

For 39-Night Summer Meet

Downs Eyes Record

Northville Downs will open its summer harness racing meet Monday for 39 nights through August 4.

And Downs Executive Manager John Carlo is predicting the best season ever -- possibly a nightly mutual handle of $320,000.

Last summer the local track average $278,000.

Carlo has reason to be optimistic. Harness racing is gaining more fans and setting new betting records at tracks throughout the country. Roosevelt Raceway in New York and Scioto Downs in Ohio are up 21 per cent, Wolverine in Livonia shows an 18 per cent gain, and the Monticello track in New York is up 16 per cent.

Monday night marks the second opening of the local season. Northville Downs opened for 18 nights during the cool temperatures of March 26 through April 15, then closed for the Wolverine meet which ends Saturday night.

Carlo said there will be more than 1,000 horses racing here this year. The 713-capacity barn area is already filled, and he expects up to 25 horses to be shipped in nightly for specific races.

Another reason for Carlo's optimism is the response to the Downs' spring meet. Despite the cold weather the average nightly attendance was 4,012 and the handle $242,546.

This marks the 22nd season for Northville Downs, the pioneer of night harness racing tracks.

Post time for the 10-race card is 8:15 p.m. with the daily double closing at 8:10.

Northville Downs will turn into a beehive of activity when the 39-night summer meet gets underway Monday. There's more activity planned in the Downs' future, too--some $2 million worth. (See "Speaking For The Record," page four.)

It's All 'Yes' on Bond Issues; Lawrence Wins Board Seat

Voters weren't early birds Monday. More than half voted after 4:30 p.m.

Long Day at the Polls

It was a long day for Northville's board of election inspectors Monday.

They reported for work at the community building to get organized for the school district vote at 8:30 a.m.

When the final tally was confirmed, it was nearly 10 p.m.

"It was a light vote until about 4:30 p.m.," reported Chairman Mrs. Harry Wagenschutz. But then the two machines began to hum. And more than half of the 933 voters came to the polls during the final 3 1/2 hours.

A long line of voters waited their turn long after the eight o'clock closing.

Working with Mrs. Wagenschutz on the board of election inspectors were Mrs. C. M. Chase, Mrs. Claude Ely, Mrs. Herman Hartner, Miss Ruth Knapp, Mrs. Emma Reid and Mrs. Clifford Winter.

Schools OK'ed, 608-276; Pool Passes by 36 Votes

Northville school district voters gave solid endorsement to the board of education's $2,800,000 school building program Monday 608 YES to 276 NO.

At the same time voters surprised many observers by also giving approval to the $500,000 swimming pool proposal by a narrow margin of 459 YES to 423 NO.

In the race for a four-year term on the school board Donald B. Lawrence, a former board member, defeated Incumbent E. O. Weber, 584 to 320.

Schoolcraft College Trustee Sam Hudson won a close race from Rosina Raymond for the four-year, trustee-at-large post on the college board with the help of a wide margin in Northville, 617 to 192. The total district count was 5,243 to 4,962.

In the other school areas in the community college district the totals were: Clarenceville -- Hudson 189, Raymond 167; Garden City -- Hudson 1,039, Raymond 970; Livonia -- Hudson 2,535, Raymond 3,507; Plymouth -- Hudson 863, Raymond 128.

A total of 933 voters cast ballots Monday in Northville for a turn-out of slightly more than 22 per cent. There are 4,154 registered voters in the district.

Balloting started slowly, however, and a long line of voters awaited their turn as the polls closed at 8 p.m. (see adjoining story).

Board members and school administrators learned the results about 10 p.m. near the conclusion of their regular board meeting.

"Never lost one yet," quipped Superintendent Russell Amerman, who bids farewell to 38 years in the system on June 30. Every bond issue during Amerman's term in office has won voter approval.

Looking at the better-than 2-1 approval of the building program, Trustee Robert Shafer expressed pleasure. "I'm very happy. It proves school support hasn't changed," Shafer stated, referring to the high school bond margin of approval some eight years ago.

"We owe the public a vote of thanks," chimed in Board President James Kipfer.

Trustee E. O. Weber, who had just learned of his own defeat, said the citizens' committees deserved special recognition for their work.

The board agreed that a unanimous resolution should be adopted to express the appreciation of the school system for citizen support at the polls.

"Maybe I'll be back," answered Weber.

Now the board must turn its attention to an all-out building program.

While no definite land acquisitions could be terminated until the results of the election were known, it appears likely that a 10-acre site on the south side of Eight Mile road west of Taft on the old Whipple estate will be acquired for the elementary school.

