Waiting for the big boom July 4 are Russell Bacalis, 10, holding the giant firecracker, and Jamie Moore, 9, who is just kidding about the noise. Both boys will be on hand at 8:30 p.m. Sunday to watch the fireworks display at the Northville high school athletic field. An expert will be in charge of the show sponsored by the Northville Jaycees. It will last about 1 1/2 hours. All spectators are urged to stay on the banks of the hills along the south side of Eight Mile road. No one will be allowed on the field.

To Dedicate Post Office On July 17

A committee headed by City Councilman John Canterbury has begun working on plans for dedication of the new Northville post office.

The ceremony is being sponsored by the Northville community chamber of commerce, which appointed the committee.

Working with Canterbury are Dr. George Bennett, Mrs. Stuart Campbell, Jack Ruland and Postmaster John Steinel.

Betting Attendance Up at Downs

Northville Downs set a track record for average mutual handle during the first six nights of the 39-night summer meet.

Through last Saturday fans bet an average of $281,654 nightly. Saturday night's handle was the biggest of the season, a whopping $392,832 by 7,445 fans.

The total handle through the first six nights was $1,689,927, up six per cent over last year's $1,598,465 for the same period.

Attendance at the Northville track is up eight per cent this year with a total of 27,970 fans through Saturday night.

Dedication ceremonies have been set for 2 p.m. Saturday, July 17 in front of the post office building.

Regional post office officials as well as area congressional representatives are expected to be on hand for the ceremony.

Chairman Canterbury stated that the Northville high school band would participate in the program and that comments would be made by both Mayor A. M. Allen and Township Supervisor R. D. Merriam.

Complete details of the program will be announced later as the committee finalizes its plans. Postmaster Steinel asked that anyone having old pictures or information about earlier Northville post offices contact him. A souvenir program is planned for the occasion.

Others who have been called upon to assist the committee include Assistant Postmaster Elmer Balko, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Hartner, Jr., Joseph Litsenberger, William Tesch, Mrs. George Bennett, Mrs. Fred Van Atta, Mrs. John Holland, Mrs. James Tellam, Mrs. Audrey French, Mrs. William Bingley, Mrs. Stanley Johnson, Mrs. Audrey Joki, Mrs. Marie Seitz, Mrs. Marie Lemon, Mrs. C. A. Hoffman, Mrs. Wilson Tyler and Mrs. Harold Price.

Last Day of 13,870

Thirty-eight years in the Northville school system ended yesterday for Superintendent Russell H. Amerman.

Monday night was his final board meeting.

As the meeting drew to a close, there was heavy silence. Superintendent Amerman produced a file . . . "things Alex might want".

The retiring superintendent told his board that he would be "as close as the telephone" during July if Alex Nelson, his successor, should want him. Amerman revealed that his retirement dinner had brought a $1,500 travel fund. Mr. and Mrs. Amerman will now decide where they will travel.

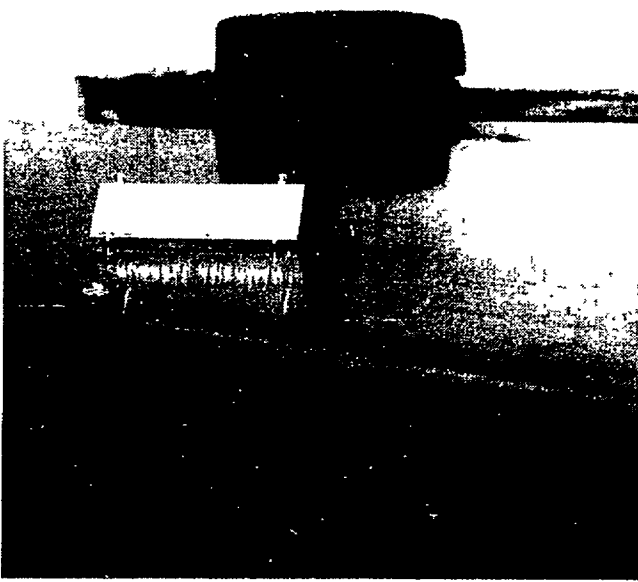

The board of education purchased Amerman's desk and gave it to him. It was cleaned off and ready to move Wednesday.

There have been 34 boards during Amerman's term of office. None probably had a tougher assignment than the one Monday night.

Ironically, board members asked another departing member to express their appreciation of Amerman's service. E. O. Weber, defeated in the June election, made a motion that the long, devoted service should be properly recorded in the official minutes.

"It's been a great experience", concluded Weber.

His desk, chair and nameplate retire with Amerman.

Outstate Bid Denied Area Coach Line

An appeal by the Northville Coach Line of 41122 Seven Mile road to gain an inter-state permit for chartering buses outside the state was unsuccessful Tuesday.

A hearing was held by an examiner for the Inter-state Commerce Commission from Washington, D. C. at the Statler hotel in Detroit Tuesday.

Adolf Schiller, owner of the Northville company, said that he had requests from many area businesses and institutions for chartering buses outside the state. Township Supervisor R. D. Merriam, Dempsey Ebert of the Northville chamber of Commerce, and John DuFour, Livonia recreation superintendent, testified on behalf of Schiller.

