

Dr. P. N. Brown Announces Retirement As State Hospital Superintendent

Dr. Philip N. Brown

Philip N. Brown, M.D., superintendent of Northville State Hospital, will retire from state mental health service July 10 after 30 years with the Department of Mental Health.

Dr. Brown has been Northville State Hospital's only superintendent. He worked with architects in planning its facilities and has been the guiding force in establishing its program of services for the mentally ill.

State Department Director Robert A. Kimmich, M.D., said no replacement has been selected.

Dr. Brown said he has "no immediate future plans", but that he would not remain in retirement. "For the next few months my wife and I will take it easy at our home at Round Lake in Livingston County", he stated. Dr. Brown indicated there was a possibility he might enter private practice.

Dr. Brown was serving as assistant superintendent to Dr. O. R. Yoder when he was given the Northville superintendency in September, 1950. The first 25 patients were admitted on January 15, 1952 before the hospital was completed. The 15-building, $26,000,000 facility was complete in 1957 and now has a patient population of 2,177 and a bed capacity of 2,254.

Last of the buildings to be completed was the occupational-recreational therapy building which today attracts mental health authorities from throughout the world.

Dr. Brown initiated programs for patients at Northville State Hospital that have proven highly successful and have subsequently been adopted by many other mental hospitals.

An indigent patient fund, supported by donations and snack bar sales, provides spending for patients who might not otherwise have any money. They are given one dollar a week.

A patients' representative council gives a voice to patients in the administration of the hospital, which, says Dr. Brown, has been helpful to both the patients and administrators.

And a program of controlled permissiveness allows more than half of the wards to be open. "This places some responsibility on the patients to conduct themselves properly," Dr. Brown points out.

Both Dr. and Mrs. Brown's children were graduated from Northville high school. Stephanie was a member of the class of 1960. She is now Mrs. Richard Rulter and teaches school in Farmington.

Son Dan graduated in 1962. An outstanding athlete, he's a member of the University of Michigan's top-ranked basketball team. He begins his fourth year in architecture this fall.

Dr. Brown's work with the Department of Mental Health began at Ypsilanti State Hospital in July 1935 where he took his residency in psychiatry.

After serving on the medical staff at Ypsilanti for five years, he was appointed clinical director in 1940, and was advanced to assistant medical superintendent in 1944, the position he held at the time of his appointment to Northville.

He received his medical doctorate from University of Michigan in 1933 and certification in neurology and psychiatry from American Board of Psychiatry and Neurology, 1943.

During the last ten years Dr. Brown has been on the faculty of Wayne State University medical school as assistant clinical professor. He is a past president of Michigan Society of Psychiatry and Neurology and is on the Wayne county planning committee for community mental health services.

Street Repairs

Nearly Complete

In addition to the temporary traffic bottleneck caused by installation of the city of Detroit water line through Northville (see picture, page 11), motorists are being rerouted around streets undergoing repairs.

Interim City Manager George Clark said that inconvenience would be kept to a minimum while the $58,000 street repair is underway.

No work will be done on Main street Friday and Saturday between Hutton and Wing to avoid interference with weekend business, Clark stated.

Patching of holes and repairing of curbs is scheduled to be completed this week. Slated for resurfacing following the patching are Main and Dunlap streets from Rogers to Hutton and Thayer boulevard and Eaton drive.

School Electors Vote Monday On Bond Issue, Board Seat

Northville school district voters will be asked to approve a program of "educational excellence" (see section three) in the form of a five-year $2,800,000 package Monday.

In addition, a second proposal would provide for construction of a $500,000 swimming pool.

Proposal one, if approved, would permit school officials to go ahead with plans to construct elementary and junior high school buildings almost immediately.

The elementary, needed to relieve over-crowding at Main and Amerman schools, is scheduled for completion by the fall of 1966.

The junior high school building would be ready the following year.

The $2,800,000 expenditure would also provide expanded vocational education facilities at the high school along with additional space for the commercial department, relocation of the art room and expansion of mechanical drawing and science laboratories.

Also provided in the building program are a bus repair facility and revamping of the present junior high building.

School officials plan to use the present junior high for administrative offices, maintenance repair, central distribution for library books and supplies and classrooms in conjunction with the adjoining Main street school.

Although no land purchases have been made, it is considered likely that if funds are approved sites will be purchased on the south side of Eight Mile road west of Taft road for the elementary and on Taft road near the present high school athletic field for the junior high school.

School administrators, board members and citizens working on study committees have completed a round of public presentations urging support of the program (see story on page 11).

A state-guaranteed limitation on millage for building construction which would hold the line at seven mills, just 1.3 mills higher than the present levy, makes supporters of the program optimistic of passage.

Proposal two, the swimming pool, could come under the same seven-mill limit, but more opposition has been voiced at this proposal.

Voting polls at the community building will open at 7 a.m. and close at 8 p.m.

Although there are a total of 4,154 voters in the school district, a turn-out of 500-600 is expected.

The ballot will also include a race for a seat on the school board and the Schoolcraft college board of trustees. (See stories on this page).

Two Seek College Post

A Plymouth man and a Livonia woman seek election to an unexpired term of four years for trustee-at-large on the Schoolcraft college board of trustees.

Sam Hudson, an Evans Products executive, has been a college trustee since last October. He was appointed by the board at that time to take the seat of Charles Kirkpatrick, who moved from the community.

Hudson was a member of the citizens committee to establish the college and has been active in numerous Plymouth community activities including the Rotary club, Community Fund, Junior Achievement, Plymouth Symphony and Town Hall.

His opponent, Mrs. Rosina Raymond, was also active in promoting creation of the community college. She served on the Education and Action committee and was co-chairman of the citizens committee for college millage in Livonia.

Mrs. Raymond teaches English, Spanish, German, sociology and speech in the Livonia system. She has been active in the PTA, Mothers March, United Foundation and Muscular Dystrophy drives. Her husband, Jerry, is an attorney.

Northville school district voters will vote Monday for one of the two candidates for the at-large trusteeship on the same ballot with the school bond proposals and local school board race.

E. O. Weber

Donald B. Lawrence

Weber vs. Lawrence

Both candidates for the lone vacancy on Northville's board of education favor support of proposals one (school building program) and two (swimming pool), which will appear along with their names on Monday's ballot.

E. O. Weber is the incumbent member of the board. He was elected last June to fill the final year of a four-year term originally held by Donald B. Lawrence, Weber's opponent at the polls Monday.

Lawrence was elected to the board twice. Two years remained on a four year term when he moved from the community in 1963. He returned in 1964.

Weber is 41 and lives at 20360 Woodhill. He is manager of organizational and salaried personnel for the general parts division of Ford Motor company. He received his master's and bachelor's degrees from the University of Michigan in 1949.

The Webers have two children, fourth and seventh graders.

Lawrence is 55 and lives at 417 Welch road. Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence have three children, a boy in high school, a son graduating from Michigan State University and scheduled to enter Wayne University law school, and a daughter teaching in Southfield.

An employee of Evans Products Company in Plymouth, Lawrence is manager of systems and procedures. He received his B.S. degree in economics at Harvard University in 1931.

Weber has been active as a member of the team speaking at public meetings to explain and urge support of the school bond proposals. "It's a good program. Although it doesn't represent what I as an individual might have preferred, it's good for the majority," Weber stated.

He noted that his year on the board has been one of change — selection of a new superintendent, teacher tenure, the building program and site selection. "It's been interesting and I'd like to continue to help carry out the program," he added.

Weber said he supports the swimming pool proposal because of the increasing emphasis on recreation and the additional leisure time. "Children shouldn't complete school without some water safety training," he stated.

Lawrence said one of his reasons for running is that he believes that more money was spent for the high school than necessary.

He said he favors the swimming pool proposal because the benefits outweigh the cost of operation. He noted that the pool in Plymouth costs between $25,000 and $30,000 annually for complete operation including instructors, maintenance, heat, etc. He said it is used some 200 days per year for both youngsters and adults. He pointed out that this represents less than one mill.