Negotiations are still under way for the junior high school site on Taft road behind the present high school area.

The program calls for beginning the elementary as soon as possible, probably in late fall for opening in September, 1966.

The junior high construction should begin in the spring or summer with opening scheduled in September, 1967. Definite location of the swimming pool has not been decided, but it appears likely it would be a part of the junior high school rather than the high school.

Meanwhile, a new superintendent, Alex Nelson of Menominee, is slated to take over in July. The Nelson family has purchased a house on Reed avenue in Village Green.

The new school board is officially organized Tuesday, July 6 at which time Lawrence takes over for Weber. Officers for the coming year are also elected at the organizational meeting.

Present board officers are: Kipfer, president; W. C. Becker, vice president; Cook, secretary; Edward Angove, treasurer; and William Crump, Shafer and Weber, trustees.

In South Lyon

Bond Issue Passes After 6 Elections

In the past two years South Lyon voters have gone to the polls six times to consider eight different school building proposals.

One finally passed Monday. By a 724-429 margin voters approved a $2,250,000 bond issue for an 850-student high school and another $450,000 for a 10-room addition to the present high school for junior high school use plus remodeling an old classroom building for administrative offices.

In the South Lyon school board race J. W. Erwin was re-elected to a four-year term, while Sam Bailo and Phillip Smith won four and three-years terms, respectively.

In Novi a reluctant candidate was re-elected. After 10 years on the Novi board of education Arthur Heslip said he was retiring. But someone else filed his petitions.

Monday Incumbents Heslip and Russell Taylor won three-year terms. Taylor received 313 votes, Heslip 271, and Keith Branch, 251.

Retailers Change Meeting Time

A meeting of the retail merchants' division of the chamber of commerce has been rescheduled for Thursday, June 24.

Chamber President Essie Nirdler said the meeting had been planned for tonight but was changed because of the high school commencement exercises. The meeting will be held in the lower level conference room of Detroit Federal Savings and Loan at 8 p.m.

Township to Hear Three Appeal Cases

The Northville township board of appeals will hear three requests tonight at a 7:30 o'clock meeting at the township hall.

Northville Sand & Gravel has requested permission to remove same from a 3 1/2-acre parcel on Beck road to remove the high portion of the land.

Mrs. Arthur McHardy, 19150 Beck at Seven Mile will seek permission to operate a beauty shop in her home. The area is zoned R-1E, a classification permitting home occupations if granted by the appeals board.

A request has been made by Richard Booms and Albert Morlan to provide a 30-foot access to Laraoh drive in Edeherry subdivision from a 60-foot strip of property on adjoining Thornapple Lane.

Full Hospital Insurance, No Pay Hike for Teachers

A package of fringe benefits appears just about wrapped up for "gifting" to Northville teachers this fall.

Board members agreed Monday night that a proposal for full family hospitalization insurance should be granted, providing funds are available.

The plan would apply to all school employees and would cost between $20,000 and $26,000 annually depending upon the number covered.

A report on the study of hospitalization plans was made by Board Treasurer Edward Angove, who headed the committee. He recommended adoption of the Blue Cross major medical plan, which had been requested by the teachers' club.

Originally, teachers had requested fringe benefits only -- no pay hikes. Among the fringes asked by the teachers are, in addition to hospital insurance, sabbatical leave, severance pay, tax deferred annuity and no lunch hour duty.

Later, when it appeared more revenues would be available to the school system, the teachers also requested a $200 across-the-board pay raises. As the cost of hospitalization became known, the teacher group appeared willing to lower its sights on pay increases to $100.

Tuesday night, however, a committee of board members, administrators and teachers met in negotiation session and concluded that the cost of hospitalization would not permit a pay hike. According to Superintendent Russell Amerman, it appeared that teachers would accept the fringe plan. The teachers were scheduled to meet Wednesday (yesterday) to decide.

In other business at Monday night's board meeting Secretary Eugene Cook read a letter from the county allocation board dated May 18 informing the board of its share of the 15-mill allocation -- up one mill this year to 8.9 mills. Assistant Superintendent Kenneth MacLeod and Principals Harry Smith and Ray Spear reported on a study of new mathematics books for grades one through five and decided upon adoption of the Addison Wesley series.

The board also learned that all teacher positions but two have been filled. Contracts accepted by the board included: Judith Darvill (U-M, Benton Harbor), junior high math; Mrs. Mary L. MacLeod (U-M, Livonia), junior high science - math; Roy Wilbanks (Colorado State, Ypsilanti), junior high science; Janet Woodburne (MSU, Essexville), Main street second grade.