Several bus companies opposed the request on the contention that they already serve the area and additional service is not needed.

Although the examiner indicated he would not recommend approval, Schiller said he would seek to appeal to Washington.

City Cleans Up

"Northville's clean", exclaimed George Clark this week. He'd just been examining the results of the city's trash pick-up drive.

Last week the interim city manager reported that 21 loads of trash and furniture—in addition to the normal rubbish pickup made by regular collectors—and this week the count was incomplete.

Clark indicated there were still calls to be made Tuesday.

The clean-up campaign was headed up by Councilwoman Beatrice Carlson who plans a more complete program next year with a participating citizens' committee.

Five men working with two city trucks have made the trash pickups for the past two weeks.

Portrait Time

Subscribers to The Northville Record and Novi News who have signed up for free portraits will be contacted this week for appointments.

Sittings will begin Tuesday and continue each afternoon until 9 p.m. through Saturday, July 10.

The photographer will set up his studio in the American Legion building at Danlap and Center streets.

Persons who failed to return their subscription coupons before the deadline may do so by going directly to the American Legion building during the scheduled photography hours and make arrangements for an appointment.

Area Industry's on the March

Ford Motor company isn't the only firm which plans to invest more capital in the area.

Other companies, both old and new, are eyeing future growth and prosperity in Northville, Novi and Wixom.

Last Tuesday Ford announced that it is going to expand the Wixom plant to build more Thunderbirds and Continentals. The expansion will cost $3 million.

Further, Ford said it will hire an additional 1,200 employees when the expansion program is concluded sometime in July of 1966.

Pyles Industries of Southfield unveiled plans for a $175,000 office, sales and research center on Wixom road across from the Ford facility.

Construction has already started and Clifford Davis, general sales manager for Pyles, said the structure will be finished in the fall.

Pyles makes pumping and metering equipment and its manufacturing operation will stay in Southfield, Davis pointed out.

Pyles will employ 100.

It is a subsidiary of Kent-Moore Corporation of Warren which principally makes automotive service tools. Kent-Moore's main plant is situated in Jackson.

Last year Kent-Moore and its nine subsidiaries, including Pyles, notched sales of $13.5 million, Davis said.

Work has begun on the $125,000 research center for the Haller division of Federal Mogul corporation on Northville road in Northville township. It is located a few hundred feet north of the Haller plant.

John Haller, technical director of the division, said the center will contain 10,000 square feet. He said the center will supply the powdered metal plant with advanced engineering and technical processes.

The building, which will provide for offices, a metallurgical laboratory and shop area, will be completed in August.

Haller, who will be in charge of the center, said 10 engineers and technicians will be employed at the facility.

American Enclosures, which produces aluminum windows and bath-tub enclosures, expects to occupy its new plant near Grand River and Seeley in Novi later this summer.

Philip Daniels, vice-president of American Enclosures, said the plant measures 100 x 200 feet and will cost $81,640 to put up. The firm is now located on Detroit's west side.

There is another window-making firm—Interlake windows—located farther west on Grand River in Novi.

In other developments, Novi village officials said that Clark Supply, a small manufacturer of plumbing fixtures, is building a 24 x 60 foot office behind its present warehouse on Novi road.

And part of the old Continental Motors facility at Novi road and the C & O crossing is humming. Michigan Precision Molding has been in production a few months.

Other tenants for the plant are expected shortly, officials indicated.

Continental sold the plant during the winter to Ray Witt Industries of Detroit. Ray Witt sought to lease the plant to Lear Jet of Wichita, Kansas.

But Lear ultimately chose Detroit over Novi.

Haller division of Federal Mogul starts $125,000 research center in Northville township.

Teachers Win Paid Hospital, Study Tuition

Fringe benefits that could amount to some $500 per year were awarded Northville school system teachers Monday night by the board of education.

The board officially approved the Blue Cross-Blue Shield full coverage hospital and master medical plan for all full-time school employees.

In addition it indicated that a plan for reimbursing teachers for tuition paid for self-improvement courses would be adopted with an annual maximum of $200 per teacher.

Earlier the board had voted to discontinue lunch-hour duty for teachers, thus providing another "fringe benefit".

The continuing-education reimbursement plan replaces the teachers' request for sabbatical leave.

Teachers' Club President Donald Brown said that teachers were "well pleased" with the action. While the Northville teachers had originally asked for salary hikes, too, it was later conceded that sufficient funds were not available for the entire package.

The full-coverage hospitalization is expected to cost the school system some $28,000 annually, E. V. Ellison, director of administrative services, reported.

And Brown conceded that the plan to encourage teachers to keep abreast of advancement in their field by additional study would benefit more teachers than the sabbatical leave plan.

The board fell short of giving full approval to the continuing education idea when President James Kipfer appealed for more time for consideration. The plan had come from a study committee headed by Trustee William Crump and was introduced to the board Monday night.

It won enthusiastic board support and Trustee Robert Shafer called for "approval of the concept". Kipfer said he believed that "better return out of in-service training courses" is received and he proposed to divert some of the proposed tuition funds for courses within the system.

In other business Monday night Assistant Superintendent Kenneth MacLeod reported that all teacher vacancies but one had been filled. He said that Brian Dunn, a sixth grade teacher, had resigned and that a replacement was needed. Contracts for a third grade and special education teacher were approved by the board.

