majority of responding parents felt that the general aim of our educational program should be based on the philosophy that we will never be able to completely prepare all students for all occupational skills and that this should be left to the colleges, apprentice training, night schools and other educational facilities. We should teach basic skills, effective living, and the arts and sciences in general fashion.

2. A large majority of the responding parents felt that a modern foreign language program should be offered at the elementary school. Currently, Spanish is being taught via T.V. to fourth and fifth grade students.

3. Almost all responding parents felt the school system should teach more about the workings of other governmental systems.

4. Most parents responding feel that the homework practices in Northville are reasonable.

5. Many parents feel the school should place a greater stress on discipline and school behavior.

A general evaluation of parental response to the current curriculum is good; however, improvements are desirable in some areas.

Upon completion of the curriculum study, the committee has submitted a report of their activities, including 42 recommendations to the Board of Education. Some of the recommendations made to the board include:

1. The employment of a full-time visiting teacher.

2. The establishment of a program for emotionally disturbed children.

3. That teacher salaries remain competitive enough to guarantee the best available teachers for the children of Northville.

4. That the physical education program and facilities be improved and expanded at the high school. The committee suggests the addition of a swimming pool to the present facilities.

5. That all children have some vigorous physical activity everyday.

6. That more counseling services be provided at the junior high school level.

7. That team-teaching facilities be provided for in any new junior high school.

8. That each elementary school be provided with one full-time art teacher and one full-time music teacher.

9. That one full-time reading consultant - remedial reading teacher - be employed for each elementary school.

10. That the physical education program be expanded to provide physical education for two periods per week for all elementary children except kindergarten.

Interested citizens may borrow a complete copy of the committee's report by contacting the Superintendent's office.

Earl Chappell

Chappell To Retire At Edison

Earl Chappell, assistant superintendent of the Oakland Division of Detroit Edison's overhead lines department, will retire June 1 after almost 39 years of company service.

Chappell is a native of Fortville, Indiana, and received his education there. Before joining the Edison company in 1926 he worked as a lineman for the Terre Haute-Indianapolis and Eastern Traction Company and for Indiana Electric Corporation. His first Detroit Edison assignment was as a lineman and he has worked as crew foreman, division instructor and division general foreman. He was promoted to assistant superintendent of the Oakland Division last fall.

A Northville resident for the past 29 years, Chappell and his wife, Ruby, make their home at 816 North Center. They have four children—Kenneth, Terry, Greta (Mrs. Earl) Croil, and Martha (Mrs. William) Bingley—and nine grandchildren. Chappell is a member and former treasurer of the American Brittany Club and is a member of the Methodist Church and the Masonic Lodge in Northville.

Attends School

A Novi fire department officer, Captain Bill Paquette, attended a training session last week at the University of Michigan. The university operates its own fire department.

Still Seek Food Lifter

After an absence of a week, Northville's foodlifter struck again Friday.

Mrs. Doris Klements, 451 Wells, told police that five bags of groceries were taken from her car parked in front of the P & A theater at 11:50 a.m. The groceries were valued at $30.

Police said that she didn't have her station wagon locked. In the last month four other residents have reported having bags of food stolen from their open autos in city lots.

All incidents occurred on Fridays.

DOG DILEMMA—Northville Patrolman David LaFond checks a local pooch for its license. Police are conducting a door-to-door survey in the city because only 165 dogs have been licensed so far this year. Last year 307 were tagged. If an owner is found in violation, a ticket will be written, warns Police Chief Eugene King. A license can be purchased at the city clerk's office. It costs $1.10 for males and $2.10 for females.

Crypt Marker Thieves Fined

A crypt marker from Rural Hill cemetery that three Detroit youths removed and ruined is being replaced.

Northville Municipal Judge Charles McDonald assessed each youth $128.33 last Thursday for willfully destroying a memorial to the dead.

McDonald handed out $85 fines, $15 court costs and $28.33 restitution expenses after all pleaded guilty to the charge.

The youths were identified as James Lefevre, 20, 11655 Glastonbury; Gordon Corwin, 18, 9050 Brace and James Berkley, 18, 9990 Warwick.

The marker was taken May 11 and Detroit police called local authorities three days later asking if any missing grave markers had been reported.

The marker that was pilfered ended up on the front of Cody high school on Detroit's west side.

Last Wednesday the youths admitted lifting the marker. A fourth teenager was cleared of any wrong doing after being submitted to a polygraph test.

While undergoing lie-detector tests, the others said that the mausoleum's door was already ajar and damaged when they arrived at the cemetery.