Special education and fourth grade teachers are still needed at Amerman elementary.

Board Attorney James Littell brought board members up to date on negotiations for purchase of school sites from the Thompson-Brown company (on Taft road) and the Salvation Army (Whipple Estate on Eight Mile).

In final business the board agreed that establishment of a negotiating committee composed of teachers, board members and administrators was desirable, but left details up to the new superintendent, Alex Nelson.

Chance To Clean Up

For the next two Mondays city of Northville residents will have an opportunity to clean up their basements, attics, garages and porches. If some of those discards they just don't have time to haul away.

As part of a "clean-up" campaign headed by Councilwoman Beatrice Carlson, the city is providing additional rubbish collections Monday, June 21 and 28.

Interim City Manager George Clark said that the city trucks will follow shortening of the regular Monday morning collection crews. The city crews will haul away items that will not normally be taken by the rubbish pick-up.

Clark asks that residents limit the weight of the discards to 100 pounds, and that men can lift it into a truck," he said.

Clark also said that they should be cut off from the city's rubbish collection system.

STUDENTS' CHOICE--Superintendent Russell Amerman couldn't retire without the students and teachers at Northville high school remembering him. The sweater he is wearing was a gift from the Teachers Club. The Library Club gave him the key clasp for his tie. The "N" on the left was bestowed by the NHS Varsity Club and the "N" on the right was presented by the Girls Athletic League. He shows off his gold basketball and football and National Honor Society pin, too. Mr. Amerman was issued the first such membership in the GAL as he chuckled "it may be the last one." In Our Town

By Jean Day

EUROPE IN THE SPRING was much more than I had anticipated - more beautiful, more romantic, more historic. From the moment my plane landed in a rosy morning glow at Prestwick, Scotland, on "the nicest day this year" the trip was a rendezvous with history, extending from the neat stone walls and gardens of Britain to medieval walled towns of Bavaria and France.

So many of you have been interested in the tour I chose for my first trip abroad that Publisher William Sliger has suggested I write about the highlights. It has been such a delight to compare notes with Europe-lovers in town - the George Millers, Walter Coues (who have been three times), Rolf Batzers, Mrs. Eugene Konrad and Emily Johnson (who did such a nice piece of writing on Junior Great Books last week) -- that I know others must share these experiences.

In Edinburg St. Gillies Cathedral of the Presbyterian kirk of Scotland was the first of the many vaulted edifices I was to tour -- all impressive and being remarkably maintained and restored. In strong contrast the next day was simple Stoke Poges church outside London where Thomas Gray sat in the 1700's to write his Elegy in a Country Churchyard - "The curfew tolls the knell of parting day, The lowing herd wind slowly o'er the lea,--" Filled with white garden flowers the church was in readiness for regular Sunday services. For this sidelight I have Edmund Yerkes to thank for warning it was not-to-be-missed.

THERE WAS CURRENT history, too, at 2,000-room Windsor castle where Queen Elizabeth was in residence for the week end to entertain Mrs. Kennedy at tea following the dedication of Runnymede. Later in the week we found all Germany festive and hunting-draped as the Queen, too, crossed the channel on her first state visit there.

Before leaving for the white cliffs of Dover and the steamer for Ostend, Belgium, I took advantage of London's theater "bargains" -- good seats are three or four dollars -- and there is a full bill of fare, including Broadway hits. I chose a fast-paced British farce, "Chase Me, Comrade." Its producer-star Brian Rix told me he and other London producers are watching with interest what reception "Pick Wick" will get when it comes to the Fisher Theater from London this fall.

AT VICTORIA STATION, London, I joined a British tour for a bus trip through Belgium, Germany, Austria, Italy and France. Of the 21 -- a small group as it was the first circuit of the season -- only two others were Americans. Truly I was blessed, for the Gilberts proved to be exceptional people. He was a retired school principal who originally studied for his doctor of divinity degree -- and sustained a deep interest in cathedrals. This led to an extra "cathedral enrichment program", giving the benefit of their ten trips to Europe and including the towering cathedral at Cologne and the Basilica of St. Anthony of Padua.

Two other couples on the tour were Australian, one was Scottish and the rest, English. British people "on holiday" are fun to tour with and relaxing to share afternoon tea in France or explore a 300-year-old brick-walled pub in Austria.

Much of the good feeling that permeated the tour must be credited, too, to our steady Belgian driver and to our multi-lingual Swiss courier who smoothed the way and NEVER lost patience -- even when shoes were lost (not mine) or passengers lost their way (easy to do in the old-world bargain market at Allassio, Italy).