Absentee Ballots

Absentee ballots are now available for the June 14 school board and building expansion election in Northville.

They can be obtained at the office of the superintendent in the administration building, 107 South Wing street.

Deadline for taking out ballots is tomorrow, June 11. They must be returned on or before next Monday, the day of the election.

City to Retain Driver License Exam Station

The City of Northville has been notified by the Michigan Department of State that it has been selected as one of the area municipalities in which a driver's license examination station will be established.

Under the new state law requiring color photographs to be taken in conjunction with the issuance of driver's licenses only a limited number of examining stations will be provided.

The sites are selected on the basis of population and geographical location.

Northville will serve the Northville, Novi and Wixom area, and will undoubtedly serve as the licensing station for many Plymouth residents.

There will be no stations in Novi, Wixom or Plymouth, according to the state announcement. Livonia, Farmington and South Lyon are slated for offices, as well as Wayne county sheriff offices in Redford and Plymouth townships.

Interim City Manager George Clark told the council Monday night that the estimated increase in cost to the city to operate such a station at the city hall would be approximately $2,400. Additional revenues will be realized from the income of the licenses but a full-time clerk will be needed to operate the program, Clark stated.

He suggested that the clerk could be used in other city hall offices part of the time. The council voted to approve the establishment of the station locally. Photographic equipment is provided by the state. Although the picture is taken of the applicant at the local station, processing is handled by the state.

Clark said the new system is scheduled to begin in mid-July. In other business Monday night the council told a delegation of Northville Estates residents that it would check into complaints about roads, ditches and street signs in the area. Scott Krause, speaking as president of the homeowners' association, said that the area was not receiving

Two Local Firms Plan Expansions

Two Northville businesses announced plans to expand this week.

Work is already underway at Schrader's Home Furnishings, 111 North Center, for conversion of the old post office building into a floor covering department.

At 132 South Center street Angelo Gadloli is planning a $100,000 expansion and remodeling of his Northville Lanes bowling alleys.

Schrader's began interior remodeling of their store last month installing new lighting, ceiling and carpeting.

An archway now connects the main furniture store with the 35 by 90 ft. post office area, which will be converted to a floor covering department.

In addition to a complete carpet department, owner N. C. Schrader said a portion of the new area would be leased to D & D Floor Covering company for installation and sales of hard surface coverings.

Schrader expects to open the carpeting addition by July 1. A new colonial front has already been constructed on the building.

Gadloli is adding six new bowling alleys on the north side of his building. The new area will measure 45 by 135 feet.

The building addition will be colonial in design and will have a second entrance on the north side facing a 50-car parking lot. Gadloli owns the area from his building to Main street and will convert this to a paved parking area.

The existing Nick's Barber Shop will be removed. It will be relocated in a new site just north of the bowling alley addition and on the west side of the parking lot, facing east.

Gadloli said he will remodel the interior of his present building and will install a new heating and air conditioning system. He expects the work to be completed by the end of August.

SEEING DOUBLE?—You are. For there are two sets of twins in the 1965 graduating class at Northville high school. They are Terry and Tim Krug and Brenda and Linda Polak. They will receive their diplomas next Thursday night.

Mrs. Eric Peterson

Wed in Double Ring Ceremony

Connie Slaughter and Eric Peterson exchanged wedding vows in a double ring ceremony, May 29, at Northville's First Methodist church. Reverend George Jerome officiated at the ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Slaughter of Detroit and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Allan Peterson of Fry road.

Mr. Slaughter gave his daughter in marriage.

For her wedding the bride chose a gown of white lace fashioned with a lace bodice, elbow-length sleeves and a bell skirt of nylon over taffeta.

Her head piece was a crown of seed pearls with a chapel length veil. She carried stonemans and a white orchid on her prayer book.

The bride was attended by her sister, Barbara, who wore a pale pink lace dress over a taffeta skirt with veil to match.

David Jerome of Northville was best man.

Following the ceremony a luncheon was held at the Rotunda Country Inn with a reception held later at the home of the bride's parents.

The couple left for a four day trip to Portage Point Inn in Northern Michigan and are now living in Redford.

The newlyweds are 1964 graduates, the bride graduated from Redford high school and the groom from Northville high school.

Suoi Moheny of Iran Marries Daryl Hopper

Wedding vows were exchanged at a nuptial mass at Our Lady of Victory church, May 1 between Suoi Moheny and Daryl Mark Hopper. Father John Wittstock performed the ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ali Moheny of Teheran, Iran, and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hopper of West Seven Mile road. For her wedding the bride designed and made her wedding dress as well as the dresses for her attendants.

Her floor-length sheath was fashioned in white satin with long sleeves and folds of lace at the skirt. A twelve-foot satin train fell from the shoulders. Her shoulder-length veil was fastened to a crown of pearls. She carried a cascading bouquet of a single white orchid, stephanotis and feathered carnations.

Beverly Hart was maid of honor and bridesmaids were Karen Thiry, Lynn Konig, Barbara Mowers and Sory Moheny, sister of the bride.

The maid of honor wore a street-length dress of blue brocade satin and carried a nosegay of matching feathered carnations. The bridesmaids dresses were light pink brocade satin and they carried bouquets fashioned in nosegays of light pink feathered carnations.

Gretchen Thiry was flower girl. She wore a white satin and lace dress and carried a basket of blue carnations and pink rose buds.

Michael Delao acted as best man and seating the guests were Dwight Hopper and Talbot Hopper, brothers of the groom, Donald Thiry and Jon Stewart.

Mrs. Edwin Stewart, aunt of the groom, was the organist. For her son's wedding, Mrs. Hopper wore a powder blue lace sheath with matching lace coat and a corsage of white carnations.

A reception and dinner was held at Salem hall for 130 guests following the ceremony. The couple honeymooned in northern Michigan.

The bride is a graduate of Mehr Tarrish School in Teheran and attended Michigan State University. The groom, a 1962 graduate of Northville high school, is now attending MSU. The couple will live in university village.

Mr. and Mrs. David Clark

Clark-Taylor Vows Repeated

Jeri Weltha Taylor and David Hurd Clark were wed May 29 at St. Peter's Lutheran church in Plymouth. The Reverend Norman Berg officiated.

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. E. Dewey Taylor of Plymouth and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Hurd Clark of East Seven Mile road.

A gown of silk organza over taffeta accented with lace was worn by the bride along with a five-tier waist length veil. Her bouquet consisted of cascading white roses and carnations.

Janice Taylor, sister of the bride, was maid of honor and Sonia Clark, Donna Williams, Barbara Taylor and Janet George.

The attendants wore gowns of blue organza trimmed with lace fashioned with empire waistline and sleeves. They carried cascading bouquets of yellow daisies.

Douglas Clark was his brother's best man and seating the guests were John Taylor, brother of the bride, Fred Mitchell, Walt White and Jim Chappell.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Taylor chose a turquoise crepe dress trimmed with lace with matching accessories. Mrs. Clark wore a dress of ice blue with matching accessories.

A reception followed the wedding ceremony at the Conservation Club in Plymouth.

The couple took a honeymoon trip to Florida. They are now living in Plymouth.

In Our Town

By Emily Johnson

Mrs. Johnson authored this week's In Our Town column. Jean Day, back from a European vacation, will resume her column next week.

"What did the red badge signify in The Red Badge of Courage?" "What is a fable?" "Who had more courage - William Tell or his son?" "Did Robinson Crusoe think he was a prisoner or a king on his island?"

These and hundreds of similar questions have been discussed this year by the fifth, sixth, seventh, and eighth graders who belong to a Junior Great Books group in Northville. The co-leaders as well as the participants feel that Northville's first year in this program has been highly successful. Four groups of from 11-15 members were formed last fall and have met after school every three or four weeks. The only cost to the participants is an initial fee of $6.00 for the complete set of paperback books for the year.

On the day of our first meeting with the eighth grade group, my co-leader, Mrs. George Glenn, and I felt a mixture of excitement and apprehension. Would the boys and girls respond to the questions we had prepared? Would they feel relaxed enough to speak without being called on? Or, worse yet, would they all talk at once?