The board voted to again approve the contribution of 20 cents per child (about $500) to the Wayne County Child Guidance Clinic, but left little doubt that it would be reluctant to do so next year if it is not kept better informed on the work of the clinic as it applies to Northville youngsters.

Three bids for fleet insurance for school buses were from local agents. They were turned over to Ellison for study and recommendation. Low bidder was State Farm Insurance, Paul Folino, agent.

Next meeting of the board will be Tuesday, July 6, an organizational meeting to swear-in newly elected member, Donald Lawrence, and elect officers for the coming year.

Board Must Answer

Where to Locate Swimming Pool?

While voters have given the Northville board of education the right to go ahead with its $3.3 million school and swimming pool building program, the board must first complete another hurdle or two.

Henry Haberkorn, representing the architectural firm of O'Dell Hewlett and Luckenbach, told the board Monday night that definite sites must be established and it must be determined where the swimming pool is to be located.

It appears near certain that the board will acquire 10 acres for the elementary school building on the Eight Mile road Whipple Estate property, approximately across the road from the entrance to Northville Estates. The land is now owned by the Salvation Army, but will be sold for development.

The junior high school site sought by the board is on Taft road near the present high school athletic field.

Haberkorn said it was necessary to know where the pool was to be located as soon as possible so the junior high school plans could be drawn. He had some help for the board: it will probably cost some $100,000 less to build the pool in the new junior high school. On the other hand, it may serve more students in the high school and be better utilized in the system, he pointed out.

A maximum of $500,000 has been approved for the pool.

The board promised to come up with this decision soon.

Haberkorn noted that it would be necessary to determine the school sites if the schedule of a new elementary by 1966 and a junior high school by 1967 is to be met.

He reported that everything was in "wonderful shape" so far as the educational specifications' committees were concerned. He said he would be prepared to review these details with the board in two weeks.

E. V. Ellison, director of administrative services, reported that it would probably be another six weeks before the municipal finance commission would act upon the request for the sale of bonds.

City Mails

Tax Notices

Tax notices will go out this week to 2,200 property owners in the city of Northville.

While the city has held the line on its levy at 12.5 mills, the property tax revenues will be up 3.7 per cent due to an increased assessed valuation.

The city's local assessed valuation now stands at $12,498,450, which will produce $158,300 in property tax income.

Tax bills are payable from July 1 until August 31 without penalty. After August 31 a four per cent penalty is applied.

City Clerk Martha Milne reminded residents that the city hall is open daily until 5 p.m. and Saturdays until noon.

IT WORKS—Northville has all new parking meters, 105 to be exact. Mrs. Seth Benton, 776 North Center, tries one out. The new meters are self-winding and more easily maintained than the previous automatic models. Included are 14 15-minute meters colored red (in contrast to the bronze one-hour meters). The 15-minute meters permit short-stop shoppers to get in and out quickly. Interim City Manager George Clark said police will now enforce meter parking and that the new meters will be kept operative.

SPEAKING for The Record

By BILL SLIGER

If William Shakespeare had attended the meeting last week between the city council and Consultant Ralph Stephenson, he would have reported that "the plan's the thing".

The discussion centered around the central business district plan proposed by the planning commission. Stephenson has been hired to study the idea, determine its feasibility, approximate cost and outline methods of financing.

Basically, the central business district plan (CBD) calls for a central core of retail shops surrounded by parking and all bounded by a circular drive.

The shops would be about where they are now. Additional parking would generally be provided in areas now occupied by houses.

The circular drive would roughly follow Dunlap along the north portion of the circle, Wing on the west side, Church on the east side and a new street south of Cady and in line with Beal on the south.

The idea to plan for an improved commercial area for the city to meet the anticipated growth and avoid deterioration in the face of competition has practically no opposition, at least in official circles.

But when specifics arise, it becomes a little sticky.

At this stage, for example, the planners would like some words of encouragement from the city council before proceeding. They want the council to go on record as favoring the proposal "in principle".

In addition, it has been suggested that a citizens' committee might be established to study the possible methods of initiating such a program and, more specifically, how to finance it.

Presumably with this support, the planners would then be ready to march forward and perhaps suggest specific zoning within the CBD area (parking, streets, building sites).

It might also be presumed by some that approval of the CBD plan means that eventually Main and Center streets would be closed within the business district and a shopping mall created.

The council doesn't appear ready to move this fast.

While it might be most helpful to definitely determine where parking and buildings might be located in the CBD area, a certain amount of room for judgment changes also seems desirable to the council.

And to say that a "mall" (or call it a "village square" or pedestrian area) should one day exist on the city's two main thoroughfares is also a position that the council is reticent to adopt, even in principle.

The city's consultant believes the plan will one day evolve close to its present conception. But he believes business will dictate exactly where parking replaces buildings or when thoroughfares become crosswalk gardens for shoppers.

As Shakespeare said in the beginning, "the plan's the thing".

Let's let the specifics be molded by experience and get on with the broad concept.

Roger Babson, the renowned economist who writes a weekly business column for our newspaper, will be 90 years old Tuesday.