Upon entering the mausoleum one of the youths noticed that a crypt marker matched his date of birth. So it was pulled down. Police Chief Eugene King said that the trio further confessed to visiting other cemeteries at Farmington, Plymouth, Dearborn and Salem.

They just surveyed three but at Salem they said they started digging up a grave but were frightened off when hearing dogs barking.

Denies New Trial

A motion for a new trial in the May 7 assault of a Novi youth in Cass-Benton park was denied Tuesday.

Northville Municipal Judge Charles McDonald turned down the request made by the attorney for Gerald LaRoche, the 17-year old assailant.

LaRoche is from Northville. Robert Kelly, attorney for LaRoche, contended that his client's constitutional rights had been denied in the case.

Kelly claimed that LaRoche was not represented by legal counsel at his trial May 24 and didn't understand the nature of the charge lodged against him.

Judge McDonald sentenced LaRoche to 60 days in the Detroit House of Correction for beating up David Cook, 18, of 44239 Twelve Mile road.

LaRoche struck Cook in the face. Cook suffered fractured sinus bones and severely bruised

Meantime, the examination has been rescheduled in a felonious assault case involving LaRoche. It will now be held June 21 in municipal court.

LaRoche was arraigned May 22 for stabbing a Detroit teenager May 8 in Cass-Benton park.

He stood mute and was released on $1,500 bond.

According to state police, LaRoche plunged a knife into the left side of Eugene Carolan, 18, of Detroit during a beer party in the park.

Carolan is recuperating at home.

Sentence Assailant

Warren Robert Wright, who shot Northville Police Chief Eugene King February 10, could spend up to 20 years behind bars.

He was sentenced May 19 for from 3 to 10 years for assault with the intent to do great bodily harm in Wayne county circuit court.

The next day a 20-year sentence was imposed in Federal court for holding up the Northville branch of Detroit Federal Savings last June 8.

An FBI agent said that Wright will serve his sentences concurrently. Wright was sent to Jackson prison.

Wright plugged King twice in the abdomen as the police officials was driving him to the station for questioning as a suspicious person.

Wright's car matched the description of the one spotted after the September robbery of the Northville savings-and-loan office.

Reserve Graduate

Gary Davis, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Davis, 352 Orchard drive, will be graduated from Western Reserve Academy in Hudson, Ohio on June 6.

While at Reserve, Gary was a member of varsity cross-country, swimming, and track, the rally band, the orchestra and dance band. In addition, he served as prefect and cheerleader.

Next fall, Gary will attend an English prep school as a participant in the exchange Student Union and in the fall of 1966, he will attend Wooster college.

Plan Program

The Wayne County Training School will hold its closing program for the school year Sunday, June 13 on the Sheldon road playground area from 2 until 2:45 p.m.

Honored

Gary Styrk, son of Mr. and Mrs. Allen Styrk of Wixom, was one of nearly 200 freshmen at Michigan State University initiated into Phi Eta Sigma. Students having a 3.5 scholastic average (on a 4.0 basis) are admitted to the national freshman men's honorary fraternity.

Sophomore Miler Sets Track Mark

Roger Kline, a sophomore transfer student, set a new school record by running the mile in four minutes, 47 and one-tenth seconds Friday on the local track.

And it was only the second time that Kline had run the mile in competition. He was Northville's top man in the 880-yard run before switching to the stamina demanding event.

The old school record, set last year by Chuck Annette was 4:48.

Teammate Chuck Keegan, although he fell short of a record, flashed across the finish line first in the 100-yard dash.

He did it in 10 and six-tenths seconds, but for a freshman who stretches five-six that's going some.

Keegan was competing against a field of juniors and seniors to make his fete all the more impressive.

And he just missed a first in the 220-yard dash, losing by a split second to tie for second.

While Kline and Keegan were turning in stellar performances, the Mustangs couldn't muster enough points as they dropped their fourth meet this year.

Oak Park came out the victor, 58 and one-half to 41 and one-half.

Northville thus closed the season with a 4-4 record.

It was a matter of inches and seconds that made the difference in the last meet of the year.

Coach Roy Herald pointed out. "We lost out by a whisker," he said.

Two other first places were posted by the Mustangs. Dennis Cook copped the pole vault with a nine-foot, eight inch effort, and the mile relay team of Kline, John Hine, Jon Kaake, and Cook won in 3:57.

Cook also shared the spotlight. Besides his winning efforts in the pole vault and as a member of the mile relay team, he bagged a second in the 180-yard low hurdles and a third in the high hurdles.

Four other local tracksters came in second. Hine, in his best performance of the year, heaved the shot 42 feet four and one-half inches; Jim Bell took second in the high hurdles; Freshman Bill Harrison copped second in the 440, and Pete Sutherland did likewise in the 880.