Our anxieties melted away as the first question was snapped up by an eager participant and the ball began to roll. No, our first meeting was by no means an ideal one according to the standards set up by the Great Books Foundation. We didn't always stick to the subject. Opinions were stated that could not be backed up with evidence from the book. A few members dominated the discussion while others said nothing. But it was a start, and we all finished the hour and fifteen minutes feeling exhilarated and mentally refreshed.

Nine meetings later this same group of eighth graders met and discussed Stephen Crane's The Red Badge of Courage. Once Mrs. Glenn and I had fed the group a few key questions, they carried on the discussion with a minimum of guidance from us. Ideas were clearly expressed - even by the ones who were conspicuously reticent at the first meeting - and even the most unlikely opinions were backed up with facts from the book. Even deeper insights into the meaning of the story and its relation to present-day problems were developed through the discussion than we as co-leaders had been able to discern ourselves.

The continuing success of the Jr. Great Books program in Northville will depend upon the response of parents to the need for more co-leaders. Participating in the program this year were Mrs. Paul Dawson, Mrs. Albert Myers, Mrs. James Tellam, Mrs. Wilfred Eller, Mrs. H. E. Earehart, and Mrs. George Glenn. Mrs. Eller and I will be leaving Northville next month, however, and student enthusiasm for the program seems to indicate that more than four groups could be maintained.

If you love ideas and good books - if you like to work with young people - then you are eligible for leadership of a Jr. Great Books discussion group. Although our initial set of co-leaders was entirely female, any men interested in the project would be greatly welcomed. There are no formal educational requirements, and you need not have children of school age to participate.

If you are interested in learning more about how to become a Jr. Great Books co-leader, or if you have a child interested in joining a group, please contact Mrs. Albert Myers: 349-3362 or Mrs. George Glenn: 349-2849.

Mrs. James Tellam would like to extend an invitation to anyone desiring to join a first year Adult Great Books group. If you crave some mental exercise provided by Plato, Shakespeare, Tolstoy, Thoreau, and others, please call Mrs. Tellam: 349-2441.

The Great Books Foundation provides a wonderful way to sweep the cobwebs from your brain and to ponder intelligently some of the most basic questions about our existence. No book can belong to the category of "Great Books" unless it can be read as if it were written yesterday.

Benjamin Franklin summed up the whole reason for the formation of Adult and Junior Great Books discussion groups in Poor Richard's Almanack when he said:

"Reading makes a full man - meditation a profound man - discourse a clear man."

SPEAKING for The Record

By BILL SLIGER

Monday's election day.

Qualified school district electors in Northville have three items on the ballot to consider:

1--The election of one board of education member to a four-year term:

2--bonding proposals which include (1) a new elementary and junior high school, additions and improvements to the high school, site improvements at the present elementary schools, conversion of the present junior high school for central office, maintenance, storage and elementary classroom use and a bus maintenance center; and (2) a swimming pool;

3--election of a trustee-at-large for Schoolcraft college.

In the local board race Incumbent E. O. Weber faces opposition from Donald B. Lawrence, a former board member.

The problem here is that both are good candidates. Weber has served for the past year, and although relatively new to the community, displayed keen interest in school matters and headed up a bus transportation study committee prior to his election last June.

Lawrence was on the board from 1958 to 1963. A business transfer caused his resignation, but he was away from the community only about a year.

Lawrence's experience leaves a better record to study. He was, in my estimation, a top board member. His interest in school board activities was originally whetted by the design of the high school. He objected to "a quarter mile of glass corridors" and felt that the district was spending more money for its high school facility than necessary.

He was not a board member when he voiced these objections. But he did appear before the board with a small group of citizens suggesting reconsideration of the high school design. Their viewpoint won little support from either administrators, board members or representatives of the architectural firm of that day.

Lawrence is not interested in economy alone. He is well educated and would consider no educational shortcuts for the sake of saving money.

But he is not ready to buy the first design off the drawing boards if he thinks more facility can be provided for less money.

It's no secret that our present board is a little behind schedule in coming up with needed classrooms. Therefore—unlike the high school bond issue when voters saw a building design before voting—the final design of the junior high school must come after the expenditure has been approved.

I'd like Don Lawrence to be one of those closest to the planning. That's why I'll vote for him Monday.

No one can deny the need for classroom space in Northville's schools. If there is a criticism of the proposed building program, it is that it has come about one year late. The program is sound and has had the advantage of study and consideration by a wide base of qualified and interested citizens, as well as administrators and board members.

Under the state's qualified bond issue program, it can be financed with an increase of only 1.3 mills — which means $1.30 per $1,000 of valuation or to the average homeowner about $10 a year.

The program, the need and the cost have been proven sound and reasonable. I hope voters will also support proposal number two — a swimming pool. It is not, in my opinion, an expensive frill. It is an important part of the physical education of our youngsters. And the fact that it can qualify under the state's seven mill limitation bonding program, thereby maintaining the same level of tax increase (1.3 mills), only makes the proposal that much more attractive.

Finally, I'd like to urge Northville voters to support Sam Hudson for trustee-at-large at Schoolcraft college.

I know Sam personally to be a man of high integrity and ability. He lives in Plymouth, but as an at-large trustee, would also be representing Northville on the college board of trustees.

Our Northville trustee on the board, Dr. Gordon Forrer, has also indicated strong support for Hudson after working with him on the board for the past year.

How Can One Measure Swimming Pool Value?

To the Editor:

Your recent editorial about the value of a swimming pool as a possible life saver for our school children really hit home! In the private elementary school at Greenfield Village we have a sixty foot swimming pool fully equipped and regular instruction in swimming and water safety beginning with the first grade. This winter one of our sixth grade girls saved the life of a little boy by recovering him from deep water in Florida.

Many visitors ask us if a school which enrolls only 160 pupils really needs a swimming pool. To the parents of our pupils there can be no question about it. And how would the parents of the boy who was saved feel about the value of a swimming program in school?

A swimming pool with a good instruction program in swimming and water safety is not a frill, but one of the "plus" factors which separates a really good school system from a mediocre one. I hope that everyone who is sincerely interested in the welfare of our schools and our children will go to the polls on June 14 and support the swimming pool as well as the building program.

Sincerely,

R. Robert Geake

Summer Arrives June 21

Summer will arrive in Michigan officially at 9:56 a.m. Monday, June 21.

University of Michigan Astronomer Dr. Hazel M. Losh reminds us that the sun has been steadily climbing northward, and on June 21 will reach the summer solstice, 23.5 degrees from the equator, the most northerly point reached by the sun in its apparent yearly journey.

On that day the northern hemisphere will receive the most heat from the sun in any 24-hour period of the year, but the chances are very good that this day of the summer solstice, the longest day of the year, will not be the hottest of the summer.

There will be more than fifteen hours of daylight on that day, Professor Losh says, but the peak of the season usually comes from four to six weeks later, because the Earth receives more heat from the sun than is lost each day. The earth will be storing up more heat than it is losing, because the atmosphere acts like a blanket holding back some of the heat falling on the surface. Consequently temperatures are likely to keep climbing until around the first of August, when the Earth will begin to lose more heat than it is taking in. This is known as the "lag of the seasons."

Fortunately we are farthest from the sun during our summer and nearest it during the winter, so that our seasons in the north tend to be a little milder than those of the southern half of the globe, she explains.

Also since the earth is moving a little slower in its orbit around the sun during our summer, this season is slightly longer than our winter. This is known as the "inequality of the seasons", and is said to have been detected by Thales as early as the 6th century B.C. Since we have a longer day, we have a shorter night, which of course is not so good for astronomers.