To Rachel Hill of Travel Plans must go credit for a sidetrip to Oberammergau, Lüdwig II's magnificent royal castle Neuschwanstein and the white-and-gold Bavarian Weisskirche pilgrimage church. She personally wrote to Innsbruck to have me contacted for this tour. That day in the Alps was a high point. It was impossible to be in Innsbruck and not feel with my American friend, Mrs. Gilbert, that this is Psalm 121; I will lift up mine eyes unto the hills from whence cometh my help."

VENICE ALSO WAS A "high". Here is San Marco Square flooded with amethyst lanterns and music by night for pure romance. By day the art-filled Doges palace and St. Mark's cathedral are equally magnificent.

Nice on the Mediterranean is just to be enjoyed -- with its sunlit Promenade des Anglais and quaint flower and vegetable markets. Near by is Grasse, the center of the French perfume industry and in the midst of the lavender country.

From Provence the tour went north to Paris -- which is in the midst of a cleaning program for the buildings and monuments that adorn this busy, beautiful city.

Here time began to run short -- and like so many travelers, I now am waiting to use the prestige phrase: "The last time I saw Paris --- or Venice --- or London."

NEXT WEEK: The francs, lire, pounds and dollars of such a tour--and the "bargains".

SPEAKING for The Record

By BILL SLIGER

There's a proposal before the planning commission that will find its way to the city council table one of these days. And if planners consider it practical enough to recommend to the council, it will place a rather expensive decision in the laps of councilmen.

Specifically, the proposal calls for the extension of Griswold to Beal and the widening of Beal to South Main.

In some ways the plan dovetails with the proposed long-range master plan, but more immediately it is designed to alleviate the growing traffic problems at Northville Downs.

Quietly, but persistently, Downs Executive Manager John Carlo is acquiring more parking property around the track facility. It's clearly evident to those close to the harness racing industry that the sport is enjoying unprecedented popularity, and many, like Carlo, believe it's only the beginning.

In 1962, for example, the local track had an average nightly mutual handle of $225,928. In 1963 it rose to $239,267, and in 1964 the average hit $278,106.

Amazingly, the 18-night 1965 spring meet in Northville, hampered by snow and freezing temperatures, averaged $242,500 nightly.

What does Carlo expect this summer? He's predicting an average of $320,000 to be wagered nightly at the Downs' mutual windows.

What's more, Carlo's confident that the Northville oval will soon average $400,000.

And to prepare for this bonanza of bettors he's now planning to construct (probably this fall) another grandstand facility directly to the east and matching the present grandstand. This will double the present seating capacity and pave the way for removal of bleachers just west of the stands, where plans call for a modern clubhouse.

With the property acquisition, provision of parking areas and new buildings the Downs is facing a $2 million improvement project.

While the Downs is going about solving its own parking problem, it's looking to the city for traffic-flow relief.

With the potential tax-income involved, the city can hardly look away. Forgetting the property taxes, revenues from mutual handle rebates totalled $150,000 to the city last year. It will approach $200,000 this year. And next?

A. R. Clarke, top man at Northville's office of Manufacturers National Bank, has a good candidate for the community's most honest person.

It's Mrs. Robert Hosback, 542 Rouge. She found $500 in cash in a white envelope in the bank lobby. She turned it in and the rightful (and worried) owner was found.

Jerome, a graduate of Northville high school, is majoring in English at Maryville. He is a member of Kappa Phi social society. He has served as sports editor of the Highland Echo, the Maryville College student newspaper, and the 1964 Chihlowean, the college yearbook.

David Andrews, son of Rev. and Mrs. James Andrews of 51630 W. 8-Mile road, Northville, Michigan, was graduated May 31 with a bachelor of arts degree from Spring Arbor College.

Andrews is one of 80 seniors who are members of the first graduating class of the accredited liberal arts program at Spring Arbor. He plans to enter graduate school.

No Change In New Expressway

Despite some objections, there is no change contemplated for the route of the Interstate 96 extension in the Northville- Novi area. It will still run 1,000 feet east of Haggerty road near the village of Novi and through Northville township, a state highway department spokesman indicated.

"Livonia is fighting the route but we aren't relenting," the spokesman said. "Livonia wants us to put it down Haggerty or else move it farther west." As outlined last fall, the extension will begin at the present interchange of existing I-96 and I-696 north of Grand River, snake its way south to Schoolcraft road and then wind its way across Livonia and into Detroit.

Ultimately the extension will connect the Ambassador Bridge to the freeway hub in Novi. The project will cost $214.7 million and is expected to be completed in 1972.