Northville also won a brace of thirds. It was Burns in the shot, Sutherland in the broad jump, Harrison in the 180-yard low hurdles, Joe Loyne in the mile and Ron Jones in the 880.

Roger Castillo tied for third in the high jump.

Five seniors flashed out their cinder careers in the Oak Park meet, including Hine, Burns, Bell, Castillo and Mark Lipa.

Pontiac Ousts Northville

Pontiac Northern spotted the Northville Mustangs a two-run lead in the first game of the Pontiac Press Tournament Friday, then came back to win, 8-4.

Northern simply had too much power and finesse, the same things that brought it a league championship.

But even in the wake of a loss, Coach Bob Kucker wasn't entirely sad. Of the nine losses his charges have suffered this year, eight have been in class A squads.

"If we were solely after a good record, we could have played weaker teams," Kucker declared. "But if we did, the boys boys would not have learned as much about baseball."

As a result of the loss, Northville's overall record now stands at 10-9. The Mustangs copped sole possession of second place in the Wayne Oakland Conference by posting a 9-5 slate.

Things looked bright in the first inning at Pontiac Friday as Northville jumped to a two run lead.

Chuck Boerger walked and Pitcher Jerry Imsland followed with a single, sending Boerger to third. On the throw to third, Imsland moved to second.

Bob Tuck then slapped a slow roller to score Boerger. And Tuck reached first on an error. Imsland moved to third.

Jameson also hit a slow grounder that scored Imsland with the second run.

Northern took the lead for keeps in the bottom of the second by tallying three times on just one hit. An error, a hit batsman and a walk loaded the bases. The single brought in two runs and the last scored on an outfield error.

Pontiac racked up two other markers in the third on one hit and two hit batters to increase its margin to 5-2.

Without the benefit of a hit, Northville came up with two runs in the top of the fourth to close the gap, 5-4.

The local preppers bagged only two hits. Imsland's first inning poke and another single by Catcher Doug Swiss.

Pontiac banged out seven hits.

Sports Netmen Lose To Riverside

Minus the services of three of its top performers, the Northville netmen dropped a 5-2 decision Friday to Dearborn Riverside.

Jim Long, Larry Thibos and Bob Langtry were competing in the Walled Lake Invitational Tennis Tournament. Scheduled for Wednesday and Thursday of last week, rain on Wednesday forced moving the schedule ahead one day.

Langtry flashed top form in the number four singles category, winning the event. Thibos, in the number three singles, elimination, was runner up. Long, Northville's number one man, lost in the second round of his class.

Northville simply did not have the guns to beat Riverside Friday.

Norbert Parent fired his way to victory in the number one singles match, beating Ted Werner, 11-9, 6-2. But he was the only singles winner for the local squad.

Northville's duo of Dave Eberhardt and Jim Lundstrom, a third doubles team, whipped Bob Galspi and Joe Bell, 6-3, 6-0, to account for the Mustang's other point.

Riverside swept three singles matches. Val Binkowski edged Randy Calliguri, 4-6, 7-5, 7-5, in an extended battle. Mike Lorente blanked Northville's Dave Kerr, 6-0, 6-0, and Mike Dombrowski unended Steve Quay, 6-4, 6-0.

The Dearborn outfit had just as much success in the doubles competition as it took two of the three matches. G. Marabeas and Ted Lewis registered identical 6-1 scores to beat Bill Hart and Jim Hill. Tom Eusades--Tim Marabeas slipped by Randy Burnett and Ron McCollum, 7-5, 6-2.

In an extra match not tallied, in the team total, Jim Nankerves went all out to beat Cliff Smith, 3-6, 6-3, 6-4.

While in the Orient, the battalion will undergo mountain warfare and cold weather training in Japan, counter-insurgency warfare training on Okinawa and in the Republic of the Philippines and take part in amphibious operations throughout the Western Pacific.

After approximately 13 months in the Far East, the battalion will return to Camp Pendleton for advanced mountain, desert and amphibious training exercises.

Colonel Smith, who is also the principal of the Main Street elementary school, retired December 21 as commanding officer of the 309th Civil Affairs Group, VI United States Army Corps in Inkster. He reigned as the C.O. for six years and was in reserve and active Army service for 32 years. Two weeks ago Colonel Smith's leadership and administrative abilities were recognized as he received the Citation for the Army Commendation Medal. Colonel Hickman representing Major General John R. Pugh, Commanding General of the VI U.S. Army Corps, made the presentation. Smith's citation read in part: "As Commanding Officer of the first U.S. Army reserve unit in the Detroit area to adopt the weekend training assembly concept, Colonel Smith contributed greatly to its success. ## from the PASTOR'S STUDY

Reverend Harold Hawley
South Lyon Church of Christ

We human beings have many misconceptions as to our relationship to God. One is that everything we do in worship and service is for His benefit, or the benefit of the church. It stems from the idea that He needs us, and some are naive enough to think that the Lord just cannot get along without them! Only when we change this concept, yes, turn it completely around, only then will we find our proper places in His scheme of things.