Still sharp, Mr. Babson offered some suggestions for long life this week. First he lists a sound religion and then a good education. He adds these other five qualifications: 1 -- good food; 2 -- never getting hungry; 3 -- plenty of exercise; 4 -- a good doctor; and 5 -- a masseur.

Superintendent Amerman Expresses Appreciation

TO THE PEOPLE OF NORTHVILLE:

Mr. Sliger has kindly made this space available to me for a final message of thanks and appreciation to the hundreds of friends who contributed to the recognition dinner and travel account for Mrs. Amerman and me. It would be impossible for me to thank each of you personally. I only wish that I could do so.

Also, in my final public act as your Superintendent of Schools it is my desire to express my appreciation to the citizens of the area for their warmth, faith and cooperation with which they have supported their schools during these 38 years. It has been a wonderful experience.

And now we leave the responsibility for leadership in other hands, content in the knowledge that we can all take pride in the condition of our schools, and with the realization that you have just endorsed a building program that guarantees continuation of our program of "Educational Excellence" for our youth.

What a wonderful community in which to live!

Thanks again for your kindness and many tributes of the past few weeks.

R. H. AMERMAN

Democracy Better Served Without Editor's Advice

To the Editor:

May I please use the facilities of your letter box to thank the folks who voted for me in the recent election. Also, may I thank those who worked for me in any capacity. Congratulations to Mr. Hudson, the incumbent by virtue of appointment, who defeated me in a close race. The people in Northville have the dubious distinction of 'swinging' the election. Actually, the honor should go to you, Mr. Editor, for your paper was the only one in the five communities concerned where the editor chose his favorite and also expressed the favorite of the community trustee... The irony is that your community did not become a part of the Community College District until after the rest of us had gone the circuit of two campaigns to establish said district. It would seem to me that the democratic process could be better served without so much 'advice' from a newspaper editor.

Sincerely,
Rosina Raymond

G. Garrett Davis, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Davis, 352 Orchard Drive, won the Friendship Award at commencement at Western Reserve Academy this spring. The award was especially fitting this year since Gary will represent his school and the English Speaking Union next school year when he will study for a year in a British "public" school. After Gary spends a year at Tonbridge School, Kent, he will return to attend Wooster College.

Skateboards - Boon or Bust?

By Emily Johnson
How do you feel about skateboards? Do you think they are the greatest boon to our nation's economy and physical fitness drive since hula-hoops, or do you think they should be outlawed?

When the sport was first introduced in California, it appeared to be little more than a harmless offshoot of surfing. As the fad caught on and swept across the country, however, it has become apparent that spills onto solid pavement are incredibly more severe than splashes into ocean waves.

Are skateboards actually more hazardous than bicycles, roller skates, and water skis? Or is it just that the accidents are in the public eye because of their novelty? One indignant skateboard manufacturer in North Carolina (whose product is sold in Northville) feels that "if children and young people used good common judgment there would not be nearly as many accidents from skateboards."

But judgment must be based on knowledge, and none of the skateboards sold in Northville stores come with directions or safety precautions of any kind. The user is expected to learn by experience, and too often he has a leg in a cast or a metal plate in his hip before he has a chance to develop "good judgment." Balance is far easier to maintain on roller skates or water skis where the feet are separated and strapped down. Bicycles have handle bars to aid balance. When a skateboard rider starts to fall, however, there is nothing to keep the board from flying out from under him, and nothing to grab but air.

The California Medical Association claims that skateboards are a menace. "Because of the hard surface and the rate of speed at which skateboarders often hit the pavement," the association declares, "physicians are seeing many nasty fractures, and head injuries may result, especially in cases where there is a loss of control and collision with another moving vehicle."

Northville's Police Chief Eugene King has had only one skateboard injury reported, although local physicians have treated several head injuries and arm and leg fractures. According to Chief King, skateboards have not as yet caused any serious obstruction to traffic in Northville. Students who were warned to stay off Cady street behind the Junior high school have complied with the request. Aside from private driveways, Northville's skateboarders are most often seen performing on the hill at the 8 Mile cutoff and in the Presbyterian Church driveway.

Chief King does have a few words of caution for skateboard users. He said, "If a child is obstructing traffic, he can be legally charged." Also, "If a skateboard rider is struck by a car, the liability goes to the rider—not the driver of the automobile."

Dr. David VanEenemann, Orthopedic Resident at St. Joseph's hospital in Ann Arbor reports that the number of injuries due to skateboards has dropped remarkably in the last month. Several weeks ago he was treating an average of six fractures a day. The number has tapered off now to three or four a week. "In fact," said Dr. VanEenemann, "I saw more injuries from horseback riding last week than from skateboards!" He seemed to feel that the decrease was due to the "Survival of the fittest." Those who survived the first trials and developed the best balance are still riding their skateboards. The rest are in traction or on crutches.

It is fascinating to see how a two-foot board on wheels can take the country by storm. Without the risk, the thrill would be gone. And the furor over skateboards will probably soon be gone, too, only to be replaced in time by some other invention that combines pleasure with challenge.

Let's hope that the next one, like the hula-hoop, will threaten bulging waistlines instead of taking its toll in broken bones.