TENNIS FIRSTS—Manager of the Northville Jaycee's first junior tennis tournament, Dick Norton, presents awards to four youths who topped first and second place honors last Thursday and Friday. They are: (l-r) Lynn Elkins, runner-up in the 16-and-under girls' division, Pat Ling, winner of both the 16- and 18-and-under girls' titles; Jim Long, winner of the 16-and-under boys' title; and Steve Quay, runner-up to Long. Missing are Norbert Parent and Susie Hill. Susie took second in the 18-and-under class. Rain forced postponement of the boys' 18-and-under championship with Parent and Long deadlocked at a set apiece and 5-5 in the third. Winner of the boys' 18-and-under title and runner-up will compete in the state Jaycee tournament to be held June 23 in Plymouth.

Mustang Round - Up

Golfers Fare Best In Spring Sports

It was a question of near misses this spring for Northville sports' teams.

The baseball, tennis and golf squads all finished second in the Wayne-Oakland Conference this year. The trackmen posted a record of 4-4 in all competition. With the exception of the 1962, that is the best composite record posted by local squads in loop play.

Coach Al Jones' golfers were the hottest item on the scene. They broke the school team golf record with a score of 153, three strokes lower than the previous mark.

And by sweeping the regional tourney for the third year in a row, the Mustangs set another school record — the only Northville athletic team to win consecutive regionals.

Jim St. Germain sparked against this year. He successfully defended his crown as the top singles player in the W-O Conference and in the regional and state tournaments.

Northville's performance in the state meet at Midland fell shy of its expectations. But on a off day, the linksters still walked off with fourth place in class B. Despite these accomplishments, there's plenty of reason for long faces on the local golf courses. Three of the four members of the team will be lost through graduation.

They are St. Germain, the best prep golfer seen in these parts in decades; Jim Bertoni, who challenged St. Germain throughout the year; and Ted Bunker, a transfer student from U of D high, who was a solid performer.

Back to form the nucleus of next year's squad are Rick Talbot, Bob Regenhart and Mike Hohenlohe.

Talbot played on Northville's front line. In him, Jones still has a top-notch golfer. Regenhart blew hot and cold in vying with Bunker for the fourth spot on the team. And Hohenlohe fired some low scores to show solid promise.

Coach Bob Kucher's baseball players had their ups and downs this year, but still played some exciting ball. In fact, the Mustangs were in contention in the league until Holly planned a defeat on them a week before season's end.

The defeat pushed Northville into second place, and when Bloomfield Hills dropped its final encounter, Northville gained sole possession of second with a 9-5 record.

Playing against some tough class A competition in non-league play, Kucher's charges won one and dropped four to finish the season with a 10-9 record overall.

Northville's 1965 showing helped to wipe out 1964's 4-14 slate.

Kucher credits team play for the improved performance, and three boys figured prominently in that improvement.

Shortstop John Jameson played solid ball, reported Kucher. He said that Rightfielder Chuck Boerger, a transfer student, was the best all-around player, while Leftfielder Bob Tuck took everyone by surprise with his timely hitting and solid fielding.

Statistics bear out Kucher's choices. Tuck led the local hitters with a .294 average, followed by Boerger's .271, John Mach's .241 and Jameson's .222.

In the vital runs-batted-in department, Jameson was the leader with 14. Just behind him were Jerry Insland with 11 and Dave Boerger with 10.

In a category accorded little recognition, Chuck Boerger led his mates by striking out the least number of times, once. That's about par for the course for any regular.

As a team, Northville banged out 103 hits in 493 attempts for an average of .208.

Pitcher Steve Evans paced his mates in that department, recording five victories against only two losses. And with a little bit of luck, he might have posted a clean slate.

In 62 and two-thirds innings pitched, Evans struck out 69, walked only 40, and gave up 60 hits, good for 45 runs.

Sophomore twirler Mike Grant really came through in the clutch, extinguishing more than one rally and posting a 3-2 record.

In 33 innings, he was tagged for 31 hits and walked 10, but he worked his way out of jams.

Northville's other pitcher, Insland, had control problems. In 35 and one-third innings, he blazed the ball by 46 batters for strike outs, but he walked 48 and gave up 31 hits. He also gave up 41 runs.

For every thought of what-might-have-been this year, Kucher has more than enough of next year's potential to brighten the baseball picture.

Only four regulars were lost through graduation — Outfielders Tuck, Chuck Boerger and Bob Beller and Third Sacker Mach.

That means that 12 others who saw varsity action will be returning next year. The pitching staff will return intact.

Other lettermen hopefuls are Juniors Joe Andrews, Bob Bartski, Dave Boerger, Jameson, and Mike Turnbull, and Sophomore Doug Swiss. Other varsity hopefuls are Juniors Bud Rathert and Bill Martin and Sophomores Jim Hall, Bill Silger and Tom Frounfelter.

"We should be stronger next year," declared Kucher. "We should be one of the favorites. Milford, the conference champion, is losing most of its team," he added.

With his top three singles players coming back to the fold next year, Tennis Coach Dick Norton can't help being optimistic.

Heading the list veterans is Sophomore Jim Long. Playing in the number two and three singles spots again will be Juniors Norbert Parent and Larry Thibos. These three were the backbone of the Mustang squad, which battled its way to 9-1 loop slate, only to lose the conference crown, 17-16, by losing the conference tourney and vital points.

Even in back of the "big three", Northville has lettermen dotting the lineup. In order they are Junior Randy Caliguri, Freshman Steve Quay and Freshman Randy Burnett.

Departing are seniors Bob Langtry, the number four man, and Dave Kerr, a newcomer who ranked number six on the squad.

Nevertheless, Norton must come up with a stronger doubles pairing to sweep the conference title.

Lack of a winning doubles combination cost the Mustangs this year. Besides finishing second in the conference, they also copped second in the regionals and second in the Walled Lake Invitational meet.

From the ranks of the following players, Norton hopes to solve the problem: Quay, Burnett, Juniors Ron McCollum, Bill Hart, Jim Lundstrom, Dave Eberhardt and Jim Hill, and Sophomore Cliff Smith.

They're Ready For Olympics

Students from Novi Schools will be off and running Saturday at the Junior Olympics.

Field and track contests will be held at the Walled Lake high school beginning at 10 a.m. The event is sponsored by the Walled Lake Kiwanis Club.

Elimination matches were staged last Saturday and 22 boys and 34 girls from Novi qualified for the finals.

Last year the girls were real "sleepers" and came away with many medals. They'll be out to beat that record. And the boys will be trying to outdo the girls.

Register Now For Recreation

The Northville Recreation department will be registering prospective participants in this summer's program from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. this Saturday, announced Director Ken Conley.

Conley particularly urges all those who intend to play Knothole baseball or softball to register this week at the Scout-Recreation building on Cady street. Registration will continue Monday through Friday next week from 3-5 p.m. and Saturday, June 20, from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m.

In other recreation notes, Conley asked that all parents mark their children's clothing and sports equipment so that when these items are found on the field, they can be returned to the owner.

Golfers Top Rocks

Records are still falling before the onslaught of the Northville high school golfers.

Five Mustangs set a school record by firing a nine-hole total of 197 to top Plymouth's 223 Monday at Meadowbrook Country Club.

Jim St. Germain took medalist honors once again, carding a 35, followed by Jim Bertoni's 37, Ted Bunker's 41 and Rick Talbot's and Bob Regenhart's 42.

Northville's last match of the year will be an annual affair next Monday when the local teachers take on the preppers at the Meadowbrook.

Adjourns Examination Two Weeks

Northville Municipal Judge Charles McDonald has adjourned the examination of Robert Oak, charged with manslaughter, in a fatal accident April 9, for two weeks.

McDonald heard some testimony Monday and then dismissed the hearing until June 21.

Oak is a 23-year-old Southfield resident. His car, according to police, smashed head-on on South Main street with another driven by James Lalewicz, 21, who died in the smoldering wreckage.

Lalewicz was boarding in Northville.

Lalewicz's compact burst into flames on impact but he died before the gasoline tank erupted, spewing out the fuel. His body was badly charred.

Oak was arraigned April 29 in municipal court. He stood mute and Judge McDonald entered a plea of not guilty for him.