A few illustrations will point this out. Assume that the church leaders plan a work program, either of a physical nature or spiritual. They ask various members to have parts in this work, and condescend to say, "You know, the church needs you," or "the Lord needs you." They beg and plead and still find difficulty in convincing people that they should help do the Lord's work. The leaders fail to gain the assistance of members because the latter assume that everything they do religiously is a favor to the Lord and to religious leaders—that He just cannot get along without their particular service to Him.

If men would only realize that they need the Lord, and that service to Him is a blessing, and the more we serve Him the greater the blessing, then, and only then, will we prosper spiritually. And only when religious leaders realize that they must place emphasis in the right place—on the joy of serving the Lord, on the realization that service is a blessing, not a drudgery, will men have a proper concept of their relationship to God.

Apply this to the study of God's word. Many think they have "done their duty to the Lord" when they have read a chapter or so. Jesus said "Ye shall know the truth, and the truth shall make you free" (Jn. 8:32). Yet professed followers of Christ often study the scriptures very little. If they attend a Bible class they consider it a favor to the teacher or to the Lord. If they would only realize that a great blessing comes in learning the message from heaven, they would learn all they could, and not be satisfied until they had learned all they could. They should as "newborn babes, long for the pure milk of the word, that by it they might grow in respect to salvation." (1 Pet. 2:2).

Apply this also to attendance at services. One says, "I have fulfilled my obligation to the Lord since I attended services once last Sunday." If he could only understand that even by attending a thousand times he could not discharge his obligation to God, that he owes Him his very life and his hope of eternity, he would ask, "How often can I go, how much can I do, how often can I be in His holy presence?"

You see, we put the emphasis in the wrong place. We try to do just enough to "get by" instead of trying to do all we can to please Him. We fail to realize that we "lay up treasures in heaven" in doing His will and in serving Him, and in this way we gain most, not the church leaders, nor the Lord, when we study the scriptures, do visitation work, or attend services. Our great prayer should constantly be that of our Savior, "Father, not as I will, but as thou wilt," and of Saul of Tarsus, "Lord, what wilt thou have me to do?" Then we would realize the blessedness of serving the Lord.

Nature Trails Now Open

A new 1965 brochure entitled "Kensington Metropolitan Park NATURE TRAIL" is now available according to William F. Hopkins, chief naturalist for the Huron-Clinton Metropolitan Authority.

Kensington Metropolitan Park near South Lyon has four nature trails entitled Tamarack, Aspen, Deer Run and Wildwing, varying in length from 1/2 miles to 2 miles, with the longest bordering the shores of Wildwing Lake in the Wildlife sanctuary.

These trails are labelled for easy identification of plant life and are well-suited to self-guided hikes by individual and family groups. The brochure describes the features of each trail and the rules governing the conduct of visitors entering the wildlife sanctuary.

Do you ever feel trapped? Do the walls of a meaningless life seem to close in on you sometimes? Here's good news! Every life has a gate, and it is never locked. But it only opens from one side . . . your side.

Seek for the gate with all your heart, and you will find it. Open it, and you will enter a world full of meaning and beauty. You'll step from darkness to light . . . and never look back.

The key? It's waiting for you in Christ's teachings. His Church will help you to find it, and in His service you will discover life's real purpose. Go to church this Sunday, and hear God's words of promise and comfort. They are meant for all who yearn to widen the cramped horizon of their lives. They are meant for you.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL • ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are:

(1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

CITIZEN SIBLEY

"DON'T YOU 'SHAPE-UP-OR-SHIP-OUT' ME, MR. GEORGE SIBLEY!"

Michigan Mirror

Legislators May Return

LANSING — Likelihood of a special session in the Michigan legislature this year grows greater every day.

Government reorganization and fiscal reform appear the most likely areas which will remain undone when the regular session ends.

If the session closes on schedule it would be up to the governor to determine when a special meeting would be held. He is also given the power to set the topic or topics for consideration at any such session.

Government reorganization will automatically revert to an executive responsibility if the legislature fails to accomplish it by the end of this year.

For this reason it is still unknown whether Governor George

Romney would call a special session on it or whether he would prefer to let the year pass without action on the constitutionally-ordered change.

Fiscal reform also raises some question about the governor's intentions. He and many legislators are on record that action is needed before 1967.