Boys State Elects Eight Local Youths

Eight of the 33 representatives Northville sent to Boys State returned last week as elected officials.

The eight-day experience in government, sponsored by the American Legion, was held at Michigan State University. The boys each held a city, county or state position within the framework of the 24 city, 12 county set-up.

Jack Crawford, 23623 Novi road, Novi, was a city councilman; Douglas Watson, 44150 Stassen, Novi, city engineer; Bill Edmonds, 44200 Ten Mile road, Novi, member of the Board of Supervisors; Jim Kleinsorge, 360 Fairbrook, Northville, probate court secretary.

Others were Elwyn J. Kaake, 46234 Fonner, assistant prosecuting attorney; Kenneth Boor, 20297 Woodhill, Northville, city councilman; Bud Rathert, 592 Reed, Northville, register of deeds; and Bob Hardesty, 9385 Currie Road, Northville, county official.

The eight-day affair featured several speakers. Governor George Romney, American Legion State Commandant Duane T. Brigstock and Dr. John Hannah, president of Michigan State University were among those who addressed the 1,250 boys.

The American Legion famous Zouaves Drill Team of Jackson also performed.

The boys' stay ended with a march to the capitol in Lansing.

Curtis Kohs Wins Degree at Ferris

Big Rapids — A resident of Northville was among the 983 Ferris State College students who received degrees or certificates at the June 13 commencement.

The graduates, part of an audience of more than 6,000, heard Walter F. Carey, chairman of the Board of the United States Chamber of Commerce, explain the labor paradox where "nearly four million Americans are without jobs at a time when personnel managers are combing the country for skilled workers."

The student and his field of specialization was Curtis F. Kohs 473 West Cady, B.S., commerce, business administration.

In Uniform

Camp Pendleton, Calif. — Marine Private Robert A. Elwell son of Mr. and Mrs. C. Elwell of 124 E. Dunlap street, completed four weeks of individual combat training June 8 with the 2nd Infantry Training Regiment, Marine Corps Base, Camp Pendleton, Calif.

The 20-day course included over 200 hours of rigorous instruction in small unit tactics, night combat, firing weapons under simulated combat conditions and other subjects related to the Marine infantryman.

Invention Nets $500

A new bathing device won $500 for James H. Smolinski in the seventh hospital achievement contest sponsored by the Michigan Hospital Association and Michigan Blue Cross. He is an assistant business executive at the Plymouth State Home and Training School in Northville. The award was announced at the 46th annual Convention of the Michigan Hospital Convention in Traverse City. Smolinski invented a bathing table insert resulting in a more efficient bathing technique for nursing service.

Top Pacers, Trotters At Downs for Holidays

CHEERLEADING TROPHY—These six Northville high school cheerleaders won fourth place honors at Cheerleaders Camp All American at Walden Woods near Brighton last week. Kneeling are Cathy Bishop, varsity cheerleader, and Penny Peterson, varsity. In the back row (l-r) are Marsha Lipa, junior varsity; Hope Hahn, junior varsity; Cindy Haynes, varsity, and Luanne Godfrey, junior varsity. Miss Patricia Dorrian, ninth grade English teacher at the high school, is their coach.

Northville Downs will put its fastest and best pacers and trotters on display for the holiday weekend with an Open Trot slated for Friday and an Open Pace on Saturday (July 2 and 3) that will be the most outstanding events of the two-week-old meeting.

Racing Secretary Harry Peterson has a field of five slated to go in the trot with El Darno, the fleet star of the Gayton Seltzer Stable of Battle Creek, as the early choice.

El Darno, a four-year-old son of the great Michigan sire Elby

Hanover who in turn was one of the nation's best in his heyday, will try to stretch his string to four. The gelding was the winningest three-year-old trotter in the land a year ago when he won the Michigan state championship with a total of 21 victories. Matched against him are: Charlie Horse, Salt Creek, Solon Pick and Winter Hanover.

Phillip Brian, the $15,000 purchase of the Mijal Stable of Plymouth during the winter, will go after his second Northville victory Saturday in one of the two featured paces. Phillip partially paid for himself with a surprise triumph in the rich Motor City Pace at Wolverine Raceway.

He is the choice in the preferred pace that attracted Gold Step, Lula Rutledge, Knight Latch and Chico Wilson.

Craig Creed, the speedy veteran from the Elmer Conrad Stable, will go after his third at Northville in the Open Pace. Going against him are Livonia Boy, Bobby Axland, Monticello and Chocolate Soda.

All participants in any recreation department activity who ride a bus to any event or program must return to Northville on the same bus. No exceptions will be made to this rule.

"A little more painting and carpentry work has to be done but we're still open for business." So said Glen York, manager of Lakeside Market in Walled Lake which was gutted by a fire June 20. The store was closed for four days and reopened June 24.

"Crews worked around the clock to restock the shelves and clean up the store," York said. York said the blaze broke out in the meat and produce department. Cause has not yet been determined nor has the exact amount of damage.