Juday Shines As Athlete And Scholar

Steve Juday has proved that he can handle athletic and scholastic assignments at Michigan State University.

Members of the MSU varsity club honored him May 26 for his performance in the classroom, and on the field.

Juday, co-captain of the Spartans' football squad and its No. 1 quarterback, was the only junior cited for the varsity club proficiency award. He maintains a B average.

A 1962 graduate of Northville high school, Juday was the first sophomore quarterback in 14 years to start an opening game for the Spartans in 1963.

MSU officials praised Juday as a baseball player, too. This spring he pulled himself out of a batting slump to end up the season as the second best slugger.

Juday, who alternates at shortstop and first base, hit .342. Last year his average was an even .200.

He was at bat 76 times this season and connected for 26 hits. Five of them were doubles. And he notched one three-bagger and a homer.

He accounted for 18 runs for the Spartan nine.

A MSU spokesman said that Juday "was way below his potential last season. Nothing seemed to work right for him. Now we expect even bigger things during his senior year."

Juday, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Juday of 304 Lake street, is majoring in marketing in the school of business administration at MSU.

His younger brother, Jim, is also a student at MSU and played on the freshman football squad last year. An older brother, Bill, co-captained the Vanderbilt football team in 1964.

HOLY CROSS EPISCOPAL MISSION

The congregation of Holy Cross would like to extend a most cordial welcome to Mr. John Fricke, Holy Cross new lay leader. He held his first service at Holy Cross on June 6th, Whitsunday.

June 5 various members of Holy Cross were extended an invitation to lunch to become acquainted with Mr. Fricke and his wife. Because this meeting involved the time of the meeting of the E. C. W. executive board, the E.C.W. sponsored rummage sale that had also been scheduled for this date and time, of necessity was cancelled. We sincerely hope no one was to sorely inconvenienced by this very late change in plans, but in a small mission such as Holy Cross with only 9 to 13 women active in the ECW four of which are members of the executive board it is very hard to find enough willing workers to keep up the schedule of one E.C.W. event each month. Please Episcopal Church women support not only the church but the ECW also. The next ECW meeting will be September 7th, the first meeting after the summer vacation. Let us see some new faces next fall.

Target date for the annual spring picnic is June 27. Hope and informal Holy Cross census will confirm this time to be compatible with the majority.

NOVI REBEKAH LODGE

For The Gardener

This column on gardening information is compiled by the Northville branch of the National Farm and Garden Club.

Roses on a Shoestring

If your budget won't allow you to buy those beautiful rose bushes you've been longing for, try this economical method of propagating cuttings to add colorful variety to your garden.

One way of combining economy and variety is to exchange plant cuttings with your neighbors and before you know it, you'll have a lovely assortment of roses grown from cuttings. One shortcoming of these roses, however, is that they often lack the hardiness of nursery-grown roses, which are grafted onto hardy rootstocks.

Cutting are parts of an original plant which are cut off and put into water, soil, peat-moss, sand, or vermiculite to form roots. But these cuttings, taken from healthy plants should snap easily when broken.

Shoots that bend are too old and tough for good cuttings, and twigs that crush easily between your fingers are too young.

Good cuttings are taken from the current year's growth, well hardened and long enough to contain four leaves above a two and two and one half inch stem.

It will be necessary to remove at least two sets of leaves on the lower half of the cutting and to trim the stem with a diagonal or slanted cut just below a node.

For planting rose cuttings, select a sunny spot and prepare the ground by first loosening the soil and then patting it down firmly. Peat moss sprinkled over the area will help new plants to get a better start. With a pencil or sharp stick, make as many holes as there are plants. Insert the cuttings into the prepared holes, being careful not to cover the leaves and pat the earth firmly around them.

To prevent plants from being accidentally injured, cover each cutting with a quart-sized jar. Sprinkle daily with a light spray of water without removing the jars because the condensation forming inside them will be enough to keep the cutting turgid.

Cuttings can be taken during the summer months between June and the first heavy frost. In July or August, it is wise to cover the jars with white paper bags if the area receives too much afternoon sun.

FIX-IT TIP

Cement-water paints are good for basement walls, concrete, stucco or masonry walls. This type has Portland cement as a base and repels moisture effectively. It is mixed with water; no thinner or sealer is needed.

Spray wall with a fine-fog spray of water from a garden hose. Let water drain off completely before painting.

To rough surfaces apply first coat with scrub brush; on smooth surfaces with a bristle or whitewash brush.

After paint has dried, spray with fine-fog spray and keep damp for 24 hours.

Apply second coat with whitewash brush and spray after the coat has hardened, keeping the wall damp for 48 hours.

Township Names Leonard Klein To Planners

The Northville township board appointed Leonard Klein, 18450 Fermanagh court, to the planning commission, Klein succeeds Lewis Alexander, who moved from the community.

The appointment was made June 2 at the regular monthly meeting of the board. In other business the board decided to cite a swimming pool construction firm for failure to take out proper permits and receive inspections for installation of a pool for William McAllister, 15674 Lakeside.

The board also named A. E. Jones to the recreation commission as a township representative. Jones had represented the city of the commission, but recently moved to the township.

Trustee Wilson Tyler formally asked the board to have the township attorney seek an opinion of whether or not a special election can be called to expand the board to seven members. Township Attorney Edward Draugelis had stated at the annual meeting that such an expansion can not take place until a regular biennial township election. It was agreed that an inquiry would be made from state election authorities.

CONGRATULATIONS—Safety boys and service girls of the year have been selected at Amerman and Main Street elementary schools in Northville. The winners were introduced at assemblies at the schools Friday morning. Chuck Cook and Barbara Long (above) were named for the honors at Amerman while Sarah Horner and Greg Phillips (below) were singled out at Main Street.

Police Imposter Jailed

A Farmington resident is serving a sentence today in Oakland county jail for posing as a Novi police officer.

Alex Burack, 31, of 21628 Colgate, was fined $125 and ordered to spend 10 days in jail for impersonating an officer and being disorderly.

Burack stopped a car driven by Mrs. Jean Killeen of 44130 Marlison in front of her Willowbrook home last Wednesday.

Passengers in the car were Mrs. Ardie Henry of 41028 Mallott and Mrs. Ruth Campbell of 41040 McMahon circle.

Burack asked to see Mrs. Killeen's identification. Meantime, Mrs. Henry got out of the car and told her husband, Dale Henry, about the incident.

Henry asked Burack if he were a regular officer. Burack told Henry that he was Sergeant Burack of the Farmington Township police department and was investigating three women who had been seen at a construction site.

Burack, the Novi police report said, went back to his unmarked car, picked up a microphone. Henry called Novi police.

Burack then talked to Novi dispatcher Al Stace, who immediately called Farmington township to verify if there was a Sergeant Burack. There wasn't.

The police report noted that Burack apparently had been drinking and slurred his words. And he staggered when walking.

Novi police sent out an all-points bulletin for Burack who was picked up at the rest area on Interstate 96 near Beck road and brought to the station for questioning.

Police confiscated all the imposter's police clothes and badges. His badge, for example, said: "Police State of Michigan, Sergeant."

In addition a citizens band radio was found in the front seat of his car but it was not connected.

Later, Henry positively identified Burack and the impostor was arraigned before Judge Emery Jacques. Burack pleaded guilty to both charges.

Extra Pick-up For Clean-up

As an incentive for Northville city residents to "clean-up yards, garages, attics and basements", two special trash collections have been arranged for Monday, June 21 and 28.

Councilwoman Beatrice Carlson has spearheaded the drive to renew emphasis on a clean-up campaign. She announced that she has set her sights on a full-scale community clean-up campaign next year.

To get started on a smaller scale this year, arrangements have been made for the city's DPW crews to haul away any trash (that one man can lift into a truck) that is left at the curb sides on the 21st and 28th.

Councilwoman Carlson advises residents to leave discarded items on Sunday evening so that early Monday morning collection may be made.

"normal" services equal with other areas.

The association received prompt action. Some of the matters — one way street sign and storm sewer repairs — had been taken care of Monday. Tuesday chock holes in streets were repaired.