Furthermore, the area stretch will become a leg in the Interstate 275 route which now begins in Monroe. Interstate 275 will temporarily end in Novi but a hook-up with Interstate 75 which goes to the Straits of Mackinac is eyed.

Earlier, Northville city and township officials tried to have an interchange placed at Seven Mile road - the gateway to Northville - but failed.

Interchanges are only planned at Six and Eight Mile roads in the area.

And Novi officials sought an interchange at 10 Mile but were unsuccessful.

30 Checks, $11 Taken At Paragon

Novi police today are still investigating a breaking and entering Saturday night at Paragon Bridge & Steel on Grand River.

Paragon is the largest employer in the village.

Police said that $11 in bills and coins was taken along with 30 payroll checks.

Lorin Howe, a uniformed plant guard, reported the incident to police. In making his rounds at 8 p.m. Howe found the door to the timekeeper's office unlocked. A locker and two file cabinets were vandalized.

Howe, police said, then tried to telephone the owners of the plant but was unsuccessful. At 9:39 p.m. local police were called.

Howe made a check of the building at 7 p.m. and said he found nothing unusual at the time.

Police said it is not known where the building was entered. State police were called and dusted the office for fingerprints.

Area Golf Courses Thanked for Help

"Without a golf course we couldn't play much golf." True but trite words to most people, but to Athletic Director Al Jones and prep golf enthusiasts, those words have special significance. Without the cooperation of three local country clubs, these youngsters would not have had an opportunity to pursue the game.

George Chesley, who heads up the greens committee at Meadowbrook Country Club, scheduled eight prep matches.

Brae Burn Golf club, owned and operated by Mr. and Mrs. Fred Block, was open to the local golfers five days a week.

And Ernie Shave at Brooklane Golf course, not only gave instruction to girls in the GAL program, he also provided a three-hole course and the driving range for practice.

As a token of appreciation, all three were presented with a plaque from Jones and the athletic department this week.

Last Call For Ball!

It's the last call for men interested in playing softball, and for Knothole baseball and softball hopefuls, Director Ken Conley announced this week.

All people in the community interested in a Men's Softball league should attend tonight's meeting at 7 p.m. at the Scout Recreation building, Conley said.

All boys interested in playing in one of the Knothole leagues should register this week so teams can be formed, noted Conley.

He entered through Brader's department store and is shown receiving the prize from Aaron Gellerman (left), store owner, and Maurice Giles, shoe department manager.

City Dogs On Loose

There may be a lot of howling but Northville police would like to "put the bite" on some dog owners in the city.

"Too many residents are letting their dogs run loose and we're getting too many complaints," barked Police Chief Eugene King.

"They allow them to roam the streets without being attached to a leash and the animals create nuisances at many homes."

Many of the complaints have come from the west end of town, King said.

A city ordinance stipulates that a dog must be kept on a chain or in a kennel on his master's property. When it goes out, a canine should be restrained by a leash.

"The owner is liable for damages to people and property," King said. "And it is a misdemeanor to have an unruly pooch."

King said that patrolman Phil Young "yelped" last week when he rounded up a stray dog in Northville Estates subdivision.

The animal bit Young on the wrist.

LIKE OLD TIMES—10 years ago (July 28, 1955 to be exact) the picture above appeared in The Northville Record. Joan Smith, 11, and Mary Godfrey, 9, were trying out the city's new drinking fountain. The fountain has been gone approximately five years, but the girls are still here. And this week they tested the city's new drinking fountain—in the same spot on Main street. They're young ladies now, so we didn't ask them their ages.

"walks" right over bumps and trouble

Independent front suspension takes the "truck" out of truck ride. It smooths rough roads, protects truck, driver and cargo from excessive jolting. And on Chevrolet pickups it's a proved system with millions of miles of user experience behind it. Try it out on one of Chevrolet's great Fleetside or Stepside pickups. It's one of the big reasons that Chevrolet is first choice with pickup users from coast to coast.

Drive-in Service

Perhaps the billboard might read: "Religion in the outdoors. A friendly welcome awaits you. Don't be formal, be comfortable. Come in casual dress." For it would advertise that First Baptist Church of Wixom is planning its second consecutive drive in service on Sunday nights during the summer months. Starting June 27, the service will run until September 5. All will begin at 7 p.m. Pastor Robert Warren said that special musical talent from his own congregation and others in the area will be featured. And color films will be shown on selected Sundays. A platform with a public address system has been erected at the back of the church at 620 North Wixom road and there is ample room for parking.