Election activity next year would almost automatically preclude any action on fiscal reform, which at this point is defined as an income tax-centered package.

No politician wants deliberately to make himself unpopular in an election year.

If the legislature adjourns on schedule, however, the burden will be on Romney to decide whether reform is really desirable this year. He must also weigh carefully the chances of getting his or any other reform package through the two houses.

He tried it once before in September, 1963 and failed to gain passage.

With doubt in the minds of legislators on whether the governor would call a special session, it now looks as if the law-making body will try to stick by its present adjournment schedule.

An adjournment extension could avoid a special call, as was done in 1962 when lawmakers wanted to prevent Governor John B. Swainson's demand for reapportionment work. At that time, as in other years, the legislature simply recessed its session to the end of the year.

By extending the session, the legislature gains the ability to work on remaining problems at its own pace rather than at the will of the chief executive.

"The challenge to education in Michigan in the next decade lies not so much in the future as it does in the present," says State Superintendent of Public Instruction Lynn M. Bartlett.

Bartlett, who soon will leave Michigan to take a federal position in the education field, says failure to plan today for tomorrow could easily mean catastrophe on the morrow.

"No longer is it possible, especially in education, to allow the years ahead to take care of themselves, willy-nilly, without planning, without direction and without action."

Practical planning, the school chief says, must encompass at least the next 10 years of increasing enrollments, more and greater knowledge and growing educational requirements.

"To be consistent with our past and to give substance to our democratic faith and belief ... education must offer the opportunity for every person to develop to his maximum potential," said Bartlett.

"We can no longer tolerate the critical loss in human talent we are now sustaining because our educational programs do not and cannot meet the varied needs of our many social-economic levels."

Included in the state educational system by 1975 will be special programs beyond present ones for the mentally, physically and emotionally handicapped child, for vocational-technical training, and for senior citizens.

The latter will be encouraged, Bartlett said, by early retirement programs and the increased need for adults to learn new skills.

Bartlett's crystal ball also pictures the possibility of free public education at the community college level and better use of teacher talents. "Teachers will do more teaching and less book-keeping, milk money collecting and the like."

Michigan has been just about doubling its educational dollar investment every decade since 1940 and likely will continue this rate, predicts the present school chief.

Warns Drivers

With the advent of warm weather, motorists are apt to roll down the car windows and keep them down. Thus an open car becomes a target for a thief or vandal.

"This is what happened Saturday," said Novi Corporal Richard Faulkner. "A woman driver left the keys in the ignition of her open car and four juveniles took off with it."

They started at the K-Mart shopping center on Eight Mile at Beech-Daly road. Faulkner pulled the car over on East Lake drive.

The driver admitted he stole the car, Faulkner said. He and the occupants were 13-years-old. All were released to their parents.

When the car was returned to its owner, Mrs. Helen Jarrett of Livonia, she said that a $1,267.50 check and $5 were missing.

The mother of the underage driver was called and she recovered the check. But the $5 bill never turned up.

Faulkner added: "See what can happen if you don't lock your car. Keep it locked when in a large parking area regardless of the weather."

Bank Offers 4.5% Interest

Birmingham-Bloomfield Bank, which opened a branch recently in Wixom, is now paying 4 1/2% interest on time deposits.

Thomas H. Wagner, chairman and president of BBB, made the announcement.

Wagner said that this rate is the highest paid by any bank or savings-and-loan association in the metropolitan area.

Most banks are generally offering a 4% rate.

Wagner said the 4 1/2% rate is allowed on funds retained for a year or longer while the effective rate on deposits kept from six months to a year is 4 1/4%.

"In the event that a depositor has a need for his funds prior to maturity, he will still receive 4% interest," Wagner stated.

Total resources of the bank now amount to over $15.5 million compared with $11.2 million at the close of 1964.

"Although deposits of the bank have increased 62% over the past year," Wagner said, "mortgage and personal loan demands have been such that additional deposits are required to meet that demand. The 4 1/2% investment rate is feasible for the bank to pay on such accounts."

The Wixom office is currently housed in a trailer but construction of a permanent building near Wixom road and Interstate 96 is expected to start in a few weeks.

Keeping Cash Available for Emergency

BABSON PARK, Mass.—Readers write in from time to time asking where they should keep their savings in order to have cash available at a moment's notice. Some of these inquiries come from old-timers who remember the panic of the 1930's; but many are from followers of this column who have never experienced a financial panic.