GOING, GOING, GONE?—Plyler Trucking company of Farmington was found guilty Tuesday in Oakland county circuit court of violating the village zoning ordinance. Judge William Beer handed out a $100.00 fine and a five-day jail sentence in Oakland county jail. Plyler was earlier found guilty in justice court but appealed the decision. Village officials had agreed to drop the case if Plyler cleaned up his small piece of property in front of the Gulf Oil tank farm on Grand River. A high concrete wall must be built around any junk pile, according to the ordinance. Meantime, the village appeals board met last night to weigh Plyler's request to remove sand from his property.

Drivers OK'ed

Seven local school bus drivers were awarded certificates this week for completing 12 or more hours of instruction offered by the Michigan School Bus Driver Education Program. The program was conducted by Eastern Michigan University. Receiving certificates from the Northville-Novl school districts were Dolores E. Boyd, John H. Gibson, Helen E. Hay, Engla V. Imstrand, Roman I. Nowicki and Norman J. Richardson. Elden W. Whalen of the Plymouth State Home and Training School also received a certificate.

Plan Buffet

Chairman Mrs. Sumner Gow has announced the plans for the annual buffet supper sponsored by the Willowbrook Community church. The buffet will be held Thursday, July 8 from 5:30 to 8:30 p.m. at the Novi Community building. Ham, seven salads, dessert and beverage will be served. Tickets are $1.50 for adults and $.75 for children. The tickets may be purchased at the door.

HEAVEN-BOUND—Apparently not, but four students enrolled in vacation bible school at Novi Baptist church admire the space ship that was displayed during registration last week. They are (l-r) Linda Bellefeville, Thurman Ridenous, Jim Lawrence and Karen Clark. As an added attraction space food was handed out Monday. Milky-Way candy bars, of course.

LET'S TAKE A WALK—This new sidewalk along Cady street by the city hall park invites pedestrians. Most of its traffic, however, will be school children going to Main street and the junior high schools. While the city installed the new sidewalk last week, the school board indicated Monday night it would construct steps leading up the bank at the west end of the walk leading to school property. A fence along school property from Cady to Main street to prevent youngsters from running into the city hall parking area was also proposed.

Our Freedom is 189 Years Old

We as Americans will celebrate a birthday Sunday. If a cake were decorated, it would be topped off with 189 candles. For the United States of America will be 189 years old July 4.

Since July 4, 1776—the date when the Declaration of Independence was enacted—our country has endured for the sake of freedom.

Our aim: "That all men are created equal, that they are endowed by their Creator with certain unalienable rights, that among these are life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness."

"That to secure these rights, governments are instituted among men, deriving their just powers and consent of the governed."

These are just a few words that expressed the dream of the founding fathers. Their dream was accomplished but many have tried to shatter our heritage.

Even the signers of the Declaration of Independence were harassed for their convictions. John Morton of Pennsylvania died eight months after he LET FREEDOM RING—And it will Sunday, July 4 at 1 p.m. Church bells in the area will toll for four minutes to remind us that it is our country's birthday. Participating in the bell-ringing are First Baptist church, First Methodist church, First Presbyterian church and St. Paul's Evangelical Lutheran church, all of Northville, and the Novi Methodist church. The bell tower of the First Presbyterian church is pictured.

affixed his name to the document. He was ostracized by relatives and friends. But Morton's dying words were: "Call them that they shall acknowledge, it to have been the most glorious service that I ever rendered to my country."

And even today the oppressed Negro and even someone leaping over the ideological wall that separates East and West Berlin—still seek freedom. For freedom is sweet. It offers choice, not communion. There is no Big Brother or torment. Everyone has the same privileges.

We are lucky. We already know freedom. Some abuse it but most Americans cherish it. They possess the spirit of '76. They know it must be passed on to the next generation if America is to survive.

So, as the church bells toll Sunday in the area, let's reaffirm our belief in our great land and its traditions. For the bells will be saying: "Happy birthday, America. May you live forever."

from the PASTOR'S STUDY

Reverend John W. Wittstock
Our Lady of Victory Church

Loneliness is not so much a thing to be feared as a fact to be faced. It reappears in our life at various times no matter what station in life we have. All of us must face reality as Christians and realize that loneliness is a part of our role as witnesses for Christ. And why should we expect it to be otherwise?

Christ Himself accepted loneliness as a part of His redemptive work. Try to recall the echoes of loneliness in Luke's Gospel narrative "She ... laid Him in a manger, because there was no room for them in the inn;" or the words of St. John "He came unto His own, and His own received Him not;" or the words in Matthew "The Son of Man has nowhere to lay His head;" or in Mark "My God, My God, why have you forsaken me?" Yes from the crib to the cross Christ experienced loneliness. Christ's words "I have not come to bring peace, but a sword" are applicable today just as truly as in the beginning of Christianity. The sword of loneliness, like the sword of the Spirit, is a two-edged instrument of God; it hurts but it heals, it separates us from our loved ones, but it also cuts the mooring-ropes of our worldly attachments. Loneliness can have two effects. It can either push a man down into the empty pit of self, and the unrequited embrace of his own ego, or it can lift him up to God and the rewarding embrace of the Spirit. The loneliness of Judas after his self-destruction. The loneliness of Mary Magdalen led her to a new life in Christ.