AFTER GRADUATION

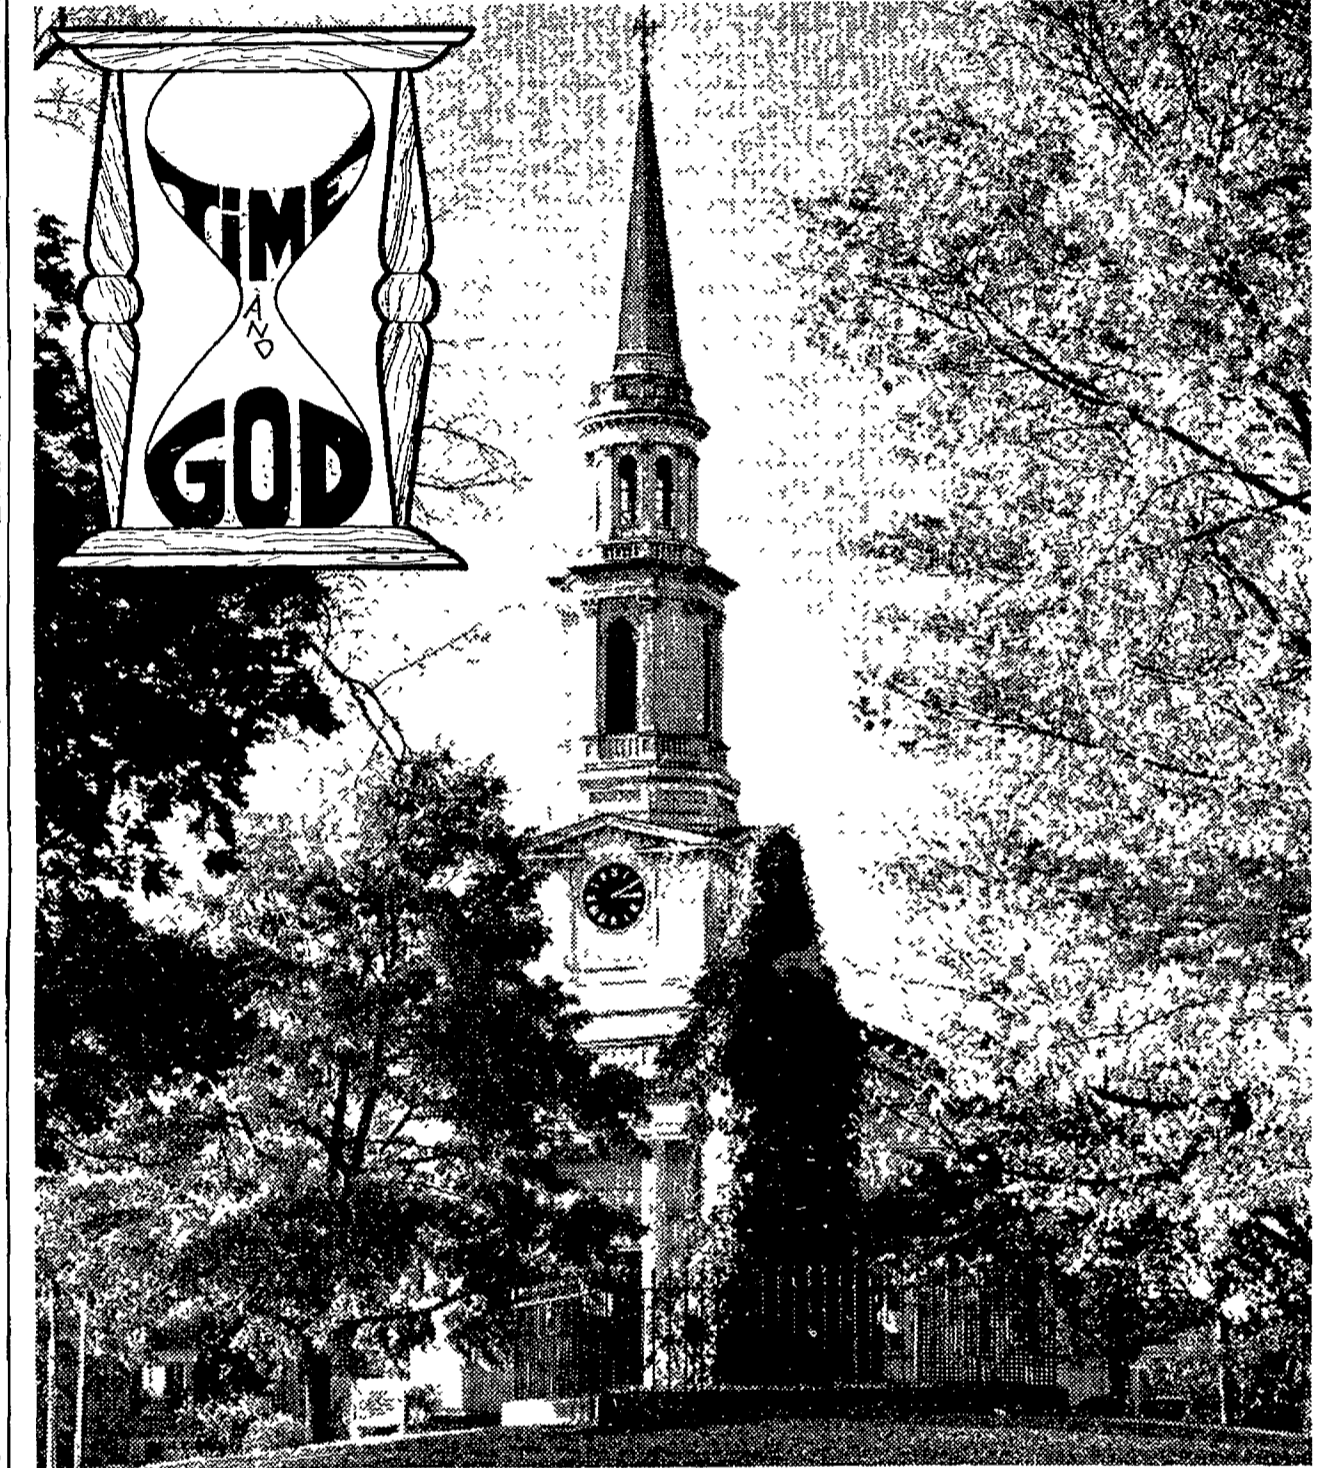

WHAT THEN?
 "Harold, what are you planning to do when you graduate?"
 "I'm going to law school."
 "Fine, and what then?"
 "I'm planning to practice law, of course. I hope some day to be a law partner with my father."
 "Fine again, and what then?"
 "Well, I'm determined to make a success of it."
 "Anything else?"
 "Oh, yes," with a twinkle in his eye, "I'll marry. I think I have the girl already picked out."
 "That sounds good, what then?"
 "I hope to make the practice of law pay me well, so that I can accumulate a sufficient sum to build a comfortable home and give my children the best of an education; also lay up something for old age."
 "And what then?"
 He did not seem so cock sure now. "I suppose when I get old I will retire."
 There was a moment of silence. Then very quietly, "What then?"
 He twisted a little uncomfortably in his chair and looked out of the window. After a moment's pause, he said with a forced smile, "I'll die."

vice, wide-angle lens, full color instantaneous reproduction. Your brain contains more nerve lines than all the telephone lines of all the world put together. The electrical signals from 200,000 living thermometers cells, a half-million pressure-sensing cells, and three or four million pain-sensing cells, plus the signals from eyes, ears, and nose, as well as the areas sensitive to taste and touch, are all routed to the brain, which sorts, stores, and acts upon these myriads of impulses. It is a fantastic computer. The bat is able to avoid objects and catch flying insects on the darkest nights. The