A short while after Franklin D. Roosevelt was sworn into the Presidency for the first time in March 1933, he ordered every bank in the country closed. They remained shut "tighter than a drum" for several days. The reason, of course, was to bring the public to their senses. Depositors had been lining up at bank windows with only one thought in mind: To get cash before the bank should fail. For many banks had folded and fear stalked the land. Cash, silver, and even gold were tucked away in many a mattress and buried in tin cans in many a yard. It was indeed a panic.

The foresighted who had cash were few. The bulk of the public had no "folding money" or even pennies on hand. Many were the stories that told of father and mother breaking open baby's piggy bank to buy food for a few meals. The wealthy provided who had locked greenbacks in their safe-deposit boxes were no better off than the piggy-bank raiders, for they could not get admittance to the bank. However, the Roosevelt strategy worked; the run on the banks did not start up again when their doors reopened.

A while new generation has flourished since the last great financial panic. Up until a few months ago, hardly a question about the availability of quick cash came to this column. Then a tiny wave of bank failures occurred; one with sizable deposits tumbled in San Francisco. Rumors of "difficulties" elsewhere were heard. Talk of the "deterioration" of credit appeared in a number of financial publications. These developments are undoubtedly behind the rash of questions asking: "Could it happen again?"

Our long years of studying statistics have taught us that the figures may vary over a wide spectrum from one generation to another; but human nature is governed pretty generally by the same old motivations. Allegedly, the recent tiny eruption of bank failures was the result of dishonest management ... the lust for a "fast buck". Of course, such an infection could spread; but it seems more likely that any big trouble in banking will come some day from errors of over-optimism made by lenders in this period of high prosperity. Today's mistakes in human thinking are sowing the seeds which will grow into tomorrow's failures. And no manner of statistical fence-building or insurance barriers can "guarantee" depositors that they can get all their cash on a moment's notice.

Some of our citizens look on banks as an ever-ready font of money with which to keep business booming and people employed. Others consider them bastions that will guard their deposits in inviolate and always be prepared to return them quickly to their depositors. A successful bank must cater to each point of view.

Right now the seeds of future difficulties are being sown by the rising pressures on banks... forcing them to lend more and more freely. The government is permitting the financial institutions to pay higher rates on their time deposits. This is to help our imbalance of foreign payments problem. But higher rates on time deposits are attracting funds "like crazy". To pay the higher rate to their depositors, the bankers are falling over each other to lend. No wonder, then, that borrowers are having loans practically forced on them; no wonder that we hear cries that the bankers are taking more and more risks—that the credit of the country is "deteriorating".

If the events of these days of good times and easy lending should later lead to more widespread credit difficulties, it would prove wise to have a part of one's assets fairly easily convertible into cash.

Certainly, it is not advisable to keep large sums in currency on hand. A moderate amount in the safety-deposit box may be handy (if the banks stay open). Some good-name travelers checks are always advisable in your bureau drawer (they cannot be cashed if stolen and they are always ready for one of those hurry calls to travel on weekends when banks are closed.) For larger amounts, 90-day United States Treasury Bills are the most satisfactory way to hold reservoirs of cash.

To be sure, checking accounts and savings and loan holdings are insured by government agencies. However, there are limits on the amounts insured ($10,000) and there are likely to be delays in getting the funds transferred from the insured bank to another bank from which they can be withdrawn. Even more important is the nature of the insurance itself; it has not been tested in a period of widespread and severe economic adversity. Bank-deposit insurance is now only in the fourth decade of its existence—a time mostly of rising business and climbing prices.

Hence, in the event of very hard times, should they come, we would like to have available—in addition to insured bank deposits—a good reserve of the 90-day United States Treasury Bills. These draw interest by the discount method (today close to 4%), are encashable at full value each 3 months, and can be sold at a very small concession for cash on any business day.

SELF ANALYSIS QUIZ

Are You Welcome When You Visit Someone Ill?

By Jane Sherrod Singer

So you think you're the original little ray of sunshine? Answer the following questions truthfully, and then—probably—hang your head in shame!

Mark (a) or (b) according to choice and then check your score at the end.

- (a) Do you visit people who are sick because you feel it is your duty to do so?
(b) Or is it with the definite intention of cheering them up?
- (a) Do you devote most of the conversation to the exciting things that have been happening to you?
(b) Or do you remind the sick person of the good things in store for him or her?
- (a) If they are making slow progress do you tell them that they must not expect miracles?
(b) Or do you make haste to mention the marvelous cures which the medical profession are effecting these days?
- (a) Do you make disparaging remarks about the doctors and the nurses?
(b) Or do you try to convince the person who is ill that he (she) couldn't be in better hands?
- (a) Do you tell him that they will be soon up and about?
(b) Or do you advise them to resign themselves to a long stay in bed?
- (a) When relating the news to them do you tell them the good and the bad?
(b) Or do you have the more disturbing items until they are well again?
- (a) Do you stay as long as you can?
(b) Or do you just sit in for a minute and then make your self scarce?
- (a) If the patient attempts to talk about his (her) illness do you make a pretense of listening?
(b) Or do you lend a sympathetic ear to his (her) woes?
- (a) Do you come empty-handed?
(b) Or do you try to bring something which you know will genuinely please?
- (a) Do you tell them that they are lucky to be able to take it easy in bed?
(b) Or do you avoid the subject altogether and concentrate on lighter matters?