Loneliness can be found in many forms. Perhaps in isolation, not being invited to a social function, the terrible feeling of not being first with anybody, the feeling of not being recognized after many hours of labor, and on and on goes the litany. No matter what form it takes loneliness can be licked. How? By simply confronting ourselves with the reality by saying "I'm identifying with Christ and I'm never alone when I do that." Everytime you look at the Crucified Savior you are reminded of the comforting words "Greater love than this no man has." This same love still crosses the frontiers of human loneliness to banish feelings of isolation but it awaits our own personal invitation. Everytime you invite Christ into your life you can safely bet He will honor your cordial invitation. It will pay you dividends for you will discover that you are Never Less Alone Than When Alone With God.

Dr. Fredsell Joins Guild Of Religious Architecture

The Guild for Religious Architecture (formerly Church Architectural Guild of America), 1346 Connecticut Ave., N.W. Washington, D.C., announced the acceptance into affiliate membership of the Reverend Dr. Harold F. Fredsell, associate chairman for new church development of the board of National Missions, United Presbyterian Church, 475 Riverside drive, New York City.

A businessman turned minister, Dr. Fredsell has had wide experience in banking, as a local church pastor, and a synd director of church extension. He was pastor of the First Presbyterian church of Northville from 1941 to 1954.

The Guild for Religious Architecture was founded in 1940 by a group of architects, craftsmen and religious leaders to promote excellence of design in religious architecture and its allied arts. During the ensuing 25 years it has grown in membership and expanded its influence. Dr. Fredsell now joins the fellowship of more than 300 professional architects, craftsmen and clergymen dedicated to the advancement of better design and better function in religious architecture.

To make tempting barbecued ham, you need canned ham of desired weight, creamy French dressing, charcoal-flavored seasoning.

Slice ham 1/4 inch thick; marinate in French dressing for at least 30 minutes. Grill, turning often and basting slices with French dressing; meanwhile, sprinkle with seasoning. Ham is ready to eat when golden brown.

One Nation Indivisible

"... That this Nation, under God..."
Words that bind a Nation's wounds
—healing hearts that have affliction known.
We pause, this day, to remember and to forget:
Yet, not to forget the battles lost or victories won, or soldiers' silent sleep,

Who, by their death, gave life;
life that throbs and pulsates in this Nation's womb.
We pause to remember our gifts from God
from whom our blessings

in abundance flow.
We find our God, at home in church, in hearts that this day sing out in joy.
We thank Thee, Dearest Lord.
Now, bless us, and this Thy land and all therein... our own, our native land!

Suggest Mushrooms for UP

LANSING - A new and profitable industry for the Upper Peninsula was suggested by John Stout, MSU food science freshman, in a term paper for one of his classes. He urges that market and food researchers check details to be sure if his plan is practical.

The Upper Peninsula has everything needed to grow mushrooms profitably, according to Mr. Stout, who has done preliminary investigation.

It has the special advantage of unused mines. Temperature and humidity, important factors to control in quality mushroom production, are ideally available there. Installation of ventilating equipment would be relatively inexpensive. Compost needed for good growth, long associated with horse stables, can now be manufactured economically without horses. This would create a little more economic advantage for the Upper Peninsula because its components are available there.

Canning operation would bring about still more economic activity. There is no big mushroom market in the U.P., but it is practical to can a large part of the potential year-round crop and easy to ship fresh or canned to Chicago, Detroit and other consumer areas.

This is not the first time mushrooms have been suggested as a way for the Upper Peninsula to improve itself economically. Dr. Sigmund H. Schanderl, MSU food scientist who has had experience with mushroom industries in other places, has been pushing the idea for more than a year. So far, no one has been convinced or stimulated enough to develop the lead. It would make a very interesting story if a study done by an undergraduate college student would create the spark which would encourage leaders in the Upper Peninsula to help their own area with a new industry.

Two official maps of Michigan are now in use widely by travelers and state boosters.

The first has been in publication for several years by the State Highway Department. In full color, this is designated the "official highway map."

New to the scene this year is one published jointly by the Michigan Historical Commission and the State Tourist Council. It is dubbed "A guide to Michigan's historical attractions." Both are free for the asking while supplies last.

Designed to inform visitors about the state's historic sites, the latter publication was started relatively modestly in just three colors.

Listings and locations of more than 200 historic sites and markers, some 40-odd historic buildings and another 53 museums are included. Detail maps of Kalamazoo, Grand Rapids, Sault Ste. Marie, Mackinac Island, Detroit and the downriver Detroit area are inset for their historic significance.

The reverse side contains printed matter including a brief history of the state, description of the buildings and landmarks numbered on the map side, and pertinent facts about Michigan such as the motto, bird, flag and population data.

Frequently over a period of years the same old fights are renewed, some of great magnitude and others of little or no significance.

Verbal fights regarding the state's land area have been among the periodic battles fought in the legislature in the past 10 years or so. Some proposals would remove the Upper Peninsula from Michigan either to make it a separate state or join it with Wisconsin.

Usually these discussions have been on the semi-serious side. Some legislators even proposed to give the U.P. back to the Indians.

Another secession-annexation proposal, however, usually has very serious overtones. This is the one which has been renewed this year originating in Ohio.

It involves a small area in the southeast corner of the state known as the lost peninsula. Some Michigan lawmakers are seeking to keep the dispute on a light note, to avoid a bitter wrangle, but Ohio proponents of this year's plan appear serious.