Residents on a one-block unpaved portion of Novi street south of Baseline petitioned the council for paving. They pointed out that the paving was delayed several years ago to permit installation of a sewer for a new subdivision. Street paving was paid entirely from general funds then, but is assessed at 25 per cent now. The council informed residents that it must hold to its assessment policy, but noted that curb, gutter and storm sewer improvements had already been made. Largest assessment for paving would be $69, Mayor A. M. Allen noted.

The residents attending the meeting said they would attempt to acquire 100 per cent approval of the 25 per cent assessment so that paving could be completed immediately under contract.

The council appointed Sidney Frid, 865 Grace, as its representative on the Oakland county board of supervisors. Frid had served on the board for seven years previous to the term of former City Manager Bruce Pothoff. Frid now succeeds Pothoff on the board.

The council also passed its $587,287 budget for 1965-66 without questions from the audience.

Novi Scouts

Novi Boy Scouts Troop #54 had a wonderful weekend at the Scoutorama at the Ivory Farms. There were 21 scouts present and they had a camping demonstration. The leaders who accompanied the scouts were Mr. Parla, Mr. Harold Sigsbee & his son, Art assistant, Mr. Robertson, Mr. Gombas and Mr. Ritter. Mr. Bowman came out to help on Saturday. At the ceremony Saturday evening the following scouts were awarded "The Order of the Arrow": Bob Collins, Dan Sigsbee, Richard Sigsbee, Tim Bell and Chris Bowman. Dan Sigsbee passed his merit badge for cooking. He cooked a whole meal for the troop. Guests for dinner Saturday night were Mr. and Mrs. Bowman and Mrs. Harold Sigsbee and daughter and her friend. Although it rained while the troop was breaking camp and they came home soggy they were all in good health and good spirits.

NOVI GIRL SCOUTS

Jr. Girl Scout Troop #1027 met in Mrs. Jensen's room, Corinne Colton brought treats and they talked about the cookout they will have Tuesday June 8 at Proud Lake. The 4-5-6 grade fly up Brownies are going on a camp-out. They talked and discussed different things.

Troop #351 had a hot dog roast June 2 at the home of their leader, Mrs. Miller. The meetings are now closed for the year. June 11-12-13 troop #1027 will be camping at Proud Lake after which the meetings will be discontinued for this year.

AROUND THE CORNER—Last week the 24-inch city of Detroit water line reached the corner of Center and Dunlap (shown above). Contractors have now extended the line to South Wing near Cady. But Monday night the company admitted to the city council it could not get the line installed through the city before the June 21 deadline, when harness racing begins its summer meet at Northville Downs. A company spokesman said he expected to reach Center and Fairbrook. Construction will then cease in the city, but equipment will be moved to Sheldon road and digging will continue along Sheldon to Five Mile road during the 39-night meet. Equipment will be removed from Sheldon during the evening hours to avoid traffic congestion. The city council gave permission to contractors to work on clean-up of streets and patching for one week after June 21 in the city. When racing ends for the summer, crews will return to complete the extension of the line through the city. Work began at Baseline and Center.

Two Dozen Hear School Board Story

About two dozen Northville school district citizens turned out Monday to hear the school board and administration explain $3.3 million expansion plans for the district to be voted upon June 14.

Several members of the audience gave verbal approval to the "program for excellence" outlined by Clyde H. Vadner, member of the citizens' committee studying school needs. His slide presentation showed need for a new elementary school in 1966 and a new junior high school the following year as well as expansion of existing facilities.

Most of the questions, however, centered upon the proposal for a pool which Vadner said he preferred to call "a water safety classroom," stressing the safety as well as athletic and recreational values. A woman in the audience took issue here, saying scout programs also teach safety and children in these have use of the Wayne County training school pool.

Another questioned the estimated $500,000 cost of the pool, reporting that Plymouth school district was supposed to have paid only $75,000 for its pool in 1955. Board member E. O. Weber and James Kipfer, who fielded most of the questions, replied they were using the figure based on the last pool built by the district's architects, O'Dell, Hewlett, Luckenbach and Associates. It was pointed out that the $500,000 is intended to include spectator and locker room facilities for an Olympic-size pool. The board indicated that, ideally, the pool might be part of the new junior high facility. Questioning also brought out that the board is hoping to locate the junior high near the athletic field of the high school at Taft road near Eight Mile.

Asked if the city recreation program which now utilizes Whitmore Lake would use the pool, Weber said he anticipated that this would be. A member of the audience and former Plymouth resident reported that Plymouth has after-school and evening programs at nominal cost which utilize the pool 13 hours a day and help defray the cost to operate, estimated at more than $25,000 annually.

Other questions centered upon conversion of the present junior high building into administration offices, with one resident asking, "Why do we need so much room for administration?"

Dr. Kenneth MacLeod replied that only a few rooms would be for administrative offices and that others would be for speech correction, reading consultant and psychologist offices. Special education facilities would be transferred from the Amerman school kitchen, he said. Art and music rooms for Main street elementary school as well as storage for supplies and audio-visual and central library cataloging were other anticipated uses.

Next serious question to the board was if the plans are not approved by voters, what does the board expect to do. William Crump answered for the board, saying if the long-range plan is "not bought" the board would probably have to try to pick up "a piece at a time" from the voters, a way he could not recommend.

In the summing up the needs of the district with respect to total needs of young people, Weber pointed out "education is to teach young people not only to make a living but how to live in this new environment that change and technology have thrust upon us. The education of our youth is this generation's debt to the future and the future will judge how well we discharge it." No one seemed to disagree.

Baby Drowns At Novi Park

Services were held Tuesday afternoon for a 18-month old Novi boy who drowned Saturday at the Walled Lake Amusement Park. John G. Hamlet was buried in Walled Lake cemetery following a ceremony at the Richardson-Bird funeral home. The Reverend Carl Grapentine officiated.

The drowning took place at the kiddie boat ride where the water is 17 inches deep. The boats were not in operation at the time and were unattended.

The baby's father, John Hamlet, is employed at the park and the family lives on the grounds.

A witness told Novi police that she walked by the boats, saw the baby in the water and thought he was a doll. Then a child spoke up: "It's Johnny."

Hamlet pulled his son from the water and started mouth-to-mouth resuscitation before police arrived. Attempts to revive the infant were further made by the Novi fire department and Castlerline ambulance service.

But the baby was dead on arrival at Botsford general hospital in Farmington. He was the first drowning victim this year in the village.

Besides his parents the infant is survived by two brothers, Robert and Ronald; three sisters, Diana, Lorrie and Carrie; and grandparents Mr. and Mrs. John Hamlet of Washington, Michigan and Mr. and Mrs. John Burtin of Detroit.

Northville Police Halt Cemetery 'Stone-Hoppers'

A new game—"stone-hopping"—was uncovered Friday night at Rural Hill cemetery.

Police observed a group of juveniles from Northville leaping from gravestone to gravestone. Further, the five girls and three boys under 17 tipped over one stone but didn't damage it, police said.

"I guess they can't understand that a cemetery is a consecrated place," remarked Police Chief Eugene King.

"You think they would have learned something after the crypt marker thieves were fined $128 dollars each last week in municipal court."

King said the juveniles parents would be asked to attend a conference this week in his office.

Three Detroit youth removed and ruined a marker from a mausoleum in Rural Hill May 11 and were prosecuted two weeks ago. They were charged with willfully destroying a memorial to the dead.

The marker that was pilfered was placed on the front lawn of Cody high school on Detroit's west side.

Award Grants

Two Northville high school seniors were presented grant-in-aids last Wednesday night at the fifth annual library club awards banquet at St. Paul's Lutheran church.

Bill Pietron, president of the library club, announced that Bill Bunn and Karen Lang were the recipients. Bunn was awarded $150 and Miss Lang $100.

Other awards were handed out. Margo Harper received the Mothers Club scholarship of $45 to help her attend the library assistant workshop in late June at Western Michigan University.