ANSWERS: Score five points for each correct answer.

- |     |     |     |      |
|-----|-----|-----|------|
| 1—b | 4—b | 7—a | 10—b |
| 2—b | 5—a | 8—b |      |
| 3—b | 6—b | 9—b |      |

Maximum score 50.

If you have genuinely scored 40-50 points, you are as good as a tonic where sick people are concerned.

25-35 points means that you are well-meaning, but either only to a certain extent or else do not quite appreciate the problems of ill people.

20 points and under—Please DO stay away from hospitals and sick rooms—unless you have a murder in heart!

Hundreds Honor 'Russ' Amerman

Before the program started a white sheet covered furniture on one side of the stage. Below it was revealed.

ELL H AMERMAN EMENT BANQUET

From the board of education Amerman received his office desk and chair, complete with an appropriate name plate. Board President James Kipfer made the presentation. Amerman, whose retirement does not take place until the end of June, commented that he wanted the desk back in his office (unscratched) by 6:30 a.m.

Russell H. Amerman has been teacher, principal and superintendent in the Northville public school system for the past 38 years.

It's doubtful, however, that he'll remember any of the 13,870 nights in Northville longer than the evening of May 25, 1965.

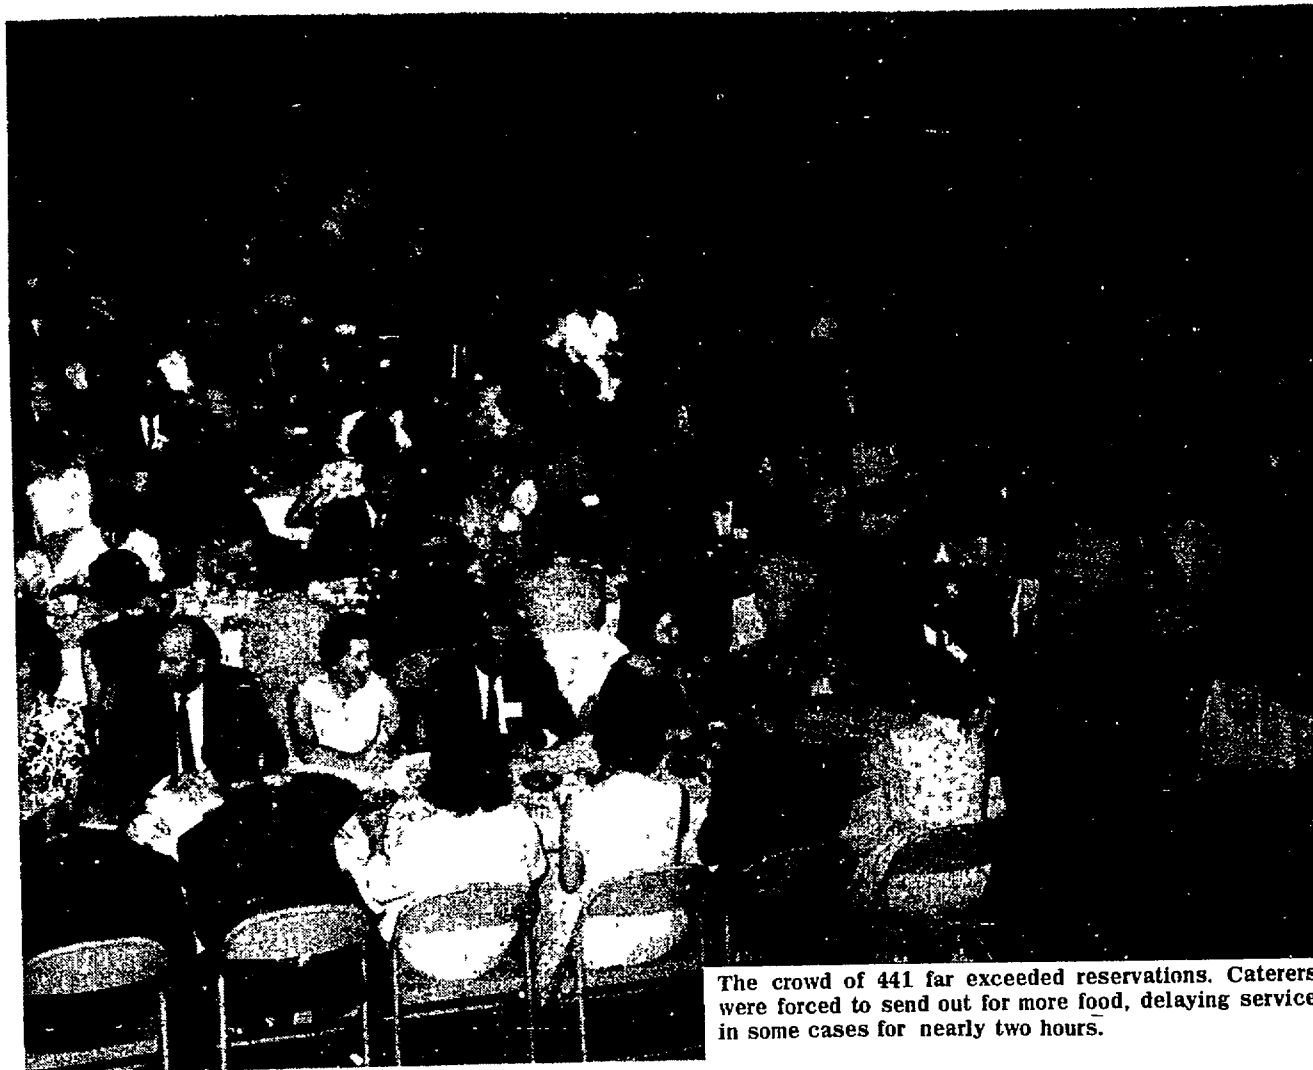

Some 441 of his former students, teachers, administrators, board members and friends turned out at the high school gymnasium to bid him farewell.