bee has such a wonderful air conditioning system that the temperature inside the beehive during certain seasons is kept at a constant 94 degrees even when the temperature on the outside may vary as much as 60 degrees. The Pacific Golden Plover raises its young in Alaska but winters fashionably in Hawaii, 2000 miles away. Several weeks after the parents leave, the young follow them, without a guide. Who designed the human heart, eye, brain? Where did the bat learn to soar? Where did birds get their guidance system? "Motionless torrents! silent cataracts! Who made you glorious as the gates of Heaven Beneath the keen full moon? Who bade the sun clothed in living flowers? Of loveliest blue, spread garlands at your feet? God! Let the torrents, like a shout of nations Answer! and let the ice-plains echo, God! God! sing ye meadow streams, with gladsome voice! Ye pine groves, with your soft and soul like sounds! And they too have a voice, yon piles of snow, And in their perilous fall shall thunder, God! "Ye living flowers that skirt the eternal frost! Ye wild goats sporting round the eagle's nest! Ye eagles, play-mates of the mountain storm! Ye lightnings, the dread arrows of the clouds! Ye signs and wonders of the elements! Utter forth God and fill the hills with praise!" (Samuel Taylor Coleridge) God has planned everything magnificently well and placed us here. But it will be wasted as far as we are concerned if we do not cooperate with Him! We have an eternal future to think about. "The chief end and aim of man is to glorify God and to enjoy Him forever." After graduation, what then?