An Ohio legislator has seriously proposed a conference with Michigan officials to negotiate annexation of the lost peninsula to Ohio. It is not accessible to the rest of Michigan except by water or over Ohio roads. Federal action would be required even if both states agreed to a redistribution of the land to Ohio.

State lawmaker Raymond Kehres, D-Monroe, in whose district the area lies has taken somewhat of a tongue-in-cheek attitude and counter-proposed that Michigan take all of Toledo to go along with the lost peninsula rather than give the square-mile Erie Township to our southern neighbor.

Kehres acknowledges he opposes the Ohio bid. He semi-seriously discusses asking Congress to let the people on the peninsula vote on the question of annexing to Ohio.

He might be wise to consider the Ohio proposal in the tenor in which it was made. The 130 voters might surprise him if he pursues it lightly.

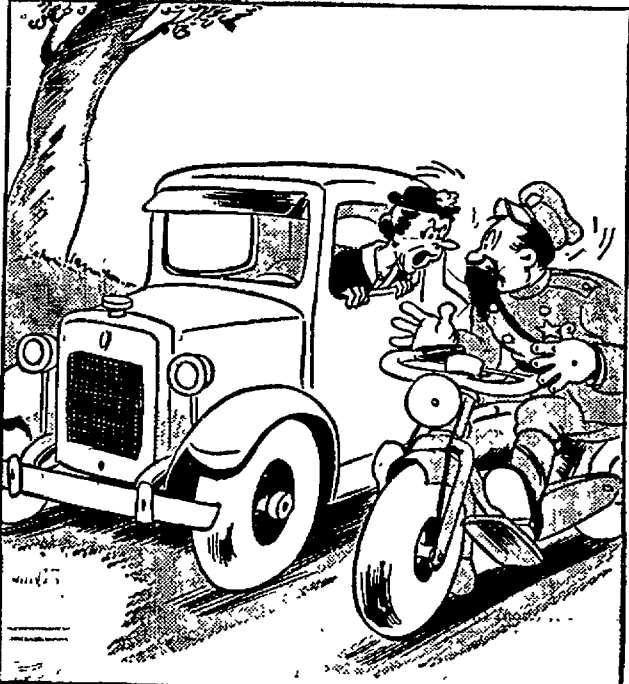

"So you struck out—that's show biz!"

Get Busy! Make a Will

Babson Park, Mass. It is surprising—and even shocking—to realize how many seemingly intelligent people go through life never getting around to making a will. Talk with these people and they will agree with you that they really ought to do something about it. Most of them, in fact, will assure you they are going to have their wills drawn... "very soon"....they just haven't had the time.

The only reason for anyone to delay making a will appears to be the natural reluctance to face the fact of death. This subject is never a pleasant one; but ignoring it doesn't do away with it. Regardless of one's age the unexpected can happen, and tomorrow just may not be soon enough to get to the important business of drawing a will. This is something that should be taken very seriously by young people as well as older ones. Remember that your estate consists of more than your home and surrounding land or other real property you may own; it includes also your stocks, bonds, saving accounts, automobile, furniture, and all of your personal possessions.

Far too many people put off making a will until it is too late... with the result that their estates are often distributed in whole or in part to persons to whom they never intended to leave anything. As just one instance we cite the case of a friend who was always intending to draw up his will—"next week". Before that next week arrived, however he was taken suddenly with a heart attack while crossing the street and died without making a will. By order of the probate court, legal notice of his death was published in the papers. More than 30 people appeared from nowhere and made claims as "relatives". Most of these were persons whom neither the deceased nor his family had ever heard of. But soon over 30 lawyers were suing for their clients' "share" in the dead man's estate. Because of numerous claims in this particular case, each of the 30 or so unknown "relatives" was finally paid a small sum just to get rid of them. The result was that the widow—instead of receiving her full share of the estate—found the total had been cut back to the point where she got only half the amount...simply because of her husband's carelessness in not making a will.

In making a will, do not be content to take the advice of your insurance agent, your minister, your doctor, or some friend who may offer to "save you money." Whether you are a man or woman, a teenager or an older person, you should make out and sign a will which has been prepared for you by a good lawyer. Don't try to cut corners on this; the fee you pay him, whether it is $25.00 or $50 is the best investment you can make.

It is vitally important to realize that only a professional lawyer—skilled in drawing up wills—knows how to do the right thing by you. Such a lawyer will avoid the pitfalls that some of your well-meaning but less experienced friends might fall into. He will be careful to protect your interest and those of your heirs without taking any undue risks. Be sure to tell your lawyer everything about yourself, what you want to accomplish and how much property you have with which to do it. Don't cover up anything in the mistaken idea that if the lawyer knows how much you really are worth he may overcharge you! Choose your lawyer carefully in the first place, then trust him with the details.

Our main purpose in this column has been to impress on readers the tremendous importance of making a will. The whole subject, however, is much too complex to cover in one short article; hence we plan to follow this up with a few more suggestions next week including codicils. Let us simply close this article with the reminder that our advice to readers to MAKE A WILL, applies to all of you. If you have someone you love and want to protect, get started on that protection now!