They all had a hand in contributing to his past experience. And they also let it be known that they hope his future is long and enjoyable, too. They contributed some $1,500 to a travel fund so that Mr. and Mrs. Amerman may travel wherever they wish.

Many more couldn't attend. They sent messages, like C. E. Langfield from New York who contributed $1,000 to the Northville high school band in Amerman's name. He also enclosed a check for the Amerman's travel pleasure.

It was an evening of pleasant memories--of reminiscing by former classmates--of words of praise for a popular school leader.

While the Amermans plan to travel, it won't be for long. "We're going to live among you as long as we can. This is our home", Amerman told the audience as he concluded his thanks.

The crowd of 441 far exceeded reservations. Caterers were forced to send out for more food, delaying service in some cases for nearly two hours.

Eural Clark, a board member for 19 years, spoke for former boards of education.

Orlow Owen kept things moving as master of ceremonies.

Program Chairman Nelson Schrader (right) pulled a surprise on Alice Hosback, Amerman's secretary for nearly 14 years. He called upon Alice to present the travel fund gift to the Amermans.

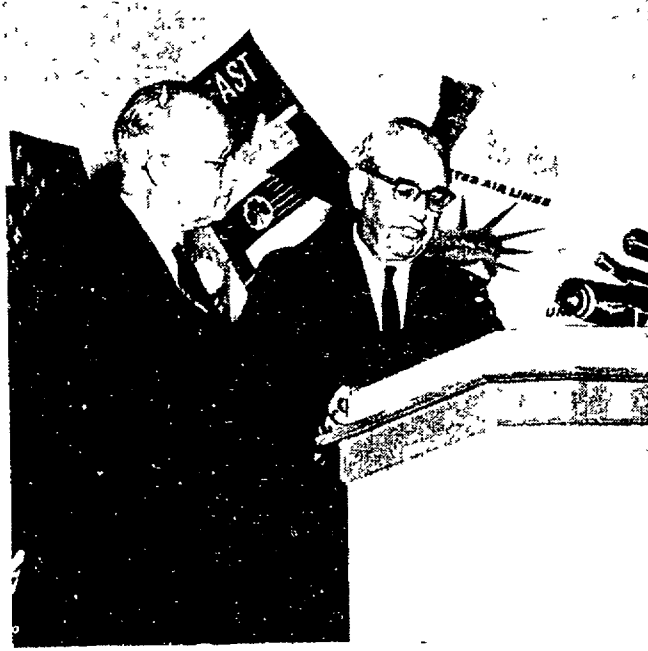

The entire Amerman family was on hand to share in the tribute. Seated next to her mother and father was Mrs. George Matthews, who was accompanied by her husband and two children. Son David R. and Mrs. Amerman and their three children were also at the family table.

The Record thanks Spellman Studios of Detroit for many of the photographs on this page.