It is no accident that men, the world over, have built clocks into the steeples of their churches: Reduce life to its simplest components and what have you? TIME and GOD. Time marks the beginning of life. It measures the growth of our bodies. It provides opportunity for our work and play. It reveals to us our human limitations. And then, one day, Time leaves us behind. . . . But God is the origin of life. He measures the growth of our souls. He provides our strength and forgives our weakness. He reveals to us His limitless Love. And, never deigning to leave us behind, God beckons us on — even beyond the circle of time. A parable then: the clock in the steeple! Man finds material security and temporal happiness as he learns to respect Time. Man finds spiritual security and eternal happiness as he learns to love God!

State Legislators Aim at First-With Most

LANSING — Michigan legislators appear bent on making the state No. 1 in many areas. Last year the lawmaking body put Michigan on top of the legislative pay scale across the country. Another effort was attempted this year to boost salaries for their successors.

ed in 1959, the cash crisis year when the session ran through Christmas week. Prior to that time a "special session" lived up to its name. Since 1959, however, leaders have set hopeful deadlines for scheduled sessions of the 1950-era type. But observers could easily see very early in the session that deadlines would go by the boards in favor of an extension such as is occurring this year.

peer Parents Association was formed a number of years ago. Similar groups established at the other seven similar institutions now operate within the framework of the Michigan Association for Retarded Children. The program is similar to a foster parent plan. Volunteers are given basic information about a child. His age, mental ability, interests and favorite gifts may be included.

Should Young Couples Buy A Home?

BABSON PARK, Mass.—Young couples today often feel that they are pouring money down the drain if they rent an apartment or a house. "Why support a landlord," they say, "when our monthly payments could be building up an equity in a home of our own?" There is, of course, logic in this attitude; hence millions of young people are now living in residences that they have bought or built themselves.

should also go shopping for the best place to obtain a mortgage. Possible lenders will include commercial banks, savings and loan associations, life insurance companies, and mortgage bankers. In some areas, institutions known as co-operative banks and homestead associations fall into the same category for mortgaging as do savings and loan associations.

get, despite the larger amount paid in interest. Another factor to keep in mind: If money is likely to be needed for repairs or child education, an open-end mortgage can ordinarily be extended or renewed after enough equity has been built up over the years. As a general rule, avoid second mortgages; they usually entail heavy interest and service expenses, in addition to the primary mortgage.

NHS Sends 33 To Boys' State

Thirty-three Northville high school students are being exposed to "politics in action" today at Michigan State University.

They are the NHS representatives to Boys' State, sponsored by the Michigan Department of the American Legion.

"It is the largest delegation sent so far from Northville," said Northville Postmaster John Stelmel, who is the Boys' State chairman.

Lansing mayor's office, Ingham County Bar Association and other city, county and state officials.

"Citizenship is the major theme of Boys' State," Stelmel remarked. "A novel method of acquainting the boys with duties of city, county and state officials has been instituted this year."

Each "representative" fills out a questionnaire, stating the office he prefers. The official now holding the office indicated will talk with the boys.

At evening sessions, Boys' State will be addressed by many speakers. Among them will be Governor George Romney, Michigan State University President Dr. John Hannah, the Reverend Robert Richards and the 1964 President of Boys' State.

A march to the state capitol will climax the rally next Wednesday.

Youngsters Warned: Beware of Strangers

Because child molestation incidents increase heavily in spring and summer, parents should caution their youngsters now against going for walks or rides with any stranger, said State Police Sgt. Mario Formolo, commander of the Brighton post.

He advised that this seasonal warning be occasionally repeated to children as they are outdoors more in good weather months.

Sergeant Formolo said the State Police each year investigate many cases of child molestation and a large percentage could have been avoided if the children had been forewarned. The high months for such sex offenses are in summer.

Where adult supervision over children in outside activity is not possible, parents should insist that their youngsters be in company with others, Sergeant Formolo emphasized. A child alone on a playground, exploring a vacant building or loitering in an alley can too easily become the prey of a molester.

Any incidents involving molestation of children should be reported by parents to police. Sergeant Formolo said this will expedite investigation which can help thwart possible other attempts by an offender. He stressed that names of minors molested and their parents are not made public except where warranted in cases of abduction or murder.

Sergeant Formolo listed these guides for parents in cautioning youngsters about molestation dangers:

Since there is greater safety in numbers, children should have companions going to and from school, at playgrounds, going to or from movies, when running errands, etc.

Because public rest rooms, isolated places or vacant buildings can be high danger areas, children should be instructed not to loiter there.

Youngsters should be advised to remember unusual features about a suspected molester and about any car which may be involved.