E. V. Ellison, director of administrative services for the school district, presented rings to Larry Hurlburt and Sandra Ronk for four years of service. Retiring Superintendent Russell Amerman got two books on gems and an honorary lifetime membership in the club.

New officers were picked for 1965-66 at the event. They are Sandy Bernhardt, president; Marilyn Pubanz, vice president; Patricia Totten, secretary and Lynn Elkins, treasurer.

Mrs. Marian Sullivan is the club's sponsor.

Pastor Robert Spradling
First Baptist Church of Northville

It is easy to forget. Some people forget to make sufficient purchases at the store and have to borrow from their neighbors. A worker forgets to bring his lunch and must rely on the generosity of his fellow-workers. Seldom does a family begin a vacation trip without having to return home to lock a window or leave a note which was forgotten in the rush of departure. One of the oldest excuses, and perhaps the most provoking in all the world, is the simple - "I forgot!"

When God brought the nation of Israel to the border of the land of Canaan, He promised to bless them with prosperity they had not known heretofore. However, the Lord was careful to warn the children of Israel that in the midst of unpremeditated prosperity they must guard against one grave danger - "Then beware lest thou forget the Lord, which brought thee forth out of the land of Egypt, from the house of bondage." (Deut. 6:12).

We, like the Israelites of old, need this constant reminder. God will not accept a secondary place in our lives. He demands first place. How easy it is to become preoccupied with secondary things which, if held in proper perspective, would be fine, but somehow they cause us to forget the Lord.

The Bible is filled with characters who thought they could temporarily forget God and get by.

Samson thought he could violate his Nazarite vows and still remain strong. He spent the last days of his life blind and in slavery as the result of forgetting God.

Jonah thought he could run from the Lord by fleeing to another city. After a terrible ordeal, he suddenly realized one cannot run away from God nor forget His claim upon the life. Lot and David were men who forgot the Biblical principle that a person cannot live an immoral life and get by - God requires full payment.

A little boy was heard to pray this prayer one evening just before the family was scheduled to leave for a vacation trip. "Bye, bye God, we will see you when we get back from vacation."

The summer months are just ahead. Perhaps God's reminder to Israel should be stressed even more strongly today "... then beware lest thou forget the Lord."

WHO BATS FIRST ??

THE CHURCH FOR ALL

ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Part of playing any game is to learn how to settle the inevitable arguments. In a league in which nobody has a coin to toss, this is the time-honored method for getting the game started without a squabble.

But there are other games to be played, in other leagues. Life for each of us brings many occasions for conflict. And they don't all yield to simple techniques like twirling a bat around one's shoulders with just a couple of fingers.

Earnest Christians believe that our faith can point men to the right attitude and action in times of stress.

That's why, as we face the conflicts of life, we always hope the other fellow will behave like a Christian. And he's hoping as much of us.

Why not meet him in Church next Sunday? That's where right attitudes often begin.

State Backs New College

LANSING — Highly populous Midland, Bay and Saginaw counties will soon be one step closer to the long-sought degree-granting public institution of higher learning.

Some problems are still to be solved, but legislative authority to put state funds behind such a college should ease some of these.

Many years and many people have been involved in the fight to get a state college established in the Delta area, which State Representative William Boos, (D-Saginaw), says is one of two areas of this size in the country not already served by a four-year institution.

State funds could be forthcoming as soon as backers of the college plan raise $4 million from private sources. Site selection is still in question.

This local-state initial financing combination has been used only once before in Michigan but legislators viewed it as a means to determine when real local support exists. Grand Valley State College was started in the same way.

The 11th state-supported college is viewed in the Saginaw valley as the answer to a long-standing need. The area has been served for only one year by a private four-year institution.

A group of residents established the private Saginaw Valley College because they had given up hope for legislative approval after the several years of haggling over whether a four-year college was really necessary.

Camping travelers are expected to once again reach record numbers this summer and fall but state officials expect to be ready to meet the demand.

More than 1,100 new campsites are available at state parks and state and national forest campgrounds. This brings the total sites available to more than 15,600 including those in county and township parks.

Campsite permit issues last year reached a record 3.1 million and another 50,000 camping groups were estimated to have been turned away for lack of space in 1964. This was in state parks alone, where the permits are required.

Free facilities, varying in the amount of convenience, accommodate thousands more annually at the forest areas and local parks.

Unaccounted numbers of camping families and groups also have free access to some seven million acres of public forest land in the northern portion of Michigan. Campsites are not specifically designated there.

"People in Michigan who cry for more and more federal aid with the excuse that Michigan taxpayers cannot stand the cost should find food for thought in figures showing how much the state gets in federal grant programs," says a Michigan Farm Bureau spokesman.

Robert E. Smith contends that Michigan, as a rich state, can pay its own way at less cost and with considerably less red tape than through many of the federal grant-in-aid programs now in operation.

Latest statistics show Michigan received some $368,725,000 in federal grants during the 1963-64 fiscal year. This included aid for highway construction, public assistance, hospitals, schools, public housing, surplus food distribution and conservation.

The previous fiscal year, the first in which federal grants went over the $10 billion mark, Michigan received about $346,500,000. This represented about $43 per person.

The receipts in 1963-64 gave Michigan a per capita figure of $46 to rank 44th among the states.

In both years, most states stayed in the same relative position when comparing the share of grants to the share of taxes paid. Alaska remained high per capita in aid receipts, at $226 and $254 in the two years.

Average return in Michigan was about 5 per cent of what state taxpayers paid in federal taxes during the two years.

Michigan's point system for driving violations now will apply to juveniles who previously were exempt from this provision of law.

Bringing juveniles under the point system was a part of a recommended traffic safety improvement program which had the endorsement of several safety-minded organizations, including a special governor's commission.

Legislators specified, however, that juveniles still would have their day in court at the probate level. Some supporters of the change said juvenile motorists who violate the law should be tried as adults.

Dow-Jones to Hit 1,000

BABSON PARK, Mass. — In our annual forecast published in this paper December 31, we stated that the Dow-Jones Industrial Average could push up to 1,000. That day the Dow stood at 874.13. Most readers then felt that we were too optimistic. However, today, despite the mid-spring shakeout in the market, we are sticking to this forecast that the Dow Industrials will reach at least 1,000 in 1965. Of course, there may be reactions such as the one touched off by Chairman Martin's remarks concerning the similarities between certain economic conditions today and in 1929. Nevertheless, we feel that the May high of 939 on the Dow Industrials will be exceeded before Christmas.

The Dow-Jones Industrial Average is made up of 30 active common stocks representing a number of the greatest corporations in America.

They are as follows: Allied Chemical, Aluminum Co., American Can, American Tel. & Tel., American Tobacco, Andacoda, Bethlehem Steel, Chrysler, DuPont, Eastman Kodak, General Electric, General Foods, General Motors, Goodyear, Int. Harvester, Int. Nickel, Int. Paper, Johns-Manville, Owens-Illinois, Procter & Gamble, Sears-Roebuck, Std. Oil of Calif., Std. Oil of N.J., Swift & Co., Texaco, Union Carbide, United Aircraft, U.S. Steel, Westinghouse Electric, Woolworth.

Besides the Industrials, there are two other Dow-Jones Averages, — one for the rails and one for the utilities. However, for the purpose of this discussion, we shall confine ourselves to the Industrial Average. That is the "Average" which is best known. It is the one that everyone talks about. The others are of interest chiefly to technical market students who study the action of all three and by complicated processes try to determine where the stock market is going.

There are 1575 U.S. companies listed on the N.Y. Stock Exchange alone; not to mention the many additional concerns on the American Stock Exchange and the vast number traded on the over-the-counter markets. Thus, it seems rather foolish to think of the Dow Industrials as representative of the whole market for U.S. stocks. Not only is this brief list of 30 stocks unrepresentative, but it is also "doctored up" by the mathematicians who run the Average. By this we mean that adjustments have to be made continually for stock splits, stock dividends, etc.

Also, in a handful of 30 issues, if one stock has a really big rise the effect on the "average" can be quite misleading. Just think what would have happened to the Dow Industrials if the men who run it had included International Business Machines, — or even Xerox, Polaroid, or Syntex? Had such issues been in there, the fabled figure of 1,000 for the Dow would look commonplace by now. Just recently, duPont ran up about 20 points and the Industrials jumped. Then, when the anticipated dividend increase did not materialize, it ran down again. Brokerage house wags are now saying: "As duPont goes, so goes the Dow!"

What we have especially in mind today is not the technical nature of the Dow-Jones Average. We have gone into that in detail a number of times in the past. Despite certain shortcomings, the Dow gives a good picture of the major market moves over a long period of time, — even if somewhat deceiving from day to day. What everyone wants to know is what makes the Dow Industrial Average move, up or down. The answer is: Events. When we were an agricultural country at the turn of the century, we used to watch crops most attentively. Our country was then the breadbasket of Europe. Good crops made good times. Good times made the stock market go up. Crop failures were distinctly bearish.

But in this Atomic Age we have to look beyond our border for events that may influence the Dow. The whole world is our backyard. South Vietnam, Santo Domingo, the Congo, China, etc., are the places making the events that move the market up or down. These are the places that give President Johnson his "headaches." These are the areas that touch off the "brush fires" which could lead to conflagrations. This means that our readers should also watch what goes on in China, in Russia, in Colombia and other "forgotten spots," for unexpected events that could sharply affect the stock market. As the Industrials move toward 1,000, what happens in faraway places may have more to do with day-to-day price movements than the domestic business news.

Subscribers to Receive Tapestry-Finish Portraits

Having a fine portrait made of the entire family is something that is almost always talked about but seldom do most families ever get around to it.

Now an opportunity presents itself through the Northville Record - Novi News and South Lyon Herald circulation offer - a free 11 x 14 Heirloom Tapestry Finish Portrait to be given without cost with each new or renewal subscription.

Since its introduction last week, this outstanding combination-offer has been the "talk-of-the-town". Just think! Anyone renewing their present subscription or just beginning a new subscription, for one year, will be entitled to this lovely, large portrait, free of charge.

If a family portrait isn't possible, then plan on bringing one or all of the children. Locations and sitting dates will be determined by the response to the offer - so why not clip the coupon out of the "family group" ad in this issue and mail or bring it in today.

Remember, too, even if your present subscription still has time to run, we'll simply add this renewal to it. The rate for one year is $4.00.

Why not decide to have that picture taken right now - and send in your subscription today.

Perkins Appoints Three Executives

Perkins Engines, Inc., a major diesel engine supplier based in Novi, has appointed Karl Pearson national fleet sales manager - a new post.

R. H. Jansa, vice president and general manager, made the announcement.

For the last six years Pearson has been associated with Curtiss-Wright in Utica as industrial and automotive sales manager.

Earlier he was an executive for Reo Trucks in Lansing and the GMC truck and coach division of General Motors.

Additionally, Jansa announced that Perkins' field service and technical training departments have been consolidated.

Patrick W. Percy has been appointed to manage the expanded operation. Percy was formerly technical training manager for the firm.

As a part of the reorganization Peter Ford, assistant service manager under Percy, has been assigned new responsibilities to supervise activities of all field service representatives.

Percy joined Perkins 13 years ago and Ford has been employed by the company since 1954.

FIX-IT TIP

Window panes may crack because of lack of putty or because moisture has caused the wood to swell and the pressure cracks the glass.

To guard against this keep window frames well painted. Never neglect loose putty around the glass, inside or out.

If cracks around window frames of older houses let in drafts and dust, make your own papier-mache insulation. Put a little glue in hot soapsuds and add shredded newspapers. Squeeze out the paper and work it into cracks with a small screwdriver and smooth the edges carefully. When dry, it will harden enough to be painted.

Northville Yankee Loads Up For Civil War Adventures

Decked out in his authentic Union Army uniform, Donald Reed of Northville marches back onto the battlefields of the Civil War. But he just fires blanks at the enemy. Reed of 46049 Neeson is ac-

Brutal Battles

How brutal were the battles of the Civil War? Reed has some startling statistics.

He said: "Two Jima has been called the bloodiest campaign of World War II. It resulted in just under 43,000 casualties. "At Gettysburg 43,000 men were killed and wounded. But the battle of Gettysburg lasted three days. The fighting at Iwo Jima lasted five weeks."

MILITARY MEDALS—Reed can boast about his citations. The one on the left is for "fighting" at the Battle of Percyville, Kentucky, re-enacted in Monroe last summer. The middle one is for sharpshooting and the third was worn during the Civil War by a Michigan volunteer.

tually a modern-day Yankee who is reliving the period in American history from Bull Run to Appomattox.

Reed, who is employed in the service department at Rathburn Chevrolet, spends his spare time as a Civil War buff. He belongs to Loomis' battery of the First Michigan Artillery and the North-South Skirmish Association.

Loomis' Battery, which saw action over a century ago, is composed of 20 soldiers. Reed, a charter member of the unit, signed up in 1949. His brother, Robert Reed of 545 Randolph, is connected with the famous Michigan Twenty-Fourth Regiment of the Iron Brigade.

Mustered into the service on August 15, 1862, its combat record included all of the major battles of the Army of the Potomac from then until the end of the war.

What happens when the Blue and Grey meet today?

Cannons roar. Rifles crack. Troops advance. And casualties fall to the ground.

Reed was "wounded" during the re-enactment of the battle of Percyville, Kentucky, last fall. It was held downriver in Monroe.

"A nurse wearing a dress of the period came over to help me," Reed said. Apparently there was a shortage of Rebels at the confrontation. As Reed put it:

"Some Yankees were put on the other side. If their rank is thin, someone has to be a Confederate."

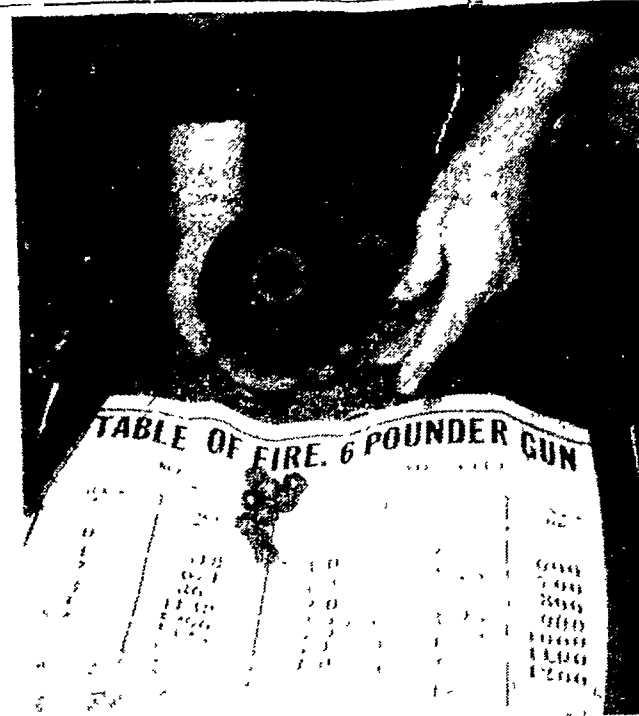

Like any warrior, Reed is proud of the medals he has earned, especially the one for marksmanship. It is for near-perfect accuracy with live ammunition at a muzzle-loading contest. Reed makes his own slugs.

A sharpshooter award is given for a score of 50 or over. A total of 55 is tops.

"I got mine in 1955," Reed smiled. "I might be a little rusty now. I haven't practiced since last fall with my Remington."

"But I can still hit a match stick or a bottle cap at a distance with a B-B gun."

And Reed, who is 60, will be on the firing line June 26-27 at Greenfield Village for another round of shooting.

EXPLOSIVE CANNONBALL—A big "grapefruit" like the one pictured could wipe out scores of soldiers at one time. Besides the lethal impact of the cannonball, the ball contained 85 "grapeshot" which sprayed the enemy.